

THE YEAR?

BY PETER SCHAAL

The "underdogs" had their day at the Big Show yesterday when three of the four National League clubs scored wins over their fortunate mates, doing so in the following order:

The last place Reds jumped on the Braves, pounded out 10 hits, and won a game, 10 to 6. Cuccinello and Schermer led the batting attack and the Reds, who have recently turned over a new manager, only Mickey Flinn was able to beat the hurling of Epps Risher. He got three hits in four innings.

The Braves humbled the league-leading Cards in their own back yard, coming out on top of a 13 to 6 win which saw Our Ben Campbell called to the mound to relieve Zachary in the ninth. The Braves pounded out 19 hits, with Rabbit Maranville leading all the hitters by getting four hits in four tries. Hafey and Berge hit homers. The Cards got 11 hits.

Harry French's great three-hit performance earned a 5 to 1 victory for the Pirates over the Cubs. It was the opening game of the series, and McGraw sent in his pitchers in an effort to keep the Cardinals. Paul Waner hit a home run with one on in the fifth.

Charley Root turned in a four-hit game against the Phillies. It was a shutout, the Cubs winning, 3 to 0. The Cubs produced only eight hits, but, hunched them in the seventh for their three runs. They also went back into a tie for second place with the Giants.

Rain postponed all but one game in the American League. The Senators unleashed a savage batting attack in the sixth inning, putting over six runs to give them a 9 to 4 decision over the Indians. It was the fifth straight win for the Senators. Manush and West led the winners' hitters, while Eddie Green, the coast league star, tried to lead his mates. Manush was a homer.

The leaders to date: Homers, Klein, Phillies, 14; triples, Worthing, Braves, Cronin, Senators, 5 each; doubles, Webb, Red Sox, 3; most runs, Klein, Phillies, 45; most hits, Cronin, Yankees, 71; runs batted in, Cronin, Senators, 53; stolen bases, Chapman, Yankees, 16; most strike outs, one game, Johnson, Yankees, 11; most bases on balls, one game, Morris, Red Sox, Frazier, White Sox, 10 each; most shutouts, Fitzsimmons, Giants, 1; most wins, Fitzsimmons, Giants, 1; most losses, Zachary, Braves, 3 each.

Harvey Hendrick of the Reds, who was within striking distance of first place in the batting race lost yesterday's game, lost a chance when he got only one hit in four trips. Today he is barely in second place, as Cochran is right on his heels. Rootger and Cuyler are tied for sixth place. The Big Six standing:

Efforts of the management of the Sanford Baseball Club to secure positions for four or five baseball players who, added to the local club, will strengthen it immediately, have met with a response by two local organizations. Last night the Sanford Elks Club, after a short discussion, during which Curt's Lindstrom, DeLand Elk declared that a baseball club is one of the best publicity getters that any small town could sponsor, appointed M. L. Tillis as a representative from the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis Clubs, and the Chamber of Commerce, in an effort to canvass the City for jobs. The Elks are also said to have come on record as being willing to hire one player as a sort of hours boy at the Club. The friendly attitude of the Elks, who are the first to actually step forward and show that when they talk "Civic-spirit" they also mean it, is certainly to be commended. The players and management appreciate their support.

The first business concern in Sanford which offered to assist the club by employing a ball player is the local branch of the Celco Company, under the direction of H. J. Clance. They have said that they would find room on their payroll for at least one player, and the management hopes to place Louis Toffaletti, the new hurler, on their payroll. The Celco Company, which has already co-operated with practically every civic enterprise by donating crabs after crabs of Celco, again offers to aid. Their support will not only aid the ball club and Sanford, but will result in an increased sale of Celco.

Handle's DeLand outfit stepped out of the league to play an exhibition game with the Palatka Pals yesterday, and were returned the losers, as Babe Leverette buried the Pals to a 3 to 0 win. Burkhardt, the left-hander who pitched against Sanford for three innings last Sunday, started is acceptable so long as it pays in the neighborhood of at least $18 each week. We can bring some good college players to this City, boys who are not averse to doing hard manual labor so long as they can get in condition for football in the Fall. If there are any farmers who contemplate clearing land, laying tile, erecting barns, need truck drivers or foremen, the management would like to hear from them. If there is any business house or manufacturing concern in Sanford that has room for one player in any capacity at all, let us hear from it now, so that we may strengthen the club of the second half for the season.

Central Florida League team and individual batting averages this afternoon find the St. Augustine entry furnishing all the fireworks. The Saints are leading the league in batting with an average of .318, while Bussey, their third sacker is leading the individual hitters with a .519 mark. Sanford has been unable to produce a regular .500 hitter outside of Manager Deutch. Here's how they stand, including last Sunday's game:

A gallant army of 125,546 NURSES (IN THE U.S.A.) help fight your battle in the cause of Health

What modern civilization owes the trained nurse can't be figured in dollars. Treating patients, preventing disease, she has earned one of the highest places in public and private esteem. We couldn't do without her—why not tell her so?

They have a way with them, too!

Not only do you trust them, but you like them. And it's the same with a good cigarette.

Smokers stick to CHESTERFIELD because they find them dependably milder. You can smoke as many as you like.

And CHESTERFIELD smokes more evenly.

Credit that to the ripe, mild tobacco and the pure imported cigarette paper.

Every CHESTERFIELD is made to smoke milder and to taste better.

Most men and women every day are finding this out!

UPPER GRAPEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Watson and their Jacksonville wife, Mrs. Watson, were in town Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Sparkman.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundquist, of St. Louis, spent the day with relatives in Day.

Small Magnerson and wife returned home Saturday for the summer from their work on the farm near Windermer.

Alfred Erickson's wife who has been recuperating at the home of her daughter, Margaret, in West Palm Beach this past month is expected home Saturday.

We are so glad to see Mrs. Velie Williams able to be about again after her long convalescence. She visited at the home of Mrs. Alfred Peterson, Mrs. Hilma Lundquist and at the Ballinger and Lundquist homes in Grapeville, especially calling on the shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace, old friends of Mrs. Mary Vaughn, were callers at her home recently.

Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Ballinger and Mrs. Whitcomb and a group of children gathered flowers and placed them on the graves of all we know on Decoration Day, May 30.

Rev. Albertson of DeLand and Miss Smith and her secretary, of Winter Park and Orlando visited on Sunday School to interest us in a Vacation Bible School. But our committee preferred to have Brother Clark arrange one for our school.

Children's Day will be observed on June 14.

We are pleased that a number of pupils were graduated from this section from the eighth grade. They are: Virginia Lundquist, Rebecca Porter, Claudia Kinard, Billie Vilhen, Clifford King, and Archie Ward.

Robert Morton has been running the Beck's filling station this past month with gasoline, cigars, soft drinks, bread, candies and quick luncheon for sale.

William Harroliosen, a son of Mrs. Whitecomb is here from Monticella, where he is employed by Dennis Arrenia.

A welter roast was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dixon who recently moved to Palatka, at Lake Mary the evening of the 29th. Some 25 were present.

Whitford Thurmond, the father of Paul Thurmond, of Georgia has been visiting for some time with the family.

Mrs. Vilhen recently had an afternoon with Mrs. Spendlove; Mrs. Borrell with Mrs. Nels Swanson and Mrs. English with Mrs. Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kroll and five children of near Barrow were here for the week and on the 21 bringing back her brother, Elmer Tynes. All the family took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Magnuson.

Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson and Dorothy and Harry Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. (Lyle) Swanson, Mrs. Adelle Swanson and Mrs. Archie Swanson, accompanied with Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson and Mrs. Ella Swanson Sunday at Rock Springs.

Miss Minnie West is home from Detroit, Va., where she has been taking a business course and music for a couple of years at Ingham College.

Mr. C. Smith returned from 10 days at Fortran City where he attended the state meetings and conferences of the W. D. A. church. Charles Corcoran and wife and four children of Miami were there for a few days enroute to Washington D. C., while Charles will go to New York for his father. They plan to return by Tennessee to visit the Wests. They called on Orperville friends.

Mrs. Ballinger has not been able to attend items for some time, as she is suffering from a cold in the eyes.

Mrs. Analey's children and Rev. Clark's grand children have the measles.

The Lutheran Circle met on the 2nd with Mrs. Elmer Lundquist. Only a few were able to be out. Mrs. Magnuson came from Windermer to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman and little son spent a couple of days with old friends in Jacksonville last week. His father, who went with them remained here.

One of our Dorcas meetings was held on May 28th, at the home of Mrs. Varva Spendlove. It was especially a feast of flowers and music. Beautiful clumps of gladioli in bloom, crested the eyes. Other flowers being used also. The gladioli came from the Wing garden in Lake Mary. We had as visitors, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Division of Sanford. Clark gave a violin solo. Mrs. Thompson played for the songs. In the absence of Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Dean was asked to take charge and was elected as vice-president. Mr. Spendlove led us in prayer, and Mrs. Vilhen gave out the work, the minutes were read by Mrs. Borrell. The hostess served lots of good cakes and coffee with cookies for the little folks. Those present were: Mrs. Borrell, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Vilhen, Mrs. Bolton, Miss Bolton, Mrs. Thompson of Lake Mary, Mrs. August Swanson, Mrs. Archie Swanson, Mrs. English, Mrs. Roy Coleman, Mrs. J. L. Dixon, Mrs. E. P. Lundquist, Mrs. Analey and Mrs. Ballinger. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Perkins Dean.

A DESSERT BY MISS

COCONUT DESSERT

Although in many of the islands the coconut is the place of the palm, it is the native in this country and is used principally for flavoring and decoration.

Its sweet, fragrant taste makes a pleasant change in our old favorite dishes. One recipe, for example, is worth a dozen with the addition of the coconut, which adds color and taste to the following: Coconut Custard is particularly "friendly" to many sweet fruits and to fruits such as lemons and pineapples.

In addition to its use in the old standby, coconut cake and coconut pie, it is a popular ingredient of puddings and gelatin desserts.

Coconut Bavarian Cream is made as follows:

Ingredients: one package lemon gelatin, in pint boiling water, 1 cup whipped cream, 1 1/2 eggs, coconut.

Directions: Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. When cool and slightly thickened, whip with egg beater until consistency of whipped cream. Fold in cream and coconut. Pour into mold; chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with chocolate sauce.

Another delicious dessert is Coconut Blinn Mandy:

Ingredients: one-half cup sugar, 1-2 cup cake flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, scalded, 1 cup coconut, 2 egg whites, lightly beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Combine flour, sugar and salt. Add milk gradually, place in double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add coconut and wet. Fold in egg whites and vanilla. Chill. Garnish with tart jelly. Serves six.

Political Main in As Parties

LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—A great British political crisis loomed nearer today with the threat of a split between Laborites and Liberals which may deprive the late of the House of Commons government in the next week's debate on the controversial land-tax bill.

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, in a speech in Edinburgh yesterday clearly set forth the critical nature of a situation that is increasingly threatening to the MacDonald government.

The bone of contention is the government's finance bill, compelling Philip Snowden's budget, with its provision two years hence for a tax of a penny a pound on the capital value of land. The proposal first was introduced in principle by Lloyd George and the majority of his Liberal leaders, but later they decided to move for an amendment under which certain sections of land-tax payers should have compensatory relief in the form of service tax reduction. This amendment will be debated in the House of Commons Tuesday.

Lloyd George made it clear he stands firmly by the "substance" of the amendment, and if he carries the bulk of Liberals with him, as now seems more than likely, the government will be defeated Tuesday night.

The feeling among political observers was that such a defeat would mean the dissolution of parliament and a general election. This would not entail the resignation of the government for resignation would imply Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald's advising King George to leader, to form an alternative government.

Advertising Seen As Means Of Reviving
Faith In Business

NEW YORK, June 12.—Newspaper advertising, which ranks as a shoulder of public opinion, is being used by business men as a means of reviving faith in business.

"In the present economic situation," says a leading newspaper editor, "advertising is being used to inspire the same confidence and constructive planning which will lead us back to a normal prosperity."

The present economic situation presents a unique opportunity to center public attention upon the fact that the business world is not only solvent, but is also being built up by the daily tasks of its workers.

Under the slogan "Good — they are to be good!" each advertisement in the series deals with a different class of industrial or professional worker. Among the interesting figures and figures presented are the following:

To operate the railroads of the country requires 1,218,800 men, a large proportion of whom are obliged to sacrifice many of the joys and comforts of home life.

The central telephone office operators of the country, 188,000 in number, handle 65,000,000 calls every 24 hours.

The 375,250 men and women in Uncle Sam's postoffices handle 76,530,000 pieces of mail matter every day.

At the top of the gang more than half a million firemen are ready to rescue life and property.

Based upon government census reports and other sources of information, the Liggett & Myers Company estimates the number of persons engaged in other occupations as follows:

- Police, 100,000; Druggists and pharmacists, 110,000; Steel and iron workers, 300,000; Stenographers and typists, 600,000; Nurses, 125,540; Physicians, 133,000; Licensed airplane pilots, 15,000; Telegraph operators, 79,000; Theatrical and motion picture actors and other employees, 242,000; Newspaper workers, 112,800; Attorneys-at-law, 79,450; Saleswomen in retail stores, 415,000.

Chinese Envoy To United States Has Resigned His Post

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—Unwilling to take a step that might imperil his home people of Canton in their growing strife with the National government, Chao-Chu Wu has resigned as China's envoy to the United States.

Look out of sympathy with the policies of the Nationalist regime, Chao-Chu Wu, the broad-shouldered statesman who was appointed to seek an export permit for munitions which he feared might be used against the Cantonese.

His resignation, effective June 10, is the latest in a series of resignations by Chinese officials and military leaders who are sympathetic to the Nationalist government.

Bodies Of Mexican Boys Slain In U.S.
Are On Way Home

LAREDO, Texas, June 12.—(AP)—Expressions of continued friendship for Americans were left behind by Salvador Cortes Rubio, cousin of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, as he traveled homeward last night on a train bearing the bodies of two fellow students, slain by a deputy sheriff at Ardmore, Okla.

To Americans officials who greeted him here, he was quoted as saying, "I am glad to see you but I am sorry it is under such circumstances. I am still the friend of Americans."

The bodies of Emilio Cortes Rubio and Manuel Garcia Gomez, the former also a cousin of the Mexican president, were given in respect to their countrymen after that respect had been paid by officials and citizens of the United States.

The train crossed the Rio Grande to Nuevo Laredo yesterday afternoon and is due to Mexico City about 2 A. M., Saturday.

Colonel Charles E. Clowe of Ardmore, representing Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma, and Mesina Murray, the governor's son, accompanied the funeral party across the international bridge, leaving the train there.

Governor Murray telegraphed Clowe not to continue on to Mexico City. The governor said it was assumed owing to the high standard of the dead youth the Mexican authorities would be the proper persons to conduct the funeral from the border to their respective cities.

The National Health Bill

In a healthful country like the United States where sanitation is generally practiced, where climatic conditions are usually good, where public health measures are generally observed, the high cost of ill health is nothing short of appalling.

Medical care in this country amounts to over three billion dollars a year, and that figure is not half enough. Thousands of sick patients are forced to go without, or with inadequate, attention because of impoverishment or the inability of doctors to see them.

Of all the vast sum now being spent, about one-third goes to the physicians themselves; $400,000,000 to dentists; $112,000,000 to nurses; $50,000,000 to optometrists and opticians; and about $80,000,000 to practitioners of other kinds. Medicines and other medical supplies amount to $700,000,000 annually; and hospital expenses cost $550,000,000.

These items seem like huge sums, and there may be some who wonder whether the national health is worth it. But as Dr. William T. Foster, director of the Pollak Foundation of Economic Research points out, the three billion dollar medical bill is an infinitesimally small part of our national income, and there is nothing which could be bought with the three billion dollars which would increase the net earning power of the country more than health itself.

There are two principal deductions which we gather from Dr. Foster's remarks. The first is that only a small part of those requiring medical attention receive it and that if all were cared for who need attention the total health cost would be considerably augmented. He reveals, for instance, that only thirty percent of our citizens requiring dental care actually get it.

And the second is that the national health bill could be materially reduced if people would seek proper care and attention early in a sickness rather than putting it off until they are about to die. It goes back to the old philosophy that a stitch in time saves nine. A cold cured today may save you a pneumonia bill next week. A tooth filled today may avoid an entire plate for you a few years hence.

Signs Of The Times

Business must be getting better. "You can drop a penny in a crowded street without causing a major panic", and that, says the New York Sun, proves it. There are a great many signs, upon the business horizon, of better times returning and although some of them may be more or less imaginary, they are interesting to contemplate.

- 1. People may not be saying, "Fill her up," at the pumping stations just yet, but they have ceased saying, "Oh, a gallon will be enough."
2. Restaurants report a renewal of spirited battles over the check, and some of them look sincere.
3. The women report a gradual improvement in the quality of bridge prizes. Nobody has won a Five and Ten Cent Store lampshade in weeks.
4. Penny ante poker games have declined 7.02 percent, in the last three months.
5. Many pedestrians now stop to look at models in the automobile showroom windows.
6. Venders are able to sell apples without a high polish.
7. Street cleaners report that cigar butts aren't nearly so short as during 1930.
8. Occasionally you see an automobile spare tire with a spare tire attached.
9. There has been a noticeable decline in the number of people shopping around before they buy razor blades.
10. The study of checks after the restaurant dinner is becoming much less intensive, and arguments with waiters over the charge for bread and butter have dropped three per cent, since January 1.
11. Railroad and steamship porters report that the baggage is getting better and that fewer suitcases are held together with rope.
12. You may have noticed that the hostess with the electric piano has a new roll at last.
13. More people are saying "Yes" unhesitatingly when the waitress asks, "Any Dessert?"
14. People are saying, "Won't you stay to dinner?" as if they really meant it.
15. It is now a little safer to leave the children's bank around the house.
16. A big service station has furnished an affidavit that an automobilist came in a few days ago and ordered the car overhauled without asking the price.
17. There are fewer roadsters on the road with the glass out of the headlights.
18. Brokerage office clerks have ceased wondering why they can't sleep during business hours.
19. Mother has ordered the milkman to leave cream again.

WHY NOT FIVE CENTS? TAMPA TRIBUNE

The Governor calls on the Legislature to quit politics and get down to business. Good advice. That "business," as the Governor summarizes it, is tax relief for real estate, taking care of the schools, and of the indebtedness of counties and districts, all of which, of course, must be done, if there is to be any real relief in lawmaking this year.

It should be borne in mind, all along, that the state ad valorem tax is the smallest item on the average tax bill. It is the county, district and municipal tax that hits the real estate and hits it hard. Any tax program which does not contemplate relief of real estate from these taxes is scarcely worthwhile, by comparison.

So, the Legislature and the Governor must endeavor to devise some plan for extending the relief to real estate from the state ad valorem to the county ad valorem—to remove necessity for these heavy local levies.

One measure proposed for giving this relief is to allocate three cents of the present gasoline tax to the counties on the basis of area, population and money spent for state road building, which, it is held, will permit decrease in county ad valorem taxes. The thought suggests itself, why stop with three cents or more of the gasoline tax for this

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT BY SAM LOVE

NEW YORK, June 12.—If you have something called "The Fireman's Bride in Three Acts and Seventeen Scenes" put away in the trunk, now is the time to get it out and send it to a Broadway manager. He will probably give it prayerful consideration, because the legitimate stage has just now passed through one of its worst seasons, during which approximately 40 per cent of the Broadway theatres were dark and dusty.

Forty per cent, is nearly one half, a situation which is causing consternation locally, and has given rise to the gag and there is now a broken light for every beam on Broadway. But the joke is pretty sour for the Chanins, the Shuberts and lesser capitalists whose money is tied up in the dark. The consensus of opinion lays the trouble to two sources—the business depression and a lack of suitable plays. Since the depression is blamed for everything, including the current investigation of Tammany judges, it may be safely assumed that the managers feel that they are not receiving enough plays.

Since they do feel that way, by hunch is to get "The Fireman's Bride" into the malls at once. I do not understand anything about the show business, which seems to me entirely crazy, but I do know something about managers. When one of them gets a fixed idea he talks about it until he has convinced his competitors and finally they all go off the deep end with the same millstone around their necks. They are of the opinion now that what the theatre needs is more manuscripts and they will sit and do their home work this summer over manuscripts that they wouldn't have touched with a ten foot pole one-sixth of it to use in maintaining roads or completing those now under construction. We can well afford under the conditions existing to cut out the luxury of new roads for two years at least. We have many roads now that are superfluous—used mostly as conveniences for the gophers to cross from one piece of woods to another. Why build more of them?

If we are to have tax relief for real estate, it must come from the reduction of county taxation upon it, not state taxation. And if we are to relieve county taxation, why not make the relief as far-reaching as possible? Instead of unnecessary new roads, give us reduced county millage. The state's financial trouble, of course, mainly due to the fact that the taxpayers are not paying. Last year, 38 percent paid, leaving 62 percent not paying. This year—and we have the figures direct from the Comptroller—45.1-2 percent have paid, leaving 54.1-2 percent not paying. And the tendency of tax relief so far at Tallahassee has been to put more taxes on the 45.1-2 percent who are paying in order to relieve the 54.1-2 percent who don't pay.

We have not heard anything from any high source recently about reducing expenses by combining or abolishing state departments and bureaus, cutting the number of state officeholders. Prospects of anything in this direction naturally are small when we are advised that 23 members of the House are holding other state office—on the payroll at least twice—which in itself is unconstitutional and, by the way, makes any act of the House of extremely doubtful legal validity. After all, one of the best ways to reduce taxes is to stop spending money we don't have to spend—and new road building is that kind of money.

never dark during the season. One of them was the Mansfield, where "Green Pastures" has held over from the preceding year. The other was the Belasco. When "Dancing Partner" went out, the Belasco opened on the succeeding night with "Tonight or Never," which is still there. "Tonight or Never" is not the best play ever written. Neither was "Dancing Partner." But people pay to see the current Belmont production with great regularity. Old David wore his collar

ALWAYS AGREE
PETITION I. C. C.
FOR RATE JUMP

Decision Voted Unanimously At Meeting Of Group Yesterday

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Incidents of eastern, southern and western railroads meeting yesterday voted unanimously to petition the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford; Henry A. Scandrett, president of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific; and W. R. Cole, president of the Louisville & Nashville, appointed a committee, representative of the eastern, southern and southern railroads respectively, to sign and present the petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is expected it will be filed next week.

After yesterday's meeting the following statement was issued: "At a meeting of executives of the eastern, western and southern railroads it was unanimously determined to apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 15 per cent increase in all freight rates and charges."

A committee consisting of the chairman of the three groups was authorized to prepare and file a joint application with the respective commissions. It is hoped that this can be done within a week.

The application will contain a full statement of the reasons for the action of the carriers. Meanwhile will be taken to afford the public adequate access to the statement and the application of the carriers.

The reference to "charges" in the statement is understood to include charges for switching and similar services performed at various terminal cities as distinguished from charges collected for hauling freight. That term does not refer to express rates but it is considered logical by some railroad men that an increase in "express rates" might be sought to equalize them with the anticipated higher freight rates.

The petition to the commissions, it is understood, will emphasize the present plight of the railroads and will ask for the increase to permit them to restore their credit and to improve their service. Expenses have been reduced to a minimum already and it is not possible to reduce them further and maintain efficient operations, the petition will say.

The 15 per cent increase will apply to all freight rates and charges except those enjoying differential. Such rates will be increased by the existing differentials will be preserved. For example, if the present rates on a shipment from one station to two destinations are respectively $1 and $1.15 a ton, the new rates to both destinations will be increased but one will remain 15 cents lower than the other.

Railroad officials consider this an important element in the present situation and they hope to have the higher rates in force as soon after Sept. 30 as possible. Consequently the petition will ask for a blanket increase of 15 per cent and will ask the state and Interstate Commerce Commission to act as expeditiously as possible and without suspension. Ordinarily a petition for a change in rates is presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission and a 90-day period of "suspension" passes before it becomes effective. The Commission has the authority to abrogate this practice if it is deemed necessary.

Vatican's Reply To Government Note
Is Being Prepared

ROME, June 12.—(AP)—The Vatican's reply to the Italian government's note was in preparation yesterday, as the Holy See reasserted its right to control over the Catholic Action Society.

Observatore Romano, the newspaper through which the Vatican makes public announcements, declared that powers of general supervision over Catholic Action remain with the Vatican and "the holy father in person."

This declaration apparently was made to quiet reports that, because of the opposition of the Italian governments, the Vatican had fundamentally changed its attitude in regard to the relationship between itself and Catholic Action.

The situation so far as the controversy between the Holy See and the government was this: In Italian opinion that an accord would be reached; at the Vatican a more grave view was expressed.

An incident yesterday, wholly within the church organization but bearing on the controversy, was reported to have caused the Pope considerable displeasure.

Bishop Luigi Corsico of Loreto, famous center of pilgrimages, apparently was a victim of mistaken interpretation of the Pope's recent order that Catholic Action was under the direction of the bishops. Believing this to mean that he had full charge of this work in his diocese, the bishop dissolved all Catholic associations—thus going farther than the government in regard to the organization.

When the Vatican's reply to the government's note will be delivered remained uncertain last night.

First time a President of the United States has spoken at the Lincoln tomb.

The presidential special will leave Washington Sunday night, but the President expects to get away from the capital Friday afternoon or Saturday morning for two days of rest at his Rapidan camp before his trip begins.

Present plans call for him to board the special train at Orange, Va., about 30 miles from the camp. He expects to return to Washington late Thursday afternoon.

On his other three trips to the Mid-West he spoke in Cleveland, Ohio, to the American Bankers Association and twice journeyed to Cincinnati, first to take part in the ceremonies opening the deep channel down the Ohio River and later to attend the funeral of Nicholas Longworth.

Machado Control Of Cuba Congress
Appears Tottering

HAVANA, June 12.—(AP)—The control over congress that has enabled President Machado to meet emergencies during the last three years appeared tottering last night.

Fourteen representatives in the house, holding the balance of power since last week's defection of conservatives from the 1928 tri-party coalition, can decide henceforth whether the president may, or may not, expect from congress the same support that has smoothed his way in the past.

The electoral code drawn up by Gen. Enoch Crowder, an American, prohibited combination of parties, but congress nullified that prohibition by "legislation" passed in 1928, permitting party combinations.

Liberals, who favored that law three years ago, are now anxious to see the restoration of the Crowder statute. With conservatives gone and popular wavering, liberal members in the house fear that a popular-conservative combine may work to their defeat. They also fear, it is said, that in the event the nationalists obtain recognition as a political party, they may draw to their support one or more of the other old parties.

Populists, it was learned, favor continuance of the coalition, but have threatened to go over to the opposition if liberals persist in their intent to restore the Crowder provision prohibiting it.

LINDY'S COURSE TO ORIENT STILL NOT DETERMINED

"Lone Eagle" May Fly
Over Atlantic Upon
His Flight To Japan

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh disclosed Thursday he might fly over one of three oceans—the Atlantic, the Pacific or the Arctic—in his aerial journey to the Orient.

After a day of conferences here with officials of several nations, the flying colonel said he and Mrs. Lindbergh now were considering four routes for the forthcoming trip—with the final decision to rest upon the practicability of establishing fuel bases.

One would lie to the east, in part over the Atlantic to Greenland, then far north to Spitzbergen and across barren Siberian lands to Japan.

Another would carry the celebrated couple north to the Hudson Bay, westward across sparsely inhabited Canadian territory to the northern coast of Alaska and then over part of the Arctic Ocean to Siberia.

A third possibility would be along the farflung chain of the Aleutian Islands stretching across the North Pacific—then over Siberia to Japan.

The final possibility lay across part of Alaska and over the comparatively narrow Bering Strait to Siberia.

Lindbergh said he was obtaining from all the countries concerned information as to the best spots for fuel bases. This probably will take several weeks, and no formal choice of a route can be made until this factor is settled.

He said that despite the extensive flights over land involved in all these routes, he intended to keep his Lockheed ship equipped with pontoons and that he had no thought of changing back to wheels.

The tall young flier talked of his plans to newspapermen following a luncheon in his honor at the Japanese embassy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh flew to the capital from New York early Thursday morning in a borrowed airplane and will return there today. Almost immediately after landing at Bolling Field they went to the Japanese embassy.

Later, Castle announced the Japanese government had notified him officially that the Lindberghs would be welcome to fly over Japan and land wherever they wished.

New President Of France Came Up From People

as a colonial governor, Doumer in Indo-China, Taft in the Philippines. Each was a lawyer, although Doumer practiced infrequently.

But between the American and the Frenchman there is one great difference. Taft's sense of humor is the theme of countless stories. There is no such string of pleasantries about Doumer.

The man who will be the thirtieth president of the third French republic earned his first franc as an engraver's apprentice. He won a degree of bachelor of science at night school and settled down as a teacher in a country high school. He married early, and is father of eight children.

From pedagogics he went to country journalism, from journalism to politics. Elected to parliament, he displayed too much strength to please his party superiors, and he was offered the post in Indo-China that he might be safely buried and forgotten.

He took the job—but not the oblivion. On his return to France he towered more than ever.

In 1908 he was president of the chamber of deputies and of sufficient stature to match himself against Armand Fallieres and the presidency of the nation.

Falling out of election, he dropped out of the public eye for years. In 1921 he started his comeback by taking the post of minister of finances in a Briand cabinet. He also had a portfolio in the Briand ministry four years later.

Doumer was elected president of France from the senate, where he was the presiding officer. Although the post is not on a par with the premiership so far as political power is concerned, its incumbent takes precedence at all ceremonial functions. It is looked upon as the crowning honor of the nation's political life.

In addition to his own record, Doumer had two claims to the presidency. It was according to a fairly well established precedent that the senate's president succeeded to the post. And there were his four sons, killed in the war.

Senator Albert Francois Lebrun was elected president of the senate yesterday to succeed P. Doumer.

Berlin Pinned As To Course Chancellor
Plans On Following

BERLIN, June 12.—(AP)—Chancellor Heinrich Brüning, Europe's youngest premier, left Berlin last evening for Neudeck, the East Prussia summer place of President Von Hindenburg, to make his report to the president on the Chequers conversations and the German political situation.

Meantime, Berlin buzzed with questions about the course the chancellor would follow. People wondered whether he would yield to the pressure of opposition parties and permit the Reichstag to be assembled or whether he would compromise with the opposition and change at least some of the new emergency tax decrees which have been the subject of bitter protests.

They wondered, also, whether he might sacrifice some of his colleagues in the cabinet to the opposition in order to save his own position.

The cabinet yesterday officially approved the contents of his conference at Chequers with Prime Arthur Henderson of Great Britain.

There also was some speculation as to whether he might advise President Von Hindenburg to dissolve the Reichstag.

But among his friends, the conviction prevailed that, as on previous occasions, the chancellor would refuse to be stampeded. He is feeling his ground deliberately, and determinedly they said, and making up his mind.

Plot Against Peru
Junta Is Put Down,
Says Government

LIMA, Peru, June 12.—(AP)—The provisional government of President David Samanes Ocampo, which was sworn in three months ago after a series of revolutions in Peru, announced yesterday it had put down a plot to overthrow the junta.

Reestablishment of a state of siege throughout the country was decreed.

A government bulletin announced the arrest of 22 conspirators in a garage in Callao and 23 of their colleagues in Lima. The statement added that junta authorities were acquainted with the revolutionary plans and had the situation under control.

From other sources, it was learned that these arrested in the capital were secret service men during the regime of President Augusto de Leguia, whose administration was overthrown last August.

It was added that those convicted of rebellion or sedition would be prosecuted summarily and would be liable to execution.
