

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

Man Who Gives Residence as Sanford Arrested in Jacksonville

Robert P. Barnes, white, who claims Sanford as his home, but who says he was stopping at the Prospect House during his stay in this city, was arrested by Policeman McKewn yesterday afternoon on a county warrant charging him with forgery.

It is alleged that on Tuesday night Barnes walked into the saloon of Murray & Galbraith, 107 West Bay street, and stated that he wanted to purchase some liquor to be shipped to Sanford; that he selected the various brands desired, the bill amounting to $10, and that he then presented a check with the signature of L. Cameron attached.

Mr. Murray, who had been attending to his wants, knew Mr. Cameron to be a business man in the city and as Barnes appeared so sincere in his dealings it was never dreamed that the check was no good. The amount of the check was $25 and Mr. Murray promptly paid Barnes the difference of $15.

Yesterday morning when the check was presented for payment at the bank it was pronounced as forgery and the police were notified. During the afternoon Policeman McKewn happened to run across Barnes on West Bay street and he was promptly taken in charge and sent to police headquarters.

When searched checks of all descriptions were found on his person, and as they were taken from him he had no excuses to offer. He practically admitted his guilt. Only thirty-five cents were found on his person, the man stating that he was robbed of the remaining $15 Tuesday night. His case will come up for a preliminary hearing before Justice Howell this morning.—Times-Union.

Breton-Runkel Trio

The Tampa Tribune says: With last night's performance at Ballast Point, Ted Breton, Miss Corinne Runkel and Dave Runkel, leave Tampa for Plant City, where they will play this week. They will then proceed to Sanford where they will put in the winter at Johns' opera house.

Many good fellows in the line of theatricals have come to Tampa. Many have some talent, and many have had both talent and good fellowship, but none of them have ever displayed more of each than Ted Breton: It is with genuine regret that Tampans see him go. His original concoctions of comedy and musical melange at Ballast Point have been a delight to those who have taken the time to go out there. Taking a little license, it is really a pity that such a genius as Ted Breton is in his line should have escaped those whose business it is to pay for talent and originality with the coin of the real.

Miss Runkel, also, possesses much talent. During her stay here she has demonstrated her adaptability to almost any role that might be offered whether it be in comedy, drama or musical comedy. She is creative, original and entirely pleasing in all of her interpretations, and since she and Mr. Breton have been at Ballast Point there is little doubt but that they have enjoyed the reputation, at least, of putting on the best show going in Tampa.

New Factory Getting Ready

The new sash, door and blind manufactory of W. P. Carter & Co. will soon be in operation, and promises to be one of the best in the state. The factory will be located in the building formerly used as the ice factory, and recently purchased by Mr. Carter. Workmen are busy this week taking out the machinery of the old ice plant and shipping it to Jacksonville.

Carter & Co. are to be congratulated upon their valuable site as a location for an enterprise of this kind.

Jacksonville's Carnival

October 26 to 31 is to be a week of merry-making in Jacksonville, for during that period the Jacksonville Carnival Association will hold a great carnival. Attractions never before seen in the South will be brought here, and it is expected that the city will be filled with visitors. The merchants of this city have strongly endorsed the proposed carnival and urge their patrons throughout the state to attend. Very low rates for the round trip will be given by the railroads and steamboat lines running to Jacksonville.

WHERE TO REGISTER

Sanford Voters Have Two Places for Registering

It behooves every man of Sanford to see that his name is upon the registration list in order that he can vote in the National election in November. There are two places where this can be done, as Sanford has been divided since the primary election, on account of the great increase in the number of voters. All those living west of Park avenue in District No. 25, should call upon City Clerk, M. L. Scott, where the books will be opened.

The books for District No. 3, for all those living east of Park avenue, will be open at the office of the Marks Real Estate Agency, in charge of F. J. Powers.

Every voter should see that his name is on the list before the expiration of the time for the books to close.

License Tax is a Public Wrong

C. Fred Price of Daytona, is making a fight against the license tax in that city, and gives constitutional authority that any license tax is unconstitutional. He says that Chief Justice Bradley covers the subject thoroughly and absolutely proves why it is illegal to tax citizens for the privilege of selling goods or of practicing their honorable and useful callings in any part of the United States.

Among other citations of the law, and opinions of others, he says: "The right by law which the citizen has to do an honorable business, by which to support himself and family is a property right, and we again emphasize the fact that no state shall abridge or deny to citizens of the United States his life, liberty or property." And, therefore, to her citizens from selling, a useful occupation (unless exorbitant privilege license is paid), is worse than stealing."

The Robbins Nest

The Robbins have repaired their Nest, and the old birds are ready to receive their friends—the tourist, the commercial traveling man, and the home citizens. The following is how some of our guests feel when leaving the Nest—found on the register:

If ever I come to Florida Health and rest to find, I'll only stop in Jacksonville For a ticket on the Clyde Line, And to Celery City I'll be bound, To find that health and rest, For up the St. Johns 200 miles You can land in the Robbins Nest, Its good enough for me.

As others read they added— And me—and me—and me.

KISSIMMEE AIRSHIP ORDINANCE

Calls Forth Comment From Detroit Free Press.

IT IS A LONG TIME SINCE ANYBODY LOOK INTO the future, for Kissimmee has no recollection of ever having seen a balloon or flying machine of any kind in its local atmosphere. There is a minority report that that particular part of the footstool has never been inspired by even an automobile.

The regulating ordinance is jeered at as making a noise like a bluff or fake advertisement aiming to put the village in the forefront as a place of leading importance. Yet it may have been due only to a sincere desire on the part of the aldermen to display a solicitude for the municipal welfare, show how they guard against future possibilities and earn their salary.

Only a week ago a N. Y. aeronaut lost control of his machine while approaching the atmospheric environment of Hoboken, and because of resulting damages the city salons were so puzzled that they sent to Kissimmee for a copy of the ordinance about which there has been so much perambulation.

The highflier in question knocked splinters out of a church steeple, caromed on a roof, started most of the horses in sight on a run-away, filled the air with fence wreckage and went half-way through a turnip patch like a shovel plow gone mad. The hundreds that took up the chase destroyed no end of property, and now the perplexing legal puzzle is to apportion and collection.

When the sky is filled with these ships that ride the air, will it not be necessary to lay down some rules and regulations, and is it any too soon to consider the problem? How are the channels to be staked, how is the right-of-way to be determined, what kind buoys will be needed and what horsepower will be of the limit in fog horns?

It is none too early to begin thinking.—Detroit Free Press.

The Jacksonville Carnival

Jacksonville is to have a carnival celebration lasting for an entire week, from October 28 to 31 inclusive.

This will be good news to our readers, for the thousands of people who attended the Jacksonville carnivals in past years have pleasant recollections of the splendid attractions presented by the Jacksonville Carnival Association. The same gentlemen are in charge of the carnival this year, and they promise to give the very best carnival ever seen in the South.

Very low railroad rates for the round trip, from all points in Florida, are assured, and that the city of Jacksonville will be thronged with visitors from all parts of the state is a certainty.

Jacksonville is growing faster than any city in the entire South, and this will be an excellent opportunity to see the Metropolis of the state.

Sanford's Special Edition

E. T. Woodruff has returned from Michigan, where he has been busily engaged for the past two months compiling and printing the special edition advertising Sanford.

The edition is composed of 42 pages of good reading matter descriptive of Sanford, interspersed with a number of fine half-tone views. The cover is a work of art, illustrating a stalk of celery in natural colors, the celery that has made Sanford famous.

The work is a credit to Mr. Woodruff, and cannot fail to attract attention of the prospective settler to Sanford.

Extra copies of this week's Herald can be obtained at this office. Send a copy to your friends and keep them in touch with the Celery City and its wonderful resources.

A NEW POSTAL ORDER

Postmasters to Talk to Public School Children

AN ENTIRELY NEW DEPARTURE

Object is to Inform the Children of the Nation as to the Working of Great Postal System

Ever awake to the interests of its patrons, the Postoffice Department through Postmaster General Meyer, has just issued an order that should interest every child who is old enough to comprehend the advantages to be derived from the information sought to be imparted.

The postmasters throughout the United States, and they number some 68,000, have been directed to confer with the local school boards as to the practicability and advisability of delivering short talks to the school children in the various departments of the schools concerning the organization of the postal service. The object of the order is to furnish information to the pupils of the scope of the operations, the methods of delivering the mails, the classification of mail matter and the workings of the registry and mail-order systems. Incidentally they are to make known plans for betterment, such as the establishment of postal savings banks and the extension of the parcel post system. Wherever it may be practicable for postmasters to deliver lectures, they are to furnish the necessary information to the school supervisors or directors, so that they in turn can inform the regular teachers. It is the expectation of the Postmaster General that the school children will be useful to the postal service, in seeing that letters are properly and plainly addressed.

That there is necessity for action along the latter line is shown by the busifiers transacted by the dead letter office alone. During the last year, 13,145,172 pieces of mail matter found their way there because of insufficient address, and because the officials of the postoffice department were unable to deliver them.

The Postmaster General states that during the past ten years more than 7,000,000 immigrants arrived in this country, and that at the rate at which they are still coming it is absolutely necessary that they learn more about the way business is conducted in the United States, and this he believes can be done no better than through the public schools.

The total enrollment of scholars in the United States is in the neighborhood of 17,000,000, and at least 99 per cent of the children of foreigners attend them.

It is further the belief of the Postmaster General that above all, the home children should be taught more of the business of their own country, and for that reason he has taken the initiative and has accordingly issued his order to the postmasters throughout the United States to act in the closest co-operation hereafter with the school children.

C., Cincinnati, Ohio, Louisville, Mayesville, Owensboro, Henderson, and Paducah, Ky., and Evansville, Ind., and Cairo, Ill., to all points in Florida, on the A. C. L. Ry., at the low price of eighty per cent of the present one-way fare.

Improving the Opera House

W. T. Johns is making many improvements in the opera house. A new sidewalk is being laid and an electric light plant will soon be installed. The interior is being painted and decorated, and when completed the opera house will be all that could be desired. Mr. Johns has booked some fine attractions for this season, and the people of Sanford can be assured of an amusement place in keeping with the increase of population.

This paper wants a correspondent in every section of Orange County, as well as the adjoining towns in Volusia and Lake counties. The publishers propose to make THE HERALD the medium through which the people will learn all the news.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

A Budget of Opinion "Just-Between You and I."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

"A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes, and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.

GOOD MORNING! Have you fought the fight?

A Vision

Out of the dark of the yesterdays, With the muffled dawn it came, Winged with the fragrance of cool, dark ways, Yet touched with a hidden flame.

Dear as the light of an afternoon That lies in a golden hush; Heart-breaking, sweet as the half-heard tune From the soul of a hermit thrush.

It came when the fog-white dawn was still As the wing of a weary dove; A broken chord with an echoed thrill— The dream of an old-time love!

Winter Reflections

A northern friend who usually spends the winter in Sanford has suffered a chill and writes me as follows:

"Winter is close at hand and the man of cold blood is thinking of Florida and South Africa."

How well he remembers last winter—how he would stand upon the platform of the suburban railway station, the dismal, exposed, lonely platform, with just snow enough to cover it in spots, but not enough on the ground for sleighing.

The wind whistled and whooped about and whirled that light, dry, hateful snow into transparent windrows—br-r-r!

He shinks at the very thought, and chills playfully chase each other up his vertebrae.

The air was as dry and hard as a cold stone wall and penetrated to the very marrow of his bones.

He remembers the joyous skaters, how they circled about with glowing faces, warm as the proverbial toast, while he stood and looked on and shivered and shrank with blue hands and face into as small a space as possible.

He thinks also of the joy of arising in a chill, but supposedly steam-heated, room, and of breakfasting with stiff hands and chattering teeth in a room where he could "blow his breath," as the saying is.

And, added to this, he thinks of the awful moments of hesitation ere he should step from a cold and cheerless world outside, where the plank walks cracked and creaked, and the puddles were skimmed over, and where the motorman of the street car resembled a stiffly frozen Santa Claus.

But this thought is too much for man to endure. Nature comes to his relief, and he forgets the coming winter for the moment.

But he will remember! Ye gods, he will remember!

From what I heard the other evening, I am inclined to think that "A Good-Manners Association" is to be organized in the near future. Sanford has a few prospective applicants for membership among giggling girls and fast young men. Most of these are thoroughly good at heart, but somewhat thoughtless in mind. Unfavorable comment is injurious to the reputation of those about whom it is made, and those who value their good name and reputation should think twice before laying themselves open to unjust criticism.

There is an old adage "That woman's worst enemy is woman." I am inclined to add: "Man's worst enemy is himself."

It was an amusing sight, this week to see the many people who were out "house hunting." It reminded me of the old days in the North when the first of May was looked forward to by the housewives who always had an eye open for a better location. To be sure, this was a different season of the year, but the object was the same. Desirable houses in Sanford are few and far between and it is "the early bird that catches the worm."

It don't pay to tell everybody everything you know, but there are some things if told might set people to thinking and these thoughts might crystallize into something that would be of benefit to all concerned. Try it.

A gentleman from one of the neighboring towns, where nothing ever happens, and you have to go outside to think in order to avoid making a loud noise, came to THE HERALD office this week to take a position. It happened to be "Blue Monday" with several printers, and the noise of the boozey ones being put out of the office was too much for the nerves of the provincial printer, and he departed for scenes of a more bucolic nature.

Hard roads pay for themselves as business investments. Farmers should appreciate the fact that a good road is for the country what a pavement is for the city, and that they have been taxed to make the city what it is. Now, if they are not willing to have the city taxed in turn for them, while they pay a share as did the city for pavements, then they are "penny wise and pound foolish." A good road increases the value of every acre of land it reaches, and fills up the country with settlers as well. Let it be a crusade, and let all put on armor in the good cause—watching always that the money be judiciously and honestly expended.

The political friends of Mr. Taft are going to make many votes for him if they do not discredit the stories which are flying about concerning his religious views, his lack of religion, his domination by the Roman Catholic church, and all such rumors which spring from time to time from different sources. When a man is attacked because of his religion, he is almost certain to win two votes for every one such attack costs him. In this enlightened age it is pretty generally admitted that a man can choose any religion he desires and that he shall not be discriminated against because of it. So my advice to the opponents of Mr. Taft would be not to circulate stories concerning his religion.

"Speaking about the municipal election," said a well known citizen to me the other day, "they're after us. I get the head of the snake."

To be successful (using a slang phrase), a candidate must be a "good fellow." He must enter the political arena stripped to the buff, feel the courage of his convictions and not mince matters in backing them up. He must be an intellectual firebrand that will arouse people from their apathy and cause them to rally round him. And then he must not forget to insist on shaking hands with every fellow he meets, and if he be a married man, be particular to ask after the welfare of his family. He must also provide himself with a liberal supply of cigars (cheap ones, of course), and be liberal in their distribution. Then when it's all over I'll go back to my old friend, the cob pipe, and thank my stars that I was not a candidate, and feeling genuinely sorry for the score or more of fellows who did not have votes enough to get there.

Wants a Trolley Line

To the Editor of THE HERALD: I am delighted to learn that Sanford is to start the electric line, for I feel sure that it will not be long ere it will be headed toward Orlando. Sanford is surely showing great enterprise and a determination to be on the lead in the way of public improvement. There is nothing like having an up-to-date town; it brings the people and holds them after you get them. Hot air may look good on paper, but the town that produces the goods is sure to forge ahead and stay there. See that the road is built up-to-date, and it will be a credit to your town. And while you are at it, just rush it through to Orlando. I am glad to see the newsy paper you placing in the hands of the people to read. That's right, Holly, never do a thing by halves, keep on giving the people a strictly first-class paper, and I can only see success for you and your enterprising paper. You have the material in you to make it a humming success, and success for you is my wish. —Dr. G. T. BENNETT, Orlando, Fla., Sept. 28, '08.

LONGWOOD LACONICS

Mrs. John Sweet and charming little daughter were recent guests of Miss Harriet Grist.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Sumner returned on Monday from a trip to Jacksonville and Lovett. Mrs. Sumner was taken sick during her trip and is still under the weather.

Rev. A. Knight, a Columbia College student, was a recent visitor here in the interest of the college.

D. H. Hooker, wife and daughter have returned from Coronada.

J. H. Allen has the foundation down for his new house on Church and Main streets. Mrs. Allen and daughter were shopping in Orlando this week.

Miss Olive Dinkle returned Saturday from an extended visit to friend on the East Coast.

Agent Charles B. Searcy was a visit to Orlando, Monday.

A herd of some 400 cattle passed here Friday en route to the neighborhood of Apopka.

Improvements are the order of the day here, especially around the depot.

GENEVA GLEANINGS

Rain, rain and more rain. We hope our friends who have been complaining of scarcity of rain all summer are satisfied now. The Lord must surely have heard those complaints.

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Mr. J. C. Proctor on the 21st. While he was known to be a very sick man, none thought of a fatal termination to his illness, and it was a great shock to his friends and relatives. He leaves a widow and six little children to mourn his loss, besides a sister here, and a father, mother, sister and four brothers in Georgia.

The first shipment of the citrus crop of the season from here went out on the steamer leaving here September 12th. It consisted of 13 boxes of grapefruit, shipped by Messrs. A. Moran and Geo. T. Peters. The steamer leaving on the 25th took out over 350 boxes of grapefruit.

The amount of water which has fallen lately is something wonderful. Lakes, which a month ago were lower than we have ever seen them, are now up to the level of three years ago.

ENTERPRISE ECHOES

Mr. T. P. Howes, representing C. W. Bartle Sons Co., was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Hansen of Lakeland was in town Monday to see about entering her little son in Mrs. Brook's training school.

Miss Bertha Brooke, of Osteen, is visiting her aunt and cousin, Mrs. and Miss Davis this week.

Miss Nellie Hatillo spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at Osteen.

Mr. A. M. Stead and wife and mother, Mrs. Brooks, leave Friday for their future home in Jacksonville. They will be very much missed here.

Mr. John Sauls is slowly improving from his recent illness.

Mr. Ryland and daughter, Miss Alice, of Orange City, were in town this morning.

Mrs. R. R. Steward returned to her home in Aycock the first of the week.

Saturday afternoon the big wooden tank at De Barry Hall bursted, demolishing a smaller one.

LAKE MARY NEWS

On account of rain, the ice-cream festival which was to be held at the school-house Saturday night, was indefinitely postponed.

Mrs. J. A. Nylun and daughter, Mrs. Hilma Nelson, spent several days in Sanford last week.

Mr. J. G. Martin is having his store and postoffice shingled. The paper roof which he had did very well for the kind of weather we have had for the past two years, but the rains of last week almost set the tomato and milk cans floating in his store, while in the postoffice, all important papers had to be hid under boxes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jernigan have gone to Jacksonville for a few days on a pleasure trip.

Mr. Famey, who has been quite ill, was taken to the hospital in Orlando last Friday.

Mr. A. E. Sjoblom is busy packing and shipping persimmons.

Mrs. Amanda Keeley's daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, from Jacksonville, are visiting here.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENING

Sanford School Opens With a Large Attendance

CHANGE IN THE FIRST GRADE

Kindergarten Will be Added for Benefit of Younger Children if Teacher Can be Secured

The Sanford High School opened on Monday morning for another term, and if numbers are any indication, this term will be one of the best during the history of Sanford's schools.

A larger number of scholars are in attendance than was anticipated, as Sanford is growing so rapidly, and every new family swells the list of school children.

The opening exercises were brief, yet very impressive. Rev. McKinnon, Rev. Sweet and others participating. Prof. Perkins also made a short address to the school.

Patrons of the Sanford High School are to be congratulated upon the faculty secured for the present term, as among its number are some of the foremost educators of the South. Following is a list of the teachers and their respective grades: High School—Prof. N. J. Perkins, principal. Miss C. A. Gould and Miss Alice Tetherly, assistants.

First Grade—Miss Jennie B. Henderson. Second Grade—Mrs. D. W. D. Dunn. Third Grade—Miss Clara Miller. Fourth Grade—Miss Clara Ensminger. Fifth Grade—Miss Lucile Richards. Sixth Grade—Miss Kate Tomkies. Seventh Grade—Miss Gertrude Speer. Eighth Grade—Miss F. A. Walker.

The first grade will occupy the old kindergarten building on Palmetto avenue, under the sole instruction of Miss Jennie B. Henderson.

There is an opening in Sanford for a good kindergarten teacher, and it is hoped one can be found who will undertake this important part of the work. It has been kept in operation for a number of years, and the parents who have children of kindergarten age are anxious for the work to continue, in fact it is hoped this feature can be added to the school system of the city.

In Prof. Perkins, Sanford's temple of knowledge has an able head, and with his corps of valued assistants, the term of 1908-9 should prove most successful in every way. The parents of the children can do much to co-operate with the teachers, and should, at all times, aid and assist the instructors in their work.

A Fall Festival

A Carnival, or Fall Festival, will be held in Jacksonville from October 26 to 31, inclusive, by the Jacksonville Carnival Association.

Low rates from all points in Florida will be given by the transportation companies and this will insure the city being crowded with visitors.

The Jacksonville Carnival Association, of which W. R. Carter, editor of the Jacksonville Metropolitan is president, has, in former years, held carnivals or fall festivals that have given the people of the state an opportunity of seeing some of the very best attractions that had only been seen at Coney Island and the great amusement resorts of the country. This association secured a troop of the Seventh cavalry and a company of United States artillery, as special attractions in 1903 and 1904.

Mr. Carter assures the editor of this paper that this year the carnival attractions will be better than ever before, and that many European novelties will be exhibited in Jacksonville that will be seen in no other city in the South outside of Atlanta, where they may possibly go before visiting a few of the largest cities of the country, en route to San Francisco.

SANFORD, FLORIDA, OCT. 3, 1908

NOT A GOOD SIGN.

We are all poor, shortsighted critters, and a good many of us don't see as well as any time as a smart kitten or puppy before its eyes open. Now, there is a bright republican paper up west, as an argument for the election of its party ticket, pointing proudly to the fact that the bank deposits of the state have increased three million dollars in the past six months. If that paper was smart, or even sensible, it would know that right now that is a bad sign. If times were good that money would not be lying in the banks, but would be moving thousands of head of cattle and tens of thousands of sheep from the western ranges to feed on the corn of the state. The stock is not coming, the money is idle and the people of that state are living on their principal instead of making living expenses and profits out of the active use of their money and corn.

Big bank deposits are not necessarily a sign of good times, and really mean that business is dull and discouraged in most cases. Six months ago deposits were everywhere at a low ebb, and since then they have increased everywhere, because when men got their money into their own hands they had nothing else to do with it than to bank it. It is a much better indication of good times when the loan items of the banks are large and customers are being turned away. Money is then busy and profits are accumulating. Our republican friend is just like a man who brags over his getting extra fat as a sign of his perfect health.—Tampa Times.

MAKE THE TERM LONGER

The most flagrant political crime in this country is, that the people should be thrown into a whirlwind of partisan madness and business be demoralized every four years by a Presidential election. Make the executive term six or eight years, the incumbent ineligible to reelection, and the greatest political reform will have been achieved known to the history of the nation. The change would not only great enhance the stability of all business enterprises, but it will do much to diminish the number of professional politicians, a class that is the blight and bane of this republic. Knowing that he could not be re-elected, a President would have no inducement to shape his first administration solely to the end of securing a second term.

This will never be a republic in the true sense of the word, nor a popular form of government in all that it would imply until the rule of the professional politician is broken or curbed. "The greatest republic on earth" yet lacks much of giving its citizens an ideal government. While Sanford is not turning any hand springs over the election, there is an undercurrent of unrest in this city and every other city over the result in November.

We have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that no elections or political upheavals can take away the prosperity that awaits our city this season. And Bryan will be elected anyhow.

MOLASSES ROADS.

Experiments in road-making with molasses as a binder are being conducted in Massachusetts, and the indications are the material will be found excellent for the purpose. Similar roads are suggested for Florida. How sweet! When these roads become permanent facts we are going tramping. With a loaf of bread one may rest by the wayside, build a fire, and soon have plenty of syrup for a meal, with long sweetening for the coffee.—Lakeland News.

The beauty of the "sweetness" of such roads is, we can grow them. "Sweetening" grows better in Florida than anywhere else. Along every country road a patch of cane should be grown, and then with a portable mill the road-maker will have the material right to hand.—Reporter-Star.

Bring on the molasses road, orange juice, or celery tonic road, or any old road that will do to travel at the present time. If the county commissioners will only give this end of the county good roads we will make no protest upon the material. Just a road will look "sweet," even though of common clay. Pass the molasses!

An anomaly in politics is a Chinese Bryan and Kern club recently organized in Los Angeles, California. It consists of about fifty charter members, all naturalized citizens and said to be voters. When the anti-Asiatic plank in the Democratic platform was shown them, one of the orientals said: "What is that to me; I'm an American."

NOT DEAD, BUT SLEEPING.

Several months ago the good people of Sanford received the glad tidings, that $15,000 worth of city bonds were to be sold, and out of the proceeds First street would be paved with vitrified brick. The bonds were duly advertised in the papers and there the matter stands.

Just why this question should continue to drag along and show no results can but be explained by those who have the matter in hand, but the time is ripe for this paving to begin, as it will be of untold value to our city, and cause many an investment in Sanford property that would otherwise pass our gates and go to the city with paved streets. The editor of THE HERALD was a resident of Orlando for twelve months and in all that time not a day passed that some visitor to the city would not commend the action of the Orlando people in putting down brick streets. It is a lasting advertisement that has returned the money invested one hundred times over.

First street is a broad thoroughfare that would appeal to every visitor if paved, but never in its present condition, and there is no time like the present for adding this great improvement to our growing city.

WAKE UP! DO IT NOW!

Col. A. P. Jordan, in his very interesting paper, the Punta Gorda Herald, pays the following compliment to one who deserves in every particular the eulogium:

The Tampa Tribune began life fifteen years ago on a crust of bread and a cup of water from the ditch, and now it is worth $100,000, and is the pride of South Florida. It is, possibly, the most notable example of newspaper success in Florida, the credit for which is due to the indomitable energy and persistence of W. F. Stovall, who started the paper and continues to be its chief. He began under the most discouraging conditions, with the leading influences in Tampa against him, but he triumphed over all obstacles and opposition, and now has the most profitable newspaper in Florida. During the days of his adversity, amidst all his discouragements at the beginning, his one loyal friend and faithful ally was the much-abused Peter O. Knight, whose fidelity is as steadfast as ever. Can anyone blame Stovall for his loyalty to such a true and tried friend? Stovall has never been guilty of ingratitude or disloyalty to his friends, and that is one reason for his success. As to the Tribune, it stands now and will continue to stand long after Stovall has crossed the great divide, as a monument to his energy and enterprise, an example of success to encourage all young men who may be starting out for themselves under what they consider adverse circumstances and conditions.

Get Familiar With These

As there will be a large number of Presidential Electors on the ballot at the election in November it behooves Democrats to become familiar with the Bryan electors, which are as follows:

For Presidential Electors:

- H. P. BAILEY.
P. W. BUTLER.
ROBT. E. DAVIS.
GEO. C. MARTIN.
SAMUEL PASCO.

Paste this list in your hat, so that when you are asked who the Democratic electors are you may be prepared to give the desired information.

The newspaper men of Jacksonville composing the Jacksonville Carnival Association, will give a Carnival in that city from October 26 to 31, inclusive. The Carnivals given in former years have attracted great crowds and been good ones. The association promises to give the best Carnival this year ever seen in the South. A number of European novelties are promised. Low rates will be given by the railroads.

The recent rains are demonstrating the need of nice paved streets, more good sidewalks and more street crossings. The dearth of these much needed improvements are largely due to the inactivity of the "powers that be," and they are earnestly requested to get busy at once.

THE SANFORD HERALD, a very neat and well-edited five-weeks-old in journalism, continues to improve in all departments, if such a thing be possible. Now it is talking about giving the enterprising and hustling people of Sanford a daily.—Tallahassee Democrat.

If there are any more good men who wish to become candidates, let them announce in THE HERALD at once. Same price at all times.

Cutting the grass upon the streets and in the parks has made a great difference in the appearance of our beautiful city.

What a relief! Stovall's horse has been found and Tampa has again resumed the daily routine.

Peter Whitcomb of Roxboro, Mass., will be $5,000 to the town for hard roads. He will find travel pleasanter in the next world.

The past week, beginning with Friday, has been one of great moment with the Jewish people the world over. It chronicles the beginning of the year 5689, with its attendant observance, religious and secular.

The water hyacinths are looking so healthy on the lake front that we suspicion that they be getting some of that fertilizer recently put upon the lands near the shores of the lake.

The Tallahassee Sun and the Ft. Myers Breeze have suspended publication. You can always look for great changes during the equinoctial term, but few expected to lose the Sun and Breeze in one week.

With the cotton-picking machine perfected and in operation, the harvesting of large crops of cotton will cease to be a problem in the South.

Editor Goolsby of the Wauchulla Advocate has our sympathy in the death of his brother, who was killed in a railway accident at Kalamazoo, Mich., last week.

Low rates are assured and this will give the people of Florida an opportunity to visit the state's metropolis and note the great wonderful growth of the city.

Bank in Good Condition.

On page 2 of this issue will be found a statement of the First National Bank of this city, and our citizens should take pleasure in noting the figures which bespeak the solid financial condition of this institution. Through the panic of last fall the Sanford banks rode the stormy seas of troubled finance and their depositors never for one instant doubted their solid financial condition.

The First National Bank has just completed improvements that cost over $15,000, a detailed report of which will be given later. Their report this week is sufficient evidence of their prosperous condition.

SIDEWALK TALK

Do you realize the necessity for a substantial foundation as a part of that sidewalk which you intend building? A nicely finished top lends beauty, but not stability. This is to be attained only when the same care is exercised in selection of materials for the foundation as for the top coat.

With this fact in mind, I am importing clean hard crushed stone, which when mixed with standard engineering specifications, gives an absolutely dependable foundation.

If you want a walk in which you can take pride in the years to come, be sure that that foundation is right. This is one of the characteristics of my work. Let me figure on such a walk for you.

GOOD FOR THE PRINTER

Government Will Not Print On Stamped Envelopes

CUTS DOWN THE COMPETITION

Printers Can Regain Much of the Business That Formerly Went to Uncle Sam

Patrons of Uncle Sam in the matter of stamped envelopes will be interested in a recent order promulgated by the postal department and which provides that hereafter no advertisement shall be printed on the stamped envelopes supplied by the government. Printers have always opposed the government's intrusion into their field.

The government ruling is made to comply with an act of congress approved in June, 1906, and which has not been fully lived up to by all as yet. The act provides that no envelopes shall be sold by the government containing lithographing or engraving, nor any printing nor advertisements, except a printed request to return the letter to the sender in case of its non-delivery.

No advertisement or special device will be allowed of any kind, nor the names or addresses be printed by the government. The matter to be printed will be limited to a request to return after a given number of days, name of purchaser, or society, rural delivery route, box number or street address.

Names indicating or incidentally disclosing the nature of purchaser's business vocation will not be stamped upon the stamped envelope unless it be certified by the postmaster with the requisition that such a name is under corporate charter, incorporation or copartnership agreement, and that the name has not been assumed merely to get the advertisement printed on the envelope unless it be clearly for advertisement. The ruling is a strict one and is being adhered to by the department.

A Wonderful Clock

A wonderful clock, destined for an American millionaire's home, is now on view at the Franco-British exposition. Costing nearly $10,000, the clock has taken 18 men four years to construct.

Standing twelve feet high, it is an exact reproduction of the great seventy-foot clock tower in the Square of St. Mark at Venice. The four stories of the tower in the model, as in the original, are constructed of solid white marble, with panels of colored Carrara marble and mosaic of gold and lapislazuli.

Above the archway which forms the bottom story of the tower are dials indicating the hours, months and phases of the moon. The central dial is of black enamel, spangled with golden stars, and represents the heavens.

Inset in this is a globe, half-black, half-gilt, representing the moon, and arranged to make a complete revolution in twenty-nine and one-half days. Round this dial a golden sun revolves. Turning with the sun, but at a different speed, is a circle marked with the signs of the zodiac, and outside this is another circle marked with the hours of the day.

The center of the third story is occupied by an alcove containing a gilt figure of the Virgin and Child, and flanked by two golden doors. Four times a day, at 3, 6, 9 and 12 o'clock, the three kings—Melchior, Caspar and Balthasar—preceded by an angel with a golden trumpet, issues from one door and crosses to the other, bowing and saluting as they pass before the Madonna. On the next tier stands a heavy gilt bronze figure of the winged lion of St. Mark. Surmounting the tower are two bells, one within the other, on which two bronze giants strike the quarters.

Stopped the Negro

An early morning chase down First street and Oak avenue yesterday morning caused considerable excitement.

A strange negro had fished a pair of pants from the store of D. L. Thrasher, and being caught in the act by the proprietor, started to run. Mr. Thrasher gave chase and as they swept up the street the cry of "stop him" reached the ears of Charlie Hand at the stables. Mr. Hand is like one of his fox hounds, always eager for a chase and, grabbing his trusty howitzer, he joined the pursuers. On Oak avenue Mr. Hand turned loose the heavy artillery and the fleeing negro, thinking judgment day had come and the clap of doom had struck, came to a stop and was promptly escorted to the city bastille. Instead of the pants selected so hurriedly, he will now wear a pair of nice striped ones, with coat to match.

Notice to Bicycle Riders

The ordinance relative to riding bicycles on the sidewalks in any part of the city, and riding after dark without a light and bell, will be strictly enforced from this date.

A Deceiver

Labeche was once asked to support as a candidate for the academy a certain literary mendicant, but hesitated for a long time and yielded only when he was told that if the ambitious author should fail to be elected he would die of it. Fallure nevertheless did come, and the following year, when a second vacancy occurred, Labeche's vote was once more solicited in the man's behalf. "No," shouted Labeche in vehement indignation; "I will not vote for a man who does not keep his word. He did not die."

He Felt the Fire

A millwright was converted to the way of thinking of a sect which periodically was inspired with a foreknowledge of the imminence of the day of doom and set the date, preparing for Gabriel's greeting.

The date was set, and the day came. The millwright donned his white robe and went out into the fields to await the coming meeting with the celestial throng. The day passed until it was late in the afternoon, and the millwright, having arisen at the stroke of midnight on the morn of the eventful day, grew drowsy and, throwing himself down upon a pile of hay, fell asleep at his watch.

Boys discovered him, and, with the natural mischievousness of boys, they set fire to the hay. The smoke and the heat soon woke the slumbering millwright, and, sitting up with a start, he cried with the anguish of the lost: "Just as I expected—in hell after all!"

Old Time "Wireless"

Patrick Malone was having an argument with a friend who was well posted in history.

"How can you contend that the ancient Irish were more advanced than the old Egyptians?" said his friend. "Why, the Egyptians must have even understood electricity, as wires corresponding to our own telegraph wires have been found in archaeological excavations there."

"That may be," answered Pat, "but the fact that no wires have been found in Ireland simply makes it clear to my mind that the Irish were in the habit of using wireless telegraphy."

The Scrap Book

He Forgot.
So absentminded was a certain New England farmer that he couldn't open his mouth without making an arrant ass of himself. Once he courted a young woman. His suit looked promising for a time. Then, with a sorrowful visage, he ceased his courtship.

"Yet she seemed infatuated with you, Jabez," said a friend to whom he went for sympathy.

"She were, too," Jabez agreed.

"Well, what could have been the trouble?"

"Dunno," said he. "Dunno, but when I proposed she turned me down cold."

"Perhaps your proposal wasn't ardent enough?"

"Oh, it was fiery," said Jabez. "Hot as pepper. I told her she was the only woman I'd ever loved, ever looked at, ever thought of or."

"But," said his friend, "you forgot, then, you were a widower."

"Jingo," said Jabez, "so I did."

PRIDE.
You're holding your head too high;
You're the slave of a foolish pride.
With your face to the starry sky
You would try to look dignified,
But you're trampling on the flowers
That around your pathway lie;
You are crushing the blossoms beneath
your feet,
And you never can see in your blind conceit,
For you're holding your head too high.

You are holding your head too high.
You have nothing to give but a sneer.
You are passing your old friends by
For the new, who are less sincere.
Ah, 'tis all very well, my dear,
With a proud and scornful eye,
To look up at the stars in this world of ours.
But you'll often forget to look down at the flowers
When you're holding your head too high.

—Maurice O'Neill.

Swallowed the Objection.
A cannibal chief became converted and asked the missionary to admit him to the church.

"But you have more than one wife," objected the missionary. "My church does not allow that."

The chief departed in dejection, but returned again in a few days and announced, with evident satisfaction, that he now had only one wife and was ready for baptism.

"But," objected the clergyman doubtfully, "where are your other wives?"

"Oh," replied the convert, "I have eaten them!"

On the Safe Side.
The "colored lady" who entered service as cook gave her name as Julietta Price, but constantly referred to her husband as George Ledbetter. "How does it happen, Julietta," she was asked one day, "that you go by the name of Price, while your husband's name is Ledbetter?" "Well, you see, Mrs. Lawrence," she replied cheerfully, "it's this a-way. I hadn't been acquainted with George but fo' days when I married him, an' I didn' know how I was gonter lak him nor how he was gonter lak me. Now, these divorcements betwix' married folks is a heap er trouble an' a heap er expense, too, an' I 'lowed the safest way fer us to do wus fer George to keep his maiden name an' to keep mine tell we see how our new experiment was gonter turn out."

His Authority.
Dr. Magrath was eccentric. One day he was called up to visit a sick man and as he entered the room said cheerfully, "How do you do?" "Oh, doctor," replied the patient plaintively, "I am dead."

Magrath immediately wheeled about and left the room and actually reported that the man was dead. The mistake was discovered the following day, when some one took the doctor to task for issuing a false certificate. "I did it upon the very highest authority," Magrath explained, "for I had it from the man's own mouth."

Free Medical Advice.
The celebrated French physician Ricord was one day walking along the boulevards in Paris when he met an old gentleman who was very rich, but who was at the same time noted for his extreme stinginess. The old man, who was somewhat of a hypochondriac, imagined that he could get some medical advice from Ricord without paying for it.

"Doctor, I am feeling very poorly."

"Where do you suffer most?"

"In my stomach, doctor."

"Ah, that's bad. Please shut your eyes. Now put out your tongue so that I can examine it closely."

The invalid did as he was told. After he had waited patiently for about ten minutes he opened his eyes and found himself surrounded by a crowd, who supposed that he was crazy. Dr. Ricord in the meantime had disappeared.

The Poor Cannibal.
A man once went to the circus. Near the main entrance to the circus there was a side show, and a vast and brilliant oil painting portrayed in all its horrors a cannibal feast—corpses cooking over fires, nude natives squatting in a circle, holding to their mouths

It Dazed Beecher.
Among the financial friends of Henry Ward Beecher was one old broker in New York, an aggressive Unitarian, which sect he often said bore "the trademark of honesty." One day he met Mr. Beecher hurrying toward Wall street ferry to avoid the down-pour of a sudden rainstorm. "Take my umbrella," said the broker. "I don't need it. The coming bus takes me to my door." At the ferry Mr. Beecher met a Presbyterian lady, a prominent worker of a sister church, who, having no umbrella, was lamenting her inability to reach her car safely. The urbane preacher forced the umbrella upon her as he said, "I will be out your way tomorrow and will call and get it." But the great expounder of truth and honesty was horrified when upon opening the umbrella the good sister at once discovered a pasted slip upon which was written in a bold round hand, "Stolen by some Presbyterian thief!"

He Failed to Pass.
General Benjamin F. Butler was one of a commission to examine young applicants for admission to the bar, and before him came a youth who failed miserably on all that pertained to jurisprudence, case law, civil law, summary law, unwritten law and due process of law. Finally Butler, who rather liked the chap and wanted to see him through, asked: "What would you like to be examined in? You have failed in everything we have suggested."

The reply came. "Try me on the statutes. I'm up on them."

Butler shook his head solemnly. "My young friend," he said, "I'm afraid you won't do. You may be ever so familiar with the statutes, but what is to prevent a fool legislature from repealing all you know?"

Dumas' Quick Wit.
Dumas found a man asleep in the Theatre Francais during the playing of a piece written by his friend Soumet. "You see what?" said he. "That's your work."

Next evening a Dumas comedy was put on. The two friends looked in again and found a sleeper.

"You see, dear Dumas," said Soumet, "your works can produce sleep."

"Do you refer to that man?" replied Dumas. "Why, that's the man who was there last night. He's not awake yet!"

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

Man Who Gives Residence as Sanford Arrested in Jacksonville

Robert P. Barnes, white, who claims Sanford as his home, but who says he was stopping at the Prospect House during his stay in this city, was arrested by Policeman McKewn yesterday afternoon on a county warrant charging him with forgery.

It is alleged that on Tuesday night Barnes walked into the saloon of Murray & Galbraith, 107 West Bay street, and stated that he wanted to purchase some liquor to be shipped to Sanford; that he selected the various brands desired, the bill amounting to $10, and that he then presented a check with the signature of L. Cameron attached.

Mr. Murray, who had been attending to his wants, knew Mr. Cameron to be a business man in the city and as Barnes appeared so sincere in his dealings it was never dreamed that the check was no good. The amount of the check was $25 and Mr. Murray promptly paid Barnes the difference of $15.

Yesterday morning when the check was presented for payment at the bank it was pronounced as a forgery and the police were notified. During the afternoon Policeman McKewn happened to run across Barnes on West Bay street and he was promptly taken in charge and sent to police headquarters.

When searched checks of all descriptions were found on his person, and as they were taken from him he had no excuses to offer. He practically admitted his guilt. Only thirty-five cents were found on his person; the man stating that he was robbed of the remaining $15 Tuesday night. His case will come up for a preliminary hearing before Justice Howell this morning.—Times-Union.

Breton-Runkel Trio

The Tampa Tribune says: With last night's performance at Ballast Point, Ted Breton, Miss Corinne Runkel and Dave Runkel, leave Tampa for Plant City, where they will play this week. They will then proceed to Sanford where they will put in the winter at Johns' opera house.

Many good fellows in the line of theatricals have come to Tampa. Many have some talent, and many have had both talent and good fellowship, but none of them have ever displayed more of each than Ted Breton: It is with genuine regret that Tampanians see him go. His original concoctions of comedy and musical melange at Ballast Point have been a delight to those who have taken the time to go out there. Taking a little license, it is really a pity that such a genius as Ted Breton is in his line should have escaped those whose business it is to pay for talent and originality with the coin of the real.

Miss Runkel, also, possesses much talent. During her stay here she has demonstrated her adaptability to almost any role that might be offered whether it be in comedy, drama or musical comedy. She is creative, original and entirely pleasing in all of her interpretations, and since she and Mr. Breton have been at Ballast Point there is little doubt but that they have enjoyed the reputation, at least, of putting on the best show going in Tampa.

MOST MODERN PACKING HOUSE

Chase & Company Will Soon be Ready For the Citrus Crop

A visit to the new and mammoth packinghouse of Chase & Co. is a revelation to one who has not been keeping informed upon the marvelous improvements being made in orange packing machinery. The new house recently constructed by this well-known firm is not only the largest but undoubtedly the best and most improved packinghouse in the state.

The new machinery recently installed is of the latest improved type from California, and built according to the U. S. government specifications, having already demonstrated the idea of so handling and packing citrus fruits as to reduce the loss by decay to a minimum.

The house has two floors, giving a floor space of between 25,000 and 30,000 feet, the roof having a fireproof skylight gives ample light upon the pit where the fruit is packed. The oranges come into the house in the field boxes and after that the machinery does the rest. The boxes are placed upon moving arms which slowly roll the fruit into the hoppers upon rubber rolls, being carried down the slides and sized into their respective places by means of rollers which vary and can be regulated very easily according to the size of the fruit.

Here they are wrapped and packed into boxes which are sent along a moving track to the patent nailing machines where one clamp does the work of two men and the boxes are ready to be loaded into the cars.

Mr. Chase has added a new brushing machine this year which consists of a side and bottom of brushes and a top of revolving brushes, all made to polish up the grapefruit, and it is safe to say that when this golden fruit passes through this bunch of revolving bristles, the Northern epicure can eat the fruit, rind and all.

Workmen are busily engaged putting the house in shape, and a large gas engine will furnish the power for all the machinery. When the golden globes are ready to move northward, the house of Chase & Co. will do their share of packing and loading and do it in record time.

CELERY AVENUE IMPROVEMENTS

Many Handsome New Residences in Course of Construction

Celery avenue property owners are keeping well abreast of the movement of improvement so manifest herabouts. During the past few weeks many new residences have been contracted for, while several are in course of construction or nearing completion.

W. H. Corwin is having built a fine residence on the avenue near Mr. Rossiter's place, which will cost $500. Next door to Mr. Corwin's a handsome $2,500 house is being erected for Walter Brinkley.

At the corner of Celery and Cameron avenues, and next to the home of G. C. McDougal a $1500 house is nearing completion. This is the property of W. C. Ralner.

The beautiful residence of Mr. Compust near the Whitner place, and facing the river, has been completed.

High School's Good Showing

For the benefit of those who are interested in our schools, it will be interesting to know that up to the present time over 400 pupils have been enrolled. At the opening of the school last year 265 pupils were enrolled which clearly demonstrates the growth of Sanford and that many parents recognizing the excellence of Sanford's High School have removed to this city to give their children the benefit of a superior education. Over fifty pupils are enrolled in the High School department.

The High School Literary Society elected the following officers at the meeting Monday night:

President, Henry Penkoly, of the senior class.

Vice President, Eugene Roumillat, of the junior class.

Secretary, Earnest Betts, of the sophomore class.

Treasurer, Clarence Mahoney, of the freshman class.

The pupils are becoming interested in their studies, and the perfect order being maintained demonstrates the ability of Prof. Perkins and his able corps of assistants.

Kindergarten School to Open

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell and Miss Nell Whitner have returned from Jacksonville, where for two weeks they have been studying the improved methods of kindergarten work. These ladies will take charge of the kindergarten department of the school in connection with the first grade, and this department will be opened on Monday next. This will be good news to the people of Sanford as the vacancy caused by Mrs. Mahoney's death seemed destined to remain for some time. Under the direction of Mrs. Maxwell and Miss Whitner, and being isolated from the remainder of the school, the little tots should have every advantage, and the parents can rest assured that the "young ideas can be taught how to shoot." The school opens Monday in the old school building on Palmetto avenue.

For Free Delivery

Messrs. Stevens & Woodruff are busily engaged in putting up the names of the streets at all intersections, and as soon as the city can be plotted, these gentlemen will place numbers on all the houses, and Sanford will then be ready for free delivery of mail. This will be one more step toward making a Greater Sanford.

Get Your House Numbers

Buy your house numbers of A. E. Hill at 4 cents each. Any child can put them up or Stevens & Woodruff will place them for eight cents, making your total cost 20 cents.

LOCAL LEGISLATION

Council Met in Regular Session Monday Night

FRANCHISES IMPORTANT TOPIC

Nothing Done in Regard to Franchise For Electric Lights—Meet Again Next Monday

The city council met in regular session last Monday night, with all members present and the galleries full of spectators who were very desirous of viewing the deliberations of the city solons at close range.

After the reading of the minutes of last meeting and calling the roll council waded into the business at hand and took up the adjustment of taxes that had been up for discussion before. The taxes of Dr. Phillips' drug store were reduced to $2,500.

Moved by Alderman Robinson and seconded by Alderman Evans, that the ordinance granting to S. O. Chase, A. T. Rossiter, A. P. Connelly, F. P. Forster and J. N. Whitner, their associates and assigns, be placed back to its second reading, for the purpose of substitutions and amendments.

Upon call of the roll on the above motion, two-thirds of the council present voting in the affirmative, the motion was adopted.

Moved by Alderman Robinson and seconded by Alderman Robbins, that the ordinance granting to S. O. Chase, A. T. Rossiter, A. P. Connelly, F. P. Forster and J. N. Whitner, their associates and assigns, be amended by adding a further explanation in the title as to the purpose of the ordinance, so that the nature thereof may be better understood. That said ordinance shall be entitled: "An Ordinance granting to S. O. Chase, A. T. Rossiter, A. P. Connelly, F. P. Forster and J. N. Whitner, their associates and assigns, certain rights and privileges pertaining to street railroad in the City of Sanford, Florida." That the engrossed ordinance with the amendments and the amended title be substituted for the original ordinance and amendments; and that the ordinance as engrossed be read and subjected to any further amendments that may be adopted.

This brought forth a discussion as to whether the original form had not been lost in making changes and whether the changed version could be placed upon its second reading. After being read and compared by Alderman Thrasher and duly discussed, it was moved and seconded that the rules be suspended and the ordinance be placed upon its third reading and final passage. The vote was taken, resulting as follows: Thrasher, Stevens, and Evans, nay; Robbins and Robinson, yea. Motion was lost.

Not wishing to tie up the matter indefinitely, it was finally agreed upon that the ordinance granting this franchise be referred to the mayor for examination, with authority to consult with a competent attorney as to its adaptability and legality. The ordinance granting a franchise to the Sanford Electric Light & Power Co was not acted upon on account of the lateness of the hour, and because several members wished to look into the matter further.

It was resolved that hereafter it shall be the duty of the building committee to pass upon the building or repairs of all buildings, tents or booths, or moving of same within the fire limits of the city, and the building committee shall be governed by the ordinances. Person contemplating such buildings, repairs or moving any such structure within the fire limits, shall first obtain a permit from the building committee to do so. The mayor, marshal and police shall demand the exhibit of such a permit before permitting such improvements to proceed.

The treasurer's report disclosed the following: Total receipts on hand and in bank Sept 1, $900.55. Total expenditures, $200.07. Balance on hand, Sept. 5th, $691.48.

Council adjourned to meet next Monday night, when the matter of the franchise for electric lights will probably be settled.

Notice to Bicycle Riders

The ordinance relative to riding bicycles on the sidewalks in any part of the city, and riding after dark without a light and bell, will be strictly enforced from this date. T. J. Lee, City Marshal.

M. M. Smith has 1,000 acres of celery land. Sold on easy terms.
