

RATIONING CALENDAR

PROCESSED FOODS
Blue A8 through B2 (Book 4) good indefinitely.

MEATS AND FATS
Red A8 through S5 (Book 4) now valid as 10 points each for use with tokens. Both good indefinitely.

The ration value of creamery butter has been increased to 20 red points per pound.

SUGAR
Sugar stamps No. 30, No. 31, No. 32, No. 33 and No. 34 now good for five pounds each indefinitely.

CANNING SUGAR
Stamp No. 40 good for five pounds canning sugar until February 28, 1945. Apply to local boards for supplemental rations.

SHOES
Airplane stamps No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 (Book 3) valid indefinitely.

Shops containing small quantities of leather to recondition fabric uppers, manufactured or imported before November 6, have been made ration-free by the Office of Price Administration.

The action, affecting mostly men's and boys' type shoes such as rubber-soled gymnasium shoes, was taken to enable shoe dealers to move current stocks, OPA said.

GASOLINE
A-13 coupons valid through December 21. On Dec. 22, A-14 coupons become valid through March 21. Rationing rules now require that every car owner write his license number and state on each gasoline coupon in his possession as soon as they are issued him by the rationing board.

FUEL OIL
Period 4 and 5 coupons from last year and Period 1 coupons

for this season now valid, (Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, not affected.)

Period 4 and 5 fuel oil coupons, scheduled to expire September 30, and all definite value coupons left over from the past year's ration, may be used in exchange for fuel oil throughout the coming heating year.

Period 2 and Period 3 fuel oil rationing coupons may now be used throughout Florida in exchange for 10 gallons of fuel oil, District OPA Director Chauncey Butler said today. Period 1 coupons also remain valid for 10 gallons each. Butler said the announcement that rations of fuel oil remain unchanged at 10 gallons per unit emphasizes the need for careful conservation. Unusually heavy military needs and transportation uncertainties prohibited any increases in the rations, OPA said.

FIREWOOD
The Board has established prices as follows on all firewood: 16 inch or less $21 a cord, 24 inch $18.50 a cord, 48 inch $16.50 a cord.

AMMUNITION
In revoking the 25 per cent premium previously allowed for "single" sales of civilian ammunition, OPA said prices now must be computed in proportion to the full box price. When the premium on less than box lot sales was allowed, OPA said, such sales constituted only a small portion of total sales in the nation. However, many retailers last year used the provision to evade ceiling prices, making all buyers purchase their ammunition in broken box lots.

CIGARETTES
Initial complaint of alleged illicit sales of cigarettes prompted District OPA Director Chauncey W. Butler to caution smokers today that they also hold the key to whether a full-fledged black market develops from the present acute shortage.

"The shortage," he said, "is obviously aggravated by smokers buying in advance of normal needs to build up personal supplies. Some are apparently willing to pay more than legal prices and are thereby sowing the seed for a black market which will eventually only deprive them further of the cigarettes they cherish."

Under existing regulations, all cigarette retailers are required to post ceiling prices in plain view and are prohibited from exceeding the legal price by such evasive methods as "tie-in" sales. In districts are urged to report any suspected violations to their local

WELCOME BACK TO THE USO

USO first focused its attention on young recruits, many of them away from home for the first time. USO was the link with home that helped them over the rough places. Servicemen, such as this veteran being welcomed by USO mascot, "Mac," are coming back from the battlefronts. Many USO clubs are now centering their activities around convalescents not well enough to go home, but much in need of comfort and understanding and again USO becomes the link with home. USO is supported by the American people through the National War Fund.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spud Johnson

FLORIDA'S RURAL BOYS AND GIRLS ARE DOING MUCH FOR WAR PROGRAM

Florida may well be proud of the way in which its farm youth have responded to the war food production program. Indeed, had it not been for the sturdy and patriotic efforts of Florida's rural boys and girls, this state would not have been able to meet the production goals that have been assigned to it for the past three years.

Go into the country districts and talk with the farmers and farm women on the matter, and they will convince you in no uncertain manner of the invaluable aid these youngsters have rendered in producing the big field and vegetable crops, the record-breaking quantities of milk and eggs, and the great numbers of hog and cattle to help meet the greatly expanded needs of the Nation at war.

Florida's 4-H club members and other farm youngsters have had their own private programs for food production, their own projects which, incidentally, have been no mean factor in overall results, and they also have outdone all their past efforts in helping their parents with the main farm crops.

Boys and girls have worked long hours in the fields, plowing, hoeing, and harvesting, in groves help to harvest the big fruit crops and in vegetable fields, planting and harvesting such important crops as beans, potatoes, tomatoes, strawberries, peaches, and cabbage. Many a youngster under 15 has taken over a "man's size" job on the farm during the past three years and has filled the gap left by someone who has gone into the armed forces or into war industrial plants.

War Price and Rationing Board. TIRES

December tire quotas, announced by the District OPA Office in Jacksonville, are expected to give little relief from present shortages, particularly of commercial tires. Small increases in over-all quotas of passenger car and heavy duty truck and bus tires are expected to be offset by applications from motorists of the district during the month and by the "backlog" of applications which has accumulated in recent months.

Saipan-Based Bombers Hit Jap Factories

Fighter Planes Now Operating From Air Fields On Mindoro, 1/2 Hour From Manila

A hundred Saipan-based superfortresses bombed aircraft plants at Nagoya on Japan's main island—the fourth B-29 strike of this week. Tokyo claimed 10 superfortresses were shot down. American fighter planes in the Philippines began operating from Mindoro only a half hour from Manila, as ground troops closed the nutcracker on Leyte island's shattered Yamashita line.

Daily American fighter planes are flying against the Japanese from a newly constructed airbase on Mindoro Island, less than 100 miles from Manila, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported. The announcement that the new field hacked out on Mindoro's southwest coast is in use marked attainment of the primary objective to the landing on the island a week ago today.

Philip Bach Installs Fast Freezing Unit

Philip Bach has just installed on his farm the first fast freezing unit in Seminole County. The unit was installed by Bill Harvey, local commercial refrigeration serviceman, and C. D. Bailey, District Representative of the Florida Power and Light Co. of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. Harvey said that in the near future other farms will be installing similar units in Seminole County. Food and meat can be put in this type box and kept over a long period of time and still hold its freshness and quality. It is added that this type freezer will help the farmer keep these products which have been lost in the past by rain, storms, and insects, and had market condition, Mr. Harvey said.

Russians Said To Have Begun New Offensive

Long Dormant Northern Front Flares Up Anew As Reds Move 27 Divisions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Russia has promised to meet the rising Allied demand for Red army action by hurling some three army groups against the German eastern front. The United States and Britain have been informed of the offensive's starting date, Washington Soviet sources reported today.

Berlin announced today the Russians have launched a great new attack in the long-dormant northern sector of the eastern front hurling 27 divisions against the Nazis on a 22-mile front south of Frauenburg in East Prussia.

The Reds hammered to within 14 miles of Lozno, citadel in Southern Slovakia. Further to the south, two Russian armies struck out to east of Budapest from the west.

More than 100,000 Russian troops moved to encircle Budapest, Berlin said, while Moscow reported that Soviet forces had cut two important escape routes for Nazi troops in the imperiled Czechoslovak rail center of Tesovar (Tschenev). Berlin said that the Soviet high command had hurled hundreds of tanks and planes into the attempt to break through the 21-mile sack-fence at Gapp southwest of Budapest and also had resumed a great pincer movement on both sides of Pest, eastern half of the besieged Hungarian capital.

Joan Barry, executive director of the association, said today that the government should take action to stabilize the market for live animals, particularly beef and pork.

The association's action comes as the government considers price ceilings on live animals, particularly beef and pork, to stabilize the market.

These Paratroopers Landed Too Hard

BODIES OF NAZI PARATROOPERS who did not have time to jump and the wreckage of the transport plane with which they died are carefully looked over in Germany by South Army soldiers as the enemy's counter-attack on the Western front ground to a halt. She said she had telephoned the next papers that a girl was about to commit suicide in his apartment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Henry Stimson, secretary of War, today predicted that the war against Germany would be shortened if the German offensive failed.

Stimson said that the German offensive was a desperate gamble and that the Allies were prepared to meet it with a counter-attack.

He said that the Allies were confident that they would eventually defeat the Germans, and that the war would be shortened if the German offensive failed.

Fighting Flares Up In New Area As Belgian City of St. Vith Is Reported Captured

Germany's mighty counter-offensive westward into Belgium and Luxembourg appeared blunted temporarily today as General Eisenhower, classifying the drive as the last great Nazi gamble, called on his troops in an order of the day to destroy the enemy.

Field dispatches and the main force of the counter-offensive had been turned aside or slowed down but fighting flared in another area 20 miles south of the city of Luxembourg. American armored units were fighting to hold the Belgian town of St. Vith against a frontal assault by a full division of Nazi elite troops, Berlin claimed the capture of St. Vith.

The new German thrust, apparently in France in the direction of the Third Army's Thionville sector, was reported after a two-day battle, from dispatches reported today, and the great-scale conflict on the western front had reached a critical stage in its sixth day as tens of thousands of German troops were thrown into battle in hours of each day.

It was reported the Germans had kept the initiative and that only on the flanks had the enemy's advance been contained. The full depth of the penetration was checked by a new blackout for security reasons, General Eisenhower said the enemy could not expect a fixed defense line to give us a chance to turn his grand gamble into his worst defeat.

Nazi Offensive Is Blunted In Last Desperate Gamble

(Continued From Page One) in which counter-measures to check the Germans rush could be prepared. (A German broadcast, declaring five Allied divisions had been completely smashed and that seven others were in retreat, asserted the "steamroller offensive" was driving toward the Meuse Valley, which is some 35 miles west of advanced enemy positions reported today. (One Berlin military commentator said the Third Army had rushed up into southern Luxembourg.)

Allied Plans Disrupted Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt had hurled up to 15 divisions—probably more than 150,000 men—including five or six armored divisions, into this desperate offensive which was badly upsetting the Allied time-table for the conquest of Germany.

V-bombs rained down on Allied positions, and rear base areas. A thickening of the main drives was interpreted in late dispatches as only pauses for regrouping and fresh blows, and uneasiness had spread among civilians all the way back to the Belgian capital.

Fog shrouded the front, keeping Allied air might ground. RAF Lancasters blasted the German West Front garrison and railway towns of Trier, back of the Luxembourg front.

The powerful northward drive, traveling 30 miles in three and a half days, reached the hamlet of Hiltmann, 18 miles south of civilian-evacuated Liege, Supreme Headquarters said. A report from British-Canadian Headquarters declared a German armored column had reached Wer-

Joan Barry Says Suicide Tried in Chaplin Affair

(Continued From Page One) down from the bench. "Were you ill?" he asked. "You see, your honor," Miss Barry sobbed, twisting around in the chair. "I'm not allowed to tell my part of the story. Yes, I was ill. I had taken some sleeping tablets."

"Also some iodine?" asked Millikan. "Yes," she wailed as the judge called a recess. Miss Barry staggered off the stand shouting "No, no, no, no!" photographers who asked to see her picture, and collapsed in a chair at the counsel table, her head buried in the shoulder of Joseph Scott, her attorney.

She took the stand a short time after regaining her composure. "Shown Letters Millikan handed her some letters she wrote to Chaplin from Tulsa, Okla., which he offered in evidence over Scott's violent objections.

"Did you write these?" Millikan asked. "Miss Barry wept as she read the first letter. When she opened the second she burst into tears. "I can't go on with this," she cried. "I can't. I can't!"

In hysterics, she fled from the stand into the arms of Scott, who turned to Millikan. "How much longer will this have to go on?" he demanded. The judge examined the letters to see if they could be admitted, and called Miss Barry back to the stand.

Millikan then read aloud parts of the letter in which she told Chaplin "my brain is in a turmoil." After reading the second letter, Millikan offered to agree to an adjournment.

"I apologize for Miss Barry's 'incomposure,'" Scott said, "but we prefer to continue testimony or get it over with today."

Millikan read aloud a letter written from Tulsa May 18, 1942, which said in part: "I am sorry, Charles, about the way I have been acting. I am sorry I embarrassed you. I know am past forgiveness. I have written countless unmailed letters to you would laugh at them. You know you're not interested in my plans but I am going to New York and get married. It will be the best way. I am happy with my dreams and I hope your letter will be a success. Please forget everything particularly the girl who has ruined the greatest love motion pictures have ever filmed."

Stimson Predicts War Shortened If Attack Fails

(Continued From Page One) from heavy casualties in the current fighting. Similar emergency appeals were said to have been made in New York, Boston and Baltimore. Blood taken today will be flown overseas immediately and will reach Paris tomorrow.

The War Production board warned that the German drive "but us between the eyes" and require further tightening of the civilian production program. With Vice Chairman Anderson and European developments of the past few days undoubtedly would have some impact on the home front, but he declined to predict their effect on the general production setup.

Stimson said the German drive apparently was designed primarily to halt the American advance into the Cologne plain and the Saar basin.

"They appear to have accepted the hazards involved in such an effort which, if it fails, will definitely shorten the war," he said explaining that under the circumstances the Nazis don't have "a great deal to lose and might gain a few months' extension of time before being called to an accounting for the misery they have inflicted on the world."

He listed among these circumstances the fact that the Allied armies are being steadily reinforced, the mighty Allied aerial offensive against the German interior, and noted without elaboration: "But menacing to the German is the situation has been on the western front, the German high command must also be prepared to meet the Russian winter offensive wherever it may strike."

He considered it significant that Germany had the strength to initiate such an attack and said the enemy had built a "very substantial force" for the drive by mobilizing every last man they were able to.

British Remove ELAS Prisoners From Athens

A billet of the U. S. AAF transport Command rocked with the concussion of shell blasts as the troops demolished a sniper's nest in the square, whose buildings are just behind the cosmopolitan hotel quarters of the American airman.

It was not immediately clear how much effect Scobie's warning had on the ELAS forces. Nor was there any further word of political developments toward a truce.

Communique issued by Scobie's headquarters said: "Progress continued to be made clearing insurgent forces from Athens and Piraeus. Prisoners and weapons were captured. "In the remainder of Greece the situation remains unchanged. The calling up of age groups by the Greek government decrees for the national guard battalions of Athens is meeting an enthusiastic response."

Rev. Paul Yates, Pastor of the Church of God.

Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said: "I have loved you as the Father hath loved me, so that I have laid down my life for you." This is the most wonderful verse in the Bible. Who can sound the unimagined depths of that love which dwelt in the bosom of the Father from all eternity towards His Son? And yet here is the Saviour's own exponent of His love towards His people.

There is no object more profoundly mysterious than these first and second persons of the adorable Trinity, before the world was, scripture gives us only some dim and shadowy revelations regarding them— distant gleams of light and no more. Let one suffer, then, I would say, to be brought up by Him and I was daily His delight, rejoicing always before Him. We know that earthly affection is deepened and intensified by increased familiarity with its object. The friendship of yesterday is not the sacred, hallowed thing, which years of growing intercourse have matured. If we may with reverence apply this text to the highest type of Holy affection, what must have been that interchange of love which the measureless Father eternally had fostered? A love, moreover, not fitful, transient vacillating, subject to altered tones and estranged looks— but pure, constant, unintermittent, without an shadow of turning.

And yet, listen to the words of Jesus: "As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you." But now, borne of the finite being, before the birth of time, or of worlds, that love existed. It was coeval with eternity itself, hear more of the twin themes of the Saviour's eternal rejection—the love of His Father, and His love for sinners, are grouped together; Rejection always, before Him, more in the habitable part of the earth.

To complete the picture, we must take in a counterpart description of the Father's love for us. Thereof doth my Father love me, says Jesus in another place, because I lay down my life. God had an all sufficiency in His own love, He needed not the super-love of creatures to add to His glory or happiness, but He seems to say that an intense in His love for us, that He loves even His beloved Son more (if infinite love be capable of increase), because He laid down His life for the guilty. It is regarding the redeemed it is said, "He shall rest in His love." He shall rejoice over them with singing.

In the assertion, God is love, we are left truly with no more unproved assertion regarding the existence of some abstract quality in that divine nature. Herein, says an apostle, perceive we the love— it is added in our authorized version of our translation need not have added, whose love, for there is but one such specimen; because He laid down His life for us. No expressions of love can be uttered after this. Ah how measurable are our best affections compared to His. Our love is but the reflection— and that, the more the sun.

Corcoran Says Sale Of WMCA Was Unforced

Denies Flamm's Charges Of White House Role In Pushing Sale

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Thomas G. Corcoran, Washington attorney and former Presidential adviser, known as Tommy the Cork, denied charges recently that the White House had a hand in the alleged "pressure" sale of New York radio station WMCA.

David K. Niles, Presidential secretary, also testified at the closed hearing. Mr. Corcoran told reporters that he had been authorized by the committee to say that "to my knowledge, Dave Niles had nothing to do with this case and neither did any one else in the White House."

Mr. Corcoran reported that his and Mr. Niles' income tax records were subpoenaed by the committee in October to determine if Mr. Niles had paid them an attorney fee. "I didn't get any and neither did Mr. Niles," he said.

Major General Edwin M. Watson, White House military aide, recently testified that President Roosevelt had instructed F. C. C. Commissioner Norman S. Case to make a full investigation of the sale.

Mr. Corcoran said that when he returned he was surprised to learn that Mr. Niles had paid $50,000 for the station. "That is three and a half times the value of its physical assets and thirty times the station's earnings," he said.

Committee chairman Clarence F. Lea, Democrat of California, highly valuable witness," said the hearings would end tomorrow with the testimony of Mr. Niles and Charles G. Cutting, a New York banker. The committee has been studying the matter since last winter.

After a brief full during which five cases appeared on the list of City Court, activity picked up Monday with a new influx of cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Roosevelt Signs Big Public Highway Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill guaranteeing $4,000,000,000 Federal aid for postwar highway construction and called on State and local governments to provide the balance of the cost.

The bill authorizes the Secretary of Public Works to make grants for highway construction of $500,000 annually for three years after the end of the war. Federal funds will be matched by the State in the construction of the project.

Mr. Roosevelt said the bill makes possible the construction of needed facilities and jobs for farm-to-market roads, urban arterial roads, and other highway projects.

Public Roads Commission Chairman Harold Macdonald said that the bill marks a new period in highway development. Funds for the program for all years to be available in the fiscal year 1945.

SKIN

(From The Washington Post)
Soon the sun will be shining
For the swallows and the jet,
And for all of their kind—
Not for the tracer bullet,
But blue for which sky was designed.

For clouds holding snow or rain,
For the two-thousand pound star falling Into an open field, without any
and without sound,
That a man centuries later may plough around.

Soon the earth for grass again,
For the grass-colored flower,
And for all of its own
Not for the old trench and the planted mines.

But growth for which earth was in the beginning sown
For rivers a man may follow,
And not always cross,
For trees not grotesque Birman woods, but shaken by wind in stack down by storm.

That give shade to workmen, any
to travelers at noon,
Soon men for living again,
For a woman a man, and a daughter.

And for all of his brothers—
Not for gun notches, the record of places flowing down,
But the life for which sky and earth were given.

For fire and laughter, for artificial sun,
An indoor fire in rain,
And windows lighted at dusk,
For the great need to Love One another.

And The Press

It is a time of great confusion. People who think resistance forces can be put down by a request to give up their arms are completely in error. Those arms were too hard come by. They represent freedom. Give them up? Not so.

It is a time of great confusion. People who think resistance forces can be put down by a request to give up
their arms are completely in error. Those arms were too hard come by. They represent freedom. Give them up? Not so.

Some sort of compromise and understanding must be arrived at, which will hold the forces quiet until the common enemy is defeated and elections can be held.

What is needed more than any one other factor is a free press. People in war torn lands have not known the truth about world affairs, nor even their own affairs, for years. They have been filled with propaganda and the truth has been stifled. The steady force of truth, of defect reporting, is needed now as never before.

Forgotten Men
No third baseman, it appears, has ever been admitted to the baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y. or has even won the lesser distinction of being voted the year's most valuable player.

This is one of the unexplained mysteries. Third base is in many ways the hardest position in the infield. Short stop gets more chances, but they are generally easier. Third gets the rifle bullet down the left field foul line, and the teasing bunt dropped halfway between cover and home.

There have been great third basemen. John McGraw,
the famous manager of the New York Giants was one.
Jimmy Collins, Harry Steinfield, Pie Traynor, stand out in baseball history. Today there are Mark Christman and George Kurovski, to name only two. Any of these would be Hall of Fame material.

Help For Freed Men
Constant increases in the liberation of European territory are bringing about changes in the basic program of propaganda and facts directed by the Office of War Information. During the Nazi occupation, much of the work emphasized broadcasts of spot news and of encouragement to the underground units.

Now that France, Belgium, Greece, Yugoslavia and others are once more a part of the communications world, there is less need for such material from us. There is, on the other hand, a definite demand for feature programs which will readjust the liberated peoples to the general and intellectual world from which they have been cut off for so long. This will mean, among other things, simpler personal requirements in the European staff of OWI. Some 350 members of the Overseas Branch of OWI, most of whom are translators and similar specialists on particular areas, will no longer be needed. Many will be released and the others sent to the rapidly enlarging Pacific branch, to increase the scale of psychological warfare there.

Too Late To Classify
By RUSSELL KAY
Each year the County Commissioners of Collier County make an annual report which is addressed to the "stockholders"
of the purpose of such an appeal is to make the citizens and taxpayers of Collier realize that they have a direct interest in county affairs and it is mighty good psychology to my way of thinking.

Too often the people come to think of the county court house
as something distinct and apart from themselves. — They refer to the commissioners or other officials as "They." — Time and again you hear some citizen telling another that "They are going to raise the millage" or
"they are going to do something else." — They forget that it is THEIR OWN BUSINESS.
THEY ARE TALKING ABOUT.

Progress and success can only be assured when the taxpayers think and act in terms of "WE"
and "OURS."

Last year's report of the Collier County Commission attracted widespread attention and praise.
It showed tax collections at 99.9 per cent, which would seem to be about all that anyone could hope for.

But this year even beats that amazing record with tax collections reported at 100 percent,
"100 percent for 21 years" equals the report "for 21 years" which goes back to the time the crease they ought to be happy and that any surplus in the country could easily be spent.

In Collier County it isn't being spent. The report shows that a substantial part of the cash reserve is being carried in war bonds of which the county holds $2,000 at 2 1/2 percent interest.
These are a series of checks that can be readily cashed and the board figures that by the time the money is needed next summer,
the investment will have earned $1,000.

In this connection the report permits itself a shudder when we consider the question of how the U. S. Treasury will manage to pay the interests on a national debt of some 200 billion dollars.
However, the board announces that it "hopes for the best" and pledges to "keep our own money to keep taxes in Collier County
the only taxes we control
out to the bone."

"Noting a 'gratifying response'
to previous annual statements, the board reports that it has adopted suggestions to the effect that it should undertake a bit of education among taxing authorities in other counties of the State."

"We are proud," says the report "of what we have been able to accomplish for the county by reducing the heavy load of taxation but we fully realize that after all our work has been
'primary school' merely and that it will be necessary for the stockholders to pool their brains with thousands of others and do the job in 'university' fashion."

Tips Are Given On Sending Xmas Cards
AP Features
There are a few tips to remember when addressing and sending out Christmas cards:

Always address one card to a husband and wife, and separate cards to individual members of the family. Never write "and family" on the envelope.

Do not use the word City as an address, nor abbreviate the names of streets, cities or states.
Only Mr. and Mrs. are abbreviated.
All names should be spelled in full. Even the name of a child should be prefixed with Master or Miss.

If possible cards should be addressed to the home address
rather than a business address.

The New Withholding Tax

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE WASHINGTON—Don't get too
excited, come the New Year
A larger amount of income tax will be withheld from the wages of millions of workers; a smaller amount will be withheld from the wages of other millions of wage-earners.
The increased and decreased
withholdings are caused by (1)
changes in tax exemptions; (2)
the use of more precise withholding tables and (3) graduating the rates so that full tax is collected up to about $5,000
in wages, compared with $2,700
under the old law.

NEW TAX RATES
Table with columns: Married, No Dependents; Married, 1 Dep.; Married, 2 Dep.; Married, 3 Dep.
Rows show tax amounts for various wage brackets from $20 to $70.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

FOLKS MORE CONFIDENT
ABOUT WAR, BUT THERE
CAN'T BE ANY LET-DOWN Folks are more cheerful and confident about the war than they have been since it began,
as our forces and our allies increase their pressure against the enemy, but over-optimism about the end of the war is something that all Americans should avoid, especially if such a feeling will tend to make them slow down in their efforts in the war program.

TO WIT: The war as soon as possible,
however, all Americans—
on the home front as well as on the battlefield—are going to have to continue doing all they can do to win. It is the duty of every citizen to do his part. Those on the battlefield are doing their jobs, and likewise, everyone on the home front must do his job.
And his job includes buying all
the war bonds he can produce,
as much as possible of the goods
and products that are needed,
giving blood to the blood banks,
and doing all the other things that are necessary for victory.
We have a job, and we are going to take all our efforts to win it.

Japs Are Reported Expecting Attack On Chinese Coast

Preparations Being Rushed To Defend Southeast Coast, Communications

KUMMING, China, Dec. 23. (AP)—Japanese withdrawal without a major engagement on the Kweichow-Kwangsi front indicates the enemy is completely preoccupied with preparations for resisting possible Allied landings on the China coast.

Instead of risking a drive deeper into the Chinese interior and a chance of knocking out American support to China which is destined to hit a stride with the opening of the Lado Burma Road, the enemy seems concerned with consolidating a defense in depth between the east and south China coastlines and a line of land communications from Hanoi to Hanoi which would extend roughly through Changsha, Hengyang, Kweilin, Luechow and Naning.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Leyte, Philippines, Saturday, Dec. 23. (AP)—Major Gen. Andrew D. Bruce's Seventy-seventh Division forces on Leyte have advanced three miles west from the Ormoc corridor toward the Japanese-held coast port of Palompon and through the Leyte mountains.

Pressing swiftly westward in the American drive to crush an enemy resistance in western Leyte loops of the Seventy-seventh were advancing down the road which connects Palompon with the Ormoc-Limon highway.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique disclosed that Bruce's troops already were three miles beyond the Ormoc corridor, but did not specify how close they were to Palompon, or how close with the American batteries are smashing the enemy's Yamashita Line in the corridor.

American forces counted 1,640 more Japanese dead on Leyte Thursday, making a total of 10,841 for the seven days ending December 21, as reported by MacArthur's communique.

The dead were counted in mapping up operations along the shattered Yamashita Line. American planes were striking in support of the advancing ground forces and shot down two enemy planes in the Leyte Gulf area.

Nagoya Japan's big aircraft carrier got another blasting today—its third in 10 days—by Superfortresses from Balpan, about 1,400 miles distant.

A single B-29 led the way, passing over the target during early afternoon and dropping its bombs through an overcast. Other formations followed at intervals over a period of two hours and minutes.

The first U.S. communique on the raid did not announce results and did not say whether any of the planes were lost or damaged. (Japanese broadcasts reported about 100 planes participated; that they did not do much damage, and that 10 of them were shot down.)

The Hatodoki factory of the Mitsubishi aircraft works, principal target of the preceding Nagoya raids, presumably was hit again, since yesterday's raid was described by Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr. as a "return engagement."

Field reports offered mounting evidence that the enemy was in general retreat from the town of Inday in a quartet circle southwest to Gangaw, on the Myittha River. Only rearward pockets are left for delaying action, said dispatches of the Allied land forces of southwest China.

Market Director Says Government Surveying Losses

Freeze May Result In Readjustments Of Opa Price Ceilings

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 23. (Special)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture is making a special survey of freeze damage from receipts of the report the OPA will determine whether ceiling price adjustments will be required according to a telegram from John F. Glendon of the Food Price Division of the OPA in Washington. William L. Wilson, Director of State Farmer Markets, said in his crop and market review today.

"In the meantime more complete details as to the extent of the damage suffered has been sent in by our market managers and the picture is far from bright," he stated.

Conditions at the various markets he described as follows:

"The situation at Pompano has changed for the worse. The frost knocked the vegetable movement there to a greater extent than was expected. The yield per acre has been cut about in half. This week's crop is about 10 percent of normal. The movement will drop again. If the announced ceiling prices going into effect the first of the year are not raised or reduced, a 3 percent damage to the movement during November and December of last year with those months of this year show what has happened. In November, 1942 the market moved 130 cars, this year it dropped to 98 cars. Through December 20, 1942 the market moved 143 cars during the year only 103 cars were shipped. Due to release of labor in the Lake Okechobee area due to the freeze, there is plenty of labor available."

"Palmbeach reports revised estimates show 10,000 acres of beans killed. 20 percent damage to 3,000 acres of cabbage which was headed or heading. 3 percent damage to 2,000 acres of young cabbage. 50 percent damage to 2,000 acres of English peas. 90 percent of the potato crop was fully mature. 20 days for the same period this year only 143 cars were shipped. Due to release of labor in the Lake Okechobee area due to the freeze, there is plenty of labor available."

"At Palmtoe a few cars of ascarole and a few small loads of cabbage are moving. Growers there are preparing acreage for a big Spring deal.

"Palatka reports approximately 25 percent damage to cabbage is causing a delay in harvesting. Very few beans are being cut. Movement generally should get underway about January 10.

"Florida City informs us that no lines will be available for at least 80 days. No rain has fallen since the hurricane and the new crop is not maturing as fast as it should.

"15,000 pounds of beans were sold at Jay last Thursday at near ceiling prices," he said.

A Soldier's Prayer on Christmas Day

We thank thee, Lord, for Thy protection I haven't said that since I was a child, Lord. But today—on Thy day, I say it once more. And this time, more than any other, These thanks come from the heart. Not so much for the Christmas dinner served to us here in this orchard in Belgium, Or on a rain-soaked plain over the English coast, Or in Italy, or on a ship at sea. But more, Lord, for the richer food That a blessed memory serves us: The food of recollection— Of other, better Christmas days. Happy days with those we love, Good cheer, and gifts, and happy greetings. Exchanged by all of us—each with the other. And while we thank thee, Lord, For those memories. We reverently and humbly ask That there may be other Christmas days For us now as distant from our homes, Days when we may join with those we love In a world of peace and good will. May all with the families we hold dear. And give thanks, with them, once again. Again, Lord, we thank Thee for Thy protection. Bless those at home today. Help them to realize that we are with them In spirit more than ever today, and May their day be a happy one. Amen. My Capt. Alvin L. King

Health League To Serve United Nations Urged

Dr. Yassky After Trip To Palestine Calls For Disease Curb

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23. (AP)—The establishment of a United Nations Health League equipped to stamp out epidemics and to lay the ground work for effective postwar health provisions was urged this week by Dr. Halim Yassky, director of the Hadassah Medical Organization, who recently arrived from Jerusalem.

Dr. Yassky recommended that the United States take the lead in forming the organization, which would supplement the medical relief program of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Discussing the increase of tuberculosis in the liberated countries, Dr. Yassky said that provisions must be made now to halt the spread of that and other diseases. A high percentage of the Jewish refugees arriving in Palestine are either mentally or physically ill, he said, adding that there are more than 6,000 cases of tuberculosis in Palestine but only 100 institutional beds available.

Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization of the United States, plans to build a 200-bed tuberculosis hospital in Palestine, he announced.

The shortage of young Jewish doctors in Palestine is acute because many universities in Europe have not admitted Jewish medical students for several years, Dr. Yassky told a press conference. The supply may be increased, he said, if a medical school is established at Palestine.

He related several incidents of the arrival in Palestine of refugees whose minds and bodies were crippled by Nazi punishment. One fifteen-year-old boy came to Palestine mentally disturbed from having been forced by the Nazis to remove rings and other jewelry from Jewish corpses.

Santa Claus Is Having Terrific Last Minute Rush Getting Ready For Trip

NORTH POLE, Dec. 23. (Special)

Santa Claus is having a terrific last minute rush to get his huge assortment of toys and gifts ready and loaded on his sleigh for his big trip south. How is Santa going to make the world's biggest mystery of the season—the message he enjoyed the most was the following letter from Little Marie Menendez, Grace Avenue, Sanford, Fla. "Dear Santa," she wrote, "My name is Maria Menendez. I am six years old. Am asking you to give me a doll for Christmas. I want to write to you because I have had a very bad day. I am going to the Southside Primary School. My teacher's name is Miss Ernestine Westphal and she is so nice. I love her. I also have a music teacher, Mrs. Madeline and my dance teacher, Mrs. Marjorie Tappan. Please send me all my teachers, a little secret between you and me. I tell you, they are swell. And as for myself, well, I want a doll carriage and I will have to do just as my Mamma says. My Mamma wants a hot air balloon and she is waiting and waiting for the balloon to be blown up. So if she can wait for a hot air balloon, I can wait for my doll carriage too. What do you think about it, Santa?"

"I also have a brother, 12 years old, and I want you to know that we will be pleased with anything you bring me. The things I ask you for are: a doll carriage, a hot air balloon, and a hot air balloon. I want a doll, dear Santa, and some nuts and candies. I want also some fruits of all kinds and please Santa do not forget my two cousins, Olivia Richardson and Rodney Richardson, Jr. I shall go to bed early and will arise early in the morning to see what you brought me. Thank you now for what I ask you."

Mrs. Roosevelt Plans Christmas With Sons Away

Five Grandchildren At White House Only White Is Peace

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Roosevelt planned to spend Christmas at the White House with five grandchildren and only one white is peace.

After Mrs. Roosevelt outlined her Christmas plans, she was drawn into a discussion of the war and the peace. She said that there seems to be an absence of a feminist movement. Admitting that she knew very little about the role of Russian women in politics, Mrs. Roosevelt told her news conference she would ask an American representative in Europe to prepare a report on Russian women.

Whereas women's groups in liberated Europe are rising in importance, Mrs. Roosevelt pointed out that in the Soviet Union there seems to be an absence of a feminist movement. Admitting that she knew very little about the role of Russian women in politics, Mrs. Roosevelt told her news conference she would ask an American representative in Europe to prepare a report on Russian women.

Business Houses Plan Christmas Closing Monday

City and Court House Offices, except for police and Sheriff's departments, banks, most retail businesses and stores will close Monday as Sanford observes the Christmas holidays.

In order that at least one drug store may be kept open at all times, Sunday hours will be observed by drug stores during the holiday, according to Dr. W. V. Bittling, president of the Sanford Merchants Association.

No edition of The Herald will be printed on Monday in order that the staff and employees may have the holiday, but in its place a special Christmas edition is being issued today.

There will be no window service at the Sanford Post Office. All Christmas parcels will be delivered at homes and those expecting each parcel are advised by Joel S. Field, postmaster, to remain home. Collections from delivery boxes will be made as on Sunday. Mail going out will be dispatched on usual schedule.

Practically all grocery stores will be closed Monday. Delany City and Eddie's Restaurant will be open.

Keep salt, pepper, sugar bowl, salad dressing, nappies and preserves on a tray and take them to the table in one trip.

Orange County Agent Is Reported Missing

ORLANDO, Dec. 23. (AP)—Police of four Northern States were today searching for Bernard (Barney) Sullivan, active in Orange County, ACA and who worked in the office of County Agent K.C. Sullivan, said last night.

Authorities were asked to search for the prominent World War I veteran, Legionnaire and civic worker, by Mrs. Sullivan when she discovered that he was missing from their hotel suite shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday when she had left him bedridden several hours before.

Mrs. Sullivan further revealed that she had asked the assistance of the FBI in locating her husband. She said that although she understood that FBI could not make an official search because no criminal charges have been made against her husband, she hoped that their search would be successful and become Sullivan was a government employee.

After Plunging Forty Miles Across Belgium, German Offensive Stalls

LONDON, Dec. 23. (AP)—The Moscow radio reported today an extraordinary Soviet commission had established that nearly 700,000 prisoners, including an undetermined number of Americans and British from German prison camps, had been tortured and slain in a Nazi extermination camp at Izbica. It said an additional 20,000 persons were killed in a Nazi camp at Jasov. That children had been slaughtered in Izbica, the commission did not make clear whether the British and Americans were prisoners of war or civilians. The broad East said the commission established Heinrich Himmler's direct participation in the Izbica atrocities.
