Sanford To Replace Orlando's Herndon?

Barring a last minute change, the Orange, Osceola, Seminole Planning Commission will recommend to Orlando City Commission, Sanford City Commission, City of Kissimmee, and other affected governmental and aviation-oriented bodies that Herndon Airport be closed.

Harlan Hanson, Tri-county planning director, was contacted today and advised "it is a bit premature at this time, since the City of Orlando has four consulting firms working on the same situation and it will be awhile before their recommendations are known. Hanson admitted that Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, an Orlando consultant and engineering firm, had made known its findings during yesterday's Tri-County meeting on airport planning, and these included the closing of Herndon and construction of two additional airports at Winter Garden and in east Orlando. The planner said the Tri-County recommendations would be made about a month after the reports from other consultants are known. Problems with the N. W. 17th and 20th streets planes from McCoy's Jet Port across Herndon, making a potentially dangerous situation for Herndon, Hanson advised. It is expected to close Herndon is forthcoming, it could have considerable effect on the Sanford Airport situation as air industries and airlines now located at the Orlando facility would be casting an eye toward Sanford as a future location.

Jessup Span Endorsed

By FRED VAN PELT (Second of two articles)
TALLAHASSEE — Seminole County is in line for some major road improvements within the next five years, principally construction of Lake Jessup causeway and a new Osteen bridge with approach from SR 46 east. This was the "message" received from Jay W. Brown, commissioner of the State Department of Transportation, who evinced great interest in the Lake Jessup causeway project. (Apparently the state's No. 2 road chief had not been apprised of the county's interest in causeways across Lake Monroe and Lake Jessup.) Brown studied a map as this reporter rested (from memory) facts to date about the two proposed highways. The district office at Deland, under Engineer C. A. (Bill) Benedict, some time ago completed preliminary planning for the Lake Jessup causeway. The latter plan includes a widened Sanford Avenue from the lake. Brown evinced interest in expediting this project since he saw on the map that it would increase access to Florida Technological University, three miles south of Oviedo. Benedict said his office is ready to commence work on the project "as soon as funds are made available." It was pointed out to Brown that the causeway would cut the

MIAMI (AP)—Field workers and electricians struck the Florida Power & Light Co. early today as the giant utility, which serves 35 counties and half of "We are operating and maintaining the facilities in Sanford with supervisory personnel and currently hope this work stoppage will end soon," said W. Scott Burns, local FP&L manager. Federal mediators were to meet this afternoon in Miami with company and union negotiators.

Union Strikes In 35 Counties FP&L Maintains Its Service

MIAMI (AP)—Field workers and electricians struck the Florida Power & Light Co. early today as the giant utility, which serves 35 counties and half of task of operating FP&L facilities at midnight when pickets were posted for 11 unions representing 3,200 linemen, electricians and switchmen. Company spokesmen said they expected normal service to be maintained, but were uncertain what procedures would develop if Hurricane Laurie continued its trek toward Florida's west coast. Company officials and negotiators for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Work-

J. H. Niles said the IBEW was seeking a 35 per cent increase. Early today the utility's chief executive officer, R. C. Patterson, indicated he would submit a contract dispute to binding arbitration. IBEW officials called the strike after its members rejected a one-year company proposal by a reported 2-to-1 margin. A company spokesman Ted Johnson said the utility had offered an hourly increase of 4 cents, or an 8.99 per cent hike in the old rate of $1.44 an hour. Union spokesman

Building In County 'Up & Up'

By MARION BETHIA
Building in Seminole County is "up, up and away" with issuance of approximately 50 permits during the week of October 13-20. Most were for residential additions, enclosures, etc., on several major projects were noted.

B. Howard Is Slain

Buddy Alva Howard, 45, long-time resident of Sanford until two years ago, was shot to death by a hold-up man early today in Tampa, it was reported by Associated Press. Howard, a service station operator, was found, shot once in the chest, lying in the station office by a couple who had stopped for gasoline. Cpl. W. H. Cromer reported. A check of the register showed $54.92 missing. A neighbor told police she saw a young man running from the station about the time of the shooting.

LAURIE SKIRTS KEYS

MIAMI (AP)—Coastal residents from Cuba to Texas watched warily today as Hurricane Laurie crept slowly toward the Florida Keys with 90 mile-per-hour winds. The big, wet storm circled slowly southward during the early morning hours and lost some of its fury in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico. Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami said Laurie was about 315 miles southwest of Fort Myers and 375 miles west-northwest of Key West at midmorning, moving southward at about 10 m.p.h. The storm's calm center was pinpointed in the Gulf at Latitude 25.4 north, Longitude 86.8 west. Gales extended out 175 miles to the east, toward Florida and storm tides were forecast along the Florida West Coast. Boaters along a 200-mile stretch of shoreline were alerted to watch for the storm. Laurie's slow movement made it's future track hard to predict, said Gil Clark at the hurricane center. But he said the shift to a southerly track made further identification unlikely. If Laurie continued on it's southeasterly course it would enter remote Florida Bay, some 50 miles south of Naples, early Thursday and across the Florida Keys north of Key West. However, Clark pointed out forecasters had no way of knowing if Laurie would cut the

Schools Lack Textbooks

By BILL SCOTT
There is a shortage of text books in Seminole County schools. School Supt. John Angel admitted at his regular Wednesday news conference that "in some areas, we do have a shortage of textbooks," when questioned today by The Sanford Herald concerning a complaint made by a Pine Creek teacher aide that her son, an 11th grader at Seminole High School, had to purchase a grammar and composition book for $2.34 since there were only 32 textbooks and one composition book for 18 English classes. The woman Mrs. Elsie Griffith, had contacted The Herald concerning the plight of the students having to share the textbooks. Angel said today that three books were used in the English classes at Seminole and these included literature, grammar

IT WAS A short-lived liberty this morning for Carmen the Chimp after she escaped from a transport cage at the Sanford Zoo. The zoo superintendent, Mrs. Willie Mae Hood, and her assistant, Jerry Koyl, chased Carmen along the lakefront until Mrs. Hood got in a shot with a tranquilizer gun. Career Corner

Medical Technician Jobs Open

"How about more suggestions in the paramedical field? Both my daughter and I are interested."

"One emerging health occupation in demand is the electroencephalograph (EEG) technician; highly qualified technicians are also called EEG technologists."

"The EEG technician operates a specialized electrical instrument that helps physicians discover brain disorders, and records the progress of patients with brain conditions."

"JOBSCOPE. Most work in hospitals, clinics or medical schools; some are employed in physicians' offices. Here's how the American Hospital Association summarizes their duties:

"The EEG technician runs an instrument that records brain waves. The electrodes are attached to the patient's head in specified places. The electrodes measure impulse frequencies and differences in electrical potential between various parts of the brain. Throughout the test the technician observes the patient's behavior and makes notes on the recording graph. He analyzes finished recordings for possible false readings. The physician (usually a neurologist or neuropsychiatrist) interprets the tracings in diagnosing brain disorders."

"MONEY. A leading authority who was very helpful in preparing this column, Dr. John R. Knott of the University of Iowa, estimates the average starting salary is approximately $2,200 with a future potential of $4,000 or more."

"EDUCATION. The minimum required is a high school diploma, and most EEG technicians have learned on the job. However, the trend is toward upgrading education and performance through formalized training programs."

"SCHOOLS. Most EEG technology programs are offered by hospitals or medical schools at the present time, and with one exception, all programs started within the last six years. These were: U. of Alabama, Barrow Neurological Institute in Columbus, Dixie U. in North Carolina, U. of Florida, Louisiana State U., Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., Medical College of Virginia, U. of Washington, and U. of Wisconsin. Most of the programs last one year; the range is six to 18 months. One two-year program started last year at the U. of Kentucky at Lexington, and some junior colleges are expected to begin programs very soon."

"Until several months ago, tuition in EEG technology programs was free and students were also paid a stipend. But federal spending cuts mean tuition will probably cost in the future; inquire at the school of your choice."

"STUDIES. High school social and physical science courses are useful. No rigidly fixed curricula exist in EEG technology programs because EEG is a changing and growing field, but the basic "core areas" do seem to be agreed upon: instrumentation, electronic equipment, technique, anatomy, physiology and related clinical medicine."

"REGISTRATION. To boost the professional standards and recognition of EEG technicians, the American Board of Registration of Electroencephalographic Technologists has developed a voluntary examination administered periodically. To date, only about 100 technicians have passed, resulting in the designation of "R.E.E.G. T." after their names, but about 100 are taking the exam yearly now. Advancement potential is better if you become a registry-level EEG technologist."

"WHERE TO WRITE? — For a free brief leaflet on EEG and EEG (heart) technicians, published by the American Hospital Association, send me a postcard at this newspaper. For information on the registry examinations, write to T. Shantz, Secretary, ABRET, Division of EEG, Graduate Hospital, 19th and Lombard, Philadelphia, Pa. 19146."

Public Television Will Be Knocking On Your TV

Public Television is ready to raise its curtain on a week of evening viewing to bring the message to the viewers of our area and determine its popularity. It is taking place at a time when the television industry is under critical comment as the regular commercial channels and the major networks analyze the response to its new programs.

Anyone who is interested in a change of fare from the TV programs now being received on the usual channels, will find Public Television a pleasing dish. Its offerings have two basic goals: self-improvement and community improvement. But the schedules are not stodgy or preachy. Ten classifications divide the broadcasting into lively, spectacular and intriguing spectacles.

True Freedom

The managing editor of The New York Times, Clifton Daniel, in a speech to the Missouri Bankers Assn. placed the concept of "freedom of the press" as it is proclaimed in the First Amendment to the Constitution. To begin with, freedom of the press doesn't apply just to the press. Applicable to all citizens, the First Amendment protects anyone's right to dissent or to criticize or to complain.

Industry Giants Challenge Move

State Okays Aquatic Preserves

By RICH OPEL
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Local officials and land developers raised a storm of opposition to establishment of a statewide system of aquatic preserves Tuesday, but the Cabinet approved 16 of 25 proposed reserves anyway.

Such industry giants as Gulf American Land Corp. and St. Joe Paper Co. challenged establishment of the coastal preserves and onetime legislative powers such as former Sens. James "Nick" Connor of Brooksville and George Tupper of Port St. Joe appeared to speak in opposition.

Preserves established by the Cabinet were mostly along Florida's east coast. Action on at least eight in the Florida panhandle and Fort Myers area was deferred pending public hearings.

"I would hope to get it back next week," said Gov. Claude Kirk of the proposed reserves not acted upon.

"This is a historic day," said Kirk. "I'm very pleased we got the resolutions. We approved some, and others will be approved soon."

The resolution establishes aquatic preserves forever set aside as sanctuaries for wildlife, protection of natural resources, lands and waters as "specific areas of exceptional quality and value."

No drilling of oil wells or excavation for shell or minerals will be permitted, but citizens can continue to use the areas for commercial fishing, hunting and recreation.

Dredge and fill operations will be approved only for "authorized public navigation projects."

A Tallahassee attorney representing Gulf American, Perry Odom, attempted to get a delay in action. The Cabinet did stall action on four aquatic preserves in the lower west coast where the firm does most of its developing.

And a spokesman for St. Joe said the firm would not be permitted to drill for oil in the Florida panhandle.

He said the state should exercise permit control, which could be relaxed later, would give the state time to develop "expertise to put out a blacklist."

"I don't look at this thing as etched in granite," he said. "I think we should go down the road together."

Hanson got the board to drop the word "harvest" from the list of aquatic plant activities forbidden without a permit.

Representatives of several state and federal agencies heartily endorsed the regulations and said they were an essential step toward ending Florida of a major water pollution problem.

Board chairman Nat Reed explained to Hanson that the "bill" was enacted into law during the 1968 session and it was too late to protest against it.

Reed then went over Hanson's objections to the standards for control of plants such as hydrilla and elodea that are choking state waterways and was able to reach several compromises.

One of Hanson's strongest objections was to a regulation requiring permits to import, transfer or transport or cultivate aquatic plants.

The aquatic weed problem in Florida is costing people no less than $75 million a year in lost property values and lost uses," said Lyman Rogers, chairman of the Governor's Aquatic Development and Research Commission.

Pollution Act Hit

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Air and Water Pollution Control Board Tuesday overrode numerous objections from tropical fish industry and created strict standards for control of importing pesky aquatic plants.

"This bill is a bad one from our point of view because it could put us completely out of business because of interpretation," protested Col. John A. Hanson, representative of the fish industry.

Board chairman Nat Reed explained to Hanson that the "bill" was enacted into law during the 1968 session and it was too late to protest against it.

Shaky Teenager Pirates Jet

MIAMI (AP)—Claiming he was turned down in his bid to go the lowest way, a shaky teenager yanked a gun on a Pan American stewardess Tuesday and pirated a plane loaded with 20 persons to Cuba.

Pointing the gun as he talked, the youth told passengers he had used to get a visa to visit Cuba but was refused by Mexican officials.

So he said he "uplifted himself" by cutting his shoulder-length hair in order to board the plane unnoticed and forced the pilot of the Mexico City-Miami flight to head for Havana.

He did not name the city in California, but said his father was Maj. Mike Shorn.

"He said he was going down to join the revolution," said the flight refused to discuss a resolution related to hijackings they had reportedly presented to Interior's General Assembly session in Mexico City.

The men, Juan Barletti and Arturo Mejia, reportedly told the international police organization that special guards should be assigned to airlines.

Sen. John Mathews Makes It Official

By JIM PIHLES
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Senate President John Mathews announced his candidacy for the 1970 governor's race today and said it stems "from deep concern with the growing separation between government and the people to whom it belongs."

The Jacksonville Democrat said a pro-union news conference at the Capitol that Floridians are "weary of glib promises" and seek leaders of integrity.

In his opening statement, the legislative veteran quickly turned his criticism — without naming them directly — on his chief opponent for the party nomination, Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth, and the Republican incumbent, Gov. Claude Kirk.

"It's time to stop using one elective office as a springboard to another," he said, in an apparent reference to Faircloth's ambitions for U. S. Senate and gubernatorial office and Kirk's 1968 play for the GOP vice presidential nomination.

Miss Mullins said reporters who she slipped the 17-year-old hijacker a note inviting him to discuss the pirating with Slade after the youth pulled a gun and cubed on a flight to Miami from Mexico City.

"I wrote that Tom was a political science professor and invited him to discuss the matter with the professor," Miss Mullins said.

The couple talked to the pilot pirate until the plane landed in Havana.

Miss Mullins, who had a week off from her job to do some shopping for the couple's Nov. 29 wedding, said she and Slade generally relaxed in Mexico City and did some early Christmas shopping.

Old Leases Still Valid

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Coastal Petroleum Co. said Tuesday leases granted to it in 194 for mining of minerals in Lake Ouchibotee were still valid.

Coastal attorney Frank Bezon made the allegation in appealing to U. S. District Judge C. Clyde Atkins for an order upholding agreements made with trustees of Florida's Internal Improvement Fund 25 years ago.

The hearing before Atkins continued today.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers ruled against mining operations Aug. 12, contending that the 720-acre, 270-square-mile lake would obstruct navigation and damage fish and wildlife.

Bezon contended the Corps was in error in denying the mining permit.

Neal Rutledge, representing the Internal Improvement Fund, said the trustees had agreed to credit Coastal with drilling on other areas satisfying the lease requirements.

Major American Military Base Will Be Taken Over By S. Viets

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP)—The South Vietnamese government announced today that its forces on Friday will take over a major U. S. base in the critical 3rd Corps military zone surrounding Saigon for the first time.

The South Vietnamese said the sprawling Black Horse base camp 40 miles east of the capital will be transferred to South Vietnam's 18th Infantry Division, paving the way for more American troop withdrawals beyond the 16,000 already announced.

The camp, which contains 14 miles of roads and 850 buildings, was until last June the operational base of the U. S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment and since then the U. S. 19th Light Infantry Brigade has been stationed there.

There has been speculation that both the 11th Armored Cavalry regiment, now stationed 60 miles south of Saigon at Quan Loi, and the 19th Light Infantry Brigade will be withdrawn from Vietnam in 1970.

Meanwhile, allied battlefront communiques indicated stepped-up action across the country, but spokesmen said fighting was still at the relatively low level that has prevailed for the past seven weeks.

Allied air and ground forces reported killing 14 enemy soldiers in a dozen small clashes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. Not more than 25 enemy were reported killed in any single fight.

South Vietnamese losses were put at three killed and 32 wounded. The U. S. Command reported one American killed and nine wounded in ground fighting and said three Americans were killed and two wounded in some of the 22 enemy rocket and mortar attacks reported from 8 a.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. Wednesday.

South Vietnamese headquarters said two civilians were killed by enemy shelling, and 12 civilians and two government soldiers were killed when a bus ran over a Viet Cong mine in the Mekong Delta 70 miles southwest of Saigon.

U. S. B-52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps along the demilitarized zone for the first time in 12 days shortly after sporadic fighting broke out in the northern front region.

About 10 of the big bombers dropped some 250 tons of explosives in the raids. One attack hit within half a mile of the southern edge of the DMZ, north of the abandoned U. S. Marine base at Khe Sanh and 10 miles from the Laotian border.

Fifteen miles to the east, troops of the U. S. 3rd Mechanized Infantry Division were attacked twice on Tuesday while operating near the allied combat base at Con Thien.

In one attack about a mile below the DMZ, North Vietnamese troops opened fire with rocket grenades and rifles, wounding six Americans. U. S. Air Force dice bombers and artillery blasted the enemy positions, and the bodies of three North Vietnamese were found.

Ex-Port Aide Refutes Charge On Pay

Francis E. Roumillat III, resigned administrator of the Seminole County Port Authority, today refuted implications of the chairman, Elmerworth Bassett, that Roumillat had requested two weeks salary for six hours labor. Bassett brought the matter before the Authority members at their Monday evening meeting.

Roumillat, in a letter today addressed to Bassett, pointed out that he submitted his resignation in June, effective July 2, but that the authority requested him to continue until a successor was appointed. He said:

James Ryan, a member of the Authority, was employed as the administrator, effective Oct. 1, Roumillat, in a letter today addressed to Bassett, pointed out that the authority requested him to continue until a successor was appointed. He said:

"I have no apologies to make to anyone for my efforts or my time spent in behalf of the project. The $12,570 Port of Sanford project is under way with a $500,000 HUD loan, an $82,400 EDA grant and $65,000 of Semco's. Grants tax money. I have the satisfaction of knowing that I was chairman of the Seminole County Authority, that I had the privilege of being elected chairman in 1965 setting up the Authority, that I had the privilege of being elected chairman of the Authority for the first and second terms of office; that I was the first administrator for the Authority; that the HUD loan was finalized under my direction; and, that every word in the EDA grant application was put to paper by me and me alone.

"To return to the question at hand, let's remember a few points:

"1. The Budget Committee (of which you were chairman) set the salary — not me. (And it was $116, not $106, as erroneously published.)"

"2. The Authority requested that I remain in the post — not me. I had requested release as of July 3, 1969."

Liberal Wins In Atlanta

By KATHY H. JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Liberal Democrat Sam Massell piled up big margins in Negro districts to win election as mayor of Atlanta for eight years, received 62,632 votes to Cook's 51,289.

Cook, an alderman and state legislator, carried most of the mainly white wards, but was far behind in Negro areas.

Massell, a Jew, will have as his vice mayor Maynard Jackson, a Negro, first of his race to win the city's second highest office. Jackson won a majority in the Oct. 7 general election and was not involved in Tuesday's runoff.

Of Atlanta's 210,000 registered voters, about 85,000 are Negroes. One election observer said about 40 per cent of the black voters cast ballots.

Retiring Democratic Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., who called for Massell to withdraw from the race last Sunday because of what he termed improper fund raising, called the vice mayor's win a great victory.

Massell claimed he was "amazed" when newspapers reported that his brother, also known as a police captain, solicited campaign funds from nightclubs. Massell denied any personal wrongdoing.

'Dissenters' Patriotism Discredited'

By WALTER H. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George S. McGovern accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today of cynically attempting "to discredit the patriotism" of Vietnam dissenters and said President Nixon must have approved the tactic.

"If Mr. Agnew's speech is a measure of the administration's moral and mental sensitivity, God help America," the South Dakota Democrat said in a Senate statement.

The White House said Agnew's Sunday denunciation of antiwar demonstrators had not been discussed in advance with Nixon.

"I think the vice president spoke his own mind," said Hugh Scott, Senate Republican leader. "I think the administration was correct in its criticism, in anticipation of Nixon's Nov. 3 speech to the nation."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee called off, until sometime after Oct. 22, and also is awaiting allocation of building funds. The new high-level span across the St. Johns River would be east of the present bridge. Approach from the south would be a new road from SR 46 in the vicinity of Seminole County proposed were not to him that actually he was well aware of them. His opinion of the Lake Monroe and Lake Jessup causeways was with the reports of the DeLand office.

The DeLand office about three years ago spent $20,000 on a survey probing the feasibility of a causeway across Lake Monroe, actually extending from Orange City through Enterprise across the lake to the foot of French Avenue.

The survey was supposed to be made in two phases but never completed. Phase I indicated that the causeway would provide revenue to pay for itself, that motorists would prefer to use the present U. S. 17 road than pay a toll. Volusia and Seminole Counties were approached with the thought of using county secondary road funds to make up the difference between the toll revenue and the actual cost. The counties, it was reported, voted this plan.

Also in the county's five-year plan is to four-lane U.S. 17-22 between Interstate 4 and French Avenue around the lake, but no funds have been allocated for this project.

Another thought prevailed after the interview with Brown: Seminole County County Commissioners, Chamber of Commerce committee members or any other persons has not been pressing the state to obtain road improvements for the county. The county has been presenting its list of top priorities for secondary road improvements and letting the matter rest there.

The committee, which resumed hearings today after several days of recess, had heard testimony earlier from Turner concerning charges he had improperly obtained confidential source reports from civilian police officials in Chicago and Kansas City.

In an earlier session, James H. Cannon Jr., Chicago, police superintendent, said Turner lied when he testified Conlik knew the weapons he obtained from the Chicago police force in 1968 were for his own use and not for Army evaluation and training.

Turner had admitted he sold some of the weapons he received from the two departments. But he insisted, despite signed receipts, against the grain of his own testimony, that he personally and not in his official capacity.

The inquiry into Turner's gun transactions during the midst of the Senate investigations subcommittee's probe into the allegations he had used his position as provost marshal to cover up a criminal syndicate of sergeants organized to loot the NCO clubs they ran.

Kiwanis 'Tuned In'

By RALPH AUSTIN SMITH
Ask any Sanford Kiwanian, he'll tell you there's no such thing as a generation gap! This group of 106 civic leaders knows "where it's at" as far as the younger generation is concerned. They keep tuned-in via several of their most vital club projects. The Key Club in Seminole High School, and the Circle K Club at Seminole Junior College.

This rapport with the "new generation" is an important concern with these Seminole County men who work with the underprivileged children, as well as the young people of high school and junior college age. Two students attend Florida State University, and one in Stetson thanks to the work of the local Kiwanians. The club donated $5,000 to FSU to assure these students of free housing for 25 years. A similar arrangement has been made with Stetson. Also, to further insure these students a revolving fund has been set up to provide loans.

Glittering Holiday Arrangements Spark Sanford Garden Club Meet

By CECILIA FARMER
The general business and luncheon meeting of the Sanford Garden Club was held Oct. 16 at the Garden Center with DIRT Gardeners' Circle members serving as hostesses. Mrs. Harry Smith was luncheon chairman.

Mrs. Carl Tillis presented the speaker, Mrs. Frank Donahoe who displayed a glittering array of Christmas arrangements. Among them were a topiary tree for an entrance hall featuring a burning candle; a citrus wreath of gold with citrus on one side, a beautiful arrangement in a large glass globe and many others. All depicted a religious theme with arrangements to suit every member of a family.

The host circle placed artistic arrangements at vantage points throughout the dining area and in the dining room. Mrs. B. Middleton gave the invocation, followed by the flag salute. During the business session, Mrs. Cader Hart, Mrs. G. Andrew Soper and Mrs. P. L. Elmore were elected to the nominating committee and will report at the February meeting.

Hatchell-Rottinghaus Nuptials Spoken

MRS. GARY WAYNE ROTTINGHAUS (Rahija Photo)

Miss Brenda Ann Hatchell and Gary Wayne Rottinghaus were united in Holy Matrimony, Oct. 4, 1969, at 2 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church of Sanford. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Sandner, Uplala Road, Sanford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rottinghaus, also of Sanford.

Rev. Virgil Bryant was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight and double ring ceremony before the altar which was accented with a profusion of potted palms, spiral and arched candelabras and baskets of white Fugli mums. Mrs. George Touhy, church organist, presented a recital of appropriate musical selections. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal gown elegantly designed of gown de soie and Chantilly lace. Fashioned along the Empire silhouette, the gown featured a wedding ring collar, long tapered lace sleeves and a lace train which terminated in a full, chapel sweep.

ORANGE PARK, Fla. (AP) — A Navy wife whose husband has been missing for 16 months in Vietnam doesn't object to national demonstrations against the war, but she says the moratorium's objectives were wrong. "It's amazing that all you hear about are the atrocities committed by Americans. You'd think they'd open their eyes to the atrocities Hanoi has committed," said Mrs. Randolph W. Ford.

STEWART SHAFER shows an evaluation of Orange County curriculum to Mrs. Del Meadors, left, president of the Sanford Republican Woman's Club, and Mrs. Jerry Keeth, vice Republican executive committee woman.

American History Subversive?

By MARION BUTLER

A pilot program in U.S. history being taught in 170 grades in Orange County schools was branded subversive by Stewart Shaffer, member of the Orange County School Board, speaking at an informal "Kaffe Klatch" held recently by the Sanford Republican Women's Club at the home of Mrs. John Noel, on Linda Lane.

In evaluating the program, Shaffer stated that the text book committee, of which he is a member, was only given a week-end to evaluate two voluminous books. Although the committee felt that the material in the books was alien to American ideals, and the state of Florida requires that an approval text stress our democratic form of government, the school board voted adoption of the texts.

Shaffer told his audience that, in his opinion, students should know the opinions of government and the school program offers an inspiration. Shaffer also feels the material is half-truths, giving false impressions, possibly, of the minds of young students.

The program, he also states, does not grade the use and voluminous books. Although the committee felt that the material in the books was alien

IT'S CHEESE and SNACK FESTIVAL TIME

MONEY SAVING VALUES

Publix has long been famous for a full line of taste-tempting imported and domestic cheeses. Among the foreign-made varieties of cheese featured this week are Blue, Mozzarella, Gouda, Muenster, Imported Swiss, Danish Camembert, Gruyere, Roquefort, Limburger, Munster, Casu Marzu, Swiss, Brie and Port Salut!

GUIDE TO FAVORITE CHEESES

CHEESE HAS ITS MYSTIQUE to rival that of wine... but don't be mystified by it! Every country has its cheese specialties. For even studious gourmets may not know that Brie is a hard cheese made in Switzerland and colored green with powdered dried clover leaves. Or that Trappist monks, using a secret formula, make a cheese called Trappist, Oka, or Port-Salut. But you do owe it to yourself to explore popular U.S. varieties.

Hard

Cheddar - ranges from white to orange, mild to sharp. Process cheese - natural cheese ground together, melted and pasteurized for uniform flavor, texture and cooking quality. Romano - yellow-white, crumbly, granular. Fontina - same type as Romano, with sharper flavor. Swiss - light yellow, large holes, sweet, nutlike flavor. Provolone - semi-hard, smooth, light yellow. Mellow, smoky flavor. Fear of sausage shaped.

Semi-Soft

Edam - native Dutch, ball-shaped with red rind, film-wrapped. Domestic Mild, slightly salty. Gouda - similar to Edam, but shape is usually a flattened sphere. "Brie" - Gouda - about 2 pounds - may be cut into wedges. Muenster - leaf or cylinder, creamy white with long holes. Brie - native American, creamy yellow, small holes. Milder to sharp. Blue - greenish-blue streaks made by the mold that gives it a unique flavor. Made from cow's milk. Roquefort - the original "blue" from France, made from ewe's milk. Gorgonzola - the Italian version of Roquefort.

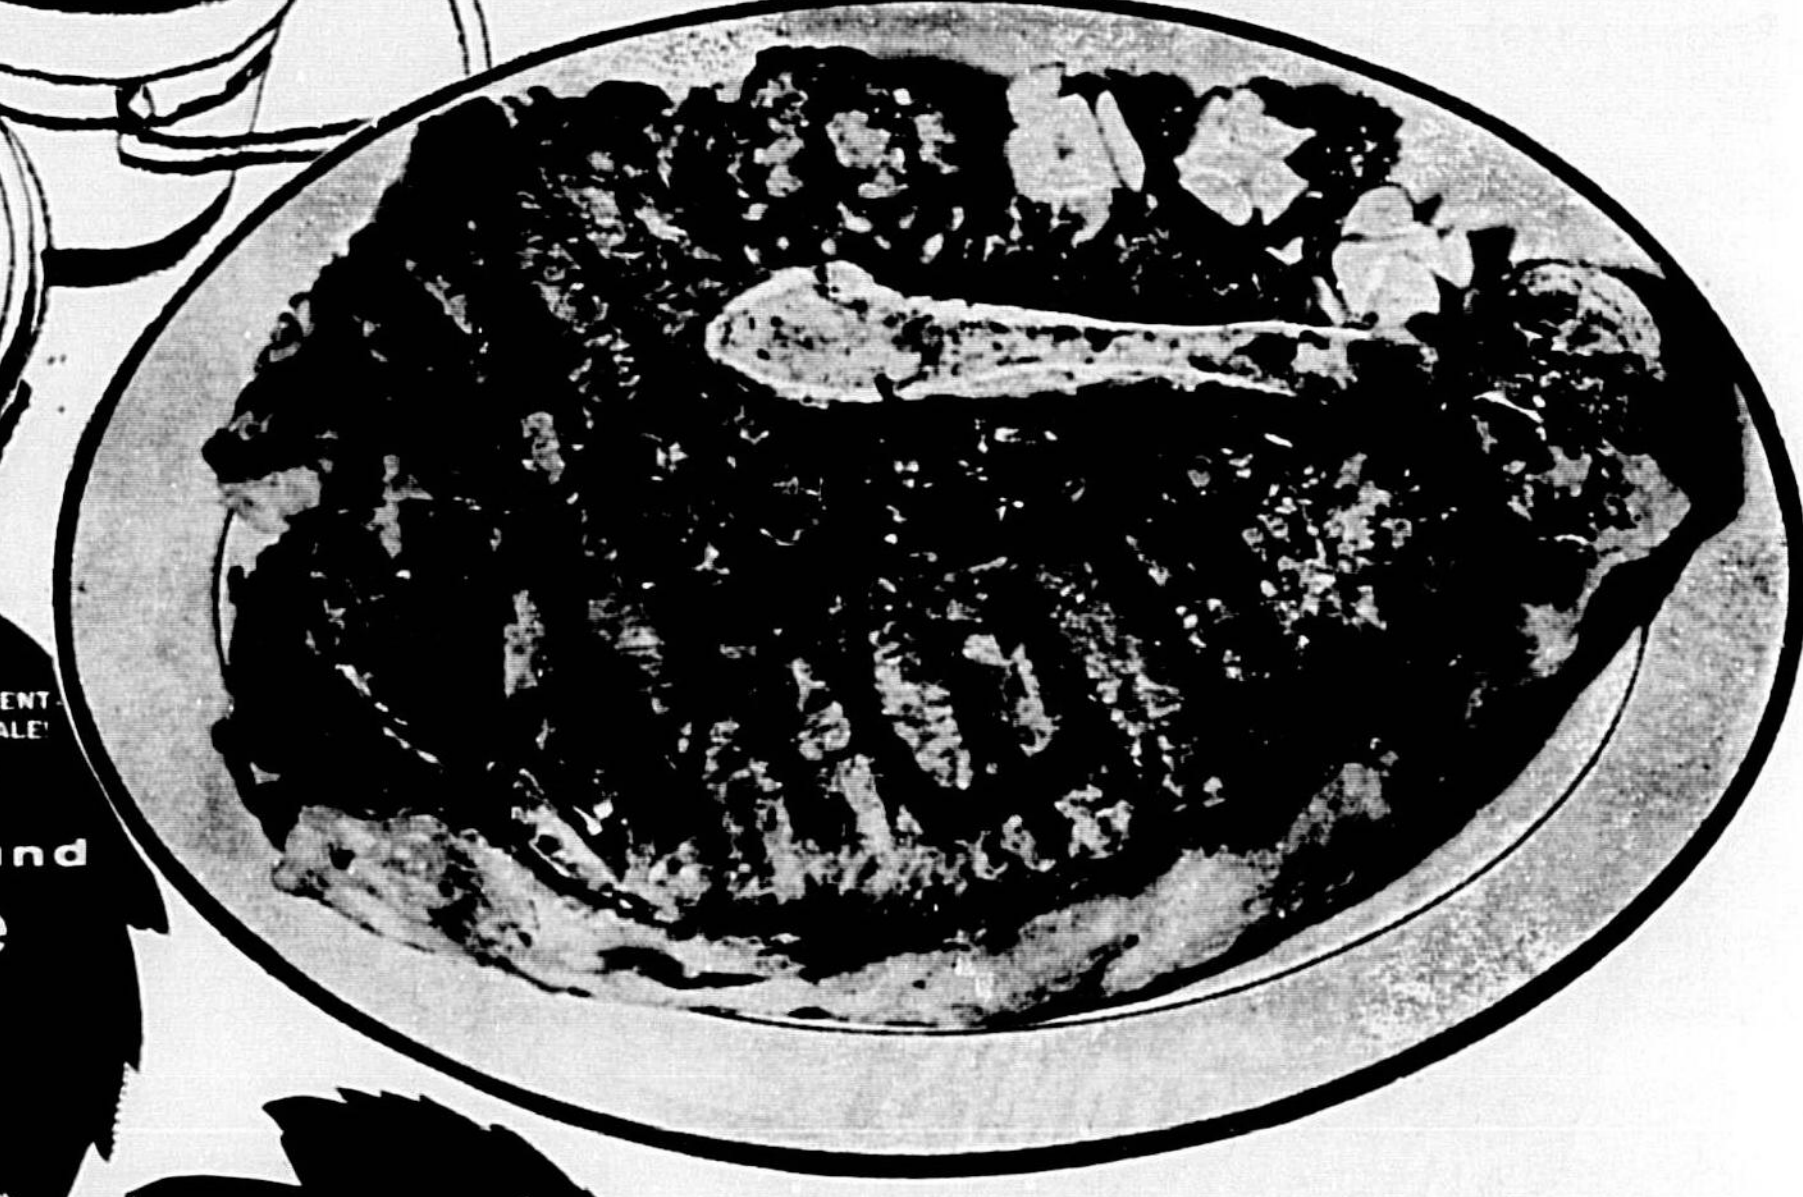

Soft

Camembert - creams with edible white crust, wedges or round. A similar but native American cheese is Liederkorn - mildly pungent. Much stronger is Limburger. Cremissimo is native.

Soft, Non-ripened

These cheeses are fresh - the fresher the better. Use promptly. Mozzarella - white, stretchy, the one for pizza. Cream - white, mild, delicately flavored. Neuchâtel - like cream cheese, but with less butterfat. Cottage or Pot cheese is almost entirely high in protein. Creamed cottage cheese has about 1% butterfat added.

Recipe For Shrimp Toast

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Dear Cecily: Some time ago I clipped a recipe of yours for Shrimp Toast, but I'm afraid I've lost it. Is it possible for you to send me that recipe or another one that's similar?—Recipe Fan.

Dear Recipe Fan: Here's a beautiful recipe for Shrimp Toast fashioned by a young Chinese-American named Lucy Wing. Lucy grew up in Superior, Ariz., and worked in her father's Chinese restaurant before studying home economics at the University of Arizona. So with this background it's not surprising that she has concocted a delicious and detailed recipe for Shrimp Toast. Good luck with it.—C. B.

LUCY WING'S SHRIMP TOAST
1 cup shrimp, peeled, deveined and minced (about 1 cup)
1/2 cup minced water chestnuts
1/2 cup minced scallions (green onions), including part of green tops
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
8 slices thinly sliced white bread, crust removed
1 pint corn oil

Mix together shrimp, water chestnuts, scallions, cornstarch, salt, ginger and egg.
Cut each bread slice into four squares, then cut each square diagonally into two triangles. Spread one teaspoon shrimp mixture on each triangle.
In heavy 1 1/2-quart saucepan, over medium heat, heat corn oil to 375 degrees. Pan will be one-third full.
With shrimp side down, lower six to eight triangles into oil. Fry until edges are brown—about 40 seconds. With slotted spoon turn and fry a few seconds longer. Drain well on absorbent paper.
Keep warm by placing on baking sheet in preheated 250-degree oven. Serve warm.

Make six dozen appetizers.

NOTE: Shrimp Toast may be fried ahead, cooled, wrapped in foil, frozen and then reheated, without thawing. To reheat, bake on cookie sheet in preheated 350-degree oven until thoroughly heated—about 10 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.

Pastitsio Right From Greece

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here is a really practical recipe for Pastitsio, that superb main dish from Greece.

We've been looking for just such a recipe for a long time because the dish, famed all over the world, is interesting and economical and delicious. Made with layers of pasta, meat sauce, cream sauce and Parmesan cheese, it's fork food—perfect to serve for a buffet supper.

Another great point about the dish is that it may be assembled several hours before you plan to use it. Then about an hour before serving time you bake it without any attention. In the oven.

Give word about the name. Although in cookbooks printed in English its name is often spelled Pastitsio, we use Pastitsio because the latter is closest to the Greek spelling.

When we served Pastitsio to guests we prepared it with anticuchos. With the main dish listed we offered nothing more than a tossed salad and French bread. Dessert was fresh fruit and two Greek cookies called Korvareles.

PASTITSIO
4 to 6 quart water
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons salt
1 pound (4 cups) elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup chopped onion
2 pounds ground beef chuck or round
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) tomato puree (1 1/2 cups)
1 can (8 ounces) tomato paste
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 large egg
Egg Sauce: see recipe below
1 1/2 cups freshly grated Parmesan cheese

Bring water to a boil. Add salt. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered and stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander; cool to lukewarm.

In a large skillet melt the butter and onion and cook gently, stirring occasionally until golden brown. Add beef; break up with a fork and cook until meat loses its red color. Stir in tomato puree, tomato paste, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper and cinnamon. Simmer, covered, for 30 minutes. Stir in bread crumbs.

In the large pot in which macaroni was cooked, beat the egg enough to combine yolk and white; add macaroni and onion. In a 3-quart oblong glass utility dish (13 1/4 by 8 1/4 by 1 1/4 inches) or similar unglazed orange half the macaroni and sprinkle with 1/4 cup Parmesan; add the meat mixture and sprinkle with 1/4 cup Parmesan; add remaining macaroni.

Slowly and carefully pour as much as you can of the egg sauce over the top; use a spatula to push macaroni away from sides of dish so you can pour remaining sauce at edges. Dish will look very full but egg sauce will puff up and get firm in the oven—it won't run over. Sprinkle with remaining cup Parmesan.

Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until bubbly but in center and top brown—30 to 40 minutes. If you want to assemble the Pastitsio two or three hours ahead of baking time, do so, cover with heat-resistant foil and let stand at room temperature. Bake as above. In either case let stand 10 minutes out of the oven before cutting into squares and removing with wide server.

Makes eight hearty servings.
EGG SAUCE: (For Pastitsio)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 cups milk
2 large eggs
In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in the 2 1/2 cups of milk, moderately low heat, stirring constantly; until thickened and boiling. Beat eggs slightly; add remaining 1/2 cup milk; beat to combine; stir into hot sauce. Over moderate heat cook and stir constantly until egg thickens—a minute or so; do not boil.
