

Paul's First Encyclical Sounds More Like Pius 12th Than John

By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International
Pope Paul's first encyclical is evidently intended to reassure conservatives in the Roman Catholic Church.

It is likely to be a severe disappointment to Catholic progressives who had hoped that Paul VI would follow in the footsteps of the late Pope John XXIII.

One highly-placed Catholic progressive told this reporter:

PARTNERS — The cowboys grow small in Montgomery, N. Y., and the horses grow big, but what of it? They get along famously. The candid shot was taken at the local fire department's horse show.

The University of Florida's College of Engineering has conferred 5,319 bachelors degrees, 598 masters degrees, and 68 doctor of philosophy degrees since its founding in 1908.

after reading key passages from the encyclical: "It doesn't sound like John XXIII at all. It sounds like Pope Pius XII."

He said the Pope's strictures against communism were obviously prompted by concern about the domestic political situation in Italy, and were intended to slam shut the "opening to the left" attributed to John XXIII.

With Italian President Carlos Sagni near death, Pope Paul apparently felt that the Vatican should throw its full weight behind embattled right wing parties in Italy. Hence he condemned communism—by name—in the strongest terms used by the Vatican since Pius XII.

Aside from whatever impact it may have on Italian politics, the main effect of the encyclical may be to place a damper on hopes for rapid progress toward Christian unity.

Pope Paul chose to lay heavy stress on a papal primary—which, as he himself pointed out, is a principal "stumbling block" to Catholic-Orthodox reunion. His emphasis on it can hardly have any effect other than to chill the warmer atmosphere in relations which was established at his meetings with Orthodox Patriarch Athanasios I in Jerusalem last January.

His insistence that papal supremacy is essential to the unity of the church also will greatly moderate any optimism that Protestants may have felt about the doctrine of "collegiality" which has been advanced at the Vatican council. The doctrine holds that all bishops share with the Pope in the supreme government of the church.

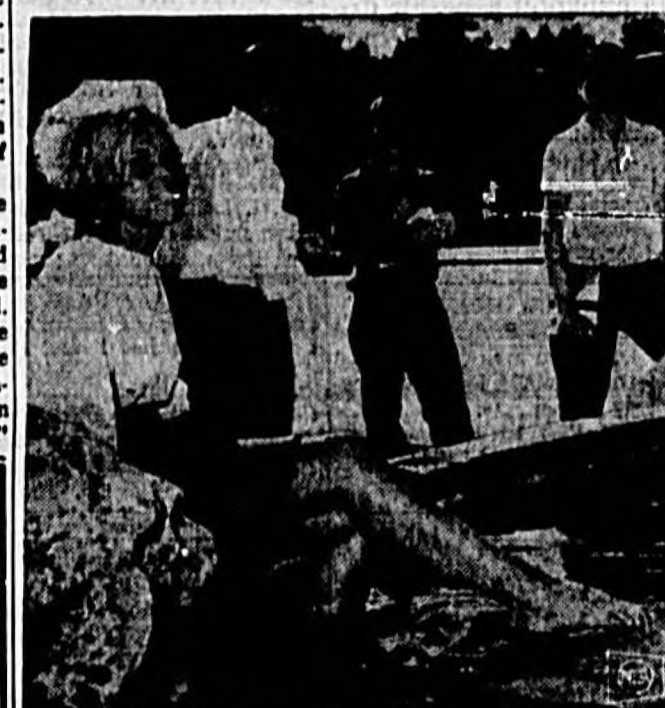

Beyond any specific thing the Pope said, Catholic conservatives will be heartened and progressives dismayed by the general tone of the encyclical. It conspicuously lacks the openness and warmth, and the concern for non-Catholic opinion, which radiated from John XXIII's "mater et magister" and "paxem in terris." Instead, Pope Paul VI seems to be speaking to his own Catholic flock, in the voice of a benign but somewhat austere father.

When Paul VI ascended the papal throne last year, there were widespread predictions that he would prove to be even more progressive, and even more concerned with Christian unity, than his great predecessor. In the light of his encyclical, such predictions seem to have been premature.

PICNICS are part of summer fun and young Jimmy Jay Shook, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shook of Lake Hodge, is shown enjoying the family picnic given for members of the Sunshine Circle of Casselberry Community Methodist Church and their guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Lake Drive, Casselberry. Air Attack's Success Foregone Conclusion

ABOARD THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER USS TICONDEROGA (UPI)—Rear Adm. Robert B. Moore said Monday the U.S. attack on North Vietnam last Wednesday would have been successful even "if we had sent a letter three days in advance."

Moore is the commander of the American strike task force, now cruising off Viet Nam.

The admiral said that in his opinion President Johnson did not give the North Vietnamese any useful warning when he announced the air strike publicly in Washington. Johnson has been criticized in some quarters for disclosing the action in advance.

Moore said his slower, propeller-driven planes took off about 10:30 a. m. local time and hit their targets about 1 p. m. Johnson announced that an attack was in progress at 11:36 p. m. in the United States, which was 11:36 the following morning in Viet Nam.

The administration has said the announcement was timed to let the Communists know the attack was limited, and that the news was released after the planes entered the field of Communist radar. The administration contends there was not enough time for the North Vietnamese torpedo boats to flee.

But Moore said Task Force 77 was an superior in power that "I don't think it would have mattered if we had sent a letter three days in advance."

However, the admiral did not think the Reds knew of the raid before the President's announcement. Moore said he considered North Vietnamese radar inferior, and that he did not believe they had picked up the American planes when the announcement in Washington was made.

Gubernatorial Campaign Costs Now $2,671,268

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—With two expensive months still to come before election time, Florida gubernatorial candidates report campaign expenditures of $2,671,268.

The original field of nine candidates has been narrowed to two by the primaries, Republican Charles Holley of St. Petersburg and Democrat Haydon Burns of Jacksonville.

The biggest spender of the lot is Burns, who reported expenses of $750,332 of the $801,347 he has received so far in contributions. Former Democratic Sen. Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach spent $651,896 of his contributions totalling $680,811.

Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland reported expenses of $498,734. He said he spent every cent of his contributions.

Holley garnered the GOP nomination with expenses of only $33,350 out of contributions to date of $40,286. On the Republican side of the ledger, Holley is the biggest spender.

In second place for the GOP was H. B. Foster, who spent $7,323, followed by Ken Folks who spent $2,357.

On the Democratic side, Sen. John Matthews of Jacksonville spent $341,701, Mayor Robert King High of Miami spent $202,875 and Rep. Frederick Karl spent $222,637 to run in a field of six.

King Urges Non-Violent Protests

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Rev. Martin Luther King, condemning recent riots in Harlem and Rochester, N. Y., said last night that violence is "not only immoral but impractical" in the civil rights movement.

He said, however, that the causes of rioting and violence will be present "as long as there is segregation and discrimination and as long as Negroes feel they are exiles in their own land."

King told 3,000 Negro college women at the 41st meeting of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority that "violence and war are obsolete in the nuclear age—it is a question of non-violence or nonexistence."

Florida ranked 13th among 12 southeastern states in 1960 in percentage of the state's total personal income expended for public higher education institutions.

"Nonviolent resistance is our most potent weapon," he said. "If Negroes succumb to the temptation of using violence, their children will suffer for it."

Big Dividends Seen With Marina, Canal

"A marina in Sanford and completion of a linking canal from the St. Johns River to the Atlantic will pay the greatest dividends of any investment expended by our city, county or state."
This summarizes the views of Leo Butner, manager of the Sanford State Farmers' Market, as he commented on the merits of the proposed lakefront marina and the canal, the Sanford-Titusville canal.

Board OKs Election

The Board of County Commissioners Tuesday authorized an election for registered voters in Precinct 2 to establish a fire control district. The election, according to the adopted resolution, will be held in connection with the general election Nov. 3.

Robert Newell, an Altamonte Springs Councilman who recently acquired a service station in Casselberry, appeared before the Casselberry Town Council Monday night seeking approval of a beer and wine license. His application was tabled. Newell, obviously displeased with the delay, observed: "It's different when you're on the other side of the council table."

Also present at the Casselberry Council meeting Monday night was Al Lormann, the mayor of Longwood. He was there in the interest of a real estate client attempting to obtain appropriate zoning for a German-style Bavarian theatre-restaurant on Lake Concord. Although he didn't say so, one could observe that he, too, thought being on the other side of the council was what might also be described as "different."

The amazing thing to this particular Clock Winder is the fact that in most of these towns the councilmen do not receive any remuneration. Why, then, do they seek election for the right to tackle these complex problems in these growing Seminole communities? It must be because of civic pride.

Head majorette, Sylvia Williams, announced today that majorette practice will begin at 9 a. m. Monday at Seminole High. "Any girl," she says, "who has had experience in twirling and is interested in becoming a member of the 'Twirling Seminole' A or B Corps are welcome to try out for one of the positions." The girls are requested to meet in front of Fleming Gymnasium. Workouts will last two hours.

The Seminole County Board of Instruction will convene for its regular August meeting at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Registration at Seventh Day Adventist Schools at Forest Lake Academy in Forest City will be held from 8 a. m. until noon on Friday Aug. 28, Sunday, Aug. 30 and Monday, Aug. 31. School will open Sept. 1.

Chamber officials are warning homeowners against itinerant house painters who offer to paint homes and barns at unrealistically low prices. CDR. C. V. NOLITA

VAH-13 Wins Safety Award

The Chief of Naval Operations today named Heavy Attack Squadron 13 (VAH-13) winner of the CNO Safety Award among squadrons of its type for Fiscal 1964.

VAH-13 is scheduled to join Reconnaissance Attack Wing One at the Sanford Naval Air Station this month from its current home, the Whidbey Island, Wash., Naval Air Station.

Formal presentation of the award will likely take place at NAS Sanford.

During nine of the 12 months considered in grading, VAH-13 was operating at sea, where flying is statistically more hazardous.

VAH-13, commanded by Cdr. C. V. (Tony) Nolita, posted its winning record in twin-jet A-3B Skywarriors. However, many of the squadron's flight crews and support personnel are already in the midst of transition to the new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bomber at NAS Sanford.

The Fiscal 1963 Safety Award went to Heavy Attack Squadron Seven (VAH-7) of Sanford.

Total flight hours, total carrier landings, number of accidents and aircraft type are all weighed in determining winners of this important award.

VAH-13 was competing against all other heavy attack and reconnaissance-attack squadrons in the Navy.

Lake Mary Baptist Class Has Meeting

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church of Lake Mary met at the home of Mrs. C. N. North last week with the class president, Mrs. Lamar Stokes, presiding.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. W. A. Hoopengardner. An article about coupons and trading stamps for the Baptist Children's Home in Lakeland was called to the attention of the class by Mrs. J. A. Varn, and the members were asked to try to collect as many as possible during the month of August.

The closing prayer for the business session was given by Charlotte McQuillin presented the devotional for the evening, using 1st Peter, chapter 5, as the scripture reference, followed by prayer by Mrs. T. M. Whigham.

An A. B. C. Bible Quiz was enjoyed during the social hour and Mrs. McQuillin won the prize. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Others attending were Mrs. T. N. Stafford, Mrs. W. G. Brown, Mrs. Crawford Shelton, Mrs. Annie Johns, Mrs. T. J. Townsend and Mrs. Ralph Taylor.

Reservation Is For The Birds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joe Medicinew and Barney Old Coyote will act as Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's guides when she visits an Indian reservation in Montana Friday.

The White House said Tuesday that the First Lady would receive tribal honors from the Crow and Northern Cheyenne Indians during her stop at the reservation near Billings, Mont. The visit is part of Mrs. Johnson's 4,200-mile, four-day trip to Montana, Utah and Wyoming.

Pay TV Film Deal Closed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Metro-Goldwyn Mayer (MGM) studios and Subscription Television Inc. (STV) today announced that 20 recent theatrical features would be available for pay television showing in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The films will be available generally to pay-TV within six to nine months after completion of theatrical first-run showings. The first MGM film has been scheduled for television release in the first week of September.

U. S. Moves To Help Tshombe Restore Order

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department officials today considered plans to increase military and economic aid to the Congo Central government as part of an effort to bring order out of the chaos now sweeping the African nation.

As a first step, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs G. Mennen Williams was sent to the rebellion-torn country Tuesday night to confer with Premier Moïse Tshombe and other Congolese officials in Leopoldville.

State Department officials said Williams would discuss the U.S. aid program outlined to Belgian officials last week by W. Averell Harriman, undersecretary of state.

The department said that the United States and Belgium have agreed on additional measures to help the Congolese government stabilize the nation against rebels centered in the eastern Congo region of Kivu.

Officials said that under the Belgium-U.S. agreement, there were no plans to introduce any U.S. military personnel beyond a limited number of technicians required to train the Congolese in the use of the transportation and communication equipment which forms the bulk of American military aid.

Big Political Guns Open Up On Nation's Defenses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The opening salvos have sounded in what promises to be one of the big battles of the upcoming presidential campaign—the condition of the nation's defenses.

Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater let loose the first round Monday in a speech here before the National Association of Counties.

He charged that the administration's "utter disregard for new weapons" would leave a cut of 90 per cent over the next decade in the nation's "deliverable nuclear capability."

On another front, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee at the recent GOP National Convention, charged that the administration was attempting to stifle criticism of the "gap in weapons development."

In a speech prepared for delivery on the House floor today, Laird said President Johnson's recent announcement of a new strategic aircraft called the SRTI was misleading.

He said it was just a modified version of the A-11, a plane he said had been started during the Eisenhower administration. The Pentagon fired back at Goldwater Tuesday, labeling his charge "totally false."

In a statement issued through Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon said:

"The world knows—and all Americans can know—that the United States is the strongest nation in history. And all of our plans and all of the work now going on will keep it that way."

Sylvester said that Goldwater's assertion about a reduction in nuclear capability was "not only without foundation but contrary to facts."

His statement said that by 1970 the nation will "have a capability to deliver on target two and a half times as many warheads as we had in 1961 and a greater number than we have today."

And the President, addressing the same counties group at the White House, declared: "The world knows—and all Americans can know—that the United States is the strongest nation in history. And all of our plans and all of the work now going on will keep it that way."

Sylvester said that Goldwater's assertion about a reduction in nuclear capability was "not only without foundation but contrary to facts."

Prizes Given At Scout Picnic

Miss Mary Leffler was the winner of the best-decorated box lunch at a recent picnic held at Silver Lake by Girl Scouts of Cadette Troop 112. Judges of the decorations were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dellarco of Dell's Pastry Shop.

Miss Leffler's box was decorated with balloons and streamers. After reaching the lake the Scouts drew numbers and exchanged lunch boxes. They later went for a swim.

Those who attended were Frances Dangleman, Michele Moreland, Linda Green, Jackie Morgan, Mrs. Nancy Holder, Judy and Sally Robb and Mrs. Fred Robb, Scout leader.

They are also composing short stories and illustrating them with cut-out pictures. After completion the stories will be presented to children at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Reception Honors Rev. Lyons

By Donna Estes
Approximately 300 persons attended a reception Sunday afternoon honoring Rev. Richard Lyons, pastor of All Souls Catholic Church, on the occasion of his birthday.

The reception, which was sponsored by the Catholic Women's Club of All Souls Parish, was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Oak Avenue.

Father Lyons was presented with a sweater by Mrs. C. C. Mamele, secretary of the club and with a spiritual bouquet by Ted Michaels, grand knight of St. Richard's Council 6357, Knights of Columbus.

Father Lyons expressed his appreciation and delight to the organizations, parishioners and friends who were present.

Distinguished guests included Rev. Hugh Keane, pastor of the Church of the Nativity; Rev. William J. Trainor, pastor of St. Mary of the Lakes parish, East; Rev. Ralph Kaiser, Catholic chaplain at Sanford Naval Air Station; Rev. James CroTTY, teacher at Cardinal Mouney High School, Sarasota, and Sister Mary Veronica, principal of All Souls school.

Representing area Catholic organizations were Mrs. Mamele and Mrs. Gene O'Hara, corresponding secretary of All Souls Catholic Women's Club; Carl Von Herbulis, president and Leo Salvati, vice president, of All Souls Holy Name Society; Mrs. A. W. Teslo, past president and Miss Dorothy Teslo, treasurer, of the Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club; Mrs. Perry Sieler, secretary to the pastor, Church of the Nativity; Ted Michaels, grand knight, Al Poulter, financial secretary, Buddy LeFilla, trustee, Lou Huddleston, warden, Joe Falgione, inside guard, George Hugenja and Paul Hrieko, of the executive committee, all of the Knights of Columbus.

Punch, cake, nuts and mints were served.

GO-KART RACING enthusiast CPO Frank Smart and nine-year-old son Keith pose with impressive collection of trophies they have won. Smart feels that Karts provide the safest form of motor racing for persons from "nine to ninety" and encourages all members of his family to participate in the sport. (Herald Photo)

Sunland Navy Man Is Celebrity

CPO Frank Smart from GCA Radar Unit at Sanford Naval Air Station and a resident at 612 Haywood Drive, Sunland Estates, is a celebrity in go-kart racing circles having won 22 trophies in the past two-and-one-half years, 16 of which were in the Sanford area with the remaining six from the Philippines.

Chief Smart built his first go-kart when he was stationed in the Philippines and was instrumental in introducing the sport there.

According to Smart, drivers and karts must meet standard safety requirements as set up by the Go-Kart Club. When racing, drivers must wear long-sleeved jackets, long pants, gloves and helmet and goggles.

Karts, which weigh approximately 150 pounds and can attain a maximum speed of 70 miles per hour, must have fuel tanks made of safety approved metals and all nuts and bolts must be elastic locked or Carter keyed. Fuels used can be either gasoline or methanol alcohol, although the latter is preferred because it is less explosive and gives more power.

Smart first became interested in what he calls "The poor man's Indianapolis racing" in 1960 when he saw his first go-kart race in Oklahoma. He says that it is the safest form of motor racing for persons anywhere from nine to ninety and has encouraged his family to be active in the sport.

His wife, Libby, and their daughter, Bernice, 12, and son, Keith, nine, participate in races meets. Keith recently won two trophies. Four-year-old Paul, because of his tender years, can only be an enthusiastic spectator at this time.

MISS TAMMY SHAY, who will become the bride of Lt. Sam Dow, Wing PIO Saturday, was the guest of the Staff Officers Wives at their monthly coffee last Thursday. The group met at the home of Mrs. Sam Day in Lake Mary and after enjoying coffee and refreshments, some of the guests went swimming in the lake.

Joining the "social swim" was a new member, Mrs. Charles Fadden. Others were Mrs. Don Ethell, Mrs. Robert Farrell, Mrs. Neil Harris, Mrs. Warren Hoeller, Mrs. Wallace Holton, Mrs. William Isenburt, Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. Ray Milburn, Mrs. Cliff Nelson, Mrs. Marion Willhauck and Mrs. E. L. Eubert.

SOME RESHUFFLING has been done among the new representatives to the executive board of the Naval Officers Wives Club and after one thing and another were taken into consideration the assignments came out this way:

President, of course, is Mrs. C. L. Fitzpatrick of RVAH-3; with Mrs. J. D. Maloney of Det. 8 as first vice president. Mrs. Edward Foy of VAH-7 will be second vice president; with Mrs. Terry bhattach of RVAH-3 in charge of the Thrift Shop with the assistance of Mrs. Thelma Unger.

Mrs. Joe Watson of VAH-7 will do publicity; Mrs. James Bell of 7, correspondence; with Mrs. Ginny Nelson of Staff as recording secretary. Mrs. J. L. Atkinson of RVAH-9 will serve as treasurer.

The board has had two meetings since their election, one with the old board members at the home of Mrs. W. A. Yelneck, and another with the new president, Mrs. Fitzpatrick. This group will serve for the next six months officially guiding and directing the charitable and high social activities of the officers wives clubs, in their concerted philanthropic endeavors.

MORNING COFFEE for RVAH-9 Wives was co-hosted by Mrs. Harry Klein and Mrs. Andy Reno at Mrs. Klein's home in Park Ridge, last week.

Special guests were Mrs. James Mayo and Mrs. J. M. Cracken, Mrs. Tom Quillan and Mrs. Phil Beaton. The group made plans to play bridge at the home of Mrs. David Turner on Lake Markham on Aug. 19 and heard reports from the treasurer, Mrs. Gene Thompson and from Mrs. C. L. Atkinson, who represents the group with the NOWC.

FOND FAREWELLS were said to Lt. and Mrs. R. H. Cooke at a gathering of friends last week, hosted by Lt. and Mrs. Andy Reno at their Park Ridge home.

Lt. Cooke, formerly attached to RVAH-9 and presently to Det. 8, will be attending school at Harvard University this fall.

Joining to wish them bon voyage were LCDR and Mrs. J. Dunn, LCDR and Mrs. G. Atkinson, LCDR and Mrs. R. Harrop, LCDR and Mrs. Tom Quillan, Lt. and Mrs. Harry Klein, Lt. and Mrs. John McCracken, Lt. and Mrs. A. Karnes and Lt. and Mrs. P. Monroe.

THE HERALD gets around. Many folks who live here have it follow them when they leave to leave.

Such is the case of Ann Siczowski, who formerly lived here, until her husband was transferred to Memphis about three years ago.

Ann writes that she still gets the Herald and is happy to report that they will be returning "home" to Sanford at the end of August, and no one could be happier. She did not say to which squadron they would be attached.

Several charitable organizations will be glad to hear the news, too, as Ann was very active in community enterprises such as the Little Red Schoolhouse and the Democratic Women's Assn.

Sgt. Gramlin, Family Visits Mother Here

By Robert B. Thomas Jr. — Sergeant Oscar A. Gramlin and family recently paid a visit to his mother, Mrs. M. E. Gramlin. He is a member of the 501st Administration Company, First Armored Division at Fort Hood, Texas. His unit recently completed training in the Mojave Desert for two months on "Exercise Desert Strike."

The Gramlin family motored to Atlanta Thursday afternoon and home to Kelleen, Texas. Sergeant Gramlin is a former student at Crooms High.

Business Brief

Deltona Names Andrew M. Barr

MIAMI— Andrew M. Barr has been named executive to Neil E. Bahr, vice president of sales for The Deltona Corporation, leading Florida home building and community development company.

A specialist in real estate operations and real property management, Barr has been in the real estate field 11 years.

He was a member of the "Million Dollar Sales Club" nine years; has organized a number of corporations, and is the author of a book, "How To Set Up and Profitably Operate Your Own Real Estate Business," to be published in September by Prentice-Hall.

During the past year he served as a real estate sales consultant to John D. MacArthur, developer of Palm Beach Gardens, Florida.

Barr attended the University of Maryland and was a captain in the U. S. Army in Korea where he won two Silver Stars and a Bronze Star. He and his wife, Ann, and a son, Daniel, live in Fort Lauderdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey Jones and son Casey Jr., and the littlest Jones left the city Saturday for Union Springs, Ala., where they will visit Mrs. Jones' sister.

E. L. Blackshear and Ed Jr., motored to Philadelphia, New York and Washington. They will visit the World's Fair and many other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sheppard of St. Petersburg were in town for a few days, while here, they were guests of his mother, Mrs. Annie Sheppard. Mrs. George Sheppard is a former teacher of mathematics at Crooms High.

Rev. J. L. Brooks, pastor of Zion Hope Baptist Church, will observe his Sixth Anniversary Sunday August 16 at 11 a. m. A musical program will be given at this time. At 3 p. m. the Rev. J. Bernard Whitehurst and his congregation will conduct the services. The public is invited to attend.

E. C. Wilson, instructor of Social Studies at Crooms High has returned home after studying at Hampton Institute in Hampton, Virginia.

Joe Brown of New York City is visiting our city. Brown was a resident of Sanford for many years before leaving.

Business Briefs

MIAMI— Two executive appointments at Royal Castle System, Inc.—James J. Bush as vice president of operations and Edwin C. Grimm as treasurer—have been announced by Lawrence E. Singer, president.

Bush, a former Sears Roebuck executive, joined Royal Castle two years ago, subsequently becoming operations manager, the post he held at the time of his new appointment as vice president.

Grimm, previously controller for the company, also joined Royal Castle two years ago after serving in the same capacity for Shop Rite Super Markets, a chain of 150 supermarkets with headquarters in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

The Rev. Harold Bernard Whitehurst and family observed family day last Sunday. Relatives of his were here from several cities.

Herbert Cherry took his family on an extended vacation. They will visit the World's Fair and many other interesting sites.

Zion Hope Baptist Church is observing its annual revival services. You are invited to attend.

Mrs. Hester Dukus, her granddaughter and cousins are leaving today for Hartford, Conn. and Greenfield, Mass.

ICBM Launched At Vandenberg

VANDEMBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI) — A Titan 2 intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) was launched Tuesday by the Air Force on an apparently successful 15,000-mile-an-hour flight down the Pacific missile range.

The 150-ton missile is capable of hitting a pre-selected target up to 6,300 miles away. It was the second firing in a current program to evaluate the weapons system and get performance data on the missile.

Flying somewhere for vacation? If the flight is a long one, get up and walk around a bit every now and then, Beninole-DeBary Heart Association suggests, to keep the circulation in your legs from slowing down. Stretch your legs on motor trips, too.

UPI Sports Writer

This is the 400th anniversary of the birth of the greatest sports writer who ever lived. I mean this guy was so good that the stuff he quilled when guys were ruffled and leotards is still fresh as the foam on a mug of newly drawn beer.

I'm talking of none other than William (Don't call me Willie) Shakespears, also remembered as quite a playwright.

For instance, four centuries ago Bill had Charles O. Finley of Kansas City quoted in a play: "I love this sport well, but I shall as soon quarrel at it as any man." (Merry Wives of Windsor). And Bill came right back with a retort from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick: "With thy brawls thou hast disturb'd our sport." (Midsummer Night's Dream).

NFL football chief Pete Rozelle, after viewing the game at All-Star baseball game: "Honest dolly to our sport away!" (Love's Labour's Lost). And speaking of Love's Labour's Lost, formerly suspended Green Bay player Paul Hornung: "One that makes sport to the prince and his book-mates." And similarly addressed Alex Karras of Detroit: "There's no such sport by sport o'erthrown."

Bill had much to say about the Mets: "This is the greatest era of all the real" (M. N. Dream) . . . "What is this sport? Hear the boys home." (Winter's Tale). But Bill added wisely, "Hold the sweet jest up; this sport shall be chronicled." (M. N. Dream). "And have not we affections, desires for sport and frailty, as men have?" (Othello).

On Los Angeles' erratic outfielder Frank Howard: "Suddenly a grievous sickness took him, that makes him gasp and stare and catch the air." (Henry VII).

To strike-threatening big league umpire: "I will not give my part of this sport for a pension of thousands." (Twelfth Night).

Bill sided with third ball players: "If all the year were playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work." (Henry IV).

About boxing Bill said, "Is it sport? I think it is; and doth affection breed it? I think it doth." (Othello). It's a good thing Bill wrote, not spoke, or somebody might have punched him for saying it that way.

To Floyd Patterson, "O, quick, or I am gone" . . . "In our sports my better cunning faints." (Anthony and Cleopatra). "To sleep, perchance to dream. Ah, that's the rub." (Hamlet).

Bill advised Floyd: "Fight clear, or, Good Fairy, you'll catch a blow." (Henry VI).

On Soccer: "Thou say'st this sport were hinder'd by thy brawls." (Comedy of Errors).

On signing college stars by the pros: "Then will two at once woo one, that must needs to sport alone." (M. N. Dream).

This was the kind of guy Bill was. A great sports writer. Adieu . . . Adieu.

Looking Ahead

NEW YORK (NEA) — The U. S. Olympic Committee already has started planning for the 1968 games in Mexico City.

The committee has authorized the research firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc., Boston, to make a complete study of the Olympic program.

The firm will study the functions, policies, programs and operations of the Olympic committee and will make recommendations to improve the U. S. effort.

ANNOUNCE APPOINTMENT MONTREAL (UPI) — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell Tuesday announced the appointment of Fred Corcoran of New York to the newly created position of promotion consultant.

Phils Grim Despite 13 To 5 Romp Over Chicago Cubs

Rojas Jams Both Wrists; Gonzalez Is Hospitalized

By Milton Richmond
UPI Sports Writer

Someone's always taking the fun out of life, even for the first place Philadelphia Phillies.

Ordinarily, they would figure to be a happy pennant-bound crew today with a nice new winning streak of four games and a comfortable three-game lead over the rest of the National League.

You'd think they'd have a lot to laugh and joke about following Tuesday's 13-5 romp over the Chicago Cubs, in which Johnny Callison collected a grand slam homer and two doubles and newly-acquired Frank Thomas clipped in with three doubles.

But they were a rather grim lot after the victory because they realized it could have been their most costly one of the season.

The reason for their dejection primarily was an injury to Cookie Rojas, who has been the unsung hero of the club all year. And as if that wasn't enough of a crusher, Rojas' center field replacement, Tony Gonzalez, wound up at the same hospital.

Manager Gene Mauch said: "There are no words to describe the kind of job Rojas has done for us."

Nor are there any words to describe Mauch's anguish when he saw Rojas run into the centerfield wall in the third inning while trying to collar Joe Amalfitano's triple.

Rojas jammed both wrists, necessitating a ride downtown to a Chicago hospital. He was released but Gonzalez, struck on his helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch in the sixth, was kept at the hospital overnight for observation.

That took a lot of the joy out of the Phillies' victory which went to John Boomer, whose record now is 2-2. Ellsworth, who was hammered for 11 hits, including Callison's 19th homer, in 4 1/2 innings, suffered his 14th setback against 12 wins.

San Francisco remained three games off the pace with a 6-3 victory over St. Louis. Milwaukee defeated Houston, 9-6. Cincinnati beat Los Angeles, 4-2, and the New York Mets outlasted the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 in a game called because of rain in the eighth inning.

Bill had much to say about the Mets: "This is the greatest era of all the real" (M. N. Dream) . . . "What is this sport? Hear the boys home." (Winter's Tale). But Bill added wisely, "Hold the sweet jest up; this sport shall be chronicled." (M. N. Dream). "And have not we affections, desires for sport and frailty, as men have?" (Othello).

On Los Angeles' erratic outfielder Frank Howard: "Suddenly a grievous sickness took him, that makes him gasp and stare and catch the air." (Henry VII).

To strike-threatening big league umpire: "I will not give my part of this sport for a pension of thousands." (Twelfth Night).

Bill sided with third ball players: "If all the year were playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work." (Henry IV).

High Price Of Winning

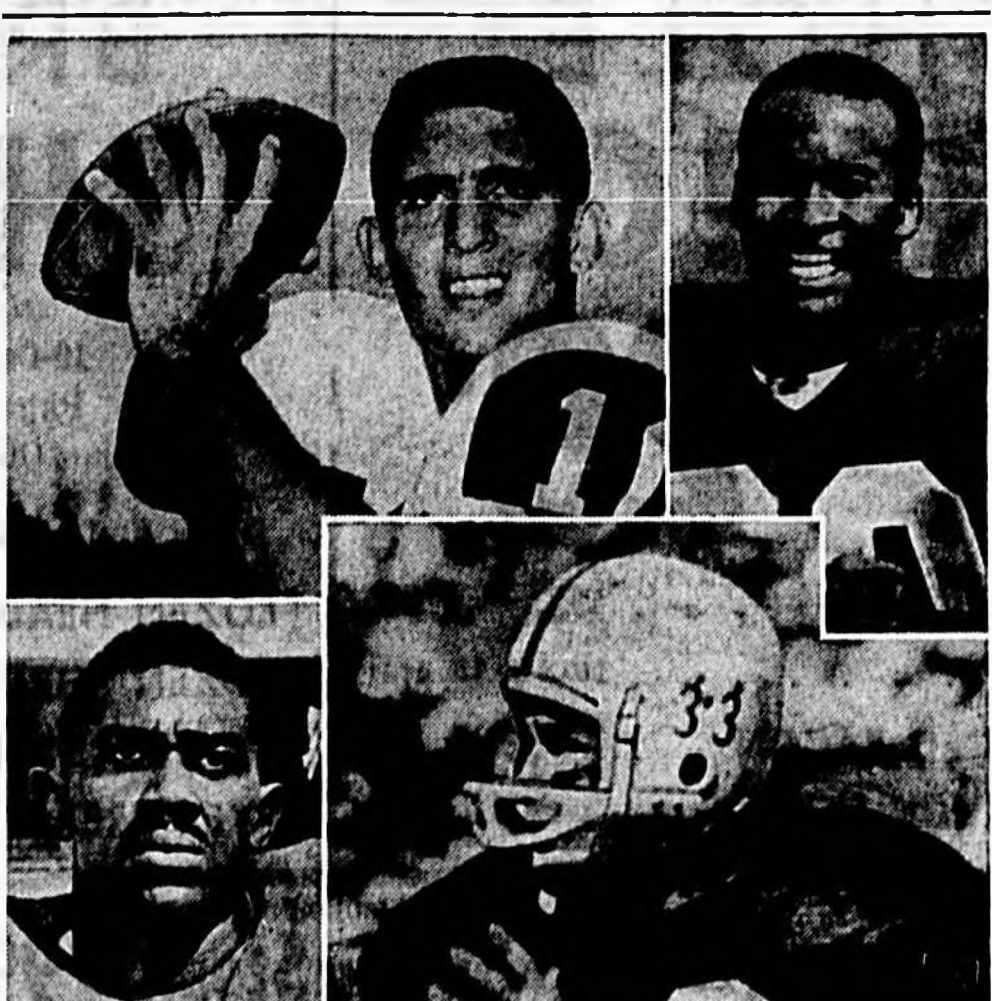

NEW YORK (NEA) — It seems that certain members of the professional golf tour suffer a letdown after winning a tournament.

Take Tommy Jacobs, for example. He won the Palm Springs Golf Classic and the

Speedy Rookies

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (NEA) — One thing is certain about some of the New York Giants' rookie backs—they're fast.

Oklahoma's Joe Don Looney, the top draft choice, can run the 100-yard dash in 9.7. Clarence Childs of Florida A&M has been timed in 9.3, but the best of all is Homer Jones of Texas Southern.

Mele's Hair Turns White As Twins Continue In Tailspin

By Bob Martel
United Press International
MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (UPI) — Minnesota Twins' Manager Sam Mele, whose gray-speckled hair is quickly becoming a solid mass of white, isn't attributing his team's tailspin to any individual.

Bill Dalley, who in 1963 made 65 relief appearances, gaining 13 saves and six victories with an earned run average of 1.98, couldn't get anyone out this year and is now with Charlotte in the Southern League.

The Twins also had high hopes for Bill Fischer, a reliever obtained from Kansas City. He is now a scout for the Twins.

Bernie Allen, who had a fine rookie season in 1962, never quite regained his form and was batting .220 when an injury sidelined him. A series of replacements had a combined batting average of less than .100.

Club President Calvin Griffith has repeatedly stated that he has no intentions of firing Mele, who is on a one-year contract. Mele took a pay cut this year for finishing third in 1963.

A patient, yet firm manager, Mele has the complete backing of his players.

As one said, "there's nothing we'd like better than to win for Sam. He's a great guy and a great manager. But we just can't seem to do anything right."

Mele's respect for his players is also very evident.

At a recent civic function Mele introduced his players amidst applause from the audience.

"Now I want to applaud them myself," Mele said.

"Things haven't been going so good but these guys have always given me 100 per cent."

Twins won 91 games, finishing second in 1963 and third in 1964.

This year, a series of disappointments led the Twins from a contender's role to that of an also-ran.

Bill Dalley, who in 1963 made 65 relief appearances, gaining 13 saves and six victories with an earned run average of 1.98, couldn't get anyone out this year and is now with Charlotte in the Southern League.

The Twins also had high hopes for Bill Fischer, a reliever obtained from Kansas City. He is now a scout for the Twins.

AMA Suggests More Attention To Grid Gear

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The American Medical Association Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports and the National Federation of State High School Associations recommended closer attention to equipment in safeguarding athletes.

For the head, a helmet of shock-absorbing material encased in a rigid plastic shell was suggested. Snug fit, rigid face masks with internal cushioning, not to protrude more than an inch and a quarter from the nose, and a denture-filled mouthpiece were recommended.

Body pads should be of shock-absorbing material and all players should have ankles wrapped with 2 1/2 to 3-inch width bandages, of material other than elastic. Cleats should be kept short and rubber heels without cleats may be used.

ENTER DOUBLES CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palefox, members of Mexico's Davis Cup team, Tuesday entered the 84th national doubles championships, which begin Sunday at the Longwood Cricket Club.

Gary Player had similar troubles after winning the 500 Festival Open. Five days later he missed the cut in Thunderbird Classic.

But there are always exceptions, and in this case it's Tony Lema, who won the Thunderbird and Buick Classics back-to-back.

Maybe it's the champagne.

Mauch Predicts Phils Can Win With .600 Ball

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gene Mauch, manager of the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies, cautiously predicted today that his team can win the pennant with a great big "if."

"If .600 baseball will do it," he said, "we'll do it."

Actually, the Phillies are doing far better than that, with 10 wins in the last 13 games, for a .769 mark, and 66-43 or .606 for the season.

"We were a little below that before our current streak," Mauch said, "so we had a way to come back."

"But if we can play the way we have for 100 games," he added, "I see no reason why we can't do it for the other 83."

The Phillies survived two injuries Tuesday—and luckily neither was serious, to swamp the 8th place Chicago Cubs 13-5 and run their winning streak to four games, only one short of their longest of the season.

With two games remaining with the Cubs in this stand, they might run up the longest winning streak in the league campaign.

New Yank Hurler To Face White Sox Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Night-hander Mel Stottlemyre bid farewell to the Richmond Virginians to begin hurling today at Yankee Stadium against the White Sox.

The New York Yankees bought the 31-year-old pitcher from the International League's Vees and optioned eight-year veteran left-hander Bud Daley to the Richmond club on 24-hour recall.

Stottlemyre, whose 12-33 season record with the Vees included a 10-game victory streak, was immediately placed into starting rotation by Manager Yogi Berra.

The rookie led the International League with an earned-run average of 1.62. He pitched 10 complete games, six of which were shutouts, and struck out 94 in 152 innings.

Stottlemyre joined the Virginians last year. He had been playing Class B ball at Greensboro, N. C.

Daley, 31, had a 2-3 record with the Yankees. He chalked up a 4.63 earned-run average in 35 frames this season.

Blaik, Rote Elected To Grid Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (UPI) — Earl (Red) Blaik, former West Point football coach, and Kyle Rote, ex-New York Giants player, today headed a list of 10 men elected to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame.

The addition of the new men boosted the total membership to 172 players and 51 coaches, according to Chester J. Laroche, foundation president.

The other players elected include the late Langdon Lee, Princeton tackle and All-American in 1892-95, and the late Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard in 1894-97, from the pre-1900's.

Other modern era players named were Charles O. "Chuck" Carroll, University of Washington halfback; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback; Robert J. Harwig, University of California center; Allison (Pooley) Hubert, University of Alabama fullback; the late William N. Mallory, Yale fullback; and

Perfect Team

NEW YORK (NEA) — The National Football League recently polled its coaches on the make-up of an ideal professional team and the consensus agreed it would be something like this:

Offense — Four wide receivers, two blocking ends, eight interior linemen, three quarterbacks, five running backs, one kicking specialist.

Powell's Blast Gives Orioles 8 To 7 Victory

By Milton Richmond
UPI Sports Writer

Big Boog Powell once was banned from playing baseball and there are some grumblers who seem to feel he never should have been permitted back.

This particular group happens to be made up of opponents of the first place Baltimore Orioles. It also happens to be prejudiced, just as you probably would be too if someone was knocking your block off.

Powell was banned from the Lakeland, Fla., Little League 10 years ago because he was too big. He stood 5-foot-7, weighed 165 pounds at the age of 12 and they were afraid he might kill someone.

They were right, because American League pitchers will tell you he's killing them now.

At 22, the 6-foot-3, 235-pound Powell is the big reason the Orioles lead the pack by one game today.

He drilled his 30th homer into the left field bullpen at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium Tuesday night to break a 6-6 tie and power the Orioles to an 8-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox, who had dropped 10 in a row to the New York Yankees, swept a day-night doubleheader from them 4-4 and 5-2; the Cleveland Indians blanked the Los Angeles Angels 3-0; Minnesota snapped Detroit's seven-game winning streak 5-3, and Washington knocked over Kansas City 5-2.

STYLE SETTERS

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Brooklyn Dodgers were first team to wear batting helmets in the major leagues. They wore them as early as 1941.

Adult Library Help Needed

By Julia Bartos
An urgent plea for adult helpers at the Altamonte Springs Community Library on Thursdays and Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. was issued today by Mrs. Florence Coursen, librarian. Any person who could donate some time during the stated hours could be of much assistance and would be greatly welcomed.

Mrs. Coursen reported that 42 children registered for the Summer Reading Club. At the start, 100 new juvenile books were put on the shelves and 100 more are expected on loan from the state library within the next few days.

During the month of July, 133 books were added consisting of 70 non-fiction, 20 fiction and 43 juvenile. Of the total, 21 were brand new and all are interesting and well worth reading. Included were biographies, a number of very good historical novels and the three-volume "Treasury of Science" which is put out by Smithsonian Institute. In July, Mrs. Coursen said, 793 books were checked out with 656 of them coming from the juvenile department shelves.

Moose Women Have Officers Chapter Night

Officers Chapter Night of Sanford Chapter 1404, Women of the Moose, was held Monday night in the temporary Moose Home in Lake Mary with Senior Regent Eloise Small presiding. Following introduction of all chapter officers, Mrs. Small formally presented two guide tables and a framed copy of the chapter's 10 golden rules which was hung during the meeting.

Enrollment was conducted for Helen Kaslin for Chapter 1404 and for Sue Jackson for Home Chapter 0. Cash door prize was won by Nancy Parkinson and a silent auction was held with proceeds to benefit the chapter. Refreshments of punch, sandwiches and relishes were served following the meeting.

Mrs. Cecil Dandridge Is Hostess To Bridal Shower Feting Miss Johnson

Miss Janet Johnson, popular bride-elect of Michael Korgan, was honored recently with a bridal shower at the Cecil Dandridge home on 19th Court with Mrs. Dandridge serving as hostess.

Games and contests were played with prizes awarded and the bride-elect received many lovely and useful gifts. The serving table, overlaid with sheer lace over an orchid satin liner, was centered with a lovely crystal punch bowl with matching tray, accented with crystal candle holders containing orchid tapers. A colonial brass bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley was arranged in a lovely milk glass compote.

Janet received the guests in a smart pink linen shift, and her mother, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, wore a lovely blue and brown print with a matching overskirt. Mrs. Korgan, mother of the prospective bridegroom, received in a low cut yellow polka dot and the hostess wore a chic white shift with nautical styling.

Others enjoying the delightful pre-nuptial party were the Misses Glenda Albert, Linda Adcock, Barbara Williford, Brenda Carroll, Lucy Willis, Diane Smith, Sharon Whitner, Shirley Wilder, Donna Peters, and Karen Wallstead.

Also attending were Miss Lorraine St. Clair of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Susan Hiers of Athens, Ga.

Also the Meses. Vernal Car-Smith, Howard Jones, Marie L. Hiers, H. M. Wilder, Ralph Roll, Donald Whittem, Hubert Dandridge, George Willis, W. Peters and Jerome Sporko.

Marge Ellis Exchanges Vows Of Marriage With Mr. Jones

By Julia Barlow
Marge Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Fellows of Altamonte Springs and William Jones of Maitland, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jones of Alabama, were united in holy matrimony on Friday, August 7, 1964 at the Altamonte Community Chapel with Rev. E. W. Miller officiating.

The bride was gowned in a stunning two piece beige lace ensemble over taffeta and she carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid.

Miss Roxann Fellows attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories. Norman Jones served his brother as best man.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Grundy in Dol Ray Manor.

Attending the reception were

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Fellows and children, Ronnie, Jean and Jimmie; Bryan Keith Ellis, Marvin Fellows, Roxann Fellows, Norman Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Torpee, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Lynch, Mrs. Grady Hall and daughter, Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Jordan and daughter, Sherri.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Longwood following a wedding trip to Miami.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM JONES are shown at their wedding reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Grundy in Dol Ray Manor, Altamonte Springs.

The Arndt Family Returns After Western Trip

By Evelyn Landy

The Jerry Arndt tell of a most enjoyable vacation from which they recently returned. They traveled 4800 miles and passed through 17 states. The first part of their trip was spent in Shelbyville, Michigan, where they visited Mrs. Arndt's mother, Mrs. Margaret Brenner and other relatives.

Leaving Michigan, they traveled west to Colorado Springs to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Panke and their three small boys, who are stationed at the famous Air Academy there. They went sight-seeing around Colorado Springs, to Manitou Springs, various mountain trips and other points of interest.

In Des Moines, they visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith. In Shamrock, Texas, they visited Rev. and Mrs. John Obledo, Mrs. Obledo will be remembered by her many friends here as the former Marion Stanko.

Going by way of Texarkana, Texas, they visited with Mr. Arndt's cousin, Don Knowlton, then stopping in Bay Springs, Miss. they visited with friends.

Spending this delightful vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Arndt, were their children, Arden, Ronita, and Marsha, also a guest, Miss Lynda Spencer.

The Jerry Arndt tell of a most enjoyable vacation from which they recently returned.

Ludwig-Hodges Final Wedding Plans Announced

Final wedding plans have been completed for the Ludwig-Hodges wedding. Miss Judy Ludwig and Glynn Hodges will be married on Saturday, Aug. 15, at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Grover Sewell officiating.

All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the wedding and the reception immediately following.

DeBary Personals

By Mrs. Frank White
Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Ogden of Amigos Road have returned from a trip to Cherokee, Ky., where they camped and made side trips to places of interest. They went on to Honoke, Va., and then up to the World's Fair, New York. While in the New York area, they visited in South Hampton, Long Island, N. Y., Haines Falls and the Assable Chasm in New York State. On the way back to DeBary, they returned to Lynbrook, Long Island and brought their niece, Miss Debbie Wuschrik, back with them, and she will stay until school opens in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Williams of Park Lane, honored Mrs. Frank Hill of Seminole Drive, who will be leaving DeBary to live in Michigan, with a dinner party Wednesday evening at their DeBary home. Among the guests were Mrs. Charles Bertach, Mr. and Mrs. Price Goodson, Miss Alice Cooper and Miss Adelaide Conte.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walker have returned to DeBary following a week spent at Marion, Ky., where they visited Mr. Walker's mother's home, and the home of Mrs. Walker's aunt, Mrs. Eschol Pickens.

Mrs. Kurt Werner and her daughter, Ann Sarner, of Lucerne Drive have guests from Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peacock of Pine Drive are entertaining Miss Susan Peast of Roslyn, Pa., at Silver Springs, Daytona Beach and places of interest in the Central Florida area.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffmann of Lucerne Drive have as guests, their daughter, Mrs. H. Gruender, of Syracuse, N. Y., and her two sons, Philip and Richard. The boys are enjoying swimming at Daytona and New Smyrna Beach with their grandfather.

Frank Laymel is doing nicely following surgery at the Orlando Air Base Hospital. He is in Ward 12, and his friends at the Fire Recreation Hall miss him and wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Jolly Mae Kinard, R. N. Bennett United In Impressive Church Rites

Miss Jolly Mae Kinard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kinard, of Norway, S. C., became the bride of Raymond N. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Bennett, of Sanford, on Saturday, Aug. 8, at 4 p.m.

The couple were united in holy matrimony at the Central Baptist Church with the Rev. Gail Smith performing the impressive candlelight, double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with a profusion of palms and pedestal baskets of white glads and pom poms. Two wrought iron seven-branched, standing candelabra were on either side of the altar.

Mrs. Shirley Grieme, organist, played the traditional nuptial music and Mrs. Karl L. Keltt, sister of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "Oh Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white formal gown of lace and sheer nylon, featuring a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The voluminous skirt was accented with a cascade of dainty ruffles encircling the skirt in tiers. Her imported veil of illusion fell from a jeweled tiara and she carried a white Bible centered with a white Cattleya orchid.

Mrs. William F. Dyches attended her sister as matron of honor and was gowned in street length blue sheer nylon featuring a bouffant skirt with the fitted sleeveless bodice accented with a round neckline gracefully draped at the shoulder. A short blue veil falling from a forward jeweled tiara formed her headpiece and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations showing.

Miss Tina Bauman and Miss Martha Raye Davis attended the bride as bridesmaids, and they were attired in street length blue lace sheaths, with nosegays and headpieces identical to the matron of honor.

Richard Bennett served his brother as best man and ushers were Roy Smith and Phillip Smith. Michael Stephen Keitt, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Kinard chose for her daughter's wedding a smart turquoise lace sheath with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Bennett, was attired in a white ensemble with matching accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the wedding, the reception was held at the William F. Dyches home on Woodmere Boulevard. The reception rooms were decorated with baskets of white glads and white pom poms. The traditional three tiered wedding cake was served from a table covered in lace and centered with a mixed floral arrangement.

Miss Triva Arnett kept the bride's book and assistants at the reception were Mrs. Jimmy Dooney and Mrs. Kenneth Craig.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a smart blue and green print with an A-line skirt and low cut bodice. Her accessories were white, and she wore the orchid from her white Bible.

Following a wedding trip to South Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will reside at 202 Woodmere Blvd.

Out of town wedding guests included Jacob and Rebecca Garrick, Norway, S. C.; Martha Raye Davis, Neeves, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig, Indian River City, and Mr. and Mrs. K. Y. Bennett and Wayne Bennett from Orlando.

Oviedo Personals

By Evelyn Landy
Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Spencer Jr. have returned to their home in Oviedo, after a trip to Stanton, Ky., where they visited H. R.'s grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bowman, and other relatives. They visited the Natural Bridge and Sky Bridge, and toured the Smokies on the way home.

Mrs. John Duda Jr. and her daughters, Linda, Leslie, Pam and Beth, also Elaine Duda, a cousin, and Mrs. J. R. Battle drove to Tampa last Friday and visited the famous Busch Gardens.

Miss Gay Ulrey spent last week at New Smyrna Beach as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Wilma Colbert, and son, Billy, of Sanford.

Returning home from a visit to Waycross are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Faulk Sr. They had been visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Collins Barnes and children. Beverly Faulk returned home with her parents after a month's visit in Waycross.

Altamonte Group Lists Projects To Aid Library

By Julia Bartos

Mrs. James M. Walter Jr., president of the Altamonte Library Association, stated today that the group is continually seeking ways and means of raising funds in order to build a new library.

The association's first project will be painting the exterior and porch of the present library building in order that it will be preserved in good condition and prove attractive to a future buyer. It is hoped that reasonable bids for the painting job can be secured and interested persons are asked to present bids in writing in care of the Altamonte Springs Library.

Other projects included on the calendar of events for the coming year are tag day in September, a fashion show in October, a white elephant sale in November, rummage sales in December and January, card party in February, a second fashion show in March and an arts and handicrafts festival and the annual tea and association meeting in April.

Detailed information will be given on the various events as the date for each approaches.

By Julia Bartos

Mrs. Robert Webb, reader for the Children's Story Hour held each Saturday from 9:30 until 10 a.m. at the Altamonte Springs Community House, reports that at the present time the children are enjoying short stories about animals. The group also enjoys singing songs at each weekly session.

Only three weeks remain in the summer program and on Aug. 29 the children will receive attendance awards and enjoy a party and refreshments.

The Story Hour is conducted annually under auspices of the Altamonte Springs Community Library Association with the aid of the Altamonte Springs Library.

Zoning Request Again Delayed

Another request for appropriate zoning for a German-style theatre-restaurant on Lake Concord was delayed Monday night by the Casselberry Town Council.

During a public hearing on an appeal of a decision by the zoning board, the Council deferred its decision upon the suggestion of Town Attorney Ken McIntosh until a full board could hear the pleas for and against the decision.

In other action the Council approved a request from Hilliard Casselberry to vacate the plat for the action known as Lillindale.

The Council also granted a request from the Winter Park Telephone Company to cross town streets in three places to lay underground cables.

The board also agreed to a request from Councilman Art Leggo to look into the possibility of purchasing a site with existing facilities for a town hall and recreation area.

Fire Auxiliary Names Disaster Committee

By Donna Estes

A disaster committee to assist the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department in the event of major fires, hurricanes or other emergencies was named at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the department last week.

Mrs. Eloise Lummier, who was appointed chairman of the committee, named as her assistants, Mrs. Mildred Eschelon, Mrs. Judy Snow, Mrs. Dorothy Ferris and Mrs. Joan Willis.

In other business, Mrs. Willis, president, appointed Mrs. Eschelon to the office of vice president to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Sadie O'Hair who has moved to Georgia.

Mrs. Bonnie Hanbly was named ways and means chairman and Mrs. Snow, liaison officer to the fire department during the month of August.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 1 at the Fire Hall.

Casselberry MYFs Plan Retreat

By Jane Casselberry

The Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Older Youth Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church will hold a planning retreat Friday night and Saturday at Moss Park on Bear Island.

Purpose of the retreat will be to give officers of the MYF groups and their counselors an opportunity to set up co-ordinated programs and activities for the coming year.

A committee consisting of John Birkheimer, chairman and Dan Casselberry, Senior MYF president; Malinda Casselberry, Intermediate MYF president; Patricia Menick, Junior MYF president; Jackie McClain, Marilyn Menick, Becky Wagner and Valerie Shea met last Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McClain in Casselberry with Rev. Delmas Copeland, minister, and Burbon Ferrall, MYF coordinator, to plan the retreat.

Those attending will camp out in tents and the program schedule calls for devotional, campfire programs and swimming as well as planning sessions.

Do you want a fresher, better milk?

THINK GOODNESS!

... It's T. G. LEE!

There's no mistaking the extra quality of T. G. Lee milk. It's evident in the richer, fresher flavor. Look for the T. G. Lee trademark when you want the best.

Horoscope Forecast

Thursday, August 12, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES:
 You are now able to delve into almost anything requiring your attention. Show that you value and are allied with interests which can bring you much benefit, but take time out to see and consult with all with whom you are joined in any kind of working alliance.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Delving into matters of insurance, taxes, bonds, business reports, etc., is wise this AM. See that bills are paid, monies collected. Help close ties. Be kind with mate in PM.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Having a meeting with associates reveals what is expected of you; then you can take right action. Correct any errors. A new attitude will gain you more prestige, good will.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Excellent day and night to get into duties before you and get them accomplished with alacrity, wisdom. Support co-workers. They then stand right behind you and all is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Rising early and getting all preparations in order for recreation or creative ideas is wise. It behooves you to entertain good friends now. Get into hobbies that you like.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) No better day than this to get your surroundings improved by own efforts. You enjoy having others help you. However, confine this to your own home and get much accomplished.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 23) Important you be diplomatic with any partner, since there is fine opportunity now for you to get added support. Be meticulous in selling, buying, etc. Then seek matrimony.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) Adding to your abundance is possible now if you put those constructive ideas to work. Be vigorous, far-sighted. Get clever suggestions from others as well as experts.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 21) If you concentrate seriously upon your cherished aims, you can then go after them without negation. Enjoy more personal pleasure. Develop a sense of humor.

Space Travel To Stay

Ranger 7's literally smashing success has given a brief new thrust—emotional as well as scientific—toward the goal of a manned moon landing by 1970.

While it is still not at all certain that this target will be met, no one can doubt that man's fantastic dream of space flight to other worlds is steadily nearing reality.

Reaching the moon has been declared a national goal. But despite the national pride in the Ranger flight, the Apollo moon project is far from being a truly mass-supported effort, such as a war would be—especially now that the novelty of rockets and satellites has worn off.

Indeed it is far from having the whole-hearted support of the scientific community.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science recently sent a questionnaire to 2,000 members selected at random.

To the yes-or-no statement—"The vital national interests of the United States require that a high priority be given to landing a man on the moon by 1970"—62 per cent of the 1,134 scientists who replied said "No."

While 58 per cent thought that scientific knowledge was the most important justification for the moon program, only 7 per cent could see any military benefit from it. Four per cent thought there was not justification at all for going to the moon.

Not surprisingly, only 139 of the respondents were connected either directly or indirectly with government-supported space work—as scientists, as citizens and employees, though, it is probable that the great majority of them live in states and are associated with institutions or companies that derive financial benefits from the space program.

In the early days, space funds were voted out of alarm and enthusiasm and excitement. Today, despite noisy talk in Congress about sharp scrutiny of the space budget, NASA will again get just about what it asked for—$5.2 billion in fiscal 1964-65. This is because space research is definitely one of the economic-political facts of life today. The glamor of moon glow has dimmed, but a lot of constituents of a lot of congressmen now have a down-to-earth personal interest in the $20-billion-plus moon project.

It will not be the first time this has happened. The monarchs who financed the explorers of the New World were more interested in riches than in geographical knowledge. Sheer curiosity and love of adventure inspired the Wright Brothers, but the fruit of their invention—commercial air travel—is strictly business.

Space is, as John F. Kennedy said, the new ocean upon which we must sail, sooner or later. The moon is but an offshore island, the first port of call on a voyage that will occupy the imagination and energies of generations to come.

The space sailors of tomorrow will remember only that we set sail for the moon around 1970. They won't particularly care why we went.

Thought For Today

A crust of bread and a corner to sleep in,
A minute to smile and an hour to weep in
A pint of joy to a peck of trouble,
And never a laugh but the moans come double;
And that is life!

—Paul Laurence Dunbar.

Always when I pass a church
I drop in for a visit
So that when I'm carried in
The Lord won't say "Who is it?"

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

'Inverse Discrimination'

United Press International
The most vigorously adverse criticism of the Republican presidential platform has centered on the civil rights plank, including the platform's firm, by stated opposition to what is called inverse discrimination.

By inverse discrimination, the Republicans evidently meant discrimination against little white kids because of their race. The platform precludes such discrimination to exist when little white kids are shunted out of their neighborhood schools to ride buses, the subway or to walk to distant schools.

Little white kids are due to be so shunted around big cities such as New York and Rochester, N. Y., to enable little Negro kids to have what is regarded as their fair share of white schoolmates. The story is that little Negro kids are deprived of their educational rights if they must attend classes only in the company of their own race.

The Negro voters of New York and other states are giving elected and appointed officials a hot foot on that issue. White voters appear to be winding up for some backlash. In New York the system of pairing schools, by combining or pairing an all-Negro elementary school with an all-white elementary school, the little Negro kids are believed to obtain their fair share of white schoolmates.

The pairing system is mathematically sound. It mixes the races. But it has aroused a fury of protest from white parents. Many white parents object to their children being chivvied around town to correct racial imbalance in some distant school. The coldly impersonal approach of school authorities to the problems of little white kids who are shunted from nearby to distant schools was shown some days ago in New York City.

Parents challenged in court a New York school order that their three little white kids, the oldest about nine, must leave the street from their home and trek thereafter nearly a mile to another school where there existed a condition of racial imbalance. The court forbade the school authorities to run the little white kids out of their across-the-street school. But the court limited its action to that single situation and did not rule in general on the right of school authorities to assign little white kids to elementary schools solely on the basis of their race.

It would be in defiance of the 1954 Supreme Court integration order to assign little Negro kids to schools on the basis of race. Why it is not defiance so to assign little white kids is something for the non-lawyer to wonder about, along with other recent judicial actions.

The Republican presidential platform went all out against such inverse discrimination as seems to exist in the effort to correct racial imbalances in New York state. What was misled by some commentators is that the 1964 Civil Rights Act takes substantially the same position. There is no federal support for shunting little white kids around town to correct racial imbalance in some distant school. For what the Civil Rights Act has to say on that, see the act's title IV on "Desegregation of Education."

For example, it says: "Desegregation shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Scrapbook Linda's case for it is a classical example of the mental conflict often following an abortion. Guilt complexes and secret sex conflicts thus underlie millions of "worry wars" or hypochondriacs. So send for the sex booklet below.

CASE T-445: Linda L., aged 29, is almost bankrupting her husband with medical bills. "Dr. Crane," he protested, "we have three children but they don't cause me half the worry that Linda does."

"A year ago she began to fret about cancer of her womb, so I took her to a gynecologist. "He said there was no sign of cancer. But she still kept worrying about it until I had her checked by two more experts."

"Then she began to take pills and liquid medicines and now she is a tranquilizer addict. "Last month she decided she has heart trouble but lately she says she is positive she is going insane."

"Dr. Crane, she was a healthy, normal wife and mother till about a year ago. So what has changed her so radically?"

Read this case with double care for it is a classical example of what often happens to a woman who has undergone an abortion.

Linda didn't tell her husband that she was pregnant a year ago.

Instead, she had an abortion performed for she felt she had borne enough children.

But such women frequently begin to fear that they are murderers of the unborn baby!

And in this dilemma, they usually expect God to punish them in some dramatic manner.

For whenever we sin against God, we usually look for some dramatic retribution, like a bolt of lightning from the sky.

Thus, Linda felt that God would first penalize her in the very place where her sin was committed, namely, her womb.

Then she began to fret about a stroke, either in the form of a sudden heart attack or apoplexy.

When cardiologists reassured her on those points, she then became a victim of mankind's classical fear of divine punishment, namely, insanity.

You Bible scholars will recall that God punished King Nebuchadnezzar with insanity, so he ate grass in the fields.

And even if modern Americans have never read the Bible or heard their clergymen expound its contents, they still look upon insanity as a punishment of God.

You may be interested to note that people who feel they have violated some sex deviation from God's code, are not likely to fret about diabetes or smallpox or even tuberculosis.

No, indeed! They dream a disease that strikes them as if by lightning, such as apoplexy, heart attack, and insanity.

Linda could thus have wasted thousands of dollars on futile medication and even submitted to needless surgery, all because of her secret worry.

Guilt complexes and secret sex conflicts undergird most of the hypochondriacs in the world.

So send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

LBJ Looks To Dixie Vote

WASHINGTON—President Johnson's unexpected statement limiting the field of possibilities for the Vice-Presidency on his ticket reflects the great importance he is attaching to opinion in the South in the coming election.

By eliminating from consideration as a running-mate anyone of cabinet rank, he ruled out Robert F. Kennedy, the man least likely to carry favor with Southern delegates to the Atlantic City Convention or with Southern voters in November.

By stating that among his requirements for a running-mate is acceptability to all sections of the country, Mr. Johnson made it clear that he does not intend to pit race against race or region against region in the fall campaign.

Chances are that the President will be whistle-stopping across the South again this October as he did as a campaigner for John F. Kennedy and himself four years ago, fighting hard to hold his native land. And findings by "New York Times" reporters and others notwithstanding, chances are that Johnson will be as persuasive in holding most of the Southern states for himself in 1964 as he was in holding them for the Northern Catholic John F. Kennedy in 1960.

In any case, by his statement on the Vice-Presidency, President Johnson has made it clear that he is not taking the South for granted and is preparing to do battle for its votes.

The withdrawal of Gov. George Wallace from the Presidential race makes the race harder for Johnson and easier for Sen. Goldwater, as noted in this column several weeks ago. The Goldwater-Wallace bids of a feather will now almost certainly flock together, regardless of the difference in party label. The Johnson job will be to convince born-and-bred Democrats, as he did in 1960, that they can still live happily in the party, and be rewarded according to what they do for it.

Gov. Wallace dropped out of the contest, many Southern insiders believe, because he feared he would make a poor showing in a three-way race, not because he was in cahoots with the Goldwater-Republican campaign. Many of Wallace's financial backers are Republicans who now naturally will write their checks payable to Barry Goldwater. And the Republicans who were giving zip to his primary races will now be otherwise occupied.

But Lyndon Johnson will not be found among those who think that with the withdrawal of George Wallace he has moved ahead in the South. The Democratic platform announced at Atlantic City will not be conciliatory to the South.

But the private words of the candidate will be as softly reassuring as the candidate of a national party can properly make them. The President will bend an understanding ear to those Southern Democratic leaders who explain that the best they can do for him is say "vote Democratic" and then go fishing.

The President is anticipating that he will get at least that much help from most of the men who shape the political mind of the South. Given that, he is willing to take his chances against a Barry-come-lately from out of the West.

Phil Newsom Says

Tito Holds Key Role

As Nikita Khrushchev seeks a solution to his quarrel with Red China and to a growing split of independence among the East European satellites an interesting sidelight to the story is the growing influence of the moderating voice of Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia.

It is especially interesting in light of the fact that Tito's break with the Kremlin in 1948 that actually set in a pattern for the independence now being shown by Romania and to a lesser degree some other of the satellite states.

Also noteworthy is the fact that it is Tito, among the earliest to come under attack as a "deviationist" by the Red Chinese, who now cautions Khrushchev against any hasty attempt to read the Chinese out of international communism.

In his third meeting with Khrushchev in the last 10 months in Leningrad in June, Tito also is said to have urged the Soviet leader not to over-dramatize Romania's increasing contacts with the West or its refusal to integrate its economy with Soviet plans for the Communist bloc.

Tito's relations with another Communist state, Fidel Castro's Cuba, were reported to have undergone a bit of a strain because Tito also advised Castro to exercise restraint in his attacks against the United States—that is, if Castro ever hoped to ease U. S. economic pressures against him.

In this, his advice is supposed to have coincided with similar advice from the Kremlin.

As regards Romania, Tito also is reported to have suggested in Romanian President Gheorghiu-Dej that he should not carry his independence too far.

Moscow sources say the result has been that after a period of coolness between Moscow and Bucharest, relations now are normalized, with Khrushchev continuing to follow the soft line.

What apparently concerned Tito most was the increasing frequency of anti-Soviet outbursts coming from Bucharest, outbursts which, Tito warned, could endanger whatever gains Romania had made in freeing itself of dictation from Moscow.

While the possibilities were considered remote that Russia would undertake any such measures as against the Hungarians in 1956, there remained the "possibility" of other action which could be severely damaging to the Romanian economy.

Two-thirds of her frontiers trade still is with the Soviet Union and its allies. Two-third of her frontiers are bounded by the Soviet Union, Bulgaria and Hungary. Her only salt water port, Constanta on the Black Sea, easily could be dominated by Soviet air and sea power.

Tito's motives are not entirely selfless. As do others among the small Communist states, he sees a certain advantage in the Red Chinese-Soviet quarrel because it has forced the Kremlin to ease pressures elsewhere.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman, the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground. I broke my leg in several places. Since then I've had no income. I lost $500 in pay, and my doctor bill is $150. I asked the woman at least to help me pay my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills.

She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor. She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills. Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK
DEAR OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one, go to your local Legal Aid Society. If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house—insurance or no insurance,

I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly man and have been dating a middle-aged widow for some time. I do not drive, so when I invite her out for dinner her son usually comes by and picks me up. The lady is already in the front seat beside her son, and I have to sit in the back seat all by myself. There is plenty of room for the three of us in the front. Otherwise I think the lady should sit in the back seat with me. I would appreciate your opinion.

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: Don't look a gift horse in the seat.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a handsome man in his early forties. We have been married only a few months. I knew he had false teeth when I married him, but I had never seen him with his teeth out. Soon after we married, he started taking his teeth out the minute he came home. Now he never wears them around the house. If we go somewhere, he won't put his teeth in until the last minute, and as soon as we get home he takes them out again.

I told him he should see his dentist if he is having trouble, but he says he has already spent enough money on false teeth and he doesn't want to spend any more. His dentist is supposed to be one of the best in town. We have a small income, but I think this is important. I hate to nag him about it, but I don't know how much longer I can take this. He looks like an old man with his teeth out.

A BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: Call your husband's dentist and tell him what you've told me. If he's one of the "best" in town, he will probably insist on adjusting the dentures without charge so they'll be comfortable and wearable.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The pathological liar feels that it is silly to tell the truth when a lie will do just as well. The pathological falsifier feels that it is silly to make a normal play when there is a chance to falsify. North and South might well have tried for gains in no-trump, and there would have been no way to keep whichever partner played the hand from making 10 tricks, but there is no way to play no-trump unless one partner or the other bids no-trump somewhere along the way. Thus, South found himself in four hearts.

moment to note that the deuce had not appeared and continued with the ace. He knew that East had started with the doubleton trey-druce or a singleton so that there was no chance that South would be able to ruff in. When East showed out, it was routine for the defense to take two more tricks. South should have dropped the deuce of spades. West might have continued the suit anyway, but on the other hand, he might well have decided that South held no more spades. In that case, he would have abandoned the spade suit and South would have won the rubber.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Any bride who believes that the marriage ceremony automatically turns her into the perfect wife is deluding herself. But let anyone even hint that the American man isn't always a bargain as a husband, or that he might need a little tactful training to turn him into the kind of considerate human being a woman can live happily with for life—and the men holder for the police.

A column of mine advising brides that the first year of marriage is the easiest time to train a husband in the way

Highlights TV Time Previews

TV Time critics preview coming television shows by attending rehearsals, watching screenings, studying scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their previews for today:

7:30 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "A Bride for Lars." (Color) (Rerun) A 30-minute sort-of-comedy which stars Doug McClure (Trampas) and Katherine Crawford in an old plot which seems to play well most of the times it's done. Trampas is instructed to pick up and deliver an injured man's mail-order bride and... well, take it from there.

9:30 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillbillies. (Rerun) This episode isn't as funny as it is interesting. Most of the action takes place at the famed Marineland in Palms Verde, Calif., and the cavorting specimens are a delight to watch, particularly the playful dolphins. The Clampetts have taken up deep-sea fishing, as encouraged by Banker Drysdale (Raymond Bailey), to keep them from going back to the hills where wild game is plentiful. Starring as the Clampetts are Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Max Baer and Donna Douglas.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. The Dick Van Dyke Show (Part II) (Rerun) Satty (Rose Marie) calls Rob's (Dick Van Dyke) bluff and quits her writing job to concentrate on her career as a TV celebrity. Now in need of a typist, Rob grudgingly is forced to give wife Laura (Mary Tyler Moore) the job. It's not long before he and Buddy (Morey Amsterdam) are willing to do anything to get their writing partner to return.

10:11 p.m. ABC. 77 Sunset Strip. "Error in a Small Town." (Rerun) This plot is old, but it serves to give Edd Byrnes a good acting chance and he comes through convincingly. As Kookie, he is robbed of his clothes, car and identification by a hitchhiker. In clothes left by the hitchhiker, Kookie is identified as a robber and faces a lynching.

he should go brought loud squawks from the men. One critic, who was a little more sarcastic than the others, even fell back on that old threat that if a wife tries to turn a man into a husband who treats her like a human being, she'll lose him to "something cute and fluffy who flatters his ego."

"That's an old, old chestnut men have come to depend on as their means of keeping wives in line.

But the truth is that if mom lets that old threat, spoken or implied, intimidate her so that she doesn't dare to stand up for her rights or expect to be treated with as much consideration as she gives her husband, her marriage isn't any bargain, anyway.

It really does seem as though men would be a little bit ashamed of having to end every man-woman argument with the threat that if a woman isn't willing to spend her life making a man feel big and wonderful and important, he can always start looking around for some bird-brain who will. And a bird-brain is usually just his speed.

Marriage is a two-way street. A childish attitude from either partner can wreck the chance of a happy life together.

Attack On LBJ Timing Of Raid News Renewed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Texas Republican congressman has renewed his complaint that President Johnson announced prematurely the U. S. air raids against North Vietnamese torpedo boat bases, citing an account given by the commander of the attack task force.

Rep. Ed Foreman, who was booed by Democrats when he made the charge originally last week on the House floor, said the details given by Rear Adm. Robert B. Moore indicated that "the Pentagon came up with an excuse for the President when he got himself in a bind."

Johnson's timing, the Texas said, was "the height of international military irresponsibility."

The controversy centered on the fact that Johnson told the American people in a broadcast on the Tuesday night of the attack that the operation was being executed at that time — 11:37 p. m. EST.

A later Defense Department summary of the raids reported that the U. S. planes did not reach their red targets until 1:15 a. m. EDT Wednesday.

Moore told newsmen that he did not believe the U. S. planes had been detected by North Viet Nam radar at the time Johnson made the public disclosure.

The admiral also said he did not believe the President's announcement gave the Reds any useful advance warning. He said the air strike would have been successful even if the North Vietnamese had had three days' advance warning.

Redding said that new lighting has been installed in the annex and that several departments from the main store are being shifted to the annex location.

To accommodate shoppers, Redding said that an archway has been cut from the main store into the annex.

Redding also dashed cold water on rumors that the firm would remain in its present location for only six months after the new McCrory store opened in the Sanford shopping center.

He explained that there never has been any plan to close the downtown store. "The company owns one-third of the main store, we have a 10-year lease on another third, and nine years to go on the remaining third portion of the main store."

Redding added, "Since we've extended the lease on the annex for an additional three years this should be sufficient evidence that the company is not planning to close this outlet."

He also declared that he will remain as manager of the downtown store.

Westside Fire Meeting Set

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
An urgent meeting of all persons interested in the Westside Volunteer Fire Department and Fire District was called for 8 p. m. Thursday in the Lake Monroe Community Building after County Commissioners today agreed to include the matter of voting on establishing the district on the November ballot.

Those attending the meeting also will be asked to complete signing the charter in order that arrangements can be immediately continued toward getting a fire truck.

Building OK'd

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The cabinet today gave its approval to a proposed multi-story office building which would be located across from the State Capital Center in Tallahassee.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

You, know, I used to think that I was a fairly sane individual with the average amount of common sense but after reading the papers I can't help wondering whether I am as nutty as a pecan roll and as out of step as the dumbest rookie in the regiment.

One item occupying a three column head and five columns of space reports an afternoon in which a city council sweated out the tough problem of deciding the difference between "swill" and "garbage." It seems the city had given a contract to an individual to collect garbage and he had come before the board to protest that independent swine growers were collecting "swill" from local restaurants. After much argument and wrangling the council in its wisdom tabled the matter until some higher authority could definitely determine what was "swill" and what was "garbage."

The next item to confront my so-called intelligence had to do with an irate citizen who was unhappy because the city had provided him with a nice new sidewalk and then proceeded to tear it up to give decent burial to some water pipes. He seemed to think that engineers should have considered the pipes before laying the sidewalk. The poor guy didn't know his engineers and he doesn't know that before long the engineers will tear up all the pretty paving on his street to give last rites to a new sewer line.

A college professor and scientist got more space than the situation in Viet Nam by coming up with the suggestion that instead of burying our dead we should freeze them and keep them in cold storage until science comes up with a cure for the disease that does them in. Then we could bring them back to life by thawing them out and give them a new lease on life.

Another item presents the reaction of an attorney who claimed that the jury that found his client guilty was composed of a group of imbeciles who made a wild guess totally disregarding the evidence. And they tell us patriotic citizens should accept jury duty!

Rioters and looters got themselves plenty of space by screaming "police brutality" in spite of the fact that the cops, in no way responsible for their grievances were simply doing their job under the most trying circumstances, in an effort to protect the interests and welfare of the community in the face of fanatical revolution.

Political leaders, scared half to death, screamed this and that but did nothing constructive to help control the situation. They couldn't figure out whether the "whites" or "blacks" would come out on top and damn it, votes are votes no matter who casts them.

I looked carefully from front page to last to see an item stating that the Federal government had called out any U. S. marshals or Army units to take over in New York or Rochester, but apparently the situation was not as serious as it was in Little Rock or Alabama. It seems that Northern states are capable of taking care of themselves and don't need Federal aid.

I couldn't find a thing about Mrs. Peabody rushing to Harlem or Rochester, evidently it's not as desirable as an outing in St. Augustine.

Will Rogers used to say, "all I know is what I read in the papers." If Will were alive today he would probably be as confused and disturbed as I am from reading the papers.

Huge Federal Aid Road Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson signed into law today a two-year, $2 billion federal aid highway program which he said will benefit "the most important but often most neglected member of our society—the American motorist."

In the process, Johnson scrapped fenders with the emphasis Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has placed on private, local or state activities in preference to federal.

"The American people have never been contaminated, they have never been compromised by riding over highways financed partly by federal aid," the Chief Executive said during a bill-signing ceremony in the cabinet room.

In what may also have been a taunt at Goldwater's controversial suggestion about possible sale of TVA facilities, Johnson said:

"I want the American motorist to know that things aren't so bad we must sell off our public roads to the highest bidder in order for Uncle Sam to stay liquid."

The highway bill totaled $50 million more than recommended by the administration. Congressional committees, saying road construction is a big generator of employment, approved an increase.

The 10 states which will receive the greatest share of funds are California $60.2 million, New York $57.8 million, Texas $57.8 million, Pennsylvania $42.6 million, Illinois $42 million, Alaska $40.3 million, Ohio $30.5 million, Michigan $33.8 million, Missouri $25.5 million, and Georgia $24 million.

The President was in a jovial mood during the bill signing ceremony. He said the American motorist is someone "we couldn't get along without, but we often talk as though we can't live without him."

He said the motorist has been required to pay an advance for the roads he uses but for too long there have been delays in building them. But he said that years ago the nation set out on a 16-year highway construction program which he described as "the most ambitious . . . since the days of ancient Rome."

Johnson said this program "put more than one million Americans to work," is already saving 3,000 lives a year and by 1972 will be saving 8,000 lives a year.

"This legislation here today serves still another need," Johnson said, "to help provide better primary and secondary highways and on a 50-50 basis with the states."

The bill, as Johnson noted, also authorizes millions of dollars for forest roads and trails, Indian reservation roads and bridges and parkways under the National Park Service.

Funds for the 41,000-mile interstate highway system are not included in this bill. They were authorized in 1961.

The total mileage covered under the separate primary, secondary and urban road program is 845,000 miles in every county in the United States.

By the way, base personnel soon will be asked to supply a proper name for the barracks rather than refer to it by number (310). The suggestion is made by Base Capt. C. W. Swanson. Clock Watchers recall a man named Capt. Robert M. Ware who used to guide base operations—but then, this is a Navy matter.

Now Hear This, you 17-year-old fellows: The Selective Service office says if you fail to register with your local board within five (5) days after reaching your 18th birthday you are considered a late registrant and your name will be reported to State Headquarters. If you are 90 days or more late, you are considered delinquent and may be ordered for induction at any time after you turn 19 years old. Better not forget to register, if you don't want to be on Uncle Sam's "list."

An item in the new city budget, listed as a "traffic line remover" for $850 caused consternation among city commissioners studying the budget Monday night. "Why do we need a traffic line remover?" commissioners asked Pete Knowles. "Well, I thought you might want to go back to parallel parking!" said Pete with a grin.

The new location of the city library has increased business quite a bit. Revenues are expected to be up about 25 percent next year. And the planned air-conditioning will make it even nicer.

Mrs. Dot Courier, Oviedo City Clerk, left Wednesday to begin a two-week vacation.

N. V. Farmer adds to our Odds Names Department with this incredible town—Stupidville, Tenn. It's about four miles north of Wartburg on U. S. 27. (Come to think of it, I believe we know a few people from there.)

The Florida Development Commission sends a note to The Clock pointing to the recent discovery of a large natural gas reserve in The Netherlands. It's said the discovery "opened an excellent opportunity for export by many Florida manufacturers." The FDC says Netherlands companies have indicated "their desire to purchase a wide range of goods associated with the production, storage, transmission and use of natural gas."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House said flatly today that President Johnson had not given U.S. field commanders involved in the Vietnamese conflict authority to use nuclear weapons.

Move To Block RFK Candidacy Losing Ground

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time—and possible alternative candidates—are running out of New York Democrats who hope to stop the mounting drive within the party to nominate Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the U. S. Senate.

One of the slim hopes of the forces opposed to Kennedy's nomination failed to get off the ground Wednesday when United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson once again declined to announce his availability as a candidate.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who has been walking alongside the Kennedy handwagon while others have hopped aboard, met for an hour with Stevenson. At the end of their discussion, the mayor announced that Stevenson "didn't say he was a candidate."

Informed sources close to the mayor contend that Wagner is opposed to Kennedy's entry into New York politics, but he has no intention of taking a direct stand against the "draft Kennedy" movement.

Kennedy, meanwhile, offered no comment on Wednesday's report in the New York Times that he definitely has decided to resign as attorney general and seek the New York Senate seat now occupied by Republican Kenneth B. Keating.

But a spokesman for Kennedy in Washington said: "The report is premature. The attorney general has not made a final decision."

Cleveland Going To Fort Stewart

State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. will be among a group of Florida government officials who with Governor Farris Bryant and Georgia Governor Carl Sanders will review National Guard units from the two states Friday and Saturday at Fort Stewart, Ga.

Cleveland was invited to participate in the affair by Adjutant General Henry McMillan of the Florida National Guard.

Duval Demos Won't Oust Barker

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The steering committee of the Duval County Democratic Committee rejected a call Wednesday for the resignation of Richard B. Barker who bolted the state delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Although Barker did not mention Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater by name when he resigned as a delegate, he strongly indicated he would favor the Republican candidate. He said he could not support President Johnson.

State party chairman Warren Goodrich had asked Barker to resign from county posts after he announced he was

This question of authority over nuclear weapons arose at the White House in connection with a statement made Wednesday at Hershey, Pa., by Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater. In a press conference following the GOP unity meeting at Hershey, expressed the belief that Johnson's orders to the U.S. Seventh Fleet carried with them authority to "use any weapons."

White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy, questioned about the President's orders to American forces involved in Southeast Asia, said:

"I know of nothing in those statements or orders . . . supporting orders that would be relevant to nuclear weapons or would authorize the use of nuclear weapons and we would be very much interested in knowing precisely what language is being referred to."

Reedy was then asked directly if Johnson had authorized use of nuclear weapons in Viet Nam.

"No," Reedy answered. Goldwater had implied that Johnson gave the U.S. commanders involved in the Gulf of Tonkin retaliation authority to use tactical nuclear weapons if they thought it necessary.

leaving his delegate's chair. Barker refused Goodrich's demands.

The Duval County steering committee backed up Barker and named Harold K. S. Smith Jr., a Jacksonville cigar firm executive, to replace Barker for the Atlantic City convention. Smith is a member of the steering committee. Its actions are binding on the full county organization.

Goodrich said Barker was violating his party oath by remaining as Duval County chairman.

He said the oath provides a candidate or party officer support 90 per cent of his party's candidates in the last general election and 100 per cent in the future.

Barker said he voted for 90 per cent of the Democratic candidates in the last election.

"I regret he did not resign," Goodrich said. "I can see a man taking the oath and then having a change of conscience but I think he owes it to his integrity to resign from local party office."

Barker said since he had resigned as a delegate he received "several calls from my Negro brothers" urging him to seek appointment of a Negro to replace him as a national delegate.

"As a Southerner, I don't approve of that sort of thing," Barker said.

Turner Leaves For Tehran

Lt. Col. Walter M. Turner, a recent graduate of the National War College in Washington, D. C., left Sanford today for an overseas assignment in Tehran, Iran.

Turner will be in Tehran for one year and will serve as a military advisor to the Iranian army.

Greeks Cut Turk Water Supply; Reds Evaporate Under Attack

Enemy Force Of 2,000 Breaks Off Contact

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Communist Viet Cong guerrillas evaporated into the jungle today in the face of a huge U. S.-supported helicopter offensive with the result that the Communist dead numbered only five when the shooting stopped, an American military spokesman said.

A force of 1,000 Vietnamese soldiers, carried in by a flight of 96 American helicopters, pounced on a reported concentration of 2,000 Viet Cong Wednesday about 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

It was the biggest helicopter operation in any war anywhere, U. S. officers said.

But disappointed field officers reported that after "light to sporadic firing" when the helicopters first landed, the Viet Cong broke contact and vanished into dense tropical foliage.

Anti-aircraft fire killed one U. S. Army first lieutenant piloting an HUH-1B helicopter on a rocket-firing run. A 50-caliber slug hit him in the chest and he slumped dead over the controls.

Two Vietnamese soldiers were killed and two Americans and four Vietnamese were wounded by anti-aircraft fire during the bombardment of rebel positions near Ap Bo Cong village.

The base commanding officer declared the building the first "structural change" at the facility in many years. The barracks will house 308 men, four to a room. (Herald Photo)

Coin Shortage Laid To Vending Machines And Big Speculators

By Dolie Austin City Editor

The present coin shortage is not the fault of coin collectors, Numismatic Bill Birt of Winter Park told Kiwanians Wednesday at their luncheon meeting at the Civic Center.

"It's the fault of thousands of coin vending machines and of coin speculators, who buy up bags of coins and hoard them until the price goes up," Birt explained.

He asked if anyone in the audience had a Kennedy half dollar. Only a few hands went up and most people said they hadn't even seen one.

Birt asked bankers in the audience if any were available at the bank, and the answer was "no."

"Well, you can buy a whole bag full of them from speculators, with a bag of 2,000 selling today for about $1,200," Birt said. He said a trade newspaper, "Coin World," carried advertisements of Kennedy half dollars.

Birt pointed a finger at bank tellers, who, he said, had been selling bags of coins to speculators.

"The mints only made 118

Kennedy half-dollars and the public immediately grabbed them up for souvenirs. You can hardly find any in circulation today," Birt noted.

"There are only about eight million coin collectors, numismatists, who may have one or two of each coin. There are hundreds of millions of coins in circulation, but the shortage is caused by vending machine demands and speculators," Birt pointed out.

Birt pointed to the thousands of coin-operated vending machines in use, saying he had passed through 18 toll stations returning from New York.

After the meeting a group gathered to examine Birt's coin collection.

In one glass-covered case, he had every type of gold piece, sets of coins, and a set of all U. S. paper money.

"Coin collecting is now the most popular hobby in the world. A few years ago, it was second, with goldfish first."

Arctic Air Dips Into Deep South

By United Press International

A massive flow of Arctic air tumbled temperatures to record lows from the Northern Plains to the deep South today.

The huge cold air mass sprawled from the Dakotas to the Atlantic Coast and southward nearly to the gulf. Frost formed on fields in the upper Midwest.

August heat was replaced by the record chill in Iowa, Indiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Missouri, Mississippi, North Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Illinois, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas.

A new low of 46 at Evansville, Ind., eclipsed the old mark of 60 for Aug. 13 by 14 degrees. It was 36 at Storm Lake, Iowa—13 degrees cooler than the previous record.

Readings of 37 at Sioux Falls, S. D., and 46 at Burlington, Iowa, were 10 degrees colder than the previous mark.

Evansville's low temperature and a 43 at Springfield, Ill., and a 50 at St. Louis, Mo., were the coldest marks ever recorded for those cities during August.

In the South, new records for the day included Birmingham, Ala., 56; Meridian, Miss., 63; Asheville, N. C., 50;

Louisville, Ky., 51; Memphis, Tenn., 53; Athens, Ga., 56; Nashville, Tenn., 54; Atlanta, Ga., 56; Little Rock, Ark., 58; and Knoxville, Tenn., 53.

Other Midwest records and eastern records included Dubuque, Iowa, 49; Springfield, Mo., 48; Columbia, Mo., 48; Cincinnati, Ohio, 51; Moline, Ill., 53; Hismark, N. D., 34; Waterloo, Iowa, 41; Des Moines, Iowa, 48; Norfolk, Neb., 46; Omaha, Neb., 47; Kansas City, Mo., 56; Cairo, Ill., 57; and Huron, S. D., 36.

Grocery Store Robbery Fails

Burglary of the Tip Top grocery store on W. 13th St. was thwarted during the night, police reported today.

The store manager, Charlie Jackson, said someone entered an unlocked door to the motor room and then tried to enter the main store by breaking a window. Boards behind the window foiled the attempt, he told police.

Letter Rip

An unidentified car clipped 10 mailboxes on Sanford Avenue near Myrtle Street at about 7 p.m. Wednesday, police reported today.

Plane Rockets, Machine Guns Hit Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Greek Cypriot forces were reported today to be cutting off water and food supplies to Turkish Cypriot towns, creating a new threat to the shaky Cyprus truce.

A top United Nations source said the Greek Cypriot blockade had left several Turkish Cypriot communities without water and with severely restricted stocks of petroleum supplies. It was reported the Turkish Cypriots were forced to drink brackish water.

Canadian UN troops tried to deliver food and water supplies to Lefka in northwestern Cyprus, but were turned back by Greek Cypriots.

It was feared the blockade could be a new tactic aimed at winning in this island. It was a move that could trigger new violence in the communal warfare that has brought Greece and Turkey to the brink of war and imperiled the NATO alliance.

Turkish jet planes made machine gun and rocket attacks against Greek Cypriot positions around Nicosia in northwest Cyprus last weekend in an effort to relieve pressure on the Turkish Cypriot defenders.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu has sent Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev a message asking him to use his influence on Greek Cypriots to restore peace in Cyprus.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Greek Cypriot military leader Gen. George Grivas set up a conference with the UN command today to discuss establishment of new UN outposts in the battle-scarred northwestern section of Cyprus.

ICBM Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—A Titan 2 intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) was launched successfully today from this coastal base in a mission designed to gain additional performance data on the weapons system.
