WORLD'S EYES CENTERED ON WHITE HOUSE

Roosevelt Prepares To Meet MacDonald With Whom He Will Talk Over Troubles

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—With the arrival today of Prime Minister MacDonald, Great Britain and the United States come together in an atmosphere charged at once with high hope and grave reality to set upon the tangled skein of international finance and commerce.

With the eyes of the world centered on the White House, President Roosevelt made ready to welcome Britain's noted statesman late today for free and friendly talks from which not even the thorny problem of war debts will be barred. Former Premier Herriot of France and other leaders among the statesmen of foreign lands will follow to launch a concerted attack upon the forms of deflation and depression.

Here are the high spots of the administration-expected inflation proposal.

Authorizing President, in his discretion, to direct treasury to enter into agreements with federal reserve board and banks for direct purchase by the latter of up to $3,000,000,000 in government obligations to be held for specified periods unless the treasury, meanwhile, consents to their sale.

Provisions of existing law requiring automatic increase in discount rate would not apply to these "open market operations."

If these agreements are not by the end of the month, the President could employ any of the following methods:

Issue treasury notes or currency up to $3,000,000,000 to meet maturing federal obligations and for purchase of United States bonds.

Congress would appropriate enough money to retire four percent of the notes annually the notes to be legal tender.

Reduce the gold content of the dollar by proclamation to protect international agreement to protect American currency against the effect of depreciated foreign currencies using any ratio between the value of gold and other currencies agreed upon with other countries as the standard unit of value, but with the reduction to the weight of gold limited to 50 percent; and Accept silver in payment of up to $100,000,000 on war debts, the silver not to exceed the price of 50 cents an ounce. This provision is limited to one year's operation. Silver certificates in denominations of $1 could be issued against the metal for payment of any government obligations. The silver metal would be retained for redemption of the silver certificates.

Funeral services for Edward J. Irish, 70, of 1015 E. 1st St., were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the St. Ignace Home for the aged, 1015 E. 1st St., with burial in St. Ignace cemetery. The Rev. Fr. J. J. Walsh, of the Holy Trinity church officiated. Mr. Irish was born in Vermont, had lived in this section for the past 20 years, and was well known to all residents of the home. He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Bessie Irish, of 1015 E. 1st St., and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Irish, of 1015 E. 1st St.

A SOUGHT IN SLAYING

BADTIMORE, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Three men in a Florida limousine automobile were sought today for the slaying of a Baltimore man. The slaying of a Baltimore man, Edward J. Irish, was reported by a Baltimore man who was driving a limousine in Baltimore at the time of the slaying.

New Dirigible Macon Is On Trial Flight

AKRON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—The dirigible Macon, largest of its kind and success: to the last Akron, soared through the air today on its maiden flight, preliminary to winning the navy's approval. The craft carried 103 persons including 11 officers with Captain Alger Dressel in command, eight members of the naval board of inspection and 21 engineers and inspectors of the Goodyear Zeppelin Company, builders. After the Macon was aloft an hour and a half, Captain Dressel sent radio orders to disassemble the ground crew until late today, indicating the ship will remain aloft well over 10 hours. The dirigible flew in this vicinity for an hour and then cruised over Cleveland. There was no announcement as to what course the flight will take.

NEW CHAPTER IS WRITTEN IN CASE OF TOM MOONEY

Resurrection Of Old Murder Indictment Is Move Of Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Resurrection of an unexpired murder indictment by the Tom Mooney defense council, and insistence that Mooney be tried on it, writes a new chapter in a case already replete with unique ramifications and unusual features.

Its chronology dates back 17 years to the afternoon of July 22, 1916, when an explosion disrupted a preparedness day parade and took the lives of 10 persons. It embraces not only a record-breaking but guilty plea of legal actions but also involves perhaps the greatest number of prominent personalities ever associated with a criminal proceeding.

Mooney was found guilty of complicity in the bombing, Feb. 24, 1917, and was given the death penalty by Superior Judge Franklin A. Griffin. A co-defendant, Warren K. Billings, previously had been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mooney appealed on two counts and the state supreme court denied both.

Mooney was first sentenced to die May 17, 1917, but a clamor arose for a new trial following a plea of Frank C. Oxman, prosecution witness, on a charge of subornation of perjury.

The new trial was the first post-trial effort of the Mooney defense to win Mooney's freedom after his case had been "legally" closed. It resulted in Oxman's conviction.

The clamor for a new trial for Mooney soon became international. President Wilson intervened, writing three letters to Governor William D. Stephens favoring a new trial.

The court held they were now-when to die. Governor Stephens declined a pardon, but commuted Mooney's sentence to life imprisonment on Nov. 28, 1918.

REACTIONS ARE VARIED TO U. S. GOLD EMBARGO

British Demand Is For Maintaining Present Ratio Between Dollar And Their Pound

LONDON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Although the government was being importuned today to maintain the ratio between the dollar and the pound which existed before the United States abandoned gold, a high articulate section of the press held it necessary that Britain retain the advantages that accrued to her through the depreciated pound.

Meanwhile from other nations came reports of varied reactions to the news that the United States had abandoned the gold standard:

Home.—While the dollar fluctuated between 14 1/2 and 17 lire American tourists sought advice from bankers and Italian officials as to the situation on Italy.

Berlin.—German economists said that the United States action served to encourage recent demands that normal international monetary transactions be re-established. Several newspapers condemned the action in the United States.

Vienna.—American travelers received in percent less for their dollars than they did a few days ago.

Santiago, Chile.—The dollar dropped eight points from 50 pesos to 42 in early dealings. Financial commentators said the slump was temporary.

Madrid.—Transactions were held to a minimum by officials pending definite news from the United States and the market was practically paralyzed. The dollar was not officially quoted but there were some deals, based on London and Paris rates, ranging around 10.35 pesetas to the dollar.

Geneva, Switzerland.—The dollar opened at 4.70 Swiss francs. Ottawa.—The United States dollar slumped, but actually and commodity prices went soaring in Canada. Improvement of domestic conditions in the United States and the obtaining of a better bargaining position of the world economic conference were said to be the purposes of President Roosevelt's action.

Buenos Aires.—As against an average of 3.91 since the American banking holiday, the dollar opened today at 3.45 pesos, making the highest quotation since the middle of 1931.

ARCADIA, Apr. 21.—Carl Bates, farming northwest of Home near Bunker, has shown what can be done in the way of general farming in DeSoto county.

Explanation Offered For "Man In Street" Regarding Complexities Of Inflation

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—The man in the street wonders what inflation will mean to him. Does the war spell a job, or higher wages, or better prices for his products, or will it cost him more to live? If inflation, merely a catch word up to now, is in fact a healthy tonic, why wasn't it prescribed before?

The answers to the questions asked today in a maze of national economic matters which are in turn complicated by political considerations. Even recognized experts are at wide variance on many of the principles involved, but the

VALLEY DAY FETE GRAPEFRUIT MEN IN DELAND SEES WORK TO HEAD LARGE THROGS OFF POOR PRICES

Congressman Wilcox Principal Speaker At Optimistic Meet

DELAND, Apr. 21.—Possibilities of the development of the St. Johns River Valley were forcibly presented and plans for the formation of a single organization for the purpose of such development, were tentatively formulated in Deland yesterday as over 2000 people gathered at the Volusia county fair grounds here to celebrate St. Johns River Valley Day.

With Congressman J. Mark Wilcox as the special speaker of the day, others representing highways, waterways, railways and airways brought their messages of faith and belief in the future of the St. Johns River Valley.

Congressman Wilcox pointed out that one of the greatest things which could be done for the St. Johns River valley was to dredge, deepen, widen and straighten the St. Johns River to the Gulf of Mexico for commercial trade. He declared that the view of the section by plane was worth any trouble attendant

Gore Is Regarded As Candidate For
Puerto Rico Post

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Informal sources today regarded Robert H. Gore, of Chicago, and Florida as the most likely candidates for governor of Puerto Rico.

Although his selection could not be confirmed at the White House or the war department informed persons believed his nomination would be sent to the Senate within a few days.

Gore it was said, previously had been offered another position. Members of the Senate congressional delegation met yesterday at the White House. Gore, however, was reported to have declined the first job offered and to be now in line for Puerto Rico post. Just what occurred to give Gore the preference over Fish and several other prominent candidates was not clear.

BEER WILL BE TAKEN UP ON NEXT MONDAY

Senate Will Give Continuous Consideration To Bills For Legalizing Beverage

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—The Senate today set 4:30 o'clock Monday for special and continuous consideration of bills to legalize and tax beer and wine. Four committee substitute bills will come before the Senate, in lieu of two beer bills passed by the House and one beer bill previously introduced in the Senate.

The House approved resolutions calling for constitutional amendments to consolidate offices of the county tax collector and tax assessor and to eliminate all but two justices of the peace and constable districts in each county.

The House proposed amendments to the state constitution subject to ratification by voters at the general election next year if they are approved by the Senate and Governor.

The Governor signed a bill abolishing the 23 percent penalty imposed on motorists who buy license tags after Feb. 1. The bill became a law late today.

A number of important general measures reached the Senate legislative mill and the upper legislative branch ran its total of bills to 218 yesterday, with one of the major bills by Senator J. J. Parrish, Titusville, proposing amendment of existing statutes to permit railroad companies in the state to operate motor vehicles for hire on the highways of the state.

The bill would allow a terminal point to door delivery of freight and to deliver freight by truck between points.

The railroads would be required to obtain a certificate from the State Railroad Commission and would be liable to the same fees and taxes as other independent motor companies. The bill would permit operation by the railroads of freight carrying vehicles, from, between and within points and territory served by such railroad company.

To set up a way and means for Florida municipalities to retire from the market bonds and coupons offered at a discount, John S. Early, of Sarasota, yesterday introduced a bill in the House to authorize the creation of bond investment funds by the governing bodies of the state's municipalities.

The purpose of the act is to give to municipalities the power and means to retire from the market bonds and coupons offered at a discount and effort those who desire to dispose of their bonds and receive cash at discount, rather than to wait until the bonds are matured or funds can be raised in the manner prescribed by law at the time bonds were issued, a section of the proposal provides:

No offer at sale shall be considered which calls for more than 90 percent of the face value of the present worth of said bonds or coupons computed on a six per cent basis for the balance of the term thereof, but every shall be the smaller, this section specifically provides.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED
WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—The Senate late yesterday confirmed the nominations of John Collier, of California, to be commissioner of Indian affairs and Ames A. Donahue to be United States district judge in Nebraska.

NEW HILL PLANNED
WEST MEMPHIS, Ark., Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—W. H. Jackson yesterday announced plans for erection of a new $180,000 cotton seed oil mill for the West Memphis Cotton Oil Company, promising work for 100 men this summer.

OLD-TIME WRESTLER DIES
NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Dr. Benjamin Franklin Roler, who retired from the wrestling game when he was 29 years old to begin a career as a surgeon, died at the age of 87. He had of pneumonia. Wednesday in Doctors' Hospital.

Youth, Held For Big Ransom, Released

CHICAGO, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Apparently unharmed Jerome Factor, 16-year-old Northwestern University student, held captive by kidnapers for $50,000 ransom, was freed today by his captors and returned to his mother's apartment. Some police are inclined to believe that at least part of the ransom demanded was paid but Factor himself denied it. The boy's father expressed a desire to deal with the kidnapers himself but he was unable to do so. The boy was held in a secret trip which gave rise to the belief he had the arrangements for the youth's release. Police quoted the boy as saying he was unable to recall the details of his abduction or release except that he was treated well by his captors. Three suspects are already under arrest.

CITY IS OPERATED ON $181 PER DAY FOR SIX MONTHS

Cost For Each Person In Sanford For All Services 1.8 Cents

According to figures gathered at the City Hall today by a Herald reporter, the operating cost of the City for the first six months of 1932-33 was $32,099.20, or $181.82 per day.

If you divide the population of Sanford, 10,000 persons in the daily operating cost, you will see that for 1.8 cents the City was able to protect each of its citizens per day against fire, burglary, sickness caused by unsanitary conditions, while at the same time keeping up the golf course, the library, the municipal court, some of its indigent citizens, and paying for the salaries of all City Hall employees whose duties are to keep the City's finances and tax records.

The records also show that during the first half of the fiscal year, $38,449.25 had been collected in real and personal taxes. This sum is 35 percent of the total of $109,205.62 which the City Commission hopes to collect during 1932-33. The $166,205.62 figure is approximately 38 percent of the actual assessment roll.

The City has collected 23 percent of what it should and would collect if all real and personal taxes were paid for 1932, and 35 percent of what it hopes to collect this year.

This 35 percent collection figure is six percent less than was collected against the anticipated sum for 1931-32, and five percent more than was collected against the anticipated sum for 1930-31, during the first six months of those fiscal years.

In comparing the amount of money spent for general operating purposes during the first six months of the fiscal year with that spent during the same period since 1927, the records show that the City has been operated below

Orange Officials
Strongly Oppose
Refunding Bills

ORLANDO, Apr. 21.—Orange county commissioners yesterday in special session drafted resolutions strenuously opposing house-approved bills now before the state Senate one of which would start to fix, shortly and a state board of administration delictorial officers in supervision of state governmental units in case of bond defaults.

The bills, known as bill No. 36 and bill No. 150, are awaiting enactment in the Senate and the Orange county commission deemed it wise to show speedily its position on both proposed measures so that copies of the resolutions might be forwarded to the county's representatives before final vote is taken.

Bill No. 150, of the measure which would create a state board of administration with wide powers to dictate to any unit of government in Florida, be it county, city or special tax district, in event any of these units found it impossible to meet obligations, drew severe criticism from Wilcox Tilden, Orange county attorney, who branded the proposed plan as abominable, especially from the standpoint of possible its presentation for graft and corruption.

INFLATION IDEA OF ROOSEVELT IS GIVEN START

Senate Banking Com- mittee Places Em- phasis On Pro- gram Of President

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt's "controlled inflation" program was started through Congress today with the announcement of the Senate banking committee.

The committee made an amendment authorizing the Federal Reserve Board to place a check on inflation by requiring member banks to increase or decrease their reserves against deposits as the situation requires.

Representative Dies of Tuberculosis
Introduced a resolution for a congressional investigation into lobbying activities of Ogden Mills (former secretary of the Treasury) and other lobbyists seeking to defeat the program of big President.

A resolution granting the Roosevelt Tennessee Valley program the right of way in the House and binding all but committee amendments was approved by the rules committee.

Speaker Crampton said at a press conference that the administration's proposal to accept $100,000,000 on war debts from foreign nations would result in "planning" after a 16 to one basis.

The President is ready to name Sumner Wells, assistant secretary of state, as ambassador to Colombia.

D.A.R. Continental Congress Backs Up Mrs. Magna's Stand

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Resolutions strengthening the "more education less agitation" national defense stand of Mrs. Magna, William Russell Magna, president general, were passed yesterday by the D. A. R. Continental Congress.

The measure protested economy cuts for schools; provided for investigation of American history teaching methods with a view to strengthening them, and included a paragraph favoring reunion of families in a commendation of stringent state department immigration restriction policy.

An effort by Miss Locke M. Hill, of Vermont, to gain the floor to read a motion on national defense was unavailing, and the controversy predicted over the secretary's market change under Mrs. Magna was thus postponed.

The point at issue was whether or not the D. A. R. should go back into combinations of patriotic organizations which in the past have opposed recognition of Russia, together have favored strict immigration restrictions and a strong army and navy forces.

The daughters yesterday held Mrs. Lawrence A. Becker, national defense chairman under Mrs. Magna, give an annual report showing that while emphasis was placed on patriotic education, the stand "against subversive forces" was not so strong as ever.

"Inflation" means to increase of well, and it can be applied to money, credit, or heads.

Evidently some of our state Senators think they were elected by Californians or Cubans.

Wonder what effect Roosevelt's reforestation army will have on presidential timber in 1938?

Well, one way to relieve unemployment is put everyone to work covering the country with federal mortgages.

If we are to have insurance for bank deposits, wouldn't it be better to have first insurance for insurance policies.

When the younger generation begins paying off the debts of the present era, there'll be no question about where they'll stand on the theory of evolution.

Mrs. Owen has been appointed minister not only to Denmark but also to Greenland. They call it Greenland, you know, because it is covered with snow and ice.

Another thing the Senate committee investigating J. P. Morgan and Company should try to do is to find out why "Papa J. P." endorsed Roosevelt's gold embargo.

The House invited the Senate to join it in a glass of beer; but the Senate, although thirsty, preferred to think before the drink. Tampa Tribune. Thus breaking all precedents.

Now someone has introduced a bill to require screens for automobile junk yards. No use to worry about that. If business doesn't pick up soon, they'll all be on the roads.

Traditionally, the Democratic party is committed to the principle of a weak central government. That is why President Roosevelt is not empowered to drain the ocean, reverse the law of gravitation, and stop the stars in their courses. Detroit News.

Apparently England doesn't stand to lose so much from her embargo on Russian goods after all. It seems that she has been sending the Soviet the money with which to buy from her. And we thought Uncle Sam was the only one who did business that way.

Roosevelt's Ace In The Hole

Former Premier Herriot, who had been selected as the representative of France, in the forthcoming Washington "conversations" had been anxious to make his appearance while Mr. MacDonald, the English premier, was in Washington so as better to present a "united front" against this country.

With MacDonald and Herriot both safely on the high seas, bound for this country for the avowed purpose of discussing war debts primarily and not much interested in anything else, and with events happening in Washington so fast that even congressmen and senators themselves are bewildered, one can begin to hear already the click, click, click of the chips in the greatest game of international poker ever played on American soil.

As in any game of world wide consequence, the stakes are high. America was prepared to bid up to the full amount of the eleven billion dollars lent European countries during the World War and regarded pretty much as a frozen asset ever since that time.

America definitely and unequivocally abandons the gold standard just as England had done a year and a half previously. What is more, the President asks Congress for broad powers to inflate the currency, remonetize silver, devalue the dollar.

Overnight MacDonald has lost one of his best talking points. When he asks for debt concessions, President Roosevelt will demand trade concessions. When he offers pound stabilization, President Roosevelt will counter with dollar stabilization.

Beauty Fads

A group of Burmese women have arrived recently in the United States displaying the beauty fashions of their country. Oddly enough they will join a circus, the reason for this being that our ideas of beauty are at such a variance with those which prevail in the far eastern kingdom that what the people of Burma consider attractive appears to us as freakish.

The Burmese conception of pulchritude seems to hinge on the length of one's neck. Thus in the frenzied competition which has always prevailed among the fairer sex in matters of this nature, the Burmese women, by means of an ever increasing number of metal bands, have managed to develop necks not wholly dissimilar to those of giraffes.

Chinese women have long practiced the quaint custom of binding the feet in order to make them small, thereby preparing themselves for the eventuality of any beauty contest. Although the ordeal is said to be very painful it is apparently worth it.

In more civilized countries the brutal aspects of manufactured comeliness have given way to more refined treatment. Rouge, lipstick, and facial powder are the chief contributions to the modern woman's repertoire of beauty agents.

However, the principle is the same. Both the savages and the up-to-date women are basing attractiveness, perhaps not wholly, but in part on something other than their natural selves. But it is a far cry from stretched necks and deformed lips to a little dab of rouge, and with this progress having been made it may not be far off when a woman can parade before beauty contest judges immediately after having washed her face and still have a chance of winning.

TRYING TO KILL A GOOD HORSE?

MODERN JOURNALISM

The issues of Tuesday, Apr. 4, 1933, of the New York morning papers should be of more than passing interest to their readers.

In a striking way they bear evidence to the fact that the reader is supplied at extraordinary speed with the latest developments in every phase of his life. To those who still believe that the American newspaper a casual, hit-or-miss affair it may be worth while to point out that this particular issue, purely as a matter of routine, contained extensive reports of the disaster which overwhelmed the Akron, an account of the final vote in the New York state assembly on the beer bill, a comprehensive report on the state-wide vote in Michigan on the question of repeal, and finally, a full account of the professional hockey game in Toronto, which was the longest in the history of the sport.

It would be difficult to find four topics so widely divergent and still so appealing to the majority of newspaper readers. Go back only thirty years, a single generation. Dirigibles were freaks, the World War had not started, radio communication was a matter secret to all except scientists who had spent years in experimentation. In a brief span of years the country passed into prohibition and now is climbing out, as the Michigan vote so plainly indicates. Here in this state the subject of liquor is a vital issue of the most controversial character; the newspapers were compelled to record the decision of the legislators after midnight.

These arresting reports come and are recorded as a part of the daily news gist. Perhaps some readers have been keyed up to the point where they are lacking in appreciation of the effort put forth by a multitude of human beings, outside as well as inside newspaper offices, in gathering and forwarding these items. Sophisticated Drama Playing At Milan

Eward H. Griffith was so bothered by ambitious pet owners when it was announced that he was going to direct "The Animal Kingdom" that he had to issue an announcement that the RKO Radio presentation of this Philip Barry play is not an animal story. He had offers for his use of trained turtles, squirrels, pigs and ducks.

"The Animal Kingdom" is a sophisticated modern drama depicting the view of the central feminine character, whose opinion is that most men and women, despite their lofty pretensions, in affairs of the heart, often are animals, rather than wise, tender or human.

The story centers around a man who has two women in his affections—his conventional but voluptuous wife, who attempts to hold him with mere allure; and a pre-marriage "right of love" whose unconventional mind and finer emotions are a constant call to him. The question involved is which woman will hold him.

Ann Harding and Leslie Howland starred in "The Animal Kingdom" with other important roles played by Myrna Loy, William Gargan, Neil Hamilton, Henry Stephenson and Ilka Chase. It was the attraction tonight at the Milan Theater.

Landis, has already declared would be illegal."

At the conclusion of the meeting a social period was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Those present were: Dr. Elizabeth Tracy, Mrs. J. E. McClelland, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. E. R. Mitchell, Mrs. Beatrice Robb, Mrs. W. L. Hickey, Mrs. Dahl, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

PRESS WIRELESS BEGINS FIGHT TO SAVE EXISTENCE

Powerful Groups Are Opposed to Pioneer Co-Operative Plan

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—Press wireless, new international communications service for newspapers, began a fight for its life before the Federal Radio Commission recently.

Aligned against the pioneer co-operative service were the powerful Radio Corporation of America, Western Union and the Mackay Radio System, which seek to prevent continuation of the new service in the press communication field.

The powerful older organizations entered charges before the commission, which if upheld would prevent the new system from handling news service from the United States to foreign countries.

The broader effect would be to maintain the close control which the big organizations have over transmission of news matter as well as to control rates, which have been greatly reduced in late years due to the existence of Press Wireless, Inc.

The fight was opened by counsel for Press Wireless, which presented as its first witness, M. Leon Rollin, inspector of foreign service for Agence Havas, the great French news service, in an effort to prove that Press Wireless would be unable to transmit news to Europe if barred from transmission to Europe if barred from transacting financial news and stock market quotations as press news.

M. Rollin's testimony was to the effect that all European news agencies sell financial information to clients, which include banks, stock brokers and cafes as well as newspapers. He declared foreign news agencies would not use Press Wireless service unless it was authorized to transmit this type of news matter.

The right to transmit American news to Europe is essential to the continuation of Press Wireless, it is submitted, and it would be unable to operate at a profit if it limited to one-way service from foreign countries to the United States.

M. Rollin testified that he was in the United States at the present time for the purpose of negotiating contracts for transmission of Havas news from this country to France and that he would give the contract to whatever communications medium provided the cheapest service.

Unless Press Wireless could handle the market quotations and other financial news matter by Havas, he implied, Press Wireless would be unable to render the service necessary to the securing of the Havas contract.

A secondary point raised during the hearing was the right of Press Wireless to transmit messages partly in code. M. Rollin explained that the European news agencies were forced to transmit portions of their messages in such form to prevent their being pirated. This is not necessary in cable transmission.

Western Union, R. C. A., and the Mackay radio have protested such use of code in Press Wireless messages, apparently on the ground that messages, apparently on the ground that messages transmitted cease to be press matter. Should this contention be upheld it would also prevent Press Wireless from handling service to foreign countries.

Press Wireless service is at present used by a large number of prominent American newspapers including the New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Chicago Tribune, Chicago Daily News, the Los Angeles Times, San Francisco Chronicle and The Christian Science Monitor.

Its existence has served to reduce press cable rates from foreign countries to the United States.

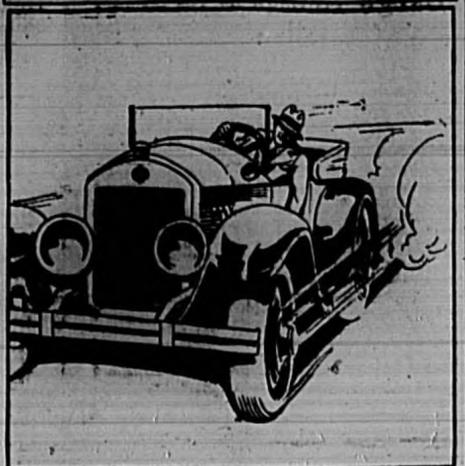

Kansas City Will Begin 'Renovizing' Campaign In April

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Kansas City's "renovizing" campaign to produce $5,000,000 worth of new work this spring will be launched Apr. 24.

Owners of homes and business property are to be asked to inspect their properties thoroughly for any of the hundreds of odd jobs that can be done. Without expense, estimates will be made on the cost of this work. Solicitors then will call and the owner will pledge himself to do a specified amount of work within a certain time.

Next Monday 1000 Kansas City women will start a thorough canvass of the city, suggesting 183 different bits of "renovizing" that may be done about a home or apartment and several hundred more about business properties.

Don't Drive When You're Tired

Motor Vehicle Administrators of the United States, the men who know, will describe a series of traffic violations and driving errors responsible for a majority of automobile accidents and advise how they may be avoided. This is number eighteen of the series.

By HAROLD F. TOMPKINS (Commissioner of State Road Commission of West Virginia)

DON'T DRIVE WHEN YOU'RE TIRED. Fatigue and mental lapses are a far more important cause of automobile accidents than is commonly credited.

The driver in the picture above has evidently been driving too long and is weak from fatigue. In such a condition he is more than ever prone to accidents.

Accident reports give physical causes such as reckless driving, on the wrong side of the road, cutting in, speeding and others. What part of the 24,000 deaths and nearly a million injuries reported last year in the statistics of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters can be charged to this fatigue factor is, of course, incalculable.

Authorities believe, however, that extreme worry, preoccupation, exhaustion, excitement, fatigue, and other symptoms of a disturbed mental or

Doom Is Forecast For Skyscrapers In Future Building

NEW YORK.—Facing an era of increasing leisure for workers, Americans may soon relegate the skyscraper to the class of architectural curiosities and turn their attention to structures that will be more in keeping with increasing diversity of interests, according to a report by William Orr Ludlow, chairman of the committee on industrial relations of the American Institute of Architects.

Mr. Ludlow bases his view on the exodus from cities to the country, to which the skyscraper is slowly yielding.

Architects should prepare for great building activity, he holds, and should abandon the "costly, haphazard fashion" of former days, planning with careful study and comprehensive arrangement for the greatest economic use and development.

"We shall see a great change in our buildings as soon as money begins to circulate again," he said.

Edmund 1931 enabled it to regain its independence of policy, so the German Reichsbank wants to indicate that its foreign exchange restrictions policy is Germany's own affair.

Dr. Schacht's action is a bold one. When he left the Reichsbank three years ago, Germany's reserves and surplus trade balance amounted together to 3,000,000,000 gold marks. Today they total only 350,000,000 marks, because of foreign commitments which have been repaid in the interval.

'Back To The Farm' Movement Is Seen As Almost Stopped

WASHINGTON.—The "back to the farm" movement accompanying the unemployment crisis is almost completed, T. B. Manny of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, who has just returned from a field survey of 15 states, believes.

The "back to the farm" movement, he says, is almost completed, T. B. Manny of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, who has just returned from a field survey of 15 states, believes.

Mr. Manny reports that literally thousands of city people without farm experience are striving to subsist on formerly abandoned lands, in cut-over areas and in abandoned lumber camps. He regards this as the most tragic feature of the current situation. The return of young people and their families to family homesteads has been an important factor, he says, in decreasing the demand for hired hands on farms.

Pat Sullivan of New Smyrna, set a Central Florida Baseball League single game fielding record for pitchers during the 1932 season by accepting two put-outs and nine assists without error for 11 innings on Apr. 28.

The Daytona Beach Islanders lost most of their games in early innings, not one of their games of the 1932 Central Florida Baseball League season having been lost in the 9th or 10th inning, and only one in the eight.

Action Of Schacht Indicates Country Intends To Be Its Financial Master

BERLIN.—That Germany intends to be financially master in its own house is the general interpretation here of the decision of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, to repay 1% rediscount credits granted to the Reichsbank by foreign central banks of America, France, England and the Bank for International Settlements.

These discount credits when first granted for support of the mark in the currency crisis of July, 1931, totaled $125,000,000, but they have been gradually reduced until today they amount to only $70,000,000.

Dr. Schacht is reported to be a strong supporter of the contention that these credits are more of a hindrance than a help to Germany. He considers the present occasion suitable for the announcement that the credits will be repaid, not renewed, when they become due on June 1 next.

The rediscount credits have involved heavy interest charges and difficult negotiations with the creditors every quarter year. The Reichsbank by this step will remove a good deal of short-term credit, and it wants to show the world its willingness to repay its foreign debts. According to the Boston Courier, as the Bank of England's repayment of 110,000,000 gold borrowed from France and America in the au-
