

Connie Mack's Athletics To Meet Saints Here Sunday

Dvorak, Williamson And Lanahan Hurl Saints To 4-3 Win Over Montreal Nine

By JULIAN STENSTROM
General Manager Bob Tarleton of the St. Paul Saints announced this afternoon that Connie Mack and his Philadelphia Athletics will appear here Sunday afternoon for an exhibition game with Ray Bladen's American Association aggregation.

Tarleton said that Mack will bring his regulars here for a tip which will be played at the Municipal Athletic field at 3:30 o'clock. Yesterday in Daytona Beach the Saints captured their first exhibition win of the season when they downed the Montreal Royals in a nip and tuck battle by a score of 1 to 0.

With a high wind sweeping across the City Island Park, Jerry Dvorak went to the hill for the Saints and hurled four frames. Dick Lanahan worked two innings and Verne Williamson completed the final three innings.

St. Paul and Montreal are meeting again today at the municipal park in the final tilt of their current four game series. On Friday, the Saints will travel to Cocoa for an exhibition contest with Joe Engel's Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association. The following night they tangle with Mack's Athletics in West Palm Beach. They return here Sunday for the engagement with the Philadelphia Americans.

The St. Paul management revealed today that infielder Carl Tucker, who proved himself a major league prospect with Mobile, will arrive in Sanford this afternoon to begin workouts with the Saints. Tucker has only recently been released from the parent forces.

Movement Of Red Forces In Iran On Considerable Scale

British Seek Moscow Reply For Continued Presence Of Troops In Iran

LONDON, March 13. (AP)—The British Foreign Office says information reaching London today indicates the Red Army troops movements in Iran are on a considerable scale. A Foreign Office spokesman says the Russians are moving from Tabriz toward the Iranian capital at Tehran and also toward the Iraq border. The office also revealed that the major concentration of the British Government is not so much the movement of the Russian troops themselves as the continued presence of Red Army contingents in Iran. The British spokesman disclosed that the troop movements first were noticed on Mar. 4, two days after the state set for withdrawal of British and Russian forces under terms of a British-Soviet-Iranian agreement.

The Foreign Office official says the British Government still is pressing Moscow for a reply to its protests against the continued presence of Red Army troops in Iran. The State Department in Washington has disclosed the dispatch of a second United States note to Moscow inquiring about the Soviet troop movements. The dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Joseph Goodwin in Tehran says Russian armored columns already are inside a town only 20 miles from the Iranian capital.

The AP correspondent quotes reliable Iranian sources for the further information that the Soviet troops are moving also toward the Turkish border. The same sources are quoted as saying the Red Army has taken control of the Turkish-Iranian and Iraq borders. The Red Army combat troops are described as being equipped with full campaign kit.

Military observers in Tehran have commented that the Russians last year had dug trenches, constructed a network of communication lines, and set up a network of "postwar" maneuvers along the Turkish-Iranian border. Political observers of Red Army troops at Katsi—only 20 miles from Tehran—may be designed to stir up unrest in the Iranian capital.

However, AP correspondent Goodwin says he flew over the Katsi encampment and could find no evidence that the size of the Russian garrison—estimated at between 600 and 800 men—has been increased recently. Goodwin says he did see 14 Sherman tanks, plus a score or so of other vehicles in Katsi.

Jax Delegation Is Entertained By Trade Organization

A delegation of Jacksonville Beach city and chamber of commerce officials today visited Sanford and met the local chamber of commerce officials at a dinner at the Mayfair Hotel in order to exchange views on civic affairs and business trends.

The party included M. G. Williams, president, and J. B. Arnold, secretary of the Jacksonville Beach Chamber of Commerce and H. A. Prather, mayor of the city. Also present were W. B. Gifford, E. B. Smith, Russell Seymour and J. B. Buck.

Representing the Seminole Chamber of Commerce were: H. H. Coleman, president, Edward Higgins, manager, Mayor H. J. Oak Rev. Mark Carpenter, W. A. Morrison, M. E. Smith, A. C. Stiles, Bralley Odham and George Touhy.

Mayor Prather at Jacksonville Beach told of the problems at tax structure of his city which did not provide for a growth of 775 to 1,500 persons from 1935 to 1938, according to Mr. Touhy. Mayor Oak, Mr. Coleman and Mr. Higgins told of Sanford problems which they said were akin to those of Jacksonville Beach.

President Ends Pauley Wrangle By Withdrawing

Truman Says Action Was Requested By Navy Post Nominee

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (AP)—President Truman has ended the long wrangle over his nomination of Edwin Pauley to be undersecretary of the Navy by withdrawing Pauley's name. The President said he acted at the request of Pauley himself, and the announcement came almost simultaneously from the White House and from Chairman David Walsh of the Senate Naval Committee. In a letter to Pauley, the President emphasized his belief that the west-coast oil man emerged from the committee hearings with his reputation unscathed. Mr. Truman added that Pauley had shown patience under what he called continued misrepresentation.

Senator Walsh also has issued a statement commending Pauley for his patriotic action in agreeing to the withdrawal.

Goering Takes Witness Stand In Own Defense

Kesseler Blames Luftwaffe Chief For Lack Of Bombers At Dunkerque

NUERNBERG, Mar. 13. (AP)—Field Marshal Werner Von Goebbels today took the witness stand in his own defense before the Nuernberg tribunal trying him as an arch war criminal.

NUERNBERG, Mar. 13. (AP)—The pompous number two Nazi, Hermann Goering—today lectured Allied judges as if they were school boys. Goering said that Adolf Hitler seized power in 1933 to make Germany free, and he boastfully emphasized his own importance in grabbing control for the Nazi party.

NUERNBERG, Mar. 13. (AP)—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering has gone to the witness stand in his own defense before the Nuernberg tribunal trying him as an arch war criminal.

Goering's defense counsel expects to take six days to complete presentation of its case for the former chief of the German Luftwaffe. Goering himself may be on the witness stand for three days.

Meanwhile, Nazi field Marshal Albert Kesseler told the tribunal today he was a principal advocate on invading England in the summer of 1940. Kesseler is responding to a query from Chief United States Prosecutor Robert Jackson. Justice Jackson asked Kesseler whether he had recommended to Goering that the invasion take place immediately after Dunkerque. Replied Kesseler: "Yes, and I still represented that view later on. Yes, the invasion was only called off because there were not sufficient weapons and aircraft."

Kesseler appeared as a witness in the defense of Goering. Kesseler told the court that the British evacuation at Dunkerque would have been a greater catastrophe, but for the fact that he kept German planes on the ground for two days.

The Nazi general declared that Germans did not have enough four-engine bombers, and implied that, Goering was primarily responsible for this deficiency. Kesseler said the absence of four-engine bombers in the Luftwaffe "turned out to be extremely awkward."

Training Committee Meets With Lawton

The Boy Scout Training Committee met Tuesday evening at the office of Capt. T. W. Lawton. Motion pictures of scouting activities were shown; there was practice in tying knots, and other phases of scout training were considered. This was the second of a series of eight meetings; the next will be held on March 19, at the same location.

Present were Mr. Lawton, Floyd Woodward of Daytona Beach, H. E. Morris, W. E. Kader, George McClelland, Harry Moore, Ernest M. Southard, Raymond Kader, L. V. Metz, Jr. and Alfred Foster.

The current Red Cross Drive, Mrs. M. B. Smith called for volunteers to contact the non-profit organizations for funds, to which members readily responded.

Miss Maude Ramsey, chairman of the baseball ticket sales committee, reported 34 season passes had been sold and collected for, with several more promised.

Trade Body Discusses Plans For St. John River, Big Tree Park

Fletcher Bolls, Reports Dodgers Expressed Desire To Return To Sanford Next Year; Touhy Outlines Homecoming Plans

Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce met at the Mayfair Hotel last night and discussed plans for the improvement of the St. Johns River, development of the park around the Big Tree at Longwood, the Veterans Home, and the stadium next month. The Brooklyn Dodgers training camp, a statewide advertising campaign and two conventions which will be held here in the next few months.

The meeting was presided over by President H. H. Coleman. Manager Ed Higgins reported on his trip to Washington in connection with the proposed 10-foot river channel. He expressed himself as hopeful that the Sanford project may be included in the Senate's Civil Functions Bill, although he added that there are so many Florida projects that some of them will have to be omitted.

Some discussion was also heard of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal project and Manager Higgins suggested that a hearing be held here to discuss the feasibility of the canal both from the standpoint of drainage and conservation of water reserves. A motion was made to this effect by H. B. Touse.

B. C. Green reported that about 80 acres would be needed to develop a Big Tree park from the site of the tree to the main highway and also revealed that a state forestry expert had recently visited the tree and found it in need of attention from decay, moss and other parasites which were sapping its vitality.

Fletcher Bolls reported that the Dodgers Training School had been a big success, and that Branch Rickey and his players had left here satisfied with the (Continued on Page Three)

Military Group In Closed-Door Session Today

Patterson, Byrnes, Eisenhower Appear Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (AP)—Secretary of State James Byrnes, War Secretary Robert Patterson and General Dwight D. Eisenhower were summoned today by the House Military Affairs Committee for a closed-door session to hear more "plain talk on the world situation and on our own military needs," before they vote on several important matters.

Four proposals stand out among the matters being considered by the committee. They are: Universal military training, extension of the draft law, stockpiling of vital war materials and pay increase for Army and Navy personnel as a means of spurting enlistments.

After hearing Byrnes, Patterson and Eisenhower, the committee is expected to vote on universal training and the draft extension. Many members say they feel these two matters must be settled before the committee does anything else.

Representatives Of UMW Discuss Lewis Demands

Results Of Survey Of Miners' Position Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13. (AP)—Representatives of the United Mine Workers began elaborating today on the general demands laid down by President John L. Lewis for the nation's 100,000 soft coal miners. A union council report of an opinion survey of 50,000 miners disclosed the miners' position under present workmen's compensation laws.

Congress and the coal producing states have an elective system of government, compensation and other matters which will draw from coverage under the law on ten days' notice.

As an example, the union official cited the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal Company, in whose pit at Harpersville, 21 men lost their lives in an explosion last December. He said that the injured and the survivors of the explosion will have to hunt up each stakeholder in order to secure payment under the Kentucky coal company laws.

The union leaders are asking coal operators to create a health and welfare fund for miners, in addition to wage increases and shorter working hours.

Agreement Paves Way For 175,000 Workers To Return To Nearly 100 Plants

DETROIT, Mar. 13. (AP)—The General Motors strike was settled today on the basis of 19 1/2 cents an hour wage increase offered by the company. The CIO United Auto Workers Union lost its long fight to get the company to pay 19 1/2 cents, the recommended rate of the presidential fact-finding board. The wage negotiations wound up successfully after an uninterrupted day and night session.

DETROIT, March 13. (AP)—Hopes for an end of the 113-day old General Motors strike, the longest in automobile history, kept on rising late this afternoon as company and CIO United Workers officials continued their present session which has been going on since 9:00 o'clock last night.

A union official, asking that his name not be used, has disclosed that a settlement of the automotive strike appears imminent and that an announcement may come at any moment.

The all night meeting went on through the morning and into the afternoon. At the session, the 22nd hour, one management representative said that the ticklish wage question had been settled.

The settlement would pave the way for a reopening of almost 100 plants across the nation and the return of 175,000 production workers who have been idle since last November. The unprecedented and dramatic negotiating session is being held on the 13th floor of the 15-story Bankers Trust Building, which is being used as a temporary headquarters for the strike.

However, the protracted session got underway with both sides apparently still deadlocked on numerous issues, including the union's demand for a 19 1/2 cents an hour pay boost. The company has offered to boost GM workers' wage 18 1/2.

Mrs. Lillian Belle Sackett, 78, died at 2:15 o'clock this morning at a nursing home in Deland, Fla., had long been suffering with poor eyes and a half year with a broken hip.

Mrs. Sackett was born in 1867 and was house mother of Phi Mu Sorority at Ohio State University and in that capacity served Phi Mu a year at The University of New Mexico, and for one year was house mother of Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Rollins College.

She is survived by one son, the Rev. Sackett; two granddaughters, the Misses Ruth Emily and Dorothy N. Sackett of Sanford; and three nephews, Russell E. Cunningham of Sanford, Ohio; George H. Cunningham of Toledo, Ohio; and Harold E. Cunningham of Fostoria, Ohio.

Requiem services for Mrs. Sackett will be held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with the Rev. Mark T. Carpenter officiating at 8:00 o'clock Thursday morning, and funeral service will follow at 11:00 o'clock at Carey Hand Funeral Home, Orlando, with Rev. Carpenter again officiating. It has been requested that flowers be omitted. Arrangements are in charge of the Erickson Funeral Home. Interment will be at a later date.

KITE FLYING ON CITY STREETS IS DANGEROUS!

PLAY SAFE! Fly your kite in any open field, away from traffic and away from trees, wires and buildings on which the kite can become entangled. Do not have metallic lines attached to your kite and do not construct the kite of any metallic substance.

Do not fly kites during thunder storms or when such storms are in the vicinity. Avoid these dangers and you will reduce accidents.

HERE'S WHAT CAN HAPPEN!

Crowded streets and high wires are unsafe for play kites. A weather balloon once flew over the city in front of the crowd. When it came back it brought the wires of a power line down. The wires were so hot that they melted the kite.

An estimated 100 G. I. students, veterans who will renew their education at Stetson University in DeLand, will be housed at the DeLand Naval Air Station recently acquired from Washington channels by request of the City of DeLand. The Spring term begins March 26 at which time the buildings will be ready for the students. It is proposed by the university to reopen the station kitchen.

The State Board of Beauty Culture estimates that there are more than 10,000 beauticians plying their art in Florida and working up ritzy hair waves and trying to make faces look like Hollywood profiles. There are about 700 men beauty operators also, whose line of talk is said to be something different from operators of steam shovels and ship loading cranes. About 300 beauty operator candidates are due to take the next state examination in Miami on March 24.

All is not harmony in Orange Court, Orlando hotel where the music of union and non-union men has been played. Union members of the opinion that non-union music is full of clinkers (official union term for sour notes). Accordingly they demanded the non-union musicians leave or else, they would halt. This drew them into the "trouble class," as State Attorney Tom Watson declared their demand violates the open shop amendment in the Florida Constitution.

It would seem that such a thing as old age assistance and betting on horses were occupations as widely apart as the earth and Mars. Nevertheless many old people will be given much needed aid in Florida all because the state derived more than seven million dollars from taxes on horse bets. Altogether state racing receipts total more than eleven million dollars this year, which, says Welfare Commissioner Leland Hiatt will keep up old age assistance payments until June 30, 1947.

Pins & Certificates Are Awarded To USO Hostesses

when I was in need during a furlough. Soon after the furlough I shipped over to the Pacific and there was where I learned to appreciate the USO Camp shows, for many were the nights that I and hundreds more have sat in pouring rain witnessing one of the shows. Yes, my friends, the USO has done a most commendable job and you who are gathered tonight to receive your award for service and merit rendered have contributed so vitally in making USO a welcome sign in the hearts of all servicemen and ex-servicemen.

Speaking in behalf of Navy men, Howard Butler said: "I would like to thank all people and workers for the warm hospitality they have shown us."
"You have done a fine job," said Mr. Morris to the hostesses and I am proud tonight to issue awards and certificates."
Hostesses of more than 1,000 hours service who received awards included: Mrs. Ava Wright Davis, Mrs. S. C. Graham, Mrs. Ed Lane, Mrs. J. G. Patterson and Mrs. M. L. Wright. A full list of hostesses and men of the Recreation Committee who received awards will be announced soon, said Mr. Hall, who added that a little time will be required to make a careful compilation. At the time of the dancing, refreshments were served.
There was an overflow attendance at the USO and quite a number of people were standing on the porch.

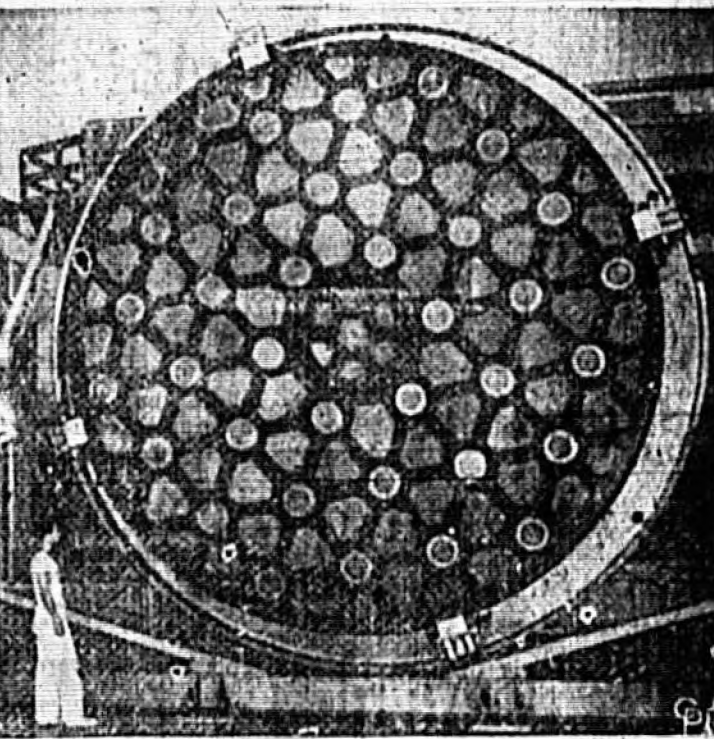

Babies At Union Memorial Hospital Are Night Owls

By JAMES E. HAGUE
BALTIMORE—The new baby boys at Union Memorial Hospital are a set of "night owls."
A chart on recent births at the hospital showed that most boys are born in the wee sma' hours but that the girls like to make their appearance in the early afternoon.
Dr. Harold H. Newman, an interne in the hospital's maternity section, charted the hours of birth of all babies delivered since he joined the hospital staff about two months ago. The overall figure is 135 deliveries—81 boys, 54 girls. The percentage was 60 to 40.

That midnight-to-one hour is the one the boys like. Eight of them, tops for the whole day, showed up at that time. Not a girl was so inconsiderate as to get the doctors up at that hour. Six more boys let out their first wail between one and two a.m., with four girls deciding that was the proper hour for their bow to society.
The girls were fonder of the hour between one and two p.m., the score for that period being six girls to three boys. The males represented on Dr. Newman's chart really disliked the hours just before midnight, only one boy being born in each of the hours from 9 to 12.
Dr. Newman points out that there is, of course, no scientific value in figures, for such a small period. Just the same, when he takes a woman to the delivery room just after midnight, he is pretty sure of what to expect—a boy.

George Touhy said that plans for the Veterans' Homecoming Celebration are progressing satisfactorily, but adding that some difficulty is being experienced in securing bands for the parade. He said that plans for the barbecue are in high gear. Roland Dean reported that a recent meet-

Watson Is Trying To Regulate Unions In Fight New Plans In Horror After Lock At Jap Cop

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 13, (AP)—Attorney General Tom Watson is trying new tactics in his fight for laws regulating labor unions. He says he is enlisting the aid of friends and friends of friends, in an appeal to congressmen for laws to curb unjust demands of labor leaders.
He says he has asked the 38 employees of his office to contact at least three friends in Florida and three outside the state to communicate with any of their acquaintances and that all tell their congressional delegations such legal action is desirable.
Watson, who led the fight for ratification of Florida's constitutional amendment outlawing the closed shop, has asked his staff members to help on the matter unless they have reasons for not doing so.
Watson proposes that Congressmen among other things—enact a law providing that no union shall have the right to strike against public safety under any conditions, that all grievances between labor and management shall be subject to review and arbitration by an impartial board, and that all persons shall be free to choose whether they shall join a union, and none shall be compelled to join in order to obtain work.

Troops And Police Patrol Streets In City Of Palermo

ROME, Mar. 13, (AP)—Italian troops and police are patrolling the street of Palermo in armored cars today to prevent a repetition of disorders which cost the lives of two persons during a demonstration against unemployment and the high cost of living.
The Italian news agency, Ansa, says that demonstrating war veterans and workers marched through the main thoroughfares of Palermo yesterday. They blocked traffic in the Sicilian city. They also cut electrical power and forced shops to close and stormed the tax office, seizing and burning documents, along with stacks of thousand lire bills.
The news agency says that an exchange of shots in front of the ration card office caused the death of a police official and a laborer. Ten demonstrators were wounded and eight others were injured when the demonstrators gathered before finance and police buildings.

FIRST ARRIVALS of the veterans' 148-car Chicago-to-Washington taxicab caravan are shown being met by police and American Veterans' Committee representatives at the District of Columbia-Maryland line. The cabbies were escorted to quarters ready at Camp Simms. The drivers were seeking Federal intervention to get Chicago back licenses. They protested an ordinance limiting the city to 3,000 cabs. Inside Sports Report

With JULIAN STENSTROM

Back to Sanford. During the tilt between the Saints and the Montreal Royals in Daytona Beach at the City Island Park, an interesting figure left the benches and strolled over to the grandstand. He entered the structure and paused a moment at a box. He extended his hand to several men and then followed them by sitting down. A couple of minutes later, a gate keeper approached the man and asked for his box seat ticket.

"Why, I'm Branch Rickey!" the gate keeper figured he was being given a line and called for a cop. The policeman came up and asked for credentials. The gentleman couldn't produce and was ejected from the box.

We imagine the gate keeper said to himself, "Those kind of guys can't fool me."

We wonder, however, what the gate keeper said when he found out that he had actually tossed out the head of Brooklyn Dodgers, Branch Rickey.

So, Mr. Rickey spent yesterday afternoon in Sanford, watching his two clubs, the Saints and the Royals, play here. With General Manager Bob Finch, he walked right in the park, sat down in a select box and enjoyed the ball game, even with peanuts. And nobody tried to toss him out!

Teddy's Oddy.

The only sport which had its beginnings in America and has found favor all over the world in basketball. Prior to the war, the game was played in its countries. The biggest crowd ever to watch a single game was not in the USA, but in China. In 1935, 23,900 fans witnessed a game in Peking.

Thankfully, the game is spotlighted on the New York Giants, here it is:

Pitching—Good

Catching—Average
Finishing—Average

Paul Wauer has reported for Spring training as player-manager of the Miami Sun Sox of the new Florida International League. Wauer says he will alternate between the outfield and first base, but doesn't plan to play regularly. Professional golfers will compete this Spring and summer in 42 tournaments for more than $500,000. Bill Dunehee, football and basketball coach at Little St. Mary's High School in Miami, is planning to go to Pittsburgh following his appointment as head coach at Carnegie Tech.

The University of Florida football squad is getting ready to make a comeback when playing begins next fall. Coach Earl Wolf is giving his squad plenty of drill on fundamentals during Spring sessions. The New Orleans Vels of the Southern Association are getting ready for their initial exhibition tilt of the season Saturday against the Birmingham Barons.

One of the sensations of the Atlanta Crackers' camp in Gainesville is 17-year-old George Watts. The one-time football star at Ohio State University, Wiley Fowler, has been named football coach at Princeton. He succeeds Clark Shaughnessy.

The old Roman, Charles Coniskey, has frequently run into with the umpires during his days as a manager. One afternoon he had a particularly violent series of disputes with umpire Joe Conlin, on ball and strike decisions. Finally, late in the game, Conley picked up a pitch, and Conlin called out, "Four balls." Coniskey, standing in the dugout, put his hand to his mouth and said, "You're sure good at calling those, Joe."

The Royals were held at bay until the eighth when they were singled to run and took center on a drive to center by Durrett. Furillo singled through the box to score Jorgenson.

Haugstad went to the hill in the ninth. The youngster, in his first year of professional baseball, was immediately touched for singles by Ramazzotti and Pfister. Fontaine was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Shuba fouled out to Pigg. Ramazzotti scored on the play. Jorgenson came back with a blow to enter to score Pfister and Fontaine to end hostilities.

Spears was the only Saint to reach third base during the tilt. Guerin and Staples reached first base on free passes and Davis advanced to the initial sack by virtue of a fielder's choice.

The Saints will undergo workouts this afternoon and tomorrow at the park in preparation for their tilt with Chattanooga Friday in Cocoa. St. Paul moves on to West Palm Beach for a Saturday night game with the Philadelphia Athletics and returns to Sanford Sunday for another engagement with Connie Mack's American League.

The contest Sunday afternoon will be called at 8:00 o'clock.

Saints Held To Two Hits As Royals Win 11-0

Four St. Paul Hurlers Blasted For 15 Safeties

Gabbard, Fontaine Turn In Sparkling Mound Performance

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald sports editor

George Spears, able shortstop for Manager Bob Finch, St. Paul Saints, singled in the initial stanza of yesterday's tilt with the Montreal Royals at the Municipal Athletic Field and repeated again in the final frame for the only pair of safeties collected off a couple of Royal moundsmen Gabbard and Fontaine. The Royals, in their second appearance here, again accomplished their Sunday stunt and whitewashed the St. Paul aggregation, 11 to 0.

Meanwhile, four Saint hurlers paraded to the mound: With a septet of Mearle Strachem, they were pounded all over the lot. Ed Weiland took the hill first. After setting the Royals down one, two and three in the opening inning, he was nicked for a lone single in the second. However, that hit by Stevens, combined with an error was enough to permit a Royal tally.

In the third frame, 11 Royals went to the plate with nearly the precision of a close order military drill. Pfister singled and Fersell walked. Shuba singled sharply to right, scoring Pfister, forcing Jorgenson to step up and center to push across Fersell. Shuba halting at third, Durrett worked Taylor for a base on balls, and Shuba scored when Furillo singled to right. Stevens popped out but Stoenet stammered left a drive to deep center, permitting Jorgenson to step up and score. Ramazzotti walked and Durrett scored a passed ball. Pfister walked and Fersell grounded out. Pigg to Neumann, to end the inning.

The Royals were held at bay until the eighth when they were singled to run and took center on a drive to center by Durrett. Furillo singled through the box to score Jorgenson.

Big Construction Program Underway At Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO, Mar. 12. (Special)

A $250,000 construction and improvement program is under way at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter Country Club, site of the All-American Golf Tournament, with the view of making it the nation's outstanding club both in appearance and utility.

This was announced by George S. May, president of the club, who has continually improved and expanded the club each year since it was destroyed by fire in 1936. In restoring and expanding the property and putting it on a paying basis as a profitable business operation, he has sought to prove the efficacy of the business engineering principles devised by his firm, the George S. May Company.

Major item of the 1946 improvement program at the club is a complete modernization and expansion of the clubhouse which will radically change its appearance and add 147,000 cubic feet to the existing facilities. The entire front of the clubhouse will be extended south 30 feet and will consist of a basement and two-story brick building with an overhanging ledge extending around the top.

Included in this modernization are expansion of men's and women's locker rooms, doubling of size of present kitchen, addition of employee's dining room, dishwasher, refrigerator, and 25 employee bedrooms, and manager's quarters.

American Association Will Not Lack Color Because Of Skippers

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 12. (Special)

If the 1916 American Association pennant race is lacking in color and baseball "savvy" it won't be because of a shortage of these commodities among the managers.

League President Roy Hensley beams as he reads off the list of association pilots and recounts their baseball background. They range from Zek's (Bananas) Bonura, making his managerial debut at Minneapolis, and the gray-headed Nick Cullop at Milwaukee, to quiet Charlie Root, one of the Chicago Cubs' all-time pitching greats, who will be in his second year at the helm of the Columbus Redbirds at Indianapolis.

There will be three changes from last year's managerial roster—Bonura at Minneapolis; Bill (Dutch) Meyer back at Kansas City after a hitch in Newark, and Don Guttridge at Toledo to succeed Ollie Marquardt.

Bonura formerly played with the Chicago White Sox and New York Giants and only recently was released from the Army. Long known as a power hitter, Bonura is expected to have considerable fun with opposing pitchers when he goes into active competition in the under-sized Miller park.

Meyer comes back to Kansas City after a four-year absence during which he piloted Newark to the International League pennant in 1932 and second place in each of the last three years. In his previous tenure at Kansas City—1938 through 1941—his team never finished lower than third.

With Casey Stengel giving way to Meyer at Kansas City, St. Paul's Meyer is the positest pilot in the association probably will fall to Cullop, the Franklin

BACK AT POST

County, Ohio farmer, who last year directed Milwaukee to its third straight pennant. Cullop, known variously as "the Hipper" and "Old Baldy" and "Tom-because of a shortage of these commodities among the managers."

Guttridge, who is making his managerial debut, undoubtedly will play many games for Toledo. Though anything but a power hitter, he teamed well with Vern Stephens of the Browns for four years. He also played four full seasons with the Cardinals.

The remainder of the association's managerial talent is made up of Bill Burwell at Indianapolis, Nemo Leibold at Louisville and Ray Blades at St. Paul.

Root, who doesn't go for the histrionics used by Cullop, and some of the others, won nine games and lost eight last year with his last place club after he had reached the ripe old age of 46. For 19 years he was a mainstay of the club staff.

Burwell has been in the association longer since 1925 when he led the league in victories and earned runs. He managed Louisville to the junior world series championship in 1932 and finished second in the association last year with Indianapolis.

Leibold, 38, of Chicago White Sox star, has had Louisville in the last two years and he won it in 1945. He also formerly managed Columbus.

Blades, who hit .396 while playing part time for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1939, directed Columbus to the little world series title in 1939 and 1944 and his St. Paul team finished fourth both in 1944 and 1945.

Mexican Baseball Official Wants Big League Rating

MIAMI, Mar. 12. (Special)

The president of the Mexican Baseball League, Jorge Pasquel, says that he will accept Happy Chandler's proposal for a United States-Mexican baseball pact, but that he will not accept the view of making it the nation's outstanding club both in appearance and utility.

"If they want to make an agreement giving us treatment like the really big league we say, we're ready to enter into it. Otherwise we are read" to give them a terrific fight they never expected to have."

To demonstrate what he meant, Pasquel said that there is a $50,000 advance waiting for Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians. If Bob will sign with the Mexican League, Feller had been offered a contract for three years at $100,000 a year, and turned it down. But today's statement was the first mention of any money in the bank waiting for Feller.

JOHANNESBURG, Mar. 13.—Race-horse owners fear a serious decline in the standard of racing as a result of an oat crop that is only 25 percent of normal last year. As a result, the government has fixed the oat ration at four pounds a day per horse as against the average requirement of 15 pounds a day.

Painted Beauty, Town Sally Are Favored Tonight

By Jack Sords

LONGWOOD, Mar. 12. (Special)

The ten race card at the Sanford Orlando Kennel club continues popular with the lengthened program being run promptly on schedule which brings the dogs on the track for the last event at virtually the same time as they ran on the eight race program.

Tonight's daily double, Painted Beauty and Town Sally, are the favorites of the event with Town Sally or Last Round able to finish the combination.

In the feature ninth race, Dynamic or Larry make have the best time. Either one should take the event.

Two long shots in the third and fourth races romped home ahead of the field last night at the club to pay handsome prices to lucky ticket holders.

Gold Trick won the third event to refund $27.50, $12 and $18.20. And in the fourth Old Nassau paid off $23.50 to win, $4.60 to place and $4.20 to show.

Old Nassau and Rubett, finished first and second to return a quinella price of $77.40 in the fourth.

Lin Gardner, winner in the second, and Gold Trick, the 8-1 commination, paid a "dandy" double of $55.

Tonight's entries:

FIRST RACE—Partridge, 6:15. Nov. Duke, 10:1. Red Master, 12:1. Copper, Time Limit, 17:1. Eva. 20:1.

SECOND RACE—Dunlop, 6:15. W. D. Dandy, 10:1. Village, 12:1. Hand Lass, Painted Beauty, Jovial Tex, Jessie Myers.

THIRD RACE—Partridge, 6:15. Gold Trick, 10:1. Red Master, 12:1. Copper, Time Limit, 17:1. Eva. 20:1.

FOURTH RACE—Partridge, 6:15. W. D. Dandy, 10:1. Village, 12:1. Hand Lass, Painted Beauty, Jovial Tex, Jessie Myers.

NINTH RACE—Partridge, 6:15. W. D. Dandy, 10:1. Village, 12:1. Hand Lass, Painted Beauty, Jovial Tex, Jessie Myers.

Navy Goat Never Knew What He Was Signing After Being Corralled

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Mar. 12. (Special)

It's hard even for Midshipman to get the Navy's goat, but little Betty Witt, of Lakewood, O., didn't know that when she wrote the U. S. Naval Academy for an autograph—16 wit, hoofprint—of its famous mascot.

Betty got the hoofprint, all right, accompanied by a letter from Vice Adm. Aubrey W. Fitch, superintendent of the Academy, who declared:

"I regret I was unable to reply to your letter sooner, but it has been necessary to corral the goat at his living place and this has taken a little more time than we originally anticipated."

This restrained comment concealed a drama which has just now been released by the Academy in a special "communiqué" of words and photographs.

The "communiqué" describes, tongue in cheek, the capture of Bill the Tenth (title of the aristocratic goat) as a "duty assignment" most pell-fragant with, as usual, a woman the cause of it all.

Without flinching, midshipman Hal Edwards, of Muskegon, Mich., and Dan Hollis of Biloxi, Miss., set about corraling, subduing, and humbling the unpredictable quarry.

"Edwards, inching through the rank, a-veep grass, with larriat, thong, and anti-bulb padding, operated in perfect teamwork with Hollis, who was silently stealing upwind with a sheet of off-white canvas and a sturdy plank.

"Whizz—(had—this—this—this—(protest from the goat) and it was all over—his strong right hoof held firmly, there were applied to it the pad and the paper. He never knew what he was signing."

He could find out, though, by visiting Lakewood and scanning Betty's autograph collection.

And incidentally, three boys find besides his own signature that of Adm. Fitch, whom America remembers for the victory of the Coral Sea and who was subsequently allowed to wear his autograph along, too.

Jim Trexler Quits Baseball To Become Cop In Richmond

RICHMOND, Va., Mar. 12. (Special)

Frank James (Tiny) Trexler has decided he likes a policeman's uniform better than that of a diamond star.

Trexler was under contract to pitch for the Boston Braves this season for $5,000, but he has accepted an appointment on the Richmond police force instead.

"I'm getting along in age and don't have so many years of baseball left in my system," Trexler says. "I've been looking for a permanent position ever since I got out of the Navy last December, and when I learned of an opening on the police force, I applied for it."

"Now I'm going on baseball's voluntarily retired list."

Trexler was pitched by the Braves from Indianapolis of the American Association after the 1945 season when he led the circuit in wins, strikeouts and least earned runs. Officer Trexler is 28.

RHYMING BATTERY

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 13. (Special)

The Pittsburgh Pirates may not have a candidate for pitcher on their roster, but at least they have the butcher and the baker. Max Butcher pitched them to 10 victories last season and Bill Baker is a catcher back from the service.

discharged from the United States Navy, according to information received today from the Naval Personnel Separation Center, Jacksonville.

Eight Game Card Is Announced By Gator Ball Club

GAINESVILLE, March 12.—An eight game baseball schedule with two teams for the University of Florida Gator nine was announced this week by Coach Sam McAllister.

The schedule includes games already signed, but Coach McAllister says he hopes to include practice games with the Atlanta Crackers, who will train in Gainesville, and the Gainesville Ball club, who will enter the Florida State League tilt, springing. However, the biggest problem for the team, McAllister has hopes of fielding a fairly strong nine, facing the Gator mentor now is filling in the spots vacated by candidates since Spring football practice started. Several football prospects are currently working out with the baseball squad.

Included among some of the best prospects are veterans of the 1951 and 42 nines. They are: Lynwood Cabott of Ft. Lauderdale, Bud Manchester of Gainesville; and Bill Gromart of Tallahassee, and Benny Sauner of Tampa, who was substitute catcher last year is out for a berth.

The schedule, April 3, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, there; Apr. 10, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, here; Apr. 20, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, there; Apr. 22-23, University of Georgia, here; and May 7, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, here; May 10-11, University of Georgia, there.

Two Long Shots Romp Home In Double To Refund Only $55

LONGWOOD, Mar. 12. (Special)

The ten race card at the Sanford Orlando Kennel club continues popular with the lengthened program being run promptly on schedule which brings the dogs on the track for the last event at virtually the same time as they ran on the eight race program.

Tonight's daily double, Painted Beauty and Town Sally, are the favorites of the event with Town Sally or Last Round able to finish the combination.

In the feature ninth race, Dynamic or Larry make have the best time. Either one should take the event.

Two long shots in the third and fourth races romped home ahead of the field last night at the club to pay handsome prices to lucky ticket holders.

Gold Trick won the third event to refund $27.50, $12 and $18.20. And in the fourth Old Nassau paid off $23.50 to win, $4.60 to place and $4.20 to show.

Old Nassau and Rubett, finished first and second to return a quinella price of $77.40 in the fourth.

Lin Gardner, winner in the second, and Gold Trick, the 8-1 commination, paid a "dandy" double of $55.

Tonight's entries:

FIRST RACE—Partridge, 6:15. Nov. Duke, 10:1. Red Master, 12:1. Copper, Time Limit, 17:1. Eva. 20:1.

Congresswoman Sets Old South Pattern

By HENRY LESENE
ATLANTA—The part of the lavender-and-old-lace South that gave birth to "Gone With the Wind" has sent to Congress a woman politician who came up the hard way—at no sacrifice either of feminine charm or domestic life.
She is tall, distinguished-looking Helen Douglas Mankin, a tough campaigner. If there ever was one who represents the South's most populous congressional district, Atlanta and its environs.
For 20 years a lawyer, she believes there is a need in politics for more progressive women and that a woman, politically and professionally, should rise by "ability and hard work." She has practiced what she preached.

She says she has but two interests, her home and her office, which is in the same suite as that of her mechanical engineer husband in a downtown office building. "Office," of course, includes politics.
"Most people can't believe it," she says, "but I'm a good cook and a good housekeeper. I also can and preserve a lot of food in the summer months."
Mrs. Mankin first entered politics over a decade ago because, she said, "I thought I could serve." The people of Fulton (Atlanta) County elected her to the state legislature. It became almost a habit. They reelected her four more successive terms.

Speaks Up
In a legislative hall the new congresswoman is accustomed to making herself heard. She has sponsored much legislation in Georgia benefiting women and children.
She has been, in general, a staunch supporter of young Gov. Ellis Arnall and his administration, which brought sweeping reforms in Georgia's state government. She's been in the thick of many a legislative battle.
Fulton County is by far the largest of the three counties in the Fifth Georgia congressional district, for so many years the lawliwick of Rep. Robert Ramspeck, the Georgian who brought federal employes under civil service.

When Ramspeck candidly announced that a congressman's $10,000 a year stipend wasn't enough and he was taking a more profitable job in the aviation industry, Mrs. Mankin set her heart on the vacant job.
So did 19 other constituents, who didn't consider $10,000 a year an amount to be sneezed at. It soon became apparent, however, the race was between Mrs. Mankin and Tom Camp, who was Ramspeck's secretary the many years he was in Washington.
Mrs. Mankin won in a photo-finish.

Holland Nearly Gets P W To Vote For Him

HOSFORD, Fla. Mar. 13. (Special) Spessard L. Holland, war time governor of Florida and candidate for the United States Senate, saw what appeared to be a likely bunch of young voters working with some lumber yesterday in this community.
Making his way to them he presented his card to one, but the man shook his head and pointed to an insignia on a fellow worker's shirt. It was "PW"—prisoner of war. The men were German; but there was one who spoke broken English. He asked for a card.
"Yes," Holland replied, "and if you think it over, you may want to belong to a democracy yourself."

No Promises
It was one of the hardest and most strenuous political campaigns Georgia had seen in a long time. After the two months grind, Mrs. Mankin told reporters, "I don't think there was ever a candidate elected to Congress before who didn't make a single pledge to anybody."
She said she financed four-fifths of her campaign herself and that the other fifth came in dribble contributions from individuals.
Washington social life? Mrs. Mankin isn't interested. "My husband is also my best pal," she says, "and we are perfectly satisfied when we are together."
She Gets Around
A native of Atlanta, the 49-year-old congresswoman was educated at Rockford College, Illinois. In the first World War she drove a Red Cross ambulance in France.
Later, with a sister, she went on a transcontinental automobile junket—roads then weren't what they are now—and wrote a magazine article about it. Thirteen Thousand Mile Mankin travels a lot. Her husband's work has often taken him out of the United States. The Mankins—who have a son, Guy, Jr., now on a maritime service tanker—have lived in Cuba, Brazil, and Argentina.
Engineering Mankin travels a lot because of his work. It will be as convenient for him to spend his weekends in Washington as Atlanta.
Georgia furnished one of the first women in the national Congress—Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton—soon after women were enfranchised. But she served only a day, and it was a gesture.
Later, another woman was elected to fill the unexpired term caused by her husband's death. But Mrs. Mankin is the first woman Georgia has sent to Congress on her own merits, with no quarter asked nor given.

Lewis Blames Coal Men With 28,000 Deaths

Speedy Ratification Of New Contract Between GM, CIO Predicted Today

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (AP)—The conference board of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union has ratified the wage agreement reached with General Electric Company. The strike against General Electric has lasted 59 days, and has involved 100,000 employees.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, in Washington, today accused soft coal operators of the responsibility for the deaths of 28,000 miners in a period of 14 years.

Lewis abandoned his soft-pedal tactics today in negotiations with the nation's soft coal operators and demanded better working conditions in the mines. Lewis charged that during the 14 year period the coal industry had crushed and shattered the bodies of more than a million mine workers because of a laxity in safety precautions.

Lewis declared that operators and stockholders have exploited the families of the dead and practiced extortion upon the yet living workers through costly but inadequate hospitalization and medical services.

The UMW chief challenged the mine operators to a point-by-point answer and he shouted: "We demand abatement of this slaughter."

Meanwhile in Detroit, a speedy ratification has been predicted for an agreement calling for an 8 1/2 cent hourly pay boost to end a strike of 170,000 CIO United Auto Workers against General Motors. Both union and company officials have praised the contract as a good one. Reliable sources have asserted that the strike, longest in the history of the auto industry, has cost 200,000,000. Conflicting estimates have placed the loss to workers between $127,000,000 and $144,000,000.

No Upswing Of Nazi Activities Reported

FRANKFURT, Mar. 14. (AP)—United States security officials have asserted that there has been no upswing in Nazi activities in the American occupation zone in Germany. Some supplies of hidden arms have been discovered recently, but other than that, sabotage efforts are said to be at a minimum.

Since VE day about 150 American soldiers have died as a result of acts characterized as sabotage. The authorities say there has been a marked drop in such deaths lately.

Most of the incidents thus far have been attributed to restless gangs of homeless youths. Intelligence officers say some of these were former members of Hitler organizations, who now are roaming the countryside. Many such groups already have been taken into custody by government officers.

Johnson Says U. S. Schools Need 'Oomph'

CHICAGO, Mar. 14. (AP)—What American education needs is a "little more oomph," President Erie A. Johnson of the Motion Picture Distributors Association, said today.

Johnson spoke today in Chicago before a regional conference of the American Association of School Administrators. Said he: "If there is any glibbie-de-gook in the trade of education, get rid of it. Let's take a little lesson from the comic strip. They count their readers in the empty millions. A catch phrase created in comics today is tomorrow's pet expression. Meanwhile, the allegedly erudite journals count their readers in small numbers. Let's not kid ourselves that we can sell the value of a high level of education without getting down to the level of the man in the street."

TROOPS RETURN

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (AP)—Eighteen transport carrying 6,000 service personnel are expected to arrive today at three west coast ports while 27 more troops are due to depart the two west coast ports.

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (AP)—You can get a much better view of the Manhattan skyline than in the war years, take it from President Paul H. Nitze, of the Society of International Affairs. He said that the skyline is now more open and that the view is better than it was during the war years.

Goering Asserts He Asked Hitler To Aid Franco During Spanish War

Former Chief Of German Luftwaffe Declares He Has No Intentions Of Hiding Behind Adolf Hitler In His Testimony

NUERNBERG, Mar. 14. (AP)—Hermann Goering today told the international military tribunal that he had asked Adolf Hitler to aid Franco during the Spanish civil war. He said he had urged the action "to prevent the spread of communism." Then Goering added that he felt it would provide a good test for Germany's young air force.

Goering boldly told the tribunal that he planned to build a bomber capable of flying to the United States and back. He said a lack of aluminum and technological planning caused him to abandon development of four-engine, long-range bombers. As to jet-propelled aircraft, Goering said the Luftwaffe was developing that weapon even before the war began.

The former Nazi Reichsmarschall also asserted what he has termed "full and complete responsibility" for all anti-Jewish economic decrees, which bore his signature.

Goering said at his trial that Germany's departure from the League of Nations came when "it was clear that other powers were unwilling to disarm, and a power in the east—Russia—was carrying out unheard-of armaments."

Goering defended the Nazi program of blind obedience by contending that "The Catholic Church in all relying on the leadership principle." He added that Russia could not have survived without it.

That it was when Goering was questioned about the so-called "master race" that he really bristled. He told the tribunal nobody would find that phrase in any of his writings. Goering says if one is a master, one does not need to emphasize it.

Four Changes Made To Zoning Ordinance

The City Commission held a hearing last evening in regard to four small changes to be made in city zoning restrictions. There was only one objection to one of the changes which was modified accordingly, said Mayor James G. Thompson.

One of the changes included revision of two blocks east of First Street in the commercial area. Prior to this the block from Sanford Avenue east had been designated as commercial.

ENROUTE TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (AP)—The Soviet Embassy said today that Andrei Gromyko, Russian ambassador to the United States, is on his way to the New York meeting of the United Nations Security Council. An Embassy spokesman said, however, he did not know when Gromyko would arrive in the United States as the ambassador might stop over in London for several days.

Once Powerful Jap Fleet Due For Oblivion

Within 6 Weeks Ships Will Be Cut Apart By Workmen With Acetylene Torches

TOKYO, Mar. 14. (AP)—The commander of merchant shipping for defeated Japan—Rear Admiral C. H. Munson—announced today that "the once mighty Japanese fleet will be cut apart within six weeks by workmen with acetylene torches."

A lone battleship, eight carriers, ten cruisers, two submarine tenders and three minelayers are among items already marked for the scrap heap. Another battleship—the Nagato—and the cruiser Sakawa—will go to the Bikini Atoll as guinea pigs in the forthcoming atom bomb tests.

Two vessels now in a damaged condition at Kure Harbor—the battleship Yamato and the cruiser Hiyuga—are to be destroyed. Allied authorities have not announced what they will do with what remains of the "Jap fleet." That would include 45 destroyers, 14 submarines, 14 escort ships, 22 transport craft and 12 troop transports. It has been asserted that they either will be destroyed, or else given to some other nation.

Plane Enroute To St. Louis Bearing Body Of Cardinal

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (AP)—A special funeral plane left New York City this morning, bearing the body of John Cardinal Glennon to St. Louis and a final resting place in a crypt in the great cathedral.

The plane arrived at 1A (Quinn) Field this morning after a transatlantic hop from Shannon, Ireland, via Newfoundland. Cardinal Glennon died Saturday in his native Erie just two weeks after Pope Pius XII elevated him to the cardinalate.

A final requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday in the cathedral's home diocese of St. Louis. It will be attended by the three new American cardinals, who were elevated with Cardinal Glennon. They are Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit and Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

The late Cardinal's brother—Dr. William P. Glennon—and about 14 other friends and clergymen from St. Louis accompanied the body back to the Missouri City.

The arrival of the plane bearing Cardinal Glennon's body today was in sharp contrast with the scenes when the late prelate arrived in New York City en route to Rome for his elevation to the purple. At that time Cardinal Glennon exchanged with Cardinals Spellman and Stritch and he had been so well treated by Cardinal Spellman that he wondered if he should take off for Rome.

Morrison To Conduct Quiz At Jaycee Meet

Elton Moughton, Jr., program chairman for the meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to be held tonight at the City Hall auditorium, announced today that Charlie Morrison would conduct a quiz contest.

Moughton added that prizes will be awarded. President Jack Raligan said that final plans for the formation of committees will be discussed during the meeting.

Rolls At Capitol Restaurant Are Now Out Of Reach Of Legislators

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (AP)—The old eating order chaperon—in Washington's old capitol restaurant. Now that the bread baskets of Europe have to be filled, the restaurant's congressional customers, say today, are out of reach of legislators.

Time was—and only yesterday—when the tables bore baskets heaped with rolls and bread. The restaurant hostess, Mrs. Edith Ridgely, says the hungry legislators made way about 20 dozen rolls a day.

New the baskets are beyond arm's reach. If the congressman wants another roll, he has to ask for it.

Mrs. Ridgely has presided over the house noon hour—11:00 A. M. to 1:00 P. M.—for three years now. In that time she has kept up a lot of incidental information about her distinguished customers.

She's found out that some of the southern members raise a howl if they find a little sugar in their cornbread. That makes it a strictly Yankee. She's learned, too, that it's sometimes better to seat a Republican with a Democrat rather than to seat two Democrats together. She's careful about those things—and proud of the comment which Democratic leader John McCormack made of her and her job.

"Here is one woman who has 488 congressmen eating out of her hand."

If Mrs. Ridgely keeps her control over the bread situation in the capitol restaurant, a good many hungry Europeans will be sent out of her hand, too, thanks to her reminding the congressmen to take it easy.

Where Cardinal's Body Will Rest

CONFORMING WITH WISHES of the late John Cardinal Glennon of St. Louis, Mo., who died in Ireland, his body will be taken back to St. Louis to be buried. Here is a view of the interior of All Saints Chapel in a local cathedral (opposite) which a crypt is being built to receive Cardinal Glennon's body. The body will rest under the ornamental slab just in front of the cathedral's altar. (International Soundphoto)

Sanford Garden Club Votes To Erect Building

$100 Allotted For Purchase Of Plants For City's Parks

The Sanford Garden Club voted today to make preparations for the construction of a Garden Club Building. The motion was made by Mrs. Ender Carlet at a meeting of the club at the City Hall building. The club has been following a discussion of various phases of the proposal.

Mrs. J.H. McCallin, president of the club, who presided over the meeting, expressed approval of the plan and thanked the City Commission and Chamber of Commerce officials for their help in the matter and on previous projects sponsored by the club.

A building committee was appointed by Mrs. McCallin, composed of Mrs. A.W. Epps, chairman; Mrs. O.P. Herndon, Mrs. Lea Leisher, Mrs. C.R. Kirtley, Mrs. C.L. Powell, and Mrs. Carlet. She also appointed a finance committee with the same members as the Garden Club Center Committee and with Mrs. S.C. Dickerson as chairman.

Mrs. McCallin announced that recent plant sales by the Garden Club had raised $317.86. One hundred dollars of this sum has been allotted for the purchase of plants to be planted in City parks and $25 for the purchase of a spray machine to be available to all residents of the county for a small rental fee. The tree sale last Saturday, she revealed, netted $60.

Pointing out that $252.86 has been placed in the building fund, Mrs. McCallin made the first contribution herself, and then called upon other members to follow suit, raising an additional $60 during the meeting.

Mrs. H.M. Watson read a proposed change in the Article 4, Section 3, of the by-laws of the club which would change the meeting date from the third Friday of October, February, and May to the third Thursday of these months. The matter will be voted upon at the May meeting, Mrs. McCallin said.

Terms Of Surrender Violated By Japan

TOKYO, Mar. 14. (AP)—The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes has disclosed that the Japanese Army Ministry, shortly after VJ day, sent instructions to field commanders to dispose of military supplies in violation of the surrender terms. The Stars and Stripes disclosure was verified by a public relations officer of the Eighth Army.

The order to field commanders provided for the quick release of goods suitable for civilian use so that they would not fall into the hands of the occupying powers.

Retired Railway Men To Meet On Monday

Unit No. 41 of the National Association of Retired Railway Employees will meet Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock at the City Hall, according to an announcement today by W.B. Zachry, chairman.

Mr. Zachry said that discussions would be held regarding a bill now pending which would provide better pensions for retired railway employees. In accordance with the higher cost of living, he added that several other questions of vital interest to members of the organization would be explained and he urged all members to attend.

Britain Insists On Immediate Explanation Of Red Army Movements In Iran

LONDON, March 14. (AP)—Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has declared that Britain would not want to see the Soviets reach agreement with Iran under pressure of the Red Army occupation. Bevin told the House of Commons that Britain has made no decision to send her troops back into Iran in view of Russia's action, or has the British government opened negotiations with the Iranian government for the return of British troops.

British informants said today the London cabinet has drafted a formal statement outlining Britain's position on the continued presence of Russian troops in Iran. These informants say the statement from the cabinet will be submitted to the House of Commons.

The cabinet's action came after a detailed statement from Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin on the Iranian situation.

Well-informed London sources say Bevin has been giving close attention to the Iranian situation and has been in touch with Secretary of State James Byrnes in Washington.

It is understood in London diplomatic quarters that the British Charge d'Affaires in Moscow has been told to inform Soviet Foreign Commissar V.M. Molotov that Britain "insists" on an immediate explanation of Russia's moves in Iran. The Russians, in international relations, says Bevin, have removed all their troops by May 2.

Meanwhile, British newspapers are critical of Generalissimo Joseph Stalin for his attack on Winston Churchill. The Soviet leader branded his wartime ally as a warmonger for Churchill's Fulton, Mo. speech on Mar. 5. Simultaneously, the British press has issued a call for a new meeting of the big three to improve relations between Moscow, London and Washington.

A British Foreign Office spokesman says there probably will be no official statement from London government on Stalin's blast at Churchill and says he will no longer be a member of the British government.

Iran Accused Of Trying To Seize Soviet Territory

Russia Says Iranians Demanded 289,000 Square Mile Area

MOSCOW, Mar. 14. (AP)—The official Soviet newspaper, Izvestia, has accused elements in Iran of trying to seize Russian territories in the early years of the Soviet Union. A lengthy article says that some of the Iranians who entertained plans against Russia in 1913 still exert a powerful influence in the direction of Iranian politics.

The Russian newspaper asserts that the Iranians in 1919 demanded almost half of the Caspian coast from Russia. This is said to have included the whole of Soviet Azerbaijan, the oil city of Baku, Soviet Armenia, the city of Yerevan and parts of the Trans-Caucasus. That would have represented an area of about 289,000 square miles.

Izvestia says the Iranians did nothing to interfere with the movement of a British detachment from Baghdad to Baku. The article has added that the ruling class in Iran has not been without instigation from the outside.

Anti-Soviet forces in Iran are declared to have dreamed of tearing away Soviet territories. The paper says they also went so far as to try to make the Caspian sea an internal Iranian sea. Ibrahim Makimov, who was premier prior to present Premier Ahmed Qavam Es-Saltaneh, is accused of being among those with anti-Soviet aims.

Justice Douglas For World Federation

WINTER PARK, Mar. 14. (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William Douglas said today during a conference on the future of atomic energy at Rollins College that he thinks the United States charter should be amended so the nations of the world would be welded into a world federation "with powers to act as a whole rather than as individual sovereign states." He added to make such a world organization will succeed, the people must be educated in the meaning and objectives of the federation.

Justice Douglas is one of a score of prominent Americans who had proposed in a resolution that the United States take the lead in promoting action to "transform the United Nations organization into world government."
