DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and am married for the sixth time. I know that makes me sound like a terrible person, but I'm really not. (I married my third husband twice.) My problem is I am still in love with my fifth husband. I lived with him longer than with any of the others (four years) and I loved him with all my heart. He kept aceusing me of still being in love with my ex-husbands. first one and then another. I couldn't take it any longer, so I divorced him. The day my divorce became final I married the lawyer who got me my divorce. I don't love him, Abby. I only marriad him because I am afraid to stay alone at night. How can I get my fifth husband back? He is now going with my younger sister. I know it is only because she reminds him of MIXED UP daughter who has never given us any trouble. She helps her mother and has always brought home good report cards. She has a boy friend who is 18. They have gone together for almost a year. He is a good kid, quiet like our daughter. Lately he has been bringing his laundry here (underwear, shirts and socks) for my daughter to wash and iron, I told my Mrs. this was all wrong. She says our daughter is showing the boy what a good little wife she can be. I say, what's the hurry? Who is wrong? A SAD DAD

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you mere value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabe and the Fleetside pickup hody has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more conifort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to. Conventional half-and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increasesand vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling

The right engine, Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet. truck engines-fours, sixes, Va's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with fullwidth rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trutks have more power this year. In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement-including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity. Dump truck operators now can order as Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet Dealer for information or

Beastly Situation --

If you've been reading the papers, you have to agree that the news hasn't been too encouraging for the human race.

On distinguished soologist suspects that man is more closely related to the gorilla and chimpanzee than a gorilla or a chimpanzee is related to an ape. No comments, please.

Another expert on such matters believes that man is descended from the rodent family. This may explain why we occasionally auspect some guy is a rat. Or why some of us married men sometimes act like mice.

But the crusher comes in the glum prediction by an eminent biologist that bugs are going to outlast man.

Makes you feel like a worm, doesn't it?

Come Right On In

In our constant endeavor to point out the changing aspects of life in America, the spotlight should now move to: Meals on the front stoop.

For, you see, in addition to food coming to the dining room from the kitchen, it is now moving into an increasing number of homes through the front door.

In Houston, Texas, for example, 150 families have five-course meals delivered at dinner time six days a

In Miami, Fla., there are two firms which cater individual meals at the home. Each attends the needs of 2.000 families daily. It is especially popular in this city, due to Cuban refugees who were familiar with such a service, popular back home.

One-third of all U. S. married women, or more than 12 million, have jobs. This new development of meals on wheels can make their lives easier. For the aged and those on special diets and invalids, it would be a boon.

Even welfare people are looking into it. Under direction of the county health department, one county in Maryland is providing bring-in meals for 12 invalids. In New York a study is being made on similar service to elderly families under a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

26e Week

For those who bemoan the passing of so-called rugged individualism in America and lament what they regard as sheeplike submission to daily tax shearing by local, state and federal governments, there may be encouraging news in the Treasury Department's report on how its war against the moonshiners went in fiscal 1968.

A total of 8,092,000 gallons of illegal liquor or mash was seized between July 1, 1962, and June 30, 1963. This was a decline of almost 10 per cent from fiscal 1962, indicating there were fewer illegal operators. But 8,000,000 gallons is still a respectable figure (if you can call it rested in the one year for federal liquor law violations, 2,400 vehicles were seized and more than 6.200 stills destroyed. Property was confis-cated to the tune of $2 million plus.

Convicted violators are now serving jail sentences of three, four or five years, but there seems to be no lack of volunteers to take their places.

Every year since George Washington sent the militia into Pennsylvania to enforce the first liquor tax against the farmers, the story of moonshiner vs. "revenooer" has been repeated until it is a part of American folklore.

JFK Commences 'Non-Political' 5-Day Journey

MILFORD, Pa. (UPI) President Kennedy keynoted tion areas today with a call for space-age Americans to discover "whole new universof opportunity in their wan land, water and idle

The Chief Executive's avowedly "non-political" fiveday journey across the contiment started with a salute in Pennsylvania to the Republican father of the conservation movement, Gifford Pinchot. Kennedy's tour also will take him to nine north-central and western states where Democratic senators running for re-election in 1964 have invited him to share in the reflected glories of local natural wonders.

In his initial speech the President gave his administration credit for increasing "the pace of resource development and conservation in a variety of ways" since taking office in 1961.

"I begin today a journey to save America's natural heritage - a journey to preserve the past and protect the future," Kennedy said at the outset of remarks prepared for delivery here at his first speechmaking way-station. The President scheduled the stop to dedicate the 83-yearold "Grey Towers," the ancestral Pinchot home, as the Pinchot Institute for Consergovernor of Pennsylvania, annually in the U. Quints' Mother Spends Quiet Day At Home

ABERDEEN, S. D. (UPI)-Mrs. Mary Ann Fischer mothered her other five children in the quiet of her home today while her famous quintuplets squalled and wiggled n their hospital incubators. Mrs. Fischer and her husband, Andrew, 38, didn't plan to venture from their old, 10room farm house just outside Aberdeen on Mrs. Fischer's first full day home from the hospital.

Her homecoming Monday, afternoon was a quiet, subdued affair compared with the commotion that followed the births of the quints in the pre-dawn hours a week ago Saturday.

The oldest three children were in school, But Evelyn. 4, and Denise, 3, were at home with their grandmother, Mrs. Elmer Brady, of Hecla, S. D., when the Fischers pulled up in their new station wagon.
