The Victory Of Endeavor

Two frogs, each in a milk can-there by the carlessness of a milk pedler who schemed that a little of the village creek would not. be noticed in a can of milk-

Both frogs wanted to survive the experience—so they kicked vigourously-one squawking as he kicked. The other saved his squawking energy for kicking purposes --- by and by the squawking frog gave up in disgust and slowly sunk to the bottom-the other kept on and finally 'tis told, he churned a nice round ball of butter upon which he climbed-thus he lived an example of his victorious energy.

Yes, there is a moral there

We would consider it a privilege to show you some of the splendid properties we are offering - properties that are down right good buys.
