

Truman Reveals Post War Loans Hit 2 Billions

Total Cost Of Lend-Lease Is Placed At Over 50 Billions

WASHINGTON Mar. 16 (AP)—President Truman told Congress today that lend-lease aid provided to foreign countries since V-J-Day amounts to $2,075,459,880.

In a letter transmitting the 25th report on Lend-Lease operations, Mr. Truman said such postwar help—called "pipeline" aid because the deliveries included goods in process of transfer when the war ended—is being concluded.

Russia was cut from the list of "pipeline" countries by congressional action last year. But some other countries remain eligible. The report showed $254,091,000 in shipments to the Soviet Union since the fighting ended.

The total of war and postwar aid under the Lend-Lease Act was reported as $50,243,996,158.79.

The office of Lend-Lease fiscal operations now operates under the Treasury Department.

lake front; the City's five-year offer of headquarters space in the City Hall in event Sanford is selected as the permanent site, and the Post's offer to landscape the grounds of the new building, and to contribute $6,000 toward the project.

The following delegates were elected to attend the state convention: Ned Smith, Joel Field, Jack Rocco, James Singletary and James Wright. Alternates named were: Ed Monforton, John Sauls, Chester Miller, Henry Jameson and Frank Pavlick.

John Sauls reported that the Red Cross Legion committee was doing nicely in the drive, and said that last year the Post collected more money for the drive than any other organization. He announced that officers of the newly formed Veterans Council will be elected on Mar. 25. Plans for the Legion sponsored fair were announced by Adjutant Joel Field.

The race for Post Commander was "hot" with "Chic" Lezater opposing Mr. Wright. The new commander has been connected with the Ox Fibre Brush Co. at Benson Springs for the past 20 years. He volunteered for naval service in the early part of World War II but was rejected due to defective color vision. This defect objection was waived upon second application and he was given a commission as lieutenant, jr. in the early part of 1944. His indoctrination course was at Babson Park, Mass. Later he attended Army Industrial College in the Pentagon Building at Washington, D. C., and was assigned to contract termination called at the Key West session. The military manpower problem has assumed increasing proportions in recent weeks. The Army is reported to be considering a request that Congress cut the selective service system back. Army authorities say a return of the draft law would not mean recall to military duty of the veterans of the last war. They say the lower age brackets—men who have become of military age since the war—would provide enough manpower.

Others suggest that the mere presence of a draft law might boost volunteer recruiting to the point where the present 120,000 shortage in the army would be filled.

work in the Navy Department. He was assigned to a Jap invasion unit just prior to the end of the war, and then served with an occupation unit in Japan, at which time, he was promoted to rank of lieutenant, senior grade. He returned from active service in May, 1946 and has since been active in veterans affairs. He has lived in Sanford for the past 23 years, is married and the father of five children.

Among his prized possessions is a letter from Admiral John Towers, former commander in chief of Pacific Naval operations, commending him for his work performed for the Navy while in Japan.

Oil Question Is Emphasized By Forrestal

European Situation May Force U. S. To Reconsider Plans About Arabian Oil

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal said today "events in the last several weeks" may force this country to change plans to boost production of Middle Eastern oil.

The defense chief told a Senate Small Business subcommittee he already has asked military experts to say whether it is advisable to continue shipping steel to build pipelines in Saudi Arabia.

"Within the next 48 hours, certainly by the end of the week, I shall have an answer to it," he added.

This answer, he emphasized, will deal only with the broad question of whether it is more desirable to employ a pipeline or tankers to carry oil from Saudi Arabia to the Mediterranean.

Judge Herlong Is Principal Speaker For Woman's Club

"The greatest responsibility of citizens today is the preservation of democracy," stated Judge Sidney Herlong, Jr. at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Civic Department of the Sanford Woman's Club held at the club house at Oak Avenue today at 12:30 o'clock. He stated that it is the duty of all to promote right thinking among all citizens and to encourage interest in good government.

Judge Herlong's topic was "Citizenship Responsibility" and in this respect he said that the responsibility of the American people in international affairs is to work actively for the support of the Marshall Plan. "The best proof that it will work" he declared, "is the fact that Russia is so strongly against it in that it thwarts their plan for world domination." He urged that every citizen work for the complete success of the United Nations (continued on Page Three)

Miners' Walkout Endangers Soft Coal Production

Labor Stoppage Begins Spread To Dependent Industries

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 17 (AP)—The nation's soft coal production virtually was snuffed out today by the United Mine Workers three-day old pension walkout.

Labor furloughs began to spread to coal-dependent industries. A coal-carrying railroad posted notices that its shops would close Saturday. A steel corporation said one blast furnace and five open hearths will be closed for lack of coke in a few days.

The latest field count showed $30,000 of the 400,000-man union idle. These diggers had left the pits since Sunday midnight in support of John L. Lewis' demand for $100 monthly miners' pensions. Other thousands were expected to quit work today, making the shutdown complete.

All or virtually all deep mines in 12 of 28 production states were down. The shutdown paralyzed the industry of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the two biggest producers. About 181,000 of 225,000 union miners were idle in those two states.

Production also was cut to a trickle in Ohio, Virginia, Alabama, Kentucky and Indiana pits.

Poll Of 14 Senate Aspirants Shows Only 3 Are Pro-Truman

NEW YORK, Mar. 17 (AP)—The New York Times says a poll of 14 Democrats who will be running for Senate seats in 1948 shows that only three are "willing to stand up and be counted as pro-Truman candidates."

The Washington story by Clayton Knowles says that 13 of the 14 men questioned are incumbents, 10 from the deep South.

The other is Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, who will seek the Senate seat being vacated by Senator Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico.

Only two senators said they stand for re-election as supporters of President Truman. They are Senator James E. Murray of Montana and Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, Secretary Anderson said that "I'm not running as a Truman Democrat, but I certainly am a supporter of President Truman."

The story says that most of the Southerners were much more voluble of the record than they were for quotation and that "all were at pains, however, to duck the Truman label because they personally oppose the President or believe him an actual political liability."

Senator William B. Unsworth of North Carolina declined to be quoted at all.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado said he would be running on "the Democratic ticket."

Statements from Southern senators were as follows:

James O. Eastland, Mississippi: "I cannot be for any nominee who is bent upon the destruction of the Southern states."

Allen J. Ellender, Louisiana: "I will run as a Democrat, with no other label."

John L. McClellan, Arkansas: "I'm against the civil liberties

Youth, 16, Attacks Family With Bow And Arrow, Pistol

CHICAGO, Mar. 17 (AP)—Police used tear gas to quell an uprising by a 16 year old boy, armed with a bow and arrow and a home-made revolver, in the northwest side apartment last night.

Before four squads of police were summoned, the youth shot his step-brother with an arrow and forced other members of the family to flee from their second floor apartment.

Police Sgt. Joseph Rudnick said that the youth, William Tomaszek, without any apparent reason, had shot his step-brother, James, 22, a postal clerk, with a steel-tipped 20-inch target arrow. His wound was not serious.

Then the youth, Rudnick said, threatened to shoot his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomaszek, and their two own children, Robert, 18, and Eugene, 14. They seized James, fled to a neighbor's apartment and called police.

President Truman Calls For Draft Law As Well As Universal Military Training And Quick Aid To Europe

Drive Started To Enact Marshall Plan By Apr. 1

Senate Leaders Claim Tax Cut Plans Will Not Be Changed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—House Republican leaders renewed today their call for passage of a foreign aid bill by Apr. 1 but left details of the measure to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Under that timetable, the aid bill would go to a House-Senate conference committee in ample time for Congress to complete action well before the Italian elections Apr. 18.

Congressional and Administration leaders feel that passage of the aid program might help defeat Communists in the crucial Italian test.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass), chairman of the House policy-making group, said no attempt was made to reach agreement on the amount to be spent for foreign aid or how long the program would run.

Senate finance leaders indicated that President Truman's message won't change their plans for an income tax cut this year.

Rep. Doughton of North Carolina, senior Democrat on the Tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, said, however, that if Congress is going to adopt the President's program "we are going to get it done."

Senator Ed Fraser To Speak Here Thursday

March Rainfall Is Said Over Normal

Rainfall during March has been nearly an inch in excess of normal due to 10 days starting on Mar. 3 when it rained every day, it was revealed today by B. F. Whitner, weatherman.

Total precipitation since Mar. 1 has been 3.9 inches as compared to normal rainfall of 2.74 inches for the month. The biggest rain was on Mar. 4 when 1.33 inches was recorded, the smallest rain was on Mar. 11 when only .02 of an inch precipitation was recorded.

On This St. Patrick's Day, The Irish March Bearing Shamrocks

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—President Truman took off from National Airport at 1:24 P. M. today for New York. He will review the St. Patrick's day parade there this afternoon and tonight will address the annual dinner of the friendly sons of St. Patrick.

By Associated Press

The Irish marched today, waving shamrocks from the mother land to the "colonies" in the United States.

President Truman leads the parade of 60,000 up New York City's Fifth Avenue several hours after the chief executive also will address a joint session of Congress in a second major address at tonight's dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in New York.

Prime Minister Eamon de Valera heads festivities in Los Angeles. He will speak at a luncheon in his honor sponsored by the Order of Hibernians and at a dinner tonight.

He also will get a greeting and maybe, if he is lucky, a kiss from child movie actress Margaret O'Brien.

The day is a double cause for celebration in Boston, where even C. J. Irish remember that it was on Mar. 17—in 1776—that Washington drove the British from Boston. "St. Patrick's" was the password during the operation.

Reaction To Speech Varied With Strong Backing For Military Training Act

NEW YORK, Mar. 17 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace will reply to President Truman's congressional speech in a radio address titled "Wallace Answers Truman" tomorrow night. The announcement was made today by the American Broadcasting Company which said the Third Party candidate for President would speak over WJZ-ABC and affiliated stations at 10:45 P. M. (EST).

DUBLIN, Mar. 17 (AP)—

Prime Minister John A. Costello hailed the United States' proposal for universal military training and revival of the draft today as Europe's defenders against Communism. "That corrosive heresy of the modern world," Costello broadcast St. Patrick's Day greetings to North America. He was making his first St. Patrick's day appearance as the head of Eire's government.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—

Reaction to President Truman's appeal for universal military training and revival of the draft today cut sharply across party lines in Congress. There was some Republican criticism of the President's request on the grounds that he was "creating a crisis."

He got backing, as well as opposition, for his UMT proposal. But most lawmakers said they want more time to study the draft request. Chairman Guiney (R-SD) noted that the Senate Armed Services Committee already had called a hearing for later today on the question of UMT. Secretary of State Marshall will be the first witness.

At the same time Guiney disclosed that Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential entry and critic of the Administration's foreign policies, will be heard by the committee in a couple of weeks.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that the President had (continued on Page Two)

Hoffman said he wants to bring a clear legislative test on the authority of executive departments to withhold information from Congress.

President Truman instructed government departments this week to ignore congressional requests for information.

Truman Order On Department Files Countered By Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—A House committee approved today a bill to make all confidential government files available to congressional committees. The measure is sponsored by Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich) of the House Executive Departments Committee, which approved the bill.

Hoffman said he wants to bring a clear legislative test on the authority of executive departments to withhold information from Congress.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—A House committee approved today to have a look at the loyalty records of government employees. The measure is sponsored by Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich) of the House Executive Departments Committee, which approved the bill.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—

Reaction to President Truman's appeal for universal military training and revival of the draft today cut sharply across party lines in Congress. There was some Republican criticism of the President's request on the grounds that he was "creating a crisis."

He got backing, as well as opposition, for his UMT proposal. But most lawmakers said they want more time to study the draft request. Chairman Guiney (R-SD) noted that the Senate Armed Services Committee already had called a hearing for later today on the question of UMT. Secretary of State Marshall will be the first witness.

At the same time Guiney disclosed that Henry A. Wallace, third party presidential entry and critic of the Administration's foreign policies, will be heard by the committee in a couple of weeks.

Kiwanis Club Sees Picture On Aid To Blind, Handicapped

A sound motion picture showing how the State Rehabilitation Service prepares the blind and physically handicapped so that they regain lost faculties and train themselves to take useful jobs and become self-supporting, was today shown to Kiwanis at the Tourist Center by Dr. H. R. Kretzel of the State Rehabilitation Service. Frank Lamson presided.

Dr. Kretzel was introduced by Mrs. Edward Kitcher who told of the aid to her husband given by the State Rehabilitation Service which sent him to the Harry Anna Home in Umattilla, and which is now sponsoring his advanced training, following disability due to polio. Earl Higgenbotham had charge of the program.

Edward F. Lane showed a display for a baseball containing the names of the 16 Giant farm teams now training here and proposed that Kiwanis sponsor the painting of two eight foot designs on downtown sidewalks (continued on Page Three)

Veteran Group Plans Marine Corps League

The Marine Corps League, a veterans organization of men and women holding honorable discharges from the Marine Corps, Reserve, and Marine Corps Women's Reserve will meet Friday evening at the City Hall to organize a unit, install members and elect temporary officers.

Douglas C. Norman, adjutant of the Daytona Beach Detachment, will be the principal speaker. The League was founded in 1922 by the late Lieut. Gen. John A. Lejeune, World War I hero and initial commander of the organization, which now numbers 39,000 members. It is incorporated by act of Congress and is authorized to act in behalf of Marine veterans by the Veterans Administration.

Congress Is Warned That Situation In Europe Is Critical And Demands Strong Support From U. S.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for power to draft men to build armed strength against the ruthless aggression of Soviet Communism.

He also asked a joint Senate-House session for:

1. Universal military training.
2. Quick enactment of the $5,300,000,000 European aid program.

In a personally delivered address, the President told the legislators that Russia is out to destroy the independence of Europe's remaining free nations. He said the time has come when America must make its position unmistakably clear—in military as well as economic terms.

Drafting men for the armed services and universal training is part of the price of peace, he declared, saying:

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace or assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

Bluntly Mr. Truman spoke these words of Soviet Russia ally of the war which crushed Germany and Japan.

"One nation has not only refused to cooperate in the establishment of a just and honorable peace, but even worse—has actively sought to prevent it."

Mr. Truman went before a joint session of Congress in person to present a grim picture of world affairs and a major report on his foreign policy.

"The recent developments in Europe," he said, "present this nation with the fundamental issues of vital importance."

He pointed then to the just-completed five-nation Western European pact for common defense against attack. "This development deserves our full support," he said of it. "I am confident that the United States will, by appropriate means, extend to the free nations the support which the situation requires. I am sure that the determination of the free countries of Europe to protect themselves will be matched by an equal determination on our part to help them to do so."

The European pact Mr. Truman mentioned was announced officially less than an hour before he spoke.

Mr. Truman then spoke of the high purposes of the United Nations Charter, and declared: "We cannot, however, close our eyes to the harsh fact that through obstruction and even defiance on the part of one nation, this great dream has not yet become a full reality."

Therefore, he said, supplementary measures are necessary for America—universal training, temporary revival of the draft, and swift action on the European Recovery program.

"This is a time of critical importance," Mr. Truman said of the European aid plan.

The Senate has approved European aid to be started with $5,300,000,000 for the first year. The House has not yet acted.

In urging universal training, the President said the United States must remain strong enough to support European countries threatened with Communist control and police state rule "so long as Communism exists."

Universal training, he said, is the "only feasible means by which the civilian components of our armed force can be built up to the strength required if we are to be prepared for emergency."

America's ability to mobilize trained men in large numbers in an emergency, he said, could head off future conflict and help restore world stability.

Phil Packard Named Oviedo Legion Head

Phil Packard was elected post commander of the Oviedo Memorial Post 243 of the American Legion at the annual election of officers held in Oviedo this week. Other officers elected were: Merritt Staley, first vice commander; Emmett Kelsey, second vice commander; Henry Wolcott, adjutant; Joe Beasley, Jr., chaplain; Jack Kowall, finance chairman; T. L. Lingo, sergeant at arms, and Bill Martin, historian.

George Means, present adjutant, reported on the activities of the organization during the past year. He said it has sponsored the new fire truck for Oviedo and helped organize the volunteer fire department. It also recommended the location of wells so that the town could have an adequate water supply.

A barbecue was held on the Fourth of July by the Legion Post, with over 3,000 guests attending and money was raised for re-opening the swimming pool. The post also sponsored a basketball team which played in the Lake-Orange League.

WEDNESDAY, MAR. 17, 1948... THIS IS A FINE WAY TO LAY UP GLORIOUS TREASURES OF MEMORY

Senator Taft had a narrow escape in a New England plane crash the other day. He may not be so lucky if he is nominated for the presidency.

In San Francisco a young man is reported to have jumped the other night from the Golden Gate Bridge, its 94th suicide since its construction.

General Meyers was sentenced to from 20 months to five years in prison for what he did. Just why there should be that wide choice we don't quite know.

A recent poll on the governor's race which comes to our attention shows that Fuller Warren is in the lead with Colin English and Bill Shands second and third respectively.

Republicans have introduced a bill which would exempt small business from income taxes on the first $25,000 of net income.

On the subject of civil rights we are glad to see that no less an enlightened liberal than President Seymour of Yale University agrees with us that you cannot prevent racial discrimination simply by passing laws.

Germany is going to be included in the Marshall Plan for putting Europe back on its feet. Thus, we will foot the bill not only for the damage Germany did in France and England, but also for damage done to Germany in the process of winning the war.

Federal Scholarships

Among other recommendations contained in the report of Education Commissioner John W. Studebaker is the advocacy of a program of federal scholarships to take the place of those now provided for veterans.

According to the commissioner, this permanent program should provide "scholarship grants to be administered in the interest of national need for trained leadership, not only in the scientific field but in all fields of learning and open to all who can qualify by their own merit for advanced schooling."

The earnest, responsible attitude adopted by most of the veterans studying under their "bill of rights," and the excellent records attained by most of them have proven that much good college material is born to blush unseen under present conditions.

No student qualified for college entrance should be kept out because of lack of funds. Men and women educated at the government's expense will repay the cost in future leadership and intelligent co-operation.

Are Cities Doomed?

The modern American city-dweller is beginning to move into the country, and American business is beginning to sit up and take notice. Questions being debated are whether the city is doomed to extinction, and whether traffic jams and automobile parking problems are accelerating the desertions from city life.

Decentralization of our urban populations has long been forecast, and even recommended. Defense against atomic bombs is one of the most recent reasons put forward in favor of dispersing the present large concentrations of population.

Whether or not the American city as we now know it is doomed, it is hard to say. If Chambers of Commerce can hold city populations by making cities more livable, so much the better.

Information Center

The American zone in Germany supports 28 information centers, the busiest of which, according to its director, Major Ralph Lewis, is the one at Heidelberg, the home of Germany's oldest university.

Major Lewis is a Chicagoan, a former Congregational minister, and later an Illinois parole officer. He has organized movies and discussion groups for high school students, reading periods for children, music hours, well-attended lectures, and a reading room which attracts 5,000 users every week.

Public forums have also been held in one of the university halls, one of which crowded the halls to capacity and used loudspeakers for the benefit of those standing in the lobby. This forum engaged the members of Heidelberg's municipal government and Americans in the occupational government.

It would be a good thing if the German people acquired a taste for this sort of thing. A chance to observe the difference between these democratic performances and the strangle and gag tactics pursued by the Nazis and now by Russia is one of those educational processes which may leave the lump of previously controlled opinion.

Western Union

The treaty ordered formation of a "consultative council" to operate on a continuing basis. The council is to meet immediately to consult with regard to any situation which might constitute a threat to peace.

The other high contracting powers will, in accordance with provisions of article 61 of the charter of the United Nations, afford the party so attacked all the military and other aid and assistance in their power.

Truman Reaction

done nothing in his message to spell out the terms of American foreign policy.

"Congress and the people ought to know exactly what our foreign policy is," Ferguson commented. "If we are going to fight, what are we going to fight for?"

On the House side, Chairman Eaton of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, endorsed the draft and UMT proposals as "a wise precaution looking to our national safety."

Eaton also said he is doing all in his power to meet the President's request for quick passage of the European Recovery Plan.

His committee is now drafting a recovery bill for House action. Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the House Armed Services Committee said a temporary draft "would have to be what I would call limited Selective Service."

He explained this meant calling up men 18 to 21, "with none to be called who are in high school or are gainfully employed."

"We might need only 300,000 to 400,000 men," Andrews said. Andrews said a draft would not serve as a substitute for universal military training—"something in the bank for the future."

Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY), author of the wartime draft law, urged immediate action on the President's proposal for UMT and temporary draft.

Wadsworth said: "In his description of the present conditions of the world and the menace which it carries, the President speaks the truth."

But Senator Thye (R-Minn), a supporter of Republican Presidential Aspirant Harold E. Stassen, commented: "The President seems to be developing a new crisis."

And Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), vice-presidential running mate of Wallace, said he is opposed to reneuing Selective Service.

"I see where Russia is demobilizing," Taylor said. "It seems like a poor time for us to be mobilizing."

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said he lacks the President's appeal for UMT. But he said he will "have to think about" the request for a temporary draft.

Senator George (D-Ga.) also said that before thinking about reviving the draft, "there should be a careful study of the question of mobilizing the reserves."

He believes the President now has the power to do this, and that he certainly could call up the National Guard, if necessary.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) called the President's recommendations "a step in the right direction." But he said he wishes Mr. Truman had found it possible to take "Congress and the country into his confidence sooner."

Western nation delegates to the United Nations hailed President Truman's address, but the first comment from the Eastern Europe bloc was by Dr. Jolles Katz-Suchy of Poland, who said: "I think nothing of it."

The Polish delegate stressed the word "nothing."

Joao Carlos Muniz, Brazilian delegate, said: "A very strong speech. It sets forth the need for action in view of a situation that calls for action."

Henry A. Wallace described the speech as "a shameful call for world remobilization."

The Third Party candidate for

Oil Question

(R-Me) that he will not grant export quotas for the second quarter of this year until Forrestal has completed his study.

"The conclusion of the appropriate military people is not the only consideration," Forrestal said. Even if it were decided to halt steel exports to the Middle East, he said, there is no guarantee that the steel saved could be effectively used in this country to build up oil production.

There are no government controls over use of steel in this country. Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) wanted to know whether it would be possible to keep oil flowing from the Middle East to Western Europe in the event of a conflict with Russia.

Forrestal said he is not qualified to answer that—that he would have to consult military experts.

The answer would be a highly complex one," he said. Without mentioning Russia, Harriman disclosed that an American-owned company building the Saudi Arabian pipeline has revised its plans to provide an alternate outlet for the oil in the Persian Gulf.

This would be done "if conditions required it," Harriman said. The pipeline was designed originally to carry 300,000 barrels of crude oil daily from Saudi Arabia to the Mediterranean Sea near Sidon in Lebanon. But Harriman said he had recently received this advice from the builder, the Trans-Arabian Pipeline Company.

"The design and routing of the line have been altered somewhat so that, if conditions required it, the entire output of the pipeline could be made available at the Persian Gulf."

Marshall Plan

Senator George (D-Ga.), ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, said he believes the message "will have no special effect" on tax cutting.

Senator Brewster (R-Me), another finance committee member, said he would be "very much surprised" if the message changes tax cutting plans in any way.

President said: "It is a shameful call for world remobilization, a complete admission of the failure of the Truman Doctrine and a call for an American police state."

THE CULTURE OF THE MODERN VIOLET

"Give me Light, especially the light of the east," whispers the Saintpaulias, or African violet.

This violet that we know as Saintpaulias was named for Baron Walter von St. Paul, who found it in East Africa, 1890. Then it was living in wooded areas in limestone in humid forests, peering up among granite rock, generally under water ledges and in the shade of the undergrowth.

This violet belongs to the gesneria family. It has been found to be lacking in the yellow shades. Hobbyists, however, are working enthusiastically in cross pollination, endeavoring one yet to come. Really, African violets are not difficult to raise. One soon finds their habits are early morning sun from your east windows. (We write of the potted kind. The remainder of the day the violet stays away from direct sunlight.)

When you wish to transplant do it in the early fall. They are sensitive to cold water, hence have water tepid, else they have been known to be shocked out of several months' growth. Water, too, from below and bent like if desired, the top may be broken off and re-rooted to form a new plant, but a still better plant results from the propagation of the new leaf.

As for soil of our modest violet, it should be light with plenty of humus and a little sand supplies its needs. Here are the proportions. Three parts good garden loam, three parts humus in leaf-mold form with some well-trotted cow manure and peat-moss added; one part sand, and remember, a teaspoonful of bone meal to each three-inch pot. You can sift this through a 1/2 inch wire mesh. You can get your leaf mold from under a privet hedge. Of course the violet likes woods soil. Do not use broken pottery in the bottoms of your small tumbler if water absorption from the saucy dish you have under your pot. It is of NO value. Every three weeks give it weak manure tea.

If a white edge forms around the top leaf, your violet is growing chilly. Ordinarily, the violet is free from insects, but sometimes a white, woolly, mealy bug attacks it. To rid the plant of this: Dip the end of a toothpick in alcohol and kill your bugs. And if the buds can't open, the cyclamen mite has it. The violet cannot survive this and your light as well destroy the poor thing.

We mentioned before the propagation by leaf-cuttings. The time for this is spring. Many of you have no doubt done this. Perhaps in your redbroomer. Place a leaf in a small tumbler for it better. Keep the ends of the stem from touching the bottom. If you wish, fasten a piece of wax paper, or place a cardboard over a tumbler, dropping the leaf through a hole made in it.

Leaf-long roots can be taken out and put in half sand, half peat moss that has been saturated with vermiculite to make a good root foundation. In a flat flower pot sink a corked flower pot. The water is taken up from the bottom of the plant, distributing moisture evenly. Keep damp, but never soaked. When the plants are one and a half inches high, remove the cork, parent leaf and all, with a fork. Shake off the excess sand mixture, being careful not to disturb root system. Place in three-inch pot. When the plant has doubled in size, you can separate each little plant that has formed, still leaving the parent root. This, if plant should become pot-bound.

As for the age of your African violet: Three years is its limit. You would probably be interested in the varieties of the violet: Blue Boy, Blue Girl, Pink Beauty and White Lady are standard. Most popular is the Blue Girl. It has a deeply scalloped edge and shows a white triangle at its leaf-base. Another group is Pink Girl, Orchid Girl, Red Head Girl. There are some doubles, Double Russian, Double Dutchess.

The most gorgeous of all are the Duponts. They have thick, round, hairy leaves and very large flowers, but don't come so thickly. Of these you'd like the lavender pink. There's a curly special too, and the Marime—fact the propagators are developing hundreds more seedlings.

Be watching for that yellow Saintpaulias African violet, too. Don't we like to experiment? — Mrs. Kent Rossette.

Holy Land Pictures To Be Seen In Oviedo

Dr. James S. Day, pastor of the Southside Baptist Church, Lake Land, and son of the late Dr. James S. Day, former pastor of the Oviedo Baptist Church for several years prior to his recent death, will show colored moving pictures of the Holy Land in the First Baptist Church of Oviedo at 7:15 P. M. on Friday night.

Dr. Day will lecture in colorful Arabic costume on the subject "The Jew, The Arab and Palestine" before showing his pictures, which he took himself on a trip to Palestine last summer.

Dr. Day was one of the limited number permitted to enter Palestine by the British government because of war-like conditions in that country. He attended the sessions of the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine in Jerusalem and had conferences with many prominent Jews and Arabs.

He collected 16 new moving pictures and is to be among the first ever taken in Palestine. He had to secure special permission from the High Commissioner in Jerusalem in order to take pictures inside the Old Temple area, now occupied by the Mosque of the Rock. If time permits, Dr. Day has agreed to show also his colored moving pictures of England and Greece, taken after his visit to Palestine. Dr. Day traveled over 20,000 miles visiting 16 countries.

He will also show pictures of the Baptist World Alliance which met in Copenhagen, Denmark.

THE GARDEN GATE

THE CULTURE OF THE MODERN VIOLET
"Give me Light, especially the light of the east," whispers the Saintpaulias, or African violet.

This violet that we know as Saintpaulias was named for Baron Walter von St. Paul, who found it in East Africa, 1890. Then it was living in wooded areas in limestone in humid forests, peering up among granite rock, generally under water ledges and in the shade of the undergrowth.

This violet belongs to the gesneria family. It has been found to be lacking in the yellow shades. Hobbyists, however, are working enthusiastically in cross pollination, endeavoring one yet to come. Really, African violets are not difficult to raise. One soon finds their habits are early morning sun from your east windows. (We write of the potted kind. The remainder of the day the violet stays away from direct sunlight.)

When you wish to transplant do it in the early fall. They are sensitive to cold water, hence have water tepid, else they have been known to be shocked out of several months' growth. Water, too, from below and bent like if desired, the top may be broken off and re-rooted to form a new plant, but a still better plant results from the propagation of the new leaf.

As for soil of our modest violet, it should be light with plenty of humus and a little sand supplies its needs. Here are the proportions. Three parts good garden loam, three parts humus in leaf-mold form with some well-trotted cow manure and peat-moss added; one part sand, and remember, a teaspoonful of bone meal to each three-inch pot. You can sift this through a 1/2 inch wire mesh. You can get your leaf mold from under a privet hedge. Of course the violet likes woods soil. Do not use broken pottery in the bottoms of your small tumbler if water absorption from the saucy dish you have under your pot. It is of NO value. Every three weeks give it weak manure tea.

If a white edge forms around the top leaf, your violet is growing chilly. Ordinarily, the violet is free from insects, but sometimes a white, woolly, mealy bug attacks it. To rid the plant of this: Dip the end of a toothpick in alcohol and kill your bugs. And if the buds can't open, the cyclamen mite has it. The violet cannot survive this and your light as well destroy the poor thing.

We mentioned before the propagation by leaf-cuttings. The time for this is spring. Many of you have no doubt done this. Perhaps in your redbroomer. Place a leaf in a small tumbler for it better. Keep the ends of the stem from touching the bottom. If you wish, fasten a piece of wax paper, or place a cardboard over a tumbler, dropping the leaf through a hole made in it.

Leaf-long roots can be taken out and put in half sand, half peat moss that has been saturated with vermiculite to make a good root foundation. In a flat flower pot sink a corked flower pot. The water is taken up from the bottom of the plant, distributing moisture evenly. Keep damp, but never soaked. When the plants are one and a half inches high, remove the cork, parent leaf and all, with a fork. Shake off the excess sand mixture, being careful not to disturb root system. Place in three-inch pot. When the plant has doubled in size, you can separate each little plant that has formed, still leaving the parent root. This, if plant should become pot-bound.

As for the age of your African violet: Three years is its limit. You would probably be interested in the varieties of the violet: Blue Boy, Blue Girl, Pink Beauty and White Lady are standard. Most popular is the Blue Girl. It has a deeply scalloped edge and shows a white triangle at its leaf-base. Another group is Pink Girl, Orchid Girl, Red Head Girl. There are some doubles, Double Russian, Double Dutchess.

The most gorgeous of all are the Duponts. They have thick, round, hairy leaves and very large flowers, but don't come so thickly. Of these you'd like the lavender pink. There's a curly special too, and the Marime—fact the propagators are developing hundreds more seedlings.

Clear Skies Greet "Babe Ruth Day"

Large Throng Is Expected To Attend Fernald Laughton Hospital Benefit

The weatherman turned thumbs up on the "Babe Ruth Day" celebration scheduled to be held at the Municipal Baseball Park this afternoon as clear skies prevailed until noon today.

One of the largest crowds ever expected to attend a baseball contest here is anticipated to file into the Sanford ball orchard to witness the contest between the Washington Senators and the Minneapolis Millers, who are holding their spring drills here.

Yesterday Manager Frank Shellenback expressed satisfaction with the progress of his club and declared, "We are ready to give the people of Sanford and the surrounding area a good game."

General Manager Rosie Ryan of the Millers stated that he is happy to have his club take part in the benefit game and felt that the day would be a success.

Jack Schwarz, secretary of the Giants Farm Club, declared that "The Babe" is one of the finest men ever to have donned a baseball uniform. "He does not have too much longer to live, say the medical officials, and he is giving his last days to the baseball game. We are truly fortunate to have the former New York Yankees star here with us," Schwarz asserted.

Colored Legion Post To Sponsor Ball Club

American Legion Post 207 for the local colored veterans is sponsoring a junior baseball team and have called their first practice, which 22 youths attended.

After a brief lecture by Riley Boykins, manager of the team, an election was held for team officials.

Robert Thomas was elected assistant manager, Herman Rembert was named captain, A. C. Hill was selected to be Rembert's assistant and Jerome Dixon was elected secretary.

A lecture on good sportsmanship was given to the boys by Freddie Simms.

NYU and St. Louis To Battle In Cage In Invitation Tourney

NEW YORK, Mar. 17 (AP)—St. Louis University and New York University, two of college basketball's "runningest" teams, battle this St. Patrick's night in the National Invitation Basketball Tourney finals at Madison Square Garden.

At stake will be a place in the Olympic trials. The odds-makers are calling it even-up.

NYU's fiery Violets turned in a great performance Monday to scuttle De Paul, 72-59, and no less impressive were the Billikens of St. Louis, who battered down top-seeded Western Kentucky, 60-53, in the other half of the double bill.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

TAMPA, Mar. 17 (AP)—A spring trip to Florida is supposed to produce information on sports to serve as a background through the entire season, but these are the kind of things you remember most sharply when it comes time to go home.

The first blast of Miami's tropical sun on a new arrival from the north.

The sudden breath-taking beauty of the Hialeah race course when you first turn into it from the flat, scrubby country and shacks that surround it.

The equally breath-taking prices at some Miami spots and the indignation of Miami Beach hotel men over a story that they planned to reduce those prices.

The rain pouring down on the Pep-Sierra fight and the inadequate press facilities that made it twice as uncomfortable.

The slight of moonlight over Biscayne Bay and the soft night air blowing in your face as you ride across the causeway. And the sudden, uncomfortable thought that you have to get up early to work when you don't ever want Miami's plethora of press agents to go to bed.

A glimpse of Coaltown speeding speeding down the homestretch to equal the Hialeah track record in his second race.

Jimmy Jones' smile. The potatoes cooked in boiling resin at George Cassidy's party. Mike Phipps and Stew Iglehart sipping cold drinks out of bottles when he talks about his hockey-playing days.

The lawdry road houses along the highway north of Miami that turn out to be expensive gambling spots.

The Athletics kibbitzing on one another's card games and shouting criticisms across the courtyard in their hotel. Connie Mack, garbed in a dark suit and high stiff collar sitting erectly on a folding chair beside the practice field. He probably is the only northerner not sneered by Floridians because he owns a hat.

And, speaking of hats, that one with the horses on the brim at the racetrack on Flamingo day. Al Snider booting Citation through a gap in the Flamingo race. The shock a couple of weeks later when you read of Snider's disappearance on a fishing trip.

Babe Ruth autographing baseballs for charity in a Miami night club when he looked as if he ought to be home in bed.

The same Babe Ruth, tanned and looking healthier than you've seen him in a couple of years, still autographing baseballs.

The cattle ranches around Kissimmee: the huge truckloads of oranges and grapefruit; strawberries 15 cents a box.

Pompano en papilot at a Spanish restaurant in Ybor City. The cordiality of such right guys as Everett Clay, Pete Norton and Eddie Dyer.

Tom Swope putting salt and pepper on his grapefruit. Joe DiMaggio constantly meeting his public.

The baseball writers' bull sessions at the corner table in a Tampa hotel, where the tallest, most incredible stories are the true ones.

St. Patrick's Day Handicap To Be Run At Track

St. Patrick's Day will be celebrated at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight with a feature handicap event being run as the ninth contest. Absent from the Irish event, however, will be the truly representative greyhound son of Old Erin although Racing Secretary Pittsy Williamson has indicated that Old Gabe can qualify as a wearer of the green.

It was also pointed out that the English will be represented in the St. Patrick's Handicap by Sir William, a fast stepper from the No. 3 box.

Tonight's card of 10 events will include five sprint races from the futurity box and an equal number of distance runs over the five-sixteenths of a mile course. Irish Are Called For Grid Drills
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Mar. 17 (AP)—This being St. Patrick's Day, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame appropriately opened spring football drills.

Among the wearers of the Green were such fine fighting Irish as Mike Swiatowicz, Red Sitko, John Panelli, and Frank Tripeka.

Coach Frank Leahy, surrounded by nearly 150 big bruisers, refrained from being too optimistic about Notre Dame's 1948 chances. He conceded that Notre Dame will be able to field a team next fall, although he lost 12 monogram winners by graduation.

Training Camp Notes

BRADENTON, Mar. 17 (AP)—Eddie Stanky won't be allowed to get into a Boston Braves uniform until X-rays have been scanned by club officials.

Stanky is recovering from an illness variously described as lobar pneumonia and a virus infection.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Mar. 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates looked impressive in fielding yesterday, not counting a pair of errors. They pulled off three double plays, and would have had two more but for bobbles by Bob Choesnes and Monte Basgall. But the home run jinx beat the Bucs, as the New York Giants got four for first runs through two homers, in their 5-2 victory.

LAKELAND, Mar. 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' regrets at dropping a 14-inning, 4-3 decision to Boston yesterday, were more than overbalanced by the hurrying of Virgil Trucks.

He held the Braves to two hits and no runs, and fanned seven in an eight-inning relief appearance. This brought his pre-season record to 14 scoreless innings.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R., Mar. 17 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have changed signals on Itay Campanella, Montreal catcher. Instead of trying to develop him as an outfielder, they now are using the slugging negro catcher at third base.

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 17 (AP)—Manager Charley Grimm has received good news from Pitcher Hank Borowy, the hurler, bought for $27,500 from the New York Yankees in 1945, said his arm feels better now than it has in two or three years.

WEST PALM BEACH, Mar. 17 (AP)—Manager Connie Mack plans to carry three catchers on his Philadelphia Athletics' roster this year.

Buddy Rosar and Mike Guerra are fixtures for two of the team jobs. The third likely will be 34-year-old Herman Franks, former manager of St. Paul, in the American Association, who was obtained from Brooklyn.

C. E. Harrell Has Egg Laying Champ
C. E. Harrell, 311 N. French Avenue has a hen that is out for the egg laying championship of Central Florida. Not satisfied with a former seven and a half ounce egg production, the hen produced an eight ounce egg yesterday, said Mr. Harrell.

"It wasn't planted," said Mr. Harrell. This claim may remove F. Hasky Wight, printer, as claimant formerly of finding the "biggest egg" in a Sanford chicken coop, as there was some suspicion, after Mr. Wight had been presented with a Kiwanis inscribed turtle last year, that a well known Kiwanis prankster and realtor might have "planted" the egg in the Wight chicken coop.

Lloyd Clifton Signs To Play For Local Club

Lloyd Clifton, a DeLand High School product, has signed a contract to play with the Sanford Giants entry in the Florida State League, Manager Hal Gruber declared yesterday.

Clifton was signed out of a Giants school held in Jacksonville last year and his contract was sent to the Lawton, Okla., team. Lawton assigned him to Sanford for the 1948 season.

"We have not had a suitable opportunity to pass any judgment on the boy, but he must have pretty fair possibilities or he never would have been signed in the first place," Gruber said yesterday.

This morning Sanford went to the field for another lengthy fundamentals drill consisting of a batting practice and infield session.

Buddy Lake, 1947 utility man for the Celery Feud, will probably be in uniform next week, it was learned from the Sanford skipper.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Besides the Washington Monument, the nation's capital has another Washington memorial, an equestrian statue depicting Washington rallying his troops at the battle of Princeton.

During World War I there were frequently more U. S. Navy pilots in the hospital than were available for duty.

Herman Hickman Is Named New Mentor At Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Mar. 17 (AP)—Herman Hickman, "The Little Giant," from Tennessee, is Yale's new head football coach.

Ending a long search for a successor to Howie Odell, Robert J. H. (Bols) Kipphut, Yale director of athletics, announced Hickman's appointment late yesterday. Odell resigned in January to become head coach at the University of Washington.

The massive Hickman, who gained his nickname because of his avoirdupois, thus departs from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point to undertake his first assignment as a head coach. He has been line coach at West Point, under Col. Earl Blaik, since 1943.

He helped develop Army's strong forward walls that cleared many a path for backfield stars Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard to romp to fame.

"Altitude sickness" one of the problems faced by modern flyers, was first recorded in the 16th Century by Spanish explorers in the Andes.

During World War I there were frequently more U. S. Navy pilots in the hospital than were available for duty.

Fear Growing Of Some New Red Attack

Split Between East And West Increases As Hour Of Decision Approaches

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—The State Department said today reported Russian demobilization moves do not change the size of the Soviet army. Press Officer McElmott told reporters there is "no significance" in Russian announcements that all men in the Red army are being returned to civilian life, except those in 21-22 year age group.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Mar. 18 (AP)—Some fear was expressed here today that Russia might hasten to extend control over one or two more countries before the United States can act.

Diplomatic circles here agreed that President Truman had flashed a spotlight on Prime Minister Stalin. The question was whether Stalin will—or can—stop Communist aggression.

Congress appeared split down the middle on the draft and military training proposals. The 16 Marshall Plan nations started exploring in Brussels the chance of establishing a customs union, as urged here today by Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National Bank.

German Communists announced in Berlin their intention of replacing the four power allied council with a "German government." Socialist newspapers in Berlin said the Russians and Ger-

Jaycees And Civic Groups Are Urged To See Ball Game

The Jaycees are requested to turn out in large numbers to witness the Minneapolis Millers' first scheduled exhibition contest to be held here for the 1948 season on Monday when they meet the Chattanooga Lookouts.

The civic organizations are being requested to go to this contest to show the Millers that we appreciate their work in greater day's "Babe Ruth Day" game with the Washington Senators. T. E. Tucker told the organization at their weekly luncheon at the Mayfair Inn today.

Edward Kucher declared that the National Jaycees organization has suggested a nation-wide fly control project and the localities are investigating the possibilities of spraying all of the county to aid in the killing of these insects. It was pointed out that 55 gallons of insecticide were used last year in Sanford and that a survey is being made to determine the amount needed to cover the county.

President Bralley Odham declared that the meeting place for next week will be the Tourist Center and Mrs. G. H. Carlin will prepare the food. "We are having an interest in the dining and other equipment at the Tourist Center and we will meet there," Odham stated.

3 Persons Found As Captives By Women

VENICE, Calif., Mar. 18 (AP)—Circumstances of the virtual captivity of a 27-year-old woman and two emaciated children in a strange home at 7 Avenue 20 unfolded in police records today.

Two elderly women who kept the three-room apartment just off the beach were jailed on charges of false imprisonment and inhuman treatment of their charges. They are the Misses Josephine Vella, 55, and Mari Clavay, 60. Juvenile Officer Dolores Perkins and Deputy Dist. Atty. James Frederick, who investigated the bizarre case, said it began a week ago when a 18-year-old boy, dressed in girl's clothing, was found huddled on a waterstone, in a weakened, emaciated condition. He had been living at 7 Avenue 20.

President's Speech Praised As Hope Of Peace In West Europe

LONDON, Mar. 18 (AP)—President Truman's preparedness speech met with general approval from Western Europe today, but the Communist East maintained almost complete silence.

The general view in the West was that the President had taken a step in the right direction in asking Congress for universal military training and the draft and urging support for "free nations" against Communism.

Some quarters concluded he had laid down a historic United States policy. Others commented the pay-off was up to Congress.

The Soviet Union told its people about the speech over the Moscow radio, but did not comment.

Czechoslovakia, where the Communists took control last month, issued the first Communist criticism. The Prague government radio said last night, "There are other ways to preserve peace than to introduce universal military service."

Italy, where the Communists are campaigning for an election Apr. 18, finds the speech very hard to hold here for the 1948 season on Monday when they meet the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Shands Outlines Financial Plight Of Florida Cities

Says State Aid Needed For Municipalities To Solve Crisis

Most of Florida's cities and towns are on the verge of financial collapse, W. A. (Bill) Shands, business-man candidate for governor, told an attentive audience in Sanford Wednesday night, as he advocated legislation to assure relief to these municipalities.

"The cities and towns are reaching out to impose extra taxes in a frantic effort to provide streets, sewers, sidewalks and other public services the people have a right to expect," Senator Shands said.

"Sixty-five per cent of Florida's people live in cities and towns and contribute 65 per cent of the taxes collected by the state, while providing 90 per cent of the public services," he added. "As your governor, I will sponsor legislation to provide a fair return of state taxes to the municipalities."

Senator Shands explained that the basic plank of his platform calls for a greater Florida and will include his sponsorship of legislation to lift the fund ceiling for improvement of schools and maintenance of highest salary levels for teachers; immediate acceptance of the $208,000,000 flood control program financed by U. S. engineers for a 10-year period; higher pensions for the aged; exemption from taxation of gasoline used for commercial fishing boats and for farm equipment; earmarking of all revenue derived from gasoline taxes and sale of auto-

Nation's Press On The Whole Commends President's Speech

By Associated Press
President Truman's proposals for strengthening America's armed might to deal with the "menace" of Russia brought swift approval today from a wide cross-section of the nation's press. Many of the newspapers, wholly supporting the President's recommendations in principle, called for an even more drastic program of armament.

The Florida Times-Union of Jacksonville, referring to Mr. Truman's congressional speech as "a grim recognition that the time for being diplomatic has passed," said it put the United States on notice that the time has come for action—the kind designated to guarantee us that unbridled Soviet aggression will not run its ruthless course in Europe.

G.O.P. Decides To Go Ahead With Tax Cut

Thirty-Two Republicans Agree To Push Tax Reduction Plan Despite War Needs

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Thirty-two Republican senators decided today to go ahead with the income tax cutting bill despite possible losses in military expenditures. Chairman Millikin (Colo.) said the GOP conference decided, without objection, to push for passage of a $4,800,000,000 reduction bill.

Senator debate begins on the measure today. Millikin said he hopes it can be concluded this week.

The Republicans agreed, Millikin said, to oppose all major amendments to the tax cutting bill. He listed these as: (1) A Democratic substitute to cut only $4,000,000,000; (2) A Democratic proposal to restore the excess profits tax; (3) and a move to wipe out the oleomargarine tax.

He said the conference took no position on the merits of the oil tax. But he said an amendment to wipe it out would be opposed on the grounds that this action is not proper in the present bill.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted today creating a congressional "watch dog" committee to keep check on the European Recovery Program.

The Senate provided for such a committee in the $5,300,000,000 ERP bill it passed.

The House group voted unanimously to take that provision out and substitute a requirement that Senate and House Foreign and Appropriations Committees be kept advised on how the program is operating.

1 Killed, Over 100 Injured As Party Collapses Floor

CHICAGO, Mar. 18 (AP)—One woman was killed and more than 100 persons were injured last night when a large section of a third-floor dance hall collapsed under the weight of about 500 persons attending a St. Patrick's day celebration.

Twelve of the 92 persons were treated at six hospitals were reported in from serious to critical condition. Several other persons were given first aid treatment at the scene.

The dance and party, attended by men, women and children, was in the top floor of a three-story brick building at 3230 North Clark Street near the busy intersection of Clark Street and Belmont Avenue. It was sponsored by the Connaught Men's Social Club.

The dead woman, who was removed from under the wreckage three hours after the floor caved in, was identified as Mrs. Ann Hunt, 35, mother of four children. Two of her children were with her at the party and dance were not injured. Her body was identified by her husband, John, 38, an electrician.

Hundreds of merry-makers were walking off the floor at the end of a dance number when a large section of the floor collapsed. Scores were hurled headlong to the second floor. As the floor settled, parts of the false roof caved in.

Caldwell Seeking Delegate Seat In Demo Convention

Says Policies Must Be Abandoned That Bring Strife, Woos

LAKELAND, Mar. 18 (AP)—Governor Millard Caldwell of Florida today announced his candidacy for delegate to the Democratic National Convention with a statement that "we must clean our own house."

He did not mention President Truman or the Democratic intra-party conflict, but he said:

"We must abandon a leadership which is dedicated to policies, whether under the guise of civil rights or any other designation, which must inevitably entail misunderstandings, strife and trouble."

His statement broke a long silence on the Southern states' protest against the President's program for anti-discrimination, anti-segregation, anti-lynching and anti-poll tax laws.

He previously had declined to go along with suggestions that Southern Democrats bolt from the party and once said he favored the re-nomination of Truman.

The Governor's statement followed an announcement that the Florida Democratic Club would qualify a slate of 28 candidates for convention delegates pledged to support an unnamed Southern governor for President.

Governor Caldwell said he would run for delegate from the state at large without being nominated from any district.

U. S. Military Faces Problem Of Backing Up Red Halt Order

By ELYON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Can American military forces be made strong enough to back up the order for a marching Russia to halt?

This was the stark question posed by the high command today before President Truman's declaration that the United States has become the principal protector of the free world.

All of Mr. Truman's emphasis was on peace, not war. But the chief executive declared that the risks involved are "perhaps greater than any this country has been called upon to assume."

Secretary of Defense Forrestal and his Army, Navy and Air Force chiefs can measure some of the American strength in exact figures in terms of men and weapons. And they know too of risks in the armory.

They have not made public all they know, for obvious reasons. But from what has been disclosed, this picture emerges:

Under arms in the regular services, the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine are 4,292,000 men—and comparatively few West and West. The total authorized strength is 4,723,000. By contrast, the Russians had some 4,050,000 actually under arms, according to most recent estimates.

Mr. Truman told Congress yesterday the services have been unable to maintain strength through voluntary enlistments; therefore, a temporary revival of the wartime draft is in order.

The Army, at a present strength of 550,000, is 11,000 short of authorized strength. The Navy, with 322,000, says it is 100,000 under the authorized strength, at 422,000. The Air Force has 364,000 men, which is all its current budget allows, but it is 41,000 short of the figure originally planned.

The Army's 550,000 men are spread out in the world. In the United States, the Caribbean area and the Panama Canal Zone are 275,000, in Europe 190,000, in the Pacific (Japan, Korea, Alaska, Hawaii and small islands), 175,000.

U. S. Orders 25 Percent Cut In Passenger Trains

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—AFL President William Green said today the nation must keep its economy strong to "halt the aggressive tide of Soviet expansion and prevent another war." Addressing the opening rally for the Security Loan drive, Green said 8,000,000 AFL workers will "back up American foreign policy" by buying bonds with "every dollar we can spare."

Mr. Truman told Congress yesterday the services have been unable to maintain strength through voluntary enlistments; therefore, a temporary revival of the wartime draft is in order.

The Army, at a present strength of 550,000, is 11,000 short of authorized strength. The Navy, with 322,000, says it is 100,000 under the authorized strength, at 422,000. The Air Force has 364,000 men, which is all its current budget allows, but it is 41,000 short of the figure originally planned.

Transportation Office Order Is Effective On March 21

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Striking CIO meat handlers made an unsuccessful bid for arbitration today when President Truman's fact-finding board opened its study of the union's nationwide strike.

Ralph Helstein, president of the CIO packinghouse workers of America Union, urged that the board sit as a private arbitration tribunal with both sides giving it the power to decide the wage dispute.

The government today ordered a 25 per cent reduction in passenger train service because of the coal mine shutdown.

The Office of Defense Transportation order is effective at midnight next Sunday, Mar. 21. It was issued under the wartime powers which the ODT still retains.

The agency said the step was necessary because "railroad coal stocks today are considerably lower than they have been on previous occasions when stoppages in coal production have interfered with railroad operations."

The Bureau of Mines reported two days ago that coal stocks generally were at a dangerously low level. At the time the ODT (Continued on Page Five)

Defense Secretary Urges Prompt Action By Congress To Strengthen Army

WASHINGTON, Mar. 18 (AP)—Secretary Forrestal said today the military high command wants "feelings" on Army, Navy and Air Forces manpower boosted. This would clear the way for possible drafting of far more than 140,000 men if Congress approves a draft.

The Secretary of Defense was before the Senate Armed Services Committee today to urge President Truman's request for revival of the draft and for Universal Military Training. A draft, he said, is the only way to get needed manpower.

He told the senators that recommendations will be submitted later for increases in authorized strength of the services.

Forrestal said he could not say now what increases will be asked, but he believes the Army will ask that its "ceiling" be boosted from 670,000 to 900,000 men. It now has about 560,000. He offered no figures on the navy or air forces.

The "authorized strength" of each service is a "ceiling" Congress has put on that add up to 1,747,000 men. Actually, the services have 1,492,000. The draft is asked to get the 340,000 men needed to bring strength up to present ceilings.

Under questioning, Forrestal also said:

"If Russian forces decided to move into Germany or other parts of Europe the United States (Continued on Page Four)

Stassen Declares President Didn't Go Far Enough

CLEVELAND, Mar. 18 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen today called President Truman's new proposed foreign program "entirely inadequate for the menace he describes."

Here to make his first personal bid for Ohio's presidential delegates, Stassen said he agreed generally with the President's program as far as it went.

But he said he thought these four points should have been added:

1. "The Communist Party organization should be promptly outlawed in America.

2. "The United States should not contribute to the military potential of Russia. This country and others are continuing to ship vital machine tools to Russia."

3. "The President's program... lacks any reference to a stronger air force."

4. "Finally, and most important of all, the President's message does not present the alternative method by which all nations can end their mutual peace rather than slide down the tragic road toward the holocaust of a third World War."
