NATION IN BRIEF

Energy Plan May Defer

Higher Gasoline Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) - The energy program being drafted in Congress may defer higher gasoline taxes until states first have a chance to save fuel through some type of allocation program, says Chairman Al Ullman of the House Ways and Means Committee. However, Ullman predicted that an allocation program is doomed to eventual failure, and higher gasoline taxes are inevitable.

Fireman Sets Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Lt. Harold J. Colen finishes a long day's work at the San Francisco Fire Department's Engine Company 21 and then heads for home in Yuma, Ariz. The fire chief says it's "unbelievable" and the head of the firefighters' union says "there's something wrong" when a city firefighter lives so far from his work. Two months ago, Colen moved to be near his son, Mike, who is stationed in Arizona with the Army. Colen kept his $19,300ayear firefighter's job and commutes 1,600 miles to work a 24-hour shift once or twice a week. Roundtrip airfare is about $200. Colen, a 24-year fire department veteran who was cited for heroism in 1969, has apparently decided to move back to the city.

Professor For 50 Years

PHILADELPHIA (AP)The students come and go, but Dr. Solomon Zeitlin remains, teaching in the same classroom where he began half a century ago. The 82year-old professor of post-Biblical literature and institutions recently celebrated his 50th anniversary at tiny Dropsie University here. Zeitlin has been involved in several Biblical controversies, the latest involving the famous Dead Sea Scrolls discovered in 1947. Many scholars say the scrolls are pre-Christian, but Zeitlin thinks they date from the 6th or 7th century A.D. If his theory is correct, it could shed new light on the history of

Women Must Qualify

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Army has decided that all women soldiers donning their new uniform after June 30 must become qualified "markspersons" with the M16 Although women are barred from serving in combat units, the Army said it feels they should be trained to help defend their supporting outfits if emergencies arise while they are stationed overseas. The Marine Corps reportedly is considering a similar step, although it probably will be on a selective basis determined by a woman Marine's assignment.

Machinists Reject Offer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Striking machinists have resix-week strike at company facilities in Southern California and Florida. The vote Sunday by an estimated 5,000 members of Local 720 of the International Association of Machinists was about 75 per cent against the proposed settlement, a

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - The Saturn rocket that will launch the U.S. portion of a joint Russian-American space mission next July begins its journey today with a 312-mile trip from its assembly point to the It will take five or six hours for the Saturn 1B to travel on a mammoth "crawler transporter" from the Vehicle Assembly Building to the pad, space agency officials said.

Astronauts Thomas Stafford, Donald K. Slayton and Vance Brand, who were here to take part in the rollout ceremony, are scheduled to blast off July 15 to linkup with the Soyuz craft carrying Col. Alexei Leonov and Valery

Meanwhile, a spokesman said space agency technicians are concerned about the timing of the launch. "We have a very precise window, and we are launching in the afternoon at the height of the thunderstorm season," said Donald Buchanan, associate director for design engineering. "For the Apollo-Soyuz test project, we can't afford any down time."

The astronauts plan to visit Baikonur, the Russian launching site, in May to inspect the rocket and spaceship to be used by the cosmonauts. The Russians recently returned home after visiting Cape Canaveral and conducting training at the Johnson Space Center in Houston,

Spanish Vote A Factor

MIAMI BEACH (AP) - The president of a national organization of Spanish-speaking Americans says his group is launching a massive voter registration drive aimed at making Latins a major force in the 1976 presidential election.

"There are 16 million Latinspeaking people in this country. The Spanish vote can be the deciding factor," Joe Benitez, of Phoenix, Ariz., told a weekend meeting of the governing board of the League of United American

The 33-member governing council adopted a resolution during the two-day meeting to change the group's constitution to eliminate citizenship as a requirement for membership. The resolution must be approved at the league's national convention.

Condominium Sales Heavy

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Despite a slumping economy, George Miller says he has people waiting in line to buy his condominium units at $500,000 a piece - in

For that price, you get a three-bedroom apartment complete with an outdoor terrace and a garage that features original oil paintings on the wall. Miller says the address isn't bad either since the threestory condominium is on Palm Beach's elegant Worth Avenue, a street reminiscent of Monte Carlo and lined with exclusive shops and boutiques. City zoning administrator Grace Peters says that, while asking for cash may be a little unusual, there is nothing out of the ordinary about the $500,000-price tag.

Education Facing Problems

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) - The director of the state's Division of Community Colleges has warned the graduating class of the University of Florida that higher education in this state is facing serious problems because of budget cuts.

"Higher education in Florida is operating on fewer real follars per student today than it was in 1970," Henderson said at commencement ceremonies Saturday, where 1,260 students received degrees.

Arab Dollars Are Welcomed

A new round of negotiations among the 90 countries subscribing to the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT) is finally under way in Geneva. It is hoped that progress can be made in overcoming the drift toward protectionism in trade policies which has been evident since the major trading nations became worried about recession in Economic isolationism is an instinctive national reaction when there is a business downturn, but it is also the wrong reaction. Clear channels for international trade and investment are as important for the world's economic health when times are bad as they are when times are

The opening of the GATT negotiations comes as the U.S. Congress, whose Trade Act passed last year will help the talks along, is flirting with a new form of protectionism - more stringent limitations on foreign investment in the United States of

It is not surprising that Americans are uneasy about the flow of Arab oil money into their country in the forum of investments in banks, corporations and real property. We are more accustomed to the shoe being on the other foot, as the considerable U.S. investment in other countries attests. The attempt by some Arab investors to link anti-Jewish or anti-Israel policies with their investments is also repugnant to Americans.

It would be self-defeating, however, for the United States to erect barriers against foreign investment like those proposed by Sens. Harrison A. Williams of New Jersey and Edmund Brooke of Massachusetts. Their bill would require foreign investors to notify our government in advance of plans to purchase 5 per cent or more of the stock of a U. S. company, and would give the president power to block such purchases on the vague grounds of "protecting the domestic economy."

The president already has powers to limit foreign investment in sensitive defense, communication, transport, banking and natural resource industries. In other words, we are already protected against a "takcover" of the vital elements of our economy. To try to extend that protection to the economy at large would only invite retaliation by other countries and cut off avenues for investment of U. S. funds abroad.

It is estimated that oil-exporting countries will have accumulated $250 billion in surplus revenues by 1980, and the international monetary system demands that this money be recycled into the economies of the nations buying oil. Our economic growth would be hamstrung if neoisolationism were to prevent the return flow of oil dollars into our country.

Americans can say no thanks to any foreign investor who tries to attach intolerable conditions to an investment. Our government policy, however, should remain one of encouraging foreign investments within limits already defined which protect our national security.

Generation Gap

Shirley Temple movies have been ruled unsuitable for television in Britain because broadcasting authorities believe they "have no relevance to modern children." These films from the 1930s do look a little dated today, especially since Little Miss Marker has grown up to be the U. S. ambassador to Ghana, but we doubt if British kids would care about that. Shirley Temple movies were the fairy tales of their era, and since when does fantasy have to be relevant? There is no reason why Shirley should not go on tap-dancing her way through the Depression as long as Little Red Riding Hood keeps meeting

Headache Just Brings On Another

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - Forever wise in these matters, some members of Congress have been busy organizing the future of Cambodia. After five years of financial, technical and strategic support for one side, the sudden decision is that side should now give up, get rid of its leaders and go with arms outreaching to hail the former enemy as the new regime.

One member of Congress, Mike Mansfield, has gone so far as to suggest what former enemy the outstretched arms should hail most: His Royal Highness, Prince Samdesh Preah Norodom Sihanouk Upayuvarech, heir to the Khmer throne, one time god-king to the peasantry and says Mansfield, a plain jolly good sort.

To be sure, Prince Sihanouk is waiting for the hails. And, it can be said, none the worst for wear as a former enemy. Since deposed in a 1969 coup and while his countrymen have engaged in murderous struggle, His Highness, Mike Mansfield's friend of 23 years, has suffered on As a guest of the Chinese government,

Sihanouk has lived in a palatial former ministry building and is attended by 100 servants, including his wife and seven cooks. It has not been easy - Chinese rice being vulgar - but His Plucky Highness has kept fit against the day of triumphal return. It may be, of course, that the Cambodians are

Educating

For Success 4 New Plan

Educational theories are a dime a dozen, but occasionally one comes along that deserves better than the file - and - forget treatment. The revolutionary program broached recently by one educator would more or less take reading, writing and 'rithmetic out of the elementary school and defer them until grade 6 or 7. The major purpose of the elementary years would be to provide the background necessary for success at the intermediate level, which in turn would prepare students for ultimate success in high

"It's better to arrive at the junior high level liking a subject such as science without knowing a terrible lot about it," says William D. Rohwer Jr. of the University of California, Berkeley, As it is now, half or more of the students in school, irrespective of race, do not really receive an education, he says. The main mission of public education today, he charges, is selection - identifying persons who are and who are not talented - rather than educating all.

"Far from causing general alarm, individual inequalities in schooling are a source of security for our belief in the validity of the procedures of schooling," he says. "Thus the sad prospect is that unless we abandon our commitment to the use of the schools as a major device for separating the more from the less talented. ailure will continue to be the fate of millions o

New Portuguese Cabinet Formed By Goncaives

LISBON, Portugal (AP) - Premier Vasco Goncalves has formed a new cabinet for Portugal's left-wing military government that is expected to be announced within the next 24 hours, a government spokesman said

Political sources have forecast that there will be increased Communist influence among the civilians in the cabinet, though military men will continue to dominate it. ### Somalia Ambassador Held

DJIBOUTI, Afars & Issas Territory (AP) - The French ambassador to Somalia was kidnaped Sunday night by a group of young men demanding the release of two Africans serving life terms in France, reports from Mogadishu, the Somali capital, said today. Radio Mogadishu said Ambassador Jean Gueury, 57, was dragged into a car as he left the Mogadishu cathedral. Bystanders tried to come to his aid but were driven off by gunfire. Police set up roadblocks around the city and located the house where Gueury was being held, the broadcast said. The Italian ambassador was acting as intermediary in negotiations for his release.

The kidnapers said they belonged to the Front for Liberation of the Somali Coast, the FCLS. They refused to deal directly with Soniali officials.

Ali Vs Wepner: Another Benefit

35-mile trip over a rolling road to seeming nowehere tonight for another bizarre Muhammad Ali benefit.

You have to be here to believe it. "I am like oxygen-oxygen is all over the world," bellows the bombastic Ali. "Any man who challlenges me is challenging the world-he has to be out

The challenger is a big, mustachioed booze salesman named Chuck Wepner, who until a couple of months ago was little known outside the dimly lighted saloons of Bayonne, N.J. He could be the longest shot in heavyweight title fight history. Odds have been quoted from 10-1 to 100-1. Las Vegas refuses to make book on it. Wepner, a hulking 6-foot-5 with a reputation for facial skin that will crack like delicate china and for countless bar room brawls, appears awed by his sudden thrust into the center of boxing's stage and the guarantee of a $100,000 pay check, but he gives no indication of being frozen with fright. "Ali was a great fighter once but is going downhill," he says. "The champ's got fast hands but slow legs. I will stop him in the 13th." Some of his closest associates wonder if he believes it. The 15-round fight, the first defense by Ali since regaining the crown with a knockout of George Foreman last October in Zaire, Africa, is part of a unique electronic doubleheader representing a $2.3 million gamble by The show begins in New York's Madison Square Garden at 9:30 p.m. EDT with a creditable heavyweight matchup between Jerry Quarry and Ken Norton, guaranteed $185,000 and

Ali is guaranteed $1.3 million for what most experts contend will be the easiest night's work of his career. Rumors that the promoters- Don King and Video Techniques, Inc., who pulled off the Zaire undertaking, and Carl Lombardo, Cleveland builder who posted more than $1 million in front money-were in for a $1 million bath were strenuously denied. "No way," insisted King, former numbers baron and ex-convict who has emerged as the strong man of boxing. "We started with a lemon and wound up with lemonade." King said advance ticket sales for the Coliseum had reached 12,000 and he expected all 21,000 seats to be filled by fight time. He placed the live gate here and in New York at $1.3 million.

Wepner weighed in at 225 and Ali at 2231/2 Sunday in a wild ceremony at the Coliseum. Some 300 attended. Ali, 32, a Muslim who had his championship stripped from him when he refused to enter U.S. military service, was in full cry, using the occasion as a forum to proclaim his own greatness and spread his social doc-

"Look at him," he said, pointing a finger at his opponent, wearing a bright red, white and blue robe. "The white hope with a flag draped around him. "If he punches on me, I will trip him up and stomp on him."

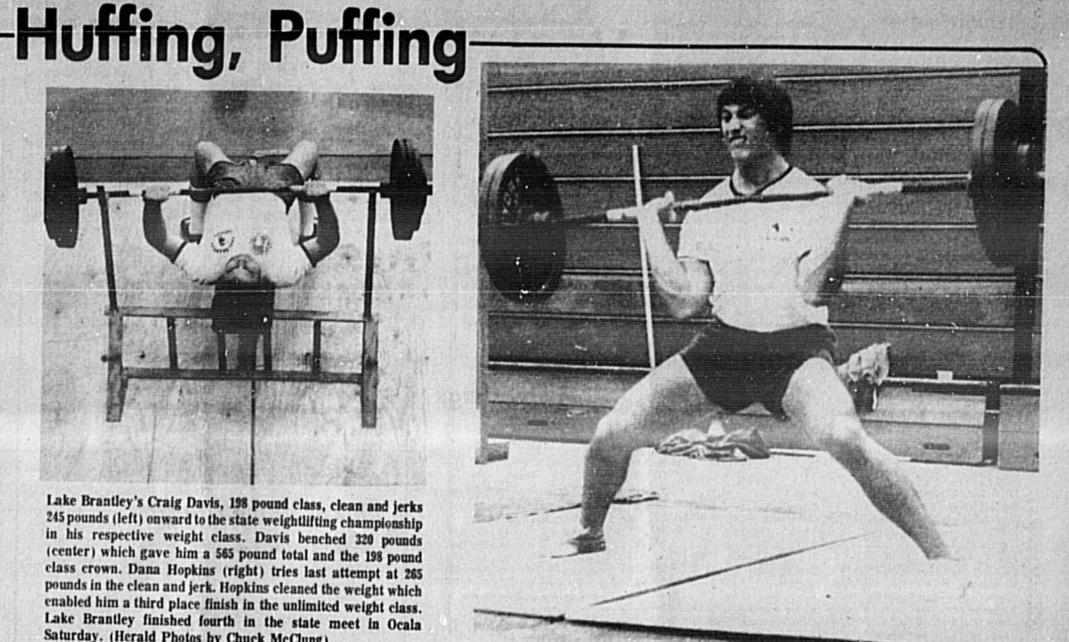

Ali admirers cheered. Wepner blanched. He appeared taken aback. But he regained his composure. awkwardly waved a fist at Ali and

THE SPY WHO SAT AND WAITED, By R. Wright Campbell. Putnam. 319 Pages. $7.95. Shortly after the German defeat and the end of World War I. to German spies throughout the world...It ordered the agents to orders and then do as they were waited was Wilhelm Oerter, a spy based in Switzerland. The days passed and then Oerter was ordered to make his way to Scotland, insinuate himself into the community near Scapa Flow - where the British fleet telligence activities.

Assuming Swiss nationality and the name Will Hartz, Oerter does as ordered, buying a pub in a small town, becoming accepted by the people, marrying a local girl and fathering a child. With the passage of the years Oerter-Hartz finds himself becoming more and more a part of the community and nore British than German. It becomes hard for him to understand his native German unless it is spoken slowly. He even gets to the point where he believes that things will continue in this pleasant way, but it is not to be. Poland is taken by Hitler's forces; England declares war on the Nazis, and the time has come for the waiting spy to decide for England or Germany.

Those who read this novel expecting a spy story will find it. but there also is more, much

Commission Takes Slap At Clerk

By BILL BELLEVILLE Herald Staff Writer

Lashing back at Clerk of the Circuit Court Arthur Beckwith's criticism of their plan to remove comptroller's duties from his office, County Commissioners yesterday declared that Beckwith was "clouding the record with half-truths and lies." Then commissioners asked management consultant E. H. Underwood to thoroughly investigate the state constitution and any Florida statutes that would allow the board to engineer the split of duties without special legislation. As part of the investigation, they also asked Underwood to talk at length with Beckwith and the 13 employees in his clerk's department to determine the extent of professional accounting present there. In an extensive efficiency study recently performed by Underwood's firm recommending rethat if the delegation does not give a bill its organization of the county government, the elected office of the county clerk is analyzed as not capable. of handling the extensive professional comptroller Commissioners also asked Underwood to be present with them at a final delegation hearing on proposed legislation in Tallahassee in two weeks to present the findings of his investigation. "What we need are professional facts," Commissioner Hattaway told Underwood.

Among facts that Hattaway requested are: -An evaluation of Attorney General Robert Shevin's opinion declaring the need for special legislation for splitting the clerk's office. Shevin's report, Hattaway said, "Talks out of both sides of its mouth."

-Determine how much the budget for Beckwith's office increased over last year. -Compile professional data that would compare the current operation to the proposed operation Underwood told the Board that duties assigned to the clerk's office "are vague, "comptroller-type"
