Holiday Inn On Lake Said Behind In Mortgage Payments

The Sanford City Commission moved to protect the city's interests at its marina motel complex Monday by voting to tell the owners of Holiday Inn they are in violation of their lease by being behind in mortgage payments.

One of the owners of the Inn, however, said the business is seeking refinancing and should have the situation resolved within a month.

Holiday Inn is allegedly $105,190 behind in mortgage payments and other charges since January, according to a letter to the city from a Savannah, Ga., law firm. The money is owed Great Southern Federal Savings of Savannah, which is represented by the law firm. About $67,000 in interest is due, $25,000 in principal, $6,000 for escrow, and $7,000 in late charges, according to a letter presented to the city commission by city attorney William Colbert. The city is not the mortgagee but rents the land to the Inn and gets 2.5 percent of the Inn's gross receipts.

Regardless of what happens, the city owns the land and does not stand to lose it in the deal.

Ed Welch, co-owner of the Holiday Inn, said today the Inn is not closing and was just caught in a financial squeeze while seeking refinancing of its mortgage. He said the matter should be cleared up in 20 to 30 days and he is in negotiations to obtain refinancing. Welch said when seeking refinancing, the original lending institution is not too concerned about receiving its payments because of the cash generated by the refinancing. However, the negotiations are taking longer than planned and Great Southern was required to notify the city of the arrears so the city could protect its position, Welch said.

Colbert recommended the city send a letter notifying Holiday Inn it is in violation of its lease to protect its interest in the matter. He said he received the letter telling of the arrears just a couple of hours before the commission's regularly

Propaganda Law OK, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today a law classifying political films by foreigners as "propaganda" is constitutional and handed the Reagan administration a victory in its battle over Canadian films dealing with acid rain and nuclear war.

The court, on a 5-3 decision, rejected arguments by California state Senator Barry Keene that the provision, included in a nearly 50-year-old law, would prejudice an audience even though the audience would not have to be told the classification.

Justice John Paul Stevens, writing for the majority, said the act places no restrictions on the dissemination of films and that the "use of the term 'propaganda' in this statute ... has no pejorative connotation."

In dissent, however, Justices Harry Blackmun, William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall, said the term is not neutral and applying it to the films is an infringement of First Amendment Rights of freedom of expression.

Justice Antonin Scalia did not take part in the case.

In other action, the Supreme Court ruled:

- Ruled unanimously that a Virginia real estate developer sued by the government for violating the Clean Water Act is entitled to a jury trial. Justice William Brennan wrote the opinion.

- Held, in a unanimous opinion by Brennan, that a federal court has no power to stop railway union members employed by one company from "secondary picketing" at other railroads.

Sanford Honors Curator

Mildred M. Caskey, curator of the Henry Shelton Sanford Library-Museum, was honored by the Sanford City Commission Tuesday for her work for the community and its individual citizens.

Selected to receive the city's third annual W.E. "Pete" Knowles Service Award, Mrs. Caskey was presented with a plaque for "her 13 years of service to the city of Sanford as curator (of the museum), to the community Ballet Guild and any organization that needs her assistance."

Sanford Mayor Betty Smith said Mrs. Caskey's efforts on behalf of the city were always "a labor of love."

"She never made any money at it," Mrs. Smith said. "We certainly do thank her for everything she's done."

Knowles, on hand to begin the presentation said, "There is nothing more fulfilling than working for your community and your fellow man."

"I was completely surprised," Mrs. Caskey said today. "And certainly pleased to be so honored."

The resolution commending Mrs. Caskey was recorded in the official minutes of the city and a copy of those minutes presented to her. The presentation was during a regularly scheduled meeting of the commission at city hall.

Mrs. Caskey moved to Deltona in the 1970s after operating a successful School of Ballet for 35 years in Springfield, Ill., and being associated with the New York City Ballet, the Cornstock Theater of Bradley University and the Springfield Municipal Opera and Theatre Guild, according to the resolution.

After moving to Deltona she served on the Bram Towers Construction Advisory Board and moved into the towers in Sanford in 1973.

She accepted the part-time, and according to the resolution, low-paying position, as curator of the Henry Shelton Sanford Museum long hours to improving the library, implementing the seasonal exhibit concept and establishing one of the most respected and used research centers of General Sanford's period of history.

General Sanford, known for his work as minister to Belgium during the Lincoln administration and for his experimentation with citrus in Florida, founded the city of Sanford.

Mrs. Caskey also was recognized for her ballet writing and choreography, including the historical ballet "The River Gold," which debuted in Sanford during the nation's bicentennial and depicts life along the St. Johns River.

Bond Denied Wife Charged In Murder

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A south Seminole County woman charged with the first-degree murder of her husband was denied bond during a hearing Monday that provided glimpses into how state and defense attorneys will present their sides in the case of a slain French baker who may have forced a sordid, violent lifestyle upon his wife.

Kimberly Bliss Soubielle, 21, formerly of 2618 Tierra Circle, was denied bond by Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. who said the state had proved that the proof was evident and the presumption great that she committed the crime. Soubielle has admitted killing her husband, Pierre Soubielle, 25, but will probably present a defense that it was a justified homicide. Her attorney told the court she was forced into prostitution.

The state will argue the crime was premeditated and while it is not yet seeking the death penalty that has not been excluded.

Premeditation apparently weighed on Eaton's mind who wondered when the premeditation occurred. Before the shooting, after the second shot, or the third shot, or the fifth shot, he said, or when she reloaded and shot her husband for a seventh time on March 14.

"... When you reload it is pretty strong evidence of premeditation," said Eaton in denying the request.

Soubielle's attorney, Chandler Muller of Winter Park, argued among many points that Soubielle was on $5,000 bond until indicted by a grand jury April 2.

"If she was going to go judge, she'd be history now," he said explaining that she has a valid passport.

The events surrounding the marriage of the Soubielles unfolded at the bond hearing like elements from a soap opera.

She had recently received a full scholarship to Rice University in Houston but her husband, a highly-regarded baker at the Peabody Hotel in Orlando, was threatened by her move for independence, said Muller. He said Soubielle had forced his wife into prostitution — of which she had no conviction — and often threatened his wife. One of her prostitution clients had bought the gun for her at her request, according to comments made in court. And then there was the couple's 2-year-old daughter who may have been sexually abused by him, according to testimony by Mrs. Soubielle's mother, who has since moved from the couple's south Seminole County home to Casselberry. She also testified that during the months prior to the shooting, when the couple lived in her home, Soubielle flew into rages, had threatened them and had changed habits of personal hygiene. There was a hint by Muller that Soubielle may have made unusual sexual demands on his wife and testimony that he said he once beat his father so bad he had to be hospitalized.

They were fighting the night of the shooting over Soubielle's statement that he was going to take the child back to France. Mrs. Soubielle was to take the girl to Houlston. They fought over the child, then the gun, said Muller. She was afraid he was going to "get her," he said.

Soubielle, about 5-foot, 10-inches tall and 170 pounds was a man accustomed to lifting 100 pound bags of flour. Muller said. His blonde wife stands about 5-foot, 6-inches tall and weighs 120 pounds.

There had been previous physical violence in the marriage, testimony indicated. The child, said Mrs. Soubielle's mother, had a bloodied diaper once and displays behavior that indicates some sexual contact, she testified.

No charges against Soubielle for the alleged incidents with his wife or the child were ever investigated or filed, said Steve Plotnick for the state. He said

More Objections To Expressway Through Sanford

By Kathy Tyrity
And
Tom Giordano

More than 200 residents of the Hidden Lake-Ramblewood subdivision off Lake Mary Boulevard in Sanford turned out for an expressway meeting Monday night, one in a series held recently over the proposed routes through Sanford linking the expressway to Interstate 4. Several residents voiced strenuous objections to any route selection that would take the link through Sanford, saying it would devalue their property and "junk up Sanford."

One of those residents, Dale Dietzman, 309 Tall Pine Lane, an electrical engineer with Stromberg-Carlson, urged expressway authority officials to select an easterly route that would carry the expressway across Lake Jesup, then east around the Sanford Regional Airport to near the Osteen Bridge and westerly through Volusia County for a link to I-4. That proposal was met with resounding applause by residents at the Hidden Lake clubhouse meeting.

But his plea was met with resistance from Gerald Brinton, Seminole County Expressway Authority Executive Director. Brinton said he and his colleagues had examined an aerial map of that easterly route and determined it appeared to be too lengthy and would be a long time before it could be built.

Dietzman and other residents said they were angry that the proposed routes would cut right through Sanford and cause the removal of several expensive homes as well as thousands of square feet of commercial space.

"That route should go around the Sanford airport so it goes through an area already being developed as industrial park," said Dietzman.

Dietzman urged Brinton and the expressway authority to "put his thing on hold" until it can be determined if an easterly route around Sanford would be feasible. Not long ago Sanford Commissioner Bob Sturm asked that a study be made to determine how much it would cost to conduct a study of such a route. He and the rest of the county commission, plus one Sanford and one Lake Mary city representative, serve as the expressway authority and they voted unanimously to examine the costs of studying an easterly route.

Organizers of the meeting had several residents sign a petition objecting to a route through Sanford. The petition will be turned over to Sanford Mayor Betty Smith, Sanford's representative on the expressway authority.

While there have been fears that the local expressway authority, once it decides on a route, would be overturned by the state, Expressway Authority Chairman Fred Streetman said at last week's meeting he is confident that will not happen. He said the state Legislature won't usurp the county's authority to pick a route for the Seminole County Expressway.

"The Legislative Delegation has our input and will be making the recommendation," he said. "I am comfortable there won't be any change which will interrupt our final decision."

He was speaking of an attempt by several state representatives to pass a bill which would disband the present expressway authorities in Seminole and Orange counties and create a four-county Central Florida Expressway Authority.

That meeting was an emotional one in which many members of the public commented and presented petitions asking that the route not go through

Waldheim Lashes Out At U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Austrian President Kurt Waldheim lashed out today at Attorney General Edwin Meese's order barring the former United Nations chief from the United States for his alleged role in Nazi war crimes.

Monday's decision placing Waldheim on an immigration "watch list" and denying him entrance to the United States rattled diplomatic relations between Vienna and Washington. Austria recalled its ambassador.

The action goes against the legal principles of the civilized world, which says that nobody can be found guilty as long as there is no evidence for his guilt," said Waldheim, who was quoted by Austrian radio in Vienna.

"If you consequently follow the actions of the United States then you would have to put all the former members of the Wehrmacht (German army) on the so-called 'watch list,'" Waldheim said.

Meese's decision marked the first time the United States has branded the head of state of a friendly nation a suspected war criminal and an "undestable alien" under U.S. law.

Lake Mary, County Agree To Sewer Hook-Up Terms

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Commission Monday agreed to proceed in negotiations with Seminole County that will finalize plans to treat Lake Mary wastewater at the county's Greenwood Lakes treatment plant.

The commission selected the Seminole County provision over two other alternates, one which would have provided service through the on-site treatment plant at the Timacuan Development in Lake Mary and another which would have provided service through the city of Sanford.

Based on information received from Jim Bible, the county's environmental services director, and an independent investigation of records at the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation, City Manager Bob Norris said staff believes that Seminole County has adequate existing capacity at the Greenwood Lakes system to accommodate

IN BRIEF

Stick-Wielding Assailant Attacks Man In Automobile

A man who allegedly poked a 3-foot long stick into the car of a man parked at 130 Dellwood Drive, Longwood, at about 6 p.m. Saturday, was arrested after the victim fled and reported the alleged assault to Longwood police.

The victim had red marks on his face and there was $100 damage to his vehicle, both allegedly inflicted by the stick-wielding suspect.

The suspect was located at his home and charged with aggravated battery and criminal mischief at about 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Matthew James Sepe, 22, of 130 Dellwood Drive, was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond. The victim was not named in a Longwood police report and a reason for the alleged assault was not given.

Man Arrested For Lewd Assaults

Longwood police reported charging Robert Edward Lee Jr., 33, of 438 Longwood Circle, Longwood, with committing lewd assaults on a 15-year-old girl between January and March.

Lee was arrested at 5 p.m. Friday after questioning at the Longwood police station. He was being held without bond.

Alleged Abuse Brings Arrest

Sanford police who saw a man holding a 12-year-old girl by her arms outside 56 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford, at about 7:50 p.m. Saturday, reported charging the man with aggravated child abuse.

Eugene Jeffery Jackson, 25, of 36 Lake Monroe Terrace, was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Knifing Brings Arrest In Sanford

A 20-year-old Sanford man has been charged with aggravated battery in connection with the Sunday stabbing of Paul Thomas Stewart, who was cut on the left arm.

Stewart was treated and released at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. Aldeen Herman Sanders, of Eighth Street at Sanford Avenue #1, Sanford, has been charged with aggravated battery and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The stabbing occurred at about 8:50 p.m. Sunday at 112 Avacado Ave., Sanford. Sanders was found and arrested on Eighth Street at about 9:20 p.m. and his knife was found at 1013 W. Third St., Sanford, a police report said.

Suspect Arrested In Battery

Barbadette Cobbs reported to Oviedo police that she was hit from behind by a woman who beat her with her fists. The suspect, Cheryl Denise Lott, 21, of 1098 Harrison St., Oviedo, was arrested at 4:32 p.m. Saturday, shortly after the alleged attack.

Lott was questioned at the Oviedo police station and arrested there on a charge of battery. She has been released on $500 bond to appear in court May 8.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Rex Randebush, 31, 116 Crooked Pine Drive, Sanford, was arrested at 8 p.m. Saturday after his car was in an accident on U.S. Highway 17-92, south of Lake Mary.

—Patrick Orlando Rotoli, 30, no address listed, was jailed at 9:45 p.m. Sunday after his car was seen weaving on State Road 46.

Siren, Light Used In 'Joke' On Friends

Lake Mary Teen Found With Police Gear

The 16-year-old son of a Lake Mary water plant worker was confronted by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy at about 9:10 p.m. Friday night after the boy drove up to a friend's house in his private car blasting a siren with a police blue light flashing.

The boy told Susan Hope Stomach, 19, of that address at 1582 North Ridge Lake Circle, Longwood, that he was playing a joke on friends at that address. A reserve Orange County sheriff's deputy, Glenn W. Gillyard, 40, also witnessed the incident, and Seminole County sheriff's deputy Rafael Toledo was called to the scene.

Toledo reported that the boy's Toyota was equipped with a siren, a blue light, and a citizen's band radio. The boy allegedly told Toledo he had taken the siren from the Lake Mary city water plant, where he said he works, a sheriff's report said. Inside the boy's car Toledo reported finding a PR-24 police club, handcuffs and two realistic-looking plastic guns, along with the other police gear.

Lake Mary police detective Tom Taggart was called to the scene, and Toledo reported turning the investigation over to Lake Mary police after Taggart told him he knows both the boy and his father.

Monday Taggart said the boy had not been charged, but the case is under investigation. The boy, Taggart said, had "borrowed" a siren pack from the water plant to play a practical joke on friends.

The other items, including the police club and the handcuffs belong to the boy, and Taggart said he doesn't know where he got them.

Taggart said it was "unusual" for the boy to have these police items, including the plastic guns, one of which looks like a .38-caliber handgun and the other a Luger.

Taggart said the boy is on the honor roll at school and has never been in trouble before.

Although Toledo surrendered the boy to Taggart, Seminole County sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said Monday that sheriff's deputy will be investigating the boy's alleged impersonation of a police officer. Hughey said in addition to the other item found in the boy's car, and inventory sheet shows he also had a dagger and two more fake guns, one made of metal.

Dispute Over Baby Brings Father's Arrest

A 33-year-old Casselberry man who allegedly tried to pull his baby from the arms of his girlfriend when she was moving out of their residence and taking out the child at about 6:30 p.m. Sunday, has been charged with battery.

Casselberry police, who had been called to the home of Glen George Lemieux, 33, of 751 Bayou Drive, to settle a dispute, reported seeing Lemieux try to pull his 14-month-old daughter from the arms of her mother, Debra M. Martin, 29, of the same address.

Ms. Martin was moving out when police arrived and police told the couple that without a court order whoever had possession of the child could take her.

Lemieux picked up the baby and then put her down. The baby walked to her mother who picked her up. Martin would not surrender the baby to Lemieux and the police officer told Lemieux she didn't have to. Lemieux allegedly tried to pull the baby from Martin's arms. He was arrested. Lemieux has been released on $500 bond.

Woman Recovering After Shooting Self Accidentally

Winter Park woman was in good condition today after accidentally shooting herself in the chest Sunday while at her home.

The shooting of Teresa K. Zigler, 24, of 822 Margaret Square, was accidental, according to Winter Park police who investigated the incident Sunday.

Zigler shot herself once in the chest below the sternum with a .32-caliber handgun, according to the police report.

After the woman shot herself, she opened the door of her apartment and told a man in the yard that she had been shot. He called police and an officer arrived to find the woman slumped at the bottom of some stairs.

She is being treated at Florida Hospital—Altamonte.

Record Highs In West, Southeast

By United Press International

Unseasonably warm temperatures baked the West and South, setting new records in more than 40 cities, as thunderstorms and high winds swept across the Ohio Valley.

Highs in the 80s and low 90s helped Boise, Idaho, Monroe, La., and Sacramento, Calif., establish new records for the month.

A high pressure system over the Pacific Northwest sent temperatures soaring to new records in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and elsewhere in the west, shattering records that in some cases had stood for more than 60 years.

In Boise, the temperature reached 92 degrees by 4:15 p.m., melting a decades-old record. The previous April 27 mark was 82 degrees set in 1952.

The National Weather Service in Washington reported record highs in Seattle, Olympia, Spokane and Portland, Ore.

In Olympia, the high temperature for the day was 87 degrees, smashing the old record of 79 degrees set for the date in 1965. "Never before has the temperature reached 87 degrees so early in the year in Olympia," a weather service forecaster said.

In California, the hottest reading was 106 at Blythe and most of the desert stations sweltered with highs over 100.

Farther north, Bakersfield set a new record of 97, breaking the old record of 96. Monday was the ninth day this month where the mercury climbed to 90 degrees or more in Bakersfield, making this the hottest April in 52 years.

Strong thunderstorms developed ahead of a cold front that pushed across the lower Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and Tennessee Valley. Evening thunderstorms caused damage in parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Thunderstorms in western Pennsylvania brought high winds that downed trees and power lines around Pittsburgh and blew down a 40-foot radio tower at Rochester.

In West Virginia, thunderstorm winds downed large trees around Charleston Monday evening. About 3,200 people were left without power in the vicinity of Charleston and two radio stations were knocked off the air.

Scattered thundershowers were reported Monday in Utah and other parts of the West, along with the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and central Plains. Showers and thunderstorms continued into the morning, reaching from northern Georgia across Alabama and Mississippi.

Veterinarians say they hope they can find a cure for a potentially deadly bone infection that struck Big Mouth, a beluga whale who was flown for treatment from the Minnesota Zoo with his ladyfriend.

Big Mouth and Little Girl were packed in steel containers filled with chilly saltwater Sunday and flown to the Sea World park where veterinarians said they would see if they could do something about the osteomyelitis that was discovered in one of 15-foot-long Big Mouth's flippers.

Little Girl, his 12-foot-long companion, was brought along so the couple would suffer the stress of being broken up.

Veterinarians planned to test blood samples from both whales Monday, but no other examinations were immediately scheduled. Sea World spokeswoman Jackie Hill said, "We'll let them get used to us, and we'll get used to them," she said.

Group Prepares AIDS Education Criteria

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

A national public school advocacy group has prepared the first comprehensive criteria by which to judge AIDS education courses and support material.

The group's action came in response to Surgeon General C. Everett Koop's urgent request that public schools begin teaching young Americans about acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS).

"As a society, we often avoid issues involving sex and death," National Coalition of Advocates for Students (NCAS) Executive Director Joan First said. "We can no longer indulge ourselves by only discussing that which we find comfortable."

"Students, some as young as fourth and fifth graders, want to know how to protect themselves from AIDS. Because many parents simply will be unable to initiate such a conversation, schools have a responsibility to provide it."

First said that when NCAS started to look at what some public schools were doing to teach young people about AIDS, they found the quality to be very uneven. Therefore, NCAS prepared their criteria to help insure that students will get the instruction they need to save their own lives, she said.

The NCAS guidelines match content and strategy for three separate student groups: Grades 6-12; grades 4 and 5; and kindergarten through third grade.

Because 50 percent of all teenagers are sexually active and most will have more than one sexual partner, they are a primary risk group for contracting AIDS. According to the NCAS, materials for grades 6 through 12 must:

- Offer simple, clear and factual information in terms which students can understand.

- Emphasize "safer sex" behavior including abstinence and the use of condoms during any type of sexual intercourse over the bio-medical aspects of the disease.

- Discuss the dangers of IV drug use, especially the sharing of needles and syringes.

- Focus on high-risk behavior rather than high-risk groups, strongly conveying the fact that anyone can get AIDS regardless of age, sex, race or sexual orientation.

- Provide several class periods to give students multiple opportunities to discuss new information and relate it to personal decision making—a single class period or school assembly is not sufficient.

According to the criteria, the primary goal for AIDS education for kindergarten through 3rd grade is to allay children's fears and establish a foundation for more detailed discussion at the 6th grade level, including assertiveness training about refusing unwanted touching.

The approach for grades 4 and 5 should be similar to kindergarten through 3, but should also begin discussion of sexual feelings and values.

The guidelines also stress the need for: adequate staff training prior to instruction to insure accurate information and help teachers become comfortable talking about issues of sex and AIDS.

After reviewing the curricula in use in New York, Minnesota and in the Dade County Public Schools in Florida, NCAS concluded Dade County's, First said, "is by far the least adequate."

"It fails to give sexually active students basic lifesaving information and dwells at length on medical statistics rather than on 'safer sex' practices. Its focus on high-risk groups rather than high-risk behavior is misleading and dangerous."

Detailed information concerning the criteria and its application to AIDS education courses and instructional material is available through the NCAS national office at 100 Boylston Street, Suite 737, Boston, MA, 02116.

Altamonte Attorney Disbarred

The Florida Supreme Court has disbarred an Altamonte Springs attorney.

H. Anderson Burnett II, of 375 Palm Springs Drive, pleaded no contest to violation of attorney disciplinary rules in eight separate cases. The violations included, but were not limited to, neglecting a legal matter, engaging in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud or misrepresentation and several trust accounting violations, according to the Florida Bar.

In four of the cases, Burnett received settlements on behalf of clients and then misappropriated the proceeds, the Bar said. In another instance, he misappropriated $14, 674 from a client's trust account in a guardianship case, it said.

Burnett has not been allowed to practice law in Florida since September 1985, when he was temporarily suspended pending an investigation of Bar charges against him.

Burnett is required to pay disciplinary costs of $2,508.72 and must make restitution to his clients before he can apply for readmission to the Bar. The order of disbarment from the court terminates Burnett's status as a member of the Bar and, thus, his privilege to practice law in Florida. He may only be admitted again upon full compliance with the rules and regulations governing admission to the Bar, including successful completion of the bar exam. No application may be tendered within five years after the date of disbarment, said the Bar.

The disbarment order is not final until time expires to file a rehearing motion and if filed, decided upon. The filing of such a motion does not alter the effective date of the disbarment.

Burnett pleaded no contest to eight charges and guilty to one charge. The Bar dropped two charges.

As an official agency of the Supreme Court of Florida, the Florida Bar and its Department of Lawyer Regulation are charged with the administration of a statewide disciplinary system to enforce Supreme Court rules of professional conduct for all lawyers.

PACwork Solution

The patchwork, or PAC-work, sportcoat could be an idea whose time has come for those interested in campaign reform. Nothing else, so far, has been able to resolve what former Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has called a "crisis of liberty" — the unholy dependence on special-interest political action committees by candidates for Congress.

Here is how the patchwork-coat approach would work:

The candidate would be required to don his or her official campaign coat at the official campaign opening. A blazer no doubt, it would be festooned with patches, each patch a logo signifying the political action committee to which the candidate is beholden. The candidate could pick his favorite color, though for most officeholders, color wouldn't matter. The coat would be all PAC patches — and large pockets.

We have campaign disclosure laws now, but the sportcoats would be more graphic. They would allow the voter to see at a glance who owns whom.

Candidates might resent their Indy 500 look — each car emblazoned with a riot of logos — but that's life in the public eye. As candidates well know, campaigning often is an affront to personal dignity.

If the coat idea won't fit, perhaps it's time for Congress to pass legislation sponsored by Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., and Sen. Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W. Va.

Their bill, called Senate Bill 2, would fundamentally reform the senatorial campaign-finance system. It has gained the support of 44 co-sponsors in the Senate, just seven short of a majority. Successful Senate action on the bill, which calls for partial public financing of senatorial campaigns, would then shift the focus of attention to the House of Representatives.

One of the original co-sponsors of the bill, Sen. John Stennis, a Mississippi Democrat who has been in the Senate since 1948, announced recently: "When the present law was passed, I was strongly opposed to the idea of paying any of the candidates for U.S. Senate from the public treasury, or the House of Representatives, either one. But in view of what has happened now, I have changed my mind."

And what has happened now? In the 1986 election, PAC contributions reached a record $130,296,928 for House and Senate candidates. That's a 27 percent increase over the $102 million PACs gave to congressional candidates in the 1984 election. Over the past decade, PAC contributions to congressional candidates have skyrocketed from $22 million in 1976 to more than $130 million last year. In 1976, there were 600 PACs; today, there are more than 4,000 PACs.

The result is that the 100th Congress has come into office more indebted to special interests than any other Congress in the nation's history. And that means the special interests have bought the right to set the legislative agenda.

"Only a simpleton can believe that PAC funds do not influence many of our senators in their pattern of voting," former New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thompson has said. "PAC money," the conservative Republican added, "is a not too subtle way to ensure that most senators will remember from whence their contributions came when they vote on major issues."

For a way out of the current mess, Congress can look to a reform model that works — the public financing system for presidential elections. Since it was initiated in the 1978 election, 34 of the 35 candidates for the nation's highest office have voluntarily participated in the public financing system. The system has opened up the process, reduced undue influence of individuals and groups and virtually ended corruption in presidential election finances.

Congress must put an end to its own campaign-finance corruption. If a patchwork coat is beneath its dignity, surely the mantle of public interest isn't. And a public financing system for congressional campaigns is clearly in the public interest.

We Can See The Handwriting On The Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — According to Roll Call, a Capitol Hill weekly newspaper, the National Archives has mislaid Henry Kissinger's underwear.

In its current issue, Roll Call quotes Richard Jacobs, identified as acting director of the National Historical Publication and Records Commission, as saying he kept "for years" a pair of boxer shorts the former secretary of state, by his own admission, wore for 10 days without washing in 1978.

"With all the moving around I do, I just lost track of them," Jacobs added, but was confident they would turn up sooner or later. He also said he was "trying to decide whether they qualified as a historical document."

Roll Call said Kissinger sent the shorts to the Archives after complaining to Jacobs, "All you bloody archivists want is my underwear."

The newspaper said the package, postmarked Paris, included a "handwritten inscription" attesting the shorts were "worn for 10 days straight, May 1 to May 10, 1978."

If it will refresh your memory any, Kissinger headed the State Department from 1973 to 1977, serving under both Presidents Nixon and Ford. Before that, he was Nixon's national security adviser.

Don't ask me what he was doing in Paris during the administration of President Jimmy Carter. Perhaps he was working on his memoirs.

Anyway, I can sympathize with anyone trying to get laundry done in Paris, but at the same time I can appreciate Jacobs' problem having to decide whether the shorts constituted a historical document.

About all I can say about the former is that it helps to speak French. As for the latter, perhaps the Archives' collection of historical documents would be enriched if it contained more underwear.

I can see visitors hanging over an exhibit of one of Geraldine Ferraro's bras, or corsets, or some other undergarment worn as she accepted the Democratic nomination to be Walter Mondale's running mate.

However, the first woman to represent a major party in the vice presidential race might not be historic enough for the Archives. It might take a pair of longjohns belonging to some Yankee soldier who wintered with Gen. George Washington at Valley Forge.

Or perhaps the underwear fancied by Washington himself while throwing a dollar across the Rappahannock. That ought to attract bigger crowds than the Washington Monument does now.

It all depends, as Jacobs suggested to Roll Call, on what was written on them. The inscription, obviously, is important. Else would Jacobs have spent so long agonizing over whether Kissinger's undershorts qualified as a "historic document?"

I mean, had Kissinger scribbled a formula for peace in Vietnam on the shorts, Jacobs apparently would have had no problem.

Nor did Kissinger write down his thoughts on China's rejoining the modern world.

Jacobs surely would have remembered those inspections and never would have misplaced the shorts.

ROBERT WALTERS

Citizens In The Capital

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In late 1800, the District of Columbia was formally designated the seat of the federal government. By 1801, a Virginia lawyer voiced the first complaint against the disenfranchisement of this city's voters.

In the almost two centuries since, the denial of political representation to this city's residents has been a source of debate and agitation — but Congress is now seriously considering a radical and unprecedented remedy.

Within the next few months, the House of Representatives probably will be asked to vote on a proposal to transform the entire federal enclave into the 51st state, to be known as New Columbia.

To the extent that this purported citadel of democracy never has been a model of self-governance, there is cause for discontent among those denied suffrage solely because they are residents of the nation's capital.

Some history: A 1790 law designated a site on the Potomac River as "the permanent seat of the government of the United States." Maryland and Virginia ceded the required territory to that new government in 1788 and 1789, respectively.

On Nov. 11, 1800, the district's residents voted for the last time in congressional elections. Less than two weeks later, on Nov. 21, Congress convened here for the first time and the federalization of the city was underway.

After a variety of failed experiments with various forms of government (including a territorial arrangement that lasted only 3½ years in the late 1800s) an 1874 federal law established a three-member commission to run the city.

All three commissioners were to be appointed by the president, one of them had to be a member of the Army Corps of Engineers — and none was accountable in any manner to the people they governed.

That scheme endured for almost a century before being replaced in 1967 by a cosmetic reform that transferred all governance to a mayor and a nine-member city council — all of whom again were to be appointed by the president.

A 1973 federal law finally gave the District some semblance of home rule, in the form of a mayor and 13-member council, all elected by the city's residents.

But Congress still retains the authority granted in Article One of the Constitution, which says Congress is empowered "to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over... the seat of government."

U.S. Still Coins South African Gold

By Jack Anderson
And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — South African gold might be finding its way into the supposedly all-American Eagle coins being issued by the U.S. Mint, despite the clear intent of Congress to ban the importation of gold from that country two years ago.

And even if the mint were able to make its American Eagles entirely from gold mined in the United States — as Congress intended in the Gold Bullion Act of 1985 — South Africa could still benefit. Anglo American Corp., a South African conglomerate, owns 10.3 percent of U.S. gold-mining capacity.

When President Reagan signed the law that banned importation of South African gold Krugerrand coins, the idea was to punish the Pretoria regime for its racial apartheid policy. But evidence found by our reporter Lisa Sylvester

Marine Traitors

It is with a sick feeling that one contemplates the disgrace that has been afflicted upon the United States Marine Corps, not to mention the United States itself. Nothing like this has happened in the heretofore inspiring history of the Corps. That an as yet to be determined number of Marine guards have committed treason and betrayed their trust for trivial sexual favors is almost too disgusting to be believed. They have betrayed the oath they took as soldiers. For the services of a few tainted women, they have turned their country's secrets over to the KGB.

Jonathan Pollard, who spied for Israel, at least believed that his actions were justified. He was committed to the Israeli cause. And, after all, Israel is in fact a close ally of the United States. Nevertheless, Pollard received a life sentence — which was fully justified.

Measures calling for capital punishment in the case of peacetime espionage are now being introduced in Congress, and they may quickly pass. Where the Marines are concerned, no new legislation is necessary. The Uniform Code of Military Justice includes the death penalty for such offenses as they are charged with. If they are convicted, their crimes are much worse than Pollard's. Unless this country is so far gone that it no longer can make the punishment fit the crime, the firing squad at Quantico, Va., should begin to put in a little target practice.

This is no time for misplaced pity. Reserve the pity for the United States itself.

It was a bit startling to hear Secretary of State George Shultz berate the Soviets for thus penetrating our embassy, but Shultz's performance was in a sense understandable, because Shultz is carrying the can on this one. Those embassies are under the jurisdiction of Shultz's State Department, and he, Shultz, bears the ultimate responsibility for their security.

Now the Marine guards posted outside our embassies are aesthetically appealing, a welcome splash of familiar color in a foreign city, their dress uniforms a nice thing to see for traveling American tourists.

But the embassy in Moscow contains millions of dollars worth of high-tech electronic intelligence and coding equipment and vast amounts of sensitive material. The Moscow embassy has a "bubble" built inside one room, which is supposed to be absolutely impenetrable by alien listening devices. It has a metal "vault," used by the CIA, which is super-secure.

Now does it make sense at all for all of this, when everybody goes home at the end of the day, to be turned over to a couple of gullible, dimwitted enlisted men? To soldiers evidently so stupid that they believed the Russians were simply bowled over by their uniforms?

A sensitive installation like the embassy in Moscow should certainly have been protected, 24 hours per day, by a tough team of mature, professional counter-intelligence people. Heavily armed and prepared to shoot.

For this gross failure in elementary security our Ambassador Hartman and his boss Secretary Shultz bear ultimate responsibility.

It is preposterous for Shultz to berate the Soviets for their spying. The Soviet intelligence operators would have been derelict had they not, when handed this opportunity, taken advantage of it. What was the KGB supposed to do? Protect our secrets for us?

Defense's Vertigo Budget

By Elliot Brenner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What Congress has done to the defense budget over the years — and by implication to national security — borders on serious schizophrenia.

Chart Pentagon buying power for the past decade on a piece of graph paper and following the line up and down would give you vertigo.

The problem is not entirely Congress's fault. It has had to make cuts in the name of deficit reduction, and it has taken reasonable swipes at administration budgets that come in looking like a Pentagon wish list. But the overall trend of a large infusion of cash followed by a rapid plunge in spending causes problems.

Ten years ago, fiscal 1978, Congress put up what today would be $206 billion for defense. The next year the figure fell 1 percent, then rose 2 percent.

Then in came the Reagan administration, primed to modernize the military, and bingo, for fiscal 1981 the Pentagon pump was primed with a massive 13 percent rise. The next year there was a 12 percent jump.

The increases in the following years were less dramatic, but still significant.

Then, in fiscal 1986, deficit reduction fever took hold and the $310 billion Congress approved represented, even after inflation, a 4 percent drop for the year before. In the current fiscal year it fell another 3 percent. For fiscal 1988, which starts Oct. 1, the Pentagon will be lucky just to break even and it is more likely to suffer yet another drop in actual budget power.

What does all this up and down with the budget mean? The first few years of the buildup, money was being shoved into the defense pipeline faster than it could be wisely spent. The billions of dollars in needed new weapons systems were ordered and they are now starting to fill up the U.S. inventory.

But now, when budgets are not growing anymore and actually shrinking, those weapons need billions in spare parts to keep them ready to fight, not to mention the munitions to keep them armed for battle.

And budget promises made in past years — weapons systems approved and now actually being bought — have to be slowed down to production rates that jack up the per-unit costs so economies of scale are lost. And those promises build in a "bow wave" of spending demands that affects each future budget.

precluded them from tracing the gold from a particular mine to a particular bar. The industry's practice is to combine gold from all their sources... in the process of melting to form new bars.

Insisting that refiners segregate their gold supplies and identify the sources for each gold bar would be prohibitively expensive, Pope said, and would force the mint to use other sources than "U.S. newly mined gold."

As it happens, the New Jersey-based company that has supplied the mint with 83 percent of the gold "blanks" for the Eagle coins, Engelhard, has refineries in London, where it is still legal to import South African gold bullion. A company spokesman denied any South African connection at first, but then acknowledged that 30 percent of Engelhard's stock is owned by Minoro, a Bermuda-based company that is part of Anglo American, the South African conglomerate.

Colts Resist, Draft Bennett

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Indianapolis Colts resisted offers from around the league to trade their second pick in the NFL draft today and used the selection to choose linebacker Cornelius Bennett of Alabama.

The 52nd annual NFL draft began at 8:05 a.m. EDT when Tampa Bay selected quarterback Vinny Testaverde of Miami. The Buccaneers signed Testaverde April 2 to an $8.2 million contract over six years.

The Colts needed 13:11 of their allotted 15 minutes to announce their pick of Bennett, who is considered by scouts a player in the mold of New York Giants outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor. Indianapolis officials said every NFL team spoke to them in an effort to swing a deal with the Colts, who tried and failed several weeks ago to sign Bennett to a $4 million, five-year contract.

The Buffalo Bills traded the third pick to Houston in exchange for the eighth pick in the first round and the eighth selection in the second round. The Oilers then drafted Alonzo Highsmith of Miami, considered the best fullback coming out of college.

The Green Bay Packers drafted Auburn All-America running back Brent Fullwood with the fourth pick. Fullwood, overshadowed during most of his college career by Bo Jackson, averaged 8.3 yards per carry and gained 1,391 yards as a senior. The Packers went for Fullwood instead of the pass-rushing help they badly need.

San Diego and Cleveland worked the second trade of the day, giving the Browns the fifth pick. Cleveland sent their first and second-round picks (24th and 53rd overall) and outside linebacker Chip Banks to the Chargers for San Diego's first and second-round picks (5th and 32nd). The Browns used the No. 5 pick to select inside linebacker Mike Junkin of Duke.

St. Louis stunned the gallery by selecting quarterback Kelly Stouffer of Colorado State with the sixth pick. The Cardinals hoped to trade their starting quarterback Neil Lomax to the Los Angeles Raiders for the 15th pick, paving the way for Stouffer to take over as No. 1. Stouffer jumped from a projected fourth-round pick to a first-rounder with a strong performance in East-West Shrine game.

Detroit, selecting seventh, chose defensive end Reggie Rogers of Washington. Rogers, who also played basketball in college, has outstanding quickness and specializes in pass rushing. Rogers, brother of the late Cleveland free safety Don Rogers, was the first defensive lineman selected.

The Bills got a break when they found Penn State outside linebacker Shane Conlan left on the eighth pick. Buffalo was expected to take Conlan if it kept its third pick and was delighted to get him with the pick acquired from Houston.

Philadelphia made its selection in 68 seconds, grabbing Miami defensive tackle Jerome Brown with the ninth pick.

Pittsburgh drafted Purdue defensive back Rod Woodson with the 10th pick. Woodson was by far the highest rated defensive back and the most versatile player in the draft. Woodson can play any position in the secondary and return kicks.

New Orleans let the clock run down to 45 seconds before picking Brigham Young defensive lineman Shawn Knight with the 11th pick.

Dallas, drafting 12th, picked Nebraska defensive lineman Danny Noonan.

Betris, Frank: Patriots' Pair Produces Wins

You don't have to look in the Wall Street Journal to monitor the rising stock of the Lake Brantley High softball program. Just get yourself out to Lake Brantley High and take a gaze at the Lady Patriots' home field.

What not too long ago looked like a sink hole with a softball diamond has transformed into one of the finest prep softball facilities in Central Florida. Coach Renny Betris and assistant Debbie Frank are doing the same kind of transforming with the Lake Brantley softball program.

Tonight at 7:30 at the newly refurbished Lake Brantley Complex, the Lady Patriots can take a big step toward state prominence when they host Orlando Boone's Lady Braves in the 4A-5 Region playoff. With a win tonight, Brantley has a chance to host the 4A-3 Section playoff on Friday against Merritt Island, the state's top-ranked team.

The foundation for the new-look Brantley program was set last year when the Lady Patriots set a school record for victories by a team with 27. Lake Brantley won the district championship and lost a close game to Boone in the region.

Brantley's success was one reason for upgrading the facility and another was the big following the Lady Patriots drew last season. In a sport where 50 fans is capacity for some teams, it was not uncommon for 200 or more to show up at a Brantley game.

The way the facility was originally constructed though, it made it tough to be a spectator. There was one set of bleachers on the first base side, no room to stand on the third base side and only a hill to sit on for those who arrived too late to get a seat. When the hill was damp from rain, one wrong step in the mud and you were a human avalanche.

Now, however, the Lady Patriots' kingdom is the best in Seminole County for spectators. New dugouts have also made it better for the players since the old dugouts were so far away from the action it was hard to cheer for a teammate without getting laryngitis. And Betris says the facility is only going to get better.

"This facility looks great now but it's going to be fantastic by next year," Betris said. "We're going to have new grass in the outfield, a concession stand and locker rooms for the varsity and JV teams. The future really looks good for this program."

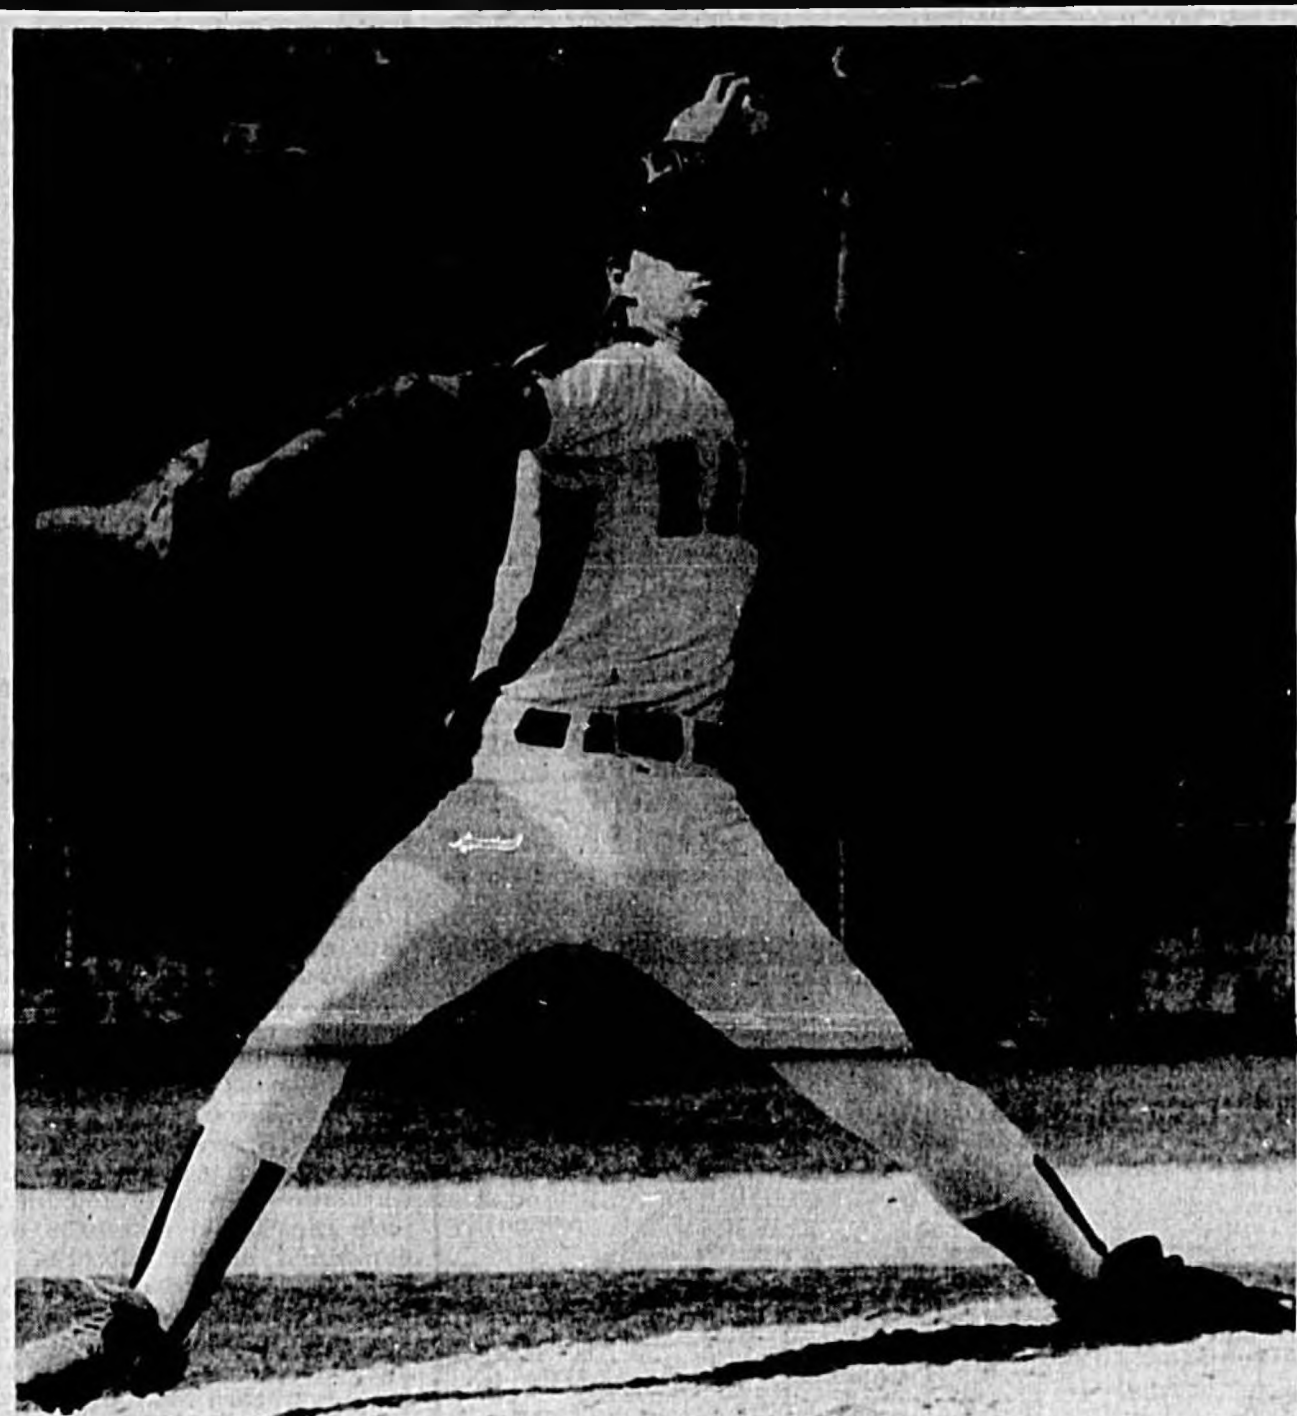

Betris and Frank are another reason Brantley's future looks bright. Winning seems to follow the Brantley braintrust in whatever sport in which they are involved. Only one year before the softball team won 27 games, Betris was head coach and Frank assistant on the Brantley girls basketball team which won a school-record 25 games. In the last two years, the Lake Brantley softball team has a 43-9 record.

"It's great to have Debbie helping out," Betris said of Frank. "She really knows her softball."

"She kept track of all the hitters of every team we played and charted where they hit," Betris added. "And that's what we go by when we make our outfield switches. Sometimes it might look confusing, but it works. The Barton twins (Lake Howell's Julie and Leslie) went 1 for 6 the last time we played them and DeLand's kids (district final) hit the ball where we were playing them almost every time."

Lake Brantley now has the immaculate facility and the capable coaches, but, most importantly, it has the kind of players it takes to build a championship program. There is no real weakness on the Brantley team and there is no indication the Lady Patriots will go through a rebuilding year anytime soon.

Lake Brantley has only two seniors on this year's team. There are four juniors, six sophomores and two freshmen. Nine of the 10 starters in the lineup for tonight's region championship Lake Mary's Rams, Seminole Athletic Conference champions for the second consecutive year, dominated a senior-oriented All-SAC baseball team selected by the coaches Sunday with four first-team selections.

Five county coaches participated in the voting. Oviedo coach Howard Mable did not attend. Along with the eight normal positions, three pitchers and a designated hitter were chosen.

First-team Rams included all-state shortstop Shane Letterio, pitchers Steve Shakar and Anthony Laszic, along with catcher Ryan Lisle.

Lyman and Lake Howell were next with three choices apiece. Outfielders Chris Brock and Gib Lundquist joined second baseman Dale Stevens on the first unit.

Lake Howell's Martinez twins — first baseman Eric and third baseman Ernest — were the two Silver Hawks chosen along with DH Vito Scutero.

Oviedo superstar Mark Merchant and Lions' hurler Scott Bowers completed the team.

Conspicuous by his absence among the first-teamers was Oviedo first baseman Glenn Reichle. The hard-hitting senior led the county in hitting and was second in runs batted in. Reichle made honorable mention.

Lake Mary's pitchers — Shakar (8-1) and Laszic (6-2) — combined with honorable mention pick Sean Flaherty (8-1) to give SAC Coach of the Year Allen Tuttle an excellent trio.

The Stetson-bound Shakar also struck out 100 batters to lead the county.

Letterio (.413) and Lisle (.333) both had solid years at the plate. The Miami-bound Letterio, a flashy fielder, also clouted six homers to lead the county in that category.

Merchant, who was pitched around most of the time, led the county in steals (43 in 44 attempts) and runs (44). Brock led the way with 35 runs batted in. Lundquist batted .311 with three homers. Eric Martinez batted .364 and brother Ernest hit .329.

Bowers, a senior right-hander, posted a 6-3 regular-season mark with a county-leading 1.25 earned run average.

The second team was made up of outfielders Joey Corsi (Seminole), Kelly Hysell (Lake Mary) and Matt Yearick (Lake Howell). The pitchers were Greg Hill (Lake Howell), Ken Oswaldk (Lyman) and Greg Ebbert (Lake Brantley). Infielders from first to third included Lyman's Kenny Jackson, Lake Mary's Wes Weger, Seminole's Jeff Blake and Oviedo's Tony Bellflower (tie) and Seminole's Gary Derr. Seminole's Roy Jensen was the catcher and Lake Mary's Eric Birle the DH.

Honorable Mention picks were:

Lions Plan To Chop Down Forest Tonight

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

Now that the Oviedo Lions have captured the District 3A-6 baseball title, the Lions will be facing yet another obstacle on the road to a return trip to the state tournament.

Tonight at 7:30, the Lions hope to chop down Ocala Forest in the 3A-3 Regional Championship. Ocala defeated Gainesville Eastside, 1-0, in the 3A-5 final Friday night. The Lions hammered Kissimmee Osceola, 15-3, to advance.

"We are expecting a very tough game," Oviedo coach Howard Mable said. "Ocala is supposed to be a very good team. When you get this stage of the playoffs, you have to realize that each game will be a dogfight."

The Lions come in to the game riding a 12-game winning streak. Mable said that senior righty Scott Bowers (7-3) will be on the hill for his club. "Whenever we need a big game, we look to Scott," Mable said about Bowers. "If Scott makes them hit his pitches, I think that we have a pretty good shot at bringing this thing home."

Bowers concurred. "I like pitching in the big games," Bowers said. "I plan on doing the same thing that I've done all year: throwing curve balls."

Oviedo got some strong pitching performances in district tourney as Bowers, Jody Spelman, Alan Greene, and Jon Cox all had solid outings. "I'm very confident out pitching," Mable said. "Before each opponent, I have to analyze them before the game. I feel fortunate to have four pitchers that are all capable of winning a game for us."

Oviedo played well offensively as the Lions scored 27 runs in their three district wins. "I think that our bats will speak for themselves in this game," Mable said. "We have been a good hitting team from day one. I don't expect us to have a poor day from the plate this far down the line."

"I am expecting a pitching duel, though," Mable said. "In a game that is this important, we know that they will probably throw their best pitcher."

Mable said that his team needs to play a steady defensive game in order to beat Ocala. "I think that we have to give up less than two errors," Mable said. "We can't afford to give them anything. If we do, we could be in trouble."

Oviedo is solid from top to bottom offensively. Leadoff hitter Mark Merchant, who is one of the most highly-scouted high school players in the country, has the experience that Mable is relying on to carry the Lions. "Mark is going to have to play a good game for us," Mable said. "We like to get off to a quick start, and Mark usually gets things going for us."

Baseball

Merchant said that he is confident about his team's chances. "We are playing better than we have all season," the speedy switch-hitting senior said. "We are getting good pitching, and I'm hoping that our hitting will be up to par in this game."

Catcher Tony Bellflower, who had the winning hit in Oviedo's 5-4 win over St. Cloud last Thursday, is also a key offensive player for the Lions. "Tony has been drawing a lot of walks for us lately," Mable said. "When we need a hit, Tony usually comes through, and we will be counting on him to do the same in this game."

"That hit against St. Cloud really gave me some confidence," Bellflower said. "Before that, I wasn't hitting the ball that well. Now, I have a lot of confidence back."

Glenn Reichle, who bats third, demonstrated his power in the tournament with a two-run homer against Leesburg. "I'm making pretty good contact up there," Reichle, who led the Seminole Athletic Conference in batting, said. "A lot of the guys on this team have been here before. Last year we came in third, this year we're looking to go all the way."

The big surprise in the Oviedo lineup has been the play of Gary Pelczar. Pelczar has been on a tear of late as he went 4 for 4 with five ribbies in the Leesburg game. "I've made a little adjustment in my stance," Pelczar said. "I like hitting in the number four slot, it makes me feel as though I have to produce every time up there."

Second baseman Cox, who hits fifth, has proven that he can come up with the big hit when it's needed. "Jon has come up with a lot of big hits this season," Mable said about the junior. "He is a gutsy kid and is a hard worker."

Oviedo has been a running team all season, Mable said that he plans to continue the trend against Forest. "Everybody on the team can steal," Mable said. "We will run, but we will have to be cautious."

Baserunning was about the only weak spot for Oviedo in district play. Three runners were picked off and other mental miscues extinguished some rallies. "I was a little disappointed with our baserunning," Mable said. "They were pressure mistakes, and hopefully they won't happen again."

Some teams have trouble playing on the road, but Mable said that his team is not one of them. "It doesn't bother us to play away, we've been doing it all season," Mable said. "It's a long ride up there, but I know that our kids will be ready to play."

Perkins: Bucs Need Tough Guys With Ability

Football

TAMPA (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers enter today's NFL draft leading the league in choices and question marks.

New coach Ray Perkins says his club needs help everywhere and the Buccaneers are buoyed by the knowledge they won't be burned again by their No. 1 pick.

Winners of just 12 of their last 64 games, the Buccaneers signed Heisman Trophy winner Vinny Testaverde April 2. Tampa Bay led off last year's draft by picking another Heisman Trophy winner, Bo Jackson, but the Auburn running back decided to pursue a baseball career. Jackson is off to an impressive start as a starting outfielder for the Kansas City Royals.

After trading quarterback Steve Young to San Francisco Friday, the Buccaneers own 18 picks, including three in the second round. Perkins will officially welcome Testaverde to the club at 8 a.m. EDT when the Buccaneers draft Miami's All-America quarterback.

"I'm looking for tough guys who have ability," Perkins says. "We have a number of needs on both sides of the ball and we will be looking to increase team speed."

Perkins would like to land a swift wide receiver to run down Testaverde's passes and he lists defensive line as the team's No. 1 priority in the draft. Tampa Bay also owns the first pick of the second round, 29th overall, and the 49ers sent choices in the second and fourth rounds for Young. New England's picks in the second, seventh and ninth rounds were obtained for guard Sean Farrell — giving the Buccaneers five of the first 57 players.

"Counting Testaverde, that means we should have at least seven top players," says Perkins. Including Tampa Bay's third-round pick and two choices in the fourth round. "Building through the draft is the only sound way. You want somebody in back of those people and try to make every position on your team as competitive as you possibly can. The more you upgrade, the better you make the guy in front."

Celtics, Mavericks Seek Strong Play From Injured Center

United Press International
In arenas 2,000 miles apart, the Boston Celtics and Dallas Mavericks will be looking for the same thing Tuesday night — strong play from an injured center.

Boston and Bill Walton are bidding for a 3-0 sweep of their opening-round series with the homestanding Chicago Bulls. Dallas and James Donaldson are tied at one game apiece in their best-of-five series against the host Seattle SuperSonics.

In another game Tuesday night, the Portland Trail Blazers visit the Houston Rockets in Game 3 of their series, which is tied 1-1.

The presence of Walton, who missed 88 games this season with an injured ankle that still requires constant medical attention, allows the Celtics to rest center Robert Parish and forward Kevin McHale. In Sunday's Game 2 against Chicago, Walton grabbed 9 rebounds and scored 4 points in 17 minutes.

"We haven't been rebounding that well and the addition of Bill makes us a good rebounding team," Boston forward Larry Bird said. "He didn't give us 17 minutes, he gave us 17 quality minutes."

"That's the best Bill's played this year. If he can play that way night in and night out, we're going to be tough."

Basketball

The Bulls had chances to win the first two games at Boston Garden but failed to make the crucial plays down the stretch.

"We had ourselves in a position to win either game," Chicago center Dave Corzine said. "It's unfortunate we were unable to win one of them."

Meanwhile, Donaldson has the early signs of a stress fracture in his right leg and is not sure he will be able to play against the SuperSonics.

The 7-foot-2, 277-pounder played just 28 minutes in Game 2 and had difficulty staying with Sonics center Clemon Johnson, who scored 20 points and grabbed 7 rebounds in a 112-110 Seattle victory.

"I'm sure I'll be patched up enough to give it a try but I don't know right now," Donaldson said. "My leg is very sore. They say I don't have a stress fracture yet, but now it's getting worse and worse."

The Sonics head into Game 3 with renewed confidence after stunning the Mavericks in the second game in Dallas.

"They're the better team," said Seattle guard Dale Ellis, who was traded away by the Mavericks before the season. "We don't have the pressure to go out and win. Everyone's excited. We feel we can beat these guys."

There will be five more playoff games Wednesday.

Atlanta has a chance to close out its series with Indiana when the Pacers host the Hawks. Indiana has yet to win a playoff game since it joined the NBA a decade ago.

Atlanta's likely second-round foe, the Detroit Pistons, bid for a sweep when they visit the Washington Bullets. The Pistons humiliated the Bullets 126-85 in Game 2 after building a 40-point advantage at halftime.

Milwaukee visits Philadelphia in another opening-round series. The 76ers squared the series at one game apiece by beating the Bucks 125-122 in overtime in Game 2.

The Los Angeles Lakers look to finish off the host Denver Nuggets. Los Angeles has won the first two games of the series by a combined 45 points and is expected to cruise into the next round.

Golden State tries to stave off elimination when the Warriors host the Utah Jazz in another game. The Jazz slipped by the Warriors 103-100 in the second game.

Astros Destroy Unarmed Mets

United Press International
What's wrong with the World Series champion New York Mets?

The Houston Astros ripped the homestanding Mets 11-1 Monday night, sending New York to its third straight loss and seventh in 10 outings. The Mets, who feasted on the opposition at Shea Stadium a year ago, are just 4-5 at home in 1987.

"I think we have hit rock bottom," said Mets Manager Davey Johnson. "This is as far as we can go, to get routed like this may be good for us in the long run."

The source of New York's woes is simple: pitching — the backbone of last year's team — has become liability. Entering play Monday, the Mets had a 4.81 team earned-run average, the worst in the National League. A year ago New York finished with a sparkling 3.11 ERA.

The Mets are without ace Dwight Gooden, in a drug rehabilitation center, and reliever Roger McDowell, who had a hernia operation March 30. Of the starters, only Sid Fernandez has pitched consistently.

Houston pounded David Cone, who was making his first major-league start, for 10 runs in the innings. Cone, 0-2, also walked six, threw two wild pitches and was called for two balks.

Obscure Mirabella Helps Brewers Rise

United Press International
Add Paul Mirabella's name to the list of obscure players who have contributed to the Milwaukee Brewers phenomenal success this season.

Mirabella, a nine-year veteran who had not won a major-league game since 1984, joined such well-known superstars as Glenn Braggs, Dale Sveum and B.J. Surhoff in helping the Brewers to their 17th victory in 18 games.

Mirabella pitched two innings of hitless relief and Braggs hit a bases-loaded double in the 12th inning to power the Brewers to a 10-7 victory over the California Angels.

Mirabella, making his first appearance with Milwaukee, was called up from AAA Vancouver recently. He improved his career mark to 12-24.

Jim Gantner opened the 12th with a single off loser Chuck Finley, 0-2. Paul Molitor then drew a walk before Robin Yount advanced both runners with a sacrifice bunt.

California manager Gene Mauch elected to pitch to Braggs with first base open and the Brewers right fielder doubled for his third hit of the game to score Gantner and Molitor.

"I could have walked him but I couldn't be sure that we wouldn't give up another walk with the bases loaded," Mauch said.

Giants 7, Braves 3

At Atlanta, Chili Davis and Chris Brown each hit homers to pace the Giants and back the combined six-hit pitching of Kelly Downs and Scott Garrelts. Downs, 2-0, yielded six hits over six innings. Garrelts did not allow a hit in the last three innings to earn his fourth save. Rick Mahler, 2-2, suffered the loss.

Expos 6, Phillies 4

At Philadelphia, Andres Galarraga knocked in three runs and Mitch Webster drove in two more to snap the Expos' three-game losing streak. Expos starter Neal Heaton, 3-1, yielded a run and five hits before being forced to leave the game with no out in the ninth inning when he was struck in the leg by a Juan Samuel line drive. Randy St. Claire finished to earn his third save. Mike Schmidt hit a three-run homer, his sixth of the year and the 501st of his career. Kevin Gross, 0-3, took the loss.

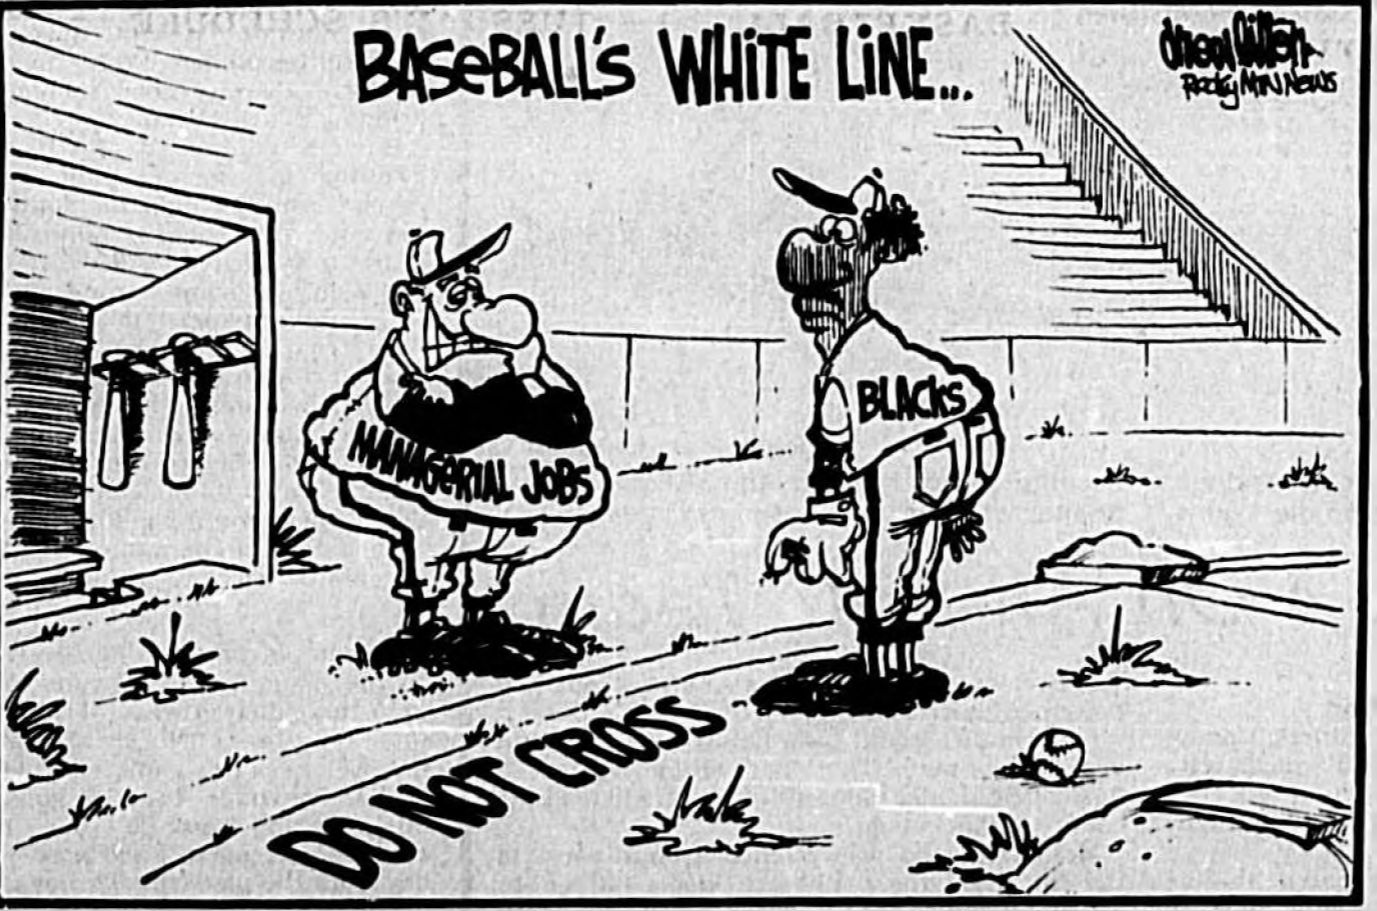

Mariners 5, Tigers 2

At Seattle, Mark Langston and Edwin Nunez combined on a six-hitter to hand Detroit its seventh loss in its last eight games. With the score tied 2-2, the Mariners rallied for three runs in the eighth off Eric King, 1-1. Langston, 3-2, worked eight innings and Nunez pitched the ninth for his fourth save.

Athletics 5, Red Sox 2

At Oakland, Jose Canseco went 4 for 4 to back the six-hit pitching of Curt Young and hand the Red Sox their fourth straight loss. Young, 3-1, struck out five and walked none in recording his second complete game of the season. Boston's Don Baylor recorded his 2000th career hit, a single in the seventh.

Taylor 5-Hits Mighty Moose; Woodmen Win

By Chris Fister, Herald Sports Writer

It was a night of firsts at Chase Park Monday as Knights of Columbus handed mighty Moose his first loss of the season and Woodmen of the World picked up their first victory ever in the Sanford Junior League.

Knights of Columbus rode the strong pitching performance of Mike Taylor and some clutch hitting to a 4-2 victory over Moose in the battle of the unbeaten in the league. The Knights improved to 5-0 with the win while Moose now stands at 4-1.

Taylor tossed a five-hitter, struck out six and walked only three to offset a solid effort by being pitcher Al Perkins. Perkins allowed eight hits, struck out seven and walked three.

After Taylor retired Moose in order in the top of the first, the Knights struck for a run in the bottom half. With two outs, Taylor singled, stole second and scored on a base hit by Dethrius Presley.

Moose came back with two runs in the top of the second for a 2-1 lead. With one out, Perkins walked, stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch. One out later, Eli Blanton drew a walk, stole second and scored on Darrell Canada's double.

Moose clung to its 2-1 lead until the bottom of the fourth when KOC tied it. With two outs, Maurice Fisher drilled a triple and scored on a double off the bat of Mike Maples.

Taylor got the first two hitters in the top of the sixth but Perkins singled and stole second. The inning ended though when Perkins was caught stealing third.

In Monday's second game at Chase Park, Woodmen of the World scored nine runs over the last two innings en route to a 12-6 victory over Rotary. It was the first win after four losses for the first-year Woodmen while Rotary dropped to 0-5.

Calvin Donaldson and Keith Meyers combined on a two-hitter for the Woodmen while Meyers, Ned June, Joe Webster and Dallas Inman led the offense with two hits each.

Wild, Overpowering Duo No-Hits Braves

By Chris Fister, Herald Sports Writer

Wild and overpowering describes the pitching duo for First Union Monday night in a 13-3 victory over the Seminole Braves in Sanford Little American League action at Fort Mellon Park.

Jimmie Lee Bailey and Donte Jones teamed up to throw a no-hitter at the Braves and combined for 10 strikeouts and eight walks in four innings. Bailey threw the first three innings and allowed three runs on no hits, struck out seven and walked six. Jones came on in the fourth and struck out three and walked two.

First Union broke the game open early with seven runs in the bottom of the first inning. Jones and Steven Lowery walked to start off the inning and Narvell Fuller blasted a double to drive in both runs. Bailey then reached on an error to score Fuller and James Salmon singled in Bailey. Three more runs scored on wild pitches in the inning.

The Braves scored all three of their runs in the top of the third as Dearnis Troutman, Shannon Hodge and Mike Cox all walked and scored on wild pitches.

CARRIAGE NIPS SUN BANK, 12-11

In Monday's second game at Fort Mellon

Baseball

Park, Carriage Cove came back from an early deficit to claim a 12-11 victory over Sun Bank.

Sun Bank built up an early 9-5 lead behind the hitting of Lawrence McIntyre, who was 4 for 4 in the game. Carriage Cove battled back to tie it in the top of the fifth on four walks, a hit batsman and a single by Johnny Dennis.

Carriage Cove took a 12-9 lead in the top of the sixth when Caleb Watson, Mike Shuler and Dennis all walked and, after Watson scored the go-ahead run, Kelvin Campbell unloaded a two-run double.

Sun Bank made it close in the bottom of the sixth when Jermain Hartfield walked and scored on McIntyre's triple and Derron Larry followed with an RBI single to score McIntyre and pull Sun Bank within 12-11. Michael Harding then came up with the defensive play of the game for Carriage Cove when he snared a line drive and stepped on first base for an unassisted double play. Sun Bank reliever Joshua Watson then walked the next hitter, but retired pinch hitter Jamaal Cleveland for the final out.

SUNNILAND OUTSLUGS DAV, 19-13

In Sanford Little National League action on Saturday, Don Hunt smashed four hits and was the winning pitcher as Sunniland downed Disabled American Veterans, 19-13.

A 12-run first inning propelled Sunniland to the victory with RBI doubles by Hunt, Ray June and Lorne Jones the big hits in the inning. Hunt and Curtis Peterson both had two hits in the first-inning outburst.

Trailing 15-4 after two innings, DAV made a game of it with five runs in the third and two each in the fourth and fifth. RBI singles by Brent Deese, Dwayne Bell and Bernard Sparrow were the big hits in the third while Sparrow had a triple and Joe Freney an RBI double in the fourth.

Sunniland had 16 hits in the game with Hunt getting four, Derrick Peterson and June three each and Richard Peterson and Curtis Peterson added two each.

SPBA DOWNS FIRST FEDERAL, 10-6

Also on Saturday, George Martin and Eric Roberts pounded out four hits apiece as Sanford Police Benevolent Association defeated First Federal, 10-6.

Andre Rawlings added three hits and was also the winning pitcher for SPBA. Charles Reynolds had four hits, including a solo homer, to lead First Federal at the plate while Angelo Cash also rapped a solo homer.

Left fielder Randy Ferguson has emerged as one of Oviedo's toughest outs as Ferguson has been hitting the ball well lately. Shortstop Micah Kinnaird has not been that successful offensively, but has played well in the field.

"I'm looking for some production out of our eight and nine hitters," Mable said. "I'm expecting a lot of consistent hitting from the first seven batters."

Gretzky Nurses Lump On Head, But Oilers Sweep Jets Anyway

United Press International

The Edmonton Oilers have always been able to look to Wayne Gretzky in the third period of a close game. Last night, however, in the final period of Monday night's Smythe Division final series victory, he was in the locker room nursing a lump on his head.

Despite his absence, the Oilers completed a sweep of the Winnipeg Jets with a 4-2 victory.

In the other Campbell Conference final series, the Toronto Maple Leafs took a 3-1 lead over the Detroit Red Wings in the Norris Division final with a 3-2 overtime victory.

Gretzky hit his head on the ice after being hit by Dale Hawerchuk, but only suffered a slight concussion.

"You'll have to ask Hawerchuk if it was deliberate, but it certainly looked deliberate, Oilers coach Glen Sather said. He kicked out Wayne's legs from behind, and if that wasn't deliberate, there's something wrong. Everyone in the world saw that. That was deliberate."

Gretzky was unavailable for comment. Hawerchuk denied the action was intentional.

"I was cutting into the net and as I was moving inside, somebody hooked me, and the stick came up and hit me in the jaw," Hawerchuk said. "The puck took off and I turned around to protect myself. We both went down, his helmet came off and he got the worst of it. He came down on his head pretty hard."

The Oilers ended the series on the strength of Reijo Ruotsalainen, who set up Gretzky's third goal of the playoffs and scored 48 seconds later. The Maple Leafs got by the Red Wings when Mike Allison scored the game-winning goal in overtime on a stuffer from behind the net.

Suns Promote Wetzel To Coach

PHOENIX (UPI) — Unlike most NBA coaches, John Wetzel faces more player problems in court than on the court.

Wetzel, a longtime Phoenix Suns assistant, was promoted to head coach on Monday, but must confront an uncertain roster in the wake of the most damaging drug scandal to hit professional basketball.

One-third of the Wetzel's roster is either charged or implicated in indictments handed up two weeks ago by a Maricopa County grand jury. That includes the Suns' starting backcourt of last season and two of the club's four centers.

Three current players — Jay Humphries, James Edwards and Grant Gondrezick — were indicted in the case and face arraignment on the charges Thursday morning. All three players passed their initial drug tests administered by the NBA after the indictments were handed up.

MVP Frey Leads Magic To Title

Lake Mary High's Marnie Frey was the Co-Most Valuable Player of the tournament as the Orlando Magic softball team took the championship in the Bally Women's Invitational this past weekend at Merrill Park in Altamonte Springs.

Frey, who led the team in hitting in the tourney, and Oak Ridge's Geri McCoy were Co-MVPs as the Magic went 5-0 for the tournament. Frey was 3 for 3 at the plate in a 3-1 victory over Altamonte Harper's Paint & Body for the tournament title. Lake Brantley's Kristen Bates was the winning pitcher in the final and Lake Mary's Brooke Taylor also played on the team.

The Magic, a team of 16-18 year olds, has been invited to compete in the All-American USSSA Tournament the July 4 weekend in Cincinnati.

Rinaldi Sweeps Tough Tarabini

LARGO (UPI) — Second-seeded Kathy Rinaldi beat Argentina's Patricia Tarabini in straight sets Monday night to highlight the opening round of a $150,000 women's tennis tournament.

The tournament is sponsored by Eckerd. Top seed Chris Evert, fresh off a victory against Martina Navratilova in Houston, is scheduled to begin play Tuesday night against West Germany's Gabriela Dinu.

Rinaldi, Amelia Island, earned a tough 6-4, 7-5 triumph against Tarabini.

"I was really impressed with her," said Rinaldi of her unseeded opponent. "I'd never seen her play before so I didn't know what to expect. She played extremely well tonight."

Kings Name Russell Coach

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Former NBA great Bill Russell has been named coach of the Sacramento Kings and given a seven-year contract calling for him to replace Kings' general manager Joe Axelson within four years.

Russell, who played 13 years with the Boston Celtics, will have an option to become part owner when the Kings eventually become a publicly owned corporation, Gregg Lukenbill, the Kings' managing general partner announced Monday.

Russell, 53, takes over as coach effective June 1. He will coach for either two, three or four years, depending on the progress of the team, and then become general manager, Axelson said.

Midland Constructs 2 Wins

Midland Construction maintained its lead in the Pinto American League with victories over Gregory Lumber, 17-2, and Teer Lab, 14-8. Midland now stands at 9-1 with Frank's Frozen Yogurt close behind at 7-1.

Against Teer Lab, Jimmy Rabun smashed three doubles with Raines and Brad Fess adding three hits each. James Kowzowski had three hits and three RBIs for Teer Lab.

Frank's Frozen Yogurt kept pace with Midland with wins over Benchmark Enterprises.

Baseball

19-7, and KORG USA, 19-14. Against Benchmark, Shaun St. Dennis belted two home runs while Robbie Shapiro and Joseph June added three singles each. Brian Stensrud had three hits for Benchmark. Against KORG, St. Dennis had four hits, including a homer, with Randy Cole and Timmy Lichtenberger adding three hits each.

Dittmer Aluminum Improved its record in the American League to 5-3 with a 5-3 victory over Nader Construction. Gary Freeman homered for Dittmer while Doug Conway smacked a pair of doubles. First baseman Jason Wyse ended the game when he caught a line drive and tagged first for an unassisted double play.

Tips To Keep New Boat On Even Keel

Spring is the time when thoughts of boaters turn to pleasant days on the water and to that new boat. Here are a few tips to make sure those pleasant dreams become realities and stay that way.

Boats built for recreational use must be built to Coast Guard standards. These standards are complex and involved, and are written for the manufacturer and not the average recreational boater.

With few exceptions, single hull boats 20 feet and less in length, must have a certification plate. This plate is the manufacturer's certification that the boat was built to meet the United States Coast Guard's standards in effect on the day construction began. The plate usually tells you how many people or how much weight the boat can safely carry and the recommended maximum safe horsepower for which the boat is rated.

The boat must be properly equipped. This is the owner's responsibility. Federal regulations require that the boat be equipped with such things as personal flotation devices (life jackets, seat cushion preservers, etc.), fire extinguishers, sound-producing devices and so forth.

Carl Carlson
HERALD
BOATING
WRITER

The best way to check whether your boat has the required equipment is to write to the Coast Guard for the pamphlet, "Federal Requirements for Recreational Boats." The pamphlet is free and will give you the information you need to equip your boat so that it meets the minimum legal requirements.

But remember that the legally required equipment is only the minimum equipment necessary for safety, and we strongly recommend that you add additional equipment suggested by the type of boating you do and the type of water on which you boat.

Our new "skipper" should also make sure that all of the warranty cards are filled and mailed. Registration and title papers are routinely completed and filed with the proper authorities, but the warranty registrations often are not.

These cards help the manufacturer keep track of who has bought a particular boat in case of a recall. The warranty card may therefore be your best protection. Should a safety-related hazard be found, the manufacturer can reach you and correct the hazard. This service is free, even after the stated warranty has expired.

Knowledge of the proper operating procedures and practices are vital to safe enjoyment of our waters. Make sure you know what you are doing when you are out on the water.

BOATING TIP — You can get your boat examined for the minimum legally required safety items by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary and also receive a copy of the "Federal Requirements for Recreational Boats." Examiners are on duty almost every Saturday morning from 0900 to 1200. If you see one of the auxiliary boats on patrol, you can stop it and ask for a copy. Have a safe boating day.

Lake Brantley also started a junior varsity program this season and had 19 players at the beginning of the year, three of which have moved up to contribute to the varsity's success.

"We had some tough times early in the year," Betris said. "But everything's going great now. We've got some great kids on this team, a great assistant coach and one of the best facilities around. My job's even getting a little easier. Altamonte Springs comes in now and lines the field and I like it because it's something I used to have to do."

TRC Hopes To Lower Six Flags

By Sam Cook

Herald Sports Editor

The Tim Raines Connection, which has already ousted one other occupant from a first-place tie in the Sanford Men's Softball League this spring, will try to do the same against Six Flags Nursery Wednesday night at 6:30 at Pinehurst Field.

The Connection battered Kliner Surveying Monday night, 16-3, to move into a first-place deadlock with Six Flags. Both have 5-0 records, one game ahead of 4-1 Elk's Roofing. TRC knocked off Elk's when both were tied for the top spot earlier this year.

In other action Monday, Bill

Softball

Knapp's buried Deltona Sod, 14-1, and Elk's Roofing knocked out Green Produce, 11-6.

TRC pounded out 24 hits. Levi Raines and Bob Jacobs each rapped out four hits. Jacobs drove in three runs. Sam Raines had three singles and Ernest Shuler had a triple among his three hits. Fred Washington and Thaad Brooks chipped in two hits apiece.

Blair Kitner had a single and two-run double for the losers. In Monday's first game, Knapp's Jeff Smith two-hit Deltona Sod and rapped a pair of singles. Doug Emmons and Jim Olger had two singles and a triple apiece. Bill Friend slugged a two-run homer and singled. Harry McCarty, Zack Nelson and Mark Andrews each had two hits.

In Monday's third game, Mike Horne's three-run, first-inning homer highlighted Elk's Roofing's victory. Horne added a two-run single later. Tom Gracey, Tollie Frank, Chris Frank, Melvin Carter and Nick Brady each supplied two hits.

Allan Huck had three hits for losers. Bob Bridges drove in three runs with a pair of doubles. Reggie Conquest, Ron Wisc, Pat Johnson and Bill Ebinger stronked two hits each.

Bulls Take Charge

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues, helped by Monday's recovery in the dollar and bond markets.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which dropped 4.83 Monday, was up 5.82 to 2236.36 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 640-311 among the 1,376 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 12,137,300 shares.

The stock market posted modest losses in heavy trading Monday but a bounce-back in the dollar and bonds, a slump in precious metals prices and a bullish prognosis for traditional market leader IBM cut the session's steepest declines.

Trading on Monday was volatile. An afternoon rebound from a 40-point loss in the Dow Jones industrial average had the blue chip barometer showing a 15-point gain a half hour before the market closed.

Dollar Higher; Gold, Silver Off

By United Press International

The dollar halted its decline to stage a modest recovery on an inajor world money markets today. Gold and silver prices fell sharply in European trading in line with Monday's plunge in New York.

Dealers said the dollar was boosted by the market perception that the Reagan administration means business in curbing its recent downward spiral, and remarks by White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater that "further decline in the dollar could be counterproductive."

"Gold and silver fell sharply because of profit-taking and market consolidation, which always happens when there is a very fast rise. Prices are likely to increase again after the consolidation," said a Zurich trader when the European markets opened.

Gold lost more than 4 percent in London and Zurich. It opened at $453 an ounce in London, down $19 from Monday's close of $472, and fell $22.50 an ounce in Zurich to $452.50 from $475.

Gold recovered a little in London by the morning fixing on renewed buying after the sharp sell-off Monday.

scheduled meeting at city hall.

By sending a letter telling the Inn's owners that it is in violation of the lease agreement the city keeps its options open and protects its interest, Colbert said. If the Inn takes care of the financial problem within 30 days, then the matter is resolved and would not terminate their lease.

Colbert said the city has at least two options to pursue, perhaps more after he researches the issue. He said the city could let the bank take over operations of the inn or the city could pay the bill.

One reason why the city might opt to pay the bill is to find another motel operator of its own choosing and then renegotiate the lease with the city trying to get a bigger cut of the gross receipts.

At worst, quipped Mayor Bettye Smith, the city could go into the motel business.

Mrs. Soubielle was not injured the night of the shooting.

He said every room in the house was in disarray. The evidence indicated Soubielle was chased through the house. He had been shot seven times by a six-shot handgun with the fatal shot piercing his heart. His body had been dragged to the garage where it appears someone tried to stuff him in the trunk of a car. He was not armed, Plotnick said. Investigators say there was an attempt to clean the crime scene and that Mrs. Soubielle had changed clothes. Not all of the spent cartridges were located either. Plotnick said another way to look at the issue was that Mrs. Soubielle was planning to take the child away from Soubielle and go to Houston.

Plotnick argued that if a bond be set, it should be in the area of $100,000. Plotnick said the specter of life in prison or possibly execution is a "tremendous incentive to flee the jurisdiction," of the court. Muller asked for a $5,000 bond.

Eaton, in denying the bond motion, said he is very concerned that Soubielle receive ample opportunity to assist in her defense and told Muller that even though he was denying bond that Muller should ask the court whenever he needs to have Soubielle available for appointment outside the jail such as for psychological evaluations.

Arson Suspected In Sanford Fire

The Sanford Police Department and the state fire marshal's office are investigating a possible arson fire at 1123 Oleander Avenue, Sanford.

According to the Sanford Fire Department's report, upon their arrival at the residence, at 12:15 a.m. today, there were no visible signs of flames or smoke. But upon further investigation, firefighters found a smoke-filled bathroom on the back porch and evidence of soot film in the surrounding area.

The owner, Mr. Whitted (no first name given), said he was asleep in bed and that his son was walking outside and saw the fire on the back porch. His son then ran into the house and woke his father and the two of them put out the blaze with a garden hose, according to Whitted.

Firefighters found a plastic container on the ground at the scene containing some kind of liquid. They also found some burned clothes and trash scattered on the ground. Whitted stated that these items were not his but that they were what was on a fire before he and his son put out the flames and pulled them off the porch and onto the ground.

The fire marshal's representative was on the scene by 3:30 a.m.

their yards and homes.

Developer Larry Dale of Lake Mary said the route that goes through Spring Hammock would be the least desirable route, "because it's the only drainage and recharge area we have in this area of the county."

He said the five-points ballfields would mostly be lost and cities of Lake Mary and/or Sanford divided. He also said Seminole Community College has property it would like to use for expansion that is within one of the corridors.

"The figures don't justify the ridership from the Sanford and Lake Mary areas," Dale said. "Take it east around the airport; you can improve Route 410, 427, 46-A and Lake Mary Boulevard as feeders to Interstate 4."

Ken Hoffman of Cardinal Oaks Phase II in Lake Mary, presented a petition signed by residents opposing the expressway through that part of Lake Mary.

And a petition from 412 people at Grove View and Hazel Glenn subdivisions in south Sanford was also presented opposing the route that bisects that area.

Residents will have additional time to see the consultant's five recommended routes, and possibly an easterly route suggestion, at public meetings 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. May 5 at Sanford City Hall; May 6 at the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association Building, 260 N. Mary Scott of Casselberry starts her 22-month-old son, Austin, off right as she leads him through the Bike Safety Rodeo course in the parking lot at Seminole Greyhound Park Saturday. The event was sponsored by the Optimist Club of Semoran and the city of Casselberry to teach youngsters the basics of bicycle safety. A bicycle safety inspection for elementary school children preceded the rodeo. Participants in a safety quiz received bicycle registrations and reflective stickers.

the near-term sewer service needs of the city along with the county's agreement to six points of negotiation which are necessary for the county alternative to be acceptable to the city.

The city previously adopted a Wastewater Master Plan that was revised and updated as of June, 1986. Under that Master Plan, the city set itself the task of analyzing three options for providing wastewater service within the city. Norris said. The city also issued two development orders and other development approvals which contemplate the provision of central wastewater service within the city, he said.

Norris said the Seminole County alternative offers cost savings to the city in respect to initial dollar outlays. The county's dollar cost is close to the cost it would take the city to develop its own system, and is more cost effective than the city of Sanford, he said.

The six points of negotiation necessary for the Greenwood Lakes alternative that were agreed to by the county are:

- Seminole County shall not provide additional wastewater service within the city without the prior approval of the commission.
- The city shall allocate capacity, control connection to the system and administer the billing and collection of impact fees, service charges and effluent fees within their service area.
- The impact fee is $6.57 per gallon with a four cent increase occurring every month with a cap of $7 per gallon occurring in March of 1988. In addition, the county would charge the city the prevailing wholesale going rate of $1.50/1,000 gallon to transport and treat the wastewater and $0.15/1,000 gallon for the effluent delivered for reuse/spray irrigation. The rate is usually based upon actual flow readings recorded at master meters located convenient to the transfer points, Norris said. The city will add a surcharge to the county's rates to cover the capital cost of necessary transmission systems, the administration cost of the billing and collection services, and operation and maintenance costs required by sewerage facilities, he said and the city shall read the master meters.

- The county shall provide capacity for the projected needs for the city's wastewater service area.
- The county shall guarantee immediate capacity of 300,000 gallons. Three-hundred thousand gallons of capacity in the Greenwood Lakes wastewater treatment plant would be reserved for the city of Lake Mary.
- The county shall maintain and operate the master sewage pump stations and transmission lines.
- The county shall return reclaimed water to Lake Mary after treatment on at least a one to one basis.

Norris said he would negotiate with Seminole County to prepare any agreements, documents and reports that may be necessary to accomplish the hook-up in an expeditious manner as he possibly could.

"It is our goal to work in a joint effort to have raw sewage flowing from Lake Mary into the Greenwood Lakes treatment facility by the end of 1987," Norris said.

Contacting Old Flame Could Spark The Wrong Response

DEAR ABBY: Fifteen years ago, when I was in high school, "Steve" and I went steady for three months. It was an intense and wonderful relationship (we never slept together), then one night he called to say that he no longer wanted to go steady. No explanation. He didn't start to date anyone else, but from then on we hardly even spoke. In time I got over the hurt, but I never forgot Steve.

Dear Abby

word from this corner is "don't."

Eight years ago, I married a man who is the best, and we have a beautiful family. I have no regrets about my choice; however, it still bothers me that Steve broke up with me so suddenly without an explanation. I don't want to rekindle anything between us, nor do I want an affair; I only want a 30-minute face-to-face conversation with Steve to find out why he broke up with me. He still lives in this city, and I heard that he is married and has a family now, but I haven't seen him in 10 years.

DEAR ABBY: Bet you never heard this one before: My husband and I and our five kids live in a modest-sized mobile home where it's not easy to find peace and quiet. My husband is a wonderful man, works very hard, and is an early-to-bed person.

The children and I enjoy sitting up later on evenings and weekends to watch TV. Sometimes we do get a little noisy. The problem? Daddy wants peace and quiet, before going to bed, he goes to the electric meter and disconnects all the power in the house! And it stays off until the next morning. How about that?

untimely comment concerning a utility bill while they were making love.

Allow me to relate a similar incident that happened to me. It was class reunion time, and my husband and I were working on class floats. The night before the parade always finds classes working right through the night. Jim and I had scooted home to steal a few hours of sleep before getting back to the parade. Glad to have a few moments to ourselves after so many hectic days, we were soon enjoying ourselves completely. In the middle of all this intimacy, my husband pipes up and asks, "What size chicken wire does your class use for tissue stuffing on your floats?"

Needless to say, the mood changed instantly — but not to one of silence as "Hurt" related in her letter. We both broke into a whole-hearted laugh! Am I to assume that Jim loves me less because his mind was elsewhere? Not on your life! This incident is among our funniest memories.

By the way, we've been married 19 years. Ours was a marriage that everyone said would never last because we were so young (I was 17½ and he was 19), but it's been truly wonderful, and I look forward to growing old together.

LUCKY MARY IN BRADFORD, VT.

Am I crazy to want this question answered so I can die in peace? Please advise me.

LEFT WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Crazy? No. Your curiosity is understandable, but were you to contact Steve and suggest a rendezvous, he couldn't be blamed for assuming you'd like to rekindle the old romance. The

Sanora Yard Of The Month

The yard of Mr. and Mrs. George Freese, 205 Sanora Blvd., Sanford, has been selected by the Sanora Homeowners' Association grounds committee as "Yard of the Month" for April. According to Lucille M. Tarbert, the yard is well-taken care of with azaleas outlining the front window accented by other hardy, compatible shrubs. Impatiens bordering the front entrance and tulips in a circular front bed add color to the attractive landscape.

Help Available To Seniors In Filing Medicare-Claims

Seniors experiencing difficulty in deciphering Medicare claim forms under Part B will soon have free assistance in filing their claims. Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Sanford, is announcing the inauguration of a new community service, Senior Outreach. The program, organized and coordinated by Irene K. Brown, offers clerical assistance to any senior in the north Seminole County area in completing forms and filing claims under Medicare, Part B.

Beginning May 5, a representative from the church will be available every Tuesday from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Appointments are required, however. Good Shepherd Church is located at 2917 Orlando Drive, Sanford, next to Sanford Plaza. Appointments may be arranged by calling 305-322-7312, preferably in the morning hours.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. William Cox of Beech Grove, Ind., announce the birth of their daughter, Catherine Grace, conceived by invitro implant, on April 20. She weighed 8 lbs. and was 20 inches long.

Mrs. Cox is the former Rebecca (Becky) Blalock of Sanford. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Blalock Sr. of Sanford. Mrs. Blalock said the mother and daughter are doing nicely. The baby was born on her Aunt Catherine's birthday.

The Runcible Spoon Is Deliciously Different

The Runcible Spoon Tea Room, located in the The Browser's Barn at 150 W. Jessup Ave., in Longwood's historic district, is under new ownership.

Pat Thibodeau, Jo Piercy and Louise Merkle, partners in the business, are not only carrying on the tradition of delightfully different gourmet luncheons in a quaint atmosphere, but have brought with them their prized recipes from their personal collections and enthusiasm for fine food.

Louise develops and tests all their new recipes. Pat does the cooking and Jo is the tea room hostess.

You won't find assembly-line fast food or the same old menu items everyday here. Some of the favorites that keep customers coming back for more: broccoli quiche, salmon chowder, open faced ham and asparagus sandwiches, turkey and bacon with bernaise sauce, fresh fruit platter with imported cheese, strawberry pie, Tollhouse pie and dark chocolate pie (for chocolate lovers only).

But men, don't let these dainty dishes scare you away, they also have man-sized stacked high sandwiches to suit your appetite.

Continental breakfast consisting of a basket of muffins cuddled in a linen napkin and served with real butter, pastries, fresh fruit in a glass bowl, juice coffee and herb tea, is now being served from 8:30-10:30 a.m.

Lunch is served from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and take-out service is available. The Runcible Spoon will be open Monday through Friday beginning May 1 instead of Tuesday through Saturday.

The Runcible Spoon can be reserved for private parties in the evening. They cater to business meetings, parties, receptions, and club meetings. Why not hold your next breakfast sales meeting at The Runcible Spoon. To arrange for private parties, call 332-1905. The tea room seats up to 40 persons.

It is a non-alcoholic establishment and there is no noisy recorded music to drown out table talk.

The Browser's Barn is located on Jessup Avenue (turn off County Road 427 at the first street north of the Longwood Post Office). Sorry, no credit cards.

All Small Car Parts:
Striving For Excellence

Are you the owner of an imported car? Have you had trouble locating the right parts to keep your car running at its best? If so you need to stop in today and meet the folks at All Small Car Parts. A combination of friendly, helpful service coupled with the right parts, the right quality, the right fit and the right price will make you glad you did.

Owned and operated by Randy and Sue Thompson since October 1985, All Small Car Parts has been pleasing customers every day with their excellent service and quality. They are assisted by their daughter, Kathy, along with Ed Stoveken and Mary Ann Davis, all Sanford residents. Their main goal is customer service and satisfaction!

The staff at All Small Car Parts is on the phones daily to virtually every major supplier of imported auto parts in the United States. Every effort is made to supply the correct part needed and do it at a highly competitive price.

"By dealing with suppliers that specialize in importing parts directly from the countries of origin, we are able to maintain the competitive price and quality our customers deserve," Randy said. "During my years with Bosch, I was a three-time winner of their Sales Excellence Club. By applying winning techniques and striving for excellence our customers gain the greatest benefit."

In addition to the coverage stocked for imported cars and trucks, All Small car parts can also help owners of small domestic vehicles. The increasing number of U.S. manufacturers using import engines and drive trains on their new economy models lead to greater parts availability from importers.

Naturally this falls within the realm of expertise offered by your friends at All Small Car Parts.

Located next to the Highway 17-92 entrance of Sanford's Kmart Plaza, the bright yellow building is convenient to Sanford and Lake Mary area residents. Hours of operation are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Master Card and Visa are accepted, along with approved personal checks.

Stop in soon and visit the friendly folks at All Small Car Parts. They are anxious to make you another of their satisfied customers.

George and Tammy Hodge, owners of Tammy's Bait and Tackle, Lake Monroe.

Tammy's Bait And Tackle For Your Fishing Needs

Tammy's Bait and Tackle, Lake Monroe, has everything for the fisherman including fishing tips on when and where the big ones are biting. They have a complete line of fishing tackle. Specials this week are 5 1/2 foot tubular glass rods, normally costing $16.99, on sale for $15.99 and with the coupon only $14.99 and Zebco 202 $5.49 reels on sale for $4.29 only $3.49 with coupon.

Tammy's is located at the intersection of County Road 15 and Orange Boulevard (Interstate-4 Exit 52) in the old Gardner Grocery building. For the convenience of fishermen they are open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to dark.

The coffee pot is always on at Tammy's, so come in for a free cup and see Tammy and George (Claude) Hodge, owners, and Judy Harper, clerk for your fishing needs and information. Born in Inverness, George has lived in Lake Monroe for 40 years and is a graduate of Seminole High School.

Tammy's will be celebrating the second anniversary of its grand opening on August 8 with a fish fry. Two dollars will buy all you can eat plus a chance to win the drawing for a 14 foot Frontier canoe. Second and third prizes will also be awarded. Tickets for the fish fry are available at Tammy's up until closing on August 7. The drawing will be held for the canoe and other prizes on August 8.

Since the August 7, 1985 opening, Tammy's has been continually adding merchandise to satisfy the customers' needs. If you don't see it, ask and they'll get it.

They sell ice, beer, soft drinks and snacks, supply rod rentals, guide service, rod and reel repair and custom rod wrapping. Looking for live bait? Tammy's has bullheads, shiners, Missouri minnows and all types of worms — red, night crawlers, wrigglers, and grunts.

Planning a party or picnic? Call on Tammy's for catering your barbecue. Phone 322-0340.

Self-Medication Can Be Very Dangerous

can be an embarrassing nuisance. Surgery is often used to "tighten things up," reduce sagging and get rid of unwanted stretched tissue. Ask your gynecologist whether you are a candidate for a vaginal-repair procedure.

DEAR DR. GOTT — To keep my weight down, I take six Correctol tablets and two stool softeners at night, as well as appetite suppressants during the day. My doctor has me on two or three Ludiomil (80 milligrams) for my nerves. Is it dangerous for me to take all of this?
DEAR READER — I think you are endangering your health by taking so much over-the-counter medicine for weight control. Correctol is simply plant fiber, but you are taking too much — and for the wrong reason.

The manufacturers of appetite-suppressants advise against chronic use of these products; in addition, many of these substances contain stimulants that can cause nervousness, insomnia or elevated blood pressure. Ludiomil is a prescription anti-depressant with many side effects, including drowsiness, nervousness, seizures, difficulty walking, heart irregularities, constipation, rash and weakness.

You're endangering your health by becoming "addicted" to laxatives and by combining Ludiomil with appetite suppressants. Tell your doctor about your interest in losing weight, and about the over-the-counter products you've used. Ask your doctor to refer you to a reputable weight-control group, or look for a support group like Weight Watchers — and stop taking the non-prescription drugs.

In addition — and only under your doctor's supervision — you should try to discontinue the Ludiomil. Ask your doctor to recommend alternatives to medication — such as counseling, biofeedback or exercise to control stress.

To give you more information on realistic weight control, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on WEIGHT CONTROL THROUGH CALORIE CONTROL.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm 55 and my health is good. However, I have the embarrassing problem of having air or gas come from my vagina with no warning. What causes this and what can be done about it?
DEAR READER — As we age, our tissues tend to sag. The vagina also stretches and may contain air, which, when expelled at inappropriate times,

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
When I was a college student in the 1950s, one of the exciting events for aspiring bridge players was the intercollegiate championships. This competition ended in the late '60s, through lack of interest, but it has been recently revived by the American Contract Bridge League. Par deals are developed by a special committee of experts, and players competing are confronted with the same set of problems for either East-West or North-South. Today's deal is from this par contest. If you want to try your hand as declarer, cover the East-West hands. After winning the spade lead, you play A-K of diamonds, but West shows out on the second diamond, pitching a club. What now?

Since there is no time to knock out three high clubs before the defenders establish and run their spade tricks, you must look elsewhere. And your best chance is to hope for a favorable heart split and a little something else. So play A-Q of hearts, overtaking with dummy's king, and then play another heart, discarding the other high spade from your hand. West is in with the heart jack, but you will have nine tricks if he plays another spade.

If he plays a low club, the defense can take only three club tricks before having to surrender. It's true that this line works only because East cannot gain the lead twice to set up a diamond trick, but as a resourceful declarer, you have to take whatever you can get. This time you got a little lucky, but only if you saw the play of three rounds of hearts combined with unblocking the other high spade.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
APRIL 29, 1987

A profitable possibility will develop for you in the year ahead that will open a second channel of income. It could eventually turn out to equal your present earnings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The quality of your efforts will determine the value of your rewards today. If your methods are industrious and productive, you'll meet your expectations. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Keep a low profile today in your involvements with your peer group. You'll attract favorable attention by not trying to be a grand-stander.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today, you are likely to feel more at ease with people who have a purpose in life instead of being with those who are just drifting along.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Great personal satisfaction will be derived today from situations where you use your mental prowess to meet and overcome challenges.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Usually it isn't too wise to offer unsolicited advice to another. Today, however, if you have suggestions that could help a friend, speak up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be cautious, firm and patient in all your commercial dealings today. Don't let others hurry you beyond your chosen pace.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you may have to make a decision on an issue where the alternatives appear to be of equal value. Tilt your judgment toward that which was previously successful.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Better communications can be established with co-workers as of today. Start talking things out so that old misunderstandings can be resolved.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A recreational break today could provide a healthy release to prevent tensions from building up. Allocate some time for a fun activity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Several matters that you have been wanting to get off your back can be completed to your satisfaction today. Dispose of them in an orderly manner.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There isn't much that is likely to escape your notice today. You're both curious and a quick study, and you'll be eager to either gain or impart knowledge.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Keep your wits about you today in situations that have financial or material promise. You should be able to improvise something advantageous.
