FEDERAL RADIO SHAKEUP WILL BE INSTITUTED

General Wave Length Reallocation, Power Reducing And Station Elimination To Be Incorporated In New Plan

Program Will Take Months To Arrange

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23. (INS)—American broadcasting is due for another complete shakeup. The Federal Radio Commission today prepared to start work on a general reallocation of wave lengths, power reductions, station eliminations and re-distribution, anticipating the passage of the new radio bill which carries an "equal distribution clause."

Commissioners thought it unlikely that it would be possible to work out the new program before May 1 or to get it into effect before June 1. Months of intensive study and research will be required to remedy the present situation to meet conditions laid down in the law.

Officials pointed out that the new law must be considered as entirely experimental. They predicted that the whole radio situation would be thrown open again at the next session of Congress and possibly a new law enacted.

Commissioner O. H. Caldwell, who vigorously protested against the equal distribution clause as originally drawn, regards the proposed action as unworkable. He feels that it will work a hardship on radio listeners who pay distinct programs as well as many broadcasters.

More than 100 broadcasters may be silenced under the new plan. A preliminary survey of the situation indicated that under the law only 650 stations can operate whereas 680 broadcasters are now on the air. The present view of the commission indicates no time division and that licenses will be issued for unlimited operation.

The New York and Chicago districts will be hardest hit. The law apparently limits each of the first zones to 110 stations each, according to the commission. There are a total of 225 stations in the Chicago district, while the number in the New York district is smaller. Many of the super-power stations of national appeal, may have a material reduction in power.

Head Of Gas Company Is Here To Give Assistance In Service Improvement

Charles B. Hawley, president of the Charles B. Hawley Engineering Corporation of Washington, D. C., and of the Sanford Gas Company, a subsidiary recently purchased from the City, has arrived in Sanford and will be here for several weeks assisting in the reorganization plan and also giving personal attention to a general program for improving the local service.

In outlining some of the plans of his company, Mr. Hawley said the program included the extension of some mains to supply gas to those who have not heretofore had the service and to replace other mains with larger ones in order to serve adequately the needs of the patrons.

It is our plan to service every piece of equipment that is now in use," Mr. Hawley said, "but we are in a keeping with the desire to make the Sanford Gas Company the most efficient and satisfactory utility in this city."

Everything is being done to remedy the sources of recent complaints and reduction in gas bill will be effected gradually, Mr. Hawley continued. Toward this end, he solicited the cooperation of every patron, declaring that with the assistance of the citizens the problem can be more easily and quickly solved.

Among the suggestions, which Mr. Hawley outlined for housewives, were that stoves should be placed away from windows as much as possible because breezes deflect the flames and much of the heat is lost; equipment such as stoves, heaters and water heaters should be kept clean and not permitted to accumulate soot and dirt, which clog the burners and make a free outlet for the gas impossible.

Every water tank should be inspected, Mr. Hawley said, the gasometer type being most satisfactory because heat escapes more easily from them than from gas registers. The business is, of course, selling gas. Mr. Hawley said, "but we are not so much interested in having more gas sold as in having it sold more cheaply than gas and other utilities. We are not so much interested in having more gas sold as in having it sold more cheaply than gas and other utilities."

Some officials from the main office in Washington will be here at times for the next several months, Mr. Hawley said.

Women Are Sent To Birmingham Prison

Fear Of Mob Violence Causes Authorities To Inaugurate Precautionary Measures

COLUMBIANA, Ala., March 23. (INS)—Neighbors of the mother and aunt of Miss Louise Montebano came to their defense today with a fund to assist them in fighting charges growing out of their attack on Police Chief W. F. Blake when he was found not guilty yesterday morning of slaying the girl.

While the two women remained in jail at Birmingham, where they were rushed for fear of mob violence, citizens of Selma began the fund in preparation for their trial.

Charles C. McCall, attorney general of Alabama who had personal charge of Blake's prosecution, requested Judge A. S. Lyman today to call a special session of the grand jury to probe the attack.

Miss Cecil Tabbs, aunt of the girl, stabbed Chief Blake in the neck, and Mrs. Mabel Montebano, her mother, shot at him as he arose to thank the jurors for acquitting him of the charges.

Troopers Arrest Picketing Miners

PITTSBURGH, March 23. (INS)—Thirty nine striking miners were arrested for alleged illegal picketing at Traveskyn today and brought by state troopers to the county jail here in default of $500 bond each. With 27 other miners arrested at Traveskyn yesterday, they were placed in cells near Patrick T. Fagan, president of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, who refused bail and remained in jail all night to await a hearing this afternoon on charges of inciting to riot and disorderly conduct.

MCDONALD PAYS DEATH PENALTY FOR KILLING MAN

Youth Who Was Convicted For Death Of Taxi-Driver Goes To Gallows With Prayer On His Lips In Montreal Jail

VALLEYFIELD, Que., Mar. 23. (INS)—George McDonald paid the supreme penalty alone this morning for the crime which the Canadian courts say he and Julia Palmer McDonald committed together. At 5:37 o'clock Hangman Arthur Ellis stamped his foot down on the metal spring to release the trap which sent the Broadway gunman into eternity with the cry "Jesus have mercy" on his lips.

At 5:31 McDonald was held out from the cell-block in which he spent his last hours, in a solemn procession led by Father Verschooten, his spiritual adviser, who intoned the death-ritual in solemn chant.

Five convicts from Herdau Prison guarded McDonald in the march of death up the nineteen wooden steps to the gallows platform. At 5:36 Hangman Ellis placed the noose over the head of the playboy of the roaring forties and clamped down the black trap on his head.

As the prison chaplain intoned against his chanting, "Jesus, have mercy, Jesus have mercy," McDonald's official executioner released the trap. It was forty minutes later that Sheriff Croppin, who had led the poker-faced gunman to stand on the death trap, appeared on the steps of the court house and nailed the parchment to the door which proclaimed that George McDonald had been hanged.

On Dec. 16 last, McDonald and his wife, Doris, Palmer McDonald, former Mount Vernon, N. Y. school girl, were sentenced to hang for the murder of Adelaire Bouchard, a taxi driver.

The couple held up Bouchard on a lonely road outside of Montreal. When he resisted their attempt to take his money from him he was shot, whether McDonald or his wife fired the shot was never definitely revealed.

NYE QUESTIONS SMITH ON HIS OIL RETICENCE

North Dakota Senator Criticizes Governor Of New York For His Silence On Sinclair

Letter Is Reply To AP's Charges

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23. (INS)—Senator Gerald P. Nye, youthful progressive from North Dakota, today asked Governor Al Smith, of New York, whether his five year silence on the national oil scandal was due to his friendship for Harry F. Sinclair. Nye projected this question at Smith in a letter replying to the New York Governor's recent letter.

"Might it be that your reticence to speak out against these scandals sooner is attributable to the fact that Harry F. Sinclair was a member of your official family, and had, as newspapers now report, contributed in 1928 when you were a successful candidate for governor, to a Democratic Committee in New York?" asked Nye. "This thought is merely suggested by your letter."

Nye first denied making any charges against Smith. He explained that in the Senate debate, he had said that Smith was not connected with the oil scandal in any way. He likewise denied any intention of embarrassing the New York Governor.

Then the letter continued: "The facts are, as you must now see, that in the course of a running debate in the Senate on Mar. 19, an attack was launched against you by a member of that faction of the Republican Party which I have never been charged, until now and by you, with identifying myself. I had had no conversation whatsoever with him in any way related to the subject of his remarks. The Senator subject of this letter would not permit my truthfully saying that I had no such information as the Senator was inquiring for, and I answered him, saying that it was my understanding that in the campaign of 1920, Sinclair had liberally contributed to your campaign and that you thereafter appointed him a member of your racing commission."

He then pointed out he had rejected a suggestion that Smith be (Continued on page 8)

FAISON DECLARES HE WILL TAKE NARROW PATH FROM NOW ON

RICHMOND, Va., Mar. 23. (INS)—John Wesley Faison, 60, the son of a farmer and a Virginia State Penitentiary to serve one year for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes, last Nov. in their "love fest," will tread the "straight and narrow path" to the end of his days, he declared today. He still loves his loyal wife and his five young children, he said, and renounced his innocence of the crime for which he must serve time.

"My life is before me," he said, "and I will have time to outlive the unfortunate circumstances. I know now what it is to possess the love and loyalty of a noble and faithful wife. My life before this unfortunate affair speaks for itself and I am determined to tread again the straight, and narrow path that leads above the road of upright living and good citizenship. I am not at all satisfied with the verdict of the jury, which I believe was a compromise. While I reiterate my innocence of the charges, nevertheless a great burden has been lifted from my shoulders and in a few months I will again take my place among my fellow men with a clear conscience."

OLD MYSTERY OF SINCLAIR'S CHECK FINALLY SETTLED

Former Secretary Of Oilman States Draft, Which Archie Roosevelt Opposed Went To Fall, Was For Sam Hildreth

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23. (INS)—A four year old mystery, involving a $68,000 Harry F. Sinclair check which Archie Roosevelt thought went to Albert B. Fall, was explained today at the Senate Oil Inquiry by Merritt W. Baldwin, of New Haven, Conn., former confidential secretary to Sinclair.

Baldwin said the check was sent to Sam Hildreth, trainer of Sinclair's racing stable. Roosevelt had seen the check, said Baldwin, and afterwards declared it was a check "payable to the former of Fall's farm" in New Mexico.

Commissioners thought it unlikely that it would be possible to work out the new program before May 1 or to get it into effect before June 1. Months of intensive study and research will be required to remedy the present situation to meet conditions laid down in the law.

Experiments Show New Liquid Fuel Is Product Of Coal

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(INS)—Experiments have shown that a new form of liquid fuel may be produced from coal at a comparative low cost. It is revealed in the annual report of the Committee of the Privy Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, which has just been issued.

Such a process ever became feasible, in the opinion of experts, the position of the coal industry and the world's estimate of the value of petroleum would entirely revolutionized.

For Motor Transport on the first time, the results are so encouraging that the committee of experts is confident that the production of coal liquid fuel in sufficient quantity to supply all the requirements of a transport should naturally be seen, however, before the natural resources sufficient to supply the increasing demand for liquid fuels.

conversion of coal into petroleum products by a new process now being developed on a commercial scale, and as a result of the arrangement entered into by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, a number of experiments have been carried out in the treatment of British coals with hydrochloric acid, which have shown that a large proportion of the gas can be converted into liquid fuel.

Old Style Jewels Are Being Imitated By Leading Smiths

That a Miss Riddell, of England, had lived 36 years in a leper colony which she founded in Japan without the aid of any of her doctors, nurses or attendants contracting the disease, has just been reported. The report, made by Edith Gitting Reid, an English writer, says that Miss Riddell conducts the institution, the Hospital for the Resurrection of Hope, at Kumamoto, on self-governing Christian lines. She planted many of the barren acres with trees and flowers, and encourages all able lepers to work in the gardens. Many of the patients are without hands or eyes, but are surrounded by beauty, love and intelligent care.

Atlantic City Dancer Wins Her 'Heart Suit'

CLEVELAND, Mar. 22.—(INS)—McGushion, 22, New York and Atlantic City dancer, was awarded $22,000 by a common pleas court jury here in a breach of promise suit against Duci Kerekjarto, theatre and concert violinist.

Miss McGushion had sued for $50,000, claiming her heart has been broken because the violinist had jilted her to marry a Cleveland woman. Kerekjarto did not appear in court. He left Cleveland yesterday, shortly after the case was concluded, according to his attorney.

Fasting Aids Eyesight

Improving his eyesight to such an extent that two years ago he threw away the spectacles he wore for 11 years and has never resumed their use, is the claim of Trelawney Irving, a well known London man. Other prominent people of England have taken up the idea with reported success. In his treatment Irving at first abstained entirely from food, then took orange juice in water, and lemon juice. Then, he says, he was given "an infusion of spinach and lettuce," and later apple-water. Altogether his fast lasted 50 days. Irving was able on the forty-seventh day to go to London from the country sanatorium where he was being treated, and transact a great amount of business with ease.

Flats Have Dickens Names Names made prominent by Charles Dickens are being given to new blocks of flats being constructed in clearing and rebuilding the slum districts of Kensington, London. Many of the scenes of "Oliver Twist" are said to have been had in the district. The blocks known as "Pickwick" and "Oliver" Houses have been completed.

SANDE REINSTATED

BAITIMORE, Md., Mar. 22.—(INS)—The Maryland State Racing Commission, at a special meeting this afternoon, adopted a resolution reinstating Earle Sande, premier jockey of the American turf, effective at once.

New Zealand expects to set a record in new buildings this year.

Maligning Miami

Burton Mank, jailbird, rum-runner and campaign manager for Sidney J. Catts, last night disseminated some choice bits of misinformation among an audience, we are fully confident, of sufficient intelligence to disregard everything he said. It has been our pleasure during the past few months to talk personally with several hundred Miamians and this is the first time we have heard one, whether for or against racing, knock that city, contend that Miami is broke, or refuse to admit that this is the biggest season Miami has ever had.

Mr. Mank, however, is quite evidently suffering from a serious attack of indigestion. He is down on everything that is Miamian. The Magic City has lost its magic for him; its beauty is no more. It has nothing, he declares, but sunshine. He cannot make a living anymore since the races were stopped. Gambler, bootlegger that he is, he needs a wide open town to sell his wares. Why doesn't he move away, if Miami is dead?

Continuing with his dyspepsia, Mr. Mank insists that high taxation is another thing that is ruining Miami. He told his audience, an audience of Sanford people, who know high taxation when they see it, that Miami's taxes were higher than those of any other city in the state, and yet we, of our own personal knowledge, and we pay taxes in both cities, know that they are considerably lower both in millage and per capita than in Sanford.

He also said, with characteristic disregard for the truth, that there were no tourists in Miami this winter, that all the visitors from the North were going right on through Miami this year, right on down to Havana where they can lose their money on pari mutuel tickets at the horse races. And yet, in both the Miami papers, we have seen countless ads giving statistics of over-crowded hotels, apartment houses, and golf courses. The figures show that there are more people in Miami this winter than ever before in the history of that city, not excluding the boom period of 1925.

Only two or three days ago, we found in the Miami Herald, always an advocate of horse racing, whose publisher is one of the largest stockholders in the Miami Jockey Club, the following comment which seems an admission that the races are not essential to a successful season:

"Crowds—crowds. Whichever way we turn. Or look. Or go. It is the same story. Crowds. Throughout greater Miami. Yet tales are told in the North of a deserted city down here. But no evidences of it can we find. Board a street car. For Miami Beach. For Coral Gables. On the city lines. They are usually full. Standing room only. The streets are thronged with motor cars. Stores are busy. Space is at a premium for every event. Thousands attend Bayfront Park concerts nightly. Bay and ocean fronts packed for yacht parade, regatta, fireworks, contests. County Fair last week rolled up record attendance. Not even elbow room at night. Theatres filled. Movies, Stage plays. Or exclusive high-brow recitals. Same with churches. Taxed to capacity. Scores of them. Hotels. Night clubs. Yet a few people must stay home. Crowds—crowds—just crowds!"

No, the trouble is not with Miami, but with the disgruntled gambler. He can't make a living in legitimate pursuits. He must have "local option" and in order to get it he is willing to malign his own city. He is, in addition to his other qualities, like Sidney J. Catts, a common liar.

Snow Storms

An article appearing in the New York Herald Tribune told of a blizzard recently which spread over Manhattan a blanket of snow four inches thick. It happened on the day before the anniversary of the great blizzard of 1888 and in its intensity and duration reminded oldest inhabitants of that former storm forty years ago.

We mention this not only to show how much more fortunate are we who live in Florida escaping as we do the cruel cold which even in March afflicts the North, but also to caution the visitors among us not to return too soon to their homes in the land of ice and snow. Tourists, who have been smelling orange blossoms for weeks and shooting their best games of golf under a warm sun, have difficulty in realizing that March is still cold back home.

This most recent snow fall in New York cost that city over a million dollars and took some seventeen thousand men nearly three days to remove and clear the streets. The Herald Tribune reports as follows:

"Train service and traffic was disturbed only slightly, which was more apparent only in the outlying sections of the city. The work of removal, on which 736 pieces of apparatus and trucks of 266 contractors are being used, will not get easier unless the faint hope of the Weather Bureau for rain to-day is realized.

"Like an ill omen of the anniversary of the blizzard forty years ago, comes the prediction of cold weather for to-day, with the possibility of a snow fall in the afternoon.

"The storm failed to strike New York with the same severity with which it swept from the Southwest over the Middle West and up the Atlantic seaboard from the Carolinas to Canada. At Gloversville ten inches of snow fell. In the Middle West traffic was tied up in many sections."

Of course proportions mean everything, but suppose Sanford should have a snow fall now which would cost the city a million dollars. We shudder to think of what next year's taxes would be. Sanford indeed has much to be thankful for.

RADIO CONTROL JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL

Issue has been raised here over use of, and rights on the radio, which, it has been foreseen, would eventually require statement of the principles of operation in Jacksonville as elsewhere. Because of that, rules have been laid down and ordinances have been passed.

The radio has come to be one of the methods for dissemination of ideas and information as well as a mode of entertainment. It therefore is subject to regulation. Free speech is a guarantee which the people will never allow to be abridged unjustly. Newspapers will zealously contend for the right of a free press, but they recognize certain restrictions of their own making, and they are bound by certain statutes. The newspaper is the most common method for broadcasting and publishers have codes which are subject to revision from time to time.

The radio is a newer medium. Its code has not been developed as the case has been with other means of public expression and the problems are the more difficult in municipally-owned stations because all the people have a proprietary interest in them. Promiscuous use of WJAX is plainly not possible nor wise, for public operation is subject to stern supervision than that of privately-owned stations. It is a safe rule to be cautious about controversies, unless both sides are heard and the presentation is made courteously and constructively. It is not enough to say that one can tune off if he hears something he doesn't like, for that begs the question.

No matter what the rules are, interpretation of them at times will be contested. Admitting the justice of the rules, certain users will contend they have not transgressed them when so accused. Some one must be the judge. The authorities of Jacksonville have seen fit but once to exercise the prerogative of denying use of the station's equipment after it was granted and was actually being employed. Doubtless they have refused many requests beforehand. As long as they act within a reasonable interpretation they ought to be sustained.

Electricity is turning farmers into agricultural engineers.

Little electric motors magnify the power of each farm hand thirteen times. They require no lodging, they do not eat up your substance, nor leave your job at someone's higher bid.

All farm tasks, milking, churning, separating, cleaning, grinding, pumping, washing, ironing and cooking, are done better, and quicker and cheaper by electricity.

Radio, electricity's youngest offspring, has banished the monotony of the farm's once lonely nights.

Electricity is drawing the boys back to the farm.

Library Column

Our high respect for a well-read man is praise enough of literature. Emerson.

Do you know John Cotton Dana's famous rules for reading? The first one is 'Read'; the second one is 'Read'; the third one is 'Read'...

1. Force yourself for a while to read, more rapidly than feels comfortable. You will be both surprised and gratified...

2. Make as few eye 'fixations' as possible. The eye does not move continuously, but by jerks, so do not read words—read groups of words.

3. Do not allow your eye to break its forward sweep by going back to pick up something it missed.

4. Establish a rhythm of eye movements with each book you read.

5. Do not pronounce words even mentally.

6. Lastly, discriminate among types of reading. Learn to shift gears. A book that 'is the precious life-blood of a master-spirit treated up to a life beyond life' demands slower reading than does the latest detective story.

You might test yourself. Read for fifteen minutes in some standard book and note the number of lines read. Repeat this same test two weeks later and see what progress you have made.

The Library has added a good many books lately. Among them are 'Hangman's House' and 'Crusade' by Donn Byrne, 'Plumes'...

Health HINTS

By DR. J. C. HOWELL. HEMORRHOIDS AND SCIATICA. An Orlando business man applying for a treatment last November, came complaining of a severe pain in the lower part of his back, shooting down the right leg into the calf. It was throbbing in character and had troubled him for a week in almost all of his sleep. He was unable to walk a short distance. It would become so acute that he would have to sit down or lie down, and then was hardly any position that he could get in that was comfortable. His condition showed a very distinct sciatic splinter, hemorrhoids and an irritable ulcer in the rectum.

This gentleman had been in general (really) every doctor in Orlando including M. D., osteopaths, chiropractors, and ear doctors that treated all ailments with lights through the rectum. These men were all conscientious, and undoubtedly did what they thought best in this case, but all of them had overlooked the irritable ulcer which was irritating the nerve and the pain was referred to the leg. This case was given division of the splinter, the irritable ulcer was treated and hemorrhoids removed by our non-surgical method. He was given treatment and an immediate relief. He was able to play golf and attend to business, which he was unable to do before. He began treating his treatment that he wants to write a letter to the papers explaining his case so that others afflicted may be benefited.

Dr. J. C. Howell, 18 years practice in Orlando, specializes in non-surgical office treatment of stomach, bowel and rectal diseases. 200 W. Lake Ave., Telephone 426. You will be surprised how quickly you will get well without loss of time from business.

Mrs. Hereen's Guests Enjoy Social Affair

An unusually pretty as well as delightful social affair of the season was that of Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Heeren entertained the members of the Idlers Bridge Club most delightfully at her home on Union Avenue.

The rooms where the tables had been arranged for the games were adorned with baskets and bowls filled with amaryllis, snap dragon, and roses, emphasizing a color scheme of rose and white.

Tallies for the games were in the forms of gladioli, and after the usual number of progressions had been played, scores were added and the prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. Endor Curlette.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Heeren served refreshments consisting of crab salad, potato chips, sardines, olives, sandwiches and coffee.

Those playing bridge were Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. John Meisch, Mrs. George Hoy, Mrs. George Davis Hart, Mrs. Endor Curlette, Mrs. Howard Long, Mrs. Osborne Herndon and Mrs. John S. Smith.

Mr. A. S. Hills and his wife stopped in the city yesterday for a few hours enroute home after a tour of the state. Mr. Hills is Executive Secretary of the Utilities Publication Committee with headquarters in Washington, D. C. R. J. Holly, Director of the Florida Utilities Information Bureau entertained the visitors while here showing them the celery fields and precooling plants in which the party manifested great interest.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hanlon of Tampa were here yesterday enroute to DeLand where Mr. Hanlon spoke before the class of engineering on the subject of 'Electric Light and Power.' R. J. Holly, director of the Florida Public Utilities Information Bureau accompanied Mr. Hanlon to DeLand and introduced him to the class of engineers. Mr. Hanlon is general manager of the Tampa Electric Company, supplying Tampa, the phosphate region, Plant City, Dade City and Winter Haven with current and power.

Mrs. J. L. Chapman left Thursday for Eyergreen, Ala., where she will make an extended visit to her mother. She will also visit relatives in Montgomery, Ala.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Flynn Vause will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Flynn Vause, who passed away Saturday at her home at Ocala.

IMPROVED LIFE IN GERMANY CAUSES MORE MARRIAGES

Better Economic Conditions Are Believed Responsible For Ten Percent Increase In Marriages Over Last Year

BERLIN, Mar. 23. —(INS)—Germany's economic conditions have improved to such a degree that in 1933, about 10 per cent more marriages were concluded than in the preceding year. This increase in marriages, though welcome to the Reich government, was not accompanied by a corresponding increase in births. These, on the contrary, continued their downward course which started back in the early years of the world war, and has now become a serious problem for Germany's future. According to the German Statistical Bureau, there official figures just published were only 135 babies born to every thousand inhabitants during 1933, compared with 141 per thousand in 1932 and 147 in 1931.

Low Birth Rate
With only 9.9 births per thousand, Berlin had the lowest birth rate of all German towns, with Dresden, Frankfurt, Munich, Hamburg and Leipzig before it in the order named.

While the death rate for babies in 1933 was slightly below that of former years, more grown-up persons died than ever since the war. The death rate for Russia was 11.6 per thousand, and the birth rate for the same period was 19 per thousand. While in 1933 the excess of births in Prussia was still 8 per thousand, the first six months of 1934 was a considerable decrease of 1.3 to 6.1 per thousand, i. e. no more than a 25 per cent decrease of birth-surplus within six months.

These alarming figures not only apply to Germany but are merely a striking reflection of the conditions prevailing in every country of Europe. Figures compiled from statistics of the various European countries reveal the sensational fact that, since 1913, the birth rate of all countries, except Holland, have constantly decreased. Also in Holland this decay of natural increase for a country was but temporarily interrupted and today again there are less born in Holland every year, just as in the case with the other European countries.

Scientists Puzzled
This depopulation of Europe for which no definite reasons have yet been found by scientists, will within twenty or thirty years reach a stage where none of the European nations will be able to replace their population losses by an excess number of births. Up to this point the population of the various countries will grow at a gradually sinking rate and will then reach a maximum. Dr. Sven Brismann, professor at the Commercial University of Gothenburg, Sweden, estimates the maximum population the European nations will be able to reach in the next 20 or 30 years:

Country	Pop. in millions	Present	Max.
Germany	52.6	42.0	77.0
France	40.8	32.6	62.6
Italy	40.0	32.6	62.6
Great Britain	49.8	40.0	62.6
Belgium	3.9	4.4	9.3
Holland	7.7	9.3	10.7
Spain	22.0	35.0	43.7
Denmark	3.4	4.3	4.8
Poland	3.3	4.3	4.8
Sweden	6.1	6.1	6.1

Ireland Is Planning To Get Eucharistic Congress In Dublin

DUBLIN, Mar. 23.—(INS)—Preparations for the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Dublin in 1934 are already under way, and indications are that it will be one of the most impressive occasions in the recent history of Ireland. One of the chief events of the program will be a great Catholic pageant, depicting Irish Catholic history from the coming of St. Patrick. The conversion of the Irish, their great Catholic saints and leaders, their sufferings and struggles to uphold their faith, will be shown in artistic tableaux, the designs for which have already been made.

The pageant is expected to be staged in Croke Park. More than 3,000 persons are expected to take part in the celebration, and following the performance every evening the crowd will move to the huge grounds of Clontarf College adjoining, where benedictions will be said.

The greatest event of the week of celebration will be the High Mass to be held in Phoenix Park. The park is the largest in Europe, and it is anticipated that 100,000 people will be present. It will be the first time that Mass has been celebrated in the open air in Ireland for centuries.

Besides the religious functions, social affairs are planned during the week of celebration. The Eucharistic Congress will hold an "at-

Receivers Of Loot Baffles Officials In Pined Bank Case

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Mar. 23.—(INS)—Who got the $30,000 loot taken in the sensational robbery of the Virginia City Bank and buried it in a remote spot in Six-Mile Canyon?

This question baffles officials here. The men who buried it, now serving five to twenty years in the Nevada state penitentiary at Carson, don't know. The bank and surety company officials don't know. No one knows apparently. Robbery of the Virginia City bank last October supplied a sensation. A second sensation came with the conviction of Charles Fitzsimmons and George Moore, accused of the robbery.

W. O. Heinrich, consulting criminologist of Berkeley, contributed to their conviction by proving in court that hairs found on certain articles corresponded with their own of the articles being a cap found near the bank's abandoned automobile in Six-Mile Canyon. Facing 20 years in prison, Fitzsimmons and Moore decided to reveal the hiding place of the bank loot would mean a shortening of the sentence. So they drew a map showing the exact whereabouts of the cache and asked that the money be dug up and returned to the rightful owners.

The searchers, including five prominent citizens and a surety company representative found the cache. They found the tin can in which the money had been reposed. But they did not find the $30,000. Mystery was added to the strange disappearance of the money because the cache was in a spot which defied detection. One might range the hills for months, walk over the very hiding place, and never see it, investigators declared.

PAPER IS SOLD

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(INS)—The Washington Daily News today announced negotiations have been completed for its sale by W. D. W. Bishop to Frank A. Pierman, Daytona Beach, Fla. Pierman is secretary of the chambers of commerce at Daytona Beach and Columbia, S. C.

Vitamin D Served In Pills

Mysterious Vitamin D, which was believed to be available only through sun rays, is being made in European laboratories. It is being served in pill form and tastes similar to chocolate, but the public is warned to take it only under doctors' orders.

One American automobile company has established five assembly plants and three branch companies in Europe.

Gaelic is being revived in Scotland.

Home" during the week, when all who are attending the Congress will be fittingly welcomed. It is estimated that at least two years will be necessary to complete the gigantic work of preparation for the Congress. The Irish are especially anticipating a great influx of Americans, and every city and county in Ireland is making lavish preparations to welcome the visitors on tours of sight-seeing which are expected to follow the religious celebrations.

After reaching these maximum figures, Professor Brismann claims, Europe will become less populated every year.

MANY THOUSANDS OF JEWS OF THE FERTILE SIBERIA

Poverty Stricken People To Be Settled In Rich Plains And Moulded Together As Part Of The Soviet Union

MOSCOW, Mar. 23.—(INS)—Forty thousand poverty stricken Russian Jews will be settled on the fertile plains of Siberia and moulded into an autonomous Jewish Republic as part of the Soviet Union with the financial assistance of Americans.

The Agro Joint, the Russian branch of the American Joint Distribution Committee of which Felix Warburg is chairman, has been granted permission for the colonization plan by the Soviet government. The new republic will be the Palestine of Russia. It is located in Birobjansky provinces between the Amur river and the Trans-Siberian railroad, 4,600 miles east of Moscow.

2,000,000 Acres
It has an area of nearly 2,000,000 acres three-fourths of which is level fertile plain and the remainder mountainous forest country rich in mineral. At present the area has only 27,000 inhabitants, most of them roving Koreans and Kazaks with no interest in government or paying taxes.

Despite an extremely severe winter, averaging 21 degrees F. below zero in December, January and February, the summer is long enough for the growing of virtually all grains, root crops and vegetables. The forests are virtually untouched, while the mineral resources have never been thoroughly explored.

Financial Aid
Five hundred men with families have volunteered to be the vanguard of the new land of promise. Financed partly by their own means, the Soviet government and the Agro Joint, they will leave civilization this spring, build a capital city out of logs, break ground for crops and then send for their families in the fall.

In the next two years the Agro Joint hopes to colonize 40,000 Jews in the area. Most of them were small tradesmen under the Czarist regime who had their businesses wiped out by the almost complete nationalization of trade and industry. Not one of them has worked on a farm before. But the Agro Joint plan of making farmers out of Jews has worked so well in other parts of Russia where nearly 50,000 families have been colonized, that success of the scheme is virtually certain.

Bishop Tells of His Bet

That he spoke from experience when denouncing betting, was the declaration of Dr. Sterling Woolcombe, Bishop of Whitby, at a meeting in York, England, recently. "While at Oxford I was lucky and became extremely interested," he said. "My last bet was ten shillings on five to one winner of the Chester Cup, yet my friend and I resolved after the race never to bet again, not because we had lost—but because we were finding out that when betting enters into you it snags your highest interests. I believe it would have driven me to tell if I had gone on with it."

A plant to clean and treat flax for export is being built at Pskov, Russia.

FOODS TO BUILD BRAINS

"FOODS to build brains" is what the dietary lists of college dining halls have been called. And there is a great deal of truth in the statement. Every university dietitian tries to provide such a tempting variety of foods that the students, who proverbially prefer meat and potatoes and pie to anything else, will be tempted to add to their diets the most desirable fruits and vegetables.

College Cafeterias

This eye appeal is possible, of course, only in cafeterias. But many colleges have cafeterias. Columbia University, one of the largest in the United States, has an ingenious system of serving breakfast and luncheon in cafeteria style, and dinner in the evening in the regular manner.

Columbia seems to have succeeded in introducing the desirable salads according to Miss Mabel Reed who is in charge of the Columbia Commons and the dining halls in Johnson and John Jay Halls. She states that from a third to a half of the luncheon guests order salads. That means that in one hall two hundred to two hundred fifty salads are served at noon alone. The salads vary from day to day according to season and the markets. But always there is a fresh fruit salad as well as vege-

LINDY CHAUFFEURS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23. (INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh resumed his new job as an aerial taxi chauffeur for Congress shortly before noon today. There were scores of members waiting to be taken aloft when Lindbergh reached the field. And with the regularity of clockwork he took loads aloft table salads. Then there is potato salad, made of potatoes, onion — just a little onion — and pickles, sometimes with cucumber or green pepper. Potato salad is served alone or with cold meat. Lettuce salad is standard, too. Salmon, tuna, and lobster are popular fishes for salads. In looking over the salads on the counter, the first thing that strikes the eye is their crispness. They are arranged with an eye for color, and evidently with a knowledge of the subtle appeal to the appetites of the diners. They are placed early in the line, too.

Canned Foods Used

Vegetables are supplied plentifully. One day the menu included creamed cauliflower, parsley or scalloped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, buttered peas, and sweet potatoes. The dining rooms always serve at least one fresh vegetable besides potatoes, said Miss Reed, but they also make much use of canned foods, especially since recent research work has shown that as far as vitamins are concerned, commercially canned vegetables are superior to home-cooked ones. It has been found that the method of cooking in the average kitchen, which exposes the food to the oxygen, partially destroys its vitamin content. Of course the commercially canned vegetables are exposed to oxygen a shorter time at very high temperature. Fruits, either stewed, canned or raw are obtainable at every meal. Figs, apricots and prunes as well as peaches and pears, are standard. Apple sauce is popular, too. Sometimes it is made fresh in the kitchen; sometimes it is canned apple sauce; and sometimes it is a mixture of the two.

Prices Are Low

Individual dishes on the menu are priced low as John Jay. For instance, split pea soup is only five cents. Sometimes soups which cost ten cents are served, but these are always one five cent soup. Clara Chowder, which costs 10 cents, is a popular favorite.

Roast lamb for twenty-five cents, fried codfish balls and sauce for twenty-five, and baked beans for fifteen are items which tend to keep down the students' cost of living. Vegetables such as sweet potatoes and canned tomatoes and peas are ten cents, while the salads range from fifteen to twenty-five cents. Five cents for stewed fruits, ten cents for ice cream is the price range of desserts. Peaches, pears, and apricots are among the popular canned fruits on the menu.

Harding Didn't Get Any Sinclair Bonds

MARION, Ohio, Mar. 22.—(INS)—The late President Harding possessed none of the $3,000,000 worth of Continental Trading Company's liberty bonds involved in the "Teapot Dome" investigation at Washington it was declared here today by Charles D. Schaffner, executor of the estate of the late President, in an exclusive interview with the Marion Star, a Brush-Moore newspaper formerly owned by the late President.
 This information was scheduled to be presented today to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana prosecutor of the committee, by William F. Allen, of St. Louis, the committee's special investigator who went over the records of the Harding estate here yesterday with Mr. Schaffner.

MRS. BROWN "PRETTIES UP" HER FOOD FOR MR. BROWN

"PRETTY is as pretty does," said Mrs. Brown today.
 "What care I how fair he be, if she be not fair to me?" responded Mr. Brown gloomily.
 No, gentle reader, the Brown family was not discussing the forthcoming arrival of a portentious letter relative to the fact that Mrs. Brown was to be serving her husband a particular food which was good for him, but which he did not like.
 The discussion was a draw.
 The Midnight Fairy
 That night Mrs. Brown had a dream. She dreamt that a fairy whispered in her ear, "Pretty tastes as pretty looks," and "Fair food need not be a bore." "Decorations on the pudding make it eaten like a good man."
 When Mrs. Brown woke she had seen the light. From henceforth she forever vied with the angels above and the devils below. "LOOK PRETTY!" she would "pretty up" her most ordinary dishes until they appeared to be entirely new.
 A Devised Product
 Mrs. Brown considered her arrangements for tomorrow night, and her heart sank. She was going to have deviled eggs, and Henry didn't like deviled eggs even though he should. What could she do? Her eyes ramed along the row of canned foods which she saw sitting on her cupboard shelves, and stopped at one which bore the label "Sliced Hawaiian Pineapple."
 Just the thing! Henry loved pineapple. She would cut her eggs crosswise instead of the long way and then would fit an egg into the hole of a pineapple slice. Delicious! Delicious! And dressing sprinkled with may would make the combination so charming to look at that even the recalcitrant Mr. Brown would enjoy it.
 And the lobster canape that she was going to serve her bridge club—why couldn't it look sleek and taste better if the round of lobster-covered toast rested on a ring of pineapple?
 Flowers and Rings
 She speculatively eyed her glistening dessert molds. Wouldn't a ring at the top and bottom of the dessert look charming if it were made of pineapple cubes?
 Cookies? In her mind's eye she saw a slice of pineapple cut in such a way that it was only half as thick as usual. Then she saw herself smiling at the sliced, sun-shaped petals which pressed forward of the petals into the top of each cookie which was resting on a baking sheet, and then she popped them in the oven.
 Mrs. Brown decided that all this morning would be put into the best of it was.
 And when Mr. Brown saw all the glorified foods which she smiled and smiled at and sat down with never a single objection? Well, he certainly didn't!
