

12 Law Officers Scheduled For Hall Of Fame

NORTH PORT CHARLOTTE (UPI)—The names of two law enforcement officers will be added to the National Police Hall of Fame here Wednesday to highlight National Police Week starting Sunday.

President Kennedy has designated the week honoring law enforcement officers and has set Wednesday as "Peace Officers Memorial Day" in honor of law enforcement officers who have been killed or disabled in the line of duty.

The two officers selected this week for extreme valor and distinguished service to the profession will be named at a special banquet in Miami Beach Wednesday night and their names will be added to the honor roll at the Hall of Fame.

Posthumous awards will be presented at the banquet to the families of officers who have been killed in the line of duty and the officers' names and their departments will be engraved on a plaque in the center of the Hall of Fame.

The Hall of Fame is the only national memorial dedicated to the memory of police officers who have died in the line of duty.

The memorial and museum building is located on the Tamiami Trail here, some 25 miles south of Sarasota. The program of memorial was initiated in 1952 and the museum was dedicated and opened to the public Oct. 15, 1960.

Gerald S. Arenberg, director of the Hall of Fame and museum, said the structure is maintained by the members of the National Police Officers Association of America.

Arenberg, a veteran of 10 years law enforcement work, was chief of police of Gulf, Ill., before his selection as director. He is executive secretary and treasurer of the National Police Officers Association.

The museum houses police equipment and historical material dating back over a hundred years. Arenberg said the exhibits are designed to prevent crime by showing deterrents as well as the end result.

One exhibit is a collection of human restraints including leg irons, the iron-claw, handcuffs, a straight-jacket, belts and thumb-cuffs. Another is a model of an electric chair enclosed in a prison-like cell.

An exhibit of weapons taken from juveniles is designed to alert parents to the dangers police face from juveniles and to show the accessibility of these weapons to children, Arenberg said.

To remind the public that crime is a worldwide problem, the museum has a complete display of uniforms from England, Turkey, France, Germany, Sweden, Israel, Chile and Luxembourg. Hundreds of shoulder insignia from police departments throughout the nation are on display.

Historical displays include items used by or against such famous criminals as John Dillinger, Ma Barker and others of the 1930 era.

An up-to-date display of the FBI's 10 most wanted men posters is on hand as a reminder that crime is an ever-present problem, Arenberg said.

Scientific displays range from the detectors and fingerprinting materials, to speed check devices used by traffic officers.

Arenberg said his greatest compliment from a visitor came from a grade school teacher who brought her class on tour. He said she told him "this truly is a crime prevent center."

"If this holds true then this memorial building will not only be honoring the men who have died for the cause of justice but will serve to save others from taking a road to a life of crime and violence," Arenberg said.

If you make an unexpected call, make it brief.

Reception To Honor Retiring Teacher

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Mrs. Rachel Marvin, who will retire next month after 44 years as a school teacher, will be honored by personnel of the Lake Monroe School at a reception to be held in the school lunchroom on Thursday from 7 until 8:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Mrs. Marvin, a teacher at Lake Monroe since 1956, was born in Peuder, Neb., and moved at an early age with her family to Trenton, Mich. She attended Teachers College at Ypsilanti, Mich., and after graduating at the age of 19 years, taught for three years in North Detroit.

During World War I she went to California where she made her home with her brother. From there she went to Mt. Vernon, Wash., where she taught school for the next 16 1/2 years.

Later she taught in two private schools, one in South Dakota and the other here in Florida. In 1932 she received her All Degree from Seattle Pacific College.

Mrs. Marvin came to Florida 16 years ago and has been first grade teacher at Lake Monroe for the past seven years.

At the end of this year's term, she and her sister, Mrs. Clara L. Qualls, will move to Washington to make their home. Going by car, they will be accompanied by two nieces who are flying down in order to make the trip out with their aunts.

Teachers who have worked with Mrs. Marvin at Lake Monroe and principals of the school, including Morris Ruby, the present principal, have nothing but the highest praise for her. She will be truly missed.

South Seminole VFW Post Auxiliary Install Officers

By Donna Estes

M. J. Benson, junior vice commander of the VFW, Department of Florida, installed the new officers of South Seminole Post 8207 last Thursday night in ceremonies held at the Christ Church Episcopal Parish House in Longwood.

New officers, who will begin their duties the second Tuesday in June, are Robert March, commander; Jack Hopkins, senior vice commander; A. J. Berdahl, quartermaster; Larry Chunal, chaplain; Harold Matz, one year trustee; Merle Harris, two year trustee; John McManus, three year trustee.

Assisting with the installation was William Lebonatti, past commander of Post 477 of Carlisle, Pa.

Officers for the Ladies Auxiliary were installed by Mrs. Nina Benson, past district president from Daytona Beach.

These officers, who will assume their duties the second Thursday in June, are Mrs. Ruth Hopkins, president; Mrs. Virginia McManus, senior vice president; Mrs. Marian Comfort, junior vice president; Mrs. Louise Stewart, treasurer; Mrs. Irene March, secretary; Mrs. Edna Norman, chaplain; Mrs. Harriett Harris, guard, and Mrs. Geri Pittman, conductress.

Members of the Post and Auxiliary will sponsor a chicken barbecue on June 9 at the Post Home on the Old Dixie Highway with proceeds to go to the building fund.

The groups also will sponsor a Poppy Day sale this Wednesday from which the proceeds go to the relief fund for helping needy veterans and their families.

It would have the effect of raising the contributions of Dade, Glades, Hendry, Highlands, Monroe, Okechobee, Orange and Volusia counties and lowering the contributions in Brevard, Broward, Indian River, Lee, Martin, Osceola, Palm Beach, Polk, St. Lucie and Seminole counties.

Administration Aides Testify On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials take over the witness stand this week to testify on new civil rights legislation before the House Judiciary subcommittee.

Despite the violence in Birmingham, there has been relatively little interest displayed in the hearings which so far have been limited to testimony from members of Congress.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) has predicted the bill will pass the House, but foresees trouble in the Senate. The measure has little relation to the issues causing demonstrations in Alabama.

As the only civil rights bill proposed by the administration this session, the measure would extend the Civil Rights Commission's life for four years beyond September, 1968; attempt to get faster action on lawsuits filed by Negroes charging voting rights violations; and try to prevent the use of literacy tests to block Negro voting.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was scheduled to testify on the measure Wednesday. He will be followed by Health Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze and representatives of the Civil Rights Commission.

Other congressional news: Debt — Party lines tightened for a coming House battle over a bill to hike the national debt limit. Advance signs were that President Kennedy's supporters have the votes to win, but only by a narrow margin. The measure, which probably would be voted on Wednesday or Thursday, would set the debt ceiling at $397 billion through June 30 and $409 billion during July and August.

Teachers who have worked with Mrs. Marvin at Lake Monroe and principals of the school, including Morris Ruby, the present principal, have nothing but the highest praise for her. She will be truly missed.

Bolick, Butts Attend Meeting

Rev. Ernest B. Bolick Jr., pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, and Thomas Butts, lay delegate, are in Ft. Lauderdale this week for the first annual convention of the recently merged Florida Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. The three day session opens with Holy Communion on Monday evening. Christ Church which is hosting the meeting was completed and dedicated in February. Louis G. Golder is the pastor.

The 92 congregation synod came into being Jan. 1, and is made up of former congregations of the United, Augustana and Finnish Evangelical Lutheran churches. National membership is 6200 churches is more than three million. Florida membership is near 34,000. State offices are in Tampa. Dr. Aysall A. Yount is the president.

The expression "bring home the bacon" originated from an old English custom of giving a pound of bacon to any married person who could kneel before the church door and swear that he had not had a family quarrel in the past 12 months.

Most fascinating news item of the week is contained in a memo by City Manager Pete Knowles to the City Commission and reads in full:

"Sanford has the state egg cracking champ in Street Supt. Eddie Griffith. He cracked 17 eggs in two minutes with a two-ton weight on a hydraulic crane at the Public Works Association equipment show at Winter Park. Bob Kelly, city refuse and sewer superintendent, tied for second place at 16 cracked eggs. (Broken ones did not count.)"

Four doctors are planning construction of a clinic and office building in three or four weeks on San Carlos Avenue. City has agreed to share costs with the doctors for paving the avenue between Second and Third Streets.

John Kridler and Scott Burns, of the Chamber of Commerce, are in Dallas conferring with the Hunt people about local problems. After clearing up a technicality, Mayor Tom McDonald and possibly Commissioner J. H. Crapps will go to New York about the proposed prep school here.

Summary of a report on the inspection of downtown buildings: "Few of the buildings in this area will meet the present-day codes; however, it is the opinion of this inspector that these buildings not only met but many exceeded the requirements of the code at the time of construction. To bring these buildings up to present code standards is not economically feasible. However, when the buildings are remodeled and alterations undertaken, many of the safety features of the present codes can be incorporated in this work, thereby maintaining a reasonable safety standard which is apparently satisfactory with the underwriters since our base rate for insurance has not risen but has, in fact, been reduced in recent years."

Hill Hemphill Motors is expanding, a sign of the times. McCull paint shop is being moved into newer quarters at the rear of Hemphill Motors. The paint shop building is being razed. Hemphill will pave all the way from the present plant along First Street to Elm Avenue for its new and used car departments.

Another sign of the times: Nehi Bottling on Pecan Avenue is expanding also. Took a special act of the City Commission, though. Seena the property was zoned commercial but someone later erred and split the Nehi property, inadvertently zoning half of it as residential. Mistake has been rectified and a building permit approved.

Congressman Syd Herlong will be asked to intervene in the proposed sale of the old post-office property by the city. City would like to sell and use the proceeds to erect a modern library building at a more advantageous point, probably First Mellon Park.

City Commissioners will commence Thursday a series of visits to various city departments for on-the-spot inspection of activities. Commissioners also questioning use of city-owned vehicles by employees in going to and from their homes, especially at lunch time. Jimmy Crapps suggested it would be cheaper for the city to buy their lunches.

More drapes will be added to the auditorium annex and lobby room at the Civic Center, come the next city budget.

City fathers anxious to remove the ramps and control parking at the southwest corner of Park and Commercial. Curbing was removed by the owner when a service station was installed. City feels since the original curbing was paid for by the taxpayers and was removed by the then owner, that the new owner should pay for new curbing and sidewalk. New owner says "no."

Faulty Radar 'Scrubs' Orbit Flight

The Sanford Herald

WEATHER: Partly cloudy, isolated showers, High today 85-90; low 65-70.
VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 TUES., MAY 14, 1963 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 711

THE MERCURY TEAM—As they have on all previous space flights, the seven Mercury astronauts will work as a team when Air Force Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. carries out the longest earth-orbiting journey by an American. Cooper's will be the sixth and probably last in the Mercury program. He will attempt a 22-orbit flight lasting 34 hours. (Record of 64 orbits and 94 hours is held by Russian cosmonaut Andrian G. Nikolayev.) Newsmag spots the six other astronauts: John H. Glenn Jr. will be aboard a command ship off the coast of Japan; Malcolm S. Carpenter will be in Hawaii; Virgil J. Gribson will be at a tracking station in Mexico; Alan B. Shepard Jr. is back-up pilot and will be at Cape Canaveral. Also at the Cape will be Walter M. Schirra Jr., acting as capsule communicator at Mercury control center, Donald K. Slayton, grounded because of a heart condition, will be an observer at the Cape along with nine new astronaut-candidates.

Second Try Planned Wednesday Morning

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — L. Gordon Cooper's attempt to fly 22 times around the world was postponed for 24 hours today by a faulty tracking radar on which his safety and the success of his mission depended.

Walter C. Williams, operations chief of the Mercury space program, announced that a second attempt would be made at 8 a. m. (EST) Wednesday.

Today's postponement was announced at 9:57 a. m. (EST) 12 minutes before the 36-year-old Air Force major was to have vaulted into the sky atop an Atlas rocket for a 34-hour trip through space. He had been in his cramped Faith 7 cabin four hours and 19 minutes when the reluctant decision was made to "scrub" the flight.

Cooper climbed slowly from his capsule at 11:29 a. m. (EST) He shrugged, raised his arms in a palms-up gesture, and smiled at the white-helmeted engineers who help him out.

Cooper appeared tired, with perspiration on his head and face. As he walked toward the elevator for his descent to the ground, one of the attendants slapped him on the back.

Williams said Wednesday's weather outlook for the launch area and major recovery regions is "essentially the same" as that for today. He said the final decision on the new attempt would be made "solely on the condition of the Bermuda radar."

At first it was thought the trouble with the diesel engine used to move the 12-story service tower was impurities in the fuel system. But Williams said later it was discovered that the fault lay with the fuel pump.

He said that if the flight had gone today despite the radar trouble, officials would have had to rely on less accurate information to make the critical decision on whether Cooper had achieved a good orbit.

He said the equipment which failed constituted a backup to the Atlas rocket's guidance system.

Cooper's mission is to spend 34 hours in space to check the effects of weightlessness on human beings and to perform tests vital to the forthcoming two-man Gemini Apollo moon flights.

Kennedy Holds Firm Despite New Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy held firm today to his insistence that he had legal power to send federal troops to Alabama despite a new protest by Gov. George C. Wallace against his presence.

Replying Monday to Wallace's challenge of his authority to send standby troops, Kennedy appealed to the Governor for "constructive cooperation" to make their use unnecessary.

Kennedy's telegram replied to one Wallace sent him Sunday night, after the President announced shipment of riot control units to buses near Birmingham and took preliminary action to federalize the Alabama National Guard if necessary.

The Governor sent a second message to Kennedy Monday, disputing the President's reply to the initial wire. But White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy would stand on his earlier response.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Two white youths were cut with knives and a Negro was wounded by a pellet gun Monday night on the streets of this racially torn city.

The incidents Monday night were scattered and there was no recurrence of the weekend rioting that caused President Kennedy to order 5,000 troops sent to military bases in Alabama on Sunday alert.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A group of about 150 Negro students clashed with white hecklers and police Monday during an anti-segregation march through downtown Nashville. A number of persons was injured and at least three men were arrested. More demonstrations were planned for today.

Defective Wire Causes Inn Fire
Lots of smoke but not much damage was caused by a fire resulting from a defective wire at the Mayfair Inn Monday, according to Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr.

School Areas Outlined At Altamonte

Territorial boundaries for children who will attend Altamonte Springs Elementary School for the 1963-64 term were announced today by Principal Frank Gore.

All boundaries will remain the same with the exception of those listed below:

Children living in Briarwood and Weathersfield and on SR 435 as far west as the railroad track will attend Altamonte.

Cassberry children west of Hwy. 17-92 from the Dog Track Rd. south to SR 435 will attend South Seminole Elementary School.

All children east of Hwy. 17-92 south of SR 435 will attend English Estates Elementary School as will all children west of Hwy. 17-92 south of SR 435 and as far west as the railroad track at the eastern edge of Altamonte Springs.

Gore also announced that the annual pre-school roundup at Altamonte Elementary will be held this Friday between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m. at which time all children who will enter the school as first graders next fall will be registered.

Cooper Family 'Disappointed'

TAYLOR LAKE VILLAGE, Tex. (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper's wife, Trudy, and their two daughters took the news that his 22-orbit flight had been scrubbed today in silence.

Mrs. Cooper called the postponement "just a disappointment."

Then Mrs. Cooper came out of their home with the daughters—Camilla, 14, and Janita, 13—and a National Aeronautics and Space Administration security man took them to Webster Junior High School, which the girls attend.

The girls will spend the rest of the day in school, Camilla in the ninth grade and Janita in the seventh. If their father's space flight had gone off on schedule, they would have remained at home.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls were smiling as they left for school, but they said nothing.

Dave Schwartz, a public affairs officer for NASA, said Cooper telephoned 30 minutes before the 8 a. m. (EST) original launch time.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls look the call in a bedroom.

The Coopers and the families of the other astronauts live in Taylor Lake Village because it is near Houston, Tex., where the manned spacecraft center is in the process of construction.

Mrs. Cooper and the girls stayed inside their $35,000 brick home until the postponement of the flight was announced. Schwartz came out a couple of times and told 50 reporters and television men assembled in front of the house what they were waiting for.

The Coopers were up at 5:30 a. m. (EST) to watch activities at Cape Canaveral on three television receivers.

Road Projects Win Approval Of Commission

Bunnell, Red Bug, Old Geneva, Lake Geneva and Lake Mills Roads received top priority in a suggested emergency improvement program by County Commission this morning.

The recommendation was made by County Engineer William Bush "in order to plan ahead and schedule material deliveries, men and machinery most efficiently" during the remaining five months of the fiscal year. The board had deferred this action because of the December freeze.

Bush estimated cost of repairs at $1,200 for Bunnell, $15,400 for Red Bug, $10,000 for Old Geneva, $21,000 for Lake Geneva and $20,000 for Lake Mills Road, for a total of $68,000.

The engineer also recommended high priorities for Lake Mary-Lanwood Road, Tuskawilla from Red Bug south to SR 426, Old Forest City Road and Osceola Road.

Commissioners took under advisement for consideration during the noon recess a request by Mayor Tom McDonald and City Attorney William Hutchison for a quit claim deed for the recreational area at Mellonville and Celery. A great part of the 18 acres was given by the county to the city for recreational purposes in 1919, with a reverter clause. The city now desires to sell the property for a preparatory school and establish a recreational area elsewhere.

In other action the Commission:

Referred to County Attorney Harold Johnson a request by the Martin Sports Car Club, of the Martin Company, Orlando, for permission to have races Aug. 11 at the Osceola air strip.

Tabled Vernon Dunn's request relative to county responsibilities of Prairie Lake Manor outfall, a road to English Estates school and drainage at Seminole Industrial Park.

Referred to Commissioner John Alexander a request of the Sunland Estates Garden Club for added land for its activities.

Heard a resolution approved by the City Commission commending establishment of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, now before the Legislature.

$37,500 Saving Eyed By City On Water Job

An estimated savings of $37,500 in the city's water system expansion was "guaranteed" by City Manager W. E. Knowles Monday evening when the City Commission approved a proposal submitted by him.

Knowles suggested the city purchase and install with city labor a 22-inch water main from the plant west of the city into town to furnish service to all users.

The city manager said estimated cost of the installation was $250,000 but that with the city accomplishing the installation itself it would save "at least" 15 per cent as compared to the lowest bid submitted by any contractor should the city ask for bids.

Commissioner approved Knowles' proposal that the installation be done by the city.

Knowles also was directed to consider changing the non-resident percentage on utility rates from 30 to 50 per cent. Presently non-residents of the city enjoying city utility services pay 30 per cent more than residents.

In other action Monday night the Commission:

Approved a liquor license for the Knights of Columbus at 2362 Oak Avenue.

Approved a zoning ordinance amendment changing the front yard setback from 25 to 20 feet for single and two-family dwellings in multiple family districts of R-3 and R-6 zones.

Gave Miss Jeanette E. Laine a second 90-day extension on the condemnation of four structures.

Agreed to lend a supply tank to a laundromat at Sanford Avenue and Osceola Road pending expansion of the water system. The owner had complained he was being "put out of business" by lack of water pressure due to the 100-ft plant using so much.

CONSTRUCTION WILL be commenced in the next 10-15 days on the $100,000, 74-bed Retirement Life Corporation's nursing home on Highway 17-92 at DeBary. Pictured signing contracts and other agreements is Dr. Leonard Munson, corporation president, and looking on are LeRoy Robb (center), of the Carroll Daniel Construction Company, and W. S. ### Christian Churches Set Convention

Revamping of church machinery will be a major area of concern for the Florida Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) as members meet in convention from Wednesday through Saturday in St. Petersburg.

A major part of the sessions will be held at the Mirror Lake Christian Church where the convention will formally open Wednesday night with an address by Convention President Rev. John C. Updegraff, minister of the First Christian Church in Ft. Lauderdale.

Other addresses will be delivered by national leaders Dr. Robert Burns of Atlanta, president of the International Convention of Christian Churches; Dr. A. T. DeGroot, professor at Bible College of the Bible of Texas Christian University and co-author of the definitive history book of the Christian Churches and Dr. A. Dale Fiers of Indianapolis, Ind.

Vegetable Market

In New York Monday, the market for Florida cabbage was slightly higher. Crates sold generally for 2.50-2.75, with two marks selling at 3. Offerings of red type were liberal, but prices ranged from 3.50-4.50. Mostly 4.50 per crate. Savoy type sold for 2.50-3. Chinese cabbage prices were about steady at 4.5 per crate, with one mark wrapped 6. Celery prices were unchanged, with two to three dozen size selling from 3.25-3.75, mostly 3.25-3.50, and four dozen bringing 3.3-3.50.

Carrots of film wrapped celery hearts 3.50. Cucumbers were slightly easier at 4.50-4.25, small sizes 3.3-3.50 few 4. Endive was slightly weaker at 2.50-3. Few 3.25, mostly 2.75. Escarole 2.25-2.75, and Romaine also was lower at 2.2-2.50. Parsley prices were a bit higher at 4.50-5. Radish prices were lower at 1.62 1/2 to 2 per basket of 20 ounce film bags. Squash prices were lower, with small to medium size green Italian type selling for 8 in small crates, and watercress was mostly 15 cents per bunch with a few sales at 18 cents. In Central Florida demand for cabbage was good and the market firm, with crates selling for 1.50-1.75, mostly 1.50-1.60. Red type ranged from 2.25-2.75 with a few sales at 3, and a few Savoy sold for 2 per crate. Celery prices were unchanged at 2 for two to four dozen size and 2.25 for six to eight dozen. Carrots, topped and washed, sold for 3.15 per mesh sack of 48 one pound film bags, and Chinese cabbage, wrapped, for 3.50. Cucumbers sold at 3 per bushel basket for U. S. No. 1 and 2.50-2.75 for small. Endive and escarole were steady at 2 per crate, and Big Boston lettuce was slightly higher at 3.3-3.60 per crate of 24 heads. Romaine type was lower at 1.75-2 per crate.

Shipments over the weekend included: Celery, rail 57 cars, truck 84 cartons; Carrots, rail 25, truck 56; Endive, rail 10, truck 26; Cucumbers, rail 35, truck 154 and cucumbers rail two and truck 25.

Salons Favor Paddling Unruly Students

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members went on record today in favor of paddling unruly students and — if that doesn't work — throwing them out of school.

They voted 277 to 53 to overturn a rule by the local board of education barring corporal punishment. The measure, which has come to be known as the "paddling bill," now goes to the Senate. The legislation would authorize use of "reasonable force" by teachers and principals in the District of Columbia schools. The bill attracted more than usual attention because of a race-centered riot at a high school football game in the district stadium last Thanksgiving Day.

The House also passed and sent the Senate without dissent another bill to allow the suspension or expulsion of pupils who cannot be controlled. This had been held impossible under the district's compulsory school attendance law.

The suspension authority, requested by school authorities, was eased through with a brief explanation by its author, Rep. Basil Whitener (D-N.C.). Passage was by voice vote and without audible dissent.

The paddling bill, also authored by Whitener, drew fire from Rep. William Fitts Ryan (D-N.Y.). He said current problems in desegregated district schools are born in generations of "segregation, discrimination and social ills." "To suggest that corporal punishment is the answer—or even a partial answer—to the problems of the district schools is dangerous," Ryan asserted.

Artificial Kidney Now Saves Lives

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — A medical team looked today to the combination of two medical breakthroughs—the artificial kidney and transplantation of human organs—to save countless lives.

Much of their hope was pinned on a teen-aged University of Minnesota student who only a few months ago was dying of diseased kidneys. Today he is preparing to return to his studies with an artificial kidney in place while doctors prepare to attempt another transplant.

Doctors have long sought to reduce the toll of kidney ailments that kills thousands every year.

They have experimented with kidney transplants between human beings for about three years. But about three of every four transplants failed—and the patients died.

There also has been a successful artificial kidney machine in operation for about three years which can keep a kidney patient alive by cleansing his blood frequently.

A team of Minneapolis doctors tied the two together.

If a transplant failed, they reasoned, there was no need for the patient to die.

The kidney machine could be put into use to keep the patient alive indefinitely until another transplant could be tried.

Twice this year, Dr. Claude R. Hitchcock, chief of surgery, director of surgery research at the Minneapolis General Hospital and a surgery professor at the University of Minnesota, and his staff have performed kidney transplants.

The first patient, a 65-year-old woman, died Feb. 28, 15 days after her operation, of reaction to drugs used to control her body's rejection of the new kidney.

The second patient was Michael Michalik, 18, of Minneapolis. He had two diseased kidneys and was dying. A transplant failed and hope for him was nearly gone.

In trying to save Michalik's life, Hitchcock and his team turned to the use of an artificial kidney which a patient can use repeatedly. The patient can be treated by other types only once or twice for fear of damage to the blood.

Soon, the doctors plan to try another transplant on Michalik. If it fails, they will try again, relying on the artificial kidney to keep him alive.

An artificial kidney has been used in Seattle for about three years and has been successful in keeping alive a group of patients, many of them now living otherwise normal lives.

The Seattle kidney is a large apparatus made of stainless steel and plastic and used in a regular hospital room. Doctors insert two tubes in a patient's arm, one to an artery and one to a vein.

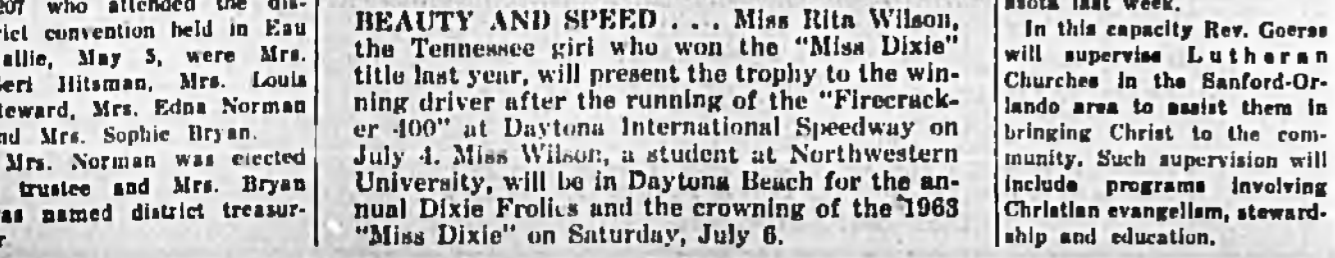

The patient's blood then flows through the tubes into the artificial kidney and back into the body. The kidney machine performs the same function as a human kidney—it removes chemical waste water and water from the blood.

Solons Ponder Civil Rights In Grain Surplus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) expected to decide whether to press civil rights amendments to a bill to reduce the feed grain surplus.

Senate Democratic leaders hope to get the bill passed by Thursday. The House already has approved it.

But Javits' suggestion Monday that liberals might try to attach a civil rights rider threatened the bill's timetable.

The feed grain bill would extend into 1965 an existing program under which farmers who voluntarily restrict acreage of corn and other feed grains qualify for double benefits.

Democrats want it passed before the May 21 referendum in which wheat farmers decide whether to accept a controversial control plan for the 1964 wheat crop.

Other congressional news: Ratings: A House Commerce subcommittee called Census Bureau officials to testify at the resumption of hearings in radio and television audience ratings services. The subcommittee wants to compare the sampling methods used by the Census Bureau with those of the rating services.

Poisons: A Senate subcommittee plans to begin hearings Thursday into the use of chemical poisons, which Rachel Carson, in her book "Silent Spring," said may pose a health hazard.

Relief Deadlock Is Broken

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — An uneasy truce may spell the end of a long political battle and result in checks for hard-pressed Illinois' relief families.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, the state's No. 1 Republican, and legislative leaders indicated they expected the GOP-dominated legislature to pass today a bill to provide the money for the resumption of relief checks.

Republican State Treasurer William Scott said the deadlock was broken when Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner said he would sign a bill setting limits on relief checks during the two years starting July 1.

In Chicago where there are 8,000 families on Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) rolls, government officials and social workers went on around-the-clock duty to distribute federal surpluses and donated food.

The surplus food was trucked in from six locations in Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana, and it was taken to 30 neighborhood centers where the nearly penniless relief recipients began pickups this morning.

Fleets of trucks shuttled tons of surplus foods—flour, rolled wheat, beans, rice, dry milk, chopped meat, butter, cheese and other commodities.

The lines of folk in front of the settlement houses were reminiscent of the bread lines of the dark Depression days of the early 1930s.

The private food programs have been under way since last week when the relief checks stopped because the Public Aid Commission ran out of money for its ADC and general assistance programs.

Normally the legislature would have made an emergency appropriation. But the GOP-dominated legislature and the Democratic-controlled administration clashed.

The Republicans insisted on establishing maximums for the payments, and the Democrats resisted.

Real Estate Week

With May 13-18 being observed as National Real Estate Week, the Realtor's obligation to the home seeker is explained herewith by C. F. Field, president of the Seminole County Board of Realtors.

Can a home seeker expect a realtor to give him information which could dissuade him from buying a house in which he was initially interested?

Yes, if withholding such facts would constitute unfair treatment of the home seeker. A case from the new book, "Interpretations of the Code of Ethics," illustrates the point.

This book, just published by the National Association of Real Estate Boards sets forth specific cases to show how the code of ethics to which they subscribe is applied for the benefit of the public, clients, and colleagues.

One article of this code states: "In accepting employment as an agent, the realtor pledges himself to protect and promote the interests of the client. This obligation of absolute fidelity to the client's interest is primary, but it does not relieve the realtor from the obligation of dealing fairly with all parties to the transaction."

One case from the new book dramatically illustrates the obligation of the realtor to the home seeker. The circumstances were as follows:

"As the exclusive agent of Client A, Realtor B offered a house for sale, advertising it near bus stop. Prospect C, who explained that his daily schedule made it necessary for him to have a house near the bus stop, was shown Client A's property, liked it, and made a deposit.

"Two days later, Realtor B read a notice of a rerouting of the bus line under which Client A's house would no longer be near a stop. He informed Prospect C of this circumstance. Prospect C lost interest in the house. Realtor B informed Client A and insisted that Prospect C's deposit should be returned.

"Client A reluctantly complied with Realtor B's request, but complained to the Board of Realtors that Realtor B had not faithfully protected and promoted his interests; that after a willingness to buy had been achieved, Realtor B need not have made a disclosure to the prospect that killed the sale, since the point was not of major importance. The new bus route, he showed, would put a stop within six blocks of the property.

"In a hearing on the matter before the board, Realtor B explained that in advertising Client A's property the fact that a bus stop was only a few feet from the property had been prominently featured. He made the point also that Prospect C, in consulting him, had emphasized that because of a physical disability, he needed a home as near as possible to a bus stop.

"Thus, in his judgement, the change in bus routing materially changed the characteristics of the property in the eyes of the prospective buyer, and he felt, under his obligation to give fair treatment to all parties in the transaction, that he should inform Prospect C, and that in so doing he was not violating his obligation to his client.

"The board concluded that Realtor B had acted properly under both the spirit and the letter of the Code of Ethics. He was exonerated and commended."

A realtor, in providing professional real estate service, is a person who is pledged to observe a long-established code of ethical conduct.

GOP VICTORY MARCH, OR HEADIN' FOR THE LAST ROUNDUP?

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Was I a smart advertising executive who laughs at the smug university psychologists who think I am belittling scientific psychology by using 2-syllable words? For he knows, and so do all editors, that short words away people better than polysyllables. Scrapbook this case and tomorrow's follow-up.

CASE P-440: Hal K., aged 28, is an advertising executive.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I studied your textbook in Applied Psychology while at college.

"And I remember your famous 'Advertising Test' which I have used to help swing several big advertising accounts.

"But recently I bumped into another college professor of psychology who attacked you bitterly.

"He said you were a disgrace to psychology because you employ 2-syllable words; 'For he said you make psychology sound too easy and thus deprecate the dignity of university professors. Can you imagine!

"Why don't you show your readers why you avoid the usual professor's polysyllabic circumlocutions?"

In that "Advertising Test" to which Hal referred, I offered college students a many choices of paired book titles, such as:

- Battle of a Seaman
- Privateersman
- The Art of Controversy
- How to Argue Logically

Just suppose a wealthy uncle, who was a book publisher, and left you his publishing firm.

Tomorrow morning you go down to the office and sit at the president's desk.

In comes your advertising manager and says this:

"Chief, we are about to go to press with the first book. So what title do you want us to imprint on the cover?"

"Shall we title the book 'Bat-les of a Seaman' or should we head it 'Privateersman'?"

Keep in mind, too, that you newspaper advertising campaign will be conducting a national page where you run full page ads in all the leading newspapers from coast to coast.

You will thus be trying to attract customers who will mail you their orders just from having read that newspaper ad.

So which of that first pair of titles would you select to sell the greater number of books?

Then make your decision regarding the second pair listed above.

On the basis of your arbitrary decision, as you sit in the president's chair, you will either go broke and end in bankruptcy or you will make big profit.

Yet how can you tell, just by looking at those four book titles, exactly how the American public will respond?

This is the situation of editors who write heads over front page stories in hopes of attracting more reader traffic.

It is also the problem of high salaried advertising executives who try to present toponch ads.

And it confronts even the politicians, too, for a mere change in a few words (even a few syllables) can spell the entire difference between defeat and victory.

In that first pair of titles, each of which was used for a full year in a national newspaper advertising campaign, the sales volumes were 10,000 copies vs. 7,800 and in favor of "Battle of a Seaman."

In the second pair, it was 100 vs. 80,000 copies, and in favor of "How to Argue Logically." More tomorrow.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— There is a great national lesson and a moral some place—if anybody can figure out what and where—in the announcement that the United Presbyterian Church Board of National Missions is considering a takeover of 10 hospitals in Kentucky and the Virginia, built by United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund.

Miners Memorial Hospital Assn., which has been operating the hospitals since 1956, has announced it will have to close four of the hospitals July 1, the others by Oct. 1 because it is no longer financially able to keep them going.

This has caused a great protest in the tri-state coal area. There have been threats of violence and fears of bombings. The Appalachian mountain people who never had decent medical care before want them kept open. There is no doubt they are needed.

The story of these hospitals is something of an American classic in human understanding. At the end of World War II United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis inspired a survey of health and medical care throughout the area. It was conducted by the U. S. Coal Mines Administration with Rear Adm. Joel T. Boone, retired Navy surgeon general in charge.

The survey revealed scandalous conditions. No modern hospitals, not enough doctors, fewer dentists, terrible infant mortality, midwives for obstetricians, bad nursing service, high disease and death rates, inadequate first aid services at the mines.

Lewis then took characteristic action. He decided to have the hospitals built by his union. Using welfare and retirement funds being built up by royalties of five cents a ton at first—now 40 cents a ton—paid by coal operators with which the union had contracts, ten 100-bed hospitals were built.

They were planned to cost $10 million in all. They ended up costing $27 million, but they were the last word in everything, including medical staff and service. UMW's welfare fund agreed to pay $35 a day flat rate for every hospitalized miner and member of his family, but that covered everything. Facilities were also open to all members of the communities.

Lewis had enough confidence in the coal industry to believe that his investment would pay out, but here he may have made a miscalculation that turns his monument into a cross.

U. S. coal production has dropped from 600 million tons in 1952 to 400 million tons in 1962. Mechanization of the big mines closed down production of marginal mines.

More coal now is produced by 150,000 miners than used to be produced by 300,000 miners.

There are 150,000 unemployed miners today. Many former union miners now work for below scale wages at non-union wagon mines which account for a fourth of today's production.

The UMW welfare and retirement fund has come upon leaner days with these developments. The $100 a month pensions promised to union miners on retirement at age 60 has been cut to $75. And the fund no longer is able to subsidize the hospitals.

No figures are given out on operation costs for the 10 hospitals, but $750,000 a year losses are mentioned unofficially.

So the hospitals will be closed—the patients locked out—unless some new formula can be found to keep them going in what now are depressed areas.

The Presbyterian Church Missions has stepped into the situation to see what can be saved. No deal has been closed, no figures mentioned.

The Presbyterians don't have $27 million or even $20 million to buy the hospitals, and don't want to buy them. The principal aim is to keep them open until a permanent operator can be found, mobilizing local resources.

Some help may come from the U. S. government's Area Redevelopment Administration under a section of the ARA Act which authorizes grants to improve opportunities in local rehabilitation areas.

Gov. Bert T. Combs of Kentucky says he will call a special session of the state legislature if that will facilitate continued operation of the hospitals.

Two broad generalizations may be made on the whole situation. Something is wrong with an economy in which this can happen. Something is wrong with health care planning. Both need fixing.

Reports Thick And Heavy

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Each morning when I sit down at the breakfast table, I eat a bowl of wheat flakes and read a newspaper.

In all my years I have been doing this, it never occurred to me that I might someday be reading the wheat flakes and eating the newspaper.

My mind simply doesn't run in those channels, particularly at such an early hour. But the mind of a congressman does.

I call your attention to a recent exchange of letters between Rep. John H. Dent, (D-Pa.), and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

"I have been saying, for the past three weeks, all of the printed material coming from the various departments . . . as well as the volumes of reports from the government agencies of all kinds," Dent told Freeman.

More reports are printed than anyone could possibly leaf through, let alone read, he noted. In addition, Congress consumes a great deal of paper, as do the daily newspapers, he said.

The contemplation of all that paper gave Dent an idea. He suggested to Freeman that the vast amount of printed material might hold the key to solution of the surplus grain problem.

Since the Japanese make paper from rice, and Latin Americans make paper from sugar cane, it might be feasible for us to make paper from wheat and other grains, Dent said.

In other words, the surplus reports would be printed on the surplus grain. Or, as Dent put it, "if we can't eat our surplus food grains, we may be able to read them."

He offered to introduce legislation setting up a study program if Freeman thought the proposal had merit.

In reply, the secretary informed Dent that the "department already was doing research along those lines and was "making good progress in several directions."

"This country uses around 25 million tons of paper products each year, and to supply even a part of this market would provide a substantial outlet for grain," Freeman said.

Maybe so, but I fear such a program would cause complications of the sort that Dent and Freeman apparently have overlooked.

Most newspaper and paper stock used in this country is made from pulpwood. If we started using paper made from grain, what would that do to the timber industry?

I'll tell you what it would do. It likely would create a surplus of woodpulp.

Then, the next fiscal step would be for the timber industry to undertake a research program to find a way to use woodpulp for a breakfast cereal.

That, in turn, would create another grain surplus, and a lot more government reports.

Motorettes Set Summer Play

The Tuesday morning Bill Hemphill Women's Bowling League, the Motorettes, has just concluded its fall schedule and is now planning on starting its summer schedule. This league, which is handicapped, had 10 teams bowling during the fall schedule and gives promise to having the same number of teams for the summer league as well.

According to Nola Ferguson, secretary of the league, these are the teams and team members listed to participate:

Hiviers—Billie Charlott, Rita Stein, Ruby Predovick, Lois Jackson.

Tempest—Evelyn Deltato, Evelyn Mills, Mabel Dugan, Harriet Gazil.

Starchiefs—Shirley Maxwell, Isabel Goshorn, Joan Magin, Sue Long.

Skyjarks—Nola Ferguson, Grace Keck, Connie Branson, Viola Kastner.

Honnevilles—Elsie Miller, Gladys Holzman, Linda Post, Jean Whipple.

Le Sabres—Betty Rickey, Mary Ann Kinsey (Needs two bowlers).

Pontiacs—Signed as a complete team (names unavailable).

And there are three other teams who are in need of a few bowlers. So, if you'd like to join, please be at the lanes on Tuesday morning at 9:15.

One TV Camera Will Film Race

NEW YORK (UPI)—CBS-TV will use only one camera—a Mark III Zoomar placed atop a 75-foot tower in the Pimlico infield to cover Saturday's $150,000 added Preakness. By using one camera, which can make a full 360-degree turn, CBS believes viewers will be able to concentrate better on the race rather than being distracted by camera switches.

Old Timers Set Game July 27

NEW YORK (UPI)—Edgar Sam Rice, a recent addition to baseball's Hall of Fame, has become the first player to accept an invitation to play in the New York Yankees' 17th annual Old Timers' Day. Oldtimers' Day ceremonies will be held Saturday, July 27, before the Yankees-Minnesota Twins game at Yankee Stadium.

Strikes... Spares

By John A. Spolak

Hold onto your hat, mah friends! This is what you've been asking for and now you can have it!

Starting on May 27 and continuing through June 2 we'll be celebrating Family Bowling Week!

Even Gov. Farris Bryant will sign a proclamation to this effect. Usually it doesn't mean too much to you other than the fact that this particular product line now been called to your attention.

Not so with Family Bowling Week!

Every bowling establishment throughout Central Florida will be offering this special incentive to get you and your entire family out bowling.

For every game bowled as a family group (husband and wife and/or daughters and sons), one game will be at the full adult price, with the balance of the family only paying half-price.

Pretty good deal, huh?

That's just the beginning, mah friends, just the over-lov-in' beginning!

Here's a super special for you, too.

Starting on May 20 through June 29, Merita bread will have on every loaf of bread a coupon which will offer one free game of bowling with every three bowled.

And then during August and September, Wheaties will be making the same kind of offer to you lucky people!

No strings attached, honest. We just want you to come on out and be a bowler!

The Tuesday A. M. Bill Hemphill Motorettes League finished its fall schedule last week and had familiarization this morning for the start of the summer season.

It looks like these happy-go-lucky gals will be bowling again with a 10-team league. No wonder, though! Once again it's a credit and reflection on the league officers who've been doing a good job running the league.

If you'd like to join these keggerettes, please be at the Lanes this coming Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., prepared to roll.

Our Friday night Mr. & Mrs. League started this past week and we were very pleased on welcoming twelve couples into it. Like we've been saying right along, this is strictly a sociable league where it doesn't really matter whether you bowl 98 or 199.

(Oh, brother, what's come over you, John)

We ran our Sunday Sweeper again this week and had a real good turnout. You know

DeBary Fishing Club Installs New Officers

New officers were installed and plans were made for the annual picnic at last Wednesday's meeting of the DeBary Fishing Club held in the Recreation Hall of the DeBary Fire Station.

Officers, installed by Sid Porter, were Clyde Wright, president; George Coon, vice president; James A. Smiley, secretary, and Archie Long, treasurer. Howard Middleton was appointed as publicity chairman.

The annual picnic will be held at Blue Springs Park this Thursday beginning at 10 a. m.

Reporters Sid Porter, Beatrice Muller and Florence Runkle were initiated into the "Purest Club" and were presented with emblems.

Porter conducted the program on "Conservation of Fish" and advised that although he will remain as a member of the District Advisory Board he must cut down on active participation in various other phases of the district work.

New members joining at the meeting were William E. Keller, William Bragg, Frank Maxey, G. Weimer and Mr. and Mrs. I. Schepkey.

Spit Ball Pitch Used, Says Lopez

CHICAGO (UPI)—Chicago White Sox Manager Al Lopez today charged that Los Angeles Angels' relief pitcher Dean Chance throws a spit ball.

Lopez charged Chance with throwing the illegal pitch in the Angels' 7-3 victory over the White Sox Monday night.

The veteran Lopez, who both battled against and caught the spit ball, said he has seen more spitballs thrown this season than he has detected in "many years."

"That Chance threw a couple of dandies last night," Lopez said. "He threw one that Nellie Fox didn't hit and one that Floyd Robinson did. It reminded me of Hurlitz Grimes in the good old days."

Doug Robinson Is Top Rookie

NEW YORK (UPI)—Doug Robinson, the champion Buffalo Bison's high-scoring, 20-year-old left wing, today was named winner of the Dudley (Red) Garrett Memorial Trophy as the American Hockey League's outstanding rookie player during the 1962-63 season.

Robinson was a clear-cut winner over Bill Masterson of the Cleveland Barons in the annual poll of AHL writers and broadcasters in the nine league cities.

The 6-foot-2, 183-pound Robinson scored 36 goals and 37 assists for a total of 73 points in Buffalo's drive to the Calder Cup championship. He scored four goals in one game and achieved the three-goal "hat trick" three times.

George's Take 2

George's has taken two games from Florida State, 97 and 123, in the American League of the Little Major League. In the 97 game Zoniga had four for four for George's. Alan Bradlock and Walter Griner were the winning pitchers for George's and Chada and Gwartzney the losers.

George Washington was supposed to have thrown a silver dollar across the Rappahannock River.

No Superhorse

Chateaugay Spurs Preakness

BALTIMORE—(NEA)—What the Preakness Stakes and the three-year-old division needed badly was something to knock the spots off Candy Spots.

This is the surprising Chateaugay and the front-running Never Bend did in the Kentucky Derby to spur the upcoming more important sophomore numbers—the Preakness at Old Pimlico on the Baltimore hilltop May 18, the Jersey Derby at Garden State Park May 20 and the Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct June 8.

Owners and trainers were beginning to think of Candy Spots and his 27-foot stride as something of a superhorse. Other proprietors might not have been quite so enthusiastic about their prospects in the Preakness had the oddly marked chestnut won the Kentucky Derby impressively. But now that the gangling California-bred has been brought back to this world several people believe they have some measure of a chance.

While Chateaugay, in his extraordinary move around the far turn and sustained drive, qualified thoroughly as a powerful candidate for the Triple Crown, Capt. Harry Guggenheim and Rex Ellsworth and Mesh Tenney did not have to apologize for Never Bend and Candy Spots.

Chateaugay, or Goldie as he is known around the barn, ran the mile and a quarter of the big heat in Louisville in an excellent 2:01 4/5 on a track having more cushion than it had when Decidedly set the record at 2:00 2/5.

The performances of Never Bend, beaten a length and a quarter, and Candy Spots, only a neck off the Calm Hoy colt, would have accounted for many a julep gallon.

Never Bend, on the Hill Daly or front end from the gate, hung on stubbornly. Candy Spots had legitimate excuses, having to be checked twice by Willie Shoemaker. The result is that racing people now figure that these high-grade colts could take turns beating one another. They give Never Bend no advantage in the mile and three-sixteenths of the Preakness. They point out that Candy Spots was in position to go on top as early as the first turn and Chateaugay was in command in the stretch.

Anyway, the Preakness will now have a large field, and No Hubbery's bucked shins should be healed and his Greenlee stablemate Guting Class, will have stopped coughing by the time of the Belmont Stakes, which could also see George D. Widener's Crewan bounce like an election repeater.

Winners have a way of popping out of barns previously unheard of during the particular season in the Belmont Stakes. Bouncing Home came out of William Ziegler's barn next to the Belmont Park saddling enclosure to prevail at 16 to 1 in 1944 and beat Calumet's Derby and Preakness winner, Pensive, which went to the post at 50 cents on the dollar.

PARTING SHOT — Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay gets a shot of vitamins in preparation for the Preakness, to be run at Pimlico in Baltimore May 18.

Lakeland Wins Two To Tie With Yanks

By United Press International

Lakeland won both games of a doubleheader against Tampa Monday night to move into a tie with the Fort Lauderdale Yankees for first place in the Florida State League.

Lakeland won the first game 4-1. George Campbell, Jim Mooring and Larry Rojas each singled in a run to lead Lakeland in the first game.

Three Tampa errors in the third inning of the second game netted five scores for Lakeland and gave the Tigers a 9-7 victory. Six of Lakeland's runs were unearned, and Larry Bartholomew led the Tigers with four RBIs.

Marlin third baseman Jim Guinn hit a three-run homer in the fifth inning and catcher Ron Tarvin drove in three more runs to lead Miami to a 6-3 win over Fort Lauderdale, and break a seven-game winning spree by the Yankees.

The Sarasota Sun Sox slipped by St. Petersburg 4-3 when first baseman Bud Felicio drove in the winning run with a single in the 10th inning. Shortstop Haley Young belted a home run for the Sun Sox in the third.

Orlando turned two walks, a hit batter, an error, two singles and a double in the third inning into a five-run rally that pushed them over the top to defeat the Daytona Beach Islanders 8-2.

Tonight Miami plays at Fort Lauderdale, Sarasota

The standings:

It's that simple. Evinrude's push-button electric shift makes driving a boat as easy as driving your car.

It's all done with a finger touch. You just push a button, feed the gas and steer.

How does it work?

Simple. The control box up front has a throttle lever and three buttons—neutral, forward, reverse. The buttons are connected by sealed wire to an electric clutch which drives the propeller.

Can you depend on it?

Completely! There's nothing to get out of order except the push-button switches. And we test them for 1,000,000 cycles. That's equivalent to 60 years of operation.

After that you may have to buy new buttons.

Other luxury features are just as reliable. Like an automatic choke. Like a thermostat control to keep your engine at peak operating efficiency... provide better lubrication and prolong engine life.

To prove it, we give you a two-year warranty.

We make two push-button models. The 40 hp Lark and the 75 hp Hardie.

With either one you can be lazy without being shiftless.

MATCH FUN — Mary Jo Snider, 11, of Lima, Ohio, has a new doll house, made from thousands of burned matchsticks. It was given to her by an inmate at a local state hospital. The house was made as part of the hospital's occupation therapy program.

2 Czech Party Aides Purged By Communists

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Czechoslovakia today disclosed the purge of its former secret police chief, Karol Bacilek, and another old-line Communist, Bruno Koehler, from their leading party posts.

The Czech government announcement said both were dismissed from the party's Central Committee, which means Bacilek has lost his post on the nine-man ruling Presidium as well, and Koehler is out as one of the six secretaries of the Central Committee.

No reason was given for the purge, but both leaders are old-line Stalinists closely identified with the harsh policies of the late President Klement Gottwald.

Koehler, 63, was a co-founder of the Czech Communist party and a former close aide of Gottwald's.

Bacilek, 67, headed the secret police from 1952 to 1954, when the former general secretary of the party, Rudolf Slansky, and 11 others were executed on treason charges.

It was believed Bacilek's ouster may begin the posthumous rehabilitation of the Slansky group, which was condemned during a Stalin-era wave of anti-Semitism. Slansky and many of the other defendants were Jewish.

Snake Selects A Cold Home

IN FLORIDA BEER IS A NATURAL

As natural as the wholesome grains and tangy hops from which it is brewed, beer is Florida's traditional beverage of moderation . . . light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, Florida's Brewing Industry is proud to be a major purchaser of Florida products and raw materials. For example, the Brewing Industry is responsible for millions of dollars paid annually to Florida farmers for pulpwood to be made into cardboard boxes and cartons. Millions more are spent for other Florida materials and services. In Florida, beer belongs . . . enjoy it.
