Actor Asks Divorce From Second Wife

LOS ANGELES—Actor John Carradine asks a divorce from Sonia Forest charging, among other things, that she broke up his first marriage.

"Numerous infidelities," neglect of their children and appearance before guests in her underclothing were among other accusations leveled by the gaudy Shakespearean in the suit he filed in Superior Court yesterday.

He asked for custody of their three children. The couple married after the 1944 breakup of Carradine's marriage to Ardelle McCool. He alleges Miss Sorel caused the split. Miss Sorel is the daughter of socially prominent Henry R. Heims of Burlingame, Calif.

Mrs. Fred Astaire Victim Of Cancer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—Cancer has claimed the life of dancer Fred Astaire's 46-year-old wife.

Phyllis Livingston Butler Astaire, the dancer's wife for 23 years, died in their Beverly Hills home yesterday after an illness of several months. Astaire was by her side.

Mrs. Astaire was a wealthy young Park Avenue socialite when she and the nimble performer were married in New York in 1931. She had divorced Edgardo Scott Pelletier II, a broker, in 1932 after a five-year marriage.

She remained in the background during her husband's career in musical comedies and movies but they were often seen together at social affairs. She leaves three children, Fred Jr., 18; Ava, 12, and son by her first marriage, Peter, 25.

Potentate Pays Local Club Visit

Announcement was made of the first annual Shrine cruise to be held in Orlando Sept. 23-24. Local president Ernest Southward led the meeting.

AAA Manager Warns Drivers To Take Care

JACKSONVILLE—The first of the AAA's North Florida Division, which is to be held in Jacksonville, Fla., on Sept. 14-15, will be held in Jacksonville, Fla., on Sept. 14-15.

The warning was issued by Walter M. Johnson, manager of the AAA's North Florida Division, who said it is just too much for motorists to expect children to play in the streets in a national manner, especially before the rules of safe driving have been drilled into them by their teachers.

Johnson said that a way has never been discovered to prevent school-bound children from darting into traffic. "When they do, and an accident occurs, it may not be the driver's fault," he added, "but a man could have to be very cautious to find any consolation in that fact."

Johnson's words are in effect a plea for more attention to the child and the parent who have been in the habit of driving carelessly. "The child is a summer months to pay strict attention to them from now on."

Teachers, police and school safety patrol boys and girls will be doing everything possible to protect children on their way to and from school, but it is too much to expect them to do the job alone, the AAA official said. He urged parents to do some preliminary traffic safety education work with their youngsters.

"Parents should explain the meaning of traffic signs and signals, teach their children to obey police and safety patrol boys, and show the youngsters the safest route to school," he added.

Arrest Ordered Of Ex-Prisoners

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Being that Mayor Ben West's order to empty the city jail was a violation of the Nashville charter, City Judge Andrew J. Doyle has ordered the 31 prisoners arrested.

The order now probably will be honored to the city legal department for an opinion. John Milliron, police chief, said he would ask the department what he can do legally after he is presented with the arrest records.

Mayor West ordered the prisoners released last Wednesday after the Davidson County Health Department ruled that the city jail and workhouse building were unfit for human habitation.

"If I arrest them, I'll have to have some place to put them," said Milliron and he added if he put them in the county jail several problems would occur, including the housing expense.

The 31 were committed to the workhouse after failure to pay fines imposed by city court. The jail section of the building was used as a holdover for prisoners prior to confining.

Herman Jacobson was appointed as a bond trustee, filling the vacancy on the board left by the resignation of J. L. Munson. Harry Lee was reappointed to the civil service board, and H. L. Perkins was appointed to the board of adjustment, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Frank Ash down.

Rep. Charles P. Nelson beat Thomas E. Delahanty 4,192 to 38,569 in 204 of the 2nd District's 290 precincts.

And in the 2nd District, Rep. Clifford G. McIntire won re-election over Kenneth R. Colbath 79,119 to 25,717 in 241 of 261 precincts. Communications in some of the mountain precincts were knocked out by hurricane Edna last weekend.

Two years ago, with about the same total vote, Cross won the governorship with 51.7 per cent. But two independent Republicans got 13.1 per cent and a Democrat 33.2. Frederick G. Payne was elected to the Senate then with 54.7 per cent.

In 1930, the last off-year, Payne's percentage was 60.4 in winning a second term as governor. There was no Senate vacancy then.

Sen. Smith's percentage yesterday—56.4—was way off her record 71.4 in 1948. Her 95.20 margin that year also was a record.

Throughout the campaign, Republicans hammered the theme that a "solid" Republican victory would help the Eisenhower administration keep control of Congress.

The Democrats called for a "return of two party government in Maine" and concentrated on the governorship, calling it the most vulnerable spot on the ticket.

In a victory statement, Minkie said that "thousands of Maine voters... apparently agree with what we are trying to do."

Minkie will have a Republican legislature to work with.

Florida's first flour mill is planned by the Dixie Lyle Milling Company. It will be built in a location not yet determined at a cost of approximately $2 million.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX
CYNTHIA knew that Elizabeth was right. The show must go on—that was the way Norman would want it. So his mother and the girl he loved must hold their heads high and smile.

Across the room, Wall's glance met hers, he had noticed her absence. And he must have noticed, too, the change that had taken place within her.

The guests were laughing at the antics of some comedian, one of them leaned over to tell Cynthia that the pledges were continuing to be phoned in—thousands of dollars had been raised.

When he could manage, during time-out for the customary restroom break, Wall came over to Cynthia and took up a chair beside her. In a low voice, he told her that he thought he should be leaving.

"You won't come with me?" he asked, his eyes looking into hers questioningly, yet as though he had already read the answer in her every face. "I can't persuade you to come?"

Her eyes were staring at him. She had never been so startled with that look, that small smile. A man should not come back to me, though this thought occurred to her. And although he would not have been disappointed, she must to his masculine vanity, Wall would get over it. For his work always would come first.

He had not said anything for a moment. His eyes had come to rest on her. Then he said, "I see. That's the way it is."

That's the way it is. I'm sorry, Wall. The young doctor stood up. He took her hand and held it in both of his. "I hope you will be happy, Cynthia. That is the main thing. And I also hope you will continue to work with me. The clinic, the children—all of us would find it difficult to get along without you."

While they were talking, one of the TV stars was singing. It was a sentimental love song, one that was currently popular. It struck a responsive chord in Cynthia's heart. Was there anything harder, she wondered, than waiting?

"I'm glad you said that," she told Wall as she got to her feet. "I couldn't do without the children, my work in the clinic, or your friendship, either. I'll go to the door with you, if you really feel you must go."

Wall said he felt he should. The look he gave her told Cynthia how grateful he was for what she had said to him, and that she wanted to see him off. Passing his hand across her face, Wall thanked her for everything, expressing his gratitude for all that it represented. Without doubt, the woman along with Elizabeth's other plans would raise sufficient money to carry through all their ideas and dreams for the clinic.

As they stood in the doorway, saying good night one more time, Cynthia could not get her mind to rest. Her eyes were staring at him. She had never been so startled with that look, that small smile. A man should not come back to me, though this thought occurred to her. And although he would not have been disappointed, she must to his masculine vanity, Wall would get over it. ### Kentucky Gridders Focus On Defense For Maryland Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky football forces, undaunted by the season opener Saturday with mighty Maryland, turned optimistically today to preparing its attack.

On the theory that the fierce Terrapins may control the ball during most of the battle at Lexington, Coach Blanton Collier and his aides have been emphasizing defense. Yesterday afternoon the Wildcats scrimmaged in secret in an effort to improve their play "deep in their own territory."

Alabama, whose passing game was expected to suffer with the departure of end Joe Cummins for the army, took to the air and completed 12 of 14 passes for 273 yards in the final long scrimmage before Friday night's opener against Mississippi Southern. Gander Crum completed six of seven. Albert Elmore three of four and Ollie Yates three of three. Bart Starr, the Tide's regular quarterback, will miss the opener.

Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt called a halt to two-day practice sessions and Tech coaches indicated there would be no more rough work before Saturday's game with Tulane. Tippy Van, Tech sophomore, was promoted from the reserves and took over as No. 3 quarterback behind Wade Mitchell and Bill Grigman. Vandy coaches praised tackle Buck Watson and guard Larry Frank for their defensive work.

Tennessee spent most of the day on defense but concluded the long practice session with a high-speed offensive scrimmage limited to running plays.

Gators Will Be Put To Test Against Rice Saturday Night

GAINESVILLE (AP) — A fine way to find out how your sophomore packed football team is going to measure up is send them against the Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl champ in their first game. What you don't learn there, you can find out the next week against the Sugar Bowl champ and the following week against the Gator "rumpup."

It's the destiny Hub Woodruff inadvertently picked for his University of Florida team this fall. As athletic director, he gave himself quite an assignment as coach. Of course, he didn't know at the time he scheduled Rice, Georgia Tech and Auburn they would be straight from successful seasons and bowl games.

All he could do was try to get his inexperienced Gators ready. Now the preparations are about over. They must measure up to Rice at Houston Saturday night. One saving grace about these sophomores are that they are good sophomores, and some of them are not wholly inexperienced. Jackie Simpson, halfback; Joe Braxley, fullback, and Welton Lockhart, end, won letters as freshmen. Buster Hill, tackle, might have done the same except for an injury.

Another problem he had to tackle is at quarterback. Harry Speers and Dug Dickey, who ran the A and B units last year, are gone. Bobby Lance, a junior letterman, is top man and his presence in the lineup is a boost to look for some solid-T plays since he is a good runner as well as passer.

Marciano-Charles Battle For Title Will Be Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Determined Ezzard Charles gets a second crack at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in the Yankee Stadium tonight and the odds are 1-3 that he'll get whipped again.

The 33-year old ex-champion from Cincinnati went the full 15 rounds with the powerful Brockton Mayor last June 17 but the return figures to be a short and explosive battle.

Most of the experts feel that Charles will have to show the works quickly in the hopes of stopping the ever-pressing champion and that, instead of scoring, he will be chopped down by Marciano's savage swings.

The betting is 5-12 that the 30-year old champion will stop the potential challenger and wreck his unprecedented third bid to become the first ex-king to regain the heavyweight throne you can get 6-1 if you think Charles will stop Marciano.

They'll start swinging at 10:30 p.m. EDT before some 60,000 fans. Promoter Jim Norris, encouraged by a brisk ticket sale yesterday, and by a favorable forecast of "fair and partly cloudy at the worst," still hopes to do $22,500 and upwards at the gate.

Coast to coast closed circuit television to a record 70 theaters in 50 cities may add another $200,000 to the gate. There will be no home television. CBS will radio broadcast the fight across the nation.

Ex-Sox Manager Joining Orioles, Coach Moves Up

CHICAGO (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles finally have squeezed loose from the Chicago White Sox a member of the fabulous Lane-Richards combine.

Sox Manager Paul Richards quit yesterday and accepted terms to be combination general manager-field manager of the Orioles. He was succeeded immediately by Marty Marion, Sox coach and former St. Louis Cardinals and Browns manager.

Sox General Manager Frank Lane and Richards, since teaming up in 1951, have kept the Chicago American League club in almost constant pennant contention. And the Sox, seldom a financial bonanza in the past, have counted more than a million in attendance in each Lane-Richards year.

But the Orioles since their conversion from the St. Louis Browns last winter have appeared determined to lure one of the other of the successful Sox combination for their own.

Last winter the new Baltimore management reportedly offered Lane the equivalent of $100,000 for a five year contract to leave the Sox. The Comiskey family, which owns the Chicago team, was under a contract which had two more years to run to extend Lane's contract another five years and hike his salary to a reported $70,000.

The Comiskies went through the motions of giving Richards a raise not match Baltimore's three-year tenure, which was considered the deciding factor.

Richards is to leave Chicago today for his home in Waxahatchie, Texas, for a short rest before formal signing of papers in Baltimore Sept. 21. He said he had accepted the general managership but he seemed uncertain about his field duties.

Stagg Knocked Out During Practice
STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg, hardy 92-year-old dean of American football coaches, was knocked out in a practice session at Stockton College Monday but was on his feet and bounding about before doctors and an ambulance reached the field.

Stagg said he was not hurt although he was unconscious five minutes after a charging center bowled him over.

Petroleum Group Advocates Road Improvement On 'Priority Schedule,' Opposes Ton-Mile Tax

JACKSONVILLE—A six-point highway policy to preserve and improve Florida's enormous investment in highways has been adopted by the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee, it was announced today by Max Diethe, chairman of the oil men's group.

Based on the principle that "highways are built to be used—now and in the future," the policy states the committee's views on (1) scheduling highway improvements, (2) highway finance and taxation, (3) diversion of highway funds, (4) federal highway aid, (5) toll roads and (6) highway safety.

The policy statement strongly advocates improving highways in accordance with a "priority schedule," based on a careful and scientific appraisal of all needed improvements. "First things should be done first," the committee statement declares.

Commenting on highway taxation and financing, it points out that "motor fuel is the only commercial product directly taxed for highway purposes." The group opposes the ton-mile tax and the weight-distance tax on commercial vehicles because they "do not meet the tests of equity or economy of collection."

The oil men's policy also advocates a reasonable level of federal highway aid. "Pointing out that the federal government has been making grants to the states from general revenue sources since 1916, the Committee adds that repeal of federal excise taxes on gasoline and other automotive products should in no way affect a reasonable level of federal highway aid."

The oil men feel that toll roads are justified but only when their use is controlled under "sound and proper conditions." For this reason, the policy favors legislative authorization for each toll road project instead of delegating "to any agency broad power to build toll projects as the agency deems desirable."

To achieve a reduction in traffic accidents and improve highway safety, the policy stresses education, enforcement and engineering. "Engineering alone," the policy states, "can't make highways safe but must be combined with an intensive program of public education and strict enforcement of all traffic laws. In the final analysis the safe operation of a motor vehicle depends upon the driver," the policy concludes.

In announcing adoption of the policy, Mr. Diethe said that his committee "has long felt the need for a broad-based statement of highway transportation and the ship between the oil industry and highway transportation and the fact that all areas of Florida's economy—agriculture, industry and industry—are geared to motor vehicles and highway use make an adequate and continuing highway program essential to the public welfare. It is our hope that this policy will provide a definite

ColC Says Roads Govern Business

WASHINGTON—What have good roads got to do with the price of beef? Quite a bit, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Fifty years ago, most cattle, as well as other livestock, made a part of their journey to market on the hoof with a considerable loss of weight. Today, thousands of head of beef cattle are trucked to market over the highways. That saves a lot of weight loss, but there is still a premium on time.

For example, a cattle farmer expects a 33-pound loss in weight of a 1,600-pound steer in the first 100 miles of travel. Even a three-hour extension in trip time will knock another 10 pounds off his steer. Thus at 15 cents a pound, any time saved by better highways, would be worth 50 cents an hour per animal.

Obviously, the chamber notes, good farm to market roads have a definite effect on the price of beef.

Actually, good roads mean good business in general. That is why the chamber expects to provide President Eisenhower and the state governors late this year with comprehensive recommendations for street and highway improvements throughout the nation, in line with the president's proposal for a $50 billion highway program.

The chamber also will sponsor a special three highway conference in coming months, the first to be held at Topeka, Kan., Sept. 30.

Herald Honored For Ad Of FPGL

MIAMI—Utility Spotlight, a national publication which selected an advertisement which appeared in the Sanford Herald for "Ad Of The Week" honors, it was reported today.

The Florida Power and Light Co. ad was prepared for school age children and pointed out the ways electricity helps the country in their educational pursuits.

The honor-winning ad pointed out that Betty Kilgore, symbol of the industry, helps students by furnishing good classroom lighting, cool drinking water, keeping their warm, helps in home economic classes, helps school patrols by lighting their way, and runs the clock that tells the student when school's out.

At night, the ad points out, light is essential. Eyes are priceless and sufficient light should be used for home study and that "eyes don't linger when they are working in the darkness."

Utility Spotlight is a weekly publication designed to report on utility projects and attempts upon all new developments, techniques and practices of the utility industry.

Hillsborough Has 4th Polio Death

TAMPA—Hillsborough County with more polio cases this year than ever before, recorded its fourth 1954 death from the disease yesterday.

The victim was Joyce Kreiner, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kreiner.

Hillsborough has had 21 cases this year. The previous record was set in 1953.

Pair Faces Terms For Motel Robbery

MIAMI—Fred Hewlett and William Donald Voorhis, both 22 today faced 10 years in prison for the armed robbery of a motel here in April.

Hewlett, already serving 10 years for a previous motel holdup pleaded guilty and waived his trial. Voorhis was tried and convicted in Criminal Court yesterday.

The collection of horse-drawn vehicles of the Carrage Cavalcade at Florida's Silver Springs is the largest private collection in the South and probably the largest in the world.

RARE HORSE DRAWN VEHICLES inundated these homes at Old Orchard Beach, Maine, in a disastrous aftermath to the hurricane which hit the state. At least 13 persons died in Maine, most of them motorists whose vehicles plunged into rushing streams from broken banks and smashed bridges, or were trapped in flooded lowlands. Eight inches of rain fell in southwestern Maine, the heaviest amount in 50 years. (International)

Two U. S.

the three had been held in the crime of "intrusion into China's territorial waters."

Kramer's Chinese fiancée, Wang Ying, and two Chinese boat boys were captured along with them. The sea captain said today he had not seen the three Chinese at any time during his captivity and does not know now where they are.

Applegate, who is called "Blue Jeans" and a sport shirt, apparently the same clothing he had on when he was captured a year and a half ago. Dixon was in slacks and Kramer in solid civilian clothing.

After 15 minutes in their hotel rooms, the three men held a press conference in the hotel lobby.

Both Kramer and Applegate said they did not know they were being released until last night. Kramer said they were held in Canton the entire time except for two weeks right after their capture, when they were sent on the island of Laysan, and in the nearby mainland port of Honolulu.

The seaman said he was questioned dozens of times and repeatedly asked to admit various crimes but never was given an official "trial."

When he asked his Communist questioners what he was guilty of, he said they replied, "You know what you're guilty of."

Kramer said he was forced to sign confessions in Chinese but was not told what they meant. He added that his food was identical but consisted mostly of rice.

Applegate, Hong Kong correspondent for the National Broad-casting Co. and former Southeast Asia reporter for the United Press, appeared to be making a great effort to be his usual affable self but seemed tired, shaky and much overworked.

Kramer seemed to have trouble focusing his eyes and looked as though he was having a hard time realizing he was free. He answered questions automatically, saying once, "I feel better now than I did before," and later, "I feel better now than I did before."

The three men said after their capture they saw each other only once last July when they were brought together for a brief period to have their pictures taken.

Applegate said when they were captured his boat was sailing five miles off Britain's Lantau Island—two miles outside British waters but nowhere near Communist waters.

The newsman said all three were kept for 6 1/2 months in the same messy house but each man was kept in solitary confinement.

"Dixon and I wrote letters to each other, but the Communists never discovered how we got them delivered," he related.

All three said they would withhold some facts about their imprisonment because of the three others (their Chinese companions) still in Communist hands.

The three prisoners said, "We recently decided about two months ago to release them. Their captors began giving them better food, in accordance with their usual custom of feeding up prisoners before releasing them."

Applegate's only letter from his mother—arrived on June 28. He said he was permitted to answer it.

The Oregon newsman said the Communists, when they informed him he was to be released, told him: "We want you to help promote friendship between China and America."

Though usually ready with an answer for any occasion, Applegate said he could think of nothing more to say than, "I am very glad to see you. We're all very glad to see you."

"After I stopped shaking and got across the bridge and got my feet under me again," Applegate continued, "I asked for an American cigarette and a glass of beer. Holloway managed to supply both."

The opening of Sunshine Skyway connecting Pinellas and Manatee counties across lower Tampa Bay should have a tremendous impact on the development and tourist travel in this West Coast state.

We greatly appreciate your business and the way you accepted our formal opening last week-end. Here are some outstanding bargains that are our way of saying — Thank You! And come in Saturday and enjoy the Music of Elbeck's Hillbilly Hay Riders—Ben and Bill Wade.

Gulf announces a completely new and different gasoline!

► Now—Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline—the No. 1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Result:

a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power... free from knock or pre-ignition.

This lamp is burning the “DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END” of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

Proof:

Instead of trying to fight troublemaking deposits with so-called “miracle-additives”—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined

NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, “dirty-burning tail-end”—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than so-called “miracle-additive” gasoline. Why? Because Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-top stop and gas-saving motorists do most.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the extra thrust power of new Gulf NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- Stall-proof smoothness—no more worrying about carburetor icing in chilly weather or a super lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Road tests show: New Gulf No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new... even after 15,000 miles!

TRUE! Under all conditions—Gulf tests have shown: Higher than new horsepower! Better than new gas mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time, even on the steepest mountain grades!
