Parisians Pay Homage To Ruth Elder As She Places Wreath On Soldier's Grave

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Appearing for the first time in fame garments, in contrast to the white knickers and sweater which have comprised her wardrobe since she left America, Miss Ruth Elder this morning placed a wreath on the tomb of France's unknown soldier.

A crowd of 500 persons greeted Ruth enthusiastically when she reached the Arc de Triomphe, accompanied by Mayor Yvot, American military attaché, M. Vialon, members of the American Aero-nautic Society.

The American girl, who has captivated the heart of Paris in the short time she has been here was charming in an almond green dress, brown fur coat on which was pinned a white orchid, gray silk stockings and black pumps.

The wreath was borrowed, however, from Mrs. Yvot and as soon as the ceremony at the tomb was over Ruth hurried back to the hotel Loto and demanded when she reached her room:

"When do I get these Paris kisses?"

As a result, plans were made for an immediate shopping tour, at the end of which the girl flew to

MOTTY STOICAL AS COPS GRILL HIM IN MURDER

Prisoner Sits Through Third Degree Calm. And Unemotional Although Officers Confront Him With Bodies

Accused Is Held In "Inquisition" Cell

Man Declares He Had Nothing To Do With Murders And Lays Blame On Brother

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Joseph Motty, whose wife and sister-in-law were found dismembered and their bodies dismembered and stuffed into two trunks, was today calmly resting in the "Spanish inquisition" cell of the third precinct police station in a wing which was originally a Spanish prison.

Although subjected to a grueling "third degree" by police last night, he sat calm and unemotional as officers dangled the head of his wife and sister-in-law before his face, or thrust an arm or limb at him for identification. He showed less emotion over the scene than some of the police officers who took part in it.

Motty was taken from his cell in the police station last night to the morgue where the two dismembered bodies lay. Police examined and cross examined for three hours in an effort to make him break down and confess.

He was seen today in a disheveled and a haggard, was found on the roof of a one-story extension to the rear of the hotel. He had registered last night as "M. E. Green, Passaic, N. J." But investigation indicated that this is not her name. The police believe she is Mildred Nash, of Milford, Mass.

"Mildred, please forgive me," said a man found on her dresser. "You know I do not love Huddie, and the New York life is driving me mad."

The girl's note to her mother also read:

"Please be a favor and have Mac call Wong King in West 70 Street, New York City. If Mac cannot get Dr. ——— or Dr. ——— (another name could be deciphered) on the telephone, "Joe is a bootlegger and they know him here."

"Mother, please forgive me but also please forgive Bill King." The note was unsigned.

Detectives found in the room a partly empty whiskey bottle. King was located in an apartment in West Seventeenth street.

He implied that his name be not mentioned in connection with the tragedy.

"I wouldn't say a thing against the girl's character," he said. "I know her by another name. Green is not her name."

Sleep Silent After Visiting White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(INS)—One of President Coolidge's most persistent "drafters" emerged from the White House today after a conference with the chief executive with "nothing to say."

C. Hascom Sloop, former White House secretary, who has vied with Senator Fess of Ohio, in predicting the nomination of Mr. Coolidge, was the man. Sloop declined to discuss Republican politics in any way, and he did not reiterate his frequent assertion that Mr. Coolidge would be the candidate.

Sloop did discuss Democratic politics to the extent of saying that Governor Harry Byrd of Virginia was "a fine man," but he didn't think he had a chance at the presidential nomination.

Broadway Tragedy Enacted As Broken-Hearted Young Woman Jumps To Her Death After Writing Pathetic Note

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Another tragedy of Broadway, the death of a beautiful and broken-hearted young woman, was enacted today when a model, wearing a pathetic note to "darling mother," and then jumped from the eighth floor of the Knickerbocker hotel. She was instantly killed.

The body, clad only in a silk slip and a brassiere, was found on the roof of a one-story extension to the rear of the hotel. She had registered last night as "M. E. Green, Passaic, N. J." But investigation indicated that this is not her name. The police believe she is Mildred Nash, of Milford, Mass.

HOOVER BOOM GAINS FAVOR IN RECENT MOVES

Secretary Of Commerce Given "Clegg Bill Of Health" In Charges That He Was Responsible For Fixing Price

Brown's Appointment Generally Approved

Ohman's Selection As Assistant To Hoover Is Believed To Be Wise Political Move

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The forces that are backing Herbert Hoover for the Republican nomination for the presidency next year have just made two moves that are regarded by capital politicians as of more than passing significance.

One is the "acquittal" of Hoover of the charge, frequently made and widely accepted in the mid-west, that he was responsible for fixing the maximum price of wheat during the war. The general insurance among mid-western wheat growers that Hoover was responsible for limiting their profits at a time when other commodities were soaring has been one of the influences the Hoover managers have found most difficult to combat.

The other move that Washington has retarded with quickened interest is the appointment of Walter F. Brown of Toledo, an assistant secretary of commerce. Brown is a former chairman of the Republican state committee in Ohio. He left the party in the Bull Moose revolt in 1912, was progressive state chairman, and then returned to the fold and was influential in the Harding campaign of 1920. He is accounted by his friends and opponents alike as "an able politician."

Brown has not definitely accepted the appointment as yet, but it has been offered him and he is considering it. The political railbirds of the capital see in the offer some deep down political strategy, for as an assistant to Hoover the Hoover would be in a position to give constant counsel and advice. He knows politics in many states outside Ohio.

The acquittal of Hoover of the charge of "limiting the farmers' profits during the war years was accomplished by an inquiry addressed to Dr. Harry A. Garfield, chairman of the fair price committee in 1917, by the Kansas City Star. The query addressed to Dr. Garfield was, in effect: "Just what did Herbert Hoover have to do with fixing the price of wheat in 1917-18-19?"

The answer, in effect, was: "Nothing."

"Mr. Hoover, at his express wish," said Dr. Garfield, "took no part in the deliberations of the committee on whose recommendation I determined the government's fair price, nor was he in any way intimidated or influenced by anyone."

Notorious Bootlegger Sought In Wreck Plot

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 29.—(INS)—A notorious bootlegger whose name was not divulged is sought today by railroad officers on a charge of conspiracy to wreck the Kansas City-Florida special, crack Frisco passenger train, last week.

Two youths, Teddy White, 17, and Harlin Morris, 19, who have confessed the attempt to wreck the train charge in their confessions that the bootlegger was to give them jobs selling whiskey if they would show their nerve in wrecking the train or doing something as desperate.

Governor Balks At Calling Militia On Coal Men's Request

2 DEAD, 9 MISSING IN SHIP COLLISION IN CAPE COD FOG

Colorado Executive Is To Issue No Call Unless Authorities Of District Request It

Bombing Airplanes Brought Into Play

More Than 1,000 Men Thrown Out Of Employment In Strike

DENVER, Oct. 29 (INS)—Governor William H. Adams today declared he will not sign an order mobilizing the National Guard, dispatching more than 1,000 armed militiamen into the southern Colorado coal fields, unless district authorities call upon the state for aid in maintaining order.

Three bombing planes of the guard are already zooming over the strike-infested area, and officers and enlisted men have completed all arrangements for immediate mobilization.

Declaring that illegal picketing in the Walsenburg and Trinidad districts had resulted virtual paralysis of the mine industry, coal operators, railroad heads and business leaders have urged the governor to send troops into the district because they declared, the existing coal shortage threatened to raise havoc with all industries in Colorado.

Already more than 1,000 men have been thrown out of work at the Pueblo steel plant of the Colorado Fields and Iron Company as the result of curtailed receipts of coal shipments.

Continued warm weather had prevented any suffering, although there is only a small supply of coal on hand in Denver for domestic purposes.

A ray of hope for settlement of the strike, called on Oct. 18, by leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, was seen today in the award of the State Industrial Commission of an increase of 50 cents per day—to $0.77—in the basic wages of miners in the southern field.

At a mass meeting of striking miners in the southern field a demand was made last night for establishment of the Jacksonville scale of $7.75 per day. The basic wage in Huerfano and Walsenburg counties is $6.20.

Final demands of I. W. W. leaders included a five day week etc., 11 hours daily.

Carol Returns Home To Investigate Theft

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Former Crown Prince Carol of Roumania—the center of the political storm which is shaking his native land returned to Paris today to examine the extent of the robbery at his Neaully Villa in which only correspondence was stolen. Carol was unruffled. He charged a hostile political group at Bucharest with the burglary.

"This act only proves the depredation of my enemies," declared Carol. "Their panicky ruthlessness will react seriously against them."

This statement was made to International News Service today by Mrs. Grayson upon her return from Boston where she had been in conference with Clarence Chamberlin, New York to Germany flier.

He was the first Morocco potentate to die in office. He is automatically succeeded by Judge Louis Strum, as acting potentate.

BIG GREEN TEAM WILL MEET ELIS IN COLORFUL TILT

Important Clashes Are On Tap For Saturday Afternoon In Various Parts Of Country; Tech Will Play Notre Dame

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Top notch games bedeck tomorrow's football card despite the fact that for many teams the day will be one of comparative rest between the drive for the crucial October battles and the campaign for the all important November climatic events.

Yale and Dartmouth will struggle for supremacy in the bowl at New Haven in a game that promises to be played before another record breaking crowd of 80,000 but this will not be the East's only big game for the Navy-Pennsylvania clash at Philadelphia before another army of 75,000 will hold equal attraction.

Notre Dame and Georgia Tech will be crowd-liners in the west before a total of 35,000 to see nothing of the Michigan Illinois game at Urbana, the Ohio State-Chicago contest at Chicago, the Syracuse-Nebraska intersection clash at Lincoln and the Great California-Southern California encounter at Berkeley.

Never in the long history of Dartmouth-Yale game has the green sent an eleven to New Haven with brighter prospects of victory than those entertained by this year's eleven with its great backfield stars—Myles Lane and Bob Macphail—primed to do battle with Bruce Caldwell, the scoring ace of the blue eleven. Playing diametrically opposed types of football, Dartmouth will rely on its powerful attack as against Yale's splendid defensive play supplemented by the ever active Caldwell on the offensive. If anything, the green appears to hold a slight advantage.

Pennsylvania faces the powerful navy team everything to gain and nothing much to lose. Victory over the middies will once more restore the Quakers to some measure of football prestige while defeat can hardly sink them deeper. Navy, however, must win to maintain its place, not materially weakened by the defeat it sustained at the hands of Notre Dame.

Harvard tackles Indiana in its second intersectional battle of the campaign. Pat Page, old time Chicago star has developed a good team at Indiana but the best it has done in the conference in two years has been to tie Minnesota on a day when the Gophers were admittedly over-confident and unless Harvard football has sunk to lower depths than seems possible, the crimson of Cambridge should rout the crimson of Indiana.

Cornell and Columbia will renew their ancient rivalry at Ithaca with the odds slightly favoring the Cornell eleven which gave evidence of a great potential strength against Princeton last week. Columbia has a well coached alert team.

Army and the unbeaten bucknell eleven should develop some wonderful football in their game at west point with the odds favoring the west pointers because of the time west tougher road they have traveled since the season began.

Penn state with its rugged defense and sparkling offense should overcome when the disappointing Lafayette team at state college.

Princeton should have a mild week end entertaining William & Mary at Princeton, but Brown may expect squalls and maybe worse in its engagement with temple university at providence.

Battle lines are closely drawn in the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech clash with sentiment alone making the fighting Irish a favorite. Georgia Tech a golden tornado of old and is expected to crowd Notre Dame to the limit.

Michigan the only undefeated, untied and unscored on eleven the length and breadth of the lane will essay to keep its slate clean in the annual clash with Illinois at Urbana, the Illinois by their victory over northwestern last week showed that Zuppke has another of his courageous teams.

Ohio state will strive to save something from the wreckage of its early season record at the expense of Chicago which, with two conference victories and a triumph over Pennsylvania to its credit, is riding high on the crest of a prosperity wave.

Minnesota and Wisconsin, both excellent teams despite unexpected setbacks, stage their annual battle at Minneapolis with Minnesota a favorite. Iowa plays Fred Dawson's university of Denver team at Iowa city while Iowa state encounters the Kansas aggies at Ames.

The Nebraska Syracuse game holds the attraction of the Missouri valley district. Nebraska has a habit of rising to great heights in its intersectional battles and although Syracuse has one of the strongest teams in its recent history a victory for the cornhuskers would no be unexpected.

Missouri will play Northwestern at Eyanston and Northwestern should win decisively.

In the South, Tulane and the undefeated Georgia eleven come together at New Orleans, with Georgia having the edge. Louisiana State also unbeaten, engaged Arkansas at Shreveport, while Alabama and the Mississippi Aggies clash at Tuscaloosa. Vanderbilt and Kentucky will play at Nashville and Tennessee and Virginia will meet at Knoxville. Both Vanderbilt and Tennessee and Virginia

LOCAL GRIDDERS READY FOR GAME WITH ST. CLOUD

Coach Wheelchell Puts Charges Through Final Workout On Municipal Field; Hagan To Play For Patterson At Half

Sanford's high school grid squad went through their final practice session this afternoon under the eye of Coach Hugh Wheelchell for the game here with St. Cloud tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach Wheelchell announced there would be only one change in the lineup. Hagan will be substituted for Patterson at one of the halves. The remainder of the team will be identical with the one which defeated Mount Verda last Saturday, 24 to 0.

Capt. Maxwell will be shifted from half to quarter and Higgins will take over his position at half. Skifford will be back in his old berth at full back.

Miller and Yancey as the tackles, Ball and Somes, 25 guard, and Sankey and Edensfield at the ends.

In the hours of clearing away last year's game which ended in a hard fought tie, Coach Wheelchell has been pointing his men for the St. Cloud battle for several weeks. The coach believes the St. Cloud boys are weaker this year while Sanford is stronger and sees little chance of losing the game.

S. CLOUD—Contracts let for rebuilding road between Kissimmee and St. Cloud making that thoroughfare 16 feet wide.

will meet at Knoxville. Both Vanderbilt and Tennessee should win.

Walter Johnson Signs To Manage Newark Ball Club At $20,000 A Year Salary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—After 20 years in the big top Walter Johnson goes to the minors.

The beloved "big train," however, has been spared the usual fate of a fading veteran who slips down the baseball scale until the land lot boys hammer him to all parts of the field, for he goes to the International League not as a hired hand but as manager of the Newark Bears next season.

A two-year contract has been signed, contingent upon the other major league clubs waiving on his services. The waiving is expected to be a mere formality, for it is probably safe to say that no major league performer ever left the big show with more sincere wishes for success than those accompanying "Old Barney." No announcement was made as to salary, but it is understood Walter's contract with the Newark owners calls for $20,000 annually.

Walter said today he expected to be a playing-manager, that he would take his turn in the big league when he can try out his own theories and ideas concerning the game, and now he is to have his chance.

Walter wound up his big league career in a blaze of glory. True, his year was an unsatisfactory one for the veteran, but it was his pitching in 1924 and 1925 that brought two consecutive pennants to the Washington club. A broken leg early in the season kept the Big Slide on the bench through most of his season's play.

There is a good deal of sentiment connected with his purchase by the Newark club, said Paul Block, the owner, and now that Walter Johnson is associated with the team more than pleased. I can only say that I am proud of the fine characters ever identified with the game.

This extract reports that the "busted" Seminoles County Bank had loaned the promoters of the race track near Sanford fourteen thousand dollars. This money, put into the hands by industrious people of Seminoles county has gone up north and been spent on bootleggers, gamblers and gamblers. People who say race tracks bring money to Florida are silly. All the money that takes away with it—well, some. If the race track had been put into the hands of the old days before the "real"

A Tired Young Man

Colonel Charles Lindbergh, the most talked of man in the world today, has finished his tour of the country in the interests of aviation. He is back in New York after a trip that consumed all the summer and part of the fall. With the completion of his work as spokesman for the gospel of aviation, the young flier is ready to retire to private life, to forget the public and have the public forget him.

During his trip, Colonel Lindbergh delivered a hundred and forty-seven pleas for the cause he loves, visited forty-eight states and eighty-two cities. He attended sixty-nine dinners, rode in twelve hundred and eighty-five miles of parades and was seen by thirty million people. The young aviator flew twenty-two thousand, three hundred and fifty miles in two hundred and sixty hours, and all of that distance was traversed in his historical machine, the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Colonel Lindbergh's aerial tour was made under the auspices of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund from which he also received his salary. His speeches to the public were confined to appeals for airports and support of the air mail service. Despite the strain of his extensive tour and the ceaseless hand-shaking which he had to endure, Colonel Lindbergh was found to be in excellent physical trim when he completed his journey.

Asked what he intends to do in the future, the trans-oceanic flier told a correspondent in Philadelphia, "That I don't know. I am going to New York. There I'll look over my mail and decide." Whatever the young aviator plans to do, the public should leave him alone now. He is very tired and weary of the big demonstrations that have been tendered him. He wants privacy and a chance to be an ordinary citizen once more. The nation should grant his wishes.

Our State University At Gainesville

The university of Florida, known as the baby university of the South, appears to be embarked on one of the greatest years in its history. With an enrollment of approximately two thousand students, the institution at Gainesville shows a considerable increase in attendance over last year. Not only this, but new courses have been added and the corps of instructors has been materially increased.

The University of Florida should be a source of pride to every citizen of the state. Despite the fact that it is scarcely more than twenty years old, the institution's fame has gone far beyond the borders of the state as evidenced by the large enrollment of students representing other states. Not only has the university many students from nearby states but also has large representation from states in the east and middle west. This fact is gratifying and is a tribute to the efficient administration of Dr. D. A. Murphree president of the university.

Concerning the University of Florida, the Jacksonville Times-Union adds its praises. The Jacksonville newspaper in a recent editorial commented on the school as follows.

"It is interesting to find that a comparatively new course established at the university has the second largest registration—that of the college of commerce and journalism, with 337 students. The college of arts and sciences leads all the rest with 591 students, ranging along from 296 for the engineering school and 248 for teaching, 226 for law, 121 on agriculture and 160 in pharmacy, there is already a total shown of 1,921, and information at hand to account for about fifty more to go in as special students in various schools. The senior class has already 283 students and the juniors number 338. There are 543 sophomores and 790 first year men.

"In equipment and arrangements the university is prepared to do good work between now and June, 1928, and everything points to a most successful year. Additions and improvements accomplished during the past two years make for better accommodation of students, and there should be no excuse for any laxity in interest or accomplishment. The faculty is up to the high standard expected in such an institution and the possibilities for good and effective work are splendid.

"Already the university is getting some excellent publicity through the achievements of the athletic department. This feature of college life is not discredited; neither is it allowed to interfere in any way with the carrying on of the regular functions of the university. Members of athletic teams are required to maintain their collegiate standards, and the enthusiasm that is noted regarding this or that excursion or trip to meet other student bodies in athletic contests is found to stimulate rather than detract from the regular work of the university.

"In a broad way the university is assisting hundreds of students who are not able to go to Gainesville. The extension courses carried on and help offered in all sections of the state in many details of study and information are acknowledged to be of splendid value to the people. The university is, in fact, doing all that such an institution could and should do towards assisting those who desire to learn. The several important departments conducted at Gainesville and extension work reaching all corners of the state, are helping Florida to grow, properly and well."

ADVERTISING AND HOME OWNERSH?

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES

As the market place of the community, the advertising columns of the newspaper do save time for the shopper; they do lower prices to the ultimate consumer; they do insure more business and more income for the merchant. Yet significant as these services are, newspaper advertising yields even greater values which, while ultimately social in their outcome, are founded upon a firm economic basis.

For example, the strength of the United States as a world nation admittedly is founded largely upon the fact that it is a nation of home owners. St. Petersburg is a city so particularly substantial in all respects because it is particularly a city of home owners. And the people of St. Petersburg know, as no doubt a very large portion of those of our country at large know, that home owning in this city and in the nation is in large measure due to the persistence with which the desire of home ownership has been stimulated by newspapers and through their advertising columns.

It was but a few years ago that the estate business, even in St. Petersburg, moved slowly along in a succession of individual and uncrowded transactions, until dealers awakened to the possibility of making their offerings known simultaneously to multitudes. I of the old days before the "real"

Perhaps the women aviators are so successful because they can take no more different airs than the plain males. The British army is going back to red coats, according to a war office announcement. We hope they have better luck with that costume this time.

Good Citizen; Good Son. Thankful? Very. To Kill Gorillas. Giannini Method. Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

S. DAVIS WARFIELD, head of the Seaboard Air Line, an admiral worker for his country, was killed yesterday in Baltimore.

His life of energetic work and building earned the respect and gratitude of his fellow citizens. And they learn with admiration the use to which he left is fortune of several millions.

The money will be used to found a home for dependent aged women in memory of Warfield's mother, who died many years ago.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE President fixes Nov. 24 as Thanksgiving day and mentions some things for which we should be thankful, such as "greater knowledge of the higher values of life" and "advancement in our physical well being."

It may also be mentioned that we are still out of the league of nations; prosperity continues, high wages haven't gone down while the cost of living has gone down.

We may well praise the Lord, for we are tearfully and wonderfully fortunate.

EVERY PROSPECT PLEASES.

Foreigners buy from us, although our money is high in value.

In September we exported 33,748, 000 bushels of wheat, 10,048,000 bushels more than September, 1926. We got, this year, $13,955, 000 more than for last year's September wheat exports.

We should be grateful for our blessings.

MISS ALICE O'BRIEN, with a rich father, able to do as she pleases, wants "to hear African drums vibrating through the tropical Congo," and see "the weird economies of an African witch doctor."

Most interesting, the young girl thinks she is going to kill gorillas.

THAT A YOUNG girl should want to kill gorilla is not unusual, but we should shudder if we heard that a young gorilla girl was coming north to kill human girls.

Miss O'Brien, of course will not really kill any gorilla. Looking into the dark, strange face, she could not shoot. She will visit King Mungwa, last of many African potentates, seven feet two inches tall, six handsome, with 23 wives—not many, in that climate.

THE POWERFUL BANK of Italy lends to its stockholders a dividend of 300,000 shares. Two hundred and fifty thousand other shares will be offered to stockholders at $180 a share, and the Bancitaly Corporation will buy 250,000 shares at the same price. The Giannini brothers with their 165 different branch banks in California, buying banks rapidly throughout the country, are teaching old fashioned finance some new methods.

JACK DEMPSEY, WHO fights red lives to fight another day, can't pay his manager, Mr. Flynn, all he would like to because, says Mr. Dempsey, "I am not making big money and can't afford to give them everything they want."

Dempsey made about $500,000 in 30 minutes the other day and will soon make $500,000 in 30 more minutes or less again. But you can't call that big money, for a "heavyweight."

SOME CLERGYMEN THAT work very hard for smaller pay will be inclined to quote: "Now, in the names of all the Gods at once, Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed, That he is grown so great?"

Nevertheless, when you have become accustomed to earning a million dollars in 30 minutes, it is hard to be cut down to half a million.

THE STATE OF Illinois cannot quite make up its mind to hang a woman. Mrs. Cassler, who was to have been hung yesterday, learns that the ceremony is postponed for one week. Illinois has never hanged a woman, and should not begin in 1927.

Anybody who believes that choking a woman to death at the end of a rope will help society or discourage crime is not much more intelligent than the person strangling.

MOVING PICTURES WILL make education pleasant for children, and enable them to learn in a month more than they can learn now in a year.

Higher wages, with many luxuries unknown to workers of other days begin to make industry attractive. But it is only a beginning. The next step will be an end of horrible monotony in work, and dreadful uncertainty as to the future.

"Dear Sir: Regarding an article in your recent paper, I plainly told your reporter that I had nothing for publication as I had just reached home and knew nothing about the Sanford crop. Anything said was wholly his own mind regarding Sanford conditions. I ask you to make this correction, as I do not mean to be misquoted regarding the Sanford celery crop."

SUBSCRIPTION BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN BY D. A. R. IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

One of the largest as well as most enjoyable social affairs of the season was that of Friday afternoon when the Ladies Auxiliary Chapter N. S. D. A. R. entertained at a subscription bridge party at the Woman's Club.

The spacious club auditorium, where the tables had been placed for play, was abloom with quantities of lovely autumn flowers accentuating the colors of orange and green. Many black cats, witches and other suggestions of the Halloween season were used with pleasing effect about the rooms.

Receiving the guests upon arrival were Mrs. John Leonard, regent of the chapter, and Mrs. R. E. Tolar, finance chairman.

The afternoon hours were quickly spent with games of progressive bridge, scores for which were kept on quaint Halloween tallies. After the usual number of progressions had been played, scores were collected and prizes awarded. Miss Annie Hawkins, who held top score, received a framed colonial print. Second prize, a magazine rack, went to Mrs. Victor Chick, while the low score prize, a serving basket, fell to the lot of Mrs. John Bender.

At the conclusion of the game, the tables were cleared and refresh-

MISS DOROTHY HAINES IS HOSTESS DELIGHTFUL HALLOWEEN PARTY

One of the most beautiful Halloween parties given in Sanford in some time was that of Friday evening when Miss Dorothy Haines, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Haines, entertained a number of her young friends at her home on Park Avenue.

The grounds were lighted with picturesque Halloween lanterns. As the guests arrived they were greeted by a receiving line of spooks. The attractive home was decorated with numerous bowls of orange-colored marjorilla and cosmos. On the walls were panels of orange embellished with black cats and owls. From conspicuous places were suspended black cats and other novel features. In unexpected places were ghosts and other weird creatures. The lights were shaded with large Jack-o-lanterns and cast an eerie glow over the scene.

The evening hours were merrily spent in games and contests of all kinds. Several novel features were introduced, such as the McGinty stunt and pinning on the features of the Jack-o-lantern. The prizes for the latter were won by Christine Stouendmaire and Wallace Phillips.

Progressive bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and the prize for highest score, an embroidered vanity dresser set, was won by Mrs. J. E. Courier. For having low score, Mrs. Walter Bach was consoled with a set of bridge score pads. The cut prize, a deck of bridge cards, fell to the lot of Mrs. M. Minarik.

expected to be clothed from head to toe in the latest Paris style.

"The first thing I am going to do is to buy myself a couple of dresses."

"All my life I have been dreaming of Paris and the beautiful things that gladden the heart of women that are made here."

"I am staying a week instead of leaving on the Mauretania tomorrow as I had expected. I am going to buy the pretty things I have wanted all my life."

"I love the French people. They are wonderful and their reception is more than I ever dreamed of. I am sorry that my flight ended where it did as I wanted to prove to the world that a woman could do—if not as good as Lindbergh, since one can do better—at least almost as good."

If Ruth thought the French people were wonderful, the French people certainly returned the compliment. From the moment the first crowd greeted her as she stepped from her plane at Le Bourget, until she finally retired at her hotel, Parisians cheered and showed clearly that they thought Ruth was "Carmante et Jolie."

Immediately Ruth and Haldean got clear of the thousands massed to welcome them at the flying field, they were rushed to the Hotel Loti then, acting under the supposition that the Americans were leaving in the morning, the welcoming committee began a rush Miss Elder and her companion through the rest of the prepared program.

At the dinner given her by the French flying men, Ruth literally "brought down the house" with a speech in which she thanked everyone for the kindness shown her and added, "I feel that I do not deserve half of it, but my heart goes out to you."

Then Minister Bokanowski, answered Miss Elder and said: "To every Frenchman, your valorous flight exemplifies the spirit of youth so typical of America. Like Lindbergh, Chamberlain and Byrd you came to France as an emissary of good will."

"As the father of French aviation, I believe I have the right to kiss the world's first daughter of the air."

His paternal kiss on Ruth's brow evoked the audiences wholehearted applause.

Kings Daughters Give Halloween Party With Miss McKim, Hostess

Members of the Kings Daughters Class of the Methodist church gave a most enjoyable Halloween party Thursday night at the home of Miss Alice Gooding McKim. The affair was declared a success from every standpoint.

The house was beautifully decorated and the numerous ghosts, black cats and witches in shadowy places, and Jack-o-lanterns, created a true Halloween atmosphere. The masked guests wore a variety of attractive as well as grotesque costumes.

There was a variety program of Halloween games, some old and some new. A trip through the chamber of horrors, was a truly gruesome experience.

In a unique fair a learned seer told fortunes of the guests, depicting brilliant futures for many.

At a late hour, the guests were served individual pumpkin pies and coffee. Attractive favors appropriate for the season were given.

Cuckoo's Secret
A widely known student of birds P. F. Bunyard, thinks he has solved the ancient controversy as to whether the cuckoo lays her eggs directly in the nests of the small birds and sometimes of large birds elsewhere or carries them in her bill to deposit in the nest. That the latter theory is nearer the mark he discovered recently by constructing a "blind" and spying on a cuckoo. He told an English scientific society that he saw a cuckoo deposit her egg by regurgitation, or coughing up. The whole process, including the removal of one of the eggs of a reed warbler, occupied only eight seconds. The anatomy of the cuckoo he says, is especially adapted for the swallowing and coughing up of its eggs.

DOZENS INSPECT NEW HUPMOBILE 1928 SIX SEDAN

First Of New Model With An Entirely New Body Style Placed On Display By The Sanford Auto Company Here

Dozens of men and women yesterday were attracted to the show-rooms of the Sanford Auto Company to inspect the new 1928 Hupmobile Six, displayed in this territory for the first time.

The first of the new cars to be shown here is a blue five-passenger sedan. Within the next two weeks, the company expects to receive other models of the 1928 car.

The 1928 Six present an entirely new body style to the American public. Head-on, it is massive and impressive, its radiator rising high and shapely, its large lamps framed in narrow bands, its full crown fenders flaring wide above broad tires, its radiator cap beautifully conceived as part of the graceful contour and suggesting speed.

The effect of long, low sweeping lines is honestly achieved. The car not only looks low—it is low. A man of average height normally looks across the top of the parked sedan. Double-drop frame, smaller diameter wheels and skillful use of space brings the floor line actually closer to the road.

The new engine provides increased power, speed, smoothness and at the same time increased economy. Not only have the cylinder dimensions been made larger—3 1/4 inch bore and 4 1/4 inch stroke—but the principle of hyper-expansion of fuel, or perfected high compression, brings to the Six new performance—silky smoothness at high speeds, greater power, more mileage out of gasoline of any and all grades, and the ability to take advantage of the high compression fuels now disturbed everywhere.

Steeldraulic four-wheel brakes insure maximum safety at all speeds and under all weather conditions. They operate mechani-

U. S. Continues To Rule Auto World Avers Dodge Head

DETROIT, Oct. 29.—E. G. Wilmer, president of Dodge Brothers, Inc., returned on the Aquitania last week from Europe convinced that the American automotive industry will continue to dominate the world for many years to come.

"Through the use of electric power, automatic machinery and mass sales methods," said Mr. Wilmer, "American motor car manufacturers have placed their products far ahead of the Europeans both in quality and price. As a result, American workmen receive high wages, while the American manufacturers give the greatest dollar value to their customers. Our own company's export business is steadily increasing and Dodge Brothers' expert business this fall has run 30 per cent. ahead of last autumn."

"Dodge Brothers' securities are selling far below their value, which has materially increased in the past two years. The company has earned surplus of about $29,000,000 and a strong current asset position. Interest and preferred dividends for the full year were earned by the current rumors of the passing of the 'dividends.'"

M. Wilmer believes that 1928 will be a big year for the automotive industry and for general business.

Bud Grafting Will Increase Yield Of Rubber, Says Seger

NEW YORK, October 21.—C. B. Seger, President of the United States Rubber Company, authorizes the following statement:

"Apropos of reports in the newspapers that bud grafting applied to rubber cultivation will greatly increase the yield, we estimate that the ultimate yield on the lated areas (planted with budded stock) in our plantations in Sumatra and Malaya, will be 1,000 pounds per acre, per annum, as compared with 350 pounds per acre, which is the average yield of rubber plantations the world over. Our own plantations yielded 441 pounds per acre in 1926.

The large yield on our plantations is due to the application of fertilizers, seed selection, and other scientific methods we have followed since we started operations in the Far East in 1910. It is these that we look to increase the yield of our acreage to the 1,000 pound mark.

It may come as a surprise to those who have but lately heard of Bud Grafting as a means of increasing the productivity of the rubber tree, and who thought the method startlingly new, to learn that of the 83,000 acres planted by the United States Rubber Plantations more than 30,000 acres are planted with either budded stock or highly selected seed.

AFRAID TO EAT

Bloating Spells, from Indigestion, Put an Oklahoma Man in a Miserable Fix, But He Found Relief.

Swink, Okla.—In describing how he suffered from indigestion, Mr. S. T. Strain, of this place, says: "I have been a user of Black-Draught for four or five years. I have been taking it for stomach trouble. I suffered after eating with bloating and a 'tight feeling'."

"I had spells when I could not eat much of anything. I had severe headaches. I would be nauseated and hurt a lot. I was in a pretty bad fix."

"I began taking Black-Draught. It seemed to help me wonderfully. I hadn't found anything that benefited me as Black-Draught did. I certainly can recommend it."

"There were times when I just did without anything to eat until I was too weak to go. I was just miserable, and when I ate, my system seemed clogged."

"I had very severe headaches. So I didn't know just what to do. I knew I couldn't work if I didn't eat. Seemed like what I spit up was bitter as could be. I took Black-Draught pretty regularly and got where I could eat, and I don't have to take it so regularly now." NC-177

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 29.—Traveling by airplane to make an introductory announcement of the 1928 expansion program of the Marmon Motor Car Company, H. H. Brooks, general sales director of the company, has departed on a 5,000-mile journey that will carry him in just twelve days to twenty-six of the largest cities in the eastern and southern sections of the country.

Merger Bears Reach Gainesville For Tilt Today With Florida Eleven; Floridians Have Formidable Backfield

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, News Bureau)—Tommy Owens, fleet footed Florida halfback, who sprang 88 yards to a touchdown from kickoff last week against N. C. State, is not expected to appear in the Gator lineup here this afternoon when Tom Sebring's Orange and Blue gridmen swing into their sixth battle of the 1927 season against the Mercer Bears. It is "Homecoming" in Gatorland, and the University City is agog with excitement, unparalleled in the history of Florida University. Coach Bernie Moore and 23 of his Macon Bears reached Gainesville early yesterday afternoon and unlimbered their muscles in a brief practice. Boss Sebring of the Gators took his squad to a lake resort camp a few miles from the campus to spend the night in peace away from the gay celebrations marking this year's joyful "Homecoming."

The Bears, after broad-casting "injury gossip" all week, brought their full strength to Gatorland, and appear eager to conquer the Floridians. It is expected that all of Moore's reported "hossital ridders" will be present for the fray.

Clester Allen, 185-pound Florida guard, who smashed a pair of ribs last week will start the game, which gives Line Coach Bedenk the identical forward wall which started the Auburn Kentucky and N. C. State games. Alex Reeves will play guard opposite Allen and with Kirshner at center, the middle of the Florida line averages about 187 pounds. Jus Clemmons, 180, and Joe Bryan, 177, will take the tackle posts. "Dutch" Stanley and Willie DeLoeff, 170 pounders, will handle the wing positions.

With Owens out of the backfield, Coach Sebring has announced he will own with "Good" Boyer, grooming for AP Southern quarterback, calling signals; Mills Smith and Rainey Cawthon at the half-back posts, and Captain Bill Midekauff at full. Smith was out of the N. C. State game, but seems fit for a hard battle now. Cawthon has been showing up nicely this week.

Smaller Colleges Urged By Lecturer BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 29 (INS) Professor Monroe E. Deutsch, dean of the college of letters and science at the University of California wants to apply the shears to the college over which he presides and to all other colleges in his university and all other universities, which are evergreen and unyielding. Instead of classrooms that resemble stadium grandstands, the saving looks for the day when lecturers will direct their efforts to small and intimate groups.

"Colleges in universities," Doctor Deutsch declared, "should be small, both in number of students and size of faculty. Only in this way may the learner derive the greatest benefit out of teaching and the teacher develop that personal contact with his charges which spells the maximum fruitfulness of his work."

Weds Count

Marlane Browning, 35, daughter of Mayor George E. Browning of Ogden, Utah, recently became the bride of Count Eian Luca Zicogna of Milan, Italy. The couple met abroad where the mayor's daughter was studying opera. The

Music From Air

By moving sensitive fingers up and down invisible keys in an apparently empty atmosphere, a young Russian inventor can reproduce, to a piano accompaniment, the music of the masters with the touch and tone of a practiced violinist. The device used is a box similar from Victoria to Kalgornie, Australia, recently to attend a "Back to the Goldfields" celebration. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the event he decided to return to the invention, called the termovox, magnifies them so that they are audible.

Million Disaster Victims Aided by Red Cross in Year of Great Calamities

Above—Millions of garments were distributed by the Red Cross to flood sufferers in the Mississippi Valley. Center—One of the 148 refugee camps in the Mississippi Valley, where several hundred thousand flood sufferers were given food, shelter and clothing. Below—An airplane view of McGehee, Arkansas, after the flood waters had swept over the town.

NEARLY a million persons, victims of 77 disasters, have received assistance from the American Red Cross during the past year.

On an average of every five days this country suffered a disaster of sufficient magnitude to bring the Red Cross into action. The amount of money the organization spent in meeting these emergencies is greater than the budgets of twenty-six states, while only six cities in the country have a population larger than the number of disaster sufferers assisted.

Floods raging over thousands of miles, fires destroying whole villages, tornadoes and hurricanes sweeping over entire states, and death dealing explosions combined to make the year one of unprecedented calamities.

The outstanding disaster of the year was the Mississippi Valley flood, where the organization assisted more than 607,000 persons during the emergency period, and is still carrying on extensive reconstruction work. Already rehabilitation aid has been given to nearly 500,000 persons. After rescuing those in danger from loaves and house tops, the refugee population was fed, clothed and sheltered in 143 refugee camps. As these people returned to their homes they were supplied with live stock, seed and farm implements, while buildings damaged or destroyed by the flood were replaced. In this disaster the Red Cross is expending a relief fund in excess of $17,000,000. Red Cross leaders state that increasing responsibilities in the field of disaster relief has necessitated a larger membership. The organization, headed by President Coolidge, has set 5,000,000 members as its goal for this year's Red Cross, which will be held throughout the nation between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving.

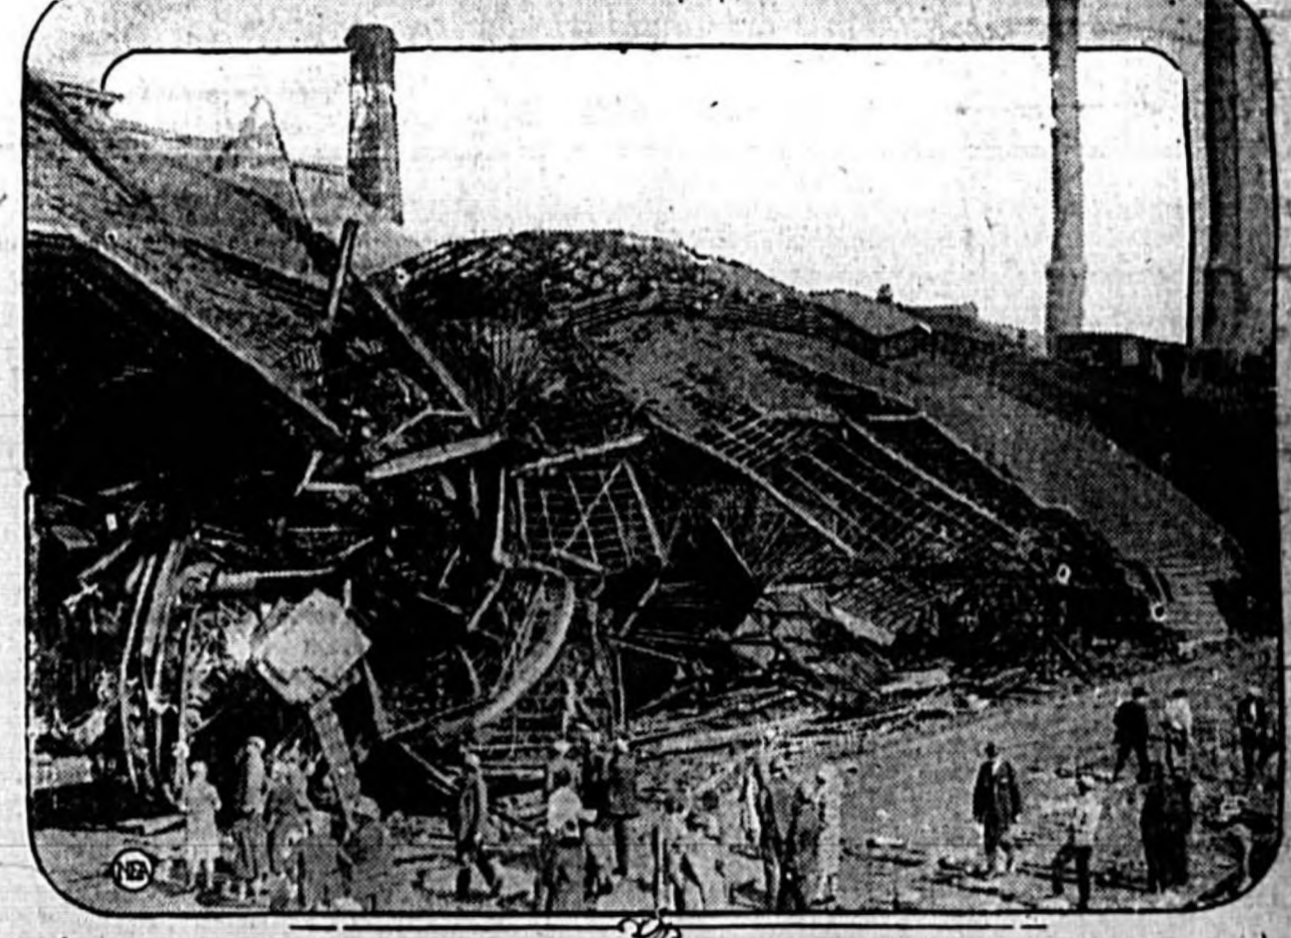

Finds More Gold

Returning to the spot where he had won gold 20 years before, James Rowan, at 81, unearthed a nugget which may mean long-sought riches for him. Rowan went from Victoria to Kalgornie, Australia, recently to attend a "Back to the Goldfields" celebration. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the event he decided to return to the field near Boulder where he had found gold a score of years ago. Prospecting in Slog Hill, once noted for its riches in the early days, he found with a short time a nugget worth more than 28 ounces and containing nearly $300 worth of gold. He believes that he has prospect a for a valuable mine.

Jazz as Empire's Nerd

Nero and his fiddle were no more deadly than the saxophone and its companions, according to English divine. Luxury and vulgar pleasure seeking, he says, brought Rome down into the dust and jazz, he declares, is taking the minds of the people away from such thinking and spirituality. "The dark-skinned races that hold their whites in awe will cease to look of the European as a superior man, and when that state of things comes to these England's hold by myriad subjects in Asia and Africa will be a good one for all," Sir Henry

How a Train Wrecked a Depot

This picture indicates what happened when a concrete mixer, carried on a flatcar, protruding over the edge of a flatcar, caught on the steel supports of the union depot train shed at Peoria, Ill. Before the engineer knew what was happening the train had traveled the length of the building and it collapsed behind him. Though 80 trains a day use this terminal the accident happened when the place was practically empty and none was injured.
