

Vignettes Of Florida Recited

Florida Loyal To Crown In Revolutionary War

By MARION BETHA
Sanford had an eminent personality in its midst this week, when former congressman August Johnson, gave a dissertation upon his avocation of the presidency in relation to various states. The lecture was given at a meeting of the Men's Club of the Congressional Christian Church.

Johnson was Republican congressman from Michigan 1955-1965. He was assistant to the late congressman Paul Nife, and upon the latter's death was appointed to the ticket to fill the vacancy in the House of Representatives. Johnson was later elected to serve in the 84-88 congress, where he was a ranking member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Johnson is a former editorial writer of the Battle Creek Enquirer and editor of the Lakeland News, Battle Creek, Michigan. He was industrial relations manager of the Kellogg company, Battle Creek, Michigan. Currently he was campaign research chairman of congressman Edward Gerney, and is a member of the congressional action committee of the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce.

In his discourse on Florida, the former congressman gave such vignettes as: Florida was one of the most loyal colonies to the crown during the revolutionary period. Johnson said that the bonds on which Florida's first "revolution" is to select representation which will take a firm stand against subversive elements in such areas as local and state government and education. Johnson stated that we should elect officials with "iron in their spine," and get across to the younger generation that the activists have no acceptable substitute except the "get rid of the system." The youth, he feels, must be apprised of the stakes in the future of the country, which belongs to them and not the "generation-gap."

In relation to the drug problem, Johnson maintains that there is no statute of limitations to the punishment of the south because it once had complete segregation. The former congressman stated that the pendulum had swung too far in the integration issue, and even such liberals in congress as Edith

Green of Oregon, were critical of the Department of Health Education and Welfare (HEW). Johnson said that in his opinion Gov. Kirk is correct in his assertion that integration in the school system should be uniform throughout the country, and that busing is contrary to the intent of congress in the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and therefore indefensible.

New Tax Form Boon To Preparing Firms

ATLANTA (UPI)—The new federal income tax form, designed to help the taxpayer, has meant instant a business boon for firms specializing in tax consultant work.

Some companies report a sharp increase in requests for preparing income tax returns and such concerns as banks, chain department stores and loan companies are getting into the act, repaying the harvest of confusion among those who find the many added forms just too much.

An Atlanta representative of a nationwide tax preparation firm reports business in January up 60 per cent over the same month of 1969. Another spokesman for the same company in Florida said increased volume "far exceeds" what could be expected under normal circumstances.

"We find many new customers who were using last year's return as a guide in the past and can't trace what they did last year on the new forms," said a spokesman of the company in Jackson, Miss. "It's driving them crazy. One woman came in and said it made her head hurt."

One of the country's biggest firms has installed a computerized tax return service in Atlanta this year with instant refund. If one is in a due, and all cases can be changed on the bank's

Lake Blvd. Is Vital For Traffic To East

... of greatest concern to the city should be the extension of Seminole Boulevard to the east for a connection with east coast traffic routes. These are the words of Sanford's city planner and contained in the city's comprehensive plan revised March, 1961.

These conclusions were brought to light during last night's meeting of the city zoning and planning commission when they were read by Art Harris, board chairman.

Under discussion was the State Road program and how its provisions would affect the city traffic arteries.

The city's comprehensive plan was read to the board by Harris, but no discussion or action regarding the roadway was forthcoming. The possible boulevard extension is being threatened by a county action that would vacate rights-of-way needed for extension to the east of the scenic route. The road now deadends at Melvieu Avenue within the city limits but some county property owners are seeking to have rights-of-way vacated.

Sanford Boulevard provides one of the finest aesthetic and scenic assets of the city. "Without this lake shore drive, Sanford would fail to benefit to the fullest extent the aesthetic enhancement bestowed upon the city by beautiful Lake Monroe."

Of greatest concern to the city should be the extension of this beautiful drive to the east for a connection with east coast traffic routes. This would provide a beautiful and more convenient means for traffic to approach the central business district without actually contributing to the congestion on downtown business streets such as First Street."

In an action, the planning board voted to recommend the adoption of subdivision regulations to the city commission for passage.

This was done after a review of the regulations by the board.

Schools May Lose More U.S. $

By HILF SCOTT
Seminole County District School Board, meeting today after receiving word yesterday from U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) that local schools may lose $2,000,000 in federal funds because of racial discrimination in two of the county's seven federally-funded school programs, may lose all or part of the remaining $520,000 for the five programs in which no discrimination is thought to exist.

This was revealed today by Douglas Stenstrom, school attorney, who said the decision received Thursday by the board also can be appealed by the HEW.

Stenstrom said he felt this possibility had been overlooked in all the haste and bustle caused by the decision that said a unitary school system did not exist in Seminole County under the present form of district school plan adopted by the board for 1969-70 term.

J. Markel Dern was hearing examiner for the compliance hearing held in Washington for the HEW and the conclusions reached in the decision are subject to review and appeal by the school board and HEW with a specified 30 days for the school board and 60 days for the HEW.

Dern's decision indicated that $230,000 in federal funds were not infected with discrimination and those money for five programs providing services for children of migratory workers, supplementing education in schools, vocational education in the schools, vocation education construction of new facilities at Seminole Junior College campus and strengthening education in critical subjects, would be continued.

Federal funds in the amount of $683,000 for services to educationally deprived children and school assistance in federally affected or impacted areas can be severed from the schools as soon as HEW Secretary Robert Finch drops off the funds with a stroke of his pen.

The order is not expected to be sent to Finch until after school board has sought a review within the specified 30 days. It is expected that board at next Tuesday night's meeting will decide to have Stenstrom seek review board action on Dern's decision.

Stenstrom, referring to the Orange County school decision made earlier this week by the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans, said the neighborhood school concept approved by the court for Orange County would not change the school situation in the south. "That is not a court definition of a unitary school system, which the court would apply throughout southern school districts," the attorney said.

Stenstrom said this applied only to Orange County because of its peculiar situation that the court felt would create a unitary school system in keeping with the latest federal court edicts. "There is still the law of the case" the attorney advised.

Stenstrom said there were still some federal programs not now being used in the county and these funds can still be sought by the county. "The Dern decision does not foreclose school board making application for other federal funds under programs for which the district is eligible," Stenstrom added.

6th Grade Red Letter Day Nears

Feb. 26 is a red letter day for the sixth grade students of Seminole county.

This is the day when they will attend the concert at the Sanford Civic Center played by the Florida Symphony Orchestra. For this rare experience they have been prepared by their teachers, the music supervisors. All this has been supervised under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Golt, director of elementary education.

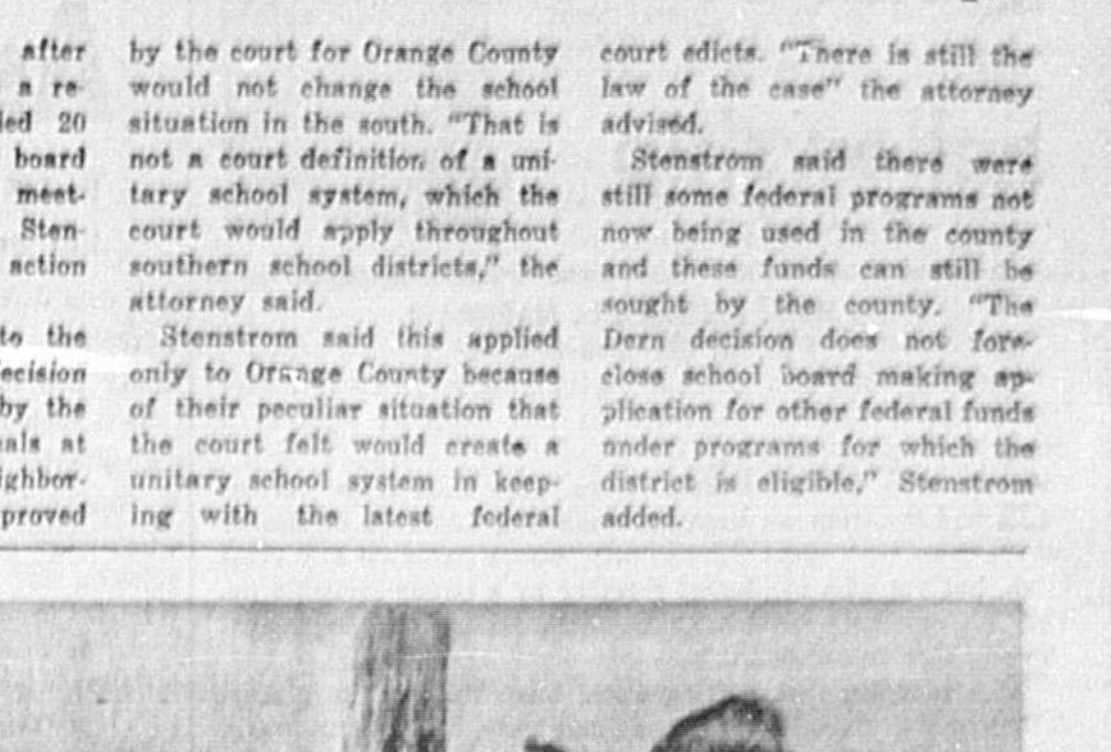

These young concert-goers have been learning about the selections that will be played by the 75 piece orchestra that has been accorded a prominent place in the symphonies of the nation. Thus, their appreciation of the program has been heightened considerably.

Part of the preparation consists of instruction in concert manners, attitude, attention. It is unlikely that many of these concert goers will have had the opportunity previously to hear an organization of the professional rating of the Orlando-based group. And from the reactions reported by the teachers, they intend to make the most of the occasion on Feb. 26.

The fact that the musical treat is free to them does not cheapen it in their opinions. They know that business firms who are interested in the young citizens of tomorrow are planning up the check. They are fully aware of the fact that this is an expansion of the ongoing instructional activity of the general music program in the schools. The carefully worked out bus schedules to get them to and from the Civic Center requires a great deal of planning and effort—and they are grateful for it, many have said.

So, the air of expectancy in the sixth grade school rooms may readily be understood—the students are eagerly awaiting that red letter day, Feb. 26, Symphony Day!

The sponsors, Chase and Company, Florida Power and Light Company, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Seminole County, Florida State Bank, Atlantic National Bank, Citizens Bank of Orlando, United State Bank, look forward to welcoming their guests Thursday.

Weather Hits Zero Up North

By United Press International
Temperatures plunged to zero or below in parts of 15 states from the Midwest to New England and in the Central Rockies today.

Snow flurries and brisk winds accompanied the Arctic air into the Great Lakes region. Light snow also was reported in New England and the Central Appalachians.

Mild and dry weather persisted in the West, although light rain damped parts of Washington, Southern New Mexico and Southwest Texas.

A frigid air mass which passed over the Midwest Thursday and dipped into the South today sent temperatures down to 10 below zero at Eagle River, Wis., and 13 below at Marquette, Mich. Ice freezes in the north.

Florida remained a bastion against the cold Thursday with the highest national temperature, 79 degrees, reported at West Palm Beach.

Mobile Homes Zoning Studied

By MARION BETHA
Seminole county zoning regulations with regard to mobile homes and tractor-trailer parking came under consideration before county commissioners. Commissioner Greg Drummond favors making revisions in the regulations governing mobile homes and cited the fact that the county receives only a portion of ad valorem taxes on the remainder going to the state.

County Engineer William Bush was requested to contact the state Department of Transportation (DOT) for the agencies studies and information on the traffic situation at the intersection of Highway 17-82 and SR 436. Drummond advocates a center line survey based upon an additional two lanes through the intersection. The center line would discourage building since building permits would not be issued within a possible right-of-way. Drummond stated that this would reduce the cost of condemnation. Bush advised that the intersection had been under study by the DOT for some time with regard to sign-alization, overpasses and additional lanes.

Brown anticipates an influx of these homes in the county with tight mortgage money and the universities in the area. He also cited the modular homes as creating additional problems. Brown was requested to study and report to commissioners area of revision. Drummond suggested that Brown move "post haste" since the sudden increase may be imminent.

County Attorney Harold Johnson had been authorized to draft an ordinance governing tractor-trailer parking regulations. Johnson contended that the matter should be more properly encompassed in zoning regulation, since the board would then have the authority to prohibit parking in residential areas. Johnson stated that authority in this area was limited under home rule. Johnson and Brown were authorized to prepare a rough zoning draft for consideration.

FFA Week Observed Locally

Vocational agriculture students in Seminole High and Junior High schools will join Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation in activities to emphasize the importance of agriculture during FFA WEEK, Feb. 21-28.

The theme for this year's celebration is "FFA... emphasis agriculture." Throughout the week the young agriculturists will be emphasizing the importance to this nation of a dynamic and prosperous agriculture.

"We have such an abundance of food in America that people seem to take farming and agriculture for granted," said Sam Brasher, FFA chapter advisor and vocational agriculture teacher. "Actually, farming is new and always has been our nation's largest and most vital industry. As our population expands, it will become increasingly important for men and women to train to meet the demand for food."

What A Fellowship

By REV. RICHARD L. MARSHALL
Sanford Christian Church

"Not long back at a men's fellowship, the remark was made, 'Isn't this wonderful! Isn't the tie that binds us together a marvelous thing!'"

How true that statement. Here were men from various walks of life—from an area encompassing hundreds of square miles—men who meet infrequently, whose paths do not cross often, but yet who are bound together by a strong invisible tie. This tie exists because of a common relationship to Christ. Nothing else could afford it.

Our modern, fast moving world takes us to many places. Often our travels will be to far distant spots. Many things vary. We may one day be in the pleasant balm of our own climate, and the next where cold grips the air and snow blankets the ground. We may find ourselves guests in the homes of the affluent, or entertained by those of meager means. Dialects and cultures, habits and traditions, vary widely, but to the Christian, as he finds fellowship with those of like precious faith, there is always that same warm, wonderful, kinship that is in evidence everywhere among God's people.

Jesus said it would be this way. One day after speaking of the great sacrifice involved in discipleship, after telling the rich young ruler that if he would serve Him, he must sell all and follow Him. His apostles questioned Him about such a demand. Our Lord answered that any such sacrifice would be amply rewarded. He said, "Verily, I say unto you, there is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and for the gospel's sake, but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses and brethren, and sisters and mothers, and children, and land, with persecution; and in the world to come eternal life." (Mark 10:29-30)

In truth, there is a price to pay, and often sacrifice and persecution to endure, but the reward makes it worth it all. Multitudes have found Jesus' words literally true. Their service to Christ has often led them far from home and homeland, but they have found hundreds of new brothers and homes, and that wonderful tie that binds our hearts in Christian love.

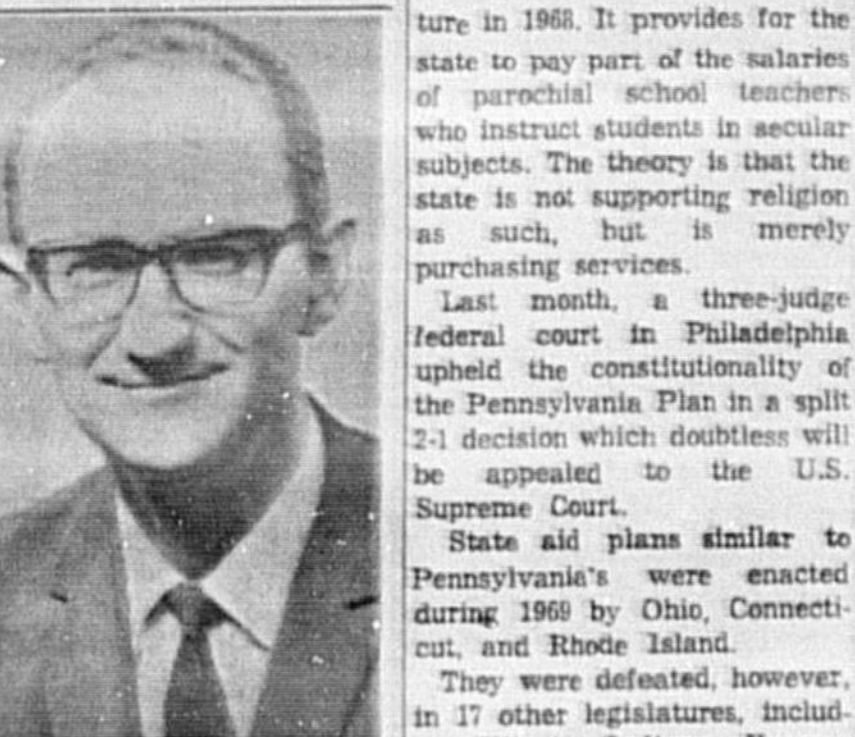

There are thousands of needlessly lonely people in the world—thousands whom circumstance has robbed of family and friends. How they need the wonderful fellowship afforded through God's family, His church! How we who comprise that church need to stretch forth with arms of love to find such and-to reach them with the warm and wonderful fellowship we share.

Private Schools Ask Assistance

George Washington Is 'Patron Saint' For Shoppers

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM

What does George Washington mean to you?

If you're a bargain hunter, Feb. 22, the date on which his birthday is celebrated, may mean a chance to shop and save. In recent years, Washington's Birthday has become synonymous with literature and department store sales.

If you're one of the 75 million employed persons in the nation's labor force, Washington's Birthday most likely means a paid holiday.

And if you're a child... here's a roundup of kindergarten's and first grader's thoughts on the subject.

"George Washington was born in George Washington, d.c." So said dozens of children in East Coast elementary schools.

"When George Washington died, they built the Statue of Liberty for him," opined Chris S., a first-grader at P.S. 45, Queens, N.Y.

"George Washington had a lot of children. That's why he's called the father of our country," said Gracie E., 5, of Englishtown, N.J.

Although most of the 5- and 6-year-olds knew that George Washington was the nation's first president, what he did during his earlier years was a source of much misinformation.

A little girl, whose family recently moved to New York City from Puerto Rico, proudly recited the Parson Weems' legend about young George chopping down the cherry tree — except that she insisted it was a palm tree. A Dover, Delaware, first-grader, apparently confused by scientist George Washington Carver and his work with peanuts, was convinced that the first president invented the peanut.

Many youngsters in the New York-New Jersey area associated him with the George Washington Bridge, which spans the Hudson river, linking those two states.

Church And Campus Relations Study Set

What is the church's role today relative to the crisis in higher education?

That is the subject of a Central Florida regional "Church and Campus Consultation" to be held in Orlando at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, at the First United Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the Florida Methodist Conference's Board of Education, the meeting will bring together church and college officials, students, parents and board members.

"Our purpose is to seriously consider the future of our church's mission in higher education, and we are especially interested in the views of college students," said Shelley E. Boone, director of elementary and secondary education for the State Department of Education, is chairman of the church board's Commission on Higher Education and Campus Ministry.

A panel of students, college administrators and church leaders will discuss student unrest, social change, academic freedom, the church's campus ministry, financial support and other aspects of the changing scene in higher education which permeates the church, colleges and universities alike.

The local chairman is the Rev. Gary W. Buhl, who is Orlando district secretary of higher education.

He said principal speakers will include Florida Bishop James W. Hestley of Lakeland, and Bishop J. Frederick Wertz of Charleston, W. Va. Bishop Wertz, formerly president of Looming College, Williamsport, Pa., will speak on "On the

Nixon's 'State Of The World' Document Viewed

President Nixon's philosophical discussion of American foreign policy has raised a standard for peace which men of goodwill all over the world can regard.

Whether they will or not is the question which can be answered only by events. And these events will not only take place on the great stages of international affairs but on the domestic stages of international affairs.

The general appraisal of this 40,000 word revelation of the White House is that it is a significant shift from those policies of the past to the new world situation as it is today.

Chief points made in relation to the issues which diplomats must seek to resolve are: 1. The era of the cold war has ended; 2. A time for negotiation is at hand; 3. The two great nuclear nations should seek to reduce the threat of such armaments.

One passage deserves special attention. It is where the President carefully defines "peace." "Peace," he observes, "must be far more than the absence of war. Peace must provide a durable structure of international relations which inhibits or removes the causes of war."

This "State of the World" document does not afford any foe of the United States comfort if a lessening of armed might was expected. "Peace cannot be gained by good-will alone."

Time and again the legal mind of the President betrays itself as he expects logic to persuade and to overcome the inherited and traditional animosity of those who find confrontation more to their liking than negotiation.

Even comment which is necessarily as limited as this must be, however, must call attention to the rather extraordinary political climate in which the document was written.

It is also accurate to record that this has been on a mounting scale, that the Democrats are so disorganized that any threat to a second term for Mr. Nixon seems last in the mind.

Yet there are two booby traps waiting to snare this administration. They are the Vietnam war which still goes on with casualty lists appearing every week.

The other is the economic state of the nation. In this area — a pocket-book election issue — there is deep concern. Tight money continues. Prices continue to go up at the retail stores. And labor seems determined to seek higher wages which higher prices support.

In spite of these factors, however, and even if the Nixon ship of state encounters rough domestic seas ahead, this document deserves and will receive a high rating when the Nixon administration becomes history.

Being a veteran of World War II, with two battle stars and six overseas stripes, I started off with "Greetings." And we thought, not again, at our age. (We were in our 30s when we enlisted the first go-round.)

But these greetings were from "The Deceit Campaign for Honest Politics" and was signed "for the Citizens Committee." The letter concludes over the signature of Hamilton C. Forman, and with Garnet White's name on the letterhead, "Won't you join with us and send in your check today? This is a very decent and honorable thing you can do."

Bodded down, it was a term letter begging for money to pay Secretary of State Tom Adams' $200,000 debts.

I should pay Tom Adams' debts when I can hardly pay my own?

The Republicans' Lincoln Day dinner evening is being shunned by Democratic officeholders locally, it is learned. Even one Democrat appointed to office by Republican Gov. Claude Kirk has refused to "show out" or $30 for the pleasure of dining in his company.

But the Republicans have the last laugh. The master of ceremonies for the GOP gala is the Democratic mayor of Orlando, Carl Langford.

The governor is slated to arrive at 4:45 p.m. at Sanford Airport and then on Lake Monroe in a plush houseboat with the Plante family, Pat and Tom Larken, and a couple more of the faithful.

Reception for Kirk is slated by the 530-ticket holders at the House of Steak followed by the dinner and program for all at the Sanford Civic Center.

Governor Kirk is slated for a big surprise when Cowgirl Debbie Baratta comes on the scene.

Less Worry Time

Admittedly, many of the problems with which the nation is entering the 1970's are serious. Their substance has been repeated so often that further repetition seems unnecessary. Suffice it to say that the best brains in the country are working to solve these problems and are making progress. The question is, do all these problems result from our system of government and private enterprise? Are they the fault of the establishment — as the communists, the malcontents and their sympathizers tell us? Or, are there new threats that the communists are wholly lacking in accomplishment, and for the sake of perspective, we should take stock and compare.

Nation's Business, in a brief editorial, does just that with respect to our chief competitor and critic, the Soviet Union. It observes: "Every time Russia makes an advance in space, or what ever, there's new talk that the communists are about to overtake us. Let's put that in perspective. If we wanted to match the Soviet economy we'd have to tear down 60 per cent of our homes, demolish 60 per cent of our steel mills, rip up two thirds of our railroad tracks, destroy nine out of every 10 telephones. And reduce our standard of living a full 60 per cent. Maybe we should spend less time worrying about their system and concentrate on preserving ours."

Better Mouse Trap?

As he is turning away from the foreign policies of the recent Democratic administrations — and that seems obvious — he is doing so with recriminations and with a very heavy accent on what he sees ahead.

Here is a statement which will be used as guide-post by foreign ministries in every nation who have been trying to assess the true goals of the Nixon administration.

For it does not take any soothsayer to point out that the Nixon administration which will be in control of foreign policy for at least the next few years is experiencing a degree of popular support of a very high order indeed.

It is also accurate to record that this has been on a mounting scale, that the Democrats are so disorganized that any threat to a second term for Mr. Nixon seems last in the mind.

Yet there are two booby traps waiting to snare this administration. They are the Vietnam war which still goes on with casualty lists appearing every week.

The other is the economic state of the nation. In this area — a pocket-book election issue — there is deep concern. Tight money continues. Prices continue to go up at the retail stores. And labor seems determined to seek higher wages which higher prices support.

In spite of these factors, however, and even if the Nixon ship of state encounters rough domestic seas ahead, this document deserves and will receive a high rating when the Nixon administration becomes history.

Global Comment:

Hussein And The Commandos

The king claimed that cut-back on a commando group affiliated with Syria.

As he went down like a drowning man before the defeat at the hands of the Palestine commandos, the king explained the latest episode as the result of a "misunderstanding" which he regretted.

His agreement to "freeze" a Feb. 10 order tightening security regulations let the commandos free to swing the streets of Amman, firing their weapons at will, to distribute unauthorized publications and to drive their unlicensed vehicles.

A previous clash in November, 1968, left an estimated 24 dead and 100 wounded.

15,000 commandos who carry out their strikes against Israel from inside Jordan's borders, Hussein has found his authority steadily diminishing and his throne less secure.

As he has vacillated between hopes of a political settlement with Israel and recognition to the inevitability of another war, his relations with the commandos have seen similar shifts.

Hussein's problem is that he can't keep the peace. He can't keep the peace. He can't keep the peace. He can't keep the peace.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the getting into the great and comical of the school busing issue that came before the Senate this week, I would like to offer a suggestion that might be pleasing to both sides.

Let us say, for example, that some of the children in neighborhoods "A" and "B" being bused to a school in neighborhood "C" and the neighborhood "C" children are being bused to neighborhood "A."

Providing these buses increase the cost of public education, which is pretty steep already. So here is what we do: We close the schools in all three neighborhoods and hold classes aboard the buses.

Or, putting it another way, we switch from school busing to bus schooling.

Your first reaction to this concept may be negative, or even hostile, as mine was when I first thought of it. But that is because you haven't thought it through.

When you consider some of the advantages of having your children attend school in buses, perhaps you will think differently in the last analysis.

For one thing, it is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain order in public schools, particularly in large cities. Vandalism, fighting, robberies and drug use are common occurrences.

On buses, however, the students would remain in small groups, which are easier to control. And there would be far fewer opportunities for young hoodlums from the outside to mix with the students and stir up trouble.

There's another thing: In the upper grades, it would be necessary for students to change buses every time they changed classes. Which means that students would have to be closely coordinated.

Pardon me, does the 9th grade English class stop at this corner?

"No, this is where you catch the 16th grade history class. English classes stop in the next block, and so on."

But once everyone got accustomed to bus schooling, I feel certain the difficulties would melt away. And eventually people would come to hold the little yellow school bus in the same nostalgic esteem that they do toward the little red school bus.

Awkward Query

What could be an awkward question for some people is posed in a recent issue of the Antique Digest: "If you were on trial for being a Christian, would there be enough evidence to convict you?" — Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier

Domestic Comment:

Foreign Relations And Crises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's first year in office has provided revealing clues to his personal style and philosophy in handling foreign relations and foreign crises.

He has avoided confrontations and extensive use of strategic defenses.

He has great confidence in talking with men and negotiating with nations. He is prepared down to the last date paper. He has a catalogue of things he can do as president outside the conference which may influence what goes on inside.

He is convinced you can talk to the Russians. He believes you are able to talk with the North Vietnamese. He is determined to talk with the Communist Chinese.

But his avoidance of confrontation requires some analysis. When North Korea sent down the EC-121 reconnaissance plane, the President did nothing. Yet candidate Nixon had said of the earlier North Korean capture of the USS Pueblo, "The Communist world has been jointly testing the proposition that the United States is overextended, over-committed and underprepared to act..."

Washington Window:

After J. Edgar Hoover?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What will happen to the FBI after J. Edgar Hoover retires?

The 75-year-old FBI chief has indicated publicly how much longer he plans to remain on the job. But some of his friends think he'll probably decide within the next year or two that the time has come to step down.

Because Hoover has been at the helm of the FBI for nearly half a century, his departure will occasion some important decisions by the White House and Congress on the future role of the agency which has acquired immense power and prestige under his direction.

In fact, some hard thinking about the FBI's future is being done in the Capitol among people who are favorably disposed toward the bureau and intimately familiar with its problems and potential.

One of the ideas they are bating around is that perhaps the FBI should be divided into two agencies: One to deal with criminal investigations, the other to deal with internal security matters.

New Light On School Busing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The main benefit of bus schooling, however, would be in discouraging dropouts.

A student might be too dumb to pass freshman algebra, but he is unlikely to be so stupid that he couldn't see the disadvantage of dropping out of school at 20 m.p.h.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two thoughts lie behind this proposal. First is the awareness that a vast amount of power is now concentrated in the FBI, and some future director might not be as scrupulous as Hoover in its exercise. Dispersing concentrations of power is a traditional American safeguard against its abuse.

Second, different methods and a basically different kind of mentality are needed for internal security work and for regular criminal investigations. Criminal investigators deal in facts that can be reduced to yes-no, black-or-white answers. Internal security often involves shades and subtle shades of gray. Men trained for and expert in one field can be, and have been, disastrously kept in the other.

Another idea is that future directors of the FBI, or of its two successor agencies, if its functions are divided should be limited by law to a single senior year term.

Oil Impact May Kill More Fowl

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (UPI) — The full impact of the oil pollution of Tampa Bay on birds and marine life will not be known for some time, but officials fear a possible new wave of bird deaths.

L. Robert Wood of the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission staff in Lakeland, said naturalists expect the annual migration of birds to the north to begin any day now.

This could bring masses of fowl, particularly ducks, into still polluted areas of the bay, trapping them in the tar-like oil that already has claimed large numbers of birds.

Wood said search teams piking up straggled, oil-soaked birds Thursday found several which had been stranded three to four years ago indicating at the moment they were already well started.

In an effort to speed up the process for those birds in the north, he said he has ordered the remaining oil, conservation crews tried to scare the birds into going airborne and flying on, but Wood said the effort failed.

Wood's comments followed a meeting with the state's biologists were testing oyster beds to determine if they had been contaminated.

Reports from all the various teams are being funneled into the office of Harmon Shields, director of the Department of Natural Resources in Tallahassee.

"It's just too early to tell how extensive the damage to the birds and marine life will be," he said. "But we probably will be at least seven more days before we can come up with any final facts."

Wood said he had seen dead birds being found and teams were bringing in a steady supply of birds to be cleaned.

Hardest hit appeared to be the lesser scaup, more commonly called the bluebill duck, with other varieties affected in large numbers being seen, sandpipers and the blue heron. He said only two pelicans had been found as of Thursday.

Wood said he had no knowledge how many birds had died in the oil, but the volunteers had cleaned at least 1,500.

"It appears about 90 per cent of the birds are still alive," he said. "Many residents have taken birds from the water, cleaned them and are keeping them in their homes until they have regained strength."

The court's decision is being challenged by the state government, which argues that the school system's current structure is unconstitutional.

Fabrics Crafts Taught

By MELENA CASSELLBERRY

The Community Service Division of Seminole Junior College will offer a new crafts course starting March 5.

"Fabrics Crafts" will be an eight-week non-credit workshop to be held Thursday 7:30 p.m. in Room 3 on the SIC campus.

Mrs. Sue Williams, an exhibiting craft artist and professional trained craftsman, will conduct the course.

The course will cover techniques in using yarns, fibers, and dyes. Demonstrations in weaving on a frame loom, rug weaving, tie-dyeing, batik, stichery, and other methods of decorating cloth will be included.

The cost of this course will be small, with a limit of 20 participants. Persons interested in enrolling in the class should contact the director of arts and crafts at Seminole Junior College or call 322-1450, ex. 20, at H. R. Hall.

Florida No. 23 In Beef Cattle

By FRANK J. JASA
County Extension Agent
Almost every discussion of livestock eventually leads to the question of how Florida ranks nationally in livestock numbers. Here is the January 1, 1970 inventory compiled by the Florida Cattle and Livestock Reporting Service.

Beets show gladioli grow best on well-drained soils in a sunny location and the soil should be around a pH of 6.5 or 6.7. The soil should be worked thoroughly several weeks before you plant, and all weeds and grass removed. You should cultivate as required to prevent new weeds starting up and to keep the soil in planting condition.

Keep weeds and competing plants at least 12-18 inches away from the gladioli plants. This is done by using recommended weed killers or by hoeing. Either Dacthal or Treflan weed killer can be used safely on the hills — but be careful to follow directions printed on the package.

On December 1, 1969, hogs and pigs on Florida farms totaled 321,000 head, down 5 per cent from a year earlier. This placed Florida 23rd among the states in total hogs and pigs, the same position it held a year earlier.

Lions Host SHS Tribe

Another intra-county battle, the second in a row, is on tap for the Fighting Seminoles tonight as they trek to R. T. Milwain gym to meet the Oviedo Lions. The Seminoles got into tonight's game with a 15-5 record, while the Lions are 14-9 on the season.

The Lions have a team with a deadly shooting percentage. The last time they played the Seminoles they were almost perfect from the floor. The Tribe will have to refrain from making fouls if they want to stop the bulk of the scoring threat.

Tonight's game, as all intra-county battles, is a toss-up. Seminoles of course is favored, but favorites aren't always the ones that win intra-county games.

Daytona 500 Rolls Sunday Afternoon

By BLOYD BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A 500-mile race for small sports sedans was on tap at Daytona Beach today, but the event was still going on as the blazing lap speeds being turned out by the fatal wreck that marred one of 125-mile events Thursday.

Gale Yarborough, making an impressive return to racing after almost losing his life in a wreck last December, won the first of the two sprints at a speed of 143.255 miles an hour in a Mercury. It was the fastest race ever run anywhere.

A three-car wreck at the mid-way point of the second race cost the life of Talmadge "Tab" Prince, a 25-year-old Dublin, Ga., auto dealer who was making his first start in a race for the 4,000-pound 600-horsepower stock cars. Prince, who had raced sprint and late model sportsman cars for 10 years, apparently lost control when his engine blew going into the Daytona "speedway" drive another Dodge, came in high banked west turn. The car went into a wild spin sideways and was struck broadside by Bill Seifert of Skyland, N.C., a Ford.

Yarborough's race was run without incident and he and Dodge's Bobby Isaac battled bumper-to-bumper for the lead much of the way. A quicker pit stop by Yarborough gave him the advantage in the final dash for the checkered flag and he finished five and one-half seconds in front.

Seifert was hospitalized with a concussion and bruises. He was reported in good condition. A third driver involved, John Hallford of Spartanburg, S.C., escaped injury. The race was affected by the 125-mile, but the other 28 starters earned their assignments in these races.

Tony Lund, 41-year-old veteran from Cross, S.C., who earned an eighth starting position in the 500, had the pole in today's 250-mile race for NASCAR's Grand American cars, sedans of the Camaro, Mustang and Javelin class and powered by lighter 260-cubic inch engines. The race uses a track and road course of 3.81 miles.

A 200-mile race for late model sportsman cars is scheduled Saturday, setting the stage for the windup of speed weeks with the Daytona 500 Sunday.

Tribe Linksters Seek 5th Victory

By ROBERT SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High's linksters go after their fifth victory of the season in Daytona Beach today. The golfers will go against the Seabreeze Sandcrabs at Daytona's Tamoka Oak Golf Course.

The four linksters representing Seminole in today's scheduled 3 p.m. match are seniors Dennis Marks, Skip Dalton and Bubba Park, and junior Mike Leary. All four are veterans of the golf course and are dangerous hitters.

The team has gotten in the winning groove by taking their three outings. Prior to that, the squad had lost three straight encounters, after winning their opener. Thus, the team will go into the Seabreeze tournament with an excellent 4-3 record. A combination of player rotation and consistent play has given the Seminoles their winning record and another great performance is expected this afternoon.

Other members of the team, besides the four selected to play today's match, are Robert Ashby, sophomore, Al Green, sophomore, Greg Leach, sophomore, and Doug Gehman also a sophomore. The team is led by Sal Manfer.

With these five sophomores on the team, and with Leary coming back next season, the Tribe golfers look to have more successful seasons ahead of them.

Raider Baseballers Open Slate Saturday

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff
"We'll find out tomorrow."

Those were the words of Seminole Junior College baseball coach Jay Bergman when asked by The Herald if he thought the team was ready. Bergman went on to say, "We've worked hard; in fact, we've played approximately 100 innings of exhibition games."

The tomorrow he was talking about is a double-header scheduled for 1 p.m. in Dado City. The opponent is the St. Leo College freshmen team. The event is the first game of a 42-game slate for the Raiders. It will be a big test for the Raiders to see if the squad, consisting mainly of freshmen,

JAY BERGMAN will make the grade. In fact, besides pitchers, Bergman will have only two sophomores in the lineup. They are Mike Ferrell and Ron Harry, both outfielders. Ferrell is expected to start in center, Harry in left and Steve Shumaker, former Seminole High star is expected to hold down the starting assignment of right field.

SHS Girls Victorious

One of the most hilarious and action-packed games ever held in the Seminole High gym was staged Wednesday night, and the outcome was a 25-15 win for the Seminole High girls' basketball team. Their foe was the Crossins High Panthersettes and the county girls' basketball championship was at stake.

The height of Christine Plapp and the ball handling and deadly shooting of Beth Secord was too much for the Panthersettes. Both Plapp and Secord scored 10 points and Debby Alcott put in eight for the squaws.

The Panthersettes were led by Laura Nelson with six, R. M. Harris with four and Brenda Small with three.

The Panthersettes took the early lead and at one time were ahead 4-3. But the SHS squad charged forward and took an 8-4 first quarter lead. The Seminoles outscored the Panthersettes 15-4 in the second quarter and carried a 23-8 lead into the dressing room and are dangerous hitters.

The second half was more evenly matched as the Seminoles only outscored the Panthersettes 12-7 and took the win 35-15.

Ugly Spectre Clouds Sports Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain's once-bright baseball future was shrouded by the ugly spectre of scandal today following his suspension for what Commissioner Bowie Kuhn called "involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities and his associations at that time."

The 25-year-old Detroit pitcher, ace, who won 21 games in 1968 and 24 last season, was set down indefinitely Thursday, pending further investigation of the alleged indiscretion, after his second meeting with the commissioner in six days.

The suspension of the two-time Young Award winner marked the worst blight suffered by baseball since the infamous 1919 Black Sox scandal, which resulted in lifetime bans for eight Chicago players for conspiring to fix the World Series against Cincinnati that year.

In a prepared statement following his lengthy meeting with McLain and his attorney, William Aiken, Kuhn said: "I have decided on the basis of facts developed at these conferences that Mr. McLain's involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities and his associations at that time leave me no alternative but to suspend him from all organized baseball activities pending the completion of my review of his situation.

"It should be made clear that the action taken today is based substantially on certain admissions made candidly to me by McLain and not on allegations contained in a recent magazine article, many of which I believe will prove to be unfounded."

After their first meeting last Friday, the commissioner issued a terse statement that he was reviewing McLain's "off-the-field activities in 1967," adding, however, that "there is no indication that these activities in any way involved the playing or outcome of baseball games."

McLain, who testified Wednesday in Detroit before a federal grand jury, is being held in a winged-walking operation, appeared haggard and

Lyman 'Clads Ready

While the baseball team has been working out in the gym, and although the new Lyman track is not finished, the Lyman track team has been working vigorously under the direction of head coach Ronnie White and his assistant Herb Kniffel. Tomorrow afternoon will be the third performance for this young squad. At 2 p.m. in Winter Park, at the Wildcat Invitational.

In their second meet of the season, a dual-meet against the Oak Ridge Pioneers, the Greyhounds came out on the short end of the stick 11-41. But Wilbur Ferguson, a junior, broke the school record in the 100-yard dash at 10.1. Knoebel won the mile easily, Tony Garrett won the two-mile and in general, all the running events were dominated by the Hound tracksters.

What hurt the Greyhounds the most in this dual-meet was their lack of over-all depth. The field events were completely dominated, first, second and third place, by the Pioneer tracksters.

After basketball season is over though, Coach White is optimistic of attaining the shot put and discus talents of Nick Browne and the high jumping of Paul Crouse to stabilize their competition in the field events.

As of now though, these competitors are unable to participate, and in tomorrow's Winter Park Wildcat Open White will have to rely strongly on the swift running of the Greyhounds. The meet is set for 2 p.m. at Winter Park, with the preliminaries held tomorrow morning.

Just Not Satisfied

By United Press International

Side Abel, the Detroit Red Wings' coach, isn't usually satisfied with a tie, but he makes an exception when his team plays the New York Rangers.

Bob Nevin and Vic Hadfield scored 3:20 apart midway through the final period Thursday night to give the Rangers a 2-1 tie with Detroit. It was the first time in exactly one year that Detroit managed to pick up a point in the New York arena.

"I'm not usually satisfied with a tie," Abel said, "but here were the ones hanging on at the end."

Garry Unger, Wayne Connely and Billy Dea had scored to give Detroit a 3-1 lead before the two last-period goals by New York which increased its Eastern Division lead in the National Hockey League to two points over idle Boston. The point was costly for the Rangers, however, because defenseman Brad Park was lost for at least 10 days with an ankle injury.

In other games, Chicago beat Minnesota, 3-2, and Pittsburgh shipped Los Angeles, 6-1.

The Black Hawks' Doug Jarrett was celebrating Thursday night because he scored his first goal in 138 games. He didn't score at all last season and had only four goals the previous year.

"I could hardly believe it when it went into the net,"

Aaron Signs With Raise

ATLANTA (AP) — "I received a substantial raise," said smiling Hank Aaron said as he emerged from the office of Atlanta Braves President Bill Barlow Thursday.

That statement should at least earn him a nomination for the "Understatement of the Year Award" since the 36-year-old slugger had just signed a two-year contract for an estimated $250,000, making him the highest-paid player in Braves history.

Aaron, a Mobile, Ala., native, will be entering his 17th season. Most of his career has been in the Braves organization.

'Bank Giveaway' Was Wonderful. BY JOHN CUNIFF. NEW YORK (AP) — While it lasted, the great bank giveaway was a wonderful thing for ordinary Americans, even though it made bank lobsters look like penny arcades or amusement park boardwalks.

Some dropped charges on checking accounts; some forewent bank's hours for normal 9 to 5 business days; some resorted to premiums, to the tune of $70 million in 1968.

Deputy Welcomes Returning GI Hero

Is this fair? A young man arrives home after serving his country for two years overseas in the Armed Forces. He goes to his favorite beach swimming hole ("the bridge to nowhere" on the Wekiva River). He jumps off the bridge and swims as he had done dozens of times before.

After finishing the swim, dripping wet, he climbs into his car as Sheriff's Deputy W. E. Robbins appears on the scene and points to a sign on the bridge prohibiting diving (the sign was bent backwards and upside down).

He immediately arrests the youth and books him in Sanford, giving him a choice of posting a $100 bond, $15 of which must be paid immediately, or spending a day in jail, awaiting trial. Since the young man did not have the $15 he was forced to choose the latter.

At the trial, he was charged a $35 fine which he had to pay or spend eight days in jail.

Wouldn't it have been more reasonable and much more just to have informed the young veteran of the sign and issued a warning instead of leaving a bad impression of law and justice and ruining the youth's homecoming?

And they wonder why the youth do not have respect for the law enforcement.

Governor Here Tonight

By FRED VAN PELT
Governor Kirk is slated to deplane in the late afternoon at Sanford Airport and will join a small group of local supporters in a houseboat cruise on Lake Monroe.

Party supporters who have paid $50 or more for their gala event tickets will be guests at a reception for Governor Kirk at 6:30 p.m. at the House of Steak. It is understood there has been a ticket sell-out for the gala, with the goal of $15,000 for the party war chest having been surpassed.

Mayor Carl Langford, of Orlando, also will be a guest at the VIP reception. Guests at the reception will be transported by limousine to Sanford Civic Center for a dinner.

The dinner at 8 p.m., also will be attended by party followers who paid $15 for tickets. There will be cocktails (at cost) for these guests.

The master of ceremonies, Mayor Langford, a Democrat, is expected to exchange quips with Governor Kirk, a Republican, before the Chief Executive launches into his address.

Also at the speakers' table will be Mrs. Paula Hawkins, Maitland, Florida state national committeewoman; S. C. Sams, Beth Johnson, John Duck-Earl (Duke) Crittenden, or and Kenneth Plante, of Orlando, chairman of the Florida State Republican executive committee, will discuss briefly plans for an all-out campaign for the State House of Representatives and to other state offices.

PUMP HOUSE owned by the City of Sanford was destroyed Friday night when a car driven by Mary Ann Hopkins of Longwood slammed into the cement block fixture located in the median on Highway 17-92. The house was extensively damaged and the car was listed a total loss, according to Trooper Tommy Tomlinson, investigator. The woman was treated for cuts and bruises at Seminole Memorial Hospital and released. (Staff Photo)

On Seminole Blvd. Vacation County Facing The Public

By MARION BETHEA
Tomorrow is D-day at the meeting of Seminole county commissioners . . . not a re-incarnation of the Normandy invasion but possibly the invasion of the rights of the people in the issue of vacating and abandoning a portion of Seminole Boulevard.

The matter was deadlocked at last week's meeting with a 2-2 vote. With the absence of commissioner Robert Parker at the meeting, he now becomes the major dome in the possible resolution of the matter.

Parker, when contacted for a statement by The Sanford Herald this morning, felt that "the entire issue has been blown up all out of proportion" (presumably by the press). However, Parker continued that he has been deluged with telephone calls from constituents who do not favor the vacating and abandoning. Parker stated that he had not received a single call in favor of the petition.

Commissioners Dan Pelham and Edward Yarborough voted in favor of vacating and abandoning. Pelham voting in the affirmative after receiving a statement from County Engineer William Bush that an extensive muck bed exists in the area which would, in his opinion, make future road building impractical. Yarborough gave no reason for his vote.

Greg Drummond voted against the motion with the contention that the county would be surrendering "valuable assets." Drummond feels that construction of a road may be feasible in the future. Chairman John Alexander agreed with Drummond.

Attorney for the petitioners, William Hutchison, maintains that the only right being surrendered is the right to build a road which he feels is negotiable.

Thus are all the protagonists in the continuing drama, all of whom have voted their convictions . . . once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide" . . . and tomorrow is Parker's turn.

Other business to be considered at the meeting by commissioners are a discussion on dumping violations and a railroad ordinance. County attorney Harold Johnson was requested to prepare the ordinance.

VW Dealer Hit By Burglars

By BILL SCOTT
Tape decks, tools and equipment and cash with a total expected to run into the thousands of dollars were removed last night from Baker's Volkswagen, 3219 S. Orlando Drive.

Seminole County investigators Tony Calangino, Clarence Smith and George Abay were probing the break-in that occurred sometime after 11:15 p.m. last night according to Deputy Calangino.

The investigator said William Baker, firm official, was working until after 11 p.m. and reported everything was alright when he left.

Entry was made through a northeast window, the deputy said. At least 20 tape decks, mechanics tools and other valuable equipment were taken. Calangino said.

The company safe was left standing open, but according to the deputy, $98 was removed from a cash drawer.

Two shot guns and a rifle with a total of $360 value were stolen from the Chulota home of Carol Jacobs, county records show.

The home was entered and guns taken sometime Saturday, according to the report.

In the meantime Sanford police have arrested a 16-year-old youth for at least two break-ins at Ted Williams Hardware Company, 25th Street and Magnolia Avenue.

Detectives Tom Deppen and Ralph Russell said the boy had been turned over the juvenile authorities after money and several hardware items, including $2.89 cash had been recovered.

Deppen said the youth had been sleeping in a dirt hole with a covering since his mother was ordered to leave home by his mother.

Sanford police are investigating two incidents of rape which allegedly occurred during the weekend.

A 12-year-old girl told her mother she was raped by a man who took her to the store in his car.

Deppen said no arrest had yet been made pending the issuance of a warrant and a medical examination report.

A 15-year-old woman told police she was raped by a "young" male late Saturday night. The incident allegedly occurred in the vicinity of Elm and French Avenues.

The woman said the attack took place on the edge of the road. Deppen said an investigation into the report is continuing.

Zoo To Be Aired

Sanford City Commission meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday night has been postponed 24 hours so commissioners can attend the Lincoln Birthday dinner with Gov. Claude Kirk. Mayor Lee Moore said the regular session would be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

At that time representatives of SISTER, civic improvement group, are expected to attend the meeting regarding announced intention of city to change present municipal zoo operations to include native state animals only.

Commission at a work session a week ago indicated the preference for a Florida animals-only zoo to be kept at present city location.

SISTERs have opposed the zoo de-emphasis and, in turn, have sought to have the animal attraction enlarged and moved to another area somewhere within the city limits.

Commission asked City Manager W. E. Knowles to come up with plans and information on animals and amount of space required for the zoo before acting on a Florida animals-only zoo.

Other city agenda items include a presentation of Dr. Jess Dietz regarding the proposed second stage of city's sewage treatment plant.

John Krider, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce manager, is expected to be named to fill the last remaining opening on the Sanford Industrial Commission. Krider's name was recommended by the chamber executives.

A consideration of pre-filed legislation as outlined by the Florida Municipal League is also docketed for discussion by the commission.

Consideration of an occupational license schedule is also expected to be brought to the city board for discussion.

First readings of five new city ordinances regarding airport zoning regulations; rezoning from light industrial to commercial property in area north of Fulton Street between French and Mangrove Avenues; allow new car lots in commercial zones; set up a classification and fee for bank occupations licenses and annex five city lots at Sanford Avenue and 26th Street.
