Naval Aviator Speaks At Aero Club Session

Commander R. E. Osborne, Officer in Charge of Heavy Attack Squadron Five based at the Naval Air Station, Sanford, recently spoke to the Florida Aero Club at the regular monthly dinner held at the Sun Tuna Hotel in Orlando.

The Florida Aero Club is an organization composed of military aviators, retired and in active service, civilian pilots, and others interested in aviation. The Aero Club enables its members to participate in actual flights and cruises to such renowned vacation spots as the Bahamas, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, and Haiti, in addition to locations within the United States. The club also enables its members to hear an experienced aviator each month at their dinner banquets. The only requirement for club membership is that you have an avid interest in the aviation field.

Commander Osborne gave a progress, the Academy believes, makes it necessary for the doctor to keep learning. For this reason, every member must complete 30 hours of postgraduate study per year.

Randy Rock Seeks Eighth Win Tonight

Fast-breaking Randy Rock could be the dog to catch in the featured ninth race tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

W. F. Swafford's young star is well-situated in the eight box and figures to make a strong bid for his eighth win of the campaign. Randy Rock is one of the reasons why the Swafford kennel is the leading money-winner this season, for he has picked up at least a fourth-place purse in 18 of his 23 attempts.

Another large crowd is expected tonight as the Sanford-Orlando track moves ever closer to the end of the meet which will come with matinee and night performances Monday, Day-night racing twin bills are also set Friday and Saturday.

Week's Top News Includes Khrushchev Taking Over As Top Man

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Nikita S. Khrushchev stepped into Joseph Stalin's shoes this week as the one-man supreme authority in Soviet Russia.
Nikolai A. Bulganin was removed as premier. Khrushchev was named premier in his place.

Khrushchev already had held the post of secretary general of the Communist Party, the real fountain-head of authority.
Thus Khrushchev became, as Stalin had been, the head of both government and party. Stalin had held the two posts from 1941 until his death in 1953. Now the question was whether Khrushchev would turn into a Stalin-type dictator. Many doubted it.
It had been forecast, that Bulganin might be kicked upstairs to the figure-head post of president in succession to 77-year-old Klementi A. Voroshilov. But Voroshilov was reconfirmed in his job.

Bulgaria apparently paid the price of a blunder he made last June. At that time Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Georgi M. Malenkov and Lazar M. Kaganovich plotted to overthrow Khrushchev. Bulganin failed to rise to Khrushchev's defense. Khrushchev won out narrowly. Since then, Bulgaria has been living on borrowed time.

Negotiations for a "summit" conference of world leaders on easing cold war tensions continued in the Mosbying stage.
Russia sent the United States a note rejecting its proposal for negotiating the meeting.
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, at a press conference in Washington, forcefully rejected the Soviet note. If Russia's terms of a meeting were accepted, Dulles said "it would mean that on the way to the summit we would have lost our shirt."

In a move related to the "summit" negotiations, the Bundestag, controlling house of the West German Parliament, approved Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's proposal to equip the German armed forces with American tactical nuclear weapons. The action was taken after a violent four-day debate in which the Socialists, the chief opposition party, fought against it.

Russia is trying desperately to prevent the possession of nuclear weapons by European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
King Saud of Saudi Arabia gave supreme authority over both domestic and foreign affairs to his brother, crown Prince Faisal.

Diplomatic experts were somewhat cautious in their assessments of the significance of the move.
Saud has remained aloof in the Arab feud between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and Kings Faisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan. He has leaned toward the Iraq-Jordan side. But many influential Saudi Arabians support Nasser. On the surface it looked like a tactical victory for Nasser. But the possible under-the-surface significance was uncertain.

The Indonesian government opened a general attack against the rebel army officers who held Central and Northern Sumatra. The government claimed some important successes. If the drive continued, the rebels might be forced into guerrilla resistance.

Local Easter Seal Campaign Receipts Are Over $600

Receipts from the Easter Seal campaign in Sanford and Seminole County have climbed to over $600, according to a report this morning.
However, the total is expected to go much higher as the Easter Seal sale continues to its peak at Easter.
The Sanford Pilot Club is sponsoring this year's Easter Seal campaign and to add to the funds will be receipts from the Easter Lily sale to be conducted on the streets of Sanford, Saturday, April 5. Mrs. George Sims of the Pilot Club will be in charge.
"The Pilot Club is doing a wonderful job with this year's campaign," one spokesman for the Easter Seal Campaign said today.
In addition to the Easter Seal sale, others are contributing to the progress of exceptional children in the area. The Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank are sponsoring a child at the Keystone Heights summer camp for apallies. The Sanford Kiwanis Club will also sponsor a child at the camp.
The Sanford Rotary Club is contributing two special type walkers for use at the Forrest Park School for exceptional children.
Speaking in behalf of the exceptional children of the area, and in support of the Easter Seal campaign, will be Mrs. Lucille Appleby who will appear on a Tuesday morning Welcomes Wagon broadcast over WTRN at 9:45.

Woman Charged With Poisoning Own Husband

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UP)—A grand jury Thursday returned a murder indictment against Mrs. Elizabeth McCollum, 30, in connection with the arsenic poisoning of her husband, a prominent Alabama Democratic leader.
Mrs. McCollum, a slender brunette, was held without bond here today, charged with murder in the first degree. Her husband, James McCollum, 30, died in a hospital here Feb. 18.
Circuit Solicitor Olin Zeanah said that before he died McCollum asked his son, James Earl McCollum, to request an autopsy because "he felt he was being poisoned." The warrant against Mrs. McCollum was sworn out by the son.
Mrs. McCollum had served as secretary in her husband's law office for 12 years. She is the mother of two children and had been married twice previously.
The woman was arrested Wednesday following a two week investigation. She denied poisoning her husband but refused to take a lie detector test.

Florida Delegation To Outline Waterway System Proposals Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Florida's congressional delegation was scheduled to meet with members of the state Waterways Committee today to outline the committee's proposals for an "integrated" waterways system.
Committee Chairman John Kridler of Sanford said about 200 members of the committee came here for the conference, scheduled at noon in the Senate dining room.
Kridler said the group, set up a year ago with the endorsement of Gov. LeRoy Collins, would "continue" its proposals for an "integrated" waterway system. But he declined to elaborate until the meeting.
C. Farris Bryant of Ocala, one of the delegates, said the state had a good chance of getting approval of the proposed Florida cross-state barge canal.

Treasury Warns Public Against Chain Letters

The U. S. Treasury is cautioning the public against the current rash of Savings Bonds "chain letter" schemes.
"U. S. Savings Bonds themselves are an absolutely safe investment, free from elements of risk because the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our Government," H. L. Markham, State Savings Bonds Director, said today. "However, these schemes for acquiring Savings Bonds for nothing are a risky gamble."
He said that "the Post Office Department's experience with endless chain schemes over a period of many years is that most participants lose their entire investment. This outcome is inevitable because the supply of interested persons is soon exhausted. The greater the amount to be invested, the sooner the saturation point is reached."
"Some organizers of the new 'chain letter' plans imply that the Government and banks approve of the idea in order to increase Bond sales," Markham continued. "This is not true. The Treasury, Department, through the Federal Reserve Bank, has instructed banks and other issuing agencies to reject applications for the purchase of Savings Bonds where the applicant states, or where the issuing agent has reason to believe, that Bonds will be used in the chain letter scheme."
He reported the Treasury's stand was taken more than two years ago when the chain-letter device involving Savings Bonds was first brought to its attention. The scheme, then as now, was felt to be contrary to the Government's intended purpose in selling Savings Bonds to the public.
"Savings Bonds are issued primarily for the purpose of enabling individuals and families to save safely and regularly for important long-range goals," Mr. Markham said. "The Treasury wants to sell as many Bonds to as many Americans as possible—but always within the framework of law, and not as a vehicle for this or any other 'get-rich-quick' scheme."

Committee Okays Money For Civil Rights Commission

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Appropriations Committee, on a second go-round, today approved in full the administration's request for $750,000 to finance the new Civil Rights Commission in the fiscal year starting July 1.
The action paved the way for a House vote on a $5-million-dollar appropriation bill to run the White House, the President's office and some other executive agencies in fiscal 1959.
The House last month delayed action on the money bill after the committee failed to include any funds for the Civil Rights Commission. The committee at that time recommended deferring action because the new agency was not organized and had not testified in behalf of the $750,000 request.
Today's approval followed a hearing last Tuesday at which Dr. John A. Hannah, commission chairman, and Gordon Tiffany, nominee for its staff director, submitted testimony supporting the request.
The addition of commission funds brought the appropriation bill's total up to $15,538,670.
The committee turned down an administration request for $200,000 to run the commission until July 1. The commission has been allotted $200,000 from the President's emergency fund for this fiscal year, but so far has spent or obligated only $28,004.

Women's Pro Golf Tourney To Be Here

Another golf tournament of national importance has been clubbed for the Mayfair Country Club next season.
Frank McBane Jr., General Manager of the Mayfair Inn said today that a contract has been signed for the Women's Professional Golf Association tournament to be played in Sanford Jan. 16-18, 1959.
The three-day tournament will be preceded by a golf clinic on Jan. 15. McBane said this morning as he made the announcement. Suggestion for the tournament first came from Patty Berg, nationally famous woman golfer, who played an exhibition earlier this year. "Miss Berg liked the Mayfair Country Club (golf course) so well that she suggested that the Women's PGA be played here," said McBane.
McBane revealed that the mid-winter tournament would draw as many people to Sanford as the Men's PGA held in early December of each year.
"We're mighty happy that we have the tournament scheduled for next season," McBane said. He explained that so many have expressed their genuine pleasure over our golf course here and the Women's Professional Golf Association's mid-January tournament is just a result of these reactions.
Top stars in the field of women's golf are expected in Sanford next January to participate in the tournament. It will follow the annual Sea-Island tournament, McBane said.

Lake Mary Fire Destroys Railroad Section House

A fire at Lake Mary last night destroyed a railroad section house that was being demolished.
The empty house was at least 100 feet from other structures and fire did not threaten to spread to dwellings nearby.
The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm but the frame structure was fully involved by the time of its arrival. Fire Department Chief Harvey Pugh and his volunteers stood by to protect other property should flames attempt to spread to other dwellings.
Fire raged for about 25 minutes, one resident of Lake Mary said, and it was "the hottest fire I've been near."
There was no estimate of fire damage.

Trash Collections Heavy In Area

Trash collections in the City of Sanford have been heavily overtaxed, City Manager Warren E. Knowles told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners in a report on the operation of the Refuse Division.
"They have been unable to meet and maintain their schedules throughout the residential areas of the city," he said.
During the past three weeks, said the City Manager, the two regular trucks of the division, have been helped by extra trucks and crews from the Street Division. However, he said, this still did not pick up the refuse as fast as it was being put out.
Last Saturday noon the Refuse Division and the entire Street Division went into overtime and worked throughout the weekend.
Knowles said that during the 11 hours overtime the six trucks with men picked up and hauled to the sanitary landfill 60 truckloads of refuse.
The trucks and crews have been worked overtime this week from 4 to 6 p. m. and all this weekend if necessary.
Overtime for the two departments has been approved by the Board of Commissioners.
The City Manager reports that, even with the extra trucks and crews working overtime, hundreds of telephone calls regarding refuse pickups have been received at the City Hall. "We are making every endeavor to keep the refuse pickup as quickly as possible," the City Manager said.
The heavy trash collections have been caused by the cleaning of yards and areas of dead clumps, moss, and clippings. Homeowners are clearing their premises of shrubs and plants that were killed by the freeze and clearing away moss and limbs blown and scattered over the entire area by heavy winds.
"Most municipalities in the state do not give three garbage and trash pickups per week in residential areas," said the City Manager. However, he explained, Sanford has been able to do so on schedule during normal times and people have become used to it.
"We are proud of the fact," said Knowles, "that we can give more service at the same or less cost than other communities and we wish to hold to these schedules."
He explained "we are presently, under normal conditions, maintaining these schedules with less personnel than was employed in 1950, although the population has increased by more than 25 per cent.
"Future growth will make another truck and crew a necessity, while any annexation will make it a certainty," he said.

U.S. May Send Rocket To Moon Within 9 Months

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States may send at least one rocket to or close to the moon within the next seven to nine months, high-ranking defense sources said today.
Whether Russia will get there first is unknown here. The Russians had been expected to send a rocket to the moon soon but Moscow's Pravda newspaper indicated Thursday a Red launching may be held off some time.
It was learned several second-stage rockets of the Navy's Vanguard satellite-launcher already have been ordered for use with the Air Force Thor as a "lunar probe" rocket. The Thor is the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missile and will be "married" with the second-stage Vanguard rocket for moon exploration shots.
The Army is studying the possibility of using a single powerful rocket as a second stage for its Jupiter-C launcher to carry out its part of the moon program announced by the White House and Defense Department Thursday.
The present Jupiter-C has four stages. The top three are clusters of solid fuel rockets. Some Army experts believe a two-stage Jupiter-C would be better for moon shots than the multi-stage vehicle used to launch Army "Explorer" satellites.
To carry out the program for exploring the "vicinity of the moon" the Defense Department may soon seek a special appropriation.
President Eisenhower gave the Defense Department the go-ahead Thursday for moon exploration projects.

In line with its policy of extending knowledge of the early days of Sanford and vicinity, the General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum has arranged a display of pictures dating from 1880, at the library at 520 East First St. next Tuesday morning from 9 to 12.
W. R. Vincent has agreed to bring his collection and explain the pictures and objects.
Other collectors, citizens and visitors are cordially welcome, a spokesman said today. There is no charge for the exhibit.

Heavy Rains Start Big Dirt Slide

A section of the Pacific Coast highway near Los Angeles lay under 30 feet of mud and rocks today in the wake of a massive dirt slide triggered by heavy rains.
The rain storm in southern California Thursday dumped about half an inch of water in the Los Angeles area, boosting total rain there for the season to 10 inches above the total for a like period last year.
The rain loosened tons of dirt from the Pacific Palisades and sent it cascading down the cliffs creased by more than 25 per cent. and acres across the four-lane highway.
No one was killed in the slide but one motorist, Forrest Bealface, 43, who was injured when the sea of mud hit his car, said, "It just picked us up and floated us along its crest."
Authorities said the highway probably would be closed for several days.
Rain eased off in the Northeast today, with only light amounts reported along the coast. However, considerable cloudiness persisted from the southern Great Lakes to the Ohio Valley and east to the Atlantic.
Snow flurries occurred at higher elevations in the plateau region and light snow or rain hit scattered areas of eastern Wyoming and Colorado and parts of South Dakota and Nebraska.

I sat on the sands, watching the palm trees, the city silhouetted against the sky. And as I did, suddenly the city wasn't there any more. I saw only the palms. It was like being transported to another time and place. I felt as if I were in old Jerusalem. It was the day when He was entering the city, and His devoted followers had strewn palm leaves in His path. In church, that morning, our minister had told us the story of Palm Sunday. Now I realized how much this message meant to me. Watching the palms, I realized that all of us need help in understanding life's basic truths. We find that help in the Church. Then we can dwell upon what we have learned until it has full meaning for us. . . as Palm Sunday, now, has for me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH . . .

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We Honor Their Daily Devotion To Daily Service To Humanity

One of the most significant days of the year is Doctor's Day celebrated each year on March 30.

Significant because it is a "special day" set aside to honor doctors, past and present — who, because of their daily devotion to daily service to humanity, minister to the health and welfare of their community.

Very few professions demand such devotion. Doctors give up their pleasures, recreation, associations and even in many cases personal attention to health, in order to take care of those who suffer from the ill and infirmities which occur at any time of the day or night.

Too many of us fail to realize the sacrifice doctors make — sacrifice that cannot be measured in dollars and cents. A doctor's health, in many instances is sacrificed so that time can be spent on administering to the sick and ailing.

Ironically, the date March 30 was not chosen at random to honor the doctors of our community. March 30 is the commemoration of the anniversary of the use of ether as an anesthetic agent on a human being during a surgical operation by Dr. Crawford W. Long of Jefferson, Ga. in March of 1842.

Recognition of the medical profession on a special "Doctor's Day" originated in Georgia some 30 odd years ago when that state honored her famous son, Dr. Long, and the idea has gradually spread over the country, until today, Doctor's Day is observed by almost every state in the nation.

On this day we should pause long enough to consider how completely and unselfishly the medical profession is dedicated to our health and welfare. It is time for us to be reminded to say "thank you", each in his own way, to the guardians of our health.

The Medical Auxiliary in Sanford, in observance of Doctor's Day, honor their husbands at a dinner. In addition, they will place a red carnation, the official flower for Doctor's Day, in the lapel of their husbands.

In honor of the special occasion, the Medical Auxiliary will place a red carnation on the tray of every patient at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Each one of us should pause and remember to pay tribute to the doctors who have served in the past — and to the doctors of today offer our dutiful thanks for the service they are rendering to humanity.

Hard Work, But It Can Be Done

Almost every man, at one time or another, comes to the grim conclusion that he is "out of shape." Though shape in the sense of configuration does enter into this, what a man really means when he says he is "out of shape" is that his muscles don't function the way they used to. Or the way, at any rate, that he likes to think they used to function.

When a man reaches this stage, he pictures himself in youth as a veritable Adonis for like speed and strength. He recalls that he could hike all day, and run 100 yards in about 10 seconds, and play three sets of tennis before breakfast. It seems to him that in that Golden era he was prime Olympic material.

Now, alas, he has the unmistakable beginning of a bay window. He is short of wind, and his heart pumps alarmingly if he so far forgets himself as to run up a flight of stairs. Should he chop down a tree, or play a snappy game of catch with his son, his aching muscles will remind him of the escapades for days to come.

There are two ways of dealing with such a situation. One is to bow, with what grace one can muster, to the advance of age and infirmity. The other is to settle down to the task of getting back into shape. A man of middle years can't expect to be as swift and tireless as he was at 20, let alone as he pictures himself at 10. But he can trim down the frontal bulge; he can improve his wind, and get back some of the old muscle tone.

It's hard work, but it can be done. Anyone care for a few hands of bridge?

Income Tax Tips

The Florida Accountants Association — an affiliate of National Society of Public Accountants

If you are 65 years of age or over, or if you are under 65 years of age but retired under a public retirement system, such as fireman, policeman, teachers, federal employees, etc., then your retirement income is subject to a tax credit which can be as much as $200.00 ($400 on a joint return).

A public retirement system is a pension, annuity, retirement or similar fund or system established by the United States, a State, a Territory, a possession of the United States, any political subdivision of any of the foregoing or the District of Columbia. In order to qualify for the credit you or your deceased spouse must have earned an income, not counting pensions or annuities, of at least $800.00 in any 10 previous years.

The credit is applicable only to the first $1,000 of retirement income included in gross income.

BACKWARD LOOK

Inside Washington

By HENRY HAGEDY
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON — Congressional experts are finding difficulty in working out any proposed formula to correct problems that have been spotlighted by the House investigation of the federal regulatory agencies such as the Federal Communications Commission.

Even though the House inquiry has brought to light "pressure politics" operating on FCC members and a federal grand jury is investigating possible criminal projects, "it is doubtful among experts that legislation can solve the problems presented."

The main problem centers on the fact that most of the agencies have been created by complicated legislation and congressmen are fearful that any general overhaul might create confusion and consternation among vital segments of the economy which are controlled by the boards.

One critic, Senator Paul Douglas (D, Illinois), blames most of the current troubles on the fact the selection of commissioners has deteriorated and men of minor caliber are being picked. He sees little that can be done to correct this trend by way of legislation.

Most likely upshot at the moment is that there will be some minor legislative remedies adopted but in the future Congress will keep a much more careful watch on the agencies and give tougher scrutiny to appointees to such posts.

OTHER SIDE OF THE FENCE
Attorney General William P. Rogers had many a tussle with the executive branch of the government over secrecy of information when he was chief counsel of the Senate investigations subcommittee. However, now that he is a top member of the executive branch, Rogers finds himself on the other side of the fence, defending the right of the White House to withhold certain information from Congress.

Rogers recently read a 38-page statement to a Senate subcommittee studying the question, in which he went back to the days of the first President to bolster his arguments.

The attorney general pointed out that the first congressional investigation of the executive branch took place in George Washington's administration and involved a military expedition.

Rogers noted that when Washington was called on by the investigators to furnish secret papers, he summoned his Cabinet which held that the executive could refuse to disclose papers to congressional probes. Rogers testified that this precedent has held up

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES H. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Determined demands for a ban on nuclear weapons are plaguing the British and West German governments.

Both Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer are rejecting the demands successfully.

But in both countries — the two most important European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — the campaigns provide valuable propaganda for Soviet Russia if its attempt to cripple the allied defense system.

Intellectuals, scientists, labor unions and students are waging the campaign in West Germany the Socialist Party is giving it support.

The campaign is aimed especially against the establishment of United States nuclear weapons bases on British territory and against West German use of American tactical atomic weapons.

Oppose H-Bombs
In Great Britain, those supporting the campaign have made opposition to the carrying of H-bombs on American planes flying over the country a big feature of their campaign.

The accidental dropping of an atomic bomb by a B-29 jet bomber on a farm near Florence, S. C. on March 15 provided material for this part of the drive.

Assurances by the government that the accidental explosion of an A-bomb or H-bomb is impossible have failed to reassure those who want a ban on the carrying of such weapons.

Both Macmillan and Adenauer have refused to make any concession to the nuclear weapons opponents.

Macmillan firmly holds that nuclear weapons are essential to British and German defense as well as to allied defense as a whole.

In Britain, the campaign has been conducted over a period of several weeks. It is showing signs of having passed its peak.

In West Germany, the campaign is now reaching its climax.

German Debate Ends
The West German Bundestag, the controlling house of parliament, ended a four-day debate on the nuclear weapons issue Tuesday.

Disputes from Bonn, the West German capital, describe the debate as the angriest since the country started to rearm six years ago.

Socialists, the chief opposition, and members of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party shouted insults at each other.

The Socialists centered their attacks on Adenauer's insistence that West Germany must accept United States tactical atomic weapons.

Scientists, church leaders and labor unions have attacked the government position.

Some labor union leaders talk of a general strike. Several thousand workers of the big Henschel Loeb motive works at Kassel struck Tuesday — without authorization from union leaders — in support of a ban against the weapons.

There seems to be no indication in either Britain or Germany that Communists have fomented the anti-weapon campaign.

But it is helping Russia.

Tear Gas Gun Goes Off Accidentally In Patrol Car

PANAMA CITY (UP) — Tears were pouring from the eyes of Deputies Lowell Spooner and Leonard Finch when they walked into headquarters.

It had taken them almost an hour to travel just seven miles in their patrol car, the officers said. And parading in that particular car was over for the day so far as that — or anybody else — was concerned.

Spooner and Finch had been cruising just outside town when Spooner reached into the glove compartment. In the process, he accidentally fired a small tear gas gun.

Finch swerved the car to the roadside and both deputies dived into the ditch.

"Call for another car," yelled Finch to Spooner.

"Call yourself," yelled Spooner to Finch. "I'm crying so I can't even see the car."

Finally they dried their tears and started back to headquarters. But fumes were still so heavy they had to stop repeatedly to air out the car.

Several hours later another deputy stopped unwittingly into the vehicle to start his shift. When he too came back howling, Sheriff M. J. Daffin ordered the car out of service until further notice.

CAN CHIROPRACTIC CURE ME?

This question is asked constantly by new patients in consulting their chiropractor. It is exceedingly difficult to arrive at a justifiable answer to the above question. However, a few general statements may satisfactorily answer this question. The following factors generally indicate the effectiveness of Chiropractic in relationship to the condition of the patient.

1. Age of the patient. As a general rule it can be said that the younger the patient, the greater the opportunity for recovery.
2. Duration and severity of the disease. The longer a disease has been present and the more severe it has been, the longer it will take to obtain results.
3. The vitality of the patient. If a person is constitutionally weak, naturally, it subtracts from a favorable outcome.
4. Ability of the Chiropractor to correctly analyze the case, determine the vertebral misalignment, and his ability to deliver a proper adjustment. If the Chiropractor is proficient the prognosis is favorable.
5. Lastly and most important of all is the cooperation of the patient. Research data has proven time and time again the most potent point in regaining health through Chiropractic is the patient's cooperation with his Chiropractor.

Your family Chiropractor will be happy to evaluate your state of health and advise you accordingly, presented as a public education service by The Sanford Chiropractic Association

Mrs. W. K. McRoberts Elected President Of Golf Association

By Virginia Shelden

The monthly luncheon of the Sanford Women's Golf Association was held March 25th at the Mayfair Country Club. President Creia Hightbottom presided. The tables were "deliciously" decorated with clusters of candy Easter eggs and arrangements of azaleas and fern. On the main table was a coconut spath filled with azalea, fern and the almost extinct blossoms of the lovely hibiscus. Barbara Morrison introduced her charming mother, Mrs. George Johnson, from Scituate, Massachusetts.

After a "marvelous" buffet luncheon served by Helen Andrews, the business meeting took place. The Husband and Wife Tournament originally scheduled for May 11th is being changed to May 18th in order not to conflict with a Mens Association tournament. Mrs. Fug Fug is made the Intercity Representative.

The following officer nominees for the 1958-59 season were presented and unanimously approved by the association: President, Mr. Fanchon McRoberts; Vice President, Miss Ellen Betts; Treasurer, Mrs. Barbara Morrison; Recording Sec., Mrs. Jane McKibbin; Corresponding Sec., Mrs. Gene Chandler.

The new officers will take office at the annual banquet being held on May 21th.

Miss Ellen Betts was selected as the delegate to the Florida State Women's Golf Association business meeting taking place April 9th, in the Mayfair Hotel Ballroom.

Miss Cile Heard mentioned that playing registration closed March 25th but that social registrations would be accepted until April 2nd.

The highlight of the luncheon was the display of the trophies to be presented to the Club Champion, Runner-up and the Flight winners. They were simply beautiful and well chosen in their simplicity and usefulness. Mrs. Gene Fug Woodruff, Trophy Chairman, and Mrs. Jane McKibbin showed

Mrs. McGraw Will See Giants Play April 15 In San Francisco

By Virginia Conn

How does one paint a word portrait of a woman? Would you emphasize her friendliness, her enthusiasm or her intelligence? It is hard to make a choice when the subject is Mrs. John McGraw, widow of the famous manager who guided the New York Giants for thirty-two years.

Mrs. McGraw is an annual guest at the Mayfair Inn here in Sanford. The rest of the year she lives in her New York apartment, close to the big league baseball parks.

Now that the Giants have gone to San Francisco, she must limit her summer routine to the New York Yankees. The Giants will not open a season without her, however. On the ninth of April, Mrs. McGraw will leave New York for San Francisco for the opening game.

Somehow I can see why the team might not want to start a season without this delightful lady. They should gain confidence when they see her in her box on the fifteenth of April.

After years of association with baseball, Mrs. McGraw is a respected authority. She has received two bids to the "$4,000 Challenge".

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

One of the nicest people in banking is George Touhy of the First Federal. George is usually involved with doing nice things for other people. Have here on my hook (with a request not to throw it in Friday 13), a run down on the Palm Sunday all-music program at the First Presbyterian Church.

This special service, which will be contained within one hour, starts at 7:00 p. m. The Chancel Choir will once more sing "The Garden and The Cross", a cantata by Alec Rowley. Solists will be Elizabeth Wilkie, Eloise Pfeiffer, Bob Crumley, and Harry Weir.

Louise Touhy will accompany the cantata at the organ, and will play three preludes. Her responsibility also lies with the direction of the choir.

The cantata was so popular last year that it is being repeated. The Palm Sunday music service truly imports the feeling of the Easter season. Flickering candlelight will tend to the atmosphere. Those attending are urged to come a little early to secure a good seat. The Presbyterians are well known for their musical services—and for their friendly spirit.

Years ago George Dunn, son of Milge, will arrive from school for spring vacation on Saturday. Milge assured me she had bought everything boys like to eat but hamburger. George recently won a hamburger contest when he ate fifteen at one time. Prize was payment for hamburgers and two dollars, which he said he spent.

Ginny Shelden who is fast becoming an able correspondent, told me of an incident on the golf course Wednesday which bears repeating. I believe.

Ginny was playing golf with Ruth Herron. Ruth was found picking wood violets when one of her next drive went to the green, leaves went into the rough. Her long putt. With violets still in one hand, Ruth took her putter in the other and casually knocked the ball into the cup. Real nature lover, that Ruth.

Reminds me a little of Betty Guy. Betty was very distracting on the golf course, because she was always collecting lichen and moss and odd grasses. Good argument for more Garden Club members to take up the sport.

At least, if you have had a bad day, you may be able to tell your husband that you found a fascinating piece of water lily or a few lady slippers.

Paint up, fix-up etc. has already hit Loch Arbor, where the Lingies are putting a fresh new coat of white paint on their house. Anita Hadden was busy last week-end painting the trim on her house. The Haddens will go to New Mexico in June.

Have been mulling over a situation for several days, and have come to the conclusion that my views will have to be given to you in small doses. Don't want to give you indigestion. Just make an impression.

Demand For White Eggs Forces Price Up At Easter

Choose the eggs you buy for Easter according to the way you use them, the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests. For the egg-servers—poached, fried, or cooked in the shell—Eastern morning breakfast—grade AA or A says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. But appearance—the shell color or perhaps the size—is what counts in selecting eggs for the family in color or decorative lower grades will do as well—and save you money.

Because white shells dye in clear bright colors, white-shelled eggs generally are in heavy demand the week before Easter. Sometimes this pushes the price up. On the other hand, some markets offer "specials" in eggs for coloring. Brown or speckled shells don't take color in quite the same way as white shells, but you can get unusual color effects with them, and they often are a good buy for special decorations—with decal, transfers of a fine paint brush, for example.

By the way, if your market happens to have quality brown eggs during Easter week, it pays to ignore the price. They may be especially good buys for use at meals at that season.

Mothers frequently ask whether children should eat dyed, cooked eggs. A statement that color is harmless may be found on the package containing Easter egg dyes. Though the dyed eggs are hard cooked, it's best to eat them within a day or so.

As for the egg supplies this April, prospects are that production will be 7 to 8 per cent smaller than a year ago. There are fewer laying hens, and the rate of lay is nearly the same. Thus, prices can be expected to be somewhat above last year. But retail prices often vary between the first of the week and the specials on Thursday Friday, or for holidays.

Lake Mary

By ETTIE JANE KROGH
LAKE MARY—Recently seven of our best friends and family gathered at a birthday party given at his home on Lake Mary Blvd. by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Burger Wester.

The guests played games and Lee Kirkner won the prize for playing the tall on the donkey.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Wester assisted by David's sisters Joy and Sonia served cup cakes, candy and ice cream cones to the little guests.

Enjoying David's party were Gary Spidell, Cris Keogh, Roy Bell Chester, Lee Kirkner, Douglas Dougherty, Phillip Norwood, Buttons McMinnum, Cathy Dougherty, Susie Mills, David Benson, Don McCarthy and Rodney Goble.

Mrs. Lillian Burke told me of her recent trip to Georgia. I wish I could put into words how thrilled she was about the week's vacation.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Burke, Gayle Burke, and Mrs. Burke's mother Mrs. Hulsh Bulard and her sister Mrs. Fowler from Winter Park left for a weekend in Douglas and Pearson. All the Bulard sisters were present for a reunion except one. Mrs. Burke remained at her sister Mary's home for a week. She said it was a wonderful time she had seeing old friends and school mates.

On Thursday Mrs. Burke went to Jacksonville and her sister-in-law Mrs. A. Toro drove Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Bulard home to Lake Mary on Sunday. Mrs. Toro will remain with the Burkes for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who have returned to the City College, left Monday for their home in Berlin.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gleason and Mrs. Ida Keogh accompanied the Richard Keogh family to Lakeland for the day. We spent a pleasant day picnicking and seeing old friends.

Mrs. Birdie Hood isn't feeling well these days and I'm sure she would appreciate a card from her many friends.

A group gathered after morning worship services at the Community Presbyterian Church last week for a covered dish dinner. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirkner and children Donna, Nancy and Leo. The Rev. Alexander Linn served as MC. The PWO presented Mrs. Kirkner with a Revised Version of the Bible. Within the next few weeks the family will leave for Africa where Kirkner will be stationed.

Last Wednesday the PWO was host at a kitchen shower to help furnish the additional building kitchen. Both the men and the women of the church came for an evening of fellowship.

Making arrangements for the shower were Mrs. Joe Smathers, Mrs. Ed Zimmerman, Mrs. Ruby Linden, Mrs. Ruth Goble, Mrs. P. D. Anderson and Mrs. H. M. Cochran.

Several P-TA members met at the school Wednesday morning to sort and start on the job of putting the library in shape. This will be a long job but with the help and support of the entire P-TA body the job will be made easier. The library chairman for the 1957-58 year is Mrs. R. Lanford.

Kathy Willard was the Tuesday night guest of her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thorne at their new trailer home on Crystal Lake Ave.

Alan Ladd as Lieutenant Alec Austin, the most exciting role of his career, arrives Sunday at the Ritz Theatre in Warner Bros' "The Deep Six."

trapped American fliers on a Japanese-held island.

The conflict between the character's moral obligation and his duty and honor to country and ship make for some of the screen's most memorable moments. "The Deep Six" was adapted by John Twist, Martin Rackin and Harry Brown from a novel by Martin Dinnor.

Ladd gathered some exceptionally talented performers around his Jaguar production for Warner Bros., namely British stage star Dianne Foster as his most beautiful fiancée, William Bendix, Keenan Wynn, James Whitmore and Eftem Zimbalist, Jr., as tough-and-rugged shipmates.

Zimbalist, the son of the famed violinist, has become a screen favorite within the last year. The handsome actor scored heavily in roles in "Bomber B-24" and "Band of Angels."

Produced by Martin Rackin and directed by R. Maltz, "The Deep Six" was filmed in WarnerColor. It is a Warner Bros. presentation.

Men, Too, Are Victims Of "Change Of Life"

By NORMAN H. BURGHEIM, M.D.

MUCH has been written about the menopause and the difficulties many women experience at this stage of life. But relatively little attention has been given to the male climacteric. Men have a "change of life" period, too, you know. And the physical and psychological readjustment can be just as trying for them as it is for women.

At Different Times
 As with the menopause, the male climacteric occurs at different ages in different individuals. Generally, however, it occurs sometime between the ages of 40 and 65.

This change often marks the decline of the male's natural aggressiveness and the beginning of a more submissive attitude. But the switch is not abrupt and the great physical and mental change may temporarily result in a depressed, querulous and unreasonable individual.

During the climacteric, a man may have great difficulty getting along with people, even his family. He may not be able to work as well, or be able to get things done as he used to.

May Lack Endurance
 He often will lack endurance, and have difficulty with his associates.

Perhaps he may lose his business judgment and possibly much of his ability to remember things.

If he has loss of sexual potency it may worry him, of course. He may even become a hypochondriac, with frequent headaches, chronic nausea, indigestion, constipation, vertigo and countless other ailments.

Most likely some will build up a great degree of anxiety and tension and develop unfounded fears of illness and other dangers.

Danger of Illness
 It is also during this age bracket that many men are often stricken with such illnesses as diabetes, gout, coronary heart disease, chronic nephritis, chronic bronchitis and prostatitis.

It is best that every man, when he reaches the climacteric, consult his family physician. The doctor will be able to help him through his troubles.

This can be a difficult period for men—and for their families. But it's only temporary, remember. And the Golden Years of life still lie ahead.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
 Q: I have had double vision for the last two weeks. What could cause this?
 A: Double vision may be caused by eye diseases or a disease of the nervous system, such as a brain tumor, brain hemorrhage or inflammation.

Jack Paar Show Has Its Faults

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—There's no much doubt that the NBC-TV "Jack Paar Show" has shot most of the juice into a TV season that has seemed squeezed out and sand-dry.

The Paar show has its faults. Musically, it falls below the late evening standard set by the old Steve Allen "Tonight" show with its very hip and swinging singers, Steve Lawrence, Edy Gorme and Andy Williams. It has had its arid stretches in which nothing much has happened at all. It has had its strained moments, particularly when Paar and his sidekick, Dody Goodman, were feeding.

And even worse, it has had—and still has—a terribly embarrassing moment when guests and regulars have fawned over Paar, reassuring him to the point of nausea about his likeability and the worth of his show.

Intimate and Bright
 I wish Paar would stop worrying and quit fishing for verbal posies from his guests. For the record, he's doing fine. When his show starts, it is TV at its most satisfying—intimate, bright and off-the-cuff.

I recall one evening on the show in which Jonathan Winters and Cliff "Charlie Weaver" Arquette exchanged unpleasantries in a session almost unbelievably funny; another in which Genevieve, Paar's French vocalist, pursued a protesting Gypsy Rose Lee with a pair of hair clips; shows in which Hermione Gingold and Hans Conradi exchanged urbane syllables; and a couple of outings in which Britain's Peter Ustinov spun out anecdotes in an American accent.

The Paar show has provided a generous showcase for young comedians like Mort Sahl, Milt Kamen, Shelley Berman, Paul Lynde and Elaine May and Mike Nichols. It also has shown off older comedians—Lou Holtz, Henny Youngman, George Jessel—to advantage.

Strangely enough, Paar, a gifted soft-soled comic, sparks his show best when he plays straight man for his guests. Some of his show's most engaging moments have occurred when Paar just sat back and up a hearings for Winters, Jim Backus, Minnie Pearl and Robert Ericson, former mayor of Dublin.

Preceded Embarrassment
 About the only regular among Paar's stable that I remain unenthusiastic about is Eisa Maxwell, who appears each Tuesday to quash a bout of Duke and Duchess of Something or Other. She strikes me as a kind of elderly, overfed Elvira Preley, gyrating her mental pelvis with calculated exuberance while Paar pretends shock and

'Pal Joey' Opens Sunday At Drive-In

Alta Hayworth, Frank Sinatra and Kim Novak—a glittering array of star power, exceptional even in this day of multi-star motion picture productions—share stellar honors in Columbia's "Pal Joey" opening Sunday at the Movieland Ride-In Theatre. The Technicolor musical brings to the screen the long awaited movie version of the famed Broadway hit, "Pal Joey," with book by John O'Hara, music by Richard Rodgers and lyrics by Lorenz Hart, produced on the stage by George Abbott.

O'Hara's tenderly tough saga of night club entertainer Joey Evans, who has a way with women, reportedly has been brought to the screen with all the exciting color of the original, and the wide-ranging motion picture cameras give it a lushness and richness it never had on the stage.

Miss Hayworth one of the loveliest women on the screen, is seen as the beautiful socialite who responds to the rowdy appeal of "Pal Joey," the role which brought Sinatra back to Columbia, the studio that cast him as Maggio in "From Here to Eternity," for which he won an Academy Award. And, to round out the perfect casting that marks "Pal Joey," there's Kim Novak as the beautiful chorus girl who gets under the egoistical Joey's skin to teach him that he has a heart after all.

Everybody sings—and dances—in "Pal Joey." The magnificent score is paced by such beauties as "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered," "I Didn't Know What Time It Was," "There's a Small Hotel," "The Lady Is a Tramp," "My Funny Valentine" and other notable Rodgers and Hart hits.

Some of the highlights of "Pal Joey" are, of course, Sinatra's compelling singing of the great score, a make-believe strip and a real shower bath by Miss Hayworth and strip dance by Miss Novak. The film is set in San Francisco and there are location shots of the Golden Gate's Nautilus Yacht Basin, the International Settlement Basin, Fisherman's Wharf, Coit Tower, St. Francis Yacht Basin, the Oakland-San Francisco Ferry, Market Street and the Spreckels mansion.

An Esca-George Kidney production, "Pal Joey" was written for the screen by Dorothy Kingsley. George Sidney directed and Fred Kohlmar produced the film.

Communist Poland Still Bears Mark Of Feudal System

BY RUSSELL JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WARSAW — Poland, which has been under Communist rule for more than 13 years, is still trying to get rid of remnants of the feudal system.

More than 17,000 feudal "privileges" dating back to the 13th century Jagiellon kings are still binding, giving certain Poles special rights.

In state forests, mainly in the south and central parts of the country, some peasants have the right to cut building timber, firewood and the tops and branches of trees felled for government purposes. Others have the monopoly on gathering fruits, berries and mushrooms.

Church shares have the exclusive use of forest glens and clearings for cattle grazing.

State officials estimate that each of the 70,000 persons sharing in the "privileges" gets an average of 400 stajty (226) a year from his position.

In addition to the individuals still benefiting from the grants of ancient kings, some church parishes also share in the "privileges." These parishes can—and do—demand from the forestry administration enough wood to keep the church and parish house in good repairs, as well as fuel to warm the buildings.

As in the days when Roman Catholicism was the official religion of Poland, only Catholics are allowed to share in the benefits from the state lands.

Not All Profit

The "privileges" are not all clear profit, however. Some peasants, like the serfs who were their forefathers, must pay for the special rights by cutting trees, supplying horses for hauling timber, and delivering specified quantities of mushrooms, butter, cheese, fruits and berries.

Unlike their ancestors, however, they give them to the local authorities instead of the local baron or church leader.

So far the government has used only persuasion in its drive to eliminate the "privileges," offering the peasants small tracts of woodlands or meadows in return for leaving the state lands alone.

The urgency behind the drive, officials say, is caused by the widespread erosion of state lands too closely cropped by grazing sheep and the shortage of wood for the paper industry.

E. Bayol Is Named National Editorial Assn. Executive

CHICAGO — Edgar E. Bayol of the Coca-Cola Co. has been elected executive vice president and general manager of the National Editorial Assn. It has been announced.

Bayol, a newspaperman for 23 years before joining the Coca-Cola firm 10 years ago as its press counsel, will assume his new position May 1 with headquarters in Chicago.

Prior to his post with Coca-Cola, Bayol was associated with the Washington D. C. Star and the Alexandria Va. Gazette. He had edited the Arlington Va. daily in 1941.

A native of Greensboro, Ala., he is considered one of the nation's outstanding authorities on trademark preservation and is the author of a number of published works in this field.

Peninsular 'Phone Co. May Apply For Rate Increase

TAMPA — Peninsular Telephone Co. which serves seven counties in the Tampa and central Florida areas, has indicated that it may apply for a rate increase some time this year.

Carl Brorein Sr., president of the company, told the annual stockholders meeting that not return on investment has fallen below 7 per cent. The Public Utilities Commission granted the company an increase last year ranging from 10 cents to $1.35 in order to give the company a return of 7 per cent.

Brorein said higher rates would stimulate additional investment. He did not indicate when the petition for a rate increase would be filed.

The stockholders also authorized the company to change its name from Peninsular Telephone Co. to General Telephone Co. of Florida. The firm is now a part of the General Telephone Corp.'s nationwide system.

The change is expected to be made in about two weeks.

$5 Million In Funds To Be Sacrificed

TALLAHASSEE — The Jacksonville Expressway Authority, with State Road Board approval, has agreed to sacrifice five million dollars in federal funds in order to speed up completion of the $2 million dollar bridge and highway system.

To cut government red tape and avoid delays waiting for approval of the Federal Bureau of Roads, the authority and road board agreed that after Feb. 1, all right-of-way for the system will be paid from bond money.

No attempt will be made to get federal aid which under certain conditions will pay up to 50 per cent of the cost of buying right-of-way on such projects.

The law policy does not affect construction money. The authority will take advantage of federal aid for actual building of the system.

Road Board Member Earl Fowler of Gainesville expressed the surprise will lose five million dollars by failing to apply for federal right-of-way money.

But he said the loss is "justified" in order to cut government red tape and hurry completion of the traffic system. He said while the authority waits for federal approval, costs of the right-of-way property goes up.

Gov. LeRoy Collins, asked about the loss of federal funds at his news conference, refused to comment until he finds out more about the system behind it.

But he said his "natural inclination" would be that "we should be concerned seriously that we take the fullest advantage of all federal aid opportunities."

Collins said he wants to get a full explanation from the authority and road board before saying whether the need for speed would justify a loss of millions of dollars in federal money on this specific project.

Governor Invites Other Officials To Crime Institute

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins has invited officials of other states to attend the National Institute on Crime and Delinquency at Miami Beach in May, it was announced today.

The institute, May 12-21, is conducted by the National Probation and Parole Assn., the Southern States Probation and Parole Conference and the Florida Probation and Parole Assn.

Collins asked governors of 47 states and United States territories to bring the meeting to the attention of "interest agencies" in their governments. He also invited juvenile and county judges from Florida to attend.

Among the problems to be discussed at the meeting will be parole, detention home management and the role of citizens' behavior.

New City Being Built In Louisiana

By BEN BAKER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW ORLEANS — A new city for 25,000 persons is springing up from fields of a sugar cane plantation 30 miles up the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

It will be called Godehaus, La., and will house laborers expected to be employed by new industries in this water, oil and gas-rich region which New York investors say will become the "Rhubarb of America."

New Orleans Corney, Inc., has started construction of its million-dollar label printing plant nearby. The DuPont company has 600 acres just outside the city limits of the new community for use as a chemical plant site.

Webb and Knapp of New York is building 53 houses within the triangular-shaped city and has provided sewer lines and facilities for 250 more houses. Within 10 years 4,000 houses are expected to stand in Godehaus.

The New York firm gained a total of 22,000 acres of south Louisiana real estate, 6,000 of them from Godehaus plantation, once a sprawling sugar cane farm. It operates through its subsidiary, Gulf States Land and Industries, which is headed by Leon Godehaus, II, heir to the plantation and son of a New Orleans department store owner.

Committee Okays Proposed New Anti Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee has approved a proposed new anti-filibuster rule that would permit the vote of 40 senators to limit debate. There is no chance that the Senate itself will approve any such drastic curb on debate this year. The committee vote, 8 to 4, to report a resolution setting forth a proposed new rule, which advocates of strong civil rights legislation believe is needed to break filibusters by southern Democrats. Under the proposal to change the Senate's famed "Rule 22," 16 senators could file a petition to limit debate. The motion would be brought to a vote 15 days later. If supported by 40 votes—a majority of all senators regardless of the number of absentees—each senator would be allowed to speak

Baker Says New Airline Routes Good For State

MIAMI (AP)—G. T. Baker, president of National Airlines, says that the CAB's grant of four new airline routes to Florida would be good for Miami and the state economy. Baker, who figured prominently in a congressional investigation of the Federal Communications Commission and the FCC grant of a Channel 19 TV license to National Airlines earlier this month, said: "We are happy to see these airlines come here. They will bring many additional tourist dollars to Florida as well as provide employment for thousands of people. We will in all probability appeal the decision for the route between Florida and Buffalo." All four of the new routes are expected to terminate in Miami. Baker had applied for the Chicago to Miami, St. Louis to Miami and Buffalo to Miami routes. The CAB examiners had recommended National be awarded two of the three routes. Lake Superior is the world's largest freshwater lake. It is 803 feet above sea level. Its waters drain into the Atlantic through Lake Huron, Erie and Ontario, and the St. Lawrence River.

"The Civil Aeronautics Board decision... will be good for Miami and for Florida. The additional air carriers to be certificated into the area will provide direct air service to and from sections of the country not now served. We are happy to see these airlines come here. They will bring many additional tourist dollars to Florida as well as provide employment for thousands of people. We will in all probably appeal the decision for the route between Florida and Buffalo." All four of the new routes are expected to terminate in Miami. Collins Against TV Program From FSU

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. LeRoy Collins said that his opposition to a television station transmitting educational programs to the general public from Florida State University did not apply to an educational TV station at the University of Florida in Gainesville. Collins told his news conference that the situations in Tallahassee and Gainesville are not similar. He said the University of Florida station will reach larger audiences, covering the metropolitan area of Jacksonville. The University of Florida TV station, already approved by the governor and Cabinet, is scheduled to go on the air Sept. 22.

4 New Trunkline Air Routes Formed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has established four new trunkline air routes from Great Lakes cities and St. Louis into Florida. The routes and the airlines that will serve them: Chicago to Florida—To be served by Northwest Airlines, Eastern Airlines and Delta Airlines already fly this route. Detroit to Florida—By extending Delta's Florida-Cincinnati route northward, Eastern now provides Detroit-Florida service. St. Louis to Florida—To be flown by TWA in addition to Eastern's present service. Buffalo, Cleveland and Pittsburgh to Florida—To be flown by Cleveland-Pittsburgh-Florida service now provided by Eastern. There is now no single carrier Buffalo-Florida service. North American birds migrate along four distinct routes in the United States. The Atlantic and Pacific flyways border the ocean. Another follows the Mississippi River valley. The fourth runs from Montana and North Dakota to the southern tip of Texas.

Reciprocal Trade Program Called 'Massive Force'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks told a White House-backed conference the administration's reciprocal trade program is a "massive force" for strengthening employment and lowering Russia's "global economic drive." Weeks said America will sink to "the peril point in economic security and national safety" if "through utter blindness to danger, the reciprocal trade agreements program is defeated or mutilated." He said the jobs of 4,500,000 Americans depend on international trade. The commerce secretary spoke in a keynote address prepared for delivery at a day-long national conference of organizations on international trade policy. The conference was similar to a recent bipartisan rally for the foreign aid program. President Eisenhower will make a major address in behalf of his trade program at the conference dinner tonight. The speech will be carried "live" by all radio networks and by ABC-TV at 9:30 p. m. EST. Between 1,000 and 1,500 persons were expected to attend the "show of strength" conference to hear Eisenhower, former Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and others. The poliostrilla was named for Joel Roberts Pollock, secretary of war under President Van Buren. Historical Show Is Little Known

By PATRICK KILLEN, United Press Staff Correspondent LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—This young nation's second largest city, Lahore, is a historical show place almost unknown outside the Indian sub-continent. The leading city of the Punjab, Lahore boasts some of the finest tombs and mosques in an ancient land where the construction of monuments used to be big business. Most notable is Jehangir's tomb, a park-like estate, said to be the most beautiful Mogul project ever built after the famed Taj Mahal. Another Lahore center is the historic Lahore Fort from which the Moguls ruled this part of the world centuries ago. It offers a Palace of Mirrors (Shish Mahal), marble pavilions and such thought-provoking signs as "Elephant Walk" and "Here Stood the Eunuchs." Situated in the heart of the lush Punjab some 600 miles northeast of Karachi and only a few miles from the Indian border, Lahore today is a refugee-crowded city of almost a million and half persons. Partition of the Indian sub-continent in 1947 sent thousands of Moslems to Pakistan. Lahore's population nearly doubled, and bloody riots rocked the Punjab. Ten years of Moslem rule has brought peace to the city. Lahore, which is about 2,000 years old—no one knows for sure—now represents a curious mixture of old and new. Over the centuries it has been conquered by the Afghans, Moguls, Sikhs and the British. Each new set of rulers left some imprint, with the Moguls and the British, perhaps, leaving behind the most obvious accomplishments. The city is a patchwork of wide avenues and narrow lanes dotted with picturesque mosques and twain shall meet"—is an anachronism here. His former newspaper now prints the comic strip "All About" and Lahore citizens religiously study the happenings in Dappatch. The city is Pakistan's convention city and annually plays host to several gatherings. It is hot in the summer, and is perpetually over-crowded. It is the nation's educational and cultural center and contains several universities and colleges. It is also the capital of West Pakistan and the location of the supreme court. Many of its residents regard Lahore as Pakistan's best community. Many of them refer to burgeoning Karachi as "that little airport town."

Korean War Vet Admits Starting Series Of Fires

MIAMI (UP) — A much-deserved Korean War veteran Wednesday confessed to starting a series of fires, including a $200,000 hotel blaze here in 1953 and a New York Army camp fire in 1952 that took the life of a 19-year-old soldier, police said.

Billy Watkins Moody, 37, was brought to Miami for investigation Monday after serving a six-month jail sentence in Key West for theft. Officers said he confessed to setting a fire to the Roman Hotel and starting a fire that destroyed the Key West First Baptist Church in 1952.

He also admitted burning down a church in Kentucky and starting fires in four military camps in three states.

In 1953, Moody told Detective Warren Holmes, he started the fire at an Army office building in Camp Drum outside Walterton, N. Y., in which Pfc. Jack Winchester, 19, of Monroe, N. C., was killed.

"I still don't know why I set those fires," he said. He was scheduled to go before a psychiatrist today.

Moody, who said he served six months in four U. S. military service, told police he burned down his own home in Meridian, Miss., at the age of nine after starting the blaze, he said he carried his baby half-sister to safety.

Trustees Seeking State Control Over Coastal Structures

TALLAHASSEE (UP) — The trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund have called for state control over "coastal structures" designed to prevent beach erosion or damage.

Trustees Director Van Ferguson said legislation has been filed to construction of several groins which were placed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Groins are long structures built out into the ocean which trap and hold sand deposited in the water. However, the groins often cause erosion in other beach areas while piling it in one place.

The trustees asked Ferguson to recommend regulations governing the construction of groins, seawalls and other coastal structures on state owned land.

Ferguson said a preliminary study showed that applicants to build such structures should be required to furnish evidence of upland ownership, maps and construction data and a report on the proposed groin by the Coastal Engineering Laboratory at Gainesville.

He said the regulations should also provide for removal, by the applicant, if the groins are ineffective, had served his purpose or was causing erosion or damage.

Ferguson added the trustees might need some kind of legislation to implement the control program because injunction and other legal processes might have to be used to make it effective.

He said the trustees staff would be guided in the issuance of permits by recommendations of the Coastal Engineering Laboratory.

Gov. LeRoy Collins asked Ferguson to make sure there were beach-protection clauses in all contracts permitting heavy minerals mining on state beaches.

He said he understood there had been some fear in Duval and Volusia counties that beach mining would cause erosion.

Ferguson said area contracts contained such clauses to protect public interest.

Recently property owners in Volusia County asked the trustees not to issue any further permits and rescinded those already granted. And in Duval County, land owners asked for assurance that mining near Jacksonville.

'Drummer' Still Active At 88

HURON, S. D. — An 88-year-old search for other members of his family came to a happy ending for Kent Walker when two strangers rang his front doorbell and one of them said, "My Name is Cole."

The two strangers were Walker's older brothers, Ralph and Jim Cole of Gary, S. D., whom he hadn't seen since their parents died when he was three years old.

Walker, another brother and two sisters were put in a children's orphanage wouldn't disclose his whereabouts. He was the last of the children to be located.

Ironically, Walker met one of his brothers one year ago unaware. He was cutting ice on the James River when Ralph, a construction worker, passed through Huron on his way to Gary. Passing the men working on the river ice, Cole stopped his car and watched. Among the workers was his brother but he never knew it.

Low-Priced U. S. Airties Passed By For Foreign Makes

DETROIT — American auto builders, stumped on all sides for not building small, economy cars, have been heavily shouting they are building more cars almost as cheap as foreign imports, but nobody will buy them. And they're right.

But the men mostly responsible for the low prices are the nation's auto dealers. According to the National Auto Dealers Association, the dealers made a point on their sales of 0.7 per cent last year. In the present cut-throat market, they're selling as though this is an excess profit.

A survey here reveals that if you want a "standard-size" two-door, six-cylinder car with a heater and turn signals, all taxes and license paid, you can buy one for as low as $1,792.

Dealers are stalling from $180 to $200 off factory-recommended list prices on their cheapest cars. This is going on all over the country.

Taking the car described above, you can buy a Studebaker Scotsman down to $1,700, a Chevrolet Delray down to $1,700, a Ford Custom and a Plymouth Plaza down to $1,695.

On the high side, one dealer wanted $1,170 for a Scotsman, while Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth dealers asked all the way up to $1,800. All prices were straight sale, no trade-in.

Some of the dealers who asked more for the low-price dealers of using the "low-ball" or the come-on to get the customer interested. But the low-price dealers insisted they would make the deals offered. It was freely admitted trade-in allowance would be considerably less than the "high-ball" estimates given on trade-ins on high-priced new cars.

How do these prices compare with prices for smaller foreign cars? A new Volkswagen delivers for

State Beneficiary Of Forest Fire Prevention Drive

Florida and the other 49 states got the use of a body made up of large advertising agencies and is organized to prevent professional campaigns for state of high social importance which by their scope or nature would not be undertaken by commercial or other interests. Ad Council projects have included programs for blood donations, war bond purchases, civil defense, and democracy.

Ad Council acceptance of a project makes available to the state the best creative talent of designated advertising agencies at no cost. Photo, Cass, and Building of Los Angeles has produced the national forest fire prevention campaign.

The annual CFFP is somewhat a miracle of coordination and generosity. The fact that it exists at all is that the Advertising Council has taken on forest fire prevention as one of its public service projects.

The annual CFFP is somewhat a miracle of coordination and generosity. The fact that it exists at all is that the Advertising Council has taken on forest fire prevention as one of its public service projects.

When the CFFP material is ready, it is sent to the individual states for distribution, and it is federal and state money which pays for the bills for services not donated by the Advertising Council.

Florida, like most of the other states, blends its CFFP material into a total forest fire prevention program which goes on all the time and includes such activities as personal contact, speeches, newspaper and feature stories, school programs, work with civic groups, women's organizations, and youth groups, and production of publications.

COMFORTS OF HOME ALONG THE TRUCK LANE

These are hot prices in this area and few if any dealers in foreign cars have to sell at discount. Their problem is meeting the demand.

The Economy Angle
To a man, the dealers in American cars said the big advantage of the foreign cars is operating economy. Gas mileage for the four-cylinder cars listed above range from 25 to 35. The Studebaker Scotsman claims 33 miles for its six-cylinder engine, but Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth sixes can't get into this range.

The American low-priced cars offer more room, better rides than most foreign makes, better engine performance than many and more convenient service, according to points listed by salesmen.

But Americans aren't buying the lowest priced domestic cars. General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice told a Senate committee that Chevrolet is selling only about 10 per cent Delrays, and a big part of those few buyers, while selling 10 per cent of the Impalas, costing $2,000-plus.

Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth dealers all said their lowest-priced series is running behind more expensive series. Studebaker dealers are generally selling more Hawk sports cars than Scotsman cars.

"When people buy an American car they want something they can brag about when they buy a foreign car they settle for economy," one salesman said.

JACKSON, Miss. (UP) — Police conceded today that when they asked Minnie Grisham a serious question they received a frank answer. Picked up because his car was weaving recklessly through downtown traffic, and asked what he'd been drinking, Grisham replied: "Whiskey, wine and beer."

CHICAGO (UP) — Alfred E. Valentin, 38, joined a cluster of people at a liquor store that had just been robbed because, he said later, he was eager to "watch the excitement." The excitement grew greater when he expanded when the store owner identified him to police as the holdup man.

Khrushchev May Be Aiming At Direct Conference With President

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Nikita S. Khrushchev, in taking over the prime ministry of Russia, may be aiming at a direct conference with President Eisenhower.

over the formal governmental leadership himself. It had been predicted that Nikolai A. Bulganin would be ousted as Premier at the current meeting of the Soviet parliament. It also had been predicted, however, that Bulganin's successor probably would be one of several up and coming younger men in the ruling Communist Party. At Low Point Khrushchev already was the No. 1 man in fact in Soviet leadership because he is the First Secretary of the Party, in control of the political machine which reaches into every hamlet in the Soviet Union.

The month-long negotiations of a United States - British - French - Russian summit conference on world tensions reached a low point in the last exchange of United States-Soviet communications. These were the United States diplomatic memorandum of March 8 and Russia's reply of March 24. In the March 8 note, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles asked:

"What is the purpose for which a 'summit' meeting would be held? Is it the purpose merely to stage a spectacle? Or is it the purpose to take meaningful decisions?"

Causes The Reply
Dulles was talking of Russia's obstinate refusal to conduct preliminary negotiations in which a solid basis of agreement for a summit conference could be established. Russia's reply was uncompromising. It expressed resentment at Dulles' suggestion that the conference might be turned into "a king of theatrical show, a spectacle." The Kremlin laid down a list of summit conference conditions which Dulles summarily rejected. If Russia's terms were accepted, Dulles said, "it would mean that on the way to the summit we would have lost our shirt."

Thus, at the moment, it looks as if there must be a radical change of attitude on one side or the other. Bulganin, in his voluminous series of letters to Eisenhower starting last December had mentioned the possibility of direct United States - Russian negotiations.

Officers Arrest Three Theft Ring Leaders

PART OF THE LOOT taken by a theft ring of three youths and recovered from the home of a young Longwood man. Sheriff Verne Brewster (left) and Sheriff J. L. Hobby check over the merchandise.

Three ring-leaders in a widespread theft ring that has been terrorizing Seminole County for months are in jail today charged with breaking and entering, theft and arson.

Thursday, Sheriff Hobby said, "when the three youths and a stopped in Orange County and picked up for allegedly stealing several boxes of pies and cakes and one set of fender skirts."

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning, "We've known all the time that they have been stealing but nothing could be pinned on them."

Arthur Allen, 17, confessed to local authorities and revealed the operations of the gang, Sheriff Hobby said this morning.

"First break in the case came Thursday," Sheriff Hobby said, "when the three youths and a stopped in Orange County and picked up for allegedly stealing several boxes of pies and cakes and one set of fender skirts."

One of the three got away from Orange County investigators and "we picked him up in Seminole County."

A sports car went out of control Sunday afternoon, shortly after 3 o'clock, and landed in Lake Monroe on its top.

The 1956 Triumph, driven by Herbert S. Hirschberg, 34-year-old employe of John Burton IV architectural firm, went over the Lake Monroe sea wall about one mile north of Sanford.

Hirschberg said that he attempted to pass an automobile but because of an oncoming car pulled back into line of traffic. His light sports car hit the shoulder of the highway and rather than attempting to skid back possibly into the path of an oncoming automobile, he allowed his car to continue out of control.

The driver was uninjured with the exception of a slight laceration on his left leg. He opened the door of his automobile after it hit the water and came out. A passer-by pulled him up onto the seawall. Damage to the car was estimated yesterday at approximately $900.

Russia Imposes Halt To All Nuclear Tests

MOSCOW (UP)—Russia today imposed a halt to its tests of all forms of nuclear weapons.

The ban was proposed before the Supreme Soviet by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The Supreme Soviet had yet to approve the proposal, but such approval could be taken for granted. But if the United States, Britain and other nuclear powers fail to take a similar step, the Soviet Union said, "naturally" would have to reconsider the action in the interest of its security.

"The council of ministers proposes that as a first step the Soviet Union unilaterally stop tests of all forms of nuclear weapons," Gromyko said.

It came on the same day that Premier Khrushchev presented his cabinet list to the Supreme Soviet. This list named former Premier Nikolai Bulganin to the relatively unimportant post of president of the state bank and promoted Khrushchev's protégé F. R. Kozlov to the rank of first deputy premier.

Gromyko said it was the chief aim of Russia "to reach an agreement with other powers on an unconditional ban on all types of atomic and hydrogen weapons, the ending of their production and complete destruction of existing stocks with appropriate control."

Pilot Dives 300 Feet To Avoid Another Plane

NEW YORK (UP)—A National Airlines pilot dived his loaded passenger plane at 300 miles an hour Sunday to avoid a head-on collision with a smaller plane.

The DC-6B airliner was approaching New York on a flight from Florida with 58 persons aboard. Capt. Jack A. Guthrie saw the two-engine plane dead ahead.

He put his four-engine airliner into a steep, 100-foot dive and passed safely beneath the other plane, which was not identified.

A number of passengers were thrown from their seats and flying coats, hats and small luggage. Eleven passengers were treated by an airport doctor for cuts, bruises and shock.
