Fighting Cards Nip Braves In 11th, 7 To 5

Musial's Home Run Is Deciding Blow; Boston Hits Cooper

ST. LOUIS, July 15, (AP)—The fighting St. Louis Cardinals, who never know when they're down, staged another one of their exploitre last-minute rallies yesterday to defeat the Boston Braves, 7 to 5, after being shut cold for the first five innings.

It was Stan Musial's seventh home run of the year over the right-field pavilion screen with one runner on base in the last of the 11th inning that slammed the door.

It was likewise a home run with one on by George Kurowski, that pulled the Cards into a 5-5 tie in the eighth after they appeared hopelessly beaten and doomed to drop another notch below Brooklyn.

After bunching three singles for a send-off run in the fourth, the Braves really went to work on the Cardinal pitching ace, Mort Cooper, in the fifth, driving across four more runs on three hits and an error. This was the end of Cooper, although he retired the first batsman for a pinch-hitter in the Cardinal half of the fifth after striking out five batters.

It was disclosed yesterday that Mort has been taking treatments for a sore side but it was not expected to cause him to relinquish his regular turn on the hill.

Two singles with two doubles good for three runs gave the Cardinals new life in the sixth, ending Johnny Sain's brilliant ball game, with frequent pinch-hitting and changing of pitchers on both sides.

Howard Krist, who held the Braves hitless during the last four and two-thirds innings, received credit for the victory, while Dick Errickson, a right-hander who entered the game in the 10th with two runners on base and only one out but retired the side without damage, was charged with the loss.

The victory gave the Cards a clean sweep of the three-game series and today they open a series with the tail-end Philadelphia Phils.

Ray Starr Hurls 3-Hit Game, But Loses To Phils

CINCINNATI, July 15, (AP)—Ray Starr hurled three-hit ball for Cincinnati yesterday but lost to Philadelphia, 2 to 1, on the strength of a fly ball off the bat of Rube Melton that went for a two-run homer after two Red outfielders collided and were momentarily dazed.

The unusual incident occurred with two out in the fifth with Catcher Ben Warren on base through one of Starr's four walks.

Max Marshall and Harry Craft collided and were knocked to the ground as they chased Melton's fly. Time was called as were a pair of stretchers—but after a short rest both players revived and remained in the game.

Gee Walker, notified yesterday that he was the father of a daughter,born to his wife in Orlando, Fla. celebrated with a perfect three-for-three but his fourth-inning blow was wasted as Harry Craft took the third strike to close the book.

Hank Borowy Blanks Tigers On Two Hits

NEW YORK, July 15, (AP)—Hank Borowy, the blond rookie pitching star of the New York Yankees, mothered the Detroit Tigers on two hits Tuesday and knocked in one run himself with a tremendous triple for a 3 to 0 victory.

It was the former Fordham university's eighth successive game one defeat this year and gave the world champions a 3½ to 1 edge in their four-game series with the Detroit as well as running their season's total of seven victories against one defeat.

Borowy, at Detroit's mercy on the mound for the Bengals and held the Yanks to but a dozen hits but he never had a chance. His teammates could do nothing with Borowy and he himself made an error to put the Yanks' first run on base and he also served a two-run homer to Tom Henrich in the sixth inning to make his downfall decisive.

Super Troop-Cargo Planes May Be Used

WASHINGTON, July 15, (Special)—The engineer of an idea which recognizes only global boundaries is resulting in development of a phase of air power which has been overwhelmingly but not overlooked by the demand for more and more combat planes: that of super troop-cargo airplanes to provide self-sufficiency of supply and transportation to fighting forces throughout the world.

With ocean surface shipping being made over more costly and uncertain by submarine warfare, air transport offers a solution, military leaders believe.

Program For Florida Forests Is Approved

JACKSONVILLE, July 15, —(Special)—The seven-point program for the conservation and rehabilitation of Florida forests recommended by the Forestry Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has been approved by the Executive Committee, Harold Colee, executive vice president of the organization, announced today.

The program was worked out at a meeting here June 18. It states that uncontrolled forest fire is public enemy number one, causing nearly $9,000,000 damage in 1940. It recommends that forest protection be placed on a statewide basis, substituting State funds for county, city and landowner funds, and pledges to work for Federal appropriations to match state funds.

The program points out that about 32 percent of Florida's forest lands are badly depleted and understocked and asserts that inequitable taxation is an adverse factor in any movement to restore them to productivity. It recommends strengthening of assessment procedure, correction of defective administration and modification of the property tax so that restoration of full productivity will not be impeded.

Oil seepages are found in several Chinese provinces, but extensive underground reservoirs are small.

German Troops Gain Two Footholds Inside Northern Caucasus

Voronezh Struggle Reaches New Degree Of Ferocity; Reds Lose 2 Towns

(By Associated Press)

● A German foothold some 20 miles inside the northern Caucasus and another on the northernmost rim was conceded by Russians today while the struggle for Voronezh reached a new degree of ferocity.

The Germans pressed behind two spearheads eastward from the mounting bulge along the Don River—and they seemed to crash through to the Stalingrad elbow of the Volga defenses in less than 200 miles away. A Russian communique admitted.

● Bocuchar and Millerovo.

Heavy fighting raged as Nazi bombers today made a daylight attack on Benghazi, Libya, starting a large dock fire.

● In London, a British military commentator said the German divisions sent to Russia from occupied France had been trained there and the regular Nazi garrison was not reduced.

Other indications led observers to conclude the western powers are not in a position to open a second front on the continent this summer.

Two German columns driving in separate sectors toward the steel city of Stalingrad have forced Russian troops to evacuate the towns of Morozkar, on the Don River in the northern bend, and Serov, on the Moscow-Rostov railway supply line and only 175 miles from Stalingrad, the Russian high command announced early today.

On the northern limits of the battlefront, Soviet troops fought off a renewed series of German attacks against Voronezh, the midnight communique said. There were no material changes in other sectors of the long fighting line.

The official Russian press meanwhile warned that the "menace is great" on the approaches of the Caucasus.

● Fighting in the Voronezh area is "developing with increased ferocity," the Russians said. "A number of fortified positions have changed hands several times."

One important position west of Voronezh, together with a forest, was reported recaptured in the Russian counter-attacks. Russian dispatches said also that the Third German Motorized Infantry Division, which appeared on the battlefield only yesterday, had been forced to withdraw, and was replaced by the new 188th Motorized Division.

No Extra Gas Is Available For Vacation Trips

Truck Owners Will Receive Rationing Books On July 22

Confirming to Washington reports of administration opposition to gasoline for vacation trips is available in the public, according to A. B. Peterson, Rationing Board secretary, who added that "Every effort [illegible] being made to distribute gasoline rationing books to truck owners [illegible] users over the country by the start of the permit-rationing July 22. The board also is working on the supplementary applications for motorists who feel they are entitled to more than the basic A book.

"We have received a few requests for allowances on vacations, and we have had to refuse them," Mr. Peterson said. "A driver can use up his regular ration card any way he likes, but if he uses it on a vacation trip he may have to keep his car in the garage a long time afterward. There is no provision for gasoline for people to go on long pleasure trips. Such trips aren't considered essential in the war effort."

The new A ration books contain 48 coupons, a year's ration at the rate of four coupons a month. Each coupon is good for four gallons. Mr. Peterson emphasized one of the main features of the plan is that motorists will be allowed to use only the coupons for the month in question. There are six pages, each containing eight coupons, with each page representing a two-month period at intervals starting July 22.

American Heroes Will Be Honored Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow is American Heroes Day, one of the features of which the National Retailers for Victory drive from July 1 to July 31, the purpose of which is to promote the sale of War Savings Stamps to provide the government with funds necessary for war effort, V. A. Speer, Seminole County chairman announced today.

"American Heroes Day is a day when everyone will join with newspapers, city officials, service organizations and every single group in the city to honor our fighting men and women in this war—the heroes of the past war—the men who have fought and are fighting in defense of American democracy. We want to give the greatest one-day war bond and War Stamps sales in history," Mr. Speer said, adding that the Sanford office will remain open until 9:00 P. M. because of the occasion, it was announced. Seminole County's quota for July is $79,500. Mr. Speer said, which is much higher than in previous months. The quota in June was $81,800, while $59,500 actually was spent for the purchase of bonds and stamps. May sales were $139,726 as compared with the $41,500 quota. "Despite the fact that our quota has been raised, I hope that we will continue topping the amount assigned to us," Mrs. Speer said.

Baptist Assembly To Meet At DeLand

DeLAND, July 16, (AP)—The Florida Baptist Assembly will convene at Stetson University tomorrow, with prospects of a normal session, despite gasoline rationing difficulties, Pres. W. S. Allen was informed in a letter from Assembly Registrar Willard Weeks.

Weeks said advance registration indicated between 600 and 700 delegates would attend, and added that the assembly probably would not be affected by the gasoline rationing. Most of the attendance, he said, is from the central Florida area.

Guerrillas

(From The Washington Post)

We are wind in the wheat,
Fire over the field,
Ax in the forest, bough that drops
And sudden shot from leaves

We are the voice without words
Heard in the heart
And also the lips sealed
Against the knifed question

We are nameless—
Woman who kissed the child
Needles the gun at her cheek,
Boy who tossed the ball
Hurls the grenade—
Yet our names are familiar, loved by men

Everywhere, Against the invader
We are transformed
In single purpose clenched
Pitchfork and wrench are weapons
In our hands;
Our strength moves under the broken land.

NANCY CARDOZO.

Maturity

(From The Providence Journal)

What we were in those retreating days
When at the icom of morals
We wove astonishing designs
And played the instrument of self untiringly,
Deaf to its ambiguous end.

Now the future must be scaled;
The starist becomes the efitle,
Settled in opinion
And free of the passionate phrase;
Vigor is disciplined
And in established theaters
Heroism is divorced from love.

Once nothing was too small for tears,
Now nothing is great enough;
The dull and unconvincing sound
Of fingers snapped,
The throat cleared for conviction
Betray our maturity.
Gone that we left behind
Our whistles
That we measure only with the mind.

MINNA GELLERT.

There'll be no gasoline for vacations, so the rationing officials tell us. And no money either, they say.

With all the sweeps the RAF has made over France it is remarkable Laval hasn't been swept off. He was probably too low.

The scrap metal drive is getting under way in earnest in this area. And we can't use the Navy made out of those ships in the Battle of Java.

Question and gasoline rationing taught the young folks to appreciate what they have been up against in the matter of home cooking.

The Human Factor In War

In this mechanical age, emphasis is being placed on superiority in arms as the decisive factor in the plans of the United Nations to set the Axis powers back on their heels and bring an early conclusion to the war.

We all have the idea, more or less, that when we have acquired sufficient tanks, guns, planes and ships, winning the war will be easy. All we have to do is to get these implements into action and it is a foregone conclusion how things will turn out.

The matter of generalship, of strategy, of tactics, and staff work seldom enters into any conversations these days when the war subject is mentioned. Apparently everyone has forgotten that more battles have been won by superior leadership than by superiority of arms and men; apparently our mechanical minded people have resolved the matter of winning into the simple proposition that our factories will bring the cherished victory.

Such a dependency by our United Nations would be disastrous, for, as important as they are, the forged sinews of war are not decisive unless their use is directed by superior military intelligence. No greater calamity could happen to a country than to misgauge the relative merits of fine generalship with inferior weapons and poor generalship with superior weapons.

The War Between the States emphasized our point and there are countless other cases where battle after battle has gone to the side which was weak in the tools of fighting and yet superb in the art of combat. Lee and Jackson never had the numerical manpower, or the guns, or the ships equal to the Northern army, yet in a long series of engagements they overwhelmed their opponents by their leadership, strategy, and cunning.

This is not to argue that weapons are unimportant. They are, but a preponderance of weapons is no guarantee of victory unless the generals at the top are of the proper calibre to make the weapons count. There is still a human element in warfare.

Any Old Records Today?

Wanted—old victrola records. Or maybe just plain victrola records. However, it doesn't hurt if they are so old that they won't play. They may even be cracked.

Where records are so old that they are not playable they will be turned over to appropriate authorities for remaking.

We haven't the slightest doubt that many homes in DeLand have old records filed away. Maybe the tunes are so ancient that you are no longer attracted by them or perhaps the radio has replaced the phonograph in your home. The records may be old to you—and to the boys in the service, but they'll afford sweet music to the ears of men in Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Africa, or any one of a score of places on the globe where they may be located.

Don't procrastinate. The records probably aren't doing you any good. Dig them up, clear out the space they have been occupying and use it for something else.—DeLand Sun-News.

Danger In Over-Confidence

Confidence seems to be inherent in the makeup of Americans. We have assumed that our simple entry into this war makes victory certain. We have over-valued the few slight successes we have had thus far, and we refuse to believe the plain fact that we are still a long way from strength equal to our enemies.

We point with pride to our victories in past wars, and to our huge capacity for producing war goods. But we neglect to realize that these facts alone do not win wars.

It is high time that Americans take this war seriously and realize the tremendous strength of our enemies and the perils that we face as a nation.

We are fighting for our national and individual freedom, for our way of life which embraces the highest living standard on earth, and we are also fighting the most diabolical plan of world conquest that was ever devised.

We are still a long way from winning this war, and we might eventually lose it.—Titusville Star-Advocate.

the past year, we have endeavored to keep up the grounds and athletic field of the high school, and have, in addition, planted considerable new shrubery, which was supplied from the ornamental nursery, operated by the department. All farm equipment was overhauled, and a tractor plow was purchased. One-half acre of additional ground was graded and improved for crops. One terrace, 320 feet long, was built to prevent water erosion. A quail feed wind-break was planted with Australian pines. On June 15, construction was started on a new building to be used as a machinery shed and additional shop facilities. It is being built as a construction project of the National Defense Training Program." He added that two coats of paint were applied to the classroom, office and hallway of the school farm building and repairs were made on the farm tenant house.

Sabotage And Open Resistance In Nazi-Occupied Countries Increases

Wide World Features

Morale of German occupational troops in Europe is weakening visibly because of open hatred of of the mastered inhabitants. Sabotage, industrial slowdowns and open resistance against the Nazi invader are increasing despite frightful cost of patriots' lives.

So reports the Office of War Information in a booklet, "The Unconquered People," which makes an issue of the need of the peoples of occupied countries for help from the outside.

Resistance began, the booklet's authors set forth, almost as soon as the first shock of defeat wore off, and self preservation seemed less and less important.

Norwegians suddenly were unable to understand German commands and ignored Germans and Quislings as though non-existent. Norwegian jurists, nurses, educators and clergymen resigned, the younger and more able of them to make their way to Allied soil where they took up military training.

Belgians found unity on last Armistice Day when they demonstrated before the tomb of their Unknown Soldier, the Dutch planted their tulip fields to resemble huge Dutch flags, Breton sailors with German observers conveniently became lost in the English channel and landed at English ports.

Those were the beginnings of resistance, as the booklet traces them. The underground press began to appear. Belgium now has 40 such papers, with revealing titles like "La Libre Belgique" and "Le Front de Resistance."

Regardless of consequences, people of the occupied countries cluster around short-wave broadcasts from the Allies, and men like Jan Masaryk, who was the Czech foreign minister, counsel their countrymen from London and elsewhere.

The spectacular began with sabotage, and in its summary the booklet points to such results in France as transportation delays, slipshod work in factories, damage to plants, train wrecks and spilling of grain.

"Skillful industrial sabotage, especially of complicated machinery," it is reported, "has been difficult to detect during inspection . . . and has not revealed itself until the truck or tractor has taken to the road, causing breakdowns and delays.

"One shipment of 20 million pieces of tampered with ammunition had to be returned to a Czechoslovak factory because if German retouch workers had attempted to attach time fuses they would have been blown sky high.

More spectacular still has been the armed revolt of Yugoslavs under General Draja Mikhallovitch, who, in small units, sweep down from mountain fastnesses to destroy Axis troop concentrations, burn storehouses and wreck transportation facilities. The insurgents always are well-informed of the enemy's activities. Mikhallovitch is said to control three-fourths of old Serbia and parts of Herbegovina, Bosnia and Montenegro.

The Nazis' answer to such resistance, the booklet continues, is canceled food cards, exile, concentration camps, torture and deaths. There are numerous accounts of Nazi revenge, including the wiping out of the Norwegian village of Televaag.

Twenty-three hundred Yugoslav hostages, the booklet maintains, were put to death in two weeks in November for the killing of 26 German soldiers.

Only fragmentary stories of the patriots' resistance have been told, but they are resisting against all odds.

George Fayko, Philadelphia commercial artist, is shown putting the finishing touches to a portrait of Arturo Toscannini "painted" with burning matches. Flames from the matches produce three basic colors, black, bronze and flesh color. He outlines the profile in pencil and then uses about 1,500 matches to finish the portrait.

"Tenderay" Beef Will Be Placed On Sale Today

Scientists Acclaim Piggly-Wiggly And Lovett's Product

Piggley Wiggley and Lovett stores announce the exclusive sale of this territory of Tenderay Beef, said to be the world's only government patened method of tenderizing fresh beef The new Tenderay Beef goes on sale in Piggley Wiggley and Lovett's markets here today, according to F. L. Cordray, head of the meat department of the Lovett Food Store organization.

The Tender method has been acclaimed he said, by eminent scientists as the "greatest contribution to the meat industry since the invention of mechanical refrigeration." The process of tenderizing fresh killed beef was discovered and developed jointly by the research staffs of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, the Kroger Food Foundation, and the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

In discussing Lovett's Tenderay Beef Mr. Cordrays declared, "Housewives have worried over tough meat since the first cave man hung the carcass of a freshly killed beef in his rock-hewn store room and discovered that the longer it remained hanging the more tender it became. Since that prehistoric day mankind the world over has aspired to tender meat, beef in particular.

"Until the Tenderay process was discovered, through the thousands of years until now, the technique of ageing or 'tendering' beef has not changed—the meat had to hang in a place cool enough to prevent its spoiling until it ripened.

"Now, with the Tenderay method, freshly killed beef is aged or made tender in approximately 48 hours whereas the old expensive, wasteful method of aging took from four to six weeks."

According to Mr. Cordray, Lovett's Tenderay Beef will be sold in Pigeley Wiggly and Lovett's markets here under a "Double Your Money Back Guarantee" if it is not tender. Every cut of Lovett's Tenderay Beef will be sold under this guarantee and every customer will receive such guarantee in writing at the time of purchase.

Tenderay Beef was finally perfected by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, the Kroger Food Foundation, and the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research after years of research. Four years these scientific organizations studied nature's method of tendering beef, learned to control it to the exact degree and to speed it up 14 time faster than the natural method.

Lovett's Tenderay Beef is speed aged and tenderised 14 times faster than the old expensive, wasteful method of aging. The Tenderay process preserves natural vitamins, valuables juices, and flavor. Nothing is added to the beef by Tenderay and nothing is taken away except toughness.

Mr. Cordray points out that Lovett's Tenderay Beef brings the luxury of fresh, tender beef within the reach of all the people because Lovett's Tenderay Beef will never be premium priced. "Not one person in a thousand has tasted beef as tender as Lovett's Tenderay yet it is priced in the same range of other beef of comparable quality," he declared.

Today's issue of The Herald carries a large ad on Lovett's Tenderay Beef giving full information on this discovery "which already has revolutionised the meat eating habits of millions of people."

WORLD'S GREATEST MEAT DISCOVERY!

LOVETT'S TENDERAY BEEF

The World's ONLY Government Patented Method of TENDERING FRESH BEEF!

ON SALE TODAY (Exclusively!) IN LOVETT'S MARKETS

What Is Lovett's Tenderay Beef?

Briefly Lovett's Tenderay Beef is fresh-killed beef made deliciously tender without expensive, wasteful ageing by the government patented Tenderay method discovered and developed jointly by the research staffs of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., The Kroger Food Foundation and the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

Housewives have worried over tough meat since the first caveman hung the carcass of a freshly killed beast in his rock-brown store room and discovered that the longer it remained hanging the more tender it became. Since that prehistoric day, mankind the world over has aspired to tender meat, beef in particular.

Until the Tenderay process was discovered, through the thousands of years until now, the technique of ageing or "tendering" beef has not changed—the meat had to hang in a place cool enough to prevent it's spoiling until it ripened.

Now, with the Tenderay method, freshly killed beef is aged or made tender in approximately 48 hours whereas the old expensive, wasteful method of aging took from four to six weeks.

Whirly Smashes All-Time Money Winning Record

Comes From Behind With Great Speed Display At Suffolk

BOSTON, July 16, (AP)—Whirlaway hurled Seabiscuit's all-time money winning record deep in Suffolk Downs "graveyard of champions" yesterday with a streak of lightning speed that all but set fire to its track.

Taking over the Biscuit's throne as the world champion broadwinner of the turf, the long-tailed Kentucky Cannonball turned loose his "private" kick in one burst of running power to come from almost out of sight and win the rich Massachusetts Handicap faster than it ever has been done before.

And with the $43,850 payoff check he picked up as he sloped around the finish line, the colt they used to call crazy added enough to his earnings to give him a total of $454,736 for his two and one-half years of racing, thereby wiping out the $437,730 mark the Biscuit took so long to pile up a few years back.

What's more, the way Whirly did it—carrying a wagon load of weight, running against a fancy set of front-flying "speed" horses and making his first trip over the dirt strip that has been disastrous for so many champions in the past—made it look more than ever as though he can go on to become the first $500,000 dollar baby in history.

Yankees Get Second Straight Shutout Win

NEW YORK, July 16, (AP)—The youngest New York Yankees rallied up their fourth straight victory and second successive shutout yesterday as Atley Donald blanked the Cleveland Indians 4 to 0 on four hits.

It was Donald's sixth success contrasted to two defeats and he was spurred through out—keeping the Indians quartet of singles well spaced, fanning five and walking only one. No runner reached second against him.

The Yankees got all the runs they needed in the fifth when Joe DiMaggio, batting for Donald, hammered his 10 hits, three of them by Buddy Hassett and another by Joe DiMaggio, extending his modern batting streak to 12 games.

Port Said, northern terminus of the Suez canal, was founded in 1859 when work was begun on the huge ditch.

Braves Break 18-Game Losing Streak With Nightcap Victory

CINCINNATI, (AP)—The Boston Braves, after losing a 14-inning opener to Cincinnati in the morning game, 4-3, the Reds bounced back to win the second game, 5-3, in the afternoon.

The Braves' victory snapped a losing streak that began June 27 and equaled Boston baseball records.

The first game was the longest ever played in Cincinnati's Crosley field.

Both pitchers were credited with complete games. Lou Tost, Boston's fourth hurler, was the loser in the first game when Ival Goodman's single scored Eddie Joost with the winning run in the 14th inning.

In the second game, Boston scored all its runs in the first inning on Joost's single, Tommy Holmes' double and Bill Salkeld's single.

Ken Raffensberger, Cincinnati's fifth pitcher, was the winner in the second game.

Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club Will Open On Dec. 28

MIAMI, July 16, (AP)—The Florida Racing commission Wednesday approved dog racing dates, bringing the sport to go ahead for five meetings next winter despite the war.

Dates allotted were almost exactly those requested last summer and carried out last season despite the outbreak of the United States into the conflict.

Almost against exception, except that the dates they asked for in a meeting of the commission here Monday, Commissioner complied with the operators' request to make the announcement officially at a return of ratification date Florida will conduct racing next season.

There will be racing next winter as far as the commission and Mr. Bolte at that time.

Sanford-Orlando Kennel club will open Dec. 28 and run to Apr. 10, a full 30-day schedule.

Dodgers Ride Cubs, Win By 10 to 5 Count

CHICAGO, July 16, (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs staged a rip-roaring battle for 2 hours and 37 minutes yesterday with the Dodger emerging from what their foes would call a "shabash" on the long end of a 10 to 5 count.

By any name it was a wild affair, with the Dodger lineup getting the better of the slugging match.

Hugh Casey, third Dodger hurler, was credited with the victory after relieving Whitlow Wyatt in the fifth inning when the Cubs were on smashing that Brooklyn five run rally in the fifth inning when Billy Herman's double scored Lonnie Frey and Pete Reiser. The Cubs at that point were leading, 4 to 3.

Reiser's double was the big blow of the fifth inning rally. He lashed the ball to the left field corner after Pete Coscarart had walked and Dixie Walker had singled.

A licensed commercial pilot, 22-year-old Nancy Batson is now putting her aviation experience to wartime use. She has just finished a course in air traffic control and is awaiting her federal license. She is shown bringing her plane in the control tower at the Pan-American airport in Miami.

Wade, Neyland To Coach Star Service Teams

NEW YORK, July 16, (AP)—Two college football coaches whose rivalry is almost a tradition will lend their talents and coaching the Army All-Star squad in its series of games with the National pro league clubs in August and September of this year.

Appointment of Lieut. Col. Raymond L. Neyland, a former Tennessee, and Maj. Wallace Wade, ex-Duke mentor, as leaders of the service athletes was announced yesterday by Grantland Rice, president of the War Fund.

The date on each game scheduled has been fixed but with the exception of the two divisional games, Major Wade will have the team, green, and Colonel Neyland the Eastern players, it was pointed out. However, the two coaches would work together closely in selecting the squad.

Numerous details are still to be worked out, such as is Pro Bowl squads will be split and how they will train, but it is known definitely that a complete squad of about 40 players, composed of two All-Star college teams and two players pooled by two coaches, is to be selected from the services who are familiar with the players.

League Leaders

MANHATTAN By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, July 16, (WW)—Without any wisecrack Dead as a lobbyhound for any Chamber of Men's League or the Chamber of Commerce, I must express the opinion that in an air raid New York would be every bit as safe as an Ozark cave, war and the long range bomber not withstanding.

I say this because this is Dutch village by the sea as one of the traditional vacation spots of the nation, and many out-of-towners are wondering what effect the war should play on their vacation plans. A surprising number have been written in wanting to know. They say: "We'd planned to visit New York ... but now there's a war, and New York is exposed. Would it be safe?"

It sure would be safe—and terrific!

Defense plants are the natural targets of bombers, but we don't harm! a single defense plant in the city.

We're protected by five major U. S. Army forts and a great Interceptor Command that offers vigilance 24 hours a day. ... We're 18 miles from the ocean.

We have an army of 10,000 policemen and firemen on constant duty.

Most of the buildings, hotels and theaters in New York are well built and have been declared safe! The personnel of these amusement centers, especially the hotels and theaters, has been diligently trained for such emergencies because that is where visitors naturally congregate. I mention also the full scope of protection provided by military, state, municipal, and civilian authorities who have worked for months to attain a high degree of efficiency.

In April, 1941, pressure output of military airplanes in the United States was 475 daily.

Wartime Calling Of Coaches Hits Grid Game Hard

Wide World Features

College football teams have been harder hit by wartime calls for coaches than by loss of players.

Comparatively few of the pigskin who would have been eligible for football next Fall have enlisted or been drafted, but coaching ranks are either under fire or are in advanced college military classes with instructions to continue their courses.

However, such top-flight mentors as Wallace Wade of Duke, Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, Jim Crowley of Fordham, Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, Stan Cohen of Southern California, and Jock Sutherland of Pennsylvania, not to mention a few, are in service.

Washington and Lee and North Carolina hid their coaching staffs virtually wiped out. Eddie Cameron has taken over at Duke, while Lt. Riley Smith and a few aides are in the Navy. Jim Tatum has succeeded Ray Wolf, also in the Navy, at North Carolina. Alabama has lost five coaches, Florida, Auburn and Georgia three each and almost every other team in the Nation's roster is at least two.

Georgia has lots of linemen and two blocking backs to the Army. Alabama has lost a half dozen and Tennessee reports 18 will be missing. Hardest hit in the Southeast has been Mississippi, which lost 19 by graduation, and Tulane—to military service. The Rebels expect even more to go by Fall, including the two All-Southern backs, Doug Kenna, who won a West Point appointment, and Billy Hillhouse, Navy-bound.

Duke will feel the loss, more than any team in the Southwest. It expects to lose a half dozen, including Milton Craig, one of the section's best backfielders. Pershan has lost several, including Steve Dudelli, perhaps Duquesne's best back, who was drafted and the Dukes lost four others. Columbia lost four regulars, two tackles and two backs. One of the tackles was Capt. Herb Mack.

Yale took World's War II to the freshmen back on college varsity football teams.

For the first time in many years, since conference units agreed that college neophytes should restrict their sports to skirmishes against the varsity or competition with new-comers on other campuses, first year men will be eligible—as a wartime measure—for varsity teams at some major institutions.

The revered Big Three—Harvard, Yale and Princeton—are among the traditional football powers who have made freshmen eligible. Others include Carnegie Tech, Holy Cross, Dartmouth, Villanova and Fordham. Colgate and Duquesne are possibilities. The Mountain Six conference cut in the Rockies has elected freshmen. The Southwest conference will make a decision in August. Most Southeastern schools would like to play freshmen but conference authorities have not yet flashed the green light.

The Southern conference and Big Ten have refused to waive the freshman rule. Likewise, none of the Pacific coast conference, nor the big independents, will adhere to conference rules, will permit freshmen to play on varsity clubs.

Summer favorites in the various sections are: Rocky Mountain, Utah; Southwest, Texas A. & M.; Pacific Coast, Southern Cal; Big Seven, California and Oregon; Southern, Duke; Southeastern, Georgia; Western Conference, Minnesota, and Eastern, Fordham.

Czech Ace Is Said Tops At Night Flying

LONDON, July 16. (WW)—The Czech ace, Karel Kutlewascher, who has what colleagues call the "uncanny knack of smelling out homeward-bound German bombers," is recognized by Air Ministry officials as Britain's best night fighter.

Week after week the stocky, fair-haired flyer, 27, is mentioned in Air Ministry bulletins for night-fighting exploits. Sometimes he routs a shooting down one, two or three German planes on long night patrol, sometimes only breaking up a raid by inflicting damage.

In ten days he was credited with destroying seven bombers at night and has an official bag of 15 destroyed at night, six in daytime.

Fellow pilots like the quiet, unassuming Czech and call him "Old Kuttel," envy his gift for finding Germans at night.

Since his arrival in England he has married a Welsh girl. On leave, he putters around in the garden at his Mill Hill (London) home.

But flying a four-cannon Hurricane, he is reckoned a deadly killer. Other pilots in his squadron say he'll look at a map of the operations room, point to perhaps a small, unimportant German airdrome and say: "I'll go there tonight."

It's odds-on, pilots say, that the Germans will be using that airdrome that night and that "Old Kuttel" will relieve it. Luftwaffe of a plane or two.

His tactics are simple. He depends upon "Dutch" tactics and they are widely used by R.A.F. "intruder" pilots.

He hovers high over a German airdrome waiting for landing or a to be switched on, then pounces on a German bomber when it is only a few hundred feet high, preparing to land. The German plane, it is reckoned, will be damaging if not badly damaged because of the low altitude. Defending guns are unable to open on him because they might hit their own pilots.

WASHINGTON

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, July — (WW)—I don't know about the rest of the country, but the rubber salvage drive in Washington bounced all over the place.

Star Rubber Conservator Harold L. Ickes got into a typical Ickesian squabble when he demanded all government buildings scrap their rubber floor mats—only the reclamation stockpile. The Public Building Administration declared that was to belittle things too far.

Not only government employees but government visitors, said PBA, might fall and break their backs any rainy day if the buildings didn't have their rubber mats. "Investigators" dashed over to the OPA offices in the LaSalle building to find out what Leon Henderson was doing about it all. They came away disappointed. The price administrator's office is using cocoa straw mats—the building never has had anything else—and the only brakes Leon Henderson gets are found to have nothing to do with what was under foot on rainy days.

Practically overnight, Congressional tobacco chewers received their greatest challenge to aim in history. Acting on orders from Speaker Sam Rayburn, Capitol Architect David Lynn had all brass spittoons picked up and dumped on the stockpile. By that time, the controversy was on and the cuspidor crowd didn't spot one word of complaint.

Just when the mat situation was going good, along came word that rubber in rubber mats wasn't good for much anyhow, and nearly swept the whole thing under the rug.

The President himself urged rubber contributions to the limit, suggesting that Capital amateurs even throw in their rubber garter coverings. Washington traffic and safety officials bounced right up to the ceiling, saying there was a traffic safety ruling that all cars must have rubber floor coverings as protection against gas fumes and electric shock.

Branded as the District of Columbia's biggest chiselers during the drive were a few parasites who, during the night, stole old tires off the unguarded scrap piles. One irate custodian of the scrap heaps stayed up several nights to catch the marauders—found they were taxi drivers—who can get retreads if, and only if, they turn in old casings.

The local lady who really won top honors for making contributions to the drive was the girlie who went into a suburban five and dime store, bought every rubber toy on the counters and with the assistance of her chauffeur carted them across the street to a filling station and dumped them on the heap.

Egyptian Crisis Draws Near As Tremendous Armored Fight Rages

British Battle Violent Axis Attacks In Center Of Line; U. S. Tanks Used

(By Associated Press)

The battle for Egypt appeared to be near a crisis today as a great battle of armored forces raged with the British eighth army fighting off violent German-Italian attacks on newly-won advance positions in the center of the El Alamein line.

The British are reported rushing new American-made tanks into the fray. Dispatches from the front indicated much of the armored strength of both sides is engaged.

Rommel, after two days and nights of brisk sparring, launched a terrific push all along the 35-mile British line except in the extreme south sector.

The big tank battle in the Deir el Shein sector raged all day with the out-come still in doubt, while the Ruweisat Hill near the east changed hands three and perhaps four times.

It was revealed that Axis forces, after capturing the Hill of Alam railroad station, finally swept up the ridge itself after a 24-hour assault, only to lose it almost immediately to a strong British counter-attack.

The enemy then retook it, and the imperially grenadier regiment attacked again and decimated accounts of the battle indicate they may by the time have won their way down to the heights once more.

It was learned meanwhile that the RAF is striking with increasing fury at Rommel's supply lines, with attacks on enemy mobile headquarters where the British Air Marshal might have been directing operations.

In the first attack fighter-bombers dropped explosives near the command post of Italian Gen. Ettore Bastico, and the second a direct hit was scored on a group of three trailers, one of which was extremely large and surrounded by a cordon of armored cars.

The trailers caught fire and returning pilots said they were "convinced" of their destruction.

Military reports said fighting was continuing on a lesser scale northward from the central area to the Hill of Jeema, while the extreme southern sector, on the west of the Qattara depression, was quiet.
