FORMER SANFORD RESIDENT ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN MURDERED BY HIS SON

Thomas J. Check Dies Under Mysterious Circumstances

HAD MADE HIS WILL

AND TURNED LIBERTY BONDS AND PROPERTY OVER TO SON AND HIS WIFE.

Word comes from Phoenix, Arizona, that Thomas J. Check came to his death a few weeks ago through the hands of his son, Victor and his wife Belle. The account of Mr. Check's death was given in the Herald at the time but as there was nothing in the Phoenix papers at that time that would surround his death in suspicion the accepted theory that he died with tuberculosis was accepted as he had gone to Arizona on the advice of his physicians. It is alleged that his son Victor and Victor's wife were after Mr. Check's property and had him take $30,000 worth of Liberty bonds with him to Arizona and after getting the bonds had him change his will in their favor and allowing him $250 per month until his death. Not content with this according to the reports from Phoenix they mistreated him and it now is alleged they did something that caused his death. The friends here are awaiting the accounts of the affair from the Phoenix papers before the truth of the matter can be ascertained but it appears on the surface that Mr. Check was killed for the property that would have eventually belonged to his son, Victor, had he waited until he died.

The case will attract more than ordinary attention here where Mr. Check was a large property owner and where he resided during the winter months. His son Victor and his wife were here with him a few months ago and all of them stopped at the Valdez Hotel before going to Arizona. Mr. Check had disposed of much of his property here but still retained enough to bring him about $200 per month income.

Victor and his wife have been placed under arrest subject to the inquest and the viscera of the remains has been removed to try and find out if deceased had been administered poison that caused his death.

Letters from Victor Check to friends in this city today said that there was nothing to the story that his father, T. J. Check had come to his death from brutal treatment on his part and that of his wife and that he had died from natural causes. The hearing was to take place today and reports from the Phoenix papers are awaited here with interest. At present there are only rumors and it is natural for the other heirs to the Check estate to set aside the new will which was made under duress and while Check was ill. It is only alleged that he was treated brutally and that there was suspicious circumstances connected with his death and the facts will only be obtained from the hearing which takes place today.

RUSSIAN RADICALS WANT REVOLUTION IN GERMANY NOW

(By The Associated Press.)

HALLE, Saxony, Nov. 26.—German radical leaders declare that a program has been prepared with the aid of prominent Russian communists to start a revolution in Germany to set up a dictatorship of the proletariat. They say the attempt to overthrow the government will be made as soon as the more extreme element of the Independent Socialist party has perfected an organization which in the opinion of their leaders, would have some chance of success.

The radicals promise that the outbreak will come very soon, probably late in the winter or early next spring. They are of divided opinions as to whether they can overthrow the existing government, some of them saying the attempt probably will fail, others believing they will succeed, but all apparently are unanimous in the belief the effort should be made.

A number of leaders of the moderate wing of the Independent Socialists, who split with the left wing over the question of co-operating with the Third Internationale at Moscow to bring about the revolution, also express the opinion that there will be a serious attempt to oust the present government. One of these, a member of the Reichstag, in an address before a right wing conference declared bolshevism would sweep successfully over Germany and that it could not be prevented. After it had come and failed the socialists would have their turn, he said.

The more moderate socialists generally were of the opinion there could be no successful revolution at this time and declared the German people would never submit to a "dictatorship of the proletariat," or co-operate with the Russians in a policy of terrorism and destruction to promote the cause of the proletariat. They appeared willing to seek the establishment of a "comradeship government of the working classes," by violence if, necessary, but were opposed to a dictatorship or a campaign of ruthlessness.

A LIVING WAGE FOR FAMILY OF FIVE IS PLACED AT $2,638.68

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A living wage for a family of five in New York is now $2,632.68, it was estimated today by John P. Mines, president of the Printing Press Operatives Union, in presenting demands for an increase in wages for the printing trade.

These figures were arrived at, he said, by an actual canvass of homes of printers and an analysis of current prices on 400 miscellaneous articles necessary to the average wage earners' household.

Expenditures were itemized as follows: Food, $871.80; clothing, $529.96; rent, $437.35; light and heat, $68.59; household equipments, $69.23; miscellaneous, $655.75.

BULL FIGHTS ARE STAGED AGAIN IN OLD MEXICO

NATIONAL PASTIME OF MEXICO COMES BACK STRONGER THAN EVER

(By The Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—American fans never welcomed the opening of the baseball season with more enthusiasm than did "corrida" lovers in the Mexican capital greet the return of bull fights, after four years of prohibition. Flaming placards on every billboard announced that "El Toreo," the huge bull ring here, would again be the scene of battle to death and the newspapers in news stories and editorials heralded the opening of the season, which was auspiciously inaugurated the latter part of October and will run until the latter part of January.

During this period some of the world's best matadors, most of whom have been fighting in Spain, will appear. Among those who have been engaged at fancy prices are Adolfo Gaona, Ernesto Pastor, Luis Freg, Fernandez Manalete and Juan Silveti.

The opening of the season with Silveti, a Mexican favorite, and "Angelito," a Spanish youngster, appearing jointly was a festive occasion. At the last moment there had been a disagreement with the government as to the amount of taxes to be paid by the promoters and as to the safety of immense amphitheatres which for almost four years has been in practical disuse.

All difficulties were finally removed and Sunday afternoon found 25,000 cheering spectators awaiting the entrance of the first bull. Diplomats, high federal and civic officials, the city's social aristocracy paid their six pesos each to sit in the shade and watch the spectacle while several thousand pelados (peons) were glad to sit in the sun and pay two pesos each for the privilege. It was a gala day and six bulls were dispatched in record time.

Bull fights are held on Sunday afternoons and on the days of fiesta and Mexico City's glorious winter season which admits of no rain assures perfect weather. Six bulls are generally killed and clever matadors will complete the bill in an hour and a half. Gaona, Pastor, Freg and Belmonte are said to receive from 8,000 to 12,000 pesos each for an afternoon's work. (Normally a Mexican peso is worth 80 cents).

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO TELEPHONE GIRL

WELLMAN, Ia., Nov. 26.—What is believed to be the only monument ever erected by the public in recognition of the services of a telephone operator was unveiled here in the presence of practically every man, woman and child in the community.

The stone bears the name of the young woman, Iva A. Chapman, with the inscription that it was erected in honor of faithful and efficient service. This little community was swept less than a year ago by an epidemic of influenza. At the time three-fourths of the homes had one or more inmates suffering from the disease.

Miss Chapman, who was twenty-two years old, was one of two operators employed in the community exchange. Telephone service was at a premium because of the calls for doctors, nurses and other forms of aid. When her fellow-operator was stricken, Miss Chapman worked literally night and day, and her efficient service was responsible for saving several lives. She fell ill in turn, and so worn out was she with her labor, that did not have strength enough to combat the disease, and died.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terheun are rejoiced over the receipt of a letter from their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Rowe conveying the information that she and Mr. Rowe had sailed from New York for Savannah for the winter. Mrs. Rowe was formerly Miss Vera Terheun of this city and her many friends will be glad to learn of her visit.

O. P. Swope, of Oviedo, was in the city today, coming over to look after the hauling of lumber and supplies for his many business enterprises in Oviedo. He ships by Republic trucks now and finds it very convenient and very economical.

CENTER HILL, Nov. 26.—Vegetable shipments continue heavy from Center Hill and Warm Springs Valley section, shipment going forward at the rate of 1,000 to 1,500 packages daily. The markets are stronger than last week on vegetables and the truckers are reaping the harvest.

D. K. Kimbrough, the "bean king" of this section, received the following telegram: "Your shipment of sixty-three baskets of green beans sold on the New York market today (Monday) for $7.50 per basket. Market very strong."

There has been a light frost for the past few mornings, but only visible on housetops. These frosts have not injured the truck and vegetable crops in any way.

Lake Front Would Make An Ideal Spot

TO BE INVESTIGATED

HUNDREDS OF TOURISTS BRING TURNED AWAY EVERY DAY FOR LACK OF HOUSES

The most important phase of industrial life and commercial life in the city of Sanford today is the housing problem. There are hundreds of people coming here every day with the view of locating during the winter months and they cannot get houses. All of them do not wish to stop at the hotels and the hotels are taxed to their limit every night caring for their guests but the average family coming to Florida wants a house or camp or some place where the entire family and the dog can enjoy themselves in the fine Florida climate. There are not enough homes here for the people who reside here the year round and the dearth of homes means that we are losing not only hundreds of new people but many of the older citizens who cannot get homes and who have been forced to seek other locations on account of the home in which they resided being sold. Real estate is moving in Sanford and many new homes are being built but not enough to keep up with the great demand for houses and unless something is done at once this city will suffer the loss of thousands of people and thousands of dollars that would otherwise be spent here. Since it is too late to think about the many houses that will be erected next year and too late to start erecting them now it behooves the people here to locate more temporary quarters in the city.

City Manager Ryan has already made arrangements to take care of the auto tourists on the lots owned by the city and in a conversation with J. B. Hood yesterday the Herald was informed that the city could use the former Woodruff and Drew lots on the east side of the bulkhead lake front and this would easily house several hundred families. The city could sink a flowing well for water and connect with the sewer that already crosses the property and with little expense this property could be made the finest of camping grounds or could be converted into a little village of temporary quarters that could be moved as soon as the winter is over and the lake front would be none the worse for it. Other cities are making such arrangements and there is no reason why Sanford could not do the same.

PRESBYTERIAN BAZAAR

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual Christmas bazaar next week, December 3rd and 4th on First street. There will be an unusually large and beautiful display of hand work both useful and ornamental. Everything that one could desire in this line will be found on the tables, for the useful or dainty Christmas gift. And the dolls! There will be a big family of International dolls in their quaint and charming costumes, representing various countries, with which the little folks will be delighted and for the tinniest kiddies there will be the cutest, and cunningest cloth dolls ever, with painted faces. A varied selection of small articles for children's gifts to mother and big sister, make a strong appeal to the kid's pocket book. In addition to all these lovely things there will be home-made candies and toothsome delicacies.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Fred Williams, Bazaar Chairman, there will be a "bazaar table" and each of the four circles will have a booth; Mrs. J. E. Pace, chairman, Circle A, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Circle B; Mrs. Frank Miller, Circle C; Mrs. Harry Ward, Circle D. The place will be announced in another issue of the Herald.

WHY BOYS WANT TO GROW UP TO BE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—As everyone knows, there are a number of reasons why small boys should strive to grow up to be president instead of street car conductors or firemen.

One of the reasons that will go far toward convincing small boys of the wisdom of this course was uncovered today in the form of a list of Thanksgiving goodies received as gifts by President Wilson. Included in the list were:

Two giant size turkeys from Kentucky and Texas.

Large round red and yellow apples from Maryland and Oregon.

A big sack of pecan nuts from Louisiana.

Celery of uncertain origin but prize proportions.

A dozen plump partridges supposed to have come from Virginia.

There was another package received but White House officials refused to tell its contents. It was assumed, however, that it might be of interest to small boys' fathers rather than small boys.

DEATH OF MARY KENNEDY DUNNIVAN

Died at Charleston, S. C., Saturday, Nov. 20th, Mary Kennedy Dunnivan, beloved young wife of Harry B. Dunnivan, in the nineteenth year of her age. The many friends here of Mrs. Dunnivan and of her sister, Mrs. Clarence J. Wolfe, were grief-stricken, when the news of the former's death spread through the city, on Saturday evening for Mary, was well known, and popular, having lived here for several years attending the grammar school in her early girlhood. She was dearly loved by a large circle of friends, won by the charm of a sweet, winsome gaiety and an ever willing heart to serve those whom she loved. Mrs. Dunnivan was stricken suddenly with acute heart failure and died within five minutes.

Besides the young husband, she leaves a father C. W. Kennedy and her stepmother; three brothers, C. A. Kennedy and David Kennedy, of Wilmington, N. C., and Nash Kennedy, of Tampa; two sisters, Mrs. C. J. Wolfe and Miss Helen Kennedy of Sanford. With the exception of the latter, all of them attended the funeral at Charleston Monday at one o'clock. Interment took place in Anthony Cemetery.

Only one month till Christmas.

Need we say, "Do your Christmas shopping early."

Now is the time for the merchants to get busy with Christmas advertising.

And the South Florida Fair comes next and then every one will be looking and waiting for the big fair at Orlando.

Seminole County is backward in this fair business but we are going slow and waiting until we can get money for real grounds and make it a permanent affair adding to it each year. The ball grounds and golf links and everything could be in one big amusement park.

Again we wish to call your attention to the fact that some temporary arrangements should be made to house the people. We should do this not only for the tourists that want to stay here but for our own home people who have been put out of house and home through sales of property and are leaving here. We should at least look after our own people if we go no farther but if we will go farther and put up tents and temporary houses we can house at least 1,000 more families here this winter with very little expense. Our business men should get behind this movement at once and call a meeting to take care of it. 1,000 more people here this winter would mean something to the business men of Sanford. Think about it. Other cities are doing it. Why not Sanford?

FROM A NEW ANGLE

The Lakeland Star says that it admires the fight that the Palatka News and the Sanford Herald are making to force free bridges in this state, and says, "they are beginning at home with their own sections to abolish the toll bridges and will carry their fight to the end of having the county construct another bridge. This business of charging people money to cross a public thoroughfare just because there is no other way around it, is an injustice and when a stranger comes to the state and meets with such a hold-up, he doesn't get a very favorable impression." The Star is wrong about "no other way around" for in every case there is the possibility of fording or ferrying the stream which the bridge crosses. Oftentimes it is necessary to charge toll on a bridge in order to secure its upkeep, if not to in some part pay for its construction. It is but a few years since "turnpikes" with their toll gates at frequent intervals, were found all over the country. Few people are disposed to quarrel over the payment of a small toll for crossing a bridge—for probably the only other way of getting across, a year or two before, was the sometimes dangerous and always tedious ferry, which cost a pretty penny always. Counties and municipalities building bridges are entitled to demand a small fee for teams going back and forth, and in this way those obtaining the direct benefit are contributing, with taxpayers, for the maintenance of the convenience. Free bridges are desirable but not always feasible.—Times-Union.

MODERNIZING THE SMALL CITIES.

Many of the smaller cities in Florida have shown the most remarkable development along modern lines, during the past few years. In the old days it was not considered necessary for the smaller places to have all the modern ideas and plans that characterize the big cities but this condition has been materially changed and it is apparent that the newer towns that are being established will start where the older cities landed after being from a quarter to a half century old.

In looking over the state newspapers it is seen that many high-class subdivisions are being laid out in towns of from 2,000 to 10,000 population. These subdivisions have paved streets, sidewalks, cement curbs, grassed parking, ornamental trees, water, sewer and all modern ideas and conveniences which were only thought possible in the larger cities. And the peculiar and gratifying part of it all is that the smaller cities have shown almost as quick response to these modern improvements as their larger neighbors and the lots in these modern subdivisions have sold readily at good prices that paid well for the improvements.

The people have learned that it is much more desirable to purchase properties in finished sections than to buy in the rough and find, too late, that there is no uniformity or continuation of good sidewalks and it is always difficult to get the streets paved and for years these scattered improvements are in a condition that frequently disgusts the original purchasers who finally sell to some one else and buy where all the improvements are installed before the property is placed on the market.

With this kind of development the small cities in Florida are going to present a most attractive appearance and they will build up more rapidly than under the old haphazard plan of development. With thousands of winter visitors and tourists coming to each town every year, it is only natural that some of them should become interested and fascinated with the place and want to make an investment and this will add to the population and the tax list and the general prosperity of the town or city. Modernize your town and you will reap the benefits that are now going to the big cities.—Times-Union.

MORE WORK, LESS TALK

"We need more citizens in Gainesville and more settlers in Alachua county," remarks the Gainesville Sun. "We need to do things that will bring them here. Boasting and mere talking will not do it. Passing resolutions will not do it. Those who are looking for homes in Florida want things demonstrated and proved to them. The Sun thinks that the Alachua county fair, which was held in Gainesville recently, afforded a lot of visitors the chance to learn the truth about the county—to see the proof. The editor is of the opinion that there would be few doubters if people could see what was shown at the fair. The opportunity is now being continued in the state fair, now being held in Jacksonville. Those who really wish to be shown what can be done in the state need only make a trip to the fair grounds. The displays are wonderful—to many a revelation, and certainly satisfactory to the most exacting.—Times-Union
