IRENE CASTLE STRATS DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HER HUSBAND

PARIS, July 5.—Irene Castle, the American dancer, has commenced divorce proceedings here against Capt. Robert E. Tremain, whom she married after the death of her first husband, Vernon Castle.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Irene Castle, who has filed suit for divorce in Paris, has been one of the most dazzling figures along the Great White Way. Besides creating many new dance steps, she has been credited with introducing the "fad" of bobbed hair. Her clothes and footwear, at one time verging on the Russian, have attracted close study by those satirically inclined.

Robert Ellis Termain, to whom she is married, is the son of Albert H. Tremain, Ithaca, N. Y., socially and financially prominent.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATED AT LAKE MONROE IN BIG FASHION BY THE SEMINOLE ATHLETIC CLUB

Between Two and Three Thousand People Were in Attendance

Independence Day, July 4th, the 147th birthday anniversary of the nation was most fittingly celebrated by the Seminole County Athletic Club at the Lake Monroe school grounds yesterday. Between two and three thousand people were present throughout the day to witness the ball game in the morning in which the Seminole Athletic Club beat Altoona 4 to 5 after a hard fought game. At noon the crowd all flocked to the eat stand where Charles Bell and a staff of able assistants dished out over a thousand pounds of real barbecue meat with all the trimmings of assorted pickles, bread, etc.

Ben Laka and assistants kept the coffee pot boiling, all free, the barbecue lunch and sports. The soft drinks and ice cream were soon exhausted and then replenished for afternoon under the direction of Gus Schmah and lady assistants.

The tags in charge of Belle Check, Mabel Wilkerson and Nino Gordon received a liberal response.

The immense crowd that attended has proven to the officers of the Seminole Athletic Club that Seminole county wants a club and on Monday night, July 9th, all members are requested to be present and all the interested public are invited to attend the meeting at the Monroe school house at which time the subject of the club house and grounds will be taken up and plans for a repeater of yesterday's festivities, but on much

MANY DEATHS AND INJURIES OVER FOURTH

Children Injured By the Same Old Firecrackers As of Yore

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 5.—A score of deaths and more than one hundred injuries resulted from fireworks explosions and other accidents incidental to the nation's observance of Independence Day yesterday, according to reports from various sections of the country. Although efforts to prevent the usual casualties were practically universal fatalities occurred in all principal cities of the country, most of those killed were children. Six deaths were recorded in Pittsburgh, two as a result of firecrackers and four the result of automobile accidents.

BAPTISTS GAVE MINISTER NEW FORD SEDAN LAST NIGHT

Dr. King of the Baptist church was presented with a new Ford Sedan last night. The Pipe Organ Club through Mrs. Scott presented the car to the church and in turn it was presented to Dr. King by Hon. Jno. D. Jenkins. The pastor was overwhelmed by this fine gift and something that he has needed to make his pastoral visits and told the donors "in a few words of thanks." At the close of the prayer meeting all the folks gathered at the curb where the new car was parked and Dr. King will now try to break the speed limits as soon as he gets accustomed to the post of engineer for the new craft.

The car was purchased through the Florida local agent through the Pipe Organ Club had no difficulty in raising the money along with the rest of the big things they are doing for the church every year.

BANK OF ENGLAND RAISES RATE TO FOUR FROM THREE PER CENT LEVEL WHICH PREVAILED FOR YEARS

Chief Reason is to Bring Present Rate in Line With U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, July 5.—The Bank of England raised its rates to four per cent from the three per cent level which had prevailed for years. The chief reason for the present increase is to bring the present rate more in line with the United States where money for some time has ruled only one and one-half per cent above London's. This has induced American traders to borrow funds in Lombard street assisting in depression of American exchange which is down to 455.

THE KIWANIANS AND ROTARY CLUBS WILL CROSS BATS TUESDAY NEXT AT THE NINTH STREET PARK AT 5 P. M.

Sure to Be a Fast Game—Batteries Selected and Everything Ready for Big Game

President Shaton called the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club to order and Rev. Brownlee invoked the Divine blessing on the business deliberations of the body.

Ed. Lane announced that the Rotary Club had accepted the challenge of the Kiwanians for a base ball game at the Ninth Street Park at 5 o'clock next Tuesday evening. Batteries for both teams have been tentatively selected, and the Rotarians will pin their faith to Sid Chase as pitcher and Harry Stevens as catcher, while the Kiwanians will be satisfied with Pincus Connelly and Grandpa Dumas as their battery. All these gentlemen are practicing every spare moment of their time—how to pose and play to the grand stand. They are all experienced crap shooters and there is no doubt that with a little practice they will be ready for the game of their lives.

Lake announced that Dumas made a great talk at last Sunday's Scrap Iron class and announced that DeCotter would be the speaker next Sunday, with Raffald to talk Sunday, July 15.

Mrs. Wm. Scott, who attended the International Rotary meeting at Atlanta, proved that ladies can keep secrets when she positively refused to tell how Brownlee spent his time at the meeting or even tell anything on the rest of the delegates.

Miss Mable Bowler, a popular little lady who has a most charming voice, entertained with several vocal selections, that were received with hearty applause. McCaslin accompanied her at the piano.

After reading the following letter from the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to meet with that body as suggested during the months of July and August:

"Mr. S. M. Lloyd,
Secretary Kiwanis Club
Sanford, Fla.

"Dear Sir:
"A suggestion was made at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce that it might prove an excellent idea to hold a joint meeting once a month, of the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, and the Chamber of Commerce. The idea being to foster a co-ordination of the

"The trouble is a great many people think religion must lay off in summer time." This was the closing sentence, Mr. Roder, of an interview with Mr. R. W. Pearman, Jr., secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday afternoon.

When I entered the office of the Chamber of Commerce, I found the general secretary seated by a table in the rear of the room very busily engaged in work. "Mr. Pearman," I said, "can you give me a few minutes? I am very busy and I see that you are but I want to ask you a few questions." As is always true Mr. Pearman was ready to discuss a matter of concern to Sanford and Seminole county.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP SUBJECT HARDING PORTLAND SPEECH

"WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE DAY IN AMERICAN WHEN THERE ARE NONE TO DEFLY LAW."

(By The Associated Press)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 5.—President Harding, speaking to an independence day gathering here yesterday, declared the nation should demand that "Every man wearing the must be an American in his heart and soul."

"I would like to acclaim the day," said the President, "when there is no room in America, anywhere, for those who defy the law and those who seek our hospitality for the purpose of destroying our institutions should be deported or held securely behind prison walls."

"This land of ours has nothing to fear from those who attack from outside our borders," he continued, "but we must guard very zealously against those who work within our borders to destroy the very institutions which have given them hospitality. A republic worth living in its worth living for, and a republic worth defending is worth our patriotic vigilance."

In beginning his address, Mr. Harding referred to the two schools of politics in conflict from the beginning of the republic, one the nationalist group and the other the state sovereignty proponents. He pointed out that the conflict had to be settled by bloodshed, which left the deep wounds always incident to war.

"A half dozen presidents came and went before the healing was completed," he continued.

"It remained for the gently tactful and sympathetic McKinley fully to understand the south and led the south to understand him. A new consecration of the whole people to a national defense helped him mightily. Sons of the south joined the sons of the north and west in a war of conscience against oppression at our very door; the most striking instance of unselfish warfare in all humanity. Out of it came new freedom and a new republic now concerned at home and new faith in our America. I have said it before, and I chose to repeat it now:

"If in the wreaths of immortality, there is a separate bloom for every noble achievement then the Angel of the South will have placed on William McKinley's grave the sweetest garland that may bloom there."

WITNESS SAYS TABERT DIED FROM WHIP

A Former Storekeeper Says Doctor Told Him So

(By The Associated Press)
LAKE CITY, July 5.—J. E. Johnson, former commissary keeper for the Putnam Lumber Company, and brother-in-law of Dr. T. Capers Jones former camp physician for same company, testified in the trial of Thomas Higginbotham for murder of Martin Tabert, that Jones told him "Higginbotham beat Tabert to death." Jones told me, "related the witness, "that he was called to attend a convict but called too late as he had been beaten to death." Johnson was the first witness called by the state in rebuttal. On cross examination Johnson admitted he had been discharged by the company for alleged theft of company funds, the charge being preferred against him by Jones. He added that the company, despite his efforts, had not named amount alleged to have taken.

As a matter of fact you are testifying here to get revenge on Jones," asked defense counsel. "No sir," replied the witness. "I have nothing against Jones in a personal way."

Balloonists Injured When Forced to Jump From Their Balloon

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—Roy Donaldson and P. A. Erlach, of Springfield, Ill., were slightly injured this morning when they were forced to jump from their balloon eight miles northeast of Bryan, Ohio. The balloon, City of Springfield, which was one of the entries in the national races starting here yesterday escaped. Donaldson telegraphed the Associated Press he could not rip panel out of the balloon to make safe landing and he and his aide determined to jump as basket touched the ground.

CITRUS PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT EXCEPT ON SOME LOWLANDS, BUT OUTLOOK IS POOR FOR STAPLES

Local Damage From Too Much Rain Reported in Sections

(By The Associated Press)
GAINESVILLE, July 5.—Citrus prospects continue excellent except locally on lowlands, but the outlook is very poor for staple crops, especially cotton, according to the semi-monthly crop notes for Florida, just issued by the local bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture. Hay crops are good and pasture is excellent, however, the report indicates.

The condition of citrus trees is generally excellent with a good setting of fruit and sufficient late bloom to insure a heavy crop, the report says, and continues:

"Local damage from too much rain is reported in a few low sections and an occasional grove in the highlands is showing a light crop. Grapefruit prospects are not quite so good as for oranges an date bloom is being depended on for a crop next season in a small percentage of the groves. Growers are busy dusting and spraying as the weather moderates.

"Dry weather is needed and the staple crops outlook is very poor except for hay and the cover crops. The average condition of corn is very poor altho local areas report good prospects, especially from early plantings. The cotton crop has had more rain than it needs by a whole lot and is not promising much. Grass is generally good and the plant is rusting badly on the lowlands. Weevils are numerous and it is raining too much to check them by dusting and spraying."

And Will Probably Be Last Big Fight to Pay Principals Big Sums of Money

(By The Associated Press)
SHELBY, Mont., July 5.—Its frenzy of excitement subsiding Shelby sat down today to count losses. On the debit side of the ledger this little Montana cow town which had its day yesterday as fight center of the world must write down a deficit of approximately one hundred thousand dollars. It bought world's heavyweight battle to which seven thousand two hundred and two paid admissions. There was an outlay of two hundred and ten thousand dollars for title holders, twenty thousand for promotion and eighty-five thousand for arena. With exception of salvage on the huge arena estimated to be about $25,000 approximately two hundred and one thousand four and eighty-five dollars in gate receipts from which federal taxes were over two hundred thousand dollars, must be deducted, the entire investment was a dead loss.

State is Richer Over Two Million Old Gasoline Tax

Legislative Act of 1921 Was Not So Slow on Money Getting.

TALLAHASSEE, July 5.—The state is richer today to the extent of $2,241,000 than at the beginning of the calendar year, by reason of receipts from automobile license sales totalling $1,810,000, and the gasoline tax of one cent a gallon which aggregated $431,000 during the half year ending June 30. The figures for gasoline taxes are based on the legislative act of 1921 making the tax one cent a gallon. Beginning with the first of July the tax was increased to three cents under act of the last session of the law-makers.

Starling Secures Agency for Non-Acid Fertilizer

Have Proven Value on Citrus Groves and Vegetable Farms

On a recent visit of the sales manager for the Non-Acid Fertilizer & Chemical Company, of Lakeland, Fla., a contract was closed with B. J. Starling, of Sanford, whereby Mr. Starling secured the exclusive agency for the sale of Non-Acid Fertilizer in the Sanford territory.

It was stated by Mr. Starling that they would maintain a warehouse in Sanford and carry a sufficient stock of fertilizers on hand at all times to accommodate the needs of their customers.

The Non-Acid Fertilizer & Chemical Co., of Lakeland, began the manufacture of fertilizers in November, 1922, using a source of phosphorus without the use of sulphuric acid, known as Potassium Phosphate. The fertilizers manufactured by this company have proven such a success to the farmers that the company is arranging to double their capacity and their plant at Lakeland, is now running night and day; it was stated by Mr. Deen that the company was receiving most glowing reports from the results obtained by farmers who used Non-Acid Fertilizers for their crops the past season and that the company would not be in position to supply the fast growing demand for their goods until they had enlarged their plant, thereby increasing the production of Potassium Phosphate.

The fertilizers manufactured by this company have proven their value on Citrus Trees and the citrus growers who have used it for the fertilization of their trees are beginning to shout its praises—also state that some of the best truck crops raised in the state were raised with Non-Acid Fertilizer the past season.

It was stated by Mr. Starling that he had already sold a considerable tonnage of these fertilizers to be used in his territory this year and that owing to the great demand for this fertilizer it would be necessary for those who wanted it to place their order early, thereby giving the company the longest time possible to fill their requirements.

The company is managed by some of Florida's leading business men whose successful experience in the phosphate industry cannot be questioned.

It is claimed that fertilizers manufactured with Potassium Phosphate can be used without danger to crops for the reason it contains no free or injurious acids and has a tendency to sweeten the soil.

When you use Non-Acid Fertilizers you give your crops a balanced food that will give you a healthy plant that will produce a perfect vegetable or fruit.

Col. J. H. Humphries operates a mixing plant at Bradentown, and has the exclusive right to mix non-acid fertilizer for Manatee county and his demand for Non-Acid goods has grown so rapidly that his company has found it necessary to increase its capital in order to handle the increased business. The increase in capital was authorized at a meeting of his stockholders on Wednesday of last week.

Mixing plants are being installed in other parts of the state and it is reported that they have already booked orders to their full capacity.

This new industry of Florida is growing fast and beyond a doubt will be one of Florida's leading industries.

The Non-Acid Fertilizer & Chemical Company, of Lakeland, owns the exclusive right to manufacture Potassium Phosphate in the state of Florida and it is claimed by its officers that this new process for treating phosphate rock will, in a large way, revolutionize the fertilizer business within the next few years.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE AGAINST J. G. CROSLAND

TALLAHASSEE, July 3.—Two mortgage foreclosure cases against J. G. Crosland of Miami, brought by the executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Brickell, Miami's wealthiest woman, have been decided by the supreme court in favor of the latter. Orders to foreclose the mortgages against Crosland were granted by the circuit court for Dade county and Crosland appealed to the supreme court. That tribunal in an opinion by Judge Whitfield sustained the order of the lower court.

Executors of the estate, Maude E. Brickell, Frank Clark and William B. Brickell were represented by Frank Clark and John S. Murrell of Miami, while Crosland was represented by R. B. Gautier of Miami.

And another "Glorious Fourth" is over.

Lake Monroe covered herself with glory yesterday being one of the few spots in Seminole that celebrated the Fourth.

Just why people want to go somewhere on the Fourth is beyond comprehension but knowing that they do want to go Sanford should give them some place next year where they could enjoy the day.

A Fourth of July celebration means a lot of work for a few good folks who believe in devoting their time and attention to their city but it means a lot of money for the hotels and restaurants and cold drink stands and if they would come across with the bulk of the money for the celebrations a big time could be had here. We have had in them in the past and could have them in the future.

The whipping boss stated on the stand that Tabert worked better the day after he was half killed by a whipping than he did at any other time while he was in the convict camp. The poor devil thought he had better do his best and try and save his life. To say that such a whipping would make a man work better is something like the father telling the boy that he hates to whip him more than the boy hates to receive it.

Two big stiffs stood up and punched at each other yesterday at Shelby for a few minutes and then one of them pulled down more money than the president of the United States will make in a year. Prize fights are fakes—pure and simple these days and the public will wake up to this fact sooner or later and refuse to buy tickets at the exorbitant sums charged. The fight at Shelby yesterday demonstrated that the great American public is tired of being flimflamed by a bunch of bologneys masquerading as fighters to the tune of a half a million dollars for a few minutes work.

MISTRESS OF THE SEAS.

The mistress of the seas, the Lovin' than, having made a greater speed test than any before recorded by any merchant ship, is as she now stands the product not only of an American shipyard but of a Southern shipyard. Upon the rebuilding of this ship, including the installation of oilburning engines, the Newport News Shipyard spent largely over $3,000,000. That yard has given to the nation what in effect is a new ship, an exponent of the shipbuilding abilities of this country. It is appropriate that after her trial trip she should start on a maiden voyage, carrying the world's flag for speed, on July 4th. She will be an exponent of American power, American construction, and American determination to build up a merchant marine which will place this country in the first rank of the world.

We do not wish Great Britain any harm. On the contrary, we wish her every possible success in the expansion of her commerce and of her merchant fleet. But the United States has now entered the field of shipping under its own flag, and all the powers on earth combined can not make us turn back our hand from the task to which we have dedicated ourselves.

The American flag will fly over the best ships on earth, and in every port of the Seven Seas of the world. The rebuilt Leviathan with its wonderful speed record is only suggestive of how the nation will be quickened into an appreciation of the need of a merchant marine, and will be willing to spend whatever money may be necessary in order that its flag may float over its own ships and carry its own commerce to and from all parts of the world. All hail to this flag! All hail to the coming power of the American Merchant Marine, backed by the united sentiment of a hundred million people who realize that commerce ever has, and ever will follow the flag!—Manufacturers' Record.

WHY DODGE THIS ISSUE?

The new income tax figures tell a plain story, with a plain lesson. In one year, the number of Americans paying taxes of incomes above $100,000 decreased from 3,600 to 2,300. That is a loss of 1,300.

The governments of the United States are practically inviting people to evade their taxes by seeking relief through investment in tax-free securities.

The governments, local and national, law before the man of large income a great mass of their securities, every few days, and say to him:

If you will hand over some of your money in exchange for these securities, we will see that you pay no taxes on the income that you draw from the loan.

Many taxpayers accept this invitation and thus evade, or dodge, taxes, thereby unloading a fierce tax burden on the rest of us.

So long as the governments impose taxes, and at the same time offer a ready way out, the present abuse will go on.

Pallicians who rage against rich tax dodgers, and then vote for tax-free securities, are merely beating the air, and they know it.

OUR MEATS SHOULD BE INSPECTED.

Does anyone know from whence the meats come to Sanford and how the meat is killed, the sanitary conditions of the same and whether it is inspected or not? Does anyone care whether it is good meat or bad meat and whether it is killed under the proper conditions or not?

The following condition in Lakeland and other cities is something that should awake the authorities to the danger in the summer time from many causes the least of which are the meat and the milk. The Lakeland Star-Telegram says:

"Lakeland needs a municipal slaughter pen or a place where meat coming into the city can be properly passed upon. If every individual who eats meat, if they will take the trouble, will make a visit to some of the slaughter pens in and around this city, they would swear off eating it for the rest of their natural days. You can't blame the butcher because he is not required to do different; he kills his meat in the cheapest way possible and at that any old kind of meat that happens to take his eye. There are exceptions to a certain extent, but by either not enforcing the meat inspection ordinance, which now exists or is not protecting the citizens of this community against disease which comes from poor meat, from infected meat and meat that is not properly cooled; from slaughter pens that are not screened; pens that are in a filthy condition continually and pens that do not have a semblance of running water in them, every person who buys meat of this character is taking a long chance.

"Such carelessness is also causing people to demand only western meat and that should not be the case if Florida grown meat is properly butchered. There is just as good meat in Florida now as there is on any western hoof, but did you know that because of the fence laws, and other reasons, that the cattle owners are getting rid of their cows and heifers and the steers which are the best meat are being held for higher prices or for something else? Did you know also that meat is brought into the Lakeland markets full of fever and disease and a number of the men who deal in this line say that only last week nine hogs that were sick with the cholera were butchered and sold on the Lakeland markets? One well known cattle man stated to the writer yesterday that he would buy any man a fine car if that man would go to a single slaughter pen and find it screened in or very few of them (his included) that have any sanitary restrictions about them whatever. If this be true, then the situation is dangerous and it is imperative that immediate action be taken. All one needs to do in order to be the judge is to make a visit to some of these butcher pens and see the process; how there is no protection from flies or any other germs; how the filth fairly covers every crevice and how in most places after the meat is butchered, it is loaded onto a wagon, covered with fertilizer sacks and some not covered at all, hauled through the hot sun to market before it has even had time to properly cool, and there be sold to people of Lakeland and this community.

"Now then comes the remedy. That remedy is something which will protect the buying public as well as the selling public. We are getting things down to a point where other lines such as milk, etc., must be inspected, which is a fine thing, and there is no reason why the meat that we eat should not be inspected properly and, if necessary, the city should erect a municipal slaughter pen, make regulations covering all meat that comes into Lakeland and see that we get meat that is given the proper stamp of approval. It will be one of the finest things that could happen and we do not believe that a single man who butchers or sells meat will object to such a plan being devised and offered the people of Lakeland for their protection. The men who have meat to sell are just like everyone else; they realize that the unsanitary condition exists but as long as every other man in the same business does not take the proper precaution and go to the expense of protecting the public, they, too, can not be blamed for merely getting along as best they can and following the lines of least resistance. The men who sell meat are not those who would intentionally violate laws and you will find, too, that they are just as anxious for an inspection law that will apply alike to everyone, just the same as every person who buys meat."

KIDS

OVER TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE SHOULD BE IN SUNDAY SCHOOL IN SANFORD EVERY SUNDAY

But I was anxious to get to the bottom of the Sunday school situation, so I called by phone a man who has the reputation of knowing much about the Sunday school condition in the city, and presently in another office some distance away John D. Jenkins was comfortably seated ready to discuss the matter.

When Mr. Jenkins entered the office, I said, "This is a rather late hour for a man to be called but the matter which I want to discuss with you is of supreme importance in the life of Sanford and the community. How many people of Sanford were not in Sunday school last Sunday? What is your estimate, Mr. Jenkins?" I asked. "I would be unwilling to make an estimate without first making a calculation," replied the tax collector. Then I said, "I have just had an interview with Mr. R. D. Pear-man, Jr., and, according to his estimate, there are 5,145 white people in Sanford. Let's say that there 1,000 white people less than the secretary estimates. Now give me your estimate of the number of babies under one year of age in the city." The question seemed too much for the man who presides over the tax collector's office. "Every once in a while I hear that a new one has arrived but I don't know the number."

"Dr. Marshall estimates that there 175 white babies. Let's accept his estimate," Mr. Jenkins. How many are prevented from attending Sunday school for occupational reasons?"

Cradled on 180 Inches of Special-Alloy Springs

NINETY inches—7½ feet—of springs on each side the Jewett Six Spring length equal to eighty per cent of its wheelbase. See how many cars of comparable size you can find as liberally sprung as Jewett! Every spring is built to finest Paige standards of special steels.

Leaves are wide and flat, stoutly shackled, and have well-oiled bushings. They absorb the shock and jolt of roughest roads in a way that makes folks wonder at Jewett's big-car riding comfort. The rear springs are semi-elliptic—slung under the axle to give both car and occupants a low, easy, cradling motion; Jewett spring suspension, in a word, is what you'd expect Paige to build! And Jewett Six is a better car than you expect $1065 to buy.

The tax collector took time to do some more calculating, and then replied, "Well counting the railway, the milk people, the drug store men and so on there might be 250."

Sunday and there were 2,600 white people in Sanford last Sunday morning not in any Sunday school. "Now, Mr. Jenkins, if these 2,600 could be brought into the Sunday schools of this city, what would be the influence upon the life of the city?" I asked. Then followed silence. The tax collector leaned back in his chair, closed his eyes, and addressed himself to the serious business of thinking. Finally there came this reply, "Of all the things that I can think of that happen to this city that would be the best."

"Do you think that the building of the streets will greatly improve the city?" I asked. "Most surely" was the answer. "Do you think that the bringing of these 2,600 people into our Sunday schools would do more for the city than the building of the streets?" Quick was the answer, "Yes, I do. Because character is a greater foundation than hard roads." And the business man left the office, and I went away—to think. Two thousand six hundred more people in our Sunday schools—the greatest thing which could happen for the city!

Control Egg's Size
By Hatching Choice

Shape and Color Determined Too by Egg from Which Hen is First Raised

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director, The School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

At times there is considerable discussion as to improving the size, shape and color of hens' eggs, but very few poultrymen make any effort in this direction.

The time to try is when the eggs are being selected for hatching. Improvement may not be so pronounced the first year, as marked results can not come from a single selection. To be successful on a considerable scale the selection must be continued year after year.

Eggs for incubation should come from a variety of hen that has health and vitality to a marked degree. The best results are obtained from eggs selected during the hen's second or third year of laying.

In selecting eggs it should be remembered that the size of offspring is influenced more by the female than by the male. That is, small hens usually lay small eggs that produce small fowl and large eggs usually come from large fowls and normally produce large offspring. Of course exceptions can be found.

The shape is a matter of importance—eggs should be chosen that are of regular shape and of good average size rather than too large or too small for their kind. Freaks should always be avoided.

Color is an essential characteristic of eggs. Especial care should be given to seeing that the color is both uniform and clear and that the shell has a good, smooth finish. When it is desired to produce pullets that lay eggs with brown shells eggs should be selected for incubation that have a shade of the color preferred, and this shade should be uniform throughout the shell. Pullets that are hatched from eggs whose shells are not uniform in color are apt to lay eggs with shells uneven in color.

Uniform Color

The appearance of white shelled eggs is materially improved by a careful selection of only pure white shelled eggs for incubation. Frequent examples of uneven color in eggs are found in flocks of Leghorns. Some members of a flock will lay eggs of pure white shells, while others of the same flocks will produce eggs that have a cream or straw tint. Any of these tints may be thoroughly established within a few years if eggs that have only the desired tint are used for hatching. The production of pure white shelled eggs can be established only by carefully selecting eggs at hatching time.

The finish of the egg shell also has an important bearing upon its marketing. Eggs that are imperfect in shape or have a rough surface will not produce good results in future generations and should be discarded.

When several birds or varieties of fowls are mixed in a flock the result is usually eggs of an uneven color. When white shelled producers are placed with those laying brown shelled eggs the eggs usually have a variable color and unattractive appearance. Care should be taken in introducing males into a flock because the uniform color of the eggs produced by a flock that has been carefully selected may be materially changed within two generations.

QUEEN OF THE SEAS SAILS ON MAIDEN TRIP

Leviathan Commences First Trans-Atlantic Pleasure Voyage on Uncle Sam's Birthday.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The reconditioned Leviathan, queen of the American merchant marine, sailed on Uncle Sam's birthday on her first trans-Atlantic pleasure voyage under the Stars and Stripes.

Thousands massed on the waterfront to bid bon voyage to the super-ship. With their cheers mingled the sirens of the harbor craft and the whirl from the propellers of airplanes circling her pier.

Although her bar was dry, the Leviathan was literally a "wet ship," for as her great whistles boomed their warning to river traffic and the liner moved into the Hudson a torrent rained on her decks.

The crowds ashore ran to shelter and passengers sought protection but the waving of hats and handkerchiefs continued, while cheer after cheer bridged the widening water.

The din increased as the great shipping board vessel swung her nose towards the sea. She was decked with international flags.

Shoving her into the channel were tiny tugs with the power of Titans. Off her starboard bow, steamed a toy vessel, a reproduction of Robert Fulton's Clermont, America's first steamboat. As the liner, with her varied escort pushed seaward, through steamboat and ferry traffic, holiday crowds took up the cheering. The rain fall soon abated, the sky changed for a moment from gray to blue, and passengers again swarmed the open decks to witness what the water front proclaimed the greatest ovation since the Leviathan steamed back from war torn Europe with her thousands of American fighting men.

Airplanes, which had come from Hampton Roads to bid her farewell, followed the liner down stream, out into the bay and toward the open sea.

When a reporter asked Mr. Lasker if he had anything to say regarding personal attacks made no him, he laughed.

"Pooh, lies—who is afraid of lies? Every knock is a boost when a man is playing straight and working conscientiously. The shipping board needs no better recommendation than that it reconditioned the Leviathan."

It is believed the Leviathan will be able to set a new time mark on the run to Cherbourg, the first stop abroad. Whether she would be sent out for this record on the initial voyage depended a great deal upon weather conditions, her commander, Capt. Herbert Hartley, U. S. N. R.,

Robs Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs"

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a new field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use. In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water, that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No drowsiness.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. 6-29-8-4-6-11-13-15-18-20-25-27-13tc

DEMPSEY AWARDED DECISION BUT GIBBONS THE APPROVAL OF 25,000 FIGHT FANS

Challenger Was Never Knocked Out and On His Feet at End of the Bout

SHELBY, Mont., July 5.—The whole sporting world was wrong—with the exception of that courteous smiling individual, Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul. The challenger, to the astonishment of the 25,000 spectators in the sun-baked arena of the edge of this oil boom town, was on his feet, still fighting at the end of his scheduled 15 round heavyweight championship battle yesterday with Jack Dempsey when almost everybody expected him to be knocked out in six or seven rounds.

Dempsey, the champion, was an overwhelming favorite to win by a knockout, early in the battle. Referee Jimmy Dougherty, of Philadelphia, awarded Dempsey the decision when the gang banged ending the fight, but Gibbons, who did not get a cent for fighting the champion, left the ring with a moral victory. It was the first time that any fighter had managed to face Dempsey and still be on his feet at the finish since he became champion.

Gibbons has a reputation, made in eighty-six fights, of never having been knocked off his feet. That reputation is still good. Dempsey had him dizzy and weary, probably half a dozen times yesterday, but failed to knock him out. The fight had an entirely different ending than any of the spectators expected, even the enthusiastic Gibbons protagonists, shouting encouragement to their fighter had not the slightest idea he would last more than seven or eight rounds. In fact, it was the consensus of opinion that four or five rounds would find Tommy on the floor knocked out.

Tommy, a master boxer, and constantly on the lookout for the knockout blow, danced and side-stepped around the ring, constantly slipping a right or left to Dempsey's face, and then eluding danger by clinching or stepping backward.

Toward the last Gibbons seemed to be fading fast, and repeatedly went into clinches, with the champion. In the last round it appeared that his defenses were falling, and many expected Dempsey to administer the knockout. The champion seeing the condition of the challenger, furiously struck at his head and body, but Gibbons hung on and clinched and side-stepped until the saving grace of the final bell. Dempsey was never in danger in a round of the fight. Although Gibbons cut and slashed the champion's right eye in the opening round, and Dempsey brought blood once or twice from the challenger, neither was marked to any appreciable extent. A majority of the newspaper experts gave Gibbons a shade in the fifth, eleventh and thirteenth rounds, the remaining twelve being awarded to Dempsey, without argument. Neither the champion nor the challenger was ever off their feet, although Gibbons nearly fell through the ropes and was helped back by Dempsey. Although Gibbons was the undoubted favorite of the crowd, not a word of dissension was heard over Referee Dougherty's decision. It had been rumored that if by any chance the fight went the limit, there would be a riot if the decision went to Dempsey. State and local police and many deputy sheriffs were on hand but there was no disturbance at any time. Referee Dougherty did not hesitate an instant after the bell of the fifteenth round sounded in raising Jack Dempsey's hand.

It was seen everyone was good natured and all merely wanted to get a close-up glimpse of Tommy.

Elbowing his way through the cheering spectators, Chief Curley Henr of the Black Feet Indians, climbed into the ring. The Indians recently adopted Tommy as a brother of the tribe. The tall chief, resplendent in feathers and rainbow hues lifted his eagle-tipped war bonnet from his head and placed it on that of Gibbons while the crowd yelled his hoarse. The wife of Mayor Jimmy Johnson, of Shelby, hurried to the ring and threw her arms around the challenger. Hundreds tried to shake hands with him. He smiled broadly at the demonstration, while his seconds removed his gloves.

While the championship battle was a surprise to the fight fans, it was more than amazing to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

Kearns was stunned after the sixth round and demonstrated that the champion was unable to hit Gibbons effectively. The manager as well as every member of the champion's camp were sure Dempsey would whip over a knockout in four or five rounds.

Gibbons played a hit and run game, displaying remarkable defensive thrusting.

He never gave Dempsey much of an opportunity to land the sleeping punch. In some rounds he switched his tactics and surprised the champion by carrying the fighting to him, and even outboxed him in spots.

While there were barely eight thousand persons in the arena at the beginning of the championship fight it was but a few minutes until approximately 25,000 were crowded as near as they could get to the ring side. The reason was that the spectators would not pay the price asked and just before the fight Kearns decided to cut the price of the seats more than fifty per cent.

The crowds on the outside of the fence cheered the announcement and immediately began handing in $5 bills through the wires for higher priced tickets. Later even the cheaper tickets were sold at much less than half price, and when the fight was well started, the crowd, apparently moneyless "crashed the gate" and rushed into the vacant seats of the arena.

While the championship fight was scheduled to start promptly at 3 p. m., it was almost 4 o'clock before the first bell sounded. Dempsey was the first to enter the arena, stepping into the ring shortly after 3:30 p. m. as he climbed through the ropes he was given an uproarious greeting. He was attired in white silk trunks and a blue sweater coat.

While the championship fight was the aisle toward the ring were Kearns, his manager; Billy Wells, the British welterweight; Joe Benjamin, the Pacific coast lightweight; Jack Burke and Lee Moore, the Los Angeles featherweight; Mike Trant and Hugh McCarthy, Chicago detectives.

As he took his seat in the northwest corner of the ring with his back to the sun, he looked nervously about and occasionally motioned his attendants aside so that he could look out at the crowd. It was apparent to those nearest the ringside that the champion was extremely nervous. He clasped and unclasped his hands, shuffling his feet back and forth. Trant held an umbrella over his head while a battery of camera men swarmed the ringed platform to make pictures of the title holder.

Gibbons entrance to the arena about five minutes after the champion was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering. The contender immediately went over to Dempsey's corner and shook hands heartily with his opponent. He then examined the champion's bandaged hands. The two fighters then stood in the center of the ring and posed for a number of pictures.

While Dempsey's gloves were being adjusted, Manager Kearns paced nervously in the center of the ring. When the gloves were on the champion stood up in his corner and danced nervously on the resined canvas. He looked often at the crowd and only occasionally at Gibbons. Dempsey's weight was announced at 184 pounds and that of Gibbons as 175 1/2.

Gibbons smiled confidently when the bell sounded and the two men leaped to the center of the ring. Jack Dempsey immediately hooked a left to the jaw but did not seem to have sufficient force to shake the contender. Tommy then landed three lefts to the body and a right to the head. Dempsey swung a straight left to the jaw and Gibbons backed away.

In the second and third rounds both landed lightly although Dempsey swung viciously at every opening. Tommy, under jabs of the champion, covered his face and clinched often. Referee Dougherty was kept busy separating the batters. Dempsey fought furiously, pounding Gibbons about the head and mid-section but seeming unable to get over a blow that was effective. During most of the rounds Gibbons appeared to be fighting entirely on the defensive, only occasionally landing a blow on Dempsey's head and face.

When the champion would start with a crushing right or left, Tommy would quickly fall into a clinch. Much of the time the contender was backing away from Dempsey, who was constantly seeking for an opening for the planting of the finishing blow.

But the opening was not there, Gibbons was in and out or tightly locked in a clinch. The contender appeared calm and collected throughout, but he was always on the watch for the punch that would mean his finish.

At all times his speed was the equal if not the greater of the champion's. In the fourth and fifth rounds, Jack punched Gibbons around the head with rights and lefts and hurt him with sledge-hammer blows. But none of these attacks seemed to stagger Tommy, who frequently retaliated with blows to the head and fought safely in clinches.

At the end of the fourth Gibbons was landing on Dempsey's head, and when the bell sounded the champion was bleeding from an old wound over the left eye.

When the fifth round opened Dempsey had evidently arrived at the conclusion that difficulties were being imposed in the way of a quick knockout. From then on his attacks on the contender redoubled in their fierceness. He was on Gibbons from the moment the bell sounded in the succeeding rounds, administering severe punishment about the head and body.

By the tenth round, it became apparent to the crowd that Gibbons had every chance of remaining the limit. Dempsey, obviously trying everything he knew, was unable to reach a vital spot. Gibbons was somewhat groggy at the beginning of the 15th, and it is a matter of conjecture whether he could have lasted another round.

In the preliminary bouts, Jack McDonald, of Seattle, knocked out Ernie Sales, of Rochester, Minn., in the second round of an eight-round contest, and Bud Gorman, of the Gibbons training camp won an eight-round decision over Harry Drake, of England, one of Dempsey's sparring partners.

Sanford Drops a Hot One to DeLand

On a field of water and mud, Sanford dropped a hot one to DeLand yesterday. The game was well played except one inning, which was the result of water soaked balls. Two walks a slow roller and two wild throws were the only bad innings, but was enough to bring defeat against Ammans' masterful pitching of a 2 hit and 17 strike out game, as Sanford's seven whites were scattered and resulted in 10 men being left on bases.

Reports on Grapefruit Canning Operations Show Big Results

500,000 Cases Result of Production in Various Factories.

TAMPA, July 5.—Reports on grapefruit canning operations show the past season's world production to have totaled approximately 500,000 cases, says C. E. Stewart, business manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, in his monthly review on the citrus industry. "Of this amount," he says, "Florida produced about 250,000 cases, Porto Rico about 200,000 cases and California about 50,000 cases.

"Little difficulty was experienced in marketing the product until the past month, when production was materially increased by several plants, due to the difficulty in marketing some of the fresh fruit. It is expected that the accumulated stock will be distributed during the next few weeks for summer consumption. "With the exception of the Eagle Lake plant of the Florida Citrus Exchange, practically all Florida grapefruit canneries have closed for the season. The Eagle Lake plant will probably continue operations until about July 15. "New canneries to be operated next season are planned by organizations affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange. They will be located in different sections of the citrus belt and operated on the co-operative plan to bring the highest returns to the grower. Anticipating a need for greater sales effort in marketing the increased output of canned grapefruit, the Exchange has now in preparation an advertising campaign to develop a demand for its Scaldsweat brand, in the same manner it created demand for its Scaldsweat brand of fresh grapefruit and oranges."

Next season citrus crop, Mr. Stewart declares, will be a heavy one. Of present crop conditions, he says: "Heavy rains during the past month have put the groves in a very good condition and they are showing vigorous growth. June bloom, principally grapefruit, is reported from many localities, the orange in some sections showing a better bloom than grapefruit."

"With considerable new acreage coming into bearing and with a heavier production by young trees, it is not at all improbable, if conditions continue favorable, that next season's crop will be a heavy one. "There is no reason to fear a general over production of citrus fruits at any time. A greatly increased production is a situation which the Florida Citrus Exchange has anticipated since its beginning and it is fully prepared to meet now marketing emergencies. Large extensions have been made in its sales organization, which now covers every important marketing center in the United States and Canada. The advertising effort for increased consumption and proper distribution of Scaldsweat fruit will be continued next year."

HARDING REALIZES BOYHOOD AMBITION; DRIVES LOCOMOTIVE

(By The Associated Press)
ON BOARD PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL TRAIN, near St. Marle's, Idaho, July 3.—President Harding, for half an hour or so today came into realization of his boyhood ambition to become a locomotive engineer. It was not one of the steam locomotives, spouting smoke and cinders that he drove, but an electric engine on the system of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. When the presidential train stopped early today at Falcon, Idaho, Mr. Harding went up to head of the train to take a look at the engine, one of the largest electric locomotives ever built. Engineer Arthur Bluhdel, after shaking hands with the president, invited him up into the cab, and soon the train moved off down the west slope of the Hitter Root mountain with the hand of the chief executive on the controller. Around sharp curves, through tunnels and along canyon sides, the president drove the heavy twelve car train until it reached Avery, a total distance of about fifteen miles.

The president in company with Chief Greely, visited a forest ranger's station at Avery while the train stopped here and saw a mule train packed for a trip over the mountains with supplies. He also found in the little mountain town a former inhabitant of Marion, Ohio, Robert Clark, with whom he talked for several minutes.
