

INLAND WATERWAYS AID GETS INCREASED BUDGET FIFTEEN MILLION ADDED

Democrats Favor Large Appropriations for Rivers and Harbors

PORK BARREL CRY

WAS RAISED BY REPUBLICANS WITH USUAL PROPENSITY FOR CUTTING DOWN MEASURES

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 28.—Disregarding recommendations of the budget bureau and of the appropriations committee, the House yesterday by a three to one vote added $15,000,000 to the amount carried in the army appropriation bill for rivers and harbors improvement.

An amendment to increase the lump sum appropriation from $27,635,250 to $42,635,250 was adopted by a vote of 158 to 43 after three hours of acrimonious debate during which 40 members aired their views. The vote on the amendment was along sectional rather than party lines, Republicans splitting on the proposal, while most of the Democrats favored it.

The discussion was so protracted that a final vote on the bill could not be reached yesterday. The measure probably will come to a final vote today.

The phrase "pork barrel legislation" frequently was injected into the debate, which had all the earmarks of congressional wrangles of former years for rivers and harbors appropriation.

The amount originally recommended in the bill was slightly in excess of the sum approved by the budget bureau, while the total proposed was the amount requested by the chief of army engineers, in charge of the improvement. Carried in a lump sum with amounts not specified, the appropriation to be expended on various projects would be apportioned by the army engineering corps to continue work during the coming fiscal year on projects already authorized.

Representative Mondell characterized the movement to increase the appropriation as the "first assault on the budget system" and as a "raid on the treasury." Mr. Burton contended that the House in approving the increase showed the mistake of making lump sum appropriations. Such a system, he said, caused members to combine in support of large sums so that projects in their districts would be taken care of. Mr. Mann declared that opponents of the bill made it clear that "a band of rascals" were attempting to raid the treasury. A number of representatives who approved the increase advanced the argument that improvement of inland waterways would allow farmers and manufacturers in the interior to move their products by water more cheaply than they now can do so by railroad.

MACWILLIAMS OF ST. AUGUSTINE TO OPPOSE JOE SEARS

(By The Associated Press) ST. AUGUSTINE, March 28.—State Senator W. A. MacWilliams yesterday announced his candidacy for congress from the fourth Florida district. He will oppose Congressman W. J. Sears, who, it is understood, will be a candidate for re-election. This is the first announcement of opposition to any of Florida's congressional representatives.

Senator MacWilliams' announcement was made after the perfection here yesterday of an organization to be known as the "MacWilliams for Congress" club.

It was not made known whether Mr. MacWilliams contemplated resigning as state senator or the presidency of the upper body to which he was elected at the last session of the legislature. His present term will expire in 1924, but a new president to be selected from the "holdover" ranks will be named by the senate when it convenes for its 1923 session.

FT. LAUDERDALE WIRE TAPPERS FINED $20,000

Judge Davis Imposes Fines After Twelve Men Plead Guilty.

FORT LAUDERDALE, March 28.—Fines aggregating $20,000 were imposed on twelve wire tappers by Circuit Judge E. C. Davis here yesterday after the men had pleaded guilty to a specific charge of attempting to defraud E. C. Peterline, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The men were recently indicted by the Broward county grand jury which also returned a true bill against H. Cowan in connection with the case. Cowan escaped, however, during the raid and no trace of his whereabouts has ever been found.

Decision of the twelve men to plead guilty to the charge of attempting to defraud Peterline came after Judge Davis had denied a defense motion to quash the indictments and one calling for a bill of particulars.

Although local citizens who interested themselves in the case expressed disappointment that sentences of imprisonment had not been given, State Attorneys Coleman and Jones, the latter sent here from Orlando by Governor Hardee to assist in the prosecution, hailed the conclusion of the case without the expected long drawn out trial as a "brilliant" victory.

(By The Associated Press) ST. Eight women and four men are on the jury. They took the case late yesterday and after failing to agree were locked up late last night as required by law. Criticism which followed the locking up of the first two juries had caused officials to make better arrangements for partitioning of the jury room and last night heavy curtains and high screens were available.

OLD MISSISSIPPI RIVER ON RAMPAGE AGAIN, BRING UP OTHER DAYS

Only Seven Times Has "Father of Waters" Gone Over the 40-Foot Mark

MEMPHIS, March 28.—A stage of unprecedented height of 40.5 feet, Memphis gauge. At that time, however, the levee system had not been built to the standard that government engineers had mapped out as necessary for all time. In the spring of 1920 the river reached a stage of 40.3 feet, Memphis gauge, but there was no overflow. The levee construction between 1913 and 1920, due largely to aid in the form of a $50,000,000 appropriation by congress in 1917, gave the people of the lower valley full confidence that the levee system would forever end the disastrous floods.

For more than 200 years, or since the city of New Orleans was laid out by French engineers in 1717, embankments have been built along the river banks to hold the river to its channel.

Prior to the Civil War considerable headway had been made to protect the lowest and best agricultural lands but the series of embankments were not connected up and the overflows, where there were no restraining walls, always threatened those sections which had only local protection. The cost of building the embankments was tremendous, so much so that it could not be done with desired rapidity either by local districts, by the counties or by the states. Long effort was made to get federal help but it was not until 1917 that funds in sufficient proportions were forthcoming. Since that time, however, the work has progressed very rapidly.

The Mississippi river now is hemmed in by a chain of levees from Missouri and Tennessee to below the city of New Orleans, embankments that are continuous and that total more than 1,500 miles in length. At some places they tower more than 50 feet high and their crown is as wide as an average street with the base often more than 300 feet wide.

Before the levees were built, the area of land subject to overflow was in excess of 15,000,000 acres, or an area greater than the combined area of Delaware, Connecticut, New Jersey and Massachusetts. Since the levees have afforded more and more protection, the region has been reclaimed rapidly and put into cultivation, so that it now ranks as one of the most productive areas in the entire country. Nearly 1,000,000 people, dependent mostly on agriculture, live in the region. Where there was but one banking institution in the area in 1880—that at Helena, Ark.—there now are more than 500 flourishing banks. Where there were no railroads whatever in the territory prior to the '20s, the mileage now is in excess of 3,200.

Only seven times since river statistics have been compiled, dating back to 1872, has the Mississippi gone over the 40-foot mark on the Memphis gauge. The flood or bank-full stage is 35 feet. The levees, engineers say, will resist a 50 foot stage. The last serious overflow, when a wide area was inundated and much damage done by flood waters, was in 1913, when the river climbed to the

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGE OF MISS MIAMI'S PILOT

MIAMI, March 28.—The charges of pilot Robert Moore, sole survivor of the Miss Miami, that a fishing boat failed to heed his signals and passed up the wrecked plane, leaving Moore and his five passengers to their fate in the sea, will be investigated by the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce.

The navigation bureau yesterday wired officials of the Miami Airways Corporation, owners of the plane, to forward at once to them all information concerning the incidents immediately preceding and following the plane's landing on the water.

Hope for finding the bodies of the five who were drowned—Mr. and Mrs. August Bulte and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Smith of Kansas City, and Mrs. J. S. Dickson of Memphis—was abandoned yesterday after another plane and a subchaser had searched the waters for hours. Navigators believe that by this time they have been devoured by sharks.

Moore was much improved today and physicians said he would be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Finally Untangled All Parliamentary Difficulties and Joined

SUPPLEMENTS DOMESTIC QUESTIONS WILL NOT COME BEFORE THE FOUR-POWER CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Senate finally untangled its parliamentary difficulties over the four-power treaty supplements yesterday by joining the two supplementary agreements together and then ratifying them both by unanimous vote.

One of the supplements, itself in the form of a treaty, defines the geographical scope of the four power pact so as not to include the Japanese homeland. The other, attached to the first by yesterday's action in the form of a "reservation," stipulates that issues which are purely of a domestic character cannot be brought before the four power "conferences."

The vote on the double-barrelled ratification resolution was 78 to 0, opponents of the four power plan joining in giving approval to the supplements because they interpreted the two agreements as limiting and curtailing the operation of the principal treaty. Several attempts to attach other reservations which had failed when the four power treaty itself was under consideration were defeated by the usual pro-treaty and anti-treaty line-up.

As soon as the vote had been completed Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, called up the naval limitation treaty establishing a 5-5-3 capital ship ratio for the United States, Great Britain and Japan. Debate on it is to begin today, and the administration managers expect to see it ratified by an almost unanimous vote by the end of the week.

The plan of combining action on the two four-power treaty supplements was proposed by Senator Lodge after he had decided it was unnecessary to present two separate ratification resolutions. The treaty opponents, holding that the domestic questions supplement really was a part of the four power pact, protested that the method finally settled upon by the Republican leader was but a "weak and unsatisfactory" way to solve the parliamentary problem confronting the senate, but Mr. Lodge and other Republicans insisted it would be entirely effective.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, senior Democrat member of the foreign relations committee, declared the senate's action in giving beated approval to the supplement "is an admission to Japan that the supplement's provisions are not a part of the four power treaty." Other Democrats also argued that the only proper procedure was to reconsider the vote ratifying the four-power pact if as to include the supplement in this ratification. Adoption of the domestic questions supplement as a "reservation" to the geographical supplement, however, was by a vive voce vote.

Two attempts were made to attach other reservations, Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, presenting the Lodge League of Nations reservation on domestic questions, and Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, introducing again his proposal that outside powers be invited to join in Pacific conferences affecting their interests. The Pittman reservation was beaten, 21 to 49, and the Robinson reservation was rejected without a roll call.

Senator Robinson also sought without success to amend the supplementary treaty so that the island of Sakhalin also would be excluded from the operation of the four-power plan. He argued that trouble on that island would be almost certain if Russia would attack Japan, but his amendment was voted down, 20 to 53. Senator Underwood, of Alabama, the Democratic leader, led the fight against it, saying that it might lead to rejection of the whole four power arrangement by Japan.

"Sheriff Shot in the Liquor Raid" says headline in paper. Poor fellow, he can hardly get over such a wound as this.

The prohibition officers are endeavoring to cut expenses by transferring all the seized stores or rum and all that is in storage to the government army buildings where the soldiers can watch it. This ought to be advertised in the "Join the Army" bulletins. It would draw them.

New York gunmen killed three and wounded several more in the streets on Sunday and seems to have gotten away with it as none of them were arrested. A man is much safer in the Everglades of Florida than in the streets of New York. The crimes pulled off there in broad daylight put to shame any of the Jesse James stuff of the early west.

Turkey has been restored to full status prospect says despatches and while we don't quite get the full import of it all the meaning is probably that Turkey comes out of the war with more than she went in with and this is usually the way with Turkey. We have always let the scoundrels get the best of the civilized world and do just as they pleased.

Congressmen and senators will visit Muscle Shoals this week and go over the ground thoroughly and see if something cannot be done to prevent Henry Ford getting the plant and making cheap fertilizers and cheaper farming machinery and cheaper motor cars. It has come to a fine pass, indeed, if a two by four like Henry Ford can even make the attempt to take over this pet scheme of the government and overthrow all the trusts and corporations and give the farmer a chance to live. Such perversity and sleek and pugnaciousness should be punished and we want that when the congressional committee returns to Washington that Henry Ford will be called to Washington to ask the pardon of the Wall Street gang or go to jail or both.

WHO SCRATCHES YOUR BACK?

Almost every town or city is filled with folks who just will not trade at home. Sometimes these folks are in minor positions and their purchases do not amount to much. But when people with the "send off for it" idea are in positions of trust and influence they become great factors in retarding the growth of the community. We are led to make this remark because of an instance which hits us pretty hard. The instance is nothing more or less than the sending out of town for a couple of large orders of printing, for goodness knows what reason, by a man delegated with public authority, when Lakeland has within her borders no less than three presses of the very class and type as those on which the jobs were printed. When Lakeland has no less than four print shops which could have satisfactorily produced the jobs at an economical figure. And when the deliveries could have been made weeks earlier by any one of the local shops. This when Lakeland men and machinery were not working beyond 75 per cent of normal capacity.

That may be the way to build up our community, but it doesn't seem so to us. In printing of this character at least 75 per cent of the money paid for the completed work stays in the town in which the work is done, being paid out in wages, rent, light, water, power and numerous other expenses. Then why not pay a little more if necessary for the home product, insist on quality and service, and then receive the benefits which come from patronizing home industry.—The Weekly Advertiser.

The Star knows of a few business men, too, who depend upon the newspapers for their boosting and support, who want to do everything but pay the help on Saturday and who pitch and snort if a newspaper happened to encourage some competitive line coming into Lakeland with a big stock of goods and establishing a real store, yet they send out of town for their printing because they claim to be able to save a few dollars. Does the print shop in Tampa, or any other place where the work is done come to Lakeland to do its trading? Will that print shop run a nice obituary and funeral notice of you when you are gone and tell a lot of lies about what a nice man you have been when in fact if the truth were published, perhaps it would not go through the U. S. mails? If you are as ugly as a mud fence and get married to some nice girl who ought to know you are a scoundrel and crook, will the out-of-town paper smooth such a thing over and send you on your way rejoicing by telling a lot of foolish lies about the groom? When a new baby comes into your home does the out-of-the-city paper say what a nice papa it has and how much it looks like its mother? When you are in trouble or have been wronged in some way do you find the out-of-town paper or job shop backing up your place of business or defending your character? In other words, who deserves the work—the man who never invests a cent in Lakeland or helps your business or the local print shop that has thousands of dollars invested and keeps a number of families located in the city of Lakeland and these families spend their money at home.

The Star is not peeved, but it does know of a few business men in this city who think it is a sly piece of business to send away for printing and get it fifty cents cheaper than the local shop. The fellow who expects to get and does get his living out of Lakeland ought to be willing to help Lakeland institutions that help him out and not some foreign corporation or office—if he does, he is just a plain cheap skate and we should tell his relatives when he dies, to go to that print shop and let them say nice things about the deceased—because if we are forced to tell the truth in print, all hell would shake to pieces before night on some of them. And this all applies not only to business men who trade out of town but to every person who makes it a practice to spend his money out of town.—Lakeland Star.

NEW VOLUME TODAY

We start No. 1 of Volume III today of the Daily Herald and it gives us great pride in the fact that the Sanford Daily Herald has weathered the storms of two years and demonstrated our faith in the community when we started the paper and said it would fill a niche in the daily life of Sanford and Seminole county. The Daily Herald was started just after the close of the war when conditions were anything but favorable and the first year of its life was rather filled with forebodings and calamities as the power plant went down during the winter of the first year and caused the paper and the plant to lose in time and money and business. In April of that first year unable longer to issue the daily until the electric plant was put in shape the daily suspended until the following fall when it started for another six months run but at the end of that time there was such an insistent demand that it continue through the summer that the management decided to make it an all-the-year-round daily paper and the editor gave up his chance to operate a daily summer paper in the mountains to remain at home and take care of the Daily Herald and nurse it through its first summer. It more than fulfilled our expectations in every respect although the advertising patronage was not as large as it should have been but we believed that our friends, the merchants, went as far as they could in this respect in many ways and that they appreciated our efforts and have at all times given the Daily Herald all the business they could and also that they are getting better all the time and coming more and more to realize that in daily advertising depends the success of their business.

Not only do they realize that they must advertise for their own benefit but the city as a whole has realized the great benefits to be derived from a daily paper in Sanford—a real daily paper with all the press dispatches and all the local news fresh each day at their doors. It has livened up the city in no small way and has brought to each and every citizen the thought that at last Sanford was in the big city class and they now look upon the Daily Herald as a Sanford institution with which they can look the world in the face and say that Sanford has a daily paper in fact and in every respect.

The Daily Herald does not yet come up to the expectations of the men who are making it possible but it will grow as Sanford grows and it is getting better each year and has gone far enough to convince the owners that it has come to stay. There are many changes that will be made during the next year to make it a greater daily paper. It will have added features and will probably go to a seven column paper ere long and with a larger press in a new building with a leased wire will give Sanford one of the largest daily papers in this part of the state. No other paper can ever take the place of a home paper and this rule holds good with the small weekly papers as well as the dailies. There are larger papers and better papers in the state but none of them can give the readers the local news like the home paper and our constantly increasing subscription list bears witness to this fact.

The Daily Herald enters upon a new year with the feeling that the entire city and county is standing squarely behind the paper that is trying to build up your city and county and our policy in the past will be adhered to in the future—to give the news without bias, to give only the news that will interest the readers, to give nothing but real news, to take up no personal fights, to build up instead of tear down, with malice toward none and charity toward all and to press forward to the goal we have set—that of giving Sanford the best daily paper in the South.

A FLORIDA FACT.

"What kind of water do you have? How deep do you have to go to find water?"

These and like questions about water are generally among the first asked by prospective settlers in the states west of the Missouri. Hundreds of good houses have been built and occupied in the western prairies and not a tree or stream to greet the view in any direction.

Alkali is so abundant in the North-western plains states that it looks like snow around the border of lakes and waterholes wherever they exist.

This dreary condition is not possible anywhere in the south. Water is abundant and the best on earth, and there is no monotony in the landscape. The homeseeker who comes to Florida has no trouble about getting plenty of good water, and besides, he has no long winter to face with expensive fuel and clothing bills. The thrifty homemaker can have something fresh for his table each month in the year from his own garden.

In number and variety of commercial springs of mineralized or medical water the southern states lead the union. Water is bottled at the various springs by the car and shipped north and west, and about these springs, especially in the mountain sections, resort hotels have been built and each year finds them crowded with health seekers from all over the world. Florida has fine resorts along the sea coast and at many interior points and the state is fast becoming an all the year round resort.

Some of the largest springs in America are to be found in Florida. Silver Springs, near Ocala, has an overflow large enough to make a stream to float steamboats.—Moses Folsom in Jax. Metropolis.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES Be quick to kick if things seem wrong. But kick to us and make it strong. To make things right gives us delight. If you are right and we are wrong.

"What is the Chamber of Commerce doing?" is frequently asked by those who expend little or no effort in the work it is attempting. Ask those members of the organization who are actively working, they know, and if they haven't time to detail the activities, a visit to the office of the organization for this purpose will convince the most inactive squawker that the local chamber is on the job working for a Greater Sanford.

The Chamber of Commerce is a democratic organization. It is working for the best interests of all in Sanford. It is not working in the interests of any individual or set of individuals, and any one joining it for such selfish purpose is in line for a disappointment. It is non-political and has proven that it can assimilate factions, with their diversified opinions, subverting them to a common cause. Occasionally some one remarks that they haven't any use for the fellows back of the Chamber of Commerce. No one likes a person with whom they are unacquainted. A closer acquaintance with people discloses the fact that there are a mighty lot of good fellows left in the world. The man who has no use for a large proportion of his fellow citizens ought to consult some kind of an ologist to find out what's the matter with him.

If you ever hear anyone say, "I don't like the way they are running things," ask him if he has made any personal effort to change them. If he was right he would doubtless find many others who agreed with him. As stated before, this is a democratic organization. The policies of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce are in control of nine governors chosen by the membership. These men are recognized as possessing a high degree of business acumen and if in charge of some business corporation would insure its success. Ask the uninformed kicker if he has ever spoken to a single governor or the secretary regarding the matters upon which they are working. Has he ever written them a letter? Has he ever given them any helpful suggestions? How much time has he given, and how much effort has he expended, outside of verbosity, on the civic requirement or reform which he is so loudly advocating? Do you think he can fairly criticize an organization in which a few are trying to do for the many?

Some men think that when they have paid their dues into the Chamber of Commerce they should get large and quick returns. Some look for factories, others for increased population, others for stimulated business. In any channel, where money is invested, it requires action and effort on the part of the individual to secure returns. Dues plus unstinted effort are required of the membership to put over those things which will make Sanford the largest city in the south central portion of the state.

A letter requesting information on Sanford was received by the organization from W. S. Eddings, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Hawaii. The leaven of publicity put out by the local chamber is beginning to work in that section of the world apparently.

Probably one of the biggest works of its kind in the world is Thomas' Register of American Manufacturers. The chamber has secured a volume and any of the local business men who may have occasion to look up some particular manufacturer in their line are at liberty to refer to it at any time.

PASSA GRILLE MAYOR WILL ARREST ALL DRUNKS (By The Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—Mayor Duffy of Passa Grille, a gulf resort near here, has announced that in the future he would spare the feelings of no one who happened to be on the island in an intoxicated condition, but would have all arrested and then make their names public. The mayor declared ailsors under the influence of liquor had been causing trouble but heretofore had not been arrested because he did not care to humiliate them. The trouble makers, he said, do not get their liquor at the Pass but arrive there already drunk and proceed to stir things up. From now on, no quarter will be given by the police.

INVEST YOUR MONEY IN HOME ENTERPRISES BUILD UP YOUR CITY

Money invested in home enterprises is like casting your bread upon the waters—it comes back to you in many different ways—but always comes back. Investing your money in foreign stocks hardly ever comes back to you in any form and your money sent out of town is money sent away for good and all. This applies to buying out of town and investing out of town. If all the money that has been invested out of Sanford in the past ten years had been invested in Sanford this would be a city of twenty-five thousand people and those who invested would be millionaires instead of holding worthless stock certificates as they do now.

However, some home investments are better than others and when you have a chance to buy bonds—first mortgage bonds in a going institution, you are getting a gilt edge investment and one that you can watch grow from day to day. We refer to the Zachary-Tyler Veneer Co., one of the biggest and best manufacturing concerns in the city and one that has a weekly pay roll of large proportions that is spent in Sanford every week in the year. This big concern has just installed another large veneering machine that will be ready in June along with other machines of all kinds that will give them superior advantages in the manufacture of crates. They are also figuring on all their land on lake front being made into docks and warehouses for the transportation of timber by rafting on the river to their docks and putting in a big sawmill on the lake front for the manufacture of rough and dressed lumber. This concern makes 4,000 crates a day and make a specialty of the ventilated open head celery crate that is giving satisfaction to the growers everywhere. They are making celery, lettuce and pepper crates now and have orders that will keep them busy all summer. With 68 men on the pay roll and the brightest prospects in their career ahead of them this company wants to sell first mortgage bonds in order to make these extensive improvements that will make this the largest plant in this part of the state and will help Sanford grow into a manufacturing city. The company does not wish to sell any of their stock and the first mortgage bonds are good enough for the investor to put in his money with a home firm doing business and endeavoring to do a much larger business with the help and assistance of the public. They are not asking for rebates or bonuses or parcels of land from the city, they are not asking for fifty per cent of their capital stock to be sold here before they start in business—they are already in business and doing business upon a large scale and they are worthy of your support—but they only offer a bona fide proposition—first mortgage bonds. Read their advertisement in this issue, visit their mammoth plant, talk it over. It is a real investment and the kind the people of Sanford should take—a home affair.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE SHIPMENTS INCREASING WASHINGTON, March 27.—Shipments of fruits and vegetables in great quantities by retail and wholesale merchants to all sections of the United States is steadily increasing, according to reports made to General Superintendent W. H. Riddell, of the Railway Mail Service.

As an illustration of the use to which the parcel post is being put by merchants, it was asserted by Superintendent Riddell that recently an entire freight car was loaded with individual cases of asparagus and shipped by parcel post rates. Each parcel, however, conformed to weight regulations, and it would not have been possible to ship the carload as a bulk it was explained.

Department officials said that there appeared to be no reason why sufficient numbers of crates to make up a half car or a carload, cannot be shipped in the future as parcel post. Parcels of a perishable nature, however, which are likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation and delivery, will not, it is said, be accepted for mailing. The rates for parcel post matter depend upon the zone to which shipped and the weight of the package.

MAN DRUNK TWO WEEKS WANTED TO GO TO JAIL. TAMPA, March 27.—D. C. Shoggan approached two policemen on a street in Ybor City several nights ago and announced he was going to jail. One of the officers said the jail was the wrong place to go but Shoggan insisted it was the proper place for him. A patrol wagon with the night relief men appeared while the conversation was in progress and Shoggan climbed on the seat beside the driver and insisted that he be taken to jail. The driver complied with the request and at police headquarters the man was locked up and a charge of vagrancy docketed against him.

In police court the next day when asked by the judge what the trouble was, Shoggan replied that he had been drunk two weeks. The judge asked if he thought ten days in jail would help to assist him to sober up and Shoggan said he thought it would. He got the ten days.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS WILL PLAY BASE BALL

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 28.—Although the 1922 high school baseball season is yet to get underway, authorities of the Florida High School Athletic Association have already taken steps toward the annual championship tournament to be held at the close of the season. Tentative dates of May 19 and 20 have already been set for the meeting.

Professor Willbur has expressed the opinion that action looking to the restricting of the state for the purpose of selecting participants of the championship athletic tournaments will be taken at a meeting of the association in April. Such a rearrangement, he pointed out, would provide for more entrants in the titular events.

(By The Associated Press) OCALA, March 27.—Through no fault of their own, a large number of Florida hunters have broken the federal law relating to the shooting of migratory birds. At the last session of the legislature a game law was passed, allowing doves and other migratory birds to be killed up to February 15 of each year.

CAN CUT DOWN TREES IF HURT AGRICULTURE

WINCHESTER, Va., March 27.—Virginia's amended "clear-cut" law permitting destruction of trees within two miles of a commercial apple orchard, has been upheld by the supreme court of appeals sitting at Staunton, according to messages received here.

The state entomologists recently sought to have a large number of cedars there destroyed, and when forced to go into the lower courts was sustained. Fruit growers under the law, pay the damages where any are awarded for the cutting of the cedars.

WATER CARNIVAL HELD AT ORLANDO ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Sanford Band Will Furnish the Music and They Will Dance

ORLANDO, March 28.—The local post of the American Legion offered its services and co-operation to the various civic bodies at its regular meeting two weeks ago, so in keeping with that offer they are now launching their first enterprise.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold the annual Water Carnival Friday night, the 31st, in Eola Park and Eola lake. The Legion boys are just back from their state convention in Palm Beach and want to enlarge this affair so that of the Sun Dance held annually in Palm Beach.

After the Water Carnival in Eola Park the Legion will take charge for the remainder of the evening and stage plenty of entertainment. There will be several features among which will be the largest and liveliest "Street Dance" ever held in Orlando. The street will be roped off so that the crowd will not interfere with the dancing. Flood lights will be placed at the four corners of the street which will make the night like day.

What is all, though, will be the music. The Chamber of Commerce has secured the Sanford Band for the carnival and the Legion has secured their services for the remainder of the evening until the wee small hours of the morning. This band has been doing a great amount of playing for dances and have the very latest and best time dance music out of the city.

A great crowd of the Sanford people are going to follow their band here for the evening looking forward to the big affair with great enthusiasm. Additional detail news of this affair will be made from time to time by the Legion Ways and Means Committee through its chairman, Delaney Way, and has many of the active Legions buddies working with him.

VARIOUS CITIES IN SOUTH FLORIDA TO ATTEND MEET

Are Not Satisfied With the Way the Roads Are Being Built

M. M. Smith, former chairman of the state road commission and president of the Florida Automobile Association, will be asked today to represent the Orlando Chamber of Commerce at the good roads meeting in St. Augustine, March 29-30. B. R. Cox, secretary of the chamber, said last night after he had been notified that Arthur Schultz, the first delegate appointed, would be unable to attend.

The St. Augustine meeting has assumed greater significance since it has become known that boosters of state road No. 2 will renew their protests over the manner in which the present road department is conducting its affairs. The local Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from the Sanford chamber which puts the situation in a new light.

Sanford makes the claim that the department is virtually ignoring roads which would benefit this section of the state in the building of No. 1, which extends from Lake City to Jacksonville.

In the letter received here it is contended that when the present contracts awarded since January 1 are completed the road department will have spent more state and federal aid money on road No. 1 than on all other highways in the state added together. The letter asserts that the proposed improvements on this particular road will cost $27,000 a mile and that only $7,000 a mile will be assessed in the counties through which the road passes, the remainder to be paid from state and federal aid funds.

The total cost of completing the road is estimated at $1,900,000. Sanford plans to instruct its delegates to the meeting to protest against the alleged inequality of distribution of the state and federal aid money, and if the road department does not satisfactorily explain its action, to urge the meeting to demand that the governor remove certain members of the commission.

The question will be discussed today at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber and Mr. Smith will be urged to accept an appointment on the ground that he is thoroughly familiar with the work of the road department.—Orlando Sentinel.

The $75,000 bond issue of Inverness has been disposed of and contracts have been awarded for a modern waterworks and sewer system.
