The board of governors and executive board of the Seminole High Boosters Club met recently to discuss the coming swim, track and baseball season.

John Colbert, swim coach reported that he was told by city officials that it would cost $16 a day or approximately $2,000 for the season to use the city municipal pool. The expense is due to the cost of electricity for running the pumps, the chemicals for the filters as well as janitorial service.

Appeal Made For Lost Dog

An appeal has been made by a kind neighbor in behalf of a lady in Paola whose little Chihuahua dog was stolen just before Christmas.

The neighbor says that the pet was "just like one of the family" and the lady has grieved so over the loss of her little dog that it has greatly moved all who know her.

It was reported that another neighbor saw a car stop at the driveway and pick up the dog, as it sat waiting for its mistress to come home from her Christmas shopping. It is said that no questions will be asked if the dog is returned. The neighbor said that if the dog were put out close to home, it would find its way without exposing the dog-napper.

There is evidence that handball, often considered one of the national games of Ireland, originated there about 1,000 years ago.

Bank Takes Active Part In Development

President T. E. "Gene" Tucker, Florida State Bank head, told an annual meeting of over 300 stockholders Wednesday that the bank, in conjunction with the efforts of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, has been directly responsible in assisting six industrial firms employing well over 1,000 people to locate in the Sanford-Seminole County area.

"A great deal of progress has been made in this area recently," Tucker said, "and this bank expects to play an even more important role as other plans are in process and will work to conclusion during 1962."

The loan demand in this area continues to be heavy because, according to Tucker, we are in a growth area and period. It was pointed out that for the Florida State Bank to do an effective job to fill this loan demand, it would require the stockholders and community to support the bank, mainly by acquiring new deposits.

Two Bank Men Are Promoted

T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank at Sanford, announced Wednesday the promotion of two of the staff of the bank to positions of greater responsibility.

Wade resides at 2008 Grandview Ave. with his wife Helen.

Harold M. Brooks, a retired Navy Chief, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Cashier from his work as Head Teller.

Brooks who resides with his wife Stella at 808 Camilla Court, chose to remain in Sanford after his retirement in July 1959 because he liked the community and enjoyed the friendliness of the people. He began work with the bank in February of 1960.

Hutchison To Ask Okay For Nova Survey

County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison today said he would urge the board Tuesday to participate with five other counties in obtaining a survey of road needs in conjunction with the Nova moon project impact area.

Hutchison will ask the board to pay a pro-rated share of the survey cost which will be divided among Volusia, Brevard, Ocala, Orange, Seminole and Indian River Counties.

Rusk Hints At Sanctions For Pro-Castroites

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay—The United States and some other members of the Organization of American States (OAS) led a move today to isolate Cuba from the entire Inter-American system to prevent the Castro regime from infecting the rest of the hemisphere.

A member of the U. S. delegation who asked not to be identified said the success of the move could determine the fate of President Kennedy's $20 billion Alliance for Progress.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who arrived Sunday for this important conference of 21 foreign ministers, said there must be assurance of hemispheric protection against foreign intervention "so that we might be able to prevail in our collective efforts for the social and economic advances under the Alliance for Progress."

Rusk's statement led observers to speculate that the United States, which controls the purse strings of the alliance, may not be as generous with countries that back Castro.

Cuban resident Osvaldo Dorticos and Foreign Minister Raul Roa also arrived Sunday to try to combat the U. S. move.

Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce just returned from the mid-winter conference of registrar officials at Lido Beach. Don't be surprised also if the registrar's office is moved to the courthouse.

Last week we mentioned the fine hash brown potatoes at Angel's Shack on Sanford Ave. Someone apparently took us up on them. A few nights ago, the restaurant was broken into and some gum and cigars stolen. Guess they couldn't find the potatoes.

Don't be surprised if the County Commission sends a delegation to Washington to talk to Sen. George Smathers on revitalizing the county's master drainage plan.

All is confusion at City Hall today. The new switchboard was installed. Anyone calling City Hall is asked to dial FA 2-3161. . . Took me 20 minutes to get Pete Knowles on the phone.

Sanford can be right proud of Bubba Davis. The youngster was named to the National High School All-American Football Team off 1961 sponsored by the Wigwag Women of America.

Glenn Orbit Off Until Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The federal space agency said today it had postponed until Saturday its planned attempt to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into space on America's first manned orbital flight around earth.

A new outbreak of trouble in a space program today forced the United States to postpone until Thursday and possibly Friday its plans to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit around earth.

UN May Move Against Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The United Nations is believed preparing military action against rebel troops who massacred 18 Roman Catholic priests at Kongoilo Jan. 1 and attacked a Catholic mission at Sola on Friday, observers said today.

A UN spokesman refused to answer questions on this point. "Certain decisions are being taken in consultation with all concerned," he said. "It is not possible to say what they are for security reasons."

UN air reconnaissance over the area—Kongoilo and Sola are both in northern Katanga—continued today, but was unproductive because of heavy cloud cover, the spokesman said.

Jet 'Definitely On Spy Mission'

ROME (UPI) — An Italian government source said today that a Bulgarian air force jet that crashed landed near a super-secret NATO missile base in southern Italy "definitely was engaged in an espionage mission."

The source, who has been in close contact with the case since the jet fighter crashed Saturday, said there was no doubt the aircraft was on a spy flight.

Bomb Exploded

PARIS (UPI) — A plastic bomb was exploded in the main entrance courtyard of the French Foreign office today. First reports said one person was killed.

Kennedy Sets Four Goals For U. S. Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy set four ambitious goals for the nation's economy today and asked Congress for legislation to ease "the pain and frustration" of recessions.

In his first Economic Report the President said he viewed 1962 "with optimism but not complacency."

Such an advance—$50 billion more than 1961—would be "another giant stride toward full employment of men and machines," he said.

He predicted the U. S. output of goods and services would rise to a new peak of $70 billion.

Such an advance—$50 billion more than 1961—would be "another giant stride toward full employment of men and machines," he said.

Kennedy's report drew immediate praise from Democrats and sharp criticism from Republicans.

The four economic goals proclaimed by Kennedy were full employment and sustained prosperity without inflation, a step-up in the nation's economic growth, extension of quality of opportunity, and increased American exports.

Kennedy warned business and labor against setting off a new wage-price spiral toward inflation.

He said he believed both realized that increased productivity was the way to higher real profits and higher wages.

Fern Park Plans Incorporation

The incorporation of Fern Park is scheduled for open discussion at a 7:30 p. m. meeting today at the American Legion Home on Prairie Lake.

100-lb. Boy Lands 500-lb. Sting Ray

NAPLES (UPI) — Local fishermen checked their record books today to see if a 500-pound sting ray landed by a 100-pound Naples boy Sunday at Naples Fishing Pier was a world record.

Five-foot, three-inch Larry Wicks, 16, landed the giant ray after a seven-hour battle, using 105-pound test line with mullet for bait.

The ray was 14 feet, 4 inches long and had a wing span of 6 feet, 4 inches.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today sought to strengthen the Dominican Republic's new civilian government by offering the Caribbean nation a $25 million emergency loan to meet a balance of payments crisis.

River Valley Report Sent To Governor

The St. Johns River Valley Advisory Committee has sent its first report to Gov. Bryant and offered preliminary recommendations concerning acquisition of public park sites, a fish survey and elimination of pollution.

Sanford was mentioned in the report as one of three Florida cities having added to the pollution problem by dumping raw sewage into the river.

The committee also listed a recommendation that there be increased protection of the migrating American shad against depletion.

The committee report, signed by its chairman, Sid Porter of DeLand, told the governor that the group voted unanimously to recommend that the state consider purchasing public access sites on the river from any funds available in the state's budget.

Riverside park areas are badly needed, the report said, with boat launching ramps overcrowded, especially in the Sanford area.

An upsurge expected in boat traffic indirectly from the Nova project will undoubtedly make the public access situation critical in the next year or two or three," the report said.

The committee already has arranged for several sites to be put into use through cooperation of county commissions and individual property owners, but they are small ones.

The committee asked for an independent survey of the fish resources of the St. Johns with a long range view of conservation and future planning.

"We have had numerous requests that everything be done to preserve the annual migration of American shad in the St. Johns River to the Lake Monroe-to-Lake Harney area . . . The Florida Board of Conservation has promised full cooperation on enforcing regulations on commercial fishermen so enough shad can get by the nets to furnish sports fishing, a half million dollar industry," the report to the governor said.

VIOLENCE ANEW—Violence flared anew in the Congo. UN jet planes were fired on in the Kongoilo area, see one, by troops believed responsible for the massacre of 19 missionaries, according to a UN spokesman. The planes were fired on, said the spokesman, by troops marching toward Kongoilo along the road from Kilubi, see three. He said the Roman Catholic mission and college at Sola, see two, was believed under attack by marauding Congolese troops. (NEA Telephoto)

Knowles Blames 'Pressure Groups'

The city's policy of subsidizing Seminole High School's athletic program including the use of the Municipal Stadium and the Ft. Mellon Park Swimming Pool may come to an abrupt halt tonight because of "undue pressure," City Manager W. E. Knowles warned today.

Knowles said that he will present the commission with a lease turning the entire school program over to the school board.

Knowles said the $1 a year lease was brought about through the efforts of "pressure groups" to try to get the city to use "taxpayers" money to underwrite still further the Seminole High School's athletic program.

The city manager said that if the city approves the lease the school board will then have to assume all the costs at the stadium such as operation, maintenance, insurance and utilities.

Members of the swimming team had requested use of the swimming pool some 135 days prior to the pool's actual opening. This would cost the city approximately $2,240.

Operational use of the football stadium runs around $5,000 per year.

A number of members of the Seminole High Swimming team have told the Herald that they would "come in force" to today's meeting, scheduled to start at 8 p. m. to ask for the use of the pool.

The city had turned thumbs down on allowing the team to use the pool because of the operation cost.

The swimmers want to use the pool without any additional charge.

2 In South Seminole May Be Candidates

A meeting of "interested persons" in South Seminole County at the Howell Park Community Center Friday night produced two prospective candidates, Al Lormann, mayor of Longwood, for the Legislature, and W. Pitt Varne, for the County Commission from District four.

Mrs. Bennett called on any one who was interested in making the race for commission to speak. First to respond was W. Pitt Varne, who was a candidate for clerk of court some years ago. Lormann followed Varne.

Lormann said that he could not make any definite statement now, but that he would like to give his views on the race for the Legislature.

He said that the county must do away with "this feeling of sectionalism" and that he believed that the county should have one representative from South Seminole and one from Sanford. He further said that he believed that one representative should be a lawyer and one a business man to give more balance to the county's representation in the Legislature.

"If elected I would do my utmost to work with other elected officials and our county officials," Lormann said.

He further said that he believed in home rule and would do his utmost to preserve it. Later on in a question and answer period he was asked to explain his idea of home rule. "Home rule to me means that we must keep control of our affairs in the hands of the people."

Varne said that he would be willing to run for the commission post if he could get the proper support. "I can't win by myself. Any time a man goes in office, it is the work of the people that got him elected," he said.

In discussing support Varne said that if he didn't have enough friends in his own area he certainly could not expect to get support in other sections of the county. He said he wanted to determine how much initial support he could count on before deciding to run.

Firm Acquitted In DeLand Court

DELAND (UPI)—The Jacksonville architectural and engineering firm of Reynolds, Smith and Hills stood cleared today of grand larceny charges brought for alleged failure to properly supervise the construction of three Volusia County schools.

A six-man Circuit Court jury found two of the firm's seven partners innocent of the charges Saturday. Judge P. R. Revels had dismissed the charges against the other five partners Friday.

The jury deliberated one hour and 28 minutes before acquitting Norman Bryan of DeLand and Walter Schultz of Jacksonville. The general contractor on the three schools, J. Hilbert Bapp of Orlando, was also indicted for grand larceny and is scheduled for trial Feb. 26.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fire losses in the United States increased 9.1 per cent to about $1.3 billion in 1961, the National Fire Underwriters Board said Sunday. The board said the increase over 1960 was partly due to the disastrous forest fires in Los Angeles in November.

ASSAULT ON THE MOON—Ranger 3, bearing instruments designed to achieve this nation's first close look at the moon, is shown against the background of the crater-marked surface. Ranger 3 is a 727-pound spacecraft bearing a television camera and a smaller, 90½-pound capsule which will separate from it just before hitting the moon. Sketch at bottom shows a series of maneuvers the Ranger will perform, the most complicated any U. S. spacecraft has yet undertaken. Launched atop a 10-story Atlas-Agena rocket, Ranger consists into a "parking orbit." At the right moment, the Agena fires to boost it to a speed of 24,500 m.p.h. on its way to the moon (1). Solar cells and antenna unfold (2). Special ranging devices "lock on" (3) to the sun to stabilize the vehicle; it is also positioned (4) in relation to the earth. Halfway to the moon

(5), on command from earth, it fires a rocket to place itself on a collision course with the moon and (6) locks on again with the sun and earth. When within 5,000 miles of the moon (7), it performs a final positioning maneuver and aims its TV camera at the moon. At 2,400 miles out, the camera begins transmitting 13 pictures second back to earth. At about 70,000 feet above the moon, the small capsule is ejected and slowed by retrorockets. Protected by a balsam wood covering, the capsule ball hits the moon at 100 m.p.h.; the main body of the Ranger is destroyed on impact. The capsule carries batteries for 30 days' work and starts beaming back information about radioactivity in the moon's crust, moonquakes and meteorite impacts and other details of the lunar surface. Time for trip: 68 hours.

Fear Winds May Start Second Avalanche

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (UPI)—Fear that winds might rip a second avalanche loose from the highest mountain in the Rockies made hazardous today the search for the seventh victim of the worst avalanche in Colorado history.

A state highway department planned to shut down the second slide with a 77 mm howitzer, if it appeared too threatening. About a dozen families were evacuated as a precaution.

Rescuers dug with shovels, sticks and their bare hands to reach those entombed by the massive slide. They were able to save only two of the nine—Michael's mother and father. Michael's 8-year-old brother, William Jr., and a neighboring family of five were killed.

"It looked like the whole side of the mountain was coming down," said Don Stephens, owner of the Twin Lakes Lodge here. "It ripped up trees like they were toothpicks. It was awful."

Trees were cleared from the area as if they had been logged out.

"It was just a big explosion," said William Adamich Sr., 35, who survived with his wife, Barbara, 30, only to learn of the loss of their two sons. "I didn't hear it coming. I didn't know where it was going."

The couple lay in the splintered wreckage of their home for at least two hours before rescuers dug them out.

"I just lay there and prayed," Adamich said. "I kept hollering to my wife and kids, but I got no answer. It was just quiet, except for the wind blowing."

Another resident of the area, Robert Zinker, was making his way to the scene about two hours after the slide when he heard a groan. Looking down, he saw Adamich's head sticking out of the snow. Mrs. Adamich was found about eight feet away.

Adamich and his wife suffered shock, frostbite and possible other injuries. His wife was in serious condition.

But the neighboring family of General Shelton, 43, was less fortunate. Shelton, water well driller who survived the Bataan death march, his wife, Frances 36, and their three children—Russell, 15, Linda, 10, and Vickie 7—were killed.

The bodies of Linda and Vickie were found together, indicating she had lived for several hours in a pocket of the wreckage and died before rescuers could reach her. She was holding Vickie's body in her arms.

Snow, Sleet, Freezing Rain Hit West

At least six persons died and a seventh was missing in an avalanche which cascaded down from the slopes of Colorado's Mount Elbert onto the town of Twin Lakes, which has had 238 inches of snow since last Sept. 1.

The weather was blamed for nine Texas traffic deaths. Four Pennsylvania traffic fatalities were attributed to the weather. Three persons died in San Francisco traffic accidents caused by the weather. Two persons at Snohomish, Wash., when floating chunks of ice crashed their boat in the Snohomish River. A father and daughter were fatally crushed by a falling tree during a wind storm at Shelton, Wash. At Portland, Ore., an elderly woman apparently died of exposure in her back yard. Six persons died when a private plane crashed during a fog near Baker, Calif.

Riots, Demonstrations Ravage Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Wild student riots in which hundreds were injured prompted the Iranian government today to ban a demonstration by the opposition National Front party.

The students, whose riots led to the downfall of two previous governments, used rocks, bricks and clubs in a three-hour battle with police and soldiers who swarmed on to the Tehran University campus.

It was the worst riot since ex-Premier Mohammed Mosaddegh was overthrown in 1953. A government spokesman said it was provoked by feudal landlords who must sell their surplus lands for redistribution under a new government reform law.

The students cried for new elections and protested a government cut in boarding allowances in the teachers' training college and the expulsion of a dozen pro-Mosaddegh students from Tehran High School.

Premier Ali Amiri dissolved parliament when he took office last May. He has said elections will be held as soon as the shah of Iran and his cabinet put a new election law into force.

An estimated 2,000 to 4,000 youths took part in the riots. At least 400 were injured and another 300 arrested but no deaths were reported.

The students claimed support by the National Front party, which contains many supporters of Mosaddegh.

Mosaddegh, hailed by the students as "our champion," is under virtual house arrest on his estate 50 miles west of Tehran.

Angel Tells Of Council's Job

JOHN ANGEL

What happens to a youngster when he is plainly heading down the road to serious trouble, but has not done anything to warrant being sent to industrial school? On the other hand, it is plain to the juvenile judge that continuing in the present environment is going to hasten the day when he has to be sent away?

Or what happens to a child whose father has abandoned the family, when his mother driven by fear, frustration and who knows that unseen forces plunge over the brink of insanity?
These cases add hundreds like them in Seminole County are what prompted the formation of the Juvenile Council by the late Judge Wilson Alexander, school principal John Angel told members of the Civitan Club last Thursday night.
Delinquent children, who have committed an anti-social act and broken a law, but who might benefit from a change of environment, a different set of influences and a firm guidance, and dependent children who are thrown on the mercy of society through no fault of their own are the objects of the concern of the Juvenile Council, Angel said.

The young organization, less than three years old, is made up of "people who care," he said.
Among them are many who feel deeply the need to give aid, succor and assistance, both physical and spiritual to these youngsters who so plainly need help.
Several committees have been set up to function in different areas of a child's need, Angel told the Civitans.
The Foster Home committee's prime objective is to find some place to put children who are dependent and helpless, a victim of cruel circumstances. Having no foster home, the council is dependent on the good will, the kindness and sympathy of individual men and women who open their homes and arms to these unfortunate ones, he said.
Men who work on the Special Probation committee are there not to ride herd, but to offer friendship, a little recreation and guidance, said Angel.
The After Care Committee works along these same lines with youngsters who have served out time in industrial school and are trying once more to find their place in the community.

The Detention committee is concerned with the needs of those who have been incarcerated at the local level, to see that they are provided with the simple decencies and have contact with someone who is concerned for their welfare.
Angel quoted statistics from last year showing that there were 500 delinquent and 150 dependent children in the county.
He appealed for the interest and compassion of men of the community in reaching out to uplift, guide and serve with the Juvenile Council in the service that they are performing and offering membership in the organization, which was accepted by many of the Civitan men.
President John Brumley expressed the appreciation of the club to Angel for presenting the work and aims of the council and assured him that such an appeal would not go unanswered.
In other business, Treasurer Charlie Kampf reported that early reports show that the club can expect to clear over $1,700 on their recent Claxton Fruit Cake sale, the proceeds of which go toward the club's project and the support of the Little Red Schoolhouse for mentally retarded children.

McCone Seen As Next CIA Boss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican John A. McCone appeared certain to win Senate Armed Services Committee approval today as President Kennedy's new director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).
Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), predicted approval by a "substantial" vote.
McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was questioned by the committee last week. A vote at that time was delayed when committee members asked that McCone supply certain data.
McCone produced a list of his financial holdings and a letter containing replies to questions raised in testimony by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.).
In his letter McCone assured Congress that he did not plan to volunteer views on national policy as CIA director.

Postal: Prospects for passage of an administration bill to raise postal rates were complicated as Rep. Glenn Cunningham asked the House GOP police committee to support his battle to include a postal rate increase bill. A measure proposed by the House Post Office Committee carries Cunningham's amendment to bar mail found to be Communist political propaganda by the Justice Department. The administration bill, which would bring in additional revenues of about $620 million a year compared with $53 million in the committee bill, does not include the propaganda ban. One of the two measures seemed certain to pass the House this week.
Medical Care: Administration supporters in Congress appeared ready to bypass the House temporarily to put President Kennedy's medical care plan to a test vote in the Senate later this year. Such a move would carry the measure past two hostile groups—the House Ways and Means Committee and Senate Finance Committee. Under the Democratic strategy, if the bill is blocked in the House it would be offered as a Senate rider to some other House-passed bill.

Science: A special House education study group reported the United States has "an alarming shortage of semi-professional engineers." Rep. Adam C. Powell (D-N.Y.), chairman of the education committee, said the shortage made it "totally impossible for the United States to place an astronaut on the moon within a minimum of 10 years."

State Gets Legal Okay On Water

ATLANTA (UPI)—The U. S. Study Commission on Southeastern River Basins were told today that Florida has ample legal authority to participate fully in cost-sharing with the federal government in proposed major waterway and conservation projects.
William J. Roberts, legal advisor to Florida Secretary of State Tom Adams, gave this special report to the commission.
It was formed to study for Congress the feasibility of conservation and waterway projects in Alabama, Florida, Georgia and South Carolina.
Roberts cited a number of state and local revenue sources which could be tapped to provide needed matching funds for proposed waterway projects.
"Although it appears that additional legislation may be needed to fully implement and take advantage of the benefits to be offered, it is evident Florida can meet its responsibility in the cost sharing program," Roberts said.
He said most of the projects under consideration will benefit Florida, either directly or indirectly.
They include the Florida Panos-state barge canal, completion of the inland waterways on both coasts of the state and construction of hydroelectric facilities in several North Florida river basins.

Unresolved Puzzle

How the members of Congress determine their votes on legislation is a puzzle that seems constantly to intrigue others.

In this year of expected big decisions affecting trade, taxes and medical care, a new effort has just been made to get at the riddle.

A survey by Redbook magazine, founded on the responses of just 174 of the 537 United States lawmakers in House and Senate, turns up some interesting evidence. But, in the end, it has to be judged incomplete and inconclusive.

The answers indicated, for instance, that the person who writes his senator or representative has about a 60-50 chance of influencing the lawmaker's decision on an issue. Half the respondents say mail is of major or top importance, half call it a minor or even insignificant factor.

For reasons not explored in the questionnaire, the citizen's chance of making a dent with a letter is about twice as good with a Republican senator as with a Democrat. In the House, no such variation appears.

The survey also dug into the matter of lobbies. Using a list of 28 generally well known organizations the questioners asked lawmakers to rate them according to their influence.

Only one—the AFL-CIO—was accorded "high influence." And less than 60 per cent of responding lawmakers applied that tag. They rated 11 organizations as of moderate influence and 11 were put in the "low influence" category.

The trouble with answers such as these is that their candor cannot really be measured, even though the replies are anonymous.

Whether thinking of themselves individually or as part of a responsible legislative body, few lawmakers are likely to concede that they do not arrive at independent judgments, irrespective of pressures from outside.

Not uncommonly, a legislator would describe such an organization as the AFL-CIO as having important effect and yet add "but not with me."

The portrait of influence is incomplete, partly because the respondents are not numerous enough, partly because other factors need to be considered fully.

What part does White House pressure play? How are lawmakers affected by the full range of their reading? By their trips to sound out sentiment back home? By their reelection worries?

The magazine survey is a commendable enterprise. But the puzzle persists. Most lawmakers themselves probably share the bafflement over that precise blend of factors which produces their decisions on Capitol Hill.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Mary's case is a classic. It shows what doctors mean by psychosomatic medicine. And it illustrates the smart insight of the surgeon involved. For Mary was complaining about the wrong patient! Scrubbook this crucial case and watch for the follow-up tomorrow.

CASE I-418: Mary M., aged 44, recently stalked into the office of a plastic surgeon. Her husband stolidly trudged along behind her, much like an Indian squaw behind a brave.

Mary sat down. Her husband still stood. "Won't you have a chair?" the doctor inquired of the husband.

"Yes, sit down," the wife ordered her mate with an authoritative gesture toward the empty chair.

Then she demanded of the doctor that he operate on her husband's nose, for it looked like the fleshy end thereof.

"I've been married to him for 20 years," she explained, "but I can no longer stand the sight of his nose."

"Doctor, you must operate on it and change it."

To which this famous surgeon replied that he didn't let patients prescribe when or where they should be operated on.

"And what's your idea of the matter?" the doctor asked the husband.

He shrugged his shoulders.

"Oh, if it will please her, I'll go along with it," he added.

After half an hour of further debate, the surgeon finally informed Mary:

"Madame, I'll not operate on your husband's nose till you first have an interview with a psychiatrist."

"For it isn't your husband's nose that is the real problem in this case but you, yourself."

"Humph," she snorted. "I'm not crazy so I'll not consult any psychiatrist."

"You have the wrong notion of psychiatrists," replied the surgeon. Most patients of psychiatrists are not crazy but simply are tied up in emotional snarls.

"A good psychiatrist can show you why you are picking on your husband's nose, though you have lived with it for many years without any previous protest."

"Why should you suddenly decide you can't stand his nose?"

"I haven't time from my busy surgical practice to delve into the underlying cause, but I'll wager a psychiatrist can soon tell you what's behind your sudden aversion toward your husband's nose."

Smart Doctors

Experienced physicians always function as psychiatrists, even though they are not registered in that special field of medicine.

For medicine is at least 50% psychological. So after a decade in practice most doctors become very skillful in diagnosing inner conflicts and emotional snarls in which their patients are embroiled.

A generation ago the GP (General Practitioner) was so well acquainted with a patient's family life, even to the second or third generations, that he could quickly decide whether a pain was due to inflammation or a disliked mother-in-law.

Nowadays medicine has become so specialized that many doctors don't take time to probe the background factors involved in complaints from patients like Mary.

So we need a return to more personal medical treatment. It is MEN, not glorified hospital buildings, that have built up modern medical prestige, and medicine is still a matter of MEN, not hospitals!

See tomorrow's follow-up of Mary's case.

Balanced Budget Doubtful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are two ways of looking at a federal budget. Three if you use rose-colored glasses.

One way is to consider the budget's fiscal contents, and the other is to contemplate its physical aspects.

I have been analyzing President Kennedy's new budget from the latter standpoint, which seems to me the more reliable method.

This is because the physical qualities of the budget—its size, weight, etc.—remain constant during the year whereas its fiscal contents are likely to fluctuate rather wildly once congress starts toying with the figures.

For instance, the new budget outlines expenditures of $92.5 billion and revenues of $83 billion, leaving a $9 billion surplus.

The surplus is what I meant by looking at the budget through rose-colored glasses. These figures are predicated on the assumption that Congress will follow the President's recommendations and regards appropriations and taxes. Offhand, I can't imagine a more shaky assumption.

I have found that a more accurate picture of the government's financial position can be obtained by taking the budget and dropping it on your foot.

If it is heavy enough to fracture the metacarpal bone, this usually means that the government will operate at a deficit.

The budget this year comes in two volumes, one weighing five pounds and the other two pounds, give or take a few ounces or a few billion dollars.

If I tried dropping them on my foot, I fear they would fracture not only the metacarpus but the ankle as well. So I didn't carry my budget analysis that far.

Just a cursory analysis convinced me, however, that this budget will be difficult to keep in balance. I tried balancing the larger volume on the end of a broomstick and darn near strained a ligament.

In addition to adopting the two-volume format, the Kennedy administration has changed the color of the budget. All of the previous budgets I ever saw were bound in a neutral shade.

The cover of this one was done in deep azure, a hue that could possibly be described as "taxpayer blue."

So what else is new. Well, the index, which used to stop at the letter "X," now runs from "A" through "Z" although nothing was listed under "X."

Someone in the government should start playing the xylophone.

Phil Newsom Says:

Greeks Don't Scare

(UPI) — When Nikita Khrushchev remarked that war would not spare the famed Acropolis of Greece, he did not endear himself to the Greeks nor did he frighten them.

Nor did the Greeks tremble in the first few days of this year when the Soviets demanded a blueprint of the Greek military structure on the grounds that it could pose a threat to Soviet borders.

The answer was a firm suggestion to the Russians that they mind their own business. As a nation firmly aligned with the West through NATO, and more lately through association with the European Common market, Greece tries to remain as aloof as possible from its Communist neighbors.

But, since nearly 25 per cent of Greek export goes to the Soviet Union and other members of the Communist bloc, and she has common borders with three Communist countries, such an attitude is not always easy.

Lately, this geographic proximity has been the cause of more than common interest. The Soviet Union, occupied in Berlin, in Laos and with internal and party problems, still has found time to probe the western Mediterranean end of the NATO defense line.

As a Balkan nation, Greece also must watch for changes which may occur as result of the break between the Soviet Union and Albania.

Greece still is in a state of war with Albania and still is pressing its claim to a strip of southern Albania which the Greeks call northern Epirus.

Since its break with the Soviets, Albania has been seeking improved relations with the West, including an offer to resume diplomatic relations with Greece.

Since its own civil war and Yugoslavia's break with Stalin, Greece has maintained consistently friendly relations with Yugoslavia. But now Greece suspects a change may be in the making in Soviet-Yugoslav relations, especially

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy's new budget message makes more optimistic reading than most bad news about big bills. It is almost too good to be believable. It is a kind of "don't worry" budget. It doesn't ask for sacrifices from anybody.

No economic recession is expected for the period of the budget, which runs to June 30, 1963.

The budget will be balanced three ways, and you can take your pick. An administrative budget surplus of $500 million is promised, or a consolidated cash budget surplus of $1.8 billion, or a national income account surplus of $1.4 billion for the federal sector.

Federal expenditures are going up to a record peacetime high of $92.5 billion, $2.4 billion higher than for the present fiscal year. But this is going to be offset by increases in tax receipts from continued economic growth.

The national debt is expected to go up another $10 billion to $295 billion this year, but it will come down next year, the message says. Charts accompanying the text would have you believe that the national debt is nothing to get alarmed about anyway.

Budget expenditures as a per cent of the gross national product have been going down gradually since 1932—with the exception of the 1950 recession bump. And national debt as a per cent of the gross national product has been declining from the 130 per cent peak of 1946 to only 50 per cent now.

The only government expenditures which the President says will come down are for agricultural programs, the postal deficit and temporary unemployment insurance.

Congress can of course block all three of these cuts.

Items on which government expenses are going to go up, as listed by the President, are far more numerous.

National defense expenditures—to which no one will object—go up by $1.5 billion. This includes the new Civil Defense shelter program to cost $700 million.

Space research and exploration go up $800 million.

Expenditures for conservation and national resources will go to a record high of $2.3 billion. This will include 43 new water resource projects to cost $600 million.

There will be increased expenditures for development of depressed areas and an expanded training program for unemployed workers in those and other areas.

Health, education and welfare expenditures will go up $800 million if the president's new programs pass. Substantial increases in public assistance are proposed.

Practically all military and civilian government employees are promised pay raises beginning Jan. 1, 1963, with the higher rates getting the biggest raises, of course.

All these things are supposed to be covered by the expected increase of $11 billion in tax collections. The President anticipates they might go still higher, creating an even larger budget surplus, which would be ducky.

But if, on the other hand, the economic recovery unexpectedly halts or is reversed, revenues would fall below the current estimates and a deficit would inevitably result, moderating the economic slowdown.

This is a new definition for a budget deficit. It's something that moderates an economic slowdown.

This is where the President's new tax programs would presumably come to the rescue. All he asks for is power to initiate new public works programs and cut personal income taxes—subject to a Congressional veto.

The authority asked for in these proposals is unprecedented. Opposition will probably be stronger against them than any other parts of the administration program.

Advice From Bishop Fisher: Never Shout Or Answer Back

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Fisher, publicly silent since his retirement as archbishop of Canterbury last June, came out last week with a potpourri of personal opinions ranging from decimal coinage to Nikita Khrushchev's shouting.

In a lecture before 2,000 London school children, the former prime if the Church of England said the way to wisdom lies in never shouting and never answering back.

On this score, he said, the Soviet Premier "shouts far louder and answers back far greater length" than most people.

Items on which government expenses are going to go up, as listed by the President, are far more numerous.

"If I have criticism of the Western powers, it is that they have fallen into the terrible error of answering back at equal length," said Fisher. "That does no good to any body. And if you get to the stage of merely answering back on one side or the other, you are not making any progress at all."

On the idea of world unity, Fisher said:

"I've no use for world government. I've no use for a world police force. I abominate a world language. I intensely dislike a world church if it means domination."

Fisher was equally adamant about recent proposals to do away with Britain's confusing monetary system of pounds, shillings and pence.

"I don't like world coinage," he said. "I like having to wrestle with pennies and pounds and duo-decimal figures. I don't like decimally."

Seminoles Top Lakeview; Inverness Beats Lyman

Locals Gain Seventh Win

Bud Laver's Seminoles picked up their seventh win of the season Friday night by stomping the Lakeview Red Devils 54-23 in an Orange Belt Conference game that saw Sanford boost its standing in the conference competition to a (2-3) record. Overall record for the Seminoles is now (7-3) for the season.

Sanford took the initiative early in the first period, finished off the quarter with a seven point margin over the Red Devils, and picked up four more points lead in the second period to see the Seminoles way ahead at halftime 18-7.

John Boniface, Ray Middleton, and Tom Hinson together hit the scoring bell for the Seminoles to rack up nearly a third of the night's scoring. Barry Brown took scoring honors with four goals and three foul shots for 11 points.

Mike Woodruff and Don McMurray tied for second place scorer listing each with eight points. Butch Riser took third spot with two goals and three foul shots for seven points. Top scorer for the Red Devils was Bob Bluebaum with two field goals and five foul shots for nine points. Second was Founds with one goal and two free throws for four points.

Sanford Plays 'Toughest' Game

Bud Laver's Seminoles are heading after the toughest game of the season for the Sanford cagers tonight at 8 p. m. in Fleming Gymnasium as the Seminoles play host to the number one team in the Orange Belt Conference—the Apopka Blue Darters.

Holders of the OBC championship of last year, the Apopka cagers are on their way to a second crown with a (12-1) record so far this season. Tonight they are the predicted winners by 17 points over the Sanford players.

Coach Bud Laver says that his Seminoles are in top condition and ready for tonight's big cage battle, the game originally scheduled for Tuesday night but was changed to tonight because of conflicts.

Apopka Coach Joe Sterling led his Blue Darters and six-foot-zero Dan Goolsby to the first round competition of the state Class A Tournament last year and is expected to be shooting for something along the same lines again this year.

Other Apopka standouts that are expected to head the Blue Darters tonight are Apopka's George Kevern, former 135 lb. grid star, and David Sellers. Both cagers reach only to the five-foot-seven level but pack a lot of power for the Darters.

A. R. Ewbanks Shoots For No. 2

A. R. Ewbanks, winner of the Inaugural Handicap last season, will shoot for his second win of this season in the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight. Carl Tracy's big 60-pounder got off to a slow start this season but he appeared to be in fine form in his last outing when he flashed across the line with a lead of five lengths. It was his first victory in

Hurricanes Coast To 59-33 Victory

Coach Walt Dzurus' Lyman Greyhounds just were not able to keep up the pace Friday night as the Inverness Hurricanes coasted to a 59-33 victory before a large home crowd. This moved the Greyhound record for the season to four wins and three losses. The Greyhounds could manage only six points in the first period, but the Hurricanes displayed top accuracy, netting 14 points. Things looked bad for the Greyhounds but despite this fact, they were giving it all they had.

The second quarter saw the Greyhounds double their scoring drive as they added 13 points to their total behind the scoring of Bob Stephenson, but the Hurricanes bettered them by four points to maintain their lead and the half ended with the Hurricanes in front by a comfortable margin of 12 points at 31-19.

Third quarter action saw both teams drop down in the scoring department, but Inverness still managed to outscore the Greyhounds 11 to seven and at the end of the third period, the Greyhounds found themselves still behind 42-28.

The fourth period saw the Hurricanes move steadily away from the Greyhounds as they went on to score 17 more points to bring their game total to 59. The Greyhounds once more managed to score only seven points and the game ended with the Hurricanes in front 59-33 and the Greyhounds were handed their third cage loss of the season.

Top scorer for the Greyhounds was Bob Stephenson with 10 points. Lewis Fletcher was high man for the Hurricanes with 20 tallies as Jim Oden followed close behind with 18 points.

Junior High Faculty Socks Seniors In Cage Benefit Tilt

With Sanford Jim Pigott and Dan Pelham taking top scorer billing before a March of Iliacs benefit house of over 1,000 fans in Fleming Gymnasium, the Junior High Faculty overturned the Senior High Faculty 38-34 Saturday in what might well be called Sanford's most exciting cage action of the season.

Halftime saw a spectacular display of baton twirling by the Senior and Junior High Majorettes led by Seminole High head Majorette Ruthie Carlton. Both groups of majorettes stood out brilliantly under the gym lights in their new red, white and blue uniforms.

Cheerleaders for both Senior and Junior High teams were also worn by the faculty. The Senior High teachers wore regular black cheerleader sweaters with the Seminole High "S" on the front, bearing striking resemblance to the student cheerleaders. Long, red stockings, tennis shoes and masks were also worn by the faculty.

Scoring tie of the ballgame was broken by Pacesetter Pigott for the Senior High faculty as the last of the great untouchables ripped the cords on a outside set shot to lob in the first two-point-er of the night. Ralph (Madman) Mays scored the first points for the Junior High faculty.

With Tom (Race Horse) Ritchie dropping in two points for Senior High and Pigott making a foul shot, the seniors took the first period lead 5-2 over the Junior High teachers. With Cripshot McCarron and Eddy Bear Barker hitting from all over for the Junior High team, the Seniors dropped the lead to the Juniors 3-11 by halftime.

Twinkleton Hindman and "Slim" Reynolds made points for the Senior High teachers as Cowboy Carlton and Powderpuff Pelham dropped in shots for the Junior High team. Score at end of the third period found the Juniors ahead 11-18.

Crazy-legs Martin, Set Shot Stumpf, Swift Barnett, and Big John Colbert played a fast ball game for the Senior High faculty making the rebounds and assists, with Bart (Maverick) Pilcher coming on strong.

In the final period the Pacesetter really began to get hot for the Senior faculty to cut down the Junior High lead by seven points. But in spite of Pigott, Reynolds and Ritchie, the Junior High team held four points on the winning margin by the final buzzer.

Top scorer for the Senior High faculty was Pacesetter Pigott with six field goals and two foul shots for his 14 points, with Race Horse Ritchie coming on second with four goals for eight points. Slim Reynolds came in a close third with three field goals for six points.

Powderpuff Pelham led the Junior High scoring ranks with five field goals and five foul shots for a 15 point total. Madman Mays came in second with seven field goals

Seminole JV's Cop Victory Daytona 'Continental' Slated On Feb. 11

Coach Ralph Stumpf's Seminole JV's continued their winning ways Friday night by defeating the Lakeview Red Devils "H" Squad by a score of 61-35 as a capacity crowd in Fleming Gym watched the "H" Squad rack up a clean sweep of the night's cage action.

The Seminoles opened up in the first period as they ran up 17 big point total and led at the end of the first quarter by 11 points at 17-6.

Third quarter action was once again dominated by the Seminoles as they added 12 more points to their rising total with the Red Devils placing eight more in their column.

The Seminoles fell behind in the final period as they were outscored 11 to six but this was far short of the amount needed by the Devils as the final gun sounded with the Seminoles in front 61-35.

Hery Johnson was top man in the scoring department for the Seminoles with six field goals and five free throws for a total of 17 points with Billy Higgins taking second honors with 11 tallies. Hewitt took top honors for Lakeview with 10 points.

Three new entries for the first annual "Daytona Continental" three-hour grand touring and sports car race scheduled for Feb. 11, were announced today by Houston Lawing, race secretary.

The Brumos Porsche Car Corporation, with headquarters at Jacksonville, filed entries for three Porsche cars to be driven by Don Sessler of Lancaster, Ohio; Chuck Casel of Ft. Lauderdale, and Lin Coleman of Jacksonville and Pat Corrigan of Vero Beach.

Two are grand touring class cars and the third a sports car. All three drivers have driven over the Daytona course in previous races. Sessler's Porsche was involved in a terrific wreck at the Daytona track in 1959 when the SCCA nationals were first staged over the 3.81 mile course at the same time E. D. Martin of Columbus, Ga., was severely burned when his Maserati exploded.

Entrance of these three cars has increased the list to more than 25 cars to date for the three-hour world point championship event with a purse of $21,800 at stake in addition to the handsome Prestolite perpetual trophy.

Included among other entries already filed for the new "Daytona Continental" race are Stirling Moss of England, with a Ferrari; Graham Hill, another English star, with a Ferrari; Bruce McLaren of New Zealand, with a Jaguar; the Rodriguez brothers, Pedro and Ricardo, of Mexico City.

Miss Irma Corley, Kenneth Fields Married In Hawaiian Church Ceremony

Miss Irma Jean Corley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Corley, Cameron Ave., Sanford, and Kenneth Q. Fields, son of Mrs. George H. Fields and the late Mr. Fields, of Tulsa, Okla., were married Dec. 23 at 7 p. m. at the Wahawa Community Methodist Church, in Wahawa, Hawaii.

Rev. Jack Smith, assistant pastor, officiated at the candlelight, double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of white carnations, and red poinsettias in the background. Bouquets of white carnations and candelabra interwoven with poinsettias and fern adorned the altar.

Fred Hayashi, organist, presented a program of wedding music and Miss Lucy Beth Harrison, soloist, sang "Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar by James Chai, of Kailua, Hawaii, wore a floor length gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a satrina neckline and three quarter length sleeves, full skirt of silk organza with lace insert in front and double butterfly bows on the back skirt. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion fell from a queen's crown of lace and pearls. She carried a white satin Bible, topped with a bouquet of white orchids and white satin ribbon streamers. The Bible was a gift from her great-aunt.

A family Bible, that she received as a gift on her 18th birthday, was used on the altar.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Godfrey, wore a turquoise taffeta gown, with short overskirt of white with turquoise dotted nylon organza, headpiece of turquoise taffeta and carried a bouquet of French pink carnations.

Peter Musser was best man and serving as ushers were Fred Chiam and Clifford Pitta.

Miss Susan Sargent was flower girl and wore a dress similar to that of the matron of honor.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Social Hall of the church. Mrs. Fred Chiam cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Peter Musser presided at the punch bowl. Miss Elizabeth Chai kept the bride's book and floating hostesses were the Misses Eleanor and Aileen Chai.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Fields wore a beige silk brocade suit, with white accessories and one of the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The couple spent their honeymoon at the Waikikian Hotel, on Waikiki Beach.

They are now residing at 307 Ohai Place, Apt. 3, Wahawa, near Schofield Barracks, where the groom is stationed while serving in the U. S. Army. Mrs. Fields is employed at the Wahawa Bank, a branch of the Bank of Hawaii.

Story League Plans Series Of Workshops

The first in a series of two workshops on "Story Telling" will be held today at the Episcopal Parish House.

The workshops will be presented in cooperation with the Sanford Recreation Department.

The first one this evening will start at 8 o'clock and is under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Williams, assisted by Mrs. C. C. Welsh and other Story League members.

Theme of the sessions will be "Shining Moments, the Story-Teller's Gift." A round table discussion will be held this evening on "Personal Equipment for Story-Telling," followed by a film entitled, "Many Voices."

The second session is scheduled for Feb. 10 at the Civic Center and will be an all day workshop. No registration is necessary for the first meeting, and plans for the all day session will be released later. All interested persons are invited to attend either or both sessions.

End Parties Gracefully

Tactfully putting on the brakes is just as important as starting the fun.

When you extend the invitations, include the time your party will begin and END. Make the break-up hour mentioned about 30 minutes earlier than the real deadline. This allows for last-minute conversations that lengthen most parties.

Don't start games that will continue indefinitely. Agree on a method of scoring and selection of winners, or set a time limit on the games. This gives you an opportunity to shift gears and change the pace.

If your guests are dancing, give them a few hints. Slow and easy music usually associated with the end of an evening will suggest the finish. Start putting the records away during or just after the last dance.

A last call for soft drinks in advance of the deadline has an air of finality, without being a tactless goodbye. A foolproof last resort could be arranged with a special friend. If he or she says "goodnight" on schedule, the others should take the cue.

Church Calendar

TUESDAY
Men of the First Presbyterian Church will meet at 7 p.m.

American Football Viewed Through English Eyes

By Harry Ferguson
LONDON (UPI)—On some unspecified date on the campus of the University of Iowa a strange spectacle occurred. Some young men "padded and dressed for space travel dashed around brawling and fouling each other for no apparent reason."

Fortunately an Englishman named Nigel C. Cooper, who was on an exploration trip into the wilds of America, has recorded his impressions of the strange rites in a scholarly scientific paper that has been published in "The Quarterly Journal of the Central Council of Physical Recreation."

He identifies the rites as "gridiron football" and says some tribesmen from the University of Minnesota journeyed all the way to Iowa to participate. Cooper says it was a fascinating spectacle to him and also to 60,000 natives who paid 30 shillings ($4.20) each for the privilege of observing the proceedings. But he was annoyed by the unseemly behavior of the spectators and describes their actions as "voluble fanaticism."

They were screaming something that sounded like "Go, Iowa, go!"

Your correspondent leaped to the hasty conclusion that what Cooper has witnessed was a regularly scheduled Big Ten Conference game between Iowa and Minnesota. But as the description unfolded it became obvious that football and "gridiron football" are different things entirely. "Gridiron football" scraps some of the basic rules of football.

The punt has been abolished: "The side which gains possession of the ball," writes Cooper, "must make ten yards ground forward in four moves. Whenever the forward momentum of the ball is stopped, it is a 'down.' If one side fails to make ten yards, the ball is handed over to the opponents who make their attempt."

When a quarterback finds himself in a situation where it is fourth down and several yards to go, he throws a forward pass as a defensive measure: "As soon as the ball is given to the quarterback the halves and fast end linesmen hare off deep into their opponents' territory. The quarterback then throws a tremendous 40 or 50 yards overhead to one or the other of these players." Cooper describes this fourth-down strategy as "taking to the air."

In "gridiron football" there is no fullback. "The seven huge linesmen similar to Rugby forwards move up close together in the with the ball... The center linesman flips the ball through his legs to the quarterback standing very close behind him. This is the signal for the whole line to charge forward to bring a breach in the opposing line. The quarterback has three halfbacks in close attendance and he hands the ball to one of the halfbacks... Many feints and fake moves are made to baffle the opposition as to the exact point of the attack."

Obviously many things make "gridiron football" inferior to Rugby, but there is space only to mention two matters that distress Cooper. The players are supposed to be amateurs but he understands they receive free board and room and each year there is a "national auction of high school stars." Once on the "playing pitch" the players are forbidden to think for themselves and the game degenerates into a "gigantic game of chess played by the two head coaches."

Final score: Iowa 44, Minnesota 20.
