Askew Names Him To Replace Kimbrough Alexander Appointed To County Commission

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer John R. Alexander, a real estate broker and veteran of eight years service during the 1960s on the county commission, was appointed by Gov. Reubin Askew today to fill the vacancy created on the Seminole County Commission by the resignation of John Kimbrough.

Asked today: "I feel that E. C. Harper handled the screening of interested applicants as objectively as possible. John Alexander was the high man based on the evaluation of some 20 persons who were asked to screen the 24 interested applicants. I hope that all appointments will be handled as objectively as this one."

County Sets Tax Rate For Seminole Taxpayers—$6.85 Up By $1.45

By MARK WEDBERG Herald Staff Writer The budget for the fiscal year beginning in October adopted unanimously by the Seminole County Commission early this morning calls for a countywide property tax rate of $6.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, $1.45 more than the current rate of $5.40.

The county also will spend $1,653,139 to finance the county's utility system, paid for by user fees. The expenditure is 45 per cent more than the currently budgeted $1,130,991. Other county expenditures not financed by countywide property taxes total $1,046,501, which include $7,438,783 in federal grants (mostly for federally-sponsored road manager programs).

Seminole sheriff's deputies and Casselberry police reported three separate armed robberies in a 20-minute time span Tuesday night in the Casselberry area.

Deputy Randy Pittman said two men wearing stocking masks and dark clothing got away with $60 in a holdup at the U-Tek-M store, 1519 Lake Howell Road, just before 11 p.m. One of the men was reportedly armed with a pistol. Sheriff's reports said one of robbery at the Pizza Hut restaurant, 451 S. U. S. 17-60, and the robbery of a woman in a car at the parking lot at Big Daddy's Lounge, 534-536 S. U. S. 17-60.

Police Chief George Karcher said two men entered a restroom at Pizza Hut, pulled pistols and forced a cashier to lay on the floor while they took and undischarged amount of cash from a register and fled, apparently to a waiting car.

Karcher said Jeanette Morgan, 411 Vanhook Way, Casselberry, was in her parked auto in the lounge parking lot when a man and a woman approached and the man asked for a match. He said the man then held a pistol to Morgan's head and the woman took the victim's purse with an undischarged amount of money and credit cards.

Officials said today investigators have no suspects in all three robberies and no arrests have been made.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor John Wayne wasn't adding up to John Ronald Reagan in his fight against ratification of the Panama Canal treaty. He's signed on with the pro-treaty outfit.

But in a telephone interview Tuesday, Wayne said, "I have agreed to support the treaty if what I understand about it is true."

Agency Reversal Saves 4,000 Aerospace Jobs

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — A federal agency has reversed a ruling that suspended a contract affecting almost 4,000 aerospace support workers because of a dispute over pregnant flight stewardesses.

The workers, employed by the Aerospace Services Division of Pan American World Airways, were told last week they might lose their jobs on Oct. 1 because of a policy by Pan Am prohibiting pregnant airline attendants from flying.

Insurance Reduction Seen

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Several Florida insurance firms plan to reduce their auto insurance rates before the end of the year, says House Commerce Chairman John Forbes.

Forbes told a meeting of House committee chairman Tuesday that the slight reductions were expected as a delayed result of the 1976 changes in Florida's no-fault auto insurance law.

SCA Given $23,000

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday night unanimously voted to spend $23,000 for community service programs now administered by Seminole County Action (SCA) and to study the possibility of the county's running SCA's programs.

Commissioners pledged a decision on whether to take over SCA's programs by December, when the private, non-profit poverty-fighting agency's new budget year begins.

SCA officials had requested $45,000 from the county — which would have enabled SCA to receive $100,000 from the federal Community Services Agency.

Seminole Concealed Weapon Ban Lifted

By MARK WEINBERG
Herald Staff Writer

Under the gun from a Florida Supreme Court decision, the Seminole County Commission early this morning reluctantly adopted procedures for issuing permits for carrying concealed weapons in the county.

Adoption of the ordinance ends a commission-imposed moratorium on issuing concealed weapon permits which commissioners adopted in May.

The Florida Supreme Court in April upheld a lower court decision requiring counties to issue concealed weapon permits to individuals of "good moral character" and adult age.

"I don't really want to do this, but I guess we have to," said Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, who made the motion to adopt the procedures. His motion was unanimously adopted by Commissioners Dick Williams and Bill Kirchoff at 1:15 a.m.

The vote followed two commission zoning hearings and 4½-hours of debate on the county budget for the fiscal year beginning in October.

Commissioners first considered the new regulations six weeks ago, but Kwiatkowski requested a way to "clear up questions I have" with Gary Siegal, assistant county attorney.

Under the ordinance adopted early this morning, to be issued a gun permit, an applicant would have to:

- Furnish proof of a "demonstrated, immediate need" for a concealed weapon "by reason of employment or other compelling circumstances."
- Complete a weapons training program.
- Be of good moral character.
- Furnish a $100 bond to the state.
- Pay a first-year fee of $100, with an annual renewal fee of $15.
- A permit will not be issued to any individual who:
 - Is a drug addict.
 - Has used a gun in the commission of a crime.
 - Is mentally ill.
 - Has been convicted of a crime involving "moral turpitude" or has been discharged from the armed forces under other than honorable conditions.
 - Uses alcoholic beverages to excess.
 - Is "possessed of a violent and unmanageable temper."

In applying for a gun permit, an individual would have to consent to a background investigation by the sheriff's office and publication of his request for a concealed weapon in Central Florida newspapers.

"I'm against concealed weapon permits," County Sheriff John Polk said Aug. 10, when the commissioners first considered the regulations, "but I realize the commissioners must follow the court's dictate."

Gun permits should be issued by the state, Polk said Aug. 10. "Seminole County won't recognize permits granted by other counties, and I understand other counties won't recognize the permits we issue. The state is just denying its responsibility in this area."

Oviedo Adopts Budget; Land Plan

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Oviedo residents also pay a 10 per cent tax on utilities with a maximum of $1.25 per bill.

A $44,000 Federal Revenue Sharing Funds budget also was approved and allotted, as follows: street repairs, $4,000; to pay off loan for insurance payment, $34,000; garbage collection, $3,000; street, safety and regulatory signs, $2,500 and the balance in a contingency fund for future payments on garbage truck and fire truck.

Council adopted a Comprehensive Land Use Plan for the city without opposition.

Greater Oviedo Recreation Association representatives requested the city to apply for CETA (Comprehensive Employment Training Act) funding for a year-round recreation project for the city. A motion by Councilman Charles Pratt approving the CETA recreation project died for lack of a second. Poor attendance at the city-sponsored summer recreation program in Sweetwater Park might have influenced the vote, according to City Clerk Nancy Cox, who said the program had to compete with more comprehensive one conducted at the school.

Only $600 had been budgeted in the coming year for recreation, so the councilmen said they felt the amount would quickly be used up in a 12-month program and no more funds were available.

Council approved a resolution for a $24,000 loan from Citizens Bank of Oviedo to cover a cash flow problem caused by a $12,000 workmen's compensation bill due by Sept. 23 and a $12,000 insurance bill due Oct. 15, before city taxes begin coming in.

Rehire Librarian Arbitrator Rules

By MARYLIN SHELDON
Herald Staff Writer

An arbitrator has ruled that former Jackson Heights Middle School librarian Lynette Cornelson must be re-employed by the Seminole County school board with all back pay and benefits she would have received if she had worked during the 1976-77 school year. Back pay was estimated at $9,638.

"It's about time," Mrs. Cornelson said today, adding that she was anxious to begin work.

The ruling, received by Mrs. Cornelson Tuesday, states that the school board is to find employment for her "as soon as possible" with an annual contract. Under that contract Mrs. Cornelson would serve on the board until the end of the 1978-79 school year.

County Hires New Budget Officer

John F. Etchberger will begin serving as Seminole County's chief budget officer Oct. 3 at an annual salary of $24,000.

The Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday voted to offer Etchberger the job of heading the county's Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation, replacing Pat Glisson, who left the county to become finance director of DeKalb County, Ga.

Tuesday's county commission meeting, commissioners also took the following actions:

- Voted unanimously to oppose in court an annexation of land by Sanford near Upsala Road. The annexation, which took place Monday, creates a pocket of county land almost totally surrounded by city land in apparent violation of state law, commissioners said.
- Heard Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser announce the county has received a $83,170 grant from the state Department of Community Affairs to build a civil defense headquarters at the county's Five Points complex in southern Sanford. The building will house the public safety department's communication system and will provide office space for the department's administrative staff. There will be an additional 5,000 square feet of office space in the building for other county agencies, Kaiser said.

Tax Reform: What To Expect?

Later this month we understand the Carter Administration will divulge what is advertised as the most sweeping tax overhaul proposal by any President since the introduction of the federal income tax in 1913.

And one lowers expectations still further upon reflecting on the particulars, so far as they can be discerned, in the proposed Carter overhaul. The plan is not sweeping overhaul in the sense needed, namely, one that scrapes the old system and builds a new one from scratch on the principles of simplicity, equity and efficiency.

Looking further, we find that the Carter Administration isn't much of a stickler anyway about taxing all income the same. Apparently it will propose to tax capital gains on personal principle at work here is that it is good to make a profit on your home, but bad to make one on commercial property or in the stock market.

But that proposed change, first disclosed in this column, also would mean that any challenge to Carter for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination would have to capture 25 per cent of a state's primary or caucus votes before qualifying for a single delegate vote from that state at the national convention.

On the other hand, one of the unwritten rules of politics is that the White House, presumed to be a reservoir of unlimited political cash, must never display weakness by surrendering or allowing itself to be defeated in an intra-party fight.

Emerging from total obscurity to resolve that dilemma was Sarah Shapirina, a commission member and Carter supporter from Columbia, S.C., who offered the meeting here a two-statement compromise plan.

First, all caucuses and primaries would be confined by new party rules to a three-month period, from the second Tuesday in March to the second Tuesday in June.

Second, the threshold level would gradually increase, from 15 per cent in the first month to 20 per cent in the second month and 25 per cent in the third month.

Shapirina claimed sole authorship of the compromise, but that's difficult to accept in light of her role as a commission wallflower who played virtually no role in early proceedings.

Nor, to put it another way, is genuine tax reform. Already government takes entirely too much of the Gross National Product. Unfortunately, Mr. Carter in just eight months of office already has proposed new federal spending on energy, social security, welfare, etc. — well more than $100 billion.

We dearly would like to be surprised later this month by a tax package that would give us the most sweeping tax overhaul since 1913, and indeed the right kind of one: But from first appearances, and from knowledge of the burdensome taxes already proposed, genuine tax reform is not only not in reach, but fast receding.

Around

The Clock

By MARK WEINBERG

People don't think about government much except at budget time, when government officials are faced with the unenviable task of telling the people what government will cost for the coming year.

Apparently they find it easier to believe that unnamed government officials are illegally siphoning secret profits than to face the fact that everything costs more these days, including government.

ANGLE-WALTERS

Carter Aides Fear Battle For 1980

DETROIT — Forced to abandon a clumsily managed effort to thwart opposition to President Carter in the 1980 Democratic primary elections, White House aides have devised a face-saving substitute of equally dubious value.

The stage for that still-unfolding political drama is the Democratic National Committee's Commission on Presidential Nomination and Party Structure, mandated to refine and recommend reforms or modifications of party rules.

The leading actors are the key Carter aides among the commission's 58 members: Richard O. (Dick) Hatchcock III and Mark A. Siegel, both members of the White House staff, and Patrick H. Caddell, the President's political adviser.

Current party rules, designed to guarantee the broadest representation of grass-roots voters, require that any presidential contender who receives at least 15 per cent of the votes in a state's primary or caucus must be given a proportional share of that state's delegates to the national convention.

When the commission met in Washington during the second week in August, Hatchcock proposed raising that threshold from 15 to 25 per cent, arguing that such a "consensus-building" mechanism was needed to establish a broad base of support around the leading candidate or candidates.

But that proposed change, first disclosed in this column, also would mean that any challenge to Carter for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination would have to capture 25 per cent of a state's primary or caucus votes before qualifying for a single delegate vote from that state at the national convention.

Carter loyalists clearly control a majority of the commission, but by the time the panel convened here in the second week of September, the President's operatives apparently decided that continued pressure to adopt the scheme would be too costly in terms of perpetuating the adversarial publicity and political hostility the plan generated in recent weeks.

On the other hand, one of the unwritten rules of politics is that the White House, presumed to be a reservoir of unlimited political cash, must never display weakness by surrendering or allowing itself to be defeated in an intra-party fight.

Emerging from total obscurity to resolve that dilemma was Sarah Shapirina, a commission member and Carter supporter from Columbia, S.C., who offered the meeting here a two-statement compromise plan.

BIPARTISAN SUPPORT FOR PANAMA TREATY

General Omar Torrijos was feeling good on the way back to Panama City from Washington, D.C. After all, he'd come a long way — from obscure army officer about to take part in a coup nine years ago, to head-of-state today, basking in the world's media spotlight.

He felt so good, in fact, that he radioed a message to his friend and hero, Fidel Castro. "On my return to my country, and flying above the sky of Cuba, I salute you with friendship always. I wish that the Cuban people under your skillful leadership (will) continue its ascendant march toward progress."

"In Latin America your name is associated with feelings about dignity that have been channelled toward the ending of a shameful period of colonialism."

Torrijos would soon be home, the Panama Canal treaties signed. A big crowd awaited him, including all the government's employees, who had been instructed to show up to hail him.

Facilities at Lackawanna, N.Y., and Youngstown, Ohio, are being closed, resulting in the loss of many thousands of jobs, and drastic action of that sort is taken by any company that more is being considered.

Some members of the industry have taken to newspaper advertisements to argue their case, to seek relief from imports and perhaps environmental regulations too. They admit they are in retreat.

The atmosphere recalls the days when railroads were afraid that they were being regulated out of business, a contention that was met then by countercharges of mismanagement, some of which turned out to be very true.

The problems of the steel industry are also connected with capital spending, or the lack of it. Companies must be able to raise money in the stock market, it is said, or else the whole capitalistic system will be undermined.

And that brings up incentives, or the elimination of disincentives, such as the double taxation of dividends (at the corporation and personal levels). But when? And will the new income tax structure being planned permit more liberal depreciation and lower capital gains taxes?

Nobody can say at the moment, any more than we can tell what the "prudent man" rule of ERISA, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, is all about. This too is related to steel and Washington, and related also to the stock market's drift.

"We deal in technical not political decisions," Knudsen's curve, he said, was somewhat naive. "Gutierrez agreed with White and stressed that their personal integrity should not be questioned."

CIA VIEW: A fascinating CIA report, intended for official eyes only, illustrates ironically that publicity is more effective than secrecy in combating the international drug dealers.

We have warned repeatedly that the United States is losing the war against drugs. The rising tide of incoming heroin and cocaine has swamped the interdiction agencies.

Canal Treaty Opponents Will Spend $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of the Panama Canal treaty are conducting an intensive lobbying campaign to win allies among some 30 senators who haven't made up their minds on the pact.

Members of a Senate subcommittee broke up in laughter Tuesday as former agents told about the agency's use of special devices designed specifically to introduce drugs to unsuspecting test subjects.

For instance, there was an abortive attempt in 1959 by three CIA agents to lead LSD on a household of unwitting people in San Francisco, who thought they were being invited to a party.

The would-be subjects, found in local nightclubs, were invited to a safe house, a residence maintained by the agency for just such clandestine activities.

But the experiment didn't work as planned, said one of the former agents, Dr. David Rhodes, in testimony before the Senate Human Resources subcommittee on health, holding hearings on the CIA's extensive program of secret drug testing in the 1950s and 1960s.

Rhodes said agents were set to unleash an LSD aerosol bomb on the San Francisco revelers, but discovered that the windows of their safe house were open because there was no air conditioning.

Determined to conclude his mission, one of the frustrated agents went into the bathroom and sprayed himself with the hallucinogenic drug, Rhodes said. The experiment apparently failed. None of the guests seemed to succumb to the agent's suit.

"The weather defeated us," Rhodes told senators who sat in wide-eyed disbelief. His story was reminiscent of CIA plots that the Senate Intelligence committee once said "strain the imagination."

One that strained the committee's imagination was the attempt to make Castro lose his hair. That was revealed in 1975 by the intelligence committee, which said the Cuban leader had survived at least eight CIA-sponsored assassination plots.

Another former agent, Philip Goldman, told the subcommittee about tests designed to deliver drugs or other chemicals to CIA targets.

For instance, Goldman said he made billy clubs that shot tear gas, disguised as a small glass vial filled with tear gas up to 100 yards.

He said the tear gas device was ordered after an agent attempted to hurt one of the vials out of his hotel window into a rally the CIA wanted to break up. The agent's aim was bad. The vial missed the window, bounced off a wall and broke open, filling the agent's hotel stairs that melted in cocktail room with gas, Goldman said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — By financial standards, Informer No. 505 was a real big-getter. No. 505 earned $11,100 from the FBI in 1973 and a total of $48,284 over seven years ending in 1977.

What did the FBI get from No. 505 to warrant the payments? "Approximately 55 leads and pamphlets regarding Socialist Workers Party activities, approximately 36 SWP newsletters," financial statements, membership lists and schedules of party activities.

On the other hand, Informer No. 28 apparently told the FBI hardly anything it wanted to know about the small Trotskyite political party. No. 28 received only a single $5-payment in 1966.

Those details emerged from FBI documents made public Tuesday by the Political Rights Defense Fund, which is financing the party's multimillion-dollar lawsuit accusing the FBI of illegal harassment and disruption of legitimate political activities.

During the course of the four-year lawsuit, lawyers asked the FBI for details about money paid to informers to spy on the party. The FBI was required to provide the information in a procedure which allowed the informers to be de-identified by code numbers to protect their identities.

The documents show that the FBI paid more than $14 million during a 12-year period, to 300 informers who joined the party or its affiliate, the Young Socialist Alliance, as a way of gaining more information about party activities.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of President Nixon's traveling party were dragged during a trip to an "unfriendly" nation some time in 1971, the CIA's former scientific chief told investigating senators today.

Dr. Sidney Gottlieb told a Senate health subcommittee that the President was not affected but that his personal physician, Dr. Walter Thayer, was hospitalized.

Gottlieb said one symptom of the drug was that those affected by it cried at inappropriate times.

He said that he has seen documentation indicating that foreign intelligence agents used drugs on American officials until 1973, the year Gottlieb left the CIA.

Gottlieb apparently made the disclosure as an afterthought after he had concluded reading a prepared statement. His testimony was taken in front of senators in a small room and piped to reporters and members of the subcommittee who had filled a nearby hearing room.

Gottlieb requested the unusual procedure through his physicians because of a heart ailment.

Gottlieb also said that it was his understanding that in most cases foreign intelligence agents used drugs to steal documents from American officials.

Collins was being held at the county jail at the courthouse in Orlando and the corrections officer who misread the records was at central booking at the Criminal Justice Building across town.

It was sentenced in 18 months, and she brought the release order on the contempt case wiped out the 18 months," King said.

King said Collins left Orange County at 5 a.m. today on his way in the state prison system reception center at Lake Butler.

Wholesale farm prices have been falling since April and the decline, which showed up for the first time at the retail level in July, could be reflected again in the August consumer price report being released today.

The increase was the lowest since a similar rise last November and followed a rise of four-tenths of 1 per cent in July and increases of six-tenths in May and June.

The Ghouls Move In To Cash In On Elvis' Death

By MICHAEL FRIEHL Herald Services Not surprisingly, the opportunists and the shapies have moved quickly to cash in on the death of Elvis Presley. Unfortunately, the worst is yet to come. Even more unfortunately, the victims are decent people, not those seeking to get rich quick from schemes that add to greed.

It is a ghoulish streak that drives the artful to seize upon the popularity—or idiosyncrasy of a person—or Presley as a way to riches through exploitation of the popularity and grief. Already there has been an unconscionable drive to make capital of Presley, but the biggest are in the future, and in sight.

Presley's style of living went from poverty to princely in a few years. That alone endeared him to millions who wished the same kind of lightning would strike them but who, like most of us, knew it was never to happen.

Even the least interested know that Elvis Presley gave souvenirs and trinket hucksters who lost no time in coming out with T-shirts, blue suede shoes, jewelry and other phony memorabilia. Since Little Kennedy, daughter of the late president, lost no time in coming out with a similar line of merchandise, the public is not surprised to see a similar line of merchandise.

Spending Mood Feeds Economy

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK—Out there on the firing line, where the deals are real and theories and forecasts count for nothing, a significant change may be occurring in business' attitude toward capital spending.

Mikesell states with little qualification that his company's current experience forecasts a rise two months from now in the official government figures for capital spending.

"We see no hard evidence of a turnaround. We're seeing an upswing," he said. Asked to name some of the items being financed, he cited construction equipment, machine tools, punch presses, materials handling equipment and transportation machinery.

Monetary Fund Growing Powerful

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON—If the industrialized world makes it through its current peck of economic problems, a lot of the credit will go to the International Monetary Fund, which holds its annual meeting here next week.

The IMF, with the encouragement of the United States, is acquiring steadily growing influence and authority over the world economy. Even major nations like Great Britain and Italy have had to kneel under at times to IMF directives.

money to help these countries, but the help is usually given with strings attached, which is the way the United States wants it done. Both Italy and Great Britain, which received major loans from the IMF in the past year—Britain, $4 billion, Italy, $500 million—first had to agree after lengthy negotiations to take painful measures to control inflation and wages.

A Big Night For Quarry

As Jerry Quarry goes through the rigid discipline of a boxing comeback in California's secluded, mile-high Lake Arrowhead, he lets his mind drift off into wild fantasies...

"Boxing's White Hope," said Promoter Don King, who persuaded the Californian to come out of two years' retirement...

Quarry added a footnote. "I got enough chin to take anything anybody can throw at it and can take out anybody I can reach."

Quarry, now 32, is a walking billboard of his reckless willingness to take and take. He has bounced his chin off some of the most famous blows in the business — Muhammad Ali in two fights, Joe Frazier, Ken Norton, Ron Lyle...

Quarry is a rugged, horse-in-plumber, was chosen to serve as the field call when Ali, out of action 14 years in a protest against military service, made his celebrated return in Atlanta in October, 1970.

All won on a technical knockout in three. In a second fight, in 1972 in Las Vegas, the referee stopped it in the seventh. Both Frazier and Norton stopped Quarry in five in 1973.

Quarry has a record of 51 victories, 30 by knockout, eight losses and four draws. Quarry adds disillusionment in his chosen profession began setting in after he watched his brother Mike get demolished by light heavyweight champion Bob Foster in June, 1972...

"I did something to my head," he explained. "I wasn't I got scared. The only fear I have is of dying of suffocation. I never had any fear of pain. I never had a loss of being beaten. For some reason, my confidence suddenly disappeared."

Jerry now is undergoing hypnotherapy which he insists has cured his head back on his body. "My different now," he says. "My mind is changing. I got confidence. I'm not going to spend my life changing tires on Greyhound buses. There's no money in boxing. I'm going after it."

Sooners Picked Over Bucks

NEW YORK—For a preview of Saturday's Oklahoma-Ohio State game, we give you Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes addressing Monday's weekly media luncheon in Columbus.

"I would say it will be relatively high scoring." And for another look at Saturday's Oklahoma-Ohio State game, we give you Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes addressing the Chicago Football Writers on Tuesday.

"Games like these usually don't turn out to be high-scoring." Looking back over the last nine years, Ohio has lost only two regular-season games by more than seven points, both to Michigan, 24-12 in 1969 and 29-9 last year. Add No. 1 to the list ... Oklahoma 20-18.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech: The Aggies have been overly impressive in leading Kansas and Virginia Tech. They'll have to perform better if they hope to defeat Texas Tech in a key Southwest Conference tussle ... Texas A&M 20-14.

Notre Dame at Purdue: This is a logical spot for the upset Special. Only thing is, "Fama has won the last seven from Vandy by a combined score of 272-63 ... Alabama 20-14.

Inaccessible Askew Hurts Case For Ending Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE (AP) Gov. Askew has a persuasive argument for abolishing the elected Cabinet system, but he has weakened his own position by his inaccessibility as governor.

Askew has urged the Constitution Revision Commission to recommend abolition of the elected six-member Cabinet to the voters, a highly controversial plan that has triggered major political opposition.

He says elimination of the Cabinet will improve administration of state government by removing the fetters a multi-member executive imposes on the one official held responsible by the public, the governor.

But some observers who oppose the Cabinet system are having second thoughts because of Askew's performance as chief executive.

Askew has, through his reticence about exposing the inner workings of his administration, demonstrated how a bad governor could abuse his powers without the ambitious Cabinet members to rein him in.

Askew has been a strong supporter of open government, and there's no question he believes in it. His Sunshine Amendment was a major step forward.

But Askew's style is secretive in many important respects. He plays his cards close to the vest, consequently the public has little idea what he's holding or gambling.

The governor holds infrequent news conferences and grants few interviews, thus there is little need for him to justify his policies and actions.

Askew has not held a full-blown news conference in the Capitol since June.

He justifies lack of contact with the press by saying he talks to many reporters in his travels around the state. He answers a few questions before the television camera for a few minutes prior to Tuesday's meeting.

But the governor said he would not commit himself to continuing the practice. He said he wanted to see how it worked in the new quarters.

The new Capitol was designed with the security of state officials in mind. It will be easy for Askew to dodge reporters waiting outside the new Cabinet room by using a private stairway from his office. Under Askew it's been difficult to learn the how and why of decisions made by the governor. He advocates open meetings but his own aversion with legislative leaders and other key figures are closed and usually secret.

The people may support Askew's decisions, but little has been revealed to them about the interests that have been consulted, favored or ignored.

If an issue is sensitive, such as Askew's signing of convicted murderer John A. Spenslink's death warrant, he can dispose of questions about it with a terse "no comment."

What would happen under a devolved future government? Would elimination of the Cabinet remove one means of exposing his schemes?

Those are questions of concern to some who would like to abolish the Cabinet, and Askew has inadvertently given rise to them.

Cook Of The Week Variety Is The Spice...

By ELDA NICHOLS Herald Correspondent

Dolores Conlon, Longwood, doesn't wait for Thanksgiving to enjoy a turkey dinner. Laughing, she said, "Every week I bake a turkey with stuffing and the whole bit!"

She likes to cook Italian, American and Chinese food. "I really like to spend a great deal of time preparing food. I look a recipe over and then do my own thing with it. I always make changes," she said.

However, she did admit to carefully following a recipe when baking a cake. "That's a little more tricky," she explained.

To bring out the best in food, Dolores believes in cooking from scratch. She also prefers fresh vegetables to frozen or canned. By cooking double amounts of a recipe, she is then able to freeze part for later.

"Things like meatloaf and spaghetti sauce are very good to double up on the amounts you make, then you are all prepared for another meal," she said.

Dolores' husband, Jack, is the President of the Seminole County Humane Society.

Helen Remusat: Church organist for 50 years.

Fantastic Doctor Feeds Fattie Perfect Excuse

DEAR ABBY: My girlfriend Betty (fictional name) was so beautiful a few years ago that when she walked down the streets head would turn. She still has a beautiful face, but she must have gained about 50 pounds. Maybe 75.

Betty has tried Weight Watchers, Topps and Overeaters Anonymous but she never stayed with any of them. She also been to doctors who have put her on special diets, pills, shots, etc. Nothing worked.

Yesterday she told me she went to a fantastic doctor who specializes in weight reduction. He charged her $100 to weigh her, take her blood pressure and tell her he couldn't take her because she didn't weigh enough? He said he treats only extremely obese people, and she will have to gain at least 150 pounds before he can take her. Can you believe that?

So now Betty is eating up a storm so this doctor will take her. What do you make of this?

CYNICAL FRIEND: I think Betty is a compulsive overeater who has found the perfect excuse to continue eating for a while. And I can't believe that a legitimate physician would tell an obese person to gain weight to qualify for a weight-reduction program.

DEAR ABBY: I recently moved near Arlington Cemetery. A friend of mine, who lives in another town, asked me to please visit her nephew's grave in Arlington.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to: ABBY, Box No. 4798, L.A., Calif. 90010. Enclose $1.00 for self-addressed envelope, please. Make to write letters? Send $1 to Beverly Hills, Calif. 90211, for Abby's Booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose 10¢ self-addressed, stamped (20 cent) envelope.

Happy Birthday Miss Helen

This Is Your Life...

By DORIS DIETRICH Herald Writer

A half century of service. Helen Remusat has lived in Sanford for nearly 70 years. Today, she is celebrating her 71st birthday.

And for 50 of these years, Mrs. Remusat has served as church organist for the Congregational Church of Sanford.

Immediately following the Sunday morning worship service, Mrs. Remusat was honored by the women of the church at a reception in Fellowship Hall. "Miss Helen" as she is affectionately called, was presented a Minister of Music Certificate, a portable stereo-tape recorder and a corsage of ribbon roses.

Miss Helen's brother, Henry Wile of Ft. Meyers, presented a "This is Your Life" segment on his sister's accomplishments and service to her family and her church and its members. Her church service was not limited to organist. She has held several offices, taught Sunday School and has been active in the Elthel Root Circle. Miss Helen was also employed at Gut Insurance Company and Powell's Insurance Company.

Mrs. Ralph Loosing has known Miss Helen for 68 years, a friendship that has survived since they were pre-school children.

Describing Miss Helen as a church pillar, Mrs. Loosing said, "I tell you there is nobody like her. She is my last link with the past. There are not many like her left. I don't know what we would do without her."

Several other church members echoed Mrs. Loosing's sentiments. Statements recorded were: "She's truly a jewel. She's a real Christian. She has always dropped everything in time of need. She is real charity and love, and on and on..."

JELLIED RED PEPPER RELISH Red Pepper Relish Has Piquant Taste

We're as pleased as punch with some brand-name Jellied Red Pepper Relish we have just made. And we're happy to pass along the recipe because you may want to add allure to a platter of sliced turkey and meat by accompanying it with this pretty crimson relish. The red peppers supply their own brilliance. No bottled red coloring is needed. When the relish is turned out of its jar, it keeps its shape—at least it did for us. Nestling in the center of a small, broiled, white couple or glass serving dish, with a string of parsley around it, it sparkles. If you save some of the relish for holiday time, you may want to present it in a decorative jar. The powdered pectin used in the relish is a good product. It consists of dextrose (corn sugar), pectin (from fruit) and fumaric acid (to assist the gel). Experiments that included fumaric acid in the diet of human beings have proven the substance harmless. JELLIED RED PEPPER RELISH 8 or 9 medium-size sweet red peppers, seeded 1/2 cup cider vinegar 2 tablespoons whole pickling spice tied in a cheesecloth bag 1/4 teaspoon tabasco sauce 1/4 teaspoon butter 2 cups sugar 1 and 1/2-ounce box powdered fruit pectin...

SCRAMBLED EGGS DELUXE Eggs Deluxe Are A Skillet Treat

Skillet meals are the easiest, almost any cook will agree. And eggs are the basis of the easiest of skillet meals. You can fry eggs for breakfast, for a sandwich, or even to top a burger. Omelets, another skillet-cooked special, are featured in the fanciest of restaurants. And scrambled eggs are probably the original skillet supper. Eggs, along with almost anything else you've got on hand in the refrigerator, can make a great last minute meal for family or company. Scrambled eggs Deluxe would certainly please either group. You just saute a little green pepper and onion in butter, then add some leftover cooked potatoes, ham, pimiento and eggs. A few minutes on the range and you've a substantial meal-in-a-skillet to set before the hungriest, or most finicky, of diners. Add a salad, perhaps some bread or rolls and pour milk or coffee and that's it! Next time you have a brunch planned, or a spur of the moment dinner unplanned, or just a hungry family to feed in a hurry, remember Scrambled Eggs Deluxe. You'll be serving high quality protein at little cost in effort or pennies. When eggs sell for 7c a dozen that's only 52c a pound—a real protein bargain! SCRAMBLED EGGS DELUXE 4 to 6 servings 2 tablespoons butter 1/2 cup chopped green pepper one-third cup chopped onion 2 cups coarsely chopped cooked potatoes (2 to 3 medium) 1 cup chopped ham 1 jar (2 oz.) chopped pimiento, drained 8 eggs 2 tablespoons water 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon pepper 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese, optional Green pepper rings, optional In large skillet cook green pepper and onion in butter over medium heat until tender, about 5 to 7 minutes. Stir in potatoes, ham and pimiento and cook until thoroughly heated, about 3 to 5 minutes. Combine eggs, water, salt and pepper with a fork or rotary beater. Pour egg mixture over potato-ham mixture. As eggs begin to set, draw pancake turner completely across bottom and around sides of skillet, forming large soft curls. Continue until eggs are thickened, but do not stir constantly. Cook until eggs are thickened throughout, but still moist. Sprinkle with cheese and garnish with green pepper rings, if desired. It is better to remove scrambled eggs from pan when they are slightly underdone. Heat retained in the eggs completes cooking.

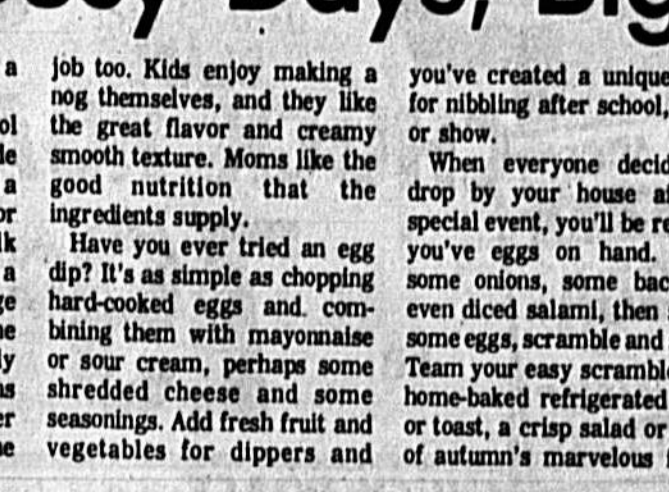

CHICKEN AND CELERY CASSEROLE

Chicken, celery and rice combine in a Dutch oven or heavy saucepan for a delicious dish that requires little attention. This is a good party entrée, especially for young couples who are entertaining on a budget. Serve with a mixed green salad and a fresh fruit sherbet. SEVERGLADES CHICKEN AND CELERY CASSEROLE 4 tablespoons salad oil 1 (3 1/2 to 3 pounds) chicken, cut into 8 pieces 1 cup regular cooking rice, uncooked 1/2 cup chopped onion 1 clove garlic, finely minced 2 cups water 2 chicken bouillon cubes 2 teaspoons paprika 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper 1 stalk Florida celery 1 tablespoon salt leaves In a Dutch oven or heavy saucepan heat oil. Add chicken and brown well. Remove chicken and set aside. Add rice, onion and garlic. Sauté for 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Add water, bouillon cubes, paprika, salt and black pepper. Bring to the boiling point. Return chicken to Dutch oven. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, trim celery, removing sufficient leaves to make one-third cup chopped. Cut celery into 1-inch pieces (makes about 4 cups). Add celery to Dutch oven. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add celery leaves and basil. Continue simmering until chicken and rice are tender, about 7 minutes. Makes 4 portions.

Fall Food Favorites Eggs For Busy Days, Big Appetites

Fall means activity — football, parties, back to school — and good eating is a part of all these activities. A lot of autumn's eating is done after the game, after school, after the theater or show. If you're looking for an easy solution to those meal moments you're sure to fall for eggs. No after-school snack could be simpler, or more nutritious, than a hard-cooked egg, to nibble out of hand, or to devils with some mayonnaise and a few tasty seasonings. Another great after school snack is a quick-fix drink made from a cup of milk, an egg and a tablespoon or two of honey or molasses or malted milk powder. If you like, add a banana. You could use orange or apple juice in place of the milk. The blender can easily whip any of these combinations to a tasty froth. A rotary beater or electric mixer could do the job too. Kids enjoy making a nog themselves, and they like the great flavor and creamy smooth texture. Moms like the good nutrition that the ingredients supply. Have you ever tried an egg dip? It's as simple as chopping hard-cooked eggs and combining them with mayonnaise or sour cream, perhaps some shredded cheese and some seasonings. Add fresh fruit and vegetables for dippers and you've created a unique treat for nibbling after school, game or show. When everyone decides to drop by your house after a special event, you'll be ready if you've eggs on hand. Sauté some onions, some bacon or even diced salami, then stir in some eggs, scramble and serve. Team your easy scramble with home-baked refrigerated rolls, or toast, a crisp salad or some of autumn's marvelous fruits. Fall Saturdays are always the busiest, so count on an easy fix-ahead casserole to take care of your company's coming evening meal. You can assemble a heavy egg-based casserole the night or morning before, then let it wait in the refrigerator until time to bake. If you aren't among the growing group that's discovered how super-easy an omelet is to make, join up right now! Experienced cooks insist an omelet is even easier than scrambled eggs. Omelet success is based on just a few simple tricks: use a sloping sided pan, heat that pan until it's hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, and be sure to keep the beaten egg mixture moving in the pan so it can all get cooked. Fill half of the omelet, fold the other half over the filling, turn out and you're done.

Unable To Walk At Age 75

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 75 and have walked all my life. I still walk every day only I am having trouble with my leg. I can only walk a few blocks and have to stop while the pain leaves. I do not have high blood pressure and all my tests come out okay.

Crossword puzzle grid with numbers 1-61.

My doctor gave me Rontacol time span tablets, one a day, and I've taken them for more than a year. I just cannot tell the difference. What do you think of this drug? I just feel awful when I do not get my walk. I would hate to give it up. It's the best part of my life physically.

Sanford Hit The Hardest Seminole Battered By High Winds, Rains

SANFORD FIREMAN USE BOAT TO RESCUE STRANDED FAMILIES.

MRS. EDNA LONG AND CHILDREN LEAVE FLOODED WEST 14TH STREET HOME.

Residents across Seminole County today were cleaning up debris left by an intensive thunderstorm that drenched the Sanford area where more than three inches of rain fell in 90 minutes and lightning knocked out electric power and telephone service.

Sanford firemen used city commissioner Eddie Keith's rowboat to rescue four persons from two homes as floodwaters surged at the doors of the residences at W. 14th St. at Bell Avenue.

Antique Gun Law Applies Clicquennoi Murder Charge Dismissed

Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGregor has dismissed murder and possession of a sawed-off shotgun charges against Brian Raymond Clicquennoi Sr. of Sanford, in the Aug. 13 slaying of his six-month-old son, Vincent.

At first it was believed that Clicquennoi's other son, six-year-old Brian Jr., had also been outside the trailer when the shooting occurred. But the boy later told prosecutors that he'd been inside and had seen his father shoot the infant.
