Layoffs, Cutbacks Hit Steel Industry

By The Associated Press
A shortage of coal has forced layoffs and production cutbacks in the steel industry, and more are forecast for this week unless coal miners return to their jobs in West Virginia. U.S. Steel said Monday that it had laid off two blast furnace operators at its South Works in Chicago, one at Youngstown, Ohio; and another at its Fairless plant near Philadelphia. Altogether, the layoffs hit 650 men out of work, a company spokesman said.

Chicago-based Inland Steel also said that it began a phased cutback of its 22,500-man workforce at its East Chicago, Ind., but did not disclose the total number of workers affected. Some 26,000 West Virginia coal miners are in the third week of a walkout protesting the lack of gasoline and state restrictions on gasoline sales. The hundreds of mines shut down, six are owned by U.S. Steel, the nation's largest steel maker. The company warned last week that up to 30,000 of its employees may be laid off by the end of this week if the walkout continues.

Other major steel companies also said they were keeping an eye on dwindling coal stocks and weighing the possibility of future layoffs. Sixty-ranked Jones & Laughlin said its stockpiles will be very low if the walkout continues beyond the end of the week. "By then we should be ready to take some action," a spokesman said. Bethlehem, National and Wheeling-Pittsburgh all reported production officials were discussing the coal situation and they expected to have a better picture of the situation by today.

Re-Elect Funds To New Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Finance Committee to Re-elect the President, money manager for the richest political campaign in U.S. history, has closed its books and transferred $3.7 million to a trust account with a Washington bank. The committee, which raised more than $60 million for President Nixon's re-election campaign, now is known as the 1972 Campaign Liquidation Trust. It is administered by three trustees, including former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, who is on trial in New York along with former Attorney General John N. Mitchell on charges arising from a secret $200,000 campaign contribution. The other trustees, according to reports filed with the General Accounting Office, are Charles E. Potter, former U.S. senator from Michigan, and Guilford Dudley Jr., a Nashville, Tenn., insurance executive.

U.S. Steel also said Monday that it has curtailed 25 to 30 percent of its coke production at Fairless; Clairton, Pa.; Gary, Ind.; and Lorain, Ohio, but that there were no layoffs from those cutbacks. Presidential counselor Bryce Harlow, talking with reporters on Nixon's flight on Monday night, accused Rep. Willis Miller, D-Ark., of engaging in McCarthy-like tactics. Harlow, who had dinner with Nixon Monday evening at the President's bayside Florida home, said Miller should "put up or shut up."

Oils said in Little Rock last week that he expects Nixon to resign, indicating he based his forecast on a report being prepared by the House-Senate Internal Revenue Taxation Committee. Mills is vice chairman of the committee, which, at Nixon's request, is studying his federal tax returns for the past four years. Harlow said if Mills has facts on which to base his statements he should make them known. Referring to the era of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Harlow said that 20 years ago the press became upset about a campaign

CBS Appeal Of Contempt To Judges

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A three-judge federal panel had under study today the Columbia Broadcasting System appeal of a $500 contempt-of-court penalty it received for televising sketches made of a courtroom hearing. CBS was convicted of showing the sketches made of a pre-trial hearing in Pensacola, Fla., for the Gainesville Eight, U.S. District Judge Winston E. Arnoff had said that CBS violated one of the gag rules he imposed on newsmen at the hearing. In appealing the July 7, 1973 conviction, CBS said both the order and the way it was made were illegal.

Other major steel companies also said they were keeping an eye on dwindling coal stocks and weighing the possibility of future layoffs. Sixty-ranked Jones & Laughlin said its stockpiles will be very low if the walkout continues beyond the end of the week. "By then we should be ready to take some action," a spokesman said. WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is taking up a bill providing for a mandatory death penalty for certain kinds of federal offenses in the absence of mitigating circumstances. Strongly urged by President Nixon a year ago, the bill was recently approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Arabs Indicate Oil Embargo Halt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt's semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram gave another indication today that Saudi Arabia, the key to the Arab oil embargo against the United States, is in favor of resuming shipments to America. The paper said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, the prime mover for an end to the boycott, met Monday with oil ministers of Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar, Abu Dhabi and Bahrain, and all six agreed on "all aspects of the oil policy." This indicated that the six nations would support Saudi opposition to Libya, Algeria and Syria at the meeting of Arab oil states in Tripoli, Libya, on Wednesday.

Repair Ordered On Faulty Station

He said he could complete Phase I within three weeks, but hoped it would not be tested by a real breakdown as he could not guarantee its effectiveness. Phase II will be a 3,000-foot extension of the holding pipe along S. Triplett Drive northward to Seminole Boulevard. There a new lift station will be constructed with a 10-inch force main leading to the sewage treatment plant. Consultant Engineer Cal Conkin estimated the total cost of Phase II would run between $175,000 and $225,000.

Stock Prices Climb With Oil Flow Hopes

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices climbed today, propelled by hopes for a resumption of oil supplies from the Middle East. The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 1.40 to 888.45, its highest close since last Nov. 14. On Monday the market shook off some early losses to ring up a broad advance. The Dow Jones industrial average gained 10.40 to 888.45, its highest close since last Nov. 14.

America, Panama Negotiate

Treaty To Cover Panama Canal Policies

COPELEY NEWS
Panama and the United States finally have cleared the way for substantive negotiations to begin for a new treaty covering the operation and defense of the Panama Canal. The United States is said to have agreed that Panama should eventually assume sovereignty over the Canal Zone, which has been a piece of U.S. real estate in Central America ever since the 1903 treaty was signed which led to construction of the waterway across the Panamanian isthmus.

How soon, of course, is the sticking point. The current Panamanian government has demanded a relatively short timetable, 10 or 20 years perhaps, for removing U.S. military forces from the Zone and turning operation of the canal over to Panamanians. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, who heads the U.S. negotiating team, says only that it remains in U.S. interests to continue both the operation of the canal and its defense for "an extended period."

It was 10 years ago in January that a bloody clash between rioting Panamanians and U.S. soldiers in the Canal Zone moved the subject of renegotiation of the 1903 treaty to the front burner in our State Department. There has been a willingness by the United States to recognize the aspirations of Panama toward the canal. However, the fact it has taken a full decade to get through the preliminaries of negotiating a new treaty is itself a compelling argument for rejecting the proposition that Panama is ready to assume responsibility for the canal.

Starting in April of 1964 there were more than three years of negotiation to produce draft treaties for consideration by a Panamanian government headed by President Marco A. Robles. Then in 1968 Arnulfo Arias was elected president. He remained in office only 11 days before being ousted by the Panamanian National Guard. After a period of rule by a military junta, Demetrio B. Lakas was installed as president with Gen. Omar Torrijos wielding the real power as "maximum chief." Using the Canal Zone issue as a propaganda weapon for vilifying the United States, the Torrijos government rejected the draft treaties in 1970 and began demanding a speedy end to U.S. sovereignty and closing of U.S. military bases in the Canal Zone.

The Panama Canal is vital to U.S. naval operations, the security of the entire Western Hemisphere and the world's commerce. The idea of surrendering it to the volatile and demagogic politics of the Republic of Panama is unthinkable, no matter how much we sympathize with the aspirations of the Panamanian people who regard it as part of their national heritage.

The present canal must be enlarged, or a new one constructed, to cope with super-tankers and increasing traffic. The Panamanians could never undertake such a project by themselves. There is little point in even discussing a new treaty with Panama that does not recognize the need for a long period of continued U.S. presence, military and managerial, at the canal. The Panamanians should be able to see that from their own history.

Pan American Report Free Chileans Do A Better Job

By JOHN PARKER
Copley News Service

SANTIAGO—The new, free Chile seems to be going ahead with its first important economic objective, to increase copper production, and with it, to start paying off its debts.

During the first nine months of 1973, the five "big" mines averaged only 45,000 tons per month, which would have given them only $40 million for the year, just over half the million tons that had been programmed for that year.

Copper production had been frittered away by Marxist political management of the mines, by "production committees" that were fighting to oust the antigovernment unions, by party conventions which called the men to protest meetings during working hours, and robbing the men of their recreation hours by calling them to political gatherings.

After the Sept. 11 revolution toppled President Salvador Allende, the Marxist bosses were ousted. Some of them, as in the case of Chuquiaguana mine, headed for the border to company auto, with the contents of the company safes in the back.

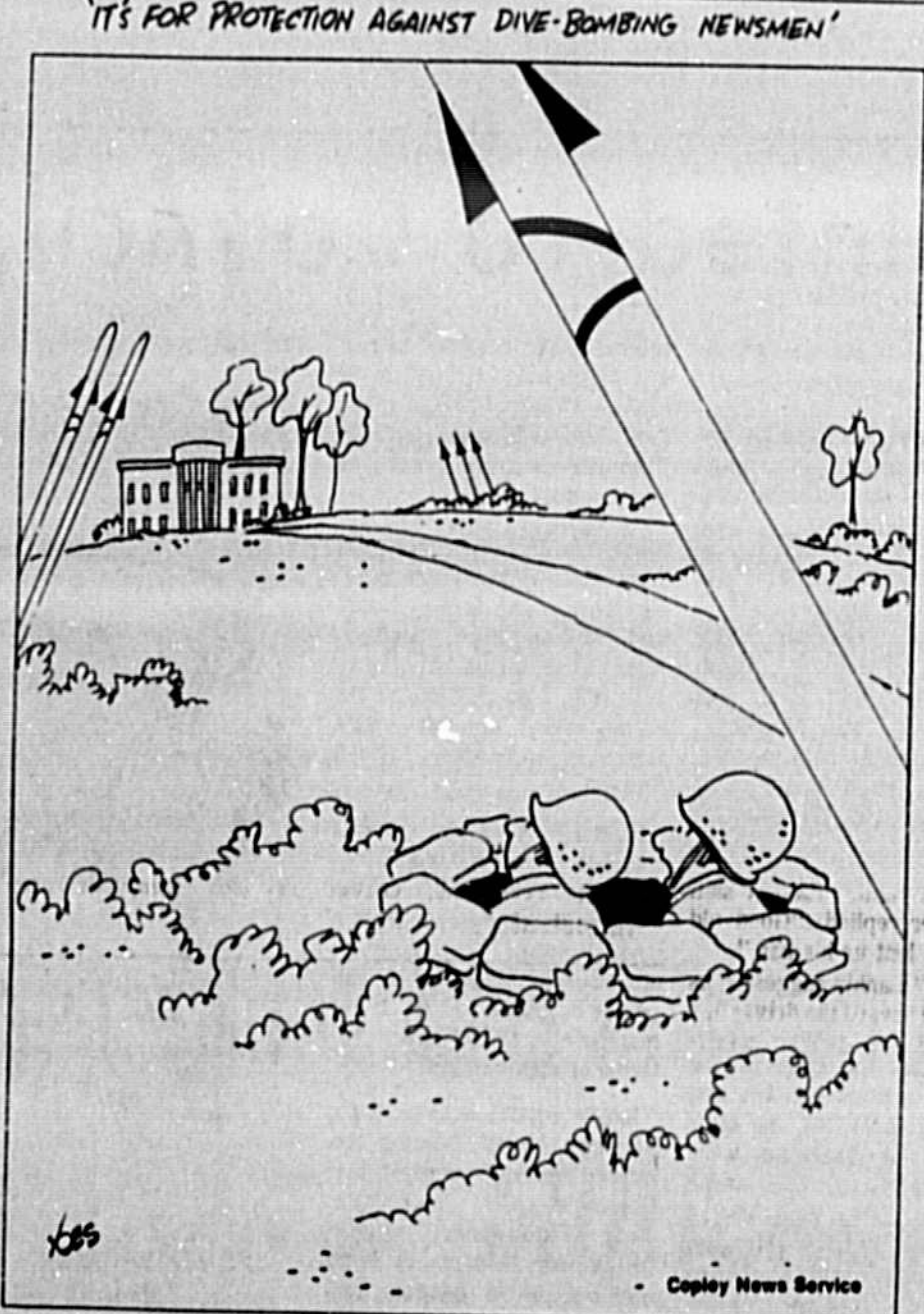

Technical management took over once again at all levels, and the results were seen by year-end. The monthly average for the last quarter of 1973 went up to 60,000 tons, to put the year's total to almost 620,000 tons for the five big mines.

Chilean copper mines, by the way, are divided into three groups, large, medium and small, according to their basic output, and each has a different tax setup.

How much of the bonanza went for Iron Curtain countries, and since Russia and others called back ships that were bringing bought-and-paid-for cargoes to Chile, it may be that the copper will never be paid for.

Current average monthly output could give the large 750,000 tons.

Iran Lashes Oil Importers Energy Crisis Called Scapegoat

By DON OAKLEY
Copley News Service

At a recent conference of major oil-producing countries in Bangkok, the government of Iran issued a harsh attack against the oil-importing nations, and the United States in particular, charging that they are using the energy crisis as a "scapegoat" to reduce their aid to developing countries.

It may soon be a question of who is the pot and who is the kettle in this matter of foreign aid.

At about the same time as Iran was making the charge, a prediction that the 11 major oil-exporting nations will earn more than $100 billion from petroleum sales in 1974 and will be earning $150 billion annually by 1980.

Even if oil prices decline or some of the Middle Eastern countries decide to cut back production rather than prices, revenue generated this year and in following years "will still be staggering," says Business International Corp., a New York-based research, publishing and counseling organization.

The 11 countries are Abu Dhabi, Algeria, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, Libya, Nigeria, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Venezuela.

What are they going to do with their "windfall profits"? "A large, Iran and Iraq, all with fairly sizeable populations and with no immediate plans for purchase from the West—except, of course, for armaments which the West, and the Soviet Union, too, are always happy to sell.

None of these newly rich nations, however, has started the world with the announcement that it may be time for them to take over some of the load from the West in helping the economies of those developing nations not blessed with oil wealth.

Jack Anderson Grand Jurors 'Convinced'

WASHINGTON—President Nixon's "guilty behavior" convinced the Watergate grand jurors last summer that he was implicated in the Watergate cover-up, according to informed sources.

Most damning was his action after hearing the evidence against his three closest advisers — H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman and John Mitchell.

The case against the trio was laid out for the President on April 18th by then-Attorney General Richard Kleindienst and Assistant Attorney General Henry Petersen. They presented most of the evidence which has now become the basis for the grand jury indictments. Our sources say Petersen also warned the President that it looked as if Haldeman and Ehrlichman had directed a criminal cover-up.

Petersen advised the President to fire Haldeman and Ehrlichman but urged him NOT to fire his counsel, John Dean. Petersen explained that Dean was cooperating with the prosecutors.

The President set out, apparently, to do exactly the opposite. On April 18th, he huddled with Haldeman and Ehrlichman. Out of this came the decision to fire not the pair Petersen had suspected of running the cover-up but the counsel who was helping the prosecutors make their case.

The President dictated to Ehrlichman a letter of resignation for Dean and then called in Dean and asked him to sign it. Dean refused, saying he was "not willing to be the White House scapegoat for Watergate."

TITUSVILLE BODY IDENTIFIED
TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police say they have identified the body of a sixth young woman found in a wooded area near here as that of Krista Melton, 24, of Titusville.

The Brevard County sheriff's office said the body was identified Monday through comparison of x-rays.

But investigators added that they still have not discovered the identity of the fifth victim in the series of murders. The six bodies were discovered over a 10-week period, beginning last Thanksgiving Day.

Bernard Eugene Giles, 20, of nearby Mims has been charged with murder in the death of one of the six, Nancy Gerry, 18, of Titusville. His trial is scheduled to begin the week of April 22.

RANGERS CONTROL FIRE
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A 300-acre forest fire was under control but still smoldering today after forest rangers worked more than eight hours to control the blaze, officials said.

Forestry spokesman Gabe Peley said the blaze came within two and a half miles of Gainesville but never threatened to burn any homes.

He said the fire was started by construction crews trying to clear land and was whipped by gusty winds into the woods.

Woman Says Sheep Shots Saved Life

PORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Sally Hooper says Fort Myers osteopath Dr. Robert Peterson cured her diabetes and saved her life with injections made from sheep fetuses.

"I wouldn't be alive right here today if it wasn't for God and Dr. Peterson," Mrs. Hooper, 51, said. "I almost died three times from diabetes. I was nearly blind, all I could see were blurred outlines. I knew I was going to die."

But Lee County authorities say they are probing the possibility that the January deaths of a Texas millionaire and a Tampa fireman were caused by Peterson's sheep cell injections given at his "New Life Clinic." Mrs. Hooper is one of 12 patients contacted by the Fort Myers News Press who have come to the defense of Peterson, 50.

She has been Peterson's patient for 10 years and says she never asked for another doctor's diagnosis. She says she

Askew Cites Mass Transit Needs

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Reubin Askew says mass transit systems are needed so that tourists who leave their cars at home will be able to see Florida quickly and efficiently.

"One of our great concerns in Florida since the energy crisis has been the general lack of adequate public transportation to serve the tourist who does not own a car and wants to travel within the state," Askew said at the dedication of the Spessard

L. Holland Expressway, a toll road officially opened Monday near Orlando.

"We are dedicated to continuing to try to achieve a scientifically sound system of transportation for the people of Florida and its visitors," he said.

Askew said the state plans to spend $500 million on mass transit projects in the next five years.

He urged that highways such as the Holland Expressway

"serve as a roadway for mass transportation."

The governor called for special bus lanes, park and ride terminals, a mass transportation corridor from St. Petersburg through Orlando to Jacksonville and rapid rail lines connecting the state's major cities.

Askew noted that, in the midst of a gasoline shortage, it "might seem ironic" to dedicate a major highway expected to serve 22 million cars and trucks.

But he said motorists who use the non-stop toll road will save up to 10 million gallons of gasoline a year that would have been wasted in stop-and-go city driving.

"When you consider the savings in time, in temper, frustration and in gasoline, I think we can all agree that the 4-cent toll is 40 cents well spent," Askew said.

Deputy Pursues Own Car

KEY LARGO, Fla. (AP)—The closer he got to a speeding car, the more familiar it looked to Monroe County Sheriff's deputy Al Lankin.

Once he got close enough to read the license tag, he said he knew for sure.

"Hey, I'm in pursuit of my own car," Lankin told the radio operator.

Lankin said he chased the auto at speeds up to 85 miles an hour, before finally pulling it over.

Lankin said the driver's only remark after reading the name tag was that profanity.

Don Yearwood, 44, and his companions, Jack Humrich, 40, and Leon Owen, 41, were boisterous toward the driver and displayed his breast pocket name-plate.

Lankin said the driver's only remark after reading the name tag was that profanity.

Mayo Seeks City Utility Regulation

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Public Service Commission's authority should be expanded to include allowing it to tell city-owned utilities where they can operate, commissioner Billy Mayo says.

Presently, city-owned utilities and rural electric cooperatives are not regulated by the PSC and can freely expand into territory served by private firms, Mayo complained Monday.

The expansion, which is also done by private firms into city and rural co-ops' territories, results in overlapping services and in some instances higher rates, he said.

The present situation is one-sided because the PSC can force private utilities to comply with a territorial agreement, but can only go to court if a city-owned utility backs out of it, he said.

I-4 Crash Victims' Identity Sought

POLK CITY, Fla. (AP) Police say they are still trying to determine the identities of two males burned beyond recognition in a fiery car-truck pileup which claimed five lives.

At least six trucks and five cars were involved Monday in the chain reaction crash along a congested stretch of Interstate 4.

Six other persons were injured. None were reported critical.

Seven vehicles including two cars burst into flames on top of them. For the people inside there seemed to be little chance of getting out.

Florida Highway Patrol investigators said the pile-up was triggered when a truck hit the rear of another truck that had slowed down in the fog. Within minutes, other trucks and cars rammed together and one truck apparently ran over two cars.

Orders Pour In For New Electric Car

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Officials of a company that is manufacturing the first electric automobiles to be mass produced in the United States in 50 years say they are being swamped with orders.

Sebring Vanguard Inc. started production here Monday on the $2,269 battery-powered tweekster that travels at speeds up to 30 miles an hour.

"Response has been fantastic," said Robert G. Beaumont, the car's originator and company president. "We've gotten orders from all over the country, the Bahamas and Australia."

Fifty cars are to be ready for delivery by the end of March and 2,500 before the end of the year, company officials said.

"It is the economic, efficient, modern answer to the second or third car family," Beaumont said.

Company officials tout the auto as the "City Car" for short trips in urbanized areas at slow speeds.

The vehicle can go about 50 miles on one charge. Estimated operating costs are one-half cent per mile.

Energy Crisis Toll Rises

By RON WELLS Copley News Service

The brief, officious, somewhat apologetic note inside the gas and electric bill reads: "Dear Customer: We regret to inform you that due to the increasing fuel costs and a marked decrease in total customer consumption, your gas and electric company is forced to raise your rates. This is done in order to help meet ongoing expenses and continue plans for future expansion. All this is done in an attempt to bring you better service and greater comfort. Sincerely, Your Gas and Electric Co."

As I sat in the corner of my den under the dim glow of a 40-watt light bulb where once had basked under the homely radiance of a 100-watt beacon, I felt an unmistakable urge to switch on the color television, turn the thermostat up to 72 degrees and flip on a few more lights. Using all the willpower I could muster I finally managed to suppress this foolhardy desire for pointlessness, open defiance of my patriotic duty to conserve energy at all costs. Besides the warm, heavy Afghan I had wrapped around me had entangled my feet making any sudden attempts at walking more than a little hazardous. "Ah, who wants to go rummaging through a dark house anyway," I rationalized and began pondering the obvious and hidden meanings of the utility company's message. The message was printed on a side of thick, white bond paper. It came to my straining eyes in red and blue ink, giving it an air of good old American patriotism, the scent of fresh-baked apple pie and the glow of motherhood. "Nothing second class about my gas and electric company," I murmured while adjusting my knee-length wool socks and tucking the cuffs of mittens under the elastic cuffs of my parka. "They're really thinking about my well-being through this whole energy crisis. "Here they are sending their buyers and geologists all over the world in attempts to get fuel at the best price," I mused, as I stifled a sneeze. "So I can't kick about paying a higher rate. After all, they're paying more than double what they paid for fuel six months or a year ago. "An euphoric sense of dedication to duty swept over me as I clapped my hands together and rubbed my legs to get the circulation going again. I, like millions of other Americans, had cut back, slowed down and turned off. I was happy to do my part, even if it did mean mild cases of frostbite and pneumonia. But as I reached for the Chap Stick my gaze riveted on one phrase of the message which I had merely passed over in my first reading. It read: "...and a marked decrease in total customer consumption, your gas and electric company is forced to raise your rates." My mind recoiled and stumbled blindly back into the past to a time when shortages were something experienced by other countries but not the United States. When it ceased its retreat it transmitted a vision, a vision of red, white and blue on a grade of thick, white bond paper that bore a message of bountiful, inexpensive energy and the admonishment to use energy for comfort and pleasure because the more that was used, the lower the overall customer rates would be.

The vision passed and left me stunned and alone in my den, under the dim glow of a 40-watt bulb. I don't remember much after that. My loving wife, Susan, apparently entered the room only minutes afterwards. She had been in the kitchen filling hot water bottles to put in the bed since we had removed our electric blanket as another energy conservation step. She later told me she found me clutching a tiny American flag close to my breast and staring blankly straight ahead while I mumbled, "...going and coming, going and coming. They got us going and coming..." Our family physician wasn't the least bit surprised or puzzled by the account of my revelation and its chilling aftereffects. He reassured me I would be all right and prescribed a mild tranquilizer.

Among their many concerts, the Renaissance group has played for the American Musicological Society, the Southeast Renaissance Conference, the Florida Board of Regents and many colleges and schools.

March 29 Deadline For Property Taxes

Current payment of real estate and tangible personal property taxes must be made by 5 p.m. March 29 to avoid penalties, Seminole County Tax Collector Troy Ray said today. Ray said under Florida law the taxes become delinquent on April 1. In accordance with an opinion by the State Atty. General, March 29 will be the last day to pay taxes in person without penalty, since March 31 is on Sunday this year. However, taxes paid by mail will be accepted as current if the envelope bears a March 31 postmark. There will be a three per cent penalty April 1 on all unpaid real estate taxes and a one per cent penalty on all unpaid tangible personal property taxes. The taxes have been payable since last November with discounts, Ray said. "State law holds an individual responsible for the payment of his taxes even though he might not have received the bill," Ray said. "The tax roll we are now collecting is for taxes as of Jan. 1, 1973."

Persons transferring property since Jan. 1, 1973 should have made agreements as to who was to pay this year's tax. "In the event you did not receive a tax bill for property purchased after Jan. 1, 1973," Ray said, "you will have to request in writing a tax bill for yourself." Ray said daily transfers from the public records are being applied to the 1974 tax roll, not the 1973 tax roll. Property owners with questions on real estate or tangible personal property taxes can contact the tax collector's main office in the Sanford courthouse or the branch office in the Seminole Plaza Shopping Center in Casselberry.

Gunman Kills 2 In Miami

MIAMI (AP) — Two men were killed outside a Cuban night club here early today by a gunman who forced one of his victims to kneel on the sidewalk before firing a bullet into his head, police said. The victims were identified as Armando Duran, 40, and Carlos Ruiz, 30, a uniformed security guard at the Liceo Club in the southwest section of the city. Iñes Rodriguez, 35, was charged with two counts of first degree murder and three counts of attempted murder in the shootings. Police gave the following account of the slayings: Rodriguez approached Duran after allegedly firing and missing at three patrons leaving the club about 3 a.m. "Kneel down," he ordered Duran, who was getting into his car with two women. Rodriguez then allegedly fired his sawed-off .30 caliber carbine into his head at point-blank range. "He practically blew the man's head off," said homicide detective Walter Martinez. Ruiz was shot and killed as he ran from the club to investigate the shooting. Police arrived on the scene and wrestled the suspect to the ground. Investigators said there was no apparent motive in the shooting spree.

The Hammer Will 'Abide' Rule As Kuhn Orders Appearance

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron apparently will be in the Atlanta Braves' opening day line-up after all. That became a near certainty Monday when Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn approved the Braves' announced plan to have the 40-year-old slugger sit out the opening three-game series in Cincinnati April 4-6 and go after Babe Ruth's all-time record of 714 home runs in Atlanta when the Braves open at home April 8. In a terse statement, Kuhn virtually ordered the Braves to have Aaron in the starting line-up for at least two of the Cincinnati games. "The Braves' slugger has 713 lifetime home runs, one behind Ruth. Aaron said he had no comment on Kuhn's ruling, but added: "I've said all I can say about it. I may have something to say later, but he's the commissioner of baseball. I suppose, and I have to abide by the rules." Bill Bartholomay, the Braves' chairman of the board, was unavailable for comment, as was Atlanta Manager Eddie Mathews.

"I have had a number of discussions with Bill Bartholomay about his February announcement regarding Henry Aaron," Kuhn said. "Although he has advanced some substantial arguments in support of his announcement, he has not been able to persuade me that the procedure he wishes to follow is good for baseball. "As a result, I have advised him that I am disapproving the announcement and that his barring of Aaron is not a disciplinary action. I will expect the Braves to use Aaron in the opening series in Cincinnati in accordance with the pattern of his use in 1973, when he started approximately two of every three Braves games." Aaron started two of the first three games last season against Houston and appeared in 120 games, some of them as a pinch hitter. He batted .300 with 40 homers and 96 runs batted in.

At the Braves' training camp in West Palm Beach, Fla., Don Davidson, assistant to Bartholomay, said the club's reaction was "no comment." "Bartholomay is traveling at the present time, but the 'no comment' holds for both me and Eddie Mathews," Davidson said. However, Eddie Robinson, vice president of the Braves, said he was surprised by Kuhn's statement. "Bill Bartholomay and I have talked since the ruling today," he said, "and I think there will be a comment forthcoming, but not at this time. We may have a statement, but not now. It's a ticklish thing, and I think we should be prepared before we make a statement."

Golfing A-Round By John Cherwa

It seems as if another new sport is challenging golf as the top participant sport. First it was tennis now it's streaking. This time though it looks as if we can mix the two sports together. For those of you who don't know what streaking is let me explain. Streaking is when you take off all your clothes except maybe your shoes and ski mask and run naked. By now you must be asking what this is doing in a golf column.

Someone told me, confidentially of course, that a local pro went streaking down the first fairway at his own course. You might want to ask your friendly pro if it was so I don't have to "repose," the culprit in my column. Back to more serious terms, the SJC golf team moves back in to division II play today when they travel to Florida Junior College in Jacksonville. Upcoming matches include Valencia in the 14th at home, then three away matches on the road. First to Central Florida Junior College in Ocala, Daytona Beach Community College and Lake Sumter Community College. They return home on March 28 to Florida Junior College. Last year's state champs, the SJC golf team moves back in to division II play. They lost four matches at nationally ranked teams. The main opposition for Seminole will come from Valencia and Lake City. Coach Larry McAdam reports that this year's team is the strongest ever. The member's of the team are Robert Ashby, Bill Krapp, Robert Stockman, John Harkins, Victor Richter, Tony Harty, and Bud Thayer.

Not One Spectator Speaking of competitive golf, while talking to Lyman golf coach Dick Copeland the other day I found out that in his tenure as golf coach they have not had one spectator watch them. Naturally he doesn't include members of the press as spectators so it would only be fitting to see some people at the golf matches of local high schools and SJC. On the subject of Lyman, the team moved into Metro Conference competition Friday with a resounding victory over Orlando Boone. Today they play host to Evans at Mid Florida Country Club.

Al Kelley Moves Mid Florida has undergone a few changes in the last few weeks with former pro Al Kelley moving over to Dubsdread Country Club in Orlando. The people who run Mid Florida have decided that a club pro and greenskeeper are unnecessary. Mike Odham is still around but is not a "pro" as such. Again a reminder that Shoeb Country Club on S.R. 434 in Winter Springs will now be open for memberships. Before, you had to own a condominium to get a membership. Shoeb has to be one of the classic courses in Central Florida. Any course that has a former Mayor as a starter has to be classy. After seven laborious weeks Rogers' Rules of Tournament Play is finally winding down. The last installment in this eight part series goes as such: "A putted ball that reaches the brink of the cup and hangs there for want of a half or quarter turn to cause it to drop, shall be deemed to have made that turn and duly dropped, providing however, the player has indicated by bodily contortions and gestures that he was genuinely desirous of this result. Likewise, to eliminate complaints to the effect that the ball was "so close you could have blown it in" the player in such a case shall place himself behind the ball and blow. If the ball drops, it shall be deemed to have been holed out properly." Just a note that if you have any question, comments or suggestions about, for or against Golfing A Round, write to me in care of the Sanford Herald, P.O. Box 1657, Sanford. I picked up a little static on my columns about the various people you meet at a golf tournament. Although not all the comments were good I would still like to hear from you. From the Mayfair calendar of upcoming events—a mixed tournament March 24; the Smith Union 76 Tournament on March 16-17; and a meeting of the local PGA chapter on March 25. Seminole golf course has a points tournament coming up on March 24. The way it's played is you get a certain amount of points for your play of a hole. You get 6 points for an eagle, 5 for a birdie, 4 for a par, 3 for a bogey and anything over a bogey you don't receive any points.

JuCo Division Play; These Games Count

Defensive errors have spelled doom for the Raiders, but are expected to be eliminated when the regular line-up is installed. Jay Isler, Gary Jacobs, Jim Joiner, and Dwayne Gray have been leading the hitting attack for the Raiders. Nick Brady and Bill Dodd are scheduled to start the two seven inning games at Edison and left-hander Bob Meadows is scheduled to start against Valencia. Meadows suffered a cut in the palm of his pitching hand prior to a scheduled start against St. Petersburg last weekend that required two stitches to close, but is expected to be ready later this week. Valencia is led by hard hitting catcher Armando Leonardo who is cracking the ball for a 600 plus average, and has hit safely in every game this season. Ken Berger, Sonny Wise and Jim Seagraves round out the hitting leaders for the Matadors.

All-Americans Show Talent

NEW YORK (AP) A shot-blocking marvel called a "near-pro franchise" and a player termed the best college division guard in the United States heading the Associated Press' 1974 Little All-American basketball team. Marvin Webster, Morgan State's "Human Eraser" who once blocked 15 shots in one game, and West Georgia's Clarence Walker, called the nation's "premier small college guard" by pro scouts, were among those named to the team Monday. Along with the bruising, 6-foot-11 Webster and the slick, 6-foot Walker, the AP's gold-plated team included Tennessee State's Leonard Robinson, Eugene Short of Jackson State and State Davenport of Cameron State. Webster is perhaps the most spectacular in the gilly-riced guard because of his fan-cending and shot-blocking talents.

He was the perennial weekly leader in the NCAA's Division II rebounding category and finished the regular season with a nation-leading average of 23 rebounds per game. While leading Morgan State to the co-championship of the Mid-East Conference, Webster was selected the league's most valuable player. He averaged almost 22 points per game and 56 per cent from the field. One pro scout called him the best small college player in the United States.

He finished 43 seconds ahead of defending American champion Kenny Roberts of San Carlos, Calif., both aboard Yamaha.

Lake Brantley, aching from a four-game losing streak and a sore 1.4 record on a tough schedule, meet the Highlanders from Lake Highland Preparatory School at Tinker Field this afternoon. Dave Bernsky who gave up only three hits to the Oak Ridge Pioneers in last week's 5-3 loss, is expected to start on the mound for the Seminoles. Mays remarked that Bernsky pitched well enough to win against the Pioneers and pointed out that the Tribe's biggest problem is not having a consistent hitter.

Expected to get the starting nod is Doug Fowler, who will be on the mound the first time this season. The Patriots, under second year coach Fred Washington, has hitting from shortstop Henry Branson, who is slugging at a .350 clip and sometimes power from cleanup man Steve Hargis. Friday, the Brantley nine faced Daytona Seabreeze at home in a return engagement. March 1, the Sandcrabs eked out a 5-2 decision against the Pats.

Special Olympics Stars Area Youth Competition

"Let me win,
But if I cannot win
Let me be brave in the attempt"
(Special Olympics Oath)

Not many people go to watch Special Olympics, and Saturday at Lyman High School was no exception, but those that did show up were the ones that counted. Seminole County's young athletes, boys and girls, were on hand and they were the people that mattered.

State Senator Ken Plante led the recitation of the special olympic oath, and youngsters from Sanford Middle School, Lawton, Hopper, Pinecrest, Midway, Milwee, Crooms, Talata-Forest City and Sanford Grammar School were on hand for the competition.

Special Olympics, which was begun in 1968 nationally by the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation every year draws thousands for competition in age levels and has local, state and national competition.

'Divorced' Dick Williams Watches From The Stands

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Hank Aaron made his spring debut Monday and Bowie Kuhn didn't even have to order it. Dick Williams made his spring debut and Joe Cronin didn't veto it. Steve Blass made his spring debut and discovered that 1974 shows no signs of being that wonderful year which 1973 wasn't.

Shortly before Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn virtually ordered the Atlanta Braves to change their plans and send Aaron out to pursue Babe Ruth's home run record on opening day in Cincinnati, the veteran slugger appeared as a pinch hitter against the New York Yankees. He fished off eight pitches from Mel Stottlemyre and then struck out. However, Aaron's inauspicious debut was overshadowed by the pitcher Atlanta's Ron Reed and three unsung hurlers - Dave Chadler, Joe Graenz and Jamie Eastley. They came in over the top with Rowland Oaks smacking a two-run homer. Thanks to last December's ruling by Cronin, then the American League president, which upheld the Oakland A's claim on Williams and prevented him from managing the Yankees, Williams was spared the embarrassment of piloting Monday's hitless wonders. But he was in the stands at West Palm Beach, Fla., for the no-hitter. He came over from his home at nearby Riviera Beach on behalf of a friend who has a son with major league pitching ambitions. "I came to see if I could arrange a tryout with the Braves," he said. Williams spoke briefly with Yankee President Gabe Paul, then sat and watched the game surrounded by newsmen. He confirmed that A's owner Charles O. Finley called him last week and told him he was free to manage any team except the Yankees. "I had a pleasant chat," Williams said. "You know Charlie. We didn't get along three years. If you don't get along with your wife for three years, you get a divorce. We just got a divorce." In Sarasota, Blass, a World Series hero in 1971, gave up four runs in his 1974 exhibition debut as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2. Buddy Bradford hit a 450-foot homer for the White Sox off reliever John Moran. Elsewhere, Vada Pinson, playing his first game for Kansas City since being acquired from California, smacked a tie-breaking home run that helped the Royals beat the Cincinnati Reds 3-1. Jim Cox cracked a three-run homer in a six-run third inning that powered the Montreal Expos to a 9-7 victory over Minnesota. Ed Palat and Joe Lis homered for the Twins. Billy Williams walloped a grand slam and Bill Madlock and Jim Hickman also homered in the Chicago Cubs' 10-0 rout of the California Angels. The Texas Rangers scored six runs in the fourth inning, three on Toby Harrah's homer and three on Billy Williams' homer off Houston rookie Carlos Alfonso in the seventh inning and the Red Sox went to bat the Astros 9-6. Pedro Garcia's three-run homer and George Scott's solo shot paced the Milwaukee Brewers to a 5-1 victory over the world champion Oakland A's, who got a home run from their own Gene Tenace. George Hendrick continued his heavy hitting and the Cleveland Indians took advantage of three errors to score seven unearned runs and beat the San Diego Padres 10-1. Hendrick tripled, doubled and singled. In a 'B' squad game, Ivan Murrell clubbed a grand-slam homer to pace the Padres to a 15-1 victory. Doubles by Gary Suberland and Ben Ogilvie in the eighth inning lifted the Detroit Tigers past the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2 and the New York Mets edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 when Steve Yeager committed a two-out passed ball with the bases loaded in the 10th inning. Felix Millan homered for the Mets. Johnny Bench, playing third base, hit a two-run homer and a run-scoring single to lead the Cincinnati Reds over the Philadelphia Phillies 12-3 in a 'B' game. Billy Grabarkewitz and Phil Niekro homered for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Reduced Ducats
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Jacksonville city council was scheduled to consider a reduced scale of fees in an effort to attract a franchise in the new World Football League to the city's Gator Bowl. The Florida Sharks are expected to settle here if the ordinance is approved. Owner Frank Monaco has indicated he will kick Jacksonville over Orlando as home base if the contract can be worked out. The proposed ordinance calls for a rental of 8 per cent of the gross for crowds up to 30,000 with a minimum payment of $2,500 a game. Rental would go to 10 per cent for crowds of 30,000 to 45,000 and 12.5 per cent for crowds over 45,000. Capacity of the Gator Bowl is 70,000 and the proposed contract calls for the Sharks to play at least 10 games there in each of the next three years.

Trojans Look For Salvation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Southern Cal's Coach Bob Boyd says his Trojans will be out to redeem themselves in this week's Collegiate Commissioners Association Basketball Tournament. "Nobody likes to end a season by being caved in," Boyd said Monday. "We have 32 wins and we're going to try to make it 33." Boyd's Trojans, who have lost four times, were ranked seventh and riding an eight-game winning streak until demolished 82-52 by UCLA for the Pacific-8 Conference title Saturday night. The crushing defeat plunged them to 15th in this week's 16-team and relegated them to the eighth-lean CCA, which is primarily for major conference runners-up.

By Law Liability Insurance Needed

As of Jan. 1 this year, anyone who owns, operates, maintains or uses a motor vehicle in the State of Florida will be required to show proof of liability insurance in order to pass vehicle inspection.

Motorcycles must be covered as well as automobiles. This new law was passed by the 1973 General Session in order to protect the driving public from the financial disaster that may result from an accident.

Many people have ignored the Financial Responsibility law already on the books. Now it will be necessary for the motorist to show proof of proper insurance at the time of the annual motor vehicle inspection.

Some motorists have neglected to get this important protection because of the cost. At Blair Agency, after a reasonable downpayment, the insurance premium can be financed with low monthly payments.

The Blair Agency invites you to compare their prices before you buy. The Blair Agency specializes in helping young drivers, ages 16 through 25, with good or poor driving records. They can also place

Current Picture Tax Deferral Explained

By JAMES M. WOODARD
Copley News Service
Tax-savings in selling and buying homes is more important today than ever before, in the light of accelerating costs triggered by the energy crunch. Many recent inquiries have related to the current tax picture.

Most sellers are concerned about their "capital gains" tax—the tax paid on the profit gained in the sale of real estate. And for the past few decades, a profit has been realized in most home sales.

Prices on resale homes have generally increased from 10 to 20 percent per year. Many home sellers still do not know they may not have to pay such a tax at all. Or at least it can be postponed for a long period. If you sell a home now, and purchase and move into another home of equal value or more within a year, you pay no tax on that transfer. The tax is deferred to a subsequent sale.

An interesting wrinkle in the tax law makes it possible, in some cases, to avoid paying the tax at any time. One problem: you must die to take advantage of this tax break. A seller may sell and buy several homes without paying a tax, his capital gain being deferred each time he steps up to a better or larger home. If he dies while residing in the highest valued home, the last or "book value" of the home will usually be pushed up to the market value of the property at the date of death. Thus his heirs are spared the

THINGS YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO ASK ABOUT
HYPNOSIS
BUT DIDN'T KNOW WHO TO ASK
QUESTION: What is Hypnosis? Can it really cure certain ill?
ANSWER: Hypnosis can not "cure" anything of an organic nature. Hypnosis is a passive state of mind in which the conscious waking thoughts are put aside allowing the subconscious mind to assume control. This permits us to communicate directly with the subconscious mind, and has proven to be extremely effective in many areas such as: Weight & diet control, Phobias, nervous habits, Smoking & Marijuana, Insomnia, & other unwanted habits. However, a Physician's approval is required in most instances before a Licensed Ethical Hypnotist will accept such cases.

Congress Bids Chicken Little Adieu

By Tom Tiede
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When he came to Congress a quarter century ago, H.R. Gross had his reservations about the health of the nation. Now preparing for his retirement, he says little but doom. The Republic, he says bluntly, is about to collapse. For those who know the crusty Iowa Republican, there will be no running from a falling sky. Harold Royce Gross, 75, has played Chicken Little in the House of Representatives ever since he arrived. For 25 years he has stood on the floor, all 5'6" of him, worrying, "What would come first, the sinking of the ship of state in a sea of debt, or the drowning of his elected peers in the lake of lethargy."

Now the wispy, loquacious conservative has apparently decided. Sitting behind his cluttered desk, dressed in proper black, he says the dollar will do it. His theory is that everybody uses every body else's money. Some $24 trillion at present — that the "U.S. Democracy" is going down from over-wealth.

"How can we retire this debt?" asks Gross. "The U.S. public debt alone now is approaching a half trillion dollars. Well, we can't retire it or any other means we can't impose taxes to take care of that kind of money, so we'll have to do it by some form of repudiation."

Gross believes the repudiation will be from the highest level, the presidency. He feels the president will, in a last gasp effort to save the nation, exercise his right to take over the Federal Reserve System. Hence, "One day we'll all wake up and the dollar will be closed," the president will use private money to pay off the public debt, and citizens will get back only what's left over.

It's a heady scenario. But, again, one that a grumbling Gross has hinted at for years. Though he admits that he's

Cheating Grows As Social Statement

By Tom Tiede
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When the Internal Revenue Service begins its campaign to recently tabulate the tips of waiters and waitresses in Cleveland, the resulting outcry was loud and ominous. The IRS branch office was deluged with complaints that were remarkably uniform in content. "Why are you hounding us, the attendants asked, when Nixon gets away scot free?"

There are fears on high in the nation that millions of taxpayers may be asking the same question this year. With the dumbfounding disclosures that the President of the United States paid only $792 for 1970 taxes — a tax rate of $200,000 and that his burden increased only $88 the following year, there is considerable worry a tax revolt may be building among disgruntled citizens.

The worry is not coming publicly from the IRS. Spokesmen there say the official expectation is that "most Americans will comply honestly with their tax obligations. Even the recently beefed up tax investigations staff is explained away as "part of a continuing process to keep up with a growing population."

But elsewhere there is considerable concern. Rep. Charles Vanik (D-Ohio), a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, has told his colleagues that he hears increasing talk of citizens who are contemplating cheating. Edward Lett, a Washington tax lawyer, says he is convinced there are as yet too few to arrange "the time for it is right." And popular tax columnist and author Ray DeCraze, of the Cleveland Press, says that his monitoring indicates a lot of people who are fed up — at

House by military limousine. When Congress would spend money on a congressional flag he shot it down with the comment: "How would you like to have a flag below the squirrel tail on an automobile antenna?"

And when last year, the House was considering a $23 million grant to the arts and humanities, Gross said that since some of the money would be spent for the "study of world war in Pakistan" he'd be damned if he'd vote for it.

And as if objecting to congressional spending weren't enough, Gross often just objects to congressional anything. He says too many members belong to the T&T Club — "They come to work on Tuesday and go home on Thursday. In 1962 he told an astonished quorum that "This is the most do-nothing session I have ever seen." He has long yelled against congressional pay increases. And a few years ago, when leaders decided to hold a non-work-in five-day session, Gross showed up every day for "The Week That Wasn't."

In the past, such railing won few friends for Gross. As a result he has fought many battles before he has a great fear has been that his loner, he would be cut off in debate before he had his full say. To avoid this he will carry in his pocket a typed amendment that he can propose to any bill, striking its enacting clause. This is a nipping trick but privileged amendments are rare. Gross has an additional five minutes of speech; colleagues have objected to the tactic as "a gross insubordination."

Despite the old confrontations, however, there seems now an attitudinal mellowing toward the elderly loner. His rightist bent (and his rightist bent) is legendary. When John Kennedy was president, Gross loudly objected to Peter Lawford's Falcoholic sin being chaperoned to the White

San Pedro Fire 'Probably Accidental'

LACK OF available water was given the blame today by Goldenrod-Dommerich Fire Chief W.H. Mayo for hampering firefighters in the blaze discovered at 5 Tuesday evening involving 32 units at the San Pedro Apartments on Florida Tech. Boulevard.

"I believe it was probably an accidental fire of some kind and not arson," Mayo said, noting his department will be investigating the scene today to determine loss from the fire and water damage. No one was injured.

Few Voters Show But Defeat Four Bond Issues

agriculture center was rejected. Unofficial totals on the individual bond issues were: security complex, 1,229 for and 3,446 against; judicial addition, 1,257 for and 3,972 against; branch courthouse, 1,322 for and 3,876 against; and agriculture center, 1,508 for and 2,783 against.

The 55 absentee ballots to be counted by the commissioners today will have no effect on the outcome of the bond referendum, according to Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Camilla Bruce Drummond, who openly opposed all four bond issues, commented he felt the vote "is a warning to the board that we can't go spend crazy."

"The lack of attendance at the polls is indicative that the voters are more preoccupied with more immediate problems and that those who did vote are concerned with other areas of taxpayers' expense," he said.

Drummond said he did feel the bond issue should get another hearing sometime in the future, "when the present economic clouds drift away," but added he hoped the jail and courthouse expansion projects will undergo "considerable change and belt tightening."

Commissioner Mike Hatway, lone Democrat on the commission, echoed Drummond's thoughts and said the outcome will not change his philosophy "because I've always taken a conservative stand all along."

"I think my next step will be in the courts," Sheriff John Polk said, noting the referendum vote won't affect state recommendations that the present jail facilities are inadequate.

"I think spending $15 million to expand the present jail would be throwing money down a well," Polk said. "It still wouldn't meet state and federal standards."

Commissioner Chairman John Williams said he was disappointed the vote had not changed his philosophy "because I've always taken a conservative stand all along."

Kimbrough was referring to the jail expansion project which state officials have said is an eventual necessity because of county growth.

For the future, Kimbrough said, the bond issue could be revived at any time. However, he did not think the board would call another special election, and if any vote is held this year, "the most logical time" would be the September primary.

Casual Conversation Put 'Liberalized' County Trailer Home Into Senate Race

By BOB LLOYD
City Editor

A casual conversation with a radio announcer started a chain of events that plunged State Senator Mallory Horne, a Democrat, into the race for Republican U.S. Sen. Edward Gurney's job.

Horne, in Seminole County Tuesday meeting with supporters, told Sanford Herald editors he had planned five weeks ago to go back to private business and was supporting State Sen. Louis de la Parte for the U.S. Senate post.

"But then de la Parte withdrew, I mentioned a desire to serve as a U.S. senator while casually talking by telephone to a Tallahassee radio announcer after an interview," Horne related.

"I thought the recorder had been turned off. I was shocked that night on the way home on the car radio."

Horne said the next day Congressman Bill Chappell 'all but announced I was a candidate and this thing just snowballed from that point on."

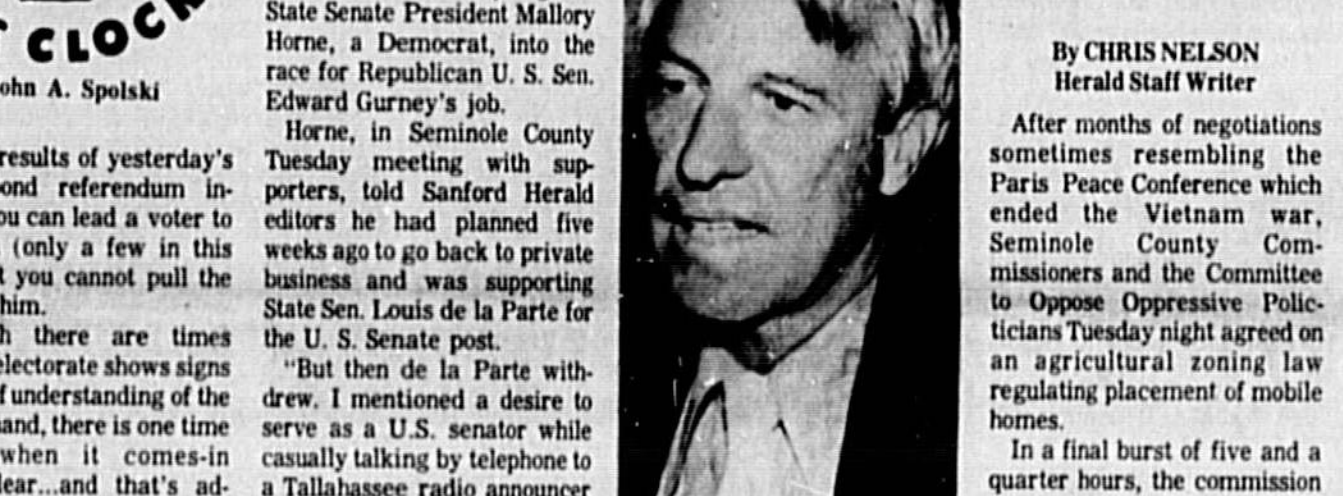

"I know it sounds like a strange story," said the 18-year veteran of state government, who is one of 10 announced candidates for U.S. Senate seat.

Gurney has said he'll seek reelection but State Elections Director Don Gilson's office reported Tuesday Gurney has not filed papers to that intent.

Horne is optimistic about his chances of taking Gurney's seat and said his campaign will be based largely on his (Horne's) record of state senate service.

"In the U.S. Senate I hope to help turn around the legislative branch of our national government." The senate and House—not as a whole but individually—give citizens good service, Horne said, but they haven't tested their efficiency. Horne proposes computerization of information on the multitude of federal programs so citizens can get quick response to their complaints. A similar program has been set up in Florida with his guidance, Horne said.

Horne said he gains the U.S. Senate seat he will propose overhauling the antiquated senate seniority system and will support a federal "Sunshine Law." "There's a lot to be disgusted about in the government today. Cooler heads and I think it can't be changed from within," Horne said.

Those who have filed include Secretary of State Richard Stone and Miami Sen. Richard A. Pettigrew.

Horne said Tuesday, "I think Gurney's own versatility is the invitation to many of us."

Gurney became well known by the Watergate committee hearings, Horne said, but his popularity plummeted with publicity on the alleged fund-raising by his ex-wife, Orlando Larry Williams.

When it was all over, CROP chairman Don Crabtree, the Geneva schoolteacher who led dozens of protests against the old law which effectively banned new trailers from the county, declared "we've made gains, and generally I'm pleased, although there are two or three areas still to be worked out."

Crabtree said he felt the commission had successfully handled the major issue fueling CROP's long-time opposition—the fear that trailer owners could be thrown off their land — but said he still wondered what would happen to trailers already placed during the period when the old law was in effect.

Chairman John Kimbrough attempted to reassure the overflow audience in commission chambers that the only way a trailer could be thrown out is if it currently has no permit, and does not meet legal requirements provided for by the ordinance.

Agreeing, along with Sid Vihlen Jr., that "there are a lot of illegally parked trailers," Kimbrough said owners will now receive their permits from the county if the ordinance's standards are met—even if the trailer was placed illegally, without a permit.

Only Commissioner Mike Hatway opposed final passage, at 12:17 a.m. today, bitterly commenting he feels his colleagues have "betrayed" around them.

From Rags, To Riches, To Jail!

Sanford resident Raymond Elton Gaines found that a rabbit hunting trip with a friend has its rewards and problems.

Gaines found $10,000 which "blew through" him all kinds of other problems including two days in jail, a new car, and having to deny any implication in a kidnapping.

Reporter Mark Weintz helps Gaines relive his rags-to-riches saga with a detailed report on page 6A of today's Herald.

First, the good news: in these times of shortage, Seminole County commissions have been set up in Florida with his guidance, Horne said.
