S. H. S. Ramblings

By Helen H.

Every week has its main event and this week's was HOME COMING. The sponsors were simply radiant, the game was fine and everything went off smoothly—no speaking of something not so smooth, was the definite parting of VALARIE WELLS and GEORGE SPEER. Neither is suffering, as VALARIE is contented with HUGH WHEEL and GEORGE with HELEN STAFFORD.

We thought there was something missing and we just woke up to the fact that it's the friendliness of LORENE SHORT who has moved to Tavares. WEDDING BELLS for MARGUERITE DUNCAN and JUNE KEYS have been ringing since last year. We just found out. Whoopee! We thought we knew everything!

Just anything to be different. It is the slogan of "RED" WIGGINS and JIMMY RIDGE. They are going to enter their record a tour of the general home in Orlando and also were seen chasing woodrats all over the road last Sunday night. WARREN DANIEL was in on that, too.

Gracing 'ole S. H. S. with their charm and loveliness were our sponsors for the HOME COMING game. SIB KIRTLAY and FLORENCE WELLS.

What LOIS NIPPER got us was wish we had? Two cute BOYS down to see her from VIRGINIA.

"Sunday-go-to-meeting" couples include EARL JETER, SHIRLEY EICK, KENNY ECKOLS, MARTY PERKINS, LOIS CALDWELL, MACK CLEVELAND, and PATTY HODGE. N. DAVID GATCHEL.

They've been sort of following the line of the church around to the different churches.

Has anybody noticed those boys that get around but never have dates? Frank to name a few, SAM THURSTON, KEARNEY ARMBURSTER, RUSSELL YOUNG, DICK MEHWITZER, CECIL JONES and, oh—just dozens! Come now, boys—give the girls a break!

ORIEN PARREL has been heard crooning to HELEN PHILIPS his current theme song, "SO YOU'RE THE ONE."

PHILIP KRONEN swears he's off women for life since his little "spas" with MARJORIE HURDICK. Personally, we'll believe it when we see it.

"Love me, love my wife, she's Helen Hutchison with her little blond Spaniel, and MILLER WILLIAMS arguing about which of them loved her dog most.

LUCILLE HALL, spied riding around in DeLand, with a dark-haired man, simply replied when questioned as to who he was, that she was studying up on Army life—for defense you know!

A bit of advice—white sliding in your life's banner, one gets many splinters in his career."

Before next week's "personals," THANKSGIVING will have come and gone, and we couldn't leave you without "cause for all"—THANKSGIVING comes but once a year—unless you want to be stubborn about it.—Au-revolver.

King Attends Annual Meeting Of Academy Of Sciences At Lakeland

Olin D. King, American history teacher at Seminole High School, and a member of the advisory committee of social sciences attended the Sixth Annual Meeting of the Florida Academy of Sciences, which took place at Southern College, Lakeland, on Nov. 20, 21, and 22. This academy included discussion of social sciences by certain college professors and high school instructors.

While attending the academy, Mr. King took a leading part in the discussion on two occasions, at the luncheon for the social sciences section on Friday, and at a Saturday morning meeting of this group. Mr. King discussed the group the Florida School of the Art and Science of Free Government. They were begun last year.

Students graduating this Spring are eligible to enter the competitive examinations for the scholarship. Mr. King stated at the meeting.

Mr. King also announced the following requirements for the scholarships while addressing the social science section:

First—a competitive examination will be given in the high schools on April 10, to those students who wish to enter the contest. This examination will pertain to questions on government, political, and social science, economics and international relations, and modern American and European history. A short biography of material to be used in preparation may be obtained from the writer.

Second—an original eight to twelve hundred word essay (to be submitted on a date to be selected later) will be required from the students whose papers in the examinations have ranked within the highest twenty-five. Those twenty-five students will be notified.

Mr. King added that the Florida scholarships will be awarded by the following institutions of higher learning in this state:

University of Miami; One scholarship of $250 (approximately one-half the cost of one-

GRAMMAR SCHOOL Notes

The annual opera of the Grammar School has been set for December 11 and 12. This play is sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association of which Mrs. W. B. Brunley is president.

The name of this year's play is "X-Asperating Christmas Gifts." It features the usual number of good Christmas songs and choruses. The theme of the play deals with the Christmas gifts which got crossed up because of the new regulations which required Santa to box and label the gifts. We had the gifts for the children got mixed up and were sent to the old people, etc. In the final scene all of the gifts stage a jubilee. Those "old" sanitary box regulations are done away with.

For several years, the faculty of the Grammar School has studied and searched for some method of teaching thrift to our boys and girls. We all realized the need of such teaching but National practice and economy seemed to be pointed in another direction.

Now the National Defense Stamp plan has presented us a golden opportunity to teach thrift and still do something about National Defense. Mrs. I. Frazier is responsible for this new plan.

Mrs. Frazier who was our P. T. A. president last term, is very much interested in the sale of Defense Stamps. She has worked out a plan and a contest for the boys and girls to save their money and buy Defense Stamps. We are glad to cooperate in this work and hope to report a good sale of stamps in the near future.

In chapel Wednesday morning we sang The Star Spangled Banner and gave the Flag salute. Mr. Kipp gave a Bible scripture and we repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. McKinnon gave a nice speech on good sportsmanship, which I think will help the boys and girls of Grammar School.

Elizabeth Ryan, Augusta Finerman, Helene Tamm, Eileen Bragg, Margaret Bolly, Edith Steakley, Betty Colbert, Rebecca Lee, and Billy Finerman.

We entered chapel Monday with the orchestra playing "New York Life."

Then we sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and had the Flag salute.

Mr. Kipp gave a Bible reading and the school recited the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. Kipp told us about the Constitution of the United States and the three divisions of the Government which are the President and his cabinet, the Supreme Court, and Congress.

Mr. Dollison, the orchestra leader, told us that you should start playing an instrument while you are in Grammar School.

In closing of the program the orchestra played "Romola" to march out by.

Our Garden Club met Tuesday. We prepared a garden in the back yard of our school. In it we will plant Nasturtiums. We thank the Seminole Feed Company and the Wilson Toner Fertilizer Company for giving us a hundred pounds of fertilizer.

The two girls who are helping in the Garden Club are Dorothy Fortain and Anna Corley.

Seminole High School Key Club Members Hold Many High Honors

In 1939 the Key Club of Seminole High School was organized by the Sanford Kiwanis Club to promote better friendship and sportsmanship throughout the school. To carry out this motive, it has been necessary for the members of the club to play a leading part in school activity—both curricula and extra-curricula.

The record for the club since its founding three years ago shows remarkable results in school participation in school happenings.

Key Club members, Edwin Branan and Earl Jeter—have the distinction of having been president of the Student Council during its two year existence.

Another honor bestowed upon Key Clubbers for the past two years has been the editorship of the Salmagundi, school annual. Last year John Dunn, president of the Key Club, served as editor, and this year David Gatchell, vice-president of the club, is serving as editor.

The Key Club is well-represented on the Student Council by Richard Meriwether, Harry Lee, Jr., Earl Jeter, Edward Marshall, Taylor Brown, Emmett Herndon, and Karl Schultz.

Other honors held by members of this Key Club group are president of the senior class, Mack Cleveland; vice-president of the senior class, Taylor Brown; secretary of the senior class, Delphine Hasty; secretary of the junior class, Paul Hekson; editor-in-chief of the Seminole County School News and business manager of the Gallery, Edw. Marshall; president of the Band, David Gatchell; treasurer of the Pan-American Club, Billy Holley; and business manager of the Gallery, Fred, school newspaper, Stuart Quarterman.

Although some of the members of the club have not been officers, they have been the instigation behind certain organizations.

In taking part in the extra-curricula activities in the high school, the members of the Key Club are able to endeavor to urge on better sportsmanship and friendship and at the same time are keeping up their scholastic records. Thus they have carried out the motive for which the club was organized.

Noted U. S. Political Families

In the United States, there have been certain families that have played an important political part in our nation for the last two generations. Some are more noted than others, but all have a distinctive record. Worth-noting is that some of these families have used the same policy for years upon years.

The Bankheads of Alabama represent one of the great political families that ever existed in this country. While no startling feats might be reported of this family as a whole, recognition is well deserved when a statement is made concerning the accomplishments of the Bankheads. The late John Hollis Bankhead I, was a noted senator from Alabama, and his son, John II, carried on family tradition when he assumed the seat in 1931 his father had held. Senator Bankhead is still serving in the Senate, and although he has not made an outstanding record, he has been termed an efficient senator. His brother, the late William Brockman Bankhead, served in the United States House of Representatives from the 65 Congress to the 77. Rep. Bankhead was speaker of the House when he died in 1940. His record will stand out for generations to come as a feat in governmental functioning.

One of the less highlighted clans have been the Ammons of Colorado. The present generation of this political family, led by ex-Governor Teller Ammons, has been overshadowed by past groups of the family who have shown many more state developments. The Ammons ruled in different positions, off and on for 30 years in Colorado. Ex-Governor Ammons, a Democrat, was defeated in 1938 when he sought re-election, by Ralph L. Carr a Republican.

The most publicized family of politics in the last ten years has been the Longs of Louisiana. Huey Pierce Long, who established a "machine" that dominated Louisiana politics for more than ten years, was Democrat governor and senator from the "Pelican" state. He was assassinated in August, 1935. His brother, Earl Kemp Long became governor in 1939, when a Long protégé, Richard W. Leche, resigned his position. Governor Long, seeking a full four-year term, was defeated in 1940 by Sam H. Jones. This defeat marked the end of the Long rule in Louisiana. Exposed graft and corruption practiced during the Long era had effect upon the voters of Louisiana who decided to do away with the Longites.

Massachusetts' Lodges are another in this classified group of American families. The late Henry Cabot Lodge, Sr. was a Republican senator from Massachusetts who had the distinction of having been minority leader as well as majority leader of the Senate. He was chairman of the all-important Foreign Relations Committee in 1910 and was violently opposed to the proposal that we enter the League of Nations. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., his son, was elected senator in 1936 to replace Marcus A. Coolidge. As most one-term senators, Senator Lodge has yet to make a noteworthy record.

The Tafts of Ohio are a nationally-known family. The late William Howard Taft was the only man ever to have been both president of the United States and chief justice of the Supreme Court. He also was secretary of war under Theodore Roosevelt as well as the first United States governor of the Philippines. His son, Robert Alphonse Taft, was chosen senator in 1938 by the Ohioans over Robert J. Bulkley, Roosevelt-endorsed Democrat. Senator Taft made an unsuccessful attempt in 1940 to secure the Republican nomination for president. During his short tenure of office, he has made a surprisingly good record and has come to be known as one of the best men in the Senate.

The late Rep. Bennett Champ Clark, Sr., and Senator Bennett Champ Clark, Jr., of Missouri represent another family of note in United States politics. The late Rep. Clark was one of the most outstanding speakers of the House, that this nation has ever had. Like the late Rep. Bankhead, Clark will leave, in his record, an epoch in American history. Bennett Champ Clark, Jr., son of the speaker, was appointed senator in 1933 to fill out the unexpired term of Harry B. Hawes. He was elected to a full short term in 1934, and re-elected in 1938. Senator Clark is an established orator. With many speeches he has, as a leading isolationist, violently criticized the foreign policy of the President. He has not, however, touched the standing his father had obtained in the Jay.

The LaFollettes of Wisconsin—the late Robert, Sr., Robert, Jr., and Philip—have all had isolationist views. The late Robert Marion LaFollette Sr. was very active in the Senate in 1917 when he attempted to keep this country from going to war. Along with five other senators, LaFollette made a valiant try in attempting to keep the United States neutral. His son, Robert LaFollette, Jr., is a member of the Senate and is carrying the views of his famous father into the Senate debate even now. The third LaFollette, Philip, was governor of Wisconsin for two terms, but he was defeated in 1935 by Julius P. Hall. The three LaFollette have been leaders in a "third party," the Progressive, and Robert, Sr. was the Progressive candidate for president in 1924.

Surprising is that such families could have been so active in our political arena. In years to come, it will be interesting to follow the activities of these clans.

Noted U. S. Political Families

On Friday, Nov. 14, we had a splendid talk by Rev. Martin Bram, pastor of the Episcopal Church. He told us an interesting story of how a little boy learned to live by the golden rule. He taught us to put on "To do others, as I would that they do unto me."

The school sang several songs, among them "The Golden Rule," after which we sang "God Bless America" and gave the Flag salute.

Our Glee Club, composed of children from the fourth grade, is progressing nicely under the direction of Mrs. Oscar Price. Mrs. Price is the sponsor. Soon we hope they will be ready to sing for us in Chapel.

Several new pupils have come into our school recently. They are as follows: Marie Hardy, Delbert Abney, Hazel Sparkman, Noble Fraser, Gretchen Kirkhoff, and David Hester. We welcome them as good citizens to South Side School, the best in town. If you don't believe it, you can come and see it. South Side School, the best in town, come and join our school right now.

Plans Are Made For Football Banquet

By Alice Temple

The members of the Girls Tri-Hilly met Monday, Nov. 17, for a brief business meeting. It was found at the meeting that the annual banquet would be held on Dec. 10, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith.

The banquet will be given at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith, 114 N. Park Ave. The program will be given at 7:30 p. m.

Songs Copied By The Pan-Am. Club

By Mary Babes

The second meeting of the Pan-American Club was held Friday, Nov. 14, in Miss Dumas' room.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Kirtley. Due to the late hour, the program was limited to 30 songs for the year.

Controlling Inflation

Price control or inflation? If one or the other is inevitable, price control seems to be the logical choice. But what kind of price control? In the current Rotarian magazine, Leon Henderson, U. S. Price Administrator, and Bernard M. Baruch, Chairman of the War Industries Board during World War I, debate the choice of methods to keep prices down. Mr. Henderson states the problem for both arguments, when he writes that soon 2 billion dollars a month will be pouring into defense production. "Most of those dollars wind up in somebody's pocketbook... are itching to be spent," he says, "but the goods whose production they symbolize never come to the consumers' goods market. Instead they go to our Army or Navy, to Britain, to Russia, or to China... Some of those dollars are saved and invested in government bonds, some are drained off through higher taxes... The residue of those dollars left over is estimated to be 4 to 7 billions a year. Price control is the only method left to offset the (inflationary) pressure of those remaining billions."

With this, Mr. Baruch is in full agreement, for he writes, "Because of delay in coming to grips with the price problem, prices have advanced and inflation looms before us... Prompt enactment of a price-control law is the greatest single necessity of the current crisis."

But here their agreement ends, for Mr. Henderson holds for discretionary power to establish ceilings, while Mr. Baruch argues for all-out price control. Writes Price Administrator Henderson, "If the basic raw materials are held in check, then prices in the subsequent along-the-line manufacturing processes also ought to stay put." But Mr. Baruch, who held a very similar position during the last war, supports the principle of the Gore bill, "that a ceiling be put over all prices, rents, wages, commission fees, interest rates as of some date. Prices would not be frozen, but would fluctuate freely below this ceiling, although not above it."

As to wages, Mr. Henderson admits, "Neither does the (Steagall-Glass) bill attempt to fix wages. There is a good deal of legislation on the books designed to bring about a system of fair wages... I believe wages like every other cost must be kept in bounds. It is significant that in England... the right of bargain on wages has been retained... Baruch finds the Gore bill's provisions... Labor's right to strike or to bargain... would not be infringed, nor would labor sacrifice any of the gains made in recent years. One provision specifically provides that no ceiling shall apply to wages below the standards of the wage and hour laws in the States. This probably will mean that wages of our lowest-paid workers will rise, which is as it should be."

The farmer's prices, under the Steagall-Glass bill, will be set, to quote Mr. Henderson, so that "no price could be fixed on any farm product below 110 percent of parity or the price on July 29, 1914, whichever is the higher." Mr. Baruch's choice is the Gore bill's proviso that "guarantees agriculture a ceiling at 'parity' prices. To attempt to take advantage of the emergency to obtain more than 'parity' prices now may result in agriculture's losing the 'parity' status for which it has fought so long."

Mr. Baruch's main objection is that the Steagall-Glass bill is only piecemeal. "Psychologically, piecemeal control encourages prices to rise," he claims. "Under the piecemeal bill, the outlook for the future would be a steady rise in prices, slow perhaps, but sure, with no upper limit ever in sight." "The more prompt find, both men in agreement... and that is the necessity for immediate action. "We as a nation cannot afford to wait much longer, to haggle indefinitely over questions of detail," says Mr. Henderson, while Mr. Baruch warns that "procrastination has made the task of preventing inflation more difficult."

The Work Of The Garden Clubs

Garden Clubs are given a large share of credit for stimulating an interest in beautification in Orlando and Winter Park by the Orlando Sentinel which says that largely through their efforts the public has learned how to grow things which constantly evoke words of praise from winter visitors.

"The Garden Clubs of Winter Park and Orlando deserve a great deal of credit for their quiet and persistent influence in persuading people to plant and care for their yards in order to enhance their beauty," the Sentinel declares.

"In their various meetings the discussions are quite practical and designed to help beginners as well as amateurs of longer standing in the artistry of selection and planting shrubs and flowers.

"In this section there can be maintained a year-round color scheme which would be interrupted only by unusual inclemencies of temperature and weather.

"There are successful methods of fertilizing, cultivating and caring for flowers and shrubs which every beginner can learn through appeal to the Garden Clubs.

"This entire community grows yearly more beautiful, not only in design of buildings and the lay-out of premises, but also in the growing profusion of blooms and ornamental plants.

"It is a fine civic service, for the enjoyment of the beauty is not confined solely to those who produce and own it but is liberally bestowed on all observers.

"That it is unusual is indicated by the involuntary exclamations of wonder, appreciation and delight one constantly hears from visitors."

Convicts Ask For Burma Road Duty

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 24 — Twenty Florida convicts went to enlist for duty on China's famous Burma Road.

They wrote to H. L. Ezell, state prison camp chaplain, for help and Ezell turned the letter over to Governor Holland. The men now are in a state road department prison camp near Arcadia.

"I am submitting the names of the inmates of this camp who wish to enlist with the government for duty on the Burma road project," one of the convicts wrote.

"BERLIN DIARY"

Picture Shows How Defense Affects People

Every householder alarmed at rising prices, every parent with a son in the service, every business-man struggling with priorities, every defense worker caught up in the net of interminable strikes will feel kinship with Bill Davis, average Main Street American of March of Time's latest film, which comes to the screen of the Ritz Theater, beginning next Wednesday.

In "Main Street, U. S. A." the editors of March of Time have taken a typical American family, the Davises, to show how war and the defense program are influencing the course of their lives. Bill Senior, veteran and Legionnaire, himself willingly adjusting his small business to meet the restrictions of defense priorities, is moved to indignation by the apathy of some of his neighbors.

His family, in turn, is seen contributing to National Defense, each in his own way. U. S. O. dances, Bundles for Britain, Civil Aeronautics, the duties of an air raid warden are some of the activities we see them engaged in locally.

Even more striking are the scenes in the film showing the work their aid makes possible in Europe and the occupied countries, where the International Red Cross, still functioning from Switzerland, locates countless soldiers, sailors and airmen sometimes given up for lost, as well as distributing food and medical supplies to the victims of Nazi aggression. Particularly exciting is the

Local High School Band Will Appear In Orlando Parade

ORLANDO, Nov. 24.—(Special)—All Central Floridians and their winter guests have been invited to join Orlando in inaugurating the holiday season Thursday, Dec. 4, when a gigantic Christmas Parade of Bands will be staged in the city's business district.

High school bands from DeLand, Kissimmee, Umatilla, Titusville, Sanford, Winter Park, Daytona Beach, Avon Park, Lake Land and Cocoa will take part in the colorful festivities along with three Orlando musical organizations. Keen rivalry between the schools will bring out the best of performances and a spectacular show is anticipated.

Thronging from the cities represented by bands, plus residents from many other communities in the uplands region, are expected to witness the spectacle. Local business firms will provide accommodations for thousands of visitors and a holiday air will prevail throughout the city.

News Of The World In Pictures

"C'mon, Daddy! Let me in! whines the young lady in the abbreviated costume. And would 'daddy' unlock the door pronto if he only knew of the good news she brings! Just wait until the old man, Irving B. Ellis of Piedmont, Calif., finds out that this picture took top honors in Popular Photography magazine's 1941 $6,000 prize picture contest.

Rev. Henry Darlington

Faith Dorn
Hollywood rumors are that Faith Dorn, young film actress, is to become the wife of Howard Hughes, millionaire motion picture producer and air enthusiast. The rumors gained weight when the actress and her mother went to Tucson, Ariz., as guests of the eligible bachelor.

Members of a British patrol inspect a German Stuka dive bomber, the western desert of Africa. The plane was one of a squadron flown by Italian pilots. Note the three unexploded bombs still in place.

A pure white gobbler weighing more than forty pounds struts his stuff for pretty Dusty Anderson, famous New York model, who cast an appraising eye over the birds on famous Pinebridge Farm, at Ossining, with a Thanksgiving dinner in view. Wonder what the big bird would do if he knew the fate in store for him!

It is doubtful, if a world wide search was made, whether a quarterback like this one would be found. He is "Jiggs IV," English bulldog mascot of the U. S. Marines, at Quantico, Va., and has been given the honorary position on the Leatherstocking football team. Jiggs is named for the famous comic strip character in "Bringing Up Father."

Top, is the still-smoldering wreckage of an O-47B plane of the 109th Observation Squadron that caught fire in mid-air while participating in the Carolina maneuvers. Bottom, is the three-man crew that stuck to their plane, bringing it to the ground while the flames spread. Left to right, they are Lieut. C. J. Morrey, the pilot; Lieut. R. F. Volgeli, observer, and First Class Pvt. Don Harrington, gunner. Note machine gun in the ruins.

Gen. Sir Alan Brooke
Head of Britain's home forces, Gen. Sir Alan Brooke was appointed to succeed Sir John Dill, retiring, as Chief of the British Imperial Army General Staff. He is known as a wizard in the field of mechanical warfare.

Mrs. Mary Lucas Crawford (left) and La Junta White, well-known reformer, arrive at courthouse in Morristown, N. J., as witnesses for bookmaker Frank Erickson, who is charged with snatching Milton Uggemeier, millionaire stock broker. The women are under indictment in the case but will get a separate trial.

Sen. Tom Connally
The bill introduced by Sen. Tom Connally, of Texas, would give the President power to take over the mines if strikes tie up defense production. This action came after John L. Lewis had defied the Government in the troops. The United Mine Workers' leader said, "The Army is not going to shoot our people and the soldiers are not going to mine the coal."

Sen. George W. Norris
Sen. George W. Norris, 80, who has been representing the people of Nebraska in Congress for the past forty years, will not run for reelection next year. He said, "I couldn't do my work properly and I would be ashamed to take my salary. I'll be 81 on my next birthday and I'm wearing out." His friends think otherwise.

Saburo Kurusu (left) Japanese diplomat in the U. S. in an effort to settle the Far Eastern crisis, goes into a huddle with Ambassador Nomura after Kurusu's conference with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull. The conference was reported to have ended in a statement following Hull's declaration the U. S. will insist Japan withdraw from central and southern China as well as Indo-China and renounce further aggression in the south Pacific.

Local High School Band Will Appear In Orlando Parade

ORLANDO, Nov. 24.—(Special)—All Central Floridians and their winter guests have been invited to join Orlando in inaugurating the holiday season Thursday, Dec. 1, when a gigantic Christmas Parade of Bands will be staged in the city's business district, with four high school bands from De-

Land, Kissimmee, Umatilla, Titusville, Sanford, Winter Park, Daytona Beach, Avon Park, Lakeland and Cocoa will take part in the colorful festivities along with three Orlando musical organizations. Keen rivalry between the schools will bring out the best of performances and a spectacular show is anticipated. Throngs from the cities represented by bands, plus residents from many other communities in the uplands region, are expected to witness the spectacle. Local business firms will provide accommodations for thousands of visitors and a holiday air will prevail throughout the city. A number of marching units, representing defense, school, patriotic and civic organizations in Central Florida will augment the bands. Old timers are dusting off automobiles of ancient vintage and huggies of years gone by to show how Christmas parades were conducted in the nineties and early twentieth century.

Santa Clause and his reindeer will be represented prominently. The parade begins at 3:15 P. M., forming in Sunshine Park and then proceeding down Orange Avenue. After the main business district is passed, the marching units will retire and the bands, en masse, will return through the crowds playing "God Bless America." Concerts will be given by individual bands following the parade.

Florida Soldier Has Louisiana Red Bugs

CAMP BLANDING, Nov. 24.—(Special)—Pvt. Hal K. Sanders of the Station Complement here put on a pair of field shoes he hadn't worn in quite a while and a day later found his ankles broken out. "Mosquitoes," somebody said. "Mosquitoes, hell," he replied, holding up a tiny speck of something. "Red bugs. They've been living in these shoes since the Louisiana maneuvers."

Rev. Henry Darlington
The Rev. Henry Darlington, 51, rector of the fashionable Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest, in New York City, was described in a court at White Plains, N. Y., as the "lover" of widowed Mrs. Anna H. Eaton, 71, who left him a considerable share of her $1,300,000 estate. Her relatives sued to break the will, claiming its execution was obtained by "fraud and undue influence."

Faith Dorn
Hollywood rumors are that Faith Dorn, young film actress, is to become the wife of Howard Hughes, millionaire motion picture producer and air enthusiast. The rumors gained weight when the actress and her mother went to Tucson, Ariz., as guests of the eligible bachelor.

Members of a British patrol inspect a German Stuka dive bomber, the western desert of Africa. The plane was one of a squadron flown which ran out of gas and landed upside down inside British lines in by Italian pilots. Note the tire which is still in place.

A pure white gobble weighing more than forty pounds struts its stuff for pretty Dusty Anderson, famous New York model, who cast an appraising eye over the birds on famous Pine-bridge Farm, at Ossining, with a Thanksgiving dinner in view. Wonder what the big bird would do if he knew the fate in store for him?

It is doubtful if a world-wide search would find a quarterback like this one would be found. He is "Lance IV," English bulldog mascot of the U. S. Marines, at Quantico, Va., and has been given the honorary position on the Leatherneck football team. "Lance" is named for the famous come-strap character in "Bringing Up Father."

Bottom, is the three-man crew that stuck to their plane, bringing it to the ground while the flames spread. Left to right, they are Lieut. C. J. Morey, the pilot; Lieut. R. F. Volgeli, observer, and First Class Pvt. Don Harrington, gunner. Note machine gun in the ruins.

Gen. Sir Alan Brooke
Head of Britain's home forces, Gen. Sir Alan Brooke was appointed to succeed Sir John Dill, retiring, as Chief of the British Imperial Army General Staff. He is known as a wizard in the field of mechanical warfare.

Mrs. Mary Lucas Crawford (left) and La Junta White, well-known roller, arrive at courthouse in Morristown, N. J., as witnesses for bookmaker Frank Erickson, who is charged with stabbing Milton Unermeyer, millionaire stock broker. The women are under indictment in the case but will get a separate trial.

Sen. Tom Connally
The bill introduced by Sen. Tom Connally, of Texas, would give the President power to take over the mines if strikes tie up defense production. This action came after John L. Lewis had defied the Government to use troops. The United Mine Workers' leader said, "The Army is not going to shoot our people and the soldiers are not going to mine the coal."

From her bed in a Hollywood hospital, Irene Wilder, 26, accused Edward E. Crumpler, 40, a private detective, of shooting her. "He shot me on purpose. Then he put the pistol in my hand and told me to tell police I had tried to kill myself." She was seriously wounded.

Sen. George W. Norris
Sen. George W. Norris, 80, who has been representing the people of Nebraska in Congress for the past forty years, will not run for reelection next year. He said, "I couldn't do my work properly and I would be ashamed to take my salary. I'll be 81 on my next birthday and I'm wearing out." His friends think otherwise.

This crocheted wedding gown, worn by Marjorie Gowen, was given first place in the fifth annual nation-wide crocheted contest, held in N. Y. Judges Caroline B. King and Mrs. Mathias Hunoval are shown admiring the gown, valued at $1,000 and the work of Arlith L. Dunn, of San Francisco, Cal.

FASTEST picture of the new Empire State Express, New York Central's new super-streamliner to be placed in service within a few weeks between New York, Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit. Its 12 stainless steel cars are now awaiting completion in the Erie Railroad shops of the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company. The train's maximum speed will be 100 m.p.h. and it will be completed by the New York Central shops. It will be completed each way daily in two sections of 12 to 16 cars each.

Odd-shaped houses like this one at Falls Church, Va., may soon dot subdivisions as the government seeks to alleviate the present housing shortage in Washington. Sand and concrete are sprayed over balloons which later are deflated. The houses have two bedrooms, a living room with fireplace, kitchen and bath. If successful, the houses will be put up in other defense work areas.

Russians Admit Nazis Within 50 Miles Of Moscow

Germans Claim Fall Of Town Only 31 Miles Northwest Of Capital City

Invaders Using Millions Of Men Soviets Tell Of Successful Counter-Attacks In South

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The reading of a telegram from the German High Command in Berlin today is called the "first military attack of the United States on Hitler's Russia." The telegram, which is said to have been intercepted by the French, claims the invasion of the Soviet Union by the German army and the "successful counter-attacks in the southern front."

On the Russian front, the Germans today admitted they are within 50 miles of Moscow at the Moscow-Leningrad railroad town of Klin, while Hitler's headquarters claimed the fall of Solovchovsk, 31 miles northwest of Moscow.

The Soviet dispatches indicated the Germans are now 50 miles from Moscow and are holding the line at the threat of a counter-attack.

While Berlin was claiming that German tanks and artillery forces had captured the town of Solovchovsk, only 31 miles above Moscow, in an extension of the Nazi military drive toward Leningrad, Soviet information acknowledged that the capital's second line of defense was under assault and that the invaders were within 50 miles of the city.

The most advanced German tank in the Russian version also was put at above Moscow—about the town of Kalinin itself.

West, south and southwest of the capital the Soviet armies likewise were being pushed slowly back under the shock of an attacking force estimated by the Russians to aggregate 40 German Divisions of some 400,000 men.

Only on the southern and western fronts did the Red armies claim victories of consequence yesterday.

The German High Command Unit Staff, however, have pledged their support to the annual sale of Christmas seals in Seminole County which formally began yesterday.

It is glad to give my hearty endorsement to the Christmas Seal Campaign which is being conducted in Seminole County.

13 Signatories Join In Nazis 5-Year Pact

Western Democracies Called Assistants To World Communism By Ribbentrop

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The anti-communist pact sponsored by Germany was renewed for five years, and broadened to include 13 signatories today in a festive ceremony at which Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop asserted the western democracies had become "assistants to world communism."

The new signatories were Bulgaria, Denmark, Finland, Greece, Rumania, Slovakia and the Japanese-sponsored Nanking regime.

They joined Germany, Japan, Italy, Spain, Hungary and Manchukuo. Seven more governments, either active Axis allies or occupied by Axis troops, joined the six-power anti-communist pact aimed against "all destructive powers which directly or indirectly support bolshevism."

This phrase was taken by observers as a reference to the United States and Britain because of their support of the Soviet army fighting an Axis invasion. Berlin considers these nations active sponsors of "world bolshevism" because of that support.

The observance was described as a demonstration of defensive will to oppose all destructive powers which directly or indirectly support bolshevism, and "an alliance which will create the pre-conditions for a new order in Europe and for the application of principles of a new order in the entire world."

Asked whether any nation had declined an invitation to be present, an authorized source said: "German diplomacy is such that it never receives a refusal."

National Townsend Representative J. H. Weir and Judge Napke of Lockport were the principal speakers at the regular monthly meeting of supporters of the Townsend Recovery Plan held at the Court House Sunday afternoon.

In his speech, Judge Napke described what he termed as the skepticism of some people in regard to the recovery plan by comparing them to the "do-it-yourself" during the time of Edison and Fulton. He pointed out that the inventions of both these men were scoffed at by many people who lived in their time.

He related one incident concerning a Mr. Johnson, who set out some trees in the yard around his home. Since the grounds were not growing properly, the owner called in a tree surgeon to determine treatment for them. After examining the trees, the surgeon remarked, "How do you expect them to grow when the sap is in Washington?"

Judge Napke continued by stating, "We must get busy and sell America on America, also get it and do it with 'ready-made thinking' and think for ourselves if we are all, 'do-it-yourself' while we still have something left to do and keep a democracy. If we neglect our duties, the time will come when we will be 'do-it-yourself' over us."

After the meeting over the recovery plan, the Townsend Plan, a recovery plan and that the Townsend Plan is not a recovery plan.

Roy Mann Elected Head Of Home Sponsoring Group

Superintendent Fagg Discusses Quota With Committee

Roy F. Mann was elected chairman of the Seminole County Sponsoring Committee of the Children's Home Society when the group met yesterday afternoon to elect officers and discuss with Superintendent Fagg.

Other officers who will serve during 1942 are: Randall Chase, vice-chairman; J. L. Ingley, treasurer and Miss Maude Ramsey, secretary. The following persons in addition to the officers from Seminole County attended the meeting: Mrs. R. E. Trum, the Rev. Martin J. Bram, the Rev. E. D. Brownlee, L. P. Boyle, R. A. Cobb, Mrs. Roby Laing, Maxwell Stewart, D. L. Thrasher, W. J. Walls, Jr., R. E. True and T. W. Lewton.

Mr. Ingley asked that contributions be sent to him or to Miss Maude Ramsey and stated that all clothing and food (whether fresh fruits and vegetables or canned) will be transported to Jacksonville by the St. John's River line without charge. If it is not convenient for you to properly pack and address the goods, send them to Chase & Company's warehouse and they will attend to the packing and shipping.

Superintendent Fagg in his report, disclosed that for the first 10 months of this year the Home has cared for almost 1500 homeless, friendless children. At the present time there are 604 children in their Home, and it is estimated that for the year they will care for approximately 1,800 children.

"Serious inroads have been made in the Society's income, both of cash and food and clothing. The many war relief activities are responsible for this. It is not the purpose of the Society nor your Committee, to suggest curbing these activities, but we feel that our own children must be taken care of and are just as important as those in foreign countries. Axis Claims Initiative As British Tank Army Is Halted

Chaotic Battle Said Raging On African Sands As English Use Fresh Troops

Foe Is "Jammed" Is Berlin Claim

Italians Assert Two Enemy Armored Brigades Destroyed

The great tank battle which has been raging for three days on an undrained desert battlefield near Rezzh began to die down today as the forces of both sides were reduced by heavy casualties.

Infantry fighting in this region 12 miles southeast of Tobruk is intensified, however, as the British poured reinforcements into the fray.

Masses of tanks are engaged in a chaotic battle over the sands of North Africa today with London claiming a continuation of "very hard" fighting, and Berlin and Rome asserting that the British desert steam roller had been "jammed," and further said the Axis had taken the initiative. The Italians claimed that two British armored brigades were wiped out in two days and the Axis is liquidating a large portion of the Imperial armored forces in traps.

The Italians denied the loss of Bardia and declared "nothing has changed" at besieged Tobruk. The British claim reinforcements reported that new reinforcements are being thrown into the fierce fighting raging near Rezzh, 10 miles south of Tobruk.

The whole Libyan offensive, while apparently favoring the British, was at crisis—by coincidence on the same day that saw the German armies in Russia heating forward to within 50 miles of Leningrad and Moscow and plowing up the capital.

In Libya, there were two main areas of action—the one on a wild battlefield 40 miles below and to the east of Tobruk, and the other far to the south.

In the first of these, a struggle of tanks and men like nothing ever seen before in Africa was proceeding toward a desert theater for the sake of another. Though British informants, although announcing yesterday the capture by New Zealanders of the Axis port and base of Gambut in the rearward zone, disclosed amidst the chaos of the action to predict as yet its general outcome.

From Gambut all the way west to Rezzh, which lies just 10 miles below Tobruk, the Axis forces of German General Rommel with total disregard for cost were leading an all-out offensive in a battle that involved not mere positions but the lives of armies.

18 Women Finish Instruction Given In First Aid Class

Eighteen Sanford housewives have completed the 20-hour American Red Cross Standard First Aid Course which was offered by the local chapter at the Woman's Club building, Miss Irene Hinton, instructor of the classes, stated today.

Miss Hinton and other graduates of the 60-hour methods course which was offered by the Red Cross during September and instructed by Robert C. Calbreton, field representative from Washington, are organizing classes in connection with civilian defense work. Instruction is being given to girl scouts, boy scouts and civil clubs of this area, the publicity chairman of the Red Cross disclosed recently.

Women who completed the course after receiving the final examination Saturday, are: Mrs. J. E. Baker, Mrs. F. E. Bohn, Mrs. W. B. Brinson, Mrs. Charles Brumley, Mrs. Perry Cameron, Mrs. R. Y. Caraway, Mrs. W. C. Cook, Mrs. Victor Grimes, Mrs. Charles Henson, Mrs. B. G. McVine, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. G. F. Proctor, Mrs. H. W. Ross, Mrs. Henry Russell, Mrs. M. T. Tiller, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. R. W. Ware and Mrs. Clair White.

Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of aircraft production, announced that the British had produced 2500 more bombers and 2500 more fighters than the Germans in the first nine months of this year.
