(By The Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, July 7.—The United States gunboat Sacramento, sent to Mexican waters as the result of alarming reports reaching Washington, arrived at Tampico yesterday and anchored in the harbor there. In view of regulations of international law which provide foreign warships can enter the port of any friendly nation and remain twenty-four hours the Mexican foreign office refused to comment on the arrival of the Sacramento. President Oregon refused to comment on the situation in absence of official communication from Washington regarding the sending of war vessels into Mexican waters. ### SEIZURE OF BERGDOLL PROPERTY IS JUST

(By The Associated Press) COLUMBUS, Ga., July 7.—Seizure of the property of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, was justified under the law, Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, declared in an address here late today before the state convention of the American Legion. "When Bergdoll broke his parole and fled to Germany," he continued, "he placed himself within the scope of the trading with the enemy act, and we would have been derelict in our duty had we not carried out the law, which is plain in its meaning and direction, and seize the property of this flagrant violator of our laws, who evaded military service at the time the country needed men, and who, now, from his temporary vantage point overseas, adds to his former crimes by uttering insolent verbal attacks against this country and its officials." Major James A. Fort of Americus was elected state commander.

Now that the standard snake bite remedy is obsolete, it is time for some one to equip hunters with detectors, something like those on ships sailing into submarine infested seas.

ONE IS ACQUITTED AND ONE FOUND GUILTY OF CRUELTY TO FRENCH

(By The Associated Press) LEIPSIC, July 7.—Dr. Schmidt, the president of the supreme court, today announced the acquittal of Lieutenant General Stenger charged with having ordered the execution of wounded French soldiers and prisoners, and the conviction of Major Bruno Crusius, on the same charge. The court declared that an experienced officer like Crusius should have known that Stenger was incapable of giving such orders. Crusius was sentenced yesterday to two years' imprisonment and deprived of the right to wear the German uniform in future. It was not established that Stenger gave the order of which he was accused, Dr. Schmidt said.

The report added, "We record that in our solemn judgment this measure is a plan to plunder the people of our own country and to oppress the people of every country for the benefit of a few men who have succeeded in usurping for all practical purposes the taxing power of this government, using it primarily to enrich themselves and secondarily to finance the political party which tolerates, encourages and facilitates the usurpation."

DELAND, July 6.—By a vote of three to one, the Board of County Commissioners, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, declared the office of chairman of the board vacant, and elected R. J. Bishop as chairman in the place of Isaac A. Stewart.

For the motion—Thursby, Vining, Beck. Against—Stewart. Not voting—Bishop.

When the result of the vote was announced by the clerk, Mr. Stewart stated that he refused to accept the vote as final and declined to give up the seat at the head of the table. His son, Tom, later talked to him, and the judge took another seat.

Fireworks were slow in getting started at the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday morning—but when they did start, sparks began to fly. Just before recessing for dinner, Judge Royal P. Hamlin, presented the following letter and asked that it be read and spread on the minutes:

July 5, 1921. To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners, Volusia County, Florida.

Gentlemen: Your entire membership, as well as the citizenship of this county and other counties in this state; are doubtless aware of the fact that various charges have been made against us, as your attorneys, by Isaac A. Stewart, your chairman. These charges have not been submitted to us or to your board, as such, direct, but have been broadcasted by lengthy publications in newspapers, which has produced notoriety rather than harmony or accomplishment; has done a great damage to us and to the cause for which your board and we, as your attorneys, are and have been striving. We have purposely refrained from engaging in a newspaper controversy and consequent notoriety in this matter, because we felt that your membership as a whole realized that these charges were truthless, as this Board was familiar with the true facts concerning every charge, except one, and because we felt that it is below the dignity of County Commissioners and reputable attorneys to so engage.

JUDGE STEWART IS OUT AS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD VOLUSIA COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

In keeping silent, for the above reasons, your Chairman has seemingly misunderstood our motives in so doing and has gained encouragement therefrom. However, in his encouragement, your Chairman has now gone beyond the bounds of honor, decency, fairness and justice, in openly charging us in a scurrilous, libelous and criminal manner. So far as this charge and others concern us outside of our relationship with your Board, there are, other forums open to us.

On the other hand, any attorneys guilty of the conduct charged by your chairman, would be unfit and improper persons to represent your board in any capacity whatever. For this reason, the matter which we now call to your attention is of vital importance not only to you but also to the people of this county, whose interest you represent. We therefore, respectfully request that the charge of your chairman with reference to your attorneys or any one of them; attempting to bribe him or his son, or both, be carefully investigated by this board. If these charges are found by you to be true, then any one of us guilty of such conduct, should be immediately discharged; if, on the other hand, these charges are found to be untrue, then we should be exonerated and a record of your findings spread upon your minutes.

In conclusion, we each of us, positively and unequivocally deny that any one of us has been guilty of the conduct charged by your chairman, and ask that in fairness to us, this letter be made a part of your minutes.

Respectfully submitted, A. G. HAMLIN, R. P. HAMLIN, W. J. GARDINER, B. F. BRASS.

Attorneys. Mr. Hamlin made a short talk, stating that if Judge Stewart's charges were true, and any member of the firm acting as attorneys for the board did attempt to bribe the chairman, he should not be permitted to longer act as an attorney for the board.

On motion of Commissioner Bishop, the letter was spread on the minutes without a record vote.

It was decided to take up an investigation of the matter this afternoon.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Harding broke an established presidential precedent today by motoring to the capitol and taking lunch with some of his old associates in the senate. ### EXPRESS TRUST ASKS COURT TO "SAVE IT"

BIRMINGHAM, July 7.—Arguments were begun here yesterday before the United States Court of Appeals, fifth circuit, on the petition of the American Railway Express Co., asking an injunction to restrain the Alabama Public Service Commission from putting into operation its order requiring express companies to establish joint routes and rates.

The litigation arose when the commission granted the petition of the Southeastern Express Company, requiring joint routes and rates between that company and the American Railway Express Company.

Counsel representing the American Express Company argued that the state commission had no jurisdiction and that assuming the commission did have jurisdiction the order was confiscatory and violated the "due process" clause of the constitution.

There Has Been No Dull Season and Will Not Be One

WONDERFUL YEAR

BUILDING PROGRAM AND BUSINESS GENERALLY GOING AHEAD RAPIDLY

Sanford knows no summer time. This city has always been a year round city for many reasons. It was not up to a year ago a regular tourist town in the true sense of the word. It has depended upon the farming and the shops for a steady income and the winter business was taken as a matter of course. There were more people here in the winter season than in the summer and some of the Sanford people go to other states and other cities to spend part of the summer, but as a whole the city of Sanford is normal in the summer and knows but little change in business the year round. This was never more apparent than this summer when the Daily Herald decided to remain on the job and make the daily paper as good or even better than it had been during the winter season.

This could not have been accomplished without the real support of the business interests and they have been making Sanford the trading center of this part of Florida all this season.

There have been big sales staged every week and many times every day in the week. Many of the people are staying at home and there is about as much business in the city and Saturday night is just as busy a night now as it is in the winter and the results are easily discerned. The city of Sanford is the talk of the state and the visitors to the city are amazed at the activity of the merchants, at the big building program started, at the many improvements and at the fact that "business as usual" is a fact and not a theory.

The Chamber of Commerce is busy right through the summer, the many clubs and fraternal orders are busy, the people are going after business as never before and the Daily Herald has been filled with advertising, with live news, with local news and the old town has taken on a speed that knows no seasons, no hard times, no calamities. Look at the statements of the banks, look at the business houses, look at your local paper and keep the good work going.

NEW JERSEY BOXING POWERS SAY JOHNSON /WILL NOT BOX THERE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 7.—Jack Johnson, who will be released from the Leavenworth penitentiary next Saturday, will not box in New Jersey while the present state boxing commission is in office, Chairman Robert H. Doherty stated here today, when told of reports that attempts would be made to match Johnson with Harry Willis in a Jersey ring next month.

"The commissioners are in office to promote and protect the boxing game in the state," Chairman Doherty declared, "and we believe that the appearance of Johnson in a contest there would be derogatory to the sport."

The Dearborn Independent mentions an Augusta, Me., man who is cutting his third set of wisdom teeth at ninety-seven years old. Nature strives hard to overcome foolishness in us, doesn't she?

street just opposite the home of O. P. Swope, for a tennis court, the court is almost completed much to the delight of the young people. The S. S. class of Mrs. T. W. Lawton are raising the money for the court and last Saturday afternoon they conducted a cooked food sale at which time $25 was raised. This class deserves much credit for the work they have done under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Lawton.

LOVELY HOME WEDDING UNITES POPULAR COUPLE IN WEDLOCK

One of the prettiest home weddings of the summer season was that which took place at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. Moore, 418 N. W. Fifth avenue, when Mrs. Moore's sister, Miss Ernestine deGottrau, and Charles H. Rumph pledged their marriage vows.

The living room where the ceremony was performed was a veritable garden with a profusion of beautiful potted palms and fragrant blossoms. A tall arch of palms and ferns arranged among trailing vines was formed between this room and the dining room, and on either side were tall white wicker vases which held beautiful bouquets of gladioli and ferns. Banked in front of the fireplace were more greens through which peeped white oleanders. Pink roses and oleanders in vases adorned the mantle, lending their fragrance as well as beauty to the scene.

The bride, an attractive young brunette, was unusually charming in her bridal attire of white organdie made more beautiful with double pleated taffeta ruffles. Her hat was a white Milan straw combined with georgette, and wreathed with white lilies-of-the-valley. A corsage of pink radiance roses and ferns enhanced the beauty of this lovely young bride.

She marched in the room, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, leaning on the arm of her father, Louis deGottrau, who gave her in marriage.

Her only attendant was Miss Frieda Crane, a popular young visitor from West Palm Beach, and childhood chum of the bride. She was attired in a lovely peach-colored organdie, the daintiness of which was accentuated with touches of blue and black embroidery.

Mr. Rumph, who was attended by his best man, Arthur Dickens, met his bride at the arch where Rev. Robert T. Phillips, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, performed the ring ceremony.

After the marriage was solemnized the happy couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes of their relatives and a number of their most intimate friends who were privileged to be present on this occasion.

Banked in front of the fireplace were more greens through which peeped white oleanders. Pink roses and oleanders in vases adorned the mantle, lending their fragrance as well as beauty to the scene.

The bride, an attractive young brunette, was unusually charming in her bridal attire of white organdie made more beautiful with double pleated taffeta ruffles. Her hat was a white Milan straw combined with georgette, and wreathed with white lilies-of-the-valley. A corsage of pink radiance roses and ferns enhanced the beauty of this lovely young bride.

She marched in the room, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, leaning on the arm of her father, Louis deGottrau, who gave her in marriage.

Her only attendant was Miss Frieda Crane, a popular young visitor from West Palm Beach, and childhood chum of the bride. She was attired in a lovely peach-colored organdie, the daintiness of which was accentuated with touches of blue and black embroidery.

Mr. Rumph, who was attended by his best man, Arthur Dickens, met his bride at the arch where Rev. Robert T. Phillips, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, performed the ring ceremony.

OGLESBY CASE IS SETTLED JURY BRINGS IN VERDICT GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER

Judge Wilson Sentenced Oglesby to Six Years

GOES HIGHER COURT

AND OGLESBY WILL BE OUT ON SUPERCEDAS BOND UNTIL CASE IS SETTLED.

(From Friday's Daily)
The case of the State of Florida vs. J. M. Oglesby, charged with murder, has occupied the attention of the special term of court for the past three days and has probably been one of the hardest fought cases that Seminole county has experienced since it was organized as a county.

It will be remembered that about one year ago J. M. Oglesby and J. F. Mann, both West Side growers, who resided near Lake Monroe, engaged in a dispute as to who should use a car that was being loaded by Mann with peppers. Words followed and Oglesby picked up some bricks lying in the road nearby and threw them at Mann. In the trial it developed that Mann drew his knife but meantime Oglesby hit him on top of the head with a brick or piece of brick, crushing his skull. He was taken to the hospital at once and lived only a few hours. Oglesby was immediately arrested and before the coroner's jury was bound over to the circuit court.

At the fall term of court he was indicted for manslaughter and allowed bail, since which time defendant has been out under bond. The grand jury at the spring term of court found Oglesby guilty of murder and he was taken back to jail to stand trial. His attorneys tried to quash the indictment for murder by demurrer filed, stating, among other reasons, that the acting states attorney was disqualified to act as he had been an assistant to the states attorney at the first indictment. Also that the foreman of the grand jury had been on the coroner's jury and that one of the members of the grand jury was related to the deceased, J. F. Mann. The demurrer was sustained and meanwhile the grand jury, remaining in session, brought in another indictment for murder in the first degree and the acting states attorney, Geo. A. DeCottes, resigning, the state was represented by Attorney Theford and the motion to quash the indictment was not sustained. The attorneys for defense not being ready when the case was called for immediate trial, the case was postponed by Judge Perkins.

Meanwhile, the grand jury in their presentment, asked for a special term of court to try the Saucer case and the board of county commissioners also asked by resolution that a special term of court be called and Judge Perkins called it for Monday of this week. Judge Perkins being ill the governor appointed Judge Cephas Wilson to preside and he has taken charge in a manner to call for the commendation of everyone who has been attending court.

The Saucer case was not tried as Judge Wilson was obliged to render a decision for the defendant on account of a defective record that was through no fault of the lower court or any of the officials.

The Oglesby case has been the main topic of conversation for the past three days while it was being tried. The well known law firm of Landis, Fish & Hull of DeLand were attorneys for the defense and George A. DeCottes, who is now the regularly elected states attorney, represented the state, and there was a battle royal on between the attorneys, and every foot of the case was contested by both sides.

The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon and they brought in a verdict of manslaughter at 7 o'clock last night.

Court was called to order at 10:30 this morning, at which time attorneys for the defendant asked for a new trial, which was denied. Judge Wilson then called Oglesby to the bar and, in a voice that could hardly be heard ten feet away, asked him if it was true that he was 65 years of age, to which Oglesby replied that it was. Asked if he had anything to say why sentence of the court should not be passed upon him he said that he had nothing, except to throw himself upon the mercy of the court. Judge Wilson then said that on account of the age of the defendant, he would not invoke the extreme penalty of the law, but would sentence him to six years of hard labor in the state penitentiary.

Attorneys for the defense gave notice that they would appeal the case to the supreme court and, filing an affidavit of insolvency for their client, throws the cost of the supreme court case upon the state. Asked for a supercedas bond for their client, Judge Wilson made the bond $2,000 and if defendant can get up the bond he will be free until the matter is threshed out in the supreme court, which usually takes about a year. As soon as the case is finished in the supreme court and the decision of the lower court is sustained the defendant will then be taken to serve his term and the interim will not be taken from his sentence and his term will begin as soon as the clerk of the circuit is informed by the supreme court that it has sustained the lower court. In the event that the lower court is reversed a new trial would be the result.

SIGNIFICANCE IS ATTACHED TO NEW LEXINGTON MODEL

MINUTE MAN SIX BUILDERS ANNOUNCE THE "LARK," A NEW SPORT MODEL WITH THE ANSTED ENGINE

Announcement by the Lexington Motor Company of an entirely new sport model, to be known as the "Lark," has created a distinct stir in the motor car trade.

The "Lark," a highly specialized sport car, is equipped with the Ansted Engine with which Lexington won the Pike's Peak hill-climbing championship. The announcement of the new car holds deep significance. It comes at a time when the industry is suffering from frantic price reductions intended to produce business that will help in liquidating stocks and reducing inventories to levels demanded by the new conditions in business generally. The bringing out of an entirely new model at this time means that the readjustment in business, so far as it concerns Lexington, is at an end; that its house is in order.

Each "Lark" has the appearance of having been built especially for some particular motor car buyer. Its low, rakish sweep of line, the perfect harmony of paint and upholstery schemes, the use of wire wheels, with an extra mounted on each running board, and the wealth of other equipment, most of which is special on other cars, blend into a true sport car picture which places the "Lark" in a class by itself. Equipment features are windshield wings, touring trunk mounted on a carrier in the rear, motor meter, cowl lamps, cord tires, and 2-Way Head Lamps.

But, as striking as is the car's appearance, it is its performance that has already made it the most popular model Lexington has ever produced.

The Ansted Engine, making use of the racing car principle of high valve "lift," but eliminating the noise that this method of engineering has always encountered, has 50 per cent more power than conventional engines of the same size. But, with the combination of the Multiple Exhaust System and the Lexi-gasifier, the Ansted Engine is remarkably economical.

The use of the Ansted Engine in the "Lark" offers to the motor car buyer an engine that has until now been sold only in models up to $4,250. The B. & O. Garage are the distributors for Seminole county of the famous car.

SANFORD OBJECTS TO HIGH RATE OF RAILROADS

WILL FIGHT NEW RAISE IN RATES THAT WOULD RUIN BUSINESS

(From Saturday's Daily)

Sanford will not stand for any raise in freight rates. Sanford will not stand for the latest move in the railroads trying to make the water rates higher and eliminate water rate competition. Sanford will see that the railroads are kept within bounds and all this work will be done thru the Chamber of Commerce—the rightful place for all of this activity in behalf of the business interests of the city. It seems that the majority of the people go to sleep upon these important matters but the Chamber of Commerce is working while they are asleep and when it comes to protecting the people's interest the Chamber of Commerce is there all the time. Last night at the Valdez Hotel the Traffic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of which D. C. Marlowe, is chairman, met on the subject of compiling facts and figures if possible and sending one or two representatives to Atlanta on the 11th of this month to explain our situation here and in other parts of the state and prevent the railroads from raising the freight rates that would spell disaster to this and every other part of Florida.

Mr. Parker, traffic manager of the American Fruit Co.; D. C. Marlowe, R. R. Deas, of the Farmers' Exchange, President Ball and Secretary Pearman, of the Chamber of Commerce; R. J. Holly, of the Herald and several others were present and the matter was threshed out thoroughly. Since every city in Florida represented by Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade will send representatives it was decided that Sanford would send one or two representatives and they will be designated later.

The Sanford Board of Trade of other years saved the business men of Sanford and the farmers many thousands of dollars in preventing the extortion of the common carriers and the new Chamber of Commerce will do the same. There is just one channel through which this work can be accomplished and this is the Chamber of Commerce. Therefore, it behooves every business man of Sanford to be a live and active member of the Chamber of Commerce and aiding and assisting in all this good work all the time.

TRIPLE ALLIES MAY BE NEXT ON PROGRAM

ENGLAND, JAPAN AND AMERICA AGREE TO RULE THE PACIFIC

LONDON, July 2.—All the premiers of the British dominions again gave their views on the subject of renewing the Anglo-Japanese alliance in two sessions of the imperial conference yesterday. Premier Lloyd George however, did not address the delegates, and contented himself with an occasional question or observation.

Utmost secrecy still surrounds the proceedings of the assembly. No official communique has been issued, but it is understood debate on the treaty was in accord to enable Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, to communicate with ambassadors of the nations concerned.

Reports that the imperial conference is considering a tripartite agreement between the United States, Great Britain and Japan relative to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, are given prominence by the Morning Post and other newspapers of this city. By such an agreement, it is declared, a virtual triple entente of the Pacific would be organized and the purpose of the Anglo-Japanese treaty would be confined to the Pacific.

Discussions between representatives of the three nations, as well as those of the British dominions are foreshadowed.

A whole week has been consumed in consideration of this question, and causes for and against renewal of the past have been stated with a frankness which is believed to be responsible for the government's refusal to publish accounts of the proceedings. Some, at least, of the dominion premiers, let it be known early in the discussion, that they had not come to London "to be treated like school-boys as in pre-war days," and told by the "elder statesmen" of Downing street just what they should do. The course taken by representatives was to compose the differences of the various foreign ministers and other members of the British cabinet when the views of the London ministers were at variance with their own.

STATE OF WAR ENDED FINALLY ADOPT RESOLUTION FRIDAY BY U. S. CONGRESS

Started Early Today on Way to President
Harding

WILL SIGN TODAY

AND THEN THE WAR WITH GER-MANY AND AUSTRIA IS ENDED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 2.—A resolution ending the state of war with Germany and Austria was finally adopted late yesterday by congress and was started early today on its way to President Harding at Raritan, N. J. The president is expected to sign it late today or Monday.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Enactment of the compromise resolution ending the state of war with Germany and Austria finally was completed yesterday by congress and the measure will be sent by special messenger to President Harding at Raritan, N. J., today. He is expected to sign it immediately. President Harding is the guest of Senator Frelinghuysen over the holiday.

Final action on the measure was by the senate, which adopted the conference report by a vote of 38 to 19 after a day of debate in which the Democratic members made a last assault upon the resolution. The house acted Thursday.

The signing of the measure by President Harding will open the way for resumption of diplomatic relations with both Germany and Austria, but administration officials have indicated that plans for this have not been worked out. All opponents of the resolution were Democrats, but three Shields of Tennessee, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Watson of Georgia, voted with the Republicans for adoption. Senator Reed, Democrat, was paired in its favor.

Final debate was by Democrats, who declared the Republican plan was futile and would necessitate a separate treaty of peace later or ratification of the treaty of Versailles.

For the Republicans? Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, made the principal address, declaring there would not be a treaty of "peace" but probably one or more of "commerce," which he declared, would deal with questions growing out of the war.

Withdrawal of American troops now in Germany was discussed by Senator Brandegee, McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, and others. Disclaiming to speak for the president, Senator Brandegee said he believed the peace resolution would necessitate retirement of American troops from Germany.

IN HONOR OF MRS. McLAUGHLIN

Of unusual interest was the game of bridge played during the afternoon. High score was made by Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, who was awarded a dainty corsage of organdie flowers. The honoree was also presented a lovely organdie corsage.

Following the game the hostess served a tempting ice course.

WORLD IS WATCHING NATION'S EXPERIMENT WITH BUDGET SYSTEM

Harding Says Makers of Schedule Must Reduce—Will Be Many Heartburnings.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Harding told the budget makers today there would be many heartburnings, but that Director Dawes would have all the authority of the government back of him in a fight for reduced expenditures.

"It isn't an easy thing to change the habits of a century," the president said. "It isn't an easy thing to stand up against those who want to spend."

"Our own country is calling for a change, and if it will add to your interest in your work, let me tell you something else. The world is watching this well-resolved experiment."

"It is no violation of confidence to tell you that one of the most distinguished diplomats in Washington at this time told me that his own country had already cabled him to keep a close watch on every step of our budget enterprise and report to his country."

"I take it that perhaps habits and practices of extravagances in governmental expenditures are not peculiar to the United States and that the world would like to profit by our example."

President Harding called to order the second meeting for a conference on the new budget. He then left the conference and visited with Senator Mellon in his office before returning to the white house to preside over the regular cabinet meeting.

Unlike yesterday's, today's budget meeting was behind closed doors. It was attended by thirty odd representatives of the federal departments and agencies who have been named to gather information for Director Dawes of the budget bureau.

WE SHOULD HAVE DECISION DAY

And Decide Just When to Resume Business on the Former Basis

By J. S. CRUTCHFIELD

The following article from the pen of J. S. Crutchfield, president of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., and published in the New York Commercial will be of much interest to many.

The general business situation is characterized by the lack of any distinct character. In other words, the country, and probably the world, has perhaps now reached the extreme height of depth of unsettlement. If this be the case, and we believe it is a fact, it means, speaking in basic terms, that conditions are ripe for a distinct and healthy restoration of confidence in business. All that is lacking at the present time is definite leadership and a decision day. While general business has stopped as still as it now has in many times, it requires concerted action, under competent direction to make the initial start.

A very pertinent question is: Have we reached the time when the word "Go" should be given? In other words should July 1, be "Decision Day" when the secretary of commerce, representing the administration, shall give the "Go" sign to all commerce and industry?

Most assuredly no earlier date than July 1 would have been opportune, and it might even be better to defer the date for this "all-out effort" until August 1 or September 1.

It is hard to imagine how fundamental conditions in the United States could be better than at present.

The present acute depression is artificial, unnatural and unnecessary. In our opinion, any such acute depression is wholly due to the unwillingness of the human factors in the ranks of both capital and labor to recognize and bow to the inevitable.

Economic forces are actively in operation, which refuse to follow the direction or ideas of either the captains of industry, the leaders of labor unions, or even the dictates of government, unless such dictates conform to such natural laws.

This nation and the world should be profoundly thankful that the present government of the United States, in practically its every action, has shown a remarkable ability and facility in affording the nation and the world a leadership and direction with the intelligence, experience and ability to utilize these powerful natural laws in bringing about the very relief which is needed.

The American nation has surely needed to go through the experience of the recent months in order to quickly establish a rock foundation, on which to build the tremendous business structure of the coming years.

The three big lines which make for a normal volume of business are:

1.—The approaching harvest of a crop produced at post-war costs, and which should, and undoubtedly can, be sold at a net profit to the farmer.

2.—The great building needs of the nation.

3.—The vast and immediate needs of the railroads in anticipation of a resumption of normal traffic.

Only such a crisis as the past year could have forced the farmers of the nation to get their production costs down in connection with the present maturing crops.

It would be a tremendous misfortune for the coming generation if an extensive nation-wide building boom should have taken place on the basis of the inflated costs of material, transportation and labor, heretofore, and even now, prevailing.

It would be nothing short of a calamity for the impoverished railroads, to have been forced into the market for extensive improvements and extensions at the rate of wages and cost of steel and other material.

The great American business machine came to a standstill while the major adjustment was being made and it is perfectly obvious and gratifying to know that it will be impossible to make any substantial start on the major recovery unless it be on a right, sound and permanent basis of price of materials, transportation and labor.

July 1, next, is a possible "decision day," provided the railroads are willing on that date, simultaneously, to put into effect permanent or emergency rates on agricultural products, building materials, road materials, coal and similar heavy lines which go into the matter of the nation's food and building needs.

These freight rates were, on Sept. 1, 1920, simultaneously raised 25 to 40 per cent. The nation's business is so closely related that the present program of "nibbling" at one rate after another, and to such an inadequate degree, except where water transportation is forcing adequate reductions, obviously does not meet the need of the situation.

The decreased rates must be put into effect simultaneously, at least on the above lines, in order to make possible the necessary simultaneous stimulation which is needed to get business really started promptly.

Steel and material of all kinds for building and railroads' construction, which are materially above a pre-war price basis, must also put in emergency prices for a while, and simultaneously if they would have general business resume without further unnecessary sacrifice; and labor, on the same date, must be willing, for the time being at least, to accept such a wage as the traffic will bear.

The question of profit, on the first few months' business is immaterial. The farmer produced a whole crop last year at a tremendous loss below the cost of production. No corresponding sacrifice will be required from or from other lines of business, if concerted action and co-operation can be secured on July 1, August 1, or September 1—which ever day is determined upon as "Decision Day"

It is unreasonable to force 60 per cent of the nation's traffic to do what has been done during the past few months, namely: Pay to the railroads a higher gross and net income than 110 per cent traffic produced in gross and net income one year ago.

On July 1 the railroads receive a distinct and material decrease in their labor costs and improvement in the classification and rules affecting the employment of labor. This success having been afforded by the government's action through the labor board, it is perfectly right that the government should insist that on July 1 either permanent or emergency freight rates should be put into operation; and these freight rates, in the above lines, should approximate the basis obtaining before the advance of Sept. 1, 1920.

It is unnatural and undesirable to expect business conditions to be very stable the next few years. Hence, the need in all phases of business is sufficient elasticity and adaptability to meet the varying trade currents.

Foreign developments, as well as the final outcome of the crops, are always important, but uncertain, determining factors.

If the nation should again enter a period of great prosperity, which is possible, the railroads should be allowed immediately to participate in such prosperity—certainly until they fully recover and are able to supply the increasing needs or transportation of any such prosperity.

Do you know why it's toasted?

To seal in the delicious Burley flavor.

It's toasted.

The administration's ability to successfully cope with the foreign situation, and gradually institute such improvements as will approach the extreme needs of our own and foreign nations, is unquestioned.

No nation could have more reason to be optimistic than the American nation has today; a world in great need of our products and our financial assistance, on the one hand, and our abundant supply of both products and money with which to respond to such needs on the other hand.

"Behold the Fig" is the heading of an article from the Agricultural Bureau at Gainesville. Yes, we have.

While we are speaking of disarming we are arranging for a gun that will shoot a five ton projectile three hundred miles.

Admiral Sims was given a slap on the wrist by Secretary Denby. Being a former "leatherneck" we would have thought Denby would at least give him a swift kick.

Big Bill Haywood, who fled to Russia to escape a pen sentence in this country has used the wireless to tell the U. S. authorities that he was coming back. Preferred jail to Red Russia.

Domination home rule for the Irish says a dispatch. What those Irish need is what Paddy gave the drum, a darn good beating. They could get together and save all those lives if they had any sense.

Penn State College will send us one of her professors for the Woman's College. Suppose all his faculty members will kiss him good-bye thinking that he will die of the heat now or the alligators will get him.

Trotzky has been jailed by Lenine says the press dispatches. Now if the sober minded Reds will jail Lenine and allow the rats to do their work we will have no more bother about the soviet government of Russia.

We see some nice pictures of Canada in the local papers, the cuts being supplied free. The fish do not look any larger and the lakes no prettier than they do around Sanford so we will stay at home, especially with the present railroad rates.

And now the reform league would arrest Jack Dempsey for assault and battery on the person of Georges Carpentier. Well, they won't do anything about the case, but honestly, Dempsey is guilty all right. He certainly assaulted and battered Georges.

Volusia county commissioners donated $1,000 for the Volusia exhibit at the Orlando fair for 1922. Seminole county expects to go there with a few cents and win a prize but then Seminole county has no publicity tax and according to law could not donate any large sum out of any other fund.

Sanford, Orlando, DeLand, Palatka, Jacksonville, Tampa and every city in Florida purposes to send representatives to Atlanta to fight the present attempt to raise the railroad rates again. The "common carriers" have gone too far and they will suffer for it in the next few years. The people have something up their sleeve this time.

The cabinet will remain on the job. The congress will remain on the job in the hot weather, so says the headlines of the papers. And why shouldn't they? The common people are remaining on the job even though it is summer, and we put them up there to stay on the job until it is finished. We are paying them for this job and if they do not want the job let them get off.

Germans Plan Great Legal Battle for Property Seized in the War, says a dispatch. Sure, we knew it. We fight the war, we win the war, we pay all the taxes, we are harassed to death with war taxes and collectors and now we will hand everything back to the Germans. That is America, all over. Well, all we have to say is this: When you make another call for volunteers you will have to make it loud and long.

Judge Stewart has been eased off the board of county commissioners of Volusia, Judge Stewart has been sued for $50,000 by the law firm of Gardner & Brass for damages, the attorneys for the board have been exonerated of all charges of bribery brought by Judge Stewart and it would seem that the Stewart star is on the wane. But you can never tell anything about our neighboring county. A man is liable to be governor of the state one minute and in jail the next.

Volusia county is in the throes of another war, this time with the board of county commissioners. We hope Osteen ferry bridge does not suffer in the general mix-up.

The bridge question is as badly mixed in Volusia as politics. Why can't they get down to the people's business over there? No wonder the Ku Klux Klan rides in Volusia.

We heard a lot about what was to be done about the Osteen bridge. Has all the enthusiasm died out or will the people be satisfied to wait until Volusia county gets normal—which means, never.

When the franchise of the toll bridge runs out and the county takes them over it is not confiscation, although the bridge owners might rise up and say so. It is merely the taking over of property that belongs to the county or the state as the case may be. There should be no toll bridges on free roads.

The Herald will not publish the slacker list for Seminole county. The majority of the names are negroes who probably were drafted afterward and never had their names taken off the list. The list is not fair to those who went to war nor to those who remained to wait for the draft. And then—the war is over as far as the Herald is concerned.

There is considerable criticism about the laxity of the sanitary department of the city. The criticism is on the time it takes the garbage man to get around especially in the heart of the city. A representative of the Herald will go out and inspect these places from which the complaints come and see just why the department is neglecting their duty in this critical season of the year.

NOT THE KU KLUX KLAN

Unlawful acts are not countenanced by the Ku Klux Klan says a statement in the Daytona News and is really true. Of course, they might try to make over some people when the law did not or would not take the case in hand but the acts of violence committed at Daytona Beach were not and will not be countenanced by the Klan. They might go in for a little drastic discipline but they would not permit murder. There are many crimes committed now under the name of the Klan just as there were in reconstruction days but these roving bands seen at night are not always the Klan and in many cases have nothing to do with the Klan. It is rumored that 100 or more men in white garments and masked faces have been seen on the Sanford-Orlando road during the past week. That might be true and it might be the Ku Klux Klan, but they will not kill anyone. And when you come to think of it maybe they are needed in this part of the state to settle some minor cases that seem to get by the law on technicalities. And then it is always well to remember that it is not any of your neighbors who are dressed in white riding through the woods at night and it is always well to remember that unless the white robed figures bother you, never bother them.

RAISE IN RATES

In the face of the fact that the railroads have already been granted a raise in rates and all of us are paying all we can stand today the common carriers have asked for another raise. In the face of the fact that the railroads have reduced the wages of their employees the railroads have asked for a new rate that would eliminate the water competition. In the face of the fact that all commodities are coming down in price the railroads have asked for another raise.

The American people, however, will not stand for it and there are some of the greatest American people in the United States congregated in the Southeastern states where this raise will become effective if the common carriers are not squelched now and forever in their greed for gold. We have gone just as far with them as we intend to go and if the government wishes to preserve the good old constitution any longer the government will take a decided stand on this matter now and tell the railroads that they cannot have any more raises in freight rates. Sanford will not stand for it and Sanford will tell them so at the hearing in Atlanta. We may not know as much as the railroad experts on the matter of rates but we know when we are being gouged and we know that when the water rates are eliminated that we cannot do business any longer in Florida.

Write to your senators and congressmen at Washington and stir them up to the enormity of the latest crime in railroad circles. Write to them to take steps to prevent it or step down and out.

Write to everyone that has any influence and tell them that the time has come when the people of the southeast will not stand for any more raises in rates from the common carriers. And then stand back of your Chamber of Commerce in this fight to maintain what we already have and stand back of them to the finish. If this rate is granted it means the ruin of the business of this section.

PUBLICITY TAX AND WHAT IT MEANS TO CITY AND COUNTY AND STATE

Just now there is considerable discussion in many counties of the state about cutting down taxes. Boards of County Commissioners and Boards of City Commissioners and City Aldermen and officials of all the balliwicks in the state are casting about trying to cut the taxes. This idea is all right and should be fostered just as any kind of economy should be fostered but in cutting the millage there is always the chance that the officials might be penny wise and pound foolish and use up a five cent lead pencil trying to save a cent.

The editor of the Herald has lived in several different counties during his twenty years of residence in Florida and in several counties in other states during the time when he did not live in Florida and when it comes to spending money for publicity purposes he knows whereof he speaks and yet he would not advise either the city or county to spend a cent on publicity tax if it meant nothing but advertising. Some people get the wrong idea of a publicity tax. They jump to the conclusion that it means printing booklets, printing advertisements, painting bill boards, making signs. This is only a small part of the mission of a publicity tax. Cities and counties levy a certain millage for publicity tax because that is the best heading under which they can levy a special tax for special purposes and that special purpose may be for county fairs, for big days, for farmers' picnics, for hospital purposes, for preventing railroads and telephone companies from raising rates every five minutes, for obtaining better service on the railroads and common carriers, for any and every purpose that will benefit the city or county or state.

The question has been raised by some that the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and the former Board of Trade were not doing anything for the county districts. When the question of better facilities for the railroads in shipping fruits and vegetables came up, when the question of a raise in freight rates came up, when the question of the raise in telephone rates came up, the entire county of Seminole was effected and is effected and will be effected in the years to come. The Sanford Board of Trade and now the Chamber of Commerce sends men to these meetings, pays their expenses, gets out statistics, puts in time and money and at the present time Sanford money is doing it for whom? For the entire county of Seminole and the entire county suffers just as Sanford suffers when the raise is made. If the raise in rates asked for at this time which means ruin to the business men goes through it will hit every merchant and every man doing business in this county. There should never be any division of county and county seat when the interests of all alike are wrapped up in the same package and what helps one helps the other.

And then what about the out-of-town property owner who is never here to take part in any advertising campaign, to become a member of the Chamber of Commerce, to get soaked on every proposition for months that comes up and they come regular and often to the business men of Sanford? What about the person who does not live here and takes no part in helping Sanford and Seminole county to grow, but takes his toll out of the city just the same. He carries none of the burdens. He just "takes" and never "puts." But with the publicity tax he pays his part because it is levied in the taxes. And you would never get him to "put" in any other way.

There are so many ways in which this publicity tax helps the city and the county that it would take all the space in this paper to enumerate all of them. There is so much to be said in favor of this tax and so little to be said against it that any fair-minded person will agree to it, once it is put up to him in a fair-minded way. Of course there are some people who are against advertising the city and county, who are willing to let the other fellow pay his way, to let the other fellow do all the work and spend all the money to make him rich, to make his property more valuable, to make his business better, to allow the burden of making a better city and county to fall on the shoulders of the ones who are willing to shoulder it. And then last, but not least, this publicity tax is no new thing for Sanford or for Seminole county to try out. We have had it before. The city donates so much each year for this purpose.

The county levied a publicity tax several years ago but took it off on account of the war coming on with its additional burden of taxation and service. Every progressive county in the state has a publicity tax. Every progressive city in the state has a Chamber of Commerce and with but one or two exceptions the city Chamber of Commerce uses the publicity tax of the county to assist in the movements that mean so much to the commonwealth in general whether they live in the heart of the city or in the country.

The Herald has not asked and will not ask either the city or the county officials for any money for any purpose. We will leave all these matters to the judgment of the city and county officials. But where other progressive cities and counties in the state and in other states set aside a certain sum for this purpose it would be well for Seminole and for Sanford to continue the good work if it is possible to do so. And they will find the majority of the citizens of the city and of the county behind them always with the idea that they will do their duty as they see it and will save the tax payers money as much as possible in every way and that they will not be penny wise and pound foolish. That they will look at this matter in the broad spirit of co-operation and helpfulness.

And if every citizen of Seminole county was a member of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce there would be no necessity of having a publicity tax. Or if every town in Seminole county had a Chamber of Commerce and every man in that community was a member there would be no necessity of a publicity tax and if every man in Sanford was a member of the Chamber of Commerce—

Well, it would be the millenium. Show us a city or town or hamlet without a live board of trade or Chamber of Commerce or live organization of some kind boosting the city and we will show you a dead town, hamlet or village. Show us a place that does not back up the Chamber of Commerce where they have one one we will show you a dead city. All of you in this community know that you never accomplished anything by your individual efforts. It always took the united efforts of the Board of Trade to put over any of the big things in the past and it will take the united efforts of the Chamber of Commerce to put them over in the future.

It is useless to argue the question. And if you don't think you are getting results from your board, tell them about it at the meetings and don't stand back and criticize something in which you are not taking an active part.

And then compare your chances now and your chances a few years ago and see if Sanford and Seminole county are not making progress.

CLEAN UP.

This is the season of the year when we are apt to be lax on the clean up proposition. Many people are away from home a bit and they are apt to forget about the back yards and the alleys and about that rubbish and weeds that should have more attention now than ever before. It is very essential that the city be kept clean for the next two or three months. It should be kept clean every month in the year as far as that is concerned but now is the crucial period for sickness and disease stalks through the land about this time of the year. The tall weeds and grass and cans half filled with water and the various places where mosquitoes could breed are the things that should receive the attention not only of the citizens but of the city department. There is considerable laxity on the part of all of us and we can all take this matter to ourselves. And we hope the city department will get busy on this weed question and this garbage question and not only clean up and get busy on their part of the business but see that everybody does likewise. Sanford is one of the healthiest cities in the world and we want to keep it that way.

And then it makes our city more beautiful.

At a recent dinner of the Bald Head Club in London prizes were awarded for the barest head, marks being given for "color" and "polish" in addition to "sparseness." Prizes were also given for the best solitary hair and for the best "fringe."—Orlando Sentinel.

Well, there is more sense in that than in having those so-called automobile races at the beach on the Fourth of July.

The price of everything even to labor is down and many of the utility plants over the country are lowering their rates. Can we expect a lower rate here in Sanford?

Ice should be the cheapest thing we can buy in the summer time.

Sanford "The City Substantial"

SHOWING SHIPMENTS of VEGETABLES, FREIGHT RATES, WATER COMPETITION, AND BUSINESS FACILITIES

During the period November 15, 1920, to June 1, 1921, inclusive, Sanford shipped 5,125 cars of vegetables, the majority of which were celery. Probably no farming section in the country has better railroad facilities than Sanford, despite which the great increase of production requires additional facilities being built each year. The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company has a belt line serving the trucking territory. This belt line is nine and one-half miles long, with spurs branching off at convenient points for placement of cars to be loaded by the growers. This practically means that the farmers have the railroad running up to their back doors. In addition to this belt line the railroad yard has accommodations for approximately 700 cars. Freight charges paid by shippers in this section to May 15th total over $1,950,000. Increased rates as of the same date brought additional revenues to the transportation company in an amount over $800,000.

Perishable products pay 52 per cent over first-class freight rate and in shipping a carload of lettuce to New York containing 400 hampers, the total charges collected by the transportation company are $425.91, divided as follows: Freight, $336.00; refrigeration or icing charges, $77.50; war tax, $12.41. This figures a charge of $1.06 per hamper delivered to New York. Charges for a similar car consigned to Chicago would be $439.71, of which amount freight is $342.00, refrigeration $85.00, and war tax $12.51. Cost per hamper to Chicago $1.09 2-3.

A carload containing 350 crates of celery to New York pays $294.00 freight, $77.00 refrigeration, $11.15 war tax, or a total charge of $382.65. Rate per crate, $1.09. The same car to Chicago would cost $229.25 freight, $85 refrigeration, $11.52 war tax, or $385.77 total charge, with a per crate rate of $1.12.

A minimum carload of lettuce is 350 hampers; and a maximum 400 hampers. 350 crates of celery is a carload lot.

Some idea can be gained from these figures of the revenue contributed to the railroads from this section, and why it is to the advantage of the latter to foster and co-operate in anything that will further develop this rich agricultural section. The increased rates paid this season represented the profit the growers would have received had this increase not become effective.

The Interstate Commerce Commission rules that the payment of these excess rates entitles the shipper to preferred service, and the railroads are supposed to give from Sanford fifth and sixth morning delivery to New York, Chicago and Boston markets.

Sanford boasts the largest original icing station in the world, from which the refrigerator cars are iced before beginning their journey to the large markets of the country. During the present season the peak of shipping was reached in March when 373 cars of celery were iced and shipped in one week. The icing plant is privately owned and operated, as are gas, water and electric plants.

Sanford is indeed fortunate in that it is accessible by boat as well as by rail, as a result of which this never-failing water route to and from the great business centers of the country has always proven an advantage to the city as an equalizer of transportation rates, precluding all possibility of her business men ever being at the mercy of transportation exigencies, and in addition to which enables them to supply adjacent territory with goods and supplies at better than competitive prices. The table of rates noted below showing differentials as between Sanford and points further south, using Jacksonville as a basic point, is probably the most positive argument in support of its contention of being the re-shipping point of the upper St. Johns and the real distributing center for South Florida.

From Jacksonville to--	1st C.	2nd C.	3rd C.	4th C.
Sanford	.58	.50	.45 1/2	.37 1/2
Orlando	1.09 1/2	.89	.82 1/2	.74
Kissimmee	1.15 1/2	1.05	.94	.78
Haines City	1.30 1/2	1.08	.89	.84 1/2
Lakeland	1.25	1.11 1/2	1.00	.87 1/2
Tampa	1.28	1.12 1/2	1.02	.89 1/2

Sanford's good road communications and close proximity to the fastest growing cities in the state give additional weight to its claim as a distributing center. It is upon the submission of these facts that Sanford courts investigation from manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers. The Clyde Line operates river steamers from Jacksonville to Sanford, leaving Jacksonville and arriving in Sanford on alternate days, and vice versa.

Those wholesale concerns located here recognized the superior advantages of Sanford as a distributing center for central and south Florida, and not only materialized their vision, but have built up phenomenally profitable businesses in their respective lines.

Sanford possesses excellent railroad facilities, being on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, approximately 125 miles from each of Florida's two largest cities, Jacksonville and Tampa, or midway between these two cities. It is the connecting point for Lakeland, Eustis and Oviedo, and is known as the railroad center of central Florida. The Atlantic Coast Line Railway operates de-luxe train service from eastern and midwestern points through to Sanford; close connections are also made at Jacksonville with other lines not serving this territory. Division repair shops for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad are also located at Sanford.

In order to arrive at some idea of the wealth of this section, it may be of information to those interested in this state to know that the third division of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, which embraces the operations of this railroad exclusively in Florida, furnished one-fifth of the company's total operating revenue, and despite general adverse business conditions the volume of business from this section showed an increase of 60 per cent as against a corresponding decrease for the first and second divisions of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BOOKLET HAS JUST BEEN ISSUED FROM PRESS, IS THE BEST ONE OUT THIS YEAR

Wonderful Work of Art Describing The City Substantial

The Sanford chamber of commerce has just issued one of the finest booklets that has ever left a printing press in this or any other state. It consists of ten pages and four pages of cover and there is nothing tiresome in this snappy booklet, no long-winded descriptions, no high-sounding titles or phrases, no lost effort in telling the world just what Sanford and Seminole county has in the way of resources. The cover is of stippled enamel book paper, made in the shape of a railroad folder and gives a bird's-eye view of Sanford, the City Substantial, with the lake front and the contemplated city dock and pavilion, all done in colors in a manner that strikes the eye of the beholder.

The book opens with the full-width pages, all done in two-color bindings, descriptive of the reading matter, and fine half-tone pictures of the city and country; pictures of the business section, of the residence section, of the lake front, of the celery farms, of the citrus fruits, of hotels and banks and schools and churches, of the winding St. Johns river, of the parks, of everything worth while.

Other cities and towns and hamlets in the county receive mention and while it is a Sanford booklet, paid for with Sanford money, it has much about the county of Seminole and the outlying sections and with a splendid map of the city and location in Seminole county, as well as a map showing the shipping facilities of Sanford, the booklet is a work of art in every respect, as well as a compendium of information about Sanford and Seminole county that is worth a million dollars to this section. It is just such a booklet that the investor wants to read. It puts him in touch with Sanford at once and he goes from one subject to another without any waste of time and in a few minutes has digested the salient facts—has the actual figures and is on his way to Sanford, The City Substantial.

Lack of space forbids any detailed account of this beautiful booklet. Get a copy from the chamber of commerce today and send some to your friends. It is one that you will be proud of and proud to send away from home. Of course it was printed by The Record Company of St. Augustine. No other firm could print it quite so well. And Secretary R. W. Pearman of the chamber of commerce and the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce are responsible for the booklet.

NEW GOVERNORS ELECTED FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber of Commerce held their election for governors Wednesday night, it being in the form of a primary and the ballots were sent to all the members through the mail. There was considerable interest manifested in the election and upon counting the ballots it was found that H. F. Whitner, F. F. Dutton and A. E. Yowell were the high men and they were duly elected by the governors at their meeting yesterday. The new governors will be seated at the meeting of the governors next Friday at which time a president will be elected for the ensuing year and the chamber will begin the new year's work with a zest that will mean a bigger city. The Chamber of Commerce is in a most flourishing condition and gives great promise for the future.

NEW FILLING STATION

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Edward Higgins and Frank Akers are opening a new filling station at the old Ford garage which they have named "the Daylight Corner Filling Station." They have just returned from Jacksonville where they purchased a big supply of equipment for the station and they promise the public one of the best equipped filling stations in this part of the state.

Frank Akers, the genial Frank, will be in charge of the station, and he will give the kind of service that has made him famous in many parts of America and Georgia. The central location of the Daylight Corner station makes it very popular and Edward Higgins and Frank Akers will make it more so. Look for their advertisement in The Daily Herald.

KU KLUX KLAN WON'T STAND ROUGH STUFF

Imperial Palace
Knights of the Ku Klux Klan
Atlanta, Ga., June 23, 1921
To Whom It May Concern:
It having come to my attention that charges are being freely circulated in Daytona, Fla., asserting that acts of lawlessness have been committed by members of the Ku Klux Klan, and it being a violation of a Klansman's oath for him to engage in any acts of lawlessness, and it also being circulated and asserted parties in Daytona desirous of injuring the good name of the Ku Klux Klan, or to cover up acts of personal lawlessness, have been committing lawless acts in the name of the Ku Klux Klan; therefore, I, William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard and Emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, charged with the duty of protecting the order, do hereby appoint TILLIS-DORNER to the task of making full and careful investigation of this whole matter and make at the earliest possible date report to me on same in order that if the Ku Klux Klan of Daytona or any of its members have been guilty of lawless acts that their names may be given to the public and the charter of the Klan revoked, or if irresponsible parties have been committing deeds under the cloak of the Klan, thus misusing its name, that I may call into effect all the power of the organization to see that the guilty are properly punished under the laws of the state of Florida, which protect this organization in its lawful work and gives the organization legal redress against those who use its name.

SANFORD DIVIDES DOUBLE HEADER WITH PALATKA

(From Tuesday's Daily)

In two of the very best ball games ever seen in one day on the local diamond, Sanford and Palatka divided the honors.

The first game was a pretty pitchers' duel, Elrod working for Palatka and Chapman working for Sanford. Elrod is Palatka's best bet, having pitched a 13-inning no-hit game against Ft. Myers, and he was right in this game, allowing Sanford but three hits. Chapman, however, had the best of it, giving up but two hits and striking out three men more than Elrod. The final count was 1 to 0 in Sanford's favor.

The second game was another good game with Sanford and Amann opposing each other. Sanford was Palatka's main stay until Elrod was signed up and he is good, but not quite as good as Amann as Amann out-pitched him throughout the entire game and would have won if it were not for the fact that Sanford, not being used to playing every day like Palatka is, weakened to some extent and allowed Palatka to squeeze a run over in the ninth after Sanford had tied the score.

Both games were to have been played in seven innings, but it took eight innings to decide the first game and nine the second. The final score in the second game was 4-3, with Palatka sitting on top.

To say that these two games were pretty exhibitions of the national past-time would be putting it mildly. Both clubs are just about evenly matched and they were both out for blood. Both games were played in the afternoon, as rain stopped the play in the morning after one inning had been played.

The two new members in Sanford's line-up showed up to be the real stuff. Gardiner, who took Pope's place at third after he (Pope) had resigned, is known to most of the Sanford fans, having at one time played for Daytona in the Florida State league and Sanford fans have also seen him play at Stetson.

Walker, accompanied by his attractive little wife, came up from Orlando to join the club and played both games. Walker has had several years' experience in organized baseball, playing last with Charleston, in the S. A. league, and the way that he cut up everything that came his way and the way he swung the war club yesterday was great to see.

Sanford's line-up in yesterday's game was one good enough to have whipped the old Sanford club of last year.

Rive, behind the bat, played his usual nice game and fought all the way through until his arm was ready to drop off. He, like most all the players, began to feel the effect along about the middle of the second game but he stayed right with them and much of the success of yesterday's games is due Sid. As already mentioned, Amann and Chapman were both right, and the games they put up were as good as any Florida State Leaguer could have done. When not pitching they took their turns in the out field.

And Biddy Burdick was all over the diamond. He played both games like a house afire, as did Chief Chittenden on first. With Chittenden, Rive, Burdick, Walker and Gardner on the infield, the ball just had to be knocked to the outfield in order to get by and there in the outfield it was met by Amann or Chapman, Spencer, Biggers, Hunt or Smith.

The Sanford club left on the boat Sunday, arriving in Palatka Sunday night. After the night's rest they were in good shape for the games, and then the crowd attended the dance at the Elk's Club until train time.

Many Sanford fans went to Palatka for these games and they all came home satisfied that the trip was worth taking.

Sanford has now played three games with Palatka, all on Palatka's diamond and out of the three games Sanford won two. Two more games will be played with Palatka this season on Sanford's diamond, provided that the Sanford fans show that they want them to come here by putting out the 50c asked to see these games. It will take money to bring them here and there is only one way to get the money, from the fans at 50c a head.

The scores by innings and the batteries for yesterday's games were as follows:

First Game.
Sanford	000 000 01—1 3 0
Palatka	000 000 00—0 2 0
Batteries—Sanford:	Chapman, Amann and Rive.
Palatka—Elrod and Alaredge.

Second Game.
Sanford	000 000 300—3 6 1
Palatka	001 200 001—4 6 2
Batteries—Sanford:	Amann and Rive.
Palatka—Elrod, Sanford and Alaredge.

666 cures Billousness.
