If you happen to have one of the modern single-lever faucets in your kitchen or bathroom, you don't have to worry about changing washers, because it doesn't have one.

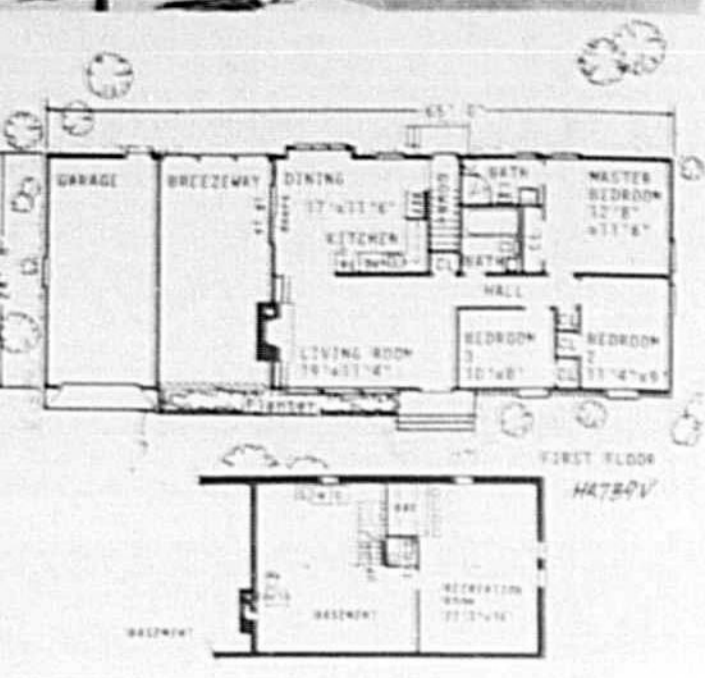

But the very large majority of houses still have the ordinary compression faucets, with separate hot and cold water taps. That means the washer in each faucet eventually wears down and needs replacing.

The days are gone when you could get a washer changed for a dollar or two. In fact, regardless of the charge, it's difficult even to get a plumber for such a small job. And there's no reason to do so. Changing a faucet washer is within the capability of anyone.

The first step is to turn off the water leading to the faucet. Most faucets have cut-off valves underneath the sink, one for the hot water, one for the cold. Turning the valve clockwise shuts off the water. If you don't know where it is, you should, the valve must be closed at the point where the water line enters the faucet.

After opening the faucet handle all the way, the stem can be lifted out or screwed out. Where there is a nut near the handle, it should be loosened with a wrench after covering it

DO-IT-YOURSELF

By MR. FIX
Gutter and downspout repair is a job generally done in the fall because of the accumulation of leaves and in the spring because of the wear and tear of heavy ice and snow.

But damage during these seasons would be less if you could regularly cut off any water, including rain or snow, that is dripping from the gutters during the summer. They would then be able to handle the extra loads.

Besides, working on a ladder is easier on a summer day than on a cold day in the fall or spring.

Clean and repair at the same time. Cleaning is something you will have to do more than once anyway.

A thick broom or a stiff brush should be used to clean dirt and leaves from the gutters. If left in the gutters, this accumulation will cause water to spill over the sides in a heavy rain. The dirt also is carried to the downspout, resulting in clogging.

After you have cleaned out the dirt you can look for rust spots. If it is just rust with no damage to the metal beneath it, sand the metal clean. Then give the spot a coat of rust-preventive paint.

If the metal has started to rust through, clean away the rust, then make sure all loose particles of damaged metal are removed. A small hole or crack can be taken care of by spreading roof cement over the area.

If the hole is larger, add a patch to the cement. With the cement still wet, place a piece of metal similar to the gutter in it. If the gutter is aluminum use heavy aluminum foil. Roofing paper or fiberglass material can be used with any metal.

Sometimes joints between sections of gutter will develop leaks. Patch these areas the same way.

For larger holes, stick with metal. Make certain it is the same kind of metal as the gutter, otherwise corrosion.

Water should flow freely toward the downspout. If the gutter is sagging, this won't happen. You may have to adjust hangers or renail a section.

If water isn't going through the downspout, then it needs cleaning.

Here's How Pinch Hitters Set Home Run

By VIVIAN BROWN

A funny thing happened at the Best Dressed Tables competition in New York City last week when pinch hitters for the St. Louis Cardinals. As a matter of fact it was almost a shut-out.

The Cardinals had been invited by Mermel Jaccard King, a jewelry store in St. Louis, to dress a table in the regional contest. The St. Louis Pinch Hitters, a group formed 10 years ago by the Cardinals and other people connected with baseball, to raise money through the sport for charity, took over the table-setting task. They won the event. After that it was a walk.

Two lively, pretty Pinch Hitters, Rosanne Debing, its president, and Jean Wilks, they used in the table project, explained, by Mrs. Stan Lombardo, the Cardinals' team physician.

One of 16 entries, as each announcement brought them further honors, they chorused "Oh, my, no, I can't believe it," and at the end "It is almost embarrassing." They meant it. It was a rout. In addition to the $1,000 first prize given to them for charitable use by Gotham, sponsors of the event, they won six of the 11 individual prizes, silver pitcher, bowls, platters, given by magazines—American Home, House Beautiful, House and Garden, Modern Bride, McCall's, Town and Country. More than 150 editors judged the main event.

Their winning, friendly-looking table wore a light-blue and white checkered cloth over a white undercloth. Red plates with clear edges, clear crystal, blue napkins, chunky red candles and English Tip silverware. The table was set with a centerpiece of poppies and leaves—silver goblets really set this table off.

A tablecloth with a vote design in red, white and blue, with straw hats and vote handbags, stuffed elephant and donkey, provided an election day theme by three Milwaukee women.

Rosemary for remembrance, a porcelain figure of Hamlet, a theater program, sparkling goblets with La Scala fireworks was a romantic supper table by Mrs. James Sotoulas of Memphis.

A handmade Tiffany-style shade set the pattern for Mrs. Michael Miller and Mrs. James Moses of Denver. The white felt tablecloth had colorful napkins with colored plastic to resemble these colors in the shade.

LEGAL WAY No need for a warrant

By E. J. DEMSON

Q. I was arrested without a warrant on my property. The patrolman followed me without his red lights on until I drove into my driveway where he charged me with driving my car while under the influence of alcohol. I refused to take a breath test. Isn't it illegal to arrest a person on his property without a warrant? Can I sue the patrolman for false arrest?

A. Throughout Title 28 of the Arizona Revised Statutes the law gives the arresting officer the right without a warrant to arrest an offender, if what he observes about his driving would lead a reasonably prudent man to conclude the driver was intoxicated, such an observation creates a probable cause for the arrest. Forty-seven states have a like law with minor variations. If an officer has probable cause to believe a person is in violation, he can pursue the offender to his own property and arrest him there without a warrant (43) P 23 681 A2.

Your refusal to take the legally authorized breath test gives Arizona the right to suspend your driver's license for six months (ARS 28-681 D). The Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution—letting yourself—no longer a defense in breath test cases.

An civil action for damages arising out of detention or false arrest, a wrong, committed by an officer would have a Federal Circuit Court case to meet it. It was not reversed by the U.S. Supreme Court. That case ruled that even if a warrant of arrest were illegal, probable cause will justify an arrest.

However, let's not overlook the statistics prepared by Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr., REPUBLICAN of Michigan, comparing part of the records of Lyndon Johnson's five years in the White House to those of:

• John F. Nixon— 193 million under Nixon, 110 million under Nixon. U.S. Debt — 35,000 under Nixon, 20,000 under Nixon

• Cumulative bomb damage — 2.5 million under Johnson, 3.6 million under Nixon.

Spending — $69 billion under Nixon, $66 billion under Nixon.

And we say that we're winding down the war. Try and tell it to all of those who've been transferred from Nam to a place called Thailand.

All of a sudden... that $50,000 isn't so big after all, now is it?

Then why in the name of common sense should we continue to forfeit human life in Indochina? What's the going price on a life?

It's not just human life which is irrational, but how about the tremendous waste of our taxpayer's money, too?

Sleep on this one over the weekend... why did the Defense Department make a dozen films on "How To Brush Your Teeth?"

Now don't laugh, neighbors... cause this is the truth. And the governmental agencies are spending far more than the $35 million budgeted for audiovisual projects.

By John A. Spolski

For those who came in late... whenever an opinion is offered regarding the war, it is a charge leveled at the Nixon Administration... but, not about the knowledge that there are more than a few Demos taking part in their little "war games" in Nam, too. Not just the Republicans.

Take yesterday's vote in The House. It was 226-178, rejecting a directive to pull all U.S. forces out of the Indochina war by Oct. 1. Let it be entered into the records that 75 Democrats joined 151 Republicans on this... the closest direct House vote ever ending the war.

Longwood Has No Site Grant House Is 'Dropped'

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD—The old "Grant" house is now officially without a home to rest its weary timbers in this municipality. City Council Thursday night agreed without a dissenting voice that it has no land on which the old structure can be relocated from its resting place on busy SR 406 near Maitland Avenue in Altamonte Springs.

Council Chairman Eugene Jaques, appointed by Mayor Kenneth Brown some months ago to work with the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation in formulating plans for the restoration of the downtown section of the city, first sarcastically thanked the chief executive for the appointment and then proceeded to explain the city's dilemma. As reported in the "Around the Clock" column in The Herald some weeks ago, the planned site of the house when moved—a portion of the city's ball park—cannot be used because of a deed restriction. The "Clock" column item noted the fact that the city's ball field was deeded to the city years ago with a reverter clause reclaiming the land for the Episcopal Church when it is no longer used for recreational purposes.

The city does not have other land which can be used as a site, the chairman said, and it would be improper to take city taxpayers' money to acquire property as a site for the house. Neither Jaques nor any other member of the city government could recall having made any formal commitment to provide a site.

Councilman E. E. Williamson said the city has no choice since it does not have sufficient land while Councilman William Kiosky said it would be improper in any event to "deprive" the city's children of a recreation site.

Jaques pointed out as well that although moneys have been collected by the Society for the moving of the structure, he knows of no funds in hand to restore the house once it is moved. He added that while the house has been listed on the historic register, dependence on federal funds to immediately restore it is not a sure course. The chairman continued that the city has had applications filed with the federal government for two years for moneys for a sewer system and these funds are still not in hand. "The house could not sit in this city for several months without being restored," he said.

One citizen, V. Zoorynik, complained to Council some months ago that the Grant house "is a monstrosity" and should not be permitted to be relocated in the city.

Mayor Brown recommended that Jaques impart the vote to the historical society and the chairman said he would appreciate the chief executive's assistance in that regard.

Opinion Offered On Jail

By BILL SCOTT

City of Sanford may have to keep its jail to house its prisoners after all. This is the opinion of Florida Attorney General Robert L. Shavin, delivered by letter today to W. C. Hutchison, city attorney, in response to a request from the Sanford City Commission.

Hutchison sought an attorney general's opinion on the following question: "When a city abolishes its municipal court, is it required to continue to maintain security facilities to house prisoners arrested by municipal police officers?"

Sanford voluntarily abolished its city court effective Jan. 1, 1973 in line with judicial reform under Article Five approved by the voters.

In his reply to Hutchison's inquiry, Shavin wrote "Unless and until the matter is legislatively or judicially clarified, a city that has abolished its municipal court should continue to maintain security facilities to house prisoners charged with violations of city ordinances."

"If the city commission follows the Shavin opinion, they will have to keep a jail," Shavin said. "To enable the county to have another judge to handle the expected case load, agreed to abolish its city court and was in the process of constructing a new police station-jail on Marshall Avenue and West 20th Street, when Art Beckwith, county court clerk, brought word from a Florida Supreme Court Justice that cities who abolish their courts could house their prisoners in the county jail."

City Commission just Tuesday under the impression it would no longer need to house prisoners ordered the jail-station architects to proceed with a police station only and indicated the site for the structure would be shifted from Marshall Avenue to the downtown area at the intersection of French Avenue and Fourth Street, site of the present Jaycee building.

Secured By U. S. Student Loan Plan Tightened By Law

By JANE CASSELLBERY
The new higher education bill passed this summer by Congress went into effect July 1. This new legislation, while expanding the loan program from $1,500 to $2,500 maximum per year, has tightened loan regulations.

With the new regulations, the burden of determining eligibility of the student applicant on the basis of need and the amount of the loan is no longer that of the lending institution but rather the college or university.

Florida Technological University, for instance, in spite of low tuition for continuing students as compared to private colleges, has received 2,500 applications for student and the completely impersonal decision of one member of one of the three centers — Princeton University, Iowa, or Berkeley, depending on whether the student is independent, etc.

Many students find with the money they have been able to earn or receive from their parents toward their college education, they still come up short. If they are not fortunate enough to qualify for a scholarship, either on the basis of need, scholastic excellence, or sports ability, they may turn to the federally-guaranteed loan.

Peek had to decide whether Perkins was a calculating spy or a man deluded by alcohol into believing he could swap defense secrets for the freedom of American prisoners of war.

Perkins stood beside his three attorneys and showed no visible emotion as Peek delivered his verdict.

However, his mother, Mrs. Grace Perkins, went into tears.

Defense attorneys said they would present mitigating evidence and ask for a light sentence.

Peek convicted Perkins of possessing five secret documents, attempting to pass them to Soviet agents and falsifying an Air Force form stating he had destroyed the documents last Sept. 10.

Orlando Youth Held For Ambushing Cop

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — David P. Levar Jr., 17-year-old son of a city engineer, pleaded innocent Thursday to charges that he lured an Orlando policeman into an ambush on a fake traffic accident report, then opened fire on him.

Police Chief Robert Chewning said the teenager was charged with assault with intent to commit a felony after calling police late Tuesday night and reporting a traffic accident on a city street corner.

When Sgt. James Kilduff pulled up to investigate a shot was fired, authorities said, but the officer was not hit.

About two hours later, Levar reportedly telephoned police again saying he was willing to turn himself in at the same street corner.

Officers said when they arrived a youth carrying a .22-caliber pistol fled. They chased him about a block and subdued him.

Bond was set at $10,000 for the Valencia Community College student.

Nix 45-15 Year-Round Plan Schools Push 4-Mill Levy

By BILL SCOTT
With the 45-15 year-round school plan disposed of, the Seminole County School Board can now look to the November general election and the November for a four-mill property tax levy to construct new schools.

When the board Tuesday voted to rescind its April motion adopting the 45-15 school calendar, it also approved a request from Supt. John Angel directing him to re-evaluate conventional (nine-month school) funding requirements and update a capital outlay program, which will be presented at a later board session for approval. (Today's Editorial deals with this subject.)

Since 45-15 is no longer an issue, it is expected the conventional funding program for capital outlay (new buildings) will establish priorities for using the four mills, provided the county voters approve the millage request and accept the extra tax rate for their property to pay for it.

A. F. Keeth, board chairman, observed at the Tuesday session when Angel made his recommendation on conventional school funding, it might appear to the public the board is "wishy-washy" since it asked for the four mills and is now going to decide how to use it.

Dr. Stuart Culpepper, a staunch supporter for higher taxes for South Seminole school construction and one of the two board members originally opposed to 45-15 school concept, stated, "We need the four mills."

Jean Bryant, board vice chairman, advised the additional millage would not solve the school problems. She further explained at least eight elementary schools will be forced on double sessions next term and "more and more schools will be going on double sessions as the year goes along."

A. P. Buie Jr. commented, "The superintendent says 'win, lose or draw, we want that four mills.'"

The School Board turned down by a three-two vote a request from Seminole High School and Mrs. Bryant that seniors be allowed to leave the campus next year during the lunch period, if parents consent.

Andrew Bracken, school administrative aide and former Seminole High principal, stated the proposal was tried at junior high schools but dropped after parents complained of children engaging in sexual activity in parked cars.

Mrs. Bryant said the request is a pilot project only and could be revoked if abuses occurred but the proposal was defeated by a three-two vote with Mrs. Bryant and Buie voting "yes". Opposing the measure was Keeth, Culpepper and Ray Slaton.

While you have some leeway as to the height of the ceiling, be sure that the collar beams or joists are at least 2 feet below the highest point of the roof. The joists must be reinforced if there is an unusually long span of 10 feet or more.

To reinforce the joists, nail 1 by 4s supports from the collar beams to the rafters above the new ceiling framework. Knee walls can be anywhere

Replace the washer with one of the same size and put back everything in the reverse order in which it was removed.

Once in a great while, the faucet will continue to drip after the washer has been replaced. When this occurs, it usually means that the seat of the faucet — the part the washer rests on — is uneven and in need of smoothing. For this you will need an inexpensive faucet seat dresser, which will come attached to a card that tells you how to use it. The seat dresser takes the place of steel wool or a file, either of which would be difficult to fit into the faucet opening.

Pastor's Corner The Word Of God

By REV. JAMES E. MARTINEZ
St. Augustine Catholic Church

How vivid in your mind is the recent Democratic Convention that took place in Miami Beach? Do you recall the crowd of people in the convention hall and the relatively few who seemed genuinely interested in listening to the speakers? How many people were coming and going as the speaker's message was being delivered? Reporters were interviewing personalities, TV commentators were expressing their views, and it seemed that a minimum amount of attention was given to the person on the platform? The impression one could take was that the message was not that important. Could it have been eliminated or forgotten about? Or was it that the majority of people had made up their minds before they came and had no desire to listen to most of the speakers?

I think it makes us reflect somewhat on the things we have to say ourselves. Is what we have to say worthwhile? Do people listen to us? How often have friends or neighbors confided in us and felt as if all we had to offer them were empty words? Words like "Tomorrow is another day," "Don't Worry," "Every cloud has a silver lining," "Is it any wonder that they don't seem to hear us?"

Let's look for a moment at the number of people who listened to Christ. How many were so intent in hearing what he had to say, he had to move away from them like the time he got in a boat and moved away from the shore and spoke to them from a distance. On this occasion Matthew records in Chapter 13, he spoke to them precisely how he would be heard. "Whoever acknowledges me before men, I will acknowledge before my Father in heaven." (Mt. 10: 32) "Whoever gives a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is a disciple, will not lose his reward." (Mt. 10: 42) "Come to me, all you who are weary and find life burdensome and I will restitute you." (Mt. 11, 28).

The word of God cannot be ignored. If it means something for you and me, it will mean something for those to whom we associate. May we heed the word of God with all haste, care, and sincerity.

Methodist Confab Has Crucial Issue

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN
Copley News Service

Across America this summer, tolerant minded believers are gathering in what they call Annual Conferences of the United Methodist Church representing 10 million members. Laymen and ministers of the conference will come to face the issues current and uppermost in their minds. It is what they call the church in action. This is getting their direction and marching orders as they try to become the doers of Christianity.

The stress applying Christian ethics in the painful conditions in which we find ourselves as a world and at the same time do not drive for more vigorous personal Christian activity. Unlike most protestant denominations, which came out of theological controversies, Methodism arose out of a down to earth drive for more vigorous personal Christian activity. It began in the early 1700s, with the nonstop preaching of two Wesley brothers, among the uneducated, unexploited and under privileged. Their point of view was that of the experience of salvation in contrast to that of prevailing church formalism.

The movement probably would have remained within the Anglican communion, as did John Wesley all of his life, as an Anglican priest, had not the British church had not accepted for ordination the many lay preachers he recruited to meet the needs of those migrating to the new world.

The Anglican church also refused to have anything to do with their evangelical meetings, forcing them into the market place and industrial compounds among the working people.

In the American colonies the pioneering Methodists "circuit riders" followed the frontier westward, and as the saying put it, "The first human sound in the American wilderness was the ring of the frontier man's axe, the second was the preaching of the circuit rider."

With the stress on social application of the gospel, Methodists have customarily been at the forefront of struggles for labor justice, women's rights, racial equality, the abolition of war and similar social causes.

In England the Labor Party grew directly out of the Wesleyan preaching in the ghettos of England.

They affirm an open Bible, saying that it contains all that is needed for salvation and that the right of every man to have the freedom and the responsibility of interpretation.

practical efficiency in getting things done and not just talking about them.

In this country alone, this church has started more than 200 hospitals, numerous health and welfare institutions, 100 colleges, and is responsible for the second highest number of hospitals and schools founded abroad. The church's publishing house, Cokesbury, in Nashville, Tenn., is the largest such operation in the nation. Unlike most protestant denominations, which came out of theological controversies, Methodism arose out of a down to earth drive for more vigorous personal Christian activity.

It began in the early 1700s, with the nonstop preaching of two Wesley brothers, among the uneducated, unexploited and under privileged. Their point of view was that of the experience of salvation in contrast to that of prevailing church formalism.

The movement probably would have remained within the Anglican communion, as did John Wesley all of his life, as an Anglican priest, had not the British church had not accepted for ordination the many lay preachers he recruited to meet the needs of those migrating to the new world.

The Anglican church also refused to have anything to do with their evangelical meetings, forcing them into the market place and industrial compounds among the working people.

In the American colonies the pioneering Methodists "circuit riders" followed the frontier westward, and as the saying put it, "The first human sound in the American wilderness was the ring of the frontier man's axe, the second was the preaching of the circuit rider."

With the stress on social application of the gospel, Methodists have customarily been at the forefront of struggles for labor justice, women's rights, racial equality, the abolition of war and similar social causes.

In England the Labor Party grew directly out of the Wesleyan preaching in the ghettos of England.

They affirm an open Bible, saying that it contains all that is needed for salvation and that the right of every man to have the freedom and the responsibility of interpretation.

CONSTRUCTION is to begin this week on the new 7,000 square foot Westminster Presbyterian Church of Casselberry on the six-acre tract on Red Bug Road. Hopefully first services in the $100,000 plus facility will be held before Thanksgiving. Participating in groundbreaking ceremonies are one of the younger members, Sondra Polley, Rev. Lucas Grille, beginning his ninth year as pastor, and Steven Talley, past elder of the church. Currently the church is holding services at St. John Village Social Center. Architects for the facility are Michaels-Stiggins Inc. (Donna Estes Photo)

Mayfair

Last weekend, the Mayfair Mens Golf Association held its last tournament of the 1971-72 season. As it was, it turned out to be one of the best of the season as 45 members competed in the individual points tournament. Awards were given on Sunday evening after a hamburger feast at the clubhouse.

Ralph Penold captured first place money spot after finishing with a plus 12. The victory wasn't the only satisfaction of the day for Ralph. He also tied his best round ever. Ralph recorded an 89 which was the first time in breaking 100, let alone breaking 90. Looking on with much envy were the other three members of the familiar quartet known as the foursome—Foreman, Larry Albrecht, Rick Richard and Henry Tamara. Congratulations Ralph, and next time I hope you break 80!!!

Second place finished in a tie at plus seven between Ralph Simas and a new member Mark Hipps. Dr. Charlie Park was alone in third spot at plus five. Bud Richards, Earl Higginbotham captured fourth place money with a plus four. Three more players racked up a plus three giving them a tie for fifth place. They were Dick Mueller, Kirby Fite and yours truly.

Next month comes the finale which will be a brand new tournament for the association and one we all hope will turn into an annual affair. It will be a two-part best ball tournament deciding the club championship in this event. It will be contested September 9th and on that day only. Trophies will be awarded to the winners and runners-up in both gross and net categories.

Members should pick their own partners and obtain their own tee times. Score cards must be turned in by 7 p.m. on Saturday. A bar-b-que dinner will follow the tournament and wives and families are invited to attend. Election of the officers for the coming year will also be held.

Rolling Hills

With the return of Bill Munn, publicity chairman with the Rolling Hills Mens Golf Association, we can now bring you R-H fan news.

Last Saturday, the Chip Hawkins two-partner best ball tournament in which Ben Parkins and Bobby Stockman turned in a very fine three under par 69 to grab the low gross award. In the low net category, Herm Homan and Chuck Evans teamed together and turned in an adjusted score of 60 to win first low net money. Second place went to Chuck Evans and Dean Grove with a 62. Clint Dutcher and Don Williamson won third spot with a 64. In 67 and fourth place were Bill Carr and Dick Smith.

Sunday saw a mixed two-partner best-ball tournament played. Kaye and Freddie Taylor took the low gross prize with a four over par 76. Low net went to Don and Gloria Williamson who finished with a 66.

Fred Wolfe and Edna Gaily along with George and Phyllis Cardascia shared second place money as both teams ended play with identical 65's. With a 66, Bob and Betty Birnie won third spot while Larry and Barbara Priver and Bill and Barbara Brewer shared fourth spot with a 69.

Last Tuesday's twilight was a mixed two-partner points tournament. The nine hole event was won by Bill and Leola Cavery with a plus five. There was a tie for second between Ron and Lou Scott, John and Martha Franklin. Both teams finished at plus two. Third place also finished in a knot between two more teams. Paul and Cookie Claus, Lloyd and Babe Lenz all ended play at plus one.

Errol Estates

Last Friday, I was introduced to a piece of Florida that honestly looked like another world. Just North of Apopka there is a large tract of land that used to be the Perry Estate and is now known as Errol Estates. Without disturbing much of its natural beauty, some ingenious individual carved from it eighteen of the most beautiful golf holes I have ever seen and named it The Errol Estate Golf and Country Club. At least for the present, the course is open to the public but I doubt it will stay public for very long.

Construction is presently under way for a huge and fantastic club house plus some guest cottages. A few private homes are also in the making.

The golf course itself is not tremendously long but extremely tricky and hazardous. Stretching some 6455 yards, the fairways weave in and out of a dense forest and around lakes. The condition of the course is something you wouldn't believe unless you have played it.

Errol Estate will be the site of the Lady Errol Invitation Tournament scheduled for this year. This will be a professional tournament with players from the L.P.G.A.

As I said, words really can't describe the feeling you have after playing Errol Estate. You have to see it for yourself and I must certainly do recommend that you do. Every hole has its own character and strictly as my own opinion, the 18th is to be one of the most beautiful golf holes anywhere in this country.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

27—Addressing Sand Shots

The sand shot is the easiest in golf—but only once you've mastered it. The average player has trouble with it.

I have noticed that most people play the ball too far forward in the stance from a sand trap. The ball is up off their left heel, where they would play a driver or long iron shot.

In sand, the ball needs to be struck with a descending blow. You don't want to try to scoop the ball out.

I suggest that you position the ball the same place you would for a fairway wedge shot. That probably will be more toward your right foot than your left.

Exactly where is up to you. You have to experiment.

Don't rely on your memory! You can refer instead to Beard's advice with his book, "Shaving Strokes." Send for your own adrift golf copy of his 96 page illustrated book. Costs only $1, plus 25 cents for postage and handling. Send check or money order to "Shaving Strokes," c/o The Sanford Herald, P.O. Box 489, Dept. 227, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

'Morality Fats' Jim Carlen Uses Idealistic Approach

By MIKE COCHRAN

Associated Press Writer LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—"In some ways," a Houston writer observed, "Jim Carlen reminds one of the late Vince Lombardi, perhaps the greatest disciplinarian in football history."

"You can't honestly knock his idealistic approach, and you have to admire his guts for speaking out."

Carlen, entering his third year as football coach at Texas Tech, has shown no reluctance to speak his mind.

But aside from a confrontation last year with Tech fans, his vigorous, personalized recruiting program coupled with a hard set of rules attracted the most attention.

When his unbending guidelines were announced, a campus underground newspaper promptly labeled him "Morality Fats."

And, says Carlen, "I think a lot of recruiters from other schools have used it against us very openly and viciously."

On the other hand, he continues, when other coaches find a kid who favors such rules, they will sell those rules as if they were their own.

"But if a kid tells me he's an atheist and his folks go along with it, I don't ever say another word."

"I advocate not drinking alcohol, taking drugs, smoking cigarettes—12 months a year."

"We have mandatory class attendance until a boy has to go to any church... I just think a youngster needs faith. I think it's one thing a lot of young people are missing right now."

"If a coach says he needs me in his particular area, then I work it out with a private plane to get there... but you can't be everywhere at 8 a.m., which is signing time."

Alston, Walker Feel Reds Are Close Enough

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball may be a game of inches for some, but it's still a matter of feet for Harry Walker.

"We're close enough in the National League West race so that Cincinnati can bear the putter-patter of our little feet," says the Houston Astros manager.

American League results: Milwaukee 1, Baltimore 0; New York 1, Detroit 0; California 3, Oakland 1 and Oakland 3, Chicago 3 in a game suspended by curfew after 17 innings.

Tommy Helms, who played for Cincinnati last year, provided a big hit in Houston's victory Thursday night. His two-run triple capped a three-run rally in the seventh inning that broke a 6-6 tie.

Billy Williams drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single in a five-run fifth inning as Chicago defeated Montreal. Williams boosted his career RBI to 154 to move and second place behind Ernie Banks on the all-time RBI list.

"I'm not giving up on this race," said the Dodger fielder.

"Anything can happen," Walker said after his Astros defeated the Atlanta Braves 9-4 while the Reds were losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-2.

The Dodgers also chopped a game off their third-place position in the West. They now stand 10 games behind Cincinnati—posture that also is not the end of the world, according to Los Angeles Manager Walt Alton.

Prophet Charlie O. Seeking 'Exposure'

By MURRAY OLDFERMAN

Second of a Series

CHICAGO—(UPI)—When Charlie Finley was 27 years old, half his lifetime ago, he lay flat on his back for 27 months in a sanatorium with pneumonic tuberculosis.

In that idle period he devised a group insurance concept which eventually made him a millionaire.

"During those 27 months," he says, "I received the greatest education a man can get. I learned two things. One, if you have health and happiness, you're wealthy. Lose one and you realize how poor you are. Sports is my happiness."

"Two, the most beautiful things in life are free—fresh air, sunshine, water, and the end of the world, according to one person who'll say Charlie Finley threw me a curve or comeled me."

You will find people who regard him as some kind of guru because of his capricious conduct and the radical concepts he has suggested to baseball. His Kelly green and gold uniforms with white shoes are right out of a softball outfit (Charlie likes the colors because they go well with his red hair on three of his seven children).

Now other teams have adopted color schemes and adorn their players in form-fitting double knits.

"It's gratifying," admits Charlie, "because from the beginning I've been saying Finley was kooky. When you're kooky, you think your ideas are good."

So Charlie advocated that the All-Star game be played at night, and now it is. He wanted the World Series started on Saturday for maximum weekend exposure, and now it is.

"I'm a salesman," he says. "Anything you're selling, it behooves you to get as much exposure as you possibly can. You've also got to put enthusiasm into it, because enthusiasm radiates enthusiasm."

And so for the Oakland Athletics in the last couple of years, he has staged Hollywood's Mustang Day and Farmer's Day and Bad-Headed Day, among other "days."

17-Inning Stalemate A's, White Sox Settle 'Nothing'

By ERIC PHEWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP)—After a long night's journey into today, the Chicago White Sox and Oakland A's settled nothing in the American League West race.

"I don't care how long the game lasts, as long as we win," said White Sox Manager Chuck Tanner after the battle for first place that began Thursday night and was suspended early at 3-3 after 17 innings.

"It will be a real tough game," said White Sox Manager Dick Williams as A's manager Dick Williams said he was looking ahead to the 18th inning, which will start tonight and be followed by the second game of the crucial series.

Elsewhere, Detroit remained one-half game ahead of Baltimore in the AL East despite a 1-0 loss to New York. The third-place Yankees are only two back—when Baltimore suffered a similar 1-0 setback at the hands of Milwaukee. California dominated Minnesota 3-1 in the only other contest.

National League scores: Los Angeles 6, Cincinnati 2; Houston 9, Atlanta 6; Chicago 8, Montreal 9.

Pat Kelly put the Sox ahead 3-2 in the top of the 13th, leading off with a triple and scoring later on Bob Locker's wild pitch.

But the A's Angel Mangual, guilty of two throwing errors during Chicago's two-run second inning, hit a one-out double in the bottom of the 13th and scored on pinch hitter Gene Tenen.

Chicago's Gene Tenen, who had been in the lineup since he was 17, was the only player to get on base in the game.

Close-Out Of Zoo Discussed Again

By BILL SCOTT

If the Seminole Zoological Society is not successful in its drive to raise $500,000 to relocate the Sanford Municipal Zoo to a planned zoological gardens, then the present zoo will be phased-out as stated in the report passed two years ago by the city commission.

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore reminded four other commissioners of this during Wednesday afternoon's discussion over how much to fund the zoo operation in the coming budget, since there has been no word from the zoo society regarding how much money it had raised toward relocating the zoo.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer has led a campaign to keep the zoo, and he suggested the commission "let the matter slide" until information can be obtained from Clifford Nelson, zoo society fund drive chairman. This approach seemed to be satisfactory to the other commissioners and the budget talks shifted to another item — the city's closed swimming pools.

Commissioner Meyer advised if the Fort Mellon Park pool is not to be used, it ought to be bulldozed down. "It has been standing there unused and has become a red flag in the people's face," Meyer added.

Commissioner James Jernigan, parks and recreation department supervisor, advised it would be satisfactory to the other commissioners and the budget talks shifted to another item — the city's closed swimming pools.

cost about $3,500 to ready the Fort Mellon and Goldsboro pools for use. Because the admission costs bring in very little money, Jernigan estimated it would cost $17,000 to operate the two pools a total 120 days during the summer months.

Reflecting back on the zoo, Commissioner John Morris opined the city should do as much for the people as the animals and indicated a desire to use the $25,000 tentatively set for zoo operation another year to operate the pools.

City Manager W. E. Knowles, responding to a question from Commissioner Julian Stenstrom to explain why the pools were closed in the first place, stated, "it costs too much to operate them and we have had racial problems when they are opened."

Morris agreeing with Meyer,

A. F. KEETH, Seminole County School Board chairman, has been appointed to the Florida Council on Teacher Education in an action just announced by Floyd T. Christian, state education commissioner. Keeth was recently advised of his nomination in a letter from Christian to the Council for a three-year period.

Opponents Successful Zoning Request Is Denied

By MARION BETHEA

In an unusual move in which the applicant had requested a month's delay, the Seminole County Planning and Zoning Board, Wednesday, denied a request for a proposed zoning change from A-1 agriculture to R-1 residential mobile homes.

The property is located on 100 acres with 3,900 feet of frontage on Beardsall Avenue, and lying east of Beardsall Avenue, one mile south of 29th Street.

A petition was presented to the board by adjacent property owners stating that there is no suitable access road, and that with the present low density population area, the rezoning would result in the area being overrun with people and cars.

Brown told the board the applicant, who was not present, had requested the delay due to development plans not being completed.

Board member Richard Hanks suggested the board waive the six month waiting period for reappraisal and deny the rezoning. Brown said this was really unimportant, since the applicant could appeal the decision to the County Commission. Brown said the rezoning was apparently due to the fact of assuming this would be a routine postponement.

Chairman Robert Daehn contended this was "taking a lot of ground" and Brown injected it was the fault of his office in telling the applicant it would be routine.

One board member interjected that the reason many applicants request a delay is to get the opposition off their backs.

Brown recommended denying the request since the area density is one unit per acre, and Daehn noted the applicant has two recourses, reappraisal or appeal to the County Commission. However, Daehn said, knowing of the applicant's denial said it was due to access roads, density and the flight pattern in the area.

Board member William Kirchhoff Jr., who cast the only affirmative vote to postpone the request, said the land was a fringe-out Orange grove and that the county must look to use of the land. All of the land in Beardsall Avenue area, Kirchhoff maintained, will eventually be residential.

Daehn said there were drainage problems to be contended with and Kirchhoff disagreed, stressing there are drainage ditches which merely needed cleaning.

In another matter in which there was a continued hearing from June 14 on a request by the board for a proposed change to the county zoning regulations to restricting service stations, liquor stores or bars in C-1 or C-2 commercial districts, with certain exceptions was again continued with the only dissenting vote coming from Hanks.

Brown said the County Commission was still considering the issue and had instructed him to rewrite changes.

The board, who had requested a zoning change from R-1 residential to C-1 retail commercial on property fronting Crystal Lake Avenue in Lake Mary and on Wilbur Avenue, recommended approval to the County Commission.

Playing Hide-And-Seek? Suspect Skips Hearing

A defendant, Carol Ann May, charged with stopping and seeking with intent to defraud, is apparently playing hide-and-seek with the court.

The defendant, released on recognizance, was not present for arraignment on Aug. 1, nor was she present at arraignments held this week before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi.

Judge Salfi ordered Assistant State Attorney Claude Van Hook to report to the court next week regarding the defendant.

Her arraignment was continued until Aug. 15.

Also continued until Aug. 15 is the arraignment of James Brown, charged on a two count information with robbery with aggravated assault and attempted escape. Brown is the jail inmate who precipitated the recent grand jury investigation of the county jail. He attempted escape by a rise in which he requested a drink of ice water from jailer "Dusty" Rhodes and as Rhodes entered the cell attempted to overpower him by the king him with a rope fashioned from a bed sheet.

Progressive Baptists Set Confab

The Progressive Baptist State Convention of Florida will meet in its Extra Day Session at the Open Door Missionary Baptist Church in Eatonville, August 18.

Hundreds of ministers and lay people from various sections of the state including many from Sanford will attend the meeting, where they will be active in the day long program, which begins at 10 a. m. leading the delegation will be the Dr. James Carl Sims of Jacksonville, General President. He is also the President of the National Baptist Convention of America, the second largest Negro Religious body in the world.

The Extra Day session is designed to give opportunity to all churches in the state in the convention program. Personalities from various fields of endeavor will appear on the program.

Two Brothers Enter Guilty Pleas On Dope

In pleas held before Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew, William Patrick Kelly, 17, Winter Springs, charged with possession of cannabis sativa L., pleaded guilty as charged.

Judge Muldrew ordered a presentence investigation (PSI) and allowed the defendant to remain on bond.

His brother, Charles Kelley, Jr., 20, also charged with possession of cannabis sativa L., pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of possession of cannabis sativa L. in less than five grams, a misdemeanor.

Judge Muldrew ordered a PSI and allowed the defendant to remain on bond.

The state dropped charges in another case against William Kelley in which he was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny. Kelley was to have gone on trial next week on the charges.

All of the charges arose when the two brothers were looked on the drug charges after Seminole County Detective Raymond Parker stopped their car and in talking to the youth in the car a sack under the car front seat.

Further investigation disclosed eight sacks, all containing marijuana and a cork-cob pipe used for smoking the drug. William Kelley faced the breaking and entering charges and grand larceny when he entered a dwelling owned by Winter Springs Councilman Charles Rowell at 5 Algiers Avenue.

In another plea, Raymond Paul, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, pleaded guilty to the lesser offense of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor. Grand larceny was dropped by the state. The court ordered a PSI and the defendant was allowed to remain on bond.

One unusual case colored the otherwise routine arraignment calendar; Karl Trautvetter, charged with worthless check, pleaded not guilty on Aug. 8 to the charges of the hearing. Robert Rice, charged on a two count information with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Convicted Murderess Gets Life Sentence

BROOKSVILLE, Fla. (AP)—With sirens wailing and lights flashing, convicted murderess Marie Dean Arrington was carried into Brooksville by a heavy-duty armored car for a resentencing hearing Thursday.

She was carried on a stretcher before Circuit Judge D. H. Smith, who resented her to the death penalty on a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which outlawed the death penalty.

Flanked by armed deputies in the tiny Hernando County courtroom, Mrs. Arrington said "thank you" after the judge pronounced sentence. She then turned her back to a New Orleans drug store.

Since imprisonment at Rialto following her capture, she has been in the hospital ward complaining of ill ailments. Doctors, however, say they can't find any physical disability.

The life sentence is to run simultaneously with 30 years for escape and an earlier conviction for manslaughter in the death of her husband.

Nixon Given A Victory House Rejects GI Pull-Out

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has given President Nixon a victory and almost ensured a new struggle with the Senate by rejecting a directive to pull all U.S. forces out of the Indochina war by Oct. 1.

Thursday's 226-178 vote was the closest direct House vote ever on ending the war, but the margin was far wider than either backers or opponents had predicted.

After striking out the war directive, the House passed a $2.1 billion foreign-military-aid bill, 221 to 172, and sent it to the Senate.

There it faces the danger of getting the same treatment the Senate gave its own military assistance bill: approval of a rider cutting off money for the war in four months and then defeat of the whole bill.

The fight then would turn to keeping military aid alive on an interim basis pending official revival later.

The House rejected the Oct. 1 pullout directive after Nixon backers contended it would disrupt his efforts to negotiate peace—and his critics argued that only Congress can make him negotiate a prompt pullout.

McGovern 'Invading' New York

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George S. McGovern takes his Democratic presidential campaign to New York today.

Thursday he visits a shoe manufacturing plant in Manchester, N.H., and the Aetna Life and Casualty Co. in Hartford, Conn.

Also Thursday, the White House declined comment on a charge by Democrats, vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver that Nixon "blew" an opportunity to end the Vietnam war in his presidential campaign to New York today.

"Nixon had peace handed to him literally in his lap," Shriver is quoted in an interview, "but he didn't evaluate exactly how this came about."

The White House, meanwhile, said criticism of the news media will not be an issue in the campaign.

Questioned about press reports that President Nixon had given instructions against publishing criticism of the media, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "We have never had a plan to make the press an issue in the campaign."

The Defense Department stepped into the campaign with a bang by releasing a lengthy document implying that Sen. McGovern was engaging in "propaganda" in proposing drastic cuts in defense expenditures.

The study said defense spending already is at a peacetime level and that the planned outlay of $13 billion for the current fiscal year will be less in manpower and weapons than any defense budget since 1960, before the Korean War.

McGovern has proposed a defense budget of $55 billion by fiscal 1975 compared with the $50 billion minimum he thinks the Pentagon should have in other developments.

—Clark MacGregor, President Nixon's campaign director said in a statement that the GOP attacks yet that McGovern's $6,500 guaranteed annual income scheme "would kill incentive while it rewarded idleness, and while it broke the backs of the working men and women of America with skyrocketing taxes."

Tax Rolls Bounced By State

JALAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—One Florida county reported the value of its property at $4 billion when a check of the figures showed it should have been $41 million, a state Revenue Department official said today.

This and other errors in math, most of them minor, were the primary reasons tax rolls were returned to 20 counties without being approved, officials said.

Ed Straughn, Revenue Department director, said 20 counties might be able to correct them and get the forms back in time to be included in county tax rolls recommended for approval to the Cabinet at its meeting Tuesday.

Straughn said rolls are recommended for approval from 25 counties: Baker, Bradford, Brevard, Broward, Calhoun, Clay, Dixie, Dade, Duval, Flagler, Franklin, Gadsden, Hendry, Lafayette, Leon, Levy, Liberty, Monroe, Nassau, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Polk, St. Johns, Santa Rosa, Union and Washington.

Four were recommended for conditional approval: Gilchrist, Glades, Hamilton and Taylor. Straughn said the department had outlined procedures that should be taken to improve assessment programs before 1973 tax values are set.

Wakulla county's program was disapproved.

Father Returns Home Drop Sea Search

By PAT LEISSNER
Associated Press Writer

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP)—An exhausted Robert Gordon has come home with the hope that no news is good news after a five-day search of the coastline from Costa Rica to Honduras turned up no trace of his daughter, five friends or the catamaran Tapiti Nui.

"I guess the only encouragement is that I found nothing concrete to prove that lots of wreckage I viewed belonged to the Tapiti Nui," Gordon said Thursday night.

The U.S. Coast Guard abandoned the search for the 56-foot yacht reported missing last week after finding the wreckage of a boat on the sawtooth coral reefs that fringe the Honduran coast in the Caribbean.

"But I haven't given up hope," Gordon said. "I saw a cleat but how can you tell what that's from?" he said.

The homemade catamaran left Titusville east coast city June 1 carrying Gordon's 23-year-old daughter, Debbie, and five members of the Kim Powell family on an around-the-world cruise.

Wreckage and a body was sighted on a reef by a passing ship that did not stop, but there has been no trace of Gordon's daughter or the members of the Powell family: Kim, 59, Jo-An, 45, An, 20, Gina, 8, or James, 12.

The wreckage later was picked up by a British Honduras customs boat.

The Tapiti Nui left Coral Gables on July 4 for the southwest trek to the Canal Zone and an unkept rendezvous with Powell's oldest son, Kim, 55, stationed with the Army in Germany. She was not heard from again.

St. Petersburg sailor who may have been the last person to see the Tapiti Nui's crew alive said he didn't think the homemade catamaran was seaworthy enough for the round-the-world voyage.

Robert Halverson, a shipyard owner, said he spent some time with the Powells and Debbie Gordon at Isla Mujeres off Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula and later at Cozumel, another island farther south on the Yucatan coast.

Halverson said Jo-An Powell seemed to have become disenchanted with the journey and wanted to head for home.

"Powell may have been a good craftsman," Halverson explained, "but he was a poor marine engineer. Instead of the boat being constructed so that they would give lateral strength between the two hulls, they were completely independent of each other."

As the Tapiti Nui left port at Isla Mujeres, he said he noticed the engines and rudders were controlled individually and the girls, Debbie and Ann, each were operating one to turn the boat around. The entire operation usually is handled by one person, he said.

Turns To Congress Jax Fights Busing

By F. T. MACFEELEY
Associated Press Writer

Mayor Hans Tanzler turned to Congress today in a last ditch effort to prevent a 40 per cent increase in school busing in Jacksonville next month.

A request for a one-year delay was rejected Thursday by U.S. District Judge Gerald B. Tjoflat, who affirmed his June 23, 1971, integration order.

Meanwhile, a U.S. appeals court in New Orleans ordered Palm Beach County to use widespread busing if necessary to desegregate its schools.

An appeal probably would be too late to stop the Jacksonville order from going into effect with the start of the school year Sept. 5.

The order requires busing of 65,000 of the 111,000 pupils in the system, an increase of nearly 20,000 over last year. The school system has acquired 30 additional buses and staggered school hours to prepare for putting it into effect.

Tanzler said he will go to Washington early next week and urge Florida congressmen to specifically include Jacksonville in an antibusing bill.

"The only thing remaining that has any glimmer of hope is to try to get this bill through and make sure that Jacksonville is included," Tanzler said.

"The due process rights of a disruptive student must be weighed in the context of the needs of those students who desire an education and of the faculty and staff who endeavor to provide it."

Because there were no white schools near inner city black schools, the judge said, it was necessary to cluster schools farther apart to achieve a unitary system.

"In the absence of an alternative—and none has been suggested—it is obvious that the core-city black schools cannot be desegregated," Tjoflat declared. He said, however, the board could devise an alternate plan.

The order from the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans requiring Palm Beach County to desegregate facilities, school administrations and student bodies throughout the county brought praise from William Holland Jr., the attorney who filed the suit. The order was general in nature leaving specifics such as ratios of black and white pupils to the U.S. District Court in south Florida.

Probation Granted In Drug Case

In sentencing yesterday before Circuit Judge Roger Dykes, Nick Blundell was given probation for nine months, was placed upon two years probation by the court. Adjudication of guilt was withheld.

Blundell was originally charged with sale and possession of a narcotic drug (cannabis) and was docketed for trial the week of Nov. 15, 1971. He received a continuance in the trial, and on Nov. 18, 1971, pleaded guilty to possession of a narcotic drug. He was allowed to remain on bond during the presentence investigation.

The state dropped the charges of sale of the illegal drug on Feb. 2, 1972.

Sentencing of Gerald Mack, which was scheduled yesterday before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi has been postponed until June 26 to possession of a dangerous drug of less than five grams. He was remanded to custody.

Mrs. Janice Springfield To Address Lady Bankers

Mrs. Janice R. Springfield, vice president, Florida State Bank of Sanford, will be the guest speaker at the Central Group of the National Association of Bank Women, Inc., Aug. 17.

The meeting will be held at the Copper Top Restaurant, Lake Wales.

In order to be a member of NABW, one must be a woman bank officer. The National organization is composed of about 8,000 members and is divided into several regions. Florida became a region just this year and is the only single state to be a region in itself.

With more women bank officers than any other state, Florida also has the fourth largest national membership in the organization.

Mrs. Springfield will speak to the group on the scholarships that are available through N.A.B.W. and the American Institute of Banking.

She was a 1970 recipient of the N.A.B.W. Regional Scholarship Award and attended the National Summer School of Banking at the University of Oklahoma. She is also secretary of the Mid-East Group of N.A.B.W.

Also appearing on the program will be Mrs. June Berkmyer of Florida Bankers Association, who will speak on the Florida School of Banking and scholarship that are available through the Florida Bankers Association.

Deborah Brown And Kenneth Oliver Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Deborah Irene Brown was the bride of Kenneth Bruce Oliver July 27, at 7:30 p.m., in Friendship Baptist Church, Altamonte Springs.

The Rev. Harwood Steele was officiating clergyman at the candlelight ceremony. Mrs. Robert Granger, organist, presented appropriate musical selections and Robert Granger was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Brown Jr., 486 Lake Katherine Circle, Casselberry, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Oliver, 205 Eileen Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Church decorations included a bridal archway at the altar, flanked on each side with baskets of white mums, yellow daisies and tall candelabra. A white aisle carpet was used for the bride and her attendants and family pews were marked with white satin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of lace and organza, featuring a five-tiered lace skirt with gold-faded, ruffled, and edged with a high neckline and long sleeves ending in a point at the wrists.

Her shoulder length veil of imported silk tulle fell from a headpiece of matching lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses, white daisies and white ribbon streamers.

MRS. KENNETH BRUCE OLIVER

Mrs. Gay Andrew served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a long Navy blue organza skirt, white long sleeve blouse with chartreuse cummerbund and a matching picture hat in white.

Rice bags of pale pink tulle tied with white satin ribbon were distributed to the guests. Several friends of the bride, assisted with the serving and entertaining.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Fort Myers and other points of interest in Southern Florida. Their new residence will be in Longwood.

For traveling, Mrs. Oliver chose a navy and white ensemble, with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The bride's table overlaid with a white lace cloth was centered with the three tiered wedding cake, topped with white doves and roses, and flanked by white tulle cherubs holding two candelabra.

The groom's table was adorned with pink roses and daisies and held the traditional groom's cake and punch bowl. All appointments were silver and crystal.

Unwanted wolf keeps baying at the door

By Abigail Van Buren (1972 by Charles Tribbiani, N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 43-year-old childless widow. I own my own home.

A few months ago I was shopping for paint at a large hardware store and the salesman was very charming and helpful. I was obviously a woman alone, so the salesman asked if he could come by and see how much work my house needed. He said he had been a priest, but left the church, got married, and was now separated from his wife. He came to me several times, always after work—never on a weekend.

I called information, got his phone number and called his house. A woman answered. Of course it was his wife. I told him not to come by any more as I didn't appreciate his lying to me. He said he didn't appreciate my checking up on him, but he continued to stop by my house after work.

I would like to break off this relationship, but he is persistent. Should I just not answer the door? Or should I arrange to be away when he comes here?

LONELY BUT BETRAYED

DEAR LONELY: There is something worse than loneliness, and if you allow yourself to become involved further with this man you will find out what it is. TELL him you don't want to see him any more. And if he shows up anyway, don't let him in.

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine personally installed an extension telephone in his home with neither the assistance nor knowledge of the telephone company. This means he is paying nothing for the extension, while those who have extensions installed by the telephone company must pay an additional charge every month. I am this plain old dishonesty. My husband says anything is honest if you can get away with it.

What do you think, Abby? Please print your answer as my husband reads your column and thinks you know everything. Thanks. ON THE UP AND UP

DEAR ON: If one performs a dishonest act, it is still a dishonest act whether he's caught or not.

DEAR ABBY: I recently found out, quite by accident, that the man I am planning to marry soon is a widower. I love him, and the fact that he has been married before does not disturb me, but his failure to mention it to me does.

Should I bring it up? Or should I leave well enough alone? THE SECOND MRS.

DEAR SECOND: Since his failure to mention his previous marriage disturbs you, it's sufficient reason for bringing it up. Up to you, so.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 7-year-old son Billy. He is very jealous of other children. At his own birthday party he saw another child playing with one of his toys and became so infuriated that he tore it from the child's hands and ran to his room with it.

On a more recent occasion, I sent Billy to a neighbor child's birthday party with a gift. I later learned that Billy told the child that he couldn't afford to buy him a present, and Billy kept the present for himself.

Thinking such extreme jealousy is not normal, I mentioned it to my husband. He said Billy will outgrow it. Will he? What do you think? CONCERNED MOM

DEAR MOM: A 7-year-old child should be willing to share. Consult your pediatrician. Billy may need some early counseling.

DEAR ABBY: I have been to two weddings this last month, both in churches with receptions afterward. Many guests brought wedding gifts, which were in both cases piled up on a table, but not opened.

Is this something new? In the past, at all the weddings I attended, all the gifts were opened by the bride and groom in the presence of the guests. Then they were displayed for everyone to see.

DEAR H. W. J.: It depends upon the number of gifts there are open. There are so many that the bride and groom would be required to spend most of their time at the reception unwrapping, exclaiming and thanking. I think they should be excused from the ordeal.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Sand Dollar's Odor Creates Smelly Problem

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I do hope some reader can tell me how to remove the odor from a sand dollar that a friend gave me. I would also like to get rid of the bad odor this shell has—L. R. C.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those parents who should make sure their children are clean and healthy while their children are whopping and hollering in the streets, making so much noise their neighbors cannot even hear themselves inside their own homes—AGNES.

DEAR POLLY—I have help for Vera, whose dry cleaner has refused to clean her socked satin pillows that are filled with shredded foam. Open up a little of the pillow's seam and, if the foam is loose and not in another filling, wash with a mild soap solution. When dry, dry the foam as it is removed from the satin cover. The satin cover can then be sent to the cleaners, or some may take it to the cleaners, hang the scarf over the bar on the coat hanger and use a clothespin to attach the hat or cap to the bar. If pockets are normal, they should be changed during the season when the things are being worn as well as when they are stored away for the summer months. Only those that are a minute to do and any hunting for lost items is eliminated.—PATI

DEAR POLLY—To restore a shine to chintz draperies and bedspreads that have lost their luster, iron them with the right heat and steam. Use a good quality paper. Change the paper as soon as the wax is all transferred to the fabric—MRS. R. L.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite homemaking idea, Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people who wants life to flow smoothly, but harsh reality may intervene. Teach early that these are challenges that can be overcome, thereby making your progeny a more capable person than most. Give as fine an education as you can afford. Sports are fine here.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are particularly charming and charming today and should contact those people who can help you and whom you can help. Social matters can prove most profitable and pleasant. Get to bed at a reasonable hour, though.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you find some new method, you can get your life operating on a much more efficient and profitable basis now. Don't neglect the romantic side of life, which can be very inspiring at this time. Avoid one who is a nuisance.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Betty's neurotic marriage problem shows why Dr. Crane said sex is the chief cause of our human maladjustments. This daily column tries to help you gain the facts by which to avoid unhappiness!

Case U-559: Betty G., aged 27, has a severe sex dilemma.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I am the second wife of my husband."

"He is 20 years older than I am."

"And he has grown children by his first wife, who died 5 years ago from cancer."

"Since I was his private secretary, he leaned on me for advice after his wife was gone, and we ultimately fell in love."

"Three years ago I married him."

"And have been very happy except for one thing."

"I had a vasectomy after his first wife bore his 3rd baby, so now my husband is sterile."

"I feel cheated in not being able to have a couple of babies of my very own."

"So I have grown jittery and irritable."

"Finally, he told me it would be O.K. with him if I got pregnant by some other man."

"My doctor tells me this is not uncommon nowadays."

"He says it can be done by artificial insemination via a syringe or by donor insemination by actual sexual relations with another male."

"Is my doctor telling me the truth?"

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION That artificial insemination is a standard method, often used to produce conception.

But even after a vasectomy, the husband's sperm cells may be withdrawn via a hypodermic needle inserted into his gonads.

So artificial insemination may not require the use of sperm from some other male than her husband.

A few years ago, one of our medical journals contained a lengthy discussion of what is called "donor insemination."

As I recall, about 750 pregnancies were described in this scientific report.

Unlike the method of artificial insemination, the donor insemination involved actual sex relations of the woman with some other male.

These physicians would select what they considered compatible donors so the resulting babies would resemble both of the legal parents.

Thus, if the husband of such a wife as Betty were blond, then a college student of blond complexion could be picked as the donor.

I'm Serious!

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America... and I'm the chap who is getting hurt! Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend church school and church—MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right, just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes, sir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about it, we ought to do something! And we ought to start Sunday!

Court Stenos Irked Clerk Skips 'Pay' Session

By MARION BETHA

Clerk of Court Arthur Beckwith failed to appear this morning for a meeting called by Chief Judge Roger Dykes and Court Reporter Curtis Ellerbee to amicably resolve the differences between Beckwith's office and court reporters.

Court reporters from the 18th Judicial Circuit waited impatiently for 45 minutes, and then dispersed since most were scheduled for appearance in various courts throughout the circuit.

According to the spokesman at the meeting, Alan Dickey, Beckwith has refused to pay the court reporters under a state supreme court ruling for fee schedules.

The meeting was called for 8:30 a. m. and, after waiting until 9:15, Dickey announced it was apparent "Beckwith is not going to come."

Dickey elucidated the meeting was called by Ellerbee in an effort to amicably resolve the differences before resorting to litigation. "It is apparent," Dickey said, "the effort by Ellerbee is not going to bear fruit."

Disgruntled court reporters indicated to the press following the aborted meeting that they will file a class suit against Beckwith. Although conceding their positions may be in jeopardy over the legal move, many nevertheless alluded to the ramifications of an election year. (Beckwith, a Democrat, is opposed by former Small Claims Judge Kenneth Monroe, Republican.)

Beckwith bases his decision on the fee for the court reporters on a 1970 ruling by Attorney General Earl Faircloth. Faircloth alluding to state statute section 29.03 noted that the Clerk of the Circuit Court has no legal duty or authority to pay the official court reporter any per diem whatsoever for attendance at court proceedings. Faircloth continued that the duty as clerk and predecessor is limited to the payment of court costs in criminal proceedings where the defendant is acquitted or discharged without payment of costs on insolvency grounds.

Under Rule 34, the Circuit judges have adopted a schedule of rates and compensation administrative procedure and standards for transcript pages for the official court reporters which they state will be applicable to all cases, both civil and criminal.

The rate schedule for all cases is set at a minimum of $10 per diem (half-hour or less). One hour fee is $15; half-day (morning) $25; half-day (afternoon) $30. For a full day's work, the fee is set at $45. Overtime pay is based on $8 hourly before 9:30 a. m. and after 5 p. m. and after 8 p. m. at $10 hourly. Saturdays and holidays are 100 per cent extra.

The above rates are per diem for Circuit Court and chambers. There are additional rates set for per diem on depositions at $15 for one hour or less and each additional hour or less at $5.

Turner 'Revival' Raided By Police

CROSSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—About $78,000 in checks and cash plus a trailer-load of material has been confiscated in a raid on the motivational firm "Dare To Be Great."

The checks, cash and material were taken Saturday night as more than 250 persons attended one of the firm's meetings, described by Dist. Atty. Gen. Baxter Key as like a "tent revival."

"They had on badges, and teatners in their hair and everything else," Key said. The meeting was at a hotel.

The firm, a subsidiary of Glenn Turner Enterprises, offers a pyramid investment plan whereby members increase their earnings by convincing others to join. The Tennessee Supreme Court is expected to determine next month whether a state law forbidding pyramid sales is unconstitutional.

The case stems from the arrest of "Dare To Be Great" salesmen at a promotional meeting last November in Nashville.

At Saturday night's meeting, Cumberland County sheriff's officials delivered a restraining order issued by chancellor Scott Camp.

The order was filed after an unidentified citizen accused the group of creating a public nuisance and operating a lottery, which is prohibited by state law.

Asst. State Atty. Gen. Hays Cooney said he understood that some prospective customers at the meeting were offered as much as $400 or $500 for their participation. "Dare To Be Great" has operated in Tennessee for the past two years, he said.

The firm has been involved in lawsuits in other states also.

True story... the kind I like to hear, and pass along to you. It concerns one of Sheriff John Polk's deputies (Oscar Hedding) and this tale was told to me by Ben Chada Sr.

Hedding had occasion to use a public phone outside of Chada's store. He didn't complete the call and instead of only his dime being returned, he hit the jackpot... and a total of $6.70 spewed from the coin return slot.

Hedding took the money into Chada's store, stating that the money wasn't his (Hedding's), to which Chada responded that it wasn't his, either.

So, a call to the phone company had someone out to that location in less than an hour, and collected the "jackpot."

Proud of the action of both these men... and can't help but wonder... if the call had been to report a malfunction, would the repairmen have been there that rapidly or, come sometime tomorrow.

One good thing about the political convention ideacasts—they'll never be rerun during the winter.

A caller said, "you've" only scratched the surface regarding that poor postal service." "I mailed a letter to my daughter in Alexandria, Va. One from the Lake Monroe Post Office and then I hurriedly went in to the Sanford Post Office and mailed a letter to the same address."

"The one from Lake Monroe got there in two days while the one from Sanford took four days."

And you think you've got troubles, neighbor... A computer error gave Charles J. Friedl of Louisville more than he bargained for when he tried to renew his two Ashland Oil Co. credit cards. He received 300 new cards. The oil company asked him to destroy the cards. Charlie's a good guy... said that he would.

From State's Attorney candidate Jerry Gross... "I'll propose the initiation of 'night courts' so that those who are charged with a $15 traffic ticket, do not have to lose a day's wages of $30 (or whatever) in order to be in court." Makes sense... and I'm sure would be welcomed by the electorate, if not the judges.

What the auto industry needs is a type of a brake that will stop the car behind you.

WEATHER REPORT: Another high-pressure hot air mass will be moving across the country from Miami Beach shortly.

Whether Sanford property owners will receive a lowered tax millage will depend on how much salary increase the Sanford City Commission elects to give city employees.

This was evident during commission's budget discussion when Mayor Lee P. Moore advised he "is looking to a minimum mill and a half cut" in the city's present 11.3 millage (highest in Central Florida).

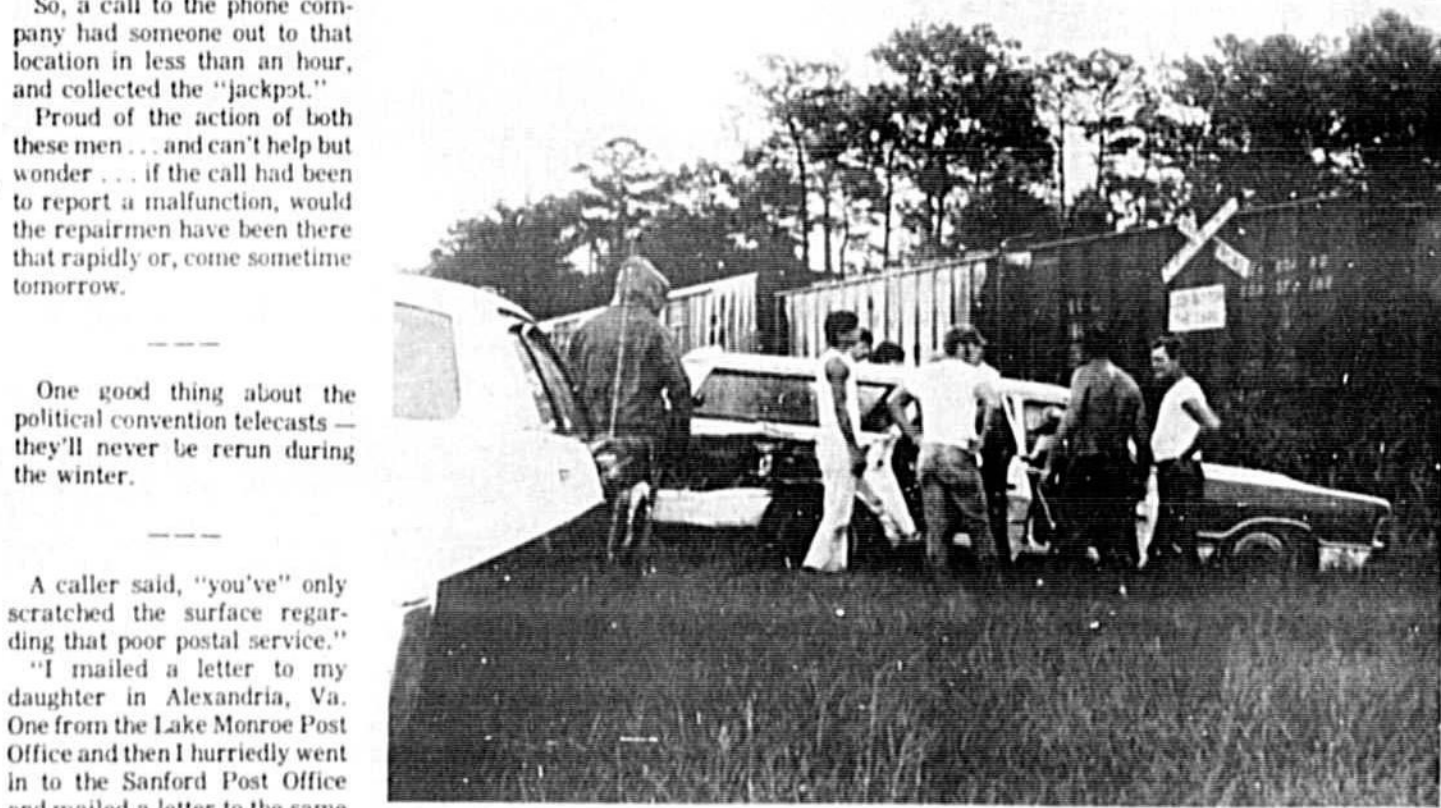

However, first-year commissioners John Morris and A. A. McClanahan have indicated that they can forego no millage reductions for property owners if city is to fund salary increases for city employees.

Commissioner Julian Stenstrom also favors employ pay hikes, but wants the main increases for workers who are "on the lower end of the pole."

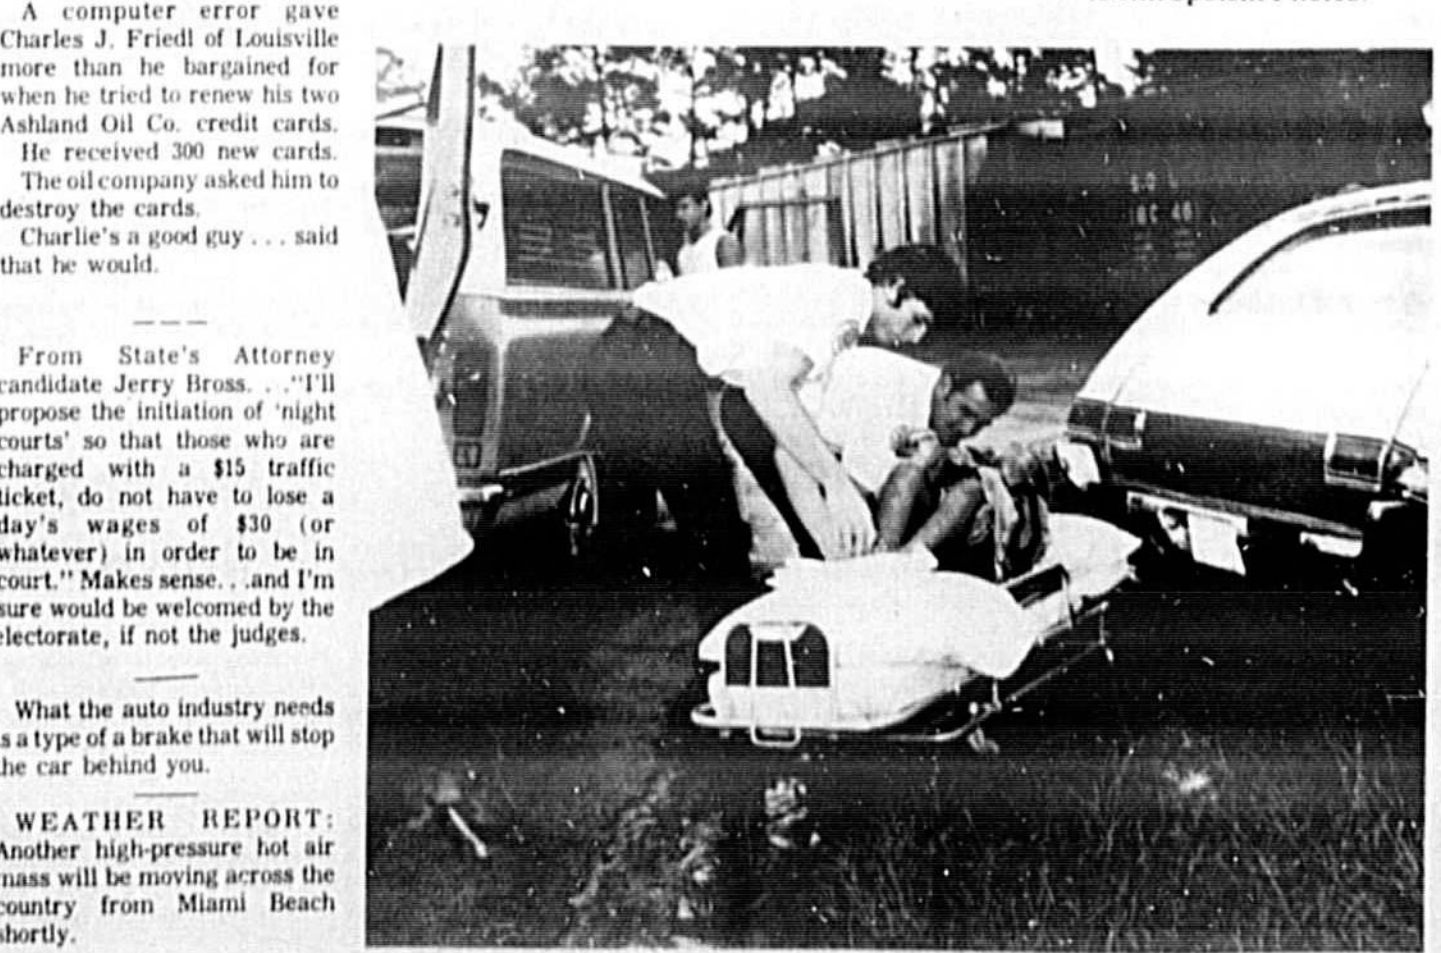

W. E. Knowles, city manager, is preparing two proposed employ pay increase plans for commission consideration at its budget session Tuesday.

Under these plans, the city manager proposed using bases of $93,500 and $103,000 raise amounts in considering salary hikes.

Stenstrom observed that if the commission adopted the plan utilizing $103,000, it would amount to a $1,000 a year pay increase for every employe. Also, if the higher figure is used, it is probable property

SOMETHING JUST HAD TO GIVE... Fatal crash—Geraldine Robin Cole, 18, of Southfield, Mich. was dead on arrival at West Orange Memorial Hospital yesterday morning after the car in which she was riding hit guard rail on Sunshine Parkway, five miles north of Winter Garden Toll Gate. According to Turnpike Patrol report, driver Michael O'Brien of Detroit, Mich. was not injured in the accident. O'Brien said he was northbound on parkway and as he started to pass another vehicle it changed lanes causing him to lose control, turn around two-and-a-half times before striking guard rail with right rear of car.

Annexation Delay Eyed At Longwood

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD—Formal action to call a six-month moratorium on annexation of the north U. S. 17-92 to the east and Seminola Boulevard to the south.

E. E. Williamson urged the moratorium in order that the city could provide quality water services to those areas already within the city's limits. His Council informally agreed to set its final boundaries at 14 to the west, Markham Road to the north U. S. 17-92 to the east and Seminola Boulevard to the south.

By permitting several new subdivisions to hook up to a privately owned sewer and water system even though the developments are to connect to the city's utilities system when it can provide the service. He called the permits a "serious mistake," causing the city to lose sewer and water connection which he described as "all gray."

Brown informed that federal funding for the city's planned sewer system, which has been increased in capacity from 1.2 million gallons daily to 2.3 million, should be received by Dec. 13.

position was supported by Mayor Kenneth Brown.

Brown said extending the city's limits further is "asking for trouble." He stated the city already has "missed the boat" by permitting several new subdivisions to hook up to a privately owned sewer and water system even though the developments are to connect to the city's utilities system when it can provide the service. He called the permits a "serious mistake," causing the city to lose sewer and water connection which he described as "all gray."

2 Flyers Believed In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two Florida men reported missing in a private plane apparently were forced to land in Cuba Saturday because of mechanical trouble, the Federal Aviation Agency said today.

The men were identified by the FAA as Richard L. Fague and John J. Brennan, who piloted the plane.

"We have had any number of light airplanes land in Cuba and we are never told when they will be released," said the FAA. Fague and Brennan were still in Cuba today.

Jim Frazier, FAA regional coordinator, said the mechanical trouble apparently developed as the two flew over Cuba along a corridor approved for use by aircraft from the U.S. He said Havana traffic control notified the FAA late Saturday that the plane had landed at Varadero Airport, on the northern shore of Cuba.

There was no report on whether the two were injured in the landing.

The wives of the two said they had been unable to get additional information.

"I'm just kind of shook and I'm starting to get really aggravated," said Brennan's wife.

Mrs. Anne Fague said the two men were en route from Grand Caymen island in a twin-engine plane to West Palm Beach airport. The failed to land on schedule Saturday.

"We don't know whether they had engine trouble, if they were forced down or what," said Mrs. Fague.

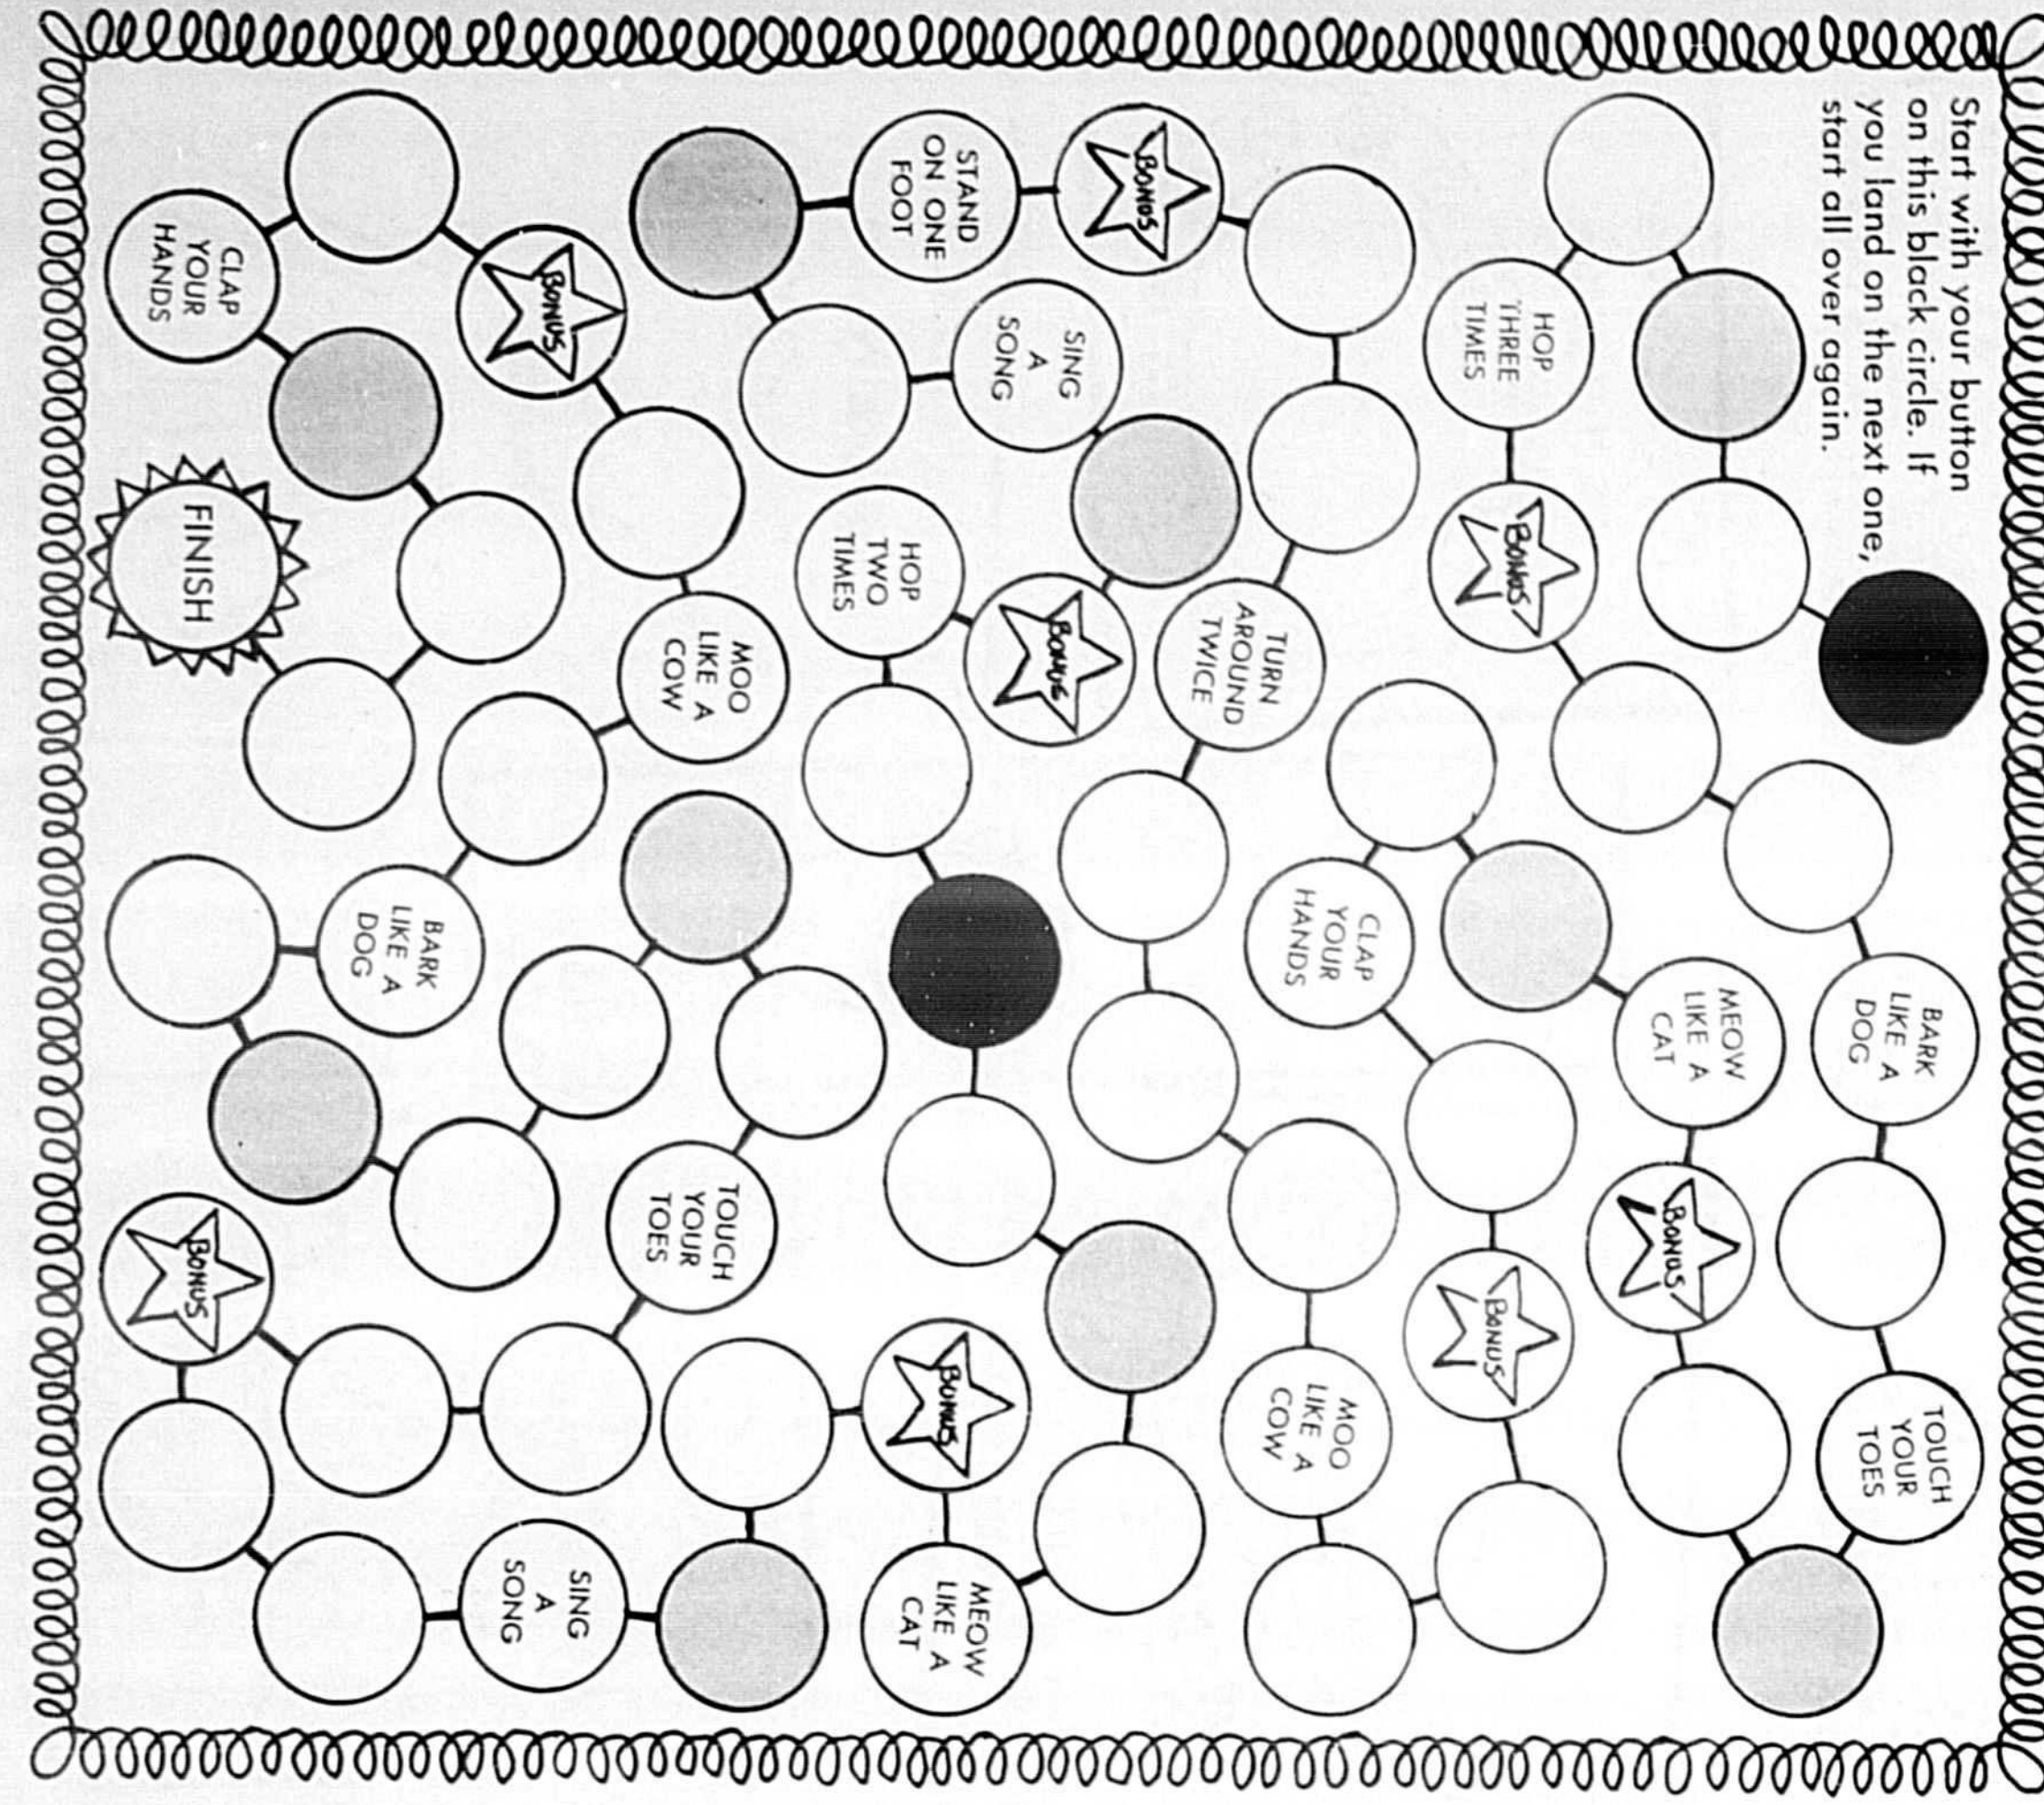

Fague, 45, of Melbourne Beach, and Brennan, 31, of Indianapolis, work for Twin International, a Melbourne-based audio visual programming firm.

Yours For The Reading

The two-day weekend was anything but a "day of rest" for The Sanford Herald news staff, as evidenced with the stories and photographs throughout the pages of today's newspaper. There's pictures at Friday's auto-train collision, a drug raid, storm damage at the airport, other automobile accidents, "Lake Sanford," etc. You'll find the local news only in The Sanford Herald.

TINY'S BUTTON GAME

Give each player an ordinary button.
To start the game, the first player flips a coin and moves 1 space for heads, 2 spaces for tails.
If a player lands on a bonus circle, he must do the penalty, then move his button back 1 space.
If a player lands on a bonus circle, he must move his button forward 2 circles.
