HOME OF MR. AND MRS. HARRY E. TOOKE, JR.

LAKESHORE VIEW

GARDEN ROOM

Residence Of Harry E. Tooke, Jr. Is Planned For Informal Living

Taking full advantage of the scenic beauty of the St. John's River where it widens into Lake Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tooke, Jr. have designed their home around a central patio and terrace with all except two rooms having a lakeshore exposure.

The interior arrangement was planned by Mrs. Tooke who kept her family's needs in mind when she decided on a home for comfortable and informal living. Situated on a large plot of ground overlooking the lake, both the house and garden lend themselves admirably to the full enjoyment of outdoor living in a warm southern climate.

Against the pale pink of the exterior walls are planted many luxuriant, green tropical shrubs including Spanish bayonet, crotons and monstera, while the spacious lawn is studded with palm trees, ligustrum and other attractive foliage.

The house has a white wood trim and at the front on the lake side are curved steps leading to the wide, tiled terrace. Mrs. Tooke often entertains in this lovely spot which is made more attractive with white iron furniture and shrubbery at the sides against the wall in built-in flower spaces.

The long living room takes up the central portion of the house behind the terrace. In the right of the living room are the "Garden Room", back entrance hall, kitchen and dining nook, laundry room, garage and play room while to the left of the living room are a long hall and three bedrooms.

Soft greens in light and dark shades, sometimes blending into a greenish aqua, are the predominant colors used in many of the rooms. The "Garden Room", which often substitutes for a dining room, is furnished in true tropical style with rattan furniture including many end tables, coffee tables, wall brackets and utilitarian pieces placed against the dark green walls. At one end of the room a large picture window gives a wide view of the river which rolls lazily by. Casement windows are used at the sides.

The floor is tiled in rust color, upholstery is in shades of dark and light green and yellow, and green plants and shrubs enhance the tropical atmosphere. One end of the room is made up entirely of cupboards and shelves built around a large, square mirror.

A large kitchen is separated from a dining alcove to the right of the "Garden Room" by an oval partition of shelves and cupboards. Light green walls, coral colored draperies and corn colored, linen finished formica covering the working spaces all combine to give a bright pleasant appearance.

The newest in electrical equipment makes work easy in this room. The laundry room is in back of the kitchen and from it steps lead to the two car garage over which is the play room which features cypress paneling at one end with the rest of the walls being light green. Rubber tile on the floor is of green and beige and yellow printed draperies are placed at the windows. A long porch on the lake side extends the full length of the room.

Colors in the living room have been taken from the large Oriental rug on the floor and include beige, earth, green and blue. At the back of the room is the fireplace, the light green color of the walls, surrounded with beige tiles. The fireplace is highlighted with gleaming andirons and the large gold framed mirror above reflects the sparkling river seen through the picture window.

Grouped around the fireplace and windows are comfortable overstuffed presses and light and dark woods are combined in the piano, and tables and credenza. The draperies in this room have a soft beige background

Sanford Churches Extend Welcome To All Visitors

Every Religious Denomination Represented In Sanford

Sanford ministers of all faiths joined today in extending a cordial welcome to winter visitors and prospective tourists to attend the church of their choice while in Sanford. With virtually every denomination represented here, the ministers assured newcomers to this city that their spiritual needs would be well provided for.

All the churches of Sanford have made substantial growth during the past few years and considerable improvements have been made to their plants. The First Presbyterian Church has recently dedicated a new $65,000 annex and within the last year or two both the First Methodist Church and the First Baptist Church have completed similar additions.

There are approximately 20 churches in Sanford with congregations varying from a few scores to over a thousand. The First Baptist Church is the largest with a membership of over 1,200. The First Methodist Church has 1,036 members and All Soul's Catholic Church over 400.

First Baptist Church
"The churches of Sanford work together in a splendid spirit of cooperation and are happy to have visitors at all of their services," said Dr. Brooks. "There are two Baptist churches in the City—the First Baptist located at Sixth Street and Park Avenue and the Central Baptist located at Ninth Street and Laurel Avenue.

"Both of these churches have a full program of activities and organizations to minister to all groups and ages. The Central church is now building an entirely new building at Fourteenth Street and Oak Avenue, the First Baptist is now completing a new educational building," said Dr. Brooks in conclusion. "Both churches extend a most cordial invitation to all of our visitors."

First Methodist Church
"The comradeship and co-operation among the churches of Sanford is truly a thing of beauty and joy, as they try to serve the social, moral, and spiritual needs of a growing City," Rev. J. E. McKinley said. "The churches of Sanford are a vital part of our total community life and a fact well known by any and all who have been in our city even for a short while."

"The First Methodist Church, located at Park Avenue and Fifth Street is glad to have a part in this comradeship of service. The motto: 'The World is my Parish,' given to Methodism by its illustrious founder, John Wesley, keeps it concerned about the needs of the local community and also the needs of the whole world around."

"Our recently enlarged church plant enables us to offer not only to residents, but to visitors as well, a well-rounded program of activities. In addition to the Sunday Worship Services, both morning and evening, we offer study groups in the Young People's, Men, and Women's organizations—in short, a well rounded program of worship, study, fellowship, and recreation for all ages—plus a cordial welcome," said Rev. McKinley.

All Soul's Catholic Church
"All Soul's Catholic Church of Sanford is located in the residential district just ideally situated for the convenience of all members including visitors of the City. The property on which the church stands comprises a city block bounded by Oak and Myrtle Ave-nuces and Eighth and Ninth Streets," said Father Anthony McGowan.

"The parish membership embraces several hundred parishioners exclusive of winter visitors, tax at times the seating capacity of the church, which accommodates about 435 persons.

"Mass is celebrated on Sunday and Holy Days at 8:00 and 10:00 A. M. Services are held Sunday evening at 7:30 P. M. and during the Lenten season on Wednesday and Friday at the same hour. Daily mass is at 8:00 A. M.

"Aware of the Christian concept of morality which fosters and preserves civic as well as supernatural virtues, the parishioners of

All Souls Church, in union with the ideals and aspirations of the other citizens of Sanford and Seminole County are conscious of this fact: Today, more than ever, it is necessary for all of us to have a deep, supernatural and a powerful intellectual conviction of our faith. All about us are influences prejudicial to Christianity itself. Many of these influences are indirect, subtle. They have penetrated and in some cases distorted the very soul of our literature, science, drama, the movies and the everyday outlook of the people.

"They know that a wonderful weapon against such influences is a living conception of the beautiful and organic synthesis of our faith which will direct, mold, and motivate all their attitudes, all their thinking and acting until they are in truth Christ-like," concluded Father McGowan. "It is now no longer I that lives, but Christ lives me."

First Christian Church
"The First Christian Church is located at 1607 Sanford Avenue. It was organized about 25 years ago, and is composed of some very fine consecrated people. We extend a most cordial invitation to any and all to worship with us," says Rev. J. Randall Ferris of the Christian Church.

"We call ourselves 'Christians' because we are followers of The Christ. We do not believe that we are the only Christians, but try to be Christians only. We believe that there are as good Christians in one body as another and also there are as big hypocrites in one body as in another.

"But we do believe that the prayer that Christ prayed in shadow of the cross (John 17:21) that we all might be one should be answered today. So we plead from the unity of all believers, that the world may believe that God sent The Christ into the world. So believing we extend a most cordial invitation to one and all to come and worship with us," Rev. Ferris concluded.

First Presbyterian Church
"The First Presbyterian Church stands at Oak Avenue and Third Street where its ever open doors bid traveler, visitor and Sanfordite a warm welcome to the Holy Inn." "Although the present edifice is of much more recent origin, the First Presbyterian Church was organized on May 10, 1882, and ever since then has been a powerful influence for Christ in this city."

"During the past year the congregation undertook the construction of a modern, two-story Educational Building on which $65,000.00 has been spent. With its light, airy classrooms, a spacious assembly room and an efficient all-electric kitchen the physical layout provides excellent facilities around which much of the social and character-building activities of the church revolve.

"More important than all this is the capable and understanding staff of teachers who bring the stories of the Bible and the precepts of Christianity in a vivid manner to a Sunday School enrollment of 300.

"A distinctive feature of the service of the First Presbyterian Church is its ministry of music under Mrs. George Touhy's direction. The Chancel Choir of 24 voices and the Youth Choir composed of 25 teen-agers form the foundation for the church music, both of them being beautifully supplemented by capable soloists.

"An annual Christmas Candle-light all-music service is rated by worshipful music lovers as a highlight of the season celebrating the Nativity." "The Women of the Church with Mrs. Kirby Fite as president have a profound influence on the spiritual life of the community," Rev. McInnis concluded.

Holy Cross Church
"Holy Cross Episcopal Church at Park Avenue and Fourth Street offers much to members and friends of the Church who visit or settle in Sanford," said the Rev. H. L. Zimmerman.

"It is the belief of many that Holy Cross Church is one of the more beautiful Church buildings in the Diocese of South Florida—perhaps in the entire South. Of Spanish Mission style architecture, with adjoining and matching Parish House, it is architecturally indigenous to the semi-tropical climate of Florida and reminds one of the early Spanish history of the state.

"The magnificent High Altar—carrying out, dramatically, the theme of the parish dedication to the Holy Cross—and the lovely altar in the Chapel are together among the finest examples of ecclesiastical art in the country."

"Sunday Services provide ample opportunity for worship—an early celebration of the Holy Communion at 8:00 A. M. each Sunday, a Family Service for parents and children, together with fine Church School facilities, at 9:30 A. M., and an 11:00 o'clock Service with music and sermon.

"In addition, a daily celebration of the Holy Communion in the lovely little Chapel provides opportunity for worship through the week. Services through the week are at 7:30 A. M. Monday through Thursday and Saturday and Friday at 9:00 A. M. The Church is open daily for prayer and meditation.

"Parish organizations for men, women and young people provide opportunities for fellowship and service in the Church.

"A weekly Parish Bulletin of news and activities of the Parish is mailed to all members and friends of the Parish each Friday. Those who are staying in the community for a month or longer are welcome to avail themselves of this service by having their names and addresses placed on the Parish mailing list.

"The Rector or Holy Cross, The Rev. H. Lyttleton Zimmerman, B. D., is in his office every morning during the week and welcomes conferences at all times with those desiring the ministrations of the Church. Calls upon the sick, shut-in and newcomers to the parish are among his first duties.

"Holy Cross is a friendly parish and welcomes all to her Services and fellowship," the Rev. Zimmerman concluded.

Congregational Church
"The people of Sanford are proud of hundreds of new homes, new stores and business enterprises, and the immediate prospects of a new River Terminal, Base Ball Stadium, and Hospital," said Dr. J. B. Root. "They are even more proud that the City is church-minded as evidenced by several new churches in process of building, and others that have added new facilities within the past two years. When you are living in a rapidly growing city, it isn't so much a matter of what denomination you belong to—the question is: 'Are you helping to build the kind of a church you have always dreamed about?'"

"Henry H. Crane has given us a pen picture of the ideal church of our dreams:

"In the House of Life, I saw an altar, with candles aglow and a (Continued on Page Seven)

Local Federation Of Women's Clubs Founded In 1922

Purpose Of Group Was To Unify Activities Of Women's Groups

The Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs was organized in May, 1922 with Mrs. John G. Leonard, now of Coral Gables, serving as its first president. The Women's Clubs of Sanford, Oviedo, Geneva, and Longwood, the Sanford Parent-Teachers Association, Daughters of the American Revolution, Business and Professional Women's Club and the League of Women Voters were the charter member clubs.

During the 28 years of its existence the Seminole County Federation has adhered to its objective of bringing together the club women of Seminole County for mutual benefit and cooperation.

Child welfare and social service were the first two interests of the Federation. It secured scales for the public schools and helped establish Parent-Teacher Associations throughout the county. The first county nurse was employed by the county but worked under the supervision of the Federation, which also urged the placing of a woman on the County School Board. The Federation was finally successful in securing a County Home Demonstration Agent.

Museum And Milk For Needy Babies Head List Of Projects

A wide variety of activities, many praiseworthy achievements, and an ambitious number of substantial projects for the new year characterize the progressive, civic-mindedness, and enterprising ability of the numerous women's organizations in Sanford and Seminole County. Their projects range from buying milk for underprivileged babies to the construction of a museum to house rare books and antique furniture.

These women's groups furnish entertainment, civic work and interest for every type of personality through their social functions, welfare work and educational programs. Luncheons, teas, suppers, bazaars, school programs, flower shows, dramas, bridge parties, musicals, fashion shows, book reviews and civic development programs make up an interesting and varied yearly program.

The Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has many practical projects along with its original aim—"to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence, to promote development of an enlightened public opinion and to foster patriotic citizenship."

The organization of a Seminole County Museum Association for the purpose of constructing a building to house the General Henry S. Sanford collection of rare books and antique furniture was undertaken by the local D. A. R. Chapter which appointed Mrs. E. H. Dawson as chairman of the museum committee. With the cooperation of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Dawson called a meeting of representatives of civic clubs and other interested groups to study plans for financing the building. At present much of the General Sanford collection is on display at the Woman's Club building. The regent of the D. A. R. is Mrs. A. W. Lee while serving as

Building Permits In Sanford During '50 Hit $2,683,000 Breaking All Previous Records

Over 140 New Homes Built At Cost Of Over $1 Million; 94 Built In 1949

All previous records for building in Sanford were broken in 1950 when permits totalling $2,683,324 in estimated value of construction were issued by John Gillin, City building inspector.

This amount was more than double the 1949 figure of $1,158,249 which in turn had been the highest building total reached in the history of the community.

More than 140 homes were built in Sanford during 1950 at a cost of $1,012,100 as compared with the 94 homes built in 1949 at a cost of $563,400.

In December, 1950, Mr. Gillin issued a $1,041,999 permit for Sanford's first public housing project known as the Castle Brewer development and located in the Negro section of Goldboro. This boosted the December total up to $1,246,058 or more than for the entire year of 1949.

Among the other major projects of 1950 was the Municipal Swimming Pool costing nearly $60,000. During recent months the new $65,000 First Presbyterian Church Annex was opened. Located back of the church and with an entrance on Third Street, this is the third attractive church addition to be made in Sanford during a two year period. Completed in 1948-50 were the annexes of the First Methodist Church and the First Baptist Church.

The rebuilding by Frank Evans of the Evans Building, now housing the McClung Store at First Street and Magnolia Avenue, was one of the major retail store improvements of the year.

During the past year the New York Glens spent more than $40,000 to improve the Mayfair Inn in preparation for its re-opening on Dec. 8. This included an outer white coating by the Lumino process.

Among the largest home development projects in Sanford during the past year were the more than 100 houses built by the Phillips Properties of which Welborn Phillips, Orlando, is owner and manager.

This progressive firm, which has been operating in Sanford for the past two years, has built whole streets of houses, ranging in the 94 new homes here. W. W. Dawson, a former New York City developer, has created 21 homes during the past year, selecting choice locations in fine residential areas. These houses averaged $10,000 to $12,000 and are of the three bedroom type and featuring a "bath and a half."

During his operations here Mr. Dawson has built more than 30 fine homes, and is looking forward, he said, to building many more, providing controls, material and financing factors are favor-

Two new developers from Champaign, Ill. are Cecil Ozier and Scott Weller to whom developing projects of 500 or more homes is an old story, plan to build up the Bel Air Section east of Mellonville Avenue, once the pioneer route leading from Sanford toward Ft. Gillin in Orlando.

Cecil Ozier is president of the firm, which is building 70 homes of the $7,000-$8,000 class. During January he received 10 permits to build homes of this type, and accounted for more than half of the $147,165 building total.

Mr. Weller is secretary and treasurer of the firm and M. W. Ozier, a son of Cecil, is serving as assistant secretary and treasurer. Ray Ozier, brother of Cecil, is (Continued On Page Five)

The Pilot Club, also takes an active interest in many civic and welfare projects in Sanford. The "Milk Bank", which supplies milk to needy families throughout the county, is a major project of the club each year. Three hundred dollars was expended during the past year for this purpose. The club sponsors a high school girl for Girl's State in Tallahassee each year and the group cooperates on all worthy civic projects and drives for funds. For many years the Pilot Club has been in charge of the Tuberculosis and Health Association Christmas Seal sale until the Association was able to secure and pay a full-time worker. Furnishings were secured and maintenance is provided for a room at the local hospital by the club. Serving as president of the club is Mrs. B. E. Chapman; Mrs. John L. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary interests itself mainly with its aid to a home at Easton Rapids, Mich., founded for the purpose of giving a home to orphans of war casualties. The Sanford Story League was formed recently for the purpose of studying the art of story interpretation. The League cooperates with other agencies in whose fields of work story telling plays an important part such as the public library, public schools, recreation programs and church and church school organizations. Membership in the Story League is gained by application. The group presents a regular program over the radio station at 11:16 each Friday morning with the cooperation of the library and the public schools. In observance of National Book Week the group presented puppets, recording, and books to six Sanford schools and story tellers were supplied to schools, civic organizations, welfare agencies and to church schools and other clubs in the county. The Story League, which was organized three years ago, has as its president Mrs. S. J. Nix; first vice president and program chairman, Mrs. Fred Roth; second vice president and publicity chairman, Mrs. O. E. White; third vice president and service chairman, Mrs. W. L. Roche; recording secretary, Mrs. R. F. Moulte; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. L. Garrison; treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Williams; and historian, Mrs. R. C. Long. The Masonic Lodge auxiliary, Seminoles Chapter No. 3, Order of Eastern Star, meets the first and third Thursday of each month. Its worthy matron, Mrs. Rammy Long, has chosen as the auxiliary aim "promoting love and loyalty" and the group is proud of the aid it has given in the past several years to the Masonic Home in St. Petersburg. (Continued From Page Five) family. The portrait, which hangs on the wall above the duobonnet divan, faces the grey tiled fireplace over which hangs a large gilded mirror.

Evening is a time for relaxation for the family, and the place for relaxation is a small den opening off the living room, gaily decorated with a green color scheme and matching plaid touched on the sectional sofa. Mr. and Mrs. Crapps listen to the radio or play cards while Ann and one-year-old Billy are asleep in their upstairs nursery.

Floors open from the den and the living room on to a large screened porch which provides a pleasant cool atmosphere for warm summer evenings. The porch actually seems to bring some of the outside inside with a flower bed reaching all the way to the ground on one side of the maroon cement floor. There is also a door leading into the roomy back yard and the playhouse where Ann entertains her young friends. Built of white cedar shingles, the playhouse was a gift to Ann from her grandfather, W. C. Hill, former mayor of Sanford and owner of the Hill Lumber and Supply Company.

Most of Mrs. Crapps' morning is spent in planning meals, shopping, and caring for Billy while Ann is in school, and so one of the important rooms in the house to her is the kitchen. This most efficient room is done entirely in the same natural knotty pine which is found in the rest of the house. This includes the walls as well as the built-in cabinets which utilize all available space. A General Electric refrigerator and four burner stove mark the tips of the U-shaped work space. On the fourth wall, taking up approximately five inches of space when not in use, is a red formica drop-leaf breakfast table which when raised, forms a cozy and convenient breakfast nook.

Closets are found in the most unexpected places throughout the house. It is not at all surprising to find large double closets on both sides of the large window at the head of the stairs, and on each side of the double French doors leading on to the balcony in the master bedroom, which is the same size as the living room. Double closets are also found in the nursery and the guest room which are separated by a bath.

The only room in which wallpaper is used is in the back entrance hall where a white background is overlaid with a green leafy design. The floor is of small tiles and rattan furniture is also placed in this room.

The master bedroom at the left on the front of the home has green walls and features dark furniture combined with beige, gold and rust color. The powder room and bath is of green and yellow tile. From the hall at the left of the living room opens the master bedroom and the other two bedrooms. The hall is lined with closets and shelves.

The Tooke's daughter, Miss Patricia Tooke, a high school student, has achieved a feminine atmosphere in her room with blue rugs, floral draperies and blond mahogany furniture against powder blue walls. Her bath is of pink and blue tiles.

H. E. Tooke, III, the Tooke's junior high school son, has a room of his own at the rear of the cross thereon. And as I bowed in reverence and closed my eyes, I beheld the living church. The walls were not of brick and stone, but of dedicated wills held together with the mortar of mutual dependence and common commitment to the Best yet revealed.

thousand suns. The towering pillars and the vaulted arches were not of stone and steel, but of far-reaching arms lifted in prayers innumeral and intermingling.

The long aisles were not carpeted with velvet runners, but with temptations trampled under feet and good resolutions kept. The doors were never shut. They were wide open with welcome to all humanity: saints and sinners, rich and poor, black, brown, yellow, and white—whomsoever.

The altar was not of carved wood, but of penitent hearts, ashamed of their sins, made strong with the sense of forgiveness. The pulpit was not a dias for the declaration of dogma, but a place of light and fire whence came forth flashes of truth and the impact of power.

The Holy Book was not a single volume held aloft on a lectern, but all life studied unashamedly, tested daringly, experienced deeply, comforted tenderly, challenged constantly.

The music was not compounded of organ and voices, but of consecrated leadership and well-developed diversities, all harmonized into the matchless melody of creative co-operation.

And the warmth of the living church, wherein all glowed with radiant vitality, came not from furnace and fuel, but from obedience to Him who saith: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind and strength; and thy neighbor as thyself."

"If Sanford is able to achieve this dream of the Church," concluded Dr. Root, "it will be a delightful place to live, delightful for every member of the family."

Also joining in welcoming Sanford and Seminole County visitors to their services and activities are the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church at Park Avenue and Fourteenth Street, the Church of God of Miller Farms, Christ Church of Longwood, Church of Christ at Elm Avenue and Second Street, Seventh Day Adventist Church at Seventh Street and Elm Avenue, First Church of Christ Scientist at 800 East Second Street, Free Methodist Church at Laurel Avenue and West Fourth

45 Are Employed By Firm Making French Lingerie

One of Sanford's newer enterprises is the Petite Paris which specializes in the manufacture of Parisian lingerie. This firm was started under the direction of Mrs. M. A. Yelvington who served with the Counter-Intelligence Service in Frankfurt, Germany during the last war. Her inspiration for this lingerie was gained on leaves during her overseas service when she noted the beautiful handmade undergarments of Parisian designers.

Mrs. Yelvington started a factory here upon her return to the United States and now employs 45 persons who make the articles by hand. She serves as president of the corporation and has been joined by her brother, Albert Fitz who acts as executive vice president.

developing a 2,100 cattle ranch near Osteen and is a former Wisconsin hotel proprietor.

On Jan. 20 Ozier-Weller Inc. secured from the City an option on a whole city block overlooking Lake Monroe for the building of a 50-unit apartment project, the most ambitious of its type ever undertaken here. Now devoted to use as a softball diamond the area has a frontage of 240 feet on Seminole Boulevard, with 350 feet depth on Palmetto and Hood Avenues. Located immediately behind the Greyhound Bus station and close to the business section, the $300,000 project is to include stores and a meeting hall for civic clubs.

Assisting the Oziers in their enterprises is a nephew, Lowell Ozier.

"I like Sanford and am sold on the place," said Cecil Ozier who has lived here for more than a year. "One reason I decided to invest here is your City administration of young and progressive men. In addition, I believe that your waterfront terminal will be the key to future expansion here."

Building Permits

Asked why so many one story homes are built, he replied, "People are tired of stairways." He added that all of his building is under FHA and meets its standards.

Referring to apartment projects, he expressed the desire to build apartments here at the rate of 60 units a year if possible, and if sufficient land is available.

Bradford Building Inc. is the contractor for the Castle Brewer project. Foundations for the 125 units are now about completed and it is expected that the whole project will be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, according to Ralph Cowan, chairman and George Williams, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority. Elton J. Moughton is architect for the project. It will house about 500 persons.
