Kidnap Suspect Is Held

Monday night abductionrobbery of a Sanford woman and her daughter has been recovered in Daytona Beach near the scene of a similar kidnap-robbery last night and a juvenile suspect in both cases is being held on multiple felony charges.

Sanford Police Detective Sgt. Edward Hughes, contacted in Daytona just before noon today, confirmed that the white and orange camper van that a man took after kidnaping Mrs. Margaret Mergo and her 15year-old daughter, Regina, and robbing them was found near Bellair Plaza shopping center at Daytona.

A 16-year-old runaway Monroe, N.Y., boy is being held at the Daytona Beach Juvenile Detention Center on charges of armed robbery, kidnaping, use of a firearm in commission of a felony, auto theft and possession of stolen property, authorities said.

The youth was captured by Volusia Sheriff's deputies in a wooded area off I-95 north of Davtona after two women, kidnaped last night in a bookstore robbery at Bellair Plaza, were released unharmed by a young man armed with a knife and a pistol.

Deputies said a van stolen from the Daytona kidnaprobbery scene was recovered at a motel near where the juvenile was captured. Sgt. Hughes said the juvenile

Goal Now To Fill Post In Two Weeks Commission Presses Effort To Hire Assistant

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday night put its efforts to hire an executive assistant into high gear by voting to fill the $19,000-$25,000 position

Commissioners Richard Williams asked that someone be hired within two weeks after the a pistol and robbed the store of commission voted to advertise for a $16,500-a-year personnel manager and a $13,000-a-year assistant. initially a consensus among commissioners was to fill the assistant's position by promoting Commissioner John Kimbrough's secretary, Mrs. Sandy Goard. The Board's rationale was that Mrs. Goard had sufficient experience in labor relations to handle the county's labor problems since she has performed labor relations-related tasks while working for Kimbrough, the board's liaison commissioner for labor relations. But Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, the board's liaison for personnel, announced earlier Tuesday that the county will advertise for both the director of personnel and an assistant.

for the personnel assistant, he said the county should "do something" about hiring the new executive assistant even "if it's wrong."

NATION IN BRIEF Reagan In New Hampshire

In Bid For Nomination By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan is winding up his first 1976 campaign trip through the icy New Hampshire countryside after telling voters on the ski slopes and in country churches that his plan to cut the federal budget by $90 billion won't require new state taxes. Reagan, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, leaves New Hampshire today for North Carolina, another of the nation's early presidential primary states. As Reagan toured New Hampshire, President Ford remained in Washington and Sen. Henry M. Jackson opened his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in Massachusetts.

Teachers Strike In 3 States

By The Associated Press Some 100,000 pupils in three states were out of school today because of teacher strikes. About 4,400 teachers and their aides remained on strike in the 62,000-pupil Pittsburgh school system after intensive negotiations failed to end their five-week-old walkout. Allegheny County Judge Donald E. Ziegler was scheduled to decide today whether the teachers are in contempt of court for refusing to obey his order to return to the classrooms.

Striking teachers also remained off the job in Madison, Wis., and in the Minnesota communities of Sauk Centre and Faribault.

Only Few Sought Clemency

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Presidential Clemency Board says its program will bring about "national reconciliation," but the American Civil Liberties Union calls the program "vindictive" and the board's final report "a whitewash." The final report of the board that judged the cases of men accused of desertion or draft evasion during the Vietnam era was made public Tuesday by the ACLU. That report showed that of 113,337 men eligible, only 21,729 applied and only 14,514 received outright pardons or pardons conditioned on completion of varied periods public service work.

Car Sales Records Plummet

DETROIT (AP) - Despite an improved economy and a spurt in the new-car market during the fourth quarter, the nation's auto makers close the books on 1975 today with their worst sales reports in more than a decade. Year-end sales figures to be released today will confirm that consumer appetites for new domestic cars were the poorest since 1962, industry analysts say. A public craving for low prices and high fuel economy, however, provided a boom for imports, which withstood a sales lull in the waning months of 1975 to log their third best year in history and carve out a record share of the U.S. market, the analysts say,

CIA Agent Buried

WASHINGTON (AP) - Two weeks after he was murdered by three masked gunmen, Richard S. Welch, the CIA station chief in Athens, was buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

President Ford, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger -and CIA Director William E. Colby attended funeral services Tuesday at the modern brick and glass chapel at Ft. Myer, adjacent to the cemetery.

Ford's presence marked the first time a president had attended a funeral for a CIA agent. Such funerals normally are low-key ceremonies held without publicity.

Watergate Appeals Heard

WASHINGTON (AP) - Robert C. Mardian was there. H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John N. Mitchell weren't, although all the legal talk was about their joint trial in the Watergate cover-up case.

It was more a reunion of their lawyers, arguing Tuesday before the U.S. Court of Appeals why their onvictions should not be allowed to stand.

It is likely to be three months or more before the court rules. Meanwhile, the four men will remain free as they have been since the jury returned its verdict on New Year's Day 1975.

'Drive To Go' Proves Fatal For Mentally Retarded Man

MIAMI (AP) - "It was just a drive to go," a mental institution official says of a profoundly retarded 20-year-old who insisted on wandering into a world he could not understand. An intense four-day search for the young man ended

Tuesday. His body was found floating face down in a rock "That had been his behavior ever since he was a child," Tom Sullivan, director of the Miami Sunland Training

Man Sentenced To Death

JACKSONVILLE (AP) - Twenty-eight-year-old Richard Henry Gibson, whose criminal record began at age 15, has been sentenced to electrocution for the May 10, 1974 murder of a Brazilian seaman.

Circuit Court Judge Susan Black issued the death sentence Tuesday. He also gave Gibson life imprisonment for robbery in the incident which resulted in the fatal shooting of antonio Cymbo, 47. Police said Cymbo and a companion were lured to a secluded spot by two women operating under Gibson's direction. The other man was shot, but recovered.

A jury that convicted Gibson in November recommended death by a 7-5 vote. Florida law gives the judge final say on a capital offense.

He said New York's now-passed threat to default on bonds has caused investors to be more careful in investing in government bonds. He added New York City will be selling few bonds in the next two years, making more money available for Florida.

JACKSONVILLE (AP) - Presidential candidate Frank Ahern of New Orleans, who proposes three or more vice presidents to help run the country, is on his way to New Hampshire after an informal campaign swing through Florida.

While campaigning in Florida, Ahern played up his U.S. Marine Corps World War II service by wearing a Marine cap and driving a red, white and blue station wagon.

Irish Protestant Leaders Threaten Offensive, Strike

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) - Protestant leaders are threatening a military offensive against the Irish Republican Army and a general strike in retaliation for the ambush killing of 10 Protestant workmen in the South Armagh area.

Militant Protestants met Tuesday with Merlyn Rees, the British government's secretary for Northern Irgland, but he rejected their demands that the government crack down on the IRA in South Armagh, a stronghold of the Roman Catholic guerrillas.

Glen Barr of the Loyalist Army Council, which claims to have 80,000 armed Protestants in paramilitary organizations, told newsmen, "Unless Rees can come up with something, the paramilitarists will have to go on the offensive."

Collapse Called Imminent

ROME (AP) - The collapse of Italy's 37th postwar government appeared imminent today as the Socialist party prepared to withdraw its support from Premier Aldo Moro's 13-month-old minority coalition of Christian Democrats and Republicans.

The Socialist executive committee was meeting today and Thursday to approve a recommendation from party leader Francesco de Martino that the party desert the government and demand a new "emergency" administration

The Socialist defection would leave Moro assured of only 310 votes in the 630-member Chamber of Deputies, six short of a majority.

Goldbloom added that if circumstances force postponement, Montreal should be given additional time to complete facilities rather than have the Games shifted to an alternate site such as Mexico.

The Central Intelligence Agency is taking a lot of criticism these days, much of it undeserved. What's to be done? There is no quick and easy answer. But the CIA controversy will have served a constructive purpose if it results in a better understanding throughout government and throughout the country on the proper role of a secret foreign intelligence agency under the Constitution.

The criticism is misdirected to the extent that the CIA acted most if not all of the time with full knowledge and under authority of an incumbent president. When a president didn't know what the CIA was up to it was because he didn't want to know.

The CIA has been exposed to criticism that should really be directed at the people who made policy for the CIA.

The in maters

Moreover, the criticism has fed upon itself. The press, like a pack of baying hounds, has pursued the quarry. Presidential candidates, confident of their own righteousness, have condemned past actions of the agency.

What remains is the problem of making the CIA more responsible to the ideals of a selfgoverning democracy while keeping it effective. No small problem.

our intelligence operations, including the National Security Agency and the agencies in the Defense Department, which have larger staffs and spend more money than the CIA, and the smaller State Department intelligence operation.

The National Security Act of 1947, which established the CIA, was too vague and gave Congress no supervisory responsibility. The Central Intelligence Act of 1949 allowed the CIA to conceal its spending in the budget, an un constitutional provision.

A new, more specific law is needed. It should specify what the CIA can and cannot do in peacetime and in wartime. It should establish a clear line of authority and responsibility, requiring the incumbent president to be fully informed. I should strengthen congressional oversight procedures.

We are going to continue to need a foreign intelligence agency. It must have an operational capability in addition to its normal fact-finding capability. Some covert actions are going to be necessary. To pretend otherwise is to be naive. But in a free self-governing country, a people must bind down their government tightly when giving it the power to take secret actions.

Same Old Tune

Cuba, says Fidel Castro, does not need anything from the United States. The feeling is mutual. While liberals in our country have been wracking their brains to find some reason for burying the hatchet with Castro, the Cuban dictator has now saved them the trouble. As he made clear to his first Communist Party Congress in Havana recently, he doesn't want it buried. Actually, President Ford beat him to the punch by pointing out that any opportunity for improved relations with Havana had been scuttled by Castro's sending troops to Angola. The U.S. government had been waiting for some signal from Havana that Castro was ready to make a change in policy as a basis for ending the 15-year-freeze in U.S.-Cuban relations, Instead, we have seen evidence that the Moscow-Havana military partnership is as solid as ever, and that the export of Castroite revolution is still the guiding spirit of Cuban foreign policy. To drive home the latter point, Castro has declared that Puerto Rico is now a prime target for his international mischief. Fidel Castro's brand of politics was identified as a disease worthy of quarantine soon after he came to power. Some nations in the Western Hemisphere have decided the disease has run its course and is no longer dangerous. They may now be willing to entertain some second thoughts.

According to Charles O. DeWitt, IRS director for Florida, nearly one-half of Florida's 3.1 million individual taxpayers are receiving the short form, "due to changes brought about by the Tax Reduction Act."

The standard deduction is now 16 per cent with a maximum of $2,600 for married persons filing jointly ($1,300 for married persons filing separately) and $2,300 for single persons. Believe it or not, motorcycle deaths in Florida show a decline for the first 11 months of 1975, according to the Florida Highway Patrol. In releasing preliminary figures for the period January through November, 1975, Col. Eldridge Beach, director of the patrol, said, "This reduction of 22 motor cycle deaths is extremely encouraging to us, especially when added to the 10 per cent decrease in over-all traffic fatalities."

Records show that the majority of fatal crashes involving motorcycles occur in rural areas and that this holds true in the over-all traffic picture. Improper action on the part of the driver of the larger cars and trucks, who usually say they did not see the smaller motorcycle, results in many of these motorcycle-versus-automobile fatal crashes. Every motorcycle rider should be aware of state law which requires riders to wear helmets and eveshields in addition to keeping their headlights burning at all times when the motorcycle is being operated.

school's basketball team almost pulled off the major upset of its history Tuesday night before falling to a furous comeback by Evans, 63-61.

Talk about runabouts! Well, that's the kind of game it was, as Lyman opened leads of 24 and 21 points before the Trojans used a full-court press, some allish defensive tactics and lenty of savvy to spoil what looked like a decisive win for he Greyhounds.

The affair was finally decided Chico Dawkins, baby brother of NBA player Darryl Dawkins. swished through both halves of a one-and-one situation. It was many minutes after he crowd had left before the dounds' head coach. Rick steinke, was able to answer uestions put to him by the Steinke politely answered all e querries but kept coming back to one central theme - "I love these kids."

"They went out and played their hearts out for me tonight. and I love them for it. They deserved better than they got. We weren't supposed to win one, Evans is ranked among the top 10 in the state. And all we are is Lyman, not basketball program.

"When I first came here to Lyman we lost by 52 points to this team. Then we lost by 40. Last year we got beat by 30 and 40. But right now we are as good as they are. All Evans has over us now is tradition. That's Lyman wasn't supposed to win the game, but it should have. Deep into the third period the Hounds had opened up a 21point lead, 53-32, but after that they were outscored 31-8. In fact, the Hounds could only produce four points in the entire ourth period.

And that is part of the controversy that raged during and after the game.

Evans Coach Pennington felt it was "a good press that got us back into the game. We used a combination man-to-man, doubling the ball and leaving the man passing it in alone, and a zone trap and it worked."

Steinke agreed, saying "the press beat us." But he lisagreed with the way it was applied. "Evans was just too physical with the press for us. Their men were all over ours but the refs didn't call all the fouls I would have liked them

The Lyman mentor was diplomatic in his comments about the officials, something many other Lyman fans weren't. Phrases like, "They (refs) lost control of the game." And, "They will never be back here again," were heard all over the court after the game. Steinke refused to comment on the job the officials did and instead only would say, "that's just sour grapes. All I want to talk about my kids and how they played until they got cramps in their legs from hustling for me."

The cramps that Steinke referred to were in the legs of senior, Clyde Hudson, who so he could finish.

Another big discussion centered around the fact that one of the officials apparently called "time out" after Wright was fouled with the score deadlocked and one second left to play. An Evans player had asked for the time out before he was told by Pennington that they had used all five of them up. (If time is called illegally it results in a technical foul against the team). "Our boy did ask for time."

Pennington admitted.

Cholesterol Factors Vary

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - I wish you would comment on the enclosed column by a man who claims the theory that you should limit your cholesterol intake is all bunk. Note he eats as many as two dozen eggs a week, drinks a quart of milk a day, avoids low cholesterol foods and still has a very low cholesterol level. Is he right and, if so, why can't all of us eat a high cholesterol diet?

DEAR READER - The column you sent me does a disservice to the public. The man evidently is not a scientist nor a physician and has used his own case to try to disprove the work done on literally thousands of people by well trained scientists. One case of anything doesn't prove very much and the poorest example of all is your own case.

He is wrong when he asks why the nation's heart attack rate hasn't decreased with the 'nationwide near hysteria over lowering cholesterol." If he were better informed he would know that it has. It would probably decrease even further if more people quit smoking, remained physically active, eliminated or avoided obesity and avoided excess intake of high-fat highcholesterol foods.

He is right in assuming that ereditary factors are important. We know perfectly well that some people can eat highfat, high-cholesterol diets and not have high blood olesterol levels. These inlividuals inherit a different body chemistry than the rest of the population. Some racial groups such as the Masai are good examples of hereditary protection against high cholesterol and its complications of heart disease. Also most women in their childbearing age span have low blood cholesterol levels despite what they eat. He is certainly not a trailblazer with that news.

Dr. Lamb

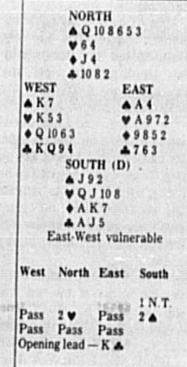

The point that high cholesterol levels may be caused by your genes is no argument at all for ignoring its significance any more than one with diabetes should ignore diet because diabetes is hereditary. The simple facts are that people who do have high cholesterol levels can often lower them through dietary means, which includes limiting calories to correct or eliminate obesity, fat, saturated fat and cholesterol. If the writer had ever treated patients with these problems he would have had a broad enough experience to have made a more balanced presentation to the public. On a case to case basis those of us who have seen what diet does to people with high cholesterol levels know that diet is an important factor in treating such

These patients with high cholesterol levels are different animals than the young columnist who has an experience level of one case.

Young women, children and those with normal cholesterol levels need not be so restrictive with their diet. But such individuals need regular checks to be sure the cholesterol level remains normal. Perhaps when the young writer is in his mid 40s, if he doesn't keep his weight down. he will need to change his life style - if he still has the five spades. One real advantage of the transfer bid is that you can transfer with a bad hand. Thus, North responds two hearts. South rebids two spades.
