BALANCE

It is said of a certain friend of ours that he went off the deep end. Strange expression, that! It can mean that a person had a mental breakdown, or that he became a sort of fanatic; or it can mean simply that he got too interested in one thing to the exclusion of other important matters. And the very fact that our generation has coined such an idiom is indicative of the fact that we see such tragedy every day. One of the vital contributions of religion to life is its gift of balance. The knowledge of God helps a man see all else in its proper perspective. In a day when millions are caught in turbulent crosscurrents, faith points to the true center of existence... worship steadies the mind and heart!

FEA Will Fight For Salary Hike

First Things First, Burns Tells Teachers

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Florida Education Association isn't going to take Gov. Haydon Burns' warning he may not recommend pay raises for teachers lying down. Burns made the statement during a three-day convention here. He warned the 5,000 delegates, that it would take better-than-anticipated state revenue to get them raises. "You all deserve the raises to the utmost," the governor said, "but I am not prepared to recommend them unless we can take care of first things first."

Traffic Toll

MIAMI (UPI) — The Florida Highway Patrol said today seven people were killed in weekend traffic accidents around Florida.

Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union takes the wraps off its major contract demands today in top-level talks with the basic steel industry.

Cosmonauts

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russian workers today prepared Moscow's Red Square for a mammoth reception in honor of cosmonauts Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov.

Big Boost

PARIS (UPI) — Returns from municipal elections today gave a big boost to Gaston Defferre, the Marxist mayor who wants to run for president against Charles de Gaulle.

duPont Award

LEXINGTON, Va. (UPI) — Orlando television station WFMY was named winner today of a $10,000 duPont award for outstanding broadcasting in the public interest. A grant of $1,000 will be given to Rollins College center for practical politics at Winter Park.

Teachers Honor County Educator

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — George Dabbs, Bear Lake Elementary School principal and a moving force in the Seminole County school system, will take the reins of the powerful Florida Education Association at its next annual meeting. Dabbs was unopposed Saturday in balloting for future officers of the FEA and was named president-elect as the association wound up its 1965 meeting.

GEORGE DABBS

Robert E. Jones, of Ocala, became president Saturday and will turn the gavel over to Dabbs in a year.

Dabbs has been a classroom teacher for 13 years and a high school principal for the past eight.

Tear Gas Used

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. military headquarters disclosed today that South Vietnamese troops have used an American-made type of tear gas that produces nausea against Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam.

March Continues

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson, keeping in close touch with progress of the Alabama voting rights march, headed back to Washington today refreshed by a long weekend at his Texas ranch. The Chief Executive's sojourn away from his White House desk had him in an expansive, jovial mood despite pressures of the Alabama situation. Early Saturday, he called up guardsmen and assigned military units to protect marchers on the 50-mile route from Selma to Montgomery.

MARCHERS OFF EN ROUTE TO MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his "freedom marchers" struck off down the Jefferson Davis Highway under heavy army guard today on the second day of a historic hike to Montgomery.

National Guardsmen and Army military police units were strung along the route.

Today's assignment was a particularly tough one—to cover 17 1/2 miles over narrow, steep-shouldered road through Big Creek Swamp.

March leaders said they must make up the distance lost Sunday because of a late start. The marchers made only eight miles Sunday.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson stipulated in his court order permitting the 50-mile march that it must be completed in five days.

Juveniles Caught After 30-Mile Chase By Police

Two Lake County juveniles, trying to make getaway in a stolen dump truck, were captured Saturday night at Paola on SR 46 after a 30-mile police chase. They were taken to jail at Tavares.

A Seminole County sheriff's cruiser, driven by Deputy Fred Kelly, was damaged when it tried to stop the fleeing youngsters.

Kelly and Deputy J. Q. (Slim) Galloway, of Seminole County, assisted Lake County officers and the Florida Highway Patrol in capture of the youths.

The boys, age 12 and 14, fled from a juvenile detention home in Lake County. They first stole a pickup truck in Tavares but "burned it out" and switched to a dump truck in Mount Dora.

When the youths entered Seminole County, Kelly sped in front of the dump truck and tried to stop it but to no avail.

The boys rammed the truck into the back of the cruiser and kept going.

Galloway also tried to force the youngsters to stop but was pushed off the road.

Kelly tried once again to halt the runaways at Paola and again his cruiser was bumped in the rear. This time, however, the truck ran off the side of the road and its motor died.

Mitchell, 49, of Daytona Beach, went out of control on the exit from I-4 to U. S. 17-92 and tumbled over. The driver and four passengers were not injured.

Doctor Reports Narcotics Theft

A small amount of narcotics was taken from the office of Dr. Troy E. Overstreet in Casselberry over the weekend. Dr. Overstreet discovered the theft Sunday when he opened his office.

The physician said the thieves apparently knew what they were looking for as they took the stronger narcotics and left the weaker drugs.

State narcotics agents and the Seminole County sheriff's department are investigating the burglary and theft.

Now Is Time To Apply For Exemptions

New applicants for homestead exemption have been warned to file their applications now in order to avoid lines at the end of the filing period, April 1.

Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, county tax assessor, said today new home owners should bring their recorded deed or agreement for deed into the office for the first application.

In the case of a new resident, Mrs. Walker said, it is necessary for the head of the household to make the application.

Homestead exemption applications were mailed Jan. 1 to those persons who applied for the exemption last year and still owned their property the first of 1965.

Tangible and intangible personal property return forms were also mailed. These should be properly executed and returned to the tax office before April 1, Mrs. Walker said.

The law provides that in order to receive the benefit of the exemptions allowed, application must be filed each year between Jan. 1 and April 1. A penalty is applied after that date.

The tax assessor's office is open Monday through Friday 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Development Parley Slated

A discussion with Loomis Leedy, city fiscal agent, on proposed financing of the revised lakefront development project and a formal application for a CATV franchise by Jerrold Electronics Corporation head the agenda at tonight's City Commission.

A. L. Wilson will serve as acting mayor for this session due to the illness of Mayor J. H. Crapps, who still is confined to Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Other items of business include a request for a bus franchise, a sewer service fee complaint, a request for extension of demolition orders, awarding of bids on a refuse truck and sewer rodding machine, and first reading of a rezoning ordinance.

At 9 a. m. (EST) today Ranger 9 was due to be 99,342 miles from earth.

Calculations indicated that at 3 p. m. (EST) Ranger 9 would be 123,815 miles from earth.

Weatherman Has Decision For Tuesday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A sudden reversal in the trend of the whimsical weather today gave America a good chance to launch its first two-man flight into space within 24 hours or so.

A pair of medically certified astronauts named John W. Young and Virgil I. Grissom, a converted war rocket named Titan-2 and a 1965-model spaceship whose name was in dispute awaited an official okay to start the three-orbit voyage at 9 a. m. (EST) Tuesday.

The crucial "go-no-go" decision was in the hands of Christopher C. Kraft Jr., mission director for the inaugural manned flight, already 17 months behind schedule, in the nation's $1.35 billion Project Gemini.

If the word is "go," the seven-hour final countdown will begin at 2 a. m. (EST) Tuesday.

SURPRISE SWITCH A surprise switch evident in the spacecraft's bad weather behavior startled the U. S. spirits that waited in the shadow of Russia's upstaging performance by cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Pavel Belyayev four days ago.

Federal space agency officials said early today a weather forecast called for broken clouds at 8,000 feet at Cape Kennedy Tuesday — a considerable improvement over the gloomy clouds at 2,000 feet predicted just a few hours earlier.

"That would be great . . . it's very good," said one agency spokesman. At 8,000 feet, clouds are acceptable. But if they descend and remain below 5,000 feet, a delay is certain.

Weather in the main and secondary landing areas in the western Atlantic Ocean remained good through late Sunday. But that, too, was subject to instant and often unexpected change.

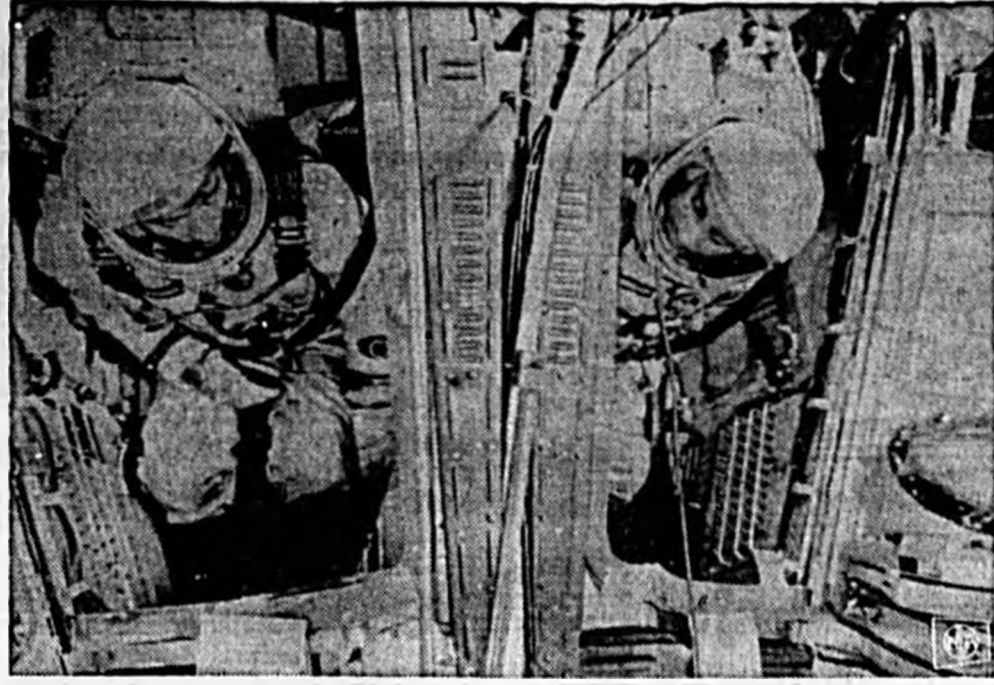

MOON PROBE PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists today decided to delay for 24 hours until Tuesday morning a planned mid-course maneuver to put America's ninth and last Ranger spacecraft on a more perfect path to the moon.

The scientists made their decision during a pre-dawn study of telemetry data from the spacecraft, which is racing toward the moon to explore one of its mysterious craters for possible astronaut landing sites.

The maneuver changes the pitch and roll in space of Ranger 9.

At 9 a. m. (EST) today Ranger 9 was due to be 99,342 miles from earth.

Calculations indicated that at 3 p. m. (EST) Ranger 9 would be 123,815 miles from earth.

Charles A. Williams Assumes County Job

A native of Kissimmee, Charles A. Williams, 22, has assumed the duties as assistant to Cecil A. Tucker II, Seminole County agricultural agent.

CHARLES WILLIAMS

Williams, who underwent a two-week in-service training session at Gainesville before assuming his local duties, has for his primary field of responsibility citrus, ornamentals and youth development (4-11).

A recent graduate of the University of Florida college of agriculture, Williams holds a BS degree in horticulture and citrus.

His college major was citrus production and his college minor was in biology. He has had practical experience in poultry, ornamental nursery, citrus nursery and citrus grove.

Williams, married to the former Alice Hooker, attended Haines City High School, Davenport School, Florida Southern College and U. of F.

School Science Fair Scheduled At Oviedo High

Entries from more than 100 science students in junior and senior high schools throughout Seminole County will be on exhibit to the public from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday when the first Seminole County Regional Fair is held in the gymnasium of Oviedo High School.

Exhibits will be judged Wednesday afternoon by a panel of 13 experienced and capable persons in the field. At 6 p. m., judges and sponsors of the fair will be honored at a steak supper in the school cafeteria.

Awards will be made in public ceremony at 7 p. m. Friday in the school auditorium with $25 savings bonds going to the six top winners whose exhibits will be entered in the state fair scheduled April 8-9 in Orlando.

Sponsors of the event are Wheeler Fertilizer Company, A. Duda and Sons, Inc., Chase and Company, Citizens Bank of Oviedo, Florida State Bank of Sanford, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Sanford, Dearborn Electronic Laboratories, Inc., Dynatronics, Inc., Heart Association, Musimite, Inc., Jack Brafton Electric Company and The Sanford Herald.

YANK BARRED JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesian workers today barred the American manager from entering a Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company factory at Bogor on the island of Java.

According to Velno, who picked up the two speeding cars just east of Osteen Bridge, drivers attempted to turn off Highway 415 at Lemon Bluff Road. Velno's attempted swerve to miss Richardson's car failed when he met oncoming traffic forcing him off the highway into the ditch, hitting the rear of the other vehicle as he went.

During the investigation, another Osteen man, Ben Joe, was arrested and jailed in Deland on charges of using profane language, creating a disturbance and attempting to incite a riot.

For the price of two good mules, you can buy a Fordson tractor that will do the work of six good mules," advertised Ed Higgins, manager of the Ford Service Company, in 1920.

1965 Tag Sales Up 50 Per Cent, Collector Avers

Seminole County is experiencing a boom in automobile tag sales.

When the deadline passed Saturday a total of 30,617 tags had been sold.

G. Troy Ray, county tax collector said this is an increase of about 10,000 over a comparable period in 1964.

Ray said the new office at Fern Park can be credited with most of the increase.

"In past years a lot of these people bought their tags in Orange County," Ray said. Approximately 6,000 tags were sold at the Fern Park office.

Osteen Drivers Face Hearing

Hearing is slated for 7 p. m. today before Peace Justice J. F. Peterson of Osteen for Tommy Shavers, 33, and Marie Richardson, 38, both of Osteen, on charges of reckless driving, willful and wanton, placed Friday night by Constable Irving Vaino Jr. after a 100-mile-an-hour chase resulted in accident involving up to $200 damages to Vaino's patrol car.

According to Vaino, who picked up the two speeding cars just east of Osteen Bridge, drivers attempted to turn off Highway 415 at Lemon Bluff Road. Vaino's attempted swerve to miss Richardson's car failed when he met oncoming traffic forcing him off the highway into the ditch, hitting the rear of the other vehicle as he went.

During the investigation, another Osteen man, Ben Joe, was arrested and jailed in Deland on charges of using profane language, creating a disturbance and attempting to incite a riot.

Safety's Foe: Apathy

The really blood-curdling thing about the figure of almost 48,000 dead in automobile accidents last year is the fact that most people's blood doesn't curdle.

They shrug it off, as if it were an impressive but essentially meaningless number like the distance to some star, a fact which they are helpless to do anything about.

Thus when an industry executive calls on the nation to prepare "with a full sense of urgency" for the problems of 1975, when the number of automobiles will have jumped from the present 72 million to more than 100 million, cynics may wonder just how bad things will have to get before Americans consider the situation urgent.

Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors, lists three major problems created by the automobile which will be greatly magnified in the next 10 years—safety, congestion and blight.

As for the foremost problem, safety: "It is a frightening fact," he says, "that even if we manage to hold the traffic death rate down to its present level of 6.4 per 100 million miles until 1975—when travel will exceed a trillion miles a year—annual fatalities would rise to above 65,000."

As for congestion, he points out that since the half-completed Interstate Highway system was begun, the number of vehicles has increased by some 18 million.

"As the project progresses toward scheduled completion in 1972, more than two million cars will be added to traffic for each additional 2,000 miles of freeway built—1,000 cars for each new mile."

And in the matter of blight—the automobile graveyards and abandoned vehicles along the nation's roadsides—the company is offering an annual award of $1,000 to anybody who comes up with the best suggestion for a solution.

The fabulous horseless carriage has brought rich rewards to this country and can bring even more—but not automatically; only if "we will have enough wisdom and concern to meet the changing needs and solve the pressing problems" that come with the rewards.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Some years ago Florida was governed by competent and comprehensive men. They enacted the $5,000 Homestead Exemption Law. They knew and realized every tax dollar saved would accelerate the economy because business needs cash customers. Even the Chambers of Commerce acclaimed the act.

Of late years Florida is beset by politicians who have been striving to abolish or nullify the $5,000 Homestead Exemption. They scheme to practically abolish it by raising assessments on homes so high (to full value) that the exemption is of little or no benefit to the home owner.

Most folk buy or build a home for the use they get from it with no thought of other profit (like you buy a suit of clothes); therefore, a home owner is a captive to be exploited at the will of the politicians. There is no escape from sales tax, gas tax, etc.

arette tax and all the other taxes. Increase in population has been a catastrophe because taxes have risen in greater proportion. In the past a rise in population meant more people to pay the taxes, but in our case it is just the reverse. Should the population of Seminole County double as anticipated the taxes will triple.

Seminole County is poor because it is small, about 300 sq. miles. However, there is ample room in it to house the whole city of New York with space to spare. Manhattan Island (about 21 sq. miles) has a population of about 2,000,000. It is therefore an absurdity to think we will be crowded with twice the present population. What Seminole County needs is competent management.

To illustrate my point, I cite a property in Alabama. It consists of 40 acres, modern house, 3 acre pond, good roads and modern schools. Tax on it is less than $10.00. Here it would be $250.00 or more.

It is distressing to see even the unborn bankrupt both nationally and locally. It would seem the Chamber of Commerce which is supposed to consist of most able business men would do something about it. They could at least find ways to reduce the budget instead of adding to it.

Editor, The Herald:

The players, coaches and students of Ovidio High School want to thank you and your staff for the good publicity you have given to our team during this school year.

To our loyal fans in our community and in Central Florida we wish to express our sincere appreciation.

Your enthusiastic support inspired our team to post the fine record during the season and especially in the tournaments.

We are proud of our record despite the heart-breaking loss in the finals of the state tournament.

Doris Williams, Society Editor

It was a great pleasure to meet you.

This is just a little note to thank you for your article. I was very proud to receive a "Springtime Salute" through your column from the Business and Professional Women's Club.

I really think you went "beyond the line of duty" in your article, and I deeply appreciate all the nice things you expressed about me.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The same Communist methods that work in Viet Nam could work in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East.

The careful blending of terrorism, tight, militant organization, exploitation of the weaknesses of minorities, and "promises" of social reform (land, credit, equality, freedom from foreign domination) can be as effective in Chile, Panama, the Congo or Iran as in Asia.

Ten worried officials who among them spent 20 years in Viet Nam and 50 years in the Far East on counterinsurgency and development are now working unofficially on a proposal to prevent future Viet Nams by "strangling" insurgencies before they appear.

Says one leader in this project: "In retrospect, we get into South Viet Nam three years late. We should have moved in during 1958 before the Communists built their strong political organization. We've got to stick there now at heavy cost."

Sometimes it takes the Reds five or six years to build an organization in a country, sometimes 10 or 15. This group of U. S. officials proposes that the United States pick 10 priority countries where the Reds have begun building underground political organizations but are still relatively weak and move in with strong four-year preinsurgency crash programs.

Targets for such projects might include Chile, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, the Congo.

The four-year preinsurgency programs would operate in four phases, average $10 million a year per country.

Phase I in each target country, the evaluation phase, would last three to six weeks. The Phase I team would consist of four ranking men.

The chief would be an expert in the country, important enough personality and so close to the U. S. President that Mr. Johnson and the host government would respect what he reported.

The second man would be experienced in intelligence and counterinsurgency. The third would be expert in government systems with knowledge of how coups are managed. The fourth man would be expert in organizing from labor unions to freedom fighters.

Phase II, the two-year technical phase, technical teams would further step up farm, factory and government productivity, and encourage wider land ownership and widespread, reasonable credit.

Then, these 10 countries would be on their own—the plan says — able to handle their own Communist underground.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Harv Morgan's show attracted thousands of phone calls from listeners who wanted information about love and marriage problems. But the Beatle craze among teen-age girls also popped up, so scrapbook this brief analysis. And you can have a lot of fun making the "giggle test" below, which I used to assign to my psychology students at Northwestern University.

CASE V-443: Harv Morgan invited me back for both his TV and also his 90-minute radio program during the visit of the Beatles.

On both shows, the public was entitled to telephone questions, which we answered immediately over the air.

"Dr. Crane," one such caller began, "how do you explain this mad 'crush' by American girls on the Beatles?"

"Why, the girls lined up all night just waiting for a chance to see the Beatles at their hotel window."

"And many girls even kissed the doorknobs and slobbered over them, hoping that maybe their saliva would be touched by one of those Beatle-est How come?"

To explain this form of mob sexual hysteria, let me ask you this simple question:

"If a 16-year-old girl is on the phone talking to a male, will she giggle more often than her 35-year-old mother does in a similar situation?"

In fact, you can also tell whether the high schooler is speaking to a boy or to her own grandmother, just by making the "giggle test."

For a two-minute interval, count the number of her giggles.

If she is talking to a boy, she will giggle almost constantly, yet she will seldom giggle while conversing with Grandpa! Why?

And when I address high school convocations, the audience will explode in far more excessive laughter to the same joke I tell, than will an older audience. Why?

Well, here is the main reason: the teen-agers have not been accustomed to romantic love during grade school.

Oh, they have felt affection for their parents, as well as for their siblings and playmates.

But that type of love is not the romantic variety which usually develops in the middle teens.

So teen-agers are suddenly overwhelmed with a stranger, diffuse form of energy that is generated by their maturing sexual glands.

All of this new energy is largely pent-up until they learn to channel it via romantic daydreams, or dates, etc.

But many of them don't expend all this rapidly roiling sexual energy in such sublim-ated outlets, of which giggles are a universal example. As a result, when the movie magazines or TV or even their girl friends focus on the Beatles, then teen-age girls get caught up in a nationwide erotic form of hysteria.

For romantic hysteria is actually very contagious during the middle teens. Girls then can be stampeded like sheep.

Boys are also in somewhat the same boat, for they also giggle and laugh boisterously and with excessive loudness, but boys usually channel off more of this new sexual energy via athletics.

For example, observe the Beatle fans and you will generally find that well-adjusted girls who have happy romances, are not likely to be pushing fanatics of the Beatles.

Older girls and women, too, have learned to channel their emotions more specifically on a fiance or husband.

The Beatle craze is silly but a good safety valve, so laugh it off!

DeBary Barracks Auxiliary Plans Card Party

By Mrs. John Leone
The Auxiliary to DeBary Barracks 1197, World War I Veterans, will sponsor a card party at 7 p.m., April 27, at the Community Center. Proceeds from donations will be used for the group's projects to aid veterans.

Plans for the party were announced at last week's regular meeting of the auxiliary. New members welcomed were Mary Harless and Josephine C. Smith and guests present were Mrs. Harold Peterson, formerly of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Helen McGrath of Waterbury, Conn.

New members to be received next month are Miss Hope I. Savage and her sister, Miss Clara H. Savage, hostesses at this time will be Evelyn Daick, Helen Donlon, Anne Dempsey, Nan Edwards and Magie Dungan.

Bear Lake Club Wins Rug Making Honors

By Maryann Miles
In Bear Lake a group of eight women have formed a "Hobby Club of Hooking" (rug making) and two of their members have brought the club highest honors by winning first and second place in the hooked rug division at the Central Florida Exposition in Orlando.

First place winner was Mrs. Helen Cockley, who also won a first prize on a chair cover. Entering the second place winning rug was Mrs. Dorothy Walton.

Mrs. Cockley, whose 36 1/2 square-foot rug is hooked in wool, said it was in the making from three to four hours a day for nearly three months. She chose and laid out her designs very carefully before drawing them on burlap, the first step in rug making procedure. In the center is a little red house which was copied from a friend's wall paper. It is circled by a pair of Pennsylvania Dutch birds, taken from a poster and done in yellow; a cluster of white daisies and a grouping of pear, cherries and plums in yellow, red and purple. Overall background color is in shades of brown and rich tan.

After the design was chosen and drawn, Mrs. Cockley began dyeing materials for the rug. The wool is boiled in color or vat then placed in vinegar and water and boiled again which results in a small amount of shrinkage. After dyed and dried, it is put through the cutter which makes four strips at a time. If handmade hooked rugs, Mrs. Cockley says, are valued at more than $10 per square foot.

Members of the hobby club meet once each three or four weeks at the various homes with each bringing her rug frames and hook

Scientists Learning Of 'Secrets Of Life'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Scientists who just for the fun of it want to master the chemical secrets of life were greatly stimulated today by the first complete taking apart of a nucleic acid.

A few had begun to wonder if it could be done. Now they know—and it meant to them that if one could be made to yield the secret of how it was constructed, all the other nucleic acids could be copied by determined and hard-working scientists into doing likewise.

These nucleic acids are the very essence of life. They carry the hereditary recipes for the "making" of all organisms from one generation to the next, and then provide the priming chemical energy which both "makes" and operates the organisms in all their presently uncountable complexities.

Dr. Robert W. Holley and his associates at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., took apart one of the smallest—the nucleic acid which picks up the amino acid, alanine, from the pool of raw materials and transfers it to the site where body chemistry is constructing a protein molecule.

It is one of the Ribonucleic Acids (RNA) and there are a considerable though presently unknown number in this "transfer" variety. There is at least one and probably several for each of the 20 amino acids which are the chemical building blocks for the protein molecules which carry out all phases of the chemistry of life whatever its form.

Alanine RNA, it turned out, is a chain with 77 links. Each link is a complex compound called a nucleotide. They are linked together repetitiously, in series of twos and threes interspersed with singletons. The scientists identified each nucleotide specifically, both as to its chemical nature and its place in the chain.

Now they know the structure but not the shape of this extremely tiny life-giving molecule which by the highest magnification of the electron microscope is barely distinguishable.

It is known that the chains of all the nucleic acids are twisted in positions where their individual units are aligned, thus forming a "code" that contains their chemical activating know-how. This "code" remains to be broken.

Tribe Hosts Colonial Tuesday

Seminole High School baseball team returns to action here Tuesday at 4 p.m. against Colonial.

Catch Jim McCoy's team will be seeking its second victory of the season. The Seminoles failed in two attempts last week to defeat Orlando teams.

They battled Evans to a 3-3 deadlock in eight innings and lost to Boone, 5-4, in a game played in Sanford.

McCoy has been plagued with pitching problems and had to resort to using Shortstop Ron Hinson in the game against Boone.

No. 1 pitcher Eddie Fitzgerald has been bothered by arm trouble and Righthander Jim Eldridge suffered an ankle injury.

Ron Dudley and Ray Pivec are the other pitchers who have seen action so far this spring. It was uncertain today who would be starting Tuesday.

Hinson will be back at his shortstop spot against Colonial. Bill Kuykendall will be at second, Sonny Messer in left, Steve Harris catching, Bernie Barbour at third, Jim Ervin at first, Danny Tillis in rightfield and Chuck Scott in center.

Oviedo-Lyman Tilt Rained Out

The Oviedo-Lyman baseball game, scheduled Saturday afternoon, was postponed because of rain.

Coch Paul Mikler said no date had been set for the two teams to make up the contest. Oviedo's next game will be played here Friday against Kissimmee.

Chip$ And Quips Not Enough For Golf Ace

By Tom Tiede
NEW YORK (NEA)—Golf-er Paul Hahn is a nice fellow but the caddies hate him. He's got this seven-pound driver, see, and a 90-pound bag and, well, just thinking about it is enough to send any carrier to an early 19th hole.

Hahn, of course, is a trick shot performer. The Ace of Clubs they call him; a putting prastidigator who, instead of sawing women in half, mesmerizes the audience by batting balls off their lips.

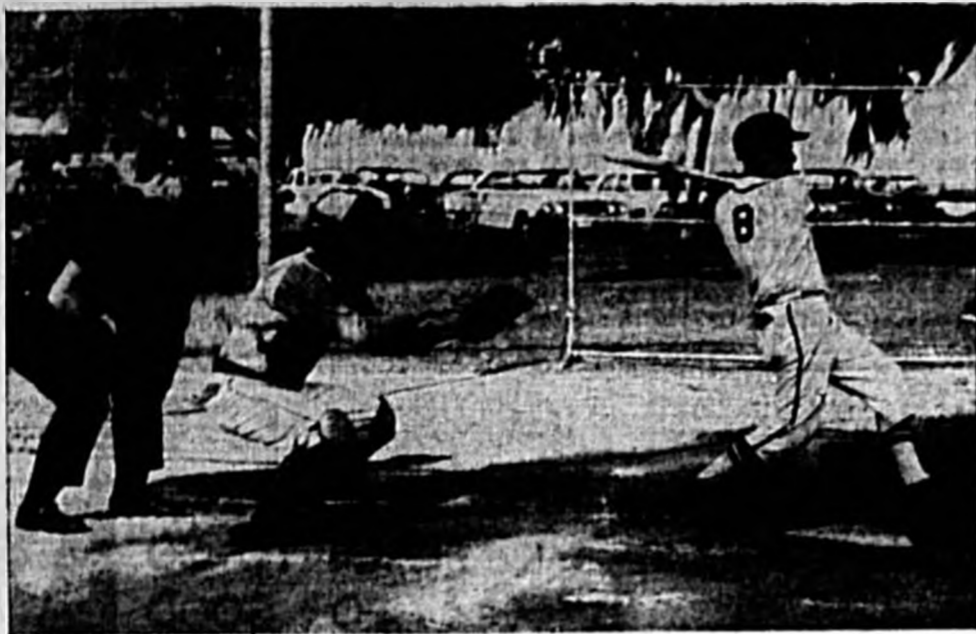

He used to be a touring pro. And he used to be broke. But everything's swinging for him now, so to speak, and after 18 years of quips and chips in 87 countries he works only seven of 12 months, earns a six figure income, wears a permanent shade of Florida and, at 46, plays to a scratch handicap.

But is he satisfied? Yuki! This guy wouldn't be satisfied with Arnold Palmer's money and Tony Lama's old datebook. He'd fault a hole-in-one if the divot ailed.

He has, in other words, much more in his bag of tricks than the crazy sticks he uses in his six-show-a-week act. Recently, for instance, he pulled out a new book called "How to Play the Trouble Shots" and thereupon landed himself in a literary speculation sandtrap that few writers and fewer golfers ever blast out of.

Books about golf are greeted by the public with the same enthusiasm as burnt toast. General reaction from paperback merchants who are still trying to get rid of first editions from Walter Hagen is: so what?

"So," responds Hahn, "other golf books have been ghost-written, sketchy and generalized. I wrote my own, it's as complete as a lifetime's experience can make it and I believe it answers specific CATCHER STEVE HARRIS of Seminole High baseball team takes swing at ball during early action in SHS-Boone baseball game. The Seminoles lost out to the Braves, 5-4, in the conference contest.

Pirates Perfect 'Dark Horse'

FORT MYERS (UPI) — If you're looking for the perfect dark horse in the National League, pick the Pittsburgh Pirates, because nobody else is.

Harry (The Hat) Walker, the club's new manager, likes it that way. He'd rather surprise the experts and he's a cinch to do it if he can boost the Pirates from their sixth place tie of last year into contention this year. If he can accomplish that, he's also a cinch to win a lot of votes as manager of the year.

Two of the chief reasons no one is expecting much from the Pirates is because their star outfielder, Roberto Clemente, will miss most, if not all, of spring training due to malaria and because, outside of obtaining veteran catcher Del Crandall from the Giants, the club stood pat during the winter.

Walker insists the Pirates will be improved. He doesn't promise they'll win the pennant this year, but he does promise they'll play heads-up baseball.

"I can guarantee our club will be alert," he says. "We'll be running hard and making the other teams hurry. That way, the other club might throw the ball away."

Walker is well aware how much Clemente means to the Pirates and he's hoping he'll be in right field on opening day, but he's also reconciled to the possibility the club will have to go without his services for a while.

Clemente, who led the League with a .339 batting average last year, suffered a freak accident in his native Puerto Rico this winter while mowing his lawn. A small pebble which was picked up by the mower struck him on his hip and infection set in. Then he was felled by malaria, lost 20 pounds and required hospitalization. The doctors say Clemente may be able to join the Pirates Thursday when spring training will be more than two-thirds over.

UCLA Favored In NCAA Play

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — UCLA, winner of 30 straight last season and 26 out of 28 this year, was handed the uneasy role of favorite today for its second straight NCAA basketball championship.

Coch Johnny Wooden's ball-hawking crew, rated a notch behind No. 1 Michigan in the season's final UPI coaches' poll, was picked by a large number of coaches here to become the fifth team to win two titles in a row since the playoffs began in 1939.

Her total, thanks to a record second-round 66, was 281. Miss Whitworth went into the final round with a five stroke lead, but saw that cut to three strokes on the front nine as Sandra Haynie, a fellow Texan, shot a 35 to Miss Whitworth's 39.

But the winner came home with a sparkling 35 to pick up the first-place check of $1,500.

Miss Haynie, who started the day seven strokes back of Miss Whitworth, finished with one of the only two even-par 72s of the day and wound up four strokes behind in second place. She collected $1,200.

Marilyn Smith, who shot an opening round 68 for the lead, finished with a 75 Sunday for a 287 total and $1,000 for third place.

Finishing fourth was Mickey Wright with a 74-288. Mary Mills of Gulfport, Miss., who had the other par round, and Ruth Jensen of Bonnell, Calif., finished in a two-way tie for fifth place at 289.

Those devilish Dodge Boys are dealing again!

Lyman 9 Fails In Support Of Pitching Ace

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Despite a superb pitching performance by sophomore Mark Brewer the Lyman Greyhounds were beaten 2-0 by New Smyrna Beach Friday night.

Brewer scattered eight hits in five innings, yielding two runs. Only one of them was earned. But the Hounds were able to muster only one hit, a single by Allen Currens in the fourth inning, off the Barracudas' Bob Reichel. Reichel struck out 11 Greyhounds.

Brewer fanned two and Charles Newell who hurled the last inning for the Hounds, also struck out two. Neither of the Greyhound pitchers walked a man during the game. The Lyman mound staff has yet to issue a free pass this season.

New Smyrna Beach got the breaks in a tight ball game, putting across runs in both the third and fourth frames. Steve Biers was the hitting star for NSB, slamming a double, the only extra base blow off the stingy pitching of Brewer.

Coach Jim Payne of Lyman plans to send Steve Simpkins to the mound again tomorrow afternoon at Leesburg in the Hounds second Orange Belt Conference tilt.

Simpkins pitched Lyman to victory in the initial OBC affair 10-3 over Wildwood. The Hounds will play at DeLand Friday.

Houk Elected

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) General Manager Ralph Houk was elected Sunday to the board of directors of the New York Yankees, replacing Del Webb, who sold his interests in the club recently.

Also on the Yankee board are club President Dan Topping and William S. Paley, Dr. Frank Stanton and Michael Burke of CBS.

"BLACKIE," a mutt if there ever was one, brought a big smile to his owner, Robbie Sharps, when the pooch captured the fifth race of the Jaycees-sponsored Mutt Derby at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club Sunday. More than 1,000 turned out for the annual fun event.

M. Wiltshire Takes Honors

Marshall Wiltshire had his hand pounding the strike zone as he took high game honors in the Businessmen's League at Jet Lanes with a 219/658 which helped Mason's Men to a two game split with Lance Crackers. George Mason was on the beam to land Marshall a hand with a 104/552. Lance Crackers had a triumvirate of sharpshooters in Al Chiglin with 201/629, John Fischer with 163/546 and Smilin' Jack Kanner with 203/651.

Vergil Vaughn proved his high series in the recent City Tournament was no fluke as he pounded the pins to the tune of a 213/577 while pacing H.H. Products to a three game romp over Pinecrest. Liggett Rexall, John Martin also scored well for H.H. with a 186/610 and Jim Hussard was the mainstay for the Druggists with 195/513.

Rex Liquors had a trio of "gunners" in Dutch Unger with 204/610, Clarence Wallis with 184/617 and Ray Robinson with 196/519 as they zeroed in on Ben Ward Realty for a four point sweep that moved them into third place in league standings. The Autometrics team and Glass-Met team split their match as high scores were recorded by Gellner with 182/504, Doug Owens with a 203 game and Doc Hunnell with a lofty 181/503.

In another league match the H.H. Products "B" team clipped the Atlantic Coast Line team for a three and one-half point loss. Wall Plumbing and Heating took the measure of the Ratphines despite a steady 184/626 by Jolite Joe Summers. Ralph Betts rolled 194/633 for Dick's Appliance in a valiant effort but the better balanced WTRR team came through with a three point win.

The first place man encountered real trouble in Gerald Behrens and could salvage only a point and a half despite a 223/741. We're talking about John Bridges who has led the pack since early in the season. Gerald notched a 206/721 while picking up his two and one-half points. Harry Pentecost grabbed a three point win from Hubert Ray but lost ground because the "bombers" were picking up pinfall points on him. Harry rolled a 727 set to Hubert's 644.

British Daredevil Sets Speed Record

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—One British daredevil set a speed record and another repeated as a winner Sunday as they grabbed firsts in major motorcycle races here. Phil Road, driving a Japanese Yamaha, shattered a track record in winning an 80-mile race for 250 cubic centimeter bikes. Road, of Bedford, England, took the lead right after the starting flag dropped and pushed his Yamaha to an average speed of 97.5 miles per hour to win by nearly a lap. The old speed record was 91.1 m.p.h.

Another Britisher, Mike Hillwood, of Oxford, won the 120-mile race for 500cc machines over the International Speedway's 3.1-mile course. He finished with an average speed of 99.6 miles per hour. Hillwood, the defending champion, won by nearly two laps. He was followed across the line by Californian Buddy England, finished second behind Road in the 250cc race. Mike Duff of Berkshire, England, drove another Yamaha.

Kanner, Spolski Win In Classics

Jack Kanner and John Spolski each won three games from their opponents while rolling 800 plus series to move into a second place tie and only three points out of first place in the Singles Classics.

Jack rolled 286/848 against Phil Roche who came through with a respectable 205/778. John hit 265/835 against W. A. Ward who tallied a 637 total.

The first place man encountered real trouble in Gerald Behrens and could salvage only a point and a half despite a 223/741. Model Meeting Honors Theta Epsilon Rushees

President-elect Jan Cahill was honored recently at her Lake Minnie Drive home to a "model meeting" for the rushees of Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Nancy Reynolds and Faye Stetson conducted a most unusual program on "Nature." Nancy and her husband were hunting recently and their dog accidentally killed a mamma raccoon. The sympathetic Reynolds took the young raccoon, whom they christened Gertrude, into their home and the new addition receives the meticulous care of an infant—formula, pacifier and the works. Gertrude provided delightful and hilarious entertainment for the chapter members.

The "Girl of the Year" was elected at the Founders Day banquet, April 30.

Kay Lee, membership chairman, and Mona Walker, past president, gave the rushees a brief history of Beta Sigma Phi.

The rushees were particularly impressed with slides shown by Betty Lewis of the various activities and social side of the Chapter.

Rushees attending the meeting were the Meses. Joyce Sammet, Eleanor Anderson, Pam Cooper, Gail Rosolsky, Jean Dunn, Rita Gallagher and Joan Moore.

Members in attendance were the Meses. Jan Cahill, Betty Erickson, Faye Stetson, Nancy Reynolds, Pat Helms, Sharon Davis, Joanne Bohannon, Dixie Jennings, Sherry Bolte, Betty Lewis, Betty McKee, Barbara Dekle, Kay Lee and Mona Walker.

Oviedo Garden Club Tours Historical DeBary Mansion

By Evelyn Landy
A field trip was enjoyed Tuesday, when 11 members of the Oviedo Garden Club drove over to the DeBary Mansion. A tour of the mansion, conducted by Mrs. Edith Brooks, president of Florida Federation of Art, Inc., was both fascinating and interesting.

1000 acres which made up his estate. He lavishly entertained great celebrities of his day including Presidents Grant and Cleveland, the Astors, the Vanderbilts, the Prince of Wales who later became King Edward VIII of England.

The acreage on which the mansion stands was bought by Plantation Estates Developers and most of the lots were sold. The property owners used the mansion for a club house but as it grew too

After the tour, members gathered in the old dining hall where Mrs. Brooks told of the interesting history of the mansion and of the DeBary family.

General Sanford, who was a friend of DeBary's, bought the land adjoining, which today is known as Sanford.

OVIDEO GARDEN CLUB members are enjoying a delightful luncheon on the veranda of the DeBary mansion on a recent tour of the historical old landmark. New Bed Trends

Lot Of Bunk —
WEST END, N. C. (UPI) — What's happening in the bedding business is a lot of bunk.

The up and down trend in beds also is being fortified by new college dormitories, fraternity houses and vacation lodges.

As a result, says a furniture manufacturer, there is more versatility in bunk bed designs.

"Once considered strictly utilitarian and usually styled accordingly, the space-saving double bunk suddenly has emerged in a new, glamorous role," he said.

It all began less than a year ago with the introduction of three new bunks in decorated color finishes: avocado green, black, white and Salem maple tone with gold accents and decorations, as well as Wedgwood blue with snowy white accents.

FASHIONETTES

Very much in vogue for spring: kerchief hats with casual draping and attention to back detailing. The Millinery Institute of America reports these are youthful, easy to wear and can be worn comfortably with coats, suits or dresses. They come in cotton, silk and pliable straw braids.

Though traditional every spring, flower hats have been given new and interesting treatments this year, the Millinery Institute of America reports. Often combined with straw and fabrics, they are available in many of the new silhouettes such as the kerchief look and the snood.

Too many clothes and hair styles worn by high school youths have taken on a neuter look, and this is especially true when one approaches a teen-boy and his girlfriend from the back, observes Ron Postal, of the National Council of Men's Fashions. "You can't tell the boy from the girl without a program."

One reason milady's dressing table is overloaded with useless items is the fact that she never purposely goes out cosmetic shopping, says courtier Don Loper, of California. "You can save yourself a tiny bundle several times a year if you devote an afternoon to replenishing those cosmetics you truly need," he noted.

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1965
GENERAL TENDENCIES: There are many irritants facing you today and tonight.

AIRES (March 21 to April 19) It can be a source of irritation to others if you get started on new outlets you have in mind.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your hunches concerning others are quite right, but keep them confidential.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your allies are in a dither over your going flitting about.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Getting your work done with alacrity and precision is preferable to calling others and griping over your lot.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A kindly act and a smile instead of a frown can do much to lift the morale of those around you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Getting the work completed at home that is necessary will please kin, but taking off in a huff will only annoy them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Take care you do not go off with those who are careless in driving, etc. or there is trouble.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) If you use practical methods, you find that there is ample money, etc. that can be repaid.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Trying to force others into doing what you deem to be best will get you nothing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Most of your pals can be quite peevish and a pain in the neck.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be courteous instead of whining at this time or you lose the respect of those who have power over your affairs.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will literally be born with a roving streak and want to leave work and family in seek of adventure.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The Official Encyclopedia of Bridge says, "False signals can be used to persuade the declarer to ruff unnecessarily or to ruff high, in a critical trump situation."

North held a minimum take-out double, but his raise to three hearts was justified on the principle that it pays to try for a vulnerable game whenever you appear to have a possible play for it.

When South looked over dummy he was delighted with his contract. Surely the king of spades would be held by West so there would be no losers in either black suit.

There were two sure diamond losers and his problem would be to escape with the loss of Bridge hand analysis showing North, South, West, and East cards and play sequence.

We The Women:

It beats me (and if you are a homemaker, it probably beats you, too), when a manufacturer has a product that houses like just fine as he, and the product is selling like hotcakes, suddenly it isn't good enough.

"New" and "Improved" are the big words today on nearly every package you pick up or article you buy.

And far more often than not, when the housewife hopefully buys the "new, improved" product she discovers that she has lost an old friend.

Perhaps she finds she's allergic to something in the "new, improved" detergent.

Perhaps a company that for years made a never-fail, easy-to-operate can opener dropped the old, trusty model for a new design that looks fine on the wall but is very stubborn about sinking its teeth into a can on the first three tries.

What I keep wondering is: Why do the manufacturers think good products have to be changed at regular intervals?

Is it because it is easier to advertise a new, improved formula than to advertise an old, trusted, reliable standby?

Or is it because housewives complain only to each other and to clerks in stores when culprit turns out to be a giant devilish who's annoyed by man's ultra-sonic waves. Nelson has his hands full. Not only must he do something about the nasty fish, he has to contend with the missile captain who's obsessed with the idea of capturing it alive.

Stiff Civil Rights Rules Told

MIAMI (UPI) — Although a public hearing on the civil rights bill here Saturday drew sparse attendance, federal leaders and experts on the subject, had some enlightening information on what had better be done to comply.

The session was sponsored by the Florida Advisory Committee to the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Federal advisor Charles E. Clark, of Washington, outlined, for example, stiff rules which must be followed to avoid discrimination in employment.

Clark said the rules will affect almost every business of any consequence but to clear up certain misconceptions about the law, he said:

—No quota system according to race is desired or permitted.

—No one will be required to give preference to a worker simply because he is a member of a minority group or race.

—There will be no federal interference with any seniority system unless it is based on discrimination.

Dr. James Ward, of the U. S. Public Health Service's Atlanta office, pointed out in a panel on medical services that Southern hospitals are in trouble if they don't change.

He said that virtually every hospital in the Southeast is in non-compliance with the new Civil Rights Act due to discrimination — both with patients and on the staff.

The questions asked by the general public about non-discrimination against women included whether they can take longer rest periods and earlier retirement.

Clark reported that the sex was added to the discriminatory prohibitions at the urging of a House member who was trying to kill the bill. Its inclusion, however, got the support of most of the women attending.

Beautification Objectives Outlined To Area Workers

Basic objectives of the Seminole County beautification committee as outlined to a representative by Chairman John Alexander included the following precepts: Beautification of county and municipal parks and recreation areas and all highway entries into the county; Tree planting program on major streets and business areas;

Encouragement of beautification projects by property owners in commercial and residential areas;

Continuing long-range coordinated program through the county-wide beautification committee.

Alexander pointed out that area representatives should establish local beautification sub-committees to approve local programs, secure local support and establish local campaigns for plants and funds.

All beautification design plans on highways or county-wide programs should be submitted to the planning committee for approval, he said. Head of the planning committee is A. L. Wilson of Sanford and members are Vernon Dunn of Prairie Lake; John Betha of Forest City; Mrs. D. K. Dorman; Mrs. Fred Ganas and Mrs. Charles Flowers, all of Sanford.

All area representatives were advised to submit request for SRD design plans and assistance through the planning committee. Maintenance agreements with municipal, county or civic groups for specific areas must be completed before planting begins.

Alexander cautioned that plantings on highways or isolated places should be kept simple for low maintenance and theft hazard, but those in municipalities might be more involved since hazards would be lessened.

The chairman told the committee that the SRD is preparing coordinated design plans for the following areas:

Interchange area at I-4 and Hwy. 17-92; lakefront Boulevard on Hwy. 17-92; first north and south islands at SR 434 and Hwy. 17-92; first north and south islands at SR 436 and Hwy. 17-92; first north north of Orange County line on Hwy. 17-92; interchange area at I-4 and SR 436.

A rain-soaked young man came into the Sanford police station Saturday and asked, "Is it true if I don't get a license plate today I'll have to wait until next year?" When informed that he could buy his license tag Monday if he wished, he muttered, "Man, and I had to get out on a day like this."

Speaking of Saturday's rain and wind, it was strong enough to tear loose a sailboat from its moorings on the lake and crash it against the sea wall.

Engraved invitations have gone out from the Seminole High School Diversified Cooperative Club to the annual employer - employee banquet slated for 7:15 p.m. April 6 in the student lounge. This is a group of students who with the cooperation of local businessmen and firms, work half a day and go to school. Each year the students fore their employers with a dinner, in appreciation.

All majorettes, both former and present, are invited to a reception Thursday, March 25, from 7:30 to 9:30 at the home of Sylvia Williams, 1920 Park Avenue. The honor guest is Mrs. Merl Smith, twirling instructor at SHS for the past ten years, who is leaving the area. Those planning to attend, kindly call 322-6402.

The Seminole County Humane Society will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the county commission room at the court house. On the agenda is a discussion of plans for the future as well as a review of past accomplishments.

Today is the birthday of several well-known men in our town. Among them are Charles Morrison, PR man; Neal Farmer, real estate dealer; Rev. Lakefront Project Moves Forward

Financing Feasible, Council Told

Sanford's waterfront development project moved two important steps forward Monday evening.

City Commissioners were told that the financing is feasible and that the sit on the lake bottom is well within the bounds of earlier studies made by engineers and by City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Leomis Leedy, fiscal agent for the municipality, reported on a million dollar bond issue suggested earlier by the City Fathers. He said with the support of the franchise funds and the utilities tax the bonds would sell readily and "at a very favorable rate."

While the added collateral provided through the utilities tax is not essential, he added, it is "good procedure" to include it in order to reduce the interest rate.

City Manager W. E. Knowles told the group that the report of the survey of the bottom of Lake Monroe in the vicinity of the proposed site of the Riverport was in his hands.

He said that all findings were well within the tolerances that he had anticipated in his earlier forecasts. This, he pointed out, meant that the expense of dredging the "15-acre" site of some 13 to 15 acres would fall within the estimates on which the administration was proceeding.

Commissioner Earl Huggins both asked Leedy, "Do you then believe that this is financially feasible?"

Leedy's "Yes, I do," prompted the commissioner to say, "That's all I want to know. Let's go. What is the next step?"

It is possible that the Commission will hear additional pertinent facts from an engineering firm today.

Knowles indicated that the next steps toward bringing the lakefront development project closer to reality is a three-part program involving the securing of private capital for leases, proceeding with professional engineering services and preparing the revenue certificates for sale.

Crowing Rooster Bugs Council

An itinerant rooster that crows from 4 to 7 a. m. every morning brought a complaint to City Commissioners Monday from Mrs. Mary McMahon, of 309 South Park Avenue, who declared she has been "discriminated against."

Mrs. McMahon told commissioners she had complained repeatedly to City Manager W. E. Knowles and to the police department about the rooster which struts around in an alley behind her apartment house and makes so much noise her tenants have moved out.

Knowles said the dog warden had been sent to apprehend the rooster, but could not find him. Police Chief Roy Williams said that his men have checked out the complaints each time and last Saturday believed that they had shot the rooster.

Mrs. McMahon said that after the shooting she had not heard the rooster for a couple of days but "now he is back again."

Astronauts' Families Watch On Television

SEABROOK, Tex. (UPI) — Young Scott and Mark Grissom counted down together, "three, two, one . . . ignition," and then watched their dad soar into space atop the Titan rocket.

The families of Astronauts Virgil (Gus) Grissom and John Young watched on television Betty Grissom, who has been through it before, and Barbara Young kept their emotions to themselves. But the children were excited. They stayed home from school for the occasion.

Mrs. Grissom sat in a couch in the living room with Trudy Cooper, wife of Astronaut Gordon Cooper, and a neighbor, Mrs. Jerry Hammock. She made no comment as the rocket blasted off in a cloud of reddish-brown smoke.

Said Mrs. Young: "I'm deliciously happy. The Young children, Sandy, eight, and John, six, were up bright and early for the big day. There were four television sets in the Young home. The children sat on the arm of Mrs. Young's chair to watch."

"Is that daddy? Is that daddy?" little John asked.

ORLANDO (UPI) — The father and step-mother of Astronaut John Young remained in semi-seclusion here today keeping tabs on the orbital flight of the Gemini Three space capsule flown by Virgil Grissom and Young.

The father, William Young, took the day off from work at a citrus co-operative at nearby Plymouth to follow the progress of the flight on television.

The Youngs planned to remain in their home in the quiet College Park residential area here until after the recovery of the capsule and the astronauts is accomplished.

A few persons stopped by outside the house this morning, but only one visitor entered Orlando Mayor Robert Carr stopped by and chatted briefly with the Youngs.

Outside the home, television cameras were set up in preparation for statements later in the day and newsmen waited.

The Youngs chose to remain here at their home for the launch despite the fact the launch site at Cape Kennedy is less than 50 miles away.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. R. A. White watched their son-in-law, Astronaut John W. Young, fired into orbit today and Mrs. White commented, "There John's doing just what he's always wanted."

The Whites, whose daughter Barbara, married Young in 1955, watched the Gemini shot on television at their home.

Mrs. White said she was calm because Young had been a Navy test pilot before becoming an astronaut and test piloting is what you might call a hazardous occupation.

Sheriff Dies
BUNNELL (UPI) — Flagler County Sheriff Homer Brooks, 61, died today of a heart attack while on duty. Brooks, who had been sheriff here for eight years, was elected to a third term last November.

Council 'Cool' On TV Antenna Franchise Bid

Presentation of a formal application for a community antenna television franchise in Sanford was made to City Commissioners Monday by the Jerrold Electronics Corporation but commissioners expressed little interest in this or any other CATV proposals.

Officials of the Jerrold Corporation told the commission they are the best qualified to render the service, by reason of their experience and sales record.

"They pointed out that they would bring in TV channels 3, 8 and 13 in addition to eight FM stereo radio stations."

"They added that the CATV service would be provided free to public, private and parochial schools, municipal facilities and hospitals as well as closed circuit television broadcasts to civic and charitable organizations."

"We do not sell, service, rent or lease television sets. Connection charge maximums would be about $25 with a $5 a month service charge. The city would benefit by a revenue of six percent of gross monthly receipts."

"We provide a free seven-day trial and if the customer does not like the service, he does not have to sign the contract," company officials said.

Commissioners were invited to four facilities at Melbourne, Eau Gallie and Ormond Beach. Later commissioners voted that all CATV companies be informed that "we have not heard any demand or offer any public interest in community antenna service, we have no need or desire for this service and are not interested in any CATV franchises at this time." Motion was made by Earl Huggins and seconded by M. L. Raborn.

Attorney Wins State Position
Lee Jay Colling, president of the Orange County Bar Association, has been appointed a special assistant attorney general by Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth at Tallahassee.

Faircloth said Colling's duties would be to assist his office in legal matters arising in the four-county area of Orange, Osceola, Seminole and Brevard.

Colling will continue in his private law practice in Orlando and Merritt Island.

Gus, John Open Way For Future

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Astronauts Virgil P. (Gus) Grissom and John W. Young landed safely in the water at 2:20 p.m. (EST). Rescue craft—air and surface—were en route to pick them and their capsule out of the water.

Grissom and Young fired their reverse rockets at 1:57 p.m. (EST) and began their return to earth after a three-orbit 76,000 mile voyage through space.

Grissom swung the capsule around—blunt end forward—and fired the four reverse rockets in rapid succession as the Gemini 3 craft passed over the coast of Southern California.

Nestled in their 7,000-pound Gemini 3 cabin, America's first two-man space team soared into the skies at 9:24 a.m. (EST), only 24 minutes behind schedule. They were scheduled to land in the Atlantic about 2:07 p.m. (EST). They began their third and final orbit at 12:34 p.m. (EST).

At 10:57 a.m. (EST) while flying over Texas in their first circuit, the space twins changed the shape of their orbit. At the time their flight path ranged from 100 to 142 miles above the earth.

105 MILE RANGE
After firing some small rocket thrusters aboard their craft, their orbital path was more nearly circular, ranging in altitude from 97 to 105 miles.

Then, two hours and 20 minutes after lift off as they soared over the Indian Ocean half way through their second trip around the earth, Grissom steered the spacecraft in a different dimension — to left and right.

These maneuvers had the effect of changing the spacecraft's landing spot 30 to 40 miles north of where it would have been otherwise. Both steering maneuvers were successful and one official called it a "truly historic maneuver."

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said the agency was "very pleased with the operation of the maneuvering system." He described it as "absolutely essential to future rendezvous maneuvers" in which Gemini spacecraft will meet and couple with a rocket in orbit.

LOOKED LIKE STAR
The two-man Gemini-3 capsule rose from Pad 19 at this spaceport atop a Titan 2 rocket which belched reddish brown smoke from its twin engines generating 430,000 pounds of thrust.

It rose into the sky on a pink column of flame and faded to a bright star like point as Gemini hurtled toward orbit.

The countdown was almost perfect. At one point it became necessary to lighten a fitting when a leak developed in a rocket oxidizer line. This accomplished, the launch came off only 24 minutes later than scheduled.

Building up speed as it rose, the spacecraft went into orbit over Bermuda at a speed of about 17,500 miles an hour.

The initial flight path ranged from a low point of 100 miles, exactly as planned, to a high point of 142 miles, eight miles under the pre-planned orbit.

Foundling Is Gemini

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Nurses at Magee Hospital honored today's Gemini 3 space shot in a unique manner.

When a newborn girl, found abandoned in a city sewer, was brought into the hospital's emergency room the nurses immediately named the child "Gemini."

Gemini weighed in at about 7 1/2 pounds and was reported in good condition.

The child was found in the city sewer by construction worker Al Piern of Connellsville, about an hour before the Gemini liftoff at Cape Kennedy.

Coin Collection Taken From Home

The home of John Walters, 230 Avocado Avenue, was broken into during the weekend and a half-dollar coin collection was stolen. Police said burglars made off with between $30 and $40 worth of silver dollars and an undetermined amount of Kennedy half-dollars and other coins. Also missing was an electric razor.
