Yule Boat Parade Slated On Dec. 19

By BILL SCOTT
Flotilla 41, Sanford unit of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, is starting a colorful boat parade on Lake Monroe on the evening of Dec. 19 to celebrate the Christmas season. Parade will start at 6 p.m. and will include boats of all sizes and types from 15-foot runabouts to 35-foot cruisers, all gaily decorated and lighted in a Christmas theme.

Parade starting area will be between the I-4 and U.S. 17-92 bridges at the west end of Lake Monroe. The public boat ramp at south side of 17-92 bridge and the county boat ramp on the north side will be available for launchings but participants are required to check in prior to 5 p.m. on the parade evening.

Boats will make a complete circle of the lake, starting at the west end of the I-4 bridge, then follow a course along the south shore past Holiday Isle, across the lake by Stone Island, Enterprise, the power plant and back to the I-4 bridge.

Most participants will be using small twinkly type Christmas lights, wired in parallel. These lights work with a 12-volt battery. Other boats will use regular tree lights, obtaining power from 110 volt generators and inverters.

All Central Florida boat owners are invited to join the parade and the more boats entered the better the parade, says William Winn, Coast Guard spokesman. "All boat clubs and boating groups in the area are invited as well as civic clubs and others," said Winn.

Additional information may be obtained by telephoning Winn at 322-5128, Leonard Pawson at 323-3543 or James Hoening at 322-3484.

The people in Sanford are really putting the engraving tool to good use... but unfortunately it cannot be said the same for those other areas, like Oviedo, Longwood, Altamonte, Geneva, etc.

It doesn't cost you a penny... you borrow the tool, engrave your valuables, you give your name and phone number onto your valuables and more than likely, if it was ever stolen... it'd be returned.

Better than that, if you do engrave your valuables, you will receive a window sticker: "We have joined operation identification. All items of value on these premises have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

No crook would even make the attempt to break into your home knowing this beforehand... Help the cops by first helping yourself!

Always a pleasure to hear and report of the "honest man"... 4th grader Jay Jessup had a check made out to "cash," which would cover the cost of his school photographs.

He lost it on the way to school.

A telephone message was relayed to Mrs. Jessup from Margaret's Grocery Store in Midway that a Red Finley (an adult) found the check while walking along the highway, stopped off at the store and asked the store clerk to please call the family and let 'em know that the check was found. My personal salute of the day... to Red Finley.

Winchester 'Rolling'

A list of 40 persons, including the reigning Miss Florida, Barbara Jo Ivy, of Winter Park, is expected to be on hand Wednesday at a celebration marking the completion of the first mobile home by Winchester Middle Homes at its new plant on Sanford Avenue in the former H. L. Hunt facility.

Miss Florida will "christen" the first home to roll-off the local production line by breaking a bottle of champagne across the front of the unit. (Related photos page 5A.)

Other dignitaries invited to participate in the ceremonies, scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., include officials with TUPTCO, a Chattanooga (Tenn.) conglomerate of which Winchester is one of 11; city, county and Chamber of Commerce representatives.

TUPTCO purchased the long-closed Hunt camping plant in September for a reported $10,000. Included in the purchase was 13.4 acres of adjacent land. An option for another 13.4 acres also was taken by TUPTCO for what is expected to be an expansion here of a new facility to be constructed later.

In addition to the Sanford operation, Winchester has two plants in Winfield, Ala.

When full production is reached, expected in mid-1972, the Sanford facility is expected to be utilizing 21 assembly lines, with an estimated 400 employees, in the 117,000 square foot plant.

New Buildings Required Three Firms Seeking Port Sites

Three firms are negotiating with the Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) to locate plants at the Port of Sanford site west of Sanford near I-4.

This was disclosed at Monday night's SCOPA meeting by port administrator James Ryan, who advised that each would require a railroad spur.

George Jackson and his son, owners of Southern Shortening, an oil supplier to bakeries, attended the meeting and indicated a desire to locate at the port site.

Jackson needs a building in which to move his present operation from Greenway Avenue to the port site to boost employment from 29 to 50 persons.

Ryan further disclosed that Wenoco Crane Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, already had submitted floor plans describing its needs for a building at the port. Plans call for immediate employment of 25 persons with additional employees to be added as business warrants.

Ryan reported that attorneys are working to formulate a lease with Atlantic ReBar Steel, which includes a loan for $170,000 from South Seminole Bank at a reported 5.78 per cent interest.

Atlantic ReBar is expected to remove to the port from Pompano Beach and reportedly will have approximately 50 to 75 workers after the initial start-up period.

In other port developments, Ryan reported the site will be faced with sewage disposal problems as the area is filled with industry. James Wagner, authority member, opined that users at the port should be the ones to pay for the expense of building a sewage disposal facility.

The board, on a motion by Henry Schumacher, approved an arrangement by which the port would transfer $5,000 from its funds to match an equal amount from the new Seminole County Industrial Development Authority and allow the industrial board to advertise for both authority.

Traffic Problem To Askew

CASSELBERRY — Appeal to Gov. Reubin Askew for immediate temporary relief for the traffic congestion at the intersection of U.S. 17-92 and SR 436 and its environs was requested by the City Council last night.

Immediate remedies suggested by the Council in a resolution ordered prepared by City Attorney Kenneth Melstosh included "but is not limited to extension of turning lanes, elimination of parking lanes, particularly on the south side of 436 west of 17-92, rephasing of the traffic signal in order that 17-92 not be favored, closing in the median opening on 436 to Lakeview Avenue to stop left hand turns there and banning of left hand turns onto Oxford Street.

Following discussion by Councilman Thomas Napier, concerning his request made over a year ago that a traffic signal be installed at Oxford Road, Mayor Curtis Blow reported installation of signals are planned at both Oxford and 436 and at Seminole Boulevard and 17-92.

Letter from Police Chief George Karcher was read to the Council showing that 260 accidents occurred at the intersection and its immediate environs in the period from January 1 through Nov. 22.

Karcher said many of the accidents were "serious ones." The chief said there were 97 accidents during the period at the intersection; 36 at 436 and Lakeview; 18 on 436 east of Oxford; 33 on 17-92 north to Piny Ridge; 20 on 17-92 south to Prairie Lake; 17 on 17-92 at Seminole Plaza and 24 on 17-92 at Wards and Public.

Although Napier insisted that published reports indicate action is to be taken soon after the first of the year on modifications of the intersection, Council Chairman Edith Durrer said complete redesign cannot be begun until additional right of way is obtained and this might take a considerable amount of time.

One candidate had blame for political unrest in the city at the door step of an out-of-county newspaper attributing statements Edward J. Candiff and Theodore Maxwell endorsing candidacy of Richard Cronshaw and William Klovsky and interfering E. E. Williamson was running with the two as a slate.

Williamson urged the city's voters to consider the qualifications of each candidate seeking election and to make their own choices without pressure from anyone. He noted that he presents any group running for office using his name. "I would hope the people of Longwood would consider my efforts on their behalf in the past and return the favor. I will do my best to work with anyone else they choose to stick," the senior member of Council stated.

Williamson at the same time said he will bring before Council at its 7 p.m. meeting today the question of whether the numerous political signs posted throughout the city, especially a large illuminated sign at the intersection of SR 434 and SR 437, are in violation of city law. "If we do not have a sign ordinance,"

Political Pot Boils In Longwood Race

LONGWOOD — The political pot was boiling over in the city today with angry statements issued to The Sanford Herald by three candidates in the Dec. 7 municipal elections and by two candidates who have withdrawn from the race.

Before Passing Sentence Jurist Weighs Each Individual

By MARION BETHIA
(With a series)
Characterized as "tough" by convicted felon Zane Clark, Circuit Judge Dominick Salvi was questioned as to the criteria in determining the sentence or probation. The judge detailed that the State Probation and Parole Department supplies the information upon which he bases his decision. Then, too, the attitude of the individual as reflected by the report is considered.
In other words, Judge Salvi considers the judge's actions speak louder than words. The individual must have a desire to change to impress the judge. Judge Salvi feels that judges are placed in a position of great power and responsibility in sentencing, and then are "not trusted to mold their judgment without restrictions to fit each individual defendant." At almost every sentencing, the judge tells the defendant that he has only two tools with which to work — jail or probation.
However, he says there is another partial tool — county jail for not more than one year with release after serving part of the term or probation. If the conditions are violated, the prisoner serves the remaining portion of the year. Drug addicts, he said, can be sent to the state hospital at Raiford.
Shock Probation
Judge Salvi disclosed he has drafted a bill which he hopes to get introduced into the next legislative session for "shock probation." This is similar to the above split sentence in which a defendant can serve a short "shock" period (30 days to six months) and then be released on probation with supervision.
However, Judge Salvi contends that the defendant will carry a vivid impression of what will happen if probation is violated. "The guy will feel," he said, "I had my chance and blew it, knowing he will return to prison for the full term. Many other states have this type of probation," the judge said, "but it is not available in Florida."
Judge Salvi, during sentencing, cogitates the matter many moments before speaking to the defendant in an "entre nous" manner. The judge said that he is often bothered with thoughts of "did I do the right thing?" "I am personally responsible for an individual's life. He is not just a number to me, but is an individual, unique," the judge poignantly mused.
"Follow Up?"
Judge Salvi was asked if he ever "follows up" the lives and fortunes of convicted felons whom he has sentenced. "No, the system doesn't permit it now; changes are needed so that we can follow up... it is axiomatic, a person becomes part of his record... we should get a feedback on what's he's doing right or wrong."
Criminal justice is process outlined by Judge Salvi in seven areas... law enforcement (sheriff, constables, city police in six municipalities); committing magistrates (county judge and justice of the peace); prosecutors (county prosecuting attorney, public defender and state attorney); court administration (counseling, clerk of the Circuit Court, jury commission); court proceedings (Juvenile court, County court, bailiffs, court clerk, Circuit Court, court reporters) court punishment (probation, county jail, state penitentiary and parole department) and finally the last "arm," the new crime laboratory.

$1 Million Damage Caused By Twister

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A twister-storm battered West Florida Monday, destroying homes, downing power lines and leveling trees in scattered areas. Damages from the tornado-like swirls were put at more than $1 million.
Hardest hit was the Englewood area on the edge of Sarasota County. Two homes were completely lost and 25-30 more damaged, said Sheriff Ross Roper.
Property damage there was estimated to be as high as $1 million. No injuries were reported as yet.
In St. Petersburg, heavy rains clogged storm sewers and driving winds tore screened Florida roofs from their bases.
In Winter Haven, a howling wind slammed into a barn where Arabian horses had been stabled over the weekend for a show. Only two horses were still there Monday, and neither was injured in the storm.
In the Lakeland area, trash cans were hurled about, strewn garbage over some neighborhoods.
A small line moved in over the state from the Gulf of Mexico, spawning the violent winds.
Twisters were reported to have touched down also in south St. Petersburg, the highland areas of Lakeland, Winter Haven and Crystal River.
Roofs were ripped free and carried hundreds of yards.
In Englewood, county prisoners were detailed to clean up debris.
Hundreds were without power or telephone service, many into late afternoon while work crews labored to restore service.

Worry Clinic By Dr. Crane

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.

CASE 5-32: Linda B., aged 11, was a patient at the dental clinic.

"Dad," our son, Daniel, began to vomit at the slightest pretext.

"In fact, I decided she even did it on purpose, just to attract more attention from her mother and my doctor."

"But I was senior student and felt I should let the professor handle the matter."

"So I called him to the chair and the very next time that Linda began to vomit, she fessor stuck his thumb under her chin."

"Then he firmly pushed upward, till her lower teeth were against the upper, saying: 'Now you swallow it!'"

"Well, Linda did!"

"And never attempted to vomit again while in my dental chair!"

Many patients in both medical and dental offices suffer from this condition.

Senior citizens likewise can turn on a lot of extra medical symptoms to gain more sympathy from relatives or neighbors.

The doctor who is called to see the sickler he appears to be, the more consternation and excitement he produces among the adults in his home.

In dentistry, many people do not see a doctor, especially if they are having an impression made for false teeth.

For the plaster often tickles the back of their throats, thus starting a gag reflex.

But the gag reflex about such things as vomiting or a squeamish stomach, the more you nauseate yourself.

My daughter, Judy, and I were once flying back to Chicago from her home in Newark, N.J.

It happened to be stormy weather, so a woman in the middle seat just two rows ahead of us suddenly cried out for a "whoopie bag."

She vomited and vomited and then she also called for whoopie bags.

The alert stewardess, seeing that this air sickness might become contagious, abruptly remonstrated the woman, saying: "You must stop that!"

Then the stewardess passed around questionnaires for all of us passengers to fill out, listing our wishes and dislikes re airplane travel.

But she was merely trying to divert the attention of the remaining passengers so they'd forget the incident in "sympathetic vomiting."

You can often control nausea by diverting your attention! (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a leg stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll call him Norm) has taken an interest in a co-worker. (A buddy-type friendship he says). She's divorced and has a child and lots of problems. For some reason, I don't trust her.

Norm says she's a good girl who dates occasionally, but if she has nothing to do on weekends, she gets bored and lonely. Anyway, Norm told her she was welcome to drop in at our house when she wanted company. (So far she hasn't taken him up on it.)

He even offered to tune up her car and change her oil.

Last Saturday he suggested that instead of just the two of us spending the evening alone, we invite this girl over to play cards with us. When I told him I enjoyed being alone with him, and didn't particularly want her, he became upset.

Abby, I am sorry this girl has problems, but we didn't cause them, and I don't think it's our place to entertain her. Also, Norm is not a garage mechanic, and I don't see why he should be tuning up her car.

Do you think I am being unreasonable?

NORM'S WIFE: Unreasonable! DEAR WIFE: Unreasonable! DEAR WIFE: Yes, she's a real need with the church for women's ministers. It would give her more time to be with their wives and families. Instead of having to devote so much time to troubled (and in some cases, comatose) women.

NOT TALKING DEAR NOT: Your suggestion makes so much sense, I'm surprised I have never been suggested before. (Or has it?)

DEAR ABBY: I read only two things in the newspaper. The obituary column and Dear Abby. (And in that order.) Why on earth did you print that cheap barroom story about the man pinning $2 to his wife's pillow and she gave him a dollar back saying she never charged anybody more than a dollar?

That story has been around since World War I. Can you honestly say you didn't know you were being had?

TIM IN WIS. DEAR TIM: If I had known I was being had, he wouldn't have had me.

DEAR ABBY: With regard to that minister who was tempted by other women because his marriage had grown cold: Following a family crisis, I took my problems to my pastor only to find that I left my heart with him. Double trouble.

Jacoby On Bridge

North's double of two clubs was one of those most negative double. It showed some high cards and asked partner to bid a new suit. East's three club called was an effort to bribe South, but he was strong enough to show his diamonds at the three level and continue to game after North bid four.

A spade lead would have upset his appeal but West made the normal club opening and continued the suit. South ruffed and proceeded to make the rest of the tricks. It wasn't really difficult. Just a successful trump finesse as a starter followed by careful play and a bonus squeeze.

South ruffed the club and led the queen of diamonds. West played low and South led the queen rief. Next came the diamond nine. West played low again and this time South was careful to win the trick in dummy with the 10 spot. Then he ruffed dummy's last club with his last trump.

He got to dummy by cashing his ace of hearts and ruffing a low heart. His contract was now in the bag but the bonus squeeze developed automatically when he played dummy's last club. The queen of diamonds, West played low and South led the queen rief.

Women Cadets

ROSEMARY M. CADETS — Women will be admitted as day students to the all-new Mexico Military Institute in the fall of 1972. It will be the first time women have been enrolled at the military school.

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1971

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when there is considerable activity because of the strong influence of the Full Moon which will cause you to work hard and to be very busy with much purpose. You can correct all that by making an intelligent plan of action for yourself and scrupulously following it.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you want to get all that your work finished properly, you had better schedule your time well with partner. Heread letters, reports, so you know they are correct. Make sure the meaning is right.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to take every measure to correct the leak and at $4 a sheet a rate is really expensive.—FRANCE

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get it over in the afternoon all those desires of a personal nature that you have today. People could get on your nerves, especially close friends, so do something about improving your health. Get fit and feel happier.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you make an impersonal study of those problems that have had you puzzled, you know just how to solve them. Assist a good friend who comes to you for help that is needed. Get to bed early tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You had better postpone that gathering with friends until a more propitious time. Concentrate on your plans for the future and take constructive steps toward them. Know where you are going and how to get there.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Take care you do not irritate anyone who has power over you and your affairs, and be sure to use wise words. Follow every rule and regulation that concerns you. Take caution now could be very expensive.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 23) Not a good day for adding to present activities, but fine for investigating new outlets. Listen to what an attractive person has to say. Don't fall for this overly glittering plan.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You have responsibilities you simply have to handle now, otherwise you are apt to get into trouble later on. Your hunches are quite off base, so do not follow through on them. Use your logic.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your associates are touchy now and an argument could ensue over some thoughtless word, so be most careful in speaking. Show that you have power, make sure you keep real promises you have made to others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better get at the work you wish only you can do and which is your own particular responsibility. You and co-workers have some differences, but don't bring them up now. Use the tactful approach.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Spend spare time at a hobby, enjoying someone that has proved satisfactory in the past. However, do not be extravagant in such. Preserve others lavishly. They deserve it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show devotion to kin at home and give them the benefit of any doubt. The man who is the cause of whatever has been causing inharmonia at home. Make some plans now for the holidays ahead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people whose mind is filled almost all the time with all kinds of ideas thoughts instead of sticking to the main issues in life.

Teach while young to have a goal and to work low at it without deviating. There can be much success for your child, instead of the proverbial rolling stone existence. A fine musician, promoter, student is indicated in his chart. Give him music lessons early.

The stars impel, they do not compel! What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

We The Women: By Betty Canary

One of the benefits of packing up and moving into another home is, I always discovered, things I had lost, forgotten or never knew I had in the first place.

While unpacking a box of books for which I never had space, I was surprised when all sorts of interesting items turned up. Right between a set of Dickens and a collection of Mad magazines was the gold charm bracelet my cousin had given me last year. It was wrapped in a red lathing suit I vaguely remember wearing.

A basket of clothespins I hadn't seen since last April was in a strange barrel, barrel I'd never seen before the most ingenious man placed it in the center of my new living room... on top of the box containing my collection of Meissen.

The guest from my son's racing bike was just no more. I wonder why I never thought of looking for them inside that looking for my fuzzy pink house slippers — the ones I haven't seen for two winters.

DEAR POLLY — I keep a stack tucked to one of my closet doors and a pad and pencil just above it. During my daily routine, as I find items to be given away to charity groups, I drop them in the bag, write what it is on the list, and the price. When a call comes, I know what is in the bag, always have something ready and do not waste time having to search for things. This also saves on house cleaning time as my closets are not nearly so messy and full of things to be discarded. Always keep a few items in most organizations do not leave them unless requested and the IRS requires a signed slip for any thing deductible.—W. H.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea. P. Zee Pevie, Polly's Problem or Solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — My pet Peeve is with manufacturers who do not pre-shrink the fabric before they make sheets. Once my contour sheets are washed, they are impossible to get back over the mattress corners unless one is a strong man in the circus. This forcing soon causes the corners to tear and at $4 a sheet a rate is really expensive.—FRANCE

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY — My new chaise longue has a plastic glass in the doors and I should not have any more trouble to clean the glass behind such grilles.—ANNE

DEAR POLLY — We had Virginia's problem of musty-tasting ice cubes in our ice-making refrigerator and solved it by combining two tricks. We lined the bottom and sides of our plastic ice cube bin with aluminum foil which seems to keep the musty taste out of the cubes themselves. We also put a couple slices of lemon and a few charcoal briquets by the ice bin to absorb the odors within the refrigerator. With this dual method we have had no further trouble.—BARB and JANE

DEAR POLLY — Virginia might try washing her ice cube trays with a solution of baking soda and water to eliminate the musty odor. Also, keep a piece of charcoal or a dish of vanilla in the box near the ice and she should not have any more trouble.—MRS. M. S.

DEAR POLLY — Perhaps Virginia does not know about the refrigerator desodorizers that can be bought just for the purpose of eliminating musty odors from her refrigerator. Also, three or four pieces of charcoal could be wrapped in very thin material, placed in a plastic bag, and placed there.—LETA

Pakistanis Claim Indians Widen Fight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The East Pakistan military command claimed Monday night that the Indian forces in the border of the rebellious province, with fighting continuing in at least two sectors.

There were no new action reports from the Indian government.

An army spokesman in Dacca, capital of East Pakistan, reported new Indian attacks in the northern Sylhet region, the Mymensingh sector in the north and in the Jessore region to the southwest. He reported "fierce fighting is continuing" at Kalamur, in the Mymensingh area, but said the Indians were repulsed with heavy casualties in Sylhet and in Jessore.

However, the spokesman reported that Indian forces in the Jessore sector had occupied the town of Jibannagar, widening the front there and threatening Pakistani control of 163 square miles of territory that struts into India.

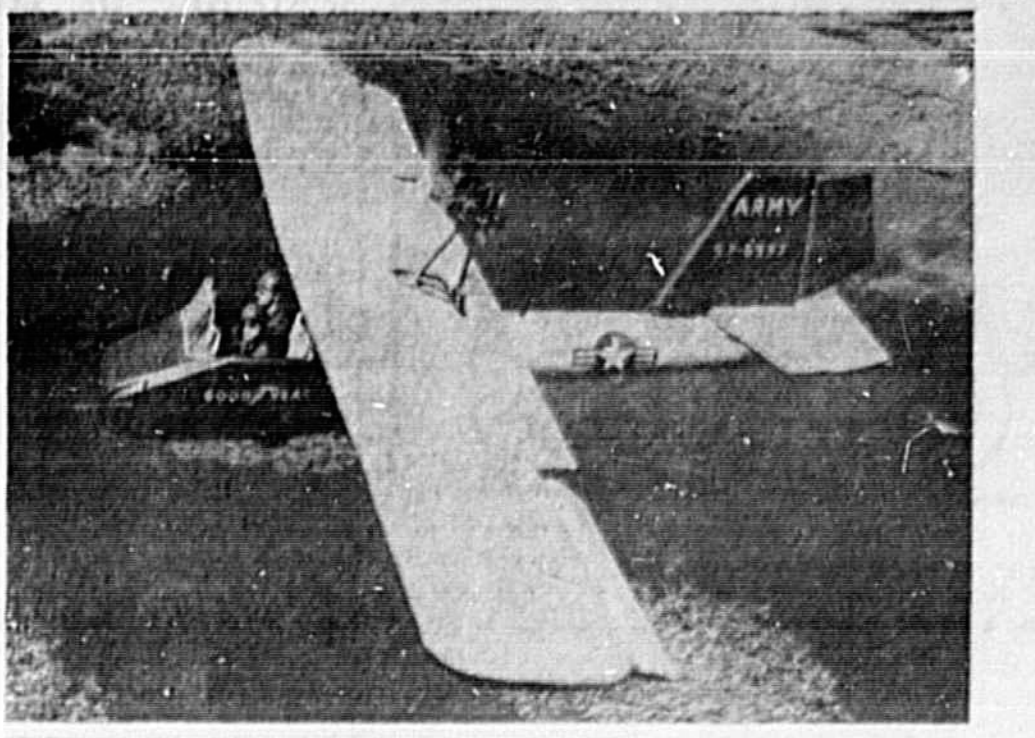

He also claimed that a three-prong attack launched Sunday in the Dinajpur region, on the northwest border, had been contained on two sides, but said a fierce battle continued on the third.

India has admitted some of its troops have been fighting in East Pakistan but claims they have crossed the border only to defend themselves after an attack by the Pakistanis. The Indians claim that most of the fighting is being done by East Pakistani rebels trying to wrest control of the province from the central government of President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan.

The fighting began March 25 when Yahya's troops entered East Pakistan in force in an attempt to crush a movement for autonomy.

Yahya requested Sunday that U.N. observers be posted on the Pakistani side of East Pakistan's border to report any frontier violations by India, the Pakistani government reported.

Inside East Pakistan, Bengali villagers claimed the Pakistani army has wiped out several vil-

Left, component parts are spread out for the inflating operation, which one or two men can handle in about six minutes. When fully inflated, it is 19.2 feet long, has a 28-foot wing span. A 60-horsepower engine powers a wooden propeller for a cruising speed of 60 knots for 5 1/2 hours. If it tests out the collapsed inflatable will be carried in conventional planes for emergency use.

Money Experts Meeting

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP) — The richest nations of Western Europe responded today along with Canada and Japan to a U.S. proposal to resolve the worst international monetary crisis since World War II.

Initial French reactions were that Washington had offered nothing new.

The United States offered Monday to drop the 10 per cent import surcharge President Nixon imposed Aug. 15 if the other nations of the Group of Ten revalued their currencies upward by an average of 11 per cent, including 20 per cent for the Japanese yen, 15 per cent for the West German mark and less for the other currencies.

The U.S. proposal was presented by Paul A. Volcker, treasury undersecretary for monetary affairs, at a preliminary meeting that opened the three-day conference of the non-Communist world's strong trading powers.

Finance ministers of Britain and the European Common Market were meeting first today to chart a response to the American proposal. Then in the afternoon, U.S. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally was to preside at what could be a crucial session of the finance ministers of the Group of Ten: the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Japan, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden and Canada.

It was the first time in 3 1/2 months of deadlock that an American settlement package containing specific figures was on the table.

There was no indication of any softening of the U.S. refusal to devalue the dollar in terms of gold, a key demand of the Europeans and the Japanese. But the U.S. delegation was reported to view the proposal as a reasonable compromise since it retreated from earlier suggestions for higher revaluations averaging 15 per cent.

Hunt Ends For Rich Skyjacker

WOODLAND, Wash. (AP) — An airplane hijacker has vanished with two parachutes and $200,000, and the search for him has ended for all but the FBI.

A University of Washington sociologist calls the skyjacker an "awesome feat in the battle of man against the machine."

Dr. Otto Larsen said the skyjacker apparently has won public admiration as "one man overcoming, for the time being anyway, technology, the corporation, the establishment, the system."

Thus, Larsen said, the hijacker "comes off as a kind of curious Robin Hood, taking from the rich—or at least the big and complex. It doesn't matter whether he gives it to the poor or not."

FBI officials in Portland, Ore., and Seattle say they will continue their pursuit of the man who apparently bailed out of the hijacked Northwest Airlines jetliner last week as it flew from Seattle to Reno, Nev.

But local law enforcement agencies have turned to other chores.

"There's nothing new and we've taken our men off unless something else turns up," a spokesman for the Clark County, Wash., sheriff's office said Monday of the search for the hijacker in the brushy, timbered Cascade Mountain foothills of southwest Washington.

The FBI continued questioning dozens of persons who believed they recognized a composite sketch of the hijacker, but the investigators reported no success in finding a definite lead.

Officials said they had concentrated the search around Woodland because the jetliner's flight recorder had indicated small shifts in the plane's air position as it passed over the area.

Law enforcement officers searching for the hijacker were faced with three major disadvantages—surprise, piecemeal evidence and the meticulous planning which apparently went into the deed, the first involving the escape of a hijacker by parachute.

The air pirate seized control of the plane Thanksgiving Eve, passing a note to stewardess Florence Schaffner which said he had a bomb and would blow up the plane unless he got what he wanted.

His demands—bizarre at the outset—in retrospect provided an insight into the careful planning which apparently went into his operation.

He asked for $200,000, which he received in $20 bills, and for two parachutes. And he said he wanted to go to Mexico.

The plane circled over Seattle for 2 1/2 hours while the money and parachutes were obtained.

Nixon To Peking Confab Feb. 21

By GAYLORD SHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold separate talks with the leaders of France, Britain, West Germany, Japan and Canada. White House officials say these meetings, all announced within the past week, are intended to collect allied views prior to the Peking and Moscow trips.

Ziegler, after reading Monday's statement, harked back to Nixon's bombshell announcement July 15 that the China trip was being arranged.

He noted that Nixon said then the purpose of the meeting "is to seek the normalization of relations between the two countries and also to exchange views on questions of concern to the two sides."

Nixon also said he will anticipate the Peking trip will be "a very busy, working visit" and that "ceremonious... will be at an absolute minimum."

In the weeks ahead, another team of White House officials is expected to fly to mainland China to work out remaining technical details for the president's trip. Contrary to some published and broadcast reports, Ziegler said Monday that preparations for Nixon's visit "continue to go well."

It followed a week of announcements about a series of presidential summit meetings in December and January with allied leaders.

The Peking trip will come about three months before Nixon travels to Moscow in late May for talks with Soviet leaders. He will be

After American, Chrysler Ford Wins Price Hike OK For '72 Vehicles

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has become the third big auto maker to win approval of a price hike from the Price Commission.

In approving the 2.9 per cent hike for 1972 Ford cars, trucks and optional equipment Monday, the panel also put large public utilities on notice their rate increases are subject to rollback.

Utilities with annual revenues of $50 million or more were to report to the commission when they ask for increases from state regulatory bodies.

Even if a regulatory agency approves an increase, the commission said it "reserves the right to reduce the rates if necessary."

The panel said utility rates "would be eyed carefully for inflationary trends, though expansion to meet future power and service needs would be allowed."

In other business, the commission for the first time denied a price increase on grounds that a firm's profits have been too high to allow it.

Though Oscar Meyer Co. had asked approval of a modest 1.31 per cent price rise, the commission said when compared with the base period, the company's pre-1970 freeze profit margins were sufficient to cover added production costs.

But productivity costs for Ford, the commission ruled, were sufficient to permit an increase. The company had originally asked an okay for a 2 per cent hike, but upped the figure to 4.4 per cent before the commission acted.

Among the other auto makers, American Motors has won approval of a 2 1/2 per cent increase and Chrysler a 4.5 per cent hike, Chrysler said, however, it would raise prices only 2 per cent.

The commission has yet to be heard from on a 3 per cent price increase proposed by General Motors, the nation's largest car maker.

Meanwhile, there were other economic developments:

—Pay Board Chairman George H. Boldt telegraphed congratulations to two Cincinnati union locals for turning down pay increases they were to receive Dec. 1. "The patriotic self-restraint displayed in your action is most commendable," Boldt said.

—The Civil Aeronautics Board said airlines may again begin asking for approval for fare increases. The board had stopped accepting rate-hike requests Aug. 17.

Nixon Puts Pressure On Congress

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Powerful House and Senate Democrats viewed President Nixon's threatened veto of a pending tax bill as a velvet glove attempt to knock out campaign financing and tax relief provisions Nixon said he finds unacceptable.

Now the conference committee must iron out the differences before the measure goes to the President and a possible veto.

One change backed by the debt-ridden Democratic party would allow individuals to elect mark 51 of their income taxes to finance presidential campaigns. It would help both parties, but it is not needed as badly "ballooned" the federal budget.

The bill—a part of Nixon's new economic program—has been cleared in varying forms from the House and Senate and is now under consideration by a joint conference committee.

The House version was reportedly acceptable to the White House, but Senate Democrats added a number of provisions Nixon said he finds unacceptable. Now the conference committee must iron out the differences before the measure goes to the President and a possible veto.

Nixon met for three hours Monday with his chief Capitol Hill lobbyist Clark MacGregor, who emerged to tell newsmen that amendments tacked on the original $26 million bill would "ballooned" the federal budget.

Winter Fuel Shortage May Close Industries

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief White House overseer of the nation's fuel supplies says some major industrial plants could be forced to close down this winter because of severe natural gas shortages.

Fred Weinhold, energy specialist for the White House Office of Science and Technology, said in an interview that the heating requirements of homes and such institutions as hospitals will be met.

But, Weinhold said, some major industrial customers who buy gas on an interruptible, or "when-available" basis, are going to face major curtailment.

In a cold winter, it could go beyond that and affect some firm industrial customers who have contracts guaranteeing delivery, he said.

The energy specialist, who receives and reviews reports from other agencies and who sits on a joint board on fuel supplies, said the nation appears to have sufficient stocks of coal and industrial and home fuel oil as winter arrives.

It's with natural gas, he said, that "we're in the tightest spot."

His assessment follows a Federal Power Commission report Saturday that the country as a whole appears to have sufficient electrical power reserves to meet winter demands.

If you haven't been catching the specks that you would like to, try fishing in Lake Moore, Lake Jessup or Lake Harney. Drifting out in the middle of these three lakes has produced a lot of nice size specks.

The sea-walk fishermen have been having good luck while fishing from the bank with live Missouri minnows. A lot of big size specks are being caught.

The bass fishing really picked up in the river especially around the Osteen Bridge and the Woodruff Creek areas. The bass have been biting live shiners, the flouger lymer, and the mirror lure while casting close to the shore line.

The bass fishing in the Wekiva River has been excellent with a lot of fine catches being caught in at the Camp Seminole fishing camp and surrounding grounds. Most of the bass that are caught are medium size with some running up to eight pounds in weight.

The ducks are getting more plentiful in the local area with some nice hunting in the old river area behind Grand Park. Another good area for coots and ducks is in the Brick Yard Slough area and on both sides of the Osteen Bridge up in the sloughs.

George Mullins of Sanford killed a nice size buck while hunting in Farnham. The deer was a six pointer and it weighed 340 pounds dressed.

Tommy Tomlinson brought back a nice hog and his brother-in-law, R. L. Robinson Jr., killed a buck during a recent hunting trip to Lake City. He also brought back some TALL, tall about the mud holes he took his Scout through... and I do mean TALL... get the shovels gang.

Raiders In Action At 8 P.M.

'International' Basketball Here Tonight

The Seminole Junior College Raiders, without the talents of their leading scorer and rebounder, take to the hardwood tonight as they host Marquette of the French West Indies in an 8 p.m. contest at the Seminole High gym. The visiting squad is an Olympic team from that city. The game is being made possible through the sponsorship of the United States Bank of Seminole. The bank is underwriting the cost of bringing the team to Sanford to play the Raiders.

FTU Knights Host McDill In Opener

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Writer

Gene "Tochy" Clark will unveil his 1971-72 Florida Technological University basketball team tonight when the Knights host the Fibyboys of McDill Air Force Base.

Tonight's contest as well as Tech home games is scheduled to start at 8 p.m. at the Lake Highland Gymnasium.

Despite a valiant effort on the part of the Tech coaching crew to round up some taller personnel in the "off season" the current crop of roundballers will bear a close resemblance to that of last year, with a few exceptions.

Clark plans to utilize the overall speed of his club and that means he will go with the smaller members of the squad.

However should the need arise Clark will have much more weight to call upon than he did during last season when his floor men compiled a 17-8 mark in the initial collegiate campaign.

Tonight's starting lineup will have only two players over six feet tall but those two are real leapers.

At 6-7 Eddie Fluitt is the tallest started Tech has ever had. Fluitt is a Junior from Lake Sumter College and figures to be a key man in the plans of Coach Clark.

Zettie McCrimmon is the other "big man" in the Tech starting lineup stretching all the way up to 6-3. While he is only 6-3 McCrimmon, a former Valencia Junior College fish, is an excellent rebounder and should lend a great deal of help under the boards. In addition to his rebounding ability McCrimmon is also a fine shooter.

Old reliable Mike Clark, starting his third year at Tech, will hold one of the backcourt positions. The 6-6 junior has all of the Tech scoring records including a healthy 37 point scoring average from last year. In his two years Clark has gone over the 1,000 point mark in scoring.

The deceptive speed and quickness of Clark made him the outstanding scorer that he is. While he poses tremendous driving ability Clark also has a deadly shooting eye from anywhere on the court.

Mathis was the center on last year's team but has been ousted by Fluitt and will be used as a forward and guard mostly. He may also be used as a sub for Fluitt.
