DIPLOMATS OF BRITAIN IN U.S. TO QUIT LIQUOR

Sir Eame Howard Says
He Will Sign No Requests For Further
Importation Of Rum

WASHINGTON, June 6—(INS)—The British embassy here is going on the wagon.

A real diplomatic sensation was created today when it became known that Sir Eame Howard, the courtly dean of the corps, has informed members of his staff that he will sign no more requests to the State Department for permission to import liquor.

This means that when present stocks are exhausted—which probably will be some time yet—the numerous members of the British Embassy staff will have to rely on their foreign colleagues for those "spots of snitch" or else patronize the bootleggers of their American friends.

The new rule, it was said, will be effective as soon as Sir Eame remains at the Washington post.

Some of the younger members of the staff are reported to be hopeful that the exigencies of Britain's interests in China, Lapland or somewhere beyond the horizons of these United States might require Sir Eame's transfer.

Several weeks ago Sir Eame shocked the diplomatic corps by writing a letter to James T. Carter, a Virginian prohibitionist, stating that he would gladly forego the right to bring in liquors should the American government request it. He expressed the belief that foreign diplomats would be glad to do likewise.

This was followed by deep and impudent silence by the American government, and private pounds of anguish from his colleagues. To put it mildly, they did not fall over themselves to endorse any such statement.

There is scant likelihood that many—if any—of the other diplomats will follow Sir Eame's lead. The Latin Americans particularly are not disposed to give up their wines which they have known since childhood.

Sir Eame is not a tactless man; he is a probabilities. He has, however, keenly resented the continued attacks on the interests of Washington because of their immunity—an immunity that is bestowed upon them by international law, which is considerably older than the Volstead law.

"He is just fed up" on it, he explained one of his friends. "He would rather give up the right to bring in what he wants the embassy uses than undergo the abuse periodically shrouded in Congress."

It is understood, however, that some members of the embassy staff are not so thin-skinned as Sir Eame. They regard more lightly the frequent criticisms of Senator Bleas (D) of South Carolina, and Heflin (D) of Alabama.

Under State Department procedure it takes the signature of the head of a mission to bring in liquor. Of course, it was pointed out, should Sir Eame elect to go to England on a vacation, leaving a charge d'affaires in command at the embassy, the staff could lay in a supply sufficient to last a long time.

Three Shifts Work
Tirelessly To Save Imprisoned Miner

SUTTER CREEK, Cal., June 6—(INS)—Three shifts of men were working frantically to rescue C. E. Milovich, imprisoned 700 feet below the surface in the Central Eureka Mine. He has been trapped since Tuesday night, when a mine shaft caved in.

The other miners escaped. One miner dodged the hurtling caving and managed to get to the top to sound a warning. The second was saved several hours after the accident when a shift boat climbed the shaft from the bottom and rescued him.

Rescue work was being hampered today by the necessity of putting in new timbers to prevent another slide. Actual digging into the earth which blocks the way to Milovich was to begin today.

Please Takes Hat Off To Diplomat

WASHINGTON, June 6—(INS)—"I take off my hat and bow to the British Ambassador for his action in declaring he would abide by the Constitution," Senator Cole Bleas (D) of South Carolina, declared today. Please has been one of the principal opponents of the custom of according foreign diplomats the courtesy of prohibition law.

PRESIDENT ACTS TO ENFORCE LAW AGAINST LIQUOR

Hoover Urges Appointment Of Committee To Study Situation

WASHINGTON, June 6—(INS)—President Hoover moved today to tighten up federal enforcement of prohibition.

In a special message to Congress, he recommended appointment of a joint congressional committee to co-operate with such a congressional body, and he also placed the stamp of the nation's commission on law observance and enforcement.

The new rule, it was said, will be effective as soon as Sir Eame remains at the Washington post.

Some of the younger members of the staff are reported to be hopeful that the exigencies of Britain's interests in China, Lapland or somewhere beyond the horizons of these United States might require Sir Eame's transfer.

Kiwanis Sid Rive's Cardinals won the championship of the Old-Timers' Baseball League, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, in a fast game at the Ninth Street park on Tuesday afternoon, the score of 6 to 1.

A large number of fans were on hand to see Rive's outfit come out in front to win the championship. The game was scoreless for four innings, but the Cardinals soon opened up and scored six runs before the enemy was able to stop the attack.

GRAND JURY IS THROUGH WITH INVESTIGATION

Two Negroes Are Given Twenty Year Terms On Murder Charges; One Given 12 Years

Completing a week's investigation, the grand jury, after hearing testimony from 150 witnesses, returned its final pronouncement on the trial of Deputy Sheriff James Crowe charged with the murder of J. W. Kendrick, 19-year-old college student, came to a close today.

The jury of 12 farmers began its deliberation this afternoon and expected to report before nightfall. The first indication of what punishment the state seeks was given by Peter J. Davoren, an assistant prosecutor, by a number of recommendations and a report on the condition of various County properties.

During the past week, 3 indictments have been returned by the grand jury, with approximately 14 cases being tried. A majority of the prisoners indicted pleaded guilty upon their arraignment—and were sentenced. Three murder cases were brought into court, two of them already settled and the third, the case of Henry Rozier, negro, will be tried tomorrow. Only five cases remain to be tried, with Millard Smith, state's attorney in hope that they will all be disposed of by Tuesday of next week. Prominent among the charges to be tried is that of S. M. Abercrombie, local insurance man, accused of embezzling funds entrusted to him. The charge of bigamy against Carl C. Bruton is also to be tried.

The trial of Charles Davis, negro, accused of murder in the first degree, was concluded yesterday afternoon. Attorney Smith made the closing argument to the jury just before noon, at 12 o'clock, E. F. Householder, counsel for Davis, went before the jury in behalf of the negro at a night session, and the case went to the jury at about 9:30 o'clock.

The jury did not arrive at a verdict until nearly midnight, and, having adjourned at about 10 o'clock, the verdict was given to Judge Wright, this morning. Davis was found guilty of murder in the second degree by the jury composed of the following: L. P. Mills, G. G. Flynn, Ben Austin, B. F. Ward, Henry Thornton, Otto Schmeidt, W. E. Dunaway, Fred Bell, O. G. Pitts, E. W. Holt, W. A. Pitts Sr., and W. E. Rankin. His sentence will be given him before the close of the term, next week.

George W. Jackson, negro, who pleaded not guilty to murder in the first degree, asked the court to allow him to change his plea to guilty of murder in the second degree, which was granted by Judge Wright, then sentenced him to 20 years at Ralston, Fred Harris, negro, who confessed to the robbery of the home of Howard Long on Park Avenue was arraigned following his indictment this morning. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 12 years at Ralston.

The complete report of the grand jury follows:

We, the Grand Jurors, respectfully present that we have fully investigated all such matters as have been brought to our attention or by us deemed proper to be investigated, and in such cases where the evidence would sustain our finding, in accordance with warrant, we have found "True" (Continued on Page 5)

PARTY HARMONY FOR DEMOCRATS PROVES ELUSIVE

Dinner, Advertised As Pacifying Gesture, Looks Like Failure

By George R. Holmes
(International News Service Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 6—The harmony which the Democrats have been talking about—and some of them praying for—since the great November split is proving a very elusive bird.

Not only has Bishop James Cannon Jr. gone on the warpath in Virginia again, with a plan to anti-Smith—holders to stand firm and voice their own candidates for Governor, but the widely advertised "Shamrock dinner" to be given here next Monday night in honor of J. D. Shouse, of Kansas, is being quietly and in some cases openly set aside by the anti-Smith southerners. In Tennessee, on the other hand the two delegations made just as vigorous defense of the system and of the fact that it now, Deputy Sheriff W. D. Walker and Abingdon's James McReynolds are simply performing their duty when on the night of May 6, they find a valley of smoke at a camp which Kendrick was riding with Sterling Buttner and Paul Johnson.

Prohibition enforcement in Virginia was branded as a "damnable" system by Davoren, who argued that the officers turn blind eyes to illegal distilleries.

"When the officers turn blind eyes, malignant and malicious murderers they must be stopped," he shouted. "Those people must be stopped if the foundations of law are not to be destroyed, and in punishing Crowe you should take into consideration the thought of deterring others." Ensign Widener, who opened fire on the defense, pleaded that the officers were merely doing their duty. He declared that if they had followed the marching orders by Phelps, the citizens could have complained and ousted them from office.

The blood of young Kendrick is on the hands of Phelps, Widener declared. He attacked Phelps character and blamed him for taking Kendrick with him on the fatal ride. "Who will be glad if Crowe is convicted?" said Widener.

"Every bootlegger and rum-tomer in the country," they will say, "we can run all over the county and the officers can't catch us."

Cheering, Yelling Audience Attends Prohibition Debate

WASHINGTON, June 6—(INS)—A boisterous, yelling audience, including a sprinkling of ex-temperance, heard Clarence Darrow savagely denounce prohibition and public morals as savagely destructive.

In order to secure the utmost cooperation in the reorganization and concentration of responsibility in administration of the federal bureaus connected with prohibition enforcement, he greatly needed to improve their effectiveness. I recommend that the Congress, in order to secure the most effective action, appoint a joint select committee to make recommendations to the Senate and the House of Representatives for immediate action.

CIRCUIT CLOUDS FEATURE GAMES OF THIS SEASON

Eighteen Homers Were Hit In Yesterday's Big League Contest

By Lee Cooklin
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 5.—Home run hitters, at gate attractions, will soon be retailing at a dime a dozen if the present orgy of sluggering in the big league continues. Circuit clouds have become so general that they are about as chilling as taking the wife to a movie.

No less than 18 homers were hit in yesterday's games—swelling the total of bush leagues to 44 for the season-to-date—compared to 334 at this time last year. The Yankee home run twins, Gehrig and Ruth, and the Athletics' duo of Bambino and Jimmie Foxx hit more than one-fourth of the entire league total.

Five home runs—two by Hart Wilson and one apiece by Horne, Grimm and Green—set a new record for the day. The Cubs to scratch a 10 to 9 brawl with the Giants yesterday, snapping New York's winning streak of five victories and saving Chicago's drop into fourth place. Homers by Terry and Reusch of the Gants made it close.

The race tightened a bit as the Cardinals got no better than an even break with Brooklyn, a Pittsburg win over Detroit again, 9-to-6; Detromity's hand gave the Cards a 1 to 1 decision in the opener but Brooklyn annexed the nightcap, 11 to 8, thanks to a pair of homers by Hart.

The defeat of the Athletics in Detroit, 8 to 4, made the day a red-letter one in the American League. Philadelphia had won six straight games. Strell and Shener pitched for the Tigers and Quinn and Orwell for the A's. Homers by Hellmann and Shera aided Detroit.

The reorganized Yankees have played errorless ball for four consecutive days and their starting pitcher has gone the route in each instance, impressive evidence of reform. Yesterday the erratic Henney Johnson had a good day and won a 4 to 2 decision over Red Faber of the White Sox. Chicago getting only four hits. The Yanks sweep the four game series but face sterner opposition today from Cleveland, the only league rival they have not beaten this year.

The second-place Browns failed to take advantage of Philadelphia's defeat, losing out in the ninth, 8 to 7, when the righthander staff blew up and Washington scored six runs. Walter Bell, the original "wind man" of the Yankees, pitched most of the game for the nats and received credit for the victory. Bluge stole home with the winning run.

Jimmy Zinn allowed only five hits and Fonseca knocked in all of his team's runs as Cleveland ended the Red Sox, 4 to 0.

The Braves avenged a flip into the national league cellar by winning the last game of the series with Cincinnati, 4 to 1. Dixie executives Boston's new pitcher, Hart, the Red until the ninth.

New Power Probe Is Voted On By Senate

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS) A new power investigation—an inquiry to learn if the radio industry is controlled by one or more allied giant organizations, or by small manufacturers and dealers against the wall—was voted yesterday by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

The committee approved the resolution of Senator Clegg, (R) Michigan, which would give the authority while considering his resolution to bring all systems of communication under one bureau, to investigate the question of illegal radio monopoly.

Swedish Fliers Will

Hop To U.S. Saturday

STOCKHOLM, June 5.—(INS)

The Swedish aviators Captain Alen Ahrenberg and Lieutenant Axel Fleden plan to start their trans-Atlantic flight over the Greenland route at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, it was announced today.

The Junkers hydroplane is in perfect condition for the flight and weather conditions are good but although the fliers expected to hop off before Saturday, they will be unable to do so because the Labrador landing ground which is their first objective on the American side of the Atlantic is not yet fully prepared for their arrival.

After arriving at Labrador, the aviators plan to refuel and continue to New York expecting to arrive there at 3 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. They will be accompanied by a radio operator named Ljungland.

The purpose of their flight is to prove that trans-Atlantic mail service with the United States via the Greenland route is feasible.

A group of men are working on a campaign to bring in a small boat. One of them shot in the last turned over and right away were swimming. Model! If you want to be a boat, just get on your life preserver first.

County officers have found a list containing the names of three hundred of the "best people" in Jacksonville, who patently belong to the Social Service Club. These people, who are making prostitution a problem,

According to William L. Phelps, Yale professor, "The 'best' people who comprise the Social Service Club, the most important church in Greater Jacksonville, are positively holding company with their wives, to represent the best interests of New York."

A London police official said that the city has five thousand prostitutes in this country, so he advised the students in his class to be careful. But, he added, "real belief" he means "self-respect." He urges them to keep away from the bars, work hard, and be good citizens. Their clothes, and their hair combed, are certainly, and the public is invited to little action.

Two men were shot the other day in Philadelphia, the temperate residence of At Capone, the gangster, in the other two "famous" big cities. They are going to gather up their money, otherwise, that is one good way of getting out of town. It is when "most" of the leaders of the underworld are killed, the public is invited to little action.

A number of the nation's leading business men, including Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, and J. C. Penney, have told the American people that prohibition is the best way to keep the country out of the social, intellectual, political and financial worlds, would give prohibition a chance. If other business leaders of the country, and the rest of the great masses of the

Support The Advertising Campaign

Growers who are skeptical of appropriating sufficient funds for advertising celery next year should consider their efforts toward judicious advertising. Arthur Brisbane, who preaches daily to sixty million readers, has literally told the world what celery will do for the nerves and blood, and many newspapers throughout the country have commented favorably on the Brisbane article.

"If you have anything to sell," said Mr. Brisbane in full, "tell the world about it." To this applies to tobacco-bullion, a half-hundred for rent, and great states and industries that need millions of additional income. Consider the celery growers of Florida. They have unlimited, the people do not eat enough celery, rich in health, giving vitamins and good for the nerves and blood. Instead of merely wanting, Florida celery growers are advertising from Gettysburg to Humphrey, to spend $100,000 telling people to eat more celery and buy it from them. If every grower in the country has anything to sell through advertising, and get a good advertising agent as you would let a good architect or engineer.

The Tampa Tribune, also interested in the effort being made to advertise celery, makes the following comment: "The Florida celery growers are wise. They have seen a nation-wide demand for certain articles, agricultural and manufactured, by intelligent and liberal advertising campaigns. They will do likewise for their celery."

In spite of these measures of compensation, the advertising campaign is not yet assured. Over sixty percent of the growers have signed the contract, but there must be eighty percent before the necessary funds can be raised. At first, our largest growers, we are informed, are unwilling to call off the campaign, but the smaller ones, who have no advertising agent, are doing so.

The Herald cannot urge too strongly that all the growers in this district get behind the effort to further promote celery by judicious advertising. If the required funds are raised, the success of next year's crop is assured; if not, it is only reasonable to believe that next season may be just as bad as the one just past. Remember if it pays to advertise, it pays to advertise him, and no one will dispute that it pays to advertise relay.

Railroad Crossing Accidents

Statistics show that during the first ten months of 1927 there were 242 fewer accidents at railroad crossings than there were in the previous year. There were 289 fewer fatalities, and 86 fewer persons killed. This improvement is encouraging, but the "Crossing Caution" campaign is having its effect.

Supreme court records show that motorists in almost every case, buck railroad trains at their own risk. If the road is too narrow, the railroad has the right of way, and if it is too narrow, it is the motorist's responsibility to yield the right-of-way to the railroad.

There are no men left in the country who can make a railroad safe, but they are doing their best to make it safe.

While the court decisions referred to have placed the responsibility for safety primarily upon persons who cross roads, it is the responsibility of the railroad to do all in their power to prevent obstructions at railroad crossings.

The new and better Texaco Gasoline is high test—yet it costs no more than ordinary "wet" gasoline. Texaco is produced by a special process which causes it to vaporize so readily that it forms a "dry gas"—a volatile mixture of gasoline and air.

Because Texaco vaporizes completely there are no globules of raw gasoline to resist the action of the spark and cause a listless, irresponsible engine.

For more speed, more pep, more power, stop where you see the Texaco Red Star with the Green T—today.

THE TEXAS COMPANY, TEXACO PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

1. A "wet gas" is an atomized mixture of gasoline vapor in which are suspended drops of raw gasoline.
2. These drops of raw gasoline resist the action of the spark and will not ignite.
3. Result:—destructive crankcase dilution—difficult starts—slow acceleration—sluggish power.
