

BONUS ARMY IS SET TO REMAIN TILL SATISFIED

Pacific Coast Contingent Arrives In Capital Determined To Obtain Its Request

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—While the nation honored its soldiers dead a group of 300 who served in the World War, some in khaki some in overalls, stood in the sunshine today and renewed their vow that they would stay here until Congress pays their bonus.

Their leader, Walter Waters, shouted to the first morning "assembly" of the Pacific Coast war veterans who arrived yesterday.

Waters asks you why we are here you tell them all other methods having failed we chose this method to get the bonus and we are going to stay here until we get it.

Waters, travel-stained and do-tired, the former soldier—330 of them from the Pacific coast—crossed the District line in khaki equipped by Maryland and found a hot stew, bread, milk and coffee awaiting them.

Their conduct was orderly. They waved and smiled at the crowds congregated on fashionable streets, but there was no shouting, no demonstration. After their meal, they marched to the vacant building which will be their barracks here.

Superintendent of Police Glassford personally supervised the arrangements for their care. He estimates that approximately 1800 veterans are now in the capital. The majority have filed in their claims and have not applied for bonuses.

The commander of the west coast contingent, Walter W. Waters—a fruit canner—superintendent who exercises full military authority on the bonus march—pre-arranged the truck caravan and conferred with Glassford and with Representative Patman, Democrat.

Information Given Out About Camp To Be Held At Winona

Parents of Sanford boys between the ages of eight and 14 today were in receipt of application blanks which, if signed and returned with a dollar bill, will insure their son a place at Camp Winona, on Lake Winona in Volusia county, from July 4 through July 9.

W. E. Morris, camp director, this morning stated that with last year's younger and older boys camps decided successes, he anticipates an even larger application list this year, although the camp is limited to only a certain small number.

Boys who expect to attend the camp are asked to bring the following articles which will be needed during the six-day stay: extra clothing, toilet articles, towels, tennis shoes, walking shoes, bathing suit, two heavy blankets, pajamas, sheets, pillow case and pillow if desired. They may bring the following articles if they wish: tennis racket and balls, ball stove, books, flashlight, pocket knife, fishing outfit, fountain pen, and writing paper.

Bruening And His Cabinet Resign

BERLIN, May 30.—(A.P.)—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening and members of his cabinet resigned today. The resignations were accepted by President Von Hindenburg. Bruening, who in the two years he has been in office, guided the German republic through unprecedented storms and financial near-collapse, finally lost an uphill fight against growing nationalism and dissatisfaction with government by his emergency decrees.

POLICE QUARTERS IN LINDY GARAGE ARE TAKEN AWAY

Extensive Search To Be Directed From New Base Of Operations

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 30.—(A.P.)—The rough-hewn tables, the hastily placed cots, the bulky files and the emergency communication system—police headquarters for 90 days—were borne from the Lindbergh estate yesterday. The wide flung search for the murderers of the flier's baby was given a new base of operations. The destination of much of the equipment was the state police training school at Wilburtha, near Trenton.

Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh escaped the moving scene for they now are staying at the Dwight Morrow estate in Englewood, a two-hour automobile trip from Hopewell.

So that the Colonel may be in close touch with authorities an enlarged police station was ordered set up at Alpine, near Englewood. "The details will maintain daily contact with Colonel Lindbergh," said Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, in a bulletin, "and will handle parts of the investigation centering in North Jersey and New York."

It was a busy day at the big white house on the Lindbergh estate, which is once more to assume the aspect of a normal American home.

In the three-car garage adjoining the house on the west the heavy table with its battery of telephones and police paraphernalia was hustled out by strong hands. The telegraph typewriters and the police files were taken out and the phones disconnected, leaving the tangle of twisted wires still thrust through the garage wall where they were installed soon after the kidnaping on Mar. 1.

Troopers in their blue uniforms, who have lounged about the garage and guarded the grounds, hustled about as cots, chairs and bedding were removed.

Performance Will Be Given To Help Florida's Exhibit

The performance is in the hands of a committee composed of Mrs. Gladys Morris Williams as chairman, with Mrs. Arthur Brannan, George Schiffley and F. C. MacMahon as committeemen.

MACDONALD IS DESIROUS OF TRADE PARLEY

Premier Makes Plea For Turning Reparations Conference To One Upon Trade

LONDON, May 30.—(A.P.)—A plea for converting the Lausanne reparations conference next month into a conference on world trade was made yesterday by Prime Minister MacDonald in an interview with the political specialist of the Daily Mail, who visited him at Lossiemouth, Scotland. If the suggestion gains support, it may, the newspaper said, completely alter the complexion of the conference and cause the United States to be more than an observer.

"The problem to be faced is not merely the recovery of one nation, but the re-starting of world commerce," MacDonald was quoted as saying.

"I should like to see the Lausanne conference boldly tackle this much bigger problem in all its important aspects, as well as dealing with debts and reparations. It is an international problem and no nation can settle it for itself.

"The British representatives will strive with might and main to get the conference to face this large issue. The experience of all countries in the last six months particularly ought to induce every nation to take broader views than some of them have done hitherto."

The Mail said it understood the suggestion for broadening the basis of the conference, which is scheduled to meet at Lausanne on June 16, was one of the main topics Prime Minister MacDonald discussed with Secretary of State Stimson in a recent trans-Atlantic telephone conversation.

Ambassador Mellon also is likely to be connected with the new development, the newspaper added, that it believed the American ambassador had suggested the proposal with the British government.

MacDonald, the newspaper said, has been greatly benefited by his stay at his home in Lossiemouth, where he went to rest after an operation on one of his eyes. The correspondent reported that he was anxious to return to London, was fully determined to go to Lausanne and was immersed in preparations for the conference, to which he attaches the greatest importance.

Memorial Day Is Observed in U. S.; Tributes Are Paid

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—The memory of soldiers who shed their blood on the field of battle to found and maintain the United States was invoked this Memorial Day for the nation's defense. In a marble amphitheatre that looks upon the "Unknown Soldiers" grave at Arlington, former Senator James Reed, Missouri, mingled with his tributes to the soldier, heroes a plea for reliance on "stout hearts and unyielding swords of our gallant sons."

He was the chief speaker at the national memorial service, over a country-wide radio network. Henry Stevens, national commander of the American Legion, recalled the high cost of unpreparedness in the World War and bespoke a "hot determination" that sacrifices of the way dead be not made in vain.

While at Arlington and elsewhere throughout the country graves were decorated by remembering pilgrims, President Hoover at his desk, maintained a watch on affairs of state. The absence of any plan for formal participation in the day's exercises by the President is unprecedented. Most of the cabinet rested at homes or elsewhere.

Roumania Is Excited Over Veiled Suggestions Carol May Soon Be Death Victim

'FASHION' CALLED 'SIN OF OUR TIME' IN COLLEGE TALK

VIENNA, May 30.—(A.P.)—A mysterious parable writer who sign himself "X" and is believed by many to be Gen. Alexandru Averescu, leader of the Roumanian people's party, caused excitement in Bucharest yesterday with veiled warnings of death for King Carol of Roumania and his friend, Mme. Madga Lupescu.

Months ago he hinted strongly at detestment of the Roumanian king, but recently his writings have taken a more somber turn. A week ago he alluded to the death of the French king, Henry II, in terms leaving no doubt that he was warning King Carol.

The cafes buzzed yesterday over his latest "history parable," in the people's party organ, "Indreptarea," which again plays with the death theme in what some readers interpret as an attack on Madame Lupescu, the divorced companion of Carol's Paris exile before he became king.

In this sensational parable, the text of which has appeared in Vienna, "X" took as his theme Madame Lupescu and her influence over Louis XV.

It was out of the corruption of Louis' court that grew the French revolution, the mysterious writer said, "and only slaves and lackeys could glorify kings like Louis XV today."

Even as a youth his "weakness for women" was a problem, the parable said, and in the hope of overcoming this weakness the French royal family and government decided to marry Louis to the foreign princess, Marie Leszinska, daughter of the deposed king of Poland.

"But although his young wife was beautiful in body and soul, Louis the ladies' friend soon abandoned her and resumed his former way of life," the parable continued. "Instead of his queen, there ruled in France a woman whose history is known as Voltaire."

"Beautiful and blonde, spoiled, perverse and unconsciously ingratiating, she won the king without difficulty. He bought her a villa and gave his monthly allowance of 300,000 pounds."

Reed Raps Public Works Program As Big Extravagance
WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—In an interview brooding with criticism of governmental "extravagance on unnecessary public works," former Senator James A. Reed, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, yesterday outlined a five-point program to help the country tide over hard times. He called for:

1. Halting "wasteful expenditures for non-productive public enterprises," repeal of prohibition, enactment of a moderate sales tax in lieu of "some of those now being considered," lowering of tariffs and reciprocity agreements with foreign nations to keep them low, and a reduction of taxes as soon as possible.

2. The Missouriian, here to make a Memorial Day address at Arlington, also took a fling into politics, denying reports of an "understanding" or "deal" between Missouri Democrats and supporters of Franklin D. Roosevelt, leading candidate for the presidential nomination. The Missouri legislator, yesterday outlined a five-point program to help the country tide over hard times. He called for:

3. "There has been no agreement, expressed, implied, tentative or otherwise," he said in response to an inquiry, "between any member of the Missouri legislature and any representative myself to have any kind of a deal or understanding with any active or potential candidate or any of their representatives."

FRAY RENEWED OVER PASSAGE ON SALES TAX

President Withholds Prepared Message To Senate Upon Advice Of G.O.P. Heads

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—The Senate today knocked out of the House revenue bill the controversial minimum tax of one-fourth of one percent on stock transfers. It also refused to restore the modified minimum tax rate on stock transfers.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—President Hoover withheld a prepared message to the Senate today upon the advice of the Republican high command as the battle over the sales tax in the revenue bill was resumed.

Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, brought forward this issue at the outset of the session but Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee, objected to it. Meanwhile forces of the sales tax, with 43 pledged to vote against the levy, definitely claimed its defeat.

Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, with 10 Republican signatures to his petition, said there was no doubt that the sales tax would be defeated.

Government Flour And Beans Given To Families In Need

Four hundred Seminole county white and colored families took advantage of a free distribution of government milled flour, and beans donated by Chase and Co., by appearing before Sanford Red Cross workers at the Fire Station last Saturday morning. It was the second distribution of flour locally, and it will be followed by another distribution on Saturday, June 11.

Red Cross workers this morning expressed their appreciation of the cooperation given them by various persons, including members of the Sanford Fire Department, Chase and Co., for the donation of 3500 pounds of string beans; Mrs. Helen T. Morse, welfare worker, who personally investigated many of the cases which were brought up, and persons from outlying towns who carried flour and beans to needy families in their communities.

Presbyterians Score Dry Law Referendum

DENVER, May 30.—(A.P.)—Qualified opposition to a referendum on repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and criticism of motion pictures was voiced in a committee report today to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The report asserted a "vast majority" of motion picture films are unsatisfactory and suggested that Congress create a federal commission that shall deal with the evil at its source. Concerning a prohibition referendum the committee declared "we are opposed to a vote on repeal which provides no constructive substitute in the conviction that mere repeal will bring back the saloon."

Funeral services for Miss Mary McLellan, 24, resident of Cameron City for the past year, were held yesterday afternoon at the grave in Evergreen Cemetery, with the Rev. Carroll Varner, of the First Methodist Church, officiating.

Miss McLellan, who had been an invalid for several years, died at her home Saturday afternoon at about 6:30 o'clock. She was born at Pollard, Ala., on Aug. 13, 1907, and had lived in Cameron City for the past year.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. M. McLellan, and three brothers, John McLellan, Walter McLellan, and Louis McLellan, all of Sanford.

Indianapolis Auto Races Get Started

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—(A.P.)—With a deafening roar from barking motors 40 dare-devil racers shot away today in the start of the annual 500-mile automobile race over the Indianapolis speedway. Between 140,000 and 150,000 persons were in attendance. The weather was perfect for the race. The event no sooner started when Alan Gordon, Long Beach, Calif., smashed through the retaining wall, but escaped serious injury. Never before was there a such varied assortment of cars. Eight-cylinder creations predominated numbering 33. Three machines were 16 cylinders and four were four cylinders. Seven were front drives and two had four wheel drives.

GRAY ESTIMATES STATE VOTERS AT ABOVE 300,000

TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—(A.P.)—Lacking exact figures which are unavailable, Secretary of State R. A. Gray yesterday estimated that there are more than 300,000 voters in Florida.

He said he had no idea how many are qualified to vote in next month's primaries or how many will cast ballots, but based his estimates on figures supplied his office by county registration officers throughout the state.

He requested each registration officer to advise him of the approximate number of voters in each county so that he might have the proper number of official campaign booklets printed and sent to each of the 67 counties.

Recent reports showed the number of registrations slightly in excess of 300,000. Unofficial reports on poll tax payments placed the total number paid at about 250,000. Registration and payment of poll taxes, unless exempt from payment by law, are prerequisites for voting.

Many registered but did not pay their poll taxes. Many paid their poll taxes but failed to register on time. Still others paid their poll taxes and registered but will not vote. In this class are the negroes of the state who do not take part in the primaries, yet many of them pay poll taxes and register.

Having his estimates on reports from the county registration officers and on the number of campaign booklets mailed to each county, Gray estimated each county has the following number of voters:

- Alachua 6500; Baker 7000; Bay 6000; Bradford 15000; Bradford 6000; Calhoun 12000; Collier 3000; Columbia 3000;
- Dade 30,000; DeSoto 3000; Dixie 6000; Duval 35,000; Escambia 15,000; Flagler 7000; Franklin 5000; Gadsden 27000; Gilchrist 10000; Glades 10000; Gulf 10000; Hamilton 17000; Hardee 8000; Hendry 6000; Hernando 10000; Highland 6000; Hillsborough 30,000; Holmes 4000;
- Indian River 10000; Jackson 4000; Jefferson 17000; Lafayette 20000; Lake 75000; Lee 40000; Leon 4000; Levy 25000; Liberty 6000; Madison 15000; Manatee 75000; Marion 60000; Martin 15000; Monroe 30000; Nassau 25000;
- Oakland 45000; Oklawaha 1,2000; Orange 80000; Osceola 30000; Palm Beach 15,000; Pasco 35000; Pinellas 14,000; Polk 10,000; Putnam 4000; St. Johns 20000; St. Louis 18000; Santa Rosa 4000; Seminole 35000; Suwannee 24000; Taylor 15000; Union 14000; Volusia 13,5000; Wakulla 14000; Walton 35000; and Washington 40000.

ALTERNATES IN G. O. P. PARLEY MAY CONTROL

Possibility Is Looming That Potent Delegates Will Be Held In Congress Session

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(A.P.)—The Republican national convention will be just two week off next Tuesday, and Congress is still so deeply enmeshed in a tangle of titanic tasks that some leaders look for the show to be run off with alternates filling most principal roles.

Such an event would be unprecedented, although party chiefs are laying emergency plans with that in view.

Sixteen senators and as many or more representatives have been chosen delegates to the June 14 gathering at Chicago. Of course a few will have to attend, whether Congress is in session or not, but the possibility of a national political convention conducted largely by professional and business men seems incredible—to some on Capitol Hill.

Others believe it will not make such a difference. Senator Fessenden of Ohio, who will have charge at the very outset as party chairman, says he and Senator Dickinson of Iowa, the keynoter, will have to go regardless. Representative Snell of New York, must be there to take over the permanent chairmanship when Dickinson's reign ends.

Franklin O. King Pledges Himself To Help Farmers

Pledging himself to the "real and relief of Florida's farmers, facing the most tragic situation ever known to them," State Senator Franklin O. King, of Orlando, concluded an hour-long address on the planks of his platform as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture on downtown streets this morning.

A large audience heard the Granddaddy repeat his charges that "the powerful political machine built up by the present Commissioner of agriculture is responsible for the farmer's difficulties more than any other agency," and that "thousands of dollars of the people's money have been squandered by this Commissioner, who has scores of relatives and friends on the payroll."

He declared that if elected he would "use to it that this powerful political machine built up by the present Commissioner, composed of innumerable and unnecessary employees, servants, inspectors, relatives, unscrupulous officials, and other political parasites will take to the tall timbers."

Mr. King pledged himself to receive and consider, on its merits, every problem coming before his Department, "with the end always in mind of giving at all times the greatest aid and assistance to the producer."

He declared an intention to advocate and place in force a program that will enable Florida growers and shippers to compete successfully with those of California, Texas, Porto Rico, and other states.

WHAT DOES GOD REQUIRE
 And now, Israel, what does the Lord God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul.—Deuteronomy 10:12.

THE HUNTERS

A picture showed them side by side,
 Their heads thrown back in boastful pride;
 While from a pole suspended near
 Limp bodies hung of lifeless deer.
 I want had caused a dire need,
 No stigma, then, could cloud their deed.
 To them it meant a holiday
 Of sport to while the hours away.
 How strange men's minds should never grow,
 But lay such lovely creatures low!
 God pity those who would appear
 Victorious over beauty's hier.

Candidates who object to what they call mud throwing usually resort to whispering campaigns.

Knowing Mr. Housholder as well as we do, we can readily understand why he thinks he is the only lawyer in the circuit capable of being state's attorney.

The President says that Garner's relief proposal is a pork barrel program. And after all, there are lots of people who want some pork.

Our forefathers took this country away from the Indians because they said the Indians didn't know how to govern it.—Tampa Times. Add campaign slogans: Back to the Indians!

To hear these candidates for governor talk, a second primary will probably not be necessary. All of them will be elected on the first ballot.—Melbourne Times. If confidence passages victory, they'll all win in a walk.

Charges and counter charges became popular in Florida just about the time charge charges went out of style.—Titusville Star-Advocate. We make no charges for political advertising. It's cash on delivery with us.

An interesting cartoon reveals a map of the world, with the Lindbergh kidnapping noted in America, the shooting of the Peruvian president in South America, the Kropotkin fraud investigation in Scandinavia, the attempted assassination of Breunling in Germany, the killing of Deuser in France, the recent crimes in Hawaii, the Japanese assassinations in Japan, and the bomb slaying in Shanghai. And the caption of the cartoon reads, "Civilization, 1932!"

It would not be impossible to get three-fourths of the states to ratify a prohibition repeal amendment, if we are told by a friend who cites as the recent Literary Digest poll which revealed all states west except Kansas and North Carolina, have apparently completely overlooked the fact that the Digest poll was conducted among less than five million Digest readers, and that the other 111,000,000 people of the United States include the vast majority of the population.

These people would vote for repeal but because the so-called "majority" wants it, they will not. The majority should be regarded as the movement in some way, and the movement of the majority should be regarded as the movement in some way, and the movement of the majority should be regarded as the movement in some way.

Walker's Predicament

The revelation of the most damaging evidence brought out by the searching interrogation of Samuel Seabury, attorney for the Hofstadter investigating committee, has no effect upon the composure of New York's dapper Mayor Walker. He meets every incriminating bit of testimony with a smile and a wisecrack while his henchmen howl in approval to give the impression that their "Jimmy" has scored a point.

Walker is a true showman. In fact, he played in vaudeville at one time during his bizarre life, and he has learned how to be convincing in every situation. Confronted by facts that make him out to be a monumental grafter, he waves them aside with a thrust of his arm, and makes pretty speeches about persecution and mud-slinging. It is an old game but the forces representing the people are slowly closing in upon him and sooner or later he will come to the end of his rope.

One little bit of evidence that was brought out and which had a very sentimental flavor to it was the disclosure that Mr. Walker had a joint brokerage account with Paul Block, a publisher, the account netting Walker over $250,000. Strangely enough Walker didn't put up one cent for the account, but the reason for this was explained in a very touching manner by Mr. Block.

It was purely out of friendship and the thought came to him, the publisher said, when his little son inquired how much was the Mayor's salary. "I told him it was $25,000," to use Mr. Block's own words in his testimony, "and he asked: 'Does the city give him an automobile?', and I said 'yes, but not to Mrs. Walker.'"

The son then asked if Mr. Walker could live on the salary received, to which Mr. Block replied: "Yes, he probably can but it would be difficult". Mr. Block said the idea of opening the joint account then occurred to him, but before he did he told the mayor of his intentions, and this is what the mayor replied: "Aw, you ought not to do that Paul!"

This is just one example of the unconvincing attempts at refutation that Walker has made, and while the smile still lingers there is a growing feeling that the corners of his mouth will soon be turning down instead of up.

Federal Raids

Time was when the ordinary conception of government was a mutual banding together of peoples under one authorized head for purposes of common defense against outside enemies and regulation between friends and neighbors within. Not since the days of ancient Rome, which fell for this very reason, has government undertaken to feed and support its peoples.

Not until the last few years. Recently England and Germany have been experimenting with a system known as a "dole" where the government hands out sustenance to those unable to earn it. There appears to be a steadily growing conviction in this country that the government owes every man a job. Whether a man cannot find a job for himself, or whether he cannot make the job, which he has, pay sufficiently to satisfy his desires, he looks to the government for monetary assistance.

We have before us today the spectacle of thousands of ex-soldiers marching on Washington to demand additional bonus payments. A month ago it was a column of "hunger marchers" seeking federal aid. Governor Roosevelt, leading Democratic candidate for the presidency, proposes to take all the unemployed from the streets of our industrial centers and set them up in the farming business at government expense. John Garner urges a gigantic public works program financed with federal bonds in order to stimulate employment, and offers as a bait for votes 3,600 specific projects, $20,000,000 to be spent in Florida.

It is unfortunate that the federal treasury is not a bottomless pit into which hungry hands may dip continuously without danger of exhausting its valuable contents. It is unfortunate that every dollar removed from the treasury has to be placed back in it if bankruptcy is to be avoided. Common sense discloses that it is not possible to curtail government expenditures and reduce taxation and at the same time finance and promote huge development projects.

Those who persist in advocating additional appropriations must carry the entire blame for extra taxation. The only possible answer to the demands for doles, unnecessary public works, and further extravagance is a sales tax. You cannot have your cake and eat it too. You cannot have the orgy of public spending without the agony of the debt paying hang-over.

Dr. Oliver J. Miller, who has recently become associated with Dr. N. de V. Howard, has rented the property of Mr. E. J. Starling, 321 Magnolia Avenue for the summer and will retain the telephone number listed in the telephone directory under the name of Mr. Starling.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Fleischer and family have left for their home in New York. Mr. Fleischer intends to visit the West to arrange business for next fall.

Nolly Tolar and Ralf Stevens returned Wednesday from the University of North Carolina. Miss Irene Brady has returned from DeLand after finishing a teaching course in piano at Stetson University.

HARDEE A SAFE MAN
 TITUSVILLE STAR-ADVOCATE

This campaign for governor has been one of indecision. That contention that there is a floating vote that may attach itself to some one of the three candidates still holds good, but what was said in this newspaper about the improbability of sentimentality in favor of one of the three candidates was repeated, and probably will be repeated, if over and over the people have

THE RECORD LENGTHENS
 NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

W. A. Scanlan, friend of Mayor Walker, wished to profit by selling some street sweeper to the city. He "boosted" them with the Mayor. In May, 1927, the contract was signed; in October, Scanlan received his commission of $10,000; in November he withdrew $5,000 of this amount and paid it, according to the evidence of bank records, to Russell T. Sherwood, confidential agent of Mayor Walker. Scanlan now says he paid it mainly to his mother and sister. Both are dead. Sherwood is missing.

Senator Hastings, friend of Mayor Walker, wished to secure an enormously valuable franchise for the Equitable Coach Company. He "boosted" the company with the Mayor. In July, 1927, the Mayor suddenly put the franchise through the Board of Estimate; in August the Equitable saw the formal contract represented on the same day the representative of the Equitable delivered a $10,000 letter-of-credit to Mayor Walker which the Equitable's representative had paid for in cash. The Mayor sailed immediately for Europe, overdrove the letter-of-credit to the extent of $3,000, and permitted the same representative of the Equitable to concern to pay the overdraft. Hastings now says that the cash was simply given to the Equitable man by Senator Downing who was arranging the trip. Senator Downing is dead.

In the same days that the overdraft was being paid the Mayor was trying to get help from Mr. Mitchell in financing the "financial cripples" which was the Equitable Coach Company. The Equitable people now explain its condition by saying that financing was originally to have come from Mr. Amson W. Burchard. Mr. Burchard is now dead. J. A. Sisto was financing a taxicab concern whose profits would be directly affected by the city's action in regulating taxicabs. John J. McKeon, friend of the Mayor, introduced him to Mr. Walker in June, 1929. Sisto told the Mayor that he would see what he could do about making the Mayor a participant in the profits of a projected stock pool. In November, 1929, the Mayor was re-elected; Sisto said the stock which he was holding in the Mayor's behalf, put $25,535 of the profit into bonds, put the bonds in an envelope and had McKeon deliver the envelope to Mayor Walker. Shortly thereafter the Mayor announced himself in favor of a taxicab policy favorable to a big concern, such as Sisto was financing.

In November, 1930, the same W. A. Scanlan received $3,000 in commissions on further sales to the city. The same day he paid just half of this to Dr. W. H. Walker, the brother of the Mayor. In March, 1931, Scanlan got $2,650 more in commissions, and again paid approximately one-half to Dr. Walker. Scanlan says these payments were mainly for medical fees. The doctor never sent him any bills. There are no receipts.

These transactions, and these explanations, are all upon the record. The Mayor's own explanation is yet to be heard. That they constitute a series of events which demand very full explanation from Mayor Walker should be evident to any one who has the slightest sense of the responsibilities of public office.

ECONOMIC DISLOCATION
 BARRON'S WEEKLY

If we eliminate the item of debt service from the total of federal expenditures, we find that for the fiscal year 1928-29 the remainder was, in round figures, $3,620,000,000. In the following year, 1929-30, this had risen to about $2,781,000,000, an increase of 6 percent. Midway in this year, the index number measuring industrial production stood at 103 per cent of the base average of 1923-25, and the index of wholesale commodity prices stood at 93.3 per cent of the base 1925. The cost of living index was 100.1 (base 1923) and average weekly earnings in manufacturing industries were $27.73.

In the fiscal year, 1930-31, federal expenditures (exclusive of debt service) rose to $3,168,000,000 an increase of $387,000,000 over 1929-30. During this period the index of industrial production dropped to 84 per cent of the base; the index of commodity prices dropped to 79.6 per cent, the cost-speech was strong enough to reach much farther than the ears of the few people present. Sound logic, argument free of bombast and appeal based on facts and findings, have a way of reaching the people once they are set in motion.

After hearing Hardee's speech after hearing his reply to the charges that have been made against him—no fair minded man could doubt the sincerity of the candidate, no man or woman who has the best interests of the state at heart could refuse to concede that the state would be safe with him again as its governor. When we get at the bottom of the charges that have been made against Cary Hardee, we find that they amount to nothing and that chiefly among them are that he "takes a long time to sit down and get up," that "he is a banker" and that he "comes from West Florida". The general reply could be fittingly made that Florida might have been much better off if more of its public officials had taken more time to "sit down and get up," that the state might have been in much better financial condition now if we had had more of the kind of bankers that Hardee is, in office, and that a man must come from some section of the state, even though he be a candidate for governor. That he has presided over the affairs of three small banks and allowed not a single depositor to lose a dollar, is a recommendation of the highest order.

In fairness to Mr. Hardee, but more in fairness to the people who will select a nominee for the Democratic party on June 7th, it can be said that he is a gentleman of a fine type, a logical thinker, a man of humility, yet far above the average, and a sound man in whom the people of Florida can have all the faith that men can place in men. If he is elected governor, there are several good men in the race for governor, and since we have heard Cary A. Hardee speak to us in a language of

- Mrs. Helen L. Rogers, Carthage, for Senator Patterson, Missouri.
- John F. Lynn, Wilmington, for Senator Hastings, Delaware.
- Frank C. Hurley, Sanford, for Senator Townsend, Delaware.
- Mrs. George Southworth, Reno, for Senator Oddie, Nevada.
- Manuel Gallegos, Santa Fe, for Senator Catling, New Mexico.
- Thomas F. Hazard, Peace Dale, for Senator Hebert, Rhode Island.
- For the first time since Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt eight convention votes and President Hoover 11, delegate picking for both conventions will come to a halt this week.

With Hoover assured of more than enough pledged votes for renomination and Roosevelt holding a commanding lead over a field of seven, the first of the remaining 122 Democratic and 42 Republican delegates will be selected in Florida and Mississippi, for the Democrats, on June 7, Indiana, the following day, chooses 31 for the Republicans.

Other states still to name Democratic delegates and their convention vote follow:
 Virginia, June 9, 24; Idaho, June 10, 8; North Carolina, June 16, 26, and Indiana, June 20, 20. The Republicans will select their final 11 in Idaho on June 10.

 Texas, bonus advocate. The police superintendent told newspapermen: "If necessary, I will enforce my edict of 48 hours as the limit of their stay here. If Congress wants to foot their bills, they can stay as long as they like."
 In reply to the 48-hour ruling, Waters averred his marchers would "camp in Washington until the bonus is paid."
 "That's our plan," he said, "and that's what we will do."
 Meanwhile, other groups of veterans from the west, south and north are moving toward the capital or are making ready to start.
 Glassford said, however, he thought many had been discouraged. The veterans have not decided how they will seek to accomplish their objective. But Waters thought they would confine their activities to parading the corri-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ANIENT AND MODERN NEURONANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM DENOUNCED" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 29.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 14:22, "Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded" (James 4:1, 8).

The Rev. Hunyan Stephens, of Rome, Georgia, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tallahassee, delivered the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, May 28, and Governor Dwyer E. Carlton will deliver the commencement address on June 1.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My attention was called to a paragraph in the Seminole County Sentinel headed "Sanford Panama Command Holly". This "commandment" was given to Mr. Holly's work as a newspaper man.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner District No. 2. I have my campaign upon a four year term which I have found me upholding my announced intentions of assisting in creating Seminoles County as an argument at a minimum of cost, and I will appreciate the vote of all persons who appreciate these facts.
