We held a 4-H County Contest Day on April 29. The winners from these contests went on to enter the District VII Events Day, which was held this year in Sanford on May 6. District VII is composed of Seminole, Orange, Osceola, Lake, Volusia and Brevard Counties. After the "smoke" had cleared from the Events Day, we found that Seminole had scored well in all contests, with Owen Cammack winning in the Senior Tractor Operator's Contest. He will go to 4-H Club Short Course at the University of Florida this summer to represent Seminole County in the state contest. The important thing in all 4-H contests is to be in there trying and striving to do your best. This helps young people to "learn by doing."

The Lake Harriet Estates Civic Assn. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Actor of Alder Court last Thursday at 8 p. m. The condition of the entrance road into the Estates, which was damaged during Hurricane Donna, was discussed with several members reporting they had withheld payment of taxes until something is done about the road.

60,000 Yugoslav Jews Said Victims Of Eichmann

JERUSALEM (UPI)—The Nazi murder machine killed 60,000 of the 75,000 Jews in Yugoslavia during World War II and the man who gave the orders was Adolf Eichmann, the court trying him for mass murder was told today.

Alexander Arnon, 63, former secretary of the Jewish community in Zagreb, testified that 60,000 Yugoslav Jews perished, including some 20,000 killed in one death camp near Zagreb.

Immediately after Arnon finished testifying, the Israeli prosecution submitted to the court a series of statements by former high-ranking Nazis in Yugoslavia, identifying Eichmann as the man who ordered the Yugoslav killings from his office in Berlin.

The statements were given to a Yugoslav war crimes court soon after the war. The Israeli court trying Eichmann agreed to accept them in evidence.

Among the depositions: Maj. Hans Helm, commander of a Nazi extermination squad operating in occupied Yugoslavia, said the squads got their orders from Berlin "and as far as I know, Eichmann was in charge of these actions."

SS Col. Fuchs, commander of all the extermination squads in Yugoslavia, said five gas trucks were sent to Yugoslavia and at least 7,000 Jews were killed in them alone.

SS Gen. August Meisner, Nazi police chief in Yugoslavia, said the murder orders reached him direct from Eichmann's office in Berlin.

In his testimony Arnon said about 600,000 persons perished altogether in the death camp near Zagreb. Aside from the 20,000 Jews, the others were Yugoslav enemies of the Croat puppet regime set up by the Nazis.

"Hundreds of thousands of Serbs were executed," he told the court.

Another Yugoslav-born Jew, Dr. Hinko Salz, 55, testified that the Nazis in 1941 shot 120 Yugoslav Jewish hostages in retaliation for an alleged act of sabotage by a 17-year-old Jewish youth.

Salz said he was one of the hostages and escaped only because he produced papers proving him to be a medical officer war prisoner.

'Roaring Twenties' Revue Gets Child Aid Program Off In High

The Roaring Twenties Revue, produced, staged and directed by the Navy Officers' Wives Club, was a "roaring" success at the Seminole High School auditorium.

Misses of ceremonies Betty McCracken, handled the announcements with poise and quick humor.

Specialty numbers included Charleston dancing by Shirley Blake and singing by Betty Day and Barbara Rowell.

Skip Faulkner's tap dance and the Time Steppers group from the Joan Johnson School of Dance added much to the show with their colorful costumes and talented routines.

Five young ladies, a championship group of accordion players from the Orlando School of Music, gave the audience a flit bit of entertainment with their solo and ensemble numbers.

The old-fashioned styled clothes modeled in the fashion show were really quite lovely, and many of them were authentic gowns owned by Sanford citizens.

Those who may be contacted for the buying of shares to help maintain the Little Red Schoolhouse are Kenneth McIntosh, Dr. Bernard Blais, Mrs. John Barlow, Mrs. Sylvia Huhn, Mrs. Walter Long, Mrs. Sal Manfre and Mrs. Elmer Van Peit.

The shares will continue on sale for about a month and can be obtained from any members of the Association.

Senate Asks Role Of U. S. Military In Cuban Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate foreign relations subcommittee called the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff today to explain the role the U. S. military played in the unsuccessful Cuban invasion attempt.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer also was expected to tell who ordered the Pentagon to play a role in the attempt to overthrow Cuban dictator Fidel Castro and how closely U. S. military men worked with the Central Intelligence Agency.

Subcommittee Chairman Wayne L. Morse, (D-Ore.), said "we want to know what the extent of military participation was in the venture—and why."

Lemnitzer was the first scheduled witness as the Morse group moved into the latest phase of its inquiry into the Cuban debacle and administration handling of the Cuban situation in general.

Morse insisted his subcommittee was not conducting an "investigation," but was merely seeking the fullest possible briefing on what happened in Cuba.

VAH-13 Crews Get Off To Flying Start

Warrant Officer Roy Boucher and the men who maintain the bombing radar and computers in the ASD Skywarriors of VAH-13 have reason to be proud of the job they have done since the Squadron was commissioned last January.

The division has labored under the strains of growing pains and frequent shuffling of work spaces to maintain the equipment that enables pilots and bombardiers of VAH-13 to set some enviable bombing records for Heavy Attack Wing One.

The pilot-bombardier combination of Cdr. George Koen, skipper of VAH-13, and Lt. (j.g.) Dick McKee has scored three "shacka" bullseye bomb drops, within the past 30 working days.

VAH-13 bombardiers have a total of five "shackas" since January, an average of one a month since commissioning. Koen has been the pilot on every "shack" drop and became the first pilot in heavy attack to win a Bullseye Club membership with his "shack" drop from a loft delivery. This was the first bullseye scored on a loft delivery from an ASD.

Warrant Officer Boucher attributes his maintenance success to full cooperation between maintenance and the flight crews. He says, "My tallest men are only six feet high and when you fly these airplanes over seven feet off the deck we can't fix the 'war.'"

Pigott Getting In A Few Grid Licks

Football coach Jim Pigott has started looking over his 1961 grid crop in workouts at Seminole High School in hopes of getting in all the licks he can before the team starts a tough 10-game schedule.

Only nine lettermen are left from last year's squad and Pigott said he wanted to give some preliminary tests to new talent before regular practice starts August 21. The Seminoles will open up with Titusville in a home game Sept. 15 and pile headlong into such foes as Edgewater of Orlando Sept. 22; Apopka at home Sept. 29 and after an open date take on Seabreeze Oct. 13, Winter Park at home Oct. 20, Leesburg Oct. 27, Wildwood at home Nov. 3, Bishop Moore at home Nov. 10, Lakeview Nov. 17 and DeLand Nov. 22.

"Things look tough," Pigott said Thursday after looking over the big crew of young players working out with lettermen backs Bubba Davis, Bill Phagan and Gary Davidson. Don Harvey, a speedy end, is being tried out in a backfield position also. Linemen Pee Wee Knight and Russ Pearson are back for another season. Other lettermen are holding down part time jobs now and won't get to take advantage of the extra practice.

No-Hitter Conley 4-Hitter Cuts Tigers' Lead

Arcardi pitched a no-hit game for the Shrine team in the Babe Ruth League Thursday night as his team beat the Civitans, 4-3.

Conley demonstrated Thursday night that he still has the "iron touch" in baseball with a brilliant four-hitter that earned the Red Sox a 1-0 victory over the American League leading Detroit Tigers.

Conley, whose baseball skills deteriorated sharply this year, walked only two batters and struck out five for the weak-hitting Red Sox. He got the one run he needed in the fifth inning when Pete Runnels singled and Don Buddin followed with a long double to right field.

The Tigers, who had scored 28 runs in their three previous games, threatened in the fourth inning when Rocky Colavito walked with two out and Norm Cash singled. Conley, however, induced Steve Boros to fly to rightfielder Jackie Jensen for the final out of the inning.

North Orlando Little League Loses Two Teams

Bob Stephenson, chief of North Orlando's Volunteer Fire Dept. which also serves as a Recreation Dept., said Thursday that the Little League program has lost two full teams.

Stephenson said that the boys told their adult managers that their parents wouldn't allow them to participate anymore since the annexation action of a May 2 council meeting.

Stephenson added, however, that the remaining teams will continue to play until July 4 when an all-star team, picked from present players, will see action in a game scheduled as part of an Independence Day celebration to be sponsored by the Civic Assn.

Little Leaguers play on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 p.m.

Snead Makes Own Advice Pay Off

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — Sam Snead took his own advice and that's why he was in front today in his home-course golf tournament.

That advice: Lots of practice and the realization that nobody's too old to learn something.

For Snead, the practice consisted of spending a lot of time on the putting green. And from intimates he got a few suggestions. A couple of weeks ago, his improved putting paid off to the tune of $10,000 in winning the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions.

Snead is still following that formula. He needed only 29 putts Thursday in firing a five-under-par 65 for a two-stroke first-round lead in the Sam Snead Golf Festival. And it came on a soggy course drenched by a hard half-day downpour.

Spotnik League Changes Slate

The Monday Morning Women's Spotnik League will have a new name effective Tuesday. They'll become the Tuesday AM Spotniks.

This group of gals recently concluded their regular bowling schedule and now will start their summer league on Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

An invitation is extended, with free coffee as the extra bonus, for all women bowlers interested in joining this league to report to Jet Lanes Tuesday to be assigned to a team.

The league will bowl through the month of August and be run under the handicap system. This is an especially good time for beginners to join a league when they can practice and at the same time bring their averages up for the coming fall season.

Huband Shows Wife's Influence

A little bit of the luster of the golf game of Champ Virginia Foulk has rubbed off on her husband, Bill.

Playing the Mayfair course, Bill Foulk took out his trusty six iron and whacked a shot into the cup for an ace on the 165-yard No. 5 hole on the course.

Added to the excitement was a prize of $150 worth of merchandise which Foulk won, as he was using a First Flight golf ball. Players using these balls are eligible for the prizes under the Million Dollar Hole in One Contest.

Sunland Teams Divide Games

Longwood's Little Leaguers beat Sunland, 5-2, but the Sunland farm team salvaged some joy for the home fans with a 20-4 victory over Bear Lake in the team's latest contest.

Mobley was the winning pitcher for Longwood, with Milwee catching. The Sunland battery duties were divided among Parker and Morgan and McCullough and Parker.

Next games at Sunland for the farm team is at 10 a.m. and the Little League nine at 2 p.m. Saturday.

U.S. Has Confident Space Timetable

EDITOR'S NOTE—The United States and the Soviet Union both have said they are headed for the moon and planets. The goals are common, the differences are not. In the following dispatch, a U. S. space timetable is discussed along with the possibility of a lunar landing by 1967.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Russians say they are going to the moon and planets. So are we. The Russians, addicted to secrecy, give no timetable for their next man-in-space ventures. Here are America's plans:

In the next couple of months or so, two or more suborbital flights like Alan Shepard's, with John Glenn, Virgil Grisson, and perhaps another astronaut on the pilot's couch.

Then orbital flights by a Mercury spacecraft, the first one empty except for instruments, the next one perhaps occupied by a chimpanzee.

Late this year or early next, an orbital ride by a Mercury spacecraft three times around the earth.

Eventually, the Mercury man-in-space project may see an astronaut sailing up to 18 times around the earth and enduring weightlessness for 27 hours, compared to an hour and a half for Yuri Gagarin and five minutes for Shepard.

When men no longer ride the Mercury capsule in space, chimpanzees may take over for extended bouts with weightlessness ranging from two days to two weeks.

After Mercury comes Apollo, a program to put three men at a time into space for periods of weeks. The Apollo spaceship, unlike the cramped Mercury cabin, will be roomy enough for its crew members to move about, and comfortable and secure enough for them to work in their shirtsleeves instead of a pressure suit.

The crew will fly it, once it has been boosted into space, just as aircraft crews fly modern jet transports. Shepard's "Freedom 7" and Gagarin's "Vostok" could be maneuvered to a small extent. But, except for braking rockets to bring them out of orbit, the American and Soviet craft have no control over speed and trajectory.

Apollo crews, however, will be able to change speed and trajectory at will, and they will be able to land the craft under its own power at places of their own choosing.

The first launching of an unmanned design model of the Apollo spaceship may come in 1964 when the first version of the big Saturn space vehicle is expected to be ready for regular assignments.

The year 1965 may see three Apollo spacemen soaring in orbit around the earth for as long as three weeks. This craft, an orbiting laboratory, would be the forerunner of future space platforms.

These orbiting platforms in turn will serve as spacehips rendezvous, spaceships assembly, spaceship crew exchange, and supply stations for manned missions to the moon or planets.

Before men make lunar landings, however, they will be put in orbit around the moon and brought back to earth. This could be done in 1967 if a second generation Saturn is ready, as expected, by then.

Not even the second generation Saturn will be able to lift enough weight to land men on the moon in a craft equipped to keep them alive while there and to carry them back home.

This will take Nova, which at present is just a "concept" built in men's minds around the F-1 engine now being developed.

The first lunar landing by an American conceivably could come in 1967. But 1968, 1970, or 1971 appears much more probable. Flights to the planets, taking more than a year for the round-trip, cannot be scheduled until the engineers see how the moon trips turn out.

Planetary flights by man are, as the space people say, "planned but not programmed."

HUNDREDS OF POPPIES went into this poster which depicts the poppies growing between the rows of crosses in Flanders Field after WWI. Mrs. Carolina Pierra of the American Legion Auxiliary set up the display in a downtown window. The display reminds Sanfordites that Saturday is Poppy day, with all proceeds going to the aid of Disabled American Veterans.

92 Americans Allowed To Depart From Cuba

MIAMI (UPI)—A special airliner from Havana today brought home 92 Americans—the first to be repatriated since Premier Fidel Castro proclaimed Cuba a "socialist republic."

The Swiss embassy in Havana, which arranged the repatriation as the representative of U. S. interests in Cuba, said another 89 Americans are being cleared for departure.

The State Department said this week that 300 to 400 of the 1,200 Americans still in Cuba have asked for repatriation since Castro declared the nation "socialist" in a May Day speech.

The other Americans—persons who have lived most of their life in Cuba or have married Cubans—are expected to remain in that country.

Meanwhile, some Cuban refugees here were urging President Kennedy to accept Castro's offer to trade prisoners captured in last month's invasion for American tractors or bulldozers.

Sergio Carbo, publisher of a refugee edition of the confiscated Cuban newspaper Prensa Libre, urged Kennedy to accept the offer "in the name of the fathers of the brave prisoners."

Three hundred Cuban women—wives or mothers of prisoners—demonstrated outside the headquarters of the Democratic Revolutionary Front refugee organization in a public appeal for acceptance of the offer.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, which backed the invasion, announced Thursday it had asked the International Red Cross to verify Castro's offer and to seek guarantees that it would be carried out if accepted.

Castro said Wednesday night that he would exchange the 1,000 prisoners said to have been taken in the invasion for 500 tractors or bulldozers.

Radio Havana said the offer was approved by the 3,100 peasants who were present at the farm fair where he spoke and by "millions of Cubans" in their homes.

Mrs. H. R. Olson Dies Thursday

Mrs. Anna Louisa Eriksson Olson, wife of Herbert R. Olson of Casselberry, died early Thursday in the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital at Winter Park.

The daughter of John and Juliana Eriksson, she was born in Eskilstuna, Sweden, on Jan. 7, 1881 and became the bride of Olson in New York City on Oct. 7, 1911.

Throughout her lifetime she had a great love of nature and her daily ritual of feeding the birds and fishes was a familiar one to friends and neighbors in Casselberry. She also was a talented amateur artist.

Other than her husband, survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Esther J. Burton of Cincinnati, Ohio; a son, John A. Olson of Denver, Colo.; a brother, John Udd, of Morgardshammar, Sweden, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from Cox-Parker Funeral Home in Winter Park at 4 p. m. Saturday with Rev. C. R. Zehnder officiating.

Dredge Uncovers Engine Part As Probe Of Plane Clues Continues

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Salvage workers today resumed their search for additional pieces of plane wreckage on the Banana River bottom in an attempt to determine if the scraps were those of five World War II Navy Avenger torpedo bombers missing since 1945.

A dredge sucked up an engine cylinder Thursday, and an Air Force officer said it may have been from a heavy, combat-type aircraft. The first plane scraps along with pieces of human bone were found by the dredge last week as it brought up silt from the river bottom for a new missile pad at Cape Canaveral.

Lt. Col. Luther C. Cox of Patrick Air Force Base said the dredge broke down after throwing up the cylinder but would be repaired in time for operation today. He said a plan to send down skin divers was called off because of murky water and thick mud on the river bottom.

Cox said the cylinder was heavy enough to indicate it came from an operational or line type aircraft. The Avenger would have fallen into this category.

The bombers took off Dec. 5, 1945, on a training mission from a base near Fort Lauderdale carrying a total of 14 men. They never were seen again. A large amphibian which was sent to search for them the same day also was lost. It carried a 13-man crew.

Mrs. B. E. Ramey Dies At Home

Mrs. B. E. Ramey, 68, died at her home on E. Sanford Ave. Thursday shortly after noon.

Born Sept. 2, 1892, in Grapevine, Ky., she had lived in Sanford for the past 15 years. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Elkhorn, Ky. and a member of the Seminole County Home Demonstration Club.

Survivors are her husband, B. E. Ramey of Sanford; three daughters, Mrs. Lorry Black of Sanford; Mrs. Julian Mitchell of Norfolk, Va. and Mrs. A. K. Phiefer of Cumberland, Md.; one son, Roy A. Ramey of Norfolk; six grandchildren; three brothers, T. W. Kindrick and E. R. Kindrick, both of Rutland, Ohio, and M. K. Kindrick of Mobile, Ala.; one sister, Mrs. A. M. Stepp of Vinton, Ohio.

Services will be at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Grover Sewell of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Cemetery.
