

Investigators Find Evidence Of Lavish Entertainment For CAB

WASHINGTON (UP)—Evidence purporting to show airline executives lavishly entertained Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) members has been unearthed by House investigators, it was learned today.

While details of the evidence were not available, it was reported that investigators for a House commerce subcommittee were examining the books of several country clubs outside Washington and Georgia. Sources said airlines were being checked to see what was spent on CAB entertainment.

One source said the evidence thus far was "as bad" as that dug up on the Federal Communications Commission. A subcommittee report charged FCC members with accepting color TV sets and other favors from broadcasters they are charged with regulating.

"Miscellaneous" Related
The disclosure of evidence against the CAB, which is responsible for regulating the airlines, came after public hints investigators have evidence of possible "misconduct" and White House interference in CAB decisions.

Walter P. Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, charged in testimony prepared for a Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee hearing that auto firms were rigging prices to insure father profits without regard to demand for cars. He urged Congress to make big corporations explain the reason for price hikes before putting them into effect.

Reuther also suggested that Congress establish an "independent office of consumers' counsel" to protect consumer interests before all government agencies.

Atom Hearings Open
The Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee began closed-door hearings on the request for five President Eisenhower broad powers in helping United States allies beef up their atomic weapons arsenals.

The Atomic Energy Commission urged the relaxation of present restrictions against sharing atomic secrets with friendly nations to let them have nuclear materials and design information for making atomic weapons.

Two congressional Democratic leaders on education and the National Education Assn. (NEA) charged President Eisenhower's one billion dollar education program is inadequate. The NEA hit at the failure to provide more classrooms and increase teachers salaries.

Partial defeat loomed in the Senate Finance Committee for the administration's request to boost the debt ceiling by five billion to 280 billion dollars. The committee appeared closely divided over a proposal of Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) to hold the increase to three billion dollars.

Pact Tentatively Okays Plan To Join Forces

ANKARA, Turkey (UP)—The Baghdad Pact nations gave tentative approval today to a plan to mesh their armed forces into a solid shield against further Soviet penetration of the Middle East.

Informed sources said the pact council, with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles sitting in as an observer, approved secret proposals for cooperation worked out by the pact's military committee. The United States, though not a member of the Baghdad Pact, is a member of the military committee.

Dulles pledged Monday that American "mobile power" would back up the individual pact members in case of communist aggression.

The ministers met for an hour and a half today and approved a formal program for the rest of their meetings as well as hearing the report of the military committee.

Group Seeks Annexation In Pinecrest Section

The question of annexation confronted the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night as they considered a request, signed by a number of residents, to annex the Pinecrest area.

The letter stated: "We understand the city now has the legal machinery to annex. A number of people in the Pinecrest area would appreciate your taking action."

Commissioner Robert S. Brown stated "It would be the privilege of this commission to set the area."

The City Attorney, William C. Hutchison, told commissioners "You can accept requests of property owners to come in, however, they should designate the area they want annexed."

Commissioner Brown suggested that the board of commissioners give "some thought to this" and designate the area to be considered.

"We don't want to bring people in without telling them we can furnish certain services within a certain date and there are areas in which we could give these services at once—others it would take as much as two years," said Commissioner Brown.

Relative to the question of a recommendation from the Zoning and Planning Commission, Commissioner David Gatchel stated "I feel our Zoning and Planning Commission is concerned with the city as it is now and I feel that this problem is up to us."

He said "We've heard in the past few days how Tampa has doubled its size—all done with careful planning. It is definitely up to this commission to set up a proposed area for annexation and our best bet is to set a target date of March 10 to designate the area."

A spokesman in the audience stated "Most people would like for the date to be set so that annexation would be accomplished by July 1 when fire protection ceases."

Mrs. Edna Norman, attending the commission meeting with three other representatives of the local Taxpayers Association said "I am pleased with the attitude of this commission—I think the people out here are not near as opposed to coming into the city as they were. My request is that you let us know what your plans are."

"This is the first time annexation has come up," Mayor Merle Warner said. "This commission wants to work with your organization—we need your cooperation."

Commissioners agreed to set Mar. 10 as the target date for designating an area to be annexed.

Roy Campanella Suffers Broken Neck In Wreck

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (UP)—Los Angeles Dodgers star catcher Roy Campanella suffered a broken neck in an automobile accident early today. He is "paralyzed from the chest down," his wife told newsmen.

An operation to relieve pressure on his spinal cord and to return to baseball cannot be known until the operation is completed, the hospital said.

A doctor, who declined to be identified, said, however, that "his playing days may be over."

Mrs. Campanella, mother of six children under 18, told newsmen she saw her husband shortly after he was admitted to the hospital at 4:12 a. m. and "the just moaned. He's paralyzed from the chest down."

Worried Dodger officials gathered at the hospital and Dodger president Walter O'Malley kept in touch by telephone from New York. The chunky Negro catcher, the National League's most valuable player in 1951, 1953, and 1955 had been due to report to the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., training camp about Feb. 20.

Campanella was nearing his $50,000 home in a real estate development on the former estate of the late financier J. P. Morgan when his car skidded on a sharp curve near the crest of a hill and crashed into a telephone pole.

Station Wagon, Truck Collide At Intersection

The front end of a station wagon was practically torn off in a collision with a pickup truck at the intersection of the Old Orlando Highway and south Sanford Ave. this morning about 9:30.

The station wagon, traveling north and the pickup truck traveling south, collided in the center of the intersection as the truck, apparently heading toward Lake Jessup on Sanford Ave. pulled in front of the station wagon.

Damages to the station wagon, owned by Terminix Co. of Orlando, were estimated at $400. The driver was Andrew W. Deason, 37-year-old representative of the Orlando firm. He was not injured.

The truck, a 1950 Chevrolet, is owned by Stokes Fish Market and was driven by Alphonso Walden, 44-year-old Negro of Sanford.

James L. Sikes, Patrolman for the Florida Highway Patrol, investigated the accident. He said charges of violating the right-of-way and operating a vehicle with no drivers license would be filed against Walden.

Local Firm Seeks Site From City

A major property deal for local industry expansion brought varying comments from commissioners last night when an offer was made for the purchase of an industrial site in the downtown area.

John Burton IV, architect, and speaking for Lee Brothers Plumbing and Heating, stated that a cash offer of $6,000 was made for the property in question.

"French Ave. property is unquestionably valuable," Burton told the board of commissioners.

However, he explained, this is a home industry, well established, sales in excess of $250,000 annually and an annual payroll of $170,000.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham objected to the offer since "we have been offered over $15,000 for the same piece of property."

Referring to other sales of city property, Burton asked that the home industry receive the same cooperation as those industries outside the city.

Commissioner David Gatchel commented "Just because one city commissioner made a mistake there is no reason this one will."

Commissioner A. L. Wilson stated "when you look at the appraisal and at the offer I don't see how we can get together."

Commissioner Robert S. Brown said "the offer is way below what I've dreamed of."

Burton revealed that immediate building plans of Lee Brothers would be in the neighborhood of $30 to $35 thousand.

In a poll of commission members Commissioner Wilson said "I think we should do as much for home people as outside but we should get as much as a third of the amount appraised."

Commissioner Higginbotham said "It wouldn't be less than that."

Mayor Merle Warner explained that his figure would be "$15,000."

Commissioner Gatchel said "I don't have a figure," and Commissioner Brown stated his figure would be $18,000.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles told the board of commissioners "I think it is a very good time to point up the need of a policy on which to sell city property. We have sold 17-92 property for $200 on which we won't get taxes. We are now talking about a city firm, well established. Let's don't slam the door on hometown industry."

Commissioner Gatchel commented "That's true. It's a hard thing to say no to a well established firm."

Burton raised the offer of the property in question to $40,000 and the Board of Commissioners agreed to take the offer under consideration and place the matter on the next meeting's agenda for discussion.

City Commission Discusses Natural Gas, Franchise

Natural gas and a franchise for the existing gas company were discussed last night by a member of the Sanford Gas Company board of directors and members of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Arthur S. Dewing, a director in the Sanford Gas Co. organization told commissioners the "franchise was originally given in 1928" and "will expire in March of 1958."

There are two important provisions, Dewing said. One is that if the City of Sanford wishes to buy the gas works it should so notify the company a year in advance of the franchise expiration; and two, if the City of Sanford does not wish to buy, the franchise must be renewed.

Commissioners took exception to the statement by the gas company executive that the franchise must be renewed.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles explained that the commission wished to obtain natural gas for Sanford. However, officials of the Sanford Gas Co. could not furnish information that the gas would be furnished. "To this date," said Knowles, "this evidence was not forthcoming."

Dewing said that the matter could be briefly summarized and explained "We signed with authorities we would take natural gas and deliver to our customers and the federal power commission definitely allocated gas to Sanford."

According to Dewing "We have hesitated to make any definite statements but we do have a commitment to take natural gas from the Houston Gas Co."

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham asked Dewing "Are you in a position to give us a commitment that you will furnish natural gas when available?"

The commissioner said "If so, and when such a commitment is in our files, we would be in a position to talk franchise."

Sidewalk Machines Ordered Removed

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night ordered Chief of Police Roy G. Williams to remove weight machines from the sidewalks in Sanford.

"You will not allow them to be installed again," the commission told Chief Williams.

The move by the city was made when several citizens apparently were referred to the City of Sanford to make claims for injuries received when they stumbled over the machines.

"Let's announce our intentions on the removal of merchandise from the sidewalks and put the discussion on the agenda for the next meeting," Commissioner David Gatchel said.

"This move is going to be far-reaching," one commissioner said, "and we will have to back the chief 100 per cent."

The entire question of merchandise on sidewalks throughout the city was discussed as examples of injuries reported to the commission were reviewed and the types of merchandise or equipment appearing on sidewalk right-of-ways were described.

Commissioner Gatchel said "We've got to be prepared for what will hit us."

The scope of the discussion covered the selling of foods from cardboard placed on the sidewalks in front of stores which Commissioner Higginbotham stated is "unhealthy." "This is a touchy situation but a bad one," he said.

"Those who have not received cards may register in person on Tuesdays at the Registration Office in the Chamber of Commerce Building," Mrs. Bruce said.

TV In Review

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—CBS-TV's "High Adventure" true thrilling adventures never before experienced by civilized man! took civilized viewers and uninitiated TV reviewers on a true thrilling trip to Africa Wednesday night. Like its predecessors this season, the "High Adventure" was narrated by Lowell Thomas and was just chock full of those tidbits of information that help build great crossword puzzle and quiz champions.

Thus, shown a shot of pygmies, we learned: "the pygmies won't cut down a tree because they believe their ancestors live in them." Or, faced with a crocodile we were informed: "the crocodile—which the ancient Egyptians worshipped." Or, taken to Kenya, we heard Thomas tell us in sepulchral tones: "Kenya, home of world famous taxidermist, Paul Zimmerman." Well, I tell you, that made me sit up all right. I had never thought of Kenya quite that way before.

Not High Adventure
The trouble with "High Adventure," of course, is that it is not really high adventure. It never really digs into any of the regions or peoples that it visits, and during each episode you always have that uneasy feeling that you have been here before, only the place had a different name.

The ceremonies on "High Adventure" are staged and the staging is obvious. Wednesday, Thomas didn't even bother to pretend that a raid by chimpanzees on a camel caravan was anything but make-believe. I seem to remember that in the first "High Adventure" this season there was some phony hocus-pocus with some natives in New Guinea which the show pretended was genuine. Everybody howled and rightly so. "High Adventure" and its cameramen may get around a good bit, but the show never really gets inside any of its subjects. As a result, it winds up like all those corny, yawny travelogues the movies used to show in the long ago that drove the cash customers to the popcorn counter.

Railroad Industry Is Suffering Dangerous, Urgent Problems

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Those numerous individuals who would like to substitute for the American way of life a father-knows-best system of state socialism should find considerable comfort in the plight of the nation's railroads.

The railroads are in trouble. The trouble is so serious and so deeply imbedded in the industry as to give the situation the color of a national calamity.

Railroad troubles are as bad and probably as dangerous as are the troubles afflicting American farmers. They are as urgent and just about as closely related to national defense as are the troubles the United States is having with its satellite launching rockets.

If railway managers were as numerous as farmers, there would be here in Congress a powerhouse of national calamity.

Today's railroads are about as monopolistic as deep dish apple pie.

Railroad presidents who assembled here to testify before a Senate Interstate Commerce Subcommittee complained, that nonetheless, their carriers are taxed, regulated and bedeviled like true monopolies.

Road presidents foresee either new federal regulatory and new general tax policies or bankruptcy and, ultimately, resort to the socialistic device of government ownership and operation.

The railroads are getting little attention and less sympathy for their problem although it seems to be as basic to the national welfare as the problem of the American farmer or the problem of outer space.
