Just Waiting And Hoping

Cuban Inmates Argue Over Negotiations, Food

By Jerri Classing

OAKDALE, La. (UPI) — The 1,000 Cuban convicts holding more than 20 hostages in a federal prison squabbled over how to end the rebellion in its third day today, and the warden promised to refrain from using force unless the captives are harmed.

"The negotiations have completely ceased," Allen Parish Sheriff John Durio said. "We're just waiting and hoping."

The inmates, who torched buildings Saturday night in a riot, freed some of the 28 prison employees they took hostage. But officials said they would not accept inmate demands that none be sent back to Cuba under an immigration pact that sparked the uprising and that none be prosecuted for rioting at the Federal Alien Detention Center.

Officials said the inmates, armed with homemade weapons, do not believe government assurances that few of them will be deported under the agreement in which Cuba will take back 2,748 "undesirable" refugees who came to the United States in the 1980 Mariel flotilla.

"They believe they are going back to Cuba, almost every one of them," Warden J.R. Johnson said. Hundreds of officers in riot gear ringed the 47-acre medium-security prison that still smoldered early today from fires set by the rampaging inmates Saturday night. Utility trucks with cherry pickers were parked outside the prison to lift up sharpshooters if needed, officials said, and portable spotlights shone past coils of razor wire into the smoky compound.

Officials said no food has been brought into the prison since the 1,050 inmates rioted. Thirty-one people, including six prison employees, were injured, and 16 were admitted to Humana Hospital in Oakdale.

Polk Reinstates Four Jail Guards

Polk: 'I've Always Tried To Be Fair'

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Four Seminole County jail guards, fired in the wake of the jailhouse suicide of a juvenile murder suspect, were recalled to duty today by Seminole County Sheriff John Polk. Polk reversed both himself and his Civil Service Board in deciding to bring the four guards back to work.

Polk, who fired the four Sept. 3, following the Aug. 27 suicide, because of alleged failure to properly check juveniles in the jail and for falsifying logs saying the checks were made, said that since the firings evidence has surfaced which show that "the problem in the jail did not revolve around only these four men."

Jail guards Richard Blount and Matthew McGill had fought to get their jobs back through an appeal to the sheriff's Civil Service Board in a hearing Nov. 5 and 6. On Nov. 12 the board, in a split vote of two to one, supported Polk's decision to fire the guards.

The board could have reinstated Blount and McGill, but the two other guards Douglas Fauls, a guard for 10 months, and Dean High, a guard for three months, could not appeal their firings since they had worked for the Sheriff for less than one year. McGill has been a guard eight years and Blount a guard three years.

All four guards had said they wanted to return to work and to have their names cleared, but Fauls and High had said that they did not expect to get their jobs back. They had hoped that McGill and Blount would. The reinstatement of those two, would, Fauls and High said, help clear their own names. Because of their firings it was expected that the four guards would lose their state certification as corrections officers, and would not be able to work as jail guards in Florida.

Polk said that it was only fair to bring all four guards back, since all were fired on the same basis.

He said the guards will be scheduled to return to work Dec. 1. They will not receive back pay for the time that they have been off duty, which makes their firings equal to a suspension without pay. The four will be on one year of probation as employees after they return to work.

"They, along with all other corrections personnel, will be observed very closely," Polk said.

Since the firings Polk has ordered additional in-house training for all jail guards.

because in the Civil Service Board hearing it was revealed that all guards had performed the required checks and logged them in the same way the four fired guards had.

This practice, of not entering the cellblock to make the check if the "skin" of an inmate could not be seen, did not conform with unwritten jail rules and it was disclosed that guards did not have a clear understanding of how to perform certain duties and their supervisors did not know if or how these jobs were actually being done. The checks were made from a glass control booth outside the cellblock.

The fired guards had maintained that they had performed as all other guards had and were

New Plea To Sanford Commissioners

Rainbow Futures' Future Uncertain

By Nancy Simmons
Herald Staff Writer

Now that the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission has told representatives of Rainbow Futures, Inc., that they should go to the city commission with their plans, the future of the game room, thrift store and training center for the handicapped is still uncertain. The planning commission cannot agree on either the site plan or the change of use request.

Elaine Wilson, who manages the game room, along with her husband Del, said that they and other representatives of Rainbow Futures, Inc., will be present at the Sanford City Commission meeting today and ask the panel to hear their case.

The new location is controversial because of its proximity to a liquor store.

However, Mrs. Wilson said today that there is at least 100 feet between the game room's new location and the liquor store and that "Our books and our activities are open to the public. If there's a problem they can close us down. We have run a successful business for 18 months. We've touched the lives of at least 150 youth per week, and probably the lives of 250 overall. We are very well controlled. There have been no law enforcement incidents. We had only one fight and it was under control before the law got there."

Also today Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriott expressed his disapproval of the project's new location, saying that "A teen club adjacent to a liquor store would pose law enforcement problems." He explained that the proposed location is the problem and that if the game room were at another location there shouldn't be any problem.

Rainbow Futures has left the first Orlando Dr. site and is leasing the former Pretty Punch

Smiling, Relaxed As Last Details Completed

Shevardnadze, Shultz Extend Talks

By Jim Anderson

GENEVA (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze went overtime today in their first talks intended to resolve arms control issues before the Washington summit in two weeks.

Today's morning session lasted 4 1/4 hours, one hour more than planned. That pushed their schedule back by one hour, with an afternoon session set for 5 p.m. instead of 4 p.m., to be followed by a working dinner.

Shultz and Shevardnadze were smiling and relaxed as they started their Geneva talks today to work out the last details of a nuclear arms treaty and discuss other issues before the Washington summit starting Dec. 7.

Officials on both sides refused to provide details of the first session except to say that two working parties were established, one dealing with the treaty to eliminate intermediate range nuclear missiles and the second concentrating on other summit issues, including Afghanistan and the Persian Gulf war.

Shultz and Shevardnadze planned to wind up the talks either at a working dinner Tuesday evening or at a brief breakfast Wednesday morning.

Both men said in advance of their intense two-day meeting that they were confident a treaty on eliminating ground-based intermediate nuclear missiles would be ready for signing at the summit, which begins in exactly two weeks.

American officials said the first session began with Shultz and Shevardnadze meeting alone for about 30 minutes "to discuss arrangements for the summit." Officials on both sides said Shultz and Shevardnadze would almost certainly consult their countries' allies during a lunch break, before meeting again in an afternoon session at the U.S. diplomatic mission.

Shevardnadze said on arrival Sunday in Geneva that he expects the 48 hours of critical negotiations to complete the treaty. But he acknowledged that difficult and sensitive verification problems must still be resolved, including mutual on-site inspection of missile sites and production plants to ensure compliance and prevent any cheating.

"But despite the existence of these questions, I think, I expect that we will be able to complete our work successfully," he said. "This is our expectation and I have no doubt the secretary (Shultz) is coming here in the same spirit."

Besides the treaty to scrap medium- and shorter-range, ground-based missiles, other pre-summit issues include prospects for future strategic long-range nuclear arms reductions.

Shultz arrived in Geneva seven hours after Shevardnadze for the fourth meeting between the

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Miami Police Chief Predicts Up To 30 More Officers To Go

MIAMI (UPI) — Police Chief Clarence Dickson predicts up to 30 officers will be suspended by the end of the year in the two-year corruption scandal sweeping the force, a newspaper reported Sunday.

Dickson, who blamed the problem on the sudden growth required in the early 1980s to combat rising crime, said Miami city officials failed to provide adequate supervision as the force grew.

In the past three weeks, 17 officers have been suspended amid charges of corruption, a total of 73 removed from the force since 1985, and the chief expects more dismissals by the end of the year, pushing the toll to 100.

"I expect maybe 30 more," he said. Dickson said under an order issued in 1980 to control the city's spiraling crime rate, Miami hired officers at the rate of nearly six each week, doubling the force in a short time span.

Yacht Sinks Off Pompano Beach

POMPANO BEACH (UPI) — A 108-foot yacht with 11 passengers aboard sank off the Florida coast today, but all aboard were rescued and taken to the exclusive Boca Raton home of the owner, U.S. Coast Guard officials said.

Dan Vogeley, a spokesman for the Coast Guard in Miami, said the boat, called "For Your Eyes Only," had reported problems about 7:55 a.m., when the vessel was 3 miles off Hillsboro Inlet.

An hour later, the bow of the ship was above water less and a quarter-mile from the coast, he said.

Those aboard abandoned ship and were picked up by a passing boat, Vogeley said. A Coast Guard helicopter and two 41-foot auxiliary boats assisted at the scene.

The yacht is owned by Alex Woskob, a resident of the exclusive Sanctuary community on the Intracoastal Waterway in Boca Raton. A security guard at the residence confirmed Woskob owned the boat and was at sea this morning.

Witnesses Will Testify About Cocaine King

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Testimony from more witnesses with direct knowledge of how a drug operation allegedly conceived by two prison inmates became the largest U.S. cocaine supplier will be revealed this week in Jacksonville federal court.

Carlos Lehder Rivas, an accused leader of the notorious Medellin Cartel of Colombia, is on trial for smuggling 3.3 tons of the drug into the United States between 1978 and 1980.

His trial, which began last Monday after 5 1/2 weeks of jury selection, resumes today.

Lehder, 38, Jorge Luis Ochoa Vasquez, Pablo Escobar Gaviria and Jose Gonzalo Rodriguez Gacha allegedly constitute the Medellin Cartel, which is said to be responsible for about 70 percent of the cocaine that is smuggled into the United States.

Lehder was arrested by Colombian police in February and extradited to Florida to face federal drug charges. His trial is expected to take about 3 1/2 months.

Ochoa, 38, was arrested Saturday by Colombian highway police near Cali. Escobar and Rodriguez Gacha are fugitives. U.S. officials are uncertain if he will face charges in America.

Lehder's extradition order already had been approved when he was arrested Feb. 4. The extradition treaty cannot be applied in Ochoa's case because the Colombian Supreme Court has declared the pact's enabling legislation to be unconstitutional, though U.S. officials are urging he be sent here. Escobar and Rodriguez Gacha are fugitives.

Lehder's 1981 indictment returned in Jacksonville involves cocaine he allegedly shipped from Colombia to Norman's Cay in the Caribbean and then to Florida and Georgia.

Among potential witnesses this week is Winny Polly, who transported Lehder's first cocaine shipment, from Antigua into the United States.

The government contends Lehder had George Jung, a prison associate of Lehder's in 1974, sent Polly and another woman on a vacation to the island and they returned with eight suitcases, each with 1 kilogram of cocaine hidden inside.

Defense lawyers say Lehder is being used as a scapegoat by a group of Jacksonville drug smugglers who were caught trafficking from Norman's Cay.

They claim their client moved to the island to develop it into a tourist center, a move that set the stage for the Jacksonville group's plan to blame him for their smuggling operation.

Ed Ward, who headed the American group of smugglers, has become a government witness and also is expected to testify against Lehder.

If convicted, Lehder faces a maximum penalty of life in prison for the 11 counts he faces.

Co-defendant Jack Carlton Reed is charged with one count of conspiracy and faces a maximum of 15 years in prison and a $25,000 fine.

Reagan Lauds Volunteers In Chuck Suggs Benefit

A benefit auction and concert at The Barn in Sanford, held Sunday Nov. 15 for 14-year old Chuck Suggs of Lake Mary, has resulted in President Ronald Reagan sending a congratulatory note to all volunteers involved. The Barn received the note Thursday.

Chuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Suggs of Lake Mary, is in England awaiting donor organs for a heart/lung transplant.

The event raised $2,011, which prompted the president to send this note to The Barn:

"Nancy and I are pleased to congratulate you for your outstanding and dedicated volunteer service. The lives of all Americans are enhanced whenever someone extends a helping hand in a spirit of love and neighborliness. Your example encourages us and inspires others. Thank you, and God bless you."

During the evening The Barn called Chuck on the phone to let him hear the crowd of over 400 wish him luck. Razy Bailey, country western singing star, who gave a concert on Chuck's behalf later in the evening, talked to the boy also.

Chuck told him he was "doing okay," according to Jay Murphy, owner of The Barn.

The teenager had to go to England for his surgery because he has unique problems which make the surgery more difficult here. Steve Hagenbuckle, founder of Vegas Productions, a charity fund raising group, explained Thursday. Hagenbuckle organized Chuck's benefit at The Barn.

The boy had surgery as a child that caused excessive veins and capillaries to grow around his heart, so he will bleed more than average during surgery. However, Hagenbuckle noted that Dr. Magdi Yacoub, who will perform the surgery, can use a drug that will retard the bleeding. The drug cannot be used in this country, because it is not approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Murphy estimated that about 430 people came to the benefit. Gibson Auctioneering of Sanford volunteered the auctioneers. And Sanford's Mayor Bettye Smith came to present Bailey with the keys to the city.

Hagenbuckle said that a total of $300,000 is needed for Chuck's surgery. Children's Organ Transplant Association, headquartered in Bloomington, Ind., guaranteed $60,000 to Dr. Yacoub, so that Chuck could have the surgery. That group also flew him to England.

Hagenbuckle said that about $50,000 has been raised by volunteers.

Kennedy Seems Right Choice

President Reagan might have a winner this time in Anthony M. Kennedy.

Unlike two previous U.S. Supreme Court nominees—Robert Bork and Douglas Ginsburg—Kennedy doesn't appear to have a rigid right-wing agenda that almost automatically sparks opposition from liberals. Nor is he likely to surprise the White House with tardy revelations of vice or other socially questionable behavior.

The record of this federal appellate judge suggests his views are similar to those of Lewis Powell, the retiring justice he would replace. Given the fact that Kennedy, or whoever eventually succeeds Powell, may become the swing vote on crucial issues, Kennedy's judicial temperament and moderation may be right for the times. He is not likely to take extreme views or try to reverse long-established court precedent. Lawyers who appeared before him described him as a fair-minded judge who weighs each case on its merits.

The Senate Judiciary Committee should not delay scheduling hearings for him. On the other hand, it should scrutinize Kennedy just as carefully as it did Bork, whom the Senate rejected. Ginsburg withdrew before the committee ever held a hearing on his nomination.

However worthy his qualifications, Kennedy isn't a saint. He must be questioned, for instance, about his work as lobbyist for Schenley Industries, Inc., during a time when the liquor manufacturer allegedly paid thousands of dollars in illegal kickbacks to restaurants and liquor distributors.

He should be asked why he remained a member of the all-male Olympic Club in San Francisco during a time when he ruled against comparable worth, the concept of giving women equal pay for jobs deemed of equal value to predominately male occupations.

We are encouraged that Kennedy approves of the advise-and-consent process of confirming high court justices and is eager to answer questions. If Kennedy survives Senate questioning—and we predict that he will—the Supreme Court should have a ninth member by the start of the new year.

Candid Cameras

Speeding motorists, especially in urban areas, know that they have the odds in their favor. The cops can't be in more than a few places at once. Just watch during rush hour as drivers hurtle down a one-way street doing 45 mph in a 30-mph zone, and as half a dozen of them zip through a traffic light—after it's changed to red—without slowing a whit. And heaven help you if you try to cross as soon as your light turns green.

In more than 30 countries, authorities have tackled the problem with a Swiss-made gadget called the Zelleweger Ulster photographic Doppler radar unit. Simply stated, it's a camera set inside a metal box posted along streets and highways. Its sensors are preset to photograph anything that passes by at greater than a certain speed, usually a little above the limit. In addition to registering your speed, it takes your picture as you go past, preserving on film your car—including its license plate—and your face. A few days later, the speeding ticket arrives in the mail.

Several Texas towns have tried out this device, but angry motorists refused to pay their tickets and officials meekly backed down. Now, Pasadena, Calif., is trying it for 30 days, using a mobile unit and warning motorists by posting signs that radar is in use. Car owners will receive a notice but will not be fined.

After the test period, city officials will determine whether the number of violations warrants using the cameras on a regular basis. City attorneys are concerned that paper work may increase and that enforcement may be difficult if, as in Texas, too many drivers refuse to pay up or the miscreant photographed turns out not to be a car's registered owner.

The latter especially could be a problem, as could citizens' natural fear that increased surveillance brings "Big Brother" a step closer. Yet it's hard to see how refining a traffic-control device already commonly used would be unduly intrusive.

People who cause more accidents than anyone else—speeders—would be put on notice that radar comes in a variety of forms, including one that can take 260 photographs an hour. Experts cite a "placebo effect" of the radar machines: when drivers see one, they slow down. That alone suggests it might be worth taking a closer look at these candid cameras.

VINCENT CARROLL

Dec. 7, 1941 No Longer Lives In Infamy

History is supposed to be written by the victors, but a strange reversal has occurred in recent years. Ask any schoolchild to name the most critical date in World War II, and (if he can name one at all) he's likely to mention Aug. 6, 1945, when the Enola Gay bombed Hiroshima.

Ask the same child if Dec. 7 means anything, and he'll probably draw a blank.

The day that was supposed to live in infamy, the anniversary of which will soon be upon us again, has been slipping below the threshold of historical consciousness. The true day of infamy, it turns out, occurred not with the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor but four years later, after a slogging series of brutal battles.

And the United States, oddly, was responsible for the outrage.

Just ask the worldwide peace movement. Every year on Aug. 6 tens of thousands of people gather in Hiroshima for memorial ceremonies, while around the world anti-nuclear protesters seize the moment to issue a plea for disarmament.

Such sentiments are fine, but no similar outpouring occurs anymore on Dec. 7. It's as if the atomic bomb were dropped to provide context for political debates 40 years in the future.

We should wake up from this amnesia, lest the combatants in World War II become reduced in the popular mind to moral equals. Between those two days, Dec. 7 and Aug. 6, the first still offers a far more powerful lesson for the modern era.

The lesson is that some political systems devalue human life by design. They are perpetually militaristic. Other societies only occasionally succumb to the parade-ground ethic, out of fear or misplaced zeal.

Every nation in World War II deliberately killed enemy civilians, such as the 130,000 who perished at Hiroshima and the 35,000 at Nagasaki. The U.S. firebombing of Tokyo slaughtered 100,000. The Allies left 40,000 corpses when they flattened half of Hamburg, and 135,000 at Dresden.

Yet by contrast with these tragic lapses, undertaken for the most part after years of hardening warfare, the Japanese and Germans engaged in atrocity as a matter of routine (as did the Soviets).

We need hardly be reminded of Nazi concentration camps, but the modern obsession with Hiroshima has buried recollection of the vast cemeteries of victims of the Japanese: 250,000 Chinese in the rape of Nanking alone; untold thousands of Filipinos; over a fourth of all Japanese-held prisoners of war.

The character of Japanese troops is perhaps best revealed by their behavior upon capturing Singapore. They bayoneted live civilians — for practice.

The manner in which the Pacific War started provides a greater lesson than the manner in which it expired, for the following reason: Totalitarian rule still plagues our planet, along with its armed-camp mentality. It is no coincidence that Cuba is the most militarized society in Latin America, or that Nicaragua boasts a far larger army than El Salvador, despite the fact that both governments battle insurgencies. Nicaragua's army compares favorably even with that of the Philippines, a nation with 20 times as many people and with its own rebellion to suppress.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Lecture Tells Of Atrocities

HILLSDALE, MICH.—The peaceful academic setting of Hillsdale College seems a million miles away from the brutalities and torments of the totalitarian world. Yet this outstanding college uses its program of distinguished lecturers to remind its students of the grim realities of the modern world.

Many of these realities are well-known, but some are still concealed. And Hillsdale students recently heard a little-known horror story — the story of the forced repatriation in communist Yugoslavia of scores of thousands of White Russians, Croats, Slovenians, Croats and Serbs. Men, women and children were turned over to the communists at bayonet point at the end of World War II. They were beaten with rifle stocks, herded into trucks and railroad cars, and delivered to the Soviet troops and Tito's partisans, there to be hanged, machine gunned, thrown into pits, or sent to die on the permafrost north of the 70th parallel in the notorious prison camps of the Soviet Gulag administration.

The truth about this story, an unknown war crime, has been revealed by Count Nikolai Tolstoy in his new book The Minister and the Massacres. It is a sickening story of cruelty and deception, but it's imperative that it be made known to the free world.

Count Tolstoy is a noted British historian and novelist who belongs to the famous literary family that has played a major role in Russian history from the time of Czar Peter the Great. He has made it his mission to reveal a little known war crime of tremendous proportions.

The late Harold Macmillan, in his capacity as British resident minister in Italy at the end of World War II, ordered the handover of tens of thousands of White Russians and Yugoslavs, as a gesture of appeasement to Stalin. Great numbers of the Russians had never set foot in the Soviet Union, having been refugees from Stalin all their lives.

Why Macmillan did this remains a mystery. The handover was against British policy. Nevertheless, secret operations were conducted to achieve the forced repatriation that Stalin insisted upon. The turnover also was contrary to international law. The British soldiers were ordered to use brutal force against non-combatants, including women.

U.S. Pushed Japan To Punish Firm

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The Japanese government has punished two big corporations implicated in the illegal sale of high-technology machinery to the Soviets — but only after pressure from the Pentagon.

Tokyo was so afraid of hurting its lucrative trade ties to the United States that it secretly negotiated with the Pentagon and agreed on the punishment of the two Japanese firms in May to appease the U.S. government. The secret negotiations and agreement are spelled out in a Department of Defense memorandum. Itself classified "secret."

The subject of the five-page memorandum for the record, dated May 8, 1987, was "Resolution of Nine-Axis Milling Machine Case." This was the $17 million sale by Toshiba Machine Co. of sophisticated propeller-milling hardware that allowed the Soviets to make their submarines almost undetectable. It could cost the American taxpayers $30 billion to overcome this tremendous technical advantage.

"After extensive negotiations be-

ROBERT WAGMAN

Cheap Travel Eyed

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When Vice President George Bush travels on the campaign trail, he does so aboard Air Force Two. Although it costs the Air Force tens of thousands of dollars to operate the Boeing 707, the Bush campaign — quite legally — pays only a fraction of that cost.

Under federal campaign laws, the Bush campaign is only required to repay the Pentagon the equivalent of point-to-point first-class airfare for Bush and any "campaign" aides on each flight. Members of Bush's "vice presidential" staff and his secret service agents aboard the plane fly free.

By way of example, a round-trip from Washington to Des Moines might have cost the Bush campaign $25,000 if it had to charter a 707. But it only has to pay a few thousand dollars for the government flight.

This situation obviously provides Bush with a major advantage. Not only does he land with all the trappings of his office — in the form of his official aircraft — but he also has the convenience of a chartered plane at a fraction of full operating expenses.

Some other campaigns, while crying foul over Bush's arrangement, seem to have found a way to accomplish much the same thing.

These candidates — both Democrats and Republicans — are "borrowing" corporate aircraft from supporters. Instead of paying the actual operating costs of these planes, they reimburse the planes' owners on the same point-to-point first-class airfare equivalent basis.

Reportedly, as the practice spreads, the Federal Election Commission is investigating whether the practice is legal under federal election laws. Election laws limit contributions to a candidate to $1,000 from an individual, but some candidates are reimbursing aircraft owners thousands less than the actual operating costs for trips they are taking. The question is whether this amounts to an illegal campaign contribution.

According to an FEC source, "It is clearly legal for the vice president to do what he is doing. It is one of the perks of incumbency. I would also tend to say it is legal for the other candidates to do likewise. It appears they have simply found a loophole, and are using it."

Bush seems to have got himself into hot water with British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher. Her aides say she is "very annoyed" that Vice President George Bush had videotape and still cameras stationed to record their October meeting in London.

Thatcher's aides say she is "concerned that she will be seen as interjecting herself into the American political campaign" if Bush uses the footage in political commercials.

Bush met with Mrs. Thatcher during his so-called "non-political" visit to various European capitals in October. The meeting at 10 Downing Street was set up at Bush's request, ostensibly to brief Mrs. Thatcher on the latest developments in U.S.-Soviet arms talks.

According to Thatcher's aides, Bush suggested the two go outside for the traditional pictures accorded visiting foreign dignitaries.

Treatment Affects Fertility

By Bob Stein
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — As new treatments for cancer are developed and old ones improved, more and more victims of the disease are surviving and going on to lead near-normal lives.

There are now at least 45,000 adults estimated to be living in the United States who were diagnosed with childhood cancer between 1955 and 1979, the result of a sharp increase in the survival rate of victims of childhood cancer.

But the treatment that cured the cancer victims can leave its mark behind, especially among children and teenagers who have many years left in their lives after winning their battles with cancer.

A new study conducted by the National Cancer Institute examined the effect of cancer treatment on fertility.

"The results of the study have broad implications for the choice of treatment not only for cancer but also for noncancerous diseases that presently use anticancer treatments," said Dr. Julianne Byrne, who headed the study.

The study, the largest of its kind, involved 2,283 survivors of childhood and adolescent cancer diagnosed from 1945 to 1975 who had undergone radiation, surgery, chemotherapy or a combination of these treatments and were now married or living with someone. They were compared to 3,270 of their siblings to determine if there was any significant difference in their fertility.

The researchers found that former cancer patients were only 85 percent as likely as their siblings to either have been pregnant or have fathered a child. Men were more likely than their female counterparts to have fertility problems.

When the researchers examined the types of cancer involved, only two — Hodgkin's disease and genital cancer — were significantly associated with a loss of fertility.

But the impact on fertility varied considerably depending on the type of treatment involved.

Surgery was the least harmful treatment overall, reducing fertility 9 percent for males and females combined. For females it reduced fertility 2 percent. For males, it was 19 percent.

The first penalty: "After administering a 'heavy warning' and a public reprimand, MITI will prohibit exportation of all machine tools to (Soviet bloc) countries for three months."

The second: "C. Itoh will be instructed to reform its internal procedures or face further punishment."

The third: "C. Itoh will be required to report" detailed information on any machine-tool exports during the three months' ban.

"C. Itoh is one of Japan's largest trading companies," the memo notes, "and even a short ban involves very large amounts of money. The important factor here is not the amount of money, but the social disgrace involved when C. Itoh becomes only the fourth offender in Japanese corporate history to have administrative sanctions applied to it."

The secret May 8 memo states that the punitive actions against Toshiba and C. Itoh would be "announced unilaterally" by the Japanese government the following Friday. The announcement was, in fact, made in Tokyo on May 15.

Key Senators Say CIA Officials Violated Law In Contra Deals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Intelligence Committee's chairman and vice chairman have concluded in an unusually blunt statement that CIA officials in Honduras and Costa Rica broke the law in aiding the Contra rebels last year.

Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., and Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine, filed an addendum to last week's report by the congressional Iran-Contra committees in which they denounced senior CIA officials for faulty management of subordinates in Central America.

Boren and Cohen, who also were members of the committees that investigated secret U.S. arms sales to Iran and the diversion of profits to the Nicaraguan Contras, said officials at CIA headquarters failed "to provide adequate direction and supervision," enabling agency field operatives to help supply the rebels while official U.S. military aid was banned by law.

Budget Pact Passage Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional leaders disagree about whether their plan to reduce the deficit is a step forward or a waste of time, but they agree at least that both the House and the Senate are likely to approve it.

"You're going to see the Congress finally pass a budget summit resolution," predicted Senate Finance Committee Chairman Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, in a television interview Sunday. "Yes, I'm convinced of that."

Bentsen gave fellow budget negotiators poor marks on their final product, however, in speaking on "John McLaughlin's One on One."

"I think we had a great opportunity to make a very major impact in cutting this deficit, and we lost that," he said. "You couldn't find the political courage on the part of either Congress or the White House to accomplish it."

JFK's Relatives Remember

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — Relatives and the former personal secretary of John F. Kennedy knelt and placed flowers at his gravesite on the 24th anniversary of the day an assassin's bullet killed the 35th president.

At Arlington National Cemetery near the nation's capital, Ethel Kennedy, his sister-in-law and the widow of his assassinated brother, Robert Kennedy, knelt at the grave with four of her children Sunday and left near the black stone an all-white arrangement of roses, chrysanthemums and Narcissus.

Kennedy's personal secretary, Evelyn Lincoln, made an early morning visit to the burial site where an eternal flame burns and left behind a single red rose in memory of the man whose assassination in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, shocked the world and sent a nation into grief.

The relatives also left flowers near a small white cross a few feet away that marks the grave of Robert Kennedy, the former attorney general and senator killed by an assassin's bullet nearly five years after his brother was slain.

7 Hurt In Church Stabbing Spree

FORT WORTH, Texas (UPI) — A transient who knifed six people attending mass at a Catholic church is in critical condition with numerous stab wounds he received during the attack, but police are unsure if he fell on the knife or a member of the enraged congregation stabbed him.

The incident occurred at the start of the 11 a.m. Sunday mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral in downtown Fort Worth, when a man identified as Pavel Z. Dragomirescu ran up the aisle and then stabbed six people trying to subdue him.

Seminole Schools Honor 'Friends'

By Brian Hodberg
Herald Staff Writer

As Gov. Bob Martinez is urging private businesses to enter partnerships with public schools, 10 "friends" of Seminole County's school system received accolades and applause Friday during the first Friends of Education Recognition Breakfast.

The breakfast honored 10 businessmen and individuals who have contributed in time, effort, finances or other resources to see education in the county furthered and bettered.

"The people we're honoring today are top-notch people who have helped this school system become outstanding," said Robert Hughes, superintendent of Seminole County schools. "You people have gone beyond what a lot of people will do."

The breakfast, at Greenwood Lakes Middle School, honored the following people:

• Walter Cooper, with the Seminole County School Advisory Council, is serving as chairman in his second year with the committee. He also serves as the Local School Advisory Committee chairman at Lake Mary High School and was instrumental in organizing the school's drug abstinence program.

• Richard King, a Dividend Community Resource Volunteer, has given 392 presentations in 29 schools to approximately 30,000 students since he became a Dividend in March 1979. His presentations range from wildflowers and endangered animals to aging and what teenagers were like in the 1920s. For five years, he has put in the most volunteer time of all Dividends.

• Sandy Traeger, president of Seminole County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, has been Keeth Elementary School's PTA president for two years. She is responsible for the summer enrichment program at Keeth and instituted a new homework policy at the school. She also serves on the board of directors of the Florida PTA.

• Kay Bartholomew, director of marketing for Central Florida Regional Hospital, is active with the Sanford Chamber's Education Committee. She has developed several educational opportunities for students, such as babysitting seminars and hospital presentations, and provided safety materials and books on child abuse for schools.

• Dick Monroe, director of public relations for Red Lobster, is responsible for Red Lobster's continued support of the Seminole County Teacher of the Year program. In 1983, Red Lobster first presented $500 checks to the three finalists. Monroe participates in the program annually.

• Douglas Stenstrom, with Stenstrom, McIntosh, Julian, Colbert, Whigham and Simmons P.A., was elected in 1954 to the Florida Senate, where he was a strong supporter of funding for education. He served as attorney for the Seminole County School Board from 1954-79. His firm sponsors scholarships and aids with employee and student recognition programs.

• Lufleen Sweeting, with Seminole Community College, has on her record membership with Sanford Chamber's Education Committee and the county School Advisory Committee. In 1986, she chaired the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration Committee for Sanford. Though her planning committee began with no budget for the celebration, it had enough after paying the bills to award 14 $50 savings bonds and give more than $4,000 in scholarships.

• Pete Maupin, with Sears Distribution Center, has supported Seminole County schools in numerous ways throughout his 30 years with the company. His support was exemplified by his signing a $12,000 note for uniforms of the Oviedo High School band, allowing subsequent fund-raising to pay off the note.

• Janice Springfield, head of Sun Bank's business development and sales management for Seminole County, was instrumental in founding the Business and Education Partnership Program. She has been a class speaker, judged curriculum fairs and been an active booster. Sun Bank, which Thursday won a state award of excellence for exemplary education programs, accredits its organized support of schools to Springfield.

• Joe Hayes, vice president of human resources for the Davgar Restaurant Group (Burger King), is a board member of the Orange County Schools Foundation and teaches with Junior Achievement of Central Florida. He coordinated a scholarship program which, over three and a half years, has made available $111,000 in scholarships for young Burger King employees. Earlier this week, Gov.

Martinez said private businesses could help reduce the school dropout rate by entering partnerships with public schools.

Martinez toured a dropout prevention program established by the Chi Chi Rodriguez Foundation, which provides an education to problem youngsters through a golf-oriented curriculum. The foundation provides a college education for students who successfully complete the program.

"The saddest thing I have ever had to do was sign dropout papers for one of my students," said Martinez, a former teacher.

Chinese Missile Shipment To Iran Reported Scrapped By Pressure

BEIJING (UPI) — A suspected sale of Chinese Silkworm missiles to Iran apparently has been scrapped after more than a year of international pressure on Beijing to stop its alleged arms dealings with Tehran, Western diplomats and business sources say.

Early last month, U.S. intelligence sources in Washington said China and Iran were pushing ahead with a new sale of the surface-to-surface missiles, with initial deliveries estimated at more than 100.

A Western shipping industry source, who requested anonymity, said China had begun secret arrangements to ship "a large number of big, tube-shaped objects to Iran" last month.

But the shipment, clearly identifiable as military hardware, was "postponed indefinitely" about five weeks ago, the source said Sunday. The source could not say definitely whether the shipment involved Silkworm missiles.

Ortega: Plan Sparked Pardons

TIPITAPA, Nicaragua (UPI) — President Daniel Ortega said his government's desire to comply with the Central American peace plan prompted the release of 985 political prisoners despite continuing attacks by U.S.-backed Contra rebels.

Ortega expressed some misgivings about the outcome of the pardon he announced Nov. 5 and carried out Sunday morning.

"Because we have a will to comply with the Guatemala peace accord, we are making these efforts that at times seem contradictory, because it is really quite difficult to grant a pardon on the same day that six children who were victims of this policy promoted by the United States are being buried," Ortega said.

The Defense Ministry said a Contra attack Saturday on two villages in southern Nicaragua killed 11 civilians, including six under the age of 12.

Ochoa May be Extradited

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Alleged billionaire drug baron Jorge Luis Ochoa has been flown from the city of Palmira to Bogota under heavy security, where authorities say they will decide by Wednesday whether to extradite him to the United States on cocaine charges.

"Within the next 48 hours Ochoa will either be extradited to the United States or sent to the city of Cartagena to serve out a 22-month sentence for a minor customs infraction," Fernando Bernal of the Attorney General's Office told United Press International late Sunday.

Bernal's comments came after a six-hour emergency meeting attended by the attorney general, the justice minister and representatives of the National Police.

Seminole High Begins 'Second Season'

5A-4 Playoff Should Be Interesting

Now that the end of the regular season has come, the real season is about to begin. Tonight at 8 p.m. at DeLand's Spec. Marlin Stadium, a three-way playoff will be held between DeLand, Lake Mary, and Lake Howell to determine the District 5A-4 champion. All three teams are 5-1 in the 5A-4.

If you have never been to a three-way tiebreaker, you might want to be in DeLand tonight because these playoffs tend to be very exciting. The Kansas Tiebreaker System will be used. Each team will get the ball at the 10-yard line and have four downs to score. If both teams end up with the same amount of points, they go on until the tie is broken.

Lake Mary and DeLand will square off against each other in the first playoff. The winner will take on Lake Howell. The 5A-4 winner will travel to Jacksonville Sandalwood, the District 5A-3 champion, next Friday.

Seminole, which extended its winning streak to five games on Friday night with a 38-9 shellacking over DeLand, will host Land O'Lakes on Friday in the opening round playoff game. Seminole (7-3) is the District 4A-7 champ while Land O'Lakes is the 4A-8 champ.

Seminole got its best offensive performance of the season against DeLand. Seminole quarterback Jeff Blake, threw for a career-high 269 yards and two touchdowns. "Everything just went perfect out there," Blake, who has thrown 12 touchdowns passes this season, said. "When we won the district a few weeks ago, we wanted to end the season playing well. We are playing our best football of the season right now, and that is exactly what we wanted."

Blake hit wide receiver Dwight Brinson with a pair of touchdown passes. He also hit tight end Terrance Eaddy five times for 66 yards. "Jeff is just doing an excellent job," Brinson said. "He is throwing very accurately."

The Seminole offensive line has also improved. "The line realizes what Jeff can do if he gets the time," Seminole offensive coordinator Emory Blake, said. "They have really come together as a group."

DeLand coach Dave Hiss said that he doesn't know what to expect in the playoff tonight. "We really got our butts kicked by Sanford," Hiss said. "But this team is so up and down, we might come out and win this thing."

Lake Mary beat Apopka, one of its biggest rivals, in a hard-fought 14-13 battle. A missed PAT gave the Rams the margin of victory. The Rams, the Seminole Athletic Conference champions, are 8-2. Quarterback Carlos Hartfield has another fine game. The junior threw for a pair of touchdowns. Hartfield has thrown 14 touchdowns this season.

If Lake Mary should lose in the playoff tonight, it will take on Evans on Wednesday in the Rotary Bowl. If the Rams win the playoff, Lyman will probably take on the Trojans.

The second season for Seminole High's football team starts this week as the Tribe focuses all its attention on Friday's 4A-4 Region playoff against the Land O' Lakes Gators. Kickoff is 8 p.m. at Seminole High.

The 'Noles ended the season in a blaze of glory, a 38-9 rout of DeLand, and finished at 7-3. Seminole has qualified for the state playoffs for the first time since 1981.

Coach Roger Beathard said, as of practice on Saturday, it was a new season for the Fighting Seminoles.

"We talked about how we're 0-0 now and in a new season," Beathard said. "We can't think about playing Tallahassee Godby or Bradenton or anyone else. We have to think Land O' Lakes and that's it."

Tickets for Friday's 4A-4 Region playoff between Land O' Lakes and Seminoles, at Seminole High, are on sale at Seminole High through Wednesday. Reserved seats are $5 per person and season ticket holders may call to reserve tickets. Then pick them up at the gate. General admission tickets are $2 and can be purchased prior to the game or at the gate. For ticket reservations, call Seminole High at 222-4222.

Lyman High School finished looking for a top four team finish but were edged out by Oak Ridge and Brandon.

"We finished nine points from our goal," Lyman coach Fred Finke said. "But everyone on the team ran a personal best so how can I be disappointed. Especially when all of them are returning."

opened with consecutive victories over Titusville Astronaut and Orlando Edgewater, but then lost three in a row (Lake Mary, Orlando Dr. Phillips, Lake Brantley). Seminole then shifted gears and closed the season with five consecutive victories, each one more impressive than the previous.

The win streak began against district foe Leeburg as Seminole squeezed out a 19-13 victory. Next was a 16-3 thumping of Oviedo that clinched the district crown and the Tribe followed that up with a 17-7 homecoming victory over Lyman. Then came perhaps the two most impressive performances as Seminole outgunned powerful Lake Howell, 28-20, and manhandled a highly-regarded DeLand team, 38-9.

"I remember back a few weeks ago when our record was 2-3 and compare it to where we are now," Beathard said. "Teamwise, it's not that much different.

We played pretty well in the three losses but not well enough. In the last five games we have made fewer mistakes and are performing better all-around. And, each week the teams got tougher and tougher and we seemed to play better and better. I hope that continues because, in the playoffs, all the teams are champions."

Beathard is now hoping for a good week of preparation for the battle against Land O' Lakes, but he knows even if the 'Noles do have a few bad practices, they will still be ready come 8 o'clock Friday night.

"We've had weeks where we have had bad practices and even had pregame dinners where I didn't think the guys were thinking about football," Beathard said. "But, when they get in that locker room, and start getting dressed and taped, it's all serious. And they are always ready to play by 8 o'clock."

SCC's Teamwork Tops Pensacola

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole Community College only has two games under its belt, but there is already a sense of excitement and enthusiasm that the Lady Raiders and coach Heana Gallagher have not felt too often in the past.

The Lady Raiders put together a sound team performance Saturday night and pulled out an 82-77 victory over Pensacola in the championship of the Lady Raider Classic at the SCC Health Center.

"It was the best teamwork I've had in years at SCC," Gallagher said. "Everyone went in and worked together to do exactly what they had to do. I didn't know what to expect at first, but I'm really excited about this team."

SCC, 3-0 overall (including one win by forfeit), returns to action Tuesday at 5:30 at Indian River Community College.

Kathy Cleveland led four SCC players in double figures Saturday with a game-high 19 points, including 6 of 12 from the floor and 7 of 9 free throws. Tammy Johnson pumped in 17 points on 6 of 13 field goals and 5 of 11 free throws and she also handed out a team-high four assists.

Pam Chatman pumped in 16 points and Jeannell Copeland had a big game inside with 10 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Shelia Higgins and Novella Settles contributed seven points each.

Kathy (Cleveland) and Tammy (Johnson) were hitting well from the outside and running the break well," Gallagher said. "Pam (Chatman) scored mostly inside and Jeannell (Copeland) got some big re-

SCC and Pensacola fought back and forth throughout the game until the Lady Raiders got the lead late, forced Pensacola to foul, and hit their free throws to seal the victory.

"It was a one-point difference most of the game," Gallagher said. "They missed some shots in the last 1:30 and we had good rebounding and forced them to foul."

"Our pressure defense really came through for us," added Gallagher. "We played a tight man-to-man most of the game and everybody who came in did a good job on it. It was a solid team effort."

After only one game this week (Indian River), the Lady Raiders return home next Tuesday, Dec. 1, against Polk Community College. SCC then goes to the Miami-Dade North Tournament on Dec. 4 and is at Palm Beach on the 5th.

Mitchell Runs 2nd, Radkewich 3rd

Nick Radkewich took third place in Saturday's 4A State cross country meet and broke 15 minutes for the first time. Lyman teammate Teddy Mitchell finished second.

Seminole To Host Jamboree

Coach Greg Robinson announced that Seminole High will host a Preseason Basketball Jamboree Tuesday night with Lyman High, Lake Mary High and Oviedo High also participating.

In the first quarter, beginning at 6:30 p.m., Lake Mary will go up against Oviedo. The second quarter, at 7, pits Seminole against Lyman while Lake Mary will play the third quarter at 7:30 and the jamboree caps off at 8 with Seminole taking on Oviedo.

Largo's McDonough Sets 4A Pace

By Mark Mythe
Special to the Herald

TITUSVILLE — In the early going of Saturday's Class 4A State boys three-mile race at Dunn Airpark, an Orange County coach was surprised to see Lyman's Teddy Mitchell and Nick Radkewich the first and second runners in the race. "If Lyman's leading, it can't be too fast of a pace," the coach lamented.

Three runners under 15 minutes isn't "too fast" is it? While Mitchell and Radkewich set the pace, Largo's Pat McDonough made a big move at the mile mark and ran away with the individual title with a time of 14:44.7. Largo also took the team title.

Mitchell and Radkewich certainly didn't let up when they saw they couldn't catch McDonough, though. Mitchell, a sophomore, came in second with a time of 14:58.9 and Radkewich, a junior, was a step behind at 14:59.6.

Lyman High School finished looking for a top four team finish but were edged out by Oak Ridge and Brandon.

"We finished nine points from our goal," Lyman coach Fred Finke said. "But everyone on the team ran a personal best so how can I be disappointed. Especially when all of them are returning."

Behind Mitchell and Radkewich was junior Darren Marshall who finished 50th at 16:25.5. Junior James Flint was next for the Greyhounds, finishing 58th at 16:33.4.

Lady Rams Take 5th, Howell 6th

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

TITUSVILLE — Lake Mary's Lady Rams, a team of mostly seniors, concluded their most successful season ever Saturday with a fifth-place performance at the Class 4A State Cross Country Championships at Dunn Airpark.

While the Lady Rams' seniors went out in style, Lake Howell High, a team of mostly underclassmen, encountered what coach Tom Hammonitree hopes will be a learning experience. Three of Lake Howell's runners fell at some time during the race and the Lady Hawks ended up in sixth place, two points behind Lake Mary.

For the first time since 1982 (Orange Park), the team title was won by a team from the North Florida region as Pensacola Washington finished with a team score of 88 compared to 108 for Brandon, 162 for Coral Springs, 175 for Gainesville Buchholz, 182 for Lake Mary and 184 for Lake Howell.

The individual champion was Mylan Moffat of Largo who recorded a time of 11:44.9.

It was the best finish in state competition for Lake Mary, which was previously 12th. As they have had all season, the Lady Rams relied on a strong pack to carry them to fifth place.

"Our first goal was to be in the top 10 and then the top five was our next goal," Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson said. "So we got our top two goals. We were also hoping to beat Lake Howell with our pack and we did that too."

Sophomore Allison Snell led the Lake Mary pack with a 34th place finish overall (28th in team scoring) and a time of 12:58.6. Senior Heather Heikkila was 35th (29th team scoring) at 12:59.4 followed by seniors Christine Adamson (38th/32nd at 13:08.4), Tara Braheny (33rd/39th at 13:08.6) and Tabatha Gano (60th/88th at 13:37). Shannon Duffy also ran for the Lady Rams and turned in a personal best time of 15:47.3.

"Our girls broke good," Gibson said. "On that course, you have got to get out and get away from the pack. You can't play catch up on that course."

Gibson said getting out fast was the key for the Lady Rams and, at one time, he thought they were even leading the race.

"At the half-mile mark you could say we were winning the meet," Gibson said. "Our top five were between 2:50 and 2:56 and nobody else had five ahead of ours. The girls went out and got in position and worked from there."

"At the mile, the top four were from 6:15 to 6:30," added Gibson. "Tabatha (Gano) got caught in up in the back pack and couldn't pass. Normally she would have been up with Tara (Braheny) and that could possibly have made us third. But, I was very pleased and proud of the girls and they were very excited about it."

Lake Howell, conference, district and region champions, did not finish as high as they had hoped at state but, for the fifth year in a row, they finished in the top six in Class 4A.

"The girls had a good year," Hammonitree said. "It would have been nice if they took one more step forward, but there are always things that happen that you have no control over and you have to accept them and hope it makes you better. Jenny (Bolt) probably said it best afterwards when she said, 'In our Seminole Community College's men's basketball team won a road trip this past weekend and came home with a split. After dropping a tough 91-90 loss to Palm Beach Community College Friday night, the Raiders bounced back with an 88-80 over Polk Community College on Saturday.

In both games, Seminole started slow and had to come back in the second half. Against PBCC foul trouble aided to the Raiders' sluggish start. Malcolm Houston and Rob Williams both picked up two early fouls in the opening half. Houston, SCC's top scoring threat, ended up sitting eleven minutes in the opening half as Williams, a strong inside force, sat 15 minutes in the opening half. The Raiders dropped behind early and Palm Beach held a 46-32 edge. "We started slow again but came on in the second half," assistant coach Dean Smith said. "We started the second half slow also but got on track with about 15 minutes left. When the Raiders finally warmed up the whole team came alive. Houston started the comeback, scoring 28 of his game-high 33 points in the second half. Houston and Barry Dunning both started to find their mark and helped Seminole work itself back in the game. Dunning finished the night with 18 points and a game-high 15 rebounds. "Dunning wasn't shooting well in the first half and Houston was on the bench," Smith said. "Our top scorers weren't producing so we had to rely on the play of the entire team." The team effort payed off as the Raiders managed to tie the score at 88 apiece with 1:30 to play in the game. Robert Thomas picked off a Palm Beach pass and connected on a layup to even the score. Argello Farkas then made three of four free throws to give PBCC a 91-88 lead. Seminole managed to get a hoop from Williams but couldn't come up with another. Seminole managed to bounce back Saturday night with an 88-80 victory over a talented but hard-luck Polk Community College team. Polk, though 0-6, has lost four games this season by two points or less and had a two point lead in three of those games with less than five seconds to play. "They are a real good team," Smith said. "They've had a couple of teams beat them at the buzzer but they have played right with every team. We beat them by eight which is the worst they have been beaten so far this season." Houston again took his time warming up and scored 27 of his game-high 31 points in the second half. Terrell Barnes, starting for the first time, had a very nice game with 18 points for the Raiders. Rob Williams also came through with a brilliant performance scoring 14 points and grabbed an impressive career and game-high 18 rebounds. Seminole led 32-28 at the half and managed to build on that lead throughout the entire second half. "We've played better in the second half all season," head coach Bill Payne said. "The kids are able to wear down their opponents and play a stronger second half than other teams." Seminole, now 4-3, will travel to Temple Terrace Tampa to play Florida College a team they beat handily a week ago. "They'll definitely be a better team at home," Payne said. "They are a much better team than they showed when they played us." Seminole will return home Saturday against North Florida Community College beginning at 7:30 at the SCC Health Center.

Lady Patriots Second Again

Seminole county was well represented in the Florida High School state swimming meet held at Justus Aquatic Center Saturday. Lake Brantley's girls finished second while Lake Mary and Lyman boys teams finished fifth and seventh, respectively. Lake Brantley, led by JoDee Lake's two second place performances came home as the state's runnerup for the second successive season, losing to a powerful Spanish River team. "We looked good in the prelims and were in a good position to win the meet," Lake Brantley coach Clay Parnell said. "We haven't swam well at night ever and Saturday was no exception, it's really hard for anyone to swim well in both the prelims and the finals on the same day." Lake finished second in both the 50 and 100 freestyle events. In the 50 she finished with a 24.3 clocking while swimming a 53.3 effort in the 100 race. Lake was also a part of the 200 medley relay which finished fifth overall. Joining Lake on that team was Jennifer Moon, Dani Ohnsmann and Manda Davis. Christy Bridgewater looked good in the prelims and came back to finish seventh in the 200 free with a 1:53.1 clocking while finishing eighth in the 500 free with a time of 5:02.2. Kristen Pauley who was injured three weeks ago finished 11th in the 200 free at 1:58.5 and 10th in the 100 fly at 1:00.6. Davis finished seventh in the 200 individual medley with a 2:13 and came back with a fine effort in the 100 breaststroke, finishing third at 1:08.5. Ohnsmann finished 14th in the 200 IM and 12th in the 100 breast. Lisa Moon finished seventh in the 50 free at 25.1 and sixth in the 100 free with a 54.6 clocking. Jennifer Moon had a strong effort in the 100 backstroke, finishing fourth at 1:01.1. The 400 relay team of Bridgewater, Pauley and both Moons won in impressive fashion at 3:36.4. "We won that race pretty easily," Parnell said. "They swam a good time and weren't really pushed. "We had an opportunity to win," Parnell said. "It was just a weird meet for us and we didn't come through at night." Lake Mary's boys had a swimmer in every event to finish as high as it ever has in a state swimming meet. "Everyone on the team had a good showing," Lake Mary coach Walt Morgan said. "It was an entire team effort that got us here." Lake Mary's 200 medley relay put together an impressive performance finishing third at 1:39.8. "I stacked that relay after the 400 free relay team was disqualified at the district meet," Morgan said. Steve Kostowicz opened the relay followed by Kuchma, Wes Simicek and Jaime Bojanowski. Bojanowski finished in seventh place in the 200 free with a 1:46.2 clocking. Kuchma finished sixth in the 100 breaststroke at 1:00.5 and 12th in the 200 IM at 2:00.2. Wes Simicek finished fifth in the 50 free for the Rams with a nice 21.9 effort, he also finished fourth in the 100 with a 47.7 showing. Kostowicz finished 11th in the 100 butterfly at 52.8 and finished fifth in the 100 backstroke at 55.6. Brad Bridgewater, a freshman, finished 12th in the 500 free for Lake Mary with a 4:53.8. Lyman took only five swimmers to the state meet and put together a fine showing without the aid of depth. "We had a real good turnout for the team we had there," Lyman coach Don Clark said. "We didn't have a lot of swimmers but everyone who was there did their job." Chuck Remighaus led the way for the Greyhounds with a fourth place finish in the 200 IM with a time of 1:56.1. He also finished second in the 100 free with a 46.6 effort and made the Junior National team with a 42.8 split to open the 400 free relay. Dave Bandy finished 10th in the 500 free at 4:47 with brother Jim Bandy finishing 11th in the 500 at 4:47 also. Dave Bandy won the consolation round in the 200 free at 1:45.7.

Melissa Shuckman scored two goals and Seminole's defense did the rest as the Lady Tribe opened the 1987-88 season with a 2-1 victory over Winter Park Saturday at Seminole High. Shuckman's first goal came 3:53 into the game when she got a corner kick from Jennifer Bengge, collected it, and fired it into the cage. Winter Park tied it on an own goal late in the first half, but Shuckman scored the winning goal midway through the second half on an assist from Heather Brown. "We have a young team this year but they are very eager and working very hard," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "We still have some holes to plug in but we have looked pretty good the two times we have played (Seminole also won in the pre-season jamboree, 2-0 over DeLand 2-0)." Seminole took 15 shots on goal Saturday compared to eight for the Lady Wildcats. Seminole keeper Kim Walsh, 14 saves, had what amounted to a shutout as the only goal Winter Park was credited with came when a Seminole defender passed the ball back too far out of Walsh's reach and it went in the goal. "That was just one of those things that happens," Reno said. "Other than that, our defense played a tremendous game." Reno said the defense was led by Cindy Bengge, Julia Roberts and Mary Vezina while newcomer Bobbie Osborne had a solid game at stopper back. Defending state champion Melbourne showed why it is odds on favorite to win it again as it downed Lyman's Lady Greyhounds, 3-0, Saturday at Melbourne. "Melbourne is a very strong team, they lost no one from last year," Lyman coach Laura Rountree said "But it was a good learning experience to play a team like that early. We are really young and needed to be put under that kind of pressure. It will help us when the time comes where we are put under that kind of pressure again." Kelley Barnes, regarded as one of the top players in the state, led the way for Melbourne as she assisted on the first goal, by Betsy Willamece, then scored the next two goals, the first on Meredith Hines' assist and the second on Willamece's.

Slims: Graf Overcomes Sabatini

NEW YORK (UPI) — With all she accomplished this year, Stelli Graf was yearning for dessert to put a sweet end to a sumptuous feast.

Graf helped herself to the last piece of cake Sunday when she overcame Gabriela Sabatini, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, to win the $1 million Virginia Slims Championships.

This completed her year's work with a match record of 75-2.

Oviedo Tops Rams In Jamboree

Jim Guggenheim's goal gave Oviedo's Lions the lead and the defense made it stand up as the Lions upset Lake Mary Rams, 1-0, Saturday in the Preseason Soccer Jamboree at Lake Mary High. In the second half (teams played 40-minute halves) Bishop Moore and Lake Howell played to a 0-0 tie. Lake Brantley followed with a 1-0 victory over DeLand and Lyman upended Seminole, 2-0. Most Seminole County boys soccer teams open the season on Dec. 1.

Soccer

opportunities in the man between Bishop Moore and Lake Howell, while Brantley got the winning goal against DeLand on a penalty kick by Louie Meletlidis. Lyman got a goal on a free kick by Tom Sells and the second goal was on a breakaway by Bernard Harden. "Seminole had some good opportunities where they almost scored," McCorkle said. "Seminole and Oviedo are much improved over last year and will make it a tighter conference. Either team, if they score on you first, can beat you."

...Girls

hearts we know we're a winner. That's what counts most." Bonnie Oliver, the only senior on the team, led Lake Howell with a 29th place finish (23rd in team scoring) at 12:52. Bolt, a junior, was 25th (31st in team scoring) at 12:54 followed by freshman Michelle Cook (42nd/36th at 13:11), freshman Jessica Cardarelli (45th/45th at 13:20) and junior Stacy Johnson (61st/55th at 13:29). Also running for the Lady Hawks were junior Michelle Lee (14:34) and freshman Marielle Lugo (14:42). "What happened to Lake Brantley at region happened to us at state," Hammontree said. "Only we didn't have one, but three who fell. But it is probably a blessing in disguise because now the girls know what they are capable of and it gives them something to strive for next year." "The girls can hold their heads high," added Hammontree. "There are not many teams who can say they've run in state five consecutive years and the worse they've done is sixth." In Saturday's Class 3A meet, Seminole High senior Shownda Martin did not have one of her better races as she finished 14th individually with a time of 12:27.7. The winner was Middleburg's Ellie Runlee at 11:45.2. Tallahassee Leon took the team title.

Which Type Bed Is Best Depends On Sleeper

DEAR DR. GOTT - My daughter plans on getting waterbeds for her girls, 11 and 16. My opinion is that a firm mattress is much better for the growing child. Who is right?

DEAR READER - The argument about which is best, a soft mattress or a firm one, has yet to be resolved. Some people appear to sleep more comfortably on a waterbed, while others swear by a harder surface. For a growing child, either a soft bed or a hard one is OK, depending on personal preferences.

If your granddaughters do not find waterbeds to their liking, would your daughter allow them to switch back to a firmer mattress? I think this is the crux of the issue. A waterbed is a fairly large financial investment and, once purchased, probably is going to be permanent. Therefore, unless the girls have had waterbed experience, they may be stuck with your daughter's decision. I'd like to ensure that their preferences - and not the adult's - are considered.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I'm 47, and about six months ago I experienced a severe trauma. At the same time I stopped menstruating. Any connection?

DEAR READER - The hormones that govern menstruation are influenced by environment. Trauma, stress, starvation and strenuous physical activity are known to disrupt the menstrual cycle. Of course, at 47, you are probably entering menopause and this may explain your amenorrhea (cessation of menses).

However, severe emotional upset may certainly have played a role. Ask your gynecologist's advice.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Is it true that one will develop a lump at the site of a bruise or a blow to the breast?

DEAR READER - A woman sometimes will develop a lump at the site of a breast injury. This is usually due to tissue inflammation and bruising, and cysts can form. The lump will usually disappear with time. However, there is one danger to this type of breast trauma. For reasons that are not understood, some women will develop breast cancer at the site of an injury. Therefore, following a blow to the breast, a lump that does not go away within a few weeks should be checked by a physician.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Willy Nilly should know better than to be so aggressive in the bidding. He's just too careless a player to be in a delicate slam contract.

Three clubs was not even a forcing response (North-South were playing limit jump raises), so it was really not necessary for Willy to get so high. Still, there he was, needing to make 12 tricks.

Willy won the opening diamond lead and saw right away that he was going to need some luck. With the spade ace to his right and the heart king to his left (a 25 percent chance) he would be all right, so he played for that parlay. He went to dummy with a high club and played a spade up to his king. He was immediately set when East played the queen, and his king was taken by West's ace. Naturally a spade came back for down one.

"Tsk, tsk." Careful Charlie remarked from his kibitzer's position. "You didn't give yourself your best chance. Since you need the heart finesse anyway, why not take it at trick two? When it works, you can throw a diamond on the heart ace. Then play a club to your ace and cash your other high diamond. Now go back to dummy's club king and ruff a diamond. Since that suit is 3-3 in the defenders' hands, dummy's last diamond is now a winner, on which you can discard a losing spade." As usual, Charlie was right.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bede Ooal
YOUR BIRTHDAY
NOVEMBER 24, 1987

You will have numerous opportunities to draw on in the year ahead. However, if you don't develop them wisely, they could end up being just pleasant memories.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Before taking out your pen to write a check today, be sure it's for something you really need. If you waste money now, you're going to regret it later. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you might be taken in by someone who has great style but little substance. Approach new acquaintances with an open mind, but a critical eye.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Trade on your own experiences and common sense in your commercial dealings today. Don't lean on the analysis of associates who may have less knowledge than you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Impatience could severely lessen your chances for success today. Don't make any important moves until you are certain that the time is right.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Priority preference is very important today. If your objectives overlap, the possibilities of success in anything you attempt could diminish considerably.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The people to whom you are apt to listen today could be the ones with the wrong answers. Keep in mind that truth and convincing phrases are not always synonymous.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't farm out special jobs today without first checking out the firms and their prices. A poor choice could prove costly.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It may prove unwise today to rely too heavily on recently acquired allies. New relationships need more firming up before putting them to the test.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be cognizant of sensible health habits today. If you know that mustard and onions always upset your stomach, eat your hamburger plain.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Speculative financial ventures might not work out too well today. Even if you get a tempting inside tip, it might be smart to avoid it if it entails a serious risk.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't take it upon yourself today to make a major domestic decision without first consulting your mate. If you're wrong, it could have far-reaching effects.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) When dealing with subordinates today, don't throw your weight around. Observers will be sympathetic to your target, not to you.
