FRENCH WILL TAKE STEPS TO ENFORCE TREATY

NOTHING IS LEARNED ABOUT FRENCH OCCUPATION OF HAMBURG SECTION

AS REPORTED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES IN FRANCE

NOT GOOD IDEA

France Is Thinking Seriously of Enforcing the Treaty

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Nov. 16.—High officials of French foreign office declared today they knew nothing of any plan for occupation of Hamburg by French forces as reported from various sources and the idea was declared to be out of question in competent quarters here. There is little doubt, however, that France is thinking seriously of doing something to make Germany carry out her Versailles treaty.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The Rhineland and the Ruhr and the numerous internal and foreign issues inter-locked with them, together with the immediate economic and political future of Germany, now constitute the outstanding problems confronting the "rump" cabinet will not be able to survive the parliamentary attacks awaiting it from the German nationalists and the powerful socialist parties.

A casual survey of the party line up suggests that if Chanveillon Stresemann attempts to force a vote of confidence when the reichstag convenes, he will meet with withering defeat, as the only tangible support vouchsafed him in the present situation accrues from the clericals and democrats and the wholly disunited peoples' party.

Under these conditions there seems to be a strong probability that the chancellor will refuse to go before the reichstag with his "rump" government and will anticipate defeat, either by resigning or forcing a dissolution of the reichstag and continuing in office at the head of a non-parliamentary government comprising a semi-dictatorial directorate.

The situation with regard to the government's decisions concerning the Ruhr and the Rhineland remains wholly obscure, although inspired official bulletins and utterances continue to make emphatic declaration of the government's intention to withdraw money subsidies and unemployment doles, permitting the situation in the occupied zones to lapse into an informal industrial and economic autonomy.

RECOMMENDS FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

"Your medicine worked a miracle for me," writes Mrs. C. Biron, 140 Fayette Street, Lynn, Mass. "I was all run down, had a cough all winter, also kidney trouble and after taking a few boxes of your medicine my cough and backache left me. I can eat and sleep well. I canvass and recommend it at every house I enter." Prompt relief secured from kidney and bladder irritation, rheumatic pains through using Foley Kidney Pills. Insist on the genuine—refuse substitutes. Sold everywhere.—12-1

It is not against the law to think your neighbors are awful, but it is an awful waste of time.

Captain John J. O'Brien of Clewiston was elected president, C. L. Williams of Moore Haven secretary, and J. E. Beardsley of Ritta, treasurer.

Frank Williamson of the Alabama-Florida Kiwanis district, will present the club with its charter, which will mark the linking up of the local club, officially, with the international organization which means the Gainesville club will become definitely allied with more than 1,200 allied Kiwanis clubs in the United States and Canada.

ORLANDO'S NEW LIBRARY.

ORLANDO, Nov. 16.—This city's new $100,000 public library has been thrown open, making available to the readers of the city books valued at more than $150,000. Captain Charles Albertson alone contributed books scores of art interpretations to the institution, which have been estimated to be worth $100,000. In addition to these volumes, the library has purchased five thousand other volumes of standard works, while the Sorosis club and the United Alliance Society have tendered costly collections.

BORAH ATTACKS REPUBLICAN POLICY ON HIGH TAXATION REDUCTION ECONOMIC NECESSITY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The first broadside attack on the taxation policy of Republican organization leaders in congress was made tonight by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who declared that reduction of the present tax burden was not only an economic but a moral necessity.

If the present plan of delaying such a reduction is carried out, he said in a formal statement, it may prove a "hazardous enterprise" for congress to face its constituency next year at the polls. For the taxpayer, he asserted, is showing a strong inclination "to turn upon his torturer."

Despite these signs of the times, however, the senator added it is certain that unless those favoring reduction go to work on an affirmative program, the next session will see taxes and public expenditures increased instead of curtailed.

"The plain, immediate, imperative duty of congress," said Senator Borah, "is to relieve the tax payers of this country of a part of the great burden they are now carrying. This is one thing that congress can do, and it seems strange that there should be any delay about doing it."

"We are advised that it is practically possible to reduce taxes from $359,000,000 to $500,000,000. Senator Smoot always an advocate of economy, thinks the reduction may go to the extent of $600,000,000. To cut down the government's expenditures and the tax burden to the amount of $500,000,000 would mean much more than the actual amount indicates. It would be of almost incalculable psychological value, giving assurance to the country that congress was at last considering the interest of those who must pay the bills."

"When city, county, state and federal taxes are included, the taxpayers of this country carry a burden which I doubt can be equalled anywhere else. The effect of this economically and morally, can not be overestimated. We have undoubtedly, without exaggeration, reached a point where taxes are not only discouraging to enterprise, but actually destructive in many instances and in many ways."

"Upon what possible theory can we say to the tax payers of this country it is possible to take $500,000,000 of the load you are carrying, but we will not do so? It is true that some of the most flagrant and fearful increases in taxes are in the state, but extravagance in public expenditures is both contagious and infectious. Our continued waste and profligacy at the capital will discourage economy throughout the states."

"But while our duty is perfectly plain and while serious conditions throughout the country plead for reduction, there is little doubt but that reduction is not the program. Instead of this being a congress of economy, it gives the greatest assurance that not only millions but literally billions will be added to the obligations of the government and to the load of the tax payer."

"We are just now in Washington witnessing the uncovering of a sameless saturnalia of incompetency, waste and graft. Money appropriated for the benefit of the wounded and diseased of the late war has been thrown here and there as if dollars were waste-paper. I doubt very much, when everything is considered, the sacredness of the fund and the pathetic needs of the disabled, if a more grovelling exhibition of unconscionable indecency, of dishonesty, has ever been disclosed. The peculiar feature of it all is that those responsible for this condition seem to think since it was public money, only the tax payers' money, that no great culpability is attached to its criminal waste. I beg to say that that spirit, that view of the use of public money is marvelously widespread."

"There is a strong indication, however, that the tax payer himself is about to turn upon his torturer. He is apparently beginning to give evidence of the fact that he is alive and has a deep interest; not unaccompanied with bitterness, in what's going on. That is fortunate if it is so. It may prove a hazardous enterprise for a congress to face a constituency next year upon which it has piled vast sums in addition to what that constituency is already wrestling with."

"The method of reduction is important, exceedingly important. The particular taxes which are to be lowered will call for careful consideration. But all this, I maintain, is secondary in importance, in point of time at least, to the question of whether we are going to act upon the matter at all or simply postpone it. If we can get the subject before us we can work out the details and there is not much danger but that the taxes which bear most heavily upon those least able to pay will be lowered."

A campaign against these burdens ought to begin at Washington this winter. Ought to be carried into every state and into the coming campaign so see if it is possible to break the spell of spending which is now enervating and corrupting government and discouraging and demoralizing the people."

FRENCH PREMIER TAKES ISSUE WITH BALDWIN

As To Placing Blame For Present Differences

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Nov. 16.—Premier Poincare took issue with Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain as to who is to blame for the present Franco-British differences, when he arose unexpectedly to speak at Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. "I cannot let it be said that it is by our fault agreement has not been reached," he declared. For several years we have not ceased to make concessions from our rights and it is not on our side that the attitude is uncompromising."

THOMAS HOPKINS HERE.

Hon. Thomas Hopkins and Sir Michael Smith of Orlando were among the visitors to the city today. Mr. Hopkins is an old friend of the editor of the Herald and was cashier of the Orlando Bank and Trust Company in that city when he was the editor of the Reporter Star and we used to sit on the curbstone on Orange avenue when N. P. Yowell had the only car in Orlando and we were not afraid of being run over while we discussed the affairs of the day. Mr. Hopkins afterward went to Birmingham, Alabama and we came to Sanford and we have not seen him since until today. He has returned to Orlando and purchased the beautiful Lester Beeman home near Orlando—one of the finest country estates in Florida—and is making his home there but we believe we can induce him to come to Sanford some time in the near future and look us over. With Tom Hopkins and Mike Smith we had a great hour's talk today and lived at least twenty years in that time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Whaley of Orlando, were guests of the Valdez Thursday, Mr. Whaley coming over on business for the Underwood Typewriter Co., which company he represents.

STUDENTS VOTE AGAINST BOOZE IN WISCONSIN

3,000 AT UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN VOTE AGAINST LIQUOR.

(By The Associated Press) MADISON, Wis., Nov. 16.—By unanimous vote at a compulsory meeting last night 3,000 students of Wisconsin Co-Eds went on record as opposed to drinking among students of both sexes and decided to appeal to the Federal authorities to check drinking and its sources in Madison. A resolution prohibiting co-eds from dating with men who drink failed to pass. Profesting this resolution girls chorused how can we tell if they have been drinking.

King Dissolves Parliament Today For General Election

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Nov. 16.—King George acting on advice of his cabinet this morning dissolved parliament in preparation for general elections to be held December 6.

Farmers May Help Farmers To Market

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—Discussing efforts made in Georgia to secure a greater diversity of agricultural products, and consequently a getting away from the one-crop idea, Georgia agriculturists say that it is rather the custom to berate the farmer for his lack of initiative and disinclination to branch out and diversify but the average farmer knows nothing about how to organize a cream shipping station; cannot do it himself, cannot make the arrangements for the markets and for distribution of pay checks. These agriculturists take the position that it is distinctly "up to" the merchants and bankers of the various communities.

Business men here do not fully agree with the statement of some of the agriculturists in their implication that the farmer himself can do nothing to help in this regard, but certainly the merchants and the bankers, as they point out, would help themselves and the community generally by helping to initiate the establishment of better marketing conditions. Through co-operation and interest, of course, it is shown should be given by farmers' associations.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION PROBLEM OF ORLADNO

ORLANDO, Nov. 16.—Congestion of traffic is one of the problems with which Orlando is now contending. Thousands of autos are on the business streets every day, residents driving to their stores and offices, leaving them parked on the streets until their return home in the evenings. Other cars belong to visitors who come to the city for a few hours. One hour has been the limit for parking on the streets, but through the efforts of civic organizations, visitors will be issued "courtesy cards" that will entitle them to park for two hours.

NEW WINTERHAVEN NINE-HOLE GOLF COURSE

WINTER HAVEN, Nov. 16.—The new nine-hole Lake Region golf course, located four miles east of here on the shores of Lake Hamilton, has been opened for play. The second nine probably will be opened by January 1, next, according to present plans of the club officials.

Mr. and Mrs. Trammel Hollis of Martinsburg, W. Va., stopped over in Sanford Thursday, during their tour of the state to call on friends. They were guests of the Valdez while in this city.

BANDITS WORK VARIOUS CITIES WHILE COPS WAIT

ARE ACTIVE ALL OVER THE COUNTRY EVERY DAY.

(By The Associated Press) HOOPESTON, Ill., Nov. 16.—Bandits who cut the telephone cables here early today apparently planning a bank robbery were thwarted when Mrs. Eddie Farrell night operator turned in a fire alarm summoning scores of citizens to the streets. The rush of citizens to the streets put the intruders to flight.

GOAT CONSUMED NITRO GLYCERINE AND DYNAMITE

AND IT IS DANGEROUS TO APPROACH HIM NOW.

(By The Associated Press) AURORA, Ill., Nov. 16.—What to do with a goat that on Wednesday ate half pound of nitroglycerine in gelatine form and munched two sticks of dynamite is perplexing to authorities here. No one has been found who is willing to approach the animal and Dick Mahon, owner will not consent to killing it.

BONDS FOR NEW ROADS IN HARDEE COUNTY

WAUCHULA, Nov. 16.—Voters of Hardee county have been notified that an election to pass on the issuance of $850,000 in bonds will be held on December 18 for the construction of hard-surfaced roads in the county. A similar proposal was defeated at the polls on December 19, last. Proposals for the roads that would be built from the proceeds of the bond issue call for six-inch base of Ocala limestone, fifteen-foot roads running across the county from east to west. The roads would have a top surface of asphaltic concrete. The balance of the roads would be finished with tarvia or asphalt oil penetration. The total mileage proposed is 89 miles to connect every developed section of the county with a hard surfaced road leading to the county seat.

EAST COAST WATER TRAFFIC LEAGUE

MELBOURN, Nov. 16.—Organization of the East Coast Water Traffic League has been perfected here having as its object a campaign to obtain water transportation for this section. H. M. Field, of Cocoa, speaking of the possibilities said water transportation was the greatest future need, and he urged that everybody interested in the proposition should unite to get it. "Steamers are passing in the Gulf Stream 12 miles out loaded with fruit for the New York market, shipped from California at a cheaper rate on a 3500-mile haul than we get as suburban New Yorkers," and largely because our railroad lines are overcrowded, and vessels do not dock in our district. Competition will lower the rates."

OF KU KLUX KLAN IN OKLAHOMA PROCEEDINGS

FOR TRIAL USE

In Impeachment of Governor Walton Now Going On

(By The Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—Defense counsel announced today it was prepared to go to Atlanta to obtain records of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma for use in the impeachment trial of Governor Walton if the subpoena issued yesterday for N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in this state fails to produce them.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton passed slowly through the opening Thursday of the prosecution's efforts to substantiate the charge that the executive abused his pardon and parole powers.

Frequently interrupted by argument of counsel during which witnesses were on the stand long intervals without being questioned, and by frequent questions from members of the court, little progress was made in presenting the purported account of Governor Walton's clemency record. Counsel for the defense announced Thursday that a subpoena had been issued for N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, ordering him to bring before the court complete state records of the Klan including the entire Oklahoma membership roll.

A HOME SONG.

I turned an ancient poet's book, And found upon the page: "Stone walls do not a prison make, Nor iron bars a cage."

Yes, that is true; and something more: You'll find, wh'er you roam, That marble floors and gilded walls Can never make a home.

But every house where Love abides And Friendship is a guest Is surely home, and home, sweet home; For there the heart can rest.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Bowel Trouble Soon Relieved By Teethina

The first two years of baby's life are the most trying on mothers. Incessant care must be exercised by the mother in baby's diet. Its little stomach is so easily upset and bowel troubles are a constant menace. At such times Teethina will assist in keeping baby well and greatly lessen the mother's anxiety.

Mrs. John W. Mobley, Route 3, Whigham, Ga., writes: "My baby had chills and fever. He was very sick and his bowels were loose. My doctor gave me a medicine for him, but it didn't do him any good."

"I started him on Teethina and he soon got over the trouble and is now well and lively as a kitten." Teethina is sold by all druggists, or send 30c to the Moffett Laboratories, Columbus, Ga., for a package and a free booklet about babies.

Mrs. DeForrest, Mrs. Volie Williams, Archer Swanson and a number of others from this section attended the Armistice Day in Sanford Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Collier were callers in the Ballinger home in the afternoon.

Mrs. Volie Williams entertained Mrs. Borell, Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson and Archie Swanson at dinner on the seventh.

Mrs. R. Tolar of Sanford spent Wednesday with her father, G. Malm and sister, Mrs. Hanson. The latter will keep house for her folks as her brother, George and her sister, Miss Florence are now at home.

Rev. J. S. Clark will preach for us at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, at 3:30. They are planning on holding a social at the Lake Mary Casino and also at Paola in the interest of the churches and their members next Friday evening. We had thought of having one here but on hearing of the others, put it off.

Prof. Rodmore of Rollins College went over with the pastor to Sorrento and Paola, relieving him a little of his arduous work.

Benjamin Swan returned home Saturday, having spent the summer and fall thus far with his sisters in Boston. He says he started up the furnace fire for them the day he left, so winter hold off pretty well there. His wife will remain there this winter.

Volie Williams and little son, Volie, Jr., went to Jacksonville on business Friday, returning Saturday night. They came home by way of St. Augustine where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. Mr. Campbell's aunt from Indiana is visiting them at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Voorhes and children have moved into the Sjoblom cottage just beyond Mr. Hirschi. Mrs. Voorhes teaches at Altamonte.

Miss Margaret Ericson attended the wedding of her friend, Miss Allen in Sanford last Sunday.

Quite a party of Upsala folks, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lundquist and children, Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson and son, Archie, Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Lundquist and daughter, Mr. Lester, went to Piedmont last Sunday, taking over Mrs. J. E. Lundquist to spend a couple of weeks with their many friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sutton and children have moved from near the gas plant in Sanford to the Cramer cottage in Grapeville. The wife's sister, Mrs. Susie Holt and daughter, Mary, are staying with them.

Mrs. Westerlick returned home from Orlando ill with a bad cold, Wednesday but had the pleasure of going again Saturday evening and remaining over Sunday with Mrs. Sutton and sister.

Mr. West and family also went again for the day, Mr. Foster going with them. They all express it as a very enjoyable meeting. Mr. Cramer and family are to go to Miami we hear, in the work.

The sad but expected news of the death of Mrs. Albion Swanson at noon on Armistice Day, came to Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson from their son, Albion at St. Paul, Minn. It occurred at the home of her mother and brother, Mr. Redlund. The poor mother has another daughter sick for four years with this dreadful disease, tuberculosis. It will be remembered that Mr. Swanson brought his young wife here in May from Kansas hoping that the change south might help for and all that loving care could do was done but of no avail as she only grew weaker. Then he took her to a sanitarium at Asheville, N. C., and then she wished to be taken home to her mother where the end soon came. All here sympathize with the family in the loss of this lovely Christian woman. She leaves a loving husband and a little three year old daughter.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK The Supreme Missionary Of All Time

By William Jennings Bryan

Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan. (Matt 9:35-38; Luke 8:1; John 3:16-17)

The supreme Missionary of all time was Jesus Christ our Lord, though I wonder how many of us ever think of Him as such and recognize that the four gospels are almost entirely devoted to work which was missionary in character.

"And Jesus," records Matthew, "went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Note His impartiality; He did not confine Himself to the cities where great numbers could be gathered together on short notice, but visited in villages, as well—and "the common people heard him gladly."

Peloubet's Notes present a very striking thought in connection with Christ's travels. They take a single country, India, and point out that "if Christ had started on the day of his baptism to preach to the villages of India and had continued up to the present, visiting one village a day, He would still have thirty thousand villages to visit." And India is but a part of the world!

As the missionary work of Jesus covers only three years, the total number of cities and villages visited was necessarily small, and yet the gospel preached and the healing done in them laid the foundation for a spiritual kingdom that has been growing ever since.

Besides teaching in the synagogue and preaching the "gospel of the kingdom," He was busy "healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness," as the revised version has it. The spiritual side of Christ's work has been emphasized throughout the ages, but little emphasis has been placed upon the healing of bodily ills.

It is proper that the spiritual should have precedence over the purely physical for, as Mrs. McPherson puts it, life is so short that the healing of the body helps for a few years only while the soul lives forever, and yet it should not be forgotten that Christ, by healing the sick, not only manifested His sympathy, but furnished evidence of His divine power.

The recorded miracles wrought by Him included the curing of practically every form of disease known at that time. In sending back an answer to an inquiry, He recounted a number of evidences of His power: "The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them." Besides these diseases, He healed dropsy, dumbness, fever, palsy, issue of blood and withered muscles and also cast out devils.

But—and here is a thought that challenges attention—when Christ "saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd."

He had the power to help, and He could not rest when He saw all about Him a need which He could supply. The people were like sheep without a shepherd; they needed leadership and there was no one to lead them. And is not that the condition today in many parts of the world?

There are great masses of people to whom the Gospel has not been carried—human souls that await the light. They need to know of God's love; they need to be informed of Christ's sacrifice and to have communicated to them His heaven-born wisdom that they may profit by His teachings.

Not only is this true in heathen lands, but it is true in many places and among many groups in Christian lands. The home missionary, therefore, has a work as important as the work of a foreign missionary and a work that should be more easily accomplished. No Christian with whom religion is a reality can feel at ease if he is not doing his part to aid these shepherdless sheep scattered over so many pastures.

In our own land the interest in Christian education is stimulated by the fact that many young men and young women who receive their education without any admixture of spiritual training turn a deaf ear to the cries of spiritual distress that arise on every side. What a change would be wrought if every college graduate, man and woman, returning from an institution of learning, would return to religious work at home in church and Sunday school, giving those of less education the benefit of the mental training received in college.

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

Then saith he unto his disciples, the harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

And it came to pass afterwards, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God, and the twelve were with him.

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

And became a teacher, that pronounced day would soon be ushered in when "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess" to God.

"The harvest truly is plenteous" as it was when Christ looked out upon the field, but the laborers are few now, even as they were then. We need to pray earnestly today as the disciples were asked to pray—"to the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth laborers into his harvest."

Luke, in almost the same words used by Matthew, records a description of Christ's journeyings through the cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good tidings of the kingdom of God. The twelve traveled with Him; they were assisting Him in all His labors and, at the same time, acquiring the experience that they would soon need. He was training them for the work for which they were enlisted. They were chosen to preach the Gospel that He preached and to heal even as He healed.

The words of John glow with his own enthusiasm; no wonder his gospel is so constantly used in his evangelical work. In no other book of the Bible do we find a description of God's affection for His children and Christ's loving sacrifices so vividly portrayed and emphasized.

In a few unforgettable words John embodies the very essence of the Saviour's missionary purpose—"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The next verse re-enforces it, "For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved."

Here we have the compelling force that led the Heavenly Father to send His only Son to earth—it was love, the greatest force in the world, the love of One who is described as love personified.

Here we have, also, the purpose for which the Son came; namely, that the world through Him might be saved.

Some profess to see in Christ only a teacher, but even these must admit that Christ's moral code presents the only solution of the problems that confront the world. His is the only philosophy that fits into every human need. His precepts are the only ones that can smooth out all the difficulties of daily life and bring peace to each troubled heart. He solves international problems as well as personal, domestic and national problems.

Just as the body will perish without the water that we draw from springs and streams and wells, so the Water of Life is necessary—and Jesus is that Water of Life.

Acceptance is necessary if one's will is to be left free. Christ cannot be forced upon one who does not want Him. The whole character of the spiritual world would be altered if one could be saved against his will. Salvation is free and for all—"Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely"—but he must take it himself.

He is the Prince of Peace and His gospel, when accepted and applied, will bring peace, universal and perpetual.

But why not accept Christ as a divine character instead of a mere human being? His words come with more compelling force when they bear the royal stamp of the only begotten Son of God.

Whether a person's words have weight with us depends very largely upon our estimate of the person. When we read man's words we estimate them according to human rules; we weigh them in our own apothecary scales and feel free to reject them when they conflict with our judgment or interfere with our desire.

Not so with the words that come from One who was not only Son of God, but equal with Him. Only make an impression deep enough to regulate our lives and strengthen us to resist temptations.

"That whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"Why," some may ask, "does salvation depend upon believing—or accepting Christ?"

Because that is the only normal or logical way by which one can obtain any good thing.

Our bodies are nourished by food that we accept—acceptance is necessary, for rejection means the death of the body.

We become educated by accepting instruction—rejection of instruction means intellectual death.

How, otherwise than by accepting spiritual nourishment, can the life of the soul be sustained? Just as the eating of the bread made from flour sustains the body, so the acceptance of Christ, who is the Bread of Life, can save the soul from death.

The acceptance of Christ is a reasonable requirement if one would become a beneficiary of His blood; acceptance is the beginning of the relationship between the Elder Brother and the rest of God's children—after that comes growth in grace and in strength by obedience to every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. This is the message to all from the Great Missionary and the message which each should carry to all others who have not received it.

As the people about blind Bartimaeus communicated unto him the invitation of Christ, saying, "He calleth thee," so every Christian should become a messenger for the spread of the invitation extended by Christ to every human being throughout all generations.

Vero, one of the fastest growing towns on the east coast is building a $200,000 tourist hotel. That is the way to go after business.

We note many strangers and men of means in Sanford these days. There is a greater opportunity for investment in Sanford today than in any other city in the south. Look it over.

The big Jacksonville Fair opened this week and from all reports it is a good one and a credit to the state. We cannot have too many fairs and places where the visitors can see what a great agricultural state Florida really has become.

The state papers are all coming round to the idea of the editor of the Herald that "charity begins at home." For years we have preached this doctrine and tried to point out that we have children to feed and clothe and poor and needy to take care of in this state and much of the money being sent to foreign countries should be spent in this state.

We note many California cars in Florida this season and this means many things. It means that the fame of Florida is reaching even the state that is our only rival for the claims put out for California and Florida as being the only places where you can raise citrus fruits and winter vegetables and the play grounds of the winter tourists.

GIDDAP! WHOA! GIDDAP! WHOA!

ple are coming to Florida to look us over and we would like to get some of them for permanent residents. California people know how to boast a state and we could learn much from them along this line.

AGRICULTURAL SITUATION BETTER THAN FOR YEARS.

Considering prevailing prices Southern agriculture is in a better position than for some years, while the agricultural situation for the entire country is the best in the last three years.

Purchasing power of farm products, though still at a disparity as compared with industrial products, is now at the highest point in three years, declares the Agricultural Department in its November agricultural review.

"Spring wheat territory continues in distress and is still trying to find some remedy," it is stated. "Farmers in this territory are also discouraged at the low price of potatoes and incidental crops. There is considerable talk of diversification, and especially of increasing dairy stock."

tember were slightly higher than in August, and 23 per cent higher than September a year ago. Prices of livestock products as a group made the largest gain of any one month since February, 1922. By specific products, advances were made in cotton, wheat, hogs, eggs, butter, and lamb. Corn and potatoes registered declines.

The index of purchasing power of farm products as a group is placed at 75 as compared with 73 in August and with 61 in September a year ago. The run of hogs and sheep to market continued heavy although many shreds were redist to feeders. Exports of wheat including flour during the first nine months of 1923 were 50,000,000 bushels less than during the corresponding period of 1922, whereas exports of lamb show an increase of 226,000,000 pounds, and of bacon, hams and shoulders 114,000,000 pounds.—Manufacturers' Record.

MORE ABOUT PARKING

"As long as parking places are so hard to find in Orlando, and only one hour parking is allowed, people from the neighboring smaller towns will be discouraged from going to the City Beautiful on shopping expeditions."—Mt. Dora Topics.

Sorry because we can't make rubber chases out of our curbing and increase the size of our streets. Glad because lack of space for autos indicates pep, prosperity, petulance and perspiration. It is better to have little or no parking space than to have a dead, dormant, decaying town where cobwebs and dust gathers. However, the Courtesy Card is a good idea and we are going to see that Miss E. D. Edburn, editor of the Topic, gets a great big shining card, all nicely framed so when she comes over, or Bob Holly of Sanford Willis Powell of Tavares, B. H. Things Worth While Picked Up Along the Way; Some From Pens Long Ago Laid Down; Some From Pens of Later Days

"GOD KNOWS" In a buryground in the far, far West, Where the graves of the shipwrecked lie, 'Mid the grass green foam, like specks of foam, Thrown in from the sea hard by; And mused to marble with many a trace, By the winking wind o'erspread, Is a tablet white with an upturned fled, With "God Knows" brokenly carved thereon, Like a sob that has stiffened along the stone, Like a sob that has knotted in breast and throat, Long after the voice congeals, That mute "God Knows" amongst Death's windrows, To the reader of tombs appeals, 'Tis a child's light body those daisies deck, The sole one washed ashore From the fated immigrants' ill-starred wreck, And its wave 'whelmed human store— The only body of all the drown'd, Nameless and nude, that was ever found, The old priest paused in the funeral rite, "The name of the dead?" quoth he, "God Knows," said the clerk of the village kirk— And the waif from the dark blue sea With only those words on the tombstone gray, Which so much to the heart express, Was folded away to the Judgment Day, 'Mid the daisies of the far, far West, And ever anon in a cadence deep, The winds and the waves a requiem keep; And the mist at morn, and the sun at noon, And the stars when the day is done, And the pale moon, too, thro' the shimmer of dew, Wave o'er the nameless one. But God in His infinite mercy knows What a liquid name and rare From out seraphic angels' lips When they speak of our waif up there, "God Knows" in the heart's maternal breast, Unnamed and unknown find equal rest. —Author Unknown.

even on Hood Field tomorrow afternoon. This promises to be an exceptionally good game as both teams are very evenly matched in weight and speed.

Coach Wilkinson finished putting his men through a hard workout this afternoon in preparation for the fray with the Saints tomorrow and states that his team is in the pink of condition for what promises to be one of their hardest games of the year. He has strengthened the line considerably which is about the only weak link in the Sanford High grid machine. With a fast backfield as he has got many expect to see a complete walk away but still the wiser ones shake their heads and say "you can't ever tell!"

This is enough to give anyone the impression which is true that the grid battle tomorrow afternoon will be a first rate one.

A radio message sent to Warsaw returned the same second and we don't blame the message at all.

Robt Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved--Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotab"

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotab." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water--that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price on a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Adv.) 8-29-wed-fri-6-wkly

Lakeland Prepared To Welcome Gators

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 16.--All clocks have been set to indicate the hour of the arrival of the 'Gator clan from the University of Florida here this afternoon for their battle with Southern College tomorrow and all plans have been made to give them a cordial welcome to Polk county.

The game tomorrow between these institutions will bring out a record crowd for Lakeland and plans have been made to entertain visitors from all sections of South Florida. Saturday, November the seventeenth, will prove a gala day for Lakeland as this game will have every appearance of a real football classic.

All high school football squads of the state have been extended a cordial invitation by the Southern management to attend this game as their guests and at the present time seven different squads have accepted this invitation. The Hillsboro-Plant City game was advanced a day from their original schedule in order that these two squads might have an opportunity to witness this game.

The entire gator squad is in the pink of condition for this game. They have been given a week of real work in preparation for the remaining hard games of their schedule. For the past three games their work has been more or less ragged on account of the fact that several of their regulars have been held out due to slight injuries and Coach Van Fleet will welcome the opportunity of sending his best offerings back in harness in order to work them together before their battle with Alabama a week from now.

With the exception of possibly two regulars the Southerners are in the best condition that they have reached this season and will enter Saturday's battle confident of holding the Gators to as low a score as either Stetson or Rollins. The fighting spirit and all round defensive work that has been displayed by the Blue and White in their last two games is sufficient evidence that the Gators will have to extend their full strength throughout the contest.

The Gators will reach Lakeland this afternoon at six o'clock and will be quartered at the Thelma Hotel as the guests of the Southerners. The game will be played on Adair Field and will begin promptly at 3:00 p. m.

MEN'S CLUB-MERCHANTS GAME POSTPONED, WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT

The game will be played tonight at the Bowling Alley at 7:30 sharp. The public is cordially invited as these games are free of charge.

The Men's Club-Merchant game scheduled for last night in the bowling league was postponed on account of the concert last night which was staged by the Woman's Club. Instead
