HUGHES SPANS ATLANTIC IN 16 1/2 HOURS

In just 16 hours and 23 minutes after his take off from Floyd Bennett Field, New York, Howard Hughes, millionaire sportsman, and his four companions glided to a landing at LeBourget Field, Paris. The first non-stop, round the world in 1927, Hughes made the trip in less than half the Lindbergh time. The flight is the first leg of a round the world trip. Here the plane, christened "New York-Paris 1938", is shown taking to the air at twilight.

Funeral Services For Cardozo Are Held In New York

Home Of State Justice Is Scene Of Burial

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., July 11.—(AP)—Political and civil leaders who honored United States Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Cardozo in life as one of the ranking legal scholars of his time honored him in death. Funeral services for the distinguished jurist were held today at the home of his old friend, Justice Irving Lehman of the State Court of Appeals.

Cardozo, 68, who refused three years ago to follow the advice of physicians to ease his labors, died Saturday night at the Lehman home of heart disease aggravated by overwork.

The justice, a bachelor who dedicated his life to the study of law, was a member of the "liberal" bloc on the nation's highest court.

Mahli Dajmouss Cardozo—no relation to the justice—officiated at the services ending with burial in Cypress Hills cemetery on Long Island.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York, brother of Justice Lehman and his wife attended, along with three of Cardozo's colleagues on the Supreme Court bench.

Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court was greeted by more of the death of Justice Cardozo, which resulted in the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, today.

"I am tremendously relieved to learn of Justice Cardozo's death," Hughes said. "It is an irreparable loss to the court and the nation."

Cardozo was 68 years old when he died. He was born in Poland and came to this country in 1882. He was a member of the New York bar and served as a judge on the New York State Court of Appeals for 12 years.

Cardozo was a member of the American Bar Association and the American Law Institute. He was also a member of the New York State Bar Association and the New York State Judicial Conference.

Millionaire Sportsman Doesn't Care What People Think Of Him

By DEWEY FRANCIS
NEW YORK, July 11.—(AP)—If it were not for the fact that Howard Hughes, the millionaire sportsman, has turned transatlantic flight into a game, it would be hard to believe that other people think of him as a "game player" during his 16-hour flight.

Hughes, according to his own account, was going to New York to see his mother, who has been ill for some time. He had just returned from Los Angeles, where he had spent some time with his mother.

Hughes, who is 36 years old, is a member of the New York State Bar Association and the New York State Judicial Conference. He is also a member of the American Bar Association and the American Law Institute.

U.S. Economist Sees Benefits In Market Pact

C. I. Tod Declares Growers Prevented From Heavy Losses By Agreement

The benefits to growers of the Celery Marketing Agreement from an economist's viewpoint were revealed today by C. I. Tod, associate agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Tod spent several weeks in Sanford and other producing sections of the state studying celery prices and has condensed an analysis of price factors on which he bases his report of benefits of the pact.

Through his analysis, Mr. Tod declared that had the 700,000 crates which removed from interstate commerce by the Control Committee, and the 200,000 crates sold to the Surplus Commodities Corporation been marketed, returns to growers would have amounted to minus 23 cents per crate.

As a result of his diligent study of the Florida industry, Mr. Tod declared that he had found three primary forces which affect the wholesale price of celery. These are as follows: Supply of celery; level of consumers' income; and extent of competing supplies.

Mr. Tod pointed out that his analysis measured statistically the amount of effect each of these factors has on the market price. He declared that for a given season every increase of 100,000 crates in the supply of celery, the price will decline approximately 10 cents per crate, and that every reduction of one percent in the income of consumers decreases the price of celery 4 cents per crate and vice-versa. Also for every increase of one percent in competing shipments, the price of Florida celery declines about 2-3 of a cent per crate.

From these statistics Mr. Tod calculated that compared to 1937, income of consumers went down 8 percent, which makes the market price for 1938 about 32 cents less than for 1937. The intensity of competition was 12 percent greater than for last year. Therefore, the 1938 price is 8 cents lower from this cause.

With a freight rate increase of 3 cents per crate, a one cent increase in crate prices and the one cent assessment for the Control Committee, the sum of these factors indicate that if the same quantity had been moved in 1938 as in 1937 the price to growers would have been about 45 cents less, Mr. Tod pointed out, than the estimated returns of 97 cents per crate for last year.

Mac Huddleston Sustains Injury To Back In Fall

McKesson (Mac) Huddleston, 25, who was injured yesterday at Sandlake Springs, was reported today by Dr. W. T. Langley, attending physician, to be progressing very well at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Langley said Mac had sustained a back sprain but that no bones had been broken. Mrs. J. F. N. Huddleston, Mac's mother, and friends who were with him at the time of the accident had feared that his spine might have been fractured with X-ray pictures were taken.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon shortly after 3:00 o'clock while Mac and three friends, Paul King, William Stanton, and F. M. Vickers were playing on the sandy edge of the pool. According to Paul, Mac and F. M. attempted a "fumbling" game which ended in Mac's landing on the back of his neck instead of his shoulders as was intended.

Seeing that Mac appeared to be badly hurt, a call was made for an ambulance and he was taken to the hospital. It was reported that Mac had no serious injuries and that he was expected to be out of the hospital in a few days.

7 Persons Meet Violent Deaths During Week-End

Auto Accidents Take Lead In Toll As Four Are Killed

At least seven persons met violent deaths in Florida over the week-end. Three were drowned when automobiles plunged into water. An escaped prisoner was shot. A man died as the result of a fight. Injuries received in an automobile accident were fatal to one. A spectator at a softball game was struck by a foul ball and died of a spine fracture.

Four persons saved their lives at Bradenton by diving from a boat after an explosion. They were burned but reached the shore.

John Howard Cross, 15, and a brother Herbert, were drowned in a canal near West Palm Beach when the family automobile ran into a waterway. Their father escaped.

Sheriff H. E. Gandy said Mrs. Alma Snyder apparently was drowned when her small automobile plunged through an open bridge at the Pensacola-Mobile canal near Pensacola. Her body was not recovered.

Edward B. Broughton, 50, engineer, was the victim of the softball game accident at Miami. A fractured skull received when hit by a foul ball. A tree near Madison brought death to Carl Whigham, 39, of Lee.

Sheriff Frank Kavel of Orange County said he was holding a man listed as Joe Patterson, Zellwood, night club operator, in connection with the death of Roy Chandler. The sheriff said Patterson struck Chandler with his fist, Chandler fell back and his head struck an automobile. Chandler died while Patterson was taking him to a hospital.

At West Palm Beach Deputy Sheriff J. E. Hardwick said Terrence Barrett, negro who escaped from the Miami jail June 20, was fatally shot by Deputy Barney Savage while resisting arrest.

First Leg Of World Flight Completed; Plane Ordered Refueled For Moscow

Follows Route Used By Lindy

Ambassador Bullitt Heads Officials Who Greet Fliers

PARIS, July 11.—(AP)—Howard Hughes after spanning the Atlantic from New York to Paris in less than half the Lindbergh time was delayed tonight on his globe-girdling trip by weather and slight damage to his plane. He announced he would not take off on the second leg to Moscow until tomorrow.

PARIS, July 11.—(AP)—Howard Hughes and his crew of four landed their plane at the LeBourget airport here at 10:38 A. M., eastern standard time, after a transatlantic flight from New York, the first leg of a projected round the world trip.

The American sportsman flier glided to an easy landing 16 hours and 35 minutes after his take-off from New York. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew the same route in 1927, was the only other pilot ever to make the trip, required 33 hours and 29 and a half minutes for his solo flight.

Immediately after landing Hughes ordered his plane refueled for a hop to Moscow in hope that he and his companions could complete the round the world air voyage in less than six days.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt headed the throng of officials who greeted the fliers.

Hughes, who first of five out of the plane, looked tired but he grinned broadly. He took time to put on his necktie and hat before coming out of the plane.

A big crowd pressed around the plane, shouting "long live the Americans."

Hughes surprised officials at the airport who had not expected him for hours.

A few minutes before the big twin-motored plane came in sight, Hughes sent a radio message saying he was about to land. Otherwise the welcoming committee would have been caught unprepared.

Hughes was so eager to get off for Moscow that he refused to eat or drink. He said weather reports indicated "good flying conditions ahead. Moscow is about 1,541 miles from here by air.

The rain, which had fallen before Hughes' arrival, stopped just before the big plane dropped out of the sky. Clouds formed again as Hughes studied maps and weather charts.

Coleman Makes Report On Rotary Meet In 'Frisco

Rotarians Vote To Challenge Kiwanis To Baseball Match

A report on the recent Rotary International convention in San Francisco was made at the local Rotary luncheon today by H. H. Coleman, past president, who presided over the meeting in the absence of President Geo. Rollins, while club members voted to challenge the Kiwanis Club to a baseball game in the near future.

Mr. Coleman also thanked the various committee heads for their fine co-operation during his term of office. The Past President's Pin was presented to him with the thanks for his leadership during the past year by Rotarian G. W. Spencer.

The decision to challenge the Kiwanis Club to a baseball game came after a suggestion by Roy Haller that the proceeds of the game might be used to finance the expenses of deserving local boys at summer camps.

In reporting on the Rotary convention, Mr. Coleman stated that he had joined 35 other Rotarians from various Florida and Cuban clubs in Jacksonville, and at New Orleans took a special train for the convention which traveled mostly at night stopping for sight-seeing expeditions by day. Among the most interesting places visited, Mr. Coleman said were Juarez, Mex., the Grand Canyon in Arizona, Los Angeles, and Hollywood.

In San Francisco, the convention which accommodates 5,000 persons who overflow delegates were three cars of across the street. More than 10,000 persons registered for the convention. Mr. Coleman stated, coming from every state in the union, and from the clubs of different foreign countries.

International President Maurice Harvey delivered the principal address of the occasion on "Around the World with Rotary." During his term of office, Mr. Coleman, M. DuFerry had visited 40 countries in the world collecting Rotary clubs.

Another highlight of the convention came when Past President Rollins spoke on labor, and explained that the 1938-39 year had cost over $100,000,000,000. Both delegates in San Francisco had heard Mr. Rollins speak, but he expressed the hope that it might be organized in the future with labor and business on both sides.

Japan Issues Third Warning To Foreigners

Invaders Ask Powers To Remove Citizens From Cities To Be Attacked From Air

King George Is Reported Better

Spaniards Reorganize To Permit Removal Of Foreign Troops

By Associated Press
Japan today warned the United States and other foreign powers for third time to evacuate citizens from China's battle areas as the war rolled on in the Orient and in Spain and revolt spreading in Palestine.

Two previous Japanese warnings had asked foreign powers to remove nationals from the path of Japan's drive up the Yangtze River toward Hankow, China's provisional capital. The new warning specified a half dozen cities which the Japanese said would be bombed from the air.

In Palestine, British troops and Jewish constables clashed with Arabs as the revolt spread and bombings and acts of terrorism continued in all parts of the Holy Land.

In Spain, insurgent Airmen bombed government defense lines as the Loyalists tried desperately to keep the insurgents from completing the advance on Valencia.

Reports from London said King George VI, who is suffering from gastric influenza, is much better. In Spain the Spanish government already is working out the reorganization of its international brigades which will permit withdrawal of foreign fighters without disrupting its army.

The European non-intervention committee's proposal for eliminating foreign troops from the Spanish civil war has been laid before the government and insurgent officials.

The plan, awaiting approval of the opposing Spanish factions, is, first, to count the numbers of foreign fighters in each side's army and, second, to arrange proportional withdrawals from them.

Spaniards are being raised from the ranks to fill places in the government's high command formerly held by foreigners. In each of the units once composed largely of foreign troops, Spanish forces are being mixed in growing proportions.

The government expects soon to be in a position to remove its foreign troops—estimated to number 10,000 men—and still keep its brigade units intact with all new officers and men.

The policy long has been to make the army essentially Spanish, using American, Canadian, English and other European fighters only as aides to fill the hole in the top military ranks left by the allegiance of most high officers to the insurgents.

This program has been speeded up since the non-intervention committee's plan began to take concrete form.

Democratic Chiefs Urge McNutt For President Of U. S.

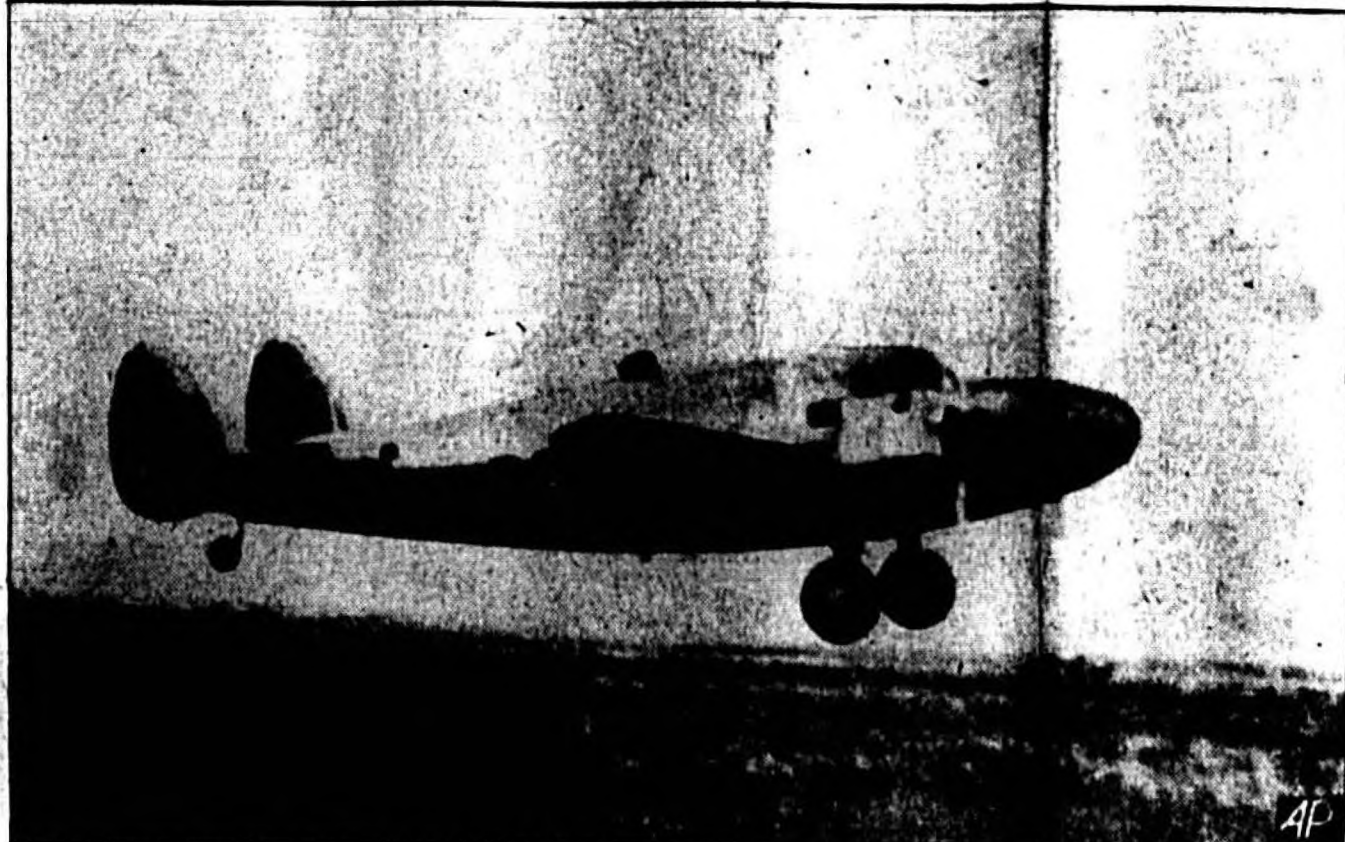

Woodmen Will Send Delegates To Meet

Indiana Democratic chief, Frank McNutt, suggested yesterday that Paul V. McNutt, former Indiana governor and now high commissioner to the Philippines, be nominated for the nation as a candidate for the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination in the platform to be submitted in the party's state convention here Tuesday.

McNutt, leader in recent years of the state's Democratic movement, was named in agreement that Governor Van Meter should be nominated, possibly by endorsement of the state platform committee, to run for governor.

Funeral Services For Cardozo Are Held In New York

Home Of State Justice Is Scene Of Rites For Jurist

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., July 11.—(AP)—Political and civil leaders who honored United States Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Cardozo in life as one of the ranking legal scholars of his time honored him in death. Funeral services for the distinguished jurist were held today at the home of his old friend, Justice Irving Lehman of the State Court of Appeals.

Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court was gripped by news of the death of Justice Cardozo, which reached him yesterday at Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy.

"I am inexpressibly grieved to learn of Justice Cardozo's death," Hughes said. "It is an irreparable loss to the court and the nation."

Hughes announced he was going to fly the Atlantic. Why, was his business. A few years ago he was making his movies. He abandoned Hollywood. That was his business, too.

A year ago last January he straggled across the United States to set a speed record which has never been approached—7 hours, 23 minutes. Crawling from his ship, he was courteous, tolerant, uninformative.

He merely wanted to do it. If a man wanted to risk a neck valued at several millions, it was his affair.

His few intimates deny he is a blue chip player. Whatever he is, he does what pleases his fancy with a courage and energy which set him apart.

"Better let someone else take that name," said Palmer, who built his "Hughes" brand of shoes. "The name is his."

Millionaire Sportsman Doesn't Care What People Think Of Him

By DEVON FRANCIS
NEW YORK, July 11.—(AP)—If thin, wiry Howard Robert Hughes, the millionaire now turned transatlantic flier, gives a tinker's dam about what other people think of him, he has never shown it during his 44 years.

Hughes announced he was going to fly the Atlantic. Why, was his business. A few years ago he was making his movies. He abandoned Hollywood. That was his business, too.

He calmly hit in two the rubber hose leading to his oxygen tank and sucked on the gas until his head was clear.

On another occasion, when a severe downdraft dropped his plane dangerously close to some mountain tops near Los Angeles, he maneuvered toward a lake to pick up another air.

"Hope I didn't scare you," he remarked casually to a friend in the cabin behind him.

The Hughes fortune largely was due to his father's invention of a rotary drill bit for sinking oil wells. The elder Hughes founded the Hughes Tool Co., which the son is now in charge of.

International President Maurice DuPerry delivered the principal address of the occasion on "Around the World with Rotary." During his term of office, Mr. Coleman said, M. DuPerry had visited every country in the world maintaining Rotary clubs.

Another highlight of the convention came when Past President Almon Roth spoke on labor problems and explained that the 99-day longshoremen's strike of three years ago had cost over $300,000,000. Mr. Roth declared it as his opinion that there would always be labor strife, but he expressed the hope that it might be confined to peaceful means with honesty and fairness on both sides.

U.S. Economist Sees Benefits In Market Pact

C. I. Tod Declares Growers Prevented From Heavy Losses By Agreement

The benefits to growers of the Celery Marketing Agreement from an economist's viewpoint were revealed today by C. I. Tod, associate agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Tod spent several weeks in Sanford and other producing sections of the state studying celery prices and has condensed an analysis of price factors on which he bases his report of benefits of the pact.

Through his analysis, Mr. Tod declared that had the 700,000 crates which removed from interstate commerce by the Control Committee, and the 200,000 crates sold to the Surplus Commodity Corporation been marketed, returns to growers would have amounted to minus 21 cents per crate.

As a result of his diligent study of the Florida industry, Mr. Tod declared that he had found three primary forces which affect the wholesale price of celery. These are as follows: Supply of celery; level of consumers income; and extent of competing supplies.

Mr. Tod pointed out that his analysis measured statistically the amount of effect each of these factors has on the market price. He declared that for a given season every increase of 100,000 crates in the supply of celery, the price will decline approximately 10 cents per crate and that every reduction of one percent in the income of consumers decreases the price of celery 4 cents per crate and vice-versa.

Also for every increase of one percent in competing shipments, the price of Florida celery declines about 2.3 of a cent per crate.

From these statistics Mr. Tod calculated that compared to 1937, income of consumers went down 8 percent, which makes the market price for 1938 about 32 cents less than for 1937. The intensity of competition was 12 percent greater than for last year. Therefore, the 1938 price is 8 cents lower than this cause.

With a freight rate increase of 3 cents per crate, a one cent increase in crate prices and the one cent assessment for the Control Committee, the sum of these factors indicate that if the same quantity had been moved in 1938 as in 1937 the price to growers would have been about 45 cents less, Mr. Tod pointed out, than the estimated returns of 97 cents per crate for last year.

Mac Huddleston Sustains Injury To Back In Fall

McKesson (Mac) Huddleston, 23, who was injured yesterday at Sanlando Springs, was reported today by Dr. W. T. Langley, attending physician, to be progressing very well at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Langley said Mac had sustained a back sprain but that no bones had been broken. Mrs. J. P. N. Huddleston, Mac's mother, and friends who were with him at the time of the accident had feared that his spine might have been fractured until X Ray pictures were taken.

The accident occurred yesterday afternoon shortly after 3:00 o'clock while Mac and three friends, Paul King, William Preston, and P. M. Vickery were playing on the sandy edge of the pool. According to Paul, Mac and P. M. attempted a tumbling stunt which ended in Mac's landing on the back of his neck instead of his shoulders as was intended.

Seeing that Mac appeared to be badly hurt, a call was sent for an ambulance and in a short time he was admitted to the hospital. It was reported by those in the party with Mac that both of his legs appeared paralyzed and not until late in the evening did he regain the use of them.

Mrs. Huddleston said this morning that she expected Mac to be brought home this afternoon.

Ambassador Bullitt Heads Officials Who Greet Fliers

PARIS, July 11.—(AP)—Howard Hughes after spanning the Atlantic from New York to Paris in less than half the Lindbergh time was delayed tonight on his globe-girdling trip by weather and slight damage to his plane. He announced he would not take off on the second leg to Moscow until tomorrow.

PARIS, July 11.—(AP)—Howard Hughes and his crew of four landed their plane at the LeBourget airport here at 10:38 A. M., eastern standard time, after a trans-Atlantic flight from New York, the first leg of a projected round the world trip.

The American sportsman flier glided to an easy landing 16 hours and 35 minutes after his take-off from New York. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew the same route in 1927 and is the only other pilot ever to make the trip, required 33 hours and 29 and a half minutes for his solo flight.

Immediately after landing Hughes ordered his plane refueled for a hop to Moscow in hope that he and his companions could complete the round the world air voyage in less than six days.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt headed the throng of officials who greeted the fliers.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

If we say that we have no sin
we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.—1 John 1:8.

High taxation is like the weather. Everybody talks about it and nobody does anything about it.

Senator Wagner is being boomed for Justice Cardozo's place on the Supreme Court.
Senator Wagner was born and raised in Germany.

There seems to be quite a lot of wearing dark glasses at the beach these days. But it's a funny thing, nobody ever heard of eye strain until these modern streamlined bathing suits appeared.

That proposed investigation of the entire press of the U. S.
would call for a commission with unlimited time, patience and expense money.—Tampa Tribune.

What more could a commission want?

Florida's easy divorce laws are hard on Florida children, the Florida Bar Association hears.
The question remains, however, whether divorces are harder on children than constantly quarreling parents unable to obtain a divorce.

What has become of the old-time advice about saving for a rainy day, asks The Sanford Herald. Guess most people think the idea is all wet.—Miami Post.

Especially those who had their savings in a busted bank.

Of course we know well enough that conditions in the South had been pretty bad, but we thought it was the "dust bowl," the industrial areas, prohibition and Wall Street that had started the depression.

When the government distribution clothing bill is up in Sanford paper to see that Florida and so many other states as Mississippi or Montana.—F. E. B. in Tampa Tribune. It will also be a tough task to see that we don't get all the overcoats and Montana all the sun bonnets.

We see where a negro has been beaten to death by a mob in Georgia following a lynching in Mississippi a few days earlier.
Having gone through the first six months of 1938 without a single lynching, establishing a new record the less half of 1938 seems bent on getting back to normal during the first few weeks.

For centuries people have looked forward to that golden era when all they would have to do would be to push a button and the machine do the work. Now that the time has arrived, they find the machine has broken down and they are back to work.

But where men are continually playing with fire and powder, an explosion may come at any time.

Relative Taxation

To further support the contention that taxes in this country are as high, if not higher, than they are in Great Britain the National City Bank of New York has brought forth a set of figures which show how rapidly we have been traveling on the road to unbearable taxation and how fast we have been outstripping the British in this direction.

Admitting that income taxes in this country, particularly in the lower brackets are lighter than they are in England, the National City Bank report points out that income taxes in this country are relatively a small part of our tax burden, whereas in Britain they are by far the major part. The report also shows that taxes levied by the national government in England are about all that have to be paid, whereas in this country they are less than half the total.

Tax collections in the United States last year amounted to a grand total of $12,200,000,000. Of this huge amount, $7,271,000,000 was collected by the city, county and state governments, while the federal government's share amounted to only $5,029,000,000 or 41 percent of the total. In England last year's tax collections were 1,017,000,000 pounds, or approximately $5,000,000,000. Of this amount only $880,000,000 was for local government, and the rest, or 83 percent of the total went to the national government.

So in comparing taxation in this country with that in Great Britain it is important to remember that our federal taxes are but a small part of our total tax burden. But to say that does not mean that our federal government is spending less. The figures actually show, that in spite of the heavy cost of local government in this country we also pay almost as much for our national government. Taxes collected by the federal government in this country were $5,029,000,000 last year, as compared with $4,205,000,000 in England.

Furthermore the figures on tax collection do not tell the entire story because in England all of the expenses of national government are met out of tax collections; whereas in this country only about half is raised by taxes while the balance is obtained by borrowing which future generations will have to pay back and which is sure to increase even further the tax burden in years to come. The difference in the amount of borrowing between the two countries is shown by the figures revealing that the governmental debt has increased only six percent in England during the past seven years while it has increased over 63 percent in this country.

Since taxes are paid out of income and the real burden of taxation varies entirely with the ability to pay, it is illuminating to learn that whereas taxes constituted only 11 percent of the total income in this country in 1926, they now amount to over 18 percent. In Great Britain where they were over 20 percent of the people's income in 1926, they are now only 19 percent.

Prospects Of War

The prospects of another great war in Europe are discussed by Walter Lippmann, now in Paris following a tour of the important capitals abroad. Mr. Lippmann believes that every government in Europe is desperately trying to avoid war, but that at least two or three of them are pursuing policies which are liable to produce war at almost any moment.

In his latest article he explains the issues between Prime Minister Chamberlain and former Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, who resigned rather than attempt to play ball with the dictators. Lippmann says that upon every important point Chamberlain and Eden are in full agreement except that Eden would not yield an inch to the dictators and that Chamberlain would continue to yield in the hope that eventually the dictators might become satisfied before war actually breaks out.

Thus there is no difference of opinion on the necessity for rearmament, adequate defenses against attack, close co-operation between France and Britain, or the fact that Italy and Germany are preparing for war. The difference comes over the belief held by some that any delay in the outbreak of the war works to the advantage of Britain, and the opinion held by others that Italy and Germany, relatively are becoming more powerful all the time.

Mr. Eden recalls the Italian conquest of Ethiopia which has added new resources to the Italian empire, and the German seizure of Austria, the remilitarization of the Rhineland and the German rearmament policy which presumably have greatly strengthened the German empire. And he sees a rebel victory in Spain and the possible conquest of Czechoslovakia as further increasing the dictators' strength.

Chamberlain on the other hand recognizes Britain's inferiority in armaments and defenses, a condition which is now rapidly being remedied. And he believes that by making certain concessions to Germany and Italy, they may eventually become satisfied before their demands become so excessive as to precipitate a war. What is infinitely more important, he sees in the possible economic collapse of the Nazi or Fascist regimes, or a sudden revolution bringing an end to their policies of aggression, or perhaps the unexpected death of Hitler or Mussolini, the means of preventing war the longer it can be delayed.

But where men are continually playing with fire and powder, an explosion may come at any time.

QUEEN OF THE RIVER...
A lifetime on the Beautiful Ohio as captain and pilot of her own steamboat has been the amazing career of Mrs. Mary B. Greene of Cincinnati.

Born in a small Ohio town in the Muskingum, a tributary of the Ohio waterway, in 1868, Mary early became fascinated with river life. Strange cargoes floated by on big flatboats, bound for Memphis and New Orleans. Sidewheelers carried important men and pretty ladies up and down the river, from Louisville to Pittsburgh.

Shortly she married Gordon C.
Greene, a young river man who had recently won his Pilot's and Master's papers. She made her home aboard Greene's steamboat.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

One nice thing about being invited to a Florida Citrus banquet is that it provides an opportunity for a fellow to catch up on his consumption of Hava-nai pineapple and California canned fruits, but then I suppose serving "citrus fruit" to citrus growers would be something like carryin' coals to Newcastle or makin' a shoemaker wear shoes.

Anyhow, I enjoyed a delicious evening last week as a guest of the Florida Citrus Commission at a dinner held in Lake Wales to give growers, shippers and newspaper men an opportunity to join in a round table discussion of "The things that were done and should not have been done and the things undone that should have been done and where do we go from here?"

Just how much good was accomplished is more or less problematical, but nevertheless it gave a lot of folks an opportunity to exchange their ideas, some of which were potentially pregnant.

For a bunch of guys so fluent at discussin' citrus problems on the street corner, silence and absence of suggestions at the banquet were downright amazing. The chairman had to dare near get down on his knees and pray to elicit answers to my a word, in spite of the fact that there were five representatives of the citrus industry in the crowd, but when they finally did get going it turned out to be quite a party.

The general impression prevailing seemed to be that here was Florida's citrus industry through grapefruit trees. All the citrus growers who had been at the fruit all summer by boat with a view of making while the iron was hot, and the citrus industry was in a state of panic.

Howard Hughes Doesn't Care What The People Think

father's technical bent. At the age of 12 he had constructed his own radio receiving set. The Hughes home-made automobile was a common sight in Houston. At 15 he had taken his first flight. In his twenties, he established himself as one of Hollywood's foremost movie producers. He made money. Among his pictures, "Hell's Angels," "Scarface," and "The Front Page" helped make movie history.

Like his father, Hughes is attracted by anything scientific. When he flies, he works every minute. His "logs" are "complete." To the close of a flight he can rattle off his average fuel consumption, cylinder head temperatures, manifold pressures, the altitudes at which he navigated, his speed and even the temperature of the air outside the plane.

For his current flight, he installed every piece of scientific apparatus in his "Lockheed 14" transport that came to mind. With an extremely heavy load, the machine is expected to cruise at 175 miles an hour.

Though danger means nothing to him—until recently he held the world's landplane record of 352 miles an hour over a measured course—he is loath to risk the lives of others.

President Roosevelt once told Hughes he would like to make a flight with him.

"Well," replied the young millionaire, "if you do, Mr. President, it will be the most nervous flight I've ever taken."

Shy in his extreme, Hughes has made a speech only once in his life, before the New York Advertising Club.

"Speed is nothing of itself," he said then. "It must be adapted to commercial use if attaining it is to be worth while."

He lives simply but indulges a voracious appetite. He cares nothing for clothes, has often been seen with unpressed trousers. He has been known to touch his lips to one cocktail an entire evening and leave the glass brimful. He does not smoke. He plays golf in the low 70's.

From time to time movie press agents have tried to link Hughes' name with actresses, but he remains blissfully single and indifferent to such publicity.

Divorce has been cut almost in half in Moscow during the past two years.

U. S. Economist Sees Benefits In Market Pact

were approximately 150,000 crates less than for last year and this raised the returns to growers by 15 cents making the final calculations by the analysis of 67 cents per crate while the average estimated by the control committee was 63 cents.

According to his analysis, Mr. Tod stated that had the 700,000 crates, which were restricted from shipment because of control, been shipped the price to growers would have declined 70 cents per crate leaving a loss of three cents per crate on the crop estimated at 4,000,000 crates. In addition, if the 300,000 crates sold through relief channels had been shipped commercially, prices would have declined another 20 cents leaving the returns to growers at minus 23 cents per crate.

Mr. Tod declared, however, that the estimated returns of minus 23 cents per crate would have been prevented by some other form of elimination as was the surplus in 1933. He pointed out the Marketing Agreement offered a fairer and more systematic control than the now-up campaign which would have resulted in haphazard reductions of shipments, and widely varying and excessive sacrifices by individual growers.

The Economist pointed to the downward reaction of the market during weeks when the Control Committee became over optimistic as proof of the factors governing prices on which his report was based.

"These quick market reactions indicate the sensitiveness of control, and emphasize the importance of careful study of price determining factors in arriving at shipment recommendations," Mr. Tod concluded.

"If the agreement is continued planting records should be obtained, which may tend to avoid planting for surplus, and will definitely enable the committee to foresee the pattern of production and thereby more intelligently plan their action."

Boyle will return to Sanford about Aug. 1.

Polish Scientist Will Try For New Altitude Record

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—A Polish army captain will soar off into the tropics this year to attempt to break the altitude record established in the United States in 1935.

That record, 22,395 feet, was set by about 13 1/4 miles was set by the Explorer II in an attempt to reach the Black Hills of South Dakota. The flight was sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the United States Army.

The geographic society and yesterday the next they would be made in a balloon of silk grown and processed in Poland. It will be piloted by Capt. Zbigniew Buzynski. The take-off will be made from a valley in the Tatra mountains in southern Poland near the Czech-Polish border.

The balloon, the society announced, will be the largest ever constructed and will weigh less than half as much as Explorer II. For that reason, society scientists, said, it should climb to a greater height, probably 30,000 feet.

Income Increased On Livestock Products

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—Increased cash income from livestock products helped reduce losses sustained by farmers in the south Atlantic states during the period from January to May as a result of a 30 percent decrease in value from farm crops.

A Bureau of agricultural economics report yesterday placed the five-month receipts from livestock products in the eight states at $75,281,000 compared with $75,281,000 for the same period in 1937.

The value of farm crops in the same period was placed at $126,643,000 compared with $159,274,000 for the corresponding five months a year ago.

States in the South Atlantic group are Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

NLRB Invalidates Closed-Shop Pact

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board last night invalidated a closed shop contract between five American Federation of Labor affiliates and the Electric Vacuum Cleaner Company, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, and ordered the company to reinstate 24 discharged employees with back pay.

In a decision, expected to affect adversely the already strained relations between the labor board and the AFL, the NLRB directed the company "to cease an ongoing membership in" the labor union and to cease discouraging membership in the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, a committee for Industrial Organization affiliate.

AFL leaders already have charged the board is pro-CIO and urged threatened to seek amendments to the Wagner Act to curb the NLRB power.

Hudson Bests Bunch As Lookouts Down Gondoliers, 3-1

Both Hurlers Allow Four Hits In Six Inning Tilt

Bobby Stith's Double And Single Play Important Part In Victory Seen By Nearly 800 Baseball Fans

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Nearly 800 Sanford and Leesburg fans jammed the Municipal Athletic Field yesterday afternoon and saw Bobby Hudson, Lookout right-hander, best Jake Bunch of the Gondoliers in an abbreviated six inning mound duel which netted the Lookouts a three to one victory.

Hudson limited the Gondoliers to four scattered hits while the Lookouts too, collected only four hits.

Bunch held the Lookouts at bay during the first four innings and it was not until Bobby Stith doubled to the left field wall in the fifth inning that the locals were able to hit the underhanded hurler.

Hudson fanned six of the Gondoliers with his fast and slow breaking curve balls and walked two batters. Bunch walked three men while he fanned one for his day's record.

Bunch started the scoring in the fifth when Stith doubled to left field and scored on Adz' single through the box. Adz took second on the throw in but Contreras and De Ramus fled out to left field to end the inning.

The Gondoliers knotted the score in their half of the sixth when Bunch singled to right field and took second when Contreras miscue. Great's bunt allowing both runners to be safe. Arnold attempted to sacrifice both runners but he hit to Hudson who threw to Pitman at third to force Bunch. Dave singled after Risk had batted to score Great with the tying run.

However, the score was not tied until Billy Moore started the sixth inning with a single to left field. Dolack sacrificed him to first base. He took third on Davis' infield out. Pitman was intentionally walked. Onis faked a throw to second and threw to third to catch Moore but Risk erred the ball and Moore scored.

as Pitman advanced to third. Stith came through with his second hit of the day, a single to left scoring Pitman. Rain was beginning to fall and Bunch walked Hudson. Umpires Frosty Peters and Phony Smith called the game.

Johnny Adz Makes Best Double Play Seen In Daytona

Johnny Adz, local catcher, right fielder and second baseman, made a play in the Sanford Daytona Beach game Saturday night that was rated by officials and sports writers as one of the most spectacular plays ever seen on the City Island Park.

It was in the eighth inning with one out and Vince Day on third base. Johnny Pare, 1st catcher, attempted to squeeze Day across. However, the ball went into foul territory. Adz took a heading dive for the ball and it fell in his mitt. Day had streaked for home and Adz after tumbling over jumped to home plate and nabbed Day off third with a throw to Bob Pitman.

Mayo Langston And Bob Pitman Lead Lookouts

Local Club Hitting At Rate Of .251; Fielding At .936

According to Florida State League playing averages released yesterday for games played this season through last Thursday night some of Sanford's batemen have entered the ranks of the heavy hitters.

Mayo Langston, Lookout right-fielder, passed the .300 mark during the past week with 12 singles in 24 times to the plate to jump to an average of .316. However, he is being lead by Bob Pitman who is hitting at a .326 clip.

Sanford's only high ranking pitcher is Big Chief Cook who has won nine games while losing four for a percentage of .692.

The team dropped several points in its hitting during the week and back into seventh place in the hitting average with a percentage of .251.

The Lookouts still remained on the bottom of the league in the fielding column with an eighth place average of .936. Among the other Lookouts whose averages were released were Eddie Davis with a mark of .286, Billy Moore, center fielder is hitting a .268 rate.

Johnny Wilson Joins Locals After Absence Of 11 Years

Former Celery Fed To Hurl Tomorrow When The Lookouts Play Hosts To Visiting St. Augustine Saints

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Remember Johnny Wilson, the youth who 12 years ago with Ben Cantwell hurled the Sanford Celery Feds to this city's last Florida State League pennant? Well he is back again after a visit in the higher class rank. Johnny is slated to make his debut with the locals Tuesday night against the St. Augustine Saints when the Ancient City crew visits the local nine.

After Johnny left the Celery Feds at the end of the 1926 season, he went into the Spring training with the Boston Red Sox of the American League. Wilson remained with them through the first half of the season.

In 1927, Wilson joined the Red Sox again and during the season was shipped back to Pittsfield in the Eastern League but, once more, was recalled at the end of the season.

In 1929, Wilson remained with the Pittsfield outfit and won 16 games while losing five. Wilson left the Pittsfield crew in 1930 and joined the Buffalo Bisons of the International League. Johnny was a starter and a relief hurler also and hurled in 61 games during the season. The club finished in eighth place but Wilson came through with 15 wins against 14 losses.

Wilson won nine games and lost 19 with the Bisons in 1931 and 1932 he won seven while losing 13 during the year. Wilson had his greatest success in 1931 when by taking a double header, the Bisons were able to get into the playoff by a half a game. Wilson pitched a double header one afternoon to get into the playoff while the Bisons won to claim the International League Championship.

In 1934, illness caused Johnny to be out for over 40 days and his record that season ran 11 wins and four losses. In 1935, Wilson did not report to Buffalo and they sold him to Birmingham where he hurled four wins and two losses. However, the Birmingham club was unable to pay the price agreed upon and Buffalo recalled him. He was then sent to Fort Worth in the Western Association where he won three games while losing one before Buffalo recalled him.

Wilson remained with Buffalo in 1936 and won 14 games against six setbacks but in 1937 illness again caused him to lay off for two months. However, he came through with eight wins and seven losses.

This season Wilson joined the Toronto Maple Leaves of the International League and started one game to beat his former mates. Buffalo. He pitched seven innings against Rochester and fanned nine men and also hurled 12 innings of a 14 inning game for Toronto against Jersey City, but lost the game 4 to 1.

Johnny was contacted by C. E. Bradshaw, prey of the local club and was signed to a Look-out contract. Wilson is slated to hurl tomorrow when many of his old friends in this city are expected to be on hand to welcome him back home.

Dupont, Raskob Are Charged With Evasion Of Taxes

Financiers Tried To Avoid Paying Huge
Levy, Board Finds

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—The United States Board of Tax Appeals found today that Pierre S. DuPont and John J. Raskob had attempted to evade more than $1,000,000 of income taxes by "paper transactions" in securities.

The exact amount of additional taxes due on their 1929 incomes was left by the board to be determined later, but attorneys estimated Raskob might be held to owe about $1,000,000 and DuPont about $600,000.

After the 1929 stock market crash, the board's records show DuPont and Raskob sold $4,500,000 of securities to each other at prices far below what they had paid for them. Eventually they resold securities to each other and claimed losses for deductions from income taxes.

The Spanish government gave the anti-intervention committee new worries by dispatching to the British foreign office charges that Premier Mussolini had no intention of carrying out his side of the bargain to withdraw foreign soldiers from Spain.

Growers Vote On Celery Pact In Next Two Weeks

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—The Agriculture Adjustment Administration announced today a growers referendum probably would be held within the next two weeks on the proposed continuance of the Florida Celery Marketing program.

It said more than 95 percent of Florida celery growers had asked for a vote to determine whether the Marketing Agreement which has regulated Florida celery shipments to interstate commerce since Nov. 12, 1927, should apply during 1938-39 season.

The AAA said program would be terminated if growers who have produced more than 50 percent of celery in Florida favored such action.

City Commission Defers Action On Smoke Ordinance

Committee Begins Investigation Of Power Program

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 12.—(AP)—A congressional committee officially launched an investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority in a three-hour executive session yesterday, at which Chairman Vic Donahue, Democrat, Ohio, said only "questions of policy" was discussed.

"Our meeting was formative altogether," Donahue declared.

He said he did not know what procedure would be followed at the open hearings, which he said would begin "in the near future."

"Those matters will be determined later," he said, "possibly at another meeting of the committee here next Monday."

Activities of privately owned electric utilities that have opposed the TVA power program also will come under the scrutiny of the investigators.

Last night a petition was presented to the Commissioners, signed by owners of all dry cleaning plants in the city, requesting that the passage of the ordinance be deferred until a later date. Meanwhile, the petition read, Chief Williams and Chief Cleveland should be appointed to work with the operators of the plants in an effort to see if the smoke nuisance could be eliminated through voluntary action of the operators themselves.

It was explained that the ordinance as written would work a hardship on the operators because it formed the issuance of a "back smoke" for a period of more than 10 minutes a nuisance and operators were expressly denied permission to create such a nuisance.

The operators said they were now using between 70 and 85 percent oak wood as their chief fuel with a little pine to get their fires started in their boilers early in the morning. They declared that using oak as the chief fuel had practically eliminated the smoke and soot which had been complained against.

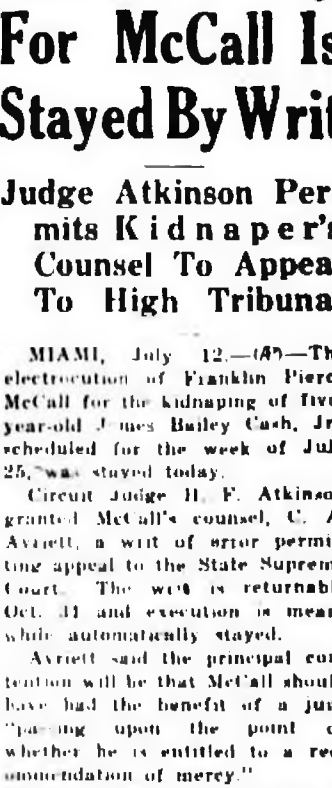

The Commission gave Chief Williams and Chief Cleveland authority to work with the operators and report to the Commission later. If the situation remained unsatisfactory, the Commission pointed out, the matter would be taken to the Board of Directors.

Democracy Good Enough For Us, Roosevelt Says

ABOARD PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO July 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that "We want a democracy to work."

"That is our chief objective," the President told a crowd gathered by police at more than 15,000 in a brief car platform address at Pueblo, Colo.

"We don't want to copy other forms of government, there is good enough for us," he made reference to the Colorado Democratic senatorial contest.

At Aronville, Tex., late yesterday, the President reaffirmed his belief in democracy and denied program constitutes a subsidy.

The speech climaxed a day of strenuous effort in Texas during which Roosevelt bestowed the White House blessing on five Texas congressmen by specifically mentioning them in kindly words on the route westward from Fort Worth.

Two New Deal opponents, Senator Tom Connally and Representative Houghton Sumners, both of whom fought the court reform plan, went unopposed although they accompanied the President on his special train.

Speaking in the heart of the Texas panhandle—over the center of the area scoured by dust storms but now coming back with good crops and favorable weather.

Mr. Roosevelt divided the land use problem into three major parts:

1. Helping the individual use his land for the best possible results.

2. Prevention of over-production and subsequent low prices.

3. A decrease in farm tenancy and a move toward increase of actual farm ownership.

Tax Collection More In State This Year

He said the figure represented a 20 percent increase over the previous year's total of $35,110,976.70.

Hughes Nears Omsk In Record-Breaking Flight Round World

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Howard Hughes, American millionaire, flew near Omsk in western Siberia tonight on the third leg of his round the world flight. He and his four companions took off from Moscow at 4:25 P. M. EST, two hours and 12 minutes after arriving from Paris.

The latest report from the plane at 7:00 P. M. EST (4:00 A. M. EST) said it had reached a point beyond Sverdlovsk, over 1,000 miles from Moscow, and was expected to reach Omsk, 1,540 miles from here, in the early afternoon.

Hughes left Moscow 17 hours and 17 minutes ahead of the time made by the late Wiley Post, whose world gridding mark of 7 days, 18 hours, and 49 minutes he seeks to break.

Hughes and his four companions landed here at 3:14 P. M. EST after a flight of 7 hours, 19 minutes from Paris.

As the plane took off from Le Bourget Field, the millionaire aviator was at the controls, as he was when he brought the flying laboratory in from New York only 16 hours and 30 minutes after his departure.

Exactly 30 minutes after the heavily loaded monoplane was wheeled out of the hangar, the plane, barely tipping houses at the southern end of the field, and disappeared into the sky bound for the Soviet capital, 1,541 miles east and slightly north of Paris.

Although the takeoff was perfect, the plane narrowly missed landing as she bounced into the air. The left wheel bounced several times and skidded in the air, apparently indicating Hughes experienced difficulty in getting the heavy load up.

The air field's ambulance started its engines as it appeared the plane might fail to clear a fence and crash either into a house at the E. E. of the field or a factory chimney to the right.

Hughes plotted straight for the space between the two obstacles and rose into the air just as his wheels hit the end of the runway, clearing the fence by a few feet. Spectators held their breath as the silver ship mounted slowly.

Capt. Rose Requests Clothing For Needy

A call for clothing has been issued by Capt. R. E. Rose of the Salvation Army Post here.

Capt. Rose declared that he has had a great many calls for clothing in the past few weeks but that he has none on hand. With the limited funds of the post, he said, it is impossible to buy clothes for those who have appealed for aid. He also pointed out that many of them for various reasons are not eligible to receive clothing from government agencies.

Anyone having wearing apparel of any kind that they are not using, Capt. Rose stated, should get in touch with him immediately. Telephone 359, and the clothing will be called for or articles may be left at the Salvation Army headquarters at 214 East Second Street, he said.

Trade Body May Assist In Federal Monopolies Probe

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(AP)—The Commerce Department reported today that more than 130 trade associations and members of commerce in Florida, many of which might be called upon informally for information for a governmental investigation of monopolies.

Commerce Department officials said these business groups also might form the nucleus for industry boards under the wage-hour law to aid in determining labor standards for various industries and businesses.

They explained that under the NRA these groups formed the basis in many cases for the hundreds of industrial boards established to draw up industrial codes.

A nation-wide survey of such organizations compiled by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce showed there were 5,500 trade associations and 2,200 chambers of commerce in the country.

American Millionaire Flier Crosses Si- berian Plains In 3rd Leg Of Flight

MIAMI, July 12.—(AP)—The electrification of Franklin Pierce McCall for the kidnaping of five-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., scheduled for the week of July 25, was stayed today.

Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson granted McCall's counsel, C. A. Avrett, a writ of error permitting appeal to the State Supreme Court. The writ is returnable Oct. 31 and execution is meanwhile automatically stayed.

Avrett said the principal contention will be that McCall should have had the benefit of a jury "passing upon the point of whether he is entitled to a recommendation of mercy."

Judge Atkinson conducted McCall's trial without a jury after McCall pleaded guilty of kidnaping, and the death sentence was considered mandatory.

Avrett also filed an insolvency affidavit, throwing the cost of the appeal upon the county.

Meanwhile at Sanford Superintendent Chapman said McCall apparently had reconciled himself to paying the death penalty for kidnaping little Jimmy Cash.

"McCall apparently has made up his mind that he's gone—that the end will be the chair despite efforts of his family to obtain clemency," Chapman said. "He is no longer defiant and appears rather discouraged. He remains silent for the most part and devotes much time to reading the Bible and newspapers."

McCall's young wife has visited him several times, he said, but spends only a short time with him. They talk about family matters, and not the case or its death sentence.
