DEATH AND SUFFERING RIDE SOUTHERN BLIZZARD

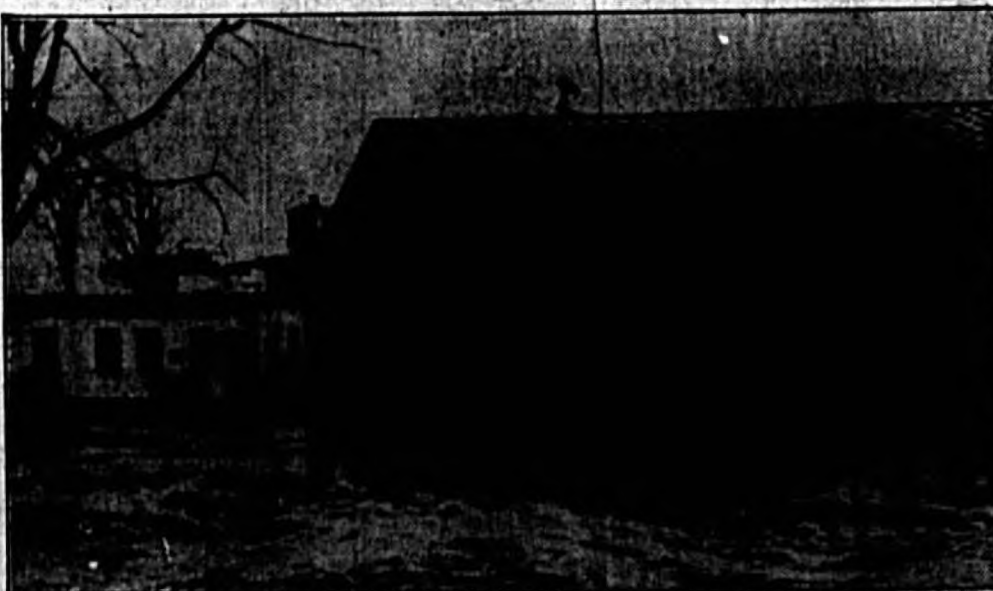

At least two deaths and widespread suffering came to western North Carolina and East Tennessee on the wings of an early-spring blizzard that piled up snow 12 to 21 inches deep. This picture shows automobiles buried in Peak Square at Asheville, N. C., which experienced the worst blizzard that city had seen in 30 years. (Associated Press Photo)

WPA STRIKERS INVADe WISCONSIN CAPITOL

FLOOD TEARS RIGT THROUGH MIDDLE OF BUILDING

Like a football fullback going through the line, the raging Backus River tore a hole completely the wall of this building of the Windle Manufacturing company at Milbury, Mass. Nineteen were dead; 100,000 homeless, and damages ran more than $100,000,000 in the New England states. (Associated Press Photo)

Women Can't Be Held Under Kidnap Charge

State's Attorney Of Opinion Evidence Is Not Sufficient To Warrant Action

Step-Child Taken For Night Visit

Woman Was Arrested On Way Back With 'Kidnaped' Child

Visitors in Lake Mary were aroused last night by a report that a child had been kidnaped, and as the hours ticked by and no trace of the lost child could be found the excitement increased, but in the end the case simmered down to a family quarrel with the decision by the state's attorney's office that kidnaping charges against two women arrested this morning would not hold.

The two women were lodged in the County Jail shortly after 3 o'clock, charged with "investigation in kidnaping." This charge will be quashed, the arresting officer stated, and the pair will be charged with drunkenness and given a hearing before a justice of the peace.

The woman in jail are Mrs. Morris Slobin, formerly Cayton Slobin, and Frances Hillard. The child they were supposed to have "kidnaped" is the former's step-daughter, Gladys Louise Slobin, daughter of Morris Slobin by a former marriage.

Morris Slobin married Gladys Hillard, who was then living with her father, Mr. Slobin, in a store in Lake Mary and did not know of his little girl's disappearance until about 9 o'clock last night. Inquiry developed the fact that the child was last seen in the company of two women, and the description of one of them was that she was his estranged wife.

Believing that the little girl had been kidnaped, Mr. Slobin reported to Constable W. A. McMillan at an early hour and they started in search of the two women seen in Lake Mary last evening. The woman seemed to have made no effort to disguise their movements, the constable said, and they were easily tracked. When within about a quarter of a mile from a road house about midway between Maitland and Apopka where, according to the constable, they spent the night, they met Mr. Slobin's estranged wife, her companion and the little girl. They were riding in a borrowed car and advised the officer they were on their way to Lake Mary, and that they merely had taken the child with them for the night.

Assistant State's Attorney L. F. ... promptly investigated and advised there was insufficient evidence on which to hold the two women for kidnaping.

First Aid Knowledge Would Save Many A Life; Sanford Red Cross Nurse Declares

The life of at least one possibly two, of the three persons who died this week as the result of injuries received in the head-on collision between two automobiles on the Sanford Orlando Highway last Sunday evening could have been saved had there been among the horde of spectators who quickly gathered some one with first aid knowledge.

This is the opinion of Miss Frances McDougal, Red Cross nurse in Sanford.

Because there was no one there who knew anything about first aid work, what to do for an injured person, or how to do it, the victims of the tragedy suffered the loss of so much blood that they died, one within a few minutes, one after two days and another on the fourth day after the crash. Had there been someone there who had taken the Red Cross society's course in first aid "the story would have been altogether different," Miss McDougal said.

It is a "miracle," in the opinion of the Red Cross nurse, that another victim of the automobile collision was not paralyzed for life. "Only by the grace of God," she said, "the persons who carried H. Palmer Eastwood from the scene of the wreck to the hospital did not touch his spinal cord. A vertebrae in Mr. Eastwood's neck was broken, but hospital surgeons have placed his neck in a right cast and it is reported that there is every prospect he will recover without any lasting injury. Only 8 Of Nearly 1000 Growers At Fruit Pact Meet

Slight Interest In Taken Locally In Market Agreement

An official of the AAA came all the way from Washington, D. C., to address the 930 citrus growers County this morning.

to explain to them just what the proposed marketing agreement would do for them but only eight of the nearly one thousand growers were at the meeting.

County Agent C. R. Dawson, who sent notices of the meeting to the growers and who presided at the session in the Court House today, figured the attendance of eight persons was about one-tenth of one percent of the 930 producers of citrus fruits in the county.

H. B. Davis was the AAA official who came here to explain the proposed pact to the growers, but D. E. Timmons of Gainesville, representing the agricultural extension service of the State University, was also here. Due to the small attendance and the fact that those there were conversant with provisions of the proposed pact, their discussion was brief.

At the close of the meeting ballots were cast by Miss Nona Willy and W. V. Dunn of Lake Mary, E. H. Kilbee of Geneva, Norman DeForest and D. L. Thrasher of Sanford, and W. P. Pope of Lake Mary. There were also two other growers present. No information was given as to whether those casting ballots voted for or against the pact.

Atlantic Coast Line Plans To Pay Taxes For Public Schools

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 27.—Responding to Comptroller J. M. Lee's general appeal to taxpayers on behalf of the schools, the Atlantic Coast Line railroad wired the comptroller that although unable to pay all taxes at this particular time, it is preparing to pay this week approximately $100,000 of school maintenance, county and district taxes for all of the 42 counties through which the Atlantic Coast Line and its subsidiaries operate.

Check for these taxes will be sent to the comptroller's office Friday or Saturday, according to W. E. Kay, general counsel for the Atlantic Coast Line, and Mr. Lee stated today that the comptroller's office would distribute the money to the counties the Sunday the Coast Line's check is received, as has been the policy of the comptroller's office the past three years.

Two Killed, Two Hurt As Flyer Sideswipes Freight Train Today

Chance Given Candidates To Greet Voters

Demonstration Clubs, Others Arrange Series Of Meetings Throughout County

Candidates for political offices in Seminole County are being given plenty of chances to meet the voters. They do not have to arrange for their own political meetings, because that is being done by the Women's Home Demonstration Club and other organizations. Several such meetings have been held since the campaign was given a big send-off at Lake Mary a week ago, and many other meetings are being planned.

The meetings arranged by the Women's Home Demonstration Clubs, however, are not political in nature, though the politicians are invited to all of them. The main purpose is to exhibit some of the representative accomplishments of the Clubs during the last year and to raise funds with which to send 4-H Club boys and girls to the Tallahassee show court the last of May and to pay camp expenses in July. The camp is to be for girls and young women and will be held at Camp McQuarry near Astor Park 20 miles from Sanford. Suppers are served at all these meetings, and a small charge is made for meals.

Home Demonstration Club meetings have been held in Altamonte Springs, Forest City, Leeswood and Oviedo. Four more are to be held—in Geneva, Monroe, Paola and Sanford.

The Geneva meeting is to be held this evening, with chicken pie on the bill of fare. Candidates and others are invited. The Home Demonstration Club of Lake Mary will serve a chicken pie supper on the evening of Apr. 1. The meeting in Paola is to be on Apr. 30. The 4-H Club under the direction of Principal Robert True, will be in charge, though refreshments will be served by the Women's Home Demonstration Club.

In addition to the Home Demonstration Club's meeting in Geneva, there is to be another similar gathering at the same hour in the Community House in Altamonte Springs this evening. A "Gypsy supper" it is to be served at 6 o'clock. The Lyman P.-T. A. singers (Continued on Page Four)

Italians Engage In New Push On Northern Front

ABMARA, Eritrea, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Italian columns smashed their way south last night from the Beit River to the Lake Tana region—Great Britain's sphere of influence in Ethiopia.

The columns, in addition to thousands of infantrymen, include light and heavy tanks, armored cars, field artillery and scores of the machine gun units.

Airplanes guided the advance and simultaneously clearing the road with an incessant hail of bombs on all Ethiopian positions. It is believed this offensive is the opening of a mass advance along the entire northern front, which Marshal Pietro Badoglio decided to order before the rainy season sets in.

Jno. M. Bryan Dies In Ft. Lauderdale Home

FT. LAUDERDALE, Mar. 27.—John M. Bryan, member of a prominent Florida family, died yesterday at his home near this city. He was a brother of the late Judge Nathan P. Bryan of the United States District Court of Appeals and of the late William P. Bryan, once United States senator from Florida. John Bryan was a prominent East Coast developer and was at one time chairman of the Broward county board of commissioners.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Gaila Murray Bryan; three children, John Murray Bryan, Charles Bell Bryan and Lourey Bryan; five sisters, Mrs. Charles A. Carson, Miami; Mrs. Arthur E. Donagan, Orange Park; Mrs. Marshall Price, Miami; Mrs. Lawrence R. Nelson, and Mrs. V. Clyde House of Jacksonville.

James M. Carson, prominent Miami attorney, is a nephew of Mr. Bryan.

Trial Delayed By Hauptmann Trial

Controversy Over Political Beliefs Bitterly Scored By Gov. Hoffman

TAMPA, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Efforts to seat a six-man jury on the last November flogging case, on charges of kidnaping E. L. Poulton, one of three victims of the last November flogging case, moved slowly today at the Whittaker chief defense attorney, engaged in controversy with Norman Thomas, former Socialist candidate for President, over whether Thomas is a communist. Whittaker charged Thomas with being a communist in questions to venturers, but Thomas replied by telegraph he is not, and Walter Roush, chairman of the Socialist executive committee in Florida, issued a statement supporting Thomas.

Norman Thomas, who came here and made an address condemning the floggings, was described by Whittaker as "the nationally known communist and propagandist," in asking venturers whether they heard the Thomas speech.

Shoemaker's brother, L. E. Shoemaker, of Tampa, said he was a member of the Socialist party in Vermont before coming to Tampa, but he denied the dead man ever belonged to the communist party. He cited a speech in which he said Joseph Shoemaker described communists as the "bitterest foes" of the Socialist party.

Midwest Rivers Being Swollen By Heavy Rain

By The Associated Press
Heavy rains swelled Midwestern streams today, but receding waters facilitated reconstruction in flood swept sections of the upper Ohio valley.

The Ohio River spilled over its shores again in the Wheeling, W. Va., area but without causing appreciable damage as the new crest here down on Marietta, Ohio, was a 40-foot stage anticipated. Danger was apparently passed along the river from Steubenville to Portsmouth, Ohio, meteorologists predicted.

Alton Fernell Seeks Office Of Constable In Fourth District

E. Alton Fernell today announced as a candidate for constable in the Fourth District, to succeed his father, E. A. Fernell, who has been constable in that section for several years.

Alton Fernell was born and raised in the Oviedo section, was graduated from the schools there, and has always lived in Seminole County, with the exception of the time he served in the Navy during the World War. He belongs to the American Legion Post in Sanford and the Baptist Church in Oviedo.

Roosevelt Cruising Around Ciacos Isle

MIAMI, Mar. 27.—President Roosevelt is cruising in the vicinity of Ciacos Island, northeast of Great Inagua Island, according to wireless messages received here.

A later message reported the arrival of the President aboard the Patonias at West Ciacos Island. "Sea smooth, no squallion," was the report of Capt. Wilson Brown, the President's naval aide. Nothing was said about fishing and apparently most of the day was spent in traveling.

Hitler Scorns Townsend Club Famous 14-Pt. Peace Program

Demand For Equality Among Nations Is Again Asserted By German Dictator

ESSEN, Germany, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, carrying his election campaign to the industrial Krupp Works before an audience of 870,000 persons, said "There can be no real world peace without equality between partners."

Standing on a platform built on a locomotive chassis, the German chancellor emphasized previous statements in pleading for equality among nations for the Reich. "There can no longer be victors and vanquished," he declared, as listeners cheered enthusiastically. "There can no longer be honored and dishonored."

In explaining his own position as head of the government he said, "I am dependent upon no one. I possess neither bonds nor shares, not even a bank account," and the workers cheered again.

Hitler referred scornfully to the 14-point peace program advocated by former President Woodrow Wilson of the United States before the Versailles peace conference. He said he had never entered upon any secret arrangement nor would he ever in the future. "But if other nations arm to the teeth, I shall certainly see to it that our sovereignty over our own territory is safeguarded," he declared.

21 Persons Killed In Plane Crashes In Foreign Lands

By The Associated Press
Twenty-one deaths were chalked up against aviation mishaps in three foreign countries Thursday, fourteen of them in the crash of a tourist airplane in Mexico.

Ten German tourists, on their way home after a Mexican visit, three crew members and an aviation official died as their trimotored ship smashed into the rocky saddle between the volcanic Popocatepetl and Iztaccihuatl.

Three of the victims were titled. Six were women.

At Lyndhurst, Hampshire, in England, four men and a woman were killed when an airliner crashed.

Near Moscow, in Russia, two of the Soviet's best known women parachute pumbers were killed while practicing delayed opening jumps. They were Liuba Berlik and Tamara Ivanova.

Office Of Registrar Is Sought By McNab

David K. McNab, manager for the last seven years of the Seminole County Credit Association, announced today as a candidate for the office of supervisor of registration. He has been a resident of the county since 1924, living on West First Street at Wilson's Corner, and was with the Hill Lumber Company or five years before taking over the direction of the Credit Association. Mr. McNab is a property owner and taxpayer, a Mason, member of the Baptist Church and was superintendent of the Sunday School of the church for several years. This is his first venture into politics.

As manager of the Seminole County Credit Association, Mr. McNab has for years kept a complete record of vital statistics, changes in residence address of all Seminole County people, and other facts quite necessary, in his opinion to keeping the registration books up to date.

Steeplechase Won By Reynoldstown Again

AINTHRE, Eng'nd, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Major Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown repeated his 1935 victory in the Grand National Steeplechase today. Sir Davis Llewellyn's eye, an outsider, was second and James V. Rank's Bachelor Prince was third in a field of 25. Golden Miller, 1934 winner and favorite today, fell at the first jump, regained his feet, but was pulled up before completing the first round.

Only eight horses finished the four and one-half mile test.

Townsend Club Members Paid Nearly Million

Tremendous Sum Has Been Expended To Further Campaign For Pension Fund

Organizers Paid Big Commission

About $2,000 Monthly Was Income Of California Manager

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Total receipts of the Townsend old age pension organization since its inception January, 1934, were estimated today at $95,000,000 at a special House investigation committee hearing. R. E. Clements, resigned national secretary of the organization, was the witness.

On the stand yesterday, Clements testified that the manager of California receives monthly commissions of between $1,000 and $12,000. He further testified that state managers also receive a percent of all "quotas," or sums which the clubs turn in to national headquarters.

Clements was unable to say how many Townsend Clubs were in existence when national headquarters were moved from Los Angeles to Washington last year. He did say, however, that there are 1100 clubs in California, birth place of the movement.

The membership of these clubs, he said, ranges from 100 up to 22,000 in Los Angeles.

Questioning developed the organization has divided the country into four regions headed by regional managers and that each state has five, or more, local managers.

Clements testified money collected from individual clubs is deposited in a state area account on which only the regional manager may draw. The regional manager deposits in a regional fund on which only national headquarters may draw.

California, the witness testified, has six area managers who receive ten cents on each new member, ten cents on each renewal and 40 per cent of the club "quotas," or payments fixed by national headquarters. Regional managers, he said, receive $50 a week.

In reply to one question, the witness said the Western region of California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota and New Mexico provide more revenue than any other.

Under new regulations, Clements said minimum club membership is set at 50 for a "junior club," and 100 for a "senior club" with a maximum of 1000. Clubs already organized are excepted. All indications that the movement prospered from the first were given in Clements' testimony that $43,295 was deposited in the California State Bank of Long Beach, Calif., during the first 10 months of the organization's existence, from Feb. 1 to Dec. 1, 1934.

Clements said Dr. Townsend first approached him with the pension plan in the fall of 1933 and the organization was incorporated in California on January 24, 1934. The witness said he did not devote his entire time to it until May, or June of the next year.

"I considered Dr. Townsend a brilliant man and a physician," he noted. Clements asserted, although he resigned only this week because of differences with Townsend over policies and "political maneuvering."

Both he and Townsend, he testified, were engaged in real estate work on a commission basis at the time the Townsend plan was conceived.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A NATION'S GREATNESS

Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.—Proverbs 14: 34.

As we get it, the United States, England, and France have just concluded a naval treaty to build bigger and stronger navies.

Vernon Hawthorne announces that he has decided against running for governor. Some time ago Hawthorne said he would run if he were convinced that the people of Florida wanted a better man for governor. Evidently, he has not been convinced.

The Tampa Tribune is suggesting that the proposed cross state canal be constructed as a shallow lock canal for barges and yachts instead of a deep sea level canal. Such a canal, it is said, would cost about $30,000,000. Well, the proposal has one redeeming feature anyway, it would save about a hundred million dollars.

Among other prominent visitors recently in Florida was Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the board of the world's biggest corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Mr. Jones came to Florida to confer with the President and met him in Tinianville, according to the Star-Advocate, shortly after the Rollins ceremony.

Japanese soldiers cross the border into Soviet territory and after a half hour's fighting retire leaving a number of dead and injured on the field of battle. But this is not war they say. Just all good clean fun between a couple of old sparring partners. In the modern sense wars are not declared any more. They are just fought.

Some 225 Americans are richer today as the result of a golden stream of prize winnings pouring into this country from the Irish hospitals sweepstakes draws, netting each one of them an average of $3600 a piece. But that is not news, and so what is not known, is how many Americans are poorer as a result of having bought tickets which did not win.

We notice an increasing reliance on the part of political candidates to build platforms on which to run. Most of them announce that they will present their platform later. The idea seems to be that nowadays a platform is more of a liability than an asset. The people seem to understand pretty thoroughly nowadays that platforms are simply built to be used under an attack from enemies shortly after the election. However, a political platform, good or bad, does give the discriminating voter an insight into what a candidate may be thinking. It is often so well to vote against a man for what he advocates as when what he fails to advocate.

A considerable controversy has arisen over the question of whose word is the cross state canal. The word "was" advisedly because it is becoming increasingly apparent that among the higher up there is a rapidly growing disposition to ignore any responsibility whatever with it. Some say that it was President's "pet project" but it is now playing politics with the word from him. Some have produced favorable evidence to show that the word was his for fear of losing it. Others insist that the word never was in favor of the canal. But if the word was his, it should be his responsibility to determine its execution.

Be Prepared

With the death toll in Sanford's worst automobile accident, in the memory of most of us, now standing at three, the information divulged by Miss Frances McDougal, Red Cross nurse, that the lives of two of the victims were lost unnecessarily because none of the many spectators possessed a knowledge of first aid treatment, brings home the importance of the local Red Cross society's course in first aid.

"Only by the grace of God," Miss McDougal told a reporter of the Herald, "the persons who carried H. Palmer Eastwood from the scene of the wreck to the hospital did not touch his spinal cord. A vertebrae in Mr. Eastwood's neck was broken, but hospital surgeons have placed his neck in a rigid plaster cast and it is reported that there is every prospect he will recover without any lasting injury. But had any pressure been applied to the spinal cord in moving him to the hospital, Mr. Eastwood would have been paralyzed for the rest of his life."

It is not pleasant to reflect upon the harrowing events of the accident, but it is so important that people realize the urgency of knowing what to do in an emergency and doing it quickly that we feel it may do good to call attention to what Miss McDougal said further. It is revealed that Miss Buchanan died because she lost so much blood before she reached the hospital. "No one knew what to do when the young woman staggered up and down the highway after the wreck crying out that she was bleeding to death, but a person who had some knowledge of first aid could have stopped the flow of blood by applying pressure at the side of the jaw," Miss McDougal said.

So often a person's life hangs by the merest thread and this, evidently, was true in the case of Scotty Shaw, who lingered four days before he succumbed, because no one knew how to properly apply a tourniquet, which would have saved his life, according to the Red Cross nurse. It does seem extremely tragic that the lives of two persons might have been saved had there been someone there only moderately versed in first aid treatment.

It is for this reason that the Herald calls attention to the splendid classes in first aid which are being conducted, free of charge, by Miss McDougal and Mrs. Alice Ward, and it urges that as many persons as possible attend these classes so that if, and when, the time comes a life will not have to be sacrificed because no one knew what to do.

Protect The Birds

The beautiful plumage which is often seen on top women's hats is not infrequently that obtained from the beautiful birds called egrets, which may be seen gracing most any Florida landscape where there is swamp and glade. Deplored the slaughter of egrets for their plumage, the Miami Herald writes:

"Man is often a brutal beast that destroys all life, including his own. Animals are not so stupid as to engage in huge wars among themselves; few of them engage in killing for the sport of butchery. The cat plays with the mouse, but she is domesticated and almost civilized and perhaps has absorbed some of the attributes of humans.

"Man must organize to preserve wild life from the attacks of other men. Various creatures of the air and land have been virtually wiped out by the hunters, for sports and profits. Among the birds thus threatened has been the lovely egret. Its plumage reaches the height of beauty at nesting time when the hunter seeks it out to kill, leaving the young to perish. Such a course, naturally, would lead to the eventual extinction of the bird.

"The game agents have been mobilized again by the agriculture department and sent into the Everglades to guard these egrets against the professional killer. This protection, established for 22 years, has proved successful in cutting down the slaughter, but it is a sad reflection upon man and woman that such defenses must be erected by the government. No woman with kindness in her heart for birds would buy or wear such plumage plucked from the carcasses of murdered creatures. Those who do are equally guilty with the profit-seeking butchers."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Norman DeForest is expected in Sanford about Apr. 1 to visit his mother after which he and his wife will spend several weeks in Daytona before returning North.

James H. Cowan, the veteran tin and metal man, who has been in charge of this department of the Geo. H. Fernald Co. for many years, has purchased the same and will operate it from the same place in the future. Jim Cowan, as he is familiarly called by his friends, needs no introduction to the people of this section as he has been a resident of Sanford for many years and is thoroughly familiar with the tin, sheet metal, and roofing business.

EL PASO, Mar. 24.—The pursuit of Villa has developed into a race between the bandits, mounted on Mexican ponies, and the American Cavalry. Dispatches from the front say Villa has broken through the Carranza lines and is fleeing southward. The American troops are straining every nerve to capture or kill him before he reaches the Sierra Tarahumara mountains in Guerrero district.

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—Willard, the heavyweight champion of the world, outpointed Moran in a hard fought 10 round bout tonight. Willard had the better of Moran in every round except the third, which went to Moran by a shade, and the eighth, and the ninth which were even. Moran fought gamely although making no impression on Willard with his hard swings.

"Dame Rumor" reports that work will soon be commenced at Hoosier Springs to convert it into an attractive public resort but to the people of Longwood and vicinity it will never be the same "fear old swimming hole" where we have enjoyed the wonders and beauties of Nature and the seclusion that a public resort can never give.

Officials of the United States Weather Bureau here say that over a considerable portion of the country abnormally wet weather has prevailed since the great drought of 1924 was broken in September of that year.

Since that time, precipitation has been 125 percent of normal over the central Mississippi valley and the area from the Allegheny mountains to the Atlantic coast. This situation came to a head when a low-pressure air mass

Acc Arbitrator Aids LaGuardia End N. Y. Strike

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Informed persons in Washington credit Edward P. McGrady, the big, smiling Irish assistant secretary of labor, with actually settling the strike of building and ice employes in New York.

Officially it was the plan of Mayor LaGuardia that broke the prolonged deadlock between the Building Service Employees Union and the Realty Advisory Board, but McGrady is credited with laying the groundwork for it and acceptance.

Here's what happened, according to those on the inside.

Three days before the strike was settled and at a time when it appeared agreement was far distant, McGrady put in a long distance call from his office in Washington to Mayor LaGuardia. Inability of union officials and building owners to agree on terms for reinstatement of strikers was holding up the show.

McGrady suggested to the New York mayor that the procedure followed in settling the strike at the Industrial Union Company's plant in Cleveland, which had worked so successfully, be tried out.

In that strike there was a difference of opinion between the company and union officials over the status of 54 men. The company refused to rehire them because they allegedly engaged in sabotage during the strike.

After some persuasion, McGrady induced both sides to permit him as a disinterested conciliator to pass upon the individual cases with authority to decide who merited re-employment and who didn't. The plan proved successful. Both employers and union officials were satisfied with decisions and peace soon was restored.

McGrady advised LaGuardia to try this same plan. The mayor agreed, appointed an arbitrator whose word would be final in the matter of reinstatement of strikers, and some 48 hours later the strike was settled.

Thus "Ed" McGrady, the Admiration's "No. 1" trouble-shooter, by labor officials was able to add another victory to his record as an arbitrator.

Full well he had with a military bearing, McGrady's appearance at the fact he is paid by the hour, slightly less and more than a consultant for a day, is hardly noticeable.

He has been successively a newspaper boy, amateur pugilist, newspaper pressman, former city councilman, traveling union representative, recruit of skilled labor during the World War, investigator of war department contracts, and for 14 years—up to 1933—legislative agent for the American Federation of Labor.

He has one basic rule for settling strikes—the rule of common sense.

"You don't know what you are running into when you start a new job," he says. "You've got to feel your way along."

Chevrolet's high-compression valve-in-head engine gives economy without equal!

Every test proves it's more economical... Every Chevrolet owner knows it's more economical... And every person will readily understand these simple A-B-C reasons why it is more economical

CHEVROLET

The Chevrolet engine is the most economical automobile engine produced today, because (1) it is a six-cylinder engine, and (2) it is a valve-in-head six-cylinder engine.

The six cylinders use less gas and oil—in fact, use the least gas and oil—because six cylinders are the most economical combination used in modern automobiles.

The valve-in-head design cuts friction, compression still lower because there is less loss of heat through the walls of the combustion chamber. Valve-in-head engines, and the advanced compression of the Chevrolet engine, give more power and economy.

Most important of all Chevrolet's most advanced cooling system, your own steering wheel, and the power operation of all moving parts of the engine, are the result of the Chevrolet design. Chevrolet's value is in the details.

DeLand Attorney Is Sentenced To Prison

DELAND, Mar. 27.—(AP)—Judge George W. Jackson sentenced Elmer Jones, local attorney convicted last Friday of manslaughter, to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Pending disposition of a motion for a new trial, which defense counsel has indicated will be presented within the time allowed by statute, the court ordered an order staying the execution of sentence, and released Jones on his present $5,000 bond.

The case is the result of an automobile accident north of Deland Mar. 17, 1935, in which Jones drove his machine against that of E. M. Butler, Crescent City merchant, causing fatal injuries to Mary Suzanne Butler, 6 years old. Jones was charged by the state with being intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Vita-Mil Medicine Helped My Whole System

Said Mr. Louis Boley, of RFD No. 5, Box 113, Pensacola, Fla., in his recent praise of this great herbal medicine, which is being introduced by the LANEY DRUG STORE, Sanford, Fla. He continues: "I had been a victim of torpid liver and constipation for a long time. My complexion was very bad for I couldn't find anything to help my liver and I was tired, weak, and in a run-down condition.

"Nothing helped me until I began taking Vita-Mil and this medicine has done wonders for me. My bowels are now regular, my complexion has been in a long time and my liver has been cleared and now works like a charm. I feel much better and my complexion has cleared up. I owe the credit for these changes to Vita-Mil and I urge all who suffer to give it a trial. Vita-Mil will also help relieve rheumatism, neuritis, kidney and other common ailments. Club Cabaret Dinner Attended By Throng

Over 125 persons attended the cabaret dinner given Thursday evening at the Woman's Club by the board of managers of the club for the benefit of the building fund. Dinner was served and two programs were presented, one by local talent, and the other by the Griswold Sisters of Ithaca, N. Y.

Numerous small tables were arranged about the club auditorium which was decorated for the occasion with a profusion of garden flowers. Cigarette girls in costume added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

The following program by local talent directed by Mrs. Frances A. Hickson was presented while dinner was being served: Song, "Sugar Plum," Madilyn Truitt.

Song, "Rhythm in Nursery Rhymes," Cayda Ferguson Tap Dance, Evelyn Stiles. Acrobatic Dance, Beverly Westmas.

Song, "Moon Over Miami," Elizabeth Pippin. Comedy Tap Dance, Cayda Ferguson and Mary Frances Wells. Tap Dance, "Goody, Goody," Joyce Whiddon.

Song and Dance, "Syncope and Feet" Cayda Ferguson, soloist. Joyce Whiddon, Nell Stewart, Evelyn Stiles, Beverly Westmas, and Mary Frances Wells. Ballet Dance, Nell Stewart. Tap Dance, Beverly Westmas.

Miss Mary Beidin furnished piano accompaniment for the entertainment and also rendered solo during the acts. The following girls composed the chorus: Jane Lloyd, Jane Schultz, Jane Bryan, Elen Brinkley, Inez Williams, Elizabeth Kelly, Hazel Lodge, Mary Lynn, Rose, Alice Wight, Mary Wiggins, Hazel Strange, Janice Moss, Estelle Hurt, Louise Perkins, Evelyn Stowe, Evelyn Dale, Miriam Methvin, Katherine Hurt, Olive Chapman, Letitia Gormly, Betty Whithen, Helen Tamm, Carol Jean Nix, Rosa Merchant, and Mary Lodge.

Following dinner the Griswold Sisters entertained with impromptu readings, monologues, and musical readings and received an enthusiastic reception from the audience. Mrs. J. Adrian Brown, Mrs. J. B. Cogburn, Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, Mrs. J. Ross Adams, Mrs. Florence G. Moore, and Mrs. W. E. Kirchoff were in charge of serving and Mrs. John Melchior, Mrs. A. J. Peterson, Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. J. T. Newby, and Mrs. J. A. Young composed the dinner committee.

Other committees assisting in making the affair a success were: Mrs. O. M. Harrison and Mrs. B. C. Moore, entertainment; Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, publicity; Mrs. Arthur Branan and Mrs. A. M. Phillips, tickets; Mrs. H. M. Parworth and Mrs. James Moughton, decorations.

Two Killed At Dance Suspect Being Sought

LAKE WALES, Mar. 27.—Search was continued today for Rob Harrison, 30, believed by Sheriff William Chase as responsible for the fatal shooting of Barney Bass, 22, and Miss Lynn Williams, 22, at a dance hall early yesterday morning.

He said he was told Harrison and Bass had an argument over which of them would dance with Miss Williams and that later Harrison found the couple in his automobile and shot both of them. They were dead when they reached a hospital here.

Harrison, the sheriff said, disappeared immediately after the shooting.

Riding Hobby-Horses Indoors And Out

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

The following is an address given by Mrs. H. H. Dean Thursday morning at the board of directors of the Sanford High School in a program sponsored by the Sanford High School Parent-Teachers Association.

To my subject, "Riding and the Moving Pictures," given me by Mrs. Roumiltat, I have added a sub-title, "Riding Hobby-Horses Indoors and Out," because I believe so firmly that every boy and girl, each person, in fact, should have at least one outdoor sport and one indoor recreation hobby-horse that he can ride gaily along the highway of life to add color, beauty, and charm to his journey.

In speaking to high school students on recreation, one naturally turns to the organized athletics, football, baseball, and basketball. I'm going to skip these and touch upon the more diversified sports that might be of interest to the ninety percent who are not included in these activities. Perhaps I decided to do this because the most thing I know about football is that never to be forgotten occasion when I went to the Army Navy game as the guest of the captain of the West Point team and sat all through a muddy so-called game, cold and shivering warmly in a grey and gold cadet blanket and the clamor of being the football captain's girl that I didn't know I was taking cold until I almost had pneumonia.

I was on the scrub basketball team and I thought riding for fun and glory, but I got so excited in match games that I nearly threw the ball to the enemy and that ended my career. However, if you will pardon my mentioning it, I was on the track team and could take a mean hurdle in my day!

In the field of what I call personal sports, the variety is so bewildering that it's difficult to make a choice. In New York last week I interviewed Jack Dempsey and I asked him what he liked to do to have a good time. He replied, "I like all sports and playing with my boys."

There's horse back riding and you almost have to cheat to beat him. There's something about the "fater of horse" hoofs, the crack of saddle leather, the rhythmic swing of a brisk canter that gets into one's blood and gives fresh meaning to the phrase the joy of living.

And the possibilities of color are simply endless. There's hunting and jumping. I remember once I was trying to learn to jump a horse over a hurdle in an army post. My instructor was a rather hard-boiled army officer who said, "To jump a horse, one must have courage, knowledge, and enthusiasm."

"Is there any chance for me?" I asked eagerly. He replied, "You, Mrs. Dean, have enthusiasm."

Then, there's hunting on horseback. If you want to hear something thrilling, just listen to Joe Hutchison tell about him and his mount, Monte, dashing after a deer over the palmettes down at the hunting lodge. And of course, there's hunting on foot. There's shooting, as good fun, but I like quail hunting best because the dogs make such an exciting part of the picture. Early morning in the woods with footprints in the dew, the black jack flaming red, and suddenly, the dogs are frozen in a perfect point—and there there is the electrifying drumming whirr of quail wings.

Golf is a game that is always interesting and there is a peculiar joy one derives from hearing the satisfactory click a club head makes when it hits a ball squarely, not that I ever hear this except when somebody else's club makes it. I always feel so purposeful and athletic striding along after my drive over the fairway, and usually get interested in smelling the orange blossom picture-making year, for it seems or watching a red bird in a saw the filming of "Midsummer tree, only to wake up and find my derby caddy with a broad grin on his face way behind me.

I think tennis is a grand game although I am probably the world's worst player. One good thing about it is that one can get the exercise and the fun in such a short time and in high school times so precious.

In Florida we have the whole ocean to swim in! Of course, you swim high school girls don't have to worry about figures but they say that swimming is one of the best exercises to maintain a perfect silhouette. One of the most perfect parts of a swim is lying on the beach after it's over in that golden lotus cater's state just being part of the wind and the sea and the sky.

I'm not qualified for fishing because I can't stop talking long enough but I did catch a nice, young bass on a fishing trip down among the Florida keys. Well, as long as I'm telling a fish story, I might as well make it a big one.

Then outdoors, there's the pleasure of getting acquainted with the world we live in. I studied, gardening. Mason Cook, by the way, told me that one of his hobbies was "making things grow."

And now for our indoor hobby. The array is enchanting, the variety infinite. Reading, one of the best, I think, about which Andrew Lang wrote:

"The gift, the fairest, gave me, Three they often bestowed of yours. The love of books, the Golden Key, That opens the Enchanted Door!"

Painting, dancing. I wonder if any of you went down to see the Ballet Russe when it was in the land, studying period furniture or costumes, stamp collecting, amateur theatricals. I'm simply useless, but our subject happens to be Moving Pictures. Too much cannot be said on the subject of riding the movie hobby with intelligence. If you choose your material carefully with the same care and discrimination with which a gourmet selects his food you will find not only great pleasure but much that is stimulating and beneficial on the other hand, there are, of course, some bad movies, just as there are cheap, shoddy people for whom they are made. With the producers able to secure the best actors of the world and willing to make fine pictures if the public wants them, it is a challenge to the young people of the country to show which type of amusement they want. If you go to the best pictures, then the management can afford to give them to you.

What, with some of the brightest stars on Broadway commuting between New York and Hollywood, the influx of writers of distinction to the film capital from all over the world, and the present trend toward the classics for film material, the outlook is encouraging. For those who love Dickens, there was just recently "The Tale of Two Cities," and, not so recently, "David Copperfield." I confess I was a little bit afraid to go to "David Copperfield." I had known him so long and he was such a special sort of friend made when I was a little girl on the rug on the floor by the fire when my mother read "Dickens" aloud. We were Dickens-maniacs at our house. It was a thrill to me in later years in a course in nineteenth century literature to have the white haired Charles Cowland, Harvard's famous "Copey," look down at us with delicate scorn and say, "It's beautiful to be young, but it's better to know Dickens."

But Freddie Bartholomew didn't let me down as David and I for W. O. Fields as Micawber. I'll never forget the inflections of his voice when he said "Copperfield." And this last was a memorable picture-making year, for it seems or watching a red bird in a saw the filming of "Midsummer tree, only to wake up and find my derby caddy with a broad grin on his face way behind me.

Night's Dream" directed by Max Reinhardt, Europe's ace director. Dick Powell may not read blank verse with the rich measured cadence accorded it by Walter Hampden and E. H. Sothern, but it's very compensating to me to see a fairy slide down a moon beam, for in the movies anything can happen, and does!

In the field of fantasy and fairy tales, the movies offer a boundless horizon for the full with trick photography, and lighting is a perfect medium for beautiful impossible things. I'd like to see them try "Peter Pan" again and Barrie's "Mary Rose."

I wonder if any of you saw Walt Disney's "Water Babies"? I'll never forget it, partly because of the round wondering eyes of my little boy on the front row, and partly because it was like a summer idyl with its lovely music, its elves, riding about on dragon flies and turtles, and the water babies saving their princess on the water lilies. In "The Snow-White and the Seven Dwarfs" were Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck in a swash-buckling, hard-hitting polo game.

For those who like moonlight and moonlight and the Old South, there was "So Red the Rose" made from Starke Young's beautiful and stirring novel. For thought-provoking drama, "The Petrified Forest" adapted from Robert Sherwood's play with Lucie Arnott who did the lead on Broadway and Betty Davis. Here is acting at its best, so simple and sincere, yet so inspired that one is caught up into the emotional maelstrom of these people in this strange desert country. There is a feeling of Greek drama, the theory that the elements had of the benefits of tragedy the audience suffers with the protagonist and is cleansed, purified, and uplifted.

For romance, glamour, and music, there are "Rosa Parla" with Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald, and the Grand Music Masters. The tremendous personal popularity of this Tennessee girl is amazing. She came to New York when I was there recently.

The world is so full of a number of things. I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

I hope you'll have luck in your day going and your sports. You are at such an incredibly exciting time of life. You sit on top of the world so debonairly and see the highways and can select which one you will take and what kind of person you will be! There are so many good things one can choose, why should anyone want to take the bad? There's so much laughter that is ray and golden-hearted, why should anyone who is looking for fun have to stoop to what is cheap and vulgar? I have a good riding on your hobby-horses and hope that they will always help you to agree with Robert Louis Stevenson's "Happy Thought" in the Child's Garden of Verses.

The world is so full of a number of things. I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

High Speed Italian Warfare In Desert Brings Kitchener Tactics Up To Date

By MARK BARRON
WITH THE ITALIAN SOUTH-ETHIOPIAN ARMY at Neghelli, Ethiopia, Mar. 27.—(AP)—The Italian "hell on wheels" motorized column which audaciously drove 300 miles straight through the heart of the Ethiopian army on the Dolo front, is a high speed, modern version of the sort of desert warfare in which General Rodolfo Graziani has been participating for almost 30 years.

"Lawrence of Arabia or Kitchener of the Sudan would have been that push which took Neghelli," a veteran colonel of African wars said. "How they would have marveled at this 28-mile-long column of trucks filled with Italian soldiers capturing in eight days a region that would have taken two months in the days when only camel corps were used." When General Graziani entered Neghelli he headed a column of 1,400 trucks, the slower moving camel corps serving as guards on the flanks and rear.

Five years earlier on the very same day, Jan. 20, 1931, he led his victorious troops into Cufra which brought under full Italian control Tripoli and Cirenaica, now united as Libya. At Cufra, General Graziani only had two trucks, his troops being mounted almost entirely on camels.

The Italian commander on the southern front, according to officers who have fought many years under him, is a military leader who doesn't cling to the old traditions of warfare when he can find more up-to-date methods. He follows two main principles in his brand of desert warfare—the use of "flying columns" and the capture and isolation of all sources of water supply.

He is an enthusiast for mobility and for high spirits among his soldiers. He likes to keep them on fighting edge.

"I prefer moving my soldiers in trucks," he told me. "They advance faster and they arrive fresh for fighting, not worn out as they would be if they had to march." Co-operating with the "flying columns" making surprise raids on the enemy in jungle and desert, is an intense activity on the part of the aviation corps. Fierce bombing of the larger Ethiopian bases precede a main offensive like the ones up the Daba Farms and Ganale Goria rivers, but when the "hell on wheels" outfit gets underway then the scouting planes go into action.

General Graziani emphasizes that the importance of mobility in African warfare includes not only effective movement of troops but also effective movement of supplies and extension of communications. Hence aviation's important role is for early offensive and, later, for scouting information.

Three times during the push on Neghelli, scouting planes signalled the section of the motor column to which I was attached of the approach of enemy squadrons attempting surprise attacks from the cover of the thick bush through which the Italians were advancing. Each time the warning from the air allowed the troops to launch unexpected counter-attacks to drive back the Ethiopians.

General Graziani also is a believer in the efficacy of barbed wire. Famous in military annals is the 225 miles of barbed, electric charged fence which he strung along the border between Erythraea and Libya and which proved the trap against which he drove the rebellious tribes of the Cufra desert into submission.

Today the Dolo and Gonden fronts are intricate webs of barbed defenses, supported by walls of thorn hedges which are even more impenetrable than the wire.

Detroit, St. Louis In World Series, Thinks R. Hornsby

Not Much Chance Of Second Division Teams Getting Up

R. ROGERS HORNSBY
 Manager St. Louis Browns
WEST PALM BEACH, Mar. 27.—Looking at the American League race at this time, when the rookies hopefuls are in full bloom and most of the hospital wards are empty of stars, I pick Detroit and St. Louis to head the two divisions—the Tigers to repeat and the Browns to win fifth place.

We finished seventh last season, but were coming strong in the finish with approximately the same team we will have ready for a fly-off start this year. They don't appear to be a chance for any of the second division clubs of 1935 to get into the top row, but if any of the so-called "Big Four" break up, I think you will find the Browns sneaking in there.

After their experience last year, in the field of Irving Barks, Tom Sawyer, Lynn Lary and Harlan, and don't forget we now have Jim Bottomley—should be a greatly improved one, lending his steady intelligence to our pitchers that was sorely missed last season until it was too late for us to get anywhere. You've got to have a steady infield to get the best out of pitchers.

Generally, we will rely on the same pitching staff except, that we look for help from young Elton Walker, who needs only control to be one of the best winning hurlers in the game. Our outfield is set with Julius Solers, Sam West and Ed Coleman as regulars and Ray Pepper and either Mel Hunter or Hal Warlock as the reserves. Personally, I hope to play more than I have in two years as I feel stronger and able to get out there. Our catching should be improved. We have Rolfe Henley and Angelo Giarrant.

Every team has one or more knotty problems this year, but I can't help feeling that Boston and Detroit will be the two hot contenders, with the Tigers getting the edge. Boston obtained tremendous strength with the acquisition of Fox, Cramer and McNair, but the question there is harmony. If they all click and along, the Red Sox will be doubly dangerous. There is no question as to the spirit and harmony at Detroit. They have had it for two years and have it again this year. And anyone who doesn't think Al Simmons will be a big help is going to be fooled. Even with another poor year, Al is a cinch to drive in more runs than Jo-Jo Whitey or any of the other 1935 outfield reserves did.

The Yankees don't appear strong enough to me. Cleveland has a good chance, but the Indians have to develop into a good road club to win. No poor road club ever won the pennant in this league.

Sanford People See Dogs Race On Longwood Tract

Last night was not Sanford Night at Sanford Orland Kennel Club greyhound race track near Longwood but about 100 residents of the city were there. Traffic Sing, Backslider, Hawk, Light and Ash Tray were successful in winning out in the third of six Derby elimination.

Traffic Sing took the lead at the start, was 10 lengths in front on the far turn, and came home by one of the widest margins recorded by a dog winning the feature ninth this year.

Tonight's entries and selection with the latter capitalized as it dogs which should finish in the money:

First race, quarter mile: TED WARDEN (1), Gay Dictator, Fashion, Bobbie Lee, BUNNY (2), Go Lady, HOT BATTERY (3), (Clayton Brown) (4).

CARDUI

Cardui is a purely vegetable medicine for the relief of functional periodic pain, nervousness and weakness due to poor nourishment. It is successful here by thousands of women.

"I have used Cardui and had good results from its use," writes Mrs. W. E. Barnett, of Taylors, S. C. "I suffered with cramping and headaches and would have a chilly feeling. Sometimes I would feel miserable and have pain more than a day. I would be nervous. I read of Cardui and decided to use it. After taking six bottles of Cardui, I had less pain and was regulated. I feel much better."

When such suffering can be avoided by taking Cardui, isn't it the common sense thing to do? Of course, if it does not seem to reach the cause of your trouble, consult a physician—adv.

Relief Machinery Organized Quickly For Big Disasters

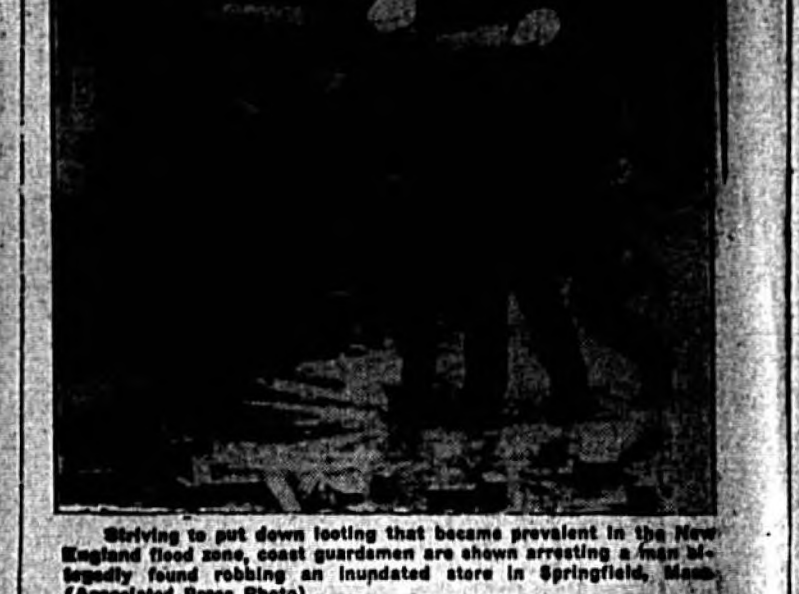

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—(AP)—Tremendous strides in relief work with great disasters have been made in the 17 years since Clara Barton and her associates organized the American Red Cross. The Red Cross has been a small, comparatively unknown organization and communication and transportation facilities were very limited. A few telegraph and railroad lines were available to carry supplies to flood-stricken areas.

Today there is swift, skilled mobilization of the forces of agriculture in isolated towns, the President of the United States who is a member of the Red Cross with its 3,700 chapters prepared for immediate action in emergencies.

When land transportation is hindered as it was in Pittsburgh and other cities during the national coal strike, the national headquarters of the Army, Navy, and National Guard commercial companies and individuals provide invaluable observation services and transport state governors, relief workers, and medical supplies to afflicted areas.

When a telephone service, readily expanded and improved since the San Francisco earthquake of 1906, is completely out of service, the American Red Cross with its 3,700 chapters prepared for immediate action in emergencies.

Large advertisement for Florida Grapefruit: 'Spring Fever in the news. No doubt of it now—the open season for Spring Fever is upon us. The first robin has been duly acknowledged, crickets are tuning up, and the advertising columns of this paper are full of news about gayer things to wear and do and eat and enjoy. Even a shut-in can follow the rhythm of the seasons by reading the advertisements. The first ad for white shoes is as sure a sign of Spring as the first tulip. Soon you'll be seeing in these pages what you dare leave off on the beach this Summer, and hearing what new sun-burn lotion will guard the exposed areas. You'll be buying Spring things off and on for several weeks. Chart your shopping course carefully, wisely, by following the advertisements from day to day. Compare values, select styles, make up your mind before you start the leg work from store to store. You'll save money—and have more time to enjoy the nice weather.'
