TWO DECISIONS BEFORE SENATE

unit, which frequently has come under fire from the Pennsylvania governor.

Senator Watson, who is chairman of the internal revenue bureau committee, declared flatly in the senate that it was not proposed to go into such a investigation at this time, and that any such move would be resisted. Moreover, the Indiana senator charged that the real purpose of senate inquiries was to aim arrows at Mr. Coolidge. He added that no investigation, however troublesome, would disturb the estimate in which the executive is held by the people. Although the Republican leaders are planning to marshal their full forces, Democratic leaders are confident that when the final test of strength comes the internal revenue bureau inquiry will be ordered forward under simple authority for the committee to employ such counsel as may be deemed necessary.

Trotzky Boasts of Strength.

MOSCOW, Apr. 14.—Speaking at a conference in Tiflis, prior to his return to Moscow, Leon Trotzky, the soviet minister of war, said soviet Russia at present was stronger than ever.

With regard to the Rumanian question, Trotzky declared Russia would maintain a policy of waiting. The door for an amicable settlement of the situation was still partly open. However, he would not say there never would be war.

France, according to Trotzky, was playing a foul game in supporting Rumania and Poland against Russia and in attempting to cause a break between Russia and Turkey.

But he added, M. Poincare, the French premier, would find that he had miscalculated.

Referring to the negotiations between Russia and Great Britain, he said the Russian delegation would help to strengthen the position of the labor government in Great Britain by concluding a straight economic agreement with that country.

Are You Lip-Lazy?

Most of us are, say authorities

MRS. BEATRICE HALE.

Nea Service Staff Writer BY ALEXANDER HERMAN PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Lip-Laziness is America's most prevalent disease. Millions already have it and they are rapidly infecting others. Before long the scourge will be nation-wide. Yet most of its victims do nothing about it. So a group of educators meeting at the Philadelphia Forum, have decided to stay the inroads of this disease, by turning the spotlight of publicity on its evils. Chief of this group is Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, former actress, author and lecturer, who styles herself an "English American." To save her children from the epidemic, she is having them educated abroad. "The symptoms of this disease," says Mrs. Hale, "vary throughout the country. "In New York it can be found in the argot of the young man who talks about that 'skoot on Twenty-third street' when referring to a girl on 23rd street. "In New England it is manifested by saying 'wuz' when one means 'was.' "In the Middle West, by dropping the 't' out of the language: 'wud do y'wan' for 'what do you want.' In a recent trip through the inland states, I did not hear the letter 't' pronounced, except when it began a word. "And in the Far West, by the constant use of such terms as 'You bet' to cover every conceivable reply to any conceivable answer. "With these symptoms comes the poker face—the shell behind which the American business man tries to hide his thoughts and emotions. "There is a shutting of the teeth, an attempt to conserve energy, and the result—a muffled speech. "Women often go to the other extreme. In an attempt to be light

Hate Dishwashing? Read This Carefully

NO longer is dishwashing a distasteful task to thousands of women. They now use Red Seal Lye to soften the water and loosen the dirt and grease. Then a quick rinse in hot water and the dishes and silver are not only immaculately clean but sanitary as well. Try washing dishes the "Red Seal" way.

The most common defects of our speech the professor points out, are technically known as:

- Throaty Constriction.

The cure for all this lip-laziness? Training in proper speech from childhood on, those experts say, for it is difficult to change the speech of adults.

So if you want the next generation to be saved from America's greatest epidemic, begin training it now.

War Against Cotton Bucket Shops Saves Southern Investors Millions

INVESTORS in the south will be saved millions of dollars in the aggregate as a result of the campaign which the New York Cotton Exchange and the Attorney General's Office in New York are waging against cotton bucketshops. Thousands of persons in the south have been swindled through the activities of these bucketshops.

A number of so-called cotton brokerage houses ostensibly dealing in odd lots have already been closed up and the National Stock, Cotton & Grain Exchange, Inc. of 63 Wall Street, New York, of which Joseph C. Cooper was president, has been enjoined by the courts from doing business. The injunction against the National exchange, signed by Supreme Court Justice Charles L. Guy, which is one of the most sweeping ever issued, also prohibits the members from doing any business as members of the exchange.

Cooper, the president of the National, is well known throughout the south, having been the organizer of the original odd lot cotton exchange—the American Cotton Exchange—which was convicted in New York of being a bucket shop, fined $5,000, and which is now out of business.

The fight against the cotton bucketshops has been directed by

Edward E. Bartlett, Jr., president of the New York Cotton Exchange, and by Louis Brooks, chairman of the powerful Business Conduct Committee of the exchange. Bartlett and Brooks—the latter from Augusta, Ga.—have bitterly opposed every attempt of the bucketshops to secure the quotations of the New York Cotton Exchange.

Wilbur W. Chambers, special deputy attorney general in charge of the cotton bucketshop investigation in New York who secured the injunction against the National exchange, is the one who has been most careful with whom they trade in cotton.

"Know your broker as you know your bank," is Chambers' advice. "If you wish to invest, first make certain that the house with which you propose to deal is reliable and financially responsible. Do not be misled by attractive literature and the lure of big profits. One odd lot cotton house in New York—which has just been closed by the courts—look upwards of $2,000,000 from investors in the south within a few months before we closed it. They were swindled in the same way by warning their readers to investigate before they invest."

PROPOSED PARK OF EDWARD BOK IS BEAUTY SITE

Large Tract of Land Located in Polk County is One of Most Beautiful Places in Florida.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 15.—The 2,500 acres of land in Polk County when Edward Bok, Philadelphia philanthropist, proposes to buy and turn over to the State of Florida, could be developed into a park that would be one of the beauty spots of the state, according to descriptions of the terrain in that section contained in publications of various sorts.

Dr. Roland M. Harper, geographer, who is now engaged in compiling a work on vegetation of south Florida, also has traveled through that part of the state, but has never gone over the particular tract in question. Only recently he made a trip through South Florida gathering material for the book he is writing for the state and testifies as to the variety and beauty of the flowers that grow there.

The land mentioned by Mr. Bok is situated at the headwaters of Walk-in-the-Water creek and extends to Walk-in-the-Water lake. He has authorized the county commissioners of Polk county to purchase the tract and set it aside as a public reservation for the people of Florida. He will pay the cost of the land, he recently stated at Lakes Wales before leaving for his home in Pennsylvania, and will see that roads are built so it will be accessible to the people, though the tract will be largely left in its natural state.

Situated near the French colony and Templetown, about seven miles from Lake Wales, the tract is noted for its semi-tropical scenery with many palms and live oaks and with dense jungles. Walk-in-the-Water creek, which in many places, has banks 50 feet high, runs through the land.

It is in that part of the state known as the flatwoods, where native flowers grow in such profusion, and which are described by Charles T. Simpson of Little River in his book on the beauties of Florida.

Mr. Simpson, a native of Illinois, but who has lived for many years in this state, declares that during his 25 years in Florida, he has "never seen a time when in South Florida" he could not "in any extended walk gather at least 50 species of wild plants in bloom."

WITHHOLD NOT GOOD:
Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it. Proverbs 3:7-9

The New York Herald Tribune leads with this:
"Oh, Mittie, my mut, has gone astray!
Poor Mittie has gone a-roamin'! She didn't come back by the light of day
Oh, Mittie, my mut, she's vanished quite,
An' cussed be the day I was born in!
If she didn't come back in the dark of night
How will she come back in the mornin'!
And then recommends the use of the classified advertising page."

Are you making preparations for a visit from "Burr Rabbit" this week-end?

Coolidge found it hard enough to get Daugherty out of office, but Stone should be harder still.

Reports from Washington give the same impression to the outside world as "static" does to the radio fan.

What we can't understand is why Altamonte Springs should bring their local politics to Sanford to be tried.

When a headline reads "Georgia Peach Crop Good" the following story does not necessarily pertain alone to agriculture.

It's the whipped child that cries the loudest. And the same can be said of the whipped candidate.

Jacksonville has an excellent musical organization known as "Harry's Band." Many cultured people who abhor slang say, "It's the Gerties" in Jacksonville.

"Americans are not dollar chasers," declares Dr. Kernan in a London interview. But there are plenty of ninety-eight cent bargain hunters.

The Lizard Hat is the latest creation from Paris. Probably the designer received his inspiration for it after freely imbibing French wines.

The Colery City Sage says a man is known by the company he keeps, but a woman is known by the company she keeps away from.

Isn't it peculiar how some people reckon time? A south Georgia woman, when asked how old her infant son was, replied that he would be a year old next circus day.

The way the Sanford City Commission is going about the paving local streets insures this city of soon having more paved streets in proportion to its size than any other city in the state.

President Coolidge has announced that he expects to spend the entire summer in Washington. The President evidently fears the possibility of returning to Vermont without ever having enjoyed a Washington summer.

Announcement was made recently of another big real estate deal in Sanford. The new owners of the Hynes block say they will make many improvements on the building. The entire business section of Sanford is continually being improved.

Columbus Junction, Iowa, recently elected Eva Bretz, mayor; Harry Moore, treasurer; Nellie Moore, assessor, and the following council women: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Sholck, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Richie. Truth stranger than fiction, said Aristophanes, smiling in his grave.

According to figures compiled recently banking deposits in this city increased forty-eight per cent during the past year. During the same period deposits in Miami banks increased but slightly over one per cent. Thus Sanford is giving Miami a good run for her money and Miami is generally considered the fastest growing city in the state.

A fire which burned over more than fifteen hundred acres of land started from a cigarette thrown from an airplane near Northford, Tennessee. Capper's only thought that newspapers of this time will contain numerous accounts of accidents caused by airplanes dropping overhead from sky.

It thinks it may do to carry umbrellas and to have houses made proof against the dropping of monkey

Make It A May-Day Celebration.

"Post-Card Day" for Sanford, May first!
The Herald proposes an observance of "Post-Card Day" to tell the world that Sanford being an all-year town is making ready for a busy summer, and is extending an invitation to desirable people everywhere to come to Seminole county and see for themselves the most promising section of Florida.
Rightly observed, "Post-Card Day" can be made of inestimable value. Care being taken in the selection of cards, that do justice to the scenes they attempt to depict, and especial attention being given to the choosing of pictures creditable to Sanford, the sending out of hundreds of cards to widely scattered places can do wonders toward putting this town on the map in larger letters.

If the observance of such a day, May 1, appeals, and the Mayor sees fit to formally proclaim it, The Herald would suggest that Sanford dealers look over their stock of Post Cards and select for sale only those that are worthy of carrying an invitation to Sanford. The Herald would also suggest that the Sanford Woman's Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the various civic clubs appoint a joint committee to make a survey of the available stock of Post Cards, and arrange for a sufficient supply. This same committee, or another jointly representing the various organizations, could be entrusted with the task of arousing interest in the day; and practically every man, woman and child in Sanford could be induced to participate in the "Post-Card Day" work.

The Herald believes that every family in Sanford has a list of at least ten desirable persons to whom post cards could be sent. A mailing list, such as could be compiled from the personal acquaintances of Sanford people would have addresses of people living in every state in the Union; and messages sent to them would have the personal appeal that cannot be attained in the hit-or-miss distribution of advertising literature.

Numbers of Sanford people could each send out a hundred cards, addressed to acquaintances living in other states. These cards could each carry a friendly message calling attention to the beginning of a pleasant, comfortable, busy summer in Sanford.

But it is quite unnecessary to enumerate how "Post-Card Day" on the First of May could be used for Sanford's benefit. Intelligent Sanford people fully comprehend how valuable such an occasion could be made. All that is needed is direction and co-operation.

Federate County Welfare Societies.

Newspapers and magazines are filled with articles about the Community Chest idea. Hardly is it possible to pick up a publication from some of the larger cities without some notice of the chest fund plan coming to the reader's attention. All over, organizations are coming to realize the value of working together in welfare work and are gradually doing away with the overlapping of efforts along this line.

The origin of the Community Chest idea came from the West and has now spread to more than two hundred cities in all parts of the country where the plan has been adopted. Such cities as Cleveland and Philadelphia are among the two hundred.

It is said that two hundred millions of dollars are given each year by the American public for charitable and philanthropic purposes. If this be so, is it good business for this huge sum of money to be given away carelessly? Would it not be much wiser for the money to be handled through some organization which would spend it with the greatest care and circumspection?

Sanford people will do well to think seriously about the proposition as made by Miss Marion Crawford which would federate the social welfare societies of Seminole county into one great federation and would tend to do away with duplication of efforts and put this work in the hands of trained workers who could accomplish greater results with much less expense.

Seminole county is rapidly growing. There are many organizations, all good, that are trying to do charitable and welfare work. These organizations no matter how careful the leaders may be, are bound to overlap in their efforts. Considerable money, therefore, is wasted and much valuable time lost. From a purely business standpoint it looks as if those interested should get together and endorse the forming of a county federation, or community chest, for doing this great work.

If the plan is a good one, and other cities much larger than Sanford say it is, no time should be wasted in perfecting it here.

HON. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN has announced his candidacy for delegate at large from Florida to the National Democratic convention, and pledges himself to obey any instructions given by the voters in the primary. He also says, that if the state's choice ceases to be a candidate before the convention, he will then place in nomination for president, Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the University of Florida. On these terms the Times will take pleasure in supporting the great commoner in his candidacy. We hope, too, that he will be elected and will wield the same potent influence for good in the coming convention that he has in past conventions.—Melbourne Times.

THE TENDEREST WORD in our language is home. The source and center of all the saving and helpful influences which form American character and determine American action, come from the family and reside. No man can hope to represent our people who fails to embody this ideal in his life.—Chauncey M. Depew.

DUSTY LAKE REGION

Another influential newspaper has joined the ranks of publications that are supporting Frank Jennings for governor. The Lake Wales Highlander came out this week with a statement that the support of that publication would be given Jennings in his candidacy for gubernatorial honors. The Highlander says:
"We're for Frank Jennings for governor."
Why?
Because in the conscientious opinion of the editor of this paper Mr. Jennings is by all odds the best man in the race, the man who is the most likely to make a governor of whom we will be proud.

A well-known publisher, while calling on a rich author—oh, yes, there are such things as rich authors—complained about the lack of good champagne in the present era.
The writer, with a wave of his hand, summoned a high-priced butler and decanted a full quart of fancy water into the publisher's glass.

HIRAM JOHNSON'S statement has the old-fashioned ring that some of his friends have missed since the Harding election. "The Republican party is dominated by the unwholy alliance between crooked big business and crooked politics," says Johnson.
That's true and you can't "amash" that by any Gentle campaigning.

IT IS doubtful whether it can be smashed at all just now. While the Republican party is dominated by crooked big business, the people also know that the Democratic party is the "spare tire" of crooked big business. That Democratic "spare tire" is carried on the back of the big business band wagon to be used in case a Republican tire should accidentally blow out.

SOME VOTERS conclude that they would rather have Republican crookedness with some efficiency than Democratic crookedness without any efficiency. Not much of a choice and it will take a very big man or a big event to break the "big business" combination.

CHICAGO learns with unjustified scorn that Joseph Leiter, of the well known Chicago family, is being sued for $1,332, the price of one hundred and eleven pairs of socks. Twelve dollars a pair for socks shocks Chicago. Chicago learns with added horror that Mr. Leiter changes his silk socks twice a day.

WHAT OF IT? The great Buffon never sat down to his magnificent scientific work without beautiful lace ruffles around his wrists. And Tycho Brahe, prince of astronomical observers, always put on clothing, his very best, before entering his observatory, saying: "I'm here in the presence of my Maker."

Mr. Leiter may have just as good reason for two pairs of silk socks a day at twelve dollars a pair.

MR. LE BOUTILLIER is vice president of the Long Island Railroad, and nevertheless a rude government seized his private car, stocked with choice liquors, and threatened to sell the car.
That is pushing prohibition beyond the joke stage. Keeping beer from workmen is all right. Keeping champagne from the vice president of a great railroad is quite another matter.

THE JAPANESE Ambassador informs Secretary of State Hughes that "grave consequences" may follow passage of the bill for excluding the Japanese effectively, which has not been done under the "gentlemen's agreement." Observe Japan's attitude toward the United States and Australia. There are one hundred and ten million Americans. We welcome Japanese students and travelers. Australia strictly excludes Japanese and all other Asiatics. But Japan doesn't threaten any "grave consequences" for Australia.

THE JAPANESE know that Australia means it. They are rather doubtful about the United States, being well aware that some of our largest "interests" and pocketbooks would be glad to get cheap Asiatic labor. But that labor isn't coming in, and it is betraying no confidence to tell Japan that the people of the United States are quite ready to accept the "grave consequences."

THE ALLIES gratefully and cheerfully accept all findings of the financial experts led by General Dawes, of the U. S. A., and will be glad to accept the German billions as outlined.

No such gladness and cheerfulness are observed in Germany, however.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS in Chicago suggest that General Dawes of "Hall-and-Marie" and reparations fame, may accept the Republican nomination if anything should happen to President Coolidge. At present Coolidge is not planning to let anything happen to him.

SOME ONE in Wall Street bet two thousand dollars against twenty thousand dollars that Al Smith will be the next President of the United States. You would call that to one good odds. But a thousand to one would be better.

MR. THOMAS, president of the Pennsylvania State College, says the buck-saw drives boys from the farm. You know the buck-saw, of course. You put a log of wood on the sawbuck, put one foot on the log, then you saw back and forth, occasionally greasing the saw, until that chore is done.
The work is good for you, taking fat off the front and strengthening muscles of the back. But it is work no longer necessary. You can attach a saw to an automobile wheel, jack up the rear axle, and saw in one morning

ONE BIG THING JENNINGS DID

TAMPA TIMES

What may be expected of one and all those engaged in it squarely by reference to what one has done.
By such a standard Frank E. Jennings measures up as one who may be expected to make Florida an excellent governor. If there be such a thing as a state's bestowing its highest executive office upon a man as a reward for highly beneficial public service in the past, Mr. Jennings is by that token, entitled now to be chosen governor. He has one past performance to his credit which is worth much more than a large number of promises for the future. We refer to his work as a member of the state plant board and the help he rendered in that capacity toward eradicating the dread citrus canker.
Growing citrus fruit is the largest and most important industry in Florida. A large section of the state plant board is interested in it. Above all things, it is the foundation of Florida's marvelous growth and development. We all remember how, many years back, the citrus canker made its appearance. Those were darkened days. It seemed as if disaster and ruin looked the industry and all those engaged in it squarely in the face. Earnest appeals were made to every known human agency for help, and it is not to be doubted that many prayers went up to heaven laden with the same appeal.
Canker eradication was the most important problem that confronted Florida. Experts sent out by the United States government greatly shook their heads and declared that it didn't seem that the thing could be checked. The state plant board gritted its teeth and said that it must be done, by the help of God. It was a battle royal. Multiplied groves, whose trees literally grow gold, witness how wonderfully it has been done. Had the state plant board been made up of men of different caliber they might have quit, discouraged. But Frank Jennings and his associates, carried on to victory.
Some one may say that anybody would have done that. May be so, but Frank Jennings had part in its actual doing. It is reward is to be given for service well formed, this one thing entitles him to be elected governor by a grateful people.

MR. MARTIN'S MISTAKE

TAMPA TIMES

If there be any truth in the old saying that "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," then the political aspirations of John W. Martin are doomed to destruction, for he has given unmistakable signs of madness—not the mental dementia which lands its unfortunate victim in the madhouse, but that unreasoning rage which takes possession of a spoiled child at times and leads him to smash things in a fit of passion. Mr. Martin has doubtless become somewhat unbalanced as he sees the glittering prize of the governorship, which has been the object of his fond ambition for some time, fast slipping from his grasp.
That may be the cause of his temporary madness, but it is no excuse for his outrageous attack upon the character and reputation of one of the best known women of the state, a lady who stands high on an infinitely higher plane than Mr. Martin can ever conceive of, who has always been noted for the purity of her patriotism, her zealous interest in the welfare of Florida and its people, who has been honored above others by the leadership of the great organization of women in Florida. It was nothing short of madness that prompted him to drive a finishing nail in his political coffin by flinging his vile insinuations at such a mark. It will solidify the women of Florida in support of his opponent, for Mr. Martin should know, if he does not, that the organized women of Florida take a deep and intelligent interest in political matters and good government, and will resist at the polls the elevation of any man to the highest office in the gift of the state who resorts, even in a moment of chagrin and rage, to the methods of the abum and the dive. The governor of Florida must be a gentleman, first of all.
We hold no brief for the lady in question. She needs no defense at our hands. Her position in the womanhood of the state is too well assured to be injured by the malicious insinuations of a loathing and disappointed candidate. They will certainly react with tremendous force against himself.

NEWSPAPERS AND THE PUBLIC

PLANT CITY COURIER

There is frequent complaint that the newspapers in the United States, as a whole, do not reflect the sentiment of the people, but of special minorities whose interests they serve. We do not like to believe this, but there are undeniable facts which show that in some instances, at least, the press is a poor index of the public mind.
A striking example may be found in Wisconsin. Practically every daily in that state is anti-LaFollette to the last ditch. They have fought him in season and out for the last twenty years in the campaign for the Republican delegates to the national convention, those papers were unanimously for Coolidge.
And to have read one or all of these papers three days before the election, a stranger would conclude that LaFollette's campaign was a joke, and that he would be shamefully beaten.
Yet when the votes were cast he was victor by an overwhelming majority. This has happened before. How many times?

MUSICAL PARAGRAPHS

BY F. S. M.

Music week will be celebrated in Sanford May 4-11. Many interesting programs will have a share in this notable movement of the "Unity in Music."

The man who has learned to love music has in his reach an unending source of joy.

Mendelssohn was an expert horseman, an expert swimmer, an expert billiard player and an expert chess player.

Gushing Lady, (at a musicale)—"Don't you think her singing heavenly?"

Cyrus—"Well I'll go so far as to say it is unearthly."—Musical Mirror.

"Will radiophone improve music America" is answered by Mr. Freude in the "Daily News" of Detroit. And among other things he says "Radio will carry music into tens of thousands of homes and so provide not only enjoyment but a cultural influence, home is the basis of all real civilization."

"Music by radio will tend to Americanize the alien population." Mr. Freude objects to the "hodge-podge" program provided by radio. He says "It is a pity that on one evening to a musical opera, weather forecasts, agricultural reports, baseball scores, closing prices of bonds, jack rabbit stories, visiting nursery service, mixup with a concert by a singing society, a recital of Irish songs, a tenor's 'banjo,' a saxophone solo, some drums, a reading from the balcony scene of 'Romeo and Juliet,' a tenor solo and 'The Bitterness of Love,' a negro spiritual, 'Nobody knows the Trouble I See,' 'The Evening Song' from Wagner's 'Tannhauser,' mixed up with timely hints on house and garden, a short talk 'The Well Dressed Man,' a bedtime story, getting health by osteopathy. All this again mixed up with Chopin Polka, winding up with house-

CUPS TO BE GIVEN AT AQUATIC MEET

The above is a cut of the $1500 set of sterling silver Trophies to be given to the winners of the Florida State Aquatic Meet, held at Rollins College April 26, 1924. The set is composed of 24 of the most beautiful cups ever presented in this section of the country. They have been given by some of the many sport lovers of Winter Park and Orlando, and have created much interest and enthusiasm among the high schools all over the State. Henry Kart and M. J. Dnetwyler, the two men who are responsible for the gathering together of "This bunch of tin" as one of them has called it, have together with others placed the State Aquatic Meet on the top of the list in the Southeast Athletic World. The World Wide News, Pathe News and other publications consider it a favor to receive articles and pictures of this Meet and are not only most willing to use anything sent them, but have requested that articles and pictures be sent their editors.

ENTRANTS IN THE WATER MEET ARE TO BE EXAMINED

Eligibility of Each Entrant Will Be Determined Before He Is Allowed to Compete—Halling of The Association

Prof. D. E. Shaver (principal), High School, Kissimmee and president of the Florida High School Athletic Association, W. H. Cassels, principal of Palatka High School and vice-president of this association, and J. M. Growell, principal of St. Augustine High School and secretary-treasurer of the state athletic body, have been assured by the governing committee of the Florida State Intercollegiate Athletic Association that they will enforce the eligibility rules of the state association, according to its constitution and by-laws.

These three men, prominent in secondary education in Florida, were recently elected to executive positions in the state athletic body and are determined to enforce eligibility rules during the coming year. From the beginning, four years ago, the governing committee of this swimming championship event has enforced these eligibility rules believing that high school officials should have full support in this matter and knowing that such rules and regulations have been made for the benefit of those who entered athletic events.

Eligibility rules are as follows: Section Nine, Constitution and By-laws.

(a) In order to represent a school in any branch of athletics, a contestant must be a bona fide student-bona fide, meaning one who is regularly enrolled and who meets in addition to the requirements as set forth in sections b, c, d, e, f, g, h and i of Section Nine.

(b) Must register within the first two weeks of the beginning of the season of the sport in which he wishes to represent his school in any branch of athletics. In case of later registration, the principal of the school in question shall file the necessary information with the president, who will decide upon the eligibility, said information to be upon the regulation blanks of the association.

(c) Must be under 21 years of age.

(d) Must be an undergraduate.

(e) Cannot represent a school in any branch of athletics for more than four years—four years to apply to high school athletics or any secondary school of similar standing. In special cases, students of the eighth grade may be eligible to play, upon approval of the president, this not to affect four years in high school.

(f) Must have passed in each of three unit subjects, and have an average passing in four unit subjects in the semester previous to the one in which he wishes to represent a school in any branch of athletics.

MAJOR LEAGUES GET UNDER WAY TODAY WITH PROSPECTS FOR GIANTS AND YANKEES REPEAT

Baseball Fandom Anxiously Awaits the Opening of What Bids Fair to Be Banner Year of the Game in Every Respect—Most of Teams Appear To Be Strengthened Materially in Line-Up.

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Apr. 15.—The forces of major league baseball, which get under way today, are expected to find their own level in second division depths—inaugurate their 1924 pennant campaign Tuesday.

Pennant east and west is keenly awaiting the opening shout of "play ball" that will mark the close of the long "training" period and send the 16 major league teams off on a battle for supremacy that will not close until the last week in September.

The chief fight in both major leagues this year is clean cut, a combated back by seven clubs in each circuit to dislodge the mighty New York Giants and Yankees, pennant victors in their respective organizations for the past three years, who will seek to shatter National and American league precedent by capturing their fourth straight emblem of triumph.

The world's champion Yankees, with the team that led its nearest rivals by 16 games last season intact, are overwhelming favorites to set diamond history with another American League pennant. Detroit, with improved pitching, a heavy attack, but weakness around second base and with only a fair defense and Cleveland, a hard hitting outfit around camp, loom as the chief rivals of the Yankees, who bank upon their brilliant hurling corps, and an offensive lead by Babe Ruth to blaze the path to another triumph.

The Athletics and Red Sox, two clubs whose seasons ended in disappointment, are generally picked to finish again in front and fulfill an ambition John McGraw once before failed to gain after winning three straight pennants. But the National League's champions, forced to rebuild their pitching staff after its collapse last fall and to reconstruct practically their infield and outfield, face a more formidable task than the Yankees. The Cincinnati Reds, buttressed by the best twirlers in the league but lacking some of the McGraw attack, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, with a strong offensive and good twirling prospects, stand out as contenders-in-chief. Behind them the Chicago Cubs, an aggressive outfit that has climbed upward steadily the last three years, and the heavy hitting St. Louis Cardinals loom as trouble-makers, while the Boston Braves, rejuvenated under Dave Bancroft and boasting a fine young hurling corps, are the "dark horse" of the race. Brooklyn and Philadelphia do not figure to escape the second division.

GAIN OF 50 PER CENT. MIAMI, Apr. 10.—Bank deposits here showed a gain of 50 per cent for the year ending Mar. 31, 1924, according to a summary of statements submitted to the state comptroller. Total resources at that time amounted to $48,674,013.31, while deposits totaled $46,233,256, an increase of $1,885,488 during a twelve-month period.

Second Annual Track and Field Meet of Southern Intercollegiate Conference Will Be Held at Montgomery.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Apr. 15.—Track and field representatives of the major Dixie colleges will gather here for the second annual Southern Conference field play, May 9 and 10.

Last year some 150 athletes representing 15 southern colleges and universities vied for two days in Crampton Bowl here, and the meet was declared successful on every standpoint. A bigger affair

California School Provides Athletics For All of Pupils

PALO ALTO, Cal., Apr. 12.—Stanford University has adopted the motto "athletics for all."

Whether athletic teams win or lose, the fundamental purpose of Stanford's physical activities is to turn out a large number of men whose bodies are developed as well as their minds.

This plan was evolved by Paul Davis, graduate manager of the student body. He and his staff have laid plans for a gradual extension of athletic facilities extending over a period of 23 years, by which time the enrollment of men is expected to reach 4,000.

At present nine football fields are in use. There are two baseball fields, and it is planned to make three more.

Other entries expected include Alabama University, University of Georgia, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, University of Florida, University of Mississippi, Tulane, Kentucky University of Virginia, V. M. I., Washington and Lee and the University of Tennessee.

Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the western conference, has been invited to attend the southern track gathering as an honorary referee.

Men showing well in the southern meet this spring will be allowed to compete in the Olympic finals at Boston without having to enter the district tryouts.

Large Number of Athletes Expected For Kansas Meet

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 12.—Entries from all sections of the country are in prospect for the second annual University of Kansas relay games, April 19.

The athletic association has announced it is certain there will be a larger representation than last year, when 800 athletes from 77 institutions competed.

The indoor season just closed saw many records fall and gave promise of a classy outdoor season. Coaches are expected to watch the Kansas relays with unusual interest in view of the midwestern Olympic tryouts, which will be held here May 31.

The relay team will include 17 relays and nine special events divided for the four groups, university, college, military and high school. Twenty-two universities and 25 colleges some time ago had signified their intention of entering either relay teams, or athletes, in the special events, or both.

The University of Iowa, which won the one-mile relay last year, will be back to defend its record, as will the University of Texas, which nosed out the University of Pennsylvania in the medley relay last year.

Vegetables of even the most irregular shapes are peeled without waste by a new automatic machine, the self sharpening knives of which can be set to cut to any desired thickness.

Do You Know How The Citrus Situation Affects Your Interests?

Do you know that, according to the most conservative estimates, Florida has lost $30,000,000 this year because of the disorderly marketing of the citrus crop?

Do you know that this heavy loss to the growers is in fact a loss to every legitimate business interest in the state, meaning that much less money in the banks, that much less trade at the stores and that much less general prosperity?

Do you know that the conditions which have brought about the present deplorable citrus situation must be speedily corrected or the greatest industry of Florida will be done irreparable injury and the progress of the state given a severe set-back?

Do you know that the best brains of Florida—including bankers, developers, growers, merchants, professional men and marketing agency representatives—for months have been earnestly trying to find a solution to existing citrus problems, with the practically unanimous conclusion that co-operative selling with control of distribution affords the only way out?

Do you know that Florida has one of the oldest, most substantial and most successful—volume and percentage of total production considered—co-operative marketing organizations of the country, in the Florida Citrus Exchange, and that if it has any deficiencies they can be remedied by the members themselves, but that the Exchange must have not less than 60 per cent of the crop to function with full efficiency.

Do you know that a large number of business and professional men, not officially connected with the Florida Citrus Exchange have undertaken to put on a drive to increase the membership so that 60 per cent or more of the citrus fruit grown in Florida will be controlled, all of these men working without compensation and because they believe the Exchange is the salvation of the citrus industry of Florida.

The "Lake Wales Plan" calls for a citrus sign-up day on May 1st, to conclude the drive. Watch this paper for further particulars or write for them to:
