STRIKE SCENES DOT U. S. FROM EAST TO WEST

Labor Troubles Mar Recovery Picture; 85,000 Mine Work- ers Are On Strike

Strike scenes dotted the country from coast to coast today with these as the highlights:

Colon Pittsburgh—Three to five thousand singing and shouting miners converged on the big Clairton plant of Carnozie Steel seeking to swine 6000 workers there into the holiday movement of 85,000 steel and mine workers in three states.

Detroit—Henry Ford had labor troubles on his hands. Workers in Chester, Pa., having gone on a strike yesterday and started a strike in the Ford plant there. They threatened to proceed to Dearborn, Mich. to picket. Labor troubles also beset the Richmond, Cal. plant.

Flint, Mich.—The national labor board sought a settlement with several thousand auto tool and die makers. Bread was increasingly hard to get in Philadelphia as the strike of bakery drivers continued.

Washington—The national labor board is moving to settle many strikes including the one involving Ford.

Philadelphia police Wednesday arrested five strikers on charges of inciting to riot at the J. H. White leather manufacturing plant. Company officials denied the strike was called to protest violations of the NRA minimum wage. In the same city acid was hurled through a window of the office of a foreman of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company where employees are on strike. Bakers delivered bread under police guard against striking truck drivers.

Paterson, N. J. silk plants operated in the face of picketing. In Hamilton, Pa., silk workers on strike protested against Mayor A. Ryan's order forbidding picketing. Chicago police arrested nine members of the international leather workers union as they picketed a plant in violation of a court injunction. A three-week strike has been in effect.

Belleville, Ill. employees of an electrical appliance factory returned to work after a one-day walkout. Unionization problems were composed by the NRA mediation board.

One of Philadelphia's strikes was settled when 400 employees of a ball bearing manufacturing plant won demands of a 40-hour week, union shop and a 20 percent minimum increase in pay.

Accused Admits His Guilt In Burning Of Reich Building

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Marinus Van Der Lubbe made an unequivocal admission of guilt in the burning of the German Reichstag building during today's session of the case on which he and four other men are on trial.

Judge Wilhelm Buenger announced that Van Der Lubbe would give his own version of the burning. Thereupon the defendant, standing with drooping shoulders and downcast eyes, replied hesitantly, and Berenger on the basis of an earlier confession drew a verdict from Van Der Lubbe.

NEW DISORDERS FLARE IN CUBAN INTERIOR POINTS

Strikers Seize Match And Cigarette Facto- ries At Matanzas

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—(AP)—New disorders flared in Matanzas province yesterday to plague the Grau San Martin government as striking workers seized the Y mura match and cigarette factory at Matanzas city.

More trouble was reported at the town of San Jose de los Rios, where armed bands were sackng farmers' homes. The mayor of the town sent out a call for troops.

In Col n three communist leaders were arrested following an attempt to burn a Roman Catholic church. Authorities said that they had seized a quantity of literature at communist headquarters.

Strikers refused to let anyone enter the match company property at Matanzas.

The government apparently was willing to let political negotiations go as the road for the time being, as reports of an impending military revolt in Tampa have quieted the problem of quelling the nearly 500 army and navy officers from the National hotel here otherwise annoyed the officials.

Approximately 500 soldiers, equipped with 27 machine guns, arrived at 22 o'clock in Havana, and the government said they would send them to quell sugar mill disorders.

The anti-government parties, it was said, were reported to have seized a large stock of arms deposits on a ranch near the town of Florida belonging to former Senator Felix Cuelar.

Officers at the National hotel had until midnight to leave their hotel for their homes or leave their status in the army and navy, but only a few have left.

ARMY PLANES TO TRANSPORT TOUGH GUNMAN

"Machine Gun" Kelly Has Shackles On Feet And Guard Out- side His Steel Cell

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 29.—(AP)—A sullen trapped gangster, George "Machine Gun" Kelly, with shackles on his feet and a heavy guard outside his steel cell, yesterday awaited his removal to Oklahoma City to stand trial for the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping.

As federal authorities delayed sending Kelly and his wife, Kathryn, to Oklahoma, forces of the government picked up a man at Ballinger, Texas, who was charged with giving the desperado refuge at his home on Aug. 16.

In announcing the arrest of Will Casey, of Ballinger, attorney General Cummings said at Washington that it was the purpose of the government in its drive against racketeers and kidnapers to prosecute not only the principal criminals involved, but those "giving them aid and comfort."

Department of Justice agents here professed to know nothing concerning the detention of two men at Charlotte, N. C., or the apprehension of five others at Minneapolis.

John M. Keith, special agent of the Department of Justice, continued to maintain silence concerning his plans for sporting the Kelly's to Oklahoma City by airplane, but indicated to reporters he was awaiting orders from J. E. Hoover, head of the Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

Keith said yesterday he attached no particular importance to Kelly's reported admission Wednesday night that he had participated in the Urschel abduction. The admission was announced by Agent W. A. Rorer, and confirmed by Keith Wednesday night.

Keith, Kelly, and Albert Bates were the actual abductors. The admission, Keith said, was verbal, and Kelly has never denied his connection with the kidnaping.

Other agents would not say whether the questioning of those held here had any connection with the arrest of Casey, or the activities at Minneapolis and Charlotte.

Judge Harry B. Anderson of the Federal District Court, signed warrants at Jackson, Tenn., providing for the removal of the Kellys after they had signed away their rights to a private hearing.

Sixteen airplanes, some of them army ships, are in readiness at the municipal airport for the Kellys to Oklahoma City. Every highway entering Memphis is under guard.

Held in the county jail with the Kellys are John Tichenor, at whose home the Kellys were captured Tuesday; Tichenor's brother-in-law, S. E. Travis; and Langford Ramsey, a young attorney, brother of Kelly's first wife.

Six-Hour General Strike Called By Cuban Communists

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Another element in the complex Cuban political scene was projected into the foreground today as communists called for a six-hour general strike in Havana.

Recovery Administration Plans To Appeal To Ford Direct To Settle Strike

OPONENTS AND SUPPORTERS OF SALES TAX CLASH

Views Are Expressed At Meet Of Florida Municipality League

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Sales tax opponents and advocates clashed at yesterday's meeting of the Florida League of Municipalities, with George M. Powell, Jacksonville, urging such a tax as a substitute for an ad valorem tax after Mayor Vincent Wyman of Coral Gables had denounced it as an almost certain result of adoption of the proposed $5000 homestead exemption measure.

Powell characterized the sales tax as the most convenient, economically collected and productive tax possible, an automatic assessment that has no improvement in the process of taxation.

This tax, the speaker said, would make it possible to abolish all ad valorem taxes except that required for school purposes; would produce a steadily inflowing revenue, paid in the orderly course of every day business, and do away with city council meetings constantly interrupted by complaints of taxpayers.

After an address by Mayor H. Clay Armstrong, of Pensacola, on "What Price Governmental Transition in State Government," in which a plea was made for a new state constitution, the league approved a resolution calling for appointment of a committee to prepare a draft of a model constitution for Florida. A single legislative body of 40 or 50 business men, working in harmony with the governor and his cabinet was a provision of the proposed state government proposed by Mayor Armstrong.

The league's afternoon session was featured by an address by Mayor Wyman of Coral Gables, urging the defeat of the proposed state constitutional amendment exempting from taxation all homesteads up to a value of $5000. The mayor said, "I am clearly in favor of an outstanding debt, unsound and dangerous."

Wyman contended that if the state could exempt homesteads from taxation, depriving the bond holder of an existing security for the service of his debt, "it could with equal propriety exempt all valuable property of whatever kind or nature from taxation, and make the bond of its political and financial integrity worthless."

The league's annual dinner last night was followed by a party by a host Justice Davis of the state supreme court, Congressman Nelson Peterson, Lakeland; Attorney General Landis; and James D. Bourne, of St. Petersburg.

Election of officers and transaction of unfinished business in the concluding program of the convention today.

McKee Announces His Candidacy For Mayor

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Joseph V. McKee today announced his candidacy for mayor of New York. The announcement was handed out by Charles Keegan, his associate set at rest one of most vigorously played guessing games that has struck New York since the arrival of McKee as independent Democratic candidate.

For the past several two hours word from McKee has been sought desperately from his town and four times, sidewalk president set an hour for announcing his political intentions, but each time postponed it.

Mr. Landquist said that he is not raising very much cash, but that he has several other stalks which when full grown may reach the height attained by the "giant" which is now on display in The Herald office.

RE-ARMING OF GERMANY NOT O. K. TO FRANCE

Reich Official Says His Country Should Be Treated As Partner Among Nations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The Recovery Administration planned last night to go direct to Henry Ford, if necessary, to obtain reopening of the strike-bound Chester, Pa., plant and submission of the labor controversy to arbitration.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the National Labor Board, told newspaper men he believed the differences could be composed and said the board would seek to "persuade" the Ford Motor Company to recede from its decision to close the plant immediately as an answer to the strike.

At the same time, Wagner asserted industrial disputes were an expected companion of the economic transition under the NRA and forecast a gradual settling of strikes under the guidance of the board.

Wagner moved along the peace-making route while Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator, lay on a hospital bed, still unable to return to his office. Already away from his desk eight days, the administrator had some hope of returning today.

The infection that sent him to Walter Reed hospital was definitely having aggravated a run-down condition brought on by months of day and night work, and he was advised to take a complete rest.

Meanwhile, the general NRA program was progressing slowly. Awaiting the administrator's attention were the codes for retailers generally and retail druggists, and the agreement upon coal wage scales for Western Kentucky and Alabama.

During the week Johnson approved nine codes for transmission to President Roosevelt.

New demands to be brought before the Recovery Administration came from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who asserted the need for a 40-hour week in codes to take up the slack in employment.

Green said the codes providing from 35 to 48 hour weeks were "not going far enough."

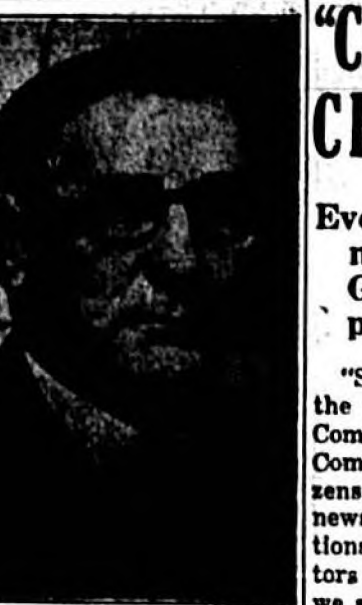

"The administration," he asserted, "is taping altogether too far short of the mark. There is too much bargaining going on. The hours in the codes are too long, the pay too little."

"As a consequence, the slack in employment is not being taken up as rapidly as conditions demand. The one remedy that must be employed is a six-hour day, five day week."

He described the Hitler action toward the Jews as humane, but admitted there have been some Jewish incidents during the revolution.

The Jews' demands continued, "were the absolute and unlimited masters of the press, literature, the theater and the cinema. They made public opinion, exercised a decisive influence on the stock exchange, and were the rulers of parliament and its parties."

STATES MAY BE FORCED TO USE 'WORKS' FUNDS

Those That Don't May Have Their Allot- ments Withdrawn

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Displeased and disappointed by the delay of 14 states in beginning highway construction with federal money allotted to them, the public works administration yesterday considered withdrawing the funds from the "dilatory" states.

The special board for public works, which approves allotments from the $3,300,000,000 fund, adopted a resolution instructing its general counsel, Henry T. Hunt, to advise whether allocations made to the states and so far lying unused, might be taken back.

The sum of $400,000,000 was set aside from the public works funds for road projects in the states and in all but 14 construction work was started. In some of the states where no construction has been begun, bids have been advertised for and in some cases contracts have been let.

The 14 states and the sums which they were allowed from the $3,300,000,000 fund are: Alabama, $8,370,131; California, $15,607,354; Connecticut, $2,860,740; Florida, $2,231,834; Georgia, $10,001,185; Illinois, $17,570,770; Indiana, $10,037,843; Kentucky, $7,517,390; Maryland, $3,504,527; Mississippi, $1,978,075; New Jersey, $3,346,032; Oklahoma, $3,216,798; Pennsylvania, $18,891,004; and Tennessee, $6,492,619.

The funds were made available soon after the public works administration was set up in order that men could be employed in as large numbers as possible during the summer and fall months. The fact that winter is approaching with out work being under way in some states has caused considerable disappointment.

Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, made it plain yesterday that the public works administration is not concerned itself with limitations on the borrowing of funds which are written into some state constitutions and that such states cannot expect special help from the government.

President Roosevelt under the terms of the National Recovery Act is authorized to make outright grants of funds in such instances as he sees fit, but Ickes said there was involved a question of "abstract justice," since if outright grants were made to some states and partial grants and loans to others, the states which had to repay their loans would be discriminated against.

Probe Shows Federal Grants To Ship Lines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The record of the Senate committee investigating ocean and air mail subsidies today revealed figures showing that in the Coolidge and Hoover administrations the Export Steamship Corporation obtained more than $48,850,000 in federal grants and that the line bought 23 shipping board vessels for $1,251,000 that had cost the government more than $48,000,000.

STAGE SET FOR "CRACKER DAY" CELEBRATION

Everything In Readiness To Entertain Guests Who Are Ex- pected Tomorrow

"Splendid co-operation on the part of the Sanford City Commissioners, the County Commissioners, Sanford citizens, merchants, the local newspaper, various organizations and individual contributors has been received and we are truly grateful because without this help we could not have possibly worked out all the details connected with our first annual celebration," declared Mrs. John Leonardy in a statement issued today in behalf of the sponsors of "Cracker Day."

Mrs. Leonardy continued by saying that "Everything is in readiness to receive and entertain the guests who are expected to arrive early tomorrow morning. We have been assured by letter and telegram that large crowds are coming from all parts of Central Florida, but we are ready for them. I believe we have enough fish and cornbread to feed two whole counties."

It was also announced this morning by the chairman that dinner will be served from 11:00 o'clock until noon for the benefit of those who have to work in local stress. The regular serving will begin at 12:00 o'clock and continue until 2 o'clock. However, Mrs. Leonardy continued, arrangements are being made to serve fish at all hours during the afternoon and at supper for the out-of-town guests who would like to remain here until a late hour.

Attention has been called to the fact that the fish dinner will be served on the Court House lawn where tables and other preparations have been made, the chairman pointed out saying that "many have expressed doubt as to the exact location."

The riders contest, to take place immediately following the tournament riding late in the afternoon, will be held on east First Street. The "Cracker" square dance has been definitely called for 8:00 o'clock and it will also take place on East First Street.

Besides the grand old speaker of the day, Joe Sears, United States Congressman at large from Florida, J. J. Parrisi, state senator from this district, will also address the city as an honor guest. Arthur Yucell has been appointed to award the various prizes offered for contests during the day, it was announced this morning.

SNAKE PUNCTURES TIRE

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Declaring a rattlesnake had punctured his tire, J. C. Clark, Edford mining man, called his automobile into town with a "flat" to back up his story. He exhibited the rattler'sfang, still in the rubber.

Visible Year for Today

SELF DENIAL: Whoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever will save his life shall lose it; but whoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. Mark 8:34, 35.

Senator Copeland lost his pants the other night when his hotel room was burglarized. As one who has also lost his pants, we submit that the senator now knows what the rest of us have been through.

Some people are saying that the only way to break up the depression is to have another war. The last war cost this country $100,000,000,000 and it didn't get through paying for it yet. Another war, which would cost infinitely more would be something remarkable indeed if from a business point of view it proved to be a good thing.

If the government goes ahead with its price fixing plan, we certainly hope that it will fix the prices of the things we have to buy low enough so that we can afford to buy them, and the things which we have to sell high enough so that after we've sold them we'll be able to buy something.

The reason Gov. Sholtz does not want to call a special session of the legislature is because a sales tax would become a law if he did. Perhaps a sales tax ultimately would be the way out for Florida, but enacted now it would prevent government economy and encourage extravagance. Gov. Sholtz will prevent a sales tax if he can until government costs are cut. The people will thank him for that.

The NRA committee in New York City has prepared a plan whereby the federal government would be required to pay salaries to an administration committee and a huge staff of trained clerks and assistants who would check up on violations and enforce regulations. Such a plan if adopted for New York would of course have to be installed in other cities. And there would have to be thousands of such staffs. And the federal government, or rather the taxpayers, would have to foot the bill.

The middle western farmers are already on the neck of the Roosevelt administration because the Agricultural Adjustment Act with its domestic allotment plan is not accomplishing the results which the farmers had hoped for. It was the failure of another farm relief act, creating the famous federal farm board in 1929, which precipitated the downfall of the Hoover administration. It would seem that no matter how hard the government tries, it cannot satisfy the farmers' propensities.

The old Seminole County Bank building, which has been pretty much of an eye-sore to a number of local persons ever since that fateful day in the summer of 1927 when its former occupant closed its doors, is taking on new life. The Touchton Drug Co. has moved into it and has completely renovated and redecorated the building. The remodeling of the inside and a fresh coat of paint on the outside have made it look like a new building. It has been a tremendous improvement to one of Sanford's busiest corners.

Florida so far has received a total of $2,297,393 from the federal government for unemployment relief, and another $1,200,000 has been approved. This is a disconcerting figure to the government and does not seem to be repaid by taxpayers. We hear a lot of loose talk these days about revolutions, but it is difficult to conceive of a government which is dependent on the federal government for its very existence.

New Ideals In Business

Coming into the general understanding of economic life is a new conception of the purpose of business. The old profit making system has not been eliminated, but it has been supplemented by the belief that human rights are quite as important as property rights. The fulfillment of this ideal can be obtained by adding to the interest on money an interest in the living conditions of workmen. How this interest can best be expressed is illustrated by Dr. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, in the following program:

"1. Every business should recognize that it is an institution of society, with responsibilities to the general public and employees as well as to stockholders and customers. "2. In every business attention should be given to social and human objectives to improve health, build morale, stabilize emotions, and equip workers for participation in community life as good American citizens. "3. In every business there should be a sincere effort to provide a sympathetic and friendly environment in which pride of achievement and contentment in deeds may develop as a characteristic of a trained mind and body. "4. Emphasis should be placed on discipline, which comes through (a) doing supremely well necessary and worthwhile tasks, (b) respecting law, (c) observing rights of others, (d) appreciating the value of methodical procedure. "5. In every business the aim should be to familiarize employees with a wide range of occupations, so that ultimately, through competent personnel distribution, workers will be planted in positions which fit their temperaments and capabilities. "6. An educational division should be a part of all large business organizations, and the teachers should be trained in the essentials of psychiatry, psychology and the art of teaching. "7. Business should be so planned that all workers are kept busy at worthwhile tasks, and if units of the particular company range wide territorially, efforts should be made to transfer workers from one location to another if they are of a venturesome inclination. "8. The education program should embrace a wide curriculum, such as history, science, mathematics, languages, literature, music, arts and crafts, and also recreational activities. "9. Individual training should be a counterpart of the classroom teaching. "10. In every business efforts should be directed to protect the self-respect of the individual man. Doles in any form are objectionable."

A Worthy Solution

The State of Florida should be particularly interested in the announcement that the emergency relief administration of the Federal Government is planning to take transients off the highways and put them into camps as part of the federal relief program.

The problem of unemployed transients has always been a trying one for this state. Even during prosperous times Florida was the mecca of persons who were down and out, the afflicted, people seeking a little relief from their troubles in the warmth and sunshine of the tropics.

But today when there is a prodigious number of people out of work this state has become an increasingly attractive magnet to those who are without employment and without shelter and who see in this territory the chance of escaping the rigors of winter. We do not begrudge them this desire and we wish it was so that everyone who is without a job and who is sick with the troubles of the world could come into this sublimous climate and forget his troubles.

However, this is impossible. It is physically out of the question for Florida to take care of even a small part of the hordes which seek its haven. We have our own unemployment problem which almost defies solution. It would be eminently unfair to make this state responsible for the transients from other states when our own people are in distress.

It is with this idea in mind that the relief administration has decided on its course of action and has set aside $257,000 for 14 states for dealing with the problem. The plan embraces the enforcement of laws against hitch-hiking and stealing train rides and provides that persons so caught will be placed in transient camps or assisted in returning home.

This action of the Federal Government is a very sensible one and should form a solution, at least in part, to one of the most irksome problems confronting the cities and counties of Florida.

CRACKER DAY ORLANDO REPORTER-SANFORD

Saturday is Cracker Day in Seminole County. Not that Seminole has a very large population of those native sons and daughters who pioneered Florida, but that the remnants of these pioneers and their descendants may know that they still hold an honored place in the history and development of the county.

Repr. Joe Sears is the speaker. Joe is a full fledged cracker who has made the most of his opportunities in life. Like many others of the pioneer days he has made his impress on the history of the state in a manner that will not be effaced with the passing of years.

That the Florida cracker holds a respected place in the estimation of the newer population in the state, is evidenced by the vote Sears gets when he runs for office. In the fourth district where not more than 25 percent of the population could qualify as cracker stock, Sears was elected representative after term.

As a candidate for congressman at large last year, Sears defeated that popular orator and king of story tellers, Mayor John Alsop, of Jacksonville. Sears is a politician of the old school.

Sanford is host to Seminole crackers and is adhering to old traditions. Old customs are being preserved. One need only cast an eye about the town to see how this country still profits by the old-fashioned ways of the old pioneers. The only thing overlooked in the preparing of the Cracker day program to give us is a ball game between Orlando and Sanford of old time ball fans.

SCREEN TESTS! HUNDREDS OF VISITORS TO FAIR TAKE THEM AT HOLLYWOOD

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A screened test at Hollywood! Fond hopes of millions of American girls, and secret ambitions of almost as many young men who harbor the private notion that they are better looking than John Barrymore and can act better than both John and brother Lionel, are being realized daily for a score of young people in Hollywood, screenland's contribution to the Chicago World's Fair.

With crowds of curious, amused and even envious spectators looking on, the cameraman grinding away and the director shouting commands, some twenty aspirants are given the tests each day under the direction of Luther Reed.

"Register Despair!" The tests are short, yet severe. As the prospective movie star is ushered upon the open-air stage, Reed starts in on his rapid-fire job of directing.

"Sit down at that table over there, young lady. We'll have a rehearsal without the camera. Just do what I tell you."

The pretty young Garbo-to-be seats herself at a table on which are a telephone, some writing paper, and a pen and ink, and makes an effort at modestly pulling her skirt down over her knees.

Reed's instructions come fast and furious. "You've just arrived from Dallas, Texas. You're at a hotel. Your mother is desperately ill in Dallas, and your father has sent you to Chicago to get funds for the necessary operation from your uncle. You find your uncle has gone to New York. You don't know what to do. You stare blankly into space for several moments. You decide to write your dad. You pick up a pen, dip it in the inkwell, and start to write."

At the conclusion of the blank stare into space, the girl self-consciously takes the pen, hurriedly dips it into the ink well, and commences her missive.

A loud voice interrupts her. "No, not like that. The chances are ten to one there'll be too much ink in the pen, so scrape it against the inkwell."

Plenty of instructions. "That's better. Write: 'Dear Dad.' Then start in to write the body of the letter under the 'D' in Dad. No, don't really write, just go through the motions. Say, don't let your left arm dangle all over the table. Hold the top of the paper down with it."

Finally, when the young aspirant realizes that the little act is not so difficult after all and that the audience seemed pleased with her performance, she is prepared for the actual test. Then comes the cry, "Action," from Reed, and the entire scene is repeated, this time without hats and hitches, but with an abundance of wisecracks from the director.

The following evening the screen tests are projected upon the screen in the Hollywood theater and applause from the audience determines the winner.

Winners Rewarded. At the end of each week the tests of the nightly winners are reshown and a grand winner chosen. The lucky person receives a valuable reward for his or her proficiency. Who knows, perhaps a Garbo or a Gable may be discovered among the boys and girls who visit the World's Fair?

A Screen Test at Hollywood, at the World's Fair—A score of ambitious young would-be movie stars are given screen tests daily at Hollywood, movie headquarters at a Century of Progress Exposition. Here one of them, Eva Paulskind, is put through a test while Director Luther Reed gives her pointers and cameraman Charley David "shoots" the scene.

New Groceries Will Open Doors Saturday Morning

Working steadily all this week carpenters and painters this afternoon completed the remodeling of the storeroom recently vacated by the Sanford Drug Co. and after hurriedly stocking the shelves with goods which arrived last night and today, A. B. Stevens, former manager of a local chain store, announced that the Triple "S" Groceries will be opened for business early tomorrow morning.

Besides Mr. Stevens, Miss Naomi Fellows, who has had considerable experience as a grocery store cashier in Sanford, will be employed in the new store.

The Triple "S" Groceries is decorated with green throughout the interior while the front has been painted a bright red. The show-window has been moved so as to allow ample room for the display of fresh fruits and vegetables.

The manager of the new grocery said that workmen have been rushing all this week to complete their work but he admits it was not until this morning that he was certain of opening Saturday, explaining that there was considerable remodeling to be done.

"We still have a great deal of canned foods, staple groceries and produce on the way here and we will probably be until a late hour tonight arranging the stock and putting the final touches to the interior, but early tomorrow morning we will swing open our doors to the shoppers of Sanford with a complete line," Mr. Stevens concluded.

DREAM HOUSES AT WORLD'S FAIR ARE ARCHITECTURAL GLIMPSE OF TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—How will we live tomorrow? Tomorrow, we have read, is another day—but tomorrow is today for Chicago World's Fair visitors in the Home and Industrial Arts exhibits at A Century of Progress.

Here in size model homes, only a few steps from the crude logs of Fort Dearborn of a hundred years ago as it has been reconstructed for the Fair, leading architects and engineers have dared to reach into the future and bring forth a handful of home planning ideas that are as interesting as they are revolutionary.

No Waste Here. There are no basements in these homes. There are no attics. There is no waste space at all. Gone are fancy "ornaments" and the new wave of construction are the new wave, heavy buildings. Gone are massive, heavy buildings. The homes of tomorrow is "light," clean-cut.

There are few extravaganzas. In the few dollars, the money that paid for these homes went into useful, efficient, convenient and beautiful construction. Wasted money has become a thing unknown in the past few years.

Home Has Hangar. What surprises await the thousands who stream daily into these homes! There are houses of glass and steel and synthetic stone. There are air-conditioned rooms that are never uncomfortable. There are roof gardens and solariums on houses that cost no more than many average homes of the past.

One home, called the "House of Tomorrow," has an airplane hangar in addition to a built-in garage. All the outside walls of this house are of transparent glass. Venetian blinds allow the inhabitants to con-

Virginia McDaniel Is Honored With Party

A. unit was the main used for decorations and appointments at the miscellaneous shower and party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Chicago Shingler and Miss Antoinette Shingler at their home on Oak Avenue honoring Miss Virginia McDaniel whose marriage to Robert Lester will be an event of the early Fall.

Favors for the occasion were small booklets bearing the N. R. A. emblem and the honor guest received her gifts in a large sack bearing another similar emblem.

During the afternoon the guests prepared two booklets containing codes for a happy married life, one for Miss McDaniel and the other for Mr. Lester. Miss Ella Spencer received the prize in a singing contest.

At the tea hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by their mother, Mrs. S. O. Shingler, and Mrs. Robert Brokaw, of Orlando.

Those present were: Miss Virginia McDaniel, honor guest, Mrs. E. A. Douglas, Mrs. B. D. Sorrell, of Lake Placid, Mrs. Robert Brokaw, of Orlando, Mrs. Earle Doolley, Mrs. E. S. Shepherd, Mrs. Allan J. Hazards Attended Making Of Picture

In the making of western screen drama, such as Universal's thrilling "The Fiddlin' Buckaroo," coming to the Milano Theatre Saturday with Ken Maynard in the starring role, every member of the picture company is frequently subjected to hazards and discomfort. Not only do the actors themselves run the risk of actual harm, but the directors are frequently in danger.

Maynard, who refuses to use a "double" for dangerous feats, astride Tarzan, his noted Palomino horse, faces more danger than any other member of the "shoot- flowers and ferns to represent an altar. The wedding music was played by Mrs. James Howard, pianist.

White flat crepe was the material chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. It was made along simple lines with a long full skirt and puffed sleeves. The long veil, which extends from a small cap to the hem of the dress, was worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. She carried a bridal bouquet.

As maid of honor, Miss Hilda Muirhead wore an informal afternoon gown of green flat crepe and carried a bouquet of yellow flowers. The flower girl's frock was blue voile made along princess lines.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was given by the bride's parents for members of the wedding party. In addition to the following attended the ceremony: Mrs. J. Fraser, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brownlee, Mrs. L. A. Brimley, Mrs. William Brimley, Mr. and Mrs. Akers and Miss Helen Akers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hold left after dinner for Elizabeth, N. J. where they will make their home. Mrs. Hold has lived in Sanford nearly all of her life. She was graduated from Sanford High School in 1926 and later went to Staten Island, N. Y. where she took nurse's training at Staten Island Hospital. She has been making Staten Island her home for the past few years. Mr. Hold is engaged in business as an electrical engineer in Elizabeth, N. J.

Miami Offers Land For Proposed Base Of Zeppelin Line

MIAMI, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Steps toward establishment here of a base for proposed trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service between Europe and the United States were taken yesterday by the Greater Miami Airport Association.

Following recommendations by the organization's president, R. V. Waters, the city commission adopted a resolution offering the use of 480 acres of municipal property near Opa-Locka to accommodate lighter than air craft.

The lease would be at $1 per acre over a five-year period, and would be conditioned on construction of a mooring mast and terminals by owners of the Graf Zeppelin and sister ships.

Waters said the proposal would be presented immediately to F. W. Von Meister, American representative of the Graf Zeppelin in New York.

Von Meister recently conferred with Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, on plans for the dirigible to stop here en route to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago. The Graf is due in Miami Oct. 23, at which time a mooring mast will be lent it by the Navy Department.

Waters said the proposed furnishing of southern terminals for the Graf Zeppelin and similar craft was one of the reasons behind the city's recent purchase for $100,000 in certificates of 1700 acres of land near Opa-Locka for aviation purposes.

Dr. Eckener's plans, as announced, are for a trans-Atlantic service on regular schedules with new ships not later than 1935, and sooner, if possible. He said he favors Miami as the American port selected for that purpose during the year, with New York or Washington southern base during part of the summer months.

LABOR PACT IS EXPECTED TO END STRIKES

Agreement Signed By President Which Is Expected To Please Miners, Operators

(By The Associated Press) President Roosevelt signed the hours and wage agreement of Western Pennsylvania coal mines operated by iron and steel companies. He expected the pact would end the strike of 75,000 miners.

Eighteen hundred steel workers sleep on hastily rigged cots in the giant Carnegie Steel Company plant at Clairton, Pa., while 5,000 coal miners outside clamored for the steel workers to join "the holiday."

Tear gas was used to force three truck loads of miners away from the company entrance. Henry Ford remained silent as labor troubles mounted in his scattered assembly plants. Many other strikes were still in progress.

At Clairton (the strikers charged) that the plants were using coal imported from the South due to the mining "holiday" in Fayette county. Strikers ripped clothing from some workers, roughly handled others and shouted threats as police stood by fearful that intervening would cause violence.

Since Wednesday the strikers claimed 10,000 persons had joined them to shut down plants of the Weirton Steel Company at Weirton and Clarkburg, W. Va., and Steubenville, Ohio.

Officials of the Ford Motor Company declined to comment on reports that pickets from the eastern assembly plants might make a drive on the huge Detroit plant. There was no comment on the walkout and closing of the Chesler, Pa., plant, or walkouts at Edgewater, N. J., and Richmond, Calif., plants.

In Cincinnati announcement was made that a board of 10 had been chosen to administer the coal code in West Virginia district exclusive of the northern part of the state, eastern Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

Representatives of the federal labor board moved in efforts to strike some 10,000 tool and die makers in Detroit, Flint and Pontiac, Michigan.

A new strike call was issued in Cleveland Thursday by Abraham Katovsky, manager of the joint local of the ladies' garment workers' union. The strike call affects about 900 workers in eight garment plants.

Roosevelt Will Announce Shortly Plan To Re-Open Closed Banks Of Country

MCKEE TO FIGHT BOSSISM IN ALL ITS PARTICULARS

(By The Associated Press) President Roosevelt will announce shortly the plan for opening closed banks and it will provide immediate payments proportional to the liquid assets of these institutions.

Naturally, not all closed banks are to be reopened and particular attention will be paid to those institutions forced to lock their vaults after the historic Mar. 5 holiday.

What Roosevelt has in mind is a federal financial support to those institutions which have good assets to offer. In other words, the government stands ready to back up the fair assets and permit payments on those to the depositors in proportion to the amount of good assets held by the institutions.

This is a part of the president's general program to support the banking structure in the confidence that it will circulate the billions of idle cash now needed for credit in the recovery drive.

Another part of this plan is the Roosevelt offer for the government to buy capital stock in those banks outside of the federal reserve system which require this support to meet the terms of the deposit insurance law which becomes effective Jan. 1.

Two questions are involved in making state banks outside of the federal reserve system eligible for the deposit insurance, protection, solvency and liquidity.

The president asks first, if the bank is solvent. If that is the case then he is ready to make sure that there is no question about liquidity.

He wants all sound institutions—and he thinks the great majority of banks now open are beyond question in this regard—to be included in the deposit insurance act.

The banks are to be backed up through the reconstruction investment fund which is private national asset. Roosevelt doesn't think it will be a great amount.

Sanford Observing "Cracker Day" With Many Festivities

Parade This Morning And Public Address By Joe Sears Marks Opening Activities

Sanford is celebrating "Cracker Day" today.

After weeks of careful preparation on the part of special committees representing the Elks Club, the Elks Auxiliary and the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Leachard, the celebrations, parades, speakings, fish fry, and horse races came off as scheduled this morning and during the early hours of the afternoon.

At press time only the football contest and the "cracker" square dance remained to take place in the day's program. Both events will be held on First Street and block east of Sanford Avenue.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the parade formed at Brady's stable on East First Street and led by Sheriff J. P. McGowan, Joe Cameron and E. E. Brady, mounted on spirited horses, proceeded through all sections of the town to the fair grounds. There were approximately 50 horses in the parade with several old-time carriages which were probably once the finest of their kind.

Following the parade the crowd gathered on the Court House lawn to hear the principal speaker of the day, delivered by Joe Sears, Florida Congressman at large.

Expressing confidence that the American people will both the NRA 100 percent, Mr. Sears, said the crowd of local residents and visitors that the government has no intention of closing a small business which is doing all it can to help the national campaign against unemployment.

The congressman spent almost an hour talking with individuals before the actual speaking began. He was introduced through the facilities of an amplifier by G. W. Spencer.

Mr. Sears said that he is "very glad to be in Sanford" and that the rules, which he described as the "salt of the earth" made him homesick for the days when he used to ride the Kalamazoo train with some of the cattlemen who he said were in Sanford today.

"I am confident that Sanford, the surrounding section and Florida in general are better fitted than any other part of the nation," the speaker continued. "People here, at least, can grow what they eat and the climate is warm enough to prevent buying expensive heavy clothing."

"The starker and prouder are a detriment to the welfare of the nation and they should be punished. However, it is my opinion that the people will find them out in time and act accordingly," Mr. Sears pointed out.

The congressman came here from Jacksonville and this afternoon he will leave for a trip into the southern sections of the state.

Fried fish, corn bread, grits, pickles, and coffee were served under the auspices of the sponsors of "Cracker Day" at noon by committees who were appointed to prepare each kind of food on the menu.

At 2:00 o'clock the football contest began on the lake front aviation field, with Archer Yovall sweeping the prizes for each event.

LABOR PLEDGES EFFORT TO KEEP OUT POLITICIANS

Building And Metal Trade Departments Stage Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A full co-operation in a militant attempt to prevent politicians from obtaining control of local labor unions was pledged yesterday by two departments of the American Federation of Labor, representing approximately 1,000,000 workers.

Meeting preparatory to the federation's convention next week, the departments—the building and metal trades—adopted resolutions promising "all support and assistance in any such persecuted local unions, economically and otherwise."

The metal trades group also heard a statement from President Groves of the federation that in June, July and August its membership had increased 1,500,000 and that 3000 new union charters had been issued. He predicted the new member total would double in the next six months.

In explaining to the building trades meeting the situation of working local unions, John P. Henschel, representing organized carpenters, said that particularly in Chicago and New Jersey local officials were seeking to oust union officers and substitute others "more pliable to their desires."

In Chicago, Puschel said, "a high official called me to a conference and told me to fire the business agent of our local union. I asked him why." Puschel continued, "and he replied 'because I tell you so.'"

The next union meeting, Puschel said, was raided by politicians and the members were held in jail overnight.

"I had not fired the business agent," Puschel added.

The metal trades convention directed its officers to present a similar resolution to the general federation meeting next week and seek its adoption.

In his speech, Green warned anew that labor must and will insist upon revision of NRA codes already in force so as to reduce the hours specified and increase wages.

"I believe that the president's purpose and intention—that these codes be worked out so as to provide for employment opportunities for all the people who want work," Green said.

"If we fall through the NRA then God help the nation."

The principal stated that only a half day session will be held Monday. During this time the enrollment of new pupils and the assignment to classes will also take place, he concluded.

Crisis Is Expected In Arms Situation At Geneva Parley

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—League of Nations circles believed today the real crisis in the disarmament situation would come with the return to Geneva of Konstantin von Neurath, German foreign minister, who has gone to Berlin to consult with his chief, Chancellor Hitler.

The departure of von Neurath and Dr. Joseph Goebbels, Reich minister of public enlightenment and propaganda, for the capital was accompanied by a noticeable stiffening of the German attitude, openly voiced in German circles. One declaration was that the crying need is the disarmament of Germany's neighbors.

The foreign minister told German newspaper correspondents before his departure that Germany will insist on the right to possess arms at a level to which neighboring countries eventually would descend. This was joined with the understanding that Germany would be entitled to begin construction of these arms when any agreement drawn up begins to function.

If this German attitude is adopted, it was recognized in league circles as meaning pressure would be brought to bear on France to begin the destruction of big guns, bomber planes and the number of men under colors.

Increase Reported In Farm Loans To Southern Areas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A large increase in volume of farm loans made in Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas was shown in a report received yesterday from the third federal land bank district, headquarters at Columbia, S. C., by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., credit administrator.

During the week of Sept. 30, loans closed in the district amounted to more than $100,000, whereas during all of August the total was only $631,000.

The sharp increase was attributed by the farm credit administration in part to increase in the number of appraisers, now 237, an increase of 23 during the week ending Sept. 30. In addition there are 200 appraisers in training.

In connection with special efforts the land bank is making to refinance loans held by the closed, restricted and unretreated banks throughout the territory, the administration stated that 25 to 30 percent of the mortgages now being refinanced were held by such institutions.

The report from Columbia said at least three banks in the territory appear to be open for business soon as a result of loans by the federal land bank and the land bank commissions to farmers who were indebted to these institutions and who have liquidated their loans to them.

Several other banks appear to be able to resume in the near future, it was noted.

Local Men Return From Conference Of City Officials

Declaring that valuable contacts were made with officials of other Florida cities and that much useful information had been learned, Mayor Vivian A. Speer, City Commissioner H. J. Lehman and Fred K. Wilson, city attorney, returned last night after spending the past two days in St. Petersburg as delegates from this city to the annual meeting of the Florida League of Municipalities.

Mr. Lehman, in an interview this morning, said that the league is fast becoming an influential political organization and that it appeared a majority of the delegates favored a sales tax and the home exemption law in spite of strong opposition made by Mayor Wynn of Coral Gables.

George Powell of Jacksonville spoke in favor of both issues. The Sanford Commissioner said he is of the opinion that neither would be beneficial at this time to Sanford.

The welcoming address to the delegates was delivered by the Mayor of St. Petersburg and the response was given by Mr. Lehman. Others who made speeches during the convention, were Judges Cary D. Landis, Fred Davis, and Peter Thomas. A banquet was held Thursday evening at the Hawaiian Hotel with Col. W. H. Ray acting as toastmaster.

Soviet Balloonists Set New Record In Stratosphere Bag

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Several hours after taking off in an army balloon for a flight into the stratosphere three Russian air service veterans wirelessly the ground today that they had flown higher than man has ever gone and were preparing to descend. They said they had ascended 19,000 metres or 12,54 miles.

If their instruments are correct the record of 19,700 metres set by Professor August Piccard in August 1931 was surpassed by nearly 7,144 feet.

Piccard stayed aloft 12 hours. The balloonists, Georgi Prokofiev, Ernest Birnbaum and Konstantin Gudekov, had made eight previous attempts but today, thanks to perfect weather, they had easy sailing. They drifted only 24 kilometers from a straight line upward and they descended after two hours and 19 minutes that they had broken Piccard's record and were still rising.
