County Reorganizational Meeting Next Week

New Commission Chairman Likely

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioners may elect a new commission chairman next week at their annual organizational meeting.

Commission chairman Bob Sturm said he would be happy to serve again as chairman for a third consecutive one-year term as chairman, but says it may be unlikely.

"If my peers wish to elect me as chairman, I will be happy to serve, however, I think someone else will be nominated."

Sturm said.

"It's very rare that the same person serves as chairman three years in a row," he explained.

"I suspect one of the four other commissioners names will be placed in nomination," Sturm added.

Of the other four commissioners, two have previously been elected chairman of the board, and two have not. Sandra Glenn and Bill Kirchhoff are former chairmen, while Barbara Christensen and the newest commissioner Fred Streetman, who has been in office two years, have not served as chairman. Streetman has served as vice chairman for the past year, and thus could be considered a prime candidate for the top spot.

"We'll just have to wait and see what the wishes of the board are," Streetman said. "If elected as chairman or vice chairman, I'd serve," he continued. "If I'm not elected to anything, I would accept that, too."

Sturm, Streetman, Glenn, and Kirchhoff, each refused to reveal any potential

County To Consider Changes

More than 1,400 acres of land designated as general rural or preservation areas in Seminole County are among parcels requested for amendments to the county's comprehensive land use plan to be considered next spring.

About 30 requests will be considered during the newest round of requested changes to the comprehensive plan, which is used as a growth management tool to designate land uses throughout the county.

The largest parcel included in the amendment request is 686 acres on Red Bug Lake Road west of State Road 426. Duda Lands, Inc. is asking the land use designation for the property be changed from general rural and preservation area which allows between one home per acre to one home per five acres. They are requesting low density residential designation, which would allow up to four homes per acre. No zoning change request accompanies the comprehensive plan amendment request.

Another development company is requesting a like change in designation for 217 acres near the intersection of Lake Hayes Road and Lockwood Road. ZOM Company is asking the plan amendment to allow potential development of the property, which is now zoned for agricultural use. No zoning change accompanies the amendment request.

Several other plan amendment requests for parcels of more than 100 acres have also been made.

The requests will be heard by the county planning and zoning

New Chairman, Members

School Board Reorganizes

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

Joe Williams is the new chairman of the Seminole County School Board, elected Tuesday in a unanimous vote. Pat Telson is the new vice chairman.

In addition, the board has two newly sworn members, Larry Betsinger and Ann Neiswender, who took the oath of office at the reorganizational meeting Tuesday.

Williams, who was previously vice chairman, replaces Nancy Warren, who has held the position for two years and who nominated both Williams and

Board Affirms Fines

Hotel Violation Penalties Now Exceed $10,000 Mark

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Code violation fines against Florida Hotel owner Peggy Nestor have topped the $10,000 mark and will continue to mount at $275-a-day until she meets all requirements city commissioners set forth when granting her two building requirement waivers earlier this fall. Sanford code enforcement board members said Tuesday.

The fines total $10,625 as of today. They are $250-a-day, charged as of Oct. 15, when Mrs. Nestor failed to complete installation of an off-street parking area; and $25-a-day leveled Sept. 16, when she failed to replace 25 doors the city's building department judged fire hazards in February.

At Mrs. Nestor's request, city commissioners have relaxed building requirements this fall by granting waivers to help expedite her efforts. However, Mrs. Nestor has yet to meet conditions commissioners set forth when granting the considerations and the fines will continue until she does, code board members said Tuesday. Instead of paying the parking lot as building code requires, commissioners are allowing it to be mulched. Although the mulch is in, a curbing area commissioners required as a condition of the waiver has yet to be passed on through staff survey. City Building Inspector Dan Florian said Tuesday.

The engineering staff originally told Mrs. Nestor the lot was in compliance as of Oct. 30, but at the city commission's Nov. 11 meeting, Commissioner John Mercer said this was not the case. Mercer said his motion to grant the paving waiver last month included the curbing requirement that has yet to be completed. On Nov. 11 Mercer said he had visited the lot, "and as far as I'm concerned, she's not in compliance."

When he told Mrs. Nestor the lot's completion required more work she said she would comply with commissioners' wishes. On Tuesday, Florian said neither he nor engineering department staff

Art Linkletter To Be Speaker At Martin Luther King Fete

Art Linkletter has been tapped as keynote speaker for the Jan. 17 Martin Luther King celebration banquet at the Sanford Civic Center.

The banquet will culminate a triad of tributes King celebration committee members plan in Sanford the week of Jan. 11-17. During a meeting at Sanford City Hall Tuesday, King committee members said banquet chairwoman Shirley Schilke is expected to complete plans this week to bring Linkletter to Sanford.

In addition to the banquet, the civic center will also serve as the scene for an interdenominational religious observance, Sunday, Jan. 11, from 2 to 4 p.m.; and a youth night celebration in honor of King, Friday, Jan. 16, from 7 to 9 p.m.

All three King celebrations will focus on "Peace and Growth Through Brotherhood."

"We want people of all groups participating, because that's what Martin Luther King was truly all about," King committee chairman Lurleen Sweeting said Tuesday.

The banquet will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and serve to honor a number of corporate and civic leaders with "Brotherhood Awards." Also recognized will be local citizens who, "despite personal hardships have raised their families to be positive contributors to society," Dr. Sweeting said. Residents are invited to submit names of prospective honorees to the Martin Luther King Tribute Committee, PO Box 1255, Sanford.

Tickets for the banquet will be $15 and hopefully cover Linkletter's appearance fee, Dr. Sweeting said.

The Jan. 11 religious observance is being planned by three local pastors who have counted 108 churches in the Sanford area and want all their clergy leaders and members to participate in the ceremony.

Tribute planners are also working on securing Bethune-Cookman College President Dr. Oswald Bronson to lead the religious observance. It will include an inter-denominational choir of area church members and local children performing an interpretative dance to the song "Morning Has Broken."

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith will also be invited to participate in the ceremony.

The tribute's Jan. 16 youth program will recognize winners of art, essay and oratory contests

Vogt Elected Senate President

From Staff and Wire Reports

John Vogt, newly-elected president of the Florida Senate, says he favors a special session of the legislature to consider the problems of crack cocaine and prison over-crowding. He also indicated his support for directing revenue from the newly authorized state lottery to education.

Sen. Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, was elected Tuesday as Senate president by a 27-13 vote, defeating Ken Jenne. His election came as a result of a coalition of conservative Democrats and Republicans.

The new Senate leadership moved to assert its control almost immediately. Over the objections of Jenne and his backers, Sen. Dempsey Barron, Rules chairman, moved to change the Senate's rules of procedure so that a prayer would be offered immediately after the Senate is called into session each day.

"If we fall in this Christian nation today to provide for a prayer... the only story will be that we met here today to vote against prayer," warned Barron.

Under outgoing president and Jenne mentor Sen. Harry Johnston, D-West Palm Beach, the prayer had been given before session formally began. Johnston's rule allowed senators to skip the prayer if they feared offense to their religious principles yet be counted as present for the day's business.

Jenne and many of his supporters said that distinction kept a proper separation of church and state and that to change it would in effect coerce Jews, agnostics and other religious minorities to participate.

Jenne, D-Fort Lauderdale, had been the president-designee but the makeup of the Senate was changed drastically by the strong conservative showing in the Nov. 4 general election and only 13 Democrats remained with him during voting today. Jenne later moved successfully to have the vote made unanimous in Vogt's favor.

Vogt said his agenda would include growth management and funding for growth related infrastructure improvements from transportation to schools.

POLICE

Smoking Alleged Pot On Porch Leads Police To Arrest Couple

A Sanford man and woman spotted by Sanford police as they allegedly smoked marijuana on the front porch of their home at 1414 Southwest Road, were arrested at their home after being confronted by police at about 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Linda Diane Coleman, 28, and Delmons Milton Barnes, 36, have each been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. They have both been declared a public nuisance and were being held in lieu of $500 bond each.

Suspect Linked To Burglary

Sanford police reported linking a 23-year-old man to a Monday burglary of 417 S. Bay Ave., Sanford, in which a $150 shotgun was stolen.

David Calvin Cleveland Jr., no street address, was charged with armed burglary and grand theft after questioning at the Sanford police station at about 9 p.m. Monday. He was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

2 Sleeping In Car Arrested

Two men sleeping in a car parked near woods at Kmart, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, at about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday, were jailed on grand theft auto charges after a Seminole County sheriff's deputy determined the 1974 Toyota they were in had been reported stolen in Ashville, N.C.

Robert Burdette Jones, 57, of Spruce Pine, N.C., and Charles Rex Forester, 53, of no listed address, were being held in lieu of $4,500 bond each.

Two Of Six Who Fled Arrested

Two of six men who fled from a Seminole County sheriff's deputy were caught and jailed. The deputy said he was approaching them from woods off of North Street near Altamonte Springs after seeing them stop and block traffic on the street.

One of the two fled on a bicycle and then abandoned it; he was caught when he returned to get it. The other man was caught when he ran.

Donald Lorenza Thomas, 21, of 311 Salina Drive, Altamonte Springs, the bicyclist, and Marcus Leon Florence, 26, of 173 North St., Altamonte Springs, were arrested at about 2:45 a.m. Tuesday. Both have been charged with unlawful assembly. Thomas has also been charged with resisting arrest and was being held in lieu of $500 bond. Florence was being held in lieu of $100 bond.

Woman Charged With DUI

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence: —Margie Zuch Weinkauff, 42, of 750 E. Alpine St., Altamonte Springs, was arrested at 9:40 a.m. Monday after her car was in an accident on North Street.

Woman Says She Resisted Sex

A 34-year-old Winter Park woman reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that her husband brought home a man at about 11 p.m. Saturday and they both had sex with the woman, despite the woman's verbal, but not physical resistance.

The woman told deputies she hadn't decided if she wanted to have charges filed against the men.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Debra Ann Smith, 18, of 824-3, N. Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect who may have stolen her 1984 Pontiac valued at $9,000, while it was parked at Route 1, Box 52, Winter Park, in southeast Seminole County, Monday.

Linens and other household items with a combined value of $368 were stolen from the home of William John Molasso, 42, of 110 Hunters Trail, Longwood, between Saturday and Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A Florida Department of Transportation worker reported to sheriff's deputies that two batteries valued at $125 each were stolen from two tractors parked at state roads 46 and 426, Geneva, between Friday and Monday.

A wishing well containing an antique milk can and valued at $150 was stolen from the yard of Beverly Davis, 63, of 1542 Elfstone Drive, Casselberry. A sheriff's report said the theft occurred Saturday or Sunday.

Alita Denise Stan, 24, 110 W. Airport Blvd., told Sanford police someone pried open the screen to an unlocked window of her apartment and took a gold necklace and radio valued at $540.

Gerald Merkler, 40, of 914 Willow Run, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $250 air compressor was stolen from his home Monday.

A thousand dollars worth of tools were reportedly taken from a car parked at 115 N. Oak Ave. Thursday evening.

Pamela Miller, 33, of Longwood told Sanford police someone took a 20-button telephone set from her desk at the Seminole County Health Center, 240 W. Airport Blvd. Thursday.

Plans Progressing To Increase Parking, Improve Traffic Flow, At Marina Isle

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

While development plans on and just off Sanford's marina isle are progressing, so are John Smith's plans to facilitate traffic flow in the 12-acre parcel's main parking lot. Smith, one of three lessors on the city-owned isle, plans to open a 14,000 sq. ft. commercial complex on the land by Dec. 15.

At a commission work session Monday, Smith proposed traffic run one-way in the parking area in front of his project. The area is currently patterned for two-way movement, and Smith said amending it to travel in only an easterly direction would improve traffic flow without a loss of parking spaces.

Commissioners asked Smith to work up parking plan specifics and present them to the city for review.

The isle's parking lot lies just east of the Holiday Inn complex, between N. Palmetto Avenue and Chuck Volk's Monroe Harbor Marine building. Smith's retail complex lies at the northernmost tip of lot, just off the lake.

Part of Smith's site plan process last fall included a re-patterning of the parking lot to afford more spaces. City staff worked up the plan to increase the lot's spaces from 158 to 162, after Sanford's Planning and Zoning Board cited a concern about insufficient parking as a prime reason for refusing to sanction the project. The P&Z ruling was subsequently overturned by city commissioners on appeal.

Just off the isle, Volk wants to begin adding 99 new dock slips by the end of the year. Volk said the marina expansion should not impact parking availability at the lot. "I don't think this will cause a hardship," he said. "You're lucky if you see the people who rent slips twice a month."

Volk said the state had already indicated it will sanction the project and that he expects final approval before the end of this year.

The city's third isle lessor is the lakefront Holiday Inn complex, and co-owner Ed Welch envisions a 40-room addition to the hotel within two years. Welch was unable to attend Monday's session, but according to statements he made previously, the 40-unit addition would be separate from the main hotel, located on two acres of grass lying in front of it, between Fitzgerald's lounge and N. Palmetto Avenue.

Those losing in jostling for isle parking can go across the street to Sanford's municipal lot. The city is presently working on a proposal to add between 80 and 90 spaces to the lot by closing off Hood Avenue, which lies between the lot and the Seminole County courthouse. The closing has been endorsed by Seminole County Clerk of the Court David Berrien in correspondence to the city. The city's Scenic Improvement Board would incorporate the expansion into a re-landscaping plan it has already worked up for the lot.

Staff Moves To New Jail

The move is on into the addition to the Seminole County jail with the booking department, administrative offices, kitchen and medical department being transferred first.

The move was started Tuesday and Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said he expects part of the move to be completed by this weekend. He said inmates will not be moved until December.

State inspectors toured the jail expansion last week, Polk said. After the move from the old jail to the new is completed the old section of the jail will be revamped.

The old offices occupied by those in the first phase of the move will be sealed off temporarily, with prisoners and guards remaining behind in three sections where they are normally housed, Polk said.

When all phases of the expansion and renovation are complete the jail will have space for 480 beds. Before the expansion, the capacity for the old jail was set by the state at 236, but typically the jail houses around 300 inmates each day.

A one-year, one-cent Seminole County sales tax in 1985 netted about $13 million to pay for the project. The total job is slated to be completed in late 1987.

The jail is located at Five Points, off U.S. Highway 17-92, south of Sanford. State lawsuits related to overcrowded conditions in the jail have been filed against the county, but Polk has said he expects the move into the new space to kill the suits.

Parking Lot Lurker Nabbed

A man found lurking in the parking lot of St. Johns Apartments, 240 Oxford Road, Fern Park, at about midnight Monday, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy.

The deputy was called to the scene by a woman who said she had seen the man try to get into her car. As the deputy watched the suspect, the man allegedly tried to enter several vehicles and did take a book from one car and threw it over the roof of a building.

Robert Dale Horne, who refused to give an address, has been charged with attempted burglary and burglary to a conveyance. He was being held in lieu of $6,000 bond.

Tropical Wave Moves North

MIAMI (UPI) — A late-season tropical depression moved north over the open Atlantic today carrying top sustained winds of 35 mph on a path that posed a threat only to shipping interests.

At 5 a.m. EST, the depression was centered about 500 miles south southeast of Bermuda and was moving north at 10 mph.

"A general northerly motion at 10 to 15 mph is forecast to continue today," forecaster Miles Lawrence said.

An Air Force reconnaissance plane was scheduled to fly into the area today to obtain specific information about the disturbance.

If the depression develops circulating and sustained winds of 39 mph, it will be declared a tropical storm and named Frances, the sixth storm of the 1986 Atlantic-Caribbean hurricane season, which began June 1 and ends Nov. 30.

Only three of this season's storms have become hurricanes. Bonnie, a minimal hurricane, hit the Texas coast in June. Charley brushed by Cape Hatteras, N.C., in August then turned out to sea and Earl withered in the open Atlantic without affecting land.

A wintry storm blamed for three deaths blanketed parts of the Northeast today with the "biggest snow of the season so far," knocking out power in Pennsylvania and prompting New England road crews to begin clearing highways.

The fast-moving storm dumped 15 inches of snow in Wyoming and 9 inches in Iowa before roaring into the Northeast. Snow fell early today from southern New England to southern New York and Pennsylvania, where up to a foot was recorded.

Ray Vianesi of the National Weather Service in Pittsburgh said, "This is the biggest snow of the season so far."

The snow reached southern Connecticut shortly after midnight and the state transportation department sent out road crews, said Cindy Bean, a dispatcher with the state police in Scarborough.

"On the turnpike they've lowered the speed limit to 45 mph with caution," Bean said. "The roads are slick at this time."

In Boston, highway crews for 1,000 trucks were ordered to stand by and in western Massachusetts crews took out sanding and salting trucks. Department of Public Works spokesman Fred Iarrobino said.

"One snowstorm is just like another," he said. "Three inches could be as bad as 10 inches."

Smaller snowfalls could pose greater problems because "in a lesser storm you get a little more icing," he said.

By early today, a half-foot of snow covered Binghamton, N.Y., and Wilmington, Vt., and an inch was reported at both Rochester and Syracuse, N.Y.

In north-central Pennsylvania, a foot of snow buried the Coudersport State Police barracks. Power was knocked out in Coudersport and Roulette in Potter County and downed lines sparked fires in Tioga County, officials said.

Nearly 5 inches fell farther south at Williamsport, where trooper Daryl Baker said, "It kind of dumped on us all at once."

A winter storm warning for a foot of snow covered the Pocono Mountains and 6 to 8 inches of snow was expected in New York's Catskills. Travelers advisories for snow reached from New Jersey to Vermont and rain doused the mid-Atlantic coast.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Shuttle Emergency Escape Test On Tap For Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Space agency engineers and astronauts geared up today for an elaborate emergency escape drill Thursday with the shuttle Atlantis, the most extensive such test in the history of the shuttle program.

A crew of seven rookie astronauts planned to review the escape exercise today and board the shuttle Atlantis, allowing rescue workers to climb inside to familiarize themselves with the conditions they would face in a real evacuation of the crew cabin.

In the escape test Thursday, an emergency will be simulated while the astronauts are boarding the ship during a mock countdown and some of the crew members will pretend to be injured. Rescue teams will race to the launch pad — the same one used by Challenger on Jan. 28 — to assist with an evacuation.

Taking part in the exercise will be astronauts Frank Culbertson, Stephen Oswald, Carl Meade, Kathryn Thornton, David Low, Pierre Thuot and Jerome Apt.

Coast Guard Intercepts Drugs

MIAMI (UPI) — Two boats were intentionally sabotaged and a third sank after being hit by U.S. Navy gunfire this weekend in the Caribbean Sea as authorities intercepted 19 tons of marijuana and arrested 19 crewmen.

A wounded suspect from the Rose Marie, the ship hit by gunfire, was airlifted to San Juan, Puerto Rico Saturday for medical treatment. The remaining 18 suspects from the three boats were transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Sagebrush, scheduled to arrive in San Juan about 11 a.m. today.

Lt. Cmdr. Jim Simpson said Tuesday the incidents occurred between 40 and 100 miles out from Colombia.

The USS King seized the 50-foot shrimp Captain Robert, arrested its eight crewmen and seized five tons of marijuana Friday, Simpson said. The Captain Robert sank after the smugglers opened the sea valves and smashed the piping, he said.

Murder, Racketeering Charged

MIAMI (UPI) — An indictment unsealed in Miami has charged nine fugitives with racketeering, various drug offenses and two murders and details what authorities call the biggest cocaine smuggling operation on record.

The indictment, unsealed Tuesday, culminates three years of work by federal drug agents.

Billy Yout, spokesman for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, said the 50-page indictment details "the biggest cocaine smuggling operation of record. It not only mentions the largest cocaine seizure ever in the world, but the No. 1 traffickers in the world as we know them."

In addition to manufacturing and smuggling cocaine, the "Medellin Cartel" is charged with plotting the murder of Adler "Barry" Seal, a pilot and drug informant.

LOUIS BROWN JR.
Airman Louis Brown Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown Sr. of 110 McKay Blvd., Sanford, has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1986 graduate of Seminole High School.

ANDRE L. GRAY
Navy Seaman Andre L. Gray, son of Elizabeth Gray of 1821 Alexander, Sanford, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando.

During Gray's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Gray's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1985 graduate of Lake Mary

High School, he joined the Navy in June 1986.

Paying Blackmail Always Backfires

President Reagan has submitted to blackmail by Iran's Ayatollah Khomeini, and in the process has forsaken America's struggle against terrorism for a strategy of appeasement.

Can anyone at the White House actually believe that rewarding Iran with U.S. arms shipments will deter, rather than simply encourage, the ayatollah's zeal for state-sponsored terror? Is it conceivably in America's interest for Iran to prevail over Iraq in the Persian Gulf war, thus threatening nearby Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Bahrain and other oil-producing states vital to the economies of the West and Japan?

Because the Reagan administration won't divulge the details of its secret dealings with the ayatollah's regime, it is impossible to know precisely how much ransom was paid to win the release of American David Jacobsen. He was freed after 17 months of captivity in Lebanon at the hands of a pro-Iranian terrorist organization called Islamic Jihad, or Holy War. Reliable reports hold however that, in exchange for Iran's influence in gaining freedom for Mr. Jacobsen and possibly two other American hostages kidnapped by terrorists in Beirut, President Reagan secretly lifted the seven-year-old U.S. weapons embargo against Iran.

With the cooperation of a clandestine supply link operated by Israel to funnel arms to Iran, the White House reportedly shipped missiles, ammunition and spare parts for American-made F-4 Phantom jet fighters, tanks, radars, C-130 transport planes and other weapons sold to Iran before the fall of Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlavi in 1979. Several thousand tons of U.S.-manufactured war materiel, desperately needed by Tehran to continue its war against Iraq, were delivered by cargo planes and Danish freighters over a period of several months.

Meantime, according to Iranian officials, former White House national security adviser Robert McFarlane led a bizarre confidential mission to Tehran in September, arriving aboard a cargo plane filled with weapons and carrying counterfeit Iraqi passports and a briefcase autographed by President Reagan. Mr. McFarlane apparently had hoped to strike a deal on the hostages with the ayatollah's government, but instead was detained in his hotel room for five days before being set free.

The president's embarrassment over this reckless operation, with all the markings of a comic opera, is compounded by the fact that both Secretary of State George Schultz and Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger were kept totally in the dark about it. Is this any way for the American government to conduct diplomacy? The new Senate Majority Leader, Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., is fully justified in calling for hearings to get to the bottom of this debacle.

Now the Justice Department is in the ludicrous position of deciding whether to abandon pending prosecutions of profiteering arms dealers accused of violating the federal ban on weapons sales to Iran. Needless to say, those arms dealers already convicted of illegally doing business with the ayatollah must wonder why they are in prison and the president and his aides are not.

But the most troubling aspects of Mr. Reagan's secret Iranian policy are the long-term implications, not only for stability in the oil-rich Persian Gulf region but also for international efforts to stem terrorism.

Such U.S. friends as Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, which rightly fear domination by the Ayatollah Khomeini's Islamic fundamentalism, can only shake their heads in bewilderment at Mr. Reagan's decision to provide military aid to Iran. America's European allies must be astonished by the transparent inconsistency in the Reagan administration's seeking their support for a military strike against Libya for state-sponsored terrorism at the same time it is rewarding Iran for the very same transgression.

Indeed, the White House's incredible gambit has made a mockery of the civilized world's efforts, feeble though they are, to thwart state-sponsored terror as a cheap instrument of international power.

Who Threw Kilts In Mrs. MacTavish's Haggis?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Shortly before Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's arrival, I took part in a whiskey-blending contest at the British Embassy. What is more, I was one of the winners.

Which is something I can't say for assorted state and local lotteries. Maybe buying a ticket does help, after all.

Anyway, as I was being congratulated by the losers, I felt a bit like the storied kilts-wearing Scot who passed out on the way home and was discovered by two English ladies out for an evening's constitutional.

I guess I'd better not finish the joke, lest I be jailed for pornography by Attorney General Edwin Meese. The punch line definitely won't bear repeating around children.

If you insist on learning how it ends, send in a plain, brown wrapper.

Anyway, I now have a certificate, suitable for framing, from the Scotch Whiskey Association attesting that I am a "master blender." Can Margaret Thatcher say the same? Or Meese either, for that matter?

OK. So maybe the contest, as my wife rather forcefully pointed out later, was fixed. Maybe the blend I concocted did indeed inspire yucks from other contestants.

I can only note in my defense, or "defense" as the British might call it, that the judging was supposed to be done with the nose and not the throat.

Tony Tucker, the association's executive director, told us professional blenders may deal with as many as 50 types of single malt and grain alcoholic beverages during a day. It wouldn't do to swallow them all.

True, the blending room he ushered us into contained only five types. But I thought I did rather well with what I had to work with. Could I help it if some of the samples disappeared?

And did you know that Scotland has a lowland as well as a highland? I didn't either until I entered the blending contest.

Which brings up a related question: Why do Scots, particularly diplomats, poets and whiskey brand namers, tend to be so prejudiced against the lowlands?

Sir Antony Acland, the British ambassador, called the evening a "Highland House Party" and fed us what was billed as "a highland dinner."

Even Robert Burns, portions of one of whose poems was read with the serving of the haggis, wrote "A Highland Welcome," part of which goes: "In heaven itself I'll ask no more...."

But did you ever taste a genuine lowland whiskey? I did, and found it rather toothsome. Made me want to burst into a chorus of "My Heart May Be in the Highlands but My Taste Buds Definitely Are in the Lowlands."

Tucker advised blending the various types so we might handle the seating of dinner guests who were "objectionable," "unpredictable" and so forth.

I tried to comply, blending lowland guests with highland guests and seating them all, whenever possible, below the salt.

That formula, as I have already indicated, was a big success. The nose knows every time.

Ignoring The No. 1 Threat

WASHINGTON (NEA) — During a single half hour recently, the Associated Press transmitted, in almost uninterrupted succession, five stories that reveal a great deal about the nation's economy:

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — BankAmerica Corp. has announced that it intends to shed up to $8 billion in assets.... BankAmerica, the nation's largest banking concern after New York's Citicorp, has lost more than $1 billion in the past 18 months....

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — General Electric Corp. said Tuesday it will close its color television tube manufacturing plant here in July 1987, eliminating 790 jobs.... GE also said demand for color television has not kept pace with worldwide competition, especially from Japan and South Korea....

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's trade surplus with the United States hit a record $5 billion in October, the Finance Ministry said Tuesday.... Bribe sales of Japanese cars and business machines boosted Japanese exports to the United States in October to $7.5 billion....

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — International Business Machines Corp. said Tuesday it was closing a parts distribution center in Greencastle, Ind., displacing 985 workers, in the biggest closing of a facility in company history....

DETROIT (AP) — A Ford Motor Co. plant, believed to be the last to produce small agricultural tractors in North America, will be closed by 1988 and its work transferred to Europe to cut costs, the automaker said Tuesday.... The tractor plant in Romeo, Mich., employs 650 hourly and salaried workers....

These events are part of a larger pattern. Less than one week before, for example, General Motors disclosed plans to close 11 plants employing 29,000.

In mid-1983, President Reagan appeared to understand the need for national leadership to strengthen U.S. manufacturing. He established the President's Commission on Industrial Competitiveness, a panel of 30 business, labor, government and academic leaders.

After completing work in late 1984, the commission warned that "at stake is our world leadership, our national security and, most importantly, our legacy of opportunity for future generations."

Among the panel's conclusions: "U.S. productivity growth lags far behind that of our competitors.... U.S. leadership in world trade is declining.... Nations of the Pacific Rim and elsewhere are producing high-quality, attractively priced products — in direct competition with our own."

CIA Thought To Have Supported Plot

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — How did eight American soldiers of fortune think they and 100 native guerrillas could land on the coast of Ghana in rubber boats and overthrow Jerry Rawlings, president of the West African nation of some 13 million?

Easy: They were convinced they had the official, if secret, backing of the CIA and the National Security Council. To their dismay, they learned otherwise after Brazilian authorities seized their Argentine-registered freighter on its way to Africa loaded with weapons last March.

As we've reported, the eight mercenaries, all Vietnam veterans, are now languishing in a Rio de Janeiro jail. They have, as the phrase goes, been hung out to dry by the shadowy individuals who suckered them into the cockamamie

WILLIAM RUSHER

Arms For Hostages?

Reading between the lines of President Reagan's address to the nation on the negotiations in Iran, it is not hard to see what happened.

It was Jimmy Carter's failure to anticipate the downfall of the shah that led to the rise of Iran's current ruler, the Ayatollah Khomeini, an America-hater whose only redeeming trait is the fact that he detests communists as much as he detests us. But who will follow Khomeini as the leader of that critically important country? If Iran, after his death, slides into Moscow's orbit, it will be the most ominous step toward World War III that the world has yet taken.

President Reagan was determined not to be caught napping, a la Carter. Evidently he had reason to believe that there were factions in Tehran ready to talk to us and perhaps cut a deal.

But through whom should he act? Bitter experience has taught him that a secret initiative, once confided to congressional leaders, or to the State Department or the Pentagon, or even the CIA, will be all over the front pages of the Washington Post and the New York Times within 24 hours. Sometimes — as in the recent case of the disinformation scheme aimed at unnerving Libya's Col. Gadhafi — disclosure merely ruins a marginally useful operation. But if overtures to potential U.S. allies in post-Khomeini Iran were to come to light, the result might be to destroy our contacts and end all hope of an improvement in our relations with that key country.

So Mr. Reagan chose to act through the recently retired director of his own National Security Council, Robert McFarlane. McFarlane went secretly to Iran and apparently made some highly useful contacts there.

At some point in the negotiations the Iranians (not surprisingly) requested that the United States demonstrate its good faith by supplying their country with some desperately needed spare parts for its fighter planes. After ascertaining that the items requested would not tip the delicate balance in the war between Iran and Iraq, Mr. Reagan approved the shipments and they were duly made. This represented an explicit exception to the general Western embargo on arms for Iran, but it was thoroughly justified because it was part of an effort to end the very sort of behavior for which Iran is being embargoed.

Perhaps reciprocally, someone on our side brought up the subject of Iran's influence over the terrorist gangs in Lebanon who are holding several American hostages. The Iranians promised to see what could be done. As a result, at this writing three hostages have been released.

Up to this point our vigilant media, all of their usual leakers having been cut out of the loop, were still snoozing happily away. But then the basics of the story were discovered and disclosed by a Middle Eastern newspaper, obviously at the behest of forces that wanted to derail the negotiations. The Democrats and the liberal media awoke with a start and promptly mashed the whole delicate fabric into the shape they like best: a political football.

But of course Mr. Reagan has not negotiated with terrorists. On the contrary, he has found a way to bring powerful pressures to bear on them and has used it effectively. Far more important, he is working hard — in the teeth of cynical opponents and irresponsible media — to bring about better relations between the United States and Iran after the ayatollah.

DON GRAFF

A Tale Of Roses And Horror

GUMMERSBACH, West Germany (NEA) — It may have been pure coincidence, as one commentator observed, but it was a singularly appropriate one.

As Berlin legal authorities were closing the books on one of the darkest chapters of the Nazi past, a stage work exalting a tragically uplifting moment from the same era was enjoying critical and public acclaim. The work is an opera, "The White Rose."

It is the story of Hans and Sophie Scholl, brother and sister who were students at the University of Munich and who organized a brief anti-Nazi resistance among like-minded students. The effort was called the White Rose Movement, and it sought to awake German consciences to the evil of Nazism.

The students distributed a series of pamphlets attacking Hitler. In one they asked: "Why do the German people behave so apathetically in the face of all these abominable crimes, crimes so unworthy of the human race?"

They called upon Germans to offer resistance "before it is too late."

This was not late in the war, when the inevitable outcome was clear. It was while the Nazis were still riding high and charging across the Russian steppes.

The White Rose students were deeply committed, but no match for a ruthless totalitarian state. Some 150 were soon hunted down and arrested. Eighteen were executed or died in concentration camps. Thirty-six others were imprisoned and survived to be liberated by Allied forces in 1945.

The Berlin part of this story begins about then. Following the German collapse, the Allies began proceedings against judges and attorneys who had served in the Nazis' "People's Court," a lynch-law body the postwar West German Bundestag has labeled not a legal institution in the accepted sense but a "terror instrument."

The Allies soon turned responsibility for these judges and lawyers over to West German authorities because the court's jurisdiction had been domestic. Its misdeeds were crimes by Germans against Germans.

Not very much happened. A conviction in 1947 was the last, with the 10-year sentence handed down cut short by a pardon in 1951.

All told, the German judges and prosecutors of the "People's Court" sent 5,243 fellow Germans to their deaths.

Among them Hans and Sophie Scholl. Then 24 and 21, they were beheaded in 1943.

operation was to be Godfrey Osei, a former Ghanaian official. According to our sources, he told the Americans that he had raised $500,000 for the invasion, with the help of a supposed Israeli agent named Solomon and what Osei called the "Chinese Mafia" in New York City.

As luck would have it, neither Osei nor Bishop were aboard the arms-laden Argentine freighter Norbistor when Brazilian police seized it. Bishop told us he has never worked for any government agency. He acknowledged that he had helped arrange the arms deal for Osei, but denied having recruited the mercenaries for either the CIA or the NSC.

Compounding the Americans' unfortunate situation, they told their families, the U.S. Embassy in Brazil has done nothing to help them get better treatment from their jailers. The embassy denied the prisoners' charges.

plot. The CIA has denied any involvement, and the man they claim recruited them says he did no such thing.

The bizarre story might strike some as funny, but it's no laughing matter to the eight Americans. Although the Brazilian charges against them were overturned by an appellate court, they remain in their vermin-infested cells awaiting a decision on their possible extradition to Argentina on charges of trafficking in contraband.

Details of the Rambo team's recruitment are provided in a diary written by one of the eight, Steve Hedrick. Our reporters Corky Johnson and Robert Young have seen the diary and letters the prisoners sent to family members in this country.

Hedrick, a weapons expert in Vietnam, wrote that he was signed up by one Ted Bishop. At the first "team meeting" in Argentina, Hedrick wrote. Bishop told the group: "You are being hired to overthrow the communist-backed government of Ghana. It's a joint effort between the U.S., Argentina and another unnamed country. This mission is sanctioned from the highest office in the country."

According to Hedrick, Bishop also told them: "I work directly for the NSC. I have walk-in access." He told them, Hedrick wrote, that he had worked for the CIA-run airline, Air America, in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam War.

The Americans were to train a force of 100 Ghanaian rebels, apparently on board the freighter after picking them up off the Ivory Coast, which adjoins Ghana on the west coast of Africa. The invasion would be launched in rubber boats from the ship. Part of the Americans' mission was to rescue two CIA agents from a Ghanaian prison.

NATION IN BRIEF

Shultz Sets Retreat On Reykjavik Arms Offer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House and State Department spokesmen deny any split, but Secretary of State George Shultz again appears to be the administration's odd man out with a policy on a key arms control question that differs from the position laid out by President Reagan at the Iceland summit.

Shultz has suggested publicly for the first time since the summit that total elimination of all nuclear ballistic missiles is unlikely and may be unsafe. A total elimination of such weapons has been the stated administration position at arms talks in Geneva and was endorsed by Reagan in Iceland.

One official, closely connected to the superpower arms control negotiations, said Tuesday that the Shultz concept was not put through the National Security Council or the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

The official likened the move to bureaucratic guerrilla warfare between Shultz and White House foreign policy makers, in which the secretary's public statement affects the agenda for future negotiations.

White House Eyes Defense Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is seriously considering a $308 billion Pentagon budget for fiscal 1988 — a $19 billion increase — at a time when other agencies face severe cutbacks, budget director James Miller indicated.

The anticipated military spending request increase also comes as budget leaders on Capitol Hill, especially newly empowered Democrats in the Senate, are warning against future increases for the Pentagon.

Miller told reporters the administration is looking at a 3 percent real increase in military funds, plus an additional increase to cover inflation, from the authorized fiscal 1987 level of $289 billion.

Office of Management and Budget spokesman Ed Dale said that would total $308 billion.

Smokeout Starts Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Millions of smokers prepared for tonight's start of the Great American Smokeout, while a cigarette company tried to undercut the annual 24-hour tobacco fast by handing out "Smoker's Kits."

The American Cancer Society predicted a record number of smokers would take the cold-turkey plunge for good health beginning at midnight tonight and lasting until midnight Thursday.

The current record of 23 million participants — people who gave up cigarettes, pipes, cigars, chewing tobacco and snuff for one day — was set last year. There are an estimated 54 million American smokers.

Jailed Judge May Lose Robes

CHICAGO (UPI) — A newly elected Cook County circuit judge who was jailed for refusing to cooperate in the Operation Greylord probe of corruption in the nation's largest court system might lose his judgeship and law license.

Joseph E. McDermott, elected without opposition Nov. 4, was taken Tuesday to the Metropolitan Correctional Center after refusing to testify before a grand jury in the investigation of the Cook County courts.

He could be in the correctional center for up to 17 months, the life of the grand jury. McDermott is scheduled to be sworn in as a judge Dec. 1, which means he might end up taking the oath of office while in jail.

The Illinois Supreme Court, meanwhile, took steps that could prevent McDermott from taking office and lead to cancellation of his license to practice law.

Art Sales Set Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Sotheby's Gallery auction set the world record for an art sale, drawing $42.4 million for works by artists such as Renoir, Rodin, Miro, Cezanne, Moore and Van Gogh, topped by a $5.1 million Mondrian.

The Tuesday night sales were $3 million more than the previous record for a single session set in 1984 by Sotheby's, which has sold $65.7 million worth of fine art during a weeklong $100 million series of sales at Sotheby's and Christie's galleries.

Teens To Shadow Professionals In Areas Of Career Interests

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

Can you remember when you were a teenager learning about your career from someone who was a professional in the field?

That's the idea behind Optimist Shadow Day to be held this Friday, Nov. 21 starting at Park Suite Hotel in Altamonte Springs.

High school students will be paired with Optimist Club members who work in the field the students are interested in, and they will spend a day together.

At the end of the school year, one student per high school will be selected for the Teenage Hall of Fame and will receive a $100 award during the school Awards Day.

Approximately 30 students will participate in Friday's shadow day.

Some of the visits will be as follows:
— A student from Lyman High School will have an opportunity to spend the day learning about law enforcement from the Altamonte Springs Chief of Police.

— Another student will spend the day learning about accounting.

— A student interested in being a construction contractor will find out more about that career choice by shadowing a contractor.

Organizer Linda Sawyer, who is the school's coordinator of career education, said participation in Shadow Day is the first step in a selection process for students to be picked for the Teenage Hall of Fame.

"The club wanted to do something for teenagers, and after several months of study we came up with this idea," she said. "I think it will be a very positive program for young people."

It is being done this year as a special activity for American Education Week.

The program was established through the organization's John Bethea Fund. Bethea was a well-known Optimist for many years in Seminole County.

Ms. Sawyer also said this program will be a forerunner to the schools' annual Intern Program in January in which gifted seniors will spend a whole semester with a professional of their choice.

IN BRIEF

Caller Says Report Hostage To Be Released Was A Hoax

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A telephone caller, claiming to represent the apparently pro-Syrian Revolutionary Justice Organization, denied early today it held French hostage Marcel Carton and said a claim on its behalf that he would be released was a hoax.

The caller told the independent an-Nahar newspaper, "We did not call any of the media networks to announce the release of any hostage."

"We confirm that we are not holding Carton, and from now on we will accompany our statements with proofs," the caller said.

The denial came more than 48 hours after another telephone caller claiming to speak on behalf of the group told the leftist As-Safir newspaper that Carton, the chief protocol officer at the French Embassy, would be freed at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday at the seaside Beaurivage Hotel in Beirut.

Pope Preaches For Tolerance

DHAKA, Bangladesh (UPI) — Pope John Paul II, visiting one of the world's most populated and impoverished nations, preached the need for universal tolerance today and asked for greater religious respect between Moslems and Christians.

The pontiff said he chose to start his 14-day pastoral tour of Asia and the Pacific in the predominately Moslem nation because the people of Bangladesh "are very, very poor, simple and religious."

During a stadium mass celebrated before 60,000 people, John Paul recalled his speech to Moslem youths in Casablanca in August 1985 and reiterated his belief that "dialogue between Moslems and Christians is today more necessary than ever."

Only a fraction — .17 percent — of Bangladesh's 90 million inhabitants are Roman Catholics, but John Paul received an enthusiastic welcome from the crowds who began filling the Ershad stadium at 2:30 a.m. to see him celebrate mass and ordain 18 local deacons.

Terrorists Claim Killing

PARIS (UPI) — The leftist French terrorist group Direct Action, in two mud-stained leaflets found in a subway station, claimed responsibility for the assassination of the president of the state-owned automaker Renault.

Police said a citizen found the leaflets Tuesday in a station on the Left Bank and turned them over to authorities. The leaflets claimed responsibility for the Monday night killing of Renault president Georges Besse.

Besse, 58, was shot to death by two young women who ambushed him on the sidewalk just before he arrived home from work, police said. He had been head of France's largest carmaker since January 1985 and led a financial revitalization of the company.

Police Arrest 300 Fired Strikers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Authorities said today police arrested 300 black hospital workers who were fired in a strike over union allegations of salary and racial discrimination in the workplace.

"The staff are managing admirably," said Dr. Antoinette van der Merwe, hospital administrator. "They have been doubling up on their own duties."

Authorities obtained a court order late Tuesday to bar 320 fired strikers from the hospital's grounds. Police said officers arrested more than 300 late Tuesday night who ignored the order.

Bundy's Fate In Federal Court

STARKE (UPI) — The Atlanta federal appeals court that granted Ted Bundy a stay of execution Tuesday for the murder of a 12-year-old schoolgirl now holds in its hands the sex killer's fate for three murders.

A three-judge panel of the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals granted the indefinite stay at 12:50 a.m. EST, just six hours before Bundy would have been led down a short hall on the bottom floor of the Florida State Prison to be executed for the Feb. 9, 1978, murder of Kimberly Leach of Lake City, Fla.

The Atlanta court did not rule on the merits of the appeal, but said there was insufficient time for them to make a ruling before the scheduled execution. Their subsequent ruling stated "a stay of execution is mandated."

Bundy's death warrant, signed by Gov. Bob Graham on Oct. 21, expires at noon Wednesday.

On July 2, the same court issued an indefinite stay in another death appeal for Bundy, less than 24 hours before he was to die for the murders of Chi Omega sorority sisters Lisa Levy and Margaret Bowman at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Fla.

The court has not issued a definite ruling in the Chi Omega case, but has indicated it may send the case back to the Florida courts.

Graham, who has signed all three of Bundy's death warrants — two for the Chi Omega killings and one for the Leach murder — launched a salvo at the federal court system for continually granting stays in capital cases.

"The surprising thing was that it went so close to the execution for the court to do what it had done (in other cases) so many times in the past," Graham said. "That's the kind of procrastination and delay that is extremely distressing to anybody who is interested in the cause of justice."

Prison spokesman Vernon Bradford said Bundy was not visited Monday by any family members.

"In the past, his wife has come to visit him, but it is our understanding that she no longer lives in Florida and has moved back to Washington," Bradford said. "Her name was not placed on the visitors list this time."

"The only visitor he had was an attorney from Daytona Beach. I don't believe the lawyer had anything to do with Bundy's case. He had just written Bundy asking for a visit, and Bundy agreed to see him. I do not know what they talked about," Bradford said.

Two hours before the Atlanta court ruling, a federal judge in Orlando rejected a similar appeal, calling it "abusive." Bundy "failed to make a substantial showing of a denial of a federal right" in claiming he was incompetent to stand trial and act as his own attorney in the 1980 trial, the Orlando judge said.

Bundy's trial judge, Columbia County Circuit Judge Wallace

Jopling, and the Florida Supreme Court also denied appeals Monday before defense lawyer James Coleman took the case into the federal appeals system.

Coleman argued that Bundy was incompetent to stand trial and should not have been allowed to act as his own counsel during the trial.

"He (Bundy) was not sufficiently in touch with reality to exercise the competent judgment that is necessary of a defendant," Coleman argued. "He was on trial for his life ... and he was putting on a show for the jury."

But several justices of the Florida high court questioned the incompetency claim in light of Bundy's "brilliant" knowledge of the law. Bundy may have been a bad lawyer for himself, the justices suggested, but he clearly demonstrated competency.

Bundy, a University of Utah law school dropout, acted as co-counsel during the trial for the Leach murder, questioning witnesses and making statements to the jury. He is a suspect in the murders and disappearances of about three dozen women in the Pacific Northwest in the middle and late 1970s.

"Our new heat pump saves more than enough money to run the VCR and TV. Do you think FPL knew that when they helped us buy it?"

Sure we did. FPL is encouraging everybody to manage their energy efficiently because lowering peak energy demand delays the need for new power plants — an expense everyone must share.

Installing a high-efficiency central heat pump can cut your heating costs up to 40% because it's more efficient than a conventional electric heating system. In the winter, the heat pump extracts heat from the outside air (yes, there's always heat in the air) and transfers it indoors. And in the summer, it cools by removing heat and humidity from inside.

You might also want to install a heat-recovery water heating system with your new heat pump to save even more money.

To find out how to qualify for a cash incentive and to get more information on energy management, call our 24-hour toll free number, 1-800-821-7700.

Clemens: MVP Is For MVP

BOSTON (UPI) — Roger Clemens agrees with the voters who made him the American League MVP over New York Yankees first baseman Don Mattingly.

"Mattingly had great numbers and a great year," the Boston Red Sox right-hander Clemens said Tuesday. "If there was a Most Outstanding Player award, I think he should win it this year and the last three years."

"But I think the Most Valuable Player award is for the most valuable player."

Apparently, Clemens believes he contributed more to his team than any other player. The numbers make arguing difficult.

Clemens, whose clutch pitching propelled the Boston Red Sox into the World Series, Tuesday became the first starter in 15 years to win the American League's Most Valuable Player Award.

Clemens, a 24-year-old right-hander, led the major leagues with a 24-4 record. He was a runaway winner over first baseman Mattingly of the New York Yankees and outfielder Jim Rice of the Red Sox in a balloting of 28 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America — two from each AL city.

Clemens recovered from shoulder surgery to post a 24-4 record, best in the majors. Fourteen of the victories came after a Boston loss. Clemens' role in defeating any Boston slumps probably clinched the trophy for him. He finished with 339 points. Mattingly collected 258 and Boston outfielder Jim Rice 241.

"From what I had been hearing, I knew I had an outside chance for MVP," Clemens said. "Just the fact I'm a starting pitcher made it a surprise I'm the MVP. Instead of an everyday player. The 14 wins after (Boston) losses might have done it for me."

Clemens received 19 first-place votes and 339 points from the voters to become the first starting pitcher since Vida Blue of Oakland in 1971 to win both the MVP and Cy Young Awards in the same season. Clemens was unanimously named as the AL Cy Young award winner last week.

Mattingly, the 1985 winner, received five first-place votes and 258 points and Rice, who won the award in 1978, had four first-place votes and 241 points. Clemens, Mattingly and Rice were the only players named on all 28 ballots.

Each voter was asked to vote for 10 players, with points awarded on a 14-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th.

Rounding out the top 10 vote-getters were George Bell of Toronto, Jesse Barfield of Toronto, Kirby Puckett of Minnesota, Wade Boggs of Boston, Wally Joyner of California, Joe Carter of Cleveland and Dave Righetti of New York.

Clemens and Righetti were the only pitchers to finish in the top 10.

Seniors: Beware Of Pitch Used By College Recruiter

Here is the scene: The high school senior is having a great final tennis season. All of those years of hard work and all of the money spent on lessons, equipment and tournaments are about to pay off. The old game is really at its peak and the victories are coming in bunches. Everything is coming up roses and the college scouts are really starting to take notice. The question no longer is: "Will I get a scholarship?" but, "Which scholarship should I take?"

It's a great time in the life of a young tennis player. For years now the struggle to become a top-notch player has been waged. The lessons were hard and very expensive. The equipment was not cheap either. Most expensive of all, though, were the tournaments — entry fees, travel expenses and all the rest that goes into a three- or four-day tournament.

Now it seems that it was all worth it. The ranking in the 18-and-under has steadily gotten better. Earning the No. 1 position on the team this year is the ultimate. Next stop — collegiate tennis, and with a nice tennis scholarship to boot.

This scene is played out in many, many states and towns all over the United States each year. It doesn't matter if it's tennis-rich California, where the top players have dreams of going on to U.S.C. or Stanford, or if it's tennis-poor North Dakota, where the better players might go to the state university or a Division II school.

The hopes and dreams of each of these players is the same — to get a scholarship and play college tennis. Dreams, good dreams — unfortunately, some of these, indeed more than half of these dreams — turn to nightmares.

As one of my former heroes, John Wayne, used to say, "Now listen and listen good," because what I'm going to tell you is very important if you have a son or daughter who is looking forward to playing college tennis.

There are so many traps out there for the college-bound player. There is a lot of deception, empty promises and downright dishonesty among the collegiate and junior college coaching ranks. Many of the schools and their coaches will simply do anything to win — they will say anything to recruit the best players, they will go to any lengths to persuade your son or daughter that their school is the one to choose.

Often, after the player is signed and on campus, the young player is dismayed to find out that much of what the coach said were out and out lies.

The following is a list of things to watch out for when looking for a school — all of these are taken from actual situations that happen all too often:

Larry Castle

SANFORD HERALD TENNIS WRITER

● To begin with, there are probably only about 10 to 20 percent of all the college tennis programs that actually have tennis coaches. Most are tennis recruiters or tennis chaperones. Many top high school players sign with a school only to find out when they get on campus that the coach does not know much about tennis and can not really help anyone's game. They just give you the balls and say "Play." Actually, most of the colleges and junior colleges in America have this type of coach. Players who go there often get worse and not better. Find a school with a knowledgeable coach so that your game can improve.

● Have down in writing the terms of the scholarship. I hate to say it, but you simply can't trust a lot of the college coaches out there. There are hundreds of stories about players being promised certain scholarships and later being told that that was not the deal and that they owed money when they arrived on campus. A full scholarship is tuition, fees room, meals and books. Some schools include laundry or "spending money," up to $15-$20 a week. That is okay, and legal. If someone offers you more, you had better beware — it's illegal and could cost you your eligibility. Your scholarship might be a full or any part of a full — just be sure you have it all down in writing. By the way, most NCAA scholarships are one-year deals now — no more four-year rides.

● Always visit the campus. Talk to the academic counselors and make sure that you get on track toward a degree. Again, horror stories abound about college tennis coaches (and all other sports) setting their players up with easy schedules just so they will remain eligible to play. One of our former SCC players went on to a four-year school and played his entire senior year without going to class. His schedule included the following: handball, badminton, three tennis classes, conditioning and fencing — that's right, fencing! Listen, you probably won't make it in pro tennis, so make sure you get that degree and you

Wainwright Takes Aim At Best QB

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Mark Wainwright, whose arm has been on ice for most of the season while Lake Howell has ramped the opposition with a leaping running attack, shook off the icicles last week.

The 5-10, 160-pound senior completed 15 of 21 passes for 93 yards and three touchdowns. He spread around the wealth, too, finding halfback Cornel Rigby, slotback Bill Wasson and flanker Craig DeJong for scoring tosses.

"It felt good to finally throw the ball," the 3.8 grade-point average signal caller said. "I haven't had the opportunity to throw much this year."

Going into '86, Wainwright, Seminole's Jeff Blake and Lake Mary's Shane Letterio were all returning with solid credentials. Blake, though, didn't play a down after breaking his leg in a spring accident. Letterio had a rough start before suffering a broken collarbone against Port Orange Spruce Creek on Oct. 17. He hasn't quarterbacked since.

That left the All-County quarterback door open for Wainwright. During his junior season, Wainwright was a model of consistency. He passed for 24 yards while completing 44 percent. Seven passes went for TDs.

Although he didn't lead in any category, he was second to Blake in touchdowns, second to Letterio in percentage and third overall in yards. He did, however, hurl 17 interceptions, which were more than Blake or Letterio put out one less than county leader David DeLiazzo's 13.

This year, Wainwright has been more up and down. Of course, when a team averages close to 200 yards rushing, it's easy to see why this Silver Hawk's wing has been left in the deep freeze.

Any doubt whether Wainwright could air it out, though, melted away last Friday as he turned in the most impressive passing show of the season in Seminole County. In addition to his three airborne scores, Wainwright, a pretty good runner in his own right, slipped over for his second TD on the ground.

Red-Hot Raiders Turn Away Polk

Seminole Community College used its backcourt to build a 12-point halftime bulge and its frontcourt to turn back a mid-second half comeback en route to a 98-83 victory over Polk Community College in junior college basketball Tuesday night at Winter Haven.

Coach Bill Payne's Raiders, ranked second behind Pensacola in the state poll, won for the seventh consecutive time against no setbacks. SCC travels to St. Petersburg Friday at 4 p.m. to play Eckerd's junior varsity. Polk fell to 1-3.

Sophomore point guard Darris Gallagher (22 points, 10 assists) and freshman second guard Malcolm Houston (19 points) each poured in 13 points in the first half as the Raiders sprinted to a 40-28 lead.

"We got some real good outside shooting and scoring off the fast break," Payne said. "We also limited them to 32.4 percent shooting and forced 13 turnovers."

Seminole maintained its lead until Polk's Robert Munoz and Greg Stauffer started hitting from long range midway through the final 20 minutes. Munoz, who finished with 18 points, and Stauffer, who had nine, combined for six three-point plays to draw Polk within 61-55 with 12 minutes remaining.

At that point, however, Payne and assistant Dean Smith called for a spread offense which forced Polk to play man-to-man defense.

"That unclogged the middle," Smith said. "We were able to get easy layups from the big men after Gallagher and Efrem Brooks penetrated the middle."

Vance Hall, a 6-8 center, was the prime beneficiary. Hall, who finished with four dunks, scored 16 of his 18 points in the second half. He also pulled down 12 rebounds. Two of Hall's dunks came during the surge on nice feeds from Brooks and James Morris.

Morris, a 6-3 forward from Orlando Jones, also had the backbreaking play in the burst as he scored on a monster slam and drew a foul in the process. His three-point play put the game out of reach.

Gallagher led the Raiders with 22 points on 8 of 11 shooting. He also handed out 10 assists and made one steal.

Lakers Topple Mavericks For 6th Consecutive Win

United Press International
The Los Angeles Lakers braintrust is thinking differently this season.

Following their loss to Houston in the Western Conference final in the spring, the Lakers consider the seventh game of the season important.

Los Angeles Tuesday night won its sixth straight game, 114-110 over the Dallas Mavericks.

"This was a big early-season game," said Lakers Coach Pat Riley, who has the Lakers off to a 6-1 start. "We had to show who we were and what we want to do."

Magic Johnson scored 29 points and Byron Scott added 23 to help the Lakers equal the best start in their history. Los Angeles shot 22 more free throws than Dallas.

"We didn't get to the free-throw line and that hurt," Dallas Coach Dick Motta said. "I remember at one time they went to the line 12 times to our one. But we had a chance at the end and couldn't make our shots."

Houston, which lost forward Ralph Sampson to an ankle injury in Tuesday night's loss to Portland, and the Lakers are favored in the West.

"We have had five losses, but we have been right there in all of the games. I don't sense any frustration," Motta said.

Mark Aguirre led the Mavericks with 26 points and Rolando Blackman and Harper had 22 apiece.

Bucks 115, Warriors 85

At Milwaukee, Ricky Pierce scored 26 points and Jerry Reynolds had 23 to lead the Bucks over the cold-shooting

Basketball

Golden State Warriors. Golden State was led by Terry Teagle with 15 points and Eric Floyd with 11. Craig Hodges added 14 for the Bucks.

Pacers 98, Clippers 93

At Los Angeles, John Long scored 24 points and Wayne Tisdale had a 3-point play in the closing minutes to help Indiana hand the Clippers their fourth straight loss. Long scored all his points in the first three quarters as the Pacers built an early lead and never trailed.

SuperSonics 119, Kings 105

At Seattle, Dale Ellis scored 28 points and Tom Chambers added 27 to lead the SuperSonics. Xavier McDaniel added 23 points for Seattle, which took the lead for good, 79-69, midway through the third quarter after a 12-0 run. Derek Smith led the Kings with 21 points.

Nuggets 125, Nets 112

At Denver, Alex English scored 43 points and Mike Evans hit four key baskets in a 13-0 surge in the fourth quarter to lead the Nuggets. Lafayette Lever added 21 points, 15 rebounds and 7 assists as the Nuggets evened their record at 5-5. New Jersey was led by Orlando Woolridge's 21 points.

Blazers 115, Rockets 111

At Houston, Kiki Vandeweghe scored 6 of his 23 points in the final 1:18 of overtime to lead Portland. Vandeweghe hit a layup and four free throws to give Portland its fifth victory in six games. Houston had a chance to tie with four seconds remaining, but Robert Reid was called for traveling.

SCC Women Rout Polk, 66-46

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole Community College Lady Raiders picked up momentum for their upcoming tournament this weekend by defeating Polk Community College, 66-46, Tuesday night at PCC.

SCC upped its record to 2-2 for the season and bounced back from two losses issued this past weekend in the Pensacola Tipoff Tournament.

Coach Ileana Gallagher's Lady Raiders controlled the game from the start as they built up a 32-17 halftime lead over an aggressive Polk squad.

"They (Polk) were really aggressive tonight," SCC assistant coach Debbie Scherr said. "At times they were almost intimidating."

The over-aggressive style ended up hurting Polk as it committed 32 fouls and sent the

Basketball

Lady Raiders to the free throw line 42 times on the night.

SCC was led by Fatima Lafond and Lisa Starks who each scored 16 points to pace the Lady Raider attack. Paula White continued her steady play in the middle as she added 11 more points to the Lady Raider assault.

High scoring Valerie Jackson was held in check by Polk as it held the SCC sparkplug to just eight points on the night on 2 of 13 shooting from the floor. Oviedo graduate Stephanie Nelson contributed four points on 2 of 4 shooting.

Sherry Butler led the way for Polk scoring 16 points but the Lady Raider defense prevented any other PCC player from scoring more than six points.

"We came out a little sluggish," Scherr said. "The game got started a little late and that kind of threw everyone's timing off."

SCC was able to overcome the slow beginning and pull away from PCC for its second victory.

"Our defense really played well tonight," Scherr said. "Starks and Lafond really came alive in the second half."

Buster, Van Buskirk Lead Hawks Into State Meet

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

Spearheaded by the senior tandem of Chuck Buster and Jeff Van Buskirk, Lake Howell approaches the Class 4A State Cross Country Meet needing a continued strong team effort Saturday at the DeLand Airport.

The Silver Hawks have fought hard in the last two weeks to qualify for the state meet for the second year in a row as a team. Lake Howell will look for another gutsy performance like it has received the past two weeks to get it over the final hurdle.

"It's been a total team effort," Lake Howell coach Joe Corso said. "When one of the team is down, another comes up and picks up the places."

Corso's team has been involved in two tiebreaking decisions in the last two meets. The latest — at last Saturday's regional — put the Silver Hawks into the state meet and eliminated both Lyman and Boone.

When both are at 100 percent,

Cross Country

Buster and Van Buskirk form a solid duo for the Silver Hawks. Buster, though, has been hampered by the flu in the past couple of meets and thus Van Buskirk has been the team leader for Lake Howell in both the district and regional meet.

Corso is looking for a strong return from Buster and has both runners eyeing the state's top 10 runners.

"Both of them have the ability to run with the front pack," Corso said. "If they can get over the mental part of running, they can run with anybody."

Van Buskirk and Buster have aided each other along all season, battling in practice and complementing each other in races.

"We play a game of cat and mouse," Buster said of he and his running mate. "We give each other the opportunity to stay with each other and then race at the end of the run."

Van Buskirk has had to run alone the past two weeks, but feels Buster has helped him reach a higher level as a distance runner. "He's a better distance runner, and I'm more of a sprinter," Van Buskirk said. "In distance workouts I try keeping up with him, and in the shorter workouts he keeps up with me."

Both runners agree, though, it has been a team effort that has boosted the Silver Hawks into the state meet.

"We've all worked hard," Buster said. "When one of us is sick the other runners pull together to help the team."

Van Buskirk feels the same way on the team as a whole. "We always give it our all, whether someone is sick or not. We really try hard in practice and it has paid off for us."

Both Buster and Van Buskirk have their sights on finishing in the top 10 at state. Both would need to run personal bests and both feel they are quite capable of doing so.

Buster, whose fastest three-mile is 15:41, will attempt to overcome a mental lapse that has hurt him in the past two weeks along with his illness.

"Once I run a bad race, my mind takes over," Buster said. "I'm now looking forward to state and there I can't afford to let my mind get in the way. I'm looking for a good weekend and going under 15:40."

Van Buskirk, whose fastest three-mile is 15:50, looks to be right around the same place Buster wishes to be. "To finish in the top 10 individually has been my goal all year," Van Buskirk said. "I think me and Chuck (Buster) have a good chance at finishing in the top 10, we've been running up in front of races all year."

Corso looks to Buster and Van Buskirk to guide his squad into Saturday's meet. "Both are co-captains and both team leaders," Corso said. "They help each other out as well as the team."

The team in which Corso and the tandem speak so highly of consists of two more seniors in Steven Steffy and Andy Terechenok. Terechenok was running in the top five for the Silver Hawks early in the year before coming down with the flu which has held him down until now.

"He (Terechenok) was running in the low 17's before he got sick," Corso said. "He's been coming around for us in the last couple of meets."

Also on the Lake Howell third-grade club are junior Luis Caban, sophomore Kavan Howell and freshman Jason Springhart.

"The entire team is running well, right now," Corso said. "We're getting better every day."

Corso and the Hawks have no more hurdles to clear, they just hope to crack the top five in the state.

"If we run the way we're able to we can stay with some of the stronger teams around the state," Corso said. "It's the pack that will give us a chance of doing real well."

Lucky Apopka Wins 5A-5 Playoff Site, Bye

Apopka's Blue Darters must be living a charmed life.

Apopka, Lake Howell and Winter Park all desired to host the District 5A-5 football playoffs Monday, but it was the Blue Darters — through the luck of the draw — who came out the big winner. All three finished with 4-1 district records.

After a conference call among the schools confirmed that each wanted the home-field advantage, Florida High School Activities Association Executive Secretary Fred Rozelle brought out his tiebreaking box Tuesday to determine who would be the host school for the playoffs.

Rozelle's assistant, Cecelia S. Jackson, said the executive secretary put the name of each school in the box and drew Apopka first as the host school. When the schools were reinserted, he again drew Apopka to receive the bye. Jackson said the procedure recommended in the national federation rule book was used.

Lake Howell, which beat Winter Park (31-14) and lost to Apopka (10-7), will play Winter Park at 7 p.m. Monday, Winter Park zapped Apopka, 25-0, in the second game of the season. Admission is $3.

Football

The Kansas tiebreaker system will be used. A coin flip will determine the home team, then each will get four downs starting at the opponent's 10-yard line. Whoever scored the most points in the four downs is the winner.

Apopka and Lake Howell, ironically, were involved in a tiebreaker in 1981 along with Port Orange Spruce Creek. The Darters also won the host site and the bye that year, too. Howell, coached by Sam Wier, won both tiebreakers and advanced to the region where it lost a heartbreaker to eventual state champion Vero Beach.

Elsewhere Friday, coach Dave Mosure's Fighting Seminoles welcome DeLand's Bulldogs for their homecoming clash. DeLand won the District 4A-5 and Mosure said he hopes the "Dogs are looking ahead to their battle with fourth-ranked Auburndale.

In the final Seminole Athletic Conference battle, Lyman entertains Lake Mary. Howell closes the regular season at home against Oviedo and in a battle of winless teams, Lake Brantley hosts Orlando Boone.

Don Mattingly finished second in the MVP voting.

...Clemens

was consistently clocked in the high 90s. Clemens was the driving force behind the Red Sox's climb from fifth place a year ago to the AL East title. He led the AL in earned run average (2.48) in addition to victories and was second in strikeouts with 238. He also set a major-league strikeout record for a nine-inning game by fanning 20 Seattle Mariners on April 29.

His greatest value — and a factor that obviously swayed the voters in his favor — was his ability to halt Boston losing streaks. Clemens began the season with 14 consecutive victories and seven of those victories came after Boston losses.

His teammates point with admiration to one sequence in which he single-handedly prevented a collapse. After the All-Star break, Boston began a 13-game road trip with a seven-game lead. The Red Sox went only 3-10, and the trip would have been a complete disaster had Clemens not won two of his three starts. Overall, 14 of his victories came after a Red Sox loss.

Clemens is the first Boston player to win MVP honors since Rice in 1978. He is the fifth AL pitcher and eighth major leaguer to win both the Cy Young and MVP in the same season. Others were Don Newcombe of Brooklyn (1956), Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles (1963), Denny McLain of Detroit (1968), Bob Gibson of St. Louis (1968), Vida Blue of Oakland (1971), Rollie Fingers of Milwaukee (1981) and Willie Hernandez of Detroit (1984). Fingers and Hernandez were relief pitchers.

Clemens is the seventh Red Sox player to win MVP honors since the BBWAA first presented the award in 1931. Others were Jimmy Foxx (1938), Ted Williams (1946, 1949), Jackie Jensen (1958), Carl Yastrzemski (1967), Fred Lynn (1975) and Rice.

Mattingly finished second in the league in batting (.352), third in RBI (113), sixth in homers (31), first in hits (238), third in runs (117), first in total bases (388) and first in doubles (53). He became only the seventh player in baseball history to achieve 100 RBI, 230 hits and 30 homers in the same season.

Rice finished fourth in the league in RBI (110), fifth in batting (.324), 10th in runs (98), seventh in total bases (303) and third in doubles (39).

Mattingly: No Double Without Daily Schedule

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Yankees first baseman Don Mattingly, while acknowledging the excellence of right-hander Roger Clemens, said Tuesday no starting pitcher should ever win the MVP. Clemens earlier this year won the Cy Young Award as the A.L.'s top pitcher.

In results announced Tuesday, Mattingly finished a distant second to the Boston right-hander in voting for the American League MVP award.

"I'm still of the old school, a guy that plays 33 or 34 games, no matter what they do, can't be as valuable as a guy that plays 162 games," said Mattingly, who was named AL MVP last year. "But there's no doubt Roger Clemens had the best year of any starting pitcher."

Mattingly received five first-place votes in balloting of 28 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He finished with 258 points, 81 behind Clemens.

Mattingly finished second in the league in batting (.352), third in RBI (113), sixth in homers (31), first in hits (238), third in runs (117), first in total bases (388) and first in doubles (53).

The effort made a shambles of the race for the county's top QB. Wainwright, who also was named Burger King Offensive Player of the Week for the second time, doubled his TD pass total to six, improved his passing percentage to 47 and increased his yardage lead over Lake Brantley's Greg Ebbert to 185 (618-433).

Just two weeks ago, he trailed Lake Brantley's Greg Ebbert in passing yardage. Last week, he nudged ahead by two yards.

Lake Howell, which is involved in a three-way playoff with Winter Park and Apopka for the District 5A-5 title Monday, concludes the regular season Friday at home against Oviedo. The Silver Hawks have won five consecutive for an 8-1 record and are ranked ninth in the Florida Sports Writers Association Poll.

As if Oviedo's Lions didn't have enough trouble preparing for Howell's 240-pound-per-man offensive line and backs Nate Hoskins (887) and Cornel Rigby (664), they know must devote half their time to Wainwright.

"I don't know if we want to play their first team," Oviedo assistant Ken Kroog said Monday. "I watched them on film (against Lake Brantley). They were awesome. Wainwright hit everything that was open and you can't even see those backs coming because the line is so huge."

"Do you think they'll play their second team and save the first team for the district

Not much chance of that. There is a chance, however, that Lake Mary's John Curry could overtake Hoskins for the county rushing lead. Curry, a junior who finished second behind Oviedo's Andrew Smith last year (1,580-1,065), trailed Hoskins by 203 yards three weeks ago.

Since then, Curry has outrushed Hoskins, 421-264, to close the gap to just 46 yards entering Friday's last regular season game. Only the regular season is used to determine the county leaders.

"Curry is running the ball a lot better the past month," Lake Mary assistant Doug Peters said. "He's running a lot harder and we're blocking better, too."

Curry also has 39 more attempts than Hoskins, who accounts for roughly 55 percent of the carries for the Silver Hawks while Curry logs close to 75 percent for the Rams.

Wainwright's favorite target, Bill Wasson, has a safe lead in TD catches with four. No other player has more than one.

Wasson also made a run at reception leader Nigel "Hands" Hinds as he pulled in eight catches Friday. Wasson has 17 grabs while Hinds increased his total to 24, five more than Lake Mary's Sheldon Richards who was blanked Friday. Hinds is also averaging a fine 17.5 yards per catch.

The scoring race is up for grabs with Curry. Hoskins and Rigby deadlocked with eight TDs each and 48 points. Howell's Jeff Phillips holds a 38-32 edge over Oviedo's Gordon King in kick scoring.

King, though, increased his punting lead by averaging 49.5 yards on four kicks in Oviedo's win over Titusville. King is averaging 42.0 yards on 38 kicks. Howell's Erik Bird moved into second with a 39.7 average on 15 boots. Lyman's Scott Radcliff (38.6) and Seminole's Sonny Osborn (38.1) are next in line.

Defensively, Lyman's Benny Glenn and Seminole's Earnie "Sackman" Lewis go into Friday's final just five tackles apart. Glenn, a senior linebacker, has 61 solos and 86 assists for 147 and a 16.3 average. Lewis, a junior linebacker, has 72 solos and 70 assists for 142 and a 15.8 average. Seminole's Steve Warren is third with 68 solos and 53 assists for 121 and a 13.4 average.

Warren is the leader in quarterback sacks with six. Lake Mary's Scott Keller is next with five along with Oviedo's Emery Sneed. Lewis, the defending champion, has four sacks.

Lake Mary's Richards and Howell's Terry Gammans are locked into a fierce struggle for the interception lead. Richards, picked up one last week but Gammans dead him one better with a pair. Each has seven while Radcliff and Lyman's Johnny Luce are in striking distance with five and four, respectively. Four interceptions was tops last year.

Oviedo junior Pete Lingard, the defending champion, covered his fifth opponent's fumble to give him the lead in that category. Lewis has four for Seminole. Keller, Oviedo's Jeff Joyce and Lake Howell's John Schultz each have a safety. Howell's Jeff Harris and Al Valle shared a safety last week.

Unknown Bettor Hits Jackpot For $125,411

By Mike Andrew
Special to the Herald

An unknown patron hit the biggest single payoff of the season Friday night at the Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai Fronton. The payoff, which totaled $125,411, was selected by an unknown winner on the Pic-Six jackpot on a night when the fronton saw a record number of 3,557 fans in attendance for a Tuesday night performance, according to Mutuels Manager Jim Bussard.

The Pic-Six calls for bettors to pick the winners in each of the sixth through 11th games. Bussard said only one person managed to do that Tuesday night, and as of the end of the evening had not claimed his/her winnings.

The Pic-Six jackpot reached its maximum, as allowed by state regulations, last Monday and was in a forced payoff situation. The jackpot going into Tuesday night was capped off at $50,486. The fronton had guaranteed that at least $75,000 would be paid to the winner(s), but Tuesday's fully exceeded even that.

Added to the already existing jackpot, was the money wagered in the Pic-Six Tuesday. That total, according to Bussard, was $94,842. The fronton opened its advance betting windows at 7 p.m. Tuesday, and Bussard estimated that in excess of 45,000 different bets were wagered on the Pic-Six. The inordinately large sum bet on Tuesday night's jackpot raised the total winnings into the six-digit range.

The $125,411 won Tuesday night is the single largest payoff of the season, but is less than half of the record for the fronton. The largest payoff the Orlando-Seminole Fronton has ever paid was $308,554. That, too, was on a Pic-Six jackpot payoff in 1983, the inaugural year for the Pic-Six wager.

The Pic-Six begins to accumulate again with today's matinee performance, and the fronton is guaranteeing a minimum payoff of $10,000, up until the jackpot reaches the $10,000 plateau. After reaching that, the jackpot will continue to grow with each performance until it is either hit, or reaches the maximum again.

With Tuesday's payoff, the largest jackpot now available to bettors is on the Twin-Trifecta wager. At the conclusion of Tuesday night's action, the Twin-Tri had ballooned to $15,108.

Challenger's Run-Walk Saturday To Benefit Astronauts Memorial

The 1986 Florida Challenger 7 k Run/Walk-A-Thon will be held this Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. and will take place in 51 counties throughout the state.

The event is a non-competitive 7 kilometer (4.3 miles) Run/Walk-A-Thon and is open to all ages and abilities. Proceeds from the event will go toward construction of an Astronauts Memorial and Education Center at the Kennedy Space Center to honor American's fallen astronauts and to raise public awareness of the Astronauts Memorial Foundation.

The event is free, but all participants are encouraged to collect or make donations. Those who collect or make a donation of $14 will receive a specially designed, full-color Challenger T-shirt. The event is being carried out in cooperation with NASA.

The Seminole County site for the event will be Lake Mary's Heathrow Development. The Orange County site will be the University of Central Florida and the Volusia County site will be Edmunds Center on the Stetson University campus in DeLand.

Ralph Turlington, Florida Commissioner of Education will be the honorary chairman of the event and also expected to be on hand are Congressman Bill Nelson, former Apollo astronaut Donn Eisele, Bruce and Ellen Jarvis (father and step-mother of astronaut Gregory Jarvis) and Sheryl Purvenas (daughter of Roger Chaffee who died in Apollo fire almost 20 years ago).

For more information on the event, contact Crystal Broughan at 740-7373.

Lindqvist: Unenjoyable Lesson

NEW YORK (UPI) — At another time and place, a private lesson from Martina Navratilova would be a welcome blessing for anyone serious about tennis.

Under the circumstances, though, Catarina Lindqvist wasn't about to appreciate Navratilova's concern.

Still simmering from a close call last month when Lindqvist held four match points against her in a tournament at Stuttgart, West Germany, Navratilova was fully prepared for the 23-year-old Swede Tuesday night in their opening-round match of the $1 million Virginia Slims Championships.

"I wanted to show her what I could do, because I didn't do that the last time we played," the defending champion and No. 1 seed said following a 6-3, 6-0 rout that stretched her winning streak to 50 matches.

Third seed Hana Mandlikova and No. 5 Pam Shriver also won in straight sets Tuesday night and will face each other in the quarterfinals.

Mandlikova suffered through a lapse of concentration in the second set before beating Terry Phelps 6-2, 6-4, and Shriver won the last six games for a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Raffaella Reggi.

Shiras Ousts No. 2 Mayotte

HOUSTON (UPI) — Lef Shiras ousted second seed Tim Mayotte 2-6, 6-3, 6-2 Tuesday night in the first round of the $279,000 WCT Houston Shootout.

The 27-year-old from Sandestin, Fla., trailed 15-40 in four games of the third set yet rebounded to win all four. In the final match of the evening session, No. 4 seed David Pate of Las Vegas, Nev., defeated Glenn Layendecker of Portola Valley, Calif., 6-3, 6-4.

In earlier play, third-seeded Aaron Krickstein spotted Chile's Ricardo Acuna a two-game lead then bounced back to win six straight games en route to a 6-2, 7-6 (7-5) opening round victory.

The only other seeded player to open the tournament Tuesday was sixth-seeded Slobodan Zivojinovic of Monte Carlo, who beat Mike Leach of Atlanta, 7-6 (7-5), 6-1.

Also in the first round, Bud Schultz beat Blaine Willenborg, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1; Richey Reneberg of Houston beat Russell Simpson, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, and Marty Davis beat qualifier Terry Moor, 7-6 (7-5), 6-7 (8-10), 6-4.

Media Challenge Starts Regatta

News reporters are renowned for their proficiency with a notebook and pencil, but how adept are they with spinners and slip knots?

Central Floridians will find out at 10 a.m. Dec. 6 at Lake Monroe in Sanford when the Citrus Bow Sailing Regatta, co-sponsored by Cardinal Industries, Inc. and Red Lobster, hosts the inaugural Media Challenge Race.

The race will feature 20 media representatives from radio, newspaper, television and magazine through Central Florida competing in dinghys over a one-mile course on Lake Monroe.

The Media Challenge will kick-off the largest field in the Citrus 14-year history. A record 350 boats in 26 classes are expected to compete in the two-day event, beginning at noon Dec. 6 and concluding Dec. 7.

Layne: Critical, But Improved

LUBBOCK, Texas (UPI) — Former Detroit Lions quarterback Bobby Layne has improved slightly and remained in critical but stable condition Tuesday with a guarded prognosis for recovery, a Methodist Hospital official said.

Rowlette: Class 1 To Elite?

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The season's only two weeks old, but Sandy Rowlette is already hinting she's about ready to jump from Class 1 to the Elite. Rowlette, representing Brown's Gymnastics of Altamonte Springs, won the Senior Division all-around title this past weekend at the Open Optional Meet at Santa Fe Community College in Gainesville.

Gymnasts from 15 states and Canada were on hand for the meet which combined Class II, Class I and Elite competitors. Elite is the highest level a young gymnast can reach.

Rowlette, 16, a junior at Lake Brantley High, compiled an all-around score of 36.30 to win the Senior Division (15 and over) and also won the division over a few Elite competitors. Included was a personal all-time high of 9.6 on the uneven parallel bars that took first place and she also took first on the vault (9.4), fourth on balance beam (8.35) and sixth on floor exercise (8.95).

Rowlette's all-around score was the second best in the meet, trailing only 13-year-old Brandy Johnson, the only Elite gymnast for Brown's.

Johnson, an eighth grader at Milwee Middle School, turned in another spectacular performance this past weekend as she amassed an all-around score of 37.45 to win the Junior Division (14 and under). Johnson recorded a personal all-time high of 9.75 (10.0 is perfect) in winning the floor exercise and she also won the vault (9.65) and the beam (9.1). Johnson also took eighth on bars with an 8.95.

Meghan Chase, 13, an eighth grader from South Seminole Middle School, was fifth in the all-around in the Junior Division with a score of 34.85. That included an all-time high of 9.15 which took third on the bars. Chase, a Class I gymnast, was also sixth on beam (8.4) and tied for 10th on vault (8.75).

Also in the Junior Division, Jenna Adams had her best ever score in the vault with a 9.15 that took second place. She was also eighth on the beam at 8.35.

Carrie Weaver, 13, an eighth grader at Milwee, tied for 10th on the vault at 8.75.

The Brown's Central six-girl team took first place in the team results with a score of 177.90. Second place went to the American Twisters from Pompano Beach (173.70) and third was LaFleur's of Largo (172.95).

Roth Takes Lead

GLENDALE HEIGHTS, Ill. (UPI) — Mark Roth of Spring Lake Heights, N.J., Tuesday waltzed a challenge from Billy Young Jr. of Tulsa, Okla., but held on to his lead midway through the second round of the $200,000 Brunswick Memorial World Open.

Roth, a 32-time Professional Bowlers Association champion, had a 16-game pinfall total of 3,785 — a 236.6 average — giving him a 71-pin lead over Young with 64 of the 192 bowlers in the field, including two-time defending champion Mike Aulby, still on the lanes.

Young bowled an eight-game block of 1,856 in the second round to move into second place with 3,714. He bowled games of 235, 214, 256, 237, 228, 235, 245 and 206.

go to a school where the coach cares about his players doing well in the classroom.

●Talk to the older players on the team. There is really only one way that you can find out about a coach and a program and that is to ask the players who are there now about it. If there are a lot of juniors and seniors on the team, it is a safe bet that things are okay. If most of the players are new and the turnover is great, then look somewhere else. Some coaches are not very fair in picking the team. Some are lazy, some only treat you decently if you are winning and some will find ways to "get rid of you" if they think you are not as good as they thought. Some make unreasonable rules about behavior and dress — they are doing that for them, not for you. Talk to the players before you make any decisions.

●Be sure to find out what you can expect to get in the way of equipment. Most good tennis schools supply rackets, strings, shoes, warm-ups and uniforms. How much you get should depend on the school's budget, not on your position on the team. Ask about this before you sign. I know schools where the top players get anything they want and the bottom players get nothing. That is not fair — if you are on the team you deserve equal equipment.

●Never buy or rent anything from the coach. I know of a school right here in Florida where the coach leased an apartment for $200 per month and sub-leased it to his players for $500 per month. He also rented them beds, mattresses, etc. It's true, and those are only two of 44 violations he was caught in. After decades of getting away with stuff like that he was finally fired.

●Beware of the coach who "cuts down" other schools. They will tell you all sorts of things about other schools that may be trying to sign you. That should give you a loud and clear message about that coach.

●Have an understanding that you will do your best and try hard, but if you don't always win or play up to what the coach thinks you should that you will still be treated fairly. There are so many coaches who really treat their players poorly when the player is going bad. In fact, many will mentally and verbally harass the player to the point that the player is forced to leave the school. Ask the other players about this when you go for a visit.

●Most schools that have good reputations or top college or junior college tennis schools have honest, hard-working, dependable coaches. You don't win championships with coaches who will cheat and deceive. They may win some matches, but will have no staying power. You can find a good school, with a good coach and a good program. You must be careful, though, not to be swayed by one of the many, many fast-talking, dishonest ones out there. Good luck.

Stocks Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened slightly lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues as a nervous market awaited the latest development in the widening Ivan Boesky insider-trading case.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which plunged 43.31 Tuesday, was down 0.42 to 1816.79 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 640-240 among the 1,282 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 12,739,000 shares.

The stock market plunged in heavy trading Tuesday, falling victim to jitters created by the biggest insider-trading case in Wall Street's history.

The Dow's drop Tuesday was its sharpest slide since Sept. 11, when the blue chip index skidded 86.61, its biggest point-loss ever.

Analysts said the securities industry has spent this week reacting to news, released late Friday, that arbitrageur Ivan Boesky had agreed to a record payment of $100 million in penalties to settle SEC charges of insider trading.

Peter Furniss, vice president in equity trading at Smith Barney, Harris Upham said midday sell programs, prompted when futures went to a sharp discount to their underlying cash indexes, began hitting a market already depressed by anxiety aroused by the Boesky scandal.

Gold Moves Higher As Dollar Declines

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar moved lower today against major world currencies. The price of gold moved higher.

In Tokyo the dollar closed at 162.80 yen, up 0.15 from Tuesday's close of 162.65, in slow trading.

In European trading the dollar began the day in Zurich at 1.675 Swiss francs, down from Tuesday's close of 1.6765; and in Paris at 6.5905 French francs, down from 6.593.

The dollar opened in Amsterdam at 2.274 Dutch guilders, compared with Tuesday's close of 2.2775; and in Milan at 1,393.50 lire, compared with 1,398.30.

In London, the pound was unchanged at $1.424.

The foreign exchange markets in Frankfurt were closed Wednesday for a national holiday.

Gold opened in Zurich at $392.50, up $2 an ounce from Tuesday's close of $390.50; in London gold gained $1 an ounce to $392.25 from a previous close of $391.25.

The morning fixing in London was $391.50, up 25 cents from Tuesday's close.

Gold had plummeted more than $17 an ounce in Zurich and London at the beginning of the week, closing below $400 an ounce for the first time since Sept. 2.

Silver opened unchanged in Zurich at $5.55; it rose 3 cents in London to open at $5.57 from Tuesday's close of $5.54.

In earlier trading in the Far East, gold closed at $392.50 an ounce on the Hong Kong Bullion Exchange, up $5.15 from Tuesday's close.

In early trading on New York's Comex, a 100-troy-ounce gold futures contract for current delivery in November opened at $394.30 an ounce, up 30 cents from Tuesday's close. A 5,000-troy-ounce silver futures contract for delivery in November opened at $5.575, up 2 cents an ounce.

GNP Increases 2.9 Percent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The real gross national product increased 2.9 percent in the third quarter of 1986, according to upwardly revised Commerce Department estimates released today.

A preliminary report last month had charted only a 2.4 percent annual pace of growth in the nation's output of goods and services during the July-September period.

The upward revision was due mostly to an increase in projected defense purchases, ac-ording to economists with the Bureau of Economic Analysis. A $1 billion improvement in projected net exports also contributed.

Inflation, as measured by the GNP fixed weight price index, increased 2.4 percent at an annual rate during the quarter.

The bulk of the increase was in real final sales, up 5.2 percent or $46.8 billion during the July-September period.

The figures are all expressed at seasonally adjusted annual rates.

nomination. Ms. Christensen said while she is not interested in the job, she would support the nomination of Streetman or Ms. Glenn.

"I agree that two years as chairman is long enough. It's time to nominate someone else if they want the job. Whoever wants it, I'll nominate," she said, adding that no other commissioner has contacted her expressing an interest in a nomination.

Kirchhoff said he hasn't been chairman for six years, and wouldn't say who he would support for the chairmanship, or if he would accept a nomination.

He said that while the usual stint as chairman has been no more than two years, there isn't a requirement on the length of chairmanship.

Ms. Glenn said her duties on behalf of the county with other groups prevent her from being able to consider nominations.

had been called to the lot for reinspection.

The parking lot was listed under the board's unfinished business Tuesday night. During discussion of its status, board member Ernest Horrell said the "confusion" between staff and city commission directors "stinks. I don't like it one bit. The woman is working on compliance and one part of the city says one thing while another part says something else."

Code board member Joyce Malone said Mrs. Nestor "made it confusing as far as I'm concerned. She knows what commissioners want and we've also talked to her about the same requirements."

Mrs. Nestor was not at Tuesday's code board meeting. It was the first session she has missed in about three months. The code board began leveling fines against her in October, for a series of violations she failed to correct when cited by city staff in February. She was cited under a city ordinance that required multi-family operators in downtown residential Sanford to complete a series of property improvements by Oct. 24, 1985.

Since the fines began, Mrs. Nestor has corrected all violations except those involving the parking area. 25 doors staff judged to be fire hazards, and the hotel's lack of operational license. Commissioners say the license can be issued once a sprinkler system has been installed at the hotel.

The $25-a-day fine for the doors will also run until Mrs. Nestor installs the sprinkler system, code board members said Tuesday.

The board is taking its cue from commissioners, who ruled on Nov. 11 Mrs. Nestor could avoid the doors' replacement with the sprinkler. She had to request a waiver from commissioners because city building code calls for the doors to be replaced with fire retardant wood, rather than protected with a sprinkler.

The sprinkler system is being required for installation at the hotel by the city's fire department to address a number of safety deficiencies its inspector cited in late August.

Mrs. Nestor told commissioners on Nov. 11 she has a $17,000 contract for the sprinkler system, but no completion date.

according to a spokesman.

He also said sales tax sunset exemptions should be implemented fairly because the senate's constituents will be paying the cost of the un-repealed taxes. He also said "we must have a well defined plan to spend the funds wisely."

The new senate president said education will remain a high priority, but promised no sweeping changes. He said changes already made in education should be fine tuned. He said he desired more adequate vocational education programs.

On the recently approved Florida lottery, Vogt said the legislature has the public trust and responsibility to use the lottery proceeds for education.

On special session of legislature, he said they are sometimes called in haste, and said he didn't expect a special session for the implementation of the lottery. Instead, he said he would favor appointing a committee to study the implementation.

He said he favors a special session on crack cocaine and prison overcrowding.

He promised Republicans and Democrats would work together in a bipartisan effort to reorganize the Health and Rehabilitative Services and Transportation departments.

In an attempt to put aside election year scars, Vogt told the session "we must begin the healing process and work together in the spirit of friendship."

The Senate battle was the highlight of a one-day organizational session that will determine the leadership and the philosophy of the Legislature through 1987 and 1988.

The session itself was scheduled for only two hours, and was constitutionally limited to selecting House and Senate officers and making committee assignments.

Vogt's name was placed in nomination for the senate presidency by Sen. Bob Crawford.

Mrs. Telford.

In taking over the gavel, Williams said he aims to continue the positive spirit of cooperation which has influenced the board in the past few years.

"I thank you for the vote of confidence here," he said. "I also want to say that Nancy Warren has been in our chair for the past two years, and I do feel that she has done an outstanding job and deserves my personal applause."

After a round of applause, Williams continued, "Working with principals, staff and administration, we will continue the quality of excellence that we have been reaching for in the past, and I do plan to do what I can to continue that type of behavior."

Outgoing board members Bill Kroll and Jean Bryant then were honored with plaques in appreciation of their service. Mrs. Bryant has one of the longest careers with the board along with Mrs. Telford.

After the meeting, Mrs. Bryant said she felt she would not run again for public office. She said she would enjoy retirement with her husband, who will retire in a couple of years. But if the board or staff should need her, she said she would always be close at hand, following an extended vacation to Indiana.

In an interview this morning, Williams, who is going into his third year on the board, made a few more comments concerning his goals for the board, such as the need for review of personnel policies which he said might be discriminatory.

"We are reviewing the procedures and personnel policy," he said, and added that his concern is would-be staff members often don't get recruited or channeled through the main office because of school-based management. He would like to see a central guiding office to make sure all are given a fair chance when applying at the schools.

Another of his concerns is continual drop-outs not only in Seminole County but throughout the state. Tuesday the board asked the state for more money for a better drop-out prevention program, now that alternative education funds have been cut.

"I'm concerned that we do something about the drop-out rate because it cuts real deep into the system," he said.

He is also working to study "A-based salary" for staff which would institute something of a merit system instead of automatic raises.

For his personal goals, he said he would try to continue the quality of meetings experienced under Mrs. Warren's leadership. "I need to continue her fine job of guiding us through the links," he said.

As the $105 million bond program of building additional school space continues in 1987, Williams said people will begin to see "materialization" of the money they appropriated.

"We will go into contractor's bids in January and begin to see sticking of brick in just a short time, perhaps settling fears on whether the bond total will satisfy the needs." That, he said, would be the greatest task and challenge.

But the problems of the district persist with continued overcrowding in the schools and influx of more students than ever. "We still have additional enrollment and overcrowding," Williams said. "At the end of our building program, we'll probably need more schools. It's going to be interesting and a challenge and 1987 will be a very important year in setting this future track."

He also mentioned the challenge of orienting a new board with two new members into the scheme of what the board has been trying to accomplish.

An instructor for the past 14 years at Seminole Community College, Williams is a Seminole County native. He is married to Jeanette and has a daughter Julie, 9, and daughter Janice, 7.

As for regular business at the new board's first meeting, one item suggested by Superintendent Robert Hughes was to move both school board meetings to 2 p.m. instead of having one in the evening.

New board member Ann Neiswender took the first exception to the proposal, saying people who worked during the day needed a chance to come at night. The board went along with her and voted down that proposal and another proposal to change the second meeting to 4 p.m. Meeting will continue as they have in the past on the second and fourth Wednesday, one at 2 p.m. and the second one at 7:30 p.m., except in December when there will only be one meeting — at 10 a.m. Dec. 10.

Cook Of The Week Welcome Mat Always Out At McMillan Home

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

It's like being in strawberry heaven to sit in Nancy McMillan's cheerful, cozy kitchen with its bright motif carried throughout. Our Cook Of The Week is a lady who loves everything about her home, her family and her job and this is evident in her happy smile. From the strawberry patterned wallpaper, to the old fashioned milk can, to the washboard-key holder and the message slate all prettily decorated with strawberries, one gets a very warm feeling of 'welcome' at the McMillan's Sanford home.

Originally from Tennessee, Mrs. McMillan was raised in the tiny town of Bluff City with a sister, now Dorothy Wiles. "My sister married when I was 10," says Mrs. McMillan, "so my mother and I were like sisters; we did everything together. She was a basic cook, but a very good cook and she liked to entertain. We had a terrific relationship; we had a very close-knit family, a very loving family." Mrs. McMillan's dad, Tom Hicks, and sister still live in Tennessee and like to keep in close contact. "I talk to my father and sister once a week," she says, "and sometimes more. When we go up for a visit, we really enjoy it. He likes for me to come home and cook because he lives alone now. My sister does most of the cooking for him, but he always has special dishes ready for me to cook, like country ham and things like that."

After graduating from Bluff City High School and attending East Tennessee University for two years, her family moved to Sanford because of her father's occupation in the field of construction. That's when she met her future husband, Kyle "Whitey" McMillan. "We argue about how we first met each other," she laughs. "I say it was a blind date, and he says we met at a movie, but I don't remember that!" The McMillans were married in 1959 at Sanford's Congregational Church and have enjoyed raising their daughter, Tina (Mrs. Mark) Burnsed, who is a teacher's aide at Idylwild School. Two lovely grandchildren, Shane, 5, and Heidi, 2, are a special joy to Nancy and Whitey McMillan and they look forward to each and every visit with them.

Throughout the years, Mrs. McMillan has continued her education in the accounting field and, to her credit, she has earned her AA degree at Seminole Community College, and is just about 10 classes away from receiving her B. S. degree in accounting from Rollins College. "I try not to take more than one class a quarter," says Mrs. McMillan, "because I don't want to take too much time away from my family. Sometimes it's difficult, but my husband is very supportive of me. He helps, and without him I couldn't do it."

For 20 years Mrs. McMillan put her accounting expertise to full use at Hill Lumber and Hardware in Sanford, and more recently is on the staff of the county government in the office of the clerk to the Seminole County Board of Commissioners. While her husband is looking ahead to retiring on Nov. 22 from his job at Sanford Auto Parts, Mrs. McMillan's day is filled with figures and reports in her duties as county finance coordinator. "I do the annual reports," she says, "and work very closely with the director of finance. We prepare a comprehensive annual report which we get graded on, and for the last three or four years we have received one of the highest ratings a county can get for their accounting report. That's quite an accomplishment. Every time we submit it, I can't wait to see if we get it." Mrs. McMillan's work also entails overseeing the payroll department among other things.

Nancy refers to her coworkers as "a terrific bunch" and especially enjoys their once-a-month "eat-ins." The eat-ins are usually in celebration of a birthday, says Mrs. McMillan. "It's a very good and close working relationship," she says.

Successfully combining homemaking with a career, Mrs. McMillan has probably seen the best of both worlds. At home, there is a very definite touch of family ties and traditions and her talents for creating a homey atmosphere are endless. "I love decorating and changing things in the house," she says. "I usually have a project going. As long as I can keep one project going in the house, I really feel like I have accomplished something that gives me fulfillment." One of her pet projects has been to have wainscoting and wallpaper added to her dining room. "Right now, I'm having a couch refinished and that will be accomplished before Christmas, and then one of my projects will be to replace the carpeting in the living area to get mauve colored because that's my color scheme and I need that to bring everything together," she exclaims. Part of the beautiful decor includes mauve color curtains which were sewn by her sister, Dorothy, copied from a picture that Mrs. McMillan had sent to her.

With the holiday season just around the corner, Mrs. McMillan is already preparing to receive her guests and is

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Matthew Wilkerson

Carrie Gottschall, Leon Wilkerson Exchange Vows

Carrie Lee Gottschall and Leon Matthew Wilkerson were married Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. in a garden ceremony at Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, Wint Park. The Rev. Chris Ritchie was the officiating clergyman for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Lou Peake, Sanford, and David Gottschall, Delray Beach. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Wilkerson, Trenton, Fla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white schiffli embroidery organza gown. Fashioned along a Victorian silhouette, the gown featured a basque bodice with pearl straps overlaid with a sheer jacket featuring a high neckline and full melon sleeves, embellished with reembroidered Alencon lace motifs, terminated in points at her wrists. The flowing ballroom three-tiered skirt encircled the sweeping chapel train. A pearl-trimmed Venise lace derby hat, slipped up at the side, held her waltz-length veil of silk illusion. The bride carried three white orchids showered with orange blossoms and stephanotis. Rhonda Swindel attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a peach-colored taffeta gown with a criss-cross fitted bodice designed with a low V-neckline in the back. She carried a bouquet of mixed peach and white flowers and wore a matching spray in her hair.

Pamela Ball was the bridesmaid. Her gown and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

Cindy Jones, flower girl, wore a gown fashioned with a full lace ruffled skirt over peach taffeta and carried a basket of peach and white garden flowers. Fred Wilson served the bridegroom as best man. Dean Peake, brother of the bride, was the usher-groomsman.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the garden club. The bride's sister Vicki Peake greeted the guests and registered them in the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to Gallinburg, Tenn., the newlyweds are making their home in DeBary.

Florida Medical Association Honors Oviedo Woman

Betty Duda Receives Layman Award

Betty Duda has been named the 1986 Florida Medical Association's Outstanding Layman. This award is presented to a person other than an M.D. who has made significant and lasting contributions to the medical profession.

Mrs. Duda, a tireless cultural and civic leader, was nominated by the Orange County Medical Society because of her outstanding performance and contributions to the local medical community.

"The Orange County Medical Society was very excited to be able to nominate Betty," said Richard Bagby, M.D., a radiologist and president of the Orange County Medical Society. "Her contributions to health care and the medical profession are monumental. Betty is an outstanding woman and we are very proud of her."

Mrs. Duda has been a member of Winter Park Memorial Hospital's Board of Trustees for nine years and has served as chairman of the external affairs committee and president of the board. In 1983, Mrs. Duda received the prestigious Service to Mankind Award from the Leukemia Society of America in honor of her achievements and contributions to the community.

A resident of Oviedo and member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Betty and her husband, John, have five daughters.

Shana Rene Sapp

Cover Girl Represents Sanford

Shana Rene Sapp walked off with more than her share of honors in America's Cover Miss and Cover Boy U.S.A. Pageant held at Holiday Inn, Altamonte Springs.

Shana, born April 12, 1984, is the daughter of Pam and Mike Sapp, 4951 Woodruff Springs Road, Sanford. In the pageant, she won first place in the Miss Pee Wee category in beauty and photogenic and was first runner-up in sportswear.

Her awards include a sparkling tiara, a large 3 1/2-foot trophy and a banner plus payment of her entry fee to the national finals to be held in June, 1987, at Ft. Walton Beach, when she will represent Sanford.

Shana likes horseback riding and dancing and at her early age, has developed a flair for pageantry, according to her mom.

The Elliotts Mark 50th Anniversary By Renewing Vows

George and Emma Elliott, 1057 Banana Lake Rod, Lake Mary, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 14. They were married on that date in 1936 at Casey Mission, Mrs. Elliott's father's church, Casey, Ill.

In celebration of their golden anniversary, the couple renewed their vows on Oct. 11 at First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church, Sanford, followed by a reception.

The couple are the parents of two sons, Paul Elliott, Vincennes, Ill., and Howard Elliott, Oak Ridge, Tenn. They have four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mr. Elliott is a retired carpenter and Mrs. Elliott

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott is a self-employed music teacher. They celebrated their actual anniversary date at PTL Heritage USA in Charlotte, N.C.

Ms. Flack delighted the audience with her rousing interpretation of "When the Saints Come Marching In," as well as a medley of other favorite tunes.

The Beauty Of SHS Homecoming Who Will Be Queen?

Seminole High School is celebrating Homecoming 1986 this week. The festivities include presenting the Homecoming Court when a queen will be crowned during halftime at the game Friday night when Seminole plays the DeLand Bulldogs, beginning at 8 p.m.

The Homecoming Court includes: Elizabeth Annette Brooks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brooks. Beth is a varsity cheerleader, president of Mu Alpha Theta, treasurer of Key Club, secretary of Polyglots, a member of National Honor Society, Tribe and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA).

She is also a National Merit Commended Scholar, has received a Bausch and Lomb Science Award and the Daughters of the Confederacy American History Award. Beth is planning to continue her education at Duke University and study computer science or mathematics.

Faronda Angela Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie James Brown. She is a member of the varsity volleyball team and has been playing on the team since the 10th grade. She is also on the softball team.

Faronda is an active member of the AAU club. She is a member of the New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church and is in the choir. She plans to go to college in Atlanta, Ga., to study fashion design.

Karen Louise Edgemon is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis James Edgemon. Karen is the president of the senior class, a member of the tennis team, Tribe, Key Club, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Student Government and the personality behind Sammy Seminole. She has received numerous citizenship and service awards during her years at Seminole. Karen plans to attend Duke University as a pre-med student.

Sarah Anne Loomis is the daughter of Mrs. Pamela Dell and Jim Loomis. Sarah is captain of the Dance Team, Key Club vice-president, senior class representative and member of the Tribal Council. What's New For Holidays?

A slew of new music video releases are hitting the market in time for Christmas.

There's "The Last World Dream," a 60-minute concert tape by Howard Jones ($24.95 list); and two clip compilations from his labelmates, Dokken and Motley Crue "Unchain the Night" and "Uncensored," respectively (each at $19.98).

David Lee Roth is releasing a compilation tape of his best-known video clips, including "California Girls" and "Just a Gigolo." It also has an interview with Roth tacked on the end ($19.95 list).

Ronnie James Dio had the NFL camera crew tape his Philadelphia concert for "The Sacred Heart Tour" cassette.

Country is getting into the act, too, with new home videos from Willie Nelson and Tammy Wynette, each 90 minutes long ($29.95).

And for those with sophisticated equipment, four new audio-visual laser discs are also due: "Hot Rocks Vol. 1," featuring Eurythmics, the Kinks and Starship; "Video a Go-Go," with Bananarama, Stephanie Mills and the Bar-Kays; "Daryl Hall and John Oates"; and "Ratt, the Video."

(BU) Chart check: The top home music videocassettes this month have been: 1., Whitney Houston, "No. 1 Video Hits" (which entered at No. 1 and has remained there for 19 weeks); 2., "MTV Closet Classics"; 3., "Dick Clark's Best of Bandstand"; 4., "Wham! In China"; 5., The Cure, "Staring at the Sea"; 6., Ozzy Osbourne, "The Ultimate Ozzy"; 7., Dire Straits, "Brothers in Arms"; 8., U2, "Live at Red Rocks" (now 61 weeks on the chart); 9., Robert Palmer, "Riptide"; and 10., Bob Dylan and Tom Petty, "Hard to Handle."

(BU) MTV will air the Bangles' benefit concert for Multiple Sclerosis on Nov. 26, live from Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh. The show is being held there because of the school's efforts in advance fund-raising for MS research.

(BU) Michael McDonald's "Our Love" will be the premiere song and video from the upcoming movie "No Mercy," starring Richard Gere and Kim Basinger. The flick comes out for Christmas; the single and album are already on the street.

(BU) Anthony Gourdine, better known as the leader of Little Anthony and the Imperials, joined the teen group New Edition on its recording of his '80s smash "Tears on My Pillow." It will appear on New Edition's upcoming LP of the guys' favorite oldies. Gourdine was just about the same age as the members of New Edition when he cut the original "Tears on My Pillow" in 1958.

(BU) File under happy endings: Richard Berry, the writer and original performer of the garage rock classic "Louie Louie," has regained royalty rights on his song 30 years after signing away his ownership to a publishing company. The service organization Artistic Rights — which intervenes on behalf of old-time rockers who unwittingly signed away their song rights — spent seven years litigating on Berry's case. "Louie Louie" was written in 1956, and since then has sold 300 million records in 1,000 different versions.

formulating her ideas for decorating. "One night while driving home from school," she says, "I got the idea of how I wanted my Christmas tree. It will be with plain white lights, mauve-colored bows, pearls and baby's breath and that's all that will be on it. My one ambition is to have a flocked tree one year. Right now, we're working on refinishing a child's sled to put under the tree."

Gracing the walls of the McMillan home are beautiful oil paintings done by Mrs. McMillan's mother. "They are extra special to me because they're always a part of her that I have with me," she says. "She took up painting when she was in her 60s and she's done a lot of pictures for all of us. Most of my furniture is my mother's or my grandmother's and that's what's special to me. That's what my home is all about and I hope it will always be in the family. Those things are what mean a lot to me: family, my house and things that my mother had. I always feel like I have a part of them with me."

Menu planning for the holidays is something that Mrs. McMillan eagerly looks forward to. As members of the Lakeview Christian Church in Forest City, the McMillans enjoy the fellowship of their Sunday School progressive dinners which are a delight to the palate. "I am planning on doing the main course," she says, "of baked ham, pea casserole, and some type of sweet potatoes. At the end of the evening, we have an exchange of white elephant gifts, and that's a lot of fun."

Mrs. McMillan admits that her daughter is also a very good cook and will be hosting Thanksgiving Day at her home. For Christmas, she is looking forward to having her whole family together, including her dad, sister and brother-in-law from Tennessee. "I hope to have friends in at different times during the holidays. I like to do that," says Mrs. McMillan. Very often guests are treated to the taste and aroma of hot mulled cider which Mrs. McMillan likes to serve on chilly days — a welcome treat.

From her well-equipped strawberry kitchen, Mrs. McMillan will be preparing her family's favorite things this year, and among the list are easy to make dishes that have elegant results. "I like salads, so when I have guests, I like to use salad recipes," she says. "Because I work and go to school, I like recipes that you can make in advance and that keep well. My recipes are usually simple. I like recipes that are simple and easy, but look like they took a long time to make," she laughs.

SPAGHETTI SALAD

- 1 Pkg. spaghetti (8 oz.)
- 1/2 Cup shredded lettuce (optional)
- 1 Small onion, chopped
- 3 Slices cooked ham, chopped
- 1/2 Cup (2 oz.) cubed Cheddar cheese
- 3 Small sweet pickles, chopped
- 1/2 Cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 Cup chopped radishes
- 1/2 Cup chopped celery
- 1/4 Cup chopped carrots
- 2/3 Cup mayonnaise
- 1 Tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1-1/2 Tablespoons real lemon juice
- 1-1/2 Tsp. salt
- 1/4 Tsp. pepper
- 2 Tablespoons sugar

Cook spaghetti according to directions; drain. Rinse spaghetti with cold water; drain and set aside. Combine next 9 ingredients, mixing well. Stir in spaghetti. Combine mayonnaise, mustard, lemon juice, salt, pepper and sugar. Stir well. Pour over spaghetti mixture and toss to coat. Refrigerate. This keeps for days, can be made ahead. Serves 6.

PEA CASSEROLE

- 1 Can peas, drained
- 1 Stick margarine
- 1 Large onion, chopped
- 1 Can cream of celery soup
- 1-1/2 Tablespoons all purpose flour
- 1 Can water chestnuts, sliced and drained
- 1 Cup Pepperidge Farm Herb Dressing
- Saute onion in 1/2 stick of margarine until clear. Add flour, then soup. Mix well. Add water chestnuts, peas, mix. Put in 8 inch square glass dish. Melt remaining 1/2 stick margarine and mix with dressing. Sprinkle over top. Bake at 350 degrees until brown, approximately 8 to 10 minutes. Serves 8.

HOLIDAY SALAD

- 1 Can condensed milk
 - 1 Can coconut
 - 1 Can cherry pie filling
 - 1 Large carton Cool Whip
 - 1 Small can crushed pineapple, drained
 - 1 Bag colored miniature marshmallows
 - 1/2 Cup chopped nuts
- Mix all ingredients together in large bowl and enjoy. Serves 10-12.

GREEN SALAD

- 3 Cups chopped broccoli
 - 1 Head chopped cauliflower
 - 1/2 Cup chopped celery
 - 3 Hard boiled eggs, chopped
 - 1/2 Cup chopped olives
 - 3 Green onions, chopped
- Combine all ingredients in large bowl. Mix 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1/2 cup mayonnaise together. Pour over the above ingredients and toss. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 8.

PATIENCE CAKE

- 2-1/2 Cups powdered sugar
- 2 8 oz. containers sour cream
- 1 Pkg. (12 oz.) frozen coconut
- 1 Carton Cool Whip
- 1 Can flaked coconut
- 1 Box white (or yellow) cake mix

FIRST DAY — Mix powdered sugar, sour cream, and flaked coconut. Refrigerate 24 hours.
SECOND DAY — Bake cake in 2 layers according to package directions. Split to make 4 layers. Spread first day's mixture between layers. Cover top and sides. Refrigerate 24 hours.
THIRD DAY — Cover cake with Cool Whip and 12 oz. package of coconut. Cover and keep in refrigerator 48 hours. Cut on 5th day. (Hence the name Patience Cake!)

STRAWBERRY DIP

- 1-1/2 Cups cottage cheese
 - 3 Tablespoons honey
 - 1/2 to 1 tsp. cinnamon
 - 1/2 Cup plain yogurt
- Take cottage cheese, honey and cinnamon and blend in blender. Put in yogurt and fold together. Refrigerate. Before serving, sprinkle cinnamon on top. Serve with fresh strawberries or other fresh fruit.

BANANA BASE PUNCH

- 4 Cups water
 - 4 Cups sugar
 - 1 Can (6 oz.) orange juice concentrate
 - 1/2 Cup lemon juice
 - 1 Can (46 oz.) pineapple juice
 - 5 or 6 Ripe bananas
- Heat water and sugar to a boil. Add orange juice, pineapple juice, and lemon juice. Puree bananas and stir into juice mixture. Freeze. When ready to serve, thaw to a mush and pour over 1/2 gallon pineapple sherbet and add 2 quarts ginger ale. Serves a whole bunch.

Microwave Magic

Add New Interests To Meal Planning With Vegetable Favorites

If you are the one responsible for the Thanksgiving dinner, you have probably started to plan the menu and prepare a shopping list. Deciding on the vegetables and side dishes to serve is sometimes a dilemma. I try to serve the traditional family favorites and perhaps a new recipe or a "different treatment" for a vegetable.

The microwave is the perfect appliance for cooking vegetables. The natural moisture of the vegetable itself is usually enough to promote rapid cooking, retaining the nutritional content and natural color.

Add some new interest to your meal planning with some of these fall vegetable favorites.

DILLED VEGETABLE COMBO

- 1 medium rutabaga, peeled
- 2 small turnips, peeled
- 2 tablespoons water
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon dill weed

Cut vegetables into matchstick pieces about 2 inches in length. Place in 1½-quart casserole; add water and cover. Microwave on 100% power 7-8 minutes or until fork-tender, stirring once; drain and sprinkle with salt; cover. Microwave butter in 1-cup glass measure at 100% for 45-60 seconds or until melted. Stir in lemon juice and dill weed.

GEORGIA SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

This is a different treatment of a sweet potato.

- ¼ cup butter
- 2 cans (18 ounces) vacuum-packed sweet potatoes
- 1 can (16 ounces) sliced peaches, drained and chopped
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup chopped pecans

Microwave butter in large glass mixing bowl at 100% 20-30 seconds or until melted. Add sweet potatoes, brown sugar, eggs, peaches, orange peel and salt; beat until fluffy. Turn into a greased 1½-quart casserole. Microwave on 100% power 10-12 minutes or until heated through, stirring once or twice during the time. Top with chopped pecans.

CREAMED ONIONS

The Thanksgiving dinner would not be complete for our family without creamed onions. The small "boiler" onions can be micro-cooked to the perfect doneness.

- 16 small onions, peeled
- 2 tablespoons water
- ¾ cup sour cream
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash each of nutmeg and pepper

In a 1½-quart casserole combine onions and water; cover and microwave at 100% power 7-8 minutes or until tender, stirring gently once; drain. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sour cream mixture over onions; gently stir to coat. Reduce power to 50% and microwave 1-2 minutes or until sauce is heated through.

BEETS AND CARROTS IN ORANGE SAUCE

A tangy sauce accents this fall vegetable combination.

- 5 medium beets
- 2 cups sliced carrots
- ¼ cup water
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 tablespoon vinegar

Cut tops from beets, leaving 2 inches of stem; wash well and place in 2-quart casserole. Add water to within ½ inch of top of dish; cover and microwave on 100% power 15-20 minutes or until beets are just about tender; let stand 10 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Slip skin from beets and twist off stem; set aside. Combine carrots and water in 1-quart casserole; cover and microwave on 100% power 5-6 minutes or until tender. Let stand 5 minutes.

Combine brown sugar, corn starch, salt and orange juice in a 2-cup glass measure; mix. Microwave on 100% 2-3 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens. Stir in butter and vinegar. Drain carrots. Slice beets and add to carrots. Pour sauce over vegetable; mix lightly and cover. Microwave at 100% power 1½-2 minutes or until heated through.

Nobody Says It Will Be Easy, But Stop Smoking For 24 Hours

DEAR READERS: Tomorrow will mark the 10th Annual Great American Smokeout, an upbeat, good-humored, one-day campaign to encourage smokers to quit smoking for 24 hours — just to prove they can do it.

The idea was conceived by the American Cancer Society, which insists that anyone who can live without a cigarette for 24 hours can quit forever. So, if you're hooked on cigarettes (or cigars) and you really want to quit, why not start tomorrow — just for 24 hours?

The following information may motivate you: According to John F. Banzhaf III, executive director of ASH (Action on Smoking and Health) in Washington, D.C., lung cancer is the single largest contributor to the total cancer death rate. It accounts for 25 percent of all cancer deaths in the United States. It is estimated that 85 percent of all lung cancer cases are due to cigarette smoking. As a smoker, you are 10 times more likely to die of lung cancer than a non-smoker.

This year there will be 100,000 lung cancer cases among men and 49,000 among women. Of these, 89,000 men and 41,000 women will die of the disease. The number of women who will die of lung cancer is increasing at an alarming rate. Breast cancer used to be the biggest killer for women — now it's lung cancer! A word about smoking-related diseases — emphysema, chronic bronchitis and heart disease. This year an estimated 350,000 will die from one of these diseases. This total exceeds the number of U.S. deaths in World War II; it is eight times as many people who die in automobile accidents.

A congressional study has just reported that health costs from the adverse effects of smoking have reached a new high of $100 billion a year in increased medical bills and lost productivity. The loss in death and disability cannot be measured. (And how does one measure the amount of heartache, remorse and guilt suffered as a result of a preventable, self-induced tragedy?)

What about "secondhand" smoke? Is it actually damaging to non-smokers to be in the presence of those who are smoking? Yes! Furthermore, studies reveal that the children of smokers are more prone to lung problems and allergies than children of non-smokers.

For years I have begged my young readers, "If you smoke, quit now. If you don't smoke, don't start!" Yet an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 kids light up for the first time every day. Why? Peer pressure, no doubt.

"How about the rights of smokers?" you ask. Of course they are entitled to smoke if they wish. But they will have to find a place where they can smoke to their hearts' content without offending those who can't tolerate it.

"Quitting cold turkey" is the hardest way to quit, but my readers have told me it's the most effective, and in the long run, the easiest way. Cutting down is less traumatic, but the temptation to smoke is often too powerful to resist while smoking just one, two or three cigarettes a day.

Drive's Goal Is Collecting A Ton Of Food For Needy

Seminole County business student and government leaders will be working together in the next two weeks to attempt to collect more than one ton of canned food for the needy at Thanksgiving as part of the Greater Seminole Chamber of Commerce's fourth annual Thanksgiving Food Drive. Chamber Executive Director Robert Lewis announced today.

Twenty-one collection boxes for donations will be placed in businesses throughout the county, Lewis said. In addition, students at Lake Brantley High School and employees at Altamonte Springs City Hall and Seminole County Government Services Building in Sanford are participating in the food drive.

Participating businesses include Southeast and Barnett banks, J.C. Penney Credit Services on Wekiva Springs Road, Stromberg-Carlson in Lake Mary, Florida Hospital and Huskey Real Estate offices in Seminole County. The public is encouraged to contribute canned goods to the Chamber drive by bringing donations to the nearest collection box.

The food collected during the drive will be given to the Seminole County Christian Sharing Center on State Road 427 in Longwood. The food will be distributed to the needy during the holiday season, Lewis said. The one ton goal is an outgrowth of the Chamber's success in previous food drives.

"The Thanksgiving Food Drive has grown tremendously in both scope and size," Lewis said. "We began in 1983 by giving away a dozen turkeys. Last year, we gathered more than 300 pounds of food. The one ton goal is easily within our reach with the number of businesses and employees participating."

For location of collection boxes, call the Chamber, 834-4404.

Australia Waltzes Into Movie Mainstream

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Hurrah for the Aussies, bless 'em. They're beginning to challenge Hollywood with first-rate motion pictures.

For the past seven weeks "Crocodile Dundee" has been the No. 1 film in American and Canadian theaters, surpassing $75 million gross at the box office. It was produced with Australian money, directed by a down-under director (Peter Faiman) and stars a genuine Aussie folk hero, Paul Hogan.

Hogan, with a shock of unruly blond hair and a face as seamed as an Australian landscape, is also the bloke who wrote the screenplay.

He won American hearts as the Australian tourism spokesman in TV commercials lauding the wonders and beauties of his native land.

Wearing a sly smile, Hogan even twitted Americans about coming to the land of the kangaroo to visit the America's Cup, the international yachting trophy won by the Aussies after many years of competing against American boats.

Hogan's performance and personal magnetism has made "Crocodile Dundee" one of the most successful foreign pictures in U.S. cinema history, promising to top $100 million in gross box-office receipts.

The comedy about a rugged cobbler from the Outback let loose in Manhattan is a simple tale of an innocent abroad, but it typifies, too, the energy of Australia's emerging filmmakers.

"Crocodile Dundee" is only the most recent success to focus attention on how Australian movies are growing in popularity at a time when European filmmakers are scarcely in business.

For one thing, some 40 films are being produced in Sydney and Melbourne, an astonishing total in view of the fact that there are no motion picture studios in Australia on the scale of those in Hollywood, London, Mexico City, Paris and Rome.

Nor are there production companies that can turn out a slate of films on a regular basis. Still the Aussies manage to package movies with individual producers and directors, without a seeming pattern, flushing out finances and shooting on locations improvisational style.

A prime example of today's bright and able Australian filmmakers is Bruce Beresford, 46, who has directed such outstanding pictures as "Breaker Morant" and "Tender Mercies."

A big man with curly hair and wry humor, Beresford was in Hollywood recently to put the finishing touches on his latest film, "Crimes of the Heart," starring Diane Keaton, Jessica Lange and Sissy Spacek.

In 1981 his "Breaker Morant," a moving story of three heroic Australian officers on trial during the Boer War, brought international attention to the powerful stories and talented artists working down under.

It also made international stars of Jack Thompson and Bryan Brown while earning an Oscar nomination for Beresford for best screenplay.

"Breaker Morant" was followed a year later by "Gallipoli," another brilliant military picture, directed by Peter Weir. It made a star of Mel Gibson.

In less than a decade the Aussies have unleashed a veritable cornucopia of excellent films: "Phar Lap," "The Man From Snowy River," "My Brilliant Career," the TV miniseries "A Town Called Alice" and even the off-beat action thriller "Mad Max." A recent release is "Malcolm," a new and hysterically funny comedy.

While American producers specialized in squealing-tire shoot-'em-ups, fantasies by Spielberg and Lucas and juvenile trash like "Porcky's," the Australians worked on solid stories involving personal relationships, history and adult humor with innovative direction and spectacular settings.

Beresford, watching his diet at the MGM commissary the other day, said, "I think one of the reasons our pictures are doing so well is the enthusiasm of everyone involved. Nobody down there is jaded or cynical like so many people you find in Hollywood."

"A major reason for the surge in production, of course, is that financing has been available in recent years thanks to tax concessions, but the Labor government may soon wipe that off."

"It is also fortunate that we've got some good directors like Weir, Fred Schepisi, John Duigan and George Miller making interesting films. And fine producers like Sue Milliken and Grace Walker."

"Australia has had an exciting history but few films or TV shows have depicted our stories, so the rest of the world never knew. We have unlimited fresh material for screenplays based on our heritage and culture."

As pleased as Beresford is with the growth of the Australian film industry, he has been lured to Hollywood by big bucks and such promising screenplays as "Crimes of the Heart." The same may be said for Weir, who directed the new Harrison Ford picture, "Mosquito Coast," and Miller, who came to Hollywood to direct "The Witches of Easter."

Many ex-patriate Australian directors and actors (Thompson, Brown and Gibson among them) fret about the sour attitude taken by their co-workers who remain at home. Some charge that their colleagues may resent their success abroad. Beresford believes it's a case of provinciality.

"I cannot understand why they aren't pleased that their fellow Australians have attained some success in other countries," he said.

"To tell the truth, I enjoy working in Hollywood projects because the producers are more involved and available all day long. Australian producers are mostly part-timers who are wealthy from other sources. I prefer to work with people whose very existence is involved in pictures."

Still, Beresford has no intention of moving full-time to Hollywood. Last February he was in Australia to direct "The Fringe Dwellers," an inexpensive contemporary drama with an all-black cast of aboriginals living on the fringe of a modern city.

"It's the sort of Australian story that's never been told on the screen," he continued. "I interviewed hundreds of aboriginals from all over the country. We still have a population of 180,000 of them. None of my cast had ever gone to high school, but they are a marvelous people who learn quickly."

"I'm returning to Sydney next year to direct 'The Golden Mile.' It's a true story about an Australian mine disaster and rescue.

Hamilton Holds Carnival

Hamilton Elementary School is planning the event of the year for the school at 1501 E. 8th St. in Sanford — the Fall Festival.

Dubbed "The Fall Flight of the Hamilton Hawk," the festival will be Saturday, Nov. 22 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Principal Carem Gager said the festival will feature a "principal's sponge throw," a moon walk, bean bag toss, "Hit the cat," gold fish throw, grab bag, clown faces and many more attractions.

Refreshments will be available including hamburgers, hotdogs, pizza, drinks and many other favorites.

To get tickets before the fair, contact the school at 322-1984. Tickets are 12 for $2, or 20-cents each. On the day of the carnival, the tickets will be 20-cents each or five for $1.

Principal Gager said, "We hope to earn enough from this activity to add to our computers. Currently, the computers we have are not enough to go around so we hope to raise enough to buy more. Thank you for your support, and see you there."

Hollandaise sauce tastes just as good flavored with orange juice instead of lemon - but then you call it Sauce Maitaise.

Pita chips are perfect with dip - especially eggplant salad or hummus. Cut each pita bread into 8 or 9 wedges, and separate top and bottom. Bake at 375° for 12 minutes on a baking sheet. Cool before storing in a plastic bag.

Never stuff chicken or turkey and then refrigerate it. It's not safe. You CAN prepare the stuffing and chill in a bowl.

Americans ate 12 pounds of pasta per person last year - way up from 6.5 pounds per person in 1967.

One super dessert: upside down pie a la mode! Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs on a greased pie plate, then smooth vanilla ice cream all over to create a "crust". Freeze. Before serving, fill with cut-up fresh fruit.

There's nothing better than a delicious meal

Home Is Where The Business Is

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Sally Ubbing was fed up with the corporate world. Betty Willis wanted to enjoy her own paycheck. Dick Bennett felt he could do a better job than his boss.

So, these three people did what many workers only dream about: they started businesses and became their own bosses.

Ubbing, who had been an office manager, opened a financial services business in her home and has moved into a small store-front office.

Willis began a technical assistance consultant service and now helps court reporters find jobs. She began in an office building and now works out of her home.

Bennett left an electronics business to set up his own shop, where he sells, installs and services two-way radios and mobile telephones for businesses.

Although many people try to start their own businesses, only a few succeed, said Sherman Timmins, a professor of management at the University of Toledo, where he also heads the Small Business Institute.

"For every 100 start-ups, about 90 other small businesses close their doors," Timmins found while doing research for a booklet he recently put together on how to start a small business.

The kinds of businesses that can be done at home vary, but services and professions dominate. Among the most popular businesses are legal, medical, accounting, catering, tailoring, typing (especially near universities), repair, photography, free-lance writing and hair dressing.

One big problem is knowing how to go about it.

"Friends gave us six months," said Jean Bennett, co-owner with her husband, Dick, of Bencco Communications in Worthington. That was in 1974. Now, 12 years later, she said if they had it to do over again, they would still do it, "only this time we'd get some business education first."

"When we started, we lacked business tactics," said Bennett, a former nurse whose husband decided that "I could do a better job than my boss was doing."

They had met and married when they were in the Navy, "but the Navy didn't teach us how to work with people," Jean Bennett said.

"We didn't know about business," she said. "We just did what we thought had to be done."

Local laws are another problem that budding entrepreneurs should know about.

The Bennetts, who then had two small children, wanted to open their shop in their home.

"We couldn't do that because the neighborhood wasn't zoned for business," Jean Bennett said.

Ubbing and Willis also found some problems with zoning for their home businesses. They could not put signs up to let people know they worked at home, they said.

Ubbing worked with an accountant to get clients for the business she started in her bedroom, then moved to the family room.

"I left the garage door open for clients to walk in, and the gas bill shot up," she said. "So we put in a private entrance."

Willis, who held a variety of jobs for 25 years, drew from her wealth of contacts when she began her own business in 1982. Her reputation in the field of technical assistance was a plus for business.

"My first contract was supplying the people to clean up the Ohio State Fairgrounds," she said, noting that she rounded up more than 100 young people to do litter duty during the 17-day fair.

The state accepted her plan. But as news of her activities spread to job-seekers she ran into another problem.

"I found I was able to supply something that wasn't in demand," she said, referring to the young unskilled workers. "So I took a look at what was in demand and decided to supply it." Now she scouts for open positions and then searches for people qualified to fill them.

Jim Rinehart, a counselor for the Service Corps of Retired Executives, said beginners don't have any idea of what costs are involved to create a business. The Bennetts readily agreed.

"At first, we undersold ourselves," said Dick Bennett. His wife explained that they did not know how to charge for labor, even if it was their own.

"At times, the manufacturers' suggested retail price wasn't enough," said Jean Bennett. "Sometimes we had more money than we had."

The Columbus Technical Institute, which hosts seminars for the Small Business Administration, said not to spend much on start-ups. The institute said entrepreneurs should not invest a lot of time or money on fancy financial programs or machinery — a cigar box can suffice for the cash register in the beginning.

For advertising, the institute suggested small business cards that can be passed to friends and acquaintances and left at restaurant and health club counters as an inexpensive alternative to large publicity campaigns.

Just about anyone can set up a business, said Jerry Garman, who teaches a course for the federal Small Business Administration on getting started. Just starting in practice, someone re-entering the job market, someone whose plant is closing or a woman who wants to work around her children," he said.

The Bennetts had two young sons when they opened their business in a small building a couple of miles down from their home.

"The kids came here after school," said Jean Bennett, pointing to a room just off the office. "They had a counter in there where they did their school work and a cot that they fell asleep on."

"I had a stove, refrigerator and table in the back room, and that's where we ate supper many nights," she said. "Dick would solicit business during the day and I'd run the office, and we'd do the installations at night."

The two boys, now both in college, did a lot of work for their parents, Jean Bennett said.

"Many Saturdays they sorted nuts and bolts and washed windows when their friends were playing," their mother said. "But we knew where our kids were, and they knew what their parents did for a living."

Ubbing's three children were in school when "I got fed up with the corporate world and just went out and did it," she said of starting her business My Gal Sal five years ago.

"I started when all three were in private schools," she recalled. "They freaked out and said, 'What are we going to do for money? We never had a problem.'"

All three are through college, and one son works with her today.

Working with a spouse does not present as many problems as some people seem to think, Jean Bennett said.

Their different temperaments blend, she said. "I'm spunky, he's laid back."

"Working together has taught us to be survivors," she said. "We are tough people. There were times when we thought we wouldn't make it, but the next morning, we put one foot in front of the other."

Ubbing, who said it takes a determined and dedicated person to work at home, worked in her home office as if she were working away from home. That included dressing for the business world.

"I'm an advocate of professionalism," she said. "You dress the part. When a client sees you in jeans or sweatshirt, he thinks you don't look like you know what you're doing."

And she would spend her entire work day in her home office.

"If I'd forget to get something out of the freezer, then we went to fast food for supper," she said.

"When you work at home, you tend to work 80 hours a week," Ubbing said. "You're really married to your job when it's in the home."

"You have to be self-motivated to work at home. You have to have a will and a want or you just won't. It takes a very disciplined person to work at home. You set goals and when you attain them, you set higher goals."

Willis, who operates Willis Reporting Service, also found her hours increased.

"At first, I was working 12 to 14 hours a day," she said. "It was feast or famine."

"But, for the first time in my life, my paycheck was mine and I could do crazy things with it," she said. "My children all had their college educations, and that paycheck didn't go for tuition."

A business in the home is becoming more acceptable, Ubbing said.

"Years ago, the public thought if your office was in your home, they wouldn't do business with you," she said. "Some wouldn't want their work done from a home."

But times have changed. "Working at home is becoming more acceptable to the public every day," she said. "Men in sales often have their offices at home."

Seminole High School homecoming celebrations will culminate Friday night with the football game against the DeLand Bulldogs and the announcement of the Homecoming Queen during halftime of the game.

The next day there will be a Homecoming Dance at the Civic Center at 8 p.m.

This year's Homecoming Court consists of: Beth Brooks,

Farinda Brown, Karen Edgemon, Sara Loomis, Nancy McWaters, Temika Sutton, Lori Swain, Revonda Wallace, and Renee Workman. These ladies have been chosen for this honor because they have the qualities it takes to get ahead in the world. The Homecoming Queen will be announced at the game Friday night. Also to be announced is the Homecoming King, one of the many fabulous teachers we have at Seminole. The nominees are: Lance Abney, Roger Beathard, Sid Blackwell, Jeff Farno, Mike Ferrell, Carlos Merlino, Greg Register, and Andrew Williams. The winner of the Homecoming King title will be the man who raises the most votes. Any student may vote for a penny and support his or her favorite teacher.

The annual Homecoming Parade will be held Thursday at 5:00 p.m. in downtown Sanford, featuring floats designed and built by many of the clubs on campus. On Friday, there shall be the last pep rally, and door decorations will be created and judged during first and second periods. Students are also asked to wear the traditional orange and black to show their support of Seminole High School. During third period, Seminole High School's newspaper, "The Seminole", will be on sale for a measly twenty-five cents. It has twenty pages of stimulating articles, and is jam packed with pictures and cartoons. All students are encouraged to buy this memorable issue; it is one that they will want to keep forever.

Book Thefts Evoke Study Of Security System

Lake Mary High School's media center and library may be pushed into installing a new security system, at a cost of $10,000 or more, if the present amount of book thefts does not decrease soon, according to Mrs. Beth Whigham of the school library.

Mrs. Whigham said that last year the library lost a total of 401 books, or about 3 percent of the total book collection. The school had a total of 13,700 books before the losses. "Whether the school will ask for approval of a security system soon be determined soon, because Mrs. Whigham said the thefts could not be tolerated any longer.

When asked how she personally felt about it, she stated that she was not in favor of a new security system unless it was absolutely necessary.

"Personally, I would rather spend the money on new book purchases," she said. "I would rather see that than see a $10,000-plus security system installed.

Three Seminole County high schools have library security systems presently. They are: Lake Brantley High School, Lake Howell High School, and Lyman High School.

Smart Cooking Cuts Cholesterol

DEAR DR. GOTT — Which has a higher cholesterol count: hash browns and fried potatoes or french fries and potato chips?

DEAR READER — That depends on how the potatoes are cooked. Saturated fat is high in cholesterol. Unfortunately, it is also cheap, and is therefore a popular way to fry commercial foods. As a general rule, the greasier the product, the more cholesterol it contains. However, potatoes fried at home, using a minimum of polyunsaturated fat, can be quite low in cholesterol. Better yet, use a nonstick pan that is coated with something like Teflon. That way, you can fry food with practically no fat.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, UN-DE-R-S-T-A-N-D-I-N-G CHOLESTEROL. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I know someone who is a good worker, but odd. We have a hand lift; he wipes the handle off about 20 times. He's always wiping his hands, his head, his glasses. When he takes a drink of water, he bobs his head up and down, up and down, like a duck. He also talks to himself all the time. It seems as if he's getting worse. Could he be dangerous? What do you call this kind of behavior?

DEAR READER — I call this kind of behavior unusual. Perhaps there is a perfectly valid reason your co-worker acts this way. Maybe he perspires a lot, has trouble swallowing and finds his own conversation to be an amusing way to fend off boredom. Ask him why he does the things he does.

If his behavior is becoming more bizarre and disruptive, mention your concerns to your supervisor.

DEAR DR. GOTT — In the last two days, I've had two attacks of chest pains, difficulty breathing, sweating and nausea. One doctor said it was like having a heart attack. Another said the muscles around my heart are enlarged and inflamed. I'm taking Indocin, Elavil and Tanxene. No one has told me what can be done.

DEAR READER — If you are having repeated attacks of chest pain, sweating, nausea and difficulty breathing, you need to be in the hospital — now — for heart testing. You could actually be having heart attacks.

Dr. Gott

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
How can one explain the intuition that tells a declarer where key cards are located? Hesitant play by the opponents is part of the answer. Another part is correctly judging the pressure experienced by a defender as the hand winds down. In today's deal, played throughout the room in a recent regional tournament, the queen of diamonds was led against six spades. There were many different results, some pairs not even getting to slam. Today's declarer, who was in slam, won his king of diamonds, drew trumps ending in dummy and unblocked the jack. West won the king and continued diamonds. Declarer won with dummy's ace and ruffed a diamond. Then he played his last two spades, discarding first a low club and then the queen from dummy. When he played the heart ace and his low heart to the 10, West went out to lunch. Obviously West had to hold his last diamond, and when West finally and reluctantly let a club go, declarer decided that West had been forced to unguard the king. So declarer played his club ace and made his slam when the king came down. At other tables, the play may have been the same, but if West resigned himself to the inevitable and let his clubs go without pain, those declarers probably fished in clubs and were set.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY NOVEMBER 20, 1986
 I've good news for you, Scorpio. It looks like your bank account will be much fatter by your next birthday than it is at the time of this year's celebration.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
 The smaller pieces will slip into place today once you perceive the general outline. Don't try to put the details first. Major changes are ahead for Scorpio in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
 Confidential information given to you today will eventually prove to be to your benefit. However, secrecy is essential for the present.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
 In career situations today, your greatest asset is your ability to take a nominal opportunity and enlarge it into something really worthwhile. Use it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
 What may appear to be a moderate gesture of good will from a loved one might turn out to be something far grander than you first imagined.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 You're in the thoughts today of someone with whom you have powerful emotional links. This dear friend is ready to help you where needed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 Paint your canvas with bold strokes and bright colors today. Your bigger ideas will do better than any of your lesser ones.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Most days, we have to work very hard for what we get, but this is one of those times when you may do well materially without having to put in too much effort.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 Don't be hesitant to take control today where you see persons who are supposed to be in charge just floating. If you can do better, do it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 A project that interests not only you, but several others as well, will meet with success today if everyone involved looks out for one another.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 Today you may have to influence a small, select group. If this is true, single out the key people. Work closely with them instead of with the majority.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
 This is the time for Librans to try to figure out ways to expand upon good things they already have in the mill, especially the moneymakers.

Appetizers...Salads...Vegetables

Cape Cod Million Dollar Carrots

4 cups sliced carrots
1 medium chopped onion
3 tablespoons margarine
1 can cream of celery soup (no water or milk added)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup medium sharp cheese grated
3 cups herbed-flavored croutons
Cook carrots until barely soft, drain.

Cook onion in 3 tablespoons oleo until soft. Stir in soup, salt, pepper, cheese and carrots. Place in buttered casserole. Toss buttered croutons over top. Bake in 350° oven until bubbly.

If desired, crabmeat, chicken, scallops, ham or turkey may be added before baking.

New England Clam Chowder

3 cans (8 oz.) minced clams, drained
1 cup water
1/4 pound salt pork minced
1 1/2 cups reserved clam juice and water
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery (optional)
5 cups diced potatoes
2 cups milk
8 saltine crackers
2 cups half and half
2 tablespoons butter
Drain clams and reserve juice. Cook salt pork until browned and crisp. Remove salt pork from pan, reserve 2 tablespoons drippings. In saucepan add onion, celery and cook until tender, add clam juice mixed with water and potatoes. Bring to boil and simmer until potatoes are very tender. Pour milk over saltines and let stand until soft. Stir milk, half and half, reserved salt pork and butter into chowder mixture. Heat until hot enough to serve. May garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Pineapple Meat Balls

1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1/4 cup minced onion
1 egg
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon Crisco

Sauce:

2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 (13 oz.) can pineapple chunks
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
Mix beef, crumbs, milk, onion, salt, egg and ginger. Shape into at least 35 meatballs. Brown meatballs in cooking oil in large heavy skillet. Remove the meatballs and keep warm. Pour fat from skillet.

Drain pineapple saving liquid. Mix cornstarch and sugar. Stir in pineapple juice, vinegar and soy sauce until smooth. Pour into skillet and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until it thickens and boils. Boil one minute.

Add meatballs, pineapple and green pepper. Heat thoroughly. Serves 6-8.

Nacho Salad

Mix these two together:

1 can (16 oz.) refried beans
1 package taco sauce
1 8 oz. carton avacado dip
1 8 oz. carton of sour cream
1 4 oz. can chopped ripe olives
1 4 oz. can of chopped chilis
2 small onions, chopped

2 tomatoes-diced
6 oz. grated Monterey Jack cheese
Spread in dish in layers according to order listed. Serves approximately 6-8. Good as an appetizer with Nacho crackers.

Mocha Oatmeal Cake With Mocha Oatmeal Frosting

2 tablespoons instant coffee
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup quaker oats
3/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
3/4 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons cocoa
Combine coffee and boiling water. Pour over oats; stir, cover and let stand 20 minutes. Beat butter until creamy. Gradually add sugars, beating until fluffy. Beat in eggs. Blend in vanilla. Add oat mixture and blend well. Mix together flour, soda, salt and cocoa. Add to creamed mixture. Pour into two round cake pans and bake at 350 degree oven until done, about 40 minutes.

Frosting:

1/2 cup butter
1 box confectioner's sugar
1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 1/2 tablespoons instant coffee
About four tablespoons milk for spreading consistency.

Chicken Kiev

8 boned chicken breasts
1 cup butter
1 cup flour
1 cup cold milk
2 cups bread crumbs
4 beaten eggs

2 teaspoons salt
Oil for deep fat frying.
Place each breast between 2 pieces of waxed paper and pound to 1/4 inch thickness. Shape batter into bars allowing 1 1/2 tablespoons per breast. Roll each piece of chicken around a butter bar. Coat the pieces of chicken with flour, dip into the cold milk, drain, next dip into the beaten egg to which the salt has been added, dip into the crumbs and dip for a second time into the egg, now back again in the crumbs.

Chill overnight in the refrigerator. 30 minutes before serving fry in oil for 10 minutes gently, then place on cookie sheet in oven for 20 minutes at 400°

Serve with rice.

MORNAY SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
Dash of onion salt
1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese
Salt and pepper
Melt butter and stir in flour to make a smooth paste. Gradually add milk, stirring, cook over low heat until thickened and smooth. Add grated cheese and season with salt and pepper. Heat 1 minute longer. Makes 1 1/4 cups of sauce. Pour over chicken before serving or at table.

Meat Pie

3 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
4 tablespoons flour
5 medium potatoes, cooked and diced
1/2 cup diced celery
1 cup diced cooked meat
2 cups milk or meat stock
1/2 cup diced cooked carrots
1 can veg-all mixed vegetables
Slowly brown onion, pepper, celery and meat, in cooking oil, stirring constantly. Add flour slowly, stirring constantly, until brown. Add remaining ingredients, heat thoroughly. Pour into shallow, well-oiled baking dish. Cover with biscuits. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) about 15 minutes or until biscuits are brown. Makes 6 servings

Shrimp Muenster Roll

1 1/2 cups shredded Muenster or other semi-soft cheese (6 oz.)
1 cup cooked shrimp, chopped, or 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions with tops (about 3)
2 eggs
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 package refrigerated crescent rolls
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1 egg yolk beaten with 1 tablespoon water
In large bowl, stir together cheese, shrimp, onions, eggs, salt and pepper; set aside. Unroll crescent roll dough onto lightly floured surface. Pinch together perforations on both sides of dough. Fold in half crosswise and with lightly floured rolling pin, roll out to 14 x 9 rectangle. Brush with butter. Spread cheese-shrimp mixture in 2 inch strip along one long edge of dough; roll up as for jelly roll. Firmly pinch seam and edges together, then moisten slightly with water and smooth lightly with dull edge of knife to seal dough well. Carefully lift roll onto ungreased cookie sheet. Brush with egg yolk mixture. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven 25 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on rack 20 minutes. With sharp knife, cut in 1/2 inch slices. (Yield 28 appetizer servings).

Festive Lamb Ruby Glace

1 package (12 ounces) fresh or frozen cranberries
1 cup sugar
1 cup port wine
1-2 teaspoons grated fresh ginger
1 boned, rolled and tied leg of lamb (about 5-7 pounds)
Combine cranberries, sugar and wine in medium saucepan. Bring to a boil over high heat, stirring to dissolve sugar. Reduce heat; boil uncovered until skins pop, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in ginger. Cover and set aside. Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast uncovered at 325°F. for 30 minutes. Spoon enough cranberry glaze over lamb just to coat evenly; reserve remaining glaze. Continue roasting for 2-3 hours (about 25-30 minutes per pound) or until meat thermometer registers 140° (rare) to 150°-155°F. (medium). Baste lamb occasionally with glaze during roasting. Let stand 10 minutes before carving. * Serve with remaining glaze, warm or chilled, and Broccoli-Walnut Wild Rice. Makes 6-8 servings.
* Roast will continue to cook during standing time; remove from the oven at slightly lower internal degree of doneness than desired.

Chocolate Topping

1 cup non-dairy whipped topping
1 tablespoon cocoa powder
1 package (20 ounces) ready-to-bake frozen fruit pie, any flavor, baked Miniature semi-sweet chocolate pieces (optional)
In small bowl, combine whipped topping and cocoa. Chill, covered, 30 minutes. Serve with pie. Sprinkle with chocolate pieces, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Holiday Roast Turkey With Orange Cashew Stuffing

1 turkey (about 14 pounds) thawed if frozen

½ cup Florida orange juice
2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard
Season turkey inside and out with salt and pepper. Stuff body and neck cavities loosely with Orange Cashew Stuffing. Skewer neck skin to back and tie legs together. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in a 325°F. oven 1 hour. In small bowl, blend orange juice, honey and mustard. Brush mixture over turkey.

Cover turkey breast loosely with tent of foil. Roast 1½-2 hours longer, basting frequently with orange juice glaze. Turkey is done when thermometer inserted in largest part of thigh registers 185°F., and juices run clear. Place turkey on carving platter; let rest 20 minutes. Meanwhile, use turkey drippings to make Mahogany Gravy. Yield: 18-20 servings.

NOTE: Bake extra stuffing in shallow, covered casserole dish in a 325°F. oven for 30 minutes.

Apple Pie Nut Cake

This was always a favorite of my children. They could eat a whole one and not spare a crumb. I always had to make three at one time. This is just one recipe but it can be increased easily.

1 egg
1 tablespoon flour
1 ¼ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped pecans
½ cup raw, tart apples, chopped (you can leave some skin)

1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat egg and sugar until smooth; set aside. Measure other dry ingredients and sift. Add to egg mixture. Stir in pecans, apples and vanilla. Bake in a greased 8- or 9-inch pie pan for 30 minutes in a 350° oven.

If kept for just over night you do not need to refrigerate.

Good with vanilla ice cream or Cool Whip on top of each serving.

Pineapple Sauce

1 can (8¼ ounces) pineapple chunks
2 tablespoons white vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 small green bell pepper, seeded and cut into 1" chunks
1½ teaspoons cornstarch

vinegar, sugar and green pepper in saucepan; bring to boil. Blend cornstarch with 1 tablespoon water and add to sauce. Cook, stirring until sauce boils and thickens; keep warm.

Just before serving, pour sauce over duckling breasts.

Firehouse Casserole

2 strips bacon cut into small pieces
1 medium onion chopped
1 pound ground beef
2 (1 pound) cans pork and beans
½ cup molasses
½ cup catsup
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Salt to taste
2 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
Combine bacon and onion; saute.

Add ground beef; simmer until beef loses color. Add pork and beans, molasses, catsup, mustard, salt and worcestershire sauce. Mix. Pour into 2-quart casserole or baking dish. Bake at 375° for 30 minutes. Garnish with sliced red tomatoes. 6 servings.
