Rick Casares Is Now Groomed For Quarterback Slot

GAINESVILLE (AP)—The grooming of Rick Casares to take over the Florida quarterback position started on schedule Monday, with Doug Dickey, Fred Robinson and Jim Hirsch losing hats in the ring as competition.

Casares, who led the University of Florida's running, punting and scoring as a fullback last year, found the early stages of quarterbacking to be a "T" formation team.

Over a hundred candidates, 75 varsity and 35 freshmen, reported for Florida's first practice, but missing from the group were Leterman Guard Bob Hewitt and Jack Mason.

Hewitt has withdrawn from the university, while Elliott and Hirsch have decided to give up the sport.

Azaleas Topple Jax Beach, 7-4, With Hutson Decision-Ing Ernie Clark

By KENT CHETLAIN
Orlando's City softball championship is within the grasp of two Sanford Naval Auxiliary teams, FASHON and the regular station line.

The air station's main team has already placed in the finals and can only be defeated by a combination of two losses to the winner of tonight's FASHON-Pinecastle 8 PM game in the semi-finals.

FASHON and Pinecastle were originally slated to play-off their remaining preliminary title last Saturday night, but the threat of the Atlantic hurricane forced a cancellation of the contest.

This evening the two teams will battle it out for the final title in the Orlando "A" division for Sanford.

The resultant confusion stems from the fact that a double elimination system is being used in the play-offs.

Jupiter Pluvius may have a hand in deciding the American League pennant this year.

No, Jupiter Pluvius is not another random plucked by the New York Yankees for their stretch drive although he proved to be as helpful to the world champions as Ray Scarborough, the refugee from the Boston Red Sox.

The two combined to increase the Yankees' first-place margin to 2 1/2 games over Cleveland Monday night. Scarborough, purchased last week from the Red Sox, hand-cuffed his former mates with three hits, pitching the New Yorkers to a 3-1 triumph.

St. Louis failed to score in the fifth and the Indians rallied for three runs in the top half of the sixth to take a 4-2 lead.

Miami's Sun Sox, aiming for first Florida International League pennant in seven seasons, must match strides with Miami Beach down to the wire to win.

The Sun Sox lost their first doubtheaded of the year at Tampa Monday night, 1-0 and 5-0, and saw their lead melt to a game and a half as the Miami Beach Flamingos whipped Lakeland twice, 8-7 and 8-1.

In other games, St. Petersburg shelled Key West, 19-3, and West Palm Beach trounced Havana, 6-3. The season ends Saturday.

Tampa's 1-0 walkaway allowed only one hit—airborne by Pitcher Gil Torres in the sixth—to win the opening game before 1,020 fans in Tampa. Red Barrett doled out losing six hits in the ninthcap, three of them to Rocky Jesse Levan's 10th homer will one out in the ninth game Miami Beach the edge over Lakeland in the opener and Whitley Platt collected his 12th round tripper in the eighth to spark the Flamingos' 14th hit on Don Van Nest and Roy Siquedfeld.

West Palm Beach Manager Charlie Harris spaced 10 Havana hits, one a triple by Manny Perez, while the Indians broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth with a pair of runs and added another in the ninth to sew up the game.

St. Petersburg scored in clusters with five in the fourth and six each in the sixth and eighth. Although the Saints got only 11 hits off George Vidal, Indio Jimenes and Ed Zielinski, Key West made 11 errors, including six by the shortstop. Key West got 10 hits off three St. Petersburg pitchers, one of them Chuck Harig's 13th home run of the season.

Search For Missing Trotters Continues

After two days of intensive searching, both in the air and on land, the whereabouts of the two missing pedigreed trotting horses from the Azalea Driving Park remains a mystery.

Deputy Sheriff W. T. Wansley, who is conducting the investigation, stated that it is a good possibility the two horses may have been stolen.

The troters, "The Milk Man", a brown gelding with one white hind hoof, and "Flower Girl", a brown mare with two white hind hooves, are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kupf, proprietors of the track and of Azalea Lodge in Casselberry.

The horses, valued at $2,000, are from the bloodline of the famous Hanover, Casselberry Councilman William Otto Jr. scoured a 20 square mile area from his airplane yesterday in an effort to find the missing horses, but to no avail.

Stetson Coach Eyes Three Quarterbacks

DELAND (AP)—Coach Jay Patee kept one eye on three prospective quarterbacks and with the other looked for a hard-hitting and running fullback in the opening 3-hour football practice session of the Stetson Hatters Monday.

Patee said he liked the looks of Ron DeHila, sophomore from Rutherford, N. J., in the quarter-back spot. Sonny Parish and Stan Marks, both from Miami, also worked out in that position.

Patee is looking for a speedy 200-pounder to replace fullback Fulmer Armstrong, who was graduated last year.

A small but almost certain starter in Stetson's first game against Rutherford, N. J., in the quarter-back spot is Bobby Marks, Fort Lauderdale.

Crooms' Footballers See College Drills

By T. V. DAVIS
The "almighty" Crooms Panther gridiron squad visited the Bethune-Cookman College football workouts last Saturday afternoon.

Crooms Mentor G. B. Franklin, former Bethune-Cookman grid star, took his charges to Daytona to watch the collegians run through their paces.

Yesterday's morning workout began at 7:00 a.m. Franklin admitted that the Crooms future outlook still appeared dim at this stage of the workouts, however, the friendly mentor said new arrivals daily were improving the grid situation at Crooms Academy.

One of the star returnees from last year is Arthur "Ghee" Knight, hard-hitting fullback. Arthur picked up his nickname, "Ghee" from the girls who said, "Ghee how hard you hit 'em."

U-M Works On More "Contact" Practice

Gustafson said the squad survived the opening day's workouts in good shape and he hopes to have the players ready for their opening meeting with the Fort Jackson, S. C., team in the Orange Bowl Sept. 15.

Safe Airfield Plan Ordered By President

Long-Range Program Recommended By Doolittle To Provide Future Safety

WASHINGTON — President Truman today ordered into immediate effect a long-range program aimed at giving the United States more and better airfields.

The program was embodied in recommendations made by the President by a special commission headed by James H. Doolittle, World War II flying hero. The commission was set up shortly after three air disasters occurred in rapid succession at Elizabeth, N. J.

Embodied in the recommendations were these key provisions:

1. Airports should be given a major role in community planning and airfields should be integrated with other modes of transportation.
2. Airfields should be moved closer to the cities they serve. The Doolittle Commission said they should be no further than 10 minutes driving time from the heart of a city.
3. No new airport should be planned without clear, level areas at least 1,000 feet wide and at least half a mile long beyond each end of the main runways.
4. Zoning laws should be set up protecting approaches to airports against construction of buildings for at least two miles in fan-shaped areas at least 6,000 feet wide at the outer ends.
5. Government appropriations for airport improvements should be increased substantially.
6. Helicopters and other forms of air taxi service should be set up between airports and cities.

The White House announced that the President has directed four federal agencies in getting the Doolittle Commission recommendations into immediate effect.

These agencies are headed by the secretary of defense, the secretary of commerce, the postmaster general and the chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The announcement said the President's Air Coordinating Committee had examined the Doolittle recommendations and had divided up the recommendations so that each agency would be responsible for the agency primarily concerned.

While some of the commission's recommendations were of a long-range nature, the White House said some of them could be put into effect quickly.

John Krider, business manager of the Seminole Blues, and J. Denver Correll appeared prior to the budget session and proposed to the Commission that permission be granted to Seminole High School and Crosses Academy to use the Municipal Stadium for football next season.

Mr. Correll pointed out that the field could be converted to this purpose at small expense, and stressed the advantages of seating, parking and lighting at the Seminole High School field.

The Commission, following a motion by Mr. Krider, seconded by Andrew Caraway, separated City Manager Tom Lemon, Mr. Correll and Mr. Krider to confer with Principal Herman E. Morris of Seminole High School.

POWERFUL JET PHILADELPHIA UP—A 15,000-horsepower turbojet aircraft engine 2 1/2 times as powerful as the combine four engines of a B-36 Superfortress has been placed in production, the Navy announced Tuesday.

The new engine develops its tremendous power, the firm said, partly through use of an "afterburner" which reburns the exhaust gases after they leave the turbine and before they emerge as a jet stream.

Forward speed was estimated by a hurricane hunting plane at 12 to 14 miles an hour.

Savage sustained winds of 115 miles an hour were registered near the center of the storm.

Hurricane force winds extended out ward 25 miles in the northern semicircle. The terrific 140 mile an hour gusts were located in this quadrant.

The advisory pinpointed the center of the storm near Latitude 26.2 north and Longitude 87.5 west.

The hurricane was still following a course about parallel and 100 miles north of the tracks of the season's first tropical disturbance last week.

Continued movement in this direction would bring it to the North Carolina mainland 100 miles distant in about 24 hours.

But hurricanes never move in a straight line, it was said Tuesday by the National Weather Bureau.

The 5 a.m. EST advisory estimated the storm's location about 75 miles east of Noyac in the Bahamas, near Latitude 24.5 north and Longitude 66.3 west.

The location was based on reports received from widely scattered sources. The Weather Bureau said the site was believed to be accurate within one degree.

General Says He Has Come To Make Certain There Are Two Parties In South

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Dwight D. Eisenhower created his 2-1-1 coalition in the Truman administration before a presidential election, a coalition designed to back the southern bloc of the Democratic ranks.

Eisenhower was chosen by the voters to carry out another term, but he is coming to hear him in Washington, where he will be the subject of a Senate hearing.

Gen. Eisenhower said he has come to make certain there are two parties in the South.

He said he believed the purpose of the war crime trial was to clear the name of the United States and to prevent any further such actions.

Robert Brown Jr., Norval G. Marlatt Hurt In Accidents

Two persons, a five year old boy and an elderly man, were injured yesterday afternoon in accidents of similar origin. Both involved small boys running in front of automobiles on busy streets.

The condition today of Robert J. Brown, Jr., 5, who was hit shortly after 6 p.m. on the corner of Second Street and French Avenue by an automobile driven by Mrs. R. W. Von Herbulis, was pronounced satisfactory by Dr. J. E. McDaniel, attending physician, who said that the boy had a mild concussion and minor bruises.

Norval G. Marlatt, about 70, suffered a concussion, laceration of the head and arms and bruises, shortly before 6:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when in seeking to avoid hitting a small boy on Park Avenue near Twenty-third Street, he lost control of his 1935 Ford sedan. According to police, it hit the curb three times and crashed into a light post.

Mr. Marlatt is in unconscious condition, was taken to Farnside Lighthouse Memorial Hospital. Dr. McDaniel this morning stated that the elderly man's condition is much improved and that he is feeling better.

Mrs. Von Herbulis told police last night that the small brown boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Brown, 401 Colonial Way, had run out in front of her automobile while she was driving south on French Avenue, and that she was unable to avoid hitting him.

The boy, according to police, was picked up and taken to the hospital by E. R. Kirtley of the K and W Fruit Co., who was a witness to the accident. Mrs. Von Herbulis also accompanied the child to the hospital.

Arthur Kirchhoff Makes Big Hit With His 'Ike' Button

Arthur A. Kirchhoff, Sanford, was a big success story on the front page of the Jacksonville Journal with his "Ike" button. He had the button to the big parade in Jacksonville.

Mr. Kirchhoff, who designed the button, was down with his button, but he had the button to the big parade in Jacksonville.

The caption on the picture read: "Kirchhoff's 'Ike' button, which he designed, was a big success story on the front page of the Jacksonville Journal with his 'Ike' button. He had the button to the big parade in Jacksonville."

Mr. Kirchhoff said this morning that he had been warmly congratulated at the headquarters and that assistants there had helped him bring the button from the bus station. He missed the bus here so took the trolley to Jacksonville, determined to catch up with his button which had been sent on the bus.

"I rode in the second automobile in the big parade, and later stood within 15 feet of General Eisenhower when he spoke," said Mr. Kirchhoff.

An article in yesterday morning's Times Union announced that he would be in Jacksonville with his big button, and he reported that workers at the Eisenhower headquarters were looking forward to his arrival and greeted him warmly.

Seiner Is Arrested By Warden Ansel

Game Warden W. A. Ansel arrested a seiner and confiscated his 95-yard gill net Monday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. on the Volusia County side of Lake Monroe in a section called Bethel Cove.

Warden Ansel arrested Henry Preston Oglesby, Lake Monroe, after he discovered one fresh water catfish gilled in the net which was in knee deep water at the time. Oglesby claimed he was fishing for salt water fish, which is permitted by law in Volusia County.

However, the catching of one fresh water fish in a net is illegal, Ansel stated. Oglesby's trial comes up on Oct. 14 in the Volusia County Court in DeLand.

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Even birds have the urge to cross seas and oceans and desert to find a home they have never seen. Abraham had a comparable impulse to find a peaceful habitation he never had seen. God placed instincts in his creatures and does not disappoint.

Gov. Stevenson is getting a lot of credit in New York news papers for his strong stand in favor of civil rights legislation.

We don't know what Westbrook Papp is going to do for something to write about after Harry Truman retires, but we suppose there'll always be Eleanor.

Jacksville is working out a traffic circle so that you can get to the Gator Bowl, and what is equally important get away from it after the game is over.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York credits the Negro vote in five crucial areas with being responsible for President Truman's reelection in 1948. It will be decisive again this year, he says.

General Eisenhower made three speeches in Florida at widely separated points within 24 hours. How long would the same trip have taken before Flagler built his railroad down the East Coast and there were no airplanes?

Governor Stevenson announces that Democratic leaders will ignore blasts directed at them and the Truman administration by General Eisenhower. Or as Woodrow Wilson once said, "There is such a thing as being too proud to fight."

Orlandoans have asked for a recall election on three of their city commissioners. Factionalism, it is often said, is the cause of Sanford's failure to progress as rapidly as other sister cities to the south. But factionalism is a sin, or a virtue, depending upon how you look at it, which is by no means confined to Sanford.

President Truman makes some cutting remarks during his "whistle stop" tour of the middle west about "political snoggetts". Now a "snoggetts", the Associated Press goes to the trouble of explaining, is a person who wants political office regardless of party, platform or principles. We have seen a lot of "snoggetts" in our time, but we doubt if Eisenhower is one of them.

"The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year," wrote James Whitcomb Riley half a century ago. Things have changed a lot since those days, however, and the best youngsters going back to school in September is not such a melancholy ordeal. No longer is there a big hickory stick standing in the corner, nor a curriculum limited to reading, 'tilin and 'rhime. There's always something to do to school these days... something new like to do.

Four hundred and seventy-four persons were killed in accidents of various kinds during the Labor Day weekend. 42 by drowning, 61 by miscellaneous accidents, and 371 by automobile accidents. When you remember that most of these wrecks were not accidents, but were caused, the tragedy is all the more deplorable. The best defense against serious highway mishaps is to drive slowly, the next is to be vigilant and obey all traffic rules. But how many of us remember that, until it is too late?

That was a beautiful speech Governor Stevenson made to the CIO members in Cadillac Square, Detroit. It will make promises to make the workers' lives better. There are some who would like to see that the workers' lives are better. Even if it means to see that they do not have to work in a factory where the air is so thick with smoke that you can't see your hand in front of your face.

Wasted Manpower

Acting Director of Defense Mobilization Steelman pointed out in a recent directive that the nation is wasting the skills and capacities of many workers who are classified as old. Some employers will not hire workers over 45 and others set the hiring age even lower.

There are many reasons for this attitude. Insuring older workers is more expensive. Some older workers are harder to train and are less willing to accept low salaried jobs than younger workers anxious to get a start.

But many older workers already have valuable skills. Many of them are also younger than their years, physically and mentally, and can bring to an employer the judgment of maturity and the energy usually associated with younger men. Employers would do themselves, their employees and the defense effort a good turn if they were to hire workers on the basis of their individual qualifications rather than their age.

Mice and Mortgages

Two Wisconsin University professors have been studying the habits of mice and have come up with the conclusion that mice do not like to wander far from their homes. This strikes us as discouraging news. We had hoped that all the mice we have encountered were visitors perhaps delegates to a general convention of mice, who would shortly adjourn and take their departure. That, it seems, is not the case.

Perhaps Mrs. Mouse is delighted that her mate is not a nomad, but that makes him even more of a nuisance to humans. The housewife who is terrified by mice will get scant comfort from the news that he is not a philanderer and a gambler.

Let it be known that we do not like moving any more than the mice do. Any mouse who enters our house had better make the entrance temporary or his movements may be stopped permanently. There is no room for mice and us in the same domicile. Mortgages a man has to live with, but mice are a different matter.

Miami's Depot

People in Miami have cause to envy the folks in Sanford. The Atlantic Coast Line railroad's depot in Sanford was built in 1912.

Now the county seat of Seminole county—population, 12,000—is about to get a new railroad station, streamlined and air-conditioned.

The Florida East Coast railway's passenger station in the heart of downtown Miami was built in 1913.

Miami, the state's biggest city—population, 250,000 plus—and biggest income earner for the railroads operating here— isn't about to get a new FEC depot.

The FEC's gosh awful place, almost under the eaves of Dade county's skyscraper courthouse, is little changed from the day it was opened. Then, Miami contained about 7,500 souls.

A front page report in The Sanford Herald says the new ACL station in Sanford "will comprise two stories and will be constructed of light colored brick and masonry materials."

"Of the most modern construction, it will be air-conditioned and equipped with a warm air heating system. The windows will be of aluminum architectural projected type."

Miami's thousands of visitors arriving on FEC trains still get off beside a tiny, ramshackle anachronism.

It will be front page news when the FEC, or one of its several controls, finally decides to give Miami a new station—if it ever does.

Yardsticks For Community Hospital

By PETER S. NAGAN
In Medical Economics

If you're asked for advice, here are some basic rules for determining need, size, location, cost, finance, etc.

The layman automatically assumes that his physician is an authority on everything connected with the practice of medicine. So when the subject of a new community hospital arises, you're expected to provide ready answers to such questions as:

How big should the hospital be? What would it cost? How do you go about getting it built?

While few practicing doctors have the time or background to master the principles of hospital construction and design, there are some rules-of-thumb that any M.D. can apply in his own community.

First of all, they can serve as a traffic signal. Does the community really need a hospital enough to go ahead with the project? If so, is it financially able to build—and support—the kind of hospital required? Given a few facts about population, existing hospital facilities, and relative income and health levels, you can even work out the rough dimensions of the hospital your community should build.

Of necessity, the rules-of-thumb available work ideally only for the mythical "typical" community. But for preliminary (qualitative) discussions, the rules probably won't matter too much.

There are two standards by which most communities can test their need for new hospital facilities:

1. Is there an adequate general hospital within twenty miles of the community — or within an hour's drive?

THIS MIGHT RUN INTO MONEY

pany rate for such institutions in 1951:

Table with 2 columns: Bed count, Rate. Rows: Under 50 beds (50.00), 50-99 (57.1), 100-249 (75.9), 250 and over (78.4).

The average cost to a hospital of a single patient for a single day also varies with the number of beds. Here are the 1951 figures for the same class of institutions in terms of daily cost per patient:

Table with 2 columns: Bed count, Daily cost per patient. Rows: Under 50 beds ($14.78), 50-99 (15.66), 100-249 (17.78), 250 and over (18.70).

Thus, for a 125-bed hospital, the average daily occupancy is about ninety-four beds. At a daily cost to the hospital of $17.76 per patient, the daily total equals $1,660. Cost of a full year's operation, then, is about $600,000.

According to one accepted yardstick, hospital revenue should finance 80 per cent of operating costs. So your 125-bed hospital should plan to raise an extra $107,000 annually through donations and grants.

Perhaps the hardest element to estimate during the early stages of hospital planning is the available supply of medical and other hospital personnel. M.D.'s are scarce in many areas of the country, especially in rural areas.

Where doctors divide their time between private practice and hospital work, the Public Health Service figures that at least one general practitioner is needed for every 1,300 patients. To assure adequate hospital staffing for a population of 50,000, then, the community needs forty-two G.P.'s.

Naturally, it needs specialists, too. The P.H.S. estimates an average surgeon for every fifty beds, one internist, obstetrician, and pediatrician for every 100 beds.

Tax Collectors Plan Bigger Take Than Ever In '53

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Back from the last of his summer trips full of vim and vigor to make a lot of money?

Federal, state and local tax collectors hope so.

They plan to take even more from you this year in taxes—direct and hidden—than ever. They hope you make lots of money—some for you and some for them.

The Census Bureau estimates that federal, state and local taxes at $40 billion dollars.

But the National Industrial Conference Board thinks that figure is too low. It estimates today that in the fiscal year that ended June 30 last, federal, state and local taxes take came to a record $6 1/2 billion dollars.

This would be 16 billion more than in the previous year and 45 per cent higher than in the fiscal year that closed as the Korean War was starting.

The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, looking only at the federal government's tax bill, says that in the next seven fiscal years (from the end of World War II until the present) the total tax burden was $1 billion dollars.

This was 50 billion dollars more than in the entire previous history of the country. However, it fell short by 17 billion of meeting federal expenditures.

When does the money go? Well, the greater part of the federal take goes for defense and for paying the war debt.

The federal and local government expenditures are now running at a total annual rate of 74 billion dollars. The Department of Commerce estimates:

The U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau thinks its total tax collections this year from all sources, including Social Security contributions, should run 10 billion dollars more than last fiscal year when it took in 45 billion.

The National Industrial Conference Board tries to find just how this tax load is distributed among the citizenry—and runs into trouble.

Averaging taxes, like averaging apples and oranges, it confesses, "necessarily involves sliding over many differences."

"Taxpayers with the same gross income may wind up with quite different tax bills."

"How much anyone pays depends not only upon his total income," the board says, "but also upon the components making up his income where he lives, what he buys, the demands his family and other responsibilities make upon income, and many other variables."

"And as a measure of the real load, taxes directly paid are of less economic and personal importance than a tax actually borne."

It is the search for these hidden taxes, and determining who finally don't have to much to say about the layout of the building, once size and location are set.

Location, of course, often influences the floor plan. In a built-up area, where land is costly, a multi-story structure may be mandatory. But elsewhere, there's a lot to be said for a single-story building, especially in small hospitals, especially if it's considered poor practice to spread the load (the thirty or forty G.P.'s) by one superintendent (nurse) over more than a single floor.

With the help of the above yardsticks, you can begin to think about the size, location, and construction of a new hospital. And even when all these conditions are met, some things may be granted, because some of the best areas where there are no hospitals, have a high percentage of people who are over 45.

Search Is Under Way For Escaped Maniacs

LIMA, O. (AP)—A search was underway over a wide area today for three inmates of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane who used two hostages to bluff their way to freedom Tuesday night.

Hospital officials said the three were John T. O'Bani, 51, South Bend, Ind.; a former John Auld, 33, Toledo, O.; a robber; and Michael Chepak, 23, Youngstown, O., a burglar.

Dr. R. E. Busbong, superintendent of the hospital, said all three were "fairly dangerous."

He said the convicts seized Peter Sellers, an attendant, and forced him to open a cabinet in the barber shop where they armed themselves with straight edge razors. They then seized Miss Iola Keating, a nurse in a nearby ward.

Threatening to harm the hostages, they bluffed guards to let them out of the building and out of the hospital gate. Once outside they released the hostages and fled.

BANDITS RAID VILLAGE
MANILA (AP)—Bandits wearing army uniforms Tuesday night raided a mountain town 25 miles south of Manila and killed the mayor, police chief and two policemen.

It was the first outbreak of violence in months in Cavite, hotbed of Communist Huk activities and political unrest.

These Women

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Blunt husbands, commented behind the sports pages of newspapers, are the most popular subject in the divorce field this season. This is no longer because of any highly specialized literary diet. It is apparent that the experts who write and counsel on affairs of the heart and on marriage are being called on with increasing frequency from wives seeking a magic carpet for use in conversational gambits which will relieve the usual evening silence which, from the letters, is unbroken by anything other than the clatter of forks on china and the clashing of the dishwashing machine. The uniform complaint of the wives seems to be that their husbands don't pay attention to any thing they are saying and seem anxious only to retreat to the sanctuary of the easy chair. I have been contemplating these unglazed requests and wondering how newswriters for quite awhile now, and regret to state that so far none of the specialists has been able to evolve any specific formula for turning the family living room into a salon. These experts invariably come up with a forthright and slightly obvious suggestion that husbands who don't pay attention to their wives don't pay attention because they aren't interested. In what their wives are saying. This solution is simple: talk about something husbands ARE interested in. Then they pass to another letter and another problem, like being overweight.

The question which logically arises is what on earth kind of talk does a man appreciate from his wife? Apparently the experts are unanimously agreed that when a man drags home from a long tiring day at the office, he wants to relax. He doesn't want to be peppered immediately with the household problems and cares infinitely more about what is cooking and the Yankee's standing than he does about Mrs. Thompson's new dress job which turned out to red.

Right there, it seems to me, is the crux of the problem. Most women would be interested in having their husbands regale them with the details of the day at the office, the way he confounded the boss, flung a new account and what he had to eat during that two-hour luncheon conference with the Wisconsin district manager. Maybe she should hone up on baseball. I have noticed, however, that male baseball enthusiasts prefer to talk, at times, even with other male baseball enthusiasts. Discussions of current events aren't as fascinating on fiddle as they are in the formal masculine.

Frankly, it's hard to find any subject guaranteed to rouse the interest of the work-wearied male. There seems, however, a rather simple solution to the problem: Eliminate attempts at conversation. Greet the man sweetly, silently. Feed him quietly and well. Without the necessity of ignoring conversation, the contrary male will probably wonder what's wrong and start doing some interesting and nervous questioning himself. Answer briefly and non-committally.

When he retires behind the newspaper, retire yourself behind a magazine or book. You probably won't have a moment's peace. Your day will seem mysterious to him, fraught with fascinating episodes he must pry from your reluctant lips. Sensing your reluctance to query him, an hour-by-hour account of his day will flow from his

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMA

HOLLYWOOD news for imitators of Marlon Brando. He's taking dictation lessons. The young actor's unique manner of talk has been the butt of many a joke from night club, radio and television comedians, as well as his fellow actors. His free-speaking performance in "A Streetcar Named Desire" brought TV imitations second in number only to Johnny Brando's.

I asked Brando if he had seen a classic play on him by Sol Caesar. "Unfortunately no," he replied. "I understand Jerry Lewis had a good one, too. I'd like to have seen them. I'd be the first one to laugh."

Brando said he wasn't at all sensitive about his manner of speaking. "Why should he be?" he asks himself. "I'm a picture and I earn him $100,000 a picture and upwards." But he's taking dictation lessons anyway. The reason for this is that he's playing the second Shakespearean role of his career.

You can't really count the first one. It happened eight years ago when Brando was 20 and playing in a small times summer theater on Long Island. He had a small role in "Richard III" and he says that he never dyed long underwear for lights.

His current Shakespeare is on a slightly larger scale. This time it's a film version of "Julius Caesar" and the cast includes Greer Garson, Louis Calhern, James Mason, John Gielgud, Deborah Kerr, Edmund O'Brien, etc. Faced with this formidable array, Brando enlisted the aid of a Shakespearean teacher and a dictation coach. He explained his reasons.

"I think Shakespeare requires a kind of diction which can be called Stage English. Gielgud has it, so does Calhern, Mason, on the other hand, talks English. English, it's a lot harder to change that to Stage English than it is to change English English."

"I accepted this role because I thought it would be a good experience for me, and good discipline. My kind of acting has always been very free. I always like to be easy and unhampered in the characterizations I do. But it's a different matter when you do Shakespeare. You immediately have certain bounds and limits beyond which you cannot go."

Sure, Brando is the legendary goal of all actors. I asked Brando if he were interested in playing the melancholy Dane.

"I don't know," he replied. "I think I might be afraid of it. It seems to me that playing Hamlet is always the peak of any actor's career. After that, he seems to have nothing to achieve. John Barrymore is a classic example of that."

Shakespeare or no, Brando will get a chance to display his muscular frame in "Julius Caesar." When I saw him on the set, he was dressed in nothing more than a pair of track shorts, Roman style, participates in a running race in the Colosseum for the picture.

"There is some justification for Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.

Louis Rostas left on Saturday for Lakeland en route to his home in Puerto Rico. "Chico" Gonzales returned on Sunday to his home in Cuba. Jorge Rivera is on Monday for Havana, Cuba. They were all members of the Sanford baseball team.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Haddock have returned from a month's vacation visiting friends in Canada, Detroit and Buffalo. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Barney Schultz in Jacksonville, N. Y. who have a winter home on the St. John's River near Osceola.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McMillan returned from Valletta, Ga. where they visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Shivers. Before returning to Sanford they also toured through the Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee.

John Eitz Jr. arrived last night from Stanton, Va. to spend two weeks with his parents on Joby Avenue before resuming his studies at Davidson College in North Carolina. En route to Sanford he was added to the scene in evening ceremonies for General Dwight D. Eisenhower in Jacksonville.

Group Appointed To Work Out Stadium Grid Accord

Morris Says He Is Willing To Have Feds Play Games In Memorial Park

Initial steps toward converting Sanford's magnificent $200,000 Memorial Baseball Stadium into a gridiron sports arena received the go-ahead signal from the City Commission at last night's City Hall session.

A three-man committee was appointed by the Commission to be working out the details of the conversion with Seminole High School Principal Herman E. Morris and Prof. Crooms of Crooms Academy.

Denver Cordell and John Kridler were named along with new City Manager Tom Lemon to investigate and negotiate an agreement with the two prep schools and then return to the Commission with a full report next Monday night.

From all indications it appears likely that it will now be just a matter of time and ironing out regulatory details before both local high schools will be shifting their home football games to the Memorial Stadium.

Morris told the Herald yesterday that he was quite willing to play all the Seminole High School football games this year in the Memorial Stadium. If the Stadium's field was refinished to meet minimum football standards meantime, it is no secret that Crooms has been asking the use of the Memorial Stadium for his school this fall since the Academy doesn't have adequate athletic facilities at this time.

The major obstacle thus appears to be the cost of converting the ball diamond to a gridiron. Cordell estimated that $200 would be all that was necessary to replant the infield with eye and level the pitching mound.

Morris said that he could secure the City a gate of about 1,000 for five or six home games this year or about $600. This in terms of a 10-cent tax per capita would not be the City $100 for these games. It does not include the tax receipts from the Crooms Academy games, which might, as Mr. Kridler pointed out, "actually draw larger crowds than Seminole High just as in Waycross, Ga., the Negro school outdrew the white school."

Action by the Commission came immediately after hearing a request by the two-man fans committee of Kridler and Cordell. They pointed out the obvious advantages of better lighting, parking and rest room facilities in the Memorial Stadium over and above those now afforded at the Seminole High School stadium.

The creation of the "Stadium Conversion Committee" came out of the motion introduced by Commissioner John Kader and seconded by Andrew Caraway. Mayor Blomper directed the committee to report back to the Commission Monday night for a full report. At that time it is expected the Commission will take official steps to approve the plan. The committee reports and sanction the conversion work at the Memorial Stadium.

Cordell expressed hope that the City and high school could reach an early accord so that the stadium's field might be in condition for the opening football game with Eastie here Friday night, Sept. 20.

Difference In Scholarships Is Holding Up Miami-Gator Accord

GAINESVILLE. — The possibility that Miami can outbid Florida for athletes may be holding up the football contract between the two biggest colleges in the state.

In a statement of reasons why the contract remains unsigned, Florida head coach and Athletic Director Bob Woodruff said Tuesday night the monetary value of a Miami scholarship "is not equal in any conference with which I am familiar, and we shall never be able to compete with them on an equal basis for in-state or out-of-state athletes whose monetary value of the scholarship is a consideration."

Woodruff said Miami athletes get $40 a month where Southeastern Conference schools, including Florida, can give athletes only $15 a month in addition to tuition, fees, board, books and room.

A student who has a job in addition to his scholarship would be ineligible in the SEC. Woodruff said, but some Miami athletes have jobs in town.

The Florida coach said the negotiations are for four years, including this year's game scheduled at Gainesville Nov. 22.

The said Florida has asked Miami to agree to these SEC regulations.

"The monetary value of scholarships or grants-in-aid to athletes shall be limited to tuition, fees, room, board, books and $15 per month for laundry."

"Transfers shall comply with the Southeastern Conference transfer rule."

"The University of Florida and the University of Miami shall honor or the signing of Florida boys to athletic scholarships according to Southeastern Conference rules and regulations."

A candidate enrolling at the University of Florida or the University of Miami after Jan. 1, 1932, must, as a condition of eligibility, make at the beginning of each season an affidavit stating that he has received no inducement whatever from any source.

"All of the agreements of the Southeastern Conference rules of eligibility shall be subject to the ruling of the SEC commissioner's office."

Woodruff said Miami has agreed to abide by SEC eligibility rules in its game with Alabama Oct. 3, and Florida is merely asking the same consideration. He added:

"Our reason for asking Miami to agree to the signing of athletes under Southeastern Conference rules is simply to compete on an equal basis—no more, no less."

Madison scored 20 yards for the first touchdown of the season.

Vanderbilt Coach Bill Edwards says he'll set a fast pace for his Commodores. "We should have a pretty good idea who can play football by the end of the week," he added.

Down in the Bayou Country, Tulane's squad continues its enrollment for its first contact work. The 70 candidates for Green Wave positions spent most of their time blocking, in tackling and pass protection drills.

Sun Sox Cling To 1/2 Tilt Lead Over Beach Flamingos

The Miami Sun Sox still cling to their game and a half lead over Miami Beach today in the down-to-the-wire battle for the Florida International League pennant.

Both teams broke even in doubleheaders Tuesday night. The Sun Sox lost the first game to Tampa, 4-2—their third straight defeat by the Smokers—then came back to pull out a 4-3 win in the second contest.

Miami Beach, with its pennant hopes gradually weakening as the race draws toward Saturday's final, missed an opportunity to pick up ground by also cropping its opener to the Lakeland Pilots, 2-0.

The Flamingos took the second game, 5-4 in 12 innings.

Each of the leaders has four games remaining. Miami will play one more with Tampa and three with St. Petersburg. Miami Beach's last four are all with third place Tampa.

Tampa showed across four runs in the second inning to win Tuesday night's opener. The Sun Sox rallied for three runs in the seventh to take the nightcap. Len Pecora's 3-run double was the big blow.

Roy Siquelfield pitched a 3-hitter to give Lakeland its first game win over Miami Beach. George Handy belted a 340-foot homer in the 13th to give the Flamingos their victory in the last game.

Havana defeated West Palm Beach, 4-1, in a battle of second-division clubs. St. Petersburg was rained out at Key West.

Blackwell Pays Off For Yankees With First Win

Chisox Sweep Tw in Bill From Tigers To Take 4th Spot

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees received a quick dividend on their $40,000 investment in Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell today following the purchase of the former National League star from the Cincinnati Reds, the Yankees Tuesday night sent Blackwell to the mound against the Boston Red Sox. And the long-lean right-hander responded with a scorching 3-inning performance to rack up his first American League triumph.

Blackwell was not the overpowering pitcher he had been in his days as a big winner with the Reds, but he looked quite capable before bowing out for a pinchhitter. He permitted four singles, fanned four and walked three before retiring because of weariness and the humidity.

It was in the fifth, the inning Blackwell left, that the Yankees rangel up on Boston Starter Sid Hudson for all their runs to win the nightcap, 4-0. After Rookie Tom Gorham had hurled an 8-11, 5-0 shutout over the Red Sox in the afternoon portion of the day-night doubleheader.

The two triumphs ran the Yankees' winning streak to five and increased their first-place margin over the idle Cleveland Indians to 1 1/2 games.

Palatka Azaleas Take 1-Tilt Lead In Shaughnessys

A's Nip Islanders 10-9 In FSL Post-Season Play - Offs

Bill Steinecke's Palatka Azaleas took the Florida State League's final play-off lead by capturing the first game from Daytona Beach Islanders last night in Palatka by a narrow 10-9 margin.

The third place A's now only need two more wins in their best three out of five game series with the C's. Both teams swept through the preliminary series of the post-season Shaughnessys by winning the minimum number of two games.

Daytona registered a stunning upset by blanking the powerful Defand Red Hots twice to advance to the finals. Palatka dropped Jax Beach in less convincing fashion during the weekend preliminaries.

Gators Must Bear Down For Stetson Game, Says Coach

GAINESVILLE. — Posing for the new photographers added to rather than subtracted from the work for the University of Florida's Gators today as Coach Bob Woodruff pushed hard to get his squad in shape for scrimmages.

"Too many of you came back in poor physical condition," he said. "And with less than three weeks to the opener with Stetson, we've got to really bear down to get the work done."

The squad went through its usual morning drill, rushed into field session for an hour-and-a-half session with lessening and was scheduled for blackboard drills early in the afternoon and another field session later.

The first real team drill found two offensive backfields alternating in an effort to master the play assignments and become accustomed to working with each other as units. One foursome had Rick Casarez at quarterback, Sam (Big Boy) Hester at fullback, Fred Robinson at halfback and Bob Muehl at fullback. All but Muehl, a sophomore, are lettermen.

The other half-carrying unit had Fred Robinson at quarterback, Bud Long and Dick Watson at halfback, and Reed Quinn at fullback. Long and Quinn are lettermen. Robinson and Watson sophomores.

Local FASRON Loses To Pinecastle In Semi-Final Game Last Night, 6-0

The Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station's team will battle the Pinecastle Air Force Base tonight in Exposition Park at 7:30 p. m. to determine the winner of Orlando's Class "B" softball championship for this year.

Pinecastle's flyers advanced to the final round after they defeated FASRON of the Sanford Air Station, 6-0, last night in Orlando. The main team of the local air base will be going into this evening's fray with a decided edge over Pinecastle.

Sanford needs only one game to win the "B" title while Pinecastle must defeat the locals twice in order to claim the Orlando softball crown.

The reason for this is that Pinecastle advanced from the lower bracket to play Sanford in the winners division. Sanford had been advanced in the play-offs so far and Pinecastle has been beaten once.

Last night the chances for an all-Sanford Air Base final series for the Orlando title were dashed as the Air Force team from Pinecastle played a 6-0 whitewash on the local FASRON nine.

Bill Deane paved the way for the winners by turning in a superlative two-hitter in blanking FASRON the entire distance.

Meanwhile it appears likely that at least two local teams will be competing in the Orlando Class "B" Invitational tournament which will begin tomorrow night at Exposition Park at 7:30 p. m.

Tommy Stringer will meet with players and managers of the Sanford team tonight to select a 15-man all-star team to represent Sanford in the Sanford Air Station Invitational tournament.

The Sanford Air Station will probably enter their championship base team in the Invitational tournament.

No matter who wins tonight's game or the post season Orlando softball series, the Orlando diamond ball crown will not be held by a team from the Orange County seat. Pinecastle is in Orange County but not in Sanford in Seminole County.

The Orlando Invitational will wind up the softball season in Central Florida for this year.

Spirit And Vigor Caps Practice In SEC Grid Camp

By The Associated Press

Southeastern conference varsity hopefuls are jumping to the business of football with vigor and spirit that belie their natural summer physical prep school activities.

Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant appeared in good spirits after Tuesday's workout. He said he was "very well pleased with the way the players responded."

At Tuscaloosa, Coach Red Drew put his Alabama Crimson Tidesmen through a 30-minute scrimmage. End Tony Stewart may be lost for the season because a knee operation is not responding to treatment.

After a 2-hour workout topped by a half-hour scrimmage, Louisiana State University Mentor Gayzell Tinsley said his squad had "a highly successful outing." Tinsley concentrated on three offensive units and two defensive squads for the Sept. 20 opening against Texas.

Mississippi State picked up strength with the return of six players from military service. They were Guard John Shepherd, Halfback J. O. Baughman, Ends Doc Stewart and George Blankenship, Quarterback Harry Massey and Linebacker Harold Eastwood. All were on the 1930 team.

Coach Johnny Vaughn gave his University of Mississippi squad an early bit of contact work. Paul Whiteside and Houston Patton, both backfielders, are having leg operations checked today to see if they are ready for the season.

Tennessee's Volunteers made up in an afternoon workout what they missed in a raised out morning.

Pre-season favorite Georgia Tech got in a light skull-knocking session. Coach Bobby Dodd said that the Freshmen Guard, Frank Brooks and Quarterback Jack Hall, appear up to varsity standards.

Lee Hayley was voted captain of the Ole Miss Army team. Coach J. O. Baughman said that the team was "very well pleased with the way the players responded."

Huge Crowds Greet Ike In Philadelphia

Thunderous Welcome Given General Who Will Formally Open Campaign Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—This birthplace of American independence thundered a great welcome today to Dwight D. Eisenhower on his arrival here formally to open his presidential campaign tonight. Edward G. Bremer, a crowd of the streets along the 29 blocks from 30th Street Station to Independence Hall where he was to speak briefly.

Confetti, ticker tape and "I Like Ike" signs greeted the Republican nominee as he rode down Chestnut Street to the historic building where the Declaration of Independence was signed.

All along the way office workers earned from buildings, some of them shouting "I like" while the crowd on the sidewalks applauded and cheered.

The GOP candidate, his face flushed by windburn and sunburn from his twenty-four day, six Southern cities, responded tirelessly with his famous smile and hand-over-head wave.

The general returned to New York Wednesday from a 2-day, 6-speech drive through the Solid South—first ever made by a GOP presidential candidate—that drew about 300,000 persons in Atlanta, Jacksonville, Tampa, Birmingham and Little Rock.

Both will speak in Keeson on Saturday.

Reverend today was in his Springfield, Ill., headquarters, publishing the full text of his speeches he will deliver on a Western campaign beginning Friday in Denver. What he will discuss in his opening speech is a deep secret even to his closest advisers.

Meanwhile, there were reports (Continued On Page Six)

Tropical Storm Is Far Out In Ocean Moving Northwest

MIAMI (AP)—The question of whether the severe Atlantic hurricane will continue its course toward the United States mainland or whirl a harmless death over the ocean water remained unanswered today.

Two Navy hurricane-hunting planes developed mechanical troubles and were unable to check the position of the tropical storm. Ships were keeping so far away their reports contained no useful information.

The U. S. Navy's Sixth Fleet command, based at the Midway station, reported that the storm was moving westward at 12 to 14 miles an hour.

Acheson May Help Clarify Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Secretary Acheson does not "intend to enter into" the political campaign debate but in an early speech may "clarify some of the terms being used in foreign policy discussions."

Acheson had told a news conference Wednesday that the Truman administration's policy of containment of Communism—a policy which has been under attack from Republicans in the campaign—is a long-term project. He said he would like to deal with it in a full speech, perhaps in his scheduled talk Sept. 11 to a machineists union meeting at 10 A. M.

He also suggested that people should stop fussing about words and talk about what has been done. He said he would have a much clearer idea of American foreign policy.

Citizens To Take Legal Action On Lake Mary Road

AROUND to indignation over the closing of "private interests" of an old road along a public highway on the north shore of Lake Mary, more than 150 citizens of Lake Mary at a meeting last night at the Community Center, privately, the Eisenhower camp was elated. One of the general's top advisers predicted a November split in the traditionally Democratic South.

Frank Evans, leading spokesman to keep the road open, was named as chairman of a committee which will be organized to select and was asked to employ an attorney to bring suit in order to set aside the existing deed to a 32 foot wide portion of the road, which is owned by Walter M. Todd, Lake Mary. The property was once part of the Durant Estate.

The regular Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce meeting at which Mr. Evans made his initial proposal for the road action, was adjourned at the request of citizens of the community, who expressed the opinion that it would be unwise for the Chamber of Commerce to take legal action.

J. A. Yates, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, voluntarily yielded the chair, bringing the meeting over to private citizens to take action regarding the road, and Roy Howell, at the request of Mr. Evans, presided until the meeting was turned back to the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Evans pointed out that Palmetto Avenue had been used for a long time by the public, having been dedicated to public use 30 years ago. He declared that when it was called to his attention that the street had been closed, that he and another Lake Mary citizen, Lloyd Landon, and county Commissioner O. E. Fournier, conferred with L. F. Boyle, attorney for the County Commission, on the matter.

Mr. Boyle, he said, gave the opinion that the County Commission could take no legal action on the matter as Palmetto Avenue, as far as he knew, had never been accepted to public use 30 years ago. Pointing out that it was a private matter, Mr. Boyle suggested that individual citizens of Lake Mary start legal action to keep the road open.

Mr. Evans also declared that Mr. Boyle had informed the group that the road was legally closed and that a private party had the deed to it.

Mr. Fournier, who was present at the meeting, also quoted Mr. Boyle as stating that the County could not take any action on the matter as the County had never taken over the road.

Mrs. Anna Cowan, Lake Mary resident, who owns a eight foot strip of Palmetto Avenue leading to more than 200 feet of Lake Mary frontage, owned by her, said that she had been surprised when Mr. Todd had told her that he had bought the remaining 32 foot wide portion of the road, and said that she told him that she did not believe it could be closed.

Production Of War Goods Is At New Peak

Output In All Categories Is Slightly More Than 2 Billion Mark Set Last June

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that deliveries of planes, tanks, guns, and ammunition for defense reached a new peak in July.

Without giving a figure, Acting Defense Secretary John R. Steelman said total deliveries of military hard goods during the month represented a slight increase over the two billion dollars worth produced in June.

He said this comparison covered 140 major and "problem" items, the heart of the military program. Steelman made public portions of his latest secret monthly report to president Truman.

In it, Steelman suggested the rate of climb in production might have been greater except for the 56-day steel strike.

He said steel production now has pipelines for turning out military atomic energy and machine tool items are again being filled.

Steelman added, however, that the effects of the steel strike will be felt for months to come and will hold back the acceleration in production.

The two billion dollar production figure for June was understood to be about 70 to 75 per cent of the rate the government aims for by 1953. This figure does not include such things as construction, petroleum, and so-called "soft goods."

It applies to planes, tanks, ammunition and the like.

As an example of the rate of climb in delivery of strictly armament items, Steelman said the June valuation of goods produced was double that of September, 1951.

While July ammunition production was above that of June, Steelman said it was hit particularly by the steel strike.

Steelman said deliveries of aircraft in July were substantially above 800 units, with deliveries of aircraft types.

Among the items showing a marked jump was the Thunderbolt fighter-bomber being built for the U. S. Air Force by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Steelman also reported that production of the J-47 jet engine went up as did that of M-47 and T-48 tanks.

Plans Completed For Football At Municipal Stadium

Arrangements have been made with both Seminole High School and County Academy for the stadium committee, appointed by the City Commission Tuesday night to play home football games this season at the Sanford Municipal Stadium.

An agreement was reached yesterday afternoon when Principal Herman E. Morris of Seminole High School conferred with the committee in the office of City Manager Tom Lemons, who with John Kilder and J. Denver Conder, the County School Board, declared, has agreed to give the City Flood to put the field in condition for football games, and to convert it back for baseball when the football season ends.

He added that work is being started on the field today to add top soil over the clay paths and plant grass in order to have ready for the opening of the season with East High School on Sept. 26.

"I Didn't Do It," Says Child Who Set Fire To Tots

Two Negro Children Die In Flames And 1 Burned Seriously

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who repeatedly said "I didn't do it" today was accused by police today of the death of two Negro children.

Police said the Latin American boy set an 8-year-old Negro boy and his 12-year-old sister afire Wednesday and let them burn to death, trapped and screaming in the attic of their home.

An 11-year-old sister of the children was critically burned trying to save them. A frail, physically handicapped older sister fought with the boy but couldn't stop his attempts to burn the children.

Says were Monday, 8, and Mary Louise, 12. Sister 11, was in a critical condition with severe burns in a San Antonio hospital. All were children of Jesse Cunningham and wife who were both at work when the tragedy occurred.

The older sister, Ruth, 22, said she wrestled with the boy but he mounted a chair out of her reach and they were unable to get him down. She said she saw the boy set the fire.

Justice of the peace J. B. Brothman withheld a verdict pending further investigation.

U. S. Sabre Jets Have Great Day Bagging 12 MIGs

Blazing Aerial Dog-Fights Mark 2nd Best Day Of War

SEoul, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said U. S. Sabre jet pilots today rolled up a near record score for one day against Communist MIG jets: 12 destroyed and three crippled.

American's 18th jet ace of the Korean War was crowned in the fiery battles.

Maj. Frederick C. Blesse shot down his fifth MIG to qualify as a ace. He is the husband of Mrs. Dorothy Blesse, Phoenix, Ariz., and the son of Brig. Gen. (ret.) and Mrs. F. A. Blesse, Richmond, Va.

The best single day performance by the Sabres was last July 4 when they destroyed 11 Russian-built jets, damaged seven and probably destroyed one.

A big force of Sabres swept across North Korea and destroyed MIGs in a series of blazing dogfights. They flew over swarms of fighter-bombers which struck Communist front line positions. Allied losses, if any, will be reported in a weekly summary.

The intensified air action followed Wednesday night's strike by U. S. Okinawa-based Superfortresses against the Chungju by day-bomber plant in North Korea, which was repaired from previous bombings.

One Sabre pilot reported seeing a MIG go down without absorbing a shot during the jet battles between the Yalu and Chongchon Rivers in Extreme Northwest Korea.

Capt. Arthur McElroy, Dearborn, Mich., said the jet he shot down, went out of control and its pilot bailed out during the air action.

The Air Force said an undamaged U. S. pilot bailed out of his damaged Sabre over neutral territory, presumably the Panmunjom truce conference site.

The fiery battle came during a break in the bad weather which Wednesday kept virtually all U. S. planes but the big Superforts on the ground.

Clouds covered the key power installation and the jets used radar to aim their bombs.

The Far East Air Force (FEAF) said in Tokyo there was no food opposition and all the bombers returned. The number on the ground was not disclosed.

U. S. Marine fliers knocked out Changchun's Plant No. 1—Wednesday night's target—late in 1950. It was bombed in a big air attack last June. The Air Force said now repair work indicated the turbines were desperately needed to bolster the Communist power supply.

U. S. fighter-bombers and Sabre jets swept over North Korea in clearing weather today to the wake of a tropical storm which whipped northward into the Sea of Japan.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers concentrated on the support strikes on the western front.

Winds up to 20 miles an hour and about four inches of rain lashed parts of the battle front Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reds probed 11 times across the front Wednesday. Chinese troops felt out Lunker Hill near Panmunjom again this morning, then withdrew.

None of the skirmishes involved more than 25 to 50 soldiers.

NATION HAS FAIR WEATHER

Fair and pleasant weather appeared in prospect for most of the country today.

West only wet sporadically today over wide areas in the Midwest, the East and the South. But it continued hot in the Southwest and West only wet spots early today were in parts of Utah, Idaho and Montana.

PRIZER BEARD

Denver (AP)—Picturesque George W. K. Posvar, 59, was held in county jail for 20 hours, and is picturesquely no longer.

Posvar claimed today that when jail attendants cut his long hair, flowing beard and Gen. Guster moustache, they took away his means of livelihood.

Posvar bills himself as a famous Colorado and Wyoming prospector who has made a living posing for artists and photographers.

He was taken to court Friday and fined $100 because his combination home and workshop was considered a fire hazard. Unable immediately to pay the fine, he was taken to jail where he was barbered "for sanitary reasons."

Acting Jail Warden Sgt. Earl Franzen heard, "Anybody that needs a haircut of shave, he gets it."

Huge Cold Storage Warehouse To Be Built In Leesburg

LEESBURG (Special)—Construction was started last week for construction of a huge new cold storage warehouse here.

The warehouse will be located in the northwest section of the city.

The building will be of concrete block construction and will occupy an area of 100,000 square feet.

Storage capacity will be approximately three million cubic feet, consisting of three large, separate cold storage areas, which will hold enough product to fill 1,500 freight cars.

Plans Completed For Football At Municipal Stadium

Arrangements have been made with both Seminole High School and County Academy for the stadium committee, appointed by the City Commission Tuesday night to play home football games this season at the Sanford Municipal Stadium.

An agreement was reached yesterday afternoon when Principal Herman E. Morris of Seminole High School conferred with the committee in the office of City Manager Tom Lemons, who with John Kilder and J. Denver Conder, the County School Board, declared, has agreed to give the City Flood to put the field in condition for football games, and to convert it back for baseball when the football season ends.

He added that work is being started on the field today to add top soil over the clay paths and plant grass in order to have ready for the opening of the season with East High School on Sept. 26.

"I Didn't Do It," Says Child Who Set Fire To Tots

Two Negro Children Die In Flames And 1 Burned Seriously

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy who repeatedly said "I didn't do it" today was accused by police today of the death of two Negro children.

Police said the Latin American boy set an 8-year-old Negro boy and his 12-year-old sister afire Wednesday and let them burn to death, trapped and screaming in the attic of their home.

An 11-year-old sister of the children was critically burned trying to save them. A frail, physically handicapped older sister fought with the boy but couldn't stop his attempts to burn the children.

Says were Monday, 8, and Mary Louise, 12. Sister 11, was in a critical condition with severe burns in a San Antonio hospital. All were children of Jesse Cunningham and wife who were both at work when the tragedy occurred.

The older sister, Ruth, 22, said she wrestled with the boy but he mounted a chair out of her reach and they were unable to get him down. She said she saw the boy set the fire.

Justice of the peace J. B. Brothman withheld a verdict pending further investigation.

U. S. Sabre Jets Have Great Day Bagging 12 MIGs

Blazing Aerial Dog-Fights Mark 2nd Best Day Of War

SEoul, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said U. S. Sabre jet pilots today rolled up a near record score for one day against Communist MIG jets: 12 destroyed and three crippled.

American's 18th jet ace of the Korean War was crowned in the fiery battles.

Maj. Frederick C. Blesse shot down his fifth MIG to qualify as a ace. He is the husband of Mrs. Dorothy Blesse, Phoenix, Ariz., and the son of Brig. Gen. (ret.) and Mrs. F. A. Blesse, Richmond, Va.

The best single day performance by the Sabres was last July 4 when they destroyed 11 Russian-built jets, damaged seven and probably destroyed one.

A big force of Sabres swept across North Korea and destroyed MIGs in a series of blazing dogfights. They flew over swarms of fighter-bombers which struck Communist front line positions. Allied losses, if any, will be reported in a weekly summary.

The intensified air action followed Wednesday night's strike by U. S. Okinawa-based Superfortresses against the Chungju by day-bomber plant in North Korea, which was repaired from previous bombings.

One Sabre pilot reported seeing a MIG go down without absorbing a shot during the jet battles between the Yalu and Chongchon Rivers in Extreme Northwest Korea.

Capt. Arthur McElroy, Dearborn, Mich., said the jet he shot down, went out of control and its pilot bailed out during the air action.

The Air Force said an undamaged U. S. pilot bailed out of his damaged Sabre over neutral territory, presumably the Panmunjom truce conference site.

The fiery battle came during a break in the bad weather which Wednesday kept virtually all U. S. planes but the big Superforts on the ground.

Clouds covered the key power installation and the jets used radar to aim their bombs.

The Far East Air Force (FEAF) said in Tokyo there was no food opposition and all the bombers returned. The number on the ground was not disclosed.

U. S. Marine fliers knocked out Changchun's Plant No. 1—Wednesday night's target—late in 1950. It was bombed in a big air attack last June. The Air Force said now repair work indicated the turbines were desperately needed to bolster the Communist power supply.

U. S. fighter-bombers and Sabre jets swept over North Korea in clearing weather today to the wake of a tropical storm which whipped northward into the Sea of Japan.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers concentrated on the support strikes on the western front.

Winds up to 20 miles an hour and about four inches of rain lashed parts of the battle front Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reds probed 11 times across the front Wednesday. Chinese troops felt out Lunker Hill near Panmunjom again this morning, then withdrew.

None of the skirmishes involved more than 25 to 50 soldiers.

NATION HAS FAIR WEATHER

Fair and pleasant weather appeared in prospect for most of the country today.

West only wet sporadically today over wide areas in the Midwest, the East and the South. But it continued hot in the Southwest and West only wet spots early today were in parts of Utah, Idaho and Montana.

PRIZER BEARD

Denver (AP)—Picturesque George W. K. Posvar, 59, was held in county jail for 20 hours, and is picturesquely no longer.

Posvar claimed today that when jail attendants cut his long hair, flowing beard and Gen. Guster moustache, they took away his means of livelihood.

Posvar bills himself as a famous Colorado and Wyoming prospector who has made a living posing for artists and photographers.

He was taken to court Friday and fined $100 because his combination home and workshop was considered a fire hazard. Unable immediately to pay the fine, he was taken to jail where he was barbered "for sanitary reasons."

Acting Jail Warden Sgt. Earl Franzen heard, "Anybody that needs a haircut of shave, he gets it."
