Herndon Protests Ambulance Bid Procedure

By Britt Smith
Herald Staff Writer

Herndon Ambulance, which took itself out of the running for an exclusive franchise to provide emergency ambulance service in Seminole County by not submitting a bid, is charging its competitor with not meeting bid specifications. The firm wants the bidding reopened.

County officials, however, say it's too late and Herndon has no one to blame but itself.

Herndon president Idus Willis isn't willing to take "No" for an answer and says he'll fight. "I'll take this to the (county) commission or to court if I have to," Willis said.

In a letter to county purchasing director, Frank Blackmon dated March 1, Willis served notice that he was protesting the county's negotiations with City Ambulance of Alabama to work out details of the franchise.

"We formally request that all negotiations be stopped pending a determination of their compliance with the requirements" of the county's specifications as stated in its request for bids, Willis' letter said.

Willis based his protest on the section of the bid request covering "dealing with the requirement for 5 percent of the contract amount being submitted as a bid bond.

"Herndon Ambulance submitted a No Bid because we were informed that we would be unable to bid without meeting the bid bond requirements," Willis' letter said.

Quoting from the specifications, Willis wrote: "The term of the contract between Seminole County and the awarded firm shall be for three (3) year period... A 5 percent bond based on a three year contract for roughly $600,000 is what was required by the bid request in Willis' opinion.

Willis' letter further states that "Herndon Ambulance based their No Bid upon the unreasonableness of the amount of the bond requirements. We maintain that City Ambulance of Alabama, Inc. submitted only that bond covering a single year. It is further maintained that had we been permitted to supply a bid bond for a single year, Herndon Ambulance Service would have been able to provide a proposal which would have been in the best interest of the citizens of Seminole County.

Willis requests that the ambulance proposal be rebid.

In its reply, dated March 5, the county claims that since Willis did not submit a bid for the ambulance franchise, "you lack standing to protest the actions of the county" regarding the bidding process.

"Additionally, your protest is not timely" since county statute requires "a protest to be filed within 2 calendar days from the time you knew or should have known of the facts giving rise to your protest," the letter states.

The county's reply also points out that "the bid of City Ambulance of Alabama, Inc. was accompanied by the required bid bond in the amount of 5 percent of the total contract price.

"We find it difficult to understand your having chosen to 'protest' our proceeding...with negotiations with City Ambulance "since this is the second" bid request "to which you have chosen not to submit an offer," the letter said.

"We sincerely wish that you had submitted an offer because we always prefer to have more than one offer with whom to negotiate. Since you chose not to participate in the process by submission of an offer, the county has no other alternative but to negotiate with the only firm who submitted an offer."

Therefore, "your protest is denied," the letter said.

A public hearing on the switch to City Ambulance from Herndon, which has provided emergency ambulance service in Seminole County for 12 years, is set for March 27.

Jail Melee Sends Guard To Hospital

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County jailer was knocked unconscious by a prisoner who allegedly started a fist fight with officers after he was ordered to put out a cigarette and return to his jail cell from a visiting area.

The altercation began about 9:40 a.m. Wednesday when Charles Nelms, 20, who was being held without bond on armed robbery, grand theft and aggravated assault charges, allegedly became belligerent when officer Janet Hardy ordered him back to his cell, according to a jail report.

Ms. Hardy called for help and officers Michael P. Eline and William A. Combs stepped into the room. Combs advised Nelms to return to his cell, but Nelms jumped up and said, "Keep your...hands off me," and started to leave the visiting room where he was talking to a friend, Daisy Barfield, and relative Sara Willis, the report said.

On his way out the door, Nelms reportedly turned and hit Combs with his fist four times, on the right and left sides of his head and on his right arm and chest. Eline joined the fray and Nelms punched him in the eye and knocked him unconscious, according to jail records supervisor, Lt. William Chandler.

Two other officers came to Combs' aid and helped him subdue Nelms and place him in a holding cell at the jail.

Nelms was charged with two counts of battery to a corrections officer and bond was set at $5,000.

Eline was treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, for a black eye and arm injuries and released.

A full investigation of the incident is underway.

Nelms, of 2421 Randolph Ave., Sanford, and his brother, Willie James Nelms, 23, of 112 Hughes Ave., Sanford, are both being held without bond for their alleged roles in the Nov. 12 robbery of Gwaltney Jewelers, 204 S. Park Ave., Sanford.

In that early afternoon hold-up, one of the suspects allegedly punched 61-year-old shopkeeper Margaret Gwaltney in the mouth and the other held a knife to her throat. The robbers fled with several gold chains and $200 cash.

The Nelms brothers, who matched Miss Gwaltney's description of the bandits, were spotted in a car at Park Avenue and Fourth Street, Sanford, within minutes of the robbery by Sanford policeman M.W. Reeves, who arrested them.

Dognappers: 'We'll Bomb Statehouse With Dog Poop'

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — The National Doggie Liberation Front, which says it freed a condemned pooch shortly before his scheduled execution two weeks ago, is threatening to "bomb" the Statehouse "with dog poop" unless the hefty canine is granted a full pardon.

The group also reportedly demanded the dog be given a steak dinner, the company of three female companions in heat and a screen test for a dog food commercial.

Tucker, a 140-pound bull mastiff, was abducted late last month from his death-row kennel cage, just two days before he was to be put to death for fatally mauling a neighbor's poodle in Augusta, the state capital.

The death sentence, issued by a local judge and later upheld by the Maine Supreme Court, angered dog lovers nationwide and prompted a flood of letters to Gov. Joseph E. Brennan urging him to spare the dog's life and offering him a new home. Brennan has so far refused, saying he cannot act because it's a civil, not a criminal, case.

The NDLF made its demands through Portland advertising executive Pamela Shain who said when she told the story to people she met from the dog food manufacturing firm of Ralston-Purina, "They loved it. They'd give Tucker a screen test except their legal department says they can't get into it because of the courts."

Hart Strength Baffles South

By Steve Gerstel

MIAMI (UPI) — Gary Hart's swamp fire, now threatening to spread to the South, puzzles even veteran politicians who cannot understand why this young Westerner with the "new ideas" should be popular in their region.

After all, the 47-year old senator from Colorado is a stranger who has barely campaigned south of the Mason-Dixon line, has virtually no organization and has spent almost no money.

He should not be — as Democratic Party leaders in the South contended even after Hart won the New Hampshire

Delegates Two More For Hart

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

On Wednesday there was one 5th District delegate — Fred Donnelly of Casselberry — pledged to Colorado Sen. Gary Hart.

Today there are three.

Bill Wack, an Altamonte Springs attorney, and his mother, Elaine Wack, both listed as (California Sen. Alan) Cranston's delegates on Tuesday's Democratic presidential preference primary ballot, are now supporting Hart.

"I think Hart has a far better chance of beating (President Ronald) Reagan in November than (former Vice President Walter) Mondale has," Wack said. "A lot of Cranston supporters are now supporting Hart, but I don't know what the point is."

Mrs. Wack said everyone is looking for someone different and better to lead the nation.

"What has happened the past few years under Reagan and before him when Mondale was involved is not the answer. Perhaps Hart has a new slant. He is the only viable candidate," she said.

Wack, a former Democratic state committeeman from Seminole County and a native of Boston, worked as Cranston's campaign chairman in Massachusetts from March through May last year. In late May through October he was Cranston's Florida campaign manager and during the past few weeks he worked as a Cranston volunteer in the New Hampshire campaign.

He described Hart's campaign in New England in both the states with primaries and those with caucuses as a "whirlwind." He said in all cases, Mondale was far better organized.

"Especially in caucus states, organization should have been the key to winning for Mondale, but it obviously wasn't," Wack said.

"I think Hart's campaign theme of looking forward to new ideas based on the traditions of the Democratic Party is the correct one," Wack said.

"He has an understanding of the good that's been done and the mistakes made and there is some substance behind his theme. If Hart could win in Maine, as he did, a conservative area much like Florida politically, he has a good shot in Florida," Wack said. "Mondale had a huge advantage organizationally in Maine."

Mrs. Wack said, "It is frustrating in this country today and maybe Hart can make the difference."

Wack and other supporters were scheduled to meet with Hart at 4:30 p.m. today at the Orlando International Airport.

Meanwhile, presidential candidate, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, is scheduled to meet with supporters at the west campus of Valencia Community College, off Kirkman Road in Orlando, at noon Friday at the physical education center.

And Seminole County Jackson supporters are scheduled to hold a Jackson rally at Ft. Mellon Park from 2 to 4 p.m., Saturday. His 5th Congressional District delegates, Marie Palmer, Jackie Johnson and Samuel L. Hoard are scheduled to be at the rally.

Mondale and Hart both have picked up the support of key members of the Florida Legislature, while Ohio Sen. John Glenn received the endorsement of Lt. Gov. Wayne Mixson, a former Askew supporter. Gov. Bob Graham, also an announced Askew supporter, has remained silent on his choice.

Florida lawmakers supporting Mondale and Hart said their candidate was more likely to beat President Reagan in November and best typified Democratic Party ideals. They also said more pledges of support would come before Florida's primary Tuesday.

The Mondale group included Senate Education Chairman Jack Gordon, D-Miami Beach, statewide coordinator for Alan Cranston until the California senator dropped out of the race and Rep. Fred Lippman, D-Hollywood; and Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington.

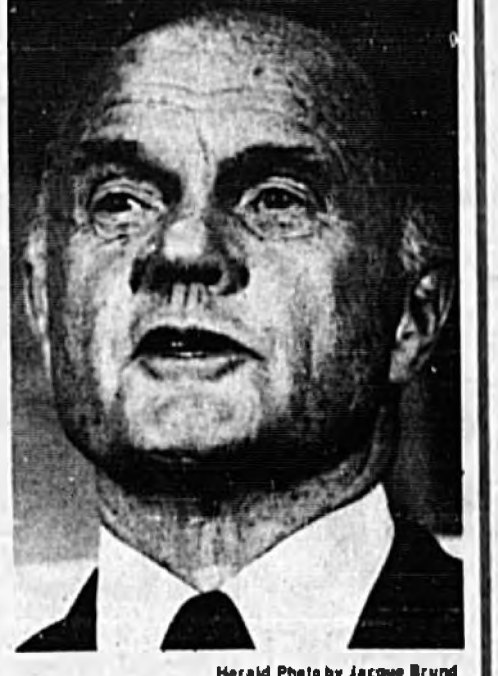

The Hart group was led by Reps. Mike Abrams, Miami; Jon Mills, Gainesville; Ray Libert, West Palm Beach, and Steve Pajcic, Jacksonville, all Democrats.

Mills said that in the 50 delegate races without Hart candidates, Askew delegates would actually be supporting Hart in at least 75 percent of the races.

That doesn't hold true in Florida's 5th Congressional District, Askew delegates on the ballot here — state Reps. Fran Carlton and Alonzo Reddick, and alternate delegate, Seminole County School Board member Roland Williams — say they are uncommitted and expect to remain that way.

Eight legislators have announced support for Hart while 11 support Mondale.

At the same time, Hart has picked up four Askew delegates from the 1st Congressional District. They said they chose Hart because he is a "person of character and integrity," and because he is a "friend to Florida," said State Rep. Virginia Bass, D-Pensacola, during a press conference Wednesday on the delegates' decision.

Ohio Sen. John Glenn talks to the press and supporters at an Orlando appearance Wednesday.

"If Walter Mondale is elected over Senator Gary Hart, the future of the Democratic party is certainly in jeopardy," said state Sen. W.D. Childers, D-Pensacola, former president of the state Senate.

The contest for the Democratic presidential nomination is "no longer a three, four or five man race. It is a two-man race," and the delegates chose the man they believe will win, Childers said.

The press conference at the Pensacola Regional Airport came on the eve of the Colorado senator's first visit to Pensacola in an attempt to gain delegate support in preparation for Super Tuesday.

Hart had no delegates on the March 13 primary ballot in West Florida before Wednesday's announcement.

Glenn cannot be considered a presidential contender because "he's not getting any votes," said Childers in explaining his "two-man" declaration.

Even support from elected officials such as Rep. Earl Hutto, D-Fla., who announced Wednesday he is backing Glenn, "does not mean people will buy snake oil in '84," and vote for Glenn, said Childers.

"Hart is still the frontrunner and we believe he has been and will be a friend to the people of Northwest Florida and the United States," Childers said.

A newspaper poll in Alabama today showed Mondale holding a 14 percent edge over challenger Hart, but the former vice president's support has slipped badly since a sampling just two weeks ago.

Glenn campaigning in Florida, said he had asked for Askew's support, but was told the ex-candidate would not choose a candidate until after Super Tuesday.

And Vice President George Bush, trying to steal some Democratic thunder with a quick jaunt through the three states, labeled President Reagan's opponents "the faithful five."

Cons' Terror Trail Ends In Junkyard, Garage

By Debra Williams

MARION, N.C. (UPI) — The trail of blood and terror that two escaped convicts cut from Tennessee to the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina ended with one dying in a shootout and the other cowering under a garage.

When Ronald Freeman, 41, and James Clegg, 30, broke out of Fort Pillow prison near Memphis Feb. 18, they swore they would never be taken alive.

Freeman made good that vow, dying in a short, sharp gunfight in an abandoned house overlooking Sam Prady's junkyard Wednesday.

But Clegg jammed himself so far under the garage where Charles Dale keeps his Model T that when searchers spotted his boot sticking out from behind a few sheets of plywood he could not come out to surrender.

Lawmen grabbed his hands and dragged him out to end 19 days of terror during which Freeman and Clegg were blamed for the killing of a Sunday school teacher and the kidnapping of his wife, the abduction of a family, and the wounding of a North Carolina trooper.

Freeman's last victim was a blind woman frightened so badly by Freeman crashing into her house to hide that she died of a heart attack.

"That son of mine was always more or less a coward," Clegg's foster mother, Celia Cloud, had said as she sat with five guns around her while troopers searched the mountains outside her Bluff City, Tenn., home two weeks ago.

Clegg was scheduled for a hearing today on the charge of wounding the trooper.

"They're willing to let us take the first bite at this guy," said District Attorney Alan Leonard. "After we're through with him, we'll send him to Tennessee" to face charges of murder and kidnap.

Wherever the fugitives fled they spread terror. Citizens locked their doors and loaded their guns, and some of them died.

The last victim was blind Molly Harvey, 62, who suffered a heart attack when Freeman burst into her house Wednesday morning and died in a hospital a few minutes after Clegg was captured at 4:15 p.m. EST.

When Clegg and Freeman picked up guns left for them in a field and fled Fort Pillow prison in West Tennessee with three other convicts, they opened fire on pursuing officers.

Three days later, after two of their companions were arrested and a third disappeared into Illinois, they came out of hiding and approached Paul Windrow, a Sunday school teacher, as he grilled steaks in his back yard at Brownsville, Tenn.

Windrow, 59, was worried about the manhunt and had a pistol in his belt. When he reached for it, they killed him, authorities said. They put his wife, Elizabeth, 57, in the family car and drove her 500 miles across the state to Knoxville, where they left her out unharmed.

They told her they would never surrender, and disappeared into the snowy mountains along the North Carolina border. For days citizens around Bristol, Tenn., stayed home and carried shotguns to fetch firewood.

Their next appearance was in a stolen Cadillac on a highway near Marion and their next victim was the state trooper who stopped them for speeding. They shot him four times, but he returned fire, wounding Freeman, and survived.

They fled on foot to Marion, where the final day of terror was played out.

Freeman, who was serving 198 years for the murder of his wife and daughter, carried out his vow and died with two handguns at his side.

But Clegg — who was serving life as a habitual criminal — complained only that he was cold when officers dragged him out from under the garage.

Meese Questioned About Carter Memos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General nominee Edwin Meese is being asked to explain about 1980 Reagan campaign memos to him indicating that people working for President Carter were passing or offering information to the Reagan side.

Four memos, three of them never before disclosed, were found in Meese's 1980 campaign file during a House committee investigation into how Carter briefing papers and other documents fell into the hands of Reagan campaign workers.

The documents came to light Wednesday when Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, submitted them along with a written inquiry to Meese, whose nomination as attorney general is being considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Booze Boosts Cancer Risk

BOSTON (UPI) — Drinking even moderate amounts of wine, beer or whiskey on a regular basis can greatly increase the chance of getting two common types of cancer, a study of 8,000 Hawaiian men shows.

The study, published today in the New England Journal of Medicine, concludes that two cans of beer every day may triple your chance of rectal cancer. In addition, three pints of wine or whiskey a month may double your chances of lung cancer.

Although the results are supported by other studies, Earl S. Pollack, a senior scientist at the National Cancer Institute, said the evidence is not strong enough to expect people to stop drinking moderate amounts of alcohol.

Bar Patron Cuts Woman Manager With Glass

A Maitland man who allegedly assaulted a bar manager with a piece of broken glass is being held in lieu of $8,000 bond on an aggravated battery charge.

Barbara Drake, 38, of 2100 Howell Branch Road #28, Maitland, reported that at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday she asked a patron of Charles' Bar, 2000 Howell Branch Road, Winter Park, about some cigarettes stolen from a machine in the bar. The man allegedly threw a glass at her, which cut her arm.

As Ms. Drake was on the phone calling sheriff's deputies, the man allegedly ran at her with broken glass in hand and tried to cut her face. She shielded her face with her arms, which were slashed in the assault, a sheriff's report said.

Witnesses said they tried to keep the suspect from fleeing, but he escaped. When officers arrived on the scene the victim gave them the nickname and address of the suspect.

Patrick Terrance Prosto, 37, of 2100 Howell Branch Road #34, Maitland, was interviewed at his apartment and charged at 6:44 p.m. He is scheduled to appear in court at 1:30 p.m. today.

Ms. Drake's cuts were treated in the emergency room of Winter Park Memorial Hospital. She received 14 stitches in her left arm and 19 stitches in her right arm.

BOOKKEEPER CHARGED

A Sanford bookkeeper arrested for grand theft is scheduled to be arraigned March 16.

Nellie Mae Davis, 38, of 2523 Laurel Ave., was arrested Feb. 27 and charged with grand theft in connection with a $608 check sent in June from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department to Touchton Drug Store, 121 E. 1st St.

Glenn McCall, proprietor of the business, said that in June he noticed a check sent by the sheriff's department to the drug store had been cashed at the bank but not credited to the account.

McCall said that when Mrs. Davis — a 10-year employee at Touchton's — was confronted with the situation Aug. 27, she admitted to cashing the check and asked if she could make restitution.

According to the arrest report, however, Mrs. Davis allegedly did not make restitution and the state attorney's office filed an information charging her with grand theft.

Mrs. Davis is out of jail on $1,000 bond.

Nicaragua Mobilizing Troops

By United Press International

Nicaragua mobilized Soviet-built tanks, artillery and 600 army reservists, moving them toward its northern border with Honduras, where three U.S. warships began security patrols in the Caribbean "in a show of strength."

Honduras Wednesday expelled

Nicaraguan Embassy counselor Javier Avilez charging that he was an "obstacle" to bilateral relations and had made "harmful statements" about Honduran officials.

Also in Honduras, a government panel recommended the country pay a U.S. citizen $1.5 million for land that was expropriated to build a U.S. military base to train Salvadoran soldiers and possibly a U.S.-Honduran naval base.

In San Salvador, U.S. Ambassador Thomas R. Pickering warned the country that "real and rapid progress" on human rights and other matters is required for continued U.S. aid.

Woman Who Helped Con Pleads Guilty

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI) — Attorney Mary Evans, who fell in love with the killer she was defending and helped him escape, was allowed to make a deal to stay out of prison because psychiatrists think she is insane, prosecutors said.

District Attorney General James Ramsey said Wednesday he was forced to arrange a plea bargain because the six psychiatrists' determination of mental illness backed the slender, blonde lawyer's insanity defense.

"I could have gone on with the trial like a cowboy and come out with nothing," Ramsey said. "I have a very negative opinion of psychiatrists."

Miss Evans, 27, smuggled a pistol to Tim Kirk, 37, last year and fled with the muscular, bearded convict to Daytona Beach where they gambled daily at a dog track. The couple stayed free for 139 days before the FBI captured them.

Miss Evans calmly pleaded guilty to aiding an escape Wednesday in return for a suspended three-year sentence and her promise to check into a mental hospital until psychiatrists say she is well.

Kirk, who sat in the courtroom in chains, pleaded guilty to armed robbery and escape and accepted the maximum 40-year term. His lawyer said the inmate agreed to the plea bargain "to do what was best for Mary. He feels very deeply for her."

Miss Evans had faced life in prison on four counts of armed robbery and four counts of kidnapping, but those charges were dropped.

A $20,000 tractor trailer is missing from the Sanford Farmer's Market.

According to a Sanford police report, between Saturday and Tuesday someone removed a 43-foot long, white trailer parked at the market located at 1304 S. French Ave.

According to the owner, Martin Michael Coen, 37, of 2017 Greenview Dr., Deltona, who discovered the loss at midnight Tuesday, the 1980 trailer has eight tires, is refrigerated, has the numbers #4944 on front and back, and is registered in the state of South Dakota.

The police noted that how the trailer was stolen is unknown.

CONCEALED GUN

A 59-year-old Orlando man, jailed for allegedly having a stolen handgun concealed in the steering column of his car, posted a $5,000 bond and was released from the Seminole County jail.

The man was charged by a Casselberry policeman at 5:28 p.m. Monday after his car was stopped at the entrance to the Jai-Alai fronton, U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, for allegedly having an expired tag.

When the officer asked to see the car's registration, he reported that he spotted the gun, took it and determined that it held four live .38-caliber bullets.

A computer check on the gun showed that it was stolen in Sanford in 1976, and the suspect said he had bought it from a man named "Jim" who was leaving the area. He said he did not know the gun was stolen and felt he needed it because he sometimes carries large sums of money, the police report said.

Fred Thomas Hage was arrested in the case and is scheduled to appear in court on March 23.

THEFT ARREST

An Apopka man who faces charges of armed burglary and grand theft in a Forest City burglary is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

The suspect was arrested at 3:31 p.m. Monday on Bear Lake Road at Jamison Drive, Forest City, and is accused of taking jewelry, a handgun and other items from a house at 2627 Grove Avenue in December.

Keith Paulin, 18, of 1305 Greig St., was arrested after sheriff's investigators traced him and a juvenile suspect who was also charged in the case, through a knife and other physical evidence left at the break-in site, a sheriff's report said.

POT ARRESTS

Two Deltona men charged with possession of marijuana by Altamonte Springs police have posted $500 bond each and been released from jail.

The pair was arrested by an officer who allegedly spotted drug paraphernalia and some partially smoked marijuana cigarettes in the suspects' car which was in the parking lot of the Interstate Mall, state Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

Eric Jeffery Lumbra, 18, and Mark Stephen Mohoney, 25, were arrested at 2:24 a.m. Sunday. They are scheduled to appear in court on March 16.

DOG SHOT

A Fern Park man reported that his 12-month-old female Doberman pinscher was wounded around 11 p.m. Thursday.

Oscar Gartz Jr., 54, of 684 Gladwin Ave., said that he heard what sounded like two or three small caliber gunshots and discovered that his dog had injuries to her head, ear and eye, a sheriff's report said.

The bullets apparently glanced off the dog's head and no slugs were recovered at the scene or in the animal's body, the report said.

ROBBERY & DRUGS

A 26-year-old Sanford man identified as a purse snatching suspect, was charged with possession of marijuana and cocaine after being picked up and is being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

The man was identified in a photo line-up by employees of Winn Dixie, 419 E. 1st St., Sanford, where the purse snatching allegedly occurred on Feb. 27. When the victim's purse was jerked from her hand, a store employee chased the suspect and grabbed the purse back, but couldn't hold the suspect, a police report said.

At about 7 p.m. Tuesday, two Sanford policemen spotted and stopped the suspect who was in a car on Third Street at Sanford Avenue, Sanford. They charged the man with robbery and when the suspect was searched the officers reported finding a packet of pot and three small foil containers of cocaine in his possession.

Arrested was Curtis Leon Gutler of 1602 W. 16th St.

WALLET THEFT

A 25-year-old Altamonte Springs man, accused of stealing a wallet containing $20 and credit cards from a car parked at Red Bug Lake Park, Casselberry, on Feb. 26 was charged with burglary to a conveyance after he was interviewed by sheriff's investigators at the sheriff's department at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Randy Justice of 337 Longwood Ave. posted $1,000 bond and was released. He is scheduled to appear in court March 23.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Sen. Toni Jennings Elected Minority Leader

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Sen. Toni Jennings, R-Orlando, is the first woman elected to a leadership position in the Florida Legislature.

"Being in the construction business," she told an interviewer, "I'm used to having a lot of male colleagues — being the only woman in a meeting."

Miss Jennings, whose legislative biography identifies her preference as "Miss," took office as Senate Minority Leader Wednesday. She succeeds Sen. Clark Maxwell, R-Melbourne, who became head of the community college system.

She said she is accustomed to being in the minority — as one of only seven Republicans and nine women in the Senate — but she said male members are changing among members and issues in the Florida Capitol.

Cancer Deaths In Florida

By United Press International

The growing number of elderly residents in Florida is making the state's cancer death rate soar nationally.

The American Cancer Society predicts that Florida's cancer death rate — already third-highest in the nation — will rise rapidly in 1984.

"Florida is moving up in third place and the volume of cancer is going through the roof," said Dr. Edward J. Beattie of the University of Miami School of Medicine.

Florida has a smaller 1984 increase than the state with the second-highest cancer death rate — Rhode Island — but a much higher one than the District of Columbia, which has the highest cancer mortality rate in the nation.

In 1984, the society says Rhode Island's cancer mortality rate will rise from 246 to 259 per 100,000 population and the District of Columbia's will increase from 260 to 261.

In total cancer deaths, the society said Florida will have an estimated 27,300 cancer deaths in 1984.

To End All-White Juries

MIAMI (UPI) — Seeking an end to all-white juries in racially sensitive trials, Dade County commissioners have asked the state to change jury selection laws to make it more difficult to dismiss black jury candidates.

The Metro-Dade County Commission approved a resolution Tuesday by a 4-2 vote, urging legislators to "bring a more just and impartial jury system, more representative of community structure and composition."

The resolution concludes "multi-ethnic" juries "could have a more impartial view of circumstances and facts" than juries "representing only one of the groups that constitute a community."

Self-Defense Claimed

MIAMI (UPI) — Policeman Luis Alvarez stuck to his story under determined cross examination that he killed a young black man in self-defense despite what he might have told detectives on the night of the shooting.

The Cuban-born Alvarez, 24, returns to the witness stand today in his manslaughter trial for the killing of Nevell Johnson Jr., 20, while trying to arrest him for carrying a concealed weapon in a ghetto video game arcade. The Dec. 28, 1982 shooting set off a three-day riot that left another man dead and 26 people injured.

Racism Charged For Rejecting King Birthday Holiday

Committee OK's Cap On Government Size

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — While most government officials see Amendment 1 as a nightmare, Florida's Republicans have made it an opportunity to promote some of their own ideas. They gained a victory Wednesday when a House subcommittee endorsed a GOP plan to hold down the size of the state bureaucracy.

The Republican proposal would link the number of state workers to Florida's population. An estimated 5,458 state workers would have to be laid off under the proposed constitutional amendment, and first-year savings could run as high as $92.5 million.

Supporters said the Legislature should place the measure on the ballot as an alternative to the revenue-limiting Amendment 1, which would have a more severe impact on state and local governments if it is approved by the voters in November.

The plan, to take effect Oct. 1, 1985, would limit the state workforce to 1 percent of Florida's population the preceding year. Part-time workers would be set at 10 percent of the cost of employee salaries and wages, not including benefits.

In other legislative action Wednesday:

A House subcommittee defeated a proposal (HB92) to make the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday a state holiday, prompting a claim of racism from the proposal's black sponsor.

"If Dr. King was not black, I don't think it would have been a problem," said Rep. James Burke, D-Miami, after the Governmental Operations subcommittee voted 5-3 to defeat his proposal.

The state proposal would have designated the third Monday in January as the official observance of King's birthday. But subcommittee member said they didn't want to join 10 other states in granting workers another paid holiday. State employee salaries and benefits for an average day total more than $8.5 million.

Robbery Try Foiled

Two men tried to rob a Sanford quick-shop market but left empty-handed after they couldn't get the cash register open and a customer showed up.

At one minute past midnight Thursday, Charles M. Grambell, 29, of 2976 Bailey St., Sanford, was checking the gas pumps at the Shop & Go market located at 1905 Country Club Road when two men approached him on foot and said they wanted to buy some beer.

Grambell followed the men into the market where Grambell's wife, Deborah, 27, was waiting. As one of the men — the shorter suspect — asked to use the rest room Mrs. Grambell went to her husband's car followed by the second suspect, a tall man.

Outside, the man took a white hat from his back pocket — it had previously been in the back pocket of the shorter suspect, and placed the hat against the woman's ribs. She later told police it felt like there was a gun in the hat.

When her husband and the second subject came out of the store, the robbers took the couple back into the store.

The short suspect put Grambell in the bathroom while the tall suspect tried to open the cash register. He couldn't get it open, nor could Mrs. Grambell.

At that moment, Sylvia Steel, 40, of 305 Temple Drive, Sanford, drove into the store's parking lot. The men then left the store walking east.

Mrs. Grambell locked the store and sounded the alarm.

The men were described as two black males, one 6-foot 4-inches, thin and clean shaven, the other 5-foot 9-inches and medium build.

According to the police report they may be driving a Ford Granada or similar vehicle. —Deane Jordan

Honduras: Eye Of The Hurricane

The Kissinger Commission recommends a share of a proposed $8 billion U.S. economic aid package be given to Honduras, where "the mixture of extreme poverty, high unemployment, steadily deteriorating social conditions and a very young population is potentially explosive."

Militarily, the commission says Honduras "believes itself threatened by the Sandinistas' highly militarized and radically revolutionary regime. ... In the absence of a regional political settlement, Honduras will feel compelled to strengthen and modernize its armed forces."

The commission's conditions for a regional settlement are: "A verifiable commitment by each nation not to attack its neighbors; nor to transfer arms overtly or covertly to any insurgents; nor to train the military personnel of a Central American country; nor to practice subversion against its neighbors."

The hills of Tegucigalpa are covered with tile-roofed shacks. The airport of Honduras' biggest city has a little pink passenger terminal. This out-of-the-way place, the capital of the poorest country in Central America, would be nowhere if it weren't the center of U.S. military maneuvers and a covert guerrilla war.

Fifteen Huey helicopters, veterans of the Vietnam War, are parked next to three U.S. Army C-130 transport planes, the same type that exploded in the aborted hostage rescue raid in Iran. It is the dry season, and parched slopes rise to pine-covered mountains, over which the U.S. Army's new Blackhawk helicopter vaults, flying a U.S. senator on an inspection tour of the Palmerola air base, headquarters of the maneuvers.

The air base is Honduran. A motley collection of outdated planes, including jets once flown by Israel in the Six-Day War, gives Honduras the biggest air force in Central America. Honduras has no subversive threat. It fought last in a border war against El Salvador in 1969, but now feels threatened by the military buildup in Nicaragua.

The United States is constructing an 8,000-foot asphalt runway at Palmerola, much longer than the existing runway and capable of handling large military transport planes and modern fighters. Army maneuvers, involving as many as 5,000 U.S. troops, resume in the spring.

"We have no intention to remain here indefinitely," says the U.S. Army colonel in charge. The maneuvers are only for training. Honduras is a better place to train than stateside because "you don't have to get an environmental impact statement." He points to the rows of wooden barracks built for U.S. troops: "They're more cost-effective than tents."

Back in the capital, the U.S. Embassy will not comment on reports that the United States is covertly aiding Nicaraguan contras, the counter-revolutionary guerrillas fighting the Sandinista regime. The Honduran government likewise will not admit that the contras are based in Honduras.

But the embassy drives the senator to a meeting with the leaders of the contras in a suburban home in Tegucigalpa, and embassy staffers are on a first-name basis with the contras.

One leader, a former Managua Coca-Cola bottler, wearing a crimson polo shirt, says in English: "Our plan is to force the Sandinistas to fulfill the promises of the revolution — to make Nicaragua free and democratic. We are not former Somoza people. Less than 2 percent of our guerrillas are former National Guardsmen."

But he confirms one of the seven contra leaders was Somoza's defense attache in Washington.

"We receive U.S. aid here and distribute it here, but there is never enough," he continues. "We have grown from 2,000 to 10,000 men. We have the support of the people. They are like dogs watching two dogs fight. When they see one is losing, they will go to the other side."

The contra's information minister waves a pocket-sized pamphlet: "Here is our little blue book." The first lines of the booklet are: "We are Central Americans, our past and future are connected to America. ..."

The U.S. government must be forthright about its overt and covert activities in Honduras. If the United States is planning to build a permanent military base in Honduras, the American people should know about it and Congress should agree to it.

It would be tragic if impoverished but peaceful Honduras, by opening up its territory to foreign armies, were swept up into the conflagration of a Central American war.

BERRY'S WORLD

"What's the latest with our 'arbitrary or unlawful deprivation of life' stats?"

By Susan Loden

Although I have drowned a few worms, I am by no means a fisherman nor am I qualified to judge the validity of a fish tale. But I have been assured by the fisherman in this story that his tale is true and that it will pique the curiosity and instill envy in the hearts of all who pursue bass.

Any questions or debate on this topic should be directed to 57-year-old Hap Goble of Lake Mary, who said he has spent a large part of his life fishing for bass in Central Florida lakes, but until Feb. 26 he never brought home a catch of any significant size.

The thousands of female bass he has caught have generally weighed about 8 to 10 pretty unimpressive pounds. Goble said. But unlike some fishermen, Goble said he always checks to determine the sex of his catch.

A male bass, according to Goble, usually weighs in at around a pound or two, and until Goble dressed his Feb. 26 catch he at first just assumed that it was a nine-pound female. But after a closer check of the fish's anatomy he was shocked to discover that the fish was a male. The biggest male bass he's heard of.

"It's the biggest I've ever seen or anybody else I've talked to has seen," said Goble, who called on his wife and a fishing buddy to confirm his claim. He also tacked the bass' head to a shed so he could prove his story.

"I'm telling the gospel truth, so help me God," Goble said. "This is really something extraordinary to a dyed in the wool fisherman who really knows the sport and anything about fish. It's unbelievable."

"Generally, males are the smaller of the species and if that water where I caught that fish produced a nine-pound male, how big are the females?" Goble wondered.

If you're wondering too, that's about all you can do, because of course Goble plans to keep the location of the local lake where he caught the big boy a secret, with the hope that he will be able to catch what has to be, he said, a world's record female from that same fishing hole.

Hollings Challenge Sen. Byrd?

By Robert MacKay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Ernest "Fritz" Hollings, D-S.C., does not embarrass easily so it was surprising — and telling — when he blushed beet-red at the mention of a possible race for Senate Democratic leader.

The subject was broached during a news conference by Hollings, 61, to announce he was withdrawing from the Democratic presidential race.

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., a possible presidential candidate in 1988, suddenly appeared at the news conference packed with Hollings' campaign aides and reporters.

"My friend Joe Biden's here?" Hollings asked, looking around the room. "There's a 'new idea' for the country itself."

Biden walked up to the mass of microphones in the middle of the room, shook Hollings' hand and proceeded to praise the silver-haired Southerner for demonstrating leadership in the presidential campaign, specifically for getting the other candidates to talk about reducing huge budget deficits.

"We need leaders like Fritz Hollings in the United States Senate," Biden said.

"Does that mean you're nominating him for Senate majority leader?" a reporter asked.

The usually staid Hollings, who has long had aspirations to the Democratic leadership post, laughed, blushed a deep red, and pointed at the reporter as if he had just told an inside joke.

Biden muttered something about having a tough re-election contest this November and that he might not be around in January to vote for a Senate Democratic leader.

Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia is the current Senate Democratic leader and the subject of challenging him for the job makes all other Senate Democrats uneasy — at least in public.

But a challenge to the 66-year-old Byrd, who lacks the charisma of some of his other Democratic colleagues, is likely to occur if the Democrats regain control of the Senate in the November elections. The Republicans hold a 55-45 majority.

Possible challengers include Hollings, Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, Russell Long of Louisiana and Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts — if Kennedy has given up on thoughts of the presidency and intends to remain in the Senate.

Hollings has made no secret of his desire for the job.

He announced his candidacy for the post in 1976. Immediately after Democratic leader Mike Mansfield announced his retirement, but Hollings later dropped out to give Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., a "clear shot" against Byrd.

Humphrey eventually withdrew and Byrd won by acclamation.

It is not the force of his leadership that won Byrd his post but his meticulous attention to detail. For years and years he has cultivated favors by keeping senators informed about floor debate and upcoming votes, helping them introduce amendments and showing his colleagues elaborate courtesy.

In 1971, Byrd cashed in his chips and ousted a stunned Sen. Edward Kennedy from the Democrats' No. 2 leadership post, majority whip. Seven years later he fended off the move to make Humphrey Democratic leader.

AID Shamed Into Chastising Contractor

WASHINGTON — It's always a source of satisfaction when one of my exposes about waste and fraud in a government contract causes the bureaucrats responsible to mend their ways.

Now I've learned that a simple inquiry from my office was enough to cause the Agency for International Development to start cleaning up a messy situation in an expensive project.

The project — building several modern bakeries in Egypt — was planned in 1977, when bread riots shook the Egyptian government. The bakeries would assure Egypt of a plentiful supply of bread and eliminate the need for the costly subsidies that are straining the government's resources.

After more than five years and the expenditure of some $20 million, the bakeries are still not in full production. The chief beneficiary of the AID project so far has been the American Export Group, a Washington-based contractor AID hired to build the bakeries.

Olympics Reflections

All right, I confess it. Despite all of my cynicism about big time sports, the Olympic Games suddenly overcame a great deal of it, beginning with the theatrical but moving opening parade of the athletes from the various nations. Puerto Rico in the winter Olympics! And then the gorgeous Olympic hymn, which, after one night watching the Games on TV, I found part of my waking consciousness.

About the cynicism, to which I admit, you noticed that the skiers, for example, when talking to the TV camera or standing on the winners' platform, always held their skis in a prominent position. You could read the labels: Atomic, Rossignol, Elan, printed in big letters. These "amateur" athletes are in the business of selling skis, goggles, racing suits, gloves and all the rest of the equipment.

The pay-off goes to the national ski foundations, but in one form or another it eventually reached the athletes themselves, usually through "trust funds."

These skiers and all the other champion competitors are really professionals and everyone knows it. In big time sports, amateurism is a total sham. And, of course, all the athletes from the communist countries were state employees. As Joseph Conrad wrote, a lie is a form of death, and this lie ought to be banished. Let anyone compete, paid or unpaid.

But, cynicism... It is an affliction of anyone who gets close enough to a major institution to see how it actually works. I have been close to at least five: big-time tennis, the U.S. military, the U.S. Congress, the Catholic Church, and the academy.

In every one off these, the petty politics, the posturing and sham, the outright lying are so egregious that it sometimes turns your stomach.

But in the end, despite the stench, I do not reject these institutions and in a strange way I love them.

But, some thoughts on the Olympics of 1984.

Debbie Armstrong was a breath of fresh air. Though I have been close to competition skiing — my daughter has made it into the junior Olympics this March — I was not even aware of Armstrong. But this free spirit came from nowhere to win. And she convincingly says that she skis for the sheer joy of it. Her winning run, she says, was a "gas."

The Mahre brothers became the Gold-Silver dust twins, but before that it was irritating to have Phil Mahre, probably the best American racer ever to step into a pair of bindings, keep making those statements about how his "desire" had evaporated. If he wants to go to the beach and raise a family instead, fine. But I know a half a dozen kids on the edge of greatness who would like to have been in Sarajevo.

The eastern European countries and the Soviet Union compete in a lot of low-rent sports that no one has ever heard of, and in America, at least, there is zero interest in things like Luge, the Biathlon, the Triathlon and all the rest. No American I know was interested in who won in those things. You cannot even pronounce the names of the people who win them. This absence of interest, as well as the frequent postponements because of snow delays, explained the disappointing ratings ABC-TV was getting, despite its huge investment to secure broadcast rights. During those postponements, you got a bit tired of looking at cobblestone streets and discos in Sarajevo, and at reruns of the 1980 victory of the U.S. hockey team in Lake Placid.

Bill Johnson, the laid back and confident Californian who suddenly emerged as a downhill star, was another breath of fresh air. You have to know first hand the arrogance of the European ski establishment in order to appreciate the meaning of Johnson's dominance. He had to endure atrocious insults from, for example, the great Franz Klammer and who knows who else. The Europeans think they own big time skiing, and maybe they do, since they have certainly bought it.

But the 23-year-old Johnson had been humiliating the Europeans in the pre-race training runs, he said was going to "amoke" them in the race, and then he went and did it.

ROBERT WAGMAN

He'll Help Anyone But Mondale

MANCHESTER, N.H. (NEA) — One major behind-the-scenes hero of the New Hampshire primary isn't even officially on a campaign staff: He's pollster Pat Caddell, who was one of Jimmy Carter's key aides.

Caddell isn't too fond of Carter's vice president, Walter Mondale, since Mondale has been trying to put considerable distance between himself and his former boss. This tactic hasn't endeared Mondale to many other members of the Carter team, either.

Therefore, Caddell has been giving unofficial advice to some of Mondale's opponents, including both John Glenn and Gary Hart. The Glenn campaign paid little attention to Caddell's advice, but Hart both listened and acted on what he heard, which may account for his surprise victory here.

Caddell advised that Hart run against Mondale from the left and right at the same time — and as contradictory as it sounds, it worked.

First, Caddell reportedly said, Mondale should be depicted as a candidate of the old politics. Hart has done this with a vengeance via his "new politics" campaign theme.

At the time, said Caddell, Hart should stake out specific positions that were both more liberal and more conservative than Mondale's. Hart has done this by taking an apparently more liberal position than Mondale's on the nuclear freeze, but a more conservative position on the budget, deficits and government spending.

Exit polling here seems to prove that Hart's efforts succeeded. Many voters admitted that although they voted in the Democratic primary, they probably would vote for President Reagan in November. A very high percentage of these crossover voters said they had voted for Hart because they viewed him as a conservative, especially on fiscal matters.

At the same time, Hart received a very high percentage of votes from younger, better educated voters who would have to be labeled liberal. Exit polls showed that they thought of Hart as being both young and liberal.

Thus Gary Hart built his New Hampshire upset by being perceived by some voters as more conservative than Mondale, while also appealing to younger, more liberal Democrats. It was a difficult balancing act, but Hart pulled it off. Whether he can in the future, with the Mondale camp aware of what he is doing, is another story.

Others eyeing Hart's victory also point out a very serious problem facing Mondale: Ronald Reagan may suffer from a "gender gap," but Mondale suffers from an "age gap."

This became evident during the Iowa caucuses. Mondale won 67 percent of the vote from caucus participants aged 65 and older. His vote dropped to 54 percent of caucus participants aged 45 to 65 — still an excellent result. However, among those aged 30 to 45, he got only 40 percent, and he received a losing 28 percent among the under 30.

This same gap seems to have been duplicated in New Hampshire. Based on exit polls, experts estimate that Mondale received 57 percent of the votes of those over 50, while Hart received about 60 percent of the votes of those under 40.

The Mondale campaign is well aware of this problem and says they plan to deal with it in coming primaries.

inclusion of two entire bakery lines disguised as spare parts."

The cable goes on to complain about the contractor's apparent failure to provide "clear and verifiable prices" for its spare parts, and accuses the company of marking up the prices it pays the manufacturers for the parts, thus padding the bill AID finally gets.

"There has been some chatter in cables about a 45 percent reduction," AID's cable continued. "We consider this to be meaningless, because a 45 percent reduction on a price which already contains a 300 percent markup, still leaves a cost which (we) find unacceptable."

Actually, 300 percent apparently was a modest markup for the American Export Group. An internal AID memo seen by my associate Lucette Lagnado indicates that AEG charged $25,200 for panel boards that cost the company a little over $2,000. "The AEG shipment of 39 panel boards were overpriced by $23,641 per unit, or a total maximum overpricing of $922,032.93," the memo notes, and suggests that "a bill for collection may be appropriate in this particular situation."

Another memo states: "We find diesel generator parts to be excessively overpriced, as are injectors, voltage regulators, radiator caps, radiator hose clamps and exhaust clamps."

In a written response to my inquiry about the overcharges, an AEG official said it is "utter nonsense to highlight just one item out of a complete system." What is relevant, the statement said, is the total price for the entire system — and AEG's bid was $1 million lower than the closest competitors.

Footnote: There's a glimmer of hope that AID has belatedly come to the conclusion that it must come clean about the Egyptian bakeries contract. The same cable that worried about my telephone call warned that "we can only protect the agency from criticism if all of the cards are dealt face up."

Mayfair Country Club Being Sued

The Mayfair Country Club of Sanford is being sued for breach of contract. According to a complaint filed Feb. 29 in Circuit Court in Seminole, The Green Club of 150 Lake St., Longwood, is suing Seminole Club Inc., doing business as the Mayfair Country Club, for not honoring a contract that states The Green Club's members can play on the Mayfair golf course any afternoon for $7.

The usual charge is $10 during weekday afternoons and $16 on weekends and holidays.

Spokesman for both The Green Club and Mayfair would not comment on the suit.

The Green Club is seeking an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

According to the suit, The Green Club contracted with Mayfair on May 17, 1982, to "provide certain privileges and discounts to (The Green Club) members," specifically low greens fees.

The Green Club's complaint states that on Nov. 8, 1983, Mayfair stopped honoring the contract despite a clause that said after the contract was dissolved, Mayfair would honor the terms of the agreement for three more years.

The Green Club is also seeking to have Mayfair temporarily and permanently prohibited from competing with it.

In another suit filed in Seminole Circuit Court, the state of Florida is suing an Altamonte Springs business asking that a judge order the company to refrain from doing business because of unpaid unemployment compensation taxes.

The suit, filed Friday by the state Department of Labor and Employment Security, asks that the Sweetwater Carpet Gallery, believed to be doing business at 540 state Road 434, be restrained from doing business because $734.72 in back unemployment compensation taxes have not been paid.

According to the complaint, the business has been operating since September 1980 but "involuntarily dissolved" Nov. 10, 1983, and is required by law "to submit reports and make certain regular contributions (taxes) to the (state) for the benefit and use of the unemployment compensation fund."

The state maintains that the business has been repeatedly contacted about the issue and has "failed and refused and still does fail and refuse to pay taxes levied and assessed."

The complaint asks that the Seminole circuit court take jurisdiction in the case, require an accounting by the business of past taxes and costs, and prevent the company from employing people until the issue is resolved.

Shady Refund Deal Nets Man Jail Term

A Orlando man has been sentenced in Seminole Circuit Court for trying to get an improper refund on a television set taken from a Fern Park department store.

Alfred Joseph Gullory, 35, of Orlando, was ordered to serve 180 days in the county jail and five years probation by Circuit Judge Robert McGregor Monday for the grand theft of a television from the Zayre's store. He received credit for 93 days served and must keep a full-time job during the probationary period.

According to court records, Gullory picked up a television set in the "Sights and Sounds" department of the Zayre's store then tried to get a refund at the refund desk. He could have received up to five years in prison on the grand theft charge.

Murder Suspect's Trial Set April 2

An Altamonte Springs woman, charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of her husband, has had a "date certain" trial time set.

Sammy Husted, 26, of 1131 Pine St., is scheduled to be tried April 2 in connection with the death of her 29-year-old husband, Joseph Husted, on Nov. 9.

Husted, out of jail on a $25,000 bond, surrendered to authorities Dec. 2 after learning that a grand jury had the previous day indicted her for the shooting.

Mrs. Husted's husband was shot in the left eye with a 16-gauge shotgun. The couple was alone at their home when Husted was killed.

Assistant State Attorney Mike Peacock said the shooting occurred during an argument between the couple and investigators believe Husted was shot either as he sat at or was getting up from the dining room table. Peacock said that would indicate premeditation in the shooting.

Peacock alleges Mrs. Husted was angry with her husband because he and two other men had reportedly offered his niece money to have sex. Mrs. Husted allegedly told the niece that she would get her gun and wait for her husband to come home.

Defense attorney Clifton Curry said Husted had a history of abusing his wife. He said Mrs. Husted claims she was putting the gun away when it accidentally went off.

Hagen No-Hits Spruce Creek — Lyman Upsets Apopka

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Allen Tuttle is happy to report that Mike Schmit is not the only starting pitcher on his Lake Mary baseball team.

Junior Eric Hagen took care of that notion Thursday afternoon when the hard-throwing righthander tossed a no-hitter at Spruce Creek and the Rams came away with a 2-0 victory at Daytona Beach.

"Eric just blew them away," said Tuttle about his second starter. "They hit one ball out of the infield and that was a lazy fly. I've had confidence in Eric from the beginning. If I didn't he wouldn't be out there."

For Hagen, it was his second stellar performance of the year. He yielded just three hits against West Orange earlier this spring, but came away a hard-luck loser.

The victory keeps Lake Mary atop the Five Star Conference, along with Lyman, with a 2-0 record. The Greyhounds stunned conference favorite Apopka, 3-2, Wednesday as Derek Livernois tossed a four-hitter.

Lake Mary, which has won four straight to compile a 7-3 season log, got the only run it needed in the first inning. Freshman phenom Ryan Lisle singled and stole second to ignite the uprising. Junior Scott Underwood then chased him home with a base hit for a 1-0 lead.

The Rams tacked on an insurance run in the fourth when Donald Grayson singled, moved up on a passed ball and scored on Lisle's single past the third baseman. Lisle had three hits on the day pump his batting average up to .385.

While Lisle took care of the offensive chores, third baseman Kevin Hill came up with the key defensive play to preserve Hagen's gem. The sure-handed third sacker flagged down a hard-hit grounder in the seventh and gunned out the runner to keep the no-hitter intact.

Lake Mary hosts DeLand at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

While the Rams were winning their fourth straight, Lyman and Livernois brought the Apopka Blue Darters down to earth by scoring a run in the bottom of the seventh to pull out a 3-2 victory at Lyman High.

"They came in flying, but they went out crawling," said Lyman coach Bob McCullough. "There's nothing better than beating (Apopka coach) Sonny Wise."

The Blue Darters had good a reason to be on a high. They had won nine games prior to the Lyman upset and Wise's team is considered the team to beat in the Five Star.

But Livernois and some clutch hitting by junior Clint Baker saddled the Darters with their first loss. Apopka is 1-1 in the Five Star with a tie with Spruce Creek counting as half a win and half a loss. Lyman improved to 5-4 and 2-0 and remains tied for first place with Lake Mary.

Baker opened the Lyman second with a single and moved to second when Greg Lorenz followed with a base hit. Sophomore Byron Overstreet then moved both runners with a sacrifice bunt.

Prep Baseball

Baker, though, was nailed at the plate when he tried to score on Tim Volt's ground ball to third. Outfielder Jim Odom then produced the first run when he singled home Lorenz.

Apopka came up with a run in the top of the third, but Lyman added another one in the fifth frame to go up 2-1. Robbie Robinson singled to start the outburst and was replaced by John Elwood. Elwood moved to second on a passed ball and then to third on a balk by Apopka starter and loser Trey Brasseur. Baker followed with the second of his three singles to score the run.

The Blue Darters, 10-1-1, pushed across a seventh-inning run to tie it, but Lyman came through with a two-out rally in the bottom of the inning to secure the victory.

Robinson walked and Livernois singled him to third. Baker then hit a routine ground ball to shortstop Billy Johnson, but the ball went through his legs, allowing Robinson to romp home with the winning tally.

"Livernois pitched a smart game," said McCullough about his junior righthander who improved his record to 2-2 with six strikeouts. "We pitched around (Rodney) Brewer and anytime you dissipate somebody's power, you can beat them."

Lyman hosts Seabreeze Friday at 7 p.m.

Pitching was also the name of the game as the Lake Brantley Patriots blanked Mainland, 3-0, at Lake Brantley.

Sophomore Kenny Chapdelaine tossed his second varsity shutout and Scott Anez drove in two runs with a single in the fifth inning to snap a scoreless deadlock.

Lake Brantley, 4-4 and 1-1, hosts Apopka Saturday at 1 p.m.

Chapdelaine, who blanked Lyman earlier this year, fanned eight hitters and walked just two. Chapdelaine, 2-1, has given up just one unearned run in 20 innings this spring.

Lady Raiders Impress Scribe With Hustle, Ability, Tenacity

It's a staggering realization when one realizes that as a person, he is lower than low. When he realizes that he is so low that he could play handball against a curb without any trouble. So low that he would be eye to eye with a fifty cent piece that was lying on the ground without having to bend over.

Unfortunately, I had that realization last Friday night. Yes, I was lower than low.

It all started when sports editor Sam Cook assigned me to cover the Seminole Community College girls state tournament basketball game against Pensacola Junior College. To say the least I wasn't pleased.

Basketball is meant to be played from basket to basket, with the players trying to reach new heights of scoring and rebounding prowess. As a fan, I want to see the players elbowing for rebounds, diving for loose balls and calling for the pass that will give them the easy basket.

What I expected from girls basketball was nothing more than ten girls on the court that cared about nothing more than getting out of the game without breaking a fingernail.

What I expected and what I saw were two entirely different things. What I learned was a lesson on the evils stereotyping and prying my foot from my mouth.

I got to the University of Central Florida gym, where the game was being played, early enough to watch warm ups. Both teams were doing layup drills and they looked athletic enough. But, I thought to myself, anybody can look good doing layup drills.

I began the process of prying my foot from my mouth when Pensacola's Carmen Riley dribbled the ball through her legs, from right to left, and canned a 15 foot jumpshot with the ease and grace of a Julius Erving.

My visions of this being a "dainty girls game" were flushed away when Seminole's Juana Coletti, an attractive 5-10 freshman, yanked down an errant shot and came down with both elbows extended, ready to do some damage to all who got within range.

One of the not so prevalent things that I like about basketball, that others don't really look at, are the coaches and how they go about their jobs from the bench. Like directing the economy, every coach has a different way of coaching a game.

From a girls coach I would have expected a type of game where the ball was walked up court; all rebounds would be grabbed after they hit the ground; and the only defense they coached was how to stop underarm perspiration stains.

Seminole coach Ileana Gallagher helped me pry the rest of my foot from my mouth.

At first Gallagher threw me off because I was expecting her to be a him. I had forgotten that there are a lot of women who can coach various sports, basketball being one of them.

Secondly, she doesn't look like a coach; she certainly doesn't dress like a coach. She's attractive and dresses well. For the game she wore lavender slacks, a knit sweater, with a shiny plated belt. Not the typical game attire for a coach.

As soon as the game started, I knew she was for real. Like some of my favorite coaches, Jim Valvano, Lou Carnesecca, Rollie Massamino, Gallagher prowls the sideline from one end of the bench to the other.

The amount of volume that she can project in her voice from her petite stature would make Beverly Sills envious. And she uses that voice to yell instructions to her players like, "Watch the baseline," "You got to stand your ground," "Don't let her get position, move her out."

Gallagher is very indiscriminant with regard to who she will yell at. Players, officials; I thought she was gonna yell at me but it turned out that I was just paranoid.

After the game Gallagher was like the month of March, at first like a lion, then like a lamb. She was naturally discouraged because her team had lost, to a better team. But she was very polite and considerate when answering my questions and when congratulating the Pensacola coaches and players on their victory.

Even though they had played a man's game, please allow me the liberty to use that term, the SCC girls basketball remained very much the ladies that they are. The last thing Gallagher said to me was, "We'll be back."

For that matter, so will I.

Poindexter Leads Hawks Past Crabs

DAYTONA BEACH — Lake Howell's hard-hitting Silver Hawks erupted for two five-run innings en route to an 11-6 victory over Seabreeze in Five Star Conference baseball Thursday afternoon.

Sophomore Jeff Poindexter led the Lake Howell attack with a triple and two singles good for two runs batted in. Junior Scott Munson rapped a pair of singles and drove in two runs while senior Van Golmont a single and an RBI.

Poindexter set the trend for the day with a triple to lead off the game. Jay Robey followed with a walk and Golmont delivered Poindexter with a sharp single. Bill Lang then walked but Vic Robert grounded into a 1-2-3 double play for the first two outs.

Undaunted, the Hawks used a walk by John Canfield and a two-run single by Munson to produce two more runs. Canfield scored on the same play when the right fielder made an error for a 5-0 lead.

While the Howell bats were booming, sophomore Damon Marlette was holding the Sand Crabs in check. The 5-6 lefty was perfect for three and two-thirds inning and kept the Seabreeze squad off the scorebook until the fifth inning when it scored four runs. Marlette gave way in the sixth to Todd Minotti who finished up.

Lake Howell, 7-5 and 1-1, put the game away in the sixth with five more runs. Canfield, Munson and Jim Royal all walked to load the bases. Pinch-hitter David Marlette then drew another pass to force in a run and Poindexter singled home two more with a smash to right field. Robey then walked and when Golmont flew out to right field, Poindexter came home with the fifth run of the inning.

Lake Howell travels to Spruce Creek for a 3:30 p.m. game Friday.

Georgia Survives Scare, Faces No. 3 Wildcats Next

College Basketball

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Defending champion Georgia survived the opening round of the Southeastern Conference, basketball tournament, but it will take quite an upset for the Bulldogs to survive today's quarterfinals.

Georgia (17-11), which edged Mississippi State, 52-49, in one of two games needed to complete the quarterfinals pairings, takes on the tournament favorite, the nationally 3rd-ranked Kentucky Wildcats (23-4).

The other team to advance Wednesday was Vanderbilt, a 77-57 winner over Ole Miss, and the host Commodores (14-14) will have their hands full today too since they play 2nd-seeded Auburn (18-9).

Today's SEC quarterfinals begin at Noon CST when Florida (16-11) meets Tennessee (18-12). The second game pairs LSU (18-9) and Alabama (17-10) with Kentucky-Georgia and Auburn-Vanderbilt tonight.

With all-conference guard Vern Fleming hitting only three of 10 field goal tries and winding up with 6 points, 14 below his average, Georgia was involved in a nip-and-tuck battle with Mississippi State in Wednesday's game.

State led 21-17 at halftime and trailed by only two points with just over three minutes to play before free-throw shooting gave Georgia some breathing room down the stretch.

"Mississippi State controlled the tempo in the first half, but also we didn't shoot well," said Georgia coach Hugh Durham. "We showed grit, guts and courage, though, and played good defense when things weren't going our way."

"If somebody had told me Fleming and (James) Banks (who was 0-for-7 from the field and scored only 2 points) wouldn't score in the second half, but that we would win anyway, I wouldn't have believed them," said Durham. "I took Fleming out for a rest and didn't send him back in."

With its top two players cold, Georgia got a lift from junior guard Gerald Crosby who hit 7 of 8 from the floor.

"I have to play harder when Vern is not in the game," said Crosby. "Not as far as scoring, but on defense we have to try to force turnovers and get baskets we wouldn't get with Vern in the game."

Georgia, tied for seventh in this year's SEC race with an 8-10 conference record, came from the No. 6 spot last year to win the conference tournament eventually made it to the NCAA Final Four before losing to NCAA champion N.C. State in the national semifinals.

"We're the same team we were last year," said Crosby. "It's just a matter of getting ourselves together. We can't dwell on last year."

"I thought we had a good game plan and played good defense," said Mississippi State forward Ken Harvey who was high scorer in the opening round with 21 points. "We worked the ball inside pretty well, but we got into some foul trouble, going late and were forced to foul. Georgia just hit the free throws - and we didn't."

Vanderbilt, which closed out its regular season this past Saturday with a 70-60 home victory over Ole Miss, was sluggish in the first half Wednesday and led 24-17 at halftime.

But with guard Phil Cox getting 11 of his game-high 15 points in the second half and freshman forward Steve Reece getting 8 of his 10 in the second half, the Commodores pulled away to a 22-point lead with nine minutes remain in the game.

"Seldom have I gone into a game where I felt more uptight during our preparations and it affected our team," said Vanderbilt coach C. M. Newton. "Ever since our Saturday game, we have not practiced well."

Mr. Crash And Burn Scorches Local Riders

John "Avalanche" Boatwright, of Sanford, has been racing his Patterson bicycle for one year...

"The first time I raced was so much fun. When I saw the track I really wanted to race," said the 13-year-old novice rider.

John's fondest memory of BMX was when he was winning. "I was really doing great for awhile, always bringing home trophies, but these past three weeks have been awful," commented John.

The upcoming "War of the Stars" in April will be Avalanche's very first, and he is looking forward to that weekend. "It's gonna be exciting, with all of the factory riders there, but scary because it's the first time I've ever competed in anything like this," said Avalanche.

At Barnett Park this past Saturday, National Bicycle League (NBL) raced under the lights again. Registration started at 6 p.m., and many Sanford riders were in line. There were 37 motos in all.

In the 11-year-old beginner class, Jamie Dellarco, of Lake Mary, raced his third and last beginner race and placed second. Jamie will now race 11-novice.

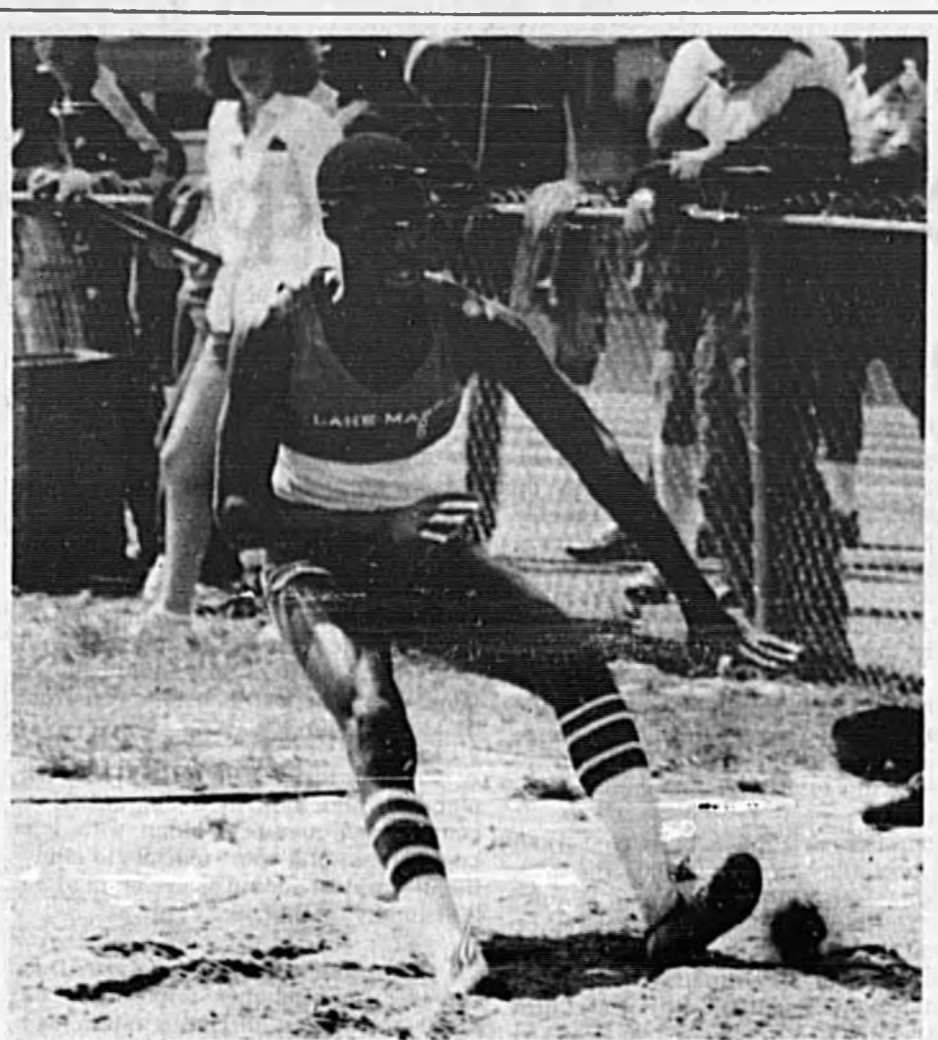

In the 13-year-old beginner class, Wade Dellarco, of Lake Mary, also raced his last beginner race, and placed first.

Now on to the novice classes. In the 12-year-old novice class, three Sanford riders participated. Chris Brown of Sanford placed second, Jason Overall of Sanford placed fifth and John Connelly, of Lake Mary, placed sixth.

The big race of the night was the 13-year-old novice class. The riders had to qualify for a main event. Avalanche Boatwright, Chris Cullen and Ripper Sanborn all made it to the main. It was an exciting race as all eight riders went around the first berm, over the double jump, and around the second berm. Then Mr. Crash and Burn struck. Over the triple "whoop de doo" four riders went down. None of the riders was hurt seriously, but the results of the race weren't pleasing. Chris Cullen placed fifth, David "Ripper" Sanborn sixth, and John "Avalanche" Boatwright seventh.

In the 15-year-old novice class, Mr. Crash and Burn struck again. In the first race, Jimmy Williams and John Poole wrecked around the second berm. No serious damage to either riders, but John's peddle took out a few of Jimmy's tire spokes, and something took out a chunk of John's peddle. Jimmy took first in that race. In the second race, John Poole fell at the triple whoops. In the third race, John took first, but came out with a third overall. Jimmy took first overall, and an Orlando rider placed second.

In the cruiser class, 16-year-old Mark Koch raced another 16-year-old, and two pros. Mark placed third overall.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Thiebauth Lifts Howell Past Evans; Lyman Falls

Eileen Thiebauth singled home two runs and Barbara Heim hurled a five-hitter as the Lake Howell Lady Hawks throttled Evans, 7-1, in a nonconference softball game at Lake Howell High.

Lake Howell, 3-0, plays Oviedo at Red Bug Park Friday at 3 p.m.

The Lady Hawks jumped on Evans for three runs in the first frame when Erin Hankins and Mary Johnson rapped back-to-back singles. Sandy Gillies moved up the runners with a ground out and Thiebauth drilled a single to chase home the first two runs.

Grace Ley kept the rally alive with another single and when Heim singled to right field and the outfielder misplayed the ball. Ley scored from second. Thiebauth had been thrown out at home on the previous hit.

Lake Howell picked up two more runs in the third on singles by Johnson and Gillies and an error by the second baseman. In the fourth, the Lady Hawks added two more on singles by Mary Meier and Cherle Green and an error by the right fielder.

Johnson led the Hawks' hit parade with three singles.

In other action Wednesday, West Orange dropped Lyman, 5-1, at Lyman High.

The Lady Greyhounds scored their run in the third inning when Kim Reis singled and went to second when Riane Richardson walked. Valerie Price then smashed a double to right center to score Reis.

Price and Kristie Kaiser led the Greyhounds with two hits each. Richardson had a double while Reis and Lisa Wright added singles.

Lyman, 0-2, plays its first Five Star Conference game at home next Tuesday against DeLand. Game time is 4 p.m.

Tribe JV Trips DeLand
Donny Gorman tossed a six-hitter while Mike Thompson and Alonzo Galney each knocked in three runs as Seminole's junior varsity baseball team whipped DeLand, 7-4, Friday at Five Points.

Candelaria's Arm Hampers Negotiating

Baseball

John Candelaria reportedly wants his contract revamped but it's not likely to happen if he's without his greatest negotiating tool - a healthy left arm.

The veteran southpaw, who one day earlier blasted the Pittsburgh Pirates for refusing to renegotiate, Wednesday was granted permission to fly to San Diego to have his elbow examined.

A spokesman said Candelaria would leave camp Thursday for the West Coast, where he would be checked by Dr. Paul Bauer, who performed surgery on a torn bicep muscle in the same arm in 1981.

"Today he told me he had trouble (throwing) to second base during our pickoff drills," Pirates manager Chuck Tanner said. "Then he asked me if he could go see Dr. Bauer."

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, in its Wednesday editions, quoted Candelaria as calling the club "hypocrites" for refusing to reopen the 4-year pact he signed after the 1982 season.

Candelaria, 30, reportedly wants more than teammate Kent Tekulve got in a multi-year contract signed in December. "They're hypocrites," Candelaria called the club in the Post-Gazette. "They negotiated a new lease with the city and they say they won't negotiate players' contracts. That makes them hypocrites. I like Pittsburgh and I like the people there. The club management I don't like."

Houston Astros outfielder Jose Cruz was more successful in his negotiations with management. Cruz reached a 3-year contract extension after batting .318 with 14 homers and 92 RBI last season.

In exhibitions Wednesday: At Orlando, Jim Eisenreich, trying to overcome a nervous disorder and return to baseball, went 4-for-4 to highlight the Twins' 7-0 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays. Eisenreich, who went on the voluntarily retired list after two games last season, tripled, doubled and had two singles and two RBI.

"He has a magic bat and seems to always find the holes," Minnesota manager Billy Gardner said. "We're going to keep playing him this spring. I hope this will turn him around."

At Bradenton, pinch hitter Bennie Distefano doubled and scored on Lee Lacy's two-out single in the bottom of the ninth to lift the Pirates past the New York Mets, 4-3.

At West Palm Beach, pinch hitter Derrel Thomas singled home Roy Johnson in the bottom of the ninth to lift the Montreal Expos to a 2-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thomas was signed as a free agent after playing five seasons with the Dodgers.

At Fort Lauderdale, Ray Fenton, Curt Brown and Clay Christensen combined on a nine-hitter to lift the New York Yankees to a 1-0 victory over the Atlanta Braves. Don Baylor singled in the only run in the eighth.

At Clearwater, Pat Sheridan's first-inning infield out lifted the Kansas City Royals to a 1-0 triumph over Philadelphia. The Phillies missed tying it in the ninth when Al Sanchez, trying to score, tripped over catcher Don Werner and was tagged out walking toward the dugout.

At Lakeland, Tom Paclerek and Ron Kittle each had three hits as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 9-3.

Gonzales 'Controls' Trinity Prep

Seminole sophomore Christy Gonzales found her control Wednesday afternoon and Sanford's Lady Seminoles found their second victory in three outings with a lopsided 18-0 victory over Trinity Prep at Trinity.

"Christy pitched an excellent game," said Seminole coach Beth Corso. "She only walked one and allowed just one hit."

In a game played in a gale last week, Gonzales had walked seven batters before being pulled against the same Trinity club. This time around, she kept her composure and the Tribe pounded out 21 hits to end the contest after just five innings due to the slaughter rule. Lisa Hauck, Katy Barbour, Cassandra Frederic and Bert Dretville led the hit parade with three hits each. Hauck also socked her second homer of the year. Gonzales helped her own cause with two singles and two RBI.

Seminole Opts To Buy Private Utilities

6,700 County Residents Can Expect 30% Hike In Water, Sewer Rates

By Britt Smith
Herald Staff Writer

More than 7,000 of Seminole County's water and sewer customers can expect sizable changes in their bills soon...some down, but most up.

The fluctuations are the result of the county commission's decision to purchase two private water and sewer treatment facilities — the Greenwood Lakes utility near Interstate 4 off Lake Mary Boulevard and Sanlando Utilities in the Wekiva area of the southwest section of the county.

The good news is for the roughly 400 Greenwood Lakes customers whose bills should drop by about 37 percent during the next billing cycle. If and when the county assumes control of Sanlando, its 6,700 customers will see their bills rise by about 30 percent.

The changes would bring rates charged to both utilities customers in line with those the county charges its other utility customers, according to County Administrator T. Duncan Rose.

Commissioners agreed 4-1 Tuesday to take over management of the facility until the purchase is finalized by May 31. Commissioner Robert "Bud" Feather was the lone dissenter, claiming the county should not be involved in the utility business.

The two purchases are part of the county's ongoing effort to take over private utilities in an effort to: 1) bring some consistency to and stabilize water and sewer rates, 2) allow the closing or upgrading of smaller plants that could be polluting area lakes, and 3) maintain control of growth in the unincorporated areas of the county.

Not only will the takeover mean lower water and sewer rates for Greenwood Lakes customers, it will also permit the county to shut down another county-owned treatment plant that has been cited by the federal Environmental Protection Agency for discharging about 25,000 gallons of wastewater a day into Soldier Creek without a valid permit.

While the purchase of the Greenwood Lakes facility is pretty well set, the commission is moving ahead slowly on the Sanlando acquisition. Too slowly for developer and co-owner Lester Mandell.

Mandell has told commissioners that if they don't close on the purchase of the utility by May 31, he may withdraw the sale or renegotiate the selling price, possibly from the previously agreed to $17 million to $20 million.

In October, when the county and Mandell, along with co-owner and attorney John Lowndes, came to terms on a price, the figure represented roughly 10 times the company's gross revenues. Mandell said the $3 million increase reflects the growth of utility revenues since October.

The utility serves about 6,700 customers.

Prodded by Mandell's threat, the commission Tuesday agreed to authorize its staff to begin the search for an underwriter to arrange financing for the deal.

Commissioners have been concerned that since they buy the facility, the state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) might adopt a more restrictive permitting policy in order to force reductions in the amount of treated wastewater discharged into the Little Wekiva River.

DER district manager Alex Alexander has said that public or private ownership makes no difference. The only reason the state would adopt a get-tough policy is if the river's water quality began to deteriorate.

"I don't expect any changes at this point," Alexander said.

The utility's state permit is valid through August and Alexander said he foresees no problems in issuing a 5-year permit at that time.

In other action Tuesday, the commission:

- Approved a zoning change on 80 acres at the intersection of Dike and Dodd roads, north of Bear Gully Lake, to allow Old American homes to construct 320 housing units.

- Agreed to set aside $10,000 for jail planning and appoint a committee of county staff members along with law enforcement and court officials to study the best way of adding space for an extra 200 inmates at the county jail.

- Set a public hearing for April 10 to consider an ordinance imposing a $2 service charge on all civil lawsuits filed in circuit court. The fees would be used to create a family mediation program to help families resolve divorce-related issues such as child custody and visitation, but not financial settlements, without going to court. The added fee would increase filings costs from $62.50 to $64.50.

Alcoholism Group Drops Geneva Site Request

The Seminole County Commission was scheduled to hear, at Tuesday night's public hearing, a request from the Metropolitan Alcoholism Council of Central Florida (MACO) for a rezoning of an 8 1/2-acre tract in Geneva for creation of an alcoholic's rehabilitation center, but the group withdrew its request.

The county's board of adjustment denied the rezoning on a 4-1 vote in late November, citing area residents' strong objections and the lack of sufficient police and fire protection to serve such a facility. MACO decided to appeal the matter to the commission.

It's all a moot point now, according to MACO executive director Gerard Kinzler. "We've found a suitable site in Orlando so we have no intent to pursue the Geneva site," he said.

There's Help For Impotent Men

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the letter from "Better Than Ever," whose sex life was improved by therapy despite her 44-year-old husband's impotence following surgery: Although the letter didn't describe the therapy, one option to overcome impotency should be publicized — surgical implantation of a penile prosthesis.

There are many types of penile prostheses being implanted by specially trained urological surgeons, but the most natural is the Scott Inflation type, which has been in use since 1973.

Dear Abby

Impotency can be caused by diabetes, vascular disease, paralysis, medication for hypertension, radiation therapy etc., but far too often these patients are told that their impotence is either "all in their heads" or something they must learn to live with.

Unfortunately, many health professionals hesitate to discuss penile implant surgery, which is neither new nor a fad. I am a registered nurse, and the urologist for whom I work has given many requested interviews to the media on the subject, but few were publicized. (He was told that although the subject is important and interesting, it's too "risque" for the general public).

Abby, do you think that publicizing an operation that can help restore a man's ability to perform sexually is too "risque" to publicize?

BARBARA C., ORLANDO BEACH, FLA.
DEAR BARBARA: No. The news of Dr. F. Brantley Scott's invention appeared in my column in 1973. (A wealthy South American businessman sent a cable from Brazil saying he wanted to fly his private jet immediately to see Dr. Scott in Houston!)

Surgeons everywhere are now performing penile implants. Interested parties should ask their urologists for the names of surgeons who specialize in it. Or they should contact their county (or state) medical societies.

DEAR ABBY: A teenage girl wrote, "My boyfriend, Roger (not his real name), is in big trouble with my parents because they caught him in my room at 2 a.m."

In your response you said, "Roger had better respect your parents' rules or his real name will be 'Mud'."

Since you obviously were making a pun on the name of Roger Mudd, you should have spelled with two "d's."

Incidentally, Abby, do you know where the expression "Your name will be mud" originated?

DEAR BUFF: Yes, John Wilkes Booth, the actor who assassinated President Lincoln, broke his leg while making his getaway. The doctor who set Booth's leg was Samuel Alexander Mudd.

DEAR ABBY: In this rather smallish community, where everybody knows everybody else's business, there is no one I can ask this question of for obvious reasons.

Bikers Roar Into Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Thousands of bushy-bearded bikers wearing black leather jackets and sporting intimidating tattoos have turned the streets of Daytona Beach into a roaring snarl of motorcycles this week.

Officials estimate 200,000 motorcyclists from all over the United States and Canada will rumble up and down Highway A1A in their annual Florida invasion that has become known as "Bike Week" to beach residents.

The bikers also are attracting a law enforcement convention of sorts with dozens of federal, state and local agents stalking the beach for stolen motorcycles and illegal drug deals.

Some residents cover at the sight of the bikers, but merchants agree the motorcyclists mean millions of dollars for the resort's economy.

This annual carnival atmosphere began 47 years ago with bike races on the beach.

Now, the bikers are drawn by Sunday's Daytona 200 Motorcycle Classic at the Daytona International Speedway, a week-long series of motorcycle shows and the chance to gallivant with others on two wheels.

Another highlight for the bikers is a motorcycles-only parade Sunday that promises to stretch for up to five miles from Daytona Beach Shores to the speedway.

Most of the bikers wear black leather jackets — sometimes vests in the Florida heat — dark sunglasses and beer belties.

"I have heard (residents) say they stock up groceries a week ahead of time and stay home, virtual prisoners in their homes," said Daytona Beach Police Chief Charles Willits.

But some long-time observers say the bikers aren't so tough or bad — and are great for business.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 9, 1984
There is a strong likelihood you'll be bolder and more enterprising this coming year in situations which could add to your resources. The results will be good if you don't take foolish risks.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In order to be a winner today, you must have staying power. All your gains will be nullified if you pack it in just when the end is in sight. Major changes are in store for Pisces in the coming year. Send for your year-ahead predictions today. Mail $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Sometimes it's unwise to do business with friends. This could be one of those days. Check your other sources first before going to your pals.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In career situations today, take extra pains to be tactful with associates or a misunderstanding might arise over something rather silly.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Co-workers could be more sensitive than usual today, so be sure to treat them with consideration and as equals. Tempers may flare if you fail to do so.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Guard against tendencies today to be overly possessive with one with whom you are emotionally involved. Pulling too tightly could push him or her away.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You may be prone to take risks today, not so much on yourself but on others. There's a strong possibility you might end up backing the wrong horse.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your interest in your work could leave something to be desired today, especially if you're a clockwatcher who tries to hurry through tasks.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be optimistic regarding your financial affairs, but also be realistic. Don't spend excessively today, hoping you can cover it later.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Family members will be responsive to your mode of behavior today. If you're cranky and ill-tempered, don't expect them to be otherwise.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) As a Sagittarian you are usually self-sufficient and independent, but today you might expect others to shoulder your responsibilities.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You could blow the deal today if you expect more than you're rightly entitled to for work or services. Ask a fair wage for what you offer.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you are in a position of authority, make it a point to treat subordinates with courtesy and respect. Heavy-handed tactics will be counterproductive.

Tinnitus The Cause Of Buzzing Sound

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'd like your thoughts on a condition I began to notice last year. When it's very quiet and I'm not preoccupied in thought, I sometimes notice a soft sound. It's like the faint din of insects on a summer night. It's not a ringing sound.

Perhaps this sound is always there and I don't notice it until everything is quiet. When my hearing was tested I was told there was a slight impairment in the left ear, but the right ear was normal. The difference was not enough to require a hearing aid. DEAR READER - Our bodies are not quiet. There are sounds constantly generated by circulating blood. You're a good observer to notice this sound when everything else is quiet. When there's additional sound present it drowns out the noise. It's just like loud music making it impossible to hear a good conversation.

That's really the way tinnitus maskers are used for ear noises. They provide a constant source of sound that's not disturbing to the ear so you don't hear the ear noise. Or, the sound of a radio or other sounds at night will drown out ear noise. When a person's hearing becomes deficient, even if he is not aware of it, he no longer hears environmental sounds to drown out the ear noise and suddenly begins to hear buzzing and other sounds. In some cases a hearing aid will mask the ear noises and the person becomes unaware of them. That's just one aspect of ear noises. I've explained other aspects in the Health Letter 12-10. Help for Tinnitus in the Ear, which I'm sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper. DEAR DR. LAMB - My husband is 44. We've been married 20 years and have two teenage boys. My husband says he has never cared for sex, but he says he's not gay. He wanted children, but he hasn't cared for them since they were born. The only person he ever really loved was his mother, who is dead now. His father died when he was 5. I didn't know all of this when we married. We haven't had sex in two years, and, before that, only once a month. I've asked him to see a doctor, but he refuses. I know this can't be normal. DEAR READER - No, it's not normal. But it isn't wise to speculate or try to diagnose his problem. What you should do depends on how satisfied you are with your marriage under these circumstances. Some happily married people don't have sexual relations. If it disturbs you enough that it's affecting your marriage, you should insist he cooperate with you to resolve this situation. A good approach under such circumstances often is for both the husband and wife to seek professional counseling. Don't overlook the possibility that your husband might have a medical problem that has either decreased his interest in sex or his performance to the point that he has ceased to have any interest in sex.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Bridge hand analysis showing North and West hands, trump suit (clubs), and a recommended opening lead of ♠Q.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby
Kelsey's maxim for today is: "Don't get shut out of the bidding when you want to tell your partner something of value."
When the hand was played, East stayed out of the bidding entirely. West opened the queen of clubs, and declarer worked out a simple end play to make four hearts. He took the high clubs, ruffed his last club in dummy and led a trump. East took his three tricks and was forced either to lead away from his king of diamonds or to give declarer a ruff and discard. As Kelsey points out, four-card suit or no four-card suit, East should bid one spade to suggest a spade lead. Even if East didn't make that immediate overcall, he certainly could and should double two hearts at his second turn. That delayed double would surely get a spade bid from West, who can make four spades against any defense that does not start with three rounds of clubs. The immediate spade overcall would also get some spade action from West. He might not get to four, but he would lead a spade against four hearts. East would cash two spades and the ace of hearts, get out with a club and wait for his diamond trick.
