NO NEED for you of Florida to go afar for Summer pleasure . . . to take wearisome journeys . . . to spend hours of fretful debate over maps and folders . . . no need to lose the joy of vacation in the strain of preparing for it.

Florida is the acknowledged mistress of American winter resorts. The same attractions that lure thousands here during the winter months are yours during the summer at less expense and without the crowding that comes with cold weather popularity. Don't waste them!

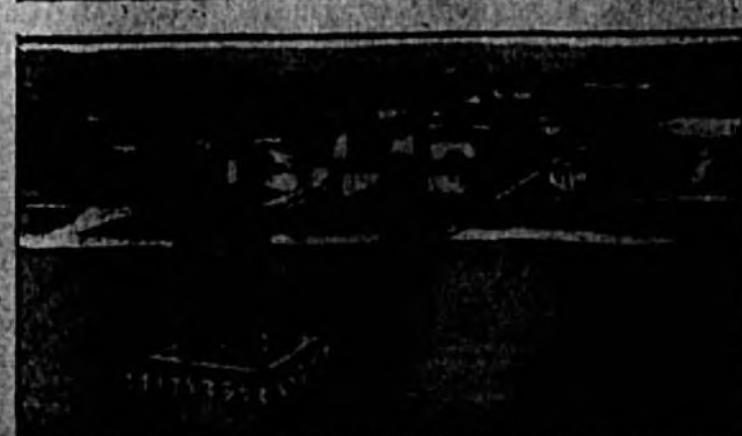

Nowhere is summer more congenial than in Florida. Here June days and October nights, sun-glorified, trade-wind cooled, follow each other from Spring until Autumn-like matched gems in a necklace. There are no depressing, devitalizing "hot spells" . . . there can be none with busy trade-winds sweeping sea-crisp air constantly across the peninsula of Florida. Florida invites you to spend a vacation in your own state this year. Florida promises you pleasures you will never forget.

Tour the state, moving to new scenes daily, go to the beach resorts, camp, cruise, . . . do what you will, you'll find enjoyment anywhere in Florida. If you tour or cruise you see Florida's tropic loveliness in summer luxury, the land's real beauty that is denied the winter tourist. Dame Nature plies a lavish brush to touch the countryside with shining colors. Riding over Florida's magnificent highways that lace the state in a close network or slipping happily down its velvet waterways you are always in the heart of magnificent scenery.

If you want the more elaborate joys of a resort . . . Florida's famous ocean beaches beckon to you. Mile upon mile of shimmering white sand and lacy surf . . . cool always but touched with the magic of tropic languor by day, of tropic mystery by night. Surf-bathing, boating, moonlight walks and drives, seaside sports . . . there is no end to the fun at Florida beaches. Vacations pass all too soon! Go where you will! It makes no difference! Pleasures await you everywhere in Florida!

Skim over the rolling, exhilarating hills of the ridge section between miles of gleaming citrus groves with glimpses of distant lakes like remote mirrors . . . visit the famous ocean beaches of Florida, feel the Old World charm of its ancient places . . . seek adventure on its highways and waterways . . . try both salt and fresh water fishing here instead of searching in vain miles away . . . know Florida's loveliness, its startling scenic beauty . . . enjoy the endless surprises of its varied vistas, its flourishing towns, its rich agricultural districts. Florida invites you this year to be one of the many wise Floridians who will enjoy an interesting and pleasant vacation this summer in their own state. Your vacation Castles in Spain are here in Florida. Look for them this year.

BIBLE CLASS FOR TODAY

THE MASTER WORKMAN
house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? said the Lord Behold, as the clay is in the Potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand—Jeremiah 18:6.
—PRAYER—"Here Lord, I give myself to Thee, The all that I can do."

CITY STREETS
I don't know what to do in city streets,
When first I feel the joy of Spring's caress;
I try to still my heart's tumultuous beats;
But yet I think the passers-by must guess.

How can they walk sedately, when I long
For country-lanes and skies and country air,
And never send a little thrilling song
Of thankfulness the world should be so fair.

What can one do in city streets in May,
With all the aching beauty of the Spring?

God did not mean that we should live that way,
The very pavements mock at such a thing.

By Fannie Livermore

Florida is now entering—that period of the year when the warm days make a cool night so delightful.

A Jacksonville optimist says "Strike and keep out of debt". If he'll show us how, we take his advice.

Sanford may not be built on seven hills but there are plenty of folks who do not believe that it is flat.

The Medfly does not like cold; try and before next winter it will be ruined.

Now that the college boys and girls are back, we will expect an immediate solution for all Sanfords problems.

Phil Armstrong of the Times-Union says "A tug to the wire is sufficient", but some men have to use a bathe.

Judging from recent pictures in the National Geographic, we gather that our girls are still wearing more than the Fiji Islanders.

A good politician always pays his political obligations.—Eustis Lake Region. But it is the public that pays, and pays, and pays.

General Basgar, Mexican revolutionary, is said to be living in Vancouver where it is not nearly so warm for him as in his own country.

Bill Peeler of the Gainesville Sun, says kissing was kissing in the old days when a boy didn't taste anything but real girls.—Times-Union. And Bill ought to know.

The wolf canis meeting a special rate of 50 cents for the summer months. Everyone should take advantage of its economy of time. It is cheaper to pay green fees than doctor bills.

The Okala Banquet points out that Felix Bauer is not a character in comic strip; he is an eminent political scientist at Harvard. And quite as famed for his articles in defense of Sacra and Vanzetti as anything else.

What the Palm Beach Independent chooses to call a "fruitlegger" is a person utterly selfish, so disregardful of the right of others, so subservient to the lust for gold, that he sneaks infected fruit into a non-infested area.

It seems like there is nothing too mean for some people to do for the sake of money—and not much money at that. The Tampa papers tell of fruit being bootlegged into Hillsborough county by people from the Medfly infested districts, who, aided by "spotters" or spies, travel over little used and unguarded roads. People doing anything like that deserve killing, and farmers and fruit growers living in uninhabited districts will be justified in taking their shotguns and effectively closing all fruitleggers who come their way.—Palm Beach Independent.

Other Kinds Of Snobs

Speaking before the General Federation of Women's clubs in Swampscott, Massachusetts, Dr. Orestes Ferrara, Cuban ambassador to the United States, recently called attention to the necessity for a campaign among women in this country to eliminate snobishness. He says that it is the existence of a certain attitude of superiority which makes it difficult to bring together our social elements. "Knowing each other better", he concludes, "would help to make this snobishness disappear."

Snobishness is a word ordinarily applied to those who, because they possess more than an average share of worldly goods, think they are, or at least appear to think they are better than those not so favored by the gods of gold. There undoubtedly are many people who, though they may have inherited money, or made it by some lucky strike in oil, actually think they are endowed with vastly superior qualities of mind and talent to others before whom they like to parate their superiority.

But real snobishness, it seems to us, is a far broader term than that. There are snobs among carpenters, brick masons, bootblacks, servant girls, and alley cats. There are snobs among all classes of people, among the tall, ringed, vigorous plainmen of northern Russia, among the little shrivelled up Hottentots of South Africa, among the Chinlone coolies of Chinkiang. Wherever you find a person who likes to proclaim his physique, his customs the most approved customs, his religion—the real religion, his literature the most advanced literature, you will find a snob.

Perhaps the worst snobs in the world are among servants. In large establishments where an entire retinue is required to keep things running smoothly, snobishness among the servants is the worst problem with which the housekeeper has to contend. Where there is a cook and a second girl, two or three chamber maids and two or three lady's maids, a butler, a valet, a chauffeur and a gardener, it may be a comparatively simple matter to find enough work for all of them to do, but it is a brain racking task to be absolutely sure that exactly the right job is allotted to each one, for nothing is so sure to cause a riot in the servants' quarters as to expect the cook to do any of the second girl's work.

Snobishness is a fault far more general than is usually supposed, and an intellectual snob is just as bad as a money snob. More careful observers of human characteristics tell us that all people have their points, and all people their weaknesses. One is wise who does not measure others by his own yardstick. He may find that he is lacking in qualities which he had never before missed.

The Sebring Convention

As time passes and the ranks of the Blue and the Gray are steadily thinned, the survivors of the Spanish American war are gradually becoming our oldest war veterans. As such their reunions and annual encampments are beginning to assume added importance because of the positions of prominence so many of these old soldiers occupy in their respective communities.

Of great significance, then, is the convention to be held in Sebring during the week beginning June 9. It is being sponsored by the department encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans of Florida, but will include such other war organizations as the Military Order of the Serpent, called the "Snaix", survivors of the old Eight Army Corps which engaged in active service in China and the Philippines, the auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans, and the war nurses of the war with Spain.

Representatives will also be present from the United Confederate Veterans, the Grand Army of the Republic, the American Legion and the other allied organizations. Sebring is preparing for extraordinary crowds including many persons of national prominence. Among those who have signified their intention of attending the convention, besides Governor Carlton who will review the retreat parade are:

National Commander-in-Chief William L. Grayson; Gen. James J. Murphy, of Washington, quartermaster general; George Gutz, Detroit Mich., national president of the eighth army corps; Col. Edward F. O'Brien, publisher of the Havana Times; Mrs. Oliva Ravens, Lansing Mich., national president of the auxiliary; National Chaplain-in-Chief Arthur M. Sykes, of Rochester, N. Y.; Hon. Herman Binder, generalissimo of the Military Order of the Serpent, of Detroit; Maj.-Gen. T. J. Appleyard, commander of the United Confederate Veterans; Col. Rice W. Means, of Washington, post-commander-in-chief, and formerly senator from Colorado.

There will be a number of special entertainment features throughout the course of the week, only a comparatively small part of the program being given to business matters. Perhaps the most notable feature will be the carnival-styled parade, "A Night in Old Manila", which promises to be a gala affair with the parades, masks, makeup, and portuguese costumes, being led by the Snaix full Philippine regalia. It will be participated in by all the military bodies, civic organizations, and the general public.

The Sebring convention will undoubtedly provide a week of rare entertainment for all who attend and the memories which will be revived will form no small part of the fun.

DEATHBED REPENTANCE

TAMPA TRIBUNE

The Legislature waited until the last few days of the session to use the economic knife. Now it is slashing right and left, with effects apparent and appreciable to the grand total of state government cost.

Up to a journement Tuesday, the House and Senate had enacted a budget in state expenditures amounting to $600,000.

If we remember right, Governor Carlton said, before the legislature met, that at least one million dollars could be cut from state expenses without serious detriment to the public service. The legislature has found three-fifths of the million.

The major cut has been in salaries. Supreme Court and Circuit Judges and State Attorneys being the principal sufferers. It would be better, in view, to reduce the number of Circuit Judges than to reduce the salaries. Six thousand dollars a year is poor pay for a Judge if he is a good enough lawyer to command a worthwhile private practice.

If the legislature records a failure, as now seems likely, in enacting an extraordinary session, it will be due to two things—

A silver lining to the national Democratic defeat last fall is that it had been otherwise Pat Harrison, irresponsible Democratic senator from Mississippi, could not have been the exquisite thoroughbred in the majority flesh he is today. Supreme in the sacerdotal of sarcasm was Pat's recent reply in the senate to the witless attack on Republican progressives by Secretary of the Navy Adams.

Mr. Adams is a "sea-dog", it is said. Apparently he is never so much at sea as when he attempts to meddle in congressional affairs. With a little more application in this direction he can make himself as embarrassing to President Hoover as the British ambassador was.

Or as his predecessor in the navy portfolio was, time after time, to president Coolidge. Republican secretaries of the navy seem always to have trouble with their hind legs.

Florida's delegation was among the 29 out of 151 Democrats in the House of Representatives who voted for the Republican tariff bill. Of the twenty only twelve were from southern states; five from Florida, six from Louisiana and two from Texas.

The Florida vote suggests either a change in tariff philosophy on the part of these Democrats or a mistaken application of it. The proper Democratic position, it has always seemed to us, is that the high tariff system is bad but that so long as there is to be such a system it should be fairly distributed. To insist upon tariff protection for Florida products if there is to be a tariff at all would be consonant with this position. But to vote for the high tariff bill as a whole was not.

Walter Newton is acting at Washington in the extraordinary double capacity of secretary to the president and member of congress from Minnesota. This is beautiful, British but is it constitutional? How about the constitutional principles of separation of powers and checks and balances? Would William Howard Taft be permitted to hold a legal membership and still sit on the supreme court bench? Could Ruth Bryan Owen neglect her cabinet post and remain a congressman? Mr. Newton's position, it seems to us, raises an issue more important even than that of Mrs. Gann.

Even though the British laborites were called socialist in the recent political campaign their victory at the polls last Thursday does not mean that England will be delivered over to the ghost of Karl Marx. Socialism, which was once a very narrow tent is now a broad one that covers more of sentiment than of philosophy. Particularly in England where dangerous things are always diluting.

From the American viewpoint the net result of the British election will probably mean that the pro-American will go to Ramsay McDonald, friend of the United States and of international organization.

See where Mr. Ace was married in Jackson, the other day. Gutz feels like a King who has taken a Queen, but hell think he has played the Deuce when he finds that a Ten Spot is not even tackled until more than half the allotted time has passed. When a losing, apparently bad agreement could not be reached on his first trial, the Governor showed his willingness to expedite legislation for tax relief and to avoid extra session by offering compromise in a measure. The anti-Carroll bloc could not be reasoned with. Intent upon defeating anything the Governor recommended, action was blocked from day to day, until the time came when about

Garden Club To Hold Usual Flower Show

By Mrs. Henry Wright

The Garden Club of Sanford will hold its usual summer flower show at the garden party next Friday at the Sally Ray Farm. The exhibition will be in charge of Mrs. E. B. Sloane, who earnestly beseeches the full cooperation of all garden club members. It realities, the season is not favorable one for bloom, but if each member will contribute just what may grow in her garden, the show will be interesting and instructive.

In addition to cut flowers, potted plants, ferns, begonias and other things are solicited. All exhibits should be clearly tagged with the name of the owner as well as the names of the plants and if they are placed on the front verandah of the home of Mrs. Henry Wright between the hours of one and three o'clock on Friday, a truck will be sent to take them out to the place of exhibition.

It is important that those sending flowers shall signify to Mrs. S. R. Brighten, chairman of the courtesies committee whether she is to have them for distribution to the sick or the community, in order that she may make her plans in advance.

In every case, exhibitors have the final disposal of their own flowers, and it is entirely optional as to whether they are to be distributed by the courtesies committee, but they are expected to take their containers all home with them Friday afternoon.

Giants Look Like Threat In National League Race As They Continue Winning

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Giants and Athletics, magic names in the days when Matty was Matty and Baker, Collins, Barry and McNamee were the infielders of infiels, began to look the part by day of a reasonably intelligent bet as collaborators in another world series such as set the pace back in 1911 and 1912. There were monumental offerings to the pages of baseball history, notable contributions being Mathewson's three shutouts in 1905 and Baker's home runs to win successive games from Marquard and Mathewson in 1911, and we may never see their like again. But admittedly the chance is there, with the Athletics so far in front that the rest of the American League can't even see them by appointment and the Giants coming with the speed of an evil humor.

The latter were an inch and a half out of last place two weeks ago. When they won six straight, drew one to the Dodgers and yesterday their second victory in two games with the Cubs gave them four more in a row for a record of 10 out of the last 11. I don't know how far the outfit may intend to go with this position but this much is certain: any time the Giants play .400 baseball through the first five weeks of a season, the National League owes them a lot of victories.

The National League, in fact, is beginning to pay part of the debt. The Giants, today after half-game back of the Phillies in fourth place two behind the Cubs and only 4-1-2 out of the lead, they already have taken half of a series from one contender, the Cubs. If the brush of the rest of this, they need only win the majority of their games in Pittsburgh and St. Louis to come back to the Polar position at or near the top. After that, it will be any man's race, which, after all, was what it figured to be in the first place.

The American League, however, on the contrary might be decimal with the next 20 days, the fact the Athletics have 1-1-1 record against the Cardinals. Mr. Mack Young, new having taken title to 6-1-2 games in front of his men in their last 17 starts and losing 1-1-2 games in front of his men. They showed off all the fact of their field through the month of May but, of course, they spent off-seasons before being known. They have won 10 of 25 since May 9, at which point the New York Yankees, of whom you may have heard, had just won seven in a row and the boys were panting July 1st, giant "unbeatable contestants" and other bellime stories.

The Athletics, having played an 8-8 game for nearly a month, will come back to sanity, of course, but somehow I don't expect them to collapse entirely or to collapse at all. I expect them to win the pennant.

Anyhow, the next three weeks either will tell the story or begin little of its succeeding chapter. To the imagination, the enterpriser of the League is beginning a keep stand of home and this will be the Yankees' chance to pull among the corps of the others that once was theirs and try to make it live again. Personally, I think the future will be up and down, if they come now, and the Athletics no, something may happen and probably a lot of things will.

Mystery Picture Is Feature At Milane Theatre's Program

Another adventure was narrated in the description of some pictures last night when the Fox Movie Co. offered "Three Different Eyes" as a preview of "The Mystery Picture" to be given off for the first time at the Milane Theatre.

Entirely aside from its limited perfection, "Three Different Eyes" is a highly dramatic, exciting production that stands on its own. It is a unique picture in that it is the story of a man's trial in three different ways; first, as seen by the defense attorney, and finally as it really happened.

The cast is of strong character, featuring Mary Duncan, Warner Baxter and Edgard Lasko. Miss Duncan will be remembered for her outstanding performance in the recent silent drama, "The River," "I Want You" and "The Daily Round," as well as her great success in the stage in "The Shanghai Gesture" and other productions.

Baxter and Lasko repeat their sensational success of "An Old Arizona" and establish themselves securely as leaders in the medium of Fox Movietone. The picture of the large cast is of an unusually high type, and includes such well-known players as Fred Fox, Natalie Moorhead, Donald Calthorpe, Florence Lake and Sylvia Sidney.

Those who miss "Three Different Eyes" not only will miss the greatest sound picture yet produced but also will deprive themselves of an evening of wonderful entertainment.

(Continued From Page One over the recognition accorded the campaign by Mr. Brisbane. "His statement has a two-fold effect," said Mr. H. J. Lehman, general chairman. "In the first place, the direct advertising value of it is worth many thousands of dollars to us. When such an authority as Mr. Brisbane comes out with the statement that safety is rich in health giving vitamins, good for the nerves and blood, millions of people begin to think about collitis, constipation, etc., and they think about fruits and vegetables advertising which we couldn't possibly buy and it is of tremendous value to us."

"In the second place," said Mr. Lehman, "Mr. Brisbane's comment definitely places the Florida citrus growers on record before the people of the United States in regard to the proposed campaign. This statement, which was read yesterday by more than 69,000,000 people, emphasizes the belief of the citrus growers of this state in their product and constitutes a challenge to the growers of advertising agreements needed to insure the completion of the fund."

King George's Health Is Said Satisfactory

WINDSOR, Eng., June 3—(INS)—The condition of King George, suffering from an absence of the lids of the eyes, was not deemed to be satisfactory yesterday. The king, which fainted under the shade of a gondola opened during his earlier illness, is under treatment.

700 PROPERTIES INFESTED BY FLY NOW ON RECORDS

Magnitude Of Works Revealed In Charts Of State Officials

ORLANDO, June 3.—Records at the lighting headquarters in Orlando show that 15,000 more than seven hundred separate infested properties have been located and charted within the area now under quarantine.

Something of the magnitude of the work involved is shown by the records that these properties may have been cleaned up and spray treated, together with all territory within a mile around each, involving, it is estimated, a total of something more than 500,000 thousand acres.

Spraying is going forward rapidly by all of additional equipment obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture, and considerable encouragement is found, it is stated, in the diminishing fly population record by the scientific observers.

Locations of the various infestations by counties, together with the nearest towns to the infestations in each case, are as follows:

COUNTIES TOWNS

BREVARD—Allenhurst, Aurania, Banyan, Cocoa, Cocoa Beach, Courtenay, Frontenac, Indian River City, Indiana, Merritt, Merritt Island, Mims, Oak Hill, Rockledge, Shipton, Shiloh, Titusville, Tropic, Turnbull.

DUVAL—Jacksonville.

LAKE—Altoona, Astoria, Astor,

Now that summer is here, a favorite leisure hour topic with a large number of us is the annual vacation. Memories of glorious days, spent on the roads and trails through forest or mountain, by lake or stream, lure our thoughts to plans for the future. The delights of anticipation are ours as we pore over maps, pamphlets and think of the days to come.

Canada offers attractions which are unsurpassed in their diversity. East, west or north the road lead to opportunity and adventure. In order to assist the tourist in planning his trip, the Canadian Government, through the Department of the Interior, issue a series of maps showing the main automobile roads in Canada, the northern territories, the states, which make up the "Atlantic," "Middle West" and "Pacific." The sketch map reproduced on this page indicates the area covered by one of these maps, which, however, contains much more detail than could be shown here.

Presenting a sufficiently large area to cover most of the territory within reasonably touring distance, they are issued in very few maps, available so that about nearly the main highway systems and their connections between the two countries, without unnecessary detail. By their help, the tourist may plan his itinerary for his vacation, which may be obtained free of charge upon request to the Natural Resources Department of the Interior at Ottawa, Canada.
