FIVE DIE WHEN PLANE CATCHES FIRE IN CRASH

One Of Pilots Killed Was One Who Flew Young Orlando Girl To Hospital In East

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—Five persons perished in flames early last night as a Washington-bound passenger plane crashed on a golf course in an attempted landing at the nearby airport. The ship left Newark at 5:48 P. M.

Those killed, all burned beyond recognition were:

Floyd Cox and Vernon Lucas, Washington pilots.

Elmer Smith, 35, advertising manager of the Washington Herald.

George D. Taylor, 53, director of the laboratory division of Chese- st Farms dairy in Washington.

Francis R. Kline, 35, director,

E. J. president of the International Resistance company of Philadel-

The plane owned by the New

was gliding to a landing when it suddenly nose-dived to the ground on the Cooper Creek golf course.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—Vernon Lucas, killed in an airplane crash at Camden, New Jersey last night in which five lost their lives, piloted the plane that recently participated in the thrilling but futile effort to save the life of three-year-old Orlando girl, Floyd Cox, another pilot killed in the Camden accident, was formerly a linotype operator at Miami and Tampa.

When Marjorie Coxen, Or- dinary, 16, a college student, who had lodged in her front room, then took a train to Washington. There she was placed aboard a plane piloted by Lucas, who flew to Camden in one hour and two minutes, thence by automobile to Philadelphia where she died of pneumonia after an operation removed the bone.

Motorists and attendants of the Airport rushed to the scene but

Winter Moves Into Eastern Dixie Areas

ATLANTA, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—

The South was chilly and the East cold today as winter moved in from the Adirondacks peaks to Mississippi's swamps. Fair but cool weather was forecast for the South generally tomorrow. Far away Vermont found snow when it awoke today and Malone, New York, was covered with five inch blanket. Other New York State points had flurries. Coming east Washington reported a low of 40 degrees. Light frost was considered likely for Georgia tonight.

DIXIE'S BUILDING PROGRAM TO GIVE BIG EMPLOYMENT

$250,000,000 Will Be Spent On New Construction In South

By The Associated Press
The South has a building program now under way which involves an expenditure of probably $250,000,000 on new employment for large and long-term.

Louisiana estimated 22,000 persons are employed on state highway projects. In addition, there are 2,000,000 men engaged in construction of roads and bridges. An additional 600 persons are working on constructing the new $1,000,000 Louisiana statehouse at Baton Rouge.

Little Rock has started a $500,000 postoffice project which will employ 225 men. Texarkana has an $800,000 postoffice building. A $150,000 clinical building at Fort Roots veteran's hospital in Little Rock begins soon.

Outstanding public works projects in Kentucky include $2,000,000 for a new postoffice at Louisville and a $100,000 contract to be awarded next month for pioneer monumental monument at Harrisburg. A new postoffice is planned for Lexington next year.

NAVY LEAGUE BACKS CHARGE OF GARDINER

Only One Dissenting Vote Cast Against Declaration Of Its Faith In President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—In the face of President Hoover's word that falsehoods have been uttered, the executive committee of the Navy League has today supported William G. Gardner. In his declaration after the Chief Executive was indicted in Tax, and the Congress, he

With but one dissenting vote, the group supporting him voted to support his declaration of faith in the President. The League has also supported the position he has taken.

Henry L. Stimson, New York, former secretary of state, signed the resolution.

Mr. L. C. Moore, chairman of the League's executive committee, said: "I am glad that the majority of the members have voted to support Mr. Gardner in his stand against the tax bill."

Mr. Gardner's statement had recently taken a turn before a congressional committee in which he denied that he had demanded "as much protection as possible" for students "as is given bootleggers," in charging that his drinking was general at football games here.

In a formal letter to Dr. Tiger, the mayor declared "if you can't afford it I demand an apology for this insidious reflection upon the law enforcement officials of Jacksonville and failing in that I challenge you to substantiate the charges contained by me in your statement."

Also said the statement attributed to Tiger was "amazing and unprintable." The mayor's letter in answer to one from Tiger asking closer cooperation of Jacksonville authorities in curbing liquor drinking at football games here.

BANK PAYING DIVIDEND

WEST PALM BEACH, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—The closed Bank of Bayton, began payment of a five percent dividend yesterday totaling $7500. The bank, which had about 350 depositors, some time ago paid a 10 percent dividend.

East coast canal between Jacksonville and Miami will be open with depth of five feet and marked by January.

Final Preparations Are Made For Flower Market At Municipal Pier

On the eve of their annual Flower Market, members of the Sanford Garden Club who spent the day arranging the large and beautiful display of flowers and potted plants which will tomorrow be open to the public, decided that the variety, quality, beauty, and price of all the products on display has not previously been equalled locally.

The Flower Market, held for the purpose of selling flowers and potted plants as well as acquiring local flower seeds with types of plants which will be given in this year's annual flower show, was opened by Mrs. John McEachern, chairman, and Mrs. John McEachern, as assistants.

Several circles will be starting to assist in the selection, and the consumption of the flowers. More than a dozen local florists are making the arrangements.

The feature, goldfish, and other garden items offered for sale, were every

MAKERS OF WINE CONCENTRATE TO BE LESS OBVIOUS

Will Let Customers Look After Fermentation And Bottling

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—Those who have depended on Fruit Industries, Inc., for their enjoyment of home-fermented wine must hereafter attend to the fermentation and bottling themselves.

That concern announced yesterday it no longer will put the keg in the cellar, or have anything to do with what happens after the original sale of their grape concentrate.

Furthermore, concentrate sales will be made hereafter only through established stores, not by means of direct-to-the-home delivery. Even at the neighborhood stores it no longer will be possible to buy the product known as Vine-Glo.

The action was taken after the Ukiah Grape Products company had got into trouble with the courts.

Donald Conn, managing director of Fruit Industries, said the recent decision by a Kansas City federal court holding the Ukiah company guilty of violating the prohibition act, was "sufficient notice" for Fruit Industries to change its practices.

It was further influenced by its relations with the farm board, from which it has received $3,500,000 in loans.

For months high officials have been looking on with wonder and concern while the concentrate companies did a rushing business, putting their containers into the home, attending them through the period of fermentation, and finally bottling the liquid under labels bearing the names of all the old pre-prohibition vintages.

Conn, sitting in a comfortably furnished room in Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt's law offices, declined to say whether official pressure had been brought upon his organization, a California cooperative whose greatest business is in making sacramental and medicinal wines, jellies, sausages and other by-products of grapes. Mrs. Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition, is now counsel for the company.

When Prohibition Director Woodcock heard of the distribution change, he said, "I am very pleased with this action." He joined with Chairman Stone of the farm board in denying they had demanded it.

Prohibition enforcement has been "immensely strengthened" by the legal decision in the Ukiah case, Woodcock added.

The home manufacture of wine strictly for consumption within the home has been held legal under the prohibition law. But in the Ukiah case it was ruled that the only intent to violate the law necessary to prove was that grape concentrates capable of developing more than one-half of one percent alcohol were sold for beverage purposes. Previously it had been necessary to prove that the sales were with intent to make a beverage "intoxicating in fact."

Both the government and the farm board have been subjected to caustic criticism by wets and drys alike for giving financial assistance to fruit industries.

Capone Brothers Spend Evening In Same Penitentiary

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Brother Ralph and Brother Al, the two Leavenworth-bound Capones, were lodged in the same jail here last night.

Ralph surrendered to the federal authorities yesterday afternoon to begin serving his three-year penitentiary term for violating income tax laws.

"Scarface Al," the younger and the more notorious, has spent 12 days in the jail while his attorneys decide whether he shall remain there or begin serving an 11-year sentence at Leavenworth for similar breach against the government.

Like Brother Al, whose smile was changed to a "scowl" by the weight of his sentence and a $50,000 fine, Ralph shaved and shaved at the barred gates of the jail clang behind him.

At the federal building it was announced Ralph would be transferred to Leavenworth probably Saturday. Should the writ of supersedeas granted by the circuit court of appeals be lifted from Al, he may accompany Ralph on the trip.

Ralph walked into the United States marshal's office yesterday afternoon five minutes before the deadline set for the forfeiture of his bond. He had just arrived from Florida.

Mesdames Morse And Lamb Address School Directors

First-hand knowledge as to some of the duties of the county school attendance officer and county school nurse during a single month is revealed in reports made by Mrs. Helen T. Morse and Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, two members of the County School Board yesterday.

Mrs. Morse, attendance officer, reported the following October activities: visited 87 schools for reasons other than book deliveries; made 62 trips to schools with books investigated 63 children to learn if they were in actual need of free lunches provided by welfare groups in the county; investigated 14 children reported under school age; had 11 conferences with parents on non-attendance at school of their children; supplied 53 children with clothing donated through the Red Cross; had 47 office conferences with parents, on books, clothing and similar matters; had nine conferences with teachers on conduct and behavior problems; made 11 talks at schools and meetings stressing attendance; had 14 conferences with interested school patrons on attendance problems; placed seven non-registered children in schools, and reported that all schools are now making weekly attendance reports. She added to her report that all children not registered in some school are out for economic reasons.

Mrs. Lamb, county school nurse, reported the following October activities: made 68 visits to schools and inspected 333 pupils, of which two were excluded from further attendance because of illness; tested 49 pupils for hookworm and found 17 as exhibiting traces of the disease; gave two school rooms, 15 lantern slides; made two talks before P.T.A. groups.

Mrs. Lamb also visited 15 homes of them more than once. Defects corrected apart from hookworm included fitting glasses for one child, giving malaria treatment to two, and treating three children for other diseases. She had 27 conferences with mothers, 16 with doctors, and 71 with teachers concerning children and their health. She interviewed 17 persons at her office, and advised seven of them concerning treatment; spent 43 hours in her office during the month, and spent 20 hours of that time in clerical work, writing 57 letters to various places, and traveled 995 miles on official business as county nurse.

G. O. P. Loses Another Member In Congress

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—Representative Harry Wurzbach, Republican, died today as the result of complications following an operation for appendicitis at his home at Seguin. He represented the Fourteenth Texas District in which San Antonio is located.

He was the only Republican member of Congress from Texas. Wurzbach's death further reduced the strength of the administration party in Washington. The lineup following the election Tuesday gave the Democrats 217 members and the Republicans 215. The former lost one and there are two vacancies.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—A Reuter's dispatch from Riga yesterday said Soviet trading representatives are making arrangements to dump a thousand truck-loads of Turkistan cotton on the European market, storing it temporarily in Riga.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—United States Senator David L. Walsh yesterday told the Rotary club he thought chances of any change in the eighteenth amendment were "rather remote," due to the present overwhelming pro-prohibition representation in the Senate and House.

INDICTMENT IS REFUSED

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—The grand jury yesterday refused to indict Ruth Jayne Cranmer in whose apartment former Senator Roy Yates of New Jersey was shot. Yates resigned his seat in the state senate after recovering from his wounds and declined to make any charge against Miss Cranmer.

He was the only Republican member of Congress from Texas. Wurzbach's death further reduced the strength of the administration party in Washington. The lineup following the election Tuesday gave the Democrats 217 members and the Republicans 215. The former lost one and there are two vacancies.

Red Activity Seen Again As Menacing County In Alabama

Lawyer Who Lead Defense Of Negro Attacked By Mob

ALEXANDER CITY, Ala., Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—The shadow of alleged communistic activity again hovered over Tallapoosa county last night as officers, assisted by a deputy state fire marshal, sought to fix the responsibility for fires which destroyed a negro church and five negro residences here last night.

W. R. West, deputy state fire marshal, came here yesterday at the request of Mayor Thomas Russell, who appealed for help in investigating the first, which he said was of incendiary origin.

The pastor of the church reported to Mayor Russell that he had received anonymous threats that his church would be burned if he did not cease "his crusade against communism." The pastor had been urging his congregation not to join radical organizations.

The fire Tuesday night originated in a funeral-home operated by the pastor and spread to the other buildings.

Organization of a share croppers union among negro tenants in Tallapoosa county last July resulted in a near riot at Camp Hill during which one negro was killed and two officers wounded.

Exports To Russia From This Country Top One Year Ago

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—Because Russia ordered a lot of machinery and things from America a year or more ago, exports to that nation are running to a higher figure than they did in 1930.

Last month, for instance, the United States sent $10,560,295 worth of goods to the communist country while the total for September, 1930, was less than half that amount, $4,923,091.

Soviet representatives here say their government is actually buying about 70 percent less from America than last year. The orders now going out were placed from one to two years ago, they explain, and were for heavy machinery and other things needed in the execution of the five-year plan.

A general upward swing in exports gave the United States a favorable trade balance of $9,453,581 in September with Great Britain leading its daughter nation, Canada, as a buyer for the first time in months.

The Department of Commerce yesterday announced revised trade figures for the month and for the nine-month period ending Sept. 30. This showed total exports of $180,219,507 for September, compared with $132,206,947 in that month last year, and $1,841,728,567 for the nine months compared with $2,952,451,381. Imports were $170,365,928 for September, 1931, against $226,352,216 in the same month last year and $1,618,641,52 for the nine months compared with $2,401,312,556.

Rev. J. L. Clark will preach in Sanford Saturday, Nov. 22. Rev. C. E. Clark will preach in his home Sunday, Nov. 23.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

After an absence of about ten days above, reprinted by permission of the American Press, tobacco advertisements returned to all of the publishing business newspapers to announce a return to the old pre-war price of five cents and to take advantage of the "roll your own" habit which many smokers have adopted to hold court.

The three were taken to the county jail for protection and examination by a doctor. The mob continued to mill about the courthouse square and Judge Bailey announced that he would not attempt to hold court today.

Consolidation Of All U.S. Railroads Will Be Proposed

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—

Plans for the introduction at the next session of Congress of a bill which would authorize the consolidation of all the railroads of the United States into one large, integrated system, were announced yesterday by Nathan L. Amster, president of the Citizens' National Railroad League, Inc.

He said an annual saving of $100,000,000 could be effected by such a unit.

James H. Clegg, who is a director of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pecific railroad and other corporations, a total aggregate investment of approximately $24,000,000,000 "will be unified in order to preserve the credit of the railroads; supply efficient transportation service to all sections of the country at the lowest possible rates and to afford thousands of investors in railroad securities a fair return on their capital."
