KIDZONE

A new concept in safety, called KIDZONE will be presented this evening (Thursday, Aug. 3) at 7 p.m., in the Winter Springs subdivision of Forest Creek. KID-ZONE is sponsored by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, and the county's Public Safety and Engineering, working together to educate children and parents alike on vital issues relating to traffic safety, fire safety, stranger danger, bicycle safety, gun safely, water safety and other related topics.

Forest Creek will be the county's pilot community.

Persons interested in more information regarding KIDZONE in their community are asked to contact Robin Gleason at Seminole County Traffic Engineering, 407-665-5641.

Mel Douglas: In defense of the castle

By Ruse White Staff Writer

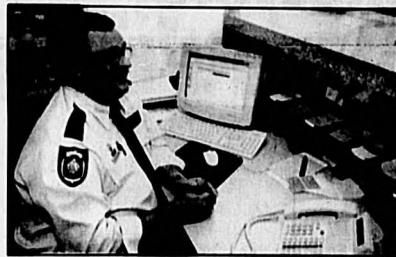

SANFORD - Mel Douglas has what he calls the best security jobs in the territory. Five days each week, he holds the fort at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

Douglas is an ex-Marine who amed a Purple Heart and Bronze Star in Vietnam. He went into the Marines when he was 17 and mustered out 21 years later.

More than 600 visitors come into the Sheriff's Office each week — none getting past Douglas until he approves their presence at the building.

A man with a warrant for his arrest came in recently to ask what he was supposed to do. Usually, a deputy sheriff would take the guy to the county jail. Since one wasn't available, Douglas showed the man where the jail was located and wished him well.

"I called to see if he checked

SCC helps residents who learn English as a second language

By Rebecca Grilliot Herald Intern

SANFORD — Those looking to learn or improve their English skills have the opportunity to take free English classes at Seminole Community College

English for speakers of other languages, which is for adults 16 years old and older, is designed for people who are learning English as a secondary language. A new session of ESOL classes begins Aug. 23.

"Most of the students in the program are very motivated," said Beth Larson, coordinator of the ESOL department at SCC. "They're here to learn and improve themselves. They know that they need to learn English in order to get a job or to get a better job."

The classes are free of charge to all U.S. citizens, permanent residents or refugees. Classes for non-residents with visas are also available for tuition.

Before students begin classes, they take placement tests which allow them to be placed in one of eight proficiency levels of

ESOL classes. Each level of classes last for seven and a half

All of the classes are total immersion, which means English is the only language used in the classroom.

According to Larson, Spanish is the first language for about 55 percent of the students, but there are a great deal of other languages represented in the classroom, including Portuguese, German, Russian, Chinese and French.

St. John's water district holds Aug. 8 meeting

By Nick Pleifauf Staff Writer

The St. Johns River Water Management District will hold a Regulatory Meeting Tuesday,

Aug. 8. Because of a lengthy agenda, some of the items may be held over for a second meeting the following day. Many items scheduled on the agenda include those pertaining to Seminole County. Among items listed for hearing under Environmental

Resource Permits are those pertaining to a mobile home park in Palm Valley, a residential development on 226.26 acres of land in The Sanctuary, the Live Oak Reserve Borrow Source, surface water to serve a 128.8 acre single family residential subdivision in Astor Farms, and construction of a Bridge Culvert on the Benson property. Classified under Temporary Consumptive Use Permits is an application by the City of Sanford pertaining to reclaimed water for Golf Course Irrigation. The Sanford/Orlando Airport is seeking a second extension to an emergency order listed under Items for Approval.

Oviedo police warn of scam aimed at elderly

From Staff Reports

The Oviedo Police Department has issued a Fraud Alert for telephone fraud targeting elderly victims.

Beaulieu, last month, a female identifying herself as being with the "National Clearing House Sweepstakes of Oakland City, Okla." victimized a 77 year old Oviedo woman. The female caller even offered the victim a toll-free 800 number for verification purposes. The caller repeatedly assured the elderly victim that Beaulieu said the collar told the victim she would receive a courier-delivered sweepstakes package of papers and checks with a gold seal in the corner. To collect the sweepstakes wined to use her credit card to pay the income tax of $950, to a specific telephone number provided by the caller.

The victim did as instructed, costing her $950 plus the wiring fee.

The victim was called again on Aug. 1. This time the caller told the victim she could not

The trickle-down effect of such lawlessness must not be underestimated. Law enforcement officials are more concerned with the trickle-down effect of activity other than the ordinary arrests for lewdness, overindulgence, brawling and the like.

As a rule, I stay at least five miles away from the Casselberry-Fern Park war zone in the late evening. I don't like being near the 17-92 and 436 intersection in the daytime. I'd feel safer at a demolition derby track. The cops call the place, "Hell's Gate."

I did venture into the war zone once. I had to cover the Nude Macbeth performance at Club Juana. I've known owner Mike l'inter awhile. He's a likable guy and bas had his club 35 years. I can't tell you if I saw criminal activity at the club. If bad acting is a crime, the Club Juana thespians should have been arrested. Hope they keep their day jobs.

My friend, Ernest, has bugged me for several years to take him to an area adult club where they have straddle dancing.

Before you make judgment, let me tell you about Ernest. He's blind.

Ernest said he had a great time years ago at a club in Tampa. He said he paid $5 for a dance.

"The girl offered me the dance for free," Ernest said. "She knew I couldn't see and she wanted to do this one free lap dance for me." Ernest insisted for her to keep the $5.

Ernest has since moved to Portland, Ore. We never went to the adult club. I took him to a movie instead. We tried to get him in half-price because he would need only the audio portion of the picture.

"I'd have preferred a lap dance," Ernest told me. Good luck in Portland, buddy. Seminole County is going out of the lap dancing business.

CLARIFICATION

In a report regarding the Sierra Club's objections to St. Johns Water Management District (SJWMD) on July 27, Jeff Cole, with the SJWMD Office of Communications was improperly quoted, regarding the forthcoming SJWMD Board meeting in the fall. "I didn't guarantee there would be no dilution of rules," he said. "The meeting hasn't been held and I can't guarantee what the board will do."

The Herald regrets the confusion.

Scholarships available for students with disabilities

From staff reports

Florida Education Commissioner Tom Gallagher has announced parents of students with disabilities can now take advantage of new educational opportunities for their children.

Parents may obtain information on a statewide scholarship program for the upcoming school year by calling a special toll-free phone line.

Approximately 50 private schools have notified Gallagher's department of their intent to participate and accept students with disabilities.

Center Academy, located at 470 Central Parkway in Altamonte Springs, is the only school listed in Seminole County, although others may be added to the list later.

Center Academy has also signed up for participation at other facilities in Orange, Hillsborough and Duval counties, as well as two locations in Pinellas County.

"The program is an expansion of last year's Sarasota Pilot Program," Gallagher said, "and differs from the A+Plan Opportunity Scholarship Program in that eligibility is determined by the parent based on the individual student's performance of progress, not on the public school's annual performance grades."

To be included on the list of private schools, schools must notify the Department of Education of their intent, demonstrate fiscal soundness, submit a fee schedule, accept scholarship students on a random and religious-neutral basis, accept fees paid in the program as full tuitions, and agree not to make any scholarship student pray, worship or profess to a specific belief.

According to Gallagher, the vast majority of students involved will receive approximately $5,600. For students with the most severe disabilities, the maximum scholarship amount would be $13,000 to $19,000.

The victim contacted Oviedo Police where an active investigation of Grand Theft by Fraud continues. Persons with information concerning this criminal scheme should contact Oviedo Police Department Investigator Debra Jacobs at 407-977-6146.

Oviedo Police Chief Dennis Peterson suggested persons always report suspicious calls to law enforcement by calling the non-emergency phone number listed in the telephone directory. He also suggested people not accept telephone calls from unknown persons concerning financial matters including bank investigations, credit card or buying surveys, inheritances, free gifts, charitable contributions, unclaimed tax money or alleged sweepstakes or lottery winnings.

The two largest items on the agenda in connection with land size involve Indian River County. The St. Johns Water Control District is seeking to draw water from Fort Drum Marsh Conservation Area to serve 25,140 acres. Another item is a proposed expansion of the fairway at Red Stick Golf Club in Indian River County, which involves 7,239 acres.

The regulatory meetings are held in the district headquarters at 4049 Reid Street in Palatka, and are open to the general

Allergens among the causes of hives

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes hives? Is it safe to take antihistamines for prolonged periods to combat them?

DEAR READER: Hives, raised and itchy patches of skin that appear and disappear without warning, are due to the release of cellular histamine, usually as part of an allergic reaction. Therefore. hives known medically as urticaria are ordinarily caused by foods, dust, pollens, chemicals

and other

environmental factors to which a person is allergic. Treatment includes avoidance of the allergen, and the use of cold compresses (to relieve immediate symptoms) and antihistamines (which block the effects of histamine). Sometimes, people with recurring hives are allergic to medicine, such as antibiotics, although any drug can cause hypersensitivity reactions in susceptible persons. In such instances, the drug must be discontinued, under the supervision of a physician, who will substitute a medication to which the individual does not react.

Anxiety and emotional upset can also cause hives. Patients who repeatedly experience stress-related hypersensitivity reactions may need counseling or behavioral modification.

There is no consistent duration of urticaria; some forms last for minutes, others may be present for days or weeks. Hives are differentiated from other skin disorders by their evanescence, their tendency to move from one area to another, and their typical appearance - raised, reddish and irregular.

Chronic use of antihistamines is safe, but it can have some unwanted consequences: Antihistamines may mask the cause of hives, lose their effectiveness over time and interfere with proper evaluation of patients, especially these who are reacting to antibiotics. Thus, merely treating the hives with antihistamines may direct attention away from the more important issue: the cause.

I recommend that patients with repeated episodes of hives see an allergist, who will, through special skin and blood tests, often be able to identify the cause of the problem and suggest more appropriate therapy, such as desensitization shots. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Allergies." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, selfaddressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My elderly father was recently diagnosed with chronic pancreatitis. What causes this?

DEAR READER: The two major causes of chronic inflammation of the pancreas are alcoholism and malnutrition. The most common cause in Western countries, where malnutrition is rare, is alcohol consumption; 80 to 90 percent of all patients with chronic pancreatitis have a history of excessive alcohol ingestion. The risk of this condition which is associated with abdominal pain, maldigestion and diabetes — is directly proportional. to the duration and daily amount of alcohol consumed. As a general rule, it takes about six to 12 years of heavy alcohol consumption to cause the disease; however, the duration and exact quantity needed to produce early cellular damage is unknown. A high-protein diet, with or without excess fat, has been shown to aggravate panereatitis in alcoholics.

While I am not implying that your father is a drinker, the above information leads me to believe that if alcohol were not the cause of his problem, it may certainly have contributed to it. Your father should immediately stop drinking alcohol beverages, and should check with his physician for further advice.

Any Navy gun can be fired by mistake

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Lowell K. Allen, who served on the submarine "Cato" in World War II, con-···· tained be a 20 mm submachine gun. I think the man meant to say a Thompson .45-caliber submachine gun.

He did correctly point out, however, that even the socalled "educated" make mistakes. I spent 30 years in the Navy, 1943-1973, and there are documented cases of deck guns being fired "accidental-ly."

J. PAUL SURPREMANT, LCDR U.S. NAVY (RET.), FLORIDA

DEAR PAUL: Thank you and the other readers who pointed out the inaccuracies in that letter. Because of a typographical error at my syndicate, Mr. Allen's ship was referred to as the "Cato." Mr. Allen served on the USS Gato

I contacted Mr. Allen, who apologized for incorrectly referring to the gun as a 20 mm submachine gun, and said it was probably a .45-caliber submachine gun as many readers accurately guessed. Also, two initials were transposed in Mr. Allen's rank. He was RMCS, meaning Radio Man, Chief, Senior.

I appreciate the fact that so many people took the time to write and point out the errors. You are all heroes in my book. However, I didn't write that column because I have an "anti-gun agenda." I wrote it because I am anti-gun from the bottom of my heart.

DEAR ABBY: My son, "Marty," and his wife, "Darla," recently spent a week with me in my home. I worked very hard to make their visit enjoyable. One evening I planned a lovely dinner. After we finished, I asked Darla if she would help me clear the table. She looked at me as if I had mortally wounded her - and walked out of the room!

Later, I approached Marty and told him how upset I was over Darla's behavior. He replied, "This isn't the 1950s, Mom. She doesn't have to help." He also said that Darla was never taught to express appreciation and wasn't raised to do housework. (She didn't lift a finger the entire week.)

That was three weeks ago. I haven't heard a word from them since they left. Was I wrong in asking my daughterin-law to help?

UPSET MOM IN FLORIDA

DEAR UPSET: Certainly not. And I hope your son didn't just sit there, since I assume you raised him to lend a hand when there's a job to be done.

You are not going to change Darla. The next time they visit, go to restaurants or buy take-out food and serve it on paper plates.

I hope that when you pay them a visit, they pamper you as you pampered them - but don't hold your breath. As tempting as it would be not to lift a finger, I know it's not in your DNA to play the helpless houseguest.

James Ince said he teels as if he's been fighting the hordes with one hand fied behind his back the past several months, while carowner Tim Beverley searched desperately for a sponsor or deal to keep his team afloat

But through it all, Johnny Benson has performed like a champ. Now these two have had a major financial burden lifted from their shoulders, and their future is no longer iffy And Ince, Benson's fire-in-his-eyes erew chief, said he thinks his team can really get rolling. now that Kenny Schrader's ear owners have come to the resenc of their fellow Hendrick-Pontiae teammates, buying controlling interest and signing face and Benson to multi-year deals.

The deal came just in a nick of time. Inceand Benson were looking at the Brickyard 400. as their last race this season if something didn't happen, and there were questions as to whether they'd even make it to Indianapolis. But they did, and Saturday's race will be a eelebration for the season's most renowned Tony Stewart is the hottest driver on the tour, Rusty Wallace may have the most horsepower, And Mark Martin is on the comeback trail after a brief but odd slump.

Bobby Laborite may be the driver under the most pressure, with his Winston Cup points.

Ince-Benson rem "For the future, everything looks really good, as long as we can keep

 James Ince lead slipping slowly away and Dale Earnhardt charging up fast and hard

But the Cinderella team at the moment belongs to Ince, who has done a remarkable job of keeping his team together in the face of such gloomy reports.

"It has been pretty tough, the toughest part being keeping the guys on the team ealm and Johnny and I staying focused on what's going on with the race ears," Ince said, "This is something that's been happening for a while, and it's been like being on a roller-coaster ride

"So we're extremely excited. We feel we've got a lot to offer Kenny's team. We've pretty much been able to keep most of our team. intact, and it's exciting to be able to do that, because we worked hard to get where we are. Gaining a teammate we're all comfortable with, that we've all got history with, that we all get along with, right now it's a perfect situation.

"We've still got some things to work through We still need sponsorship for the rest of this year. But for the future, everything looks really good, as long as we can keep racing this year.

"What they're bringing to us is the business." side of the race team. That's the side we really needed help on. We think we can continue to unprove the performance side, now that the business side is being fixed that I ive is now the general manager of both teams.

Not much is really going to change this year as far as what we're doing. Eve preffy much been running the race team. But when we get everybody moved into the new building [in-Concord over the winter, that will allow me to focus 100 percent on the race cars. Lactually, haven't been able to do that at all this year. I've had my time split during the week, 50 percent business, 50 percent race cars.

"So it will be very very refreshing for me to have help

Now that linee and Benson aren't on the edge, will they lose the edge they've been playing with? "I don't think so, because that's the way I race anyway, that's the way Johnny Benson races," Ince said. "That's the way this race team has been conditioned to race.

"We've talked about it, and we've been a little concerned that if we did get an influx of money we might not be able to keep performing the way we've been performing. But really thereare so many things out there we haven't been able to do that we know would help our race. team. So we're excited to be able to go that way

I feel we've got a good direction on where we're going. We're a legitimate top-15 race. team, week-in, week-out, and I believe that down the road we're going to be a legitimate top-five race team, in a year or so Britten's pink "Love Bus" led Ron Sutton to the checkered flag with Butch Pierce and Chuck "Junkyard Dog" Rush following.

In other racing action, Jason Boyd made a classic outside move around Chuck Burkhalter to claim his eighth modified win of the year and add to his point lead. Burkhalter held on for second in front of Frank Polly, Russ Thomson and Hank "Mr. Modified" Sanders.

The Mint-Stock feature was a wild affair taking nearly an hour to run. Early leader Tim Clark tangled with Kenny Hankins on the backstretch, spun up the track and was collected by his father Wayne Clark who had nowhere to go. Wayne Clark was transported to the hospital with a fractured pelvis. Wayne is at home and doing as well as can be expected.

Once the race resumed, Marty Pierce took command and drove to his first Speedworld win after much recent success at New Smyrna Speedway. Geoff Williams had his best finish of the year taking second followed by David Seeright (subbing for Kelly Jarrett) with Tim Clark and Hankins coming back for fourth and ARh.

The best race of the night was in the Super Stock Division as Duane Freed made a late charge to garner his fourth win of the season. Point leader Carl Peters was a close second while Rob Watford, Jeff Schaeffer and Mike "Purple Haze" Hendrix rounded out the top five.

capped off the evening as some 25 entries entertained the sold out crowd in on of the longest demos on record lasting nearly a half hour. When the dust settled it was Ken McNamee taking the win...with father Scott "Mack" McNamee second.

ORLANDO - The International Hockey League's (IHL) Orlando Solar Bears have announced that the franchise has extended its affiliation agreement with the Atlanta Thrashers of the National Hockey League (NHL) through the 2000-01 sea-

The Thrashers, an expansion club in 1999-2000, served as the Solar Bears first-ever NHL affiliate last season. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

"Our organization benefited greatly last season through our affiliation agreement with the Atlanta Thrashers," stated RDV Sports Chief Operating Officer and Solar Bears General Manager John Weisbrod, "and we look forward to building on that relationship during the 2000-01 season. A working agreement with Atlanta expands the pool of talent available to us and helps us put a highly competitive Solar Bears squad on the ice."

"Our affiliation with the Solar Bears is in step with our long-term goals and growth of the Thrashers organization," noted Thrashers Vice President and General Manager Don Waddell. The tremendous resources of RDV Sports and the winning atmosphere the Solar Bears have created provides a terrific training ground for the development of our players."

Dale Earnhardt, making a strong bid for an unprecedented eighth championship.

Other drivers still in contention include Jarrett, 1999 Pennzoll 400 winner Tony Stewart, Ward and Jeff Burton, Mark Martin, Rusty Wallace, and Jeff Gordon.

We are making this offer to accommodate race fans who are unable to attend both days of racing," explained Curtis Gray, President of Homestead-Miami Speedway. Two-day packages are still available, costing $150 for rows 33-48, $130 for rows 22-32, $110 for rows 21-31, $90 for Orandetand.

Ticket packages are available by calling the Speedway ticket office at (305) 230-RACE, or may be purchased on-line by visiting the Speedway's official web site, www.homesteadmiamispeedway.com.

Predators pulling out a last minute 44-43 win on May 12th. Connell Maynor hit Joe Douglas with a 17 yard TD pass with :09 left in the game to win it, but the Predators had to sweat, out a Justin Skinner field goal at the buzzer, which was no good.

The Storm returned the favor on July 1st in Tampa's Ice Palace, by beating Orlando 50-36. The Storm capped off the game with a 30 point fourth quarter, icing the game when Antoine Worthman returned an interception 19 yards for a Storm touchdown with :36 left Tonight's game is slated to begin at 8 p.m., at the TD Waterhouse Centre. For more information, call the Predators office at (407) 44-Preds.
