

HEAVY Attack Squadron Seven "Peacemaker" Peter D. Anderson, AMSCA was commended at Commanding Officer's Mast for his outstanding leadership, technical knowledge and administrative ability. Particularly noteworthy was his recent participation in the ingenious repair of an A3J-1 stabilizer. The expeditious manner in which this task was accomplished prevented excessive "down time" of one of the squadron's vitally important "Vigilante" aircraft.

Seminole College Target Date - - Sept. '63

"September, 1963, is the target date for the opening of a new college, tentatively called 'Seminole College', which will be built between now and that date on 300 acres of choice land in North Orlando," declared Dr. Morris Hale, president of Orlando Junior College and the University of Orlando, to a select group of Seminole County leaders at a luncheon meeting Wednesday.

The new school will start its academic career as a junior college offering a standard core curriculum on the academic level required by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the principal accrediting agency in the Southeast.

Hale pointed out that the most important ingredient in floating a new college is not a student body or a board of trustees, but having a suitable climate for an academic institution. "It must be located in an area which will welcome it, which needs it and is aware of the importance of the educational industry. We feel that Seminole County is such a place," said Hale.

John Schwartz, general manager of the North Orlando Co., which is donating 700 acres of land to the new school in the new town, said when he came in Seminole County a year ago he had nothing but troubles. But the sky brightened the day Jack Dodd, chairman of the Land Committee of the University of Orlando Board of Trustees, walked into his office and started to talk him into selling some property to the school to establish a new college.

Schwartz said, "Look, I told him, 'I'll give you the land, you don't have to ask me to sell it to you.'" He pointed out that if anything would make the people of his community proud of their town it would be to have a college located there, and he knew they would welcome it.

Orlando Junior College, Hale said, would continue to be located in Orlando, but the principal campus would be the Seminole County site. He pointed out that there are now 1,300 students using the Orlando campus, which has recently been appraised at over $1,000,000 in value. But it would continue as a junior college only, the principal four year installation and all the graduate and professional schools to be added in years to come would be on the North Orlando campus.

Tentatively the plans call for the establishment of the four year college, with the first class starting in September 1963, and a class being added every year until four year status is reached.

Fitzpatrick: Don't get facetious! Yes, Okay, I'm for a pay raise.

A Sanford Naval Air Station jet flier is one of the men being considered for the second group of Astronauts to be selected by the NASA this summer, Cdr. Louis B. Hoop of VAH-7 announced at Coffee Club today.

Lcdr. Dick Wright, who is presently with the training squadron of the Wing, VAH-3 has applied for admission to the select group of men and expects to be called to Texas soon for an interview by the NASA board, after which he will undergo extensive physical and psychological examinations.

If selected Lcdr. Wright will join the other new Astronauts in the Mercury training program and later the Apollo training program for the Moon shot expected in 1967.

Lcdr. Wright listed the qualifications of an Astronaut. He must be an experienced jet test pilot, familiar with experimental type testing, hold a degree in physical or biological science, be under 35 years of age and less than six feet tall, among other requirements. He must also be in excellent physical and mental condition.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said today employment figures for this month indicate "a continued improvement in the economy."

Goldberg made the statement in announcing that employment climbed and joblessness dropped during the month.

He announced that total employment rose by 1.4 million to 68.2 million in May about a half-million more than expected. The total was a record high for the month, up one million from the previous high in May 1960 and more than 1.5 million above the month in 1961.

Unemployment fell by 230,000 from April to 3.7 million, continuing the steady six-month decline, he said.

The seasonally adjusted jobless rate fell from 5.5 per cent in April to 5.4 per cent this month, down 1.6 per cent from the 7 per cent unemployment rate a year ago.

County To Dicker For Osceola Strip

The County Commission will consider budgeting approximately $60,000 during the next fiscal year to purchase outright the Osceola Air Base, The Herald learned today.

The County Commission has authorized Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. and County Attorney Harold Johnson to communicate with General Service Administration officials for the possible outright purchase.

Beckwith said this morning the board appears to favor the purchase outright instead of a lease agreement purchase over a three-to-five year period. The commission had already paid out $87,500 for control of the air strip. Originally the board had agreed to pay off the strip on a 10-year agreement but was turned down by the GSA.

One Vote

Tuesday's race for the Democratic Precinctwoman's job in the 17th Precinct was the only one vote victory that County Registrar Camilla Bruce can remember.

The vote at the Casselberry Fire Station before the absentee votes were tallied stood at 88 for Ann Kerce and 85 for Hope Bennett. The count on the absentee ballots was three for Mrs. Bennett, bringing her total to 88, and one for Mrs. Kerce, which put her just out of reach with a total of 89.

The only other instance where one vote made the difference that Mrs. Bruce can recall was in 1956 when Mary Earle Walker came up with a total of 3,350 votes and the combined total of her four opponents was also 3,350. One more vote cast for Mrs. Walker would have eliminated a runoff election.

Seven Write-Ins By Republicans Bring Confusion

Seven hardy and dedicated Republicans had the nerve to show up in Precincts 13 and 20 Tuesday to cast write-in votes for their choices in the election for State Republican Executive Committee members, according to Camilla Bruce, county registrar.

Startled polls officials called Mrs. Bruce, who checked with Attorney General Ervin's office in Tallahassee and was informed that, strange as it may seem, the forms presented were on the level and the vote should be certified to the Secretary of State along with the other results.

Red Guerrillas Grab 3 Yanks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist guerrillas have kidnaped three Americans who were treating leprosy in a hospital about 200 miles north of here, the U. S. embassy reported today.

The embassy identified two of the kidnaped as missionaries. They are the Rev. Archie E. Mitchell, 44, of Ellensburg, Wash., and Dr. Eleanor Ardel Vietty, 34, of Houston, Tex., both of whom represent the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The third American was identified as Daniel Gerber, a representative of the Mammone central committee at Akron, Pa.

Terrorists Rip Church Feast

ALGIERS (UPI) — Terrorists in Algiers and Oran today shattered the solemnity of the Roman Catholic feast of the Ascension with a flurry of attacks that left eight Europeans dead. One Muslim was wounded.

The toll brought the 1962 terrorist casualty total to 5,303 killed and 10,049 wounded.

A new law went into effect today enabling the draft of European youths into the army to prevent them from joining the outlawed Secret Army Organization (OAS).

Iodine Content In Milk Soars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service has announced that the radioactive iodine content of milk in 11 states jumped considerably this month.

However, officials said Wednesday the increase appeared too temporary to create any health menace.

Divest Itself

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. today announced it would divest itself of its General Motors stock by distributing one-half share of GM for each share of Du Pont.

TWISTIN' TIME will hit Sanford Friday night, as a giant Twist Party street dance is staged on First St. by the downtown merchants in connection with their big two-day sales promotion. Warming up for the contest, and a chance to win prizes are these SHS twisters Mike Caolo, Vida Sue Smith, Alison Blake and Jimmy Williams. (Herald Photo)

Friday And Saturday . . . Let's Twist Downtown

Sanford's downtown merchants are planning another big all-out two day sales promotion Friday and Saturday, with bargains all over town, many half-price and one-third off sales and specials on summer time needs.

Theme of the giant two-day sale is based on the popular Twist Dance with each merchant putting his own "twist" into his Herald ad. Especially appropriate at this time are gifts in every category, clothing, jewelry, sports equipment, photographic supplies, stationery and novelty items, shoes, toiletries, luggage, beach and swim equipment, and many other items.

June is gift-giving time for brides and grooms and graduates and just about any kind of merchandise can be a suitable gift for that certain person. Sanford Merchants' Twist Days sales will make it easy to solve these gift needs.

Friday night, a special Twist band, "The Ravens," will play for a giant street dance in a roped off area between Park Ave. and Magnolia Ave. on First St.

Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. with the actual Twist Contest to begin at 9 p.m. Three trophies will be awarded. One each to the best boy and best girl twister, plus $12.50 gift certificates to each, and one to the best couple with a $25 gift certificate.

Troubles Grow For China Reds

TOKYO (UPI) — Bad weather, which Communist Chinese planners blame for farm failures, is plaguing the Chinese mainland again.

Peiping radio today reported excessive rains in central China, adding to woes caused by floods, hailstorms, cold waves and droughts reported earlier in various sections of the vast country.

Three Injured In Mishap

Three persons were injured in a two car collision at 28th St. and Granada Wednesday afternoon, police reported.

Injured were Donald F. Smith, Leonard Shank and Clyde Howard, all of Sanford. All received lacerations.

No charges have been filed as yet, police said.

One vehicle was operated by Smith while the other was driven by Howard.

Rains Bring Relief Hopes For Crops Rise

Drought-breaking heavy rains whipped into the Sanford and Seminole County area Wednesday proving a saving grace to the county's multi-million dollar agricultural industry.

Rains also helped the city's dwindling water supply and gave home owners the first heavy rainfall for their lawns in close to two months.

Around the nation, a heat wave continued in Texas, where some points reported 100-degree readings Wednesday.

The heaviest rains fell in Mississippi, where McComb measured 3.40 inches in six hours and Greenwood had 1.56 inches. Birmingham had an inch of rain and Alma, Ga., had 1.24 inches.

The Mississippi rains broke a three-week drought, which had threatened harm to cotton and corn crops and delayed soybean planting. But there was no relief for Harrison County, a Gulf Coast area which hasn't had rain for 71 days.

New Orleans got its first rain in 30 days, ending the city's longest May drought in 63 years.

Rain helped ease the worst Georgia drought on record, but more was needed to save the state's tobacco and corn crops. Georgia farmers also were plagued by serious insect infestations.

Stock Market Opens On 'Bright' Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — Buy orders flooded the stock market in early dealings today and prices of major issues rose to levels wiping out the losses suffered in Monday's sharp decline.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market opened on a bright note today. The first shares traded showed gains.

It was a different story from the trading days preceding the Memorial Day holiday when stocks went into a tailspin Monday, then rallied Tuesday in the most frenzied trading since the crash of 1929.

The first report on the ticker this morning was Cities Service preferred, 200 shares of which sold at $102, up $2.

The first blue chip report, Standard Oil of California, was up 75 cents to $55.75 on a sale of 3,300 shares.

Continuing reports on the ticker seemed to bear out Wall Street opinion that the market found a fairly solid bottom at Tuesday's lows and that a slow but steady recovery is in the offing.

U. S. Steel was up 1 1/2 to 64 on a giant block of 20,000 shares. United Aircraft jumped 2 1/2 to 45 on 4,100. C&O in the rails was up 3 1/2 to $24 on 2,500.

Wall St. busied itself behind the scenes during Wednesday's Memorial Day holiday catching up on the bookkeeping hangover from the two most frenzied days of trading since the crash of '29.

The wave of buy orders Tuesday that sent the New York Stock Exchange rebounding to recover $13.5 billion of the $20.8 billion paper plunge on Monday was expected generally to continue at least at market opening today.

Students of the market would not commit themselves to declarations that the bottom had been reached and that the sell-off was over. But there was optimism nonetheless.

Spurring that along was the recovery on European exchanges, where shares tumbled Tuesday in the aftermath of the close-to-the-record sell-off of 9.3 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange Monday. European exchanges, open Wednesday, followed Tuesday's late rebound in New York and shot upward. London, Frankfurt, Zurich and Amsterdam all posted climbing prices.

Scores Die In Wreck

VOGHERA, Italy (UPI)—A speeding freight train believed to have run a stop signal plowed into the rear of a halted passenger train at a station here today, killing and injuring scores of holiday travelers.

Police warrant officer Stefano Monaco reported that at least 58 persons were killed.

Railway officials said almost 70 persons were injured, some critically.

Police said the 12-car freight train, loaded with cement, went through a red stop signal outside the Voghera station. The Milan-to-Genoa passenger train, headed in the same direction, was just about to leave the station.

Many of the estimated 600 persons aboard the passenger train were en route to the Italian Riviera for a weekend holiday. Today marked the start of the Ascension holiday in Italy.

Racing along at nearly 50 miles an hour, the engine of the freight train hit the last coach of the packed passenger train.

Passengers sitting or standing at the end of the coach were shoved into a mass of broken metal, wood and flesh.

Salvatore Lupino survived the crash but lost his brother and nephew. He said he was able to get out of the front part of the coach.

"I found myself confronted with a solid wall of something horrible—steel, wood, broken luggage, human limbs and blood, blood dripping from everywhere," Lupino said.

THE GIGANTIC LAKEFRONT SLIDE which P. M. Smithson installed earlier this year on his Lake Hayes beach is getting plenty of use now as the swimming season has arrived in full force. Shown atop the 25 foot high by 30-foot long slide are Richard and Ronnie Wayne Lyles and Robbie Jean Meek, Smithson's grandchildren who along with other members of his family and many friends in the community are enjoying the beach. DANCE OF THE FLOWERS was cleverly portrayed by some of the first graders at the Westside School in their Spring musicale, held last week, under the direction of two first grade teachers, Mrs. Sue Torres and Mrs. Frances Rivero. The show was entitled "The Four Seasons" and portrayed the dances, songs and skits that the children have learned throughout the year. The two little boy "mice" in front are Robin Ache and David Bach, and the "flowers" from left to right are Sandra Townsley, Gale Lee, Marilyn McKinney, Debra Griner, Gale Harding and Teresa Culberhouse. ## Catholic Church To Sponsor Spring Soiree

By Shirley Wentworth
A Spring Soiree will be held by the St. Mary-Magdalen Catholic Church of Altamonte Springs in the Egyptian Room of the Cherry Plaza from 8 p. m. until 1 a. m. Saturday.

Table reservations may be made with Mrs. Ted Orskov at a nominal fee. All proceeds from the evening will go towards purchase of pews for the church.

According to Fred DiFillippo, chairman of the occasion, the Jerry Lyons Orchestra will play for dancing and dance contests will be staged with the Arthur Murray staff as judges.

Literally hundreds of door-prizes, all donated for the event, will become available when balloons holding tickets designating each prize are released at a given signal, the chairman reported.

Eichmann To UN - - Save Me

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Adolf Eichmann has asked his lawyer to appeal the United Nations and the West German government to try to save him from the gallows, reliable sources said here today.

Israel President Itzhak Ben-Zvi was expected to begin consideration of Eichmann's clemency plea today.

The defense lawyer, Dr. Robert Servatius of West Germany, promised to make the last ditch effort to save the convicted Nazi mass murderer but he told Eichmann he might be executed before either of these two bodies could possibly take action, the sources said.

Eichmann, according to the sources, acknowledged this and told Servatius he would rather "face capital punishment in Israel than serve a life term."

Eichmann's appeal against the death penalty in the slaying of millions of Jews in wartime Europe was turned down by the Supreme Court of Israel on Tuesday.

Prior to leaving Israel Wednesday night, Servatius said the fate of Eichmann was now in the hands of Israel's president.

Servatius called at the justice ministry Wednesday to file a formal appeal to Ben-Zvi.

Eichmann's spiritual adviser, Canadian missionary William Hull, was seeking to convert Eichmann to Christianity at his prison cell at Ramle.

VWW Auxiliary Names Reps To Convention

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of World War One, USA, Inc. held their regular meeting and covered dish supper last week with members of the Barracks as their invited guests.

With Mrs. Robert Williams presiding, members heard a report on the recent cake sale, by the chairman, Mrs. H. J. Stiles, and delegates and alternates to the state convention were chosen.

Those who will attend the four-day convention to be held at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood include Mrs. Williams, Mrs. John McCloskey and Mrs. Joel Field. Alternates are Mrs. Bea Newcome, Mrs. B. H. Stone and Mrs. Harry Osteen.

One parsec is approximately 19 million miles or 2.26 light years.

COACH AND MRS. BILL PROCTOR take a hand at "turning the ribs" during a farewell party and barbecue given in their honor last Saturday afternoon by members of Lyman's Athletic Boosters Assn. Proctor has accepted a coaching position and graduate assistantship at FSU next year and Mrs. Proctor (Pam) will be teaching in the public schools there. (Herald Photo)

Ships, Planes Search For Missing Vessel

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—The Coast Guard said today two men aboard a sinking fishing vessel were believed to have abandoned the craft Wednesday night and boarded a life raft.

Ships and planes searched an area about 30 miles southeast of here where the vessel, the Linda M, was believed to have gone down.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the two persons aboard the craft had abandoned it after reporting by radio that it was on fire and was listing at a 45-degree angle.

The Coast Guard said two small boats entered the search area before dawn but found no trace at once of the Linda M or the two men.

The cutter Paw Paw left Charleston, S. C., at 11:35 p.m. and the Navy sent a rescue plane to the site from Jacksonville, Fla.

Grim Death Toll Predicted

By United Press International
The nation's holiday traffic death toll closed in on a seven-year-old record for a 30-hour Memorial Day period today.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said early today the record of 109 deaths set in 1956 was all but certain to be exceeded.

The safety council has estimated the toll might range from 80 to 120. A spokesman said early today the total might not exceed the 120 figure.

The death toll mounted slowly during the first half of the holiday period—about 1.5 an hour, well under that which might be expected in a comparable mid-week non-holiday period of late May.

But as highways became clogged with millions of motorists returning from holiday outings, the pace increased and late Wednesday Americans were dying on the highways at a rate of more than five an hour.

The holiday began at 6 p.m. local time Tuesday.

The 10:30 a.m. EDT tally by United Press International showed 106 persons dead in traffic accidents during the holiday period, which ended at midnight, local time.

The breakdown: Traffic, 106; drowning, 37; planes, 13; miscellaneous, 22; totals, 171.

California led the nation with 13 traffic deaths. Michigan and Pennsylvania each counted seven dead. Maryland, Ohio and Texas each had six traffic fatalities. New York had five. Illinois, Georgia, Nebraska, Kentucky and Missouri each had four highway deaths.

The nation's worst single traffic accident during the holiday claimed five lives when a car crashed into a tree near Sunderland, Md.

Be sure, girls, when you return from vacation, to call your regular boy friend by his right name.

Three plane crashes within Chatahouque County resulted in 20 minutes in New York's six deaths.

Cuban Teenager Finds New Home And Family

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
As I arrived at the home of Fr. and Mrs. John Griffith last Saturday afternoon, Ernesto Pou was just returning from helping Fr. Griffith and other residents of the area keep a fire, burning on Vihlen Road for several days, from spreading into their land.

Fr. Griffith is curate at Holy Cross Episcopal Church in Sanford.
Ernesto or "Tico" as he is known and likes to be called, is a Cuban refugee who has been adopted by the Griffiths. Wishing to receive him in their home for Easter, they put in application for adoption on Good Friday, however it was five days before they were able to meet Tico at the Sanford Bus Station and bring him to his new home. Mrs. Griffith says that he enjoyed the bus ride very much and even now when they go into town and he sees a bus, his face lights with pleasure.

In Cuba Tico was a first class Boy Scout until Castro took over and everyone was put into a Militia. (In Cuba it is Militia.) I asked him if there were fires in Cuba like the one he had just been fighting and he said that Castro forced them to go out and fight fires in the sugar cane fields.

He was perspiring freely and I asked him if this hot weather bothered him. "No, it is hotter down there," he said. Tico has never seen frost since 41 degrees is the lowest it ever gets in Cuba and he is anxious for our next cold weather to get here.

The youngster has a most wonderful sense of humor which Mrs. Griffith says is a necessity "in order to stay around here" and I can vouch for this as is further explained.

Tico found out that Fr. Griffith has a pet peeve against someone crunching ice and now he slyly torments the head of the household in this manner when the opportunity occurs. Too, there is an electric fence around the property to keep the horses in and the youngster has caught Father several times by charging it.

But, Tico gets repaid, as I witnessed once during the interview when I asked him if he liked beatniks. Since he didn't know what a beatnik is, Mrs. Griffith and I were seeking a way to explain when Father came in for iced tea to give the fire fighters. Tico jumped up and asked Father if he were a beatnik, who jokingly wrestled the youngster till he was begging, "Please, please, Father." It seems that Tico is hopelessly ticklish and I felt privileged to see the wonderful friendship and understanding that has developed between these two as evidenced in their moment of play.

Fr. Griffith says that although the young refugee has only been with his family a comparatively short time, "it seems as if forever and he shares as one with us."
Tico calls the Griffiths' three-year-old daughter, Adrienne, "his shadow" for every move he makes she is right at his side. Although our photographer arrived early enough to include the children in the family picture, I did not get to see Adrienne or little brother, Mark, since they were taking their afternoon nap.

When it is time for the school bus to bring Tico home in the afternoons, Mrs. Griffith reports that we Adrienne hears it "a long way back" and is ready and waiting for the stop nearest their home.

Tico, who is in the ninth grade at Seminole High (in Cuba there are eight years of school and two of general college) loves the Glee Club and tried to tell me his voice range by gesturing with his hand held low. We asked if he meant "bass," but he wasn't sure and had to refer to the dictionary after which he confirmed "yes, that was it." He said he is very fond, too, of Miss White, the glee club director.

His hobby is making model planes and when I asked him what he wanted to be, he spoke again with his hands indicating that he wants to be a pilot. He loves sports, especially football and swimming, however, when I asked if he likes our American foods, everyone burst out in laughter. Mrs. Griffith went on to explain that Tico puts tobacco and catsup on everything and makes sandwiches of just the tobacco and catsup. He likes peanut butter on icecream and also likes black beans but neither Mrs. Griffith or I yet understand just how he likes them prepared.

He has made his own small garden and tells us that someone is going to send him some seed from Cuba.

He is very impressed with the way American boys dress and is especially fond of the new style pointed shirts and of our loafers. He loves to do all the modern dances, especially the twist and also likes American records.

About this time, Tico stepped out to get a shovel "left in the fire" and Mrs. Griffith went on to tell me that he hasn't yet chosen a favorite singer.

As he returned, happy to have found the shovel "still okay," Bill Duxbury, one of his new found friends, arrived to take him swimming out at the home of their science teacher, Paul Hickson, in Lake Mary.

Fr. Griffith says that they don't ask or press Tico about things that have occurred back in Cuba, since they feel when he wants to talk about his past life, he will tell them freely.

Tico tells me that he is very happy and wants to stay with his new family and is looking forward to a wonderful summer shared with them and the horses he loves so well and is learning to ride.

He gave us a nice "good-bye" when he and Bill left for swimming, telling the time they would be home and told me "see you Monday morning."

I am his schoolbus driver and he is a most gracious and well-mannered passenger.

Demos To Meet
The last meeting before Summer recess of the DeBary Democratic Club will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the DeBary Fire Hall on Colomba Road.

ERNESTO POU "Tico" took a minute last Saturday afternoon from his busy new American way of life to sit for a photo with his newly adopted family, Fr. and Mrs. John W. Griffith and small Mark and Adrienne. The young Cuban refugee, adopted by the Griffiths near Easter time, is a freshman at Seminole High and is rapidly finding his place in the home, in the school and in the community. (Herald Photo)

AHS Chapter Installs Officers

By Shirley Wentworth
New officers of the Mid-Florida Chapter of the American Hibiscus Society were installed Sunday afternoon at a meeting of the group held at the home of Col. and Mrs. J. N. Ancrum of Cecelia Drive in Bear Lake.

Herbert Gilliard, treasurer of the society, gave the installation address and also presented a demonstration on judging and showing of the hibiscus.

Installed were Mrs. John Tipton of Winter Park, president; Mrs. Joan R. Harrelson of Orlando, vice president; Mrs. Bobbi Prather of Winter Park, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto DeLorenzi of Winter Park, corresponding secretary and Earl Barham of Orlando, treasurer.

Complaints 'Pile Up'

MIAMI — A Miami auto parts firm has been charged with Wage-Hour law violations in a suit filed in the United States District Court here.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has asked the court to restrain the Alter Sales Company, Inc., 1125 N.W. 71st Street, and Ben Alter, individually, from violating provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The complaint alleges that the defendants paid some employees less than the legal minimum established by the Federal Wage-Hour law, that they failed to compensate some workers at the proper overtime rates, and that they violated the record-keeping provisions of the Act.

Clem J. Denicke, supervisor of the Miami Wage-Hour office at 1775 S.W. Third Avenue, said that the present minimum wage for most employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce is $1.15 an hour. The rate will advance to $1.25 an hour on Sept. 3, 1963, Denicke said.

The Missing 8,000

Where were you Tuesday? We're of course speaking to the some 8,000 voters that were too busy—who didn't show up at the polls.

We're of course talking to the 300 voters in the Forest City precinct that were too busy to take an interest in whether they had fire protection or not.

Wednesday we ran a picture on the front page showing the Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce dumping in the trash some 8,000 ballots that were blank.

Yes, blank because people were too busy to vote.

There seems to be only one way to get people out to vote and we strongly urge our governing body to consider making it mandatory for all homesteaders to register and VOTE OR LOSE THEIR HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.

Does that sound silly? Perhaps, but how can we get everyone to take care of their democratic right?

Was It Worth It

When a Billie Sol Estes case breaks into the national spotlight, it raises some fundamental questions about the relations among men, government and business.

Is immorality, in the broad sense, more common today than it used to be in the larger realms of practical affairs? Particularly, is government more corrupt, more subject to improper influence?

On the wider question, much argument rages, with somewhat inconclusive result.

A panelist on a recent television discussion of religion and morality suggested that men today are no more wicked than ever before in history. He believes simply that the world's much greater absolute numbers mean, however, that wrongdoing must inevitably bulk larger on the human scene and make more striking impact on men's affairs.

Possibly this is as sane a generalization as can be safely made on the broad matter of immoral practice.

But a look at the more specific inquiry into the present moral vulnerability of government puts another important aspect on the issue.

The vastly enlarged scale of government's activities has greatly maximized the opportunities for wrongdoing. A federal government spending upwards of 80 billion dollars a year acts as a powerful magnet to thousands who find its temptations well nigh irresistible.

Today Washington passes out billions in payments to farmers, to welfare clients, to other needy persons. It pumps money into faltering small businesses and depressed areas. It makes fantastic outlays for defense and foreign aid. The great interstate highway program alone is now costing three billion dollars a year in U. S. funds.

Huge sums are spent for what seem mere incidental phases of larger government programs, such as the storage of surplus crops or the shipping and handling of food for underdeveloped countries.

Much of this money passes through many hands. Much of it is subject to many individual judgments as it is being paid out. Billions flow from place to place and from hand to hand in quiet backwaters far from public glare.

All these conditions spell opportunity today to the obviously larger numbers of men who are themselves corrupt, and seek to corrupt or unduly influence others.

It should not be thought that such men limit their corrupting efforts to the lavish activities of government. There is ample recent testimony to the existence of such practices in business and labor. And it should not be forgotten that in the matter of improper spending in government programs, it often takes two to tango—including a corrupt outsider.

Yet the big point is that in an age inescapably more numerous, the steady dispensing of billions of poorly monitored federal funds represents an unparalleled opportunity for serious abuse.

Dick West Says

How About Spy Writers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One recent enchanted evening a lady at the canape table pointed across the crowded room to a bearded stranger standing by the bar.

"There's someone you ought to meet," she said.

"How so?" said I.

"He used to be a spy," she said, "and he has written a book about his experiences. I understand that he's a fine writer but a lousy spy."

Mother always told me to beware of bearded strangers, but curiosity overcame me. I picked my way through the milling herd and shortly was talking with Peter Tompkins, who introduced himself as the author of "A Spy In Rome."

He explained that he was once a newspaper correspondent in Italy and that during the war he spent five months behind the lines as an intelligence agent for the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

As tactfully as possible, I mentioned what the lady had said about his being a better writer than a spy.

"Actually I was a very good spy," Tompkins said. "This criticism comes from people who have never been spies themselves. They have fixed notions about how a spy should operate."

"If a spy doesn't behave in the traditional manner the non-spies sneer at him even if he had excellent results."

I asked Tompkins what he was supposed to have done wrong.

"For one thing, I kept a diary," he said. "That is considered bad form. Traditionally, a spy writes everything on a tiny slip of paper so that if he gets caught he can swallow it."

"What else did you do?" I asked.

"I kept copies of the daily intelligence reports," he said. "Couldn't have managed without them. A spy who destroys everything is likely to get hopelessly confused."

"Anything else?" I said.

"There was a feeling back in headquarters that spies should get their information from the people we had been fighting against," Tompkins said.

"I took the position that the people who had been fighting on our side were likely to be more reliable."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Establishment of the U. S. Department of Agriculture by Abraham Lincoln just 100 years ago is, of course, not what made the Great Emancipator one of the three greatest presidents, along with Washington and Jefferson.

But a case can be made that the founding of this big government agency has had a most profound effect on U. S. civilization and its standard of living.

The story of this century of progress in agriculture is told in the 63rd of the department's yearbooks, "After a Hundred Years."

If you're not on your congressman's list to get one free, you can buy it from Government Printing Office for $8. And it is something that every farm home and school could well own.

It is a monumental record of 700 pages and 700 pictures, edited by Alfred Steffrud from the writings of 148 authors, all but 11 of whom work for the department.

The narrative they have put together is really a great human story of the American farmer who, by his wit and wisdom, really built the country and is responsible for its unsurpassed technological and scientific advances.

The War Between the States was only nine months old when President Lincoln signed the act creating a Department of Agriculture. Together with two other acts he signed that same year of 1862 the way was cleared for America's great rural development, although these are not the most widely known of Mr. Lincoln's achievements.

One of these was the Homestead Act which speeded settlement of the West. The other was the Land Grant College Act which created the state universities and their experiment stations where farmers of the last century were educated. This year these Land Grant schools have enrolled one-fifth of all students in institutions of higher education.

There are over 100 chapters in this book, grouped in 11 sections covering American agriculture's history, plants, conservation, forests, animals, insects, technologies, markets, economics, homes and people. It is a book of thousands of facts, many little realized. There is the story of the Beltsville, Md., research center, heart of the revolution in U. S. agriculture for the last 50 years. There is the story of Howard Scott Gentry, explorer who has brought back 9,800 foreign plants.

A hundred years ago farmers got 80 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Today it is 300. Improvements are made in wheat varieties every year, a story that has no end.

Ninety-five per cent of America's corn acreage is now planted with hybrid seed producing 20 per cent more on 28 per cent fewer acres. Grass and forage are now grown on a billion acres. The forest acreage is now 770 million, one-third of the land, after 150 years of ruthless waste.

The average farm worker in 1862 produced enough food and fiber for only four to five people. Today he can supply the needs of 26. Last year U. S. farmers supplied one-fifth of the farm products in world trade. All U. S. farm production in 1961 was valued at $35 billion.

By the year 2000 agricultural production will have to be doubled to feed an estimated 380 million people. At present rates of production that would require 400 million acres of cropland that do not now exist. It is anticipated that adequate supplies will be made available by further increased yields from improved technologies. This is the success story of U. S. agriculture.

This book is the pretty side of the story, of course, though there are chapters on "Lean Years" of depression and the emerging "Experiments for Survival." There are no critical chapters on the mistakes that may have been made in government farm policy—the human mistakes of the farm lawmakers that the farmers have had to overcome to succeed.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE M-434: Terry T., aged 48, is typical of husbands at the climacteric.

"Humph," he snorted recently at the breakfast table. "This toast is burnt."

"After 20 years of marriage, can't you do ANYTHING right?"

And with that taunt to his devoted wife, he abruptly left the table.

"I'll get my breakfast downstairs where they REALLY know how to cook," he verbally rubbed salt into the wound, as he slammed the door on his way out.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," his wife tearfully explained in my office, "Terry used to be so sweet and understanding."

"He would never have been so tactless or critical in our first 18 years of marriage."

"For he helped me with the children and was unselfish and affectionate."

"But these last two years he has been hunting for excuses to scold me. And if I am not in error, then he picks on the children till they burst into tears."

"Dr. Crane, what on earth has come over Terry? He has changed so much he is like a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

"Wives, scrapbook this case for it is a classic in psychiatry."

We doctors get it thousands of times, and from educated, college families, too.

Why do you suppose a devoted, affectionate husband "suddenly" turns into a hypercritical, caustic and cruel dictator?

Well, you need not wonder long, for this is a typical case of a man whose ego has been severely wounded, and usually in man's most vulnerable spot, namely, the sexual realm.

"How long has your marriage been platonic?" I asked his wife.

"How did you know?" she inquired in surprise at my blunt query.

"Just the batting averages," I answered, "for your husband is like thousands of others whom we doctors confront every week."

Then she admitted that their marriage had been platonic for two years, which was the duration of Terry's caustic, hypercritical tantrums.

Women are normally very industrious and diligent, but I find you wives woefully indolent about taking these gems of psychiatry at face value.

For 25 years I have warned America about the strange psychology of the male.

You wives often argue or smile in disbelief. Or apparently figure:

"Such a problem can NEVER occur in our home for our marital bliss is too perfect."

Then you hound me via long distance for emergency help, after finally confessing that your marriage has turned sour, just like millions of others.

Why do you suppose 25% of all marriages are now ending in divorce?

And another 25% are unhappy, though not dissolved via the courts?

Well, it is largely because you normally industrious wives are too indolent in your boudoir!

You seem to think that because a young husband is ardent and the aggressor, he will always remain that way.

Send for my booklet "How To Stop Platonic Marriages," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. And see tomorrow's follow-up.

Palmer Favored In Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — A field including the 1961 National Open winner, this year's Masters' champ and most of the golfers they defeated in those two outings was ready to tee off today in quest of the Memphis Open's $40,000 jackpot.

Arnold Palmer, golf's money king and Masters' titlist, and last year's Open champion Gene Littler are among the 160 shotmakers vying for the $40,000 first prize.

Palmer ranked as the pre-tournament favorite on the basis of his four straight tournament victories. But South Africa's Gary Player, his most consistent challenger, will be out to avenge his defeat in the Masters playoff.

Ailing Gary Middleoff of Memphis, last year's titlist, is back to defend his championship. The homegrown golfer, who has been bothered recently by back trouble, fired a record 266 to take honors in 1961.

Palmer and Player were the center of a controversy involving the Memphis Open last year that reached international proportions. They, along with Canada's Stan Leonard, asked Memphis Open officials to release them to take part in the International Canada Cup matches set for San Juan, Puerto Rico, on the same date as the Memphis event.

Memphis officials refused the request, quoting a PGA rule which requires the top 25 money winners and those with a tournament victory within the last year to play in all PGA-sanctioned events or refrain from playing at all while a PGA-sanctioned tournament is in progress.

The PGA threatened the golfers with $500 fines and six-month suspensions from the tour. All three withdrew from the Canada Cup competition and sat out the Memphis tournament.

Legal Notice

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF AND FOR SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA. CHANCERY NO. 13066.

MILLARD J. DOTT and LUCILLA A. DOTT, his wife, Defendants. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 13th day of June at 11:00 A. M. at the main door of the Court House of Seminole County, at Sanford, Florida, the undersigned Clerk will offer for sale to the highest and best bidder for cash the following described real property:

Lot 1, Block 12, WEATHERFIELD FIRST ADDITION, according to the plat thereof as recorded in Plat Book 12, pages 48 and 51, Public Records of Seminole County, Florida. Together with all structures, improvements, fixtures, appliances, and appurtenances on said land or used in conjunction therewith.

Jahr Hurls No - Hitter, Slams 2 Homers

Has Field Day At Bat Cage

By Ronnie Broadway Herald Sports Editor
Mike Jahr pitched a no-hit game and had two home runs, including a grand slam as he led Perfection Dairies to a 13 hit attack in a 20-0 win over Florida State Bank in Sanford Little League play.

Jack Wilber, vice president of the sportmen, is given much credit for helping out the youth group in its efforts to establish an active club and schedule of activities.

The boys have staged a three-day survival camp, a pine tree planting program and a membership drive.

"What we need, though, is someone to act as adviser on a steady program of events that will attract more and more boys into the club," Dwight said.

One goal of the club is to gain members among the boys in the younger years of the eight to 18 bracket eligible to join. And this is a real good goal.

Just think what it could mean to the future of a state like Florida if the majority, or even a large number of boys aged eight could be started on an educational program like this and kept at it for 10 years — they might completely rehabilitate public interest in preserving our natural resources, practicing safety measures and replace a lot of pool rooms with boys' camps.

Adults are forever giving the devil to young boys who get into trouble because they have little else to do and little advice on what to do. Now here's a real opportunity for some grownup to give them a boost instead of a knock.

Volunteers may contact the club through Dwight Dixon, by telephoning FA-6940.

It could be a satisfying endeavor for somebody — so why not about three men pitching in to share the load of helping make a real program for these boys?

Bout Training NEW YORK (UPI) — Stan Harrington of Honolulu was scheduled only for roadwork and shadow-boxing today in training for Saturday night's nationally televised bout against Charley Scott of Philadelphia. Harrington had his final boxing drill Wednesday.

2-7 twice, Marge Kipp, Beverly Grabarkiewicz and Shirley Martin all made the 4-5, Verna Bolton got the 5-6-10, Vasa McMillan spared the 5-8-10, and Ellen Betts topped them all with the 3-6-10.

Bums Make Happy Liar Out Of Alston

By United Press International
The Los Angeles Dodgers needed only one look at the Polo Grounds to make a happy liar out of manager Walt Alston.

"We don't knock down any fences—we just rely on singles, steals and sacrifices," Alston said Wednesday when the Brooklyn expatriates showed up at the historic horseshoe ballpark for the first time since 1937.

A crowd of 35,704 — the largest Polo Grounds turnout in 20 years—then watched the Dodgers hit seven home runs in sweeping their holiday doubleheader over the New York Mets, 13-6 and 6-5.

The twin victories increased the Dodgers' latest winning streak to 10 straight and left Casey Stengel's Mets staggering with 10 consecutive defeats.

Willie Davis, Maury Wills and Ron Fairly each hit a pair of homers and Frank Howard added one for Alston's men. Davis' second clout of the day provided the Dodgers with their winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap after Sandy Koufax coasted to victory behind a 19-hit attack in the opener.

The infant Mets also provided their fans with a chance to cheer when they pulled off a triple play in the sixth inning of the second game.

Gil Hodges, playing against his former Dodger teammates, also rocked the old park to its foundation by hitting three homers to tie Ralph Kiner for 10th place on the all-time home run list with a career total of 369.

The Giants remained 1 1/2 games ahead of the second place Dodgers in the National League race by downing the Philadelphia Phillies twice, 4-3 in 12 innings and 5-2. The Cincinnati Reds outlasted the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3, in 16 innings after dropping the opener of their twinbill by the same score, the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, and the Houston Colts edged the Chicago Cubs, 8-6, in 14 innings.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians club to their 1 1/2 game lead over the New York Yankees by splitting their double-header with the Baltimore Orioles by identical 7-0 scores. The Yankees dropped an 11-inning, 5-4 verdict to the Minnesota Twins at night after winning their morning opener, 10-1.

The Chicago White Sox also split with the Detroit Tigers, winning the nightcap, 6-3, after suffering a 7-3 setback in the opener; the Kansas City Athletics bounced back from an 8-0 defeat to clip the Washington Senators, 5-2 and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox twice, 10-5 and 4-0.

Joe Pagan singled home the Giants' winning run in the 12th inning of the opener to give Stu Miller his third victory of the season. Miller also relieved in the ninth inning of the nightcap and retired the Phils with the help of a double play. The Giants collected 27 hits in the twinbill.

Don Blasingame's run-scoring single in the 16th inning earned the Reds their split with the Braves. Milwaukee had tied the score at 3-3 in the ninth inning when Hank Aaron scored on Gus Bell's sacrifice fly.

Speedway Purse Hits Epic Figure

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — New Speedway king Rodger Ward's record roar around the Indianapolis oval figures out to at least $240 a mile.

Ward's average rate of 140,282 miles an hour was the fastest yet. And what is just as pleasing to a professional driver, his purse also figures to reach the record proportions of $120,000, maybe more.

It was the second Speedway victory for the 41-year-old Ward, who is due to receive the paycheck tonight.

Ward, who took a lot of pre-race kidding about his age compared to the ages of some other drivers, indicated afterward he intends to go right on competing without stepping aside for the young drivers coming up.

And Ward and A. J. Watson, builder of the winning car, both showed slight dissatisfaction with the winning car despite the record speed.

Ward commented that the car "didn't run quite as fast as I thought it would, but it ran quite well." Said Watson, "We didn't have the power in the straightaways, and Rodger had to drive harder in the corners."

That payoff will make him the richest driver ever to run on the ancient 2 1/2 mile track, and it'll increase his total earnings from the Speedway to about $250,000.

His dollar earnings just about equal the number of people in the crowd who watched him Wednesday, when he held his own in the early going with faster rivals and then was in excellent position and condition to take charge in the late going.

Youngster Farnell Jones, the only driver ever to run an official Speedway lap over 150 miles per hour, set the pace from the start. He led unofficially for 123 of the first 124 laps. But during that stretch, his brakes gave out. Thus when he had to come in to the pits for tires, fuel and re-assurances, Ward was ready to take charge. He moved in front and led until only 40 laps remained in the 200 lap race.

At that point, he made his third stop for fuel and tires and teammate Len Sutton took charge for nine laps before he paused to pit and Ward set the pace for the last 30 laps.

Sutton, driving a twin to Ward's car, finished second to give car owner Bob Wilke of Milwaukee a one-two finish, the third time in Speedway history. The only previous occasions were in 1947 and 1948 when Mauri Rose and Bill Holland ran one-two each year in Blue Crowns specials owned by Lou Moore.

The first four finishers broke the old speed record of 139.13 set by A. J. Foyt in winning last year. Sutton was timed at 140.167, third place Eddie Sachs at 140.075, and fourth place Don Davis at 139.768.

The scorching speed came despite five accidents which slowed the field to speeds of not more than 120 miles per hour for 38 minutes and 18 seconds. Two drivers, Jack Tuener and Roger McCluskey, were hospitalized with injuries classed as not serious.

Mrs. W. H. Young Installed As CWF President

The Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church installed new officers for the coming year at the monthly meeting at the church. Mrs. J. T. Cannon, DeLand, who is state CWF president, was installing officer.

Mrs. W. H. Young is the new president; Mrs. H. K. Ring, vice president; Mrs. Bart Henson, secretary and Mrs. Lester Tharpe, treasurer. Mrs. Milt Willis is study chairman; Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., service chairman, and Miss Flo Bishop, study chairman.

Mrs. Ring presented Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Young and retiring president, Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., with corsages. All other officers received gardenias.

During the business meeting, circles reported their various activities. Circle two will hold a luncheon meeting at the Rikaha Inn in June and Circle Three has started a new drive for used clothing.

The June meeting will begin with the annual covered dish dinner, followed by a film purchased by Circle One. Refreshments were served by hostesses for the evening, Mrs. J. N. Barnett and Mrs. G. W. Roland.

Tea Honors Miss Rose Kratzert

Mrs. Martin Stinecpher and daughter, Miss Grace Marie Stinecpher, were co-hostesses for a mother-daughter graduation tea at their home, 2404 Park Ave., recently.

Guest of honor was Miss Rose Kratzert, one of the Seminole High School seniors.

The Stinecpher home was decorated throughout with floral arrangements featuring the red and white class colors. Large red candles adorned with miniature diplomas and with red ribbon, white gardenias and other appropriate arrangements were placed at vantage points in the living room and hall.

Mrs. C. L. Park Sr., met the guests at the door, Mrs. Homer Little presided at the guest book and introduced guests to the receiving line, composed of the honoree, Miss Kratzert, her mother, Mrs. W. A. Kratzert, and the two hostesses.

The tea table was overlaid with a white madras cloth and centered with a low old fashioned nosegay of red geraniums, gardenias, and baby's breath, in a silver bowl, topped with a sweet girl graduate.

Two large three tiered candelabras, with tall red tapers, the punch bowl surrounded with red tulle, gardenias, and illuminated by candelabra with burning tapers. A large group of guests including all girls of the senior class, their mothers, faculty members and all of Rose's classroom teachers during her four years in SHS called during the appointed hours of 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Other assisting with the baby's breath and silver appointments completed the table arrangements.

Mrs. W. R. Fort and Mrs. W. P. Brooks Jr. presided at the punch bowl. Silver trays of assorted red and white sandwiches, nuts and cakes were served with the punch.

Others assisting with the serving were Mrs. C. A. Beck, Mrs. C. W. Beck, Mrs. Blanton Owen and the Misses Linda A. Williams, Myra Meeks, Carol and Sheryl Stemper.

The 1962 Salamagundi, just off the press, was proudly displayed for everyone to see. It was surrounded by gardenias, roses and miniature diplomas.

Anniversary Celebrated At Dinner - Party

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Arenz, Lake Drive, DeBary, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a dinner-party given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Ljungberg, at their home on Shell Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Arenz came to DeBary from Tonawanda, N. Y., eight years ago.

Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. James Grenier, of Orchard Park, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Kephart, Apopka; Mrs. Harry Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Thompson of DeBary.

Evie Dossey, Bride-Elect Honored At Kitchen Shower

Mrs. Sherwood Barbour and Mrs. Eddie Barbour Jr. were co-hostesses for a kitchen shower this week honoring Miss Evie Dossey, bride-elect, at the Sherwood Barbour home on Bryant Lane.

A raft of spring flowers floated in the swimming pool, where the guests enjoyed a dip from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

A delicious supper was served in the garden. The menu included hamburgers, corn on the cob, baked potatoes, tossed salad, chips, dips, pickles, cookies and cold drinks.

The honoree received many useful gifts. Guests included Evie's mother, Mrs. Earl Dossey, Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Haskins, Mrs. Richard Stock, Mrs. Tom Brown, Mrs. Gene Smith, Miss Barbara Flynn, Miss Jean Henson, Mrs. Robert Yourshaw, Mrs. Frankie Ballard and the Misses Vicki Ferguson, Deanna Nichols, Tonya Winn, Duane Vihlen, Ronnie Wiggins, Patricia Wiggins, Betty McNeill, Cindy May and Sue Howell.

PLAY UP FRECKLES

Women who have freckles should use them to advantage. Let them show through a flattering veil of make-up foundation when you don sports clothes, for they give the appearance of youth.

The dress worn by the bride's mother should be soft, feminine rather than startling, and a subdued shade.

Graduate Feted At Garden Party

An afternoon garden party was given recently for Miss Dorothy Benton, a June graduate, celebrated by Mrs. E. O. Keith and Mrs. George H. Alford at the Keith home, 218 East 18th Street.

DOROTHY BENTON

The red and white colors, chosen by the 1962 graduate class, were used in decorations for the refreshment table. Cold drinks, cake, nuts and mints were served to the guests.

Those attending were Pat Place, Ruby Cowen, Nancy Prentiss, Margaret Diamond, Virginia Warfel, Karla Wellborn, Brenda Benton, Sandy Leeds, Carol Wheeler, Dorothy Benton, Mrs. Gilbert Benton and Mrs. Jack Benton.

Couple Surprised At Anniversary Dinner - Party

Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Hall of DeBary, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on June 5, were surprised in advance with a party recently by Mrs. George Spaulding.

The hostess had her home decorated in a yellow, white and gold color scheme. The buffet table was laden with home made foods in a setting of silver, crystal and china. Sixteen friends of the couple enjoyed the celebration with the honorees.

Jane Lundy Celebrates Birthday

By Jean Lyles
Miss Jane Lundy celebrated her 16th birthday with a party at her parents home in Oviedo.

A group of friends were invited to the party from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. for an evening of dancing and fun in the Florida room.

Refreshments of birthday cake, chips, dips and cold drinks were served to: Diane Aulin, Carol Beasley, Dian Gaydick, Gay Ulrey, Suzanne Partin, Ann Ridenour, Ann Slavik, Rhoda Haynes, Druce Warden, and Judy Jacobson.

Graduate Honored With Splash Party And Cookout

Mrs. L. L. Enos and Mrs. Marcel Faille were co-hostesses for a splash party recently at the Enos home on Decottes Ave.

The party was in honor of Miss Phyllis Spencer, a member of the graduating class of Seminole High School.

A group of friends arrived at 5:30 p.m. and enjoyed swimming in the pool during the early part of the evening. Later they all went to the home of Mrs. Faille on Valencia Drive for a cook-out.

The patio was gaily decorated in red and white and dolls dressed in caps and gowns graced the refreshment table. Singing and dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

Guests enjoying the party with Phyllis were Janice Moore, Janet Abrams, Susan Oylar, Jane Powell, Jean Crews, Ruby Cowen, Margo Dunn, Pat Place, Sandy Leeds, Brenda Sizemore, Terri Roemines and Sally King.

THE 'TIGERS' new skipper's wife, Mrs. Edgar J. Boudinot, center, greets two newcomers, Mrs. Hugh Wilson and Mrs. William Winberg, left to right, as they drop by her charming Mayfair home for a short visit. The newcomers' husbands are now serving as pilots with the "cigar-smoking" Tigers of VAH-1.

Lake Mary Residents Feted At Dinner Party

By Frances Wester
A dinner party, combining the celebration of the birthday of J. D. Cochran and the 34th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cochran, was held at the Sam Cochran home in Lake Mary.
A huge cake in the shape of a heart decorated in a blue and white color scheme with one half commemorating the birthday and the other half the anniversary, was made by Mrs. Joe Smathers for the occasion.
Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee White, from Winter Garden, Mabel Puckett and Lim Cochran, from Sarasota, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cochran, from Jacksonville, James Cochran and family, from Bradenton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moon, from Oviedo, Horace Cochran, from Sanford, and Glenn Cochran and family of Lake Mary.

THEY'RE TWISTIN' THE PISTON . . . Louis Prima and June Wilkinson twist way out in scene from American International's "Twist All Night" . . . Sam Butera and the Witnesses are also starred in this riot of mirth and music of today's new twist craze which opens Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem has me walking the floor nights. I have a 56-year-old sister who is carrying on a friendship with a 29-year-old nephew. He is the son of another sister who died a year ago. This 60-year-old sister has him wrapped around her little finger. She tells him what to do and where to go. He is at her house every night. He takes her shopping, to the movies and even to night clubs. She thinks she is 19 and has a hold on him like a girl friend. She is a widow and never had children. When I told her she was being unfair to take up his time instead of letting him go with people his own age, she said I was jealous. At my age I am 64 and a widow myself. What can be done about this disgraceful situation?

WALKING THE FLOOR
DEAR WALKING: Your sister and your nephew BOTH need help, but neither will respond to it as long as they are satisfied with the present set-up. There is nothing you can do.

DEAR ABBY: No one had better tell a degrading mother-in-law joke to me! I have been ill for almost seven years. My own mother, who lives in the same town and enjoys good health and all the material advantages, has never spent one day with me in all those seven years. My mother-in-law, who is crippled and half-blind, has sacrificed everything to be with me and to help me. She has strengthened and uplifted me. She is my fountain of faith. She isn't very educated or clever, but she symbolizes true mother love. Bearing a child does not make a woman a mother. ETERNALLY GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: What are the obligations of godparents? Are gifts in order for all birthdays and special occasions? These questions have bothered me for a long time and I have been unable to find the answers. A READER

DEAR READER: Godparents traditionally assume the responsibility of a child's religious education in the event of his parents' death. Check with the child's clergyman for further responsibilities. The matter of "gifts" is optional.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ELAINE: No single crisis is ever wholly responsible for an emotional collapse. It is the trigger on a gun that is already loaded.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A bridge writer can't please all his readers all the time, or even come close to it. Thus a recent letter says, "I like your articles in spite of the fact that I think some of the bidding is crazy."

I am sure many readers will think that South's three heart bid was crazy, but that is what he actually bid. The result indicates that he was just about as crazy as a fox. Not only was he allowed to play four hearts when his opponents could have wrapped up four spades, but the defense slipped and he made his heart contract.

queen after East signaled with the six. East allowed the queen to hold and West led a third spade, whereupon South was able to draw trumps, lose the diamond finesse, but still have time to park his losing club on dummy's third diamond.

East pointed out that if West had shifted to a club after taking the queen of spades, the hand would have been set, but the actual fault was East's. East was looking right at the queen-jack-ten of clubs and the king of diamonds and East should have overtaken the queen of spades and led the club himself.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

One of America's leading weekly magazines has a regular feature under the heading "Speaking Out—The Voice of Dissent."

Recently the husband and wife team who "spoke out" attacked the country's grandmas in a bitter little piece called "Grandmas, Stay Away From My Door!"

Now banishing grandmas is hardly a new idea or a dissenting opinion. Young people today are encouraged on every hand to consider grandmas a menace.

And if grandma suffers a long illness and needs tender, loving care, where is she supposed to get it? In a rest home, of course, where her children won't have to be bothered.

If any magazine wanted to print an article with such an inhuman title as "Grandmas, Stay Away From My Door," at least they shouldn't have tried to pass it off as a dissenting opinion.

The truth is all too many grandmas today are being pushed away from their children's doors. It's not some bright new idea—it is a national sickness, this idea that once you are old you are no longer a member in good standing of your own family.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-8 p. m. CBS. Oh, Those Bells. Any popularity gleaned by this series is a tribute to the comedy of the stars, for the writing must be one of the show's "budget" items. A familiar plot about the all-important office information (a phone number) that goes astray, this time on a camping trip, and the vital paper is used to wrap a lizard. Herbie, Harry and Sylvester Bell are the stars.

7:30-8:30 p. m. NBC. The Outlaws. "Bely" (rerun) Better than the average in this series due to the clever characterization by star David Wayne. As a poor farmer, he is tempted by a huge sum of money when a hold-up man dies on his farm. Dianne Foster and Barbara Stuart are featured.

with stars Bruce Yarnell and Slim Pickens.
8-8:30 p. m. ABC. The Donna Reed Show. "Man in the Mask." Not up to par is this luke warm episode. Don Drysdale, pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers, plays himself and isn't as disturbed as Donna (Donna Reed) when son Jeff (Paul Peterson) doesn't accept the pitcher a hero's welcome when he visits the Stone home. Jeff has to umpire a girl's softball game and his disregard for Drysdale's advice results in a minor disaster.

8:30-9:30 p. m. NBC. Dr. Kildare. "Twenty - Four Hours" (rerun). Fans will remember this as the introductory program when young Kildare, trying to win a residency at Blair under Dr. Gillespie, ends himself up to his ears with a female alcoholic, ably played by Beverly Garland. His troubles with the lady lush are dull compared to the sharp critical treatment he gets from Gillespie. Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey are starred.

9:30-10 p. m. ABC. The Law and Mr. Jones. "The Man Who Wanted To Die." Consistent with previous episodes this one is provocatively novel and acting is high level, particularly our angry lawyer Jones (James Whitmore) and a stubborn district attorney (Tom Bosley). The D. A. unintentionally places Jones's client (George Brenlin) in double jeopardy.

CARDIFF, Wales (UPI) — Howard Winstone is the first Welshman in 40 years to win a Lonsdale belt, symbolic of a British boxing championship. To win permanent possession of a belt, a fighter must defend his crown successfully three times and Winstone made his third defense on Wednesday with a technical knockout over Harry Carroll of Cardiff after six rounds.

'Twist All Night' At Ritz
One of the most exciting instrumental vocalists of this musical era is Sam Butera, with his distinctively rocking voice and wild tenor sax.
Sam and the Witnesses are starred with Louis Prima and June Wilkinson in American International's "Twist All Night" which opens today at the Ritz Theatre.
Sam Butera first saw the light of day August 17, 1927 in New Orleans, and at the age of seven, started playing the saxophone. By the time he'd reached his eighteenth birthday, Sam was voted the outstanding teenage musician in Look Magazine's poll. The year was 1945.
A number of Southern colleges and Notre Dame offered scholarships to young Mr. Butera, but he decided in favor of a musical career and was proffered Sam Donahue's chair in the late great Tommy Dorsey's orchestra.
Later, Louis Prima spotted Sam's talent; took him under his expert tutelage, and today he's featured with the Prima aggregation wherever they appear; on Hot records, in fabulous nightclubs from Las Vegas to Miami and New York, in Hollywood motion pictures or television.

Fifth Graders Help Beautify School

Last fall the students in Mrs. Doris Duxbury's fifth grade room at Pinecrest volunteered to help the Beautification Chairman of the PTA, Mrs. John Carlton and Mrs. Carl Schilke in the planting and watering of new shrubs and trees on the east wings of the Pinecrest School.

The class came to school one day in their working clothes, bringing as many tools as they could carry. This day was spent in planting palm trees, ligustrum and viburnum, fertilizing, covering with top soil and watering. Some study had already been made in class about soils, fertilizers and general information about planting. Now the students branched out on related subjects—all kinds of plants and their uses, conservation, relation of animals to plants, climate, soil, water and many more. They also studied about people who experiment with plants and soil.

Each member of the class made a special report, made a drawing or did an experiment. Books about these many subjects were borrowed from the school and public libraries and brought from home.

All the while, several times a week, committees took care of the watering and weeding, besides keeping up with their daily work.

On Jan. 18, the work of the class was culminated by the presentation of an Arbor Day program for the whole school. Brief reports were made, favorite poems and songs about trees were given. Following the program, a tree was planted on the east side near the Library Wing.

Soon after this 250 red cedar trees were given by the Forestry Service and the class helped in their planting and added them to the number already being watered.

Six class members even came one Saturday morning and helped Mrs. Carlton plant border grass.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN of Seminole County will receive the benefit of this check for $37.50 which is being presented to Mrs. Laymon Goodman President of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Seminole County. The check is being handed to Mrs. Goodman by Carter Lee Noel the of 5-H Club who conceived the idea of putting on the benefit show which raised the money recently. From left are Gayle Woodard, Recreation Chairman, Becky Giles, club president, Mrs. Goodman, Miss Noel, Lynn McRoberts and Rob Riser, recreation chairman. (Herald Photo)

Oops!

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Kennedy has cancelled his subscription to the New York Herald Tribune, one of 14 newspapers delivered daily to the White House.

The Herald Tribune, being explained today on the first family's reading list by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, said editorially it hoped the President would change his mind.

In a front page story headlined, "We Get a Cancellation From Washington," the newspaper said: ". . . We would hope that the President has not cancelled his subscription because of hard reporting by our greatly respected staff or because of the critical nature of our editorial page when we have disagreed with him."

The newspaper called reports of a "feud" between Kennedy and the Herald Tribune "tommyrot."

The White House, which has been receiving 22 copies daily of the New York morning newspaper, did not attribute the cancellation to the fact the newspaper often disagrees with the administration. A spokesman said the President wanted to diversify his newspaper reading.

The Washington Post commented in today's editions that "the President and Mrs. Kennedy are known to have been annoyed more than once by sharp criticism and stories they believed were unfair in the Republican Herald Tribune."

Restaurant Entered

The Altamonte Springs Coffee Shop was broken into Tuesday night and $24.00 was taken from the record machine, according to a report from the Sheriff's office.

William Lancaster, proprietor of the restaurant, discovered the burglary this morning when he opened up for business. The thieves broke in through the back door of the restaurant. They were able to jimmy the juke box, but failed to gain entry to the money container in the cigaret machine.

Sheriff Hobby reports his staff is working on some leads toward the solution to the case.

Good Citizen Uncle Sam Sends Annual Check

By Ginny Skalak

Forty-eight years ago the Federal District Judge in Wheatland, Wyoming, granted citizenship to Severio d'Ambrosio, who had come to the U.S. from his home in Serrapetate, Cosenga, Italy to make his way in the new world.

SEVERIO D'AMBROSIO, of Five Points, is shown signing his annual check for $18.75 that he sends the Secretary of the Treasury, just for the privilege of being an American citizen. D'Ambrosio has sent his annual contribution to the government since he received his citizenship papers in 1914 in the Federal District Court in Wheatland, Wyoming. (Herald Photo)

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Begin Plans Now

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. for some weeks now has been looking ahead to the Fourth of July and planning for its second annual celebration staged in connection with the holiday.

Although it does raise funds for the department, the primary purpose behind the firemen's July 4 project is that of offering full-scale entertainment centrally located in the county so that our people, at least, won't have to get out on the already overcrowded highways to celebrate the holiday.

It isn't often that an area finds a single organization willing to work so long and so hard with the safety of its citizens in mind. Even the money made on the project goes to this cause since it is used for purchasing and replacing fire fighting equipment for the department which covers a wide spread area.

Although we're a little behind the firemen, just for the record why don't we, as individuals, begin our plans today to support their program by planning to spend a SAFE "fourth" in Longwood?

Mr. Magic Appears For Oviedo Benefit

By Jean Lyles

The Oviedo Athletic Assn. held a very successful fund raising show last Friday night in the school auditorium featuring Mr. Magic (Harry Wise) of Sanford. (Herald Photo)

Among the feats of magic performed by the talented Bobbie Cameron's hand appeared to be chopped off at the wrist although really only two carrots were cut into and a rope trick, where with the aid of Chuck Littleton and John Sargent, Mr. Magic passed the rope around his neck and down through the coat sleeves becoming securely tied. However, with a single motion and a shrug of the shoulders, he was instantly freed of any entanglement with the rope. The magician cautioned children in the audience against "trying this at home."

Chuck also was the victim of another trick where the magical maestro tucked two red scarfs in at the top of Chuck's belt and, with the aid of his assistance, gently tugged at the handkerchiefs which somehow had become a pair of boys' undershorts.

Sharon Parker, young lady from the audience, was given the dubious honor of being allowed to float on air while

Catholic Circle Sets Sales

By Donna Estes

St. Catherine of Siena Circle of Longwood will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the Super Valu Market on SR 436.

Household articles as well as clothing will be sold. Proceeds will be used to benefit the Catholic Church of the Nativity.

Lake Mary Firemen Plan Open House

Big plans now are in progress by members of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. and of the Auxiliary for an Open House to be held on Father's Day from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m. at the Fire Hall.

Arrangements are being completed to obtain speakers for the dedication program scheduled to get underway at 3 p. m. for the new addition to the building.

Residents and friends planning to attend the Open House and wishing to share in growth and improvement of the facility are invited to bring kitchen utensils and equipment suitable which could be of use in the numerous barbecues and suppers held at the hall.

Guests also will be invited for light refreshments and to tour the building and grounds for inspection of progress made by the department and the auxiliary.

South Seminole DWC Appoints Chairman

The South Seminole Democratic Women's Club appointed Mrs. Albert Grimwood chairman of a nominating committee for new officers at its May meeting. Officers will be elected in August and installed in September before the annual state convention of Democratic Women's Clubs scheduled for October.

Plans now are being completed by the South Seminole Club for the June 23 luncheon at the Rikaha Inn when the local group will host the Fifth Congressional District Council Meeting. Speaker for the luncheon will be Mrs. James J. Zerbe, state director of political activities and campaign chairman for the state clubs.

Mrs. Hope Bennett, president of the South Seminole Club, today urged that reservations be made as soon as possible by those planning to attend with Mrs. Fred Green.

Oviedo Students Attend Court

By Jean Lyles

Twenty-seven Oviedo High students of Arch Husick's business law class spent last Wednesday in Circuit Court where they heard an automobile accident liability case presented.

After the jurors were selected and sworn in, Judge Volle Williams, explaining the methods of their selection and the importance of jury duty, asked the students to urge their parents to take advantage of their voting privileges and stressed that when they become of age, they too should register and vote. Judge Williams advised the boys and girls that at the present time only a small percentage of the county's population is registered to vote and even a smaller percentage actually votes.

During the noon recess the class went to Seminole High for lunch, returning to remain through the afternoon court session.

Bear Lake Garden Circle Sets Bake Sale

The Bear Lake Garden Circle will sponsor a Bake Sale Friday beginning at 10 a. m. in front of the Public Market at the Northgate Shopping Center.

Chairman of the project is Mrs. Robert Kowalski who will be assisted by members of the circle.

Capacity Audience Sees South Seminole Show

By Jane Casselberry

A capacity audience packed South Seminole Elementary School's cafeteria at Casselberry last Friday night to see members of the faculty "let their hair down" as well as to see numerous talented youngsters from the student ranks perform.

As a result, $180 was realized towards the purchase of furniture for the teachers' lounge.

The teachers brought down the house with such uninhibited shenanigans as a spirited Charleston done by the "Hot Seminole 8 plus 2," made up teachers billed as "Bubbles" Shierlock, "Duzy" Dunn, "Blondie" Beacham, "Fifi" Ostrow, "Bootsie" Bose, "Blossom" Brown, "Tootsie" Thompson and "Candy" Miller. The "plus 2" were "Muscles" Babbitt and "Twinkletoes" Piniewski, school custodians.

Miss Helen McMullen made a shapely, if unconventional, grandmother as she appeared attired only in an orange swimsuit and a sign which read "grandmother." Mrs. Lois English was the wolf and Mrs. Nell Murray, the woodsman.

The teachers dressed up in country style for their version of an old fashioned square dance and a vocal trio of Miss McMullen, Mrs. Shierlock and Mrs. Hindman dedicated "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" to Principal Herold Heckenbach, who will not be at South Seminole next year.

Mrs. Nell Drueding, school music teacher, pantomimed an offkey version of "I Love Paris" from her perch atop the piano while wearing a lace evening gown and high-topped sneakers. Her accompanist was Heckenbach who had been thoughtfully provided with cotton for his ears.

Students, not to be outdone, planned and presented several amusing skits on their own initiative. Notable among these was one called "Peaches" which showed how identical lines from a recitation would be given by different ages from kindergarten through grandmother. Fifth grade girls taking part in this skit were Denise Cousin, Kathy Heinsen, Peggy Davis, Jo Ann Krug, Debbie Means, Kathy Heaven, Suzanne Giddens and Alice Ledford.

The Hully Gully was danced by Suzanne Giddens, Doris Aikens, Mary Frances Quarles, Shannon Vander Wall, Annette Repar, Joy Hornbuckle, Kathy Heaven, Nancy Shoemaker, Mary Lynn Porter, Linda Benton, Becky Clark, Becky Hague and Letty Cole. All the girls wore black leotards.

Second graders, featured in "The Three Little Pigs," were Russell Scott, Denise Long, Judith Stoniger, Perri Houghton, Catherine Craven and Meredith Row. A "Cinderella" skit was put on by Charles Engle, Karen Yeager, Cindy Bachelus, Linda Ledford and Cindy Hanas and Melissa Miller and Sharon Ledford, second graders, danced the Charleston and sang "Johnny Bingo."

Beverly Riley and Becky Reiker, charming pair of fourth graders, sang "Easter Parade" and danced the soft shoe. Susie Webber, sixth grader, gave a comic recitation.

Much serious talent also was displayed by the youngsters who danced, sang and played instruments.

Judy Gregg, talented sixth grader, showed great skill in a ballet number and Bonny Ball, also a sixth grader, did a modern song and dance routine.

Piano solos were given by George Karres, Sherry Kersey, Patricia Measick and Sharon Stiedley and accordion solos by Linda Matis and Janis Pope. A cadet drill was given by Linda Johnson and a solo by Byron Coleman, first grade youngster with perfect pitch.

SOUTH SEMINOLE Elementary teachers, billed as the "Hot Seminole 8" stole the show as they danced the Charleston at last Friday night's benefit talent program held in the school cafeteria. The teachers will appear again in today's 8:15 p. m. "Dance Away" at Seminole High for benefit of The Little Red School, Bottom photo shows teacher Mrs. Lois English as the wolf trying to lure the basket of sweets away from "Little Red Rooding Hide," Stanley Piniewski, the school custodian, on the way to Grandmother's house. ## Nine Complete Senior Course In Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry

Final tests were given Saturday morning at the swimming pool of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Joyce of Seminole Blvd., Casselberry, for the Lifesaving Class, first of its American Red Cross Senior kind offered in Casselberry.

Mrs. Martha Kilpatrick of Lake Mary served as director for the course. Instructors were Mrs. Tom Herald and Mrs. James Birkenmeyer of Casselberry and Mrs. Joseph Klein of Altamonte Springs.

Receiving their senior lifesaving certificates were Mrs. Pat Olsen, Mrs. David McCoy, Miss Donna McCoy, Mrs. Marian Lewis and Alan Birkenmeyer, all of Casselberry; Mrs. Harold Schoonmaker of Maitland; Mrs. Audrey Ramsey, Orienta Gardens and Mark and Russ Eppenger of Bear Lake.

It is hoped that some of the those completing the course will take part on the Red Cross Water Safety program starting June 7 at 7 p. m. at the Ft. Mellon Municipal Pool in Sanford.

Red Cross Swimming Courses will be taught this summer in the new pool now under construction at the Casselberry Country Club. Mrs. Birkenmeyer has announced the need for volunteer mothers to serve as swimmer aides. There are no special requirements to serve as an aide and interested mothers are asked to contact Mrs. Birkenmeyer or Mrs. Herald for further information.

Registration slips for the swimming courses will be passed out at local schools for children wishing to attend.

Oviedo Class Enjoys Picnic

By JEAN LYLES

Oviedo 10th grade students went to New Smyrna Beach Saturday for a picnic and all day outing.

Accompanying the class were Mrs. L. H. Webb and Jack Calvert, sponsors and Mr. Webb and Mrs. Joe Beasley as chaperones.

Cub Scout Pack 540 Receives Charter At Meeting Monday

By Jane Casselberry

Cub Scout Pack 540 of Casselberry held a Pack Meeting on Monday night at the Casselberry Community Methodist Church.

Dave Schelp, neighborhood commissioner, presented the Pack Charter to Burbon Ferrell, who represented the church's Men's Club which sponsors the pack. Ferrell, in turn, presented the charter to Cubmaster Wally Krohne.

Den Seven won the Pack Inspection and having received the honor den plaque for three months in a row, the cubs now have earned its permanent possession. Commissioner Schelp was the inspecting officer and Mrs. Diana Johnson is den mother.

Krohne introduced members of the Men's Club who were present and gave identification cards to den mothers, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Montgomery, Mrs. Frances Selje, Mrs. Elda Nichols, Mrs. Eleanor Dearolf and Mrs. Carolyn Miller and to Assistant Cubmaster George Miller and troop committee members, Darwin Shea and Jay Johnson.

New cubsosets receiving their bobcat pins were Eddie Rhoades, Keith Thompson, Frank Silwack, John Casselberry, James David Miller, and Gary Stoyer.

The following awards were made for advancement: wolf badge, Gregory Nichols, Lee Dearolf, Richard Pyne, Craig Young, Wayne Karcher and Dan Fortune; bear badges, Bobby Anles, Barzell Viner, Charles Lytle and Scott Thorne.

Gold arrows, Dan Fortune, Scott Thorne, Donald Hodge and Bart Grinstead; silver arrows, Dan Fortune, Charles Lytle and Bart Grinstead.

Awards were made to the boys who sold the most tickets to the Scout-O-Rama. Johnny Reams received a flashlight for selling 19 tickets, David Johnson, Peter Montgomery and Mark Werley each received a comb and manicure set as runnups in the ticket sales.

Casselberry COIC To Plan By-Laws

By Jane Casselberry

The newly reorganized and reactivated Casselberry Chamber of Commerce will meet this evening at the Town Hall, next door to the fire house on Lake Triplet Drive in Casselberry.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Betty Cass, temporary presiding officer of the group, more plans and discussion will take place concerning the formal reorganization of the south end Chamber. The discussion Thursday night will center around the by-laws of the organization.

Mrs. Cass would like it known that the Casselberry Chamber is open to all members of the Casselberry business community and is interested in promoting business in the south end of Seminole County.

P-TA To Meet For New School At Bear Lake

By Shirley Westworth

A meeting of the Bear Lake P-TA, now in the formative stages for the new Bear Lake Elementary School, will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the Altamonte Springs Elementary School auditorium.

All parents of children who will attend Bear Lake Elementary are urged to attend this meeting since information concerning the new school will be given at this time. Baby sitting service will be available and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the business session.

"NOW, DON'T WORRY," Mr. Magic tells Bobbie Cameron, "we're only going to cut off your hand at the wrist," and Bobbie appears not the least bit worried as he puts his arm in the dissecto machine. This was just one of the talented magician's many fetes for last Friday night's show sponsored by the Oviedo Athletic Assn. to raise funds for its new athletic field. (Herald Photo)
