AREA IS THREAT AS NEW PICTURE ARISES

NRA Leaders Hold Opposing Opinions Of Coal Code Pact; 1 Slain During Riot

(By The Associated Press.)
Differences within the Recovery Administration over provisions of the bituminous coal code today add new complications to an industrial scene darkened by strife, strikes, and bloodshed.

Whereas General Hugh Johnson says he thought owners of steel company (captive) mines agreed to deduct union dues from miners' pay, Donald Richberg, NRA counsel, says such an agreement never was made.

This development left Johnson at a loss what to do with an additional 60,000 of West Virginia's 75,000 striking miners back to work.

The situation in terms of the coal industry in the Pittsburgh district is expected Thursday when 300 deputy sheriffs drive pickets from the entrance of the Spang-Chaffin Seamless Tube Company's plant in Ambridge, Pa., with guns and tear gas, killing Adam Petrusak, 42, and wounding at least 15 others.

The year-old inter-union strife between soft coal miners of Illinois had a day of terror in Salina county at the southern end of the state during which approximately 5000 shots were fired in a slay of a mine near Harrisonburg in which 16 miners and three tourists were wounded. National guard troops restored order.

Near 5000 strikers were sent to prison 150 workers from the Westmore Steel Company from leaving the plant peacefully at the end of the day. Two men were arrested as pickets.

Pickets prevented 600 men from going to work at the Labrobe Electric Steel Company, Latrobe, Pa.

Pennsylvania state troopers opened a lane for 150 workers through a crowd of 1100 at the Walworth company, Greensburg, Pa. The state's host of more than 70,000 striking soft coal miners reached its strength despite appeals from its leaders and NRA officials to return to work pending signing of codes by employers, principally the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

Picket lines grew around the Carnegie, Pa., works of the Carnegie Steel Company to more than 1000.

Workers used force and business persuasion in attempts to get the Kuehne Manufacturing Company to change its mind about moving a plant from Mattoon, Ill. The firm and its workers differed over the closed shop principle.

Work Of Maintaining Channel Is Resumed

With all danger of a storm having vanished, owners of the large dredges which have been near the Municipal Pier on a government contract for the past few days, returned the dredges to that point today after it had been anchored in the west of the Pier for the past few days.

Recommencement of the channel dredging to and away from the old City Line dock will be picked up where it was left off when the dredges abandoned operations because of the high northeast winds.

Work on the pier need in support of the pier will be carried on at the same point where work was suspended during the storm and operations ceased.

Quarter Tag Sales Large Increase

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Florida Department of Game and Fish today announced that the quarter tag sales for the season have increased 25 per cent over the same time last year.

Takes Final Curtain

Renee Adoree, French actress who scored a brilliant success as Melisande in "The Big Parade," outstanding war film of several seasons ago, died in Hollywood, Calif., yesterday of chronic respiratory ailment that cut short her film career three years ago after she had reached stardom.

ROCKEFELLER JR. STATES VIEWS ON LIQUOR CONTROL

Development Of Self Control, Respect Of Law Named As Aims

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., outlined yesterday two prime objectives in liquor control:

1. The abolition of lawlessness.
2. The focusing of all the forces of society on the development of self-control and temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages.

Any program offered in lieu of the 18th Amendment, the younger Rockefeller declared, must make the abolition of lawlessness, "the chief aim, even—and I weigh carefully what I say—the immediate result is temporarily away from temperance."

Regarding the second objective, "to develop the habit of temperance in individuals, to take up again the slow march of education—that is the real and fundamental approach to the problem of alcohol."

Rockefeller's statements were a foreword to his forthcoming report on liquor control, made under his sponsorship by Raymond B. Fosdick, an attorney, and Albert L. Scott, an engineer.

Preparation of the report—based on studies of control in nations of the world—began after Rockefeller a year ago declared for repeal of the 18th Amendment in the interest of temperance.

"The 18th Amendment," Rockefeller said, "embodied an ideal but it could succeed only with the support of public opinion. The mistake involved in its passage was the failure to foresee that unhappiness it might not always have that support."

"Another principle which the report develops is that only as the profit motive is eliminated is there any hope of controlling the liquor traffic in the interest of a decent society. To approach the problem from any other angle is only to sink with it and to insure failure. This point cannot be too heavily stressed."

"The report, to be published shortly," he said, "regards liquor taxation," Rockefeller said, "as it should be regarded, primarily as a helpful factor in forwarding these objectives, and only incidentally as a means of producing income."

Rockefeller, who like his father is a teetotaler, said it is his earnest conviction that "total abstinence is the wisest, best, and safest position for both the individual and society. But the regrettable failure of the 18th Amendment has demonstrated the fact that the majority of the people of this country are not yet ready for total abstinence, at least when it is attempted through legal means."

"The best thing," he said, "is to encourage a better thing to come. Therefore, we ought to support total abstinence as a goal, but we should not seem to be too far and with equal vigor we should support temperance."

IDEA ADVANCED FOR RELIEF OF JEW REFUGEES

Theodore Roosevelt Is Mentioned For Post Of Administrating To German Exiles

GENEVA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A plan for the practical relief of Jewish refugees from Germany was advanced today when the economic commission of League of Nations assembly received a report and a resolution from the sub-committee recommending broad project for assistance.

This plan would be administered by a high commissioner to be appointed by the League council. He would be allowed the "fullest freedom of action."

A Geneva newspaper said that Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., former governor of the Philippines, is being mentioned for the position.

The United States will be asked to collaborate under a provision of the resolution asking that countries not members of the League to extend all possible facilities to provide these exiles with employment. Action on the resolution was postponed until tomorrow.

It can be no lasting and financial commission in the world's economic situation, the economic and financial commission of the League of Nations assembly also reported unless the countries are prepared to abandon "the system of closed national economies."

The report, which held the view that conditions are improved in a number of ways over the last year, urged a solution of the currency stabilization question so the world economic conference might reconvene with hopes of success.

These closed systems of national economy were described in the report as tending to become more general and threatening to stifle international trade.

The report added that it was most important to attempt to promote better international collaboration in the economic and financial spheres, and insisted it was unfair to say the world parley abandoned its attempts to abolish the restrictions on international trade.

Hopkins Accepts Task Of Caring For Children

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins today placed squarely upon his own administration in the states the responsibility for preventing undernourishment among the 6,000,000 children now on the relief rolls.

These children are living in families receiving but 50 cents a day for all the family needs, he told the Child Health Recovery Conference. He added that he had decided yesterday to make provisions whereby employment relief funds could be used to pay for school lunches.

Hopkins, Secretary Frances Perkins, and Mrs. Roosevelt are the three outstanding conferees at a luncheon called to consider what can be done during the coming winter to restore the health of children who have suffered from the depression.

"These children are living in families receiving but 50 cents a day for all the family needs, he told the Child Health Recovery Conference. He added that he had decided yesterday to make provisions whereby employment relief funds could be used to pay for school lunches."

Faber Blanks Sox For 2nd Win In City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Old Uncle Urban Faber, yesterday showed the Cubs some of the reasons why he is still coaching in the American League after 20 years of service.

Scheming every pitch and mastering near perfect control of the 45-year-old sorrel top blanked the fallen champions of the National League with a great five hit performance, 48 and the White Sox a 2 to 0 victory over their south side rivals and their second straight victory in the battle for the city series championship.

F. D. LILES, BARKER-KILLER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt had such good time at the World Series game yesterday that he is considering going to St. Louis's St. Louis Browns, and a cabinet meeting and a busy engagement list precluded his attendance today.

Legion Does About Face By Okeying Program Protecting Only Buddies Injured In War

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Edward Hayes, 43-year-old attorney of Decatur, Ill., last night was vested with leadership in carrying out the American Legion's intensive program combating communism, supporting the NRA strengthening national defense and "otherwise watching out for the republic."

Hayes was elected national commander by acclamation yesterday at the close of the legion's fifteenth annual convention. The first duty assigned him by his comrades was to work for fulfillment of the legion's four-point program for veterans' relief.

An about face from the bona fide demands of other years, the program seeks to guard the interests of only those veterans who were injured or contracted disease in military service, and the dependents of those who died.

A request that they be given "federal" hospitalization if unable to pay was the only clause dealing with veterans' benefit since the end of the war. The bonus, although favored in six state conventions recently, was not mentioned.

Perhaps the strongest language used by the convention, attended by a quarter million veterans from coast to coast, was that embodied in an Americanization committee report dealing with communism.

The report declared against diplomatic recognition of Soviet Russia and also against extending credit to the Russian government or its agencies.

It called for deportation of all communists, refusal of entry of communists into the United States, and a "shake-up" of the public works administration, replying to a resolution proposed to the American Federation of Labor convention, said yesterday the work was under way on project totaling $400,000,000, and that by the middle of October that figure would be swollen to half a billion.

In a conference with newspapermen, after a meeting of the public works board, Secretary Ickes said it would be proved that there were no delays in the allotment of funds by the public works administration, which he headed.

"The proposed resolution is critical of 'delays' in the allotment of funds and called for either a speeding up or a 'shake-up'."

2 Cuban Students Killed, But Havana Is Otherwise Quiet

HAVANA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Two young Communists, Felix VIII, 23, and Luis Melian, 19, were killed, and two companions were wounded today when three unidentified gunmen fired a rifle in a cafe in which they were assembled. Scattered looting continued in some sections of Havana, but the capital was generally quiet.

Declaring that American Ambassador Welles is the "only conspirator left in Cuba," an article, appearing in a student newspaper, proposed that he be returned to the United States, and suggested public contributions to a fund for this purpose.

United States naval vessels scattered along the coastline reported all quiet in a number of ports.

Col. Fulgencio Batista was reported to have advised several opposition leaders, including Mario de Menocal and Miguel Mariano Gomez, to remain in their homes and they would be safe.

The Student Director, held several meetings, but the leaders denied the organization was trying to agree on possible arguments to the government for a suitable punishment of the officers.

The Grau regime was recognized by both Panama and Uruguay, the ministers of both countries calling at the State Department to make formal notifications.

Luther Arnold, the father, already has told officers how Kathryn Kelly, then a fugitive, had befriended the Arnolds while they were traveling in Texas last Labor Day; how she had persuaded him to engage a lawyer to defend her mother and step-father, then under arrest for kidnaping, and how the Kellys in their last frantic flight took little "Jerry" with them as a blind.

Beer, Wine Taxes Prove Life Saver For Schools

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Taxes on beer and wine were the second largest item of the $403,718 apportioned to county schools yesterday, Superintendent W. S. Cawthon said. Motor vehicle licenses, aggregating $235,768 were the largest item.

The beer and wine revenues amounted to $74,981 while the one-mill school tax produced $59,384 and interest on public funds amounted to $34,424.

LABOR AID URGED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Continued orderly support of the recovery program was asked of the American Federation of Labor convention today by Postmaster General Farley and members of the NRA's labor advisory board. Farley told the convention that the "tide had turned" but he warned that "most of our work lies ahead."

PETE SONES LEADS

ALBANY, New York, Oct. 6.—(AP)—J. Sones, of Haines City, led the flight of aerial treasure hunters late today. About a hundred of the fleet of 45 planes were pressed to New York and on a flight which began in Louisiana.

JOHNSON BACK AT DESK AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Quick Decision On Price Stabilizing Plan Is In Prospect As NRA Chief Gives Assent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—General Hugh Johnson was back today at a desk stacked high with pressing jobs, including retail price fixing, and labor turmoil in the soft coal fields.

A quick decision on price stabilizing language forbidding retail sales at less than wholesale cost plus ten percent is in prospect, with Johnson favorably inclined toward the approval of a master code despite farm administration objections.

General Johnson stopped in at NRA headquarters today, two weeks after an infection sent him to a hospital. He said he did not consider the retail price plan "a pyramiding price device," an "staple cut-throat competition."

Meanwhile officials of the public works administration, replying to a resolution proposed to the American Federation of Labor convention, said yesterday the work was under way on project totaling $400,000,000, and that by the middle of October that figure would be swollen to half a billion.

In a conference with newspapermen, after a meeting of the public works board, Secretary Ickes said it would be proved that there were no delays in the allotment of funds by the public works administration, which he headed.

Arnolds Called Upon To Aid U.S. Against Kellys

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Twelve-year old Geraldine Arnold and her father, whose names made the key figures in the capture of George "Machine-Gun" Kelly and his comely wife Kathryn, were called upon today to support the government prosecution of the Kellys for the Charles F. Ulrich kidnaping. The trial will begin Monday.

Dummy Ballots Cannot Be Studied In Booths

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Florida Department of Game and Fish today announced that the quarter tag sales for the season have increased 25 per cent over the same time last year.

He said the state has covering general and primary elections, which makes such ballot fraud, would apply to the prohibition referendum.

Ballots are allowed to take only the official ballot from the booth.

Extra Inning Tilt Is Decided In Favor Of Giants In 11th, 2 To 1

ERRATIC STORM PASSES TO SEA LATE THURSDAY

MIAMI, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Having made a hefty swing at Havana and a glancing blow at South Florida, an erratic hurricane headed eastward across the Atlantic Ocean last night to intimidate the Bahama Islands.

Advises received by Meteorologist Richard W. Gray here indicated the center of the tropical disturbance passed a short distance north of Nassau late yesterday, pursuing an east-northeast course.

A wind velocity of 50 miles an hour was reported at the Providence Island capital, where the barometer dropped to 29.99 inches and then started an upward swing.

Sixty mile winds were encountered at Andros Island, just west of Nassau.

Indications were that should the storm follow its present route, it probably would pass in the vicinity of Great Abaco Island, north of Nassau.

After landing on Wednesday with hurricane winds, the storm center halted a short distance north of the Cuban coast to make up its mind what direction it would pursue next, and then struck out northeast across the straits.

Gale winds whistled through Key West and other islands that dot the extreme southern peninsula where more than 11 inches of rain fell in 24 hours. Only minor damage was reported at Key West, but electric light service and a few telephones were disrupted.

Taking a more easterly course as it passed the southern tip of the Florida mainland, the disturbance caused a maximum sustained wind velocity in Miami of only 35 miles an hour, although intermittent gusts hit 50.

Probably the highest wind velocity the storm created in Florida was at Carys Foot light, about 40 miles south of here, where the keeper reported a 90 mile wind. He said his barometer dropped to 29.85 and then started an upward climb.

Tavernier, 60 miles south of Miami, reported 50 to 60 mile winds, while Key West had 55.

Senators Fill Bases In 11th But Brilliant Double Play Brings End To Rally, Game

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Steady Ryan's sharp angle to left field broke up the fourth game of the 1933 World Series here today in the 11th inning for it scored Travis Jackson from second base, giving the New York Giants a 2 to 1 victory over the Washington Senators.

The series now stands three games for the Giants and one for the Senators and the fifth game will be played at Griffith Stadium here tomorrow.

Bill Terry's home run gave the Giants a one run lead which lasted from the fourth to the seventh inning when Hubbell's error paved the way for the Senators' only run at Sewell singled Kubel home.

The Giants got to Monte Weaver in the 11th as Jackson singled, went to second on Manusso's sacrifice, and scored on Ryan's single to left. After Hubbell singled, Weaver was removed from the box but Jack Russell retired the next two men.

The play by play result:
First Inning
New York: Moore walked, but Critz hit a liner to Myers who threw to Kubel for the double play. Terry singled past second, Ott fouled out to Bluge.

Washington: Myer filed out to Bluge, Goslin filed out to Ott, and Manush went out, Critz to Terry.

Second Inning
New York: Davis was out, Myer to Kubel. Jackson struck out, Manusso filed out to Goslin.

Washington: Cronin fouled out to Terry, Schulte filed out to Ott, Kubel filed out to Davis.

Third Inning
New York: Ryan filed out to Manush, Hubbell went out, Bluge to Kubel, Moore was out, Cronin to Kubel.

Washington: Bluge filed out to Moore, Sewell filed out to Critz, and Weaver went out, Critz to Terry.

Fourth Inning
New York: Critz was thrown out at first by Cronin. Terry hit a line drive home run into the center field bleachers, 441 feet from the plate. Ott drew a pass, and Davis singled past third, Jackson fouled out to Bluge, and Manusso was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Ryan struck out.

Washington: Myers went out, Hubbell to Terry, Goslin singled past first. Manush drew a pass, but Cronin filed out to Ott. Schulte forced Manush at second, Ryan to Critz.

Fifth Inning
New York: Hubbell filed out to Cronin, Moore singled to left, Critz filed out to Myer, and Terry filed out to Schulte.

Washington: Kubel struck out, and Bluge filed out to Moore. Sewell singled to right but Weaver struck out.

Sixth Inning
New York: Ott singled to center, Davis sacrificed him to second, Weaver to Myer, Jackson fouled out to Myer, and Manusso drew a walk but Ryan was out, Weaver to Kubel.

Washington: Myer singled through the box, Goslin sacrificed him to second, Jackson to Terry, Manush was thrown out at first, Critz to Hubbell, sending Myer to third, but Cronin struck out. Manush was put out of the game as he argued too vehemently on the decision at first. Dave Harris took his place by going to right field, and Goslin went to left field.

Seventh Inning
New York: Hubbell was thrown out at first, Cronin to Kubel, Moore doubled to center, but went to second on Critz's error but he did this when Myer was thrown out at first by Weaver.

Washington: Sewell stepped to Terry. Kubel walked, then Hubbell singled to right, Bluge sacrificed to second, and Hubbell went to first, Sewell singled out at first, Sewell singled out at first, Sewell singled out at first.
